Cincinnati in War Time

WAR has dominated all life in Cincinnati in 1917. Until after January 1 some still hoped that war might be avoided, though many others had for months believed that it was only a question of a short time until the United States would inevitably be drawn into the world conflict of democracy against autocracy.

All who had eyes to see and ears to hear knew, when the German government announced its policy of ruthless submarine warfare, that the United States was, in fact, in the war and would be in it formally and officially in a very few weeks. Since then preparing for the war has been the business of Cincinnati—of the men, women and children collectively so known.

Forty thousand Cincinnati men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one registered under the selective conscription law for service to their country. Over 2,000 of them, in addition to the 2,000 who have entered the service or who are waiting in militia and other organizations to do so, will be called to the defense of the flag. And when more men are needed Cincinnati will be ready and willing to send them, too, to defend the flag.

CINCINNATI SOLDIERS.

Cincinnati will be represented at the front in all branches of the service.

TROOP C.—After giving a good account of itself on the Mexican boundary line Troop C, First Ohio Cavalry, composed, officers and men, of Cincinnatians, found more duty waiting for it after it was welcomed home. It was divided into three parts, each of which was speedily recruited up and formed into a Troop, thus giving Cincinnati a battalion of cavalry. Then came word from Washington that artillery, more than cavalry, is needed and will first go to the front. So another transformation was immediately ordered and is now being accomplished.

FIRST REGIMENT, O. N. G.—Hard work, a large amount of it, has won its reward for Cincinnati's Own Regiment. It has passed the Federal inspection with flying colors. In not one detail of maneuvers or equipment was a company rated as "poor," but every company in every test was rated as "excellent," "very good" or "good." And the officers and men are confident it will continue to make an excellent showing after it is mustered into the Federal service.

A company of engineers, recruited in Cincinnati by Captain Til Huston, is still in this country, but will leave in the immediate future for France. In it are students from the U. of C. and the O. M. I. Captain Huston was one of Cincinnati's representatives at the front in the Spanish-American war and gave a good account of himself.

Ninety-five Cincinnati men were selected and are now in training at the Officers' Reserve Corps camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis.

LIBERTY LOAN.

(By Robert K. Thomson, Editor Interstate Banker.)

With the Cincinnati District most effectively organized, the Liberty Loan campaign was a conspicuous success, the quota allotted to this district being oversubscribed days before the closing of the lists, and the amount being nearly $31,000,000. The citizens had been asked to raise $17,000,000.

The campaign of education, which was opened with the first call, was conducted along lines that brought into play every element of the city, from school children to bankers. Thomas J. Davis was Chairman of the Executive Committee, on which served, A. C. Shinkle, C. A. Hinsch, C. L. Harrison, J. M. Hutton, Arthur Espy, W. P. Rogers, Gordon Reis, J. J. Rowe, G. M. Mosler, E. S. Lee of Covington, George E. Engel of Covington, W. D. Duple, Secretary, and W. C. Culkins, Executive Director.

Numerous public meetings were held, the most important being in Music Hall. On May 22, Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis of New York and Lawrence Chamberlain spoke, and on June 11, Secretary McAdoo and Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Bank brought the campaign to a climax at a great rally.

These meetings, while effective and dramatic, were successful because of the marvelous ground work and preparation laid by various committees in evoking public enthusiasm. The educational work was put in the hands of persons especially adapted for the various phases. W. F. Wiley was Chairman of Publicity and was surrounded by a capable committee. Other Chairmen and their committees were: Murray Shipley, Industrial and Commercial; J. M. Hutton, Stock Exchange; Sidney E. Pritz, Civic and Fraternal Societies; J. J. Rowe, Budget; A. C. Shinkle, Chamber of Commerce; Gordon Reis, Bond Dealers; T. J. Davis, Clearing House Banks; G. M. Mosler, Non-member Banks; W. P. Rogers, Business Men's Club; C. L. Harrison, Finance; E. A. Seiter, Advertising; W. C. Burke, Retail Stores; Mrs. Geo. Hoadly, Women's Department; S. Houston, Life Underwriters; W. S. Hukill, Fire Underwriters; T. L. Pogue, Building Associations; L. W. Smith, City Club.

Some idea of the thoroughness of the campaign may be gained from the facts relating to the mobilization of all classes in support of the loan. The Publicity Committee enlisted preachers, who delivered special sermons, speakers appeared at picture shows, school children distributed circulars, rubber stamps were used to carry the message on all letters, the unions were rallied by labor leaders. Street car advertising was donated, and many concerns added announcements to their regular cards. Bill boards and posters contributed their bit, and the newspapers gave generous reading notices in addition to the regular paid matter. Brokers and bankers ceased advertising any other securities and devoted attention solely to the Liberty Loan in their advertising.

Retail stores were converted into bond booths under direction of brokers, and employers made arrangements to purchase bonds for workmen on the partial payment plan. The building associations rallied nobly. Insurance men made a canvass of the city selling bonds.

The "Flying Squadron" of sixty automobiles, driven by women and accompanied by 100 Boy Scouts, was a picturesque and effective feature of the campaign.

Cincinnati may well feel proud of her showing in subscriptions to the Liberty Loan.

CINCINNATI WAR COUNCIL.

Following a recommendation made by Governor Cox to the authorities of all large cities Mayor Puchta organized a War Council, appointing to it a large number of the city's most prominent and active men and women. All purely local work was taken over entirely by it, and it has also taken charge, to a degree, of Cincinnati's share in state and federal movements. One appropriation to cover the expenses of the War Council has been made by the City Council, and so far as possible city officials and employes will devote their time to the work.

Committees have been appointed on: Social Service, Prevention of Waste, War Gardens, Indorsement, Red Cross, Defense, Employment. Other committees will be appointed as the work develops and they are needed.

More than a score of companies of Home Guards have been organized and are being drilled. They will be called on to do guard duty when soldiers who have been doing it at Cincinnati railroad bridges and other points are called away, and such other home defense duty as is assigned them. The number already authorized to be recruited is 5,000. Almost every former village annexed to the city, and other outlying districts is represented by a company.

SCHOOLS IN THE WAR.

Cincinnati Schools do not wait to be called when their country needs them—they start as soon as the trouble appears.

President Dabney, members of faculty and teachers in the different schools, and the students of the University of Cincinnati have all been doing their duty. Some of them are already doing it in France, in the hospital, engineering and other units; others are on their way, and still more are making themselves ready to go and to give good accounts of themselves on foreign fields. Instructors and other employes while absent will be paid the difference between the amount they receive from the government and their regular salaries. Seniors who left in April and May were graduated the same as though they had remained to the end of the term. In many ways will the University of Cincinnati give high-grade service. One example: In a few hours the students of the College of Engineering hauled a considerable distance, set up and had in operation a complete power plant. The next day in less time they dismantled and hauled it away.

Compulsory military training was inaugurated at St. Xavier College in April, immediately after the President and Congress passed the declaration of a state of war. The services of a regular United States army captain and sergeant were secured and full training made obligatory on every student. A battalion was formed by the 450 young men attending the main college and the branch in Avondale.

In addition to establishing regular military drilling, President John L. Shearer of the Ohio Mechanics Institute, made a canvass of every student to determine in what way he, or she, could best serve the country. A large number are already doing so. Some back on the farms or in intensive industrial training; others, especially students in the Domestic Science Department, receiving instructions in "first aid" and other hospital work, and others are making Red Cross bandages and surgical dressings. Even the big flat roof was put to work and there will be no concerts or other similar happenings on it this year. Even the flowers were banished to make room for vegetable gardens.

RED CROSS AND OTHER RELIEF FUNDS.

Cincinnati was asked in May to enroll 30,000 new members in the Red Cross and Cincinnati promptly responded, after a vigorous campaign, by sending to the National Red Cross headquarters 30,000 new memberships. And then, for good measure, Cincinnati sent 15,000 more.

Cincinnati now is asked to contribute $1,000,000. The preliminary work in the way of appointing and organizing committees and mapping out and starting the publicity, has been done in part and is being pushed. Incidental to it was the entertaining of and an eloquent address by Former President Taft when he was in Cincinnati for a brief visit.

A drive to secure the $1,000,000 will be made the third week in June. And Cincinnati has developed the habit of doing what it starts out to do in the way of war work.

What amount Cincinnati will contribute to the American Jewish Relief Fund cannot be told, for contributions to it are constantly being made. It is, however, known that Cincinnati has done its full share in the past and is doing it in the present.

The Ohio Catholic Women's Association, organized in April, has a membership of over 16,000 in Cincinnati. It is growing and is doing good work in a number of ways. It works with and through the Red Cross. Contributions of cash and supplies solicited and collected by it, as well as articles for soldiers made by the members, are turned over to the Red Cross.

The Y. M. C. A. has asked Cincinnati to contribute $75,000 to the fund to be expended for the comfort and clean entertainment of soldiers while they are in the training camps. The amount is being raised and will be collected in time. The Knights of Columbus are raising a fund of $500,000 for the same purpose and Cincinnati is contributing its proportion of it.

LEADS IN WAR WORK.

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, by reason of its great departmental facilities, was enabled to take a very considerable part in handling the war situation in Cincinnati. In order to take care of the conditions which might arise after the departure of soldiers from Cincinnati and during the training period, the Chamber of Commerce began the organization of a Home Defense League and organized a large number of Home Guard Companies, which were eventually transferred to the War Council of Cincinnati, formed by the Mayor.

Realizing the necessity of increased acreage for the production of food in Hamilton County, the Chamber of Commerce formed a general committee of all organizations of Cincinnati interested in home gardens and intensive farming, secured a large quantity of vacant lots suitable for small gardens and distributed them to citizens. Plowing, fertilizer, seed and instructions were also supplied. A large number of meetings were held to stimulate this most important work. The organization took the name of the Joint Committee on Food Conservation with Harry J. Estermann as chairman.

The entire departmental organization was turned over to the Liberty Loan Executive Committee. Through these departments matters of general publicity and organization were carried out in a most effective manner. The Committee established its headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce with Executive Secretary W. C. Culkins in charge.

WAR BULLETINS.

DECORATION DAY.—Greatest by far in the history of Cincinnati was the observance of Decoration Day this year. In number of men in line, and in having representatives of every class, and creed, and condition of men, the parade surpassed any of former years. So, too, did it in martial music, in the flag decorated streets over which it passed, and in other ways. But greatest of all and most significant, was the spirit of the day; a spirit felt by all and manifested by many and yet one which cannot adequately be described; there was more reverence for the veterans living and dead, and more love of country, now that it is again threatened.

RELIGIONS AND CREEDS FRATERNIZE.—A wholesome feeling of friendliness has been more and more in evidence, as the war weeks have passed, between members of the Christian and Jewish religions, and also in turn between members of the different Jewish and Christian sects. Ministers of all, both in their pulpits and out of them, have preached and acted only one cause. The rabbis, both of the old and new denominations, have eloquently done their work, the same as have the Catholic priests under the direction of Archbishop Moeller and the Protestant ministers through the Federation of Churches.

THIRD REGIMENT ON GUARD.—The Third Regiment, O. N. G., was sent to Cincinnati the day after Congress passed the war declaration and has since been on duty here guarding railroad bridges and other points designated by the authorities. And it has guarded them. After several men were shot and others arrested it came to be understood that when one of the soldiers said "Move on," the best plan, and part dictated by wisdom, was to move on and not delay in doing so. The Third had just returned from the Mexican border and had not yet been mustered out of the Federal service. The Third first camped in Lincoln Park and then in Eden Park. There was held the first general court martial in Cincinnati since Civil War days.

RAILROADS PREPARING.—All railroads in and out of Cincinnati are revising their passenger schedules to secure greater economy and efficiency. Slight reductions have already been made in service and more are booked for the near future.

RIVER TRAFFIC.—The great importance of river transportation has been forcibly called to the attention of all Federal and other officials and private citizens having to do with the war preparations. The railroad traffic congestion, and prospect of more congestion, which could, it is admitted, be greatly relieved if not altogether avoided by water transportation, will result, it is predicted, in Congress abandoning the penny wise and pound foolish policy and providing for the early completion of the improvement of the Ohio, Mississippi and other inland waterways.

LOCAL PLANTS PRODUCE WAR SUPPLIES.—Since a few weeks after the war started Cincinnati plants have been producing supplies of various kinds, and to the extent of many millions of dollars for the allies. They are already being called upon to produce supplies for the United States and expect to be kept busy doing so until the end of the war.

FIRST BIG ALCOHOL ORDER.—Immediately after the beginning of the war, in August, 1914, a representative of the allies arrived and announced that he wanted 40,000,000 gallons of alcohol, also that he wanted it shipped right away. Distillers and whisky brokers were accustomed to making contracts involving thousands of barrels, but still the big order stumped them for a moment. Now they smile at it, for several times forty million gallons have been shipped to France and England since then and Cincinnati, through plants here or controlled in this city, is prepared to supply Uncle Sam with any quantity of this war necessity he may require.

WAR GARDENS.—Potatoes are growing where potatoes never grew before. Likewise cabbage, peas, beans, tomatoes and other vegetables. For Cincinnati has taken kindly, even enthusiastically, to the war garden idea—and as a result Cincinnatians will have more to eat, and still leave more to be shipped to our allies across the sea, next Winter. The first census, taken by the police in every district, showed 19,756 pieces of land of varying size being cultivated by about 40,000 persons. The number of plots of ground, and of gardeners, has increased since the report was made. There are over 45,000 acres of land within the city limits, but most of them are occupied by houses and streets—none of which have been torn down, or up, for gardens. How many acres, some formerly occupied by flower gardens and as pleasure grounds, are now growing foodstuffs, is not known.

WOMEN WEARING WAR "OVERALLS."—Society women doing their bit at city farming are not the only ones who have adopted "overalls." Women now employed by the railroad companies as car cleaners and in various other capacities are discarding skirts. So, too, are women being employed to do what was previously "men's work" in industrial plants. It is estimated that within a few months 10,000 Cincinnati women will be doing work always before done by men, and that a good proportion of them will find it easier and safer to adopt the man style of working clothes.

REMIT DUES.—Fraternal and other societies, lodges and organizations of all kinds have adopted resolutions remitting the dues of members while they are in the government service. Insurance agents have formed an organization to see that life insurance policies do not lapse on account of the insured failing to keep up the premiums. In every possible way the interests of those who go to the front for their country will be cared for by those who stay at home.

NEWSPAPERS RAISE PRICE.—The one-cent newspapers, both morning and afternoon, changed in April and May their price to two cents per copy and also increased their subscription rates. The changes apply outside Greater Cincinnati. A very large majority of the one-cent papers of the country had previously taken such action, "war prices" of all supplies having compelled them to do so.

CLERGYMEN MUST DOUBLE UP.—A number of Cincinnati priests and ministers must do double duty, or else some churches must be closed, during the war. Several ministers have already attached themselves to regiments as chaplains, and six priests have been given leaves of absence for similar duty. Others, it is expected, will follow their example.

CITY'S GERMAN POPULATION.—According to the United States Census of 1910, Cincinnati has the second largest per centage of inhabitants both of whose parents were born in Germany. The per centage here is 16.5; Milwaukee is first with 27 per cent. It is also second in those one of whose parents was born in Germany, having 7.9 per cent, compared with 9.1 per cent in Milwaukee. In German born inhabitants it stands third, with 7.8 per cent, Chicago having 8.3 per cent and Milwaukee 16 per cent. Cincinnati, according to the census, is over 24 per cent German and "second growth" German.

CINCINNATIANS IN FRANCE.—Though no Cincinnati troops have been sent to the front a number of Cincinnati young men and women have been in the war in France for from a few weeks to over two years. Few are fighting in the trenches, but a number of them have been fighting in the air, and several have won distinction as fighting aviators. Others are in the engineering and medical contingents at the front, and a majority of the women are with the Red Cross or nurses in field hospitals.

TREASON THE CHARGE.—The arrest of twelve men on charges of treason June 1 was apparently the cause of making a number of persons in Cincinnati realize that the United States is at war with Germany. The specific charge in these cases was the circulation of anti-registration and anti-selective conscription literature. The men are in jail awaiting trial. Several other arrests on charges of treason have since been made.

GERMAN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The teaching of German in the public schools will be the issue, and probably the only one, in the Board of Education election next November. A majority of the Board, to serve for two years from January next, will then be elected. Efforts during the past two months to have an investigation of the teaching of German in this and other cities have been blocked by three to three and four to three votes by the present Board. The German-American Alliance, Cincinnati Section, at a meeting June 1 voted unanimously to fight to have German teaching continued.

STOPS SPEEDWAY RACING.—The automobile races at the Cincinnati Speedway on Decoration Day, which attracted a crowd of over 60,000 persons, will be the last big race meeting until after the war. Many of the drivers and mechanics have enlisted and the others have been asked to enlist in the Federal aviation corps.

CHANGE DIET.—Meatless meals, corn bread, and other things not heretofore particularly popular in Cincinnati have become fashionable. Thousands of women have joined in the movement to in every way prevent waste and so far as possible limit the use of articles abnormally high in price.

FRENCH ORPHANS.—The most pathetic and touching war work has been that of the organization, "The Fatherless Children of France." Cincinnati men and women have adopted and become "God fathers and "God mothers" of thousands of these innocent victims of the war. The work is still going on and will be continued until after the end of the war. Many simple little letters of thanks have been received from the orphans, who no longer are hungry every day.

HIGH PRICES.—This will be remembered as "the year of high prices," for barring an economic revolution the general level of prices cannot continue going up. Salaries and wages in many cases have advanced, but not to the same extent as prices of foodstuffs, now higher than even during the Civil War. Prices of all commodities have advanced and the vast majority of people fail to recognize the alleged present day "prosperity."

CINCINNATI CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce is the great business organization of Cincinnati. It has about 3,000 members, who represent practically the entire commercial field. The Chamber of Commerce is one of the oldest organizations in the city. It was established in 1839. This association of business men has a long and honorable record for the things it has accomplished for Cincinnati and in the interests of business.

Such terms as "efficiency" and "scientific management" have recently appeared in our vocabulary. It is obvious that this tendency to efficiency in business should affect the methods not only of business and of factory, but also of voluntary organizations. Commercial associations are adopting the efficiency idea in the conduct of their activities.

This new kind of organization is typified in the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce. Today, instead of the work being done through committees of members able to give only their spare time to the subjects under discussion, a different plan is followed. In order that careful investigation in any subject may be made and proper consideration given to every side of each subject, a staff of experts in special lines has been established. Their services are at the command of the various committees composed of members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Thus by bringing together in one organization over 3,000 men from many walks of life there has developed a great central organization which is constantly increasing in value and influence in the community. As small and isolated organizations become subsidiary groups in this large central body, wasteful duplication of effort is eliminated and they secure influence which formerly was lacking.

Careful consideration of the big community problems and a policy of deliberate but firm action distinguishes the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce. Ques- tions of all sorts affecting business and community interests are here considered. Various sorts of service are rendered, from the manifold activities of the civic and industrial department and the securing of conventions, to the official weighing and grading of hay and grain for the city of Cincinnati.

The exchange hall is the meeting place for business men. Here is posted information of various sorts—news bulletins, quotations of stock exchanges, and so forth. Here the members of the Chamber come for general meetings. Here they buy and sell. At present the principal commodities handled are grain and hay. Formerly many other articles were dealt in, but with the advent of the telephone and other modern instruments of business, the barter on the exchange has been limited practically to grain and hay, commodities that are bought by sample. The exchange is not a stock exchange. Actual transactions only take place. There is no dealing in margins or futures or in stocks or bonds.

The many activities of the great organization are centered in thirteen departments as follows: Auditing and Purchasing Department, Civic and Industrial Department, Convention and Publicity Department, Exchange Hall, Foreign Trade Department, Inspection Department, Legal Department, Membership Department, Retail Merchants Department, Statistical Department, Trade Expansion Department, Traffic Department, Weighing Department.

There are many subsidiary and several affiliated organizations. The activities include perhaps a wider range than those of any other Chamber of Commerce in the country. Hardly any definite forward movement is made without the co-operation of this institution. Its influence upon commerce and industry is more than local, and indeed for many years it has been felt throughout the country.

The officers of the Chamber of Commerce for 1917 are: A. Clifford Shinkle, President of the Central Trust Company, and the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Company, President; Ralph A. Tingle, Special Agent of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, First Vice President; Luke W. Smith, President and Treasurer of Charles E. Smith & Sons Company, Second Vice President; J. E. McClain, Secretary and Treasurer of the Jos. R. Peebles' Sons Company, Secretary; Bernard H. Wess, of the B. H. Wess Grain and Coal Company, Treasurer; W. C. Culkins, Executive Secretary; and the following Directors: James A. Reilly, Joseph D. Engelbert, Dwight Hinckley, Frank E. French, Robert W. Pogue, C. L. Harrison, C. S. Bailey, M. W. Macke, S. A. Eberle and S. R. Meyer.

UNION DEPOT.

The latest plan for a union passenger depot contemplates the construction of such a building, with necessary tracks, by the City acting through the Board of Trustees of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, and to be used by all lines.

At the instance of the Southern Railway Trustees, endorsed by commercial organizations, Senator Walter M. Shohl introduced into the last Legislature an act authorizing the Trustees to construct and lease terminals at an estimated cost of $20,000,000 by the issuance of city bonds guaranteed by the trunk lines as to interest and sinking fund. The bill passed both houses, and was approved by Governor James M. Cox, March 30, 1917.

CINCINNATI SOUTHERN.

The Cincinnati Southern Railway continued its program of making extensive additions and improvements to the City's railroad extending from Cincinnati to Chattanooga.

Work is about to be undertaken on an extension of the terminal track in West Front Street between Smith Street and Plum Street; the necessary property has been acquired or condemned. This will give the Cincinnati Southern Railway direct connection over its own tracks between Vine Street terminals and the freight terminals in the West End.

The high cost of materials has interfered with the reconstruction as a double track railroad bridge, with wagonway and pedestrian path, of the bridge of the Cincinnati Southern Railway over the Ohio River.

The Trustees issued $250,000 of bonds to take care of preliminary expenses, the remainder of the $2,500,000 bonds will be authorized and sold as soon as contracts are let. The wagonway will not be attached immediately, but the bridge will be so constructed that it can be put in operation when the City meets the demand of the Trustees that the approaches be provided through the general city funds and not by the Trustees. The City of Ludlow has already agreed to assume the expense of the approach on the Kentucky side. About eighty acres of land have been acquired at Ludlow in connection with enlarged terminal facilities at that point.

The Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway Co., Lessee of the Cincinnati Southern, has just awarded contracts for the construction of twenty-six additional miles of double track in Kentucky and Tennessee. When completed, this will give 170 miles of double track out of the total of 336 miles. While paid for by the Lessee, the improvements revert to the City.

Through the regrouping of the lines owned and controlled by the Southern Railway Co. and the formation of what is known as the Southern Railway System, Cincinnati was selected as the Western headquarters of railroads having approximately 3,500 miles of track. This has necessitated the enlargement of office quarters and removal to Cincinnati of representatives and clerks heretofore maintained in various Southern and Western cities.

A banquet in compliment to Vice President Thomas C. Powell, and other officials of the System, was tendered February 24 by the Business Men's Club. The Trustees of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and representative citizens were present at the festivities.

The grouping of the lines into the Southern Railway System does not in any way affect the corporate identity of the individual companies.

Since the execution in 1881 of the lease on the Cincinnati Southern Railway, The Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway Co., Lessee, has expended approximately $16,000,000 in renewals and replacements, all of which revert to the City.

The E. H. Harriman Memorial Gold Medal awarded each year to the American Railroad making the most satisfactory record in safety and accident prevention was awarded in 1915 to the Cincinnati Southern Railway, and in 1916 to the Alabama Great Southern Railroad, which is also operated from Cincinnati as a part of the Southern Railway System.

POST OFFICE PROGRESS.

Receipts of the Cincinnati Post Office, for the first time, exceeded $3,000,000 during the past year. The exact figures were $3,163,885.21, an increase of $170,628.29 over the previous year.

Service to the patrons of the office has been still further improved during the past twelve months, even though previously the office was officially in the front rank. Examples of this are a new automobile delivery service in the commission house districts, several hours earlier than the regular delivery, thereby making possible shipments by the earliest trains, and special late afternoon automobile collections of mail in the western business district. In co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce full and detailed information is constantly being furnished business men regarding changes and the best and quickest methods of transacting their mail business.

Postal deposits during the year passed the $1,000,000 mark.

A new carrier delivery station has been established at Mt. Washington, and the delivery limits of the Pleasant Ridge station have been extended to include Deer Park and Silverton.

BUILDING RECORD.

The supply of high-class tenement houses, with sets of rooms renting at $30 to $100 per month, and of dwellings for sale at $3,000 to $10,000 is now fully equal to and even slightly ahead of the demand, according to builders and owners. A slackening up, or even an entire cessation for a year, of building in these two lines will improve conditions. The demand for sanitary tenement houses, with sets of rooms renting at $10 to $20 per month, is far larger than the supply. One thousand such buildings, with accommodations for 10,000 families, could be rented as soon as ready for occupancy.

During the year ending May 1, 1917, permits calling for the expenditure of $11,413,995 were issued, showing a good gain over the previous similar period, and that though character of construction changes from year to year the aggregate continues well up toward the high mark. During May, 1917, permits were issued calling for the expenditure of $2,363,730. They included the $1,500,000 permit for the new electric light plant, and the total was exceeded by only one other month in the history of the department.

In another line the Building Department was more active than at any time in the past, though admittedly still greater activity is desired from both health and fire prevention viewpoints. Writs of condemnation covering 372 old and unsanitary buildings and 251 wrecking permits were issued.

TENEMENT HOUSE PROBLEM.

The housing problem in general, and the tenement house problem in the congested districts in particular, have attracted more attention and been the subject of more discussion than at any time in the city's history. The large influx of negroes from the South during the past year has made the situation acute, but to date no way of adequately meeting it has been found. The Building Department under Commissioner Rendigs has admittedly been doing good work, and more of it than has ever been done in the past, but still only a very small part of the necessary changes are being made. For every building condemned and torn down ten other bad tenements are allowed to remain—not to do so, it is declared, would mean the turning out into the streets of the occupants, as the tenements in the congested districts are now crowded to capacity and, from a health viewpoint, in many cases beyond it.

Blame in part for existing conditions is placed by one organization on those who have been endeavoring to remedy them. A statement prepared by the Cincinnati Real Estate Board for The Directory Review says in part:

"Some social agitators paint the picture blacker than it really is, for Cincinnati is much more fortunate in her tenement situation than many other large cities. The Property Owners' Protective Committee of the Cincinnati Real Estate Board was created for the purpose of devising ways and means of eliminating the constant harassment of the property owners by social workers, and the various departments of the city and state. During the past five years very few tenement-houses have been erected in the basin of the city. This condition is due in a measure to the stringent building code, which has increased the cost of building and maintenance of this type of property to such an extent that the rent received from such property does not pay a fair return on the investment. There are some unscrupulous owners who merit censure for the condition of their property, but in a great majority of instances where the blame is placed on the property owner the tenant is really responsible. The Health Department is commencing to realize this fact and is compelling the tenant to clean up. At the present time this committee is bending every effort to have the complaint departments (Building Commissioner, Health, State Fire Marshal) unified, so as to eliminate the constant duplication of orders issued by these departments for repairs and alterations."

NEGRO EXODUS.

Social workers estimate that 6,000 negroes have recently settled in Cincinnati. Most of them are willing to work but many of them are not physically or by training in any way fitted to the work demanded of members of their race in cities, and hundreds of families have been absolutely destitute and have only lived through charity.

Regarding this condition, and the seriousness of it to Cincinnati, Dr. J. H. Landis, Health Officer, said:

"Following the outbreak of hostilities in Europe a shortage in labor occurred in communities given over to the production of munitions and other war materials. Unskilled labor was called from its usual occupation and employed in producing war material at higher wages than it had ever before been paid.

"To fill the gaps thus made, inducements were held out to the southern negroes and wages offered them that caused them to flock north in an ever increasing number. In Cincinnati many instances of overcrowding have been brought to the attention of the authorities by local members of the race.

"Overcrowding always means an increase in the sick and death rates. Unthinking people do not attach any importance to this, those outside the area of congestion losing sight of the fact that waiters, butlers, household servants, etc., coming from overcrowded tenements, bring the diseases of the tenements with them. Cases of small-pox and cerebro-spinal meningitis of the epidemic type have developed in Cincinnati in recently arrived negroes, and the wide-spread prevalence of hookworm in the south certainly lays northern districts open for infection through these people, a large number of whom are infected with this disease. The problem is not peculiar to Cincinnati and cannot be solved by one city or one state. It is an interstate problem which should be solved by some department of the Federal Government."

SUCCESSFUL FIRE FIGHTING.

The total fire loss in Cincinnati last year, buildings and contents, was only $648,335.89. The total loss on buildings and contents in which the fires did not originate was only $19,335.56, showing that very few fires were allowed to spread. A large majority of them were confined to the floor and immediate vicinity of where they originated. The previous year, with a total loss of only $365,570.56, Cincinnati broke all records for American cities of its class and the last showing is also far above the average. There were 2,015 alarms, 135 of which were "false." Fourteen persons were burned to death and 31 were seriously burned. The total value of property involved was $10,741,080.30.

Sprinklers gave a good account of themselves. There were an even fifty "sprinkler risk" fires, in which over $4,000,000 of property was endangered, but the total loss was only $7,425.60, an average of $148.51 to a fire. There were 535 fires during the year which were not in buildings—automobiles, telegraph poles, dumps and grass fires.

COUNTY ROADS AND BRIDGES.

The roads and bridges, and the drainage system of Hamilton County, are subjects of not only commendation but high praise by the Department of Agriculture in a Soil Survey bulletin issued in Washington May 1.

County Surveyor Boeh prepared the following statistics of roads and bridges outside cities and villages: Total road mileage, 750.40; paving, water-bound macadam, 333.95 miles; oiled water-bound macadam, 238.01 miles; bituminous-bound macadam, 59.35 miles; gravel and stone, 9.62 miles; concrete, 1.92 miles; brick, 1.41 miles; gravel, 63.29 miles; glutrin, 6.05 miles; cinder and warrenite, 1.10 miles; unimproved and untraveled, 35.70 miles; total, 750.40 miles.

There are 531 bridges and culverts on county roads; 132 of steel, 142 wooden and 357 concrete. Except for the usual wear and tear, and need of current repairs, they are in good condition. Their numbers, and name of the road, are now being painted on all bridges and culverts so that people who get lost may find themselves.

An exact survey shows 260,480 acres, or 407 square miles, in Hamilton County. Cincinnati covers 45,312 acres; the total in the country districts, outside cities and villages, is 201,457.

OHIO MECHANICS INSTITUTE.

The Ohio Mechanics Institute is continuing its improvement along very definite lines. The Industrial Museum collections are expanding and will shortly be fully systematized for the use of the public. Among the new features is the display of most interesting documents pertaining to the early history of Cincinnati. A collection of rare coins is also now on exhibition. This collection was acquired by gift, and is a part of the Timothy C. Day contributions. In memory of this distinguished Cincinnati his entire collection of books, containing much in the line of Cincinnati's early history, has recently been added to the Library.

A rare collection of autograph letters has also been presented to the Museum by Miss Sarah J. Day, and among the numerous contributions by Mr. and Mrs. Louis V. Bell, of New York, is the lantern used by General Sherman throughout the Civil War.

The Institute has also become the possessor of a copy of the first map of the world, which was made by Juan de la Cosa, one of the distinguished navigators with Columbus in the discovery of America.

The new Tea Room of the Institute, which constitutes an important social center, has been completed and is also in operation. This room is a very convenient meeting place for such organizations as the Audubon Society and the Housewives League.

In the Institute of Applied Arts, a new department has been inaugurated for Jewelry work and Silversmithing. The Department of Household Arts and Science has been greatly developed and is now reaching a much larger circle. Many housekeepers took advantage of the instruction, and attended the lectures delivered by the head of the department.

CINCINNATI'S FIRST TORNADO.

Cincinnati has had a real tornado, the first one in its history, and while the damage, as tornadoes go, was slight there is not the slightest desire for another experience of the same kind. Three lives were lost, 32 persons were injured, 90 buildings were destroyed or damaged and the property loss was estimated at $300,000.

W. C. Devereaux, Meteorologist of the Weather Bureau, in his report says in part:

"The first well-defined tornado in the City of Cincinnati, of which there is any authentic record occurred during the evening of March 11, 1917. The disastrous storm of July 7, 1915, was not classed as a true tornado although there is some evidence that it was a gyrotory storm but on a comparatively large scale. Previous to this we have not been able to find a record of a storm within the area of the city of Cincinnati that was of the nature of a tornado.

"The tornado occurred in the eastern portion of the city sometime between 7:20 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., local time. When the path of the tornado is traced backwards it passes midway between the two Weather Bureau stations which are four miles apart, and over a thickly settled portion of the city. The instrumental records do not show that any storm of this nature passed between the stations. All the available evidence seems to indicate that the tornado developed close to or over the region where the first destruction of property occurred.

"A possible explanation of the origin of the tornado is that the wind at the observatory was blowing at the rate of 24 miles an hour from the northwest from 7:08 p. m. to 7:13 p. m., and at the rate of 18 miles per hour from the southwest during the same time at the Government Building. Blowing at these rates and directions the two winds would meet about 10 minutes later at the point where the tornado is supposed to have originated. These directions and velocities were maintained for only five minutes after which the directions became west at both stations and the velocities gradually decreased. The assumption that the tornado developed during the time from 7:18 p. m., to 7.23 p. m., and then moved eastward at the rate of about 20 miles an hour seems to agree with available data and records of the time the storm occurred.

"The tornado passed through the eastern suburb of Cincinnati known as South Hyde Park or Mt. Lookout. The first evidence of the storm was at the corner of Fairfax Avenue and Cinnamon Street, where a small residence was blown down. Two short blocks east on Lavinia Street a tree was blown over and another small building was partly destroyed. Another short block to the east the storm crossed Madison Road where poles carrying the electric cables of the Cincinnati Traction Co., were blown down and several large signboards on the east side of the street were demolished. The Traction Co., states that the current went off on Madison Road at 7:16 p. m., but this may have been due to the thunderstorm which apparently preceded the tornado somewhat.

"After crossing Madison Road the storm passed up a gradual slope and across the Cincinnati Golf Grounds for a distance of about one mile without causing much damage. Passing down the hill to the east of the golf grounds the storm apparently increased in intensity and the path of greatest destruction began at the head of Morton Street, about halfway down the hill, where one house was entirely demolished and another partly destroyed. The north half of the roof of the house on the left path of the storm was carried 300 feet to the northwest over a row of houses and deposited in a yard, while a portion of the roof of the house on the right side of the path was carried about 500 feet across a gully to the southeast and smashed to pieces on the side of the hill. These roofs must have been picked up and carried by the gyratory winds until they reached the points where found. The path of destruction was about fifty feet wide on Morton Street.

"The path of the storm from the head of Morton Street was plainly marked, passing a little east of north down the hill to the "Arcadia" subdivision, and then up the hill across Linwood Avenue along the south side of the Kessing homestead popularly known as "Policy Bill Smith's Home," and to the corner of Grace and Griest Avenues. Trees on the south side of the path lay to the north and northeast and those on the north side lay to the south and southeast. Along the path of the storm there were many evidences of the gyratory motion of the winds.

"After crossing Grace Avenue the storm gradually decreased in intensity and width but was still destructive down Griest Avenue, across Delta and Herschel Avenues, through Ault Park and as far east as Red Bank.

"The total length of the path of the storm from near Cinnamon or Lavinia Streets to Red Bank was three and one-quarter miles, but the path of greatest destruction was about three-fourths of a mile, from Morton Street to Delta Avenue, and the width in the region varied between 50 feet and 300 feet or more.

"As the storm occurred after dark cloud observation was difficult. A few people, however, claim to have seen the tornado cloud, one witness describing it as pear-shaped with the neck end towards the ground, the center of the cloud having a dull reddish glow. This same party also describes the lightning as being of the sheet type and of a diffused glare. There is general agreement as to the tremendous hissing, roaring noise accompanying the passage of the storm. The rainfall attending the storm was light."

OLD DISPUTES BEING SETTLED.

For many years, in fact since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, residents of the hill tops and of the basin have been disputing on the difference in degrees of hotness and coldness of the two districts. And now for the first time, owing to Cincinnati having two weather stations, four miles apart, all such disputes can and will be officially settled.

During two years ending March 31, 1917, complete weather records were kept at the Government Building and the Weather Bureau Observatory in Clifton. The Government Building is partly surrounded by high buildings and hills, while at the Observatory the exposure is free and open on all sides. The greatest difference in the records at the two locations was shown in the direction of the wind. At the Government Building 69 per cent of the south wind was recorded as a south-east wind, nearly 50 per cent of the north-east wind was recorded as an east wind, and about 30 per cent of the south-west wind was recorded as west wind. The total number of hours that the wind blew from the north-east and east, the south-east and south, and the south-west and west at the Government Building was in each case nearly equal to the total number of hours that the wind blew from the two corresponding directions at the Observatory. The duration of both the north and the north-west wind was practically the same at the two locations. The velocity of the wind for the various directions did not differ greatly except for the south wind, which was less than one-half as strong at the Government Building as at the Observatory. The temperature averaged 2.0 degrees lower at the Observatory than at the Government Building, the difference between the maximum temperatures being 1.4 degrees and between the minimum temperatures being 2.7 degrees. The greatest difference during the two years was 8 degrees between the maximum temperatures and 8 degrees between the minimum temperatures. During 87 per cent of the time the difference ranged between zero and 3 degrees, and on only 26 days during the year was the temperature highest at the Observatory. The deficiency in the amount of precipitation recorded at the Government Building was 1.96 inches or 8 per cent. It will require several years of comparative records to determine the average difference in the precipitation.

THE ABBE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATORY.—A new name was officially adopted for the Weather Bureau building in Cincinnati on January 1st, 1917. It is now known as the Abbe Meteorological Observatory in memory of Professor Cleveland Abbe, who died during the past year. Professor Abbe was sometimes called "The First American Meteorologist," and it was during the two years he was director of the Cincinnati Astronomical Observatory from 1868 to 1870 he started a weather service in co-operation with the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

This was the first weather service in the United States and the system used was adopted by the United States Government in 1870 and has gradually developed into the present Weather Bureau. From 1870 until the time of his death Professor Abbe was the Senior Professor of Meteorology in the Weather Bureau. All weather observations published are made at the Abbe Meteorological Observatory, but the Weather Bureau also keeps records at the Government Building where the business office is maintained.

Notable Events of Past Year

Among the notable events in Cincinnati during the past year were:

PRESIDENT WILSON'S VISIT.—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, visited Cincinnati October 26, 1916, and was cordially welcomed. He addressed the members of the Chamber of Commerce, Exchange Hall being crowded by business and professional men to hear him, and was entertained at lunch by the Woman's City Club, where he made the at that time startling statement that "the business of neutrality is over," and that the United States could not keep out of the next great war. Public and parochial school children, with flowers, figured largely in the auto trip through the city. He was entertained at dinner at the Business Men's Club, by the City Club, at whose invitation he came to Cincinnati, and spoke at a mass meeting in Music Hall.

"GIFTS" GONE.—Another of the landmarks of Cincinnati is gone. The Gifts house on Sixth, west of Vine, for many years headquarters of the Fire Department and home of "the tower" is being transformed into a movie picture show house. The engine, ladder and other companies which occupied it were distributed among other down town houses. The $127,000 received by the city for the property is being used to still further motorize the Department. The old fire horses are almost gone.

LARGEST VOTE CAST.—Cincinnati cast the largest vote in its history November 7 last. The total was 99,554. The total in the county was 121,927.

BOND HILL CELEBRATES.—Bond Hill, after many years of watching and waiting, and also of fighting in and out of the courts, at last has found a place in the sun. So, at least, its citizens declare, for the long delayed car line has been completed.

COURT HOUSE STRIKE.—A dispute between two labor unions, developing into what is known as a "jurisdictional strike," has delayed a number of months the completion of the Hamilton County Court House, and has cost Hamilton County and the contractors tens of thousands of dollars. There was no question of wages involved but simply a dispute between the metal workers' and the carpenters' unions as to which should do certain work. Work was resumed recently under a compromise agreement and barring similar disputes among themselves, there being no complaints against the County or the contractors, the work will be completed next year.

NEW TAX LAW.—The new tax law, now being enforced, will work many changes. A reappraisal of all real estate, at an estimated expense of $200,000 is being made. It will be a paying investment, it is declared, on account of the equalizing of values as well as by adding millions of dollars to the tax duplicate. The greatest proportionate increase, however, will be in the personal tax duplicate. Under the new law every property owner is his own assessor and must swear to his returns. Thousands of names, and millions of dollars' worth of property, will be added to the 1918 list.

NEW CHARTER.—By a vote of 25,388 to 3,628 at the special election April 17 the people decided that Cincinnati wants and needs a new charter. The total vote cast was 44,390, but knowing the charter proposition would carry overwhelmingly many neglected to vote on it. The charter commissioners are at work and may report in time for the November election. The central thought of the movement for a charter was "home rule" for Cincinnati and release from state and Columbus rule.

NEW ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.—The foundations for the new electric plant of the Union Gas & Electric Company on West Front Street, where water will be obtained direct from the river, have been completed and the plant will be in operation the latter part of 1918. The cost of the structure, in the building permit, was given at $1,500,000.

RAPID TRANSIT.—The people of Cincinnati have done all they have been asked to do, and all that they can do for the present to secure rapid transit to the outlying districts and at two points to beyond them. The matter is now in the courts and when it will be out of them no man knoweth. By more than a two to one vote, the figures being: Yes, 30,174; No, 14,189, the electors at the special election, April 17, approved the plans and lease to the Cincinnati Traction Company submitted by the Rapid Transit Commission. An injunction against the entering into any construction contracts, issuing any of the bonds authorized by the voters, or otherwise proceeding with the work was secured in Common Pleas Court and is still undetermined. Unless further delayed by litigation or other matters actual work on the eastern half of the rapid transit loop will start in 1918 and it will be completed to Norwood in about three years. Work on the section from Third and Walnut Streets north to St. Bernard will not be started before 1919.

INTERURBANS.—No provision is made in the rapid transit loop lease for bringing in the interurbans except that they shall be permitted to use it on equal terms. Whether or not they will ever come to the center of the city over it, with two and possibly three exceptions, is problematical. The Cincinnati, Milford and Loveland Traction Company, which has never paid, was recently placed in the hands of a receiver. The receivers of the Interurban Railway & Terminal Company secured an order in the Common Pleas Court for the abandonment, sale and wrecking of the line to Bethel, Ohio, but the Court of Appeals granted a stay of execution on a protest from residents along the line and the matter is still before it. Several other interurban roads are in bad condition financially. One or more of them may be abandoned. Others must be sold and reorganized before they can extend their lines to connect with the rapid transit loop and be equipped to use it. Automobiles, both private cars and auto truck lines, have played an important part, in the past ten years, in reducing the revenues of some lines and throwing them into bankruptcy.

UNIVERSAL TRANSFERS.—Cincinnati did not secure any change from a straight five-cent fare under the 1916 franchise revision of the Cincinnati Traction Company, made in April, 1917, and must continue to pay nickels at least until the 1931 revision. But it did secure a universal transfer system in place of the former far from satisfactory, partial and arbitrary system.

PROJECTS UP TO COUNCIL.—Several important projects now hanging fire will be pushed forward to completion, those interested say, as soon as the City Council acts favorably upon them. They are the erection of the Dixie Terminal Building, Third, Fourth and Walnut Streets; the extension of the Suspension Bridge to Third Street; the building of the West End Rapid Transit line from Third and Walnut Streets to a connection with the Cincinnati, Lawrenceburg & Aurora line; the rerouting and coming into the Dixie Terminal Building of the Green Lines. Two franchise ordinances are now being considered by Council committees.

CINCINNATI'S WEALTH.—Though Cincinnati has been compelled to borrow money, over $1,000,000, the past year in order to continue doing business on a cash basis it was solely on account of the limitations, restrictions and prohibitions of certain laws, among them the Smith one-per-cent law, and not because the city is actually "hard up" or going backwards financially. Cincinnati, in fact, due to the increase in value of the Cincinnati Southern Railway and other property owned by the city, is worth nearly $3,000,000 more than it was January 1, 1916. City Auditor Leimann is authority for the statement and in his report gives in detail the figures to prove it. The total cash and other assets of the city, as shown by him, were $153,551,794.37, of which $79,443,472.53 was "surplus" on January 1, 1917. This "surplus" is over all bond and other indebtedness and liabilities of all kinds. The total receipts of the city were $9,602,369.27, but only the sum of $4,733,218.18 was received from general taxes on real and personal property. Two items of over $1,000,000 were: Waterworks receipts, $1,343,837.62; Southern Railway rent, $1,184,400.

PUBLIC WORK DELAYED.—The extensive program of street improvements mapped out two years ago and to pay the "city's portion" of which bonds were voted in April, 1916, is still only on paper. The preliminary work of changing grades and alignments, obtaining rights of way and settling with property owners for damages, was all completed some time ago by the City Engineering Department, but it could not overcome the greatly increased cost of labor and materials of all kinds, and the fact that some materials could not be secured. Work on a number of important thoroughfares, including Freeman Avenue, Harrison Avenue and Eastern Avenue, will be pushed as soon as rails and special work for new car tracks can be secured.

CITY PLANNING.—Pending the actual creation of a city planning commission, Council passed a resolution requesting the Mayor to appoint an unofficial body of that character. The purpose was to keep alive the thought of providing for a permanent body of this sort at the earliest possible time. Therefore, Cincinnati has had since June 13th of last year an unofficial planning commission, composed of Thomas C. Powell, E. L. Heinsheimer, Professor Louis T. Moore, William S. P. Oskamp, L. A. Ault (President of the Park Commission), Charles F. Hornberger (Director of Public Service) and Mayor George Puchta. The new charter will provide for an official City Planning Commission.

WATERWORKS IMPROVEMENTS.—The high pressure system for fire protection, extending from Broadway to Central Avenue and Eighth to Third Streets, is more than half completed and will be put in service in 1918. Over 15 miles of new main, including one mile of 36-inch low pressure loop main, were laid during the year. Practically 70 per cent of the services are now metered, over 4,000 meters being installed during the year. Water consumption reached a new high mark, 19,195,809,586 gallons being pumped at a cost of $274,303.17, or at the rate of only $14.28 per million gallons. The per capita consumption was 126.3 gallons per day. Even at the existing low rates the waterworks, under Superintendent Hiller, continue to be a paying investment, the receipts during the past year being $1,349,451.66 and the cost of operation, maintenance, interest and sinking fund being $1,331,767.36.

GAS FAMINES.—Serious inconvenience was experienced by thousands, and injury and loss by hundreds, on account of two gas shortages, each lasting a number of days, during the past Winter. In the outlying districts affected the "old-fashioned people," who still use coal for heating and cooking were very popular and had their hands and houses full, caring for their neighbors. Many persons moved down town temporarily to hotels and boarding houses. The Union Gas & Electric Company has announced there is no danger of future famines during cold snaps, as arrangements have been made for greater supplies from the natural gas fields and also, when necessary, to manufacture 15,000,000 cubic feet daily to add to the natural gas supply.

GAS RATE REFERENDUM.—After much discussion the City Council passed an ordinance fixing thirty-five cents as the maximum rate which may be charged during the next ten years. This is an increase of five cents per 1,000 cubic feet over the rate for the previous decade. The company demanded a much higher rate but later accepted the ordinance. Petitions were circulated by those opposed to the higher rate, they declaring the old rate should be reduced instead of raised, and the ordinance will be voted on at the next election.

THE DIXIE HIGHWAY.—The Dixie Highway, agitation for which commenced in 1915, is now eighty per cent completed. It is one of Cincinnati's greatest assets. When the road is built through the mountain district of Kentucky, where bond issues have been made to cover the cost of construction, Cincinnati will be the leading point on the eastern route of the Dixie Highway from the Great Lakes to Florida. It is estimated that more than one hundred automobiles per day will pass through Cincinnati from north to south or from south to north. The field work for the Dixie Highway has been supported very largely by public-spirited Cincinnati men. Cincinnati last year contributed more money towards this propaganda than any other city along the 5100 miles of the Highway.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB.—During the past year the Business Men's Club purchased the northeast corner of Eighth and Race Streets as a site for a new home. The lots extend 200 feet on the Garfield Place parks and construction work may be started during 1918. The buildings, so far as planned, will be strictly up-to-date and have all the facilities of the best clubs.

Col. F. W. Galbraith, of the First Ohio Regiment, is the 1917 President of the Club and has represented it in the local war activities.

Y. M. C. A. PROGRESS.—Work on the new central Y. M. C. A. buildings, Elm, Charles and Canal Streets, is being pushed and they will be opened next Spring. They will cost over $600,000, including equipment, and will rank with the best in the country. The Ninth Street branch, now in its second year, has become the social and intellectual "Town Hall" of the better class of negro men and boys. The average daily attendance at all branches is over 2,300 and the membership is nearly 4,500.

FENWICK CLUB.—The cornerstone of the new Fenwick Club and Boys' Home, Pioneer Street east of Broadway, to cost complete $350,000, was laid May 27. It will be under Catholic auspices, but young men and boys of all creeds will be admitted on an equality. A short campaign to raise $200,000 to add to funds already on hand came in competition, unfortunately for it, with the many war funds being collected. Work, however, will not be stopped or even halted.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TRIUMPH.—The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra had the most successful and gratifying season in its history. In New York, Boston, and other Eastern cities it scored new triumphs; here at home it is more and more appreciated. After the regular season there was a short tour, starting in Cincinnati, with Caruso as soloist.

ORGAN.—The great organ in Music Mall, after years of almost total silence, is coming to its own. A series of Saturday and Sunday afternoon concerts was given during the Winter and Spring and Cincinnatians are again becoming acquainted with the wonderful instrument. Arrangements have been made to continue the concerts next Winter.

A GREAT STATUE.—Cincinnati became the owner on the last day of March, 1917, of a great work of art—one to which through future years, men and women will come for inspiration to better things. The statue of Lincoln in bronze by George Grey Barnard, heroic size, was unveiled before a throng which filled Lytle Park and the surrounding streets. William Howard Taft, former President of the United States, delivered an eloquent address and presented, on behalf of the donors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, the statue to Cincinnati.

PEOPLE OWN THE ZOO.—The citizens of Cincinnati now own the Zoo—it belongs to them, to be used by them for their pleasure and profit in all ways except in a financial way. All income of every kind will be used in maintaining and still further enhancing the already great educational and enjoyment features. The change was made possible by the generosity of two women, Mrs. Mary M. Emery and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, who each donated $125,000; by popular subscription a third $125,000 was raised to complete the purchase fund.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.—The required petition has already been filed and the act passed by the Legislature last Spring giving the women the right of suffrage so far as voting for Presidential electors is concerned will be submitted for approval or rejection at the November election. This will be the third time the question has been submitted in five years, the other times, however, full suffrage being involved.

PROHIBITION.—Petitions are being circulated and statewide prohibition will again be voted on next November. This will be the third straight out prohibition proposal to be voted on since the license system was adopted in 1912, and the liquor question, in one or another form, has been before the voters at every election.

FOR CHILDREN.—The country home of the Children's Home, located on Deerfield Pike near Madisonville, was opened in May. It is ideally located and equipped. The most important event of the year for the children of the west end of the Eighth Ward and east end of the First Ward was the opening of the new Riverside playground park. It was formerly the site of the Third Street reservoir, from which Cincinnati drew her water supply for half a century.

SOCIAL UNIT.—The Mohawk-Brighton District, containing about 16,000 men, women and children, has been selected for the "Social Unit" experiment. Work for three years has been mapped out and will be shared and studied by social workers from all parts of the United States, and watched by those in other lands. Cincinnati was selected after conditions in a number of cities were investigated. The people, those who need the teaching, will be taught discontent with unfavorable conditions and how to remedy them, but the idea is to have the people themselves make the changes. The people will be taught and assisted but not given charity—the question to be answered by the experiment is whether the submerged, and nearly submerged, can and will live in the sun.

SEASON OF EXTRA BAD WEATHER.—Cincinnati and the surrounding territory may previously have experienced as bad or more disagreeable weather than during the past six months, but if so it was sometime in the dim and misty past, before the time of the present oldest inhabitant, and before weather bureaus were invented in Cincinnati over fifty years ago. The year 1916 closed, according to the records, with two weeks of unseasonably cold weather and the first five months of 1917 were marked by extremely sudden changes, in February and March from below normal and below zero to Summer temperature. May was the coldest, by a number of degrees, of any May on record. The predominating feature of the previous four months, however, was excessive dampness. Though the rainfall was not much above normal there were very few dry and pleasant days. Easter Sunday was marked by a young blizzard and the Spring average was one fair to four rainy and disagreeable Sabbaths. One result was an unusual number of cases of grip and similar ailments.

STREET DIRECTORY.

THE Street Directory is an alphabetical arrangement of the names of the Streets and Avenues of the city. By the decimal system of numbering houses, one hundred numbers are allotted to each square. On streets running north and south the numbering begins at the Ohio River. The streets running east and west are numbered east and west from Vine street. All other streets not commencing at either of the above points are numbered in accordance with this system. To such of the streets as are of any considerable importance the names and numbers of intersecting streets and avenues are given in the order in which they occur, which enables one to tell between what streets a certain number is. For instance, you have 420 W. 6th street: by reference to the Street Directory, you find 400 at Central Av. and 500 at John street; consequently the place you wish to find is between Central Av. and John.
