Busy month greets acting chief of police Lt. Stewart juggles jobs in department shake-up

By Diane Gale staff writer

It's been a busy month in the Canton Township Police Department and no one knows that more than Lt. Larry Stewart.

In the midst of a departmental shake-up, Stewart was named acting police chief Jan. 26 when Jerry Cox resigned

He comes to the post during a tense time when the operation is being put under a magnifying glass. Committees have been formed to overhaul the department, cited in a recent study as needing drastic changes.

Along with these stressful elements, Stewart has dealt with an increase in crime and controversial issues attracting widespread media attention. Han-dling the responsibilities of both positions keeps Stewart on the job for an average of 11 hours daily.

"When I have a board meeting, it's even longer, and I'm receiving a lot more night phone calls than before," Stewart said. "I'm living this place." Stewart cites an increase in crime during February, even though reports usually decrease in midwinter

Trustee challenges 'random selection' policy

By Emory Daniels staff writer

The central administration has been requested by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education to consider two changes to the random selection process of assigning high school students at Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP)

Trustee Dean Swartzwelter asked the administration to evaluate the impact of allowing children of CEP employees to be exempt from the random draw and be able to select which school they prefer

Swartzwelter also asked that the "sibling exception" be expanded by one year to include current eighth graders with a brother or sister now in the 11th grade

Superintendent John M. Hoben said he would form a committee and have a recommendation back to the board by March 18 so a decision could be made by March 25

Children of CEP employees would be able to pick school

At Monday night's meeting, a number of coaches from the CEP appealed to the board to allow a "parent exception" so a child of a coach could select the school where his parent coaches Swartzwelter's request was to expand that plan so that the child of any teacher at the CEP could attend the school his/her parent works at if they so desire

ON WEDNESDAY, Feb. 13, ninth-grade students throughout the school district were randomly assigned by computer to attend either Plymouth Salem or Plymouth Canton high schools.

The random selection process was initiated about 12 years ago to prevent athletic recruiting abuses from the middle schools and to avoid any possible accusation of de facto segregation. Random selection also avoids the need of changing attendance boundaries as population shifts - a process

now used for elementary and middle school students.

Since random selection was instituted, the board has received numerous appeals from parents and students who desire to attend Salem instead of Canton High or vice versa. All appeals have been denied with one exception the sibling exception.

By board policy, the "sibling exception" allowed a student to ask to be re-

Despite heavy rains and melting snow, Department of Public Works employees kept one step ahead of letting overloaded sewers plague Canton homes.

"They (DPW workers) did everything they possibly could, and I'm pleased, because I didn't get any water in my basement," said Dennis Mahoney of Georgetown Street in Brookside Village Subdivision.

Mahoney was among a group of about 45 residents who attended a Can-ton Township Board of Trustees meeting last month. They complained about the township's sewage system, which was unable to handle the water flow following the 1.24-inch rainfall New Year's Eve

"I don't think they want to see us again at another meeting," Mahoney said.

The residents live in subdivisions and condominiums near Cherry Hill and Haggerty roads and Lotz and Cherry and included Brookside, Cherry Hill Pines and Winds.

We're the only community in Wayne County to take care of all these basements," said Supervisor James Poole.

There would have been a lot more flooding (had the township not taken preventative action) than in just those places - and if they didn't flood, no one did," Poole said.

FORESIGHT BY Jake Dingeldey, DPW director, was the key to prevent-ing a problem, which could have caused twice as much damage as the storm at the beginning of the year. From Feb. 21 to 24 approximately was measured. Beginning Feb. 21, Dingeldey assigned DPW workers to monitor pumps near the main trunk line at Cherry Hill and Haggerty.

4.5 inches of melted snow and rainfal

We kept workers at the pump areas to keep refueling, to watch that they didn't shut down and to record water levels," Dingeldey said.

Also, the township rented five pumps to supplement the six pumps erected on a semipermanent basis after the Jan. 1 problem.

Costs incurred by the township in keeping Canton basements dry included $1,088 in pump rental fees, $7,970 in overtime pay and $680 for pump fuel.

Dingeldey said as far as he was aware, the township received only one phone call from a resident complaining about flooding caused from a backedup sewer.

'Hopefully our actions will give us some insight in sizing proposed pipes for Brookside and Winds," Dingeldey said. "It will help determine our scope of action in the future.

Dingeldey was referring to the township's plans to install permanent automatic pumps by June 1

MANY ROADS and backyards also were flooded after the last spate of warm weather.

There was general flooding all over the township, like high water levels in backvards, but we tried to make sure there were no backups from the sewers," said Thomas Cassari, Canton Township engineer.

The township blocked off Warren Road, Palmer Road, Geddes, Michigan Avenue and Haggerty.

We're not equipped to block off roads, but we put up barriers of any

Armed men tie up, rob baby sitter, 16

Armed robbers tied a 16-year-old baby sitter to a chair before ransacking home on Hannon Road in Canton Township Tuesday, according to Canton police

A computer and $240 in cash were stolen No one was injured during the incident, said Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson

At about 7.15 p.m. the young woman, who was home alone at the time. opened the front door to let the dog out At that time three men entered the house. Two of the men were armed One of the robbers watched the baby sitter, and the others ransacked the home "including the refrigerator." Wilson said.

Before they left, the 28-year-old homeowner and her son returned to the house.

'A suspect with a shotgun told her to give the child to the baby sitter." Wilson said. "Then one of the subjects searched the homeowner, and took $200 in cash from her pocket."

They also searched the baby sitter and stole $40.

Cable television subscribers in Canton Township will pay more for premium services beginning

News of the rate increase arose during a lengthy debate Tuesday between Omnicom Cablevision general manager Frederick Collman and the townhip board of trustees. Collman appeared before the board requ approval to raise the company's basic rate $1.60 om $8.35 to $9.95. If the board refused, the company would be forced to pad the premimum costs, e said. The board voted 4-3 to deny the basic rate in-

James Poole and trustees Loren Bennett and Stephen Larson voted to deny the increase. Trustess Bob Padget and John Preniczky and Treasurer Gerald Brown favored the increase request. PREMIUM SERVICES, involving pay channels such as Home Box Office (HBO), will cost existing subscribers $8.95 instead of the present $7.95. New subscribers will pay $10.95 for premium services. "Omnicom needs an increase because the franchise agreement calls for having a rate of return," Collman said. "At the present rate we'll receive less than a zero rate of return."

The company imposed a 5 percent basic rate increase at the beginning of the year due to a federal law passed last year. The legislation allows cable companies a 5 percent increase on an annual basis.

Local governments are allowed to control basic rates for the next two years. However, other crease. Township Clerk Linda Chuhran, Supervisor charges made by cable companies have been der gulated. In two years cable companies will be allowed to raise basic rates without local government approval

Omnicom would make more money by increasing the basic rate than the premium rate, because the company would keep the majority of that money, Collman said. Omnicom would have to share the nium rate increase with the other companies, ike HBO.

"Our margin on basic rates is a lot better," explained Collman. "If we have to go for a premium rate increase, the customer will have to pay the lifference.

LARSON, a member of the Canton Cable Commission, told the board the commission recomnends denial of the rate increase.

"The system has now been in existence for five years, and the system has yet to be constructed completely," Larson said. "You're not doing what ou promised to do.

Omnicom provides neither an institutional network nor a medical alert security system. "We'd be losing our shirts if did everything that we promised, but we have done a lot of other things beyond what was promised in the franchise," Coll man said. "We've never made a profit, and we can't with the current rates (for) 15 years." Presently, the board is empowered only to revoke the franchise agreement and to monitor the basic rate increase Larson said Omnicom could reap a higher rate of return by attracting more customers. "(Omnicom) hasn't marketed as successfully as possible." Larson said Countered Collman: "Government should stay ut of our marketing. Collman stressed that Plante-Moran, the township's auditing firm, backs his argument that the basic rate increase is necessary for Omnicom to profit on the $14 million invested in the Canton sys-

"We're looking at this as an isolated incident at this time," Wilson said.

The victims report they never saw the robbers efore. They were described as three white males. One was described as about 23 years old, 5 feet 10, 175 pounds, with black hair and dark eyes. Another was about 18 years old, 5 feet 10, 160 pounds and had brown hair. The third robber was described as about 28 years old, 6-feet tall, 180 pounds with blond hair and blue eyes.

Plane obstructs Joy Road traffic

A portion of Joy Road was closed Thursday night after a small plane taxied off a Mettetal Airport runway and skidded into the roadway. Detroit pilot Prestin David Vega, 22, was uninjured. "At first, people thought he might have crashed, but he just didn't make the turn," said Sgt. Mike Rorabacher of the Canton Fire Depart-

"Either he didn't see the turn, or uldn't make it. He got stuck in about a foot of mud." The incident occurred about 7:35 p.m., blocking raffic on Joy between Lilley and Ronda Drive for about 30 minutes.

Vega's twin-engine Cessna sus tained only minor damage after the aircraft "ran off the north end of the Firefighters washed down about five gallons of fuel that poured from an overflow vent when the plane tipped, said Rorabacher. A wrecker assisted by Canton firefighters and police from Canton and Plymouth towed the plane back to the runway, about 30 feet from Joy Road, Rorabacher added,

The Federal Aviation Association s investigating the incident, and will issue a citation if pilot error was involved, police said. No traffic accidents were reported as a result of the mishap, which occurred in cool, dry weather.

HOUSE

RULES - By a vote of 176 for and 237 against, the House refused to consider a Republican package to reform many of the rules that govern internal House operations. Local congressmen followed party lines. In part, the GOP plan would have outlawed proxy voting in committees, whereby members can have their vote counted when they are absent. Such abentee voting makes it easier for Democrats, the majority party, to control legislative activity. Additionally, the plan sought to curb the Democratic leadership's extensive editing of television coverage of floor proceedings. Republicans say this gives riewers a distorted picture of what actually occurs in the House chamber.

-The GOP package also proposed a cut in committee staff sizes and the allocation of a higher ratio of staff positions to Republicans.

Growth and Grace can dam torrent of red ink

RESIDENT REAGAN says the federal deficit can be eased by "growth and Grace" - and the Canton Chamber of Commerce agrees with him.

J. Peter Grace Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of W.R. Grace and Co., was asked by Reagan to find ways to help the federal government cut costs.

After two years of study, non-paid Grace Commission members reported that the feds could save $424 billion in three years by implementing 2,478 steps to reduce government waste and ineffi-

It is Grace's - and Reagan's - contention that economic growth along with implementing the commission's recommendations can take a big bite out of the $222 billion deficit projected for the current fiscal year.

AMONG THE Grace Commission's findings:

 Social Security paid $14.6 billion by mistake between 1980 and 1982. Delays in retrieving errant payments cost the government $128 million in added interest expense in 1983.

• Food stamp fraud totaled $1 billion in 1981, or 10 percent of this program's benefits

 More than $5 million in HUD community development block grant funds went to Boston, which spent it instead on payroll and other unrelated matters.

 Civil service and military retirees collect three and six times respectively the total lifetime pension benefits of their counterparts in the private sector. Bringing these retirement plans into line with ose in the private sector would save $58.1 billion over three years.

CITIZENS AGAINST WASTE - an organization formed by Grace and nationalsyndicated columnist Jack Anderson aunched a petition drive to "protest the appalling squandering of our money by those we entrust to spend it." CAW hopes to collect 50 million signatures and deliver the petitions to the president and Con-

The Michigan State Chamber of Com merce has joined the effort and is seeking support from local chambers. Canton's chamber wasted no time taking up the gauntlet. The parent organization's position was announced and promptly adopted as a resolution at a recent meeting.

"We don't consider this a concern limit ed to the chamber." said chamber president Catherine Foege. "The public ough to be aware of it too. (The petition drive) is a way to let the federal government know how some of us feel about this. We have to watch what we spend. Why can't they watch what they spend?'

Concerned about the effect of the grow ing federal debt on the economy, the executive board of the Canton chamber "believes that the implementation of the Grace Commission's recommendations is essential for the future well-being of our nation," according to a chamber news re-

SMALL BUSINESS persons are hard hit governmental mismanagement, adds board member Frank MacMurray.

When the government pays $10,000 for a $3,000 engine, it's the little business person who pays. The small business person has to compete in the big world," said MacMurray

"If the government were run like a usiness with good bidding procedures, the feds would have money in the bank before they spent it instead of the other way around," he added.

VIRTUALLY ALL criticisms of the sion report - which are scant, indeed - have been rebutted at length by Grace. The Observer wholeheartedly endorses the report and lauds its authors. By joining them in pressuring the federal overnment, we can bring an end to irreponsible overspending.

Canton residents with similar convictions may sign petitions at the chamber office, 8130 Canton Center Road.

Petitions also can be obtained through chamber officers, member Richard Thomas and the Canton Observer. - M.B. Dillon Ward Again, there is the concern for a victim.

MICHIGAN ALREADY has moved part of the way toward addressing the problems of victims. The state appropriates money that is passed out by a Victims Compensation Board.

In practice, the program doesn't assure us the victim's suffering will be taken into account when a judge passes sentence.

A couple of years ago, property insurance companies put on a program with a real, life, honest-to-goodness burglar (in the company of a prison official). The burglar had been through the juvenile court, district court and circuit court systems many times and was serving his third prison term.

The burglar said very emphatically that his career might have been different if, the first time he was caught, he had been forced to return the money to the neighbor he stole it from, look the victim in the eye and apologize.

In other words, he could handle the cops and judges. But it was far

THE BAD MONTH is gone. It isn't really the end of winter. There is more coming, and in that period we will have what the Pennsylvania Dutch called the "onion snow." That was the official end of winter, and when that snow melted it was time to start the vegetable garden.

While it will be grand to see February go, it is a good month in many respects. It is the month that gives us the birthdays of presidents Washington and Lincoln. It also gives us Valentine's Day, and in some years we get Ash Wednesday. But the snow and ice more than make up for the good days.

The Pennsylvania Dutch have another holiday that everyone enjoys. Officially it is known as Shrove Tuesday, but the Dutch call it Fastnacht Day - a day when doughnuts are the main dish in every family. The residents have doughnuts for breakfast, dinner and supper. On that eve-

Down in the Dutch country, young fellows looked forward to February because that was the month in which the bobsled hill was in its finest shape. And when we built our own sleds, it made the month all the more popular.

It was fun until the night we broke the best sled on the hill, and they turned bobsledding over to the younger clan.

Out here, doughnuts are eaten any time of year, and there is little bobsledding here in the flatlands of southeastern Michigan. Most folks travel to winter resorts to ski. It is fun but costly. It isn't the same as the fun of bobsledding on your own hill in your own little town.

In a recruiting season abbreviated by his late selection as coach a year ago, OU's Greg Kampe nevertheless convinced Scott Bittinger, a Toledo native, and Pete Schihl, from Dryden, to play for the Pioneers

Both have excelled Bittinger is a steady ballhandler with a deadly outside shot. Schihl, a 6foot-7 forward scored 33 points and grabbed 22 rebounds in the Pioneers final two games against Saginaw Valley and Grand Valley, the No. 1 and 2 eams in the GLIAC

TIM DOMKE, St. Mary's coach, harvested a backcourt in last year's recruiting when he picked up Erich Hartnett and Lance Davis.

While Davis has shown a precision at the point that belies his sophomore status, it's Hartnett who has been the biggest coup. Not overly impressive while at Plymouth Salem, Hartnett has developed into a solid shooting guard.

Davis and Hartnett join last year's find, Steve Kozicki, whose brother Joe starred at U-D, as ornerstones of Domke's OLSM program.

Each of these players, who could be keys to the future success of their respective teams, had different reasons for choosing a smaller college instead of attending a Division I school. But the ability of Domke and Kampe to sell their school's academics may have made the difference in their

Rocks fend off fired-up Chiefs

Tuesday night's Plymouth Salem-Plymouth Canton basketball game was just another meaningless Western Lakes playoff consolation game.

Right, and Mozart was just another tune writer. The two neighboring rivals played Tuesday night's game as if a championship were at stake. Salem, thanks to some clutch free-throw shooting in the final 3 minutes, held off a very game Canton team 60-50 If they would have awarded points for floor

burns, however, the Chiefs may have been the vic-

"Those Canton kids played awfully hard," said Salem coach Bob Brodie. "Dave Van Wagoner (Can-ton coach) had them ready. They scrambled all over, diving for every loose ball. They really went after us. It was only in the second half when decided to step out an challenge them."

THE GAME was nip and tuck for 3¹/₂ quarters. Canton was forced to foul Salem in the final 3 minutes and the Rocks made the most of it. LeSean Haygood (3 of 5). Mike White (2 of 2) and Mike Hale (2 of 2) drained free throws down the stretch to ice the win

White led the Rocks with 18 points. Eric Sovine added 13. Steve Potoczak and Haygood chipped in 10 each

For Canton, Kevin Hawkins scored 20 points, matching his total against Salem earlier this season, and Joel Mies added another 13.

Salem, though, completely controlled the boards, particularly on the offensive end. The final tally showed Salem with a 41-31 edge on the glass, but the Rocks enjoyed a 17-11 edge on the offensive glass - most translating into baskets. "It's real hard to get your team up for a game when you're not playing for the league champion-ship." Brodie said. "But, the saving grace was that we were playing Canton. You have to get up when you play your rivals."

Both Salem and Canton will be home Friday — the Rocks (11-8) will host Livonia Bentley and the Chiefs (7-12) host Walled Lake Western PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 61, ROEPER 59: The seventh commandmant reads "Thou shalt not steal." but if Plymouth Christian's Pat McCarthy did not steal in the fourth quarter the Eagles would have lost.

McCarthy made 3 crucial steals off the Eagles' full court press that led to a furious 21-14 fourth quarter spurt that overtook Bloomfield Hills Roeper Tuesday.

In fact, the Eagles press forced 11 fourth quarter turnovers. Plymouth trailed by 4 going into the final 8 minutes.

McCarthy led the way with 19 points and 8 rebounds. Jim Stephens added 10. The Eagles are now 12-7.

Hawks, Spartans clash for crown

By Brad Emons staff writer

By George, Farmington Harrison is playing for another league championship.

Football isn't the only sport where the Hawks thrive. These days it's basketball, where Harrison will travel Friday to play Livonia Stevenson in a game for all the marbles in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA). Guard Ken George scored 15 points and had 5 assists Tuesday night as the Hawks ousted visiting Walled Lake Central from contention for the league title, 56-39 Harrison trailed by 1 after a sluggish first half, quarter and 20-12 in the final quarter George, a 5-foot-10 junior, was the catalyst. His heady floor play and sticky defense gave Central fits. He also aired out the clock with some fancy ballhandling in the final minutes to play. much to the delight of the Harrison following.

"I THINK Ken is the best guard in the league." said Harrison coach Mike Teachman. "He's all over the court - defensively, offensively, handling the ball and he's clutch.

Harrison's physical frontline began to assert itself in the second half. Center Mike Dempsey, a 6-7 senior, played de-

FINDING SOMEONE who will help is hit-andmiss, as Domke will attest to. He got Kozicki as a transfer from San Diego State. Davis. too. transferred back to St. Mary's after a sparkling prep career there.

Hartnett chose St. Mary's when his coach at oncordia. Richard Zalenski, was signed as an OLSM assistant.

On the not-so-successful side, Mike Cozad, a player Domke recruited because he saw "growth potential and a good outside shot," has not developed as hoped. Cozad has grown, from 6-6 to 6.9. and he can shoot, but he lacks intensity and consistency

"I try to find good, young kids with better grades, growth potential and quick feet," said Domke Then I try and project what he'll be like a year from now

I look for a kid who I think, if he had another year in high school, would be a Division I recruit

This is the key to small college recruiting. focus on a prospect with potential, then convince him that he ll get a better education.

THIS YEAR'S discoveries are, for OU, 5-10 guard Johnny Johnson of Detroit Southwestern and 6-7 forward Dave Hintz of Fenton. Both have an abudance of potential. Indeed, Johnson, who signed during the November week of recruiting. could rate as a major coup for Kampe

For St. Mary's, Domke predicts Steve Hunt, a 6-6 forward who leads Wayne County in rebounding, will be the "Sleeper of the Year.

But nothing involving humans is certain. Highly sought recruits flop at Michigan and MSU, and as the talent trickles down to smaller schools, the possibility of failure increases Spotting talent is simple. At OU and St. Mary's, the trick is to uncover those with potential that can be developed and nurtured into stardom.

Raiders put title on line By Chris McCosky

Saying North Farmington is going to win the Western Lakes gymnast is generally akin to saying Bob Knightakes his basketball seriously. Both elicit the same response "No

Observerland will be well repreented at this Saturday's state Class A wrestling meet at Grand Valley State College as 21 area wrestlers placed in among the top four in their respective weight classes last Saturday at the regional meet at Gibralter Carlson.

But, the star of the Carlson regionwas Temperance-Bedford. The Mules produced six regional champions and amassed 127 team points to oll away from the other 31 teams.

Wayne Memorial (71 points) placed second, Belleville (61) third and Redford Catholic Central (55) was fourth. Plymouth Salem (42) placed sev enth. Farmington and Livonia Bentley (38) tied for ninth. Westland John lenn (35) placed 11th. North Farmington (13.5) tied with Novi for 16th and Plymouth Canton (12) was 18th.

Redford Union (8), Garden City (3) and Livonia Stevenson (2.5) also scored. Livonia Franklin and Livonia Churchill didn't score. See statistiummary for complete results.

FOUR REGIONAL champions ame out of Observerland Farmington's Ab Hazen won the crown at 167 pounds. John Glenn's Dan Gibson won long time. Now he knows what losing Wilczewski (CC), for rth at 126, J.B.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP MAKE IT EASIER FOR THEM

Consumers Power is asking all residential customers to make a one-time donation of $2 to PeopleCare. (Larger donations, of course, are welcome.) Details of how to participate accompanied Consumers Power bills.

"But you don't have to be a customer to help. You can send your check, payable to "The Salvation Army/PeopleCare," to: PEOPLECARE, Consumers Power Company, 4000 Clay Avenue, S.W., Grand Rapids, Michigan 49508. All donations are tax deductible.

The Salvation Army makes all decisions on who receives-aid, how much, and for what-food, shelter, clothing or other emergency needs of an individual or family.

The need is great. But so is the generosity of Michigan residents. It's true. PeopleCare.

staff writer

Other than "The Nutcracker," there's probably no better ballet for the whole family to enjoy than "Don Quixote."

So said Yoko Ichino, the Los Angeles born beauty who will star in the National Ballet of Canada's new production of this old favorite at Windsor's Cleary Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, March 7.

Kevin Pugh, who grew up in Indian-apolis, dances Basilio, the young man who is in love with Kitri, the role taken by Ichino.

The same roles will fall to Gizella Witkowsky and Tomas Schramek for the Friday evening, March 8, production, to Martine Lamy and Owen Montague at 2 p.m. Saturday and Karen Kain and Gregory Osborne at 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

Ichino said the Thursday cast won't even have seen, let alone rehearsed with the new sets and costumes before the 8:15 curtain. Couple that with new choreography and changes in the music and you might expect to see a worried dancer

But, Ochino didn't appear concerned as she talked about her role and her career on a recent visit to Troy.

SHE POSSESSES an inner security that frees her from anxieties that could plague someone of less stature.

Her complete confidence in her own technical skills, has given her the free-dom to develop her artistic skills and to build a finely tuned awarenes of herself and those around her.

"I know exactly what my body can do, what I should do to fix it and when I should stop," she said.

Many of the dancers in companies throughout the world come to the ballet stage with inadequate technical skills and a lack of understanding of them-selves and confidence in themselves, she said.

Consequently many of her fellow dancers come to her for advice and teaching, so she often conducts classes, They tell me that the reason they come is that I give them a focus."

She said this lack of skills will probably not be rectified for at least another generation, for most of the teachers working with young dancers aren't even aware of the need for improved mental and physical training. Ichino has worked with all three great Russian dancers, Rudolph Nureyev, Mikhail Baryshmikov and Alexander Godunov, and refers to them as Rudy, Misha and Sasha, respectively

She said of Godunov, "Of all the Russians (dancers) that have come out, he's not caught up in money, glamour or power. He's very hurt by what Misha did to him (dismissed him from the American Ballet Theatre). The way he danced in Russia is different from the way he dances here. There was more life in Russia. It is if part of him was taken away. Out of all of them, he is the most sensitive."

She and Godunov made a film in Munich last summer which has already been shown on German TV.

ABOUT NUREYEV she said, "There is great intensity when he dances on stage. He looks at everybody on stage, I mean he really looks at you . . . He is very intelligient. He is so intelligient. He really set the way for male dancers today."

She met Baryshnikov while she was with the American Bellet Theatre for four years starting in 1977. He taught her the role for which she was an understudy in "Don Quixote" and then had her teach the others.

"I was a nobody and there I'd have to teach all these dancers." The new production of "Don Quixote" will go on a six-week tour of Europe starting May 10.

Ichino said she will stay with National Ballet of Canada as long as she can continue to grow and find challenges. She has an agreement that she may dance lead roles with other companies when she is not needed by the National Ballet.

She has always been a star, never been in the corps. After her intensive training with her Yugoslavian teacher, Mia Slavenska, she joined the Joffrey II in New York, later spent a season with the Stuttgart Ballet, won the third International Ballet Competition in Moscow in 1977 and joined the American Ballet Theatre and the National Ballet, where a year ago she was promoted to principal dancer.

She said she has never been afraid to move from one company to another, has faith in her ability and as a result enjoys a sense of freedom

"I can walk in or walk out and that's why I'm so lucky. Most dancers can't do that. The corps has it the worst.

Tickets are available at the AAA Club offices of Michigan. Cleary Auditorium is at 201 Riverside Drive East, Windsor

Yoko Inchino and Kevin Pugh perform in "Don Quixote."

Isolate detail for impact

Often times a small area of a building such as an ornate doorknob or ivycovered window ledge can create a photographic composition much stronger than the whole.

The intimacy of a flower petal or the patterns of a breaking wave on the beach are often missed in our desire to concentrate on the whole.

Details of pattern, form, and texture can tell us much about a subject with out the need to show its entirety. Isolating detail will give a new perspective and impact to your pictures not obtained by shooting the whole.

Any environment contains an inexhaustible supply of fascinating detail waiting for your attention.

For example, in nature photography, try moving in colose to isolate the texture of bark instead of shooting the whole cluster of trees. Photographing the lake in its entirety will give you a nice scenic picture, but don't overlook the delicate reeds and lillies at water's edge

Overall winter scenes are beautiful, but isolating that one unique icicle will give you that special shot not obtainable by the whole.

In architecture, the supply of detail is endless. Isolate a pattern of unusual brickwork or look for colorful window shutters. Move in close on a section of peeling paint. Churches offer details in statues as well as the many colors and patterns of stained glass.

Can you isolate parts of people? Of course! The hands of the elderly or the foot of an infant will produce photographs with special, personal impact. Other than a keen eye, no elaborate equipment is needed to isolate detail although a viewing mask will prove invaluable as an aid in composing your shot

At times, close-up filters will help you to move in close and a tripod should be used to maximize sharpness and depth-of-field.

But the important ingredients in isolating detail are your vision and insight. Your aim in photographing detail should be to obtain a complete picture in itself while at the same time maintaining the flavor of the whole.

By isolating the entrance and concentrating on just the doorway of this old house in Bodie, Cal., Monte Nagler was able to produce a meaningful, impact-filled photograph that maintains the rustic flavor of the whole and makes a stronger statement.

'Hey man, I'm cool!'' I thought to myself. "I've got it all together" and other delusions of grandeur filled my mind as I emptied out my locker at Wayne State University for the last time

As I stumbled along, lugging years worth of junk, I thought, "The kid has got himself a 'Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree,' so look out world.

But because 'the kid' was too cheap to pay 75 cents for parking to haul all his stuff three quarter of a mile across the campus to the other the Lodge Expressway side of where parking was then free. The walk to the car took a while as I would occasionally drop something, and with arms loaded I stooped and strained to pick up the precious memorabilia. By the time I reached the overpass I stopped to look back as the last rays of daylight highlighted the vast campus of

With a self-satisfied grin, I turned to head for my car. But as I des-cended the overpass, I had the revelation that I was leaving the college scene where I was comfortable and was entering the business world where I was a stranger. Then came the further revelation of "How am I going to make a living?" Yes, folks, school was all over and I was in the real world. I remember the thought crossed my mind before I even reached my car, "So this is what it is like to be unemployed.

THE PROFESSOR'S theory on color seemed like it didn't matter. The long discussions of "what is art" somehow didn't apply. My anatomy courses that forced me to learn every bone, tendon and muscle of the human body seemed all of a sudden useless. Who cares if I know what a sternocleidomastoidius muscle is?

Indeed all of the pressures of college were instantly deemed elementary. My primary concern took a dramatic shift from education and fulfillment to "how am I gonna make a living?" Poor me, I remember what a white knuckle trip I had driving home from my last day at WSU

Many of my students and customers often tell me about their studies and I enjoy giving them tips on how to better execute their assignments. But on occasion I think of my "last day" and wonder how their revelation will come to them and even more important how will they respond to it.

Notice that I used the word respond and not react. One definition for the word react is, "to move in opposition to," and respond is defined, "a favorable answer to." So you see one is negative and one is positive. Even though the situation of unemployment is basically negative you can, however, respond to it positively. Here are just a few positive approaches which may allow you to use your art ability and earn

noney at the same time

If you like to cartoon, then develop a style and then tailor your topics to specialty magazines that cover such topics as canoeing, jogging, bird watching, horse racing, crafts, sports or business. The general more popular magazines are flooded with cartoons, and they wade through them picking out the best for each issue. Specialty magazines are often looking for cartoons about their not so common topics.

For example in America there are 40 different magazines under the heading of Christian publications. I know of a man who has a unique style and each month he does a cartoon about human nature with it's ups and downs. He then makes 40 copies and mails them to the 40 different magazines, with a bill of about $30 for the right to print the cartoon. Well you don't have to be a wiz at math to figure that if only 10 or 15 of the magazines respond to it, it turns a pretty good profit.

This would be a good time to remind you that to protect your work you must copyright each piece. To legally protect yourself you should sign your name in or very near the artwork. Write the word copyright or place a "c" with a circle around it. Then add the date or simply the year. Believe me this copywriting works. I have had magazines I never even heard of mail me royalty checks because they had reprinted one of my cartoons in their magazines. Limited editions of black and white artwork are often profitable.

ONE MAN does charcoals of old movie stars and sells the prints at mall shows. Pencil drawings of Indians or western scenes are particularly popular. Of course ink drawings copy well but remember your topic is very important if you hope to sell prints. One of my customers does detailed pen and ink drawings of the favorite places in local towns For example, he draws the well by the railroad tracks going into Northville, he then has a printer repro-duce the image on 140 lb water color paper. Then he colors each print with transparent watercolors and sells them at the local art show.

People that show or race horses and or dogs, love their babies so much that they are happy to pay from $50 for a sketch to $400 for an oil painting. But you better draw their precious animal accurately or you will be out of the commission. You can even advertise in their magazines, but mail order art can be a risky business.

Gee, I could on and on. Please remember that success is the unique combination of a good idea, the right topic and the technical skills to produce the work of art. And there is no greater compliment than when an individual or an organization is willing to pay you a good fee for your product, be it a cartoon or a piece of fine art.

EVERY DAY, WE EARN AMERICA'S TRUST.

The Canton Observer

Thursday, February 28, 1985 O&E

MIKE BEST of Plymouth sometimes refers to himself as the poor man's Carl Sagan."

He has taught astronomy in numerous community education classes for nearly 10 years. He has given talks on unidentified flying objects. He was also lower Michigan field investigator for the Center for UFO Studies in Evanston, Ill. Mike is a science writer for the Detroit News.

Local stargazers will be interested in "Beyond the Moon," his new astronomy and space sciences program on Omnicom Cablevision. It will premiere at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 5 on Channel 8 for viewing in Plymouth, Canton, Northville and Hamtramck. Mike said, "The ability to gaze up into a pitch-black sky studded with stars and feel awe, wonderment and a burning curiosity about your place in the vast cosmos is the only prerequisite to enjoying 'Beyond the Moon.'

The program promises to be rich in exciting visuals. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has given him the green light to exhibit still and motion pictures taken by and about the agency's interplanetary space craft probes.

He plans to show up-to-date charts suitable for the back-yard amateur astronomer, who wants to know what he sees and what to look for It will be of interest to those who scan the night skies with naked eye. binoculars or 14-inch telescopes. Mike says he's planning the segments with handicapped people in mind, those who can't get out with their binoculars. He will devote about five minutes to the back-yard charts and five minutes to a question-and-answer segment. His featured guests will be prominent in amateur and professional astronomy fields Jeff Stone is executive producer for the show which will be aired at 7 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

WRONG NUMBER! The right number to call for informatiom and reservations for the group night performance of "Peter Pan" (7 30 p.m. Wednesday, March 6) is 349-0823. Numbers were transposed in the recent story. The children's play, presented by the Plymouth branch, American Association of University Women, opens next Wednesday in Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium. If your children don't get their tickets at school this week, they will be on sale at the Rainbow Shop on Penniman Avenue beginning Friday (tomorrow). Admission is $1.25

'Just Me and the Boys'

By Elinor Graham staff writer

Take one dentist, a health educator. a science teacher, and one doctoral candidate; add a banjo, bass viol, gui-tar, mandolin and a couple of dulcimers. Put them all together for two or three hours once a week and what do you have?

After one year, you have the musical group, "Just Me and the Boys." You won't find them listed on the charts. They haven't guested on the Charles. Carson Show. But they are on their way. They performed on the lawn of Central Middle School during the 1984

Plymouth Fall Festival and at an area nursing home picnic. The "Me" is Diane Kimball, who plays both lap and hammer dulcimers. "The Boys" are Don Davies, dentist, on banjo or bass; Art Durow, science teacher at Plymouth Salem High School, on mandolin, banjo, bass or har-monica; and Chris Baughn, Ph.D student at Wayne State University, on guitar ACTUALLY, "Me and the Boys" is under no pressure to make the big time. They get together for fun, relaxation and the pleasure of making music.

They meet at each others' houses, play the songs they know, learn a new song, enjoy some munchos, pop or beer and conversation.

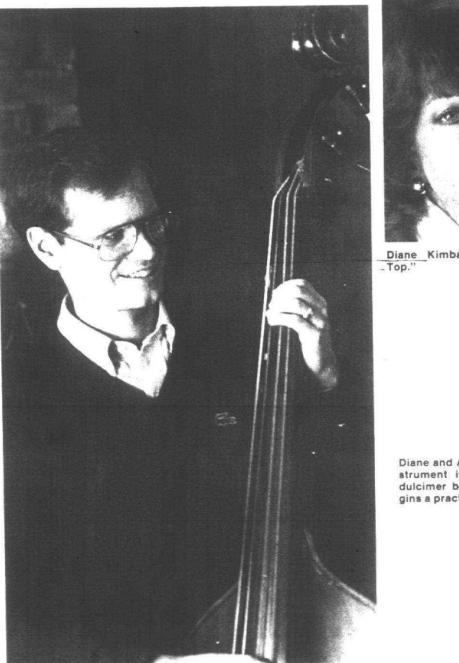

'Someone will have a new song. The one who knows the song plays the melody, gives the key, and the rest of us play along or chord, " said Kimball, who started the group.

"We collaborate on arrangements and endings. Someone will suggest, 'Let's try this,' and we work it out." Their repertoire includes bluegrass, folk, Irish and popular music. They do the theme from "Chariots of Fire," "The Rose," and other instrumentals.

Cultural Center. Top honors went to C.L. Cook, and Vicki Whipple came in second.

AREA DENTISTS have been spreading the word on proper tooth care during February. National Dental Health Care Month.

Linda Blaisdell and Nancy Cameron, dental hygienists, visited preschoolers at Beginner's Inn and Children's World in Canton Township. They talked about good and bad foods, showed the youngsters how to brush and floss, played dental health games, and gave each child a toothbrush, floss and a mouth mirror.

AREA WRESTLERS will have an opportunity to meet Steve Fraser at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 5 in the Northville High School cafeteria. The Olypmic Gold Medalist will be guest speaker after the NHS bowling banquet. Banquet planners are opening Fraser's talk to the public for a donation of $1 per person

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputy won his medal last summer in the 90 kilogram Greco-Roman competition. He graduated from the iniversity of Michigan in 1980 and was two-time All-American while a student at U-M. He also came in third in the NCAA championships.

Fraser will celebrate his 27th birthday March 23. As a deputy sheriff, he has been in charge of a work-release program for prisoners jobs such as shoveling snow in winter and mowing lawns in summer

Don Davies plays both bass and banjo.

Chris Baughnplays guitar with "Me and the Boys."

Diane and Art make sure his instrument is in tune with her dulcimer before the group begins a practice session.

Mom's out-voted on movies

Not much happening around the parts. I hope you are not flooded out of your home or business. Take heart, beieve it or not our leaders are trying. This flooding situation was caused by decisions made long before this adminstration. Although it is of no consola-

Royal Bahamanian Hotel is once again regal

NASSAU, BAHAMAS: Life is always vivid with color in the islands. From my white beach chair I can see glossy green palm trees blowing against a bright blue sky. Beneath it, a blue and white windsurfer cuts across the incredible emerald color of the sea, a color that always surprises me no matter how often I see it.

and white stucco edge of the Royal Bahamian Hotel, which caused quite a stir when it opened recently here in Cable Beach. There is nothing else to distract me, only the wind blowing, making the palm fronds rustle and the seas crash against the sea wall and the small beach.

Another world goes on behind me, where sun worshippers are stretched out around the pool in the elegant courtyard of this very beautiful and expensive hotel, once the exclusive Balmoral Beach Club, private hideaway of the rich and famous, now the newest and most elegant hotel in the Bahamas. If you have not been to Nassau for two or three years, you may not realize what has happened here at Cable Beach, so named because a transcontinental hookup was completed here when a telegraph cable was laid from Florida in 1892.

THIS WAS the original "tourist area" of Nassau, near the private homes of British colonials, who lived in flowered gardens beside the sea. Cable Beach was an uninhabited crescent of glorious sand, west of the city of Nas-sau, when British entrepreneur Sir Oliver Simmonds had a brilliant idea immediately after World War II.

He built an exclusive private club on the beach, a private hideaway for the wealthy, and used an ingenious marketing plan to attract them. The word was to restore the splendor of the old Balmoral Beach Club and attract the 1980s version of the travelers who once went there. That means the executive business traveler and the high-income vacationer willing to spend $200 a night for a room or $1,200 a night for a villa.

I am impressed with the restored facilities and the service, although there are still problems that must be solved before the $200-a-night set will be sat pears or the toilet stops flushing. There are no plugs for hair dryers in the bathroom areas

IT WOULD give the wrong impression to overemphasize these problems however. The hotel has only been open a few weeks, so many of these glitches will disappear. The bathrooms and plumbing are scheduled for an overhaul this year. Your first and last ing impression is of the facility itself, a six-story hotel set back from the road among tennis courts, villas and tropical trees, and of the consistently friendly and attentive service.

It is part of Wyndham Hotels' contract to train Bahamanians so that they can go up through the ranks into management, so employees were chosen partly because of their courtesy and their positive attitude towards vaca tioners.

When you enter the hotel, a doorman in a Noel Coward hat leads you into the first courtyard, where fountains and marble staturay are tucked into the tropical foliage between pink stucco walls, and on through arched doorways to the second, larger courtyard, where a large swimming pool is surrounded by bars and restaurants. A 3,700 square-foot health and fitness facility under construction in this area and will open soon. A Cable Beach shuttle runs regularly along the main road outside the gatehouse, to the rest of Cable Beach about two miles away. You'll find a couple of small straw markets across from the Cable Beach Hotel and Casino.

THE CABLE Beach is a large contemporary hotel with passageways di-rectly into the casino. This and three other hotels adjacent are heavily booked with conventions and package gours. (The Royal Bahamian is set up more for small, select groups.

You can also take a shuttle bus for 50 cents from the Royal Bahamian down Cable Beach and into the downtown ares of Nassau, where the main straw market is now inside its own building on the main street near where the cruise ships dock.

ART ENTHUSIASTS can enjoy a motorcoach tour of Washington, D.C. set for March 21-24. The tour features a visit to "The Sun King Exhibit," treasures of the French King Louis XIV at the Corcoran Gallery, and a stop at the famed Hillwood Museum, noted for its opulent collections of French and Russian art.

The $325 twin and $415 single price also includes round-trip motorcoach transportation from Detorit, three nights at the Hotel Washington, tour of the nation's capital, several meals and admission to the Hillwood Museum and Sun King Exhibit.

and casino built on Paradise Island, just east of the city. Even after the Bahamian government bought the three main hotels on Cable Beach, in-cluding the once-proud Bahamian Beach Club, this area on the western shore never quite hit its heyday again.

THE TOUR departs from Detroit on May 17 and on August 30. Prices start at $2,090, including three meals daily, first-class accommodations and transportation within China.

Visits to Germany, Austria and Switzerland, highlighted by two nights in Budapest, Hungary, will be offered from May 31 to June 14 and again from Sept. 13 to 27. The itinerary includes a leisurely cruise down the Rhine River, winding past medieval castles and quaint wine villages.

Other stops are a tour of Rothenburg, the famed medieval walled city, the Nymphenburg Palace in Munich, and the Hofburg Imperial Palace in Vienna. History buffs can take in the sights at Innsbruck, a cultural center and popular year-round resort whose history dates back to the 12th century.
