Jersey agrees to pay $180,000 for flood damage caused by Rt. 78

The N. J. Department of Transportation last Friday agreed to pay $180,000 to the Township of Springfield to remedy flood damage caused by Rt. 78 onstruction in the vicinity of Tooker and Bryant avenues and Salter and Brook streets. The agreement came before Superior Court Judge John Walsh in Elizabeth during hearings on a suff filed by the township three years ago to recover damage done by the highway construction to local storm drainage The agreement was signed by Jay Bloom, township attorney, and Cortland Babcock 3rd, deputy state attorney general. It is believed to be the first time the state has ever acknowledged liability for a portion of the ecological and property damage caused by construction work on state property. The funds will be used, along with a federal grant of $220,000 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, for a drainage project of $500,000 along the east and west branches of Bryant Brook. The township last spring approved a $600,000 band ordinance for the work, but cost to the nunicipality is now anticipated at approximately $100,000 as its share of the nore than $500,000 channelization and stream renovation work.

All of Rt. 78 in this area except for the section through the Watchung Reservation will be under construction within six months, according to a high official in the State Department of Transportation.

The prediction was made by Frederick C. DePhillips, executive director, in the department, when he spoke before the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce last week to drum up support for the $650 million transportation bond issue which will be on the ballot Tuesday.

Since Rt. 78 is this area except for the section including the proposed widening of Rt. 22 in this area.

When Rt. 78 is completed, it is expected to alleviate some of the traffic Jams that plague Rt. 22. That completion date should come by the end of 1976, according to DePhillips; who said the schedule for the east-west interstate highway is "looking brighter every day."

The most serious current anag is the requirement for obtaining federal approval of an environmental impact statement on the Watchung Reservation right of way.

As for the three-year term, we suggest that citizens vote for either the Democrat, Arthur Kesselhaut, or the Republican, Edward Stiso Jr., on the basis of their own preferences as to whether the town will do better under Republican or Democratic leadership in the year ahead. We have confidence in the ability and integrity of both candidates, and both parties.

We urge the election of Arthur Buehrer, Republican, as township clerk over an able and dynamic Democratic opponent. Doris Ruff.

We feel that Buehrer has a temperament better suited for an assignment which is 'to keep the wheels running smoothly rather than to determine their direction.

And above all, we arge all voters of Springfield to exercise their precious right as Americane and their duty as citizens to take part in the electoral process.

Mrs. Ruff gives the answers to queries about town clerk

In last week's candidates' night, presented by the Springfield League of Women Voters, Doris Ruff, Democratic candidate for township clerk, asked and answered four basic questions about the office of town clerk. To the first question, "Why must a person run for the office of town clerk? Isn't it an oc-cupation?" Mrs. Ruff responded by saying, "Yes, it is a job but state law requires the township clerk to be chosen in this manner."

In answer to the second question—"just what exactly does a town clerk do?" Mrs. Ruff said, "Again by state statute a town clerk must be the secretary to the governing body and to the town itself, which is a municipal corporation, is an election official and an administration of ficial. This entails taking minutes at township and executive meetings, preparing the agen-das, sending communications, all directed by the mayor and committeemen; also votorregistration, the selection of polling places and the issuing of all types of licenses. In.
Springfield the clerk is also the secretary to the Board of Health. Most important, the town clerk handles all inquiries and complaints and by so doing becomes a liasion between the people and the governing body.

"It is extremely important then for the clerk to have the trust of all the people in a community and not be obligated to any one faction of that of that community."

To question 3, "what areas of the office of township clerk would you like to expand upon?" Mrs. Ruff commented:
"I would make every effort to expand voter to the public, in advance, the agenda for township meetings."

In response to the last question, what are your qualifications for Township Clerk?, Mrs. Ruff stated:

"I have attended St. Peter's College and Union College and I am presently enrolled at Rutgers, where I am majoring in public administration. I have been a record clerk for the Jersey Central Railroad and a secretary to the in Westfield High Kenilworth Public Library, but more im-portant I think is my love for and knowledge of

"In the 12 years I have lived here I have been a member and transportation chairman for the American Field Services, vice-president of the Raymond Chisholm PTA, a charter member of the Friends of the Library and an elected member and former vice-president of the now a member of the Blue Ribbon Committee selected to set educational goals for the Springfield school system. This is just a partial list of the many activities I have engaged in but all of these organizations are ones devoted to the quest of making Springfield a better place to live for all who reside here. decline is expected to be halted in the spring of 1973; thereafter, births should rebound sharply and, with favorable, economic conditions, low occupancy units.

Not only must administrators work quickly, they must do so fully cognizant of the fact that recorded births over recent years have tended to undulate.
An unusual degree of flexibility is being expected of the state's community hospitals. An innovative program has been devised, however, and may alleviate the problem.

Horror film now at two theaters

"You'll Like My Mother," horror film directed by Lamont Johnston, who is rapidly gaining a good reputation for unusual films ("The MacKenzie Break" and "The Grounds'ar Conspiracy"), arrived yesterday at the Maplewood Theater in Maplewood and at the Lialto Theater, Westfield.

The picture, starring Rosemary Murphy and Patty Duke, tells a story of a young, pregnan widow who visits her never-before-seen mother-in-law in a spooky midwestern house. There are many potential villains in the story including a rapist who wanders about the Universal released "You'll Like My Mother," which was photographed in color.

The Maplewood will show "The Boy and the Laughing Dog" and cartoons as its Saturday and Sunday afternoon features.

the democratic and civil rights of all

"Before it's too late, before we find ourselves inate record keeping of political activity, wiretapping and attempts to curb the press which have typiffed this Administration," Mrs. English said today. "A people can never be truly free unless they possess the right to be different and the right to speak openly without fear of retribution." Mrs. English, a 12th District Democrat, said President Nixon and his personal advisors and appointees have demonstrated a calculated disregard for the Constitution and Bill of Rights lighted by the infamous Watergat affair and an unprecedented campaign spying and sabotage against Democrats.

"It's only a matter of time before this paranoic fear of open government and society filters down to the man in the street and we become a nation of robots, fearful of con-troversy or differences," the former State Mrs. English also criticized her Republican opponent for voting for a state wiretapping bill and then proclaiming that he was "willing to give up some rights of privacy to end the corruption of organized crime."

"The way to end organized crime in this for a complete Congressional review of laws country is by upgrading police task forces, by rooting out the rackets and numbers games and by levying stiff penalties against convicted underworld figures," Mrs. English noted. Neil M. Frigand, Director

Matt Rinaldo is in the great Elo Dwyer tracition.

"He is a man of proven legislative and humanitarian accomplishment who is clearly the best candidate to succeed me." After 16 years of representing Union County in Congress, Flo Dwyer is retiring. But her tradition of courageous leadership in the 12th Congressional District will continue in the hands of the outstanding legislator she supports: Matt Rinaldo.

He is taking stands on the issues in keeping with the Dwyer tradition. That means speaking out on the war, on welfare, on drugs, on crime, on tax reform, on the environment, on inflation - on all the problems of this state and this country.

But that's just one part of the great Flo Dwyer tradition. "I believe in being close to the people I represent in Washington." That's a tradition that Matt Rinaldo is already familiar with. When Union County sent Matt to the State Senate, the first thing he did was open a public office in his home district. At his own expense.

"That's something else I like about Matt. Did you know that in his five years in the State Senate, he's answered thousands of letters and phone calls personally? If you want to tell Matt a thing or two, all you have to do is call him on the phone. He'll listen."

And then there's the third part of the great tradition. Action. "He's sponsored or co-sponsored more than 140 bills that have become state law in the last five years. That's a record to be proud of." His opponent has spent a grand total of 17 hours and 50 minutes in the State Senate, a performance which hardly merits promotion to the U.S. House of Representatives. "I know the people of Union County. And they know me," Congresswoman Dwyer said. "We need a representative like Matt-a full-time Congressman who'll pick up the fight where I leave off. I know he'll fight hard in Congress to extend the minimum wage, to establish an independent consumer protection agency, raise the earnings limit for social security benefits, and for scores of bills that I have been working for as your Representative in Washington."

After five solid years of representing Union County full-time. in Trentan, Matt Rinaldo Is ready to represent Union County in Congress. But don't take our word for it. Ask Flo Dwyer.

"You and I need him in Congress," she said, "He's done a lot in Trenton He'll do more in Washington." Vote for Matt Rinaldo on November 7th, Flo Dwyer will,

Jersey's best teams—Summit (rated No. 5 in the Suburban Conference with 4-0 records the state), Madison Boro (15), and New The Buildogs are tied for fourth at 1-3.

The Jonathan Dayton Regional Football Bulldogs were defeated last Saturday by New Providence, 39-0. This Saturday, the Bulldogs—who sport a 2-4 record—will play host to Millburn at Meisel Field at 1:30 p.m. While the Bulldogs missed running back Vinnie Davis, who was injured, New Providence was aided by the return of superstar Richie Allocco, Allocco, who was considered a doubtful starter during the week because of an ankle injury, scored two touchowns. His point total for the sesson (96) is one of the highest in the state.
