History of An Epochal Year

1914

1915

TWO special elections have been held during the Cincinnati Directory year ending May 31st, 1915. The first was of vital importance to the city not only in its immediate result but as a forecast of the future. The second was epochal; both elections were made possible by the adoption of amendments to the state constitution by the voters of Ohio in September, 1912.

July 30th, 1913, a charter commission composed of fifteen men prominent in business, labor, and professional circles was elected. The commission completed its work and, as required by law, every voter was sent a copy in pamphlet form of the proposed new charter. The election on it was held July 14th, 1914, the vote being "No" 27,972, "Yes" 21,324, a majority of 6,648 against the charter. The result was generally considered an emphatic protest against changing in any way at this time the present form of the city government.

The people also decided several other questions at this election. The recall of officials proposition was defeated, the voting being "Yes" 21,873, "No" 25,338; four bond propositions were defeated and three were carried.

"GREEN LINE" ELECTION.

The second special election of the year was held March 9th, 1915, under the initiative and referendum amendment to the state constitution and was the first election of its kind ever held in Cincinnati. It was on the ordinance passed by the city council and approved by the mayor granting a twenty-five-year franchise to the Cincinnati, Newport and Covington Street Railway Company, colloquially known as the "Green Line." The campaign was a bitter one on both sides and marked by as much misrepresentation as a hotly contested political campaign.

The ordinance was defeated by a majority of 9,196, the vote being: Yes, 23,448; No, 32,644.

The actual merit, or reverse, of the proposed franchise was to a large extent lost sight of by the voters, the result being caused not by antipathy to the Green Line but through a desire to forever abolish old methods and serve notice on all concerned that the old order had passed away and a new era had dawned.

PEOPLE'S POWER LEAGUE.

The People's Power League was organized in the Spring of 1914. Herbert S. Bigelow, pastor of the People's Church and leader of the movement, was elected president of it.

The People's Power League as an organization did not take any part in the charter adoption-rejection election in July, 1914, but since then has been active in all public movements. It opposed the proposed tax rate and classification of property amendment at the election in November, 1914. The league is committed to the classification of property for taxation as a step towards the elimination of personal property from the tax list, but was opposed to the writing into the constitution of any tax limitation opposed to absolute home rule in financial matters in all political sub-divisions of the state.

The league initiated and led the fight against the ordinance granting a franchise to the Green Line. It filed the first formal protest to the mayor previous to the signing of it. Labor organizations also filed a protest but then, as organizations, dropped the fight. The ordinance was supported formally or informally by all of the business and a number of other organizations of the city. The Green Line demanded the submission of the question at a special election to be held at the earliest possible date. The result of the election was a stunning surprise to the supporters of the ordinance. They conceded that the People's Power League was a force to be reckoned with on all public utility and all other civic questions.

COMING CITY ELECTION.

The city election in November, 1915, will be a particularly interesting one on account of a number of issues having no connection with strict party politics being injected into the campaign and influencing the result. Under the fifty year street railway franchise granted in 1896 the city has authority in 1916 to revise the rate of fare. Valuations of the property official and unofficial are being made and there already is in evidence decided and very contrary opinions on the subject.

The matter of electric light and power rates will also probably be settled in 1916, the effort to fix them and renew the city contract during the present year having failed up to date. Surveys and valuations are also being made of the electric light plant and business.

The administration elected next November will also have to deal with the question of providing an entrance into the heart of the city for the interurban lines now stopping at the corporation lines or a short distance within them, and other questions of vital importance to the future of the city. It is possible that civic patriotism may play a far larger part in the coming election than party politics.

DOMINANT IN STATE ELECTION.

Cincinnati played a dominant part in the state election in November, 1915, as shown by the following figures: Seventy of the 88 counties in the state gave majorities in favor of statewide prohibition. It was defeated, however, by a majority of 84,152, of which majority Hamilton county furnished 75,696.

Cincinnati alone and unaided carried the "home rule" amendment to the constitution. The other counties of the state (87) marched to Hamilton county with a majority of 56,702 against home rule to meet a majority in this county of 69,320 in favor of it, making the majority by which it was adopted 12,618. This amendment repealed the county saloon option law, but left in full force and effect all other liquor traffic laws and regulations. Under it every municipality and township in the state has real home rule on the subject.

The proposed suffrage amendment was defeated by a majority of 182,905, Hamilton county furnishing 54,789 of this majority.

The proposed tax rate and classification of property amendment was defeated by a majority of 327,887, of which majority Hamilton county furnished 26,742. Notwithstanding the well known prohibition sentiment of Candidate, and now Governor, Willis and the support given him by the anti-saloon league and the tremendous majority against prohibition, Hamilton county gave him a majority of 1,920.

The Ohio anti-saloon league announced shortly after the election that the issue of statewide prohibition would again be submitted at the election in November, 1915. Petitions for such an election have been circulated and the last announcement by the league is that many more than enough signatures will be obtained before July 1.

CITY PLANNING ON WAY.

The city planning act was passed unanimously by both the house and the senate on the last day of the session. No objection had been made to it by any one but it was so far down on the calendar that it would not be reached for a vote in the regular order. The Woman's City Club would not take any excuse or "No" for an answer and sent several delegations of women to Columbus to urge its passage. Under all the circumstances they won a notable victory.

The bill provides for a city planning commission of seven, to consist of the mayor, service director, president of the park commission and four private citizens to be named by the mayor and serve without pay. The commission is authorized to designate territory or streets for residential, factory, and other uses. It may also, if authorized to do so by council, control the idea, design and location of buildings. It will have authority to care for land marks and dictate the location of the city statuary. After the commission has adopted a plan all public buildings, streets, alleys, boulevards, playgrounds, parks, docks, wharfs, viaducts, bridges, tunnels and municipal or privately owned public utilities must be approved by it before being constructed. The council of Cincinnati and every other Ohio city must first, in order to take advantage of the law pass legislation providing for the creation of a city planning commission.

The city planning exhibit which has been shown in a number of cities, was brought to Cincinnati by the Chamber of Commerce, assisted by the Cincinnati chapter of the American Institute of Architects, Federated Improvement Associations, Engineers' Club, several banks and individuals and the Woman's City Club. It was opened May 26th for a five days' stay in the Union Central building. Mayor Spiegel and a number of prominent men interested in civic work delivered noon-day and evening talks on the advantages of planning a city rather than of having it grow in the haphazard manner in which all American cities up to within a few years have grown.

INTERURBAN ENTRANCE IN SIGHT.

Two bills of vital importance to Cincinnati passed by the general assembly of Ohio became laws when Governor Willis signed them May 17th, 1915. The first provided for the appointment by the mayor, after the passing of an ordinance by the city council, of a rapid transit commission of five members, said commission to have control of the construction and operation of subways, surface, and elevated lines to connect with interurban electric lines. The plans and bond propositions of the commission must be submitted to the voters of the city for approval or rejection. With reasonable activity on the part of present city officials, and members of the commission authorized by the new law, plans for bringing into the center of the city all interurbans, and bond propositions to carry out the plans, can be submitted at the November, 1915, election.

Though Cincinnati is a pioneer in the building of interurban traction lines, local capital in large part furnishing funds for the construction of them, they have to date been a loss to the investors and of no great benefit to the city. Lack of terminal facilities is the answer. They start and end "Nowhere." The cost of ten miles of terminal trackage in Cincinnati equals, or exceeds, the cost of two hundred or more miles of trackage in the country and small towns.

Cincinnati was united as rarely, if ever, it has been united when the passing of the bill providing for the rapid transit commission, and the subsidiary bill amending the canal boulevard lease law, were threatened by a dispute over legislation having no connection with the two bills. Delegations from the business, labor, professional, and purely civic organizations were sent to Columbus and jointly urged the passing of the bills. The same activity on the part of these organizations, due to a realization that Cincinnati has been losing instead of gaining in the control of nearby urban and rural trade territory, will result in the speedy remedying of existing conditions.

The report of the experts and engineers employed to work out and estimate the cost of the canal subway scheme proposed by Engineer Bion Arnold and others was not submitted to Mayor Spiegel until December, 1914, though expected and demanded by him early in the year. The plan was immediately pronounced absolutely impracticable for Cincinnati by engineers and all others familiar with local conditions. The estimates of cost of the alternative plans proposed were, in round figures, from $12,000,000 to $14,000,000. Independent estimates of the over six miles of subway and other construction were from $18,000,000 to $21,000,000, the cost depending on "slides" and other difficulties of underground construction. Cincinnati's experience with constructing utilities, such as the present waterworks and general city hospital, gave substantial support to the assertion of some property owners that the carrying out of the plans would involve an expenditure of nearer $30,000,000 than $15,000,000. Members of the unauthorized, but never-the-less active and respected, rapid transit commission appointed by the mayor prepared a bill, now a law, materially changing the canal lease from the state to the city. Under it the subway construction, by far the most expensive, may be reduced fifty per cent or more and the cost of the canal route be proportionately reduced. Seven millions of dollars, interurban traction operators estimate, is the limit of expenditure for Cincinnati terminals and depot; present and prospective traffic, they state, will not pay fair interest on a larger amount. They recommend one central station with lines to the East, North, and West to junctions with the interurbans as the best in the matter of cost, of efficiency in operation, and of serving a much larger territory and number of people than the loop plan.

The ordinance granting a franchise to Messrs. J. G. Schmidlapp, A. S. White, and their associates, mentioned in the last annual Directory Review, was allowed to lie dormant, by consent of all interested, until after the report on the subway loop plan was submitted. It provided for private investment in the construction of interurban terminals and private operation of them. Since the report was submitted, in deference to a general and apparently growing sentiment in Cincinnati regarding public utilities, Mr. White and associates have submitted a new proposition. They control by direct ownership and through options a majority of the interurban lines, and most of the mileage into Cincinnati, and are builders and operators of successful interurbans in several states. The proposition provides for either immediate or ultimate municipal ownership; the leasing of the lines within the city limits for a period of fifty years; the rehabilitation, financial and physical, of the lines outside the city; the bringing of over 500,000 people within three hours of the Federal Building; that there shall be no increase in taxation on account of the construction and operation of the terminals, the rent paid by the company caring for the bonds.

The proposition provides for the construction of a line from about Third and Sycamore streets via Columbia avenue, Torrence road, Norwood and Bond Hill to St. Bernard, to bring in four interurbans and be completed within eighteen months to two years; a line extending from Torrence road to Carrel street to bring in three interurbans and be completed in 1917; a line using in part the canal route, to bring in one interurban and be built when the city obtains possession of the canal in 1918 or later; a line to Anderson's Ferry to bring in one interurban; and a line to Westwood to provide for prospective interurban development. The lines to St. Bernard and from Torrence road to Carrel street will cost $3,000,000 and $900,000 respectively and work on them can be started within sixty days after an agreement is reached, and completed within three years. They would bring in seven of the nine interurbans and also provide rapid transit for the East End, East Walnut Hills, Madisonville, Evanston, Oakley, Norwood, Bond Hill and St. Bernard.

FINEST MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL IN WORLD.

Cincinnati's New General Hospital was opened March 1st. The moving from the old building, erected during the war between the states, occupied about a week.

It is in every way the finest municipal hospital in the world, the cost of it, $4,000,000, being but a slight indication of the extent and completeness of it. The annual maintenance cost will be over $400,000.

It occupies a site ten minutes by ambulance motor from the federal building and central business section of the city. Twenty-six buildings are on twenty-seven acres which are enclosed, and thirty-eight adjacent acres will later be improved in park style and used by convalescents as recreation grounds. It is one of the points of interest to which distinguished visitors and delegates to conventions are taken, and physicians and others competent to speak are enthusiastic in declaring it far ahead of any institution of its kind in the country.

GREAT MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Mr. Harry Levy at a dinner in celebration of the opening of the New General Hospital, started the ball rolling for a new building for the College of Medicine of the University of Cincinnati (formerly the Ohio and Miami Medical Colleges) with an unconditional donation of $50,000.

Mrs. Mary M. Emery, who has on a number of occasions within the last ten years displayed a fine spirit of civic patriotism, gave $250,000 to the building fund on May 25th, 1915. This gift is exclusively for the construction of the building and is conditioned on the raising of $250,000 for equipment and the starting of an endowment fund before July 1st, 1915. This sum can and will be raised. The site for the new building is to be furnished by the University of Cincinnati. It will be across one of the four streets surrounding the hospital site and will be connected with one or more of the hospital buildings by tunnels.

Cincinnati within a few years will have one of the largest and best equipped medical colleges in the world—one which will attract annually to the city hundreds of physicians and students.

NEW RIVER BRIDGES.

Plans are being drawn for a new Cincinnati Southern Railroad bridge over the Ohio provided for by a bond issue of $2,500,000 authorized last month by the Ohio legislature. They will be submitted to the Secretary of War for approval immediately after being completed and work will be started, it is expected, before the end of the year. The new bridge will not only provide for the heavy railway traffic of the present day and for foot passengers, but in addition to the facilities offered by the present bridge will have a wide roadway for street car tracks and vehicles.

The City Council has been requested to grant permission to extend the suspension bridge from its present terminus on the south side of Second street to the south side of Third street. An ordinance has been introduced and probably will be passed in the near future for this improvement. The work will commence far enough south on the present approach to allow a twenty-one-foot clearance over Second street and a fourteen-foot clearance over Pearl street. The company has already bought the necessary property on the north side of Second, the north and south sides of Pearl and the south side of Third to provide for the tracks and terminal accommodations.

When the bridge is extended to Third street all Newport, Bellevue and Dayton cars now using the L. and N. and Central bridges may be routed over it without increasing the mileage of any line more than four blocks, they having a choice of routes over Third, Fifth, Monmouth and York streets and Central avenue to reach the Fourth street bridge across the Licking river to Covington and thence by direct route to the southern end of the bridge.

ON DIXIE HIGHWAY.

Cincinnati, the gateway city between the north and south as well as the Queen City of the west will be on The Dixie Highway—the great north and south roadway from the lakes to the gulf.

As originally projected the route extended north to south from Chicago to Danville, to Indianapolis, to Louisville, to Nashville, to Chattanooga, to Atlanta, to Macon, to Tallahassee, to Jacksonville and Miami. It is to be constructed within a year. The states, counties and municipalities through which it passes are to furnish the funds.

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, together with the business men of Lexington, Kentucky and Knoxville, Tennessee, took up the matter of changing or adding to the proposed route. Governor Willis was requested to and did appoint Ohio commissioners. Several meetings were held in Chattanooga. The original seven incorporators and two commissioners from each state through which The Dixie Highway will pass were present. It was decided at a meeting held May 22nd to have two routes for several portions of the highway. In addition to the route outlined above, now known in part as the west branch, there will be an east branch between Macon and Atlanta, Cartersville and Chattanooga, and Chattanooga via Knoxville, Cumberland Gap, Lexington, Cincinnati, Dayton and west from Dayton to Indianapolis. A still further growth of the east branch proposed and which will probably be carried out extends it from Dayton to Toledo, South Bend to Chicago and also from South Bend north to Mackinaw and south via Bay City to Detroit. Another proposed extension is from Miami through the business cities and the resorts of the west coast of Florida north to Tallahassee. The highway has been officially recognized by the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, and will be by Michigan.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Wednesday, May 26th, 1915, a whirlwind campaign to double the membership of the Chamber of Commerce was inaugurated. On that and the succeeding two days 1,005 applications for membership were secured by the fifty sub-committees of the membership committee, of which Millard W. Mack is chairman. The campaign will be resumed Wednesday, June 2nd. The goal set when it was proposed was 2,000 new members, making a total membership of 4,000 and giving the Chamber an annual income from dues of $100,000 to care for its constantly increasing work.

Appreciation of the great work along all business and civic lines done by the Chamber of Commerce during the past four years has thus been shown by prominent business and professional men of the city.

The Civic Department of the Chamber of Commerce had a busy and successful year. The demands upon it are constantly increasing, as the property owners and rent payers of the city are learning to appreciate its work. Among other things in which it took a leading part the past year was the first clean-up campaign, the promotion of Fire Prevention Day, the killing of the overhead wire ordinance, assisting the smoke abatement movement, launching $500,000 company to build model tenements, preventing the hasty passage of the electric rate ordinance, establishing co-operation between city and county for good roads, co-operating with city in Bundle Day and other work to aid the unemployed, and making surveys of different industries.

Seven large industrial plants whose combined pay-roll runs into several hundred thousand dollars were secured by the Industrial Department during the past year. It is now negotiating with several other large concerns and will bring some of them to Cincinnati. It has issued and is preparing pamphlets setting forth Cincinnati advantages as a manufacturing city and compiling data regarding a number of industries. The Traffic Department has secured rulings favorable to Cincinnati, in a number of cases secured reductions in rates and other concessions, and is constantly safeguarding the interests of local shippers. The Retail Merchants Department, although organized but a few months, has done good work and is preparing to do more for retail merchants. It secured the enactment of the present vendors license ordinance and has successfully prosecuted violators of it. The ordinance protects local dealers from out of town vendors who stay in the city but a short time and pay no taxes or other dues exacted of resident merchants. It also has taken up the enforcement of the clean advertising law and prosecuted those who violated it by misrepresentations. It also took an active interest in proposed legislation at Columbus. The Foreign Trade Department has taken an active part in promoting trade with South America and the Orient. It is a clearing house for practical information and advice to Cincinnati importers and exporters. Owing to the war in Europe it is preparing for a largely increased demand upon its services. The Trade Expansion Department has conducted three trade excursions in Cincinnati trade territory, co-operated with all traveling men, organized a traveling men's auxiliary and distributed a vast amount of literature.

BIG CONVENTION YEAR.

Nineteen-fifteen displays a new highwater mark in the convention line. This pleasant fact was made possible by the raising last year of a special fund of $105,000 by the Department of Development and Publicity of the Chamber of Commerce. The fund is to cover a period of three years in procuring conventions. The committee in charge of the work started out to secure $100,000, but when that figure was reached was going so fast that the brakes could not be effectually put on until an additional $5,000 was secured.

In 1914 forty conventions, which brought 20,000 people and over $300,000 to the city, were held.

Eighty-five conventions have been or will be held the present year, bringing 35,000 people and $1,000,000 in change to the city. Among the important and large conventions are: Department of Superintendence, National Educational Association, American Water Works Association, National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, Western Paper Box Manufacturers' Association, Natural Gas Association, National Commissary Managers' Association, National Association of Postmasters, Hardwood Manufacturers' Association of United States, International Association of Fire Engineers, National Cloak, Suit, Skirt and Dress Manufacturers' Association, National Mail Order Liquor Dealers' Association, Western Section of the World Presbyterian Alliance, Wine and Spirits Association, Fire Prevention Association of Ohio, Association of Urban Universities.

"CINCY" AT "SAN FRAN."

Cincinnati is the only Ohio city which has representatives and headquarters at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco. The Trade Expansion Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has arranged for a thirty day trip and visit by several hundred of the members to the exposition. The party will go in a special standard Pullman all-steel train leaving Cincinnati, Thursday, July 1st, and getting back Sunday, August 1st. The stops will be made going at Kansas City, Topeka, Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Sacramento, San Diego and Los Angeles, side trips through the mining and most picturesque parts of Colorado and other states being taken.

July 23rd will be Cincinnati Day at the Exposition. San Francisco representatives of ten big Cincinnati manufacturing concerns will give a reception in the evening in the Ohio building to the travelers. Returning the Northern Pacific steamship, "Northern Pacific" will be taken to Flavel, Oregon, where the special train will be waiting to take the party one hundred miles along the banks of the Columbia river to Portland, Oregon. Seattle, Washington; Vancouver, British Columbia; Lake Louise Station, Calgary, Alberta; Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan; Minneapolis and St. Paul will also be visited.

THE BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB.

The Business Men's Club, with a membership of 1,800 of the most prominent and active business men of Cincinnati, is becoming more and more a leader of municipal thought and progress. The Club, through its Civic Committees, is lending its earnest efforts to secure for the city better street car service, better interurban railroad facilities, better streets, parks, adequate railway terminals, a large convention and exhibition hall, and many other things which will add to the commercial standing and importance of the city.

It has been a prime mover in all actions for beneficial legislation for the up-building of the public schools and the educational system in general in Cincinnati.

nati. At the suggestion of the Public Schools Committee, the Club called a meeting of representatives of civic organizations for the purpose of forming a Council of Public Education. The Chairman of the Public Schools Committee is the President of the Council of Public Education. The Council, with the help of the Club, was instrumental in securing the election of candidates nominated by it for the Board of Education.

During the current year the Club has been most active in legislative work; has been successful in improving the market conditions in the city, and in other matters of vital interest in municipal, state and government affairs.

"WE SERVE."

The Federated Improvement Association of Hamilton County, by its growth in numbers and power, can now be definitely recorded as a permanent institution whose value to the city as a municipal corporation, and to its citizens as a whole, is becoming measurably greater. It is not only giving its own membership an opportunity of learning the practical lessons of citizenship, but it is constantly and actively engaged in the application of this knowledge to the daily civic needs of the city and its people.

Its activities of a local nature are too numerous to detail. Those affecting the general welfare of the municipal corporation and of the people as a whole, may be briefly referred to as follows: the insidious gambling influences present in the sale of certain confections to children has been exposed and suppressed; the passage of a light ordinance by Council was successfully opposed and all action postponed until the State Public Utilities Commission's valuation report is published; fire prevention and protective rules relating to high buildings were investigated and improvements noted; co-operation with the mayor concerning the city budget was sought and freely given; the extra tax levy for city and school needs successfully supported; the Cincinnati interurban entrance bill successfully supported; the bills affecting the Court of Domestic Relations and the Board of Education successfully opposed; and the system of a quarter yearly advance payment of telephone rents changed to a monthly payment.

The principle of the organization is still embodied in the motto "We Serve."

Its membership is composed of three delegates from each of the forty-four constituent bodies, representing a constituency of about 12,000 electors. It is essentially and fundamentally non-political, no salaries are paid to any one; all work is freely and voluntarily given by its members who are actuated solely by the worthiest of motives—a love for the City of Cincinnati. John H. Marckworth is the President.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION CAUSES TROUBLE.

The proposed liquor license legislation played an important, also an interfering, part in the work of the General Assembly during the first five months of 1915. The Hamilton county delegation of three senators and ten representatives stood solidly against a number of bills introduced in January, February, March and April and succeeded in having them die in the committee rooms or indefinitely postponed on the floor. This course brought the delegation into direct conflict with the administration and caused charges of conspiracy, bad faith and divers and sundry other high crimes and misdemeanors on both sides. All legislation was seriously delayed by this fight and the passage of the interurban entrance and other laws in which Cincinnati was vitally interested, or which were advocated by Hamilton county, was threatened. Finally, however, the administration triumphed to the extent of passing a law, by one more vote than the constitutional majority required, amending the present liquor traffic licensing law, all members of the Hamilton county delegation except one representative voting against it. Harmony reigned again, at least on the surface, and as a whole Cincinnati has no cause to complain, a number of the bills opposed here being defeated and nearly all bills strongly advocated by Hamilton county being passed.

NEW LICENSE LAW.

The act amending the present liquor licensing law was passed May 15th and barring the holding of a referendum election on it will go into effect ninety days after being signed by the governor. The principal changes made by it are that the license year shall end in May instead of November; that licenses shall be issued for two years instead of one year; that licenses may be revoked by local boards on charges of two violations of the law instead of on two convictions of violations of the law in municipal or other court as under the present law; and that instead of each county having a licensing board the state is divided into thirty-four districts, Hamilton and Cuyahoga counties, each comprising a district and every other district comprising two or more counties. The governor appoints the state liquor traffic licensing officer, who takes the place of the present state board appointed by the governor and local boards are appointed by appointing boards composed of the county clerks, county recorders and presidents of the boards of county commissioners of the several districts.

IMPROVING TERMINAL FACILITIES.

The big intercepting sewer from the Ohio river to Hartwell up Millcreek valley, work on which has been pushed rapidly the last two years, will eliminate the offensive features of the stream, leaving to it only storm water and adjacent surface drainage.

Detailed plans have been completed for the canalization of Millcreek from the river to the northern city boundary. This work and straightening of Millcreek will reclaim hundreds of acres of land now absolutely waste and useless. It will be filled in and used by the different railroads owning it for enlarging their freight terminal facilities. The city and the railroad companies will, it is confidently expected, work in harmony in this matter as it will benefit both.

The Cincinnati Southern railroad will make improvements costing $300,000 to its terminal facilities within the city limits during the next year; a bond issue for this amount was authorized by the legislature.

MAIN STREET LEADS THE WAY.

The Main Street Merchants' Association, the first retail merchants' association organized in Cincinnati, is still booming and forging ahead, leading the way for other organizations of a similar character. The accomplishments of 1914-1915 include the lowering of the Main street bridge, as predicted in the Cincinnati Directory Review last year. A mammoth celebration and carnival was held April 21st, 1915, commemorating this event, at which the mayor, members of his cabinet, officials of the county and presidents of civic organizations were present. Main street was decorated from the river to McMicken avenue and Walnut. The dedication was attended by thousands in the afternoon and the carnival at night was of Mardi Gras proportions. Miss Marie Wilfert was selected as Queen of the Day.

The Association during the year gave dinners, participated in public work, inaugurated a Main Street Santa Claus fund, when over a thousand Christmas baskets were given to the poor of the city. The officers are: President, A. G. Rist; First Vice President, J. H. Rielag; Second Vice President, Geo. P. Gross; Treasurer, W. E. Strautmann; Secretary, Wm. Biedenbender, Jr. The directors are George Ast, Chas. W. Dupuis, C. D. Corbus, Frank Winstel, Edward Sander. Thos. P. Scully is manager of the publicity bureau.

Within the last year The Central Avenue Improvement Association, The Central Vine Street Business Association and The Sixth Street Improvement Association have been organized and are actively at work.

The Council of Club Presidents was organized early in the year 1915. It now has a membership of about fifty, including the chief executive officers of almost all the business men and manufacturers' associations, the strictly civic organizations and a number of the neighborhood improvement associations.

CINCINNATI'S BALANCE SHEET.

Regardless of depression in business or wars Cincinnati as a city continues to grow in wealth. As will be shown in the forthcoming report of the city auditor there was an increase in assets during the year 1914 of $5,306,066.28, the figures being January 1st, 1914, $139,868,337.23, January 1st, 1915, $145,174,403.51.

Other figures in the same report will be: Bonded debt January 1st, 1914, $64,775,248.01. January 1st, 1915, $67,472,719.36. Increase $2,697,471.35.

The item of surplus given above includes cash accounts receivable, special assessments receivable, sinking fund cash, and stores on hand. None of the figures include property of any kind, real or personal, or money, under control of the Board of Education.

During the past year the city authorized and sold the following 4½% bonds:

Seven bond propositions were submitted at the special charter election July 14th, 1914. Four of the propositions, those for the improvement of streets, for resurfacing streets, for the improvement of Eastern Avenue and for new police stations were defeated. Three,—one for $67,800 for buildings on the new House of Refuge farms, for improvements in the Fire Department $241,250, and $50,000 for the repair of bridges were carried.

Bank clearings for the year ending March 31st, 1915, were $1,254,722,950, a decrease from the previous clearing house year of $77,974,350, or 5.8%.

CINCINNATI MOST HEALTHY CITY.

Under the able direction of the Board of Health and Dr. John H. Landis, Health Officer, the record of the Department for efficiency of the highest class was fully maintained during the past twelve months.

During the year 1914 the city's death rate fell below sixteen per one thousand of inhabitants, the lowest record in the history of the city. The typhoid death rate is the lowest of over thirty of the largest cities in the country being 5.71 per one hundred thousand of population. The infant death rate is among the lowest in the country and the diarrhoeal death rate (based on each 100,000 of population) in infants under two years has fallen from 63 in 1913 to 57 in 1914. The reduction since 1907 when the new water works went into commission and from 1911 when efficient milk inspection was inaugurated, has been continuous, and is an unanswerable argument in favor of pure water and pure milk.

The increased efficiency due to full time service of district physicians was well illustrated in the control of smallpox during the year. Prompt vaccination of all contacts kept the cases well under a hundred while some neighboring cities had hundreds of cases, and one city had over a thousand.

During May the pasteurization of milk by the "holding" method went into effect. This was probably the most important public health measure adopted during the year. All of our milk with the exception of "Certified" and "Inspected" is now pasteurized.

During the year important work has been done by the State Board of Health and the United States Public Health Service, the former in making a survey of industrial diseases and the latter in a survey of Cincinnati's tuberculosis problem. The local department has co-operated actively with both of these agencies. The reports when published should be of nation-wide importance in solving the problems of large cities.

The work of the Cincinnati Association for the Welfare of the Blind in co-operating with the health department in the suppression of blindness, has saved the state a prospective expenditure of $270,000 for education alone. These figures are based on the average cost of educating a blind child. This was brought about at a cost of $2,000, and is a potent argument for the expenditure of public funds for public health purposes.

PLANNING BIG FIGHT.

Cincinnati is preparing to follow her remarkable record in reducing typhoid fever by carrying out one of the most comprehensive and vigorous plans of fighting tuberculosis ever undertaken by any city.

In December, 1914, the Anti-Tuberculosis League called together representatives of all the public and private agencies directly interested in fighting tuberculosis. The Municipal Tuberculosis Committee was formed and agreed upon a program for early discovery and thorough treatment of tuberculosis and for eliminating its causes. The program has been characterized as "unique in its breadth of vision and definiteness of purpose" by the Journal of Outdoor Life, the national anti-tuberculosis organ.

That the dispensary conducted by the Anti-Tuberculosis League has been an important factor in the encouraging drop in Cincinnati's death-rate from tuberculosis has been shown. Last year 1,615 patients were treated and an investigation of the results showed that the cures compared very favorably with those in the leading dispensaries of the country. A great majority of early cases were cured and encouraging results secured with those cases which were not far advanced.

Among other important things done by the League are the following: Bamford Hills Camp for anaemic children opened all summer under ideal conditions, 100 children taken, average gain four pounds; health lectures given to 104,437 children and adults; friendly advice and help given 759 sanatorium patients; county public health nurse secured; Little Mother's Leagues organized among 1,100 school girls; two tuberculosis frauds suppressed.

In the U. S. Government study of tuberculosis in Cincinnati, now nearing completion, the League has been of great service in securing the consent of 20,000 employes to be examined, treating those found to be tuberculous and the collection of data on living and housing conditions. This survey is the first of its kind and the results and findings will be invaluable in the "fight to a finish" that is now on against tuberculosis.

NEW SOLICITING PLAN.

Twelve of the social service organizations of the city made a combined canvass for funds, starting a campaign May 20th, 1915. The amount fixed upon as necessary for their support until January 1st, 1916 is $63,000 and of this $33,000 was raised by May 30. The idea is to decrease the expense of collecting funds and lessen the time, expense and frequently the annoyance to contributors. There are sixty social service benevolent and charitable organizations indorsed by the counsel of social agencies and it is believed that next year half or more than half of them will join in the centralized budget and collection plan. The canvass for funds will be resumed Thursday, June 3rd, and continue until the amount required is obtained.

MORE PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

Cincinnati added during the year 1914 almost 400 acres to the park area of the city. It was secured: By purchase 187.308 acres, annexation 2.05, donation 208.551 acres. This area is divided into 77 properties including 21 playgrounds, 21 athletic fields, 7 single tennis courts, 7 double tennis courts, 2 nine-hole golf courses, 2 eighteen-hole golf courses.

The children were not forgotten by the Park Commissioners, four playgrounds being added the present year 1915, being the same rate of progress maintained during the three previous years. In 1907 there was but one park playground in the city and the same rate of progress, coupled with the movement of population to outlying districts, will in the course of years provide all of the little ones with playgrounds. The urgent need of at least one hundred playgrounds in the basin is but emphasized by the playgrounds opened within the last three years. Ten of the twenty-one playgrounds under the supervision of the Board of Park Commissioners have wading pools; eight have shower baths; ten have houses, six of which are provided with dancing floors. All of the playgrounds are provided with exercising and play apparatus.

They are located as follows: Bold Face Creek, West Sixth and Lower River Road; Filson Outlook, Young and Ringgold; Hanna, McMicken and Dunlap; Harrison, Storrs and Hatmaker; Hulbert, Hulbert and Freeman; Lincoln Park, Freeman and Hopkins; Lytle, Fourth and Lawrence; McKinley, Wade and John; Grant, McMicken and Walnut; Mohawk, Central Avenue; North Fairmount, Carl Street; Pearl Street, Pearl and Plum; Sinton, Barr and Cutter; Symmes, Western and McLean; Turkey Ridge, Delta and Eastern; Walnut Hills, Chapel and Ashland; Washington; Twelfth and Elm; Wayne, Edgewood and Elmore; Woodward, Sec. 2, B. R. P.; Ziegler, Thirteenth and Sycamore; Inwood, Vine and Hollister.

There are also slides and merry-go-rounds in Burnet Woods and Owl's Nest Park.

Cincinnati's big forest on Mount Airy will soon contain every species of tree that will grow in this climate. On its 1,000 acres over one million trees have been or soon will be planted. An eighteen hole golf course is under construction which the local golfists declare will develop into the "sportiest" and best course in the country.

The Bloody Run parkway is being pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. From Durrell and Chapel streets to Gilbert avenue has been graded and as soon as the fill settles a bituminous macadam road will be constructed. From Gilbert avenue to Rockdale avenue the roadway is completed. From Rockdale to Dana avenue the grading is now under way and this section will be ready for travel in about twelve months. From Dana avenue to Woodburn avenue a bituminous macadam roadway is under construction and will be open to travel in about thirty days. From Woodburn avenue to Asmann avenue is completed. All the property required for the section from Asmann avenue to Sherman avenue and Reading Road and into Avon Field has been acquired.

WATER WORKS IMPROVEMENTS.

During the year 1914 more extensive improvements were made in the water works than any time during its history, excepting during the construction of the new works. The new 17,000,000 gallon high service pump has been completed and tested; it developed over 182,000,000 foot pounds of duty. The 7,000,000 gallon pump for the Western Hills service is completed and is giving excellent satisfaction.

During the year there were 4,828 meters added, making now 61% of all services metered. The per capita consumption is 125.2 gallons per day.

The second 48-inch pump main to the high service is in service. An additional 24-inch pump main has been completed from the Western Hills station to Westwood. During the year there was 25.3 miles of mains laid at a cost of over $500,000.

Improvements contemplated are: a 16-inch main to Madisonville and Kennedy Heights; the completion of the 36-inch loop main; an extension of the second 48-inch pump main.

In the following table, from the last waterworks report is given, the amount of water delivered, the total cost of operation and maintenance and the average cost per million gallons delivered during a period covering the past seven years.

Year	Total Gallons Delivered	Total Cost	Cost Per Million Gallons
1908.....	15,275,920,137	$245,749.97	$16.09
1909.....	15,482,286,983	243,688.54	15.74
1910.....	16,952,639,600	243,545.49	14.36
1911.....	17,509,132,191	243,495.99	13.91
1912.....	18,822,797,871	257,454.67	13.66
1913.....	18,362,146,240	262,817.64	14.31

NEW HIGH PRESSURE FIRE SERVICE.

Funds have been provided for the high pressure fire service in the congested value district enclosed by Eggleston avenue on the east, Third street on the south, Central avenue on the west and Eighth street on the north. The plan of having the pumping station for the high pressure service on the river front and using raw water was rejected as being entirely too costly in operation. Owing to the variation of 70 feet between high and low water at Cincinnati, the station would be out of commission during flood times and would be required according to location to pump against a head of about 60 feet. Under the plan now adopted the station will be at Eighth and Eggleston avenue and filtered water will be used. Connections will be made with 36, 40 and 48-inch mains, each independent of the other and adjacent to the station. One of the mains will connect with the reserve supply one hundred million gallons in Eden Park reservoir, and two will connect with the main pumping station, which has an available capacity of seventy-five million gallons per day. Instead, therefore, of having a suction lift water will be delivered to the pumping station at a pressure of about 55 pounds, to which it will add the pressure required at any fire. The high pressure system will be surrounded by a 20-inch main and sub-divided into four parts, the laying of two 16-inch mains, each way through the center, with subsidiary 12-inch mains.

Valves will be placed at every cross intersection and any one block or any number of blocks can be cut off in case of accident. They will be tested to 600 pounds before shipment and completed mains will be tested to 400 pounds before trenches are filled. A new feature in the line of hydrants will be the placing of them between the street car tracks. A two-fold advantage is gained by this system. The snow is always first removed from the tracks and by having the hydrants in the street instead of on the sidewalks there is less danger of injury to them in case of falling walls. The hydrants and the controlling valves will be placed in brick chambers with curb and covers. General Superintendent Hiller has an interesting article, illustrated with drawings, in the May 8, 1915, issue of The Engineering Record, New York.

NEW PAVING.

Fifteen and one-half miles of new paving was laid at a cost of $1,182,946 during the year 1914. The work included the paving with wood block and granite of Madison road from Woodburn to Erie, the paving with bituminous macadam and brick of West Eighth street from old St. Joseph cemetery to Nebraska avenue, the paving with granite and asphalt of Vine street from St. Clair to Carthage avenue; the paving with wood block and asphalt of Jefferson avenue from Corry street to Burnet Woods park, the re-paving with granite of McMicken avenue from Mohawk to Main street, and of Reading road from Florence avenue to McMillan street, and the paving with brick of Epworth avenue from Werk road to Wardall avenue. Judging from the past year asphalt is losing out and brick and wood block are becoming favorites for paving. The amount of the various kind of pavements laid during the year is as follows in square yards: Asphalt 15,850, asphaltic concrete 4,206, brick 99,411, bowlders 1,321, bituminous macadam 39,657, granite (new) 70,505, granite (repaving) 57,622, limestone 1,020, waterbound macadam 2,216, wood block 44,015.

During the past year 77 street and alley improvements were under construction, of which 64 were completed. Brick, wood block and asphalt are all subjected to tests, the city being better equipped for this work than in the past and, as a consequence, manufacturers are more careful. As an example of the work done by the testing bureau it may be stated that of the 600 cars of brick shipped in last year 32 cars were rejected. All cement is also tested and that not up to the standard is promptly rejected.

All street specifications are being revised to bring them up to the latest and most advanced methods.

The city, owing to the large area annexed within the last few years, now has in round figures 900 miles of streets; 300 paved with granite, brick, asphalt or wood block; 300 paved with bituminous or other macadam, and 300 in the outlying districts unpaved. More miles of sidewalks of cement and brick in the city proper and of plank in the outlying districts were laid than during any previous year in the city's history.

PUSHING WORK ON BIG SEWERS.

Progress on the big intercepting sewer in Millcreek valley is being made. One contract 3,730 feet in length has been completed and a second 6,830 feet in length is under construction. Work on this interceptor amounting to about $1,000,000, will be placed under contract during the coming year. In Duckcreek valley one contract on the interceptor has been completed and a second nearly completed. The two contracts are 13,900 feet in length. A third section extending to the Little Miami river will be placed under contract during the year.

The former village of Madisonville is being provided with a sewerage system of the combined type. Two contracts have been completed having a total length of 26,500 feet, at a cost of $131,646. Legislation for the third contract is about completed. For the former village of Kennedy Heights funds have been provided for extending the present sanitary system by an addition of about 15,750 feet. This work has been contracted for and will be done during 1915.

DANGER DECREASING.

Two of the most dangerous grade crossings in the city, well known on account of accidents at them, have been eliminated during the past twelve months and the good work will continue to be pushed as rapidly as the city can provide its share of the funds required.

The Ludlow avenue viaduct eliminates the grade crossing of Ludlow avenue at the B. & O. railroad and is entirely completed and open to traffic. The Rookwood crossing is entirely finished. This work was done by and under the direction of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Work on the Hopple street viaduct over the B. & O. railroad and the C. H. & D. railroad is being rapidly pushed and will be almost completed at the end of the year 1915.

Detailed plans for the elimination of the grade crossing at Erie avenue and the Pennsylvania railroad have been completed and the work will probably be started before the end of the year. Property for the elimination of the Delta avenue crossing on the P. C. C. & St. L. railroad has been secured and work will be started before the end of the year.

General plans for the elimination of all the grade crossings in Cumminsville and Winton Place over the C. H. & D. railroad have been made but on account of the expense entailed it is improbable that anything will be done in the near future.

SOLVING SMOKE PROBLEM.

One of Cincinnati's greatest industrial assets is the great bituminous coal fields almost at her very door. Cheap coal and the ease with which it is transported to this market, has been one of the main factors in enabling her to become a great manufacturing center. At the same time this coal which is rich in volatile matter, has been the cause of Cincinnati being known at one time as a very smoky city. Even if sufficient anthracite or semi-bituminous coals were available the expense of their general use would be so great that public sentiment in favor of smoke abatement, at such a cost, could not be sustained. It is possible to burn our local coals without making dense smoke, and an increasing number of commercial plants and locomotives are proof positive of the statement.

"Cincinnati is no longer a smoky city" declared Chief Smoke Inspector Heath, "but there is still room for improvement, even though bituminous coal is the principal fuel used. Contrary to the belief of some, the amount of gas used as fuel in power plants is so small that if conditions existed now as they did several years ago, the effect on the general smoky condition of the atmosphere would scarcely be noticeable. Improvements in smoke abatement, especially with a small force of inspectors, comes gradually, and the only real way to judge as to what has been accomplished, is to get a wide view of the city from the hill tops, compare the number of chimneys which violate the ordinance, to those which do not, then draw a mental picture of what the city looked like a few years ago, when practically every chimney was belching out great volumes of smoke.

"It is also interesting to compare this city to others in the same coal belt, and having a proportionately great number of commercial interests. The Smoke Inspection Department is then willing to let the work which it and its co-workers have done speak for itself."

The first step in the elimination of "dumps," insofar as easily burnable rubbish is concerned has been taken. Hyde Park women are the pioneers in the movement, which has the hearty approval of the Health Department. The first incineration plant will probably be erected within a year, doing away with one or more dumps and serving the Hyde Park and adjacent territory. It naturally will be followed by the erection of other plants for the burning of both rubbish and garbage thereby doing away with the offensive features of all the dumps and leaving them to be gradually filled up with ashes.

BUILDING RECORD.

Building permits issued during the year 1914 called for the expenditure of $8,820,446. As all disputes between building contractors and organized labor have now been settled the amount expended this year, even though many plans are still being held back, will be considerably larger. Among the permits issued were: Six for schools and convents, 431 for garages and stables, 11 for moving picture show houses, 522 for frame dwellings, 610 for brick dwellings, 23 for tenement houses, 1 for a lodge building, 4 for office buildings, 19 for warehouse and mercantile buildings, 19 for factory buildings, 26 for store buildings. The building inspector's office also issued permits for 65 elevators and 235 fire escapes.

The campaign to put fire escapes wherever required resulted in the equipping of 229 tenement houses and 39 factories in 1914 as compared with 140 tenement houses and 23 factories the previous year. In all 296 fire escapes were placed, compared with 199 in 1913.

Among the notable buildings started or completed the past year are: The Methodist Book Concern, Plum street; The Ford Automobile Company; The City Hospital for Tubercular patients, Lick Run; eighteen story addition to The Union Savings Bank and Trust Company, Fourth and Walnut; The Western & Southern Life Insurance Company, Fourth and Broadway; addition to Christ Hospital; addition to Longview Hospital.

TEARING DOWN OLD BUILDINGS.

Assistant State Fire Marshal McGinn and his assistants did good work during the past twelve months, judging from the big increase in the number of old and dangerous buildings condemned and torn down. During the recent clean-up campaign seventeen assistant fire marshals from other Ohio cities were in Cincinnati and as a result of their work close to 400 buildings will be razed within a short time.

SMALL FIRE LOSS.

The fire loss during the year 1914 was smaller than for a number of years. The gross loss on buildings and contents was only $699,472.82 compared with the loss on buildings and contents during 1913, which in its turn was also a small loss year, of $1,083,181. During the first four months of 1915 the total loss was only $135,944.70, there not being a single loss amounting to over $25,000. During the year 1914 there were only eight fires involving a loss of over $25,000. Twelve persons were burned to death during the year, twenty were badly burned but recovered. Total number of alarms 2,217; bells 451, stills 1,768, false alarms 79; for chimneys burning out involving no loss 95; sprinkler alarms 98; brick and stone buildings 654; frame buildings 535; alarms for fires other than buildings, including grass fires, automobile and street car fires on the street, 756.

PAYS TO CLEAN UP.

Due to Cincinnati's first clean-up campaign inaugurated and managed in the Spring of 1914 by the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, to the increased efficiency of the fire department, and the installation of many sprinkling devices and fire plugs, there was an average decrease in insurance rates of 5 per cent on buildings, and 8 per cent on contents in the congested value district, making a saving for owners of property and stocks of $160,000 a year.

Captain Jack Conway, Superintendent of the Salvage Corps, was chairman of the clean-up campaign inaugurated several weeks ago and now nearing completion. He and his assistants started it with a rush and kept it going at almost Salvage Corps motor machine speed. The educational and other good effects of the first clean-up campaign, of which Dr. Randall J. Condon, Superintendent of Schools, was chairman, and Captain Conway vice-chairman, were apparent immediately after the present campaign was started. Sixty-five per cent of the buildings of all kinds were found in good condition, owners and occupants in many cases evidently anticipating visits from the state and city official and un-official inspectors. In the buildings not found in good condition ninety-five per cent of the occupants met the inspectors in a proper and friendly spirit and readily agreed to comply with the orders given them.

NEW ALARM SYSTEM.

A one hundred thousand dollar bond issue has been authorized to provide for a police signal service telephone and fire alarm telegraph system, to be operated by the city. A saving over the present leasing system of $15,000 a year, or enough to pay interest on the bonds and provide a sinking fund to retire them in about ten years is anticipated by the safety department.

Cincinnati's gallant fire horses will soon be a thing of the past. No more horse-drawn engines or other apparatus will be purchased.

During the past year over two thousand measures, liquid and dry, were condemned and destroyed by Chief Examiner Kinney of the Weights, Measures and Scales department. Over 500 scales were condemned, over 40 of them large ones, and about 200 weights were found "shy."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

During the past year the public schools have continued the work which has given them reputation all over the United States. This has been the second year of the superintendency of Randall J. Condon, who took office on January 1, 1913. On the first of March, 1915, Miss Anna E. Logan became Assistant Superintendent, with special responsibility for the work of the primary grades. She is the first woman ever elected to this office.

In the high schools six hundred students were graduated in June, 1914, and the number will be slightly larger in 1915. For the first time there were in 1914 graduates in the Commercial, Industrial, Art, and Music courses. During the present year there has been organized in Woodward high school, a four-year technical co-operative course in agriculture, which is conducted in connection with the county experimental farm at Mt. Healthy. Plans are being drawn for a new high school to be erected on the site already purchased by the Board at Erie avenue and Madison road. This will be, if it is possible to carry out all the plans now in mind, one of the most interesting high schools in the country, with provision for all the academic and technical courses now given at Hughes and Woodward, a great athletic field, and opportunity for extensive work in agriculture. It is hoped to start construction of this building before the beginning of the year 1916. When completed the new school will relieve the greatly over-crowded conditions at Hughes and Woodward.

The Rothenberg school was occupied in January, 1915, and is one of the largest and best arranged schools in the city. The new Lafayette Bloom school, in the west end, will be opened at the beginning of the school year in the fall of 1915. This building contains thirty-two class-rooms and is the largest elementary school building in Cincinnati. Ground is being cleared for a new building at Seventh and Mound streets, which is expected to take the place of the Twelfth District, the Jackson and the Sherman schools. The completion of this building will enable the city to build a new school for negro pupils in this section of the city.

Elementary night schools, including one school for the teaching of English to foreigners, enrolled 1,375 students. The gymnasium classes enrolled 1,680 men and women. Especially interesting were the technical courses for men in trades, such as a class in house framing for carpenters. In one night high school girls prepared and served meals several nights a week, enabling them to come directly from work to school, get their suppers and go to their classes, and also receive training under skilled teachers in the preparation and serving of meals.

Special attention has been given to vocational guidance and a teacher has been appointed to give full time to this work. A Placement Bureau for considering the needs of boys and girls leaving school to go to work has been organized under Board of Education auspices but is supported by private contributions. In the work certificate office the study of psychological and physical conditions of boys and girls at work and in school has been continued and will shortly be completed. It promises to be of great value to all interested in child labor.

The continuation schools have been conducted for boys at work, under sixteen and not yet through the eighth grade. There were also 2,000 women in voluntary classes meeting once a week for lessons in cookery, millinery, or dressmaking. Classes in salesmanship have been carried on in Woodward high school as well as in various department stores. While preparations for "Bundle Day" were being made, teachers of the continuation schools supervised the work of the women and one class has been continued, instructing needy mothers in sewing.

In the last week of February, 1915, a meeting of Superintendents from all over the United States was held in Cincinnati, with programs that were interesting and valuable. There was a concert at Music Hall, given by the Symphony Orchestra, the May Festival Association and a children's chorus. This impressed visitors as a wonderful exhibition of the musical possibilities of Cincinnati. It was the judgment of all who came that this convention was as successful as any ever held by the Department of Superintendence, as it was the largest in numbers in the history of the Association. All were delighted with the hospitality shown them, with the meetings and with the schools.

BIG SCHOOL STILL GROWING.

Saturday, May 22nd, was "Open Day" at the University of Cincinnati and many of the citizens who have expended millions of dollars for it saw the big school in full working order. They found it up to the second in many departments and considerably ahead of time, as it is reckoned in other cities, in other departments. Those who cared to do so could even see a "movie" show, for daily for some months moving pictures have been used in some classes.

Every year the University of Cincinnati is taking a more active and intimate part in the industrial, commercial, and social life of the city. The enrollment last year was 2,298 and the number of students from other states and foreign countries constantly increases.

The new chemical laboratory, woman's building, and stadium, for which funds have been provided by the city, will all be under way this year.

The School of Household Arts, established and conducted for six years by the Cincinnati Kindergarten Association, became a part of the University July 1st, 1914. It aims to give scientific instruction in the fundamental principles and practices of activities growing out of private and institutional housekeeping.

OHIO MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

Of the Ohio Mechanics' Institute, which has for nearly one hundred years been closely identified with the industrial life of this city, it can be truly said that its work and influence are no longer purely local. Within the past year a much larger body of students has come from distant points to profit by the excellent facilities which are offered since the Institute has moved into its new and greatly enlarged building. Each succeeding year finds the courses of study more firmly established, and more fully developed.

The usefulness of the Emery Auditorium has been demonstrated in many ways within the past year. It has afforded a most delightful home to certain local institutions representing Music, Literature, and Art, by which the community as a whole has been greatly benefited. The most phenomenal growth is shown by the Industrial Museum, which has collected and installed a large number of most interesting articles. It is gratifying to note the increase in the number of visitors. The Museum is absolutely free and affords profitable hours to anyone who has time and an inclination to visit it. The roof garden of the Institute has also contributed greatly to the comfort and pleasure of the people in the neighborhood, as well as the students, who make very generous use of its spaciousness and the most interesting collections of rare plants which are found in the greenhouse summer and winter.

Y. M. C. A. EXPANDING.

A lot 100 x 172 feet at the northwest corner of Canal and Elm streets has been purchased for the Central Y. M. C. A. building. The new building will have a large, but home-like lobby, with an open fire-place and plenty of easy chairs and good light; the gymnasium will be the largest and best equipped in the city with a swimming pool 24 x 75 feet, bath room and showers of the latest pattern, 2,000 or more steel lockers; auditorium for Sunday afternoon meetings and other assemblies, numerous educational classes and club rooms, modern cafeteria, billiards and bowling, dormitories for 250 or more men, and Boys' department for 500 boys.

The Y. M. C. A. has recently been expanding in many lines of extension work in the city. The Ninth Street Branch building for negroes is now being constructed at a cost of $110,000.

A College Association was organized in May, 1915, at the University of Cincinnati. The Elmwood-Saint Bernard Branch has recently been established among the employees of nine factories in the Millcreek valley. A character-building work among the high school boys and Church Boys' Club has also been carried on with good results.

PEACE IN LABOR MARKET.

A year of peace has followed the two years of strife between employers and organized labor. All of the differences between the building contractors and the various building trades unions have been settled and since then there has been only what are known as jurisdictional strikes; in other words, disputes between different unions as to which should have control of certain work. A threatened strike of ice wagon drivers and helpers did not materialize, the companies complying with the demands made upon them. Other threatened strikes have also been settled amicably and a much better feeling prevails today, although the many disastrous strikes of 1912 and 1913 are not yet forgotten.

Organized labor proved one of the good points claimed for it by its supporters during the past twelve months in Cincinnati. On account of the general business depression in almost all lines and consequent lack of demand for labor, members of unions arranged among themselves to work part time, thereby giving all enough to sustain themselves. When this could not be done the organizations took care of their own people and few applications for charity were received from members of unions.

SUNDAY CLOSING MOVEMENT.

The movement inaugurated several weeks ago to close all groceries, bakeries, daily markets and butcher shops on Sunday, has already caused considerable and promises to cause more trouble. An organization named the Sunday Closing League was formed by proprietors of such establishments who did not want to keep open on Sunday and objected to their competitors doing so. The Retail Grocers' and Butchers' League of Cincinnati took for its slogan "Personal Liberty" and claimed it was not only their right, but their duty to keep open for a time on Sunday in order to supply their customers with perishable foods. City officials criticised severely what they call an effort to enforce blue laws, and declared that on account of poor families, the heads of which receive their wages Saturday evening, not only the places handling foods should be allowed to remain open, but also that the ordinance forbidding the delivery of ice on Sundays except in special cases, should be modified.

Arrests made during May, 1915, of a number of storekeepers resulted in their dismissal or continuance in municipal court. Ice dealers, however, who have violated the ordinance by making a business of delivering ice on Sundays have been fined. The Administration, however, has made the ordinance elastic to the extent of allowing the selling of ice to persons calling at the ice plants.

CITY'S POPULATION.

Cincinnati on July 1st, 1915, according to the estimate of the United States Census Bureau, will have a population of 416,119.

A bill was introduced in the legislature in May, 1915, allowing, under certain conditions, larger cities to annex smaller cities or villages adjacent to them or within their corporate limits. The bill was favored by a number of the larger cities and towns in the state which could "grow" by it. Under the provisions of it Cincinnati could have annexed the city of St. Bernard and the village of Elmwood, both entirely within the corporation lines, and the city of Norwood, seventy-five per cent of the territory of which is surrounded by Cincinnati. The combined population of the three places is about 30,000. Norwood with the vim and vigor it has displayed on a number of occasions, sent a delegation of several hundred by special train to Columbus. The protest against such a violation of all home rule principles was effective and the bill was promptly killed.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

After sixteen years of continuous service, first under appointment by former President McKinley, under two appointments by former President Roosevelt and one appointment by former President Taft, as postmaster of Cincinnati, Captain E. R. Monfort retired in January, 1915. With him also retired Captain W. C. Johnson, fellow member of the Loyal Legion and Grand Army of the Republic, who had served for several years as assistant postmaster. Both retired from the service as they had entered it, bearing the highest esteem of their fellow citizens. Captain Monfort on a number of occasions received the thanks and commendation of the Post Office Department at Washington for suggestions made and adopted for the betterment of the service.

During the past year there was a decrease in the number of parcel post packages dispatched from the Cincinnati office. The weight of packages, however, showed an increase and the reduction in numbers is ascribed to the greater weight allowed in the first and second zones. A decrease of about ten per cent was shown in the number of parcels insured and an increase in the number of parcels sent C. O. D. In the postal savings depository department 15,154 accounts have been opened compared with 11,963 the previous year. Over 5,500 of these accounts are now active with a credit of $751,362. The sum of $39,843.39 as interest has been received from depository banks. Receipts for postage the past year were $2,877,-631.17, a slight increase over the previous year.

Mr. John L. Shuff, popular in business and professional circles and active for years in the democratic party, though never an office-seeker or office-holder, was appointed Postmaster, and George Reiter, Assistant Postmaster.

NEW COURT HOUSE.

A general contract for Hamilton county's new $2,500,000 court house was let several weeks ago. The offices in the building were moved to the temporary court house at Broadway and Pioneer streets and work of tearing down the buildings along the canal was completed when the work was held up by an injunction suit filed on behalf of the Building Construction Employers' Association. Decisions of the local and higher courts were in favor of the new Court House Building Commission. The old court house will be torn down and the new one will be well under way before January 1, 1916.

URBAN TRAFFIC.

Jitneys made their bow to Cincinnati early in the Spring of 1915. A rush of them, not only between points in the basin but also to various hill tops was predicted and announced, but to date has not fully materialized. The future for them is uncertain, though the general opinion is that if successful in any city they certainly should be in Cincinnati on account of local topographical and other conditions.

No more will the taxicab patron be obliged to watch the meter. An ordinance is now before Council and will be passed providing in plain English for a schedule of rates between downtown points and to and from the downtown district to every prominent point in every suburb. The fares allowed are reasonable and heavy penalties are provided for chauffeurs who violate the regulations.

NEW HOUSE OF REFUGE.

The House of Refuge building on Colerain avenue, built a half century ago, will be abandoned about July 1st, 1915. Some of the children already have been and the rest will be moved about that date to the farm for girls near Wyoming, and the farm for boys near Glendale. The first farm has 130 acres and the last 390 acres. The children will live in cottages surrounding the administration buildings.

The Court Street market house was torn down in May, 1915. It was a more or less picturesque semi-ruin. The Health Department with Doctor John H. Landis at its head, considered hygiene and sanitary conditions more important than picturesqueness and doomed it to destruction. Fifty years ago it was one of the public structures of which Cincinnati was proud, but outlived its usefulness.

Troop C of the Ohio National Guards is to have a home. The bill appropriating $17,500 for the purchase of The Cincinnati Riding Academy property was passed by the Legislature.

While not within the city limits of Cincinnati, the location by the Highland Film Corporation of its immense moving picture plant at Fort Thomas is of great local interest. The corporation has purchased a 97 acre track on Grand Avenue, and is actively at work providing for the making of "movies."

NEW WEATHER BUREAU OBSERVATORY.

The Weather Bureau observatory building on Lafayette Circle, Clifton, was completed in March, 1915, and complete weather observations and records were begun on April 1st. All observations published, unless otherwise stated, are those made at the observatory. The Weather Bureau offices in the government building will be continued as the business offices of the bureau, and weather observations will also be made there for comparison with the records made at the observatory and for local business interests. There has been an increasing demand of recent years for weather records at more than one point in a large city. Cincinnati is the first city to have a suburban observatory and a station in the center of the business portion of the city, both maintained by the government.

While the records at the observatory have not been made for a sufficient length of time to make reliable comparison between the two stations still from those made thus far it is shown that the greatest difference, as was expected, is in the wind movement. The average velocity of the wind is about twenty per cent greater on the hilltop than in the valley and during occasional hours this difference increases to one hundred per cent or more. There is also, at times, a considerable difference in the direction recorded. The temperature will average somewhat lower and the amount of clear weather somewhat higher at the observatory than downtown. It will take the record of several years to determine the difference, if any, in the rainfall.

RECORD SMASHING WEATHER.

The most unusual features of the weather during the years 1914-15 were the extreme high temperatures during several months, and the dry weather during the late winter and spring of 1915. On the 9th of April, 1914, the temperature was down to 24 degrees which is the lowest for so late in the season since 1875, and on the 26th of April, 1915, the temperature went up to 91 degrees which is four degrees higher than ever before recorded in April. A maximum temperature of 100 degrees was recorded on June 27th, 1914, which is the highest on record for June at Cincinnati. A maximum temperature of 103 degrees was reached on July 12th, 1914, and this high temperature has been exceeded only three times at Cincinnati since the Weather Bureau station was established in 1870, and again in November the temperature reached a maximum of 77 degrees, which has been exceeded on only one day in November during the past 44 years. The total rainfall for the three months of February, March and April, 1915, was the lowest on record for the same period.

After the middle of May, 1914, the weather was hot and dry during most of the summer. The temperatures were unusually high from June 21st to 27th. Another very warm period extended from July 5th to 13th when the temperature was 90 degrees or higher each day. The temperatures were not so high during August as during July, but the month was generally warm until the 27th. The rainfall was light during most of the summer. From May 9th until July 12th there was only 2.52 inches of rainfall which is about one-third of the normal amount, and is the smallest amount on record at this station for a period more than two months long. Although the rainfall on July 13th was over an inch, the drouth was not entirely broken until August 28th when 2.13 inches of rain fell. Several thunderstorms occurred during the summer months, but with one exception they were of only slight or moderate intensity. On August 20th a thunderstorm of unusual violence occurred in the suburbs of Cheviot and Westwood, where a heavy rainfall converted the streets into creeks nearly a foot deep, and the wind was reported to have been of almost tornadic violence.

The weather during the fall months of September and October and up to the middle of November was exceptionally pleasant with moderate temperature and light rainfall. The temperature for September averaged about normal, and for October and the first half of November it was considerably above normal. The first frost of the season occurred on October 27th when the temperature reached 29 degrees, but after this the temperature did not go below freezing until November 16th. On November 16th the weather became much colder and the first cold wave of the season occurred on the early morning of the 20th when a minimum temperature of 11 degrees was recorded. The temperatures were above the seasonal average again during the last week in November and the first week in December, but the remainder of December was very cold. The lowest temperature for the year was three degrees below zero on December 15th.

January, 1915 was nearly an average winter month with the usual amount of cold weather and snow, but after the end of this month there was very little typical winter weather. February was a comparatively warm month with very little rain and practically no snow. March was rather cold but dry, and April was generally warm and dry.

No records were broken but several had narrow escapes during May, 1915. On eighteen of the thirty-one days there was over .001 precipitation and on three other days there were slight sprinkles. The total rainfall for the month was 5.55 inches, an excess over normal of 2.03 inches. The deficiency for the year of 5.92 inches May 1st was reduced to 3.89 June 1st. In May, 1882, there were twenty rainy days and in May, 1892, there were twenty-two rainy days. Only four of forty-four Mays recorded by the Weather Bureau averaged cooler weather.

STREET DIRECTORY.

THE Street Directory is an alphabetical arrangement of the names of the Streets and Avenues of the city. By the decimal system of numbering houses, one hundred numbers are allotted to each square. On streets running north and south the numbering begins at the Ohio River. The streets running east and west are numbered east and west from Vine street. All other streets not commencing at either of the above points are numbered in accordance with this system. To such of the streets as are of any considerable importance the names and numbers of intersecting streets and avenues are given in the order in which they occur, which enables one to tell between what streets a certain number is. For instance, you have 420 W. 6th street: by reference to the Street Directory, you find 400 at Central Av. and 500 at John street; consequently the place you wish to find is between Central Av. and John.
