- Has the largest mattress factory in the United States.
- Cincinnati organized the first paid fire department in the country.
- The first steam fire engine was made in Cincinnati.
- The first steam printing press was operated in Cincinnati.
- Cincinnati manufactures more playing cards than any city in the world.
- Cincinnati has the greatest May Festival in the United States; the greatest conservatories of music in the United States and one of the leading symphony orchestras in the world.
- Has the largest movable dam in the world.
- Ranks third in the manufacture of electrical machinery.
- First concrete skyscraper in the world was built in Cincinnati.
- Cincinnati opened the first "continuation" school in America for factory apprentices, and leads in industrial training.
- Ranks first also in the manufacture of acids, bookcases, field musical instruments, printing inks, laundry machinery.
- First Industrial Exposition was held in Cincinnati.
- United States Weather Bureau was started through Cincinnati effort.
- Has a greater variety of factories than any other city in the country.
- Is a rapidly growing automobile factory center.
- Ranks third in the manufacture of "Tailor to the Trade" clothing.
- Greatest lithographing center in the United States.
- First and largest compressed yeast factory in the United States.
- Has the largest piano factory in the Middle West.
- Ranks second in the production of women's cloaks and men's caps.
- Is a leading shoe manufacturing center.
- Ranks third in the manufacture of jewelry.
- Largest center in the United States for the manufacture of copper stills and appliances.
- Ranks third in the manufacture of street cars.
- Leading market in the country for medium-priced clothing.
- Leads in the export of special pianos built in special designs for tropical and other countries.
- Center of the greatest carriage producing district in the country.
- Largest distributing center for whisky in the world.
- Leads in the production of cigar boxes.
- Has the second largest factory in the world for manufacture of baseballs and baseball supplies.
- More fruits and vegetables are shipped through the Cincinnati gateway than to any other market, excepting only New York.
- Cincinnati is the father of baseball, the great National game having been born here nearly half a century ago.
- The first suspension bridge in the United States was built over the Ohio, connecting Cincinnati and Covington. It was built 40 years ago, and is still one of the largest and finest bridges in the world.
- Cincinnati is the tenth metropolitan city in the United States, with a metropolitan population, according to the latest census bulletin of 563,804.

Changes of a Year— Good and Bad.

CINCINNATI officially passed the 400,000 population mark during the past twelve months. Ohio during the same period passed the 5,000,000 population mark. According to the United States Census Bureau estimates Cincinnati had a population of 400,115 on January 1st, 1914, and will have a population of 402,175 on July 1st, 1914. The corrected population figures of the census of 1910 gave Cincinnati a population of 364,463. The latest census bulletin, issued several weeks ago, therefore indicates an increase in population of 37,712 in four years. With the annexation of territory now wholly or almost wholly surrounded by the Cincinnati corporation lines, which will very probably take place within the next six years, and the natural growth within the present city, the census of 1920 will show a population very close to, if not exceeding, one half million people.

But Cincinnati has not been and is not in a population race; it wants more people but first it wants the right kind of people. It today is a greater city in many ways, greater in bank clearings and all financial affairs, greater in its varied manufacturing industries, greater in the number of voters, and greater in general civic improvements and proper living conditions than the one Ohio city which has a larger population, which is credited in the bulletin above quoted with a population of over 237,000 more than the population accorded Cincinnati.

During the year the growth of the fine civic spirit which has prevailed in Cincinnati for several years was manifested in a number of ways. One was the more aggressive movement, both official and private, for better housing conditions. If continued it will in time eliminate one of the curses of all big cities—the slums and insanitary tenement house districts. Another was in the work of the City Health Department and of the various semi-public organizations devoted to improving the health and general welfare of the city along all social service lines. The movement for more parks, playgrounds, and athletic fields was continued and will be continued until all reasonable demands are satisfied. A seemingly small but very pleasing manifestation of the spirit now animating Cincinnati was the "Community Christmas Tree"—an immense spruce tree in Government Square, illuminated with hundreds of colored electric bulbs and at the base of which Christmas carols were sung and concerts given every evening during the holidays.

As have all other cities, and the entire country, Cincinnati has suffered the past year from the general industrial and business depression, uncertainty and lack of confidence to inaugurate new enterprises. It has suffered less, however, than other cities—it has had no bank failures or financial crashes, and very few business failures. The evil effects of the floods in Ohio and Indiana in March and April, 1913, continued to be felt for many months but there were no floods or other disasters to mark the past twelve months.

As it did at the election in November, 1911, so at the election in November, 1913, the city made a radical change in its administration so far as elective officials are concerned. Owing to the operation of the civil service law, however, the change was not nearly so far reaching as it would have been under the old order of municipal government.

TERMINAL PROBLEMS.

So far as tangible results are concerned the steam railroad and electric traction line terminal problems have not changed during the past year. The reports of the experts and engineers on the canal subway loop scheme, proposed and pushed by the last administration, have not yet been made, though demanded by the present administration. They will be made, it is stated, within the next few weeks. There has, however, been one change in the situation—it is that the business men of the city have become acutely alive to the handicap under which Cincinnati has suffered for years through lack of both freight and all kinds of passenger terminals, and for the first time are actively engaged in seeking a solution of the problem. Proposals for two depot and terminal franchises, submitted by Mr. John E. Bleekman, are now before the City Council and action on them will in the near future be urged by business men and organizations. The inter-urban traction terminal and depot proposal has already been financed, among those who will take a large financial interest in it when the franchise is granted being prominent Cincinnati capitalists.

LABOR TROUBLES.

The most disastrous and discouraging feature of life in Cincinnati the past year has been the strikes and labor troubles—more of each than the aggregate for many previous years. When Cincinnati's first street car men's strike was settled May 20th, 1913, many hoped that the trouble with the building trades workers, which had been constantly coming to the surface for some time, would also be amicably adjusted and the city be free of strikes for a time. But the hope speedily changed to dismay.

June, 1913, was marked by the strike of the ice wagon drivers, followed by the striking of other employees of the ice making and distributing companies. The city administration undertook to prevent so far as possible suffering among the ill, weak, and children, as well as deaths, due to a lack of ice, by seizing the supplies in the ice houses and shipping in ice in car load lots. Firemen and policemen were pressed into the service and the engine houses were made distributing points, the quantity sold to any person being limited. It was not, however, until the Board of Health passed a strong resolution on the subject and the city in accordance with it took forcible possession of a number of ice plants and began operating them that a compromise was effected and the strike ended. It was declared at the time, and since, that the city had no legal authority to seize the ice plants, which were private property, but the then city administration was never adversely criticised for acting, even if illegally, in the interest of humanity.

In July the teamsters' strike started and officially it has never been declared "off" or at an end. It was met promptly by the employing team owners, many of whom temporarily went out of business, sending their teams to pasture in the country. Many commission men and other business men and their office and house employees manned wagons and auto trucks. A few coal companies granted the demands of the striking teamsters but the others refused to do so. For about a month there was considerable disorder and some rioting, and a number of non-union drivers and a few of the union men were seriously injured. Then, the employing team owners, and business houses as a whole, showing no signs of weakening, and still absolutely refusing to recognize the teamsters' union, the men gradually went back to work. The strike was a costly one to both sides and to the city as a whole, greatly interfering with business for a few weeks and permanently driving some business to other cities.

There were a number of other strikes during July and succeeding months. The members of the laundry workers' union, which was organized early in the summer, walked out one day and in a week a large number of Cincinnatians found that they would have to buy various articles or else be not as cleanly as usual. But in about another week all of the laundry workers who could get them were filling their old jobs and the strike was over, the laundry companies having refused to accede to any of the demands of the union and the union after the strike was ten days old decreased in membership as rapidly as, previous to the strike, it had increased in membership.

There were also strikes among the workers in garment factories, cigar factories, shoe factories, and other industrial concerns, a majority of them being directed against individual companies and not of a general character.

An unusual kind of strike has developed within the past few weeks. It was inaugurated by the Musicians' Union and is directed against the Park Board. The latter let a contract for a series of park concerts to the First Regiment band, a non-union organization, and was served notice by the union musicians that until the contract was annulled they would not enter into any contracts or play in any of the parks. The contract will not be annulled, the Park Board answered, and present indications are that the people will not enjoy as much music in the open as they have in past years.

Trouble in the building trades has been continuous and has prevented during the past two years the carrying out of building projects involving the expenditure of a number of millions of dollars. Some of these projects have been permanently abandoned, others have been laid aside until absolute peace is secured and there is assurance that peace will continue for some time. The cases in the architects' offices are filled with plans for all sorts and kinds of buildings—how long they will remain so no one can answer. The latest strike was that of the union carpenters on May 1st, 1914. They demanded an increase from 50 cents to 55 cents per hour for the present year, and 60 cents per hour for next year, and that only union mill work be used. The matter of increased wages could have been satisfactorily adjusted some time ago but the contractors refused to bind themselves to use only the product of mills employing only union labor. Efforts are being made to adjust, or compromise, the matter and meantime most of the mills supplying the Cincinnati market have shut down and building operations are almost at a standstill, no new work being started. The coming year will be either a very dull one or a very lively one in the building line in Cincinnati, depending on whether the trouble continues or a peace understanding is reached.

CHANGES UNDER NEW CONSTITUTION.

A number of changes have already taken place in Cincinnati, and more are on the way, on account of the amendments to the state constitution adopted by the voters of Ohio in 1912, and the laws since then passed at the regular and special sessions of the legislature.

Under the "home rule" provision of the new constitution Cincinnati on July 30th, 1913, held a "Charter Election" and elected fifteen charter commissioners. After holding many meetings and public hearings the commissioners finally agreed early in May of this year on a charter which, under the law, must be submitted to the voters at a special election within one year after the date of the election of the commission. June 30th was set as the date of the election but owing to the advertisement for bids for printing the copies of the proposed charter, which must be distributed to voters, containing the unauthorized provision that the union printers' label must be used on the work, all bids were rejected and readvertising was ordered. The commission then set July 14th as the date of the election. This change it was claimed by some is illegal and they threatened to take the matter into the courts, the object being to prevent the holding of any election. It is therefore, at this writing, a question whether or not any election will be held, and, if one is held, the result is doubtful.

The proposed charter would change the term of office of the mayor from two to four years, would greatly increase his authority, especially in the matter of appointments, and would concentrate authority and responsibility in his office. It also provides for a city council of 15 members, to be elected at large, and to exercise purely legislative functions. The opposition to the proposed charter is active and composed of two classes, those who are opposed to adopting a new charter of any kind at this time, and those who are opposed to one or more of the provisions of the proposed charter.

LIQUOR LICENSE LAW.

For over half a century previous to November, 1913, there was not a licensed saloon in Ohio, and in the cities, including Cincinnati, the state laws regulating the liquor traffic were for the most part ignored and at most very rarely enforced. The license law, made possible by the new constitution, worked a radical change in-so-far as the saloon business is concerned. In Cincinnati, under the section providing that there shall not be more than one saloon to 500 inhabitants in any political subdivision of the state, a few over five hundred saloons were closed on the fourth Monday in November, only 802 licenses being granted. The Sunday closing law, for the first time since it was passed many years ago, is being obeyed in Cincinnati. This is not due to the activity of either local or state officials but to the provision of the law under which violation of any of the liquor laws will result in the revoking of licenses, which under the 1 to 500 limitation are very valuable. Other provisions of the law are also being enforced, and on the whole it is generally pronounced a success.

The new law incidentally, has worked other changes. It has, by closing the saloons on Sunday, greatly increased the revenues of the street car companies operating between Cincinnati and Covington, Newport and other cities across the Ohio River in Kentucky, where the saloons are still open on the first day of the week. It has also caused a new industry to spring up in Cincinnati, that of "boot legging." A number of arrests for selling liquor contrary to law, by persons not holding licenses, have been made, followed in a great majority of the cases by convictions, stiff fines, and imprisonment in the work house. The authorities believe that the course being followed will soon stamp out this new industry.

NEW TAXATION LAW.

The new Warnes taxation law was passed by the Ohio Legislature on April 18th, 1913, and went into effect in August, 1913. The two District Assessors are Peter J. McCarthy and Charles L. Doran, with offices in the Second National Bank Building. One of the most pronounced new features of the Warnes law is the appointment of the Deputy Assessors instead of their election. In 1913 over 400 assessors were employed in Hamilton County, and under the Warnes law in 1914 the work was done by 85 men, of whom 51 were engaged in the City of Cincinnati proper. The assessors engaged in the 26 wards began their work on February 24th, 1914, and finished it on May 29th, 1914. There was no general re-appraisal of real estate values in 1914, the bulk of attention of the District Assessors being centered on securing a full listing of personal property, and the efforts of the assessors in the field were principally directed to that end.

On May 15th, it was estimated by the District Assessors that the increase in the personal duplicate of Cincinnati proper would be fifty millions, with the possibility of it considerably exceeding that figure. This, however, was but an estimate as the exact figures will not be available until after July 1st. There are indications that the increase in the county, as a whole, will reach seventy-five millions, with the possibility that it will reach one hundred million dollars. These last named figures will assure a substantial reduction in the tax rate, provided the city and county departments conduct their affairs without any increase of the amounts allowed them for this year.

One of the striking effects of the Warnes law was the uncovering of millions of dollars worth of intangible property which had been hidden from the taxing officials for years. Another feature was the tremendous increases made in personal returns by a large number of wealthy residents, as well as the large corporations. These increases were all voluntary.

The law is a new one, and the District Assessors claim its operation next year will be much more effective than it has been this year, with greatly increased results, as a direct benefit to the taxpayer. One of the features of the work of the District Assessors was the publicity campaign carried on, through which they succeeded in creating a general sentiment among taxpayers to make proper and honest returns. The results are shown in the tremendous voluntary increases in the tax duplicate.

FINANCIAL.

Cincinnati bank clearings for the year ending March 31 show a decrease of $43,000,000. To two causes can be laid, it is declared, the entire blame for this showing of a decrease as compared with the usual showing of a healthy increase. First cause: the flood in Ohio the last week in March and first week in April, 1913. Second cause: the labor troubles in Cincinnati. The flood caused a loss in business with Hamilton, Dayton, and other Ohio cities, as well as Indiana cities, which was reflected to the extent of millions of dollars of loss in clearings during the last nine months of 1913. How great a loss was caused by labor troubles cannot be positively known but they have, it is declared, directly and indirectly caused a loss of many millions. The teamsters' strike last July and August, and other minor strikes during these and succeeding months interfered to a considerable degree with business, and also prevented a large amount of new business. The strikes and trouble in the building trades were the most serious, however, in results, not only to work in progress but in the way of preventing many, among them several very large, building projects. The clearing house figures for the past three years are: 1911-12, $1,290,289,300; 1912-13, $1,375,381,300; 1913-14, $1,332,381,300.

The excellent financial condition of the city, and the fact that it is growing still better, as well as the business transacted during the month of April, 1914, is shown by the last report of the Trustees of the Sinking Fund. It is as follows:

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

In no year since its organization, in 1839, has the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce accomplished so much for the industrial and civic advancement of the city as during the past twelve-month. While greatly enlarging the scope of its commercial and industrial activities the organization has not overlooked the vast opportunities afforded it for assisting in the various movements for city advancement and in many of them the Chamber of Commerce has taken the initiative and carried the project to a successful conclusion.

Some years ago, when the Chamber of Commerce decided to enlarge its sphere of work and influence in the city, Executive Secretary W. C. Culkins sounded the slogan of the new order of things when he said that the organization would be judged in the future by results, and not merely by resolutions. It was no easy task to break the traditions of nearly three quarters of a century by entering a field that heretofore had not been occupied by the organization. But the men behind the movement were sincere in their desire to advance in a substantial way, and the early lack of support and encouragement did not deter them. The results of the past two years have more than justified the early struggles, for no organization in Cincinnati has ever undertaken so much or accomplished so much for the advancement of the city as has the Chamber of Commerce.

Since moving into its new quarters on the second and third floors of the Union Central Life Insurance Company Building the Chamber of Commerce has greatly enlarged, and increased its membership to more than 2,100. There are 12 departments, each in charge of competent officials and each designed to advance the interests of Cincinnati in its industrial, commercial, civic, educational and social life.

One of the new departments established by the Chamber of Commerce during the past year is the Civic and Industrial Department, with C. R. Hebble as manager. Besides bringing a number of new industries to the city during the past year, this department has started an industrial survey of the city which, when completed, will offer detailed information of the number of men employed in every industry, the wages paid, the class of materials used, the market from which these materials are secured and to which the finished products are shipped, freight rates on incoming supplies and outgoing manufactures and other information which will establish the status of every industry in Cincinnati so that methods of improvement may easily be worked out.

This department also carried out a "Clean-Up" campaign recently with better results than ever before obtained here or elsewhere. The department now is engaged in organizing a bureau of part-time employment for the benefit of pupils of the local schools who desire part-time employment, and in which the department will have the co-operation of numerous local manufactories and mercantile establishments.

In matters pertaining to public utilities, the building of a new union station, the extension of the operations of interurban electric lines and other urgent municipal matters, this department also has been active and influential, its officials participating actively in all matters pertaining to the advancement of Cincinnati's growth in every direction.

The Convention and Publicity Department, under the management of Carl Dehoney, has done yeoman work in bringing conventions to the city and in seeing to it that the delegates to these gatherings left singing the praises of Cincinnati. The present year will see more conventions in Cincinnati than ever before, with pledges for next year that promise to make that the banner year of the activities of this department along those lines. Only recently this department brought to a close a campaign for a $100,000 fund to be used in convention and publicity work during the next few years, and had the pleasure of seeing the desired amount over-subscribed by many thousands of dollars.

Along the lines of publicity this department has been diligent in spreading the fair fame and correcting erroneous reports concerning Cincinnati. Thousands of pieces of instructive and interesting literature concerning Cincinnati have been sent to all parts of the country, and the plan for an annual trade expansion excursion successfully carried out, the route this year leading through twenty-one of the principal cities of Western Ohio and Eastern Indiana. This line of work also will be pursued next year, arrangements having already been completed for a trade expansion trip, on a special train, to the San Diego and San Francisco expositions.

The Traffic Department, with Guy M. Freer as manager, has accomplished much during the past year in the way of securing adjustments of freight rates for Cincinnati shippers and receivers, and in other ways aiding local business by securing more equitable consideration of the interests of Cincinnati business men.

Foreign trade also has been greatly stimulated by the activities of the Foreign Trade Department and the Export Club, under the management of Bernard Freudenstein. This department is one of the few of its kind that have been recognized by the United States Government and entrusted with some of its work, and also enjoys prestige among the officials of our own and other governments, as well as merchants and manufacturers abroad.

Aside from the 12 departments directly administered by the officials of the Chamber of Commerce, there are a number of subsidiary associations in the organization, such as the Coal Exchange, the Grain and Hay Exchange, the Produce Exchange, Weather Department and others, including committees that are active in every movement making for the advancement of Cincinnati, thus placing the Chamber of Commerce at the very head of organizations whose aim it is to guard, guide and advance every commendable movement concerning the city.

ALWAYS AWAKE.

Forty-two neighborhood improvement associations in Hamilton County, thirty-nine of which are in the city of Cincinnati, are banded together in The Federated Improvement Associations. They have a total membership of about ten thousand. All are non-political and are working independently for the betterment of their separate neighborhoods. Together, through the central organization, they exercise a powerful influence; first, by educating their members in public matters; second, by working to secure improvements, and third, by working to overcome existing conditions and laws disadvantageous to the citizens and calculated to retard the growth of the city.

The associations have grown in numbers and increased in activity and usefulness during the past year. They were active in the campaign for the new charter and are now active to secure the adoption of the charter submitted by the Charter Commission. They secured the installation of over 40 sanitary drinking fountains in various parts of the city on public streets; stopped the lottery ticket plan of certain nickel shows; they are now co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce in its Industrial and Vocational Survey, have been active in promoting the study of "City Planning" for Cincinnati; have aided the Anti-Tuberculosis League in raising funds and in the fight to exterminate the fly; have worked for the extension of playgrounds and recreation in the parks; have worked to secure fuller co-operation of the public with the public schools and University; urged the passage of the legislation providing for sewers and the carrying of the bond issues; continued activity without reward in results for the elimination of the smoke nuisance; investigated a number of proposed street and viaduct improvements and urged that the improvements be made; have co-operated with the Council of Social Agencies to secure the adoption of laws providing for a Court of Domestic Relations and worked to have tenement house inspection put under the Health Board instead of under the Building Commission; have continued to publish the Civic News Monthly, and in various ways to show that their motto "WE SERVE" is the vital principle of the organization.

Walter A Knight is President and Dr. Otto Dieckmann Secretary of the Association. Meetings held on the second Thursday of each month at the Gibson House, are attended by delegates from the various constituent bodies and are open to the public.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB.

Active and growing constantly the Business Men's Club has during the past six months become ambitious for itself as well as for Cincinnati. The agitation for a new home, with a fully equipped gymnasium, sleeping rooms, and other features not in the present club house, may be allowed to slumber during the hot summer months but will be taken up again in the fall. During the year the Club has taken an active part in all important civic as well as business movements. It has pushed the "good roads" movement in this section of the state and the results of its work, and that of others, will be very apparent within the next two years.

MAIN STREET MERCHANTS.

The Main Street Merchants Association is a new organization; it has also during the past year been a decidedly active and aggressive organization. In addition to doing various things of special benefit to Main street, it has started a movement, the preliminary work for which is now under way, to have all the canal bridges from Broadway to Plum street lowered to a level with the streets. The Association admits that some day the present canal will be a boulevard, but that day is still some years in the future and meantime, there being no traffic on the canal or further need of high bridges, it wants them, or at least the one on Main street, lowered. And it will be the first one to be lowered.

BUILDING.

During the year ending May 1st building permits amounting to $8,295,840 were issued. It is estimated that but for labor troubles in the building trades during the year and preceding it that the amount would have been well towards $12,000,000.

The work of eliminating old and dangerous buildings is being pushed by Assistant State Fire Marshal J. E. McGinn and his assistants, Wm. H. Sweeney and Ben Meyer. During the year 1913 they condemned and had torn down 262 buildings and during the first four months of the present year they served 199 buildings in the same way. While they do not inspect for or condemn on account of insanitary conditions such conditions usually exist in the buildings they condemn, most of which are old and of frame construction. Their work is therefore appreciated by the organizations working to improve social and health conditions.

NEW BUILDINGS.

Among the notable buildings erected or completed during the past twelve months are the Gibson House, the Gwynne store and office building, Sixth and Main streets, and the new home of the Cincinnati & Suburban Bell Telephone Company at Fourth and Hammond streets. The new Gibson will never be the victim of a fire, as was the old building, for there was nothing used in its construction which is burnable. As a hotel it is up to the minute, with every accommodation and convenience for the comfort and pleasure of its patrons. The Gwynne Building is a beautiful structure. It is fireproof and strictly modern. An unusual fact regarding it is that before being ready for occupancy the entire building was leased for twenty years to one company, which will use several floors for its own offices and sublet the other floors. The Telephone Company has added thousands of subscribers to its list annually for a number of years but it will be many years, if ever, before larger quarters for the main exchange and offices are required. Work on an 18-story addition to the Union Trust Building was started several weeks ago.

PERMANENT EXHIBIT BUILDING.

More than fifty per cent of the space in the proposed permanent exhibit building has been leased and the financial arrangements required for the taking over of the property and erection of the building have been completed. The date on which the work of tearing down the historic Burnet House will begin, and also the date on which the new building will be ready for occupancy, now depend on two things: First, the consent to the transfer of every one of the sixteen heirs to the property, who are scattered all over the world, several of them being residents of European countries. All have been communicated with and have given favorable answers but several have not yet signed the necessary papers. Second, the condition of the labor market, and especially of the building trades, in the matter of strikes when the first cause for the existing delay is removed.

FIRE RECORD.

During the year 1913 there were 2,320 fire alarms of which 77 were "false alarms" and 75 were the result of chimneys burning out, no loss being sustained. The total loss on buildings was $456,437 and on contents was $626,744 making the total loss for the year $1,083,181. Over 80 per cent of this loss was sustained in twenty fires. The heaviest loss during the last six months of the year was $91,000 in the burning of the Wiborg & Hanna Lumber Company's buildings and yards. The only fatal fire during the past year was at the Salvation Army Industrial Home on Freeman Avenue.

During the first four months of the present year the total loss by fires was less than $250,000, half of that amount being caused by two fires. The number of alarms has noticeably decreased since the recent "Cleanup" crusade. According to Chief Conway of the Salvage Corps, a deep student of the subject, over ninety per cent of the fires in Cincinnati are from easily preventable causes, and insurance rates could be reduced two-thirds if the same care was exercised here as is shown in European cities, the insurance companies being simply collectors and distributors of the money of people who carry insurance.

BETHEL DIAMOND JUBILEE.

For seventy-five years the Cincinnati Bethel has been growing in usefulness and service to humanity. It was organized by the pupils of a Sunday School which held meetings on the river front and its first home was a boat. It moved in a few years to a big building on the public landing, between Broadway and Sycamore, but this, ten years ago, was outgrown and the present home, greatly enlarged since first occupied, is at Third and Lawrence streets. There are a number of departments of social service work in addition to the one which temporarily feeds, shelters and clothes destitute men, women and children. During the winter months of every year thousands of calls for aid are answered. A summer home in the country to which women and children of the tenements may be taken is the latest good work of the institution.

Beginning May 3rd the diamond jubilee of the Bethel was celebrated, several meetings and reunions being held; there were also concerts and various exercises. Former President Taft was the guest of honor at one meeting and spoke on "The Value of Social Service."

The name of the late David Sinton looms large in connection with both the Y. M. C. A. and the Bethel. He was the greatest benefactor of both institutions.

NEW Y. M. C. A.

"What other cities have done Cincinnati can do" was the slogan of the ten day campaign conducted last month to raise $500,000 for a new Young Men's Christian Association building. It opened May 15th and during the first five days over half the required amount was secured in pledges. The campaign at this writing—May 20th—promises to be even more than successful, workers predicting that the sum raised will probably exceed the mark set.

The first Y. M. C. A. in the United States was organized in Cincinnati in 1848 and the second Y. M. C. A. convention was held in this city in 1855. The first building occupied by the Association, at Columbia and John streets, was known as "The Workmen's Coffee and Reading Rooms." The first Y. M. C. A. in the world was organized in London in 1844 and the Cincinnati organization was the first to ratify the formation of the Y. M. C. A. alliance in the United States. With such a record it is only fitting that Cincinnati should have a new Y. M. C. A. building to take the place of the present structure at Seventh and Walnut streets, which has been outgrown by the Association. The campaign was opened at a dinner and meeting at the Business Men's Club at which Former President Taft was the principal speaker.

MAY FESTIVAL.

In every way the twenty-first May Festival was a great success, a success the more gratifying in that it was more nearly a purely Cincinnati production than any of its predecessors. For the second time since the first May Festival was given forty-two years ago the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra was engaged, and it was directed by a Cincinnati by adoption, Dr. Ernst Kunwald. The chorus, as always, was composed of Cincinnatians, some of whom joined it when it was organized in 1871 and some whose parents were not born at that time. Unstinted praise was given to, and deserved by, both the regular chorus and the children's chorus, which took a prominent part in several of the concerts. Music Hall was filled to its capacity at every concert and for several of them the demand for tickets greatly exceeded the supply, hundreds who desired to attend being unable to do so for that reason.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra had one of the most successful seasons in its history, so successful in fact that additional concerts, both of the regular symphony concerts in the Emery Auditorium and the popular concerts in Music Hall, will be given the coming season. With the exception of the first popular concert—when owing to a misunderstanding there were a few vacant seats—every concert of the series was greeted with an audience which filled every seat in the big hall, every ticket being sold several days in advance, with the demand not nearly satisfied. The symphony concerts, both afternoon and evening, were greeted with audiences of about 2,000, which number almost fills the Emery Auditorium. In every city which it visited on its trips the orchestra scored triumphs and invitations to return next season were earnest and urgent.

A FOREST IN A CITY.

During the last four years the total area of park land acquired was 1,478.64 acres, which was nearly three times as great as the total area previously owned. The area acquired by purchase, annexation and gift during the year ending December 31st, 1913, was divided as follows: Purchased 142.33 acres; donated 38.8 acres; leased 133.9 acres; annexed 1.02 acres. During the four months of 1914, from January 1st to May 1st, 37.49 acres were purchased and added to the park system already existing. The total cost of property, $939,825.84; total cost of improvements, $236,916.17; total cost of all park property and improvements to May 1st, 1914, $5,680,573.01. The property is divided into 41 parks, 17 playgrounds and 8 athletic fields.

One of the largest works undertaken in the last two years has been that of the Bloody Run Parkway. The object of this parkway is to convert the rugged valley into a boulevard, uniting several of the park properties and making the boulevard a highway for local pedestrian travel and the through pleasure travel from the city. This is only one of several parkways contemplated, as under the Kessler Plan the idea is to have different boulevards connecting all the various park properties, thus coming nearer to accomplishing one feature of the "City Beautiful."

Another feature that has been undertaken in the last two years is the "Reforestation." The rugged valleys and bald hills of Mt. Airy Forest, which was formerly a stretch of waste land, is gradually being transformed into a park property of very great attractiveness. Approximately a million trees have been planted in this park, and the Board of Park Commissioners recommend to any lover of nature a day in the Mt. Airy Forest.

This progress, though possibly at not quite such a rapid rate, is to be maintained until Cincinnati, instead of being one of the last big cities of the country in the park, boulevard or parkway, and playground lines, shall be one of the leaders, if not the leader.

GRADE CROSSINGS GOING.

The good work of eliminating railroad grade crossings within the city limits is still being pushed and will be continued as rapidly as the city is ready to pay its share of the expense—under the present law the railroads pay 65 per cent of the cost of such work and the city 35 per cent, less the per centage which may be assessed against the Cincinnati Traction Company for benefits derived by it.

The Ludlow Avenue viaduct, which eliminates one of the most dangerous crossings in the city, is almost finished and will be opened for traffic within thirty days. The Rookwood crossing, well known on account of its name and the accidents which have happened at it, will be eliminated before January 1st. The work is being done by and under the direction of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Work on the Hopple Street viaduct, over the B. & O. S. W. and C. H. & D. roads is well under way and will be pushed to completion. Plans have been completed for regrading Erie Avenue and the building of a bridge over the tracks where it intersects the Pennsylvania Railroad. This work will probably be completed during 1915. Plans have been approved, the ordinance has been passed for the elimination of the Delta Avenue crossing, a very dangerous one to all kinds of travel.

BIG SEWER WORK.

Work on the big intercepting sewer which is to extend from the Ohio River for ten miles up Mill Creek Valley, and later be extended for several more miles, was started last year. More contracts for it will be let within the next few weeks and it will be pushed to completion. Bonds amounting to $1,055,000 for work on it were issued during the past year. When completed Mill Creek will cease being "an open sewer" for the portion of the city, and the valley villages, through which it passes.

Work on the Duck Creek intercepting sewer was started in April, 1914, and another contract for another portion of it will be let before the end of the year. It will be five miles long. Plans for relief sewers in Clifton, Avondale, Walnut Hills, Hyde Park, Oakley, Carthage, Winton Place, Price Hill and Mt. Auburn were completed, and construction work in Clifton and Avondale is already well under way. A sanitary sewer system, of about 13 miles has been provided for Pleasant Ridge, and part of the new sewer system in Madisonville has been completed.

A survey of the existing sewerage system, containing complete data on 497 miles of sewers, has been completed and the work of plotting the field notes on about 800 sheets 24 x 34 inches in size will be finished in July. A topographic map including the main drainage area of the city, covering 102 square miles, has been completed and reproduced by engraving on a scale of 400 feet to one inch. The obtaining of this data is preliminary to the construction of the proposed new sewerage system for the entire city, into which system the work now under way will fit.

WATER WORKS.

The Cincinnati Water Works is rapidly nearing that perfect condition which has often been predicted. Each year a weak link in the chain is strengthened and within a very few years it can be said to be complete.

During the past year the progress of metering has been steady. A total of 5,600 meters were installed during the year, making now about 56 per cent of all services metered. The per capita consumption has decreased from 131.1 to 125.6 gallons per day.

The principal improvement in the distribution system was the laying of a second 48-inch pump main from the main pumping station to the hill tops. The total of mains laid during the year was 19.3 miles within the city and 0.3 by outlying villages, making a total of 688.7 miles of pipe from 3-inch to 60-inch in diameter in the distribution system.

The additional 17,000,000 gallon pump for the high service is in operation and the additional 7,000,000 gallon pump for the Western Hills service will be ready for service by July 15th. These additional pumps will be sufficient for several years.

The improvements contemplated are: a 24-inch additional pump main from the Western Hills pumping station to Westwood. This work is now under contract; a 36-inch low service loop main will be laid surrounding the city and will serve to supply the low service territory in case of a break in the present 60-inch pump main; these, with an extension of the 48-inch high service main and a 24-inch supply main to the Mill Creek Valley towns will practically complete the main feeder mains of the entire system.

The following table gives the amount of water delivered, the total cost of pumping and the cost of pumping per million gallons during the past six years:

Year.	Total Gallons Delivered.	Cost of Pumping.	Cost of Pumping Per Million Gal.
1908.....	15,275,920,137	$245,749.97	$16.09
1909.....	15,482,286,983	243,688.54	15.74
1910.....	16,965,382,115	243,545.49	14.36
1911.....	17,541,553,859	243,495.99	13.91
1912.....	18,802,466,760	257,454.67	13.66
1913.....	18,362,146,240	273,217.86	14.88

WORK ON NEW COURT HOUSE STARTED.

After several years of agitation and waiting Hamilton County at last has a new Court House in sight. The contract for the remodeling of the buildings at Broadway and Pioneer streets, which will be used as a court house while the new building is being erected, was let May 15th and moving into it will begin within ninety days. The present building, and other buildings on the enlarged site of the new building, are to be torn down and the necessary grading and other preliminary work is to be completed during the present year.

Agitation for the erection of a new City Hall started in earnest the past spring and will result in action during the next two years. The present building is entirely too small, resulting not only in the crowding in it but the renting of offices in other buildings. It will probably be retained for the use of the Fire and Police Departments, the Municipal Court, and possibly one or two other departments. The new City Hall, according to present plans, will be erected at some point on what is now Canal street, but will in time be the Central Boulevard.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

The members of the Board of Health and Dr. John H. Landis, Health Officer, fully believe that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and the results of their policy so far obtained indicate a distinct advance in public health work.

During the past year a survey of over 30,000 school children was made for the purpose of locating active cases of tuberculosis, those in the pretuberculous stage, and others suffering from simple anaemia. Seventy-eight cases of tuberculosis were found and excluded from school, and over five hundred pretuberculous and over a thousand anaemic cases referred to family physicians for treatment. Through the Department of Charities material relief was furnished for the indigent. A large number were given two weeks' outing in the country. Another survey was made to locate physical defects lowering school efficiency; over 14,000 defects were found and referred for treatment. A survey is now being made to locate conditions which handicap efficiency in adult life or render the individual entirely dependent. The object is to direct training along lines which will make the individual independent in spite of the handicap.

All bakeries and barber shops are inspected monthly. Members of the National Association of Master Bakers pronounce Cincinnati bake shops in better sanitary condition than those of any other large city in the country. In the barber shops, clean, fresh towels, styptics in powder form, and disinfection of utensils are insisted upon.

Groceries are inspected and proper sanitary conditions brought about, such as the screening against flies and the protection of food stuffs from promiscuous handling.

All public eating places serving milk are now compelled to serve this article of food in original sealed packages. Further improvement in the milk supply is indicated by a further reduction in the deaths of infants under two years of age from diarrhoeal diseases. The rate per 100,000 of population has dropped from 103 in 1910 to 61 in 1913. Saloon inspection has been inaugurated, the object being to insure patrons service from clean glasses and to protect them from the danger of infection from common towels or unsanitary closets.

Education of the general public in the work of the department and the necessity for such work is obtained by printed weekly reports and by public lectures given by the various employees.

The work in the prevention of blindness saved a number of children from that condition and, so far as the Department has been able to learn, no infant lost its sight during the past year.

BETTER ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS FIGHTING.

Tuberculosis was fought harder, and more effectively, in Cincinnati the past twelve months than during any previous year and, to the extent that funds will permit, the Anti-Tuberculosis League will continue the fight still more vigorously in the future. Much of the prevention work was done in factories during the past twelve months, about 350 of them being visited and inspected, short and plain lectures being delivered and an opportunity being given the workers to be examined. In this way many cases of tuberculosis in its incipient stage were discovered and as a rule the advice to stop working, rest, be treated, and cured, was followed. The school work—giving lectures and making examinations—was continued, as was the work in lodges and labor organizations. Under the direction of the League over 20,000 persons saw the photo play, "The Price of Human Lives" and heard prevention lectures in 45 moving picture houses in the city and suburbs. Last summer the League gave 317 anaemic children outings of two weeks each in the country, and arrangements have been made to give outings to 700 such children this year. Over 200,000 booklets and circulars on the prevention of tuberculosis were distributed.

The United States Bureau of Public Health Service has recognized conditions in Cincinnati and the work of the League, and at its request about two months ago sent Dr. A. F. Robinson here to make a thorough study of the situation. With two assisting physicians he is now engaged in this work and will be for some time to come. This is the first city in the country to have such an examination under Federal authority. Cincinnati, due to the new waterworks, has the lowest death rate of any city from typhoid fever but it still has one of the highest death rates from tuberculosis. During the past ten years the rate has decreased only 13 per cent. There are now about 5,000 persons in Cincinnati suffering from tuberculosis, based on the number of deaths during the past few years from this entirely preventable disease. The League has been spending between $3,000 and $4,000 annually on relief work, which did not and could not cure any cases. This work on May 1st was turned over to the Associated Charities. The League has also asked the Board of Health to follow the example of the health authorities of other cities and take over the dispensary work, which has been a heavy burden, after the present year. This would enable the League to devote all its energy and funds to its proper sphere, that of educational and prevention work. Superintendent S. P. Withrow, after several years service, resigned early in 1913. Mr. Arthur Boden, who had been a disinterested worker in the cause for a long time, was Acting Superintendent until January, 1914, when the League secured Mr. Courtenay Dinwiddie as Superintendent.

NEW HOSPITALS.

During the year $400,000 of bonds were issued for the equipping of the new General Hospital, portions of which have been occupied for about two years. Within the next year, it is anticipated, all of the public general hospital work will be moved to it and the old hospital at Twelfth, Ann, Plum and Central Avenue will be abandoned.

The new tuberculosis hospital was provided for by an issue of $340,000 of bonds and is to be finished within the coming year.

Ground was broken for an addition to Christ Hospital. It will cost $200,000 and more than double the capacity of the institution.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The past year has been the first of the superintendency of Dr. Randall J. Condon, who came from Providence, R. I., to assume the superintendency in succession to F. B. Dyer, on January 1st, 1913. Mr. Condon was elected last month for a term of five years. He has established himself in the esteem of the community and in the regard of the school teachers and pupils as an efficient, progressive and capable superintendent.

In June, 1914, for the first time in the history of Cincinnati, students will graduate from its high school after completing commercial, industrial, art and music courses, as well as other students who have completed general, classical, manual training and domestic science courses; in all, about six hundred students will graduate from the Cincinnati High Schools in June, 1914.

In the elementary schools, there has been a marked increase in enrollment, raising the total to 36,200 as contrasted with 34,000 a year ago. This is, in part, due to the greater effort of the schools to serve the various needs of the pupils, and also to the effect of the new school attendance law, which requires boys to be in school until they are fifteen and girls until they are sixteen, and does not permit boys to leave school until they have finished the sixth grade, and girls until they have finished the seventh grade.

All appointments of teachers in the elementary schools have been made from merit lists prepared in accordance with definite rules formulated and announced to all interested. A large majority of teachers appointed in recent years have been college graduates, many of whom have been trained in the University of Cincinnati, and in the College for teachers maintained there by the Board of Education. It is the general comment of visitors to Cincinnati that the teaching corps is as well prepared, as conscientious and as efficient as the corps of any city in the United States.

The night school work has continued to be one of the most important features of the school system. In the night high schools there are four-year academic courses, the completion of which entitles graduates to a first grade high school diploma, and two-year commercial courses in bookkeeping and stenography. During the present year, there were enrolled in the four-year academic courses 1,159 students and in the commercial courses, 922. There are also industrial classes for men and women, which enrolled respectively 456 and 1,418 students. There are also elementary classes, including one school for teaching English to foreigners, enrolling altogether 1,418 students. The gymnasium classes enrolled 1,730 students—men and women. The special schools include a continuation school for apprentices, which is a school for boys apprenticed to the machinist or the printers trades, enrolled altogether 160 students.

Special features of the year's work have been vocational guidance, gardening, medical, dental and mental inspection, the organization of "Little Mothers' Clubs" in connection with the visiting school nurses, co-operative work of high school students and classes for mothers. The Interscholastic and Public Schools Athletic Leagues have worked with the pupils of the high and elementary schools respectively, and have reached a large number of students. Playground and vacation school work has also been conducted, especially in downtown districts.

The new Guilford school was completed last August, and opened in September. The Cincinnati Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, presented the school with a handsome bronze tablet commemorating the fact that it is on the site of Fort Washington, one of the outposts of the United States Government in the last quarter of the eighteenth century. The tablet was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies, in which the pupils took part, Saturday, May 16th, 1914.

The new George F. Sands school will be opened next September. Work on the Lafayette Bloom school, Dayton and Baymiller streets, is well under way. It will be opened next year. If present plans can be carried out, work on three or more new schools will be started within the next twelve months.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI.

The University of Cincinnati was the first fully organized municipal university in this country. It took its origin from the McMicken College established on the bequest of Charles McMicken in 1870. The University comprises the following departments: The McMicken College of Liberal Arts, with evening classes extending through five evenings each week during the session, and external courses given at various points in the city; the Graduate School; the College for Teachers; the College of Engineering; the College of Commerce; the College of Medicine; the Astronomical Observatory and the Library.

Besides its regular educational work, the University, through its various departments, has developed many lines of service to the city and its people: The Department of Psychology conducts investigations with regard to backward and deficient children in the schools. The children are examined and directions are given for their treatment and development. The Department of Social Science co-operates in social service with the Juvenile Court, the Department of Charities and Corrections, the Associated Charities, the Union Bethel, the Council of Social Agencies, etc. The Department of Political Science directs the Municipal Reference Bureau, located in the City Hall, which collects information for city officials and serves as a laboratory for municipal affairs. The Engineering College conducts a Bureau of city tests, which examines, analyzes, and tests all materials and supplies to be used by the city departments. The College of Medicine has charge of the laboratory and museum of pathology of the City Hospital and makes the examinations for the Hospital. It conducts a Dispensary, with eight clinics, which serves 20,000 patients during the year. The Observatory offers instruction and entertainment to citizens by receiving parties at the Observatory buildings twelve evenings each month, by public lectures, and by publishing a bulletin.

Heretofore, the University has offered no vocational training for women, except that for teaching. At the close of the academic year of 1913-14, it took over the Department of Home Economics, maintained for several years by the Cincinnati Kindergarten Association, and, with the beginning of the session of 1914-15, will offer courses in all branches of household arts and sciences, and, in co-operation with the City Hospital, a nurses' training course, and courses in institutional management and administration.

The city has given the University, through a bond issue, the funds with which to erect two additional buildings—a Chemical Laboratory and an Industrial Arts building for women. The Chemical Laboratory will provide accommodations for all the regular students of chemistry in the various colleges of the University. The most modern chemical laboratories of the country have been visited and their plans studied and the most useful features of each will be embodied in the new laboratory building. The completion of this building, with its increased accommodations, will relieve the limitations placed upon some of the colleges in the past in the admission of students. The Industrial Arts building will contain the laboratories and research rooms for students in all branches of household arts and domestic industries and will provide study and assembly rooms and a gymnasium for all the women students of the University. Its purpose is to develop further vocational opportunities and to train students in household and institutional management, dietetics, and food and textile analysis.

The following endowments have been received recently by the University: "The Julie Fries Levy Endowment Fund" of $50,000; the estate of Dr. Brunning, amounting to $80,000, which has been used to establish "The Francis Brunning Professorship in Anatomy" in the Medical College; the Mary M. Emery Endowment Fund of $125,000 to endow the Chair of Pathology in the Medical College; "The Herman Moos Fund" of $25,000; the Floris Armstrong Sackett Fund, which will amount to at least $30,000; and "The Thomas Gibson Medical Endowment Fund" of $31,500.

The total enrollment for the session of 1913-14, not including the students in the External Courses, was 2,035.

THE OHIO MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

The four departments of work carried on by the Ohio Mechanics' Institute, which was founded in 1828, are: The Institute of Applied Arts, The Timothy C. Day Technical Library, The Emery Auditorium, The Industrial Museum.

Each of these departments has made marked progress within the past year. To the regular curriculum of the Institute of Applied Arts has been added full instruction in printing and linotype work. The cement testing laboratory has been put into operation. All other courses have been greatly strengthened by additional facilities in laboratories and shops.

The Timothy C. Day Library has received additional endowment from the bequest of Mrs. Floris A. Sackett, amounting to $20,000. Many valuable books have been donated by generous friends.

The Emery Auditorium, which is the regular home of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, was available also for many lectures and entertainments for benevolent and charitable purposes, thus carrying out the purpose of the gift which made this great Auditorium possible.

The Industrial Museum has received within the past year, many valuable collections, among them a rare collection of metal work, comprising locks and keys from Roman times to the latter part of the eighteenth century. The collection of Royal Chamberlain keys is particularly valuable. Another very interesting collection is a complete shop equipment of a cloth printing establishment, containing over 400 different patterns, together with the original colors, tools, work bench, reels, etc. A collection of toys and dolls, showing the wonderful skill of European peasants, and serving as most excellent examples and models for the designing and dressmaking class of the Institute. Another rare collection consists of the original designs and tools used by Mr. Benn Pitman in his superior wood carving, which in reality constitutes a great feature in applied art work in this city.

Many mechanical models and other industrial collections, showing processes of manufacturing, have recently been installed, and are now available for the purpose of instruction.

It is only fair to state that the Ohio Mechanics' Institute is today one of the most unique institutions in America.

REFUGE HOME.

An effort is being made to complete before next winter the removal of the Refuge Home to the two farms, one for boys and one for girls, which the city has been equipping for over a year. The old building on Colerain Avenue, next door to the Work House, is rapidly becoming dilapidated and a large sum must be spent on repairs if it is not abandoned in the near future. Some of the children have already been moved to the cottages on the farms and the improvement in them is marked.

Moving pictures were recently added to the reform work being done at the Work House.

PARCEL POST.

The parcel post business of the post office was the most interesting during the past year, being the newest work in Uncle Sam's big establishment. It naturally grew the most rapidly but in all departments a very satisfactory growth is shown by the reports of Postmaster Monfort. The amount of cash handled during the year was $18,364,183.34, being an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the previous year. During the thirty days of April, 1914, over 51,000,000 pieces of mail matter were handled.

The following figures, of weeks when counts were made of all packages, shows the great increase in the parcel post service, an increase which is still being maintained: January 1-7, 1913, one week, 31,246 pieces; October 1-15, 1913, two weeks, 161,178 pieces; April 1-15, 1914, two weeks, 336,787 pieces. The last figures indicate that the parcel post business more than doubled during the last three months of 1913 and first three months of 1914. Other counts developed that there are more than four times as many pieces sent out from Cincinnati as are received here, and that close to half the pieces received are delivered by the regular city carriers. One delivery count gives the following figures: Delivered, by rural routes, 1,106; through post office boxes, 3,818; through general delivery, 2,451; by special parcel post equipment, 33,723; by city carriers, 36,271 pieces. The cost of delivering a package is a small fraction of one-tenth of one cent.

In the postal savings depository department 11,963 accounts have been opened since it was established in September, 1911, and about 5,000 are now active accounts. The total deposits have been $1,853,546.25, of which $678,478 now stands to the credit of individuals. The figures for the year 1913 are:

Deposits in postal savings bank.....	$ 551,009.00
Interest received from banks on savings deposits.....	$ 14,297.05
Savings certificates changed into postal savings bonds.....	$ 86,180.00

SNOW RECORD BROKEN.

The weather during the summer of 1913 and during the winter of 1913-1914 contained about the usual number of changes in temperature and other weather elements. The summer of 1913 opened with generally pleasant weather and normal temperature, but the months of June, July and August were warm and dry with a serious drouth during the last half of August. The rainfall during June and July was comparatively light but because of the abundant precipitation earlier in the year no serious damage was caused by the dry weather during those months. The rainfall during August was only about one-third of the normal amount and this, combined with the hot weather, caused considerable injury to vegetation. During the month of August there were 16 days when the maximum temperature reached 90 degrees or more, and the highest temperature for the summer was 101 degrees on July 30th. The hot, dry weather continued during the first week of September, but by the middle of that month the weather was comparatively cool, and the rainfall, while not abundant, was sufficient to end the drouth. Although the drouth during the summer of 1913 was moderately severe, it was mild as compared with the great drouth in the Middle-West.

The weather from the middle of September until the end of January, 1914, was all that could be desired in the way of mild temperatures, sufficient precipitation and freedom from severe storms. The first killing frost occurred on October 21st, and the first snow of the season fell on the morning of the same day. Extremely warm weather for November prevailed from the 19th to the 22nd, and the temperature for that month averaged 5 degrees above normal. The temperature was comparatively high also during most of the months of December and January, and during the last week in January the temperatures were nearly as high as those experienced in summer weather.

The first severe weather of the winter set in after the first week in February, and for the next two months typical winter weather prevailed. A snowstorm which began late on the 22nd of February developed into a regular blizzard. At times the snow was so dense that objects 50 feet distant were barely visible. As a result of the high winds and heavy snow, drifts from 4 to 5 feet in depth were formed in various parts of the city and suburbs. Seven inches of snow fell during this storm, and the total snowfall during the month of February amounted to 21.4 inches, which is the greatest monthly amount on record at Cincinnati. The weather continued cold during March and the first half of April, after which the temperatures were more moderate and about seasonable conditions prevailed during the remainder of spring.

The Ohio River at Cincinnati was maintained at a stage of above 11 feet during most of the summer of 1913 by the dam at Fern Bank just below the city. From October through to the spring of 1914 there was a good stage of water in the river. At no time during the year did the river reach the flood stage, and for only short periods was navigation interfered with by either high water or floating ice.

The government purchased a site for the meteorological observatory on the west end of Lafayette Circle, Clifton, and a building is now being erected there. This building will be used as the observatory for the Weather Bureau and the residence of the official in charge of the local station. The present office of the Weather Bureau will be maintained in the Government Building as a business office, where the weather maps and other official publications will be prepared, and the business interests of Cincinnati served. The site for the meteorological observatory in Clifton was selected because it was the nearest location to the geographic center of the city which could be secured. The substation of the Weather Bureau in the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce has been maintained during the past year.

The river work of the Weather Bureau has been considerably extended in the Cincinnati district by enlarging the work at the river stations and establishing flood warning distributing centers. Complete river reports are now sent daily to the larger cities in the district, including Portsmouth, Huntington, Gallipolis, and Charleston, W. Va., where daily river bulletins are issued and published in the local papers, and special warnings of floods, or high waters, are telegraphed to about 30 other places in the district as occasion may demand.

MILL CREEK VALLEY FARE.

The long drawn out effort of the Mill Creek Valley villages, several of which have been annexed during the past five years and are now part of the city, to obtain a five cent fare into the city may be crowned with success during the coming year. The City Council a few weeks ago passed an ordinance, to become effective May 24th, providing for a five cent fare to the north boundary of Hartwell, which would also give the same fare to St. Bernard and Elmwood, not yet annexed but surrounded by Cincinnati, and within the city in fact though not so officially or so far as government is concerned. The companies interested appealed to the United States District Court for an injunction to prevent being forced to comply with the ordinance and to avoid possible trouble about their franchises. The matter will not be finally settled for some time but those most interested declare the five cent fare is on the way and approaching at a rapid rate.

SAXBY'S.

Many magazines have been born in Cincinnati during the last quarter of a century. Some lived a few months, some a few years. But in July, 1913, Saxby's Magazine celebrated its silver anniversary and thereby still further confirmed its title to being "A Periodical That's Different." "Saxby's" for many years has been a credit to the city; sometimes it has been caustic, sometimes it has been offensive—to certain individuals—but it has always been unique and always entertaining. Desiring, and intending, that his literary child should live to a ripe old age Howard Saxby provided for a helper and successor, and for several years Howard Saxby, Jr., has been in the harness.

Cincinnati now has a one cent morning newspaper as well as one cent evening newspapers.

TWO NOTABLE GATHERINGS.

Two notable college gatherings have been held in Cincinnati during the past month. The first was the thirtieth annual reunion of the alumni of the American College in Rome, with headquarters at the Gibson House. It was attended by prominent priests and prelates of the Roman Catholic church from all parts of the country. The second was the eleventh annual reunion of the Western Associated Yale Clubs, which was held in connection with the golden jubilee annual meeting of the Cincinnati Yale Club. Headquarters at the Sinton for three days were crowded with famous "Sons of Eli" not only from the western states but also from all sections of the country, Judge William Howard Taft, formerly an active member and officer of the Cincinnati Yale Club, also incidentally former President of the United States, was toastmaster at the banquet.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Following out the idea about even the best of men enjoying a little nonsense now and then the "more day light" idea was revived in Cincinnati some weeks ago and since then has been considered solemnly by committees appointed by the various business and civic organizations. Several cities in the eastern part of the state, having many inhabitants who still believe it is possible for a man to lift himself over a fence by his boot straps, have passed ordinances adopting "Eastern" time and are endeavoring, amid many tribulations, to live up to it. But turning the clock one hour ahead, even in summer time, does not work well; when the winter season arrives it will be highly impracticable, if not wholly impossible, to live up to the new time. Cincinnati balked, and balked hard, according to the recollections of old timers, at changing from sun time to standard time, though the change involved only the pushing backward twenty-two minutes of the clock hands. It is not believed the city will now push them forward sixty minutes. Central time is the legal time in the state of Ohio.

STREET DIRECTORY.

THE Street Directory is an alphabetical arrangement of the names of the Streets and Avenues of the city. By the decimal system of numbering houses, one hundred numbers are allotted to each square. On streets running north and south the numbering begins at the Ohio River. The streets running east and west are numbered east and west from Vine street. All other streets not commencing at either of the above points are numbered in accordance with this system. To such of the streets as are of any considerable importance the names and numbers of intersecting streets and avenues are given in the order in which they occur, which enables one to tell between what streets a certain number is. For instance, you have 420 W. 6th street; by reference to the Street Directory, you find 400 at Central Av. and 500 at John street; consequently the place you wish to find is between Central Av. and John.
