Fire claims Canton children

By Susan Buck
staff writer

Two Canton Township children, who were visiting their father and grandmother, died from smoke inhalation last weekend following a fire in a house on Livonia's north side.

Nicholas Mattiello, 5, was pronounced dead at Botsford Hospital early Saturday, according to Livonia fire officials.

His sister, Angela Mattiello, 10, who was also in the house in the 19000 block of Merriman Court, died later the same day about 11 p.m. according to a spokeswoman for Children's Hospital of Michigan. Angela Mattiello had been in critical condition Saturday and was on life support in the intensive care unit, according to the hospital spokeswoman.

Marie Mattiello, 72, the grandmother, apparently discovered the fire about 11:40 p.m. She ran immediately south to her neighbors — Margarita and Alexander Mark — barefoot and clad only in a housecoat.

Her son Tony — the children's father — a computer repairman, had just left at 11:30 p.m. to play hockey at Devon Aire Park and Arena on West Chicago in Livonia. He is divorced from the children's mother, Christine, a beautician who lives in Canton.

THE FATHER had weekend custody of the children, according to neighbors.

"There's a fire," Marie Mattiello yelled as she knocked on a window of the Marks' house, where Margarita Mark was awake on a bedroom couch.

Livonia Fire Captain Richard Cox said that a report indicated that the children's grandmother, whose hair was singed from the fire, was disoriented and didn't immediately say that the children were in the ranch-style house.

At one point there was speculation that Nicholas might have gone with his father to the ice arena, Margarita Mark said.

"I saw her face and big black smoke coming over the house," Mark said. "She was in her housecoat running barefoot in the snow."

THE MARKS called 911, as did Jerry Gagnier, a neighbor across the street.

Arnold Klinger, Livonia's fire marshal, who was on the scene throughout the night, said a preliminary investigation found that a buildup of creosote within a chimney caused the fire to spread along the roof cavity "for a long period of time." He described the fire location as being within "a false ceiling area, a roof upon a roof."

The creosote was apparently ignited by a woodburning stove located in a family room area, Cox said.

"It's hard to determine" how long the fire had burned before the grandmother was alerted to it, Klinger said. He stressed that the fire department's investigation was continuing.

"There were no smoke detectors in that dwelling," Klinger said. "I think that this whole situation could have been averted if there had been smoke detectors."

The children were the fourth and fifth fire fatalities this year.

BOTH ALEXANDER Mark and Jerry Gagnier were concerned with the condition of the fire plug directly across the street from Mattiello's house, claiming it was inoperable. They said water from the plug spouted "25 feet into the air" when firefighters opened it up.

Klinger explained that while the hydrant was leaking it was used throughout the fire. "The fire hydrant had no bearing" in this case, Klinger said.

Upon arrival firefighters used water from a 500-gallon pumper and then hooked into the fire hydrant across the street as a backup, Klinger said. As a "safety precaution," firefighters also hooked up to a second hydrant located in the middle of Merriman Court, a dead-end street, Klinger said.

Interest grows in treasurer's job

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton Township Hall is getting ready to find a replacement for Treasurer Gerald Brown even though his resignation remains in limbo.

Brown, 60, said he tentatively plans to retire Jan. 10, and lining up for the job are Trustees Elaine Kirchgatter and Bob Shefferly.

However, Kirchgatter said she won't make an announcement until Brown resigns. Shefferly said he plans on applying.

Shefferly said if he isn't appointed, he'll run again as trustee in the November 1992 election when terms for all seven members expire. If he is appointed he will run for treasurer in 1992.

Trustee John Burdziak disputed a rumor that he was considering seeking the job.

Board vacancies are becoming the norm. Burdziak replaced John Prenizky when he resigned earlier this year, and Phil LaJoy replaced Hank Whalen after his death.

If either Kirchgatter or Shefferly is appointed, another vacancy would be created.

BROWN HAS been on disability leave for a congestive heart condition since late September and for months before his disability leave, observers said, he was rarely in the office.

Regarding when he'll retire, Brown said: "I'm waiting for the approval from my insurance company."

However, administrative services director Dan Durack said Brown's insurance payments wouldn't be affected by the retirement date. Brown could get up to $2,000 a month in insurance disability until he reaches 65.

Since Brown is on disability he is receiving his $46,700 annual salary.

Brown said that leaving during the December tax collection, the busiest month of the year in the treasurer's office, would be unfair to the people in his office. Brown said he still does a lot of work at his home.

"I talk to my office all the time," he said. "Just try to meddle in it, and you'll see who's running it."

"(Supervisor) Tom Yack and (Clerk) Loren Bennett can take swipes at me, but they can't do anything because I'm holding all the cards. What I'm doing is in the best interest of the office."

Deputy treasurer Sandy Setlock has been appointed to run the day-to-day duties in the treasurer's office while Brown is on leave.

According to the Michigan Township Association, there are no requirements that a treasurer show up for work. In some communities the treasurer may have a 40-hour work week and in other towns it might be 15-hour work weeks or less, according to Evelyn David, public affairs/member information officer.

"The salary is set for the office holder, and it's not according to the amount of work," David said.

The board of trustees has 45 days to appoint someone after Brown retires and if they don't meet the deadline, the county clerk is notified and a special election for the primary and general are called.

A new system for making appointments was established after Prenizky left, Yack said.

New members join Cheer Club

The ever-growing pile of canned goods and toys donated to our Christmas Cheer Club demonstrates there are plenty of good-hearted folks in Plymouth and Canton this Christmas.

Most recent contributors were several anonymous donors from both Plymouth and Canton, including one who gave in the name of St. Joseph; Elaine and Frank Polgar, Canton; Rick, Laura, Kyle and Jake Neal, Plymouth; Nina Pappas, Plymouth; Tom Lehnis on behalf of State Farm insurance, Canton; Susan Schmitz, Canton; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reeves, Plymouth.

AND THERE'S STILL time to bring in your contribution.

The idea behind the club is that no child should be without a gift on Christmas, and no family should go hungry.

Joining is easy. Membership is open to anyone who can take the time to stop by our office and drop off a canned good or new, unwrapped toy for a needy child.

Sure, the economy is down and many out there may not have a heap of extra money lying around to spend on presents this Christmas.

But if you can afford a simple toy or canned good or two, our friends at the Salvation Army will find a child or family who would appreciate your gift.

We're collecting the items until right before Christmas when they'll be turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to the needy in our area.

So come by our office at 744 Wing, just a few blocks south of Kellogg Park. When you come in, we'd like to take your name and list it in the Observer with others who give to the Christmas Cheer Club.

We're hoping readers will enthusiastically support the Christmas Cheer Club this year. We'd like to make it an annual tradition.

If you have questions, ask for Kevin Brown or Jeff Counts at 459-2700 during business hours.

Local Santa is in the red

By Diane Gale

Bad economic times looked as bleak as they could get last week when Santa Claus said he was going into the red to meet costs.

But the holiday spirit, through organizations like the Canton Chamber of Commerce, could bail him out.

Gene "Santa" Reaves, 89, has been wearing the red and white uniform of good will and cheer for 60 years. And even though the money isn't coming in this year as quickly as it usually does, he's not giving up.

"I don't give nothing used, and I want to do the buying myself," Reaves said from his Westland home.

"I'm about $2,000 in the red this year," Reaves said. "I've been going into my savings account, which doesn't amount to nothing."

BUT EVEN financial woes can't dampen his spirits.

The ho, ho, ho bottom of the tummy laugh echoed over the telephone. He sounded just like you'd imagine Santa Claus would sound while he described his seasonal ritual.

He wasn't acting. And why should

Car crash kills man

A 34-year-old Belleville man died Friday morning shortly after losing control of his car, veering into oncoming traffic and being struck by a tow truck.

Richard Bellanger was driving a 1975 Olds Cutlass south on Canton Center near Ford Road at about 9:12 p.m. when apparently he lost control, spun around and ended up in the north bound lane, according to Canton police Detective Bill Keppen.

A FORD-350 pick-up truck traveling north on Canton Center struck Bellanger's car on the driver's side. The pick-up was hauling another car.

Bellanger, who was not wearing his seatbelt, was alone in the car. No one else was injured as a result of the accident that occurred on icy roads, Keppen said.

The truck driver didn't receive a ticket. Initial investigations show the accident appears to have been caused by Bellanger.

Preliminary investigations indicate that alcohol was a factor in the accident. Autopsy results are expected within three weeks, Keppen said. He added that it was difficult to say whether speed played a role.

"There's no indication that speed is considered a factor," Keppen said. "But when someone loses control of a vehicle the question is always: 'Was the speed too fast for the conditions?'"

Bellanger was taken to Annapolis Hospital and died at 12:17 a.m.

Police check out 'bomb'

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

Plymouth police say it's still not known what type of liquid was in the Pepsi bottle removed from a locker at East Middle School during Wednesday morning's bomb scare.

The fluid is being analyzed by Michigan State Police, who responded to the bomb threat along with city police and firefighters.

"The matter is still very much under investigation," said Plymouth Police Chief Robert Scoggins. "We have some different angles that we've looked at. In regards to the device, it could very well be nothing."

but it certainly had the appearance of being something, which added credence to the reason we acted the way we did."

THE CONTAINER was taken outside and placed a distance away from the school, which is at 1042 S. Mill.

Police said the container found in locker No. 1093 was a clear Pepsi bottle with a cork attached to a yellow string with wax on one end. It contained a clear liquid. Asked whether a disgruntled employee or someone else has been identified as a suspect, Scoggins said, "We still don't have a concrete suspect at this time."

The school, attended by 697 students, was evacuated at 9:30 a.m. after an unknown male caller phoned the school secretary at 7:15 a.m. and said, "Listen so you don't screw up. I have put three bombs in the school. The first one is set to go off at 10:05 a.m. I will call back at 9:05 to give my demands for the police to show I'm not f--- around."

The secretary who took the call said she is sure the caller made some other statements, but she was too stunned to remember everything. Michigan Bell was contacted, and a tap was set up on the phone, but the suspect never called back.

The Michigan State Police do not search the premises but found nothing.

The 10:05 deadline passed without incident.

The schools deferred all inquiries to police.

The treasurer also is responsible for collecting all the taxes, water bills and investing township funds. The treasurer and the clerk are responsible for overseeing the township check book and managing their respective departments.

Recall leaders want O'Neill's job saved — board president

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Critics trying to recall the Wayne-Westland school board president want to reverse a decision she supported that is forcing Superintendent Dennis O'Neill to step down, she charged last week.

Board president Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek also accused recall leader Fred Hagelthorn of pushing to oust her because he wants a seat on the board. Hagelthorn, who lost a school board bid in June, has flatly denied the allegations.

The board president angered her critics in October when she and three other board members formed a majority and warned O'Neill to step down or be fired. O'Neill not only announced plans to retire Aug. 31, but began a three-month medical leave Nov. 4 for hypertension that he blamed on the political upheaval.

"I feel that Mr. Hagelthorn and his supporters believe that if I, and others, are recalled that they can reverse the decision to find a new superintendent to lead our district," Kozorosky-Wiacek said.

Board members Laurel Raisanen, Fred Warmiber and Vicki Welty also supported replacing O'Neill but cannot be recalled during their first six months in office. They were elected June 10.

Hagelthorn denied that his committee, Citizens for Honest School Government (CHSG), wants to oust Kozorosky-Wiacek in hopes that an O'Neill supporter can be appointed to the board.

ALTHOUGH HAGELTHORN said the action against O'Neill "went a long way in convincing me that something had to be done," he denied that the recall is an attempt to rescue O'Neill's job.

"It's not directly related to reversing that decision, no," he said Thursday.

Hagelthorn's petition blames the recall effort on a two-year teachers contract that awarded pay raises of 11.9 percent, amid school program cuts that had been implemented or threatened.

Kozorosky-Wiacek favored the contract but opposed the budget cuts.

Hagelthorn has said it's only fair that Kozorosky-Wiacek's name be placed on the recall ballot, along with the other board members, since she also favored the teachers contract.

"We need to give the voters in the district their say," he said.

Kozorosky-Wiacek lashed out at Hagelthorn and his supporters as being "hypocritical (because) they have stated publicly they are against recalls."

Hagelthorn has pledged to drop his recall campaign if NBC halts its effort. NBC leader Steven Lind has declined the offer.

Moreover, she accused Hagelthorn of trying to win a board seat.

"THE FILING of this petition keeps him in the limelight for a possible June election bid, or perhaps he feels he has the votes to be appointed to fill a vacancy created by a successful recall election against me or another board member," she said.

More than contracts, taxes or cutbacks, this recall is being done because of my vote on the superintendent's retirement," the president said in her prepared statement.

Moreover, she accused Hagelthorn of trying to win a board seat.

Closing Landmark store runs out of gas

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

It was sure a surprise," said Mayor Robert Jones of Hill's announcement. "His enthusiasm is important to the town. I hope he remains enthusiastic about the town."

To some who first heard Hill was leaving, the announcement suggested more than just another business going down.

That's because Hill has become a positive symbol of Plymouth with his fun, creative promotions, including "A Plymouth Thanksgiving" and his briefcase drill team that appears in area parades.

"The focus will be the (Me and Mrs. Jones) Petite store for now," Hill said, adding, he owns some downtown property and "will be expanding my involvement" in real estate.

"I'm still on the DDA, the briefcase drill team will still march," he added.

Will he eventually leave Plymouth? "I haven't thought that far ahead," Hill, a town resident, said.

An Ohio State University graduate, Hill worked as a buyer for Hudson's before opening his store in 1968. First called John Smith Clothing Co., he opened it with partners Harold Koster and Jim Houk. "I bought them out a few years later," he said.

WHILE THE STORE stuck mainly with traditional clothes, Hill laughs when he recalls the fringed suede vests, acetate turtle-necks and wallpaper-print shirts he has carried.

There was a trace of irony in the timing of Hill's announcement, as it came less than a week after his successful second annual "A Plymouth Thanksgiving" celebration in Kelllogg Park.

"TO ME IT'S going to end up restaurants and narrow specialty stores and offices," said Hill, who is also a member of the City's Downtown Development Authority.

"We don't fit at all the picture of what Plymouth is going to be," he said last week.

Hill's store Fred Hill Haberdashers opened nearly 24 years ago, offering "better traditional" men's wear priced at "above a moderately priced store," he said.

There was a trace of irony in the timing of Hill's announcement, as it came less than a week after his successful second annual "A Plymouth Thanksgiving" celebration in Kelllogg Park.

Hill's customers have been clients for 10, even 20 years. Wooden files at the store contain the dates of customers' birthdays and anniversaries. Personalized birthday greetings are mailed to customers. And the cards are signed, not engraved.

"We kind of felt that the personal attention we gave here made it a little bit like 'Cheers.' When someone comes in, everyone knows his name, his size, and the suits he likes," said Smith.

"When birthdays come up, we'd call a customer's wife and say, 'We happen to have this sweater on sale, or whatever,'" he said. "We tried to have anniversaries on file, too. If she needed a gift and didn't have time to shop, we'd wrap it and bring it out to the house if it we could make it there and back within a reasonable amount of time."

"It was personal touches like that set us apart from mall stores and strip centers, where you don't have that same warm feeling necessarily," said Smith. Haberdashers offered scarce personal touch

To enter Fred Hill Haberdashers Wednesday was to begin to catch the holiday spirit, what with the decorations on display and eye-catching Santa silk ties and Christmas socks for sale.

But a few hours earlier, employees' spirits sank when their owner announced at a meeting that he is closing his haberdashery and his Me and Mr. Jones women's store. The Me and Mr. Jones petite store will remain open.

Hill, who has 15 employees, also called a meeting of city officials and legal business people to give them the news Wednesday.

"CHUCK SMITH WORKED for Fred Hill in the early 1980s and came back to the haberdashery just two months ago."

"It's a big disappointment. This has been such a part of the community for so long," said Smith.

"It's kind of sad it happen. But people here are illusion of downtown areas that doesn't fit in like we would hope it would."

A hallmark of Hill's shops is personalized service — something not often found in mall stores. Many of

Local church barred from housing Detroit homeless

"I would be concerned about the crime."

— A church neighbor

"The housing of multiple families in a church may result in an extremely dangerous condition for the inhabitants," he continued.

"I think it's quite shocking that the township is legislating what the normal operation of a church should be," said Doug Koenig, a lay leader of First United Methodist Church, 45201 N. Territorial.

Koenig said most of the church's 1,450 members favor housing homeless at the church.

"The request was first turned down in November, and we were turned down last week again," Koenig said Thursday.

"The homeless problem is a growing local emergency situation," wrote church outreach chairman Ted Kahn in a letter to the township requesting approval.

"WHAT THEY'RE asking the township to do is violate the township laws and ordinances and the state statutes," Hemming said. "The township is without any authority whatsoever to act on their request. If you go around making unilateral ex-

Schools face deficit

Wayne Circuit Judge Roland Orsark issued a temporary restraining order Friday permitting Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and other out-of-formula Wayne County school districts to withhold tax-base sharing payments.

Under the tax-base sharing plan, out-of-formula districts in Michigan would contribute revenue to less-affluent districts.

PLYMOUTH-CANTON'S first payment of $375,000 was due in mid-December, with the balance of $375,000 due next year. The amount represents half the tax revenue from commercial and industrial growth.

Administrators are hopeful new property developments will eliminate the predicament.

at the board office, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education is scheduled to discuss the 1991-92 budget. The $72 million budget was passed before the tax-base sharing plan was approved by Lansing, and before the state placed a cap on the social security reimbursements it pays school districts.

property assessments paints a flat revenue picture for next year that may result in expenditures exceeding revenues by as much as $5 million, say school officials. Where cuts might be made hasn't yet been decided. Administrators are hopeful new property developments will eliminate the predicament.

The social security cap translates to a cost this year for the district of $122,000. With salary increases and added enrollment, the sum is projected to increase to $135,000 next year. The state will contribute a maximum of $50,000 for social security.

The $59.7 million bond issue approved by voters is unaffected by the changes.

Man, 34, killed in car crash

THERE WERE five other fatalities on Canton roads this year:

- A 65-year-old Canton woman died last November when the car she was driving collided with a pickup as she was pulling out of Holiday Park subdivision attempting to merge with traffic on Joy.
- A 76-year-old woman and a 5-year-old girl were killed at the Geddes and Denton intersection when the driver failed to yield to an emergency vehicle.

• A 35-year-old Chelsea man died in June when his 1983 Oldsmobile struck a semi-trailer truck parked in the right lane on Michigan Avenue. The driver of the car was legally drunk at the time of the accident, ac-ording to autopsy results.

• A 25-year-old South Lyon man died in accident when he was traveling west on Ford Road near Ridge. His car crossed the center line and collided with another car. The driver also was legally drunk, autopsy results showed.

There were 12 fatalities on Canton roads last year.

Senate OKs county stadium tax ballot request

By Tim Richard
staff writer
Wayne County barely won authority to ask voters March 17 for a package of taxes to help finance a new Detroit Tigers stadium.

Senators Thursday almost knocked the wheels off County Executive Ed McNamara's buggy by voting 18-14 in favor of an entirely different set of taxes from those McNamara sought. But the amendment failed because 20 votes were needed.

"We seem to have some momentum," Michael Duggan, the McNamara deputy who has guided the stadium project, told reporters after the all-day session. "We're going to sit down with the Tigers in January and make them an offer. We're gonna need a deal."

The lack of a deal — a firm promise by Tigers owner Tom Monaghan to stay in Detroit and occupy a new downtown stadium — was used by opponents to attack House Bill 5300.

THE SENATE gave 22-9 support to the measure empowering Wayne County commissioners to ask voters for a countywide 1 percent tax on restaurant food and beverages, 2 percent on rental cars and 1 percent on hotels and motels.

They expanded the bill to allow Oakland, Washtenaw, Ingham, Kent and Muskegon counties to finance stadiums, too. The bill must go back to the House for concurrence.

The buggy wheels almost came off a second time when the Senate needed three roll calls to obtain a two-thirds majority (26) to give the bill immediate effect. Without it, the measure wouldn't become law until the end of March, two weeks after the planned election date.

Here's how area senators voted on final passage:
• Yes — Mat Dunaskis, R-Lake Orion, Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, Robert Geake, R-Northville, George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn.

• No — Michael Boschard, R-Birmingham — "with reluctance. I see constitutional problems" with the new taxes exceeding the 4 percent limit on the sales and use tax in the Michigan Constitution. "I don't see any correlation between the taxes and the benefits. You may eat at Eight Mile and Greenfield and yet subsidize the stadium." But Boschard switched on the immediate effect provision and supported it.

'We seem to have some momentum. We're going to sit down with the Tigers in January and make them an offer. We're gonna need a deal.'

— Michael Duggan
deputy county executive

• Excused absence — William Faust, D-Westland, and David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield.

Faust supported Wayne County's position on amendments but was wheeled from the chamber looking ill a half-hour before final passage.

Honigman guided the bill through his Local Government Committee in an eight-hour meeting the day before but missed his first session day Thursday to attend an out-of-town funeral. An aide said Honigman would have supported it. An opponent praised Honigman's fairness in the committee session.

THE ROLL CALL doesn't tell the story, however. Geake and Dunaskis supported several major amendments, including one by Gil DiNello, D-East Detroit, to change the entire tax package.

DiNello came two votes shy of winning approval for a package of unlimited taxes on stadium tickets, concessions and parking, and limiting the food-beverage tax to restaurants within five miles of the stadium site.

Another amendment by John Kelly, D-Grosse Pointe, would have required the total cost of the stadium project to appear on the ballot question. Geake and Bouchard supported it.

Kelly estimated the total at more than $600 million, although the taxes will bring in enough for a $140 million bond issue over 25-30 years. "How much will this boondoggle — this white elephant — cost? Where's the other $360 million coming from?" he asked.

HART, WHOSE district includes Garden City, rarely says more than a sentence or two on the Senate floor. But he was up repeatedly to defend the measure against Kelly amendments.

"This amendment (to place the total cost of the stadium on the ballot) is clouding the issue," Hart said. "True, there is no agreement with the Tiger baseball club (to occupy it). Only one thing is absolutely sure: They want a new stadium, and if they don't get it, they will move."

"A (big league) franchise is a treasure," Hart said, citing the losses of the Baltimore Colts, Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators to those metropolitan areas.

Hart was on his feet again when DiNello proposed limiting the county to one election a year.

"Nowhere have I seen such a punitive amendment," Hart said, and the measure went down 11-11.

PROVING YOURSELF TO OTHERS WHEN YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS

A flare of your arthritis can leave you in such pain that you hold a knife or fork, or are unable to dress, let alone tie your shoes without assistance.

At such a time, how do you keep your pride, how do you prevent people from either pitying or discounting you?

First, you have to acknowledge you are impaired; you need the help of others to get through your day, and you look awkward and must accept the stares of strangers. This practical assessment will allow you to remain level headed and avoid a surly mood or an apologetic attitude.

Second, you need to deal openly with the doubts of family and friends about your ability to take care of yourself and keep up with them. You can explain what you and your doctor have decided is necessary if you are to maintain your strength and coordination. In addition, you should discuss what you are physically able to undertake at the present time.

The point to remember is that if other people are to deal realistically with you, you must do the same with yourself and them.

If you make this effort, others will see your strength. At the same time, you will do more for your self respect than possible by any personal act of silent suffering.

points of view Spare us the 'wonderful life'

SOMETIMES I WONDER if the crooks behind the savings and loan scams didn't pay off Ted Turner to turn the dreaded Christmas movie "It's a Wonderful Life" into a classic.

The only reason that sappy piece of celluloid is a classic is that Turner told us so for the last few years. Film critics even take to the air waves and call it film noir. That's dark film for us Philistines. All it really means is that film makers didn't put enough light on the subject.

Before Turner bought and forced Jimmy Stewart and Donna Reed down our throats, along with our Christmas turkey, the movie was never on the tube. "Wizard of Oz" and "Casablanca" yes, but never the propaganda piece for the savings and loan industry.

For those lucky enough to have never seen "It's a Wonderful Life," here's the plot.

Jeff Counts

JIMMY STEWART wants to go away to college and see the world. Instead he stays home, works at dad's savings and loan, marries the girl next door. Stewart's uncle gets drunk, loses the savings and loan money and mean Mr. Potter threatens to take it over.

Depressed, Stewart tries to commit suicide by jumping off a bridge, but is saved by an angel. The angel shows Stewart what the town would have been like if Stewart had never lived. Stewart decides he wants to live, comes back to life and everybody in town pitches in to bail out the savings and loan association.

That ends the wonderful fairy story.

The only trouble is that it came true in the 1980s and we all ended up bailing out the savings and loan industry with our tax dollars. Saving a bunch of rich crooks just didn't have the charm as passing the hat for old ture of a Jello mold at a Presbyterian church supper.

The neo-prohibitionists, feminists and other such reformers naturally gravitate toward "It's a Wonderful Life." Maybe Turner has been listening to girlfriend Jane Fonda. Having a couple of beers and heading to the dime-a-dance place should be banned, you can hear Jane say.

Let's face it, "It's a Wonderful Life" is a sentimental piece of trash dusted off and revived for our times. What may have been late, late show fare in the 1950s and 1960s has helped the financially corrupt crooks in the savings and loan industry and the corrupt business of being politically correct.

It certainly is the movie for the '90s.

Jeff Counts is the editor of the Plymouth and Canton Observer Newspapers.

Nerds tread the path to fortune

Tim Richard

THERE WAS something extremely disconcerting about the job list.

The list was what occupations would be in high demand which in low demand for college graduates this year. It was produced by the placement service of Michigan State, that pretty good university in East Lansing.

At the top of the heap — "limited supply" — were accountants, both practitioners and teachers; chemistry teachers and chemical engineers; electrical engineers; math teachers; physics teachers; industrial arts teachers.

Next in line — "possible shortage" — were chemists, business teachers, computer science, teachers of computer science and data processing.

Yeccc!

Bo-o-ooring!

THOSE ARE NERDS. You know about nerds from the movies.

The nerd was six inches shorter than the "with it" guy. The nerd wore glasses, which automatically disqualified him from athletics and self-defense.

The nerd had a cowlick. He had no "technique" with the chicks.

The nerd studied physics and math. His room contained no motorcycle posters or pictures of chicks, but was devoted to scientific experiments.

When nerd movies started in the 1950s, the nerd had a slide rule instead of a Coke (trademark).

Snicker, snicker.

TELEVISION news people, particularly women, are movie goers.

Jane Fonda played a TV reporter in "Electric Horseman" and "China Syndrome." Lauren Hutton, with a gap in her teeth, played a TV reporter opposite Bart Reynolds. Glamor, truth, fame, eh?

"Rice and beans," said the news director of Channel 50 in a recent speech. Helen Pasakaris tells us the networks and network affiliates are cutting jobs like crazy. That's where the good pay is.

CNN is adding bureaus and the independent channels are adding news teams. That's where the rice and beans jobs are. If you can live on that, drive a used car, share an apartment with three other people for a couple of years and work long hours, you might climb to a living wage.

Journalism? The Clark Gable, Jack Lemmon, Robert Redford and Dustin Hoffman roles? They're right down at the bottom with the broadcasters.

State to get more fuel tax money from Washington

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Michigan will get back 95 cents of every fuel tax $1 it sends to Washington instead of only 85 cents under a new federal transportation law, says U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell.

Pursell, a veteran of transportation budget battles, said a new road to Detroit Metro Airport and $10 million for public transportation in Michigan are part of the new $15 billion, six-year law passed by Congress.

He praised President Bush's reassignment of Transportation Secretary Samuel Skinner as White House chief of staff.

"On a scale of 10, between nine and 10 — in Jim Baker's class" is how Pursell rates Skinner. Secretary of State Baker has been a top presidential aide in two administrations.

"It was FIRST to take a heavy shot at (John) Sununu," said Pursell, an eight-term Republican, in his Plymouth Township home.

A former governor of New Hampshire, Sununu was an early Bush supporter, as was Pursell. But he called Sununu an "abrasive" man who didn't grow well in Washington politics.

HERE'S HOW the law impacts Michigan:

- $33.8 million for construction of an access road to Metro Airport from its southern end to I-275. "That will open it up to the downriver area's development," said Pursell. It should relieve traffic for those who enter by I-94.
- $10.5 million for the state for public transportation, mostly for buses and bus equipment. So far, it isn't known how much will go to SMART, the suburban bus system.
- A 95 percent return to Michigan of the fuel tax money its drivers send to Washington. Previously Michigan had received only 85 percent.

Michigan DOT Director Patrick Novak's staff estimated the state will have to put up matching money of $725 million. The amount is uncertain because some projects will require a 10 percent state match, others 20 percent.

The House passed it 372-47; the Senate, 79-8.

"WE HAVE finished the Interstate Highway System," said Sen. Daniel P. Moynihan, D-N.Y., vice-chair of the congressional conference committee. Pursell marked that quote in his copy of the report.

"We have poured enough concrete. Our primary objective must be to improve the efficiency of the system we now have," Moynihan said.

Motorists will continue to pay the 5 cents a gallon fuel tax, passed several years ago and scheduled to expire in 1995, until 1999 — a four-year extension.

The law is worth about $25 billion a year nationwide for the next six years. The breakdown is four-fifths to roads, $119.5 billion, and one-fifth to public transit, $31.5 billion.

States and local units will have much more flexibility in how they allocate their funds.

Lifestyle's the place to start

To the editor:

Thank you for your timely article regarding AIDS education in the Livonia Public Schools, part of a $1 million dollar health program for students at all grade levels, including elementary, plus workshops for parents.

Sounds on the surface all well and good, but will they focus on the root problem associated with this disease? Namely, lifestyle. If you listen to the AIDS activists, two themes are constantly being repeated: a medical cure and safe sex.

AIDS activists regard those who suggest abstinence as village idiots. They totally circumvent the relationship that exists between behavior and acquiring AIDS. Since behavior is based on moral factors and schools stay away from teaching morality, they too will in all probability gloss over or totally ignore this well-documented connection.

For example, a recent article in a national syndicated magazine revealed the following statistics on the 195,000 AIDS cases reported in the U.S.:

- 66 percent are among homosexuals.
- 22 percent are I.V. drug users.

however, let's prescribe the proper remedy in dealing with it. It doesn't take a Ph.D. to know the answer.

Cozy friends cause concern

To the editor:

The wheels of justice grind slowly. Never does the above quote apply to the victims of injustice more appropriately than to the Irish who have suffered over eight centuries of British injustice. But, with the tenacity and courage that characterize the righteousness of their cause, the Irish continue to struggle against a myriad of injustices historically inherent in occupation.

An important step toward exposing some of the brutality of that occupation to the light of day occurred on Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1991 before the Congressional Caucus on Human Rights. The subject: the death-squad operations of the British "security" forces, known as the "shoot-to-kill" policy.

The Irish American Unity Conference was a major player in securing the hearing, which took place before a panel of seven members of Con-

All panel members left no doubt that the role of the U.S. should not end with the hearings.

The Irish American Unity Conference, hopefully in co-operation with other Irish National organizations, will keep up the pressure to ensure that at long last, Ireland shall witness the wheels of justice bring a glimmer of freedom's light at the end of an 800-year tunnel.

Cops seek stolen AIDS needles

By Bill Casper
staff writer

Canton Township police are asking for help in finding a box containing 300 to 400 hypodermic needles that possibly were used on aids virus patients.

The needles were stolen sometime Saturday night from the unlocked car of a 35-year-old Canton woman, who works for a Plymouth pharmaceutical company, Canton police officer Jerry Ellerholz said Sunday.

The woman reported the missing needles shortly before 8:30 a.m. Sunday after discovering the theft from her car at the Crossings of Canton apartment complex at Joy and the I-275 freeway, where she lives, he said.

The used needles were in a 10-inch, yellow box with a red top and is labeled with the words "bio-hazardous waste." Ellerholz said. He did not identify the Plymouth pharmaceutical company, where the woman is employed.

"The needles may have been used on HIV positive patients and we want to make sure they don't fall into the hands of kids," he said. "We don't know why she had the needles."

Anyone who has any information about the box or the needles should call Canton police at 397-3000, Ellerholz said. The box containing the used needles was locked, but it is not a strong lock, he said.

Also stolen from the woman's car was a number of unused hypodermic needles and a black tackle box containing a number of prescription pills, Ellerholz said. But the tackle box and a number of prescription pills, identified as clozaril, were recovered on the bicycle path along the I-275 freeway, he said.

Some of the pills have not been found, but an inventory had not been completed Sunday afternoon and police did not know how many pills were still missing, Ellerholz said.

MADD vigil set tonight

The Oakland/Macomb chapters of Mothers Against Drunk Driving will hold a candlelight vigil 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 9, at Nardin Park Methodist Church, Farmington Hills.

The non-denominational service remembers those killed by drunk drivers in Michigan. It also observes the beginning of National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week.

The church is on 11 Mile Road, west of Middlebelt.

The MADD Wayne County Chapter is holding a similar vigil 7 p.m. Monday at Mariners' Church, 170 E. Jefferson, Detroit.

Additional information on the Farmington Hills event is available by calling 353-1700 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Additional information on the Detroit event is available by calling 422-6233.

Chorale to sing Polish carols

Polish Christmas carols will be sung by the Poloniae Chorale, directed by Bronislawa Siarkowski, at 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15, in the Madonna University Activities Center, 35500 Schoolcraft.

This year's concert also will feature soloist Jan Zarycki, 8, who recently came to the United States from Poland. An audience sing-along of Polish and English carols also is planned.

Admission is free, however, donations will be accepted, according to Eva Siarkowski Depa, president of the Poloniae Chorale. Siarkowski Depa and her husband, John Depa, of Livonia have sung with the chorale since it was founded in 1981.

A cassette of Polish Christmas carols sung by the chorale will be available for purchase following the concert.

The chorale can also be seen on cable television this season. "The Poloniae Chorale Sings Polish Christmas Carols" will be televised at 11:30 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 19; 4 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 24, and 11:30 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 2.

Oh baby! Infant wins scholarship

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

It will be a while before she takes her first step, but Samantha Marie Grant is already on her way to college.

Samantha, daughter of Cynthia and Edward Grant of Garden City, was the winner of Schoolcraft College's "Anniversary Baby" contest. The Livonia-based community college offered a full two-year scholarship to the first baby born to area parents Oct. 24 — the 30th anniversary of the college's founding.

Born at 2:11 a.m. at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, 7-pound, 11-ounce Samantha wasted little time in beating the deadline.

"There were five other babies born that day who could have qualified," college spokeswoman Sandra Florek said. "But she was the first."

Final announcement came as a welcome surprise to her parents.

"WE WERE really hoping (she would win)," said her mom, Cynthia Grant. "Of course, when you're in the hospital, in labor, winning the scholarship isn't exactly the first priority."

Samantha is the couple's first child. Her parents learned of the scholarship through a relative.

"My sister-in-law said she saw it on television," Mrs. Grant said.

'There were five other babies born that day who could have qualified. But she was the first.'

— Sandra Florek college spokeswoman

The scholarship comes at a time when Samantha's dad, an electrical technician, is continuing his own education. Edward Grant is taking vocational courses at night.

Her mom, on leave from her job at the J.C. Penney Fairlane Town Center store, hasn't yet broken the scholarship news to her fellow workers.

The contest was open to parents in the Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth-Canton public school districts. Parents had until Nov. 30 to register their child's birth with the college.

The contest was the first of its kind in Schoolcraft history, but it might not be the last.

"We do have our 35th anniversary coming up in five years and, who knows, we could decide to do it again," Florek said.

By then, Samatha will probably be the only college scholarship winner in her kindergarten class.

JIM JAGDFELD/staff photographer

She doesn't realize it yet, but she's a winner. Newborn Samatha Marie Grant has received a two-year college scholarship as Schoolcraft College's "Anniversary Baby." Here, she's at home with her parents Cynthia and Edward Grant.

SC registration begins

In-person registration for winter term Schoolcraft College classes will be Dec. 9-19 and Jan. 6-8.

Registration will be held 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. each date.

Winter term begins Saturday, Jan. 11. Registering early assures students of the best possible selection of courses.

Day and night courses are offered at the main campus in Livonia, Schoolcraft College-Radcliff, Garden City and in the Livonia, Plymouth-Canton and Clarenceville schools.

Registration will be held at the main campus, 18600 Haggerty, between Six and Seven Mile roads, Livonia.

Additional information, including a free copy of the winter course schedule, is available by calling the college admission office, 462-4426.

New courses offered this winter include interactive Unix operating systems, computer networking, environmental science, introduction to plastics and polymers, introduction to musical electronics hardware and software and lifestyle fitness.

MADD holds poster, essay contest

Poster and essay contests sponsored by Mothers Against Drunk Driving are open to Wayne County youngsters.

Entries must be submitted to the Wayne County MADD office by Friday, Jan. 10.

Entry forms are available through your school's principal, art teacher or English teacher, or by calling the local MADD office at 422-6233. The office is at 15195 Farmington Road, Suite D-1, Livonia.

The poster contest is open to students from first grade through high school, while the essay contest is geared for grades 4-12.

Canton bows to King in state semifinal

JOHN STORMZAND/staff photographer

Canton teammates Stephanie Gray (facing camera) and Kelly Holmes console each other following their team's loss to King.

By C.J. Risk
staff writer

As bizarre as this girls basketball state tournament has been, it should come as no surprise to hear the losing coach in a lopsided game say his team played well, while the winning coach called his team's performance below standard.

Whatever the coaches' ratings, the result of Friday's Class A semifinal between Plymouth Canton and Detroit Martin Luther King provided a stark reminder why King is the defending Class A champion. The Crusaders gained control in the first quarter and never relinquished it, cruising to a 63-46 triumph at Battle Creek Central HS Friday.

Farmington Hills Mercy stopped Saginaw 47-44 in Friday's second semifinal but lost to the Crusaders 52-36 in the state championship game Saturday at Kellogg Arena in Battle Creek.

AS LATE as Friday afternoon, no one could be sure the games would be played. Parents of No. 1-ranked Detroit Murray-Wright got a court restraining order after their team was disqualified for using players not on their official tournament roster.

Judge Kathleen MacDonald did not make her ruling on the case until after 4 p.m. Friday (the Canton-King game started at 5 p.m.). She upheld the Michigan High School Athletic Association's decision to disqualify Murray-Wright, which resulted in Mercy's getting a bye into the semifinals.

A bye may have been Canton's best hope for advancing past King. There was no blaming the Chiefs for lack of effort, as coach Bob Blohm said, "I'm not at all displeased with our intensity. The kids never stopped playing hard."

But... It was really a game for only the first six minutes. Tiffany Mitchell scored inside for King to tie the game at 5-5 with 2:56 left in the first quarter, and that got the Crusaders, well, crusading. They outpointed Canton 10-3 in the final three minutes to take a 13-8 advantage into the second period.

IT NEVER improved for the Chiefs. With five minutes left in the second quarter, Britta Anderson scored Canton's third basket of the game. It didn't derail King; by the time the quarter was half over, the Crusaders had added a 10-4 spurt to their first-quarter run to go up 23-12. Blohm had already called two timeouts in that span. He was left to plead with his team to try to keep it close — maybe they can turn it around in the second half.

The Chiefs never got the chance. King has size, and plenty of it. Its inside game was nearly unstoppable; at times, Canton had three defenders trying to check one Crusader inside, and they couldn't do it.

With 2:40 left in the half, one of those giants — 5-foot-10 sophomore Shawnte Gates — powered inside and scored, and was fouled by Amy Westerhold. Gates finished off the three-point play, increasing King's lead to 30-17.

The Crusaders added six more to their total by the intermission without surrendering a point, making it 36-17 at the half. Mitchell, who finished with a game-high 22 points, got 10 of them in the second quarter.

"KING IS big, and they're mobile," said Blohm. "We worked really hard, but they move up the floor really fast."

"I thought we could have defended a little better and taken away their second shot. We could have been better at stopping the ball going inside, getting help inside, and then rebounding the ball. But (King) does a lot of tough things."

Like defense. "Their pressure... their quickness makes it hard to receive the ball. It wears on you, makes you work for everything. Over 32 minutes, that takes its toll," Blohm said.

Canton's inside threat, 6-foot junior center Stephanie Gray, shook loose in the third quarter to score six points; she was held to four in the first half. Still, Canton was outscored in the period, 12-8, and trailed 48-25 entering the last eight minutes.

Gray finished with a team-best 17 points. Westerhold added 10 and Anderson scored nine. King had one other double-figure scorer: Schwanna Prince scored 10. Tennille Caruthers netted eight.

TURNOVERS, MANY caused by King's full-court pressure defense, plagued Canton through the first three quarters. The Chiefs committed 22 in that span; they finished with 26. King had 20 turnovers, seven coming in the final quarter.

Canton was also outshot (King: 26-of-58, 44.8 percent; Canton: 17-of-44, 38.6 percent) and, without doubt, out-rebounded (totals were not available).

Still, King coach William Winfield was not pleased. "We did a decent job rebounding the ball," he said. "We wanted to go inside with the ball, pound the ball inside. Coming in, we knew they had some deficiencies inside."

But Winfield wasn't happy with his team's so-called inconsistency and defensive play. "Maybe we can play a better game tomorrow," he said, referring to Saturday's showdown with Mercy.

The young Chiefs (only two seniors) had nothing to be dismayed about in their 21-5 season. "We're looking forward to next year," said Blohm. "It was neat to be here, playing the best."

"I always complimented this team during the season, because whatever happened to them, they always came back and worked very hard. The team really improved over the course of the season. They overcame some adversity. They worked hard to get here — it was no fluke."

Continued work and development could lead the Chiefs back to the state semifinals next season, and this year's disappointment won't be forgotten.

Young and restless

Salem has holes to fill; Canton anxious to continue success

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Coach Bob Brodie knew what he could expect from his Plymouth Salem boys basketball team last year.

The Rocks had enough veteran talent returning from a ballclub that went to the Class A quarterfinals to be rated one of the top teams in Michigan.

Pre-season expectations were high a year ago, and Salem eventually finished 19-3, winning the Western Lakes Activities Association championship for the third time in five years.

But the Rocks lost their top six players from that team — Jake Baker, K.C. Kirkpatrick, Mike Mulder, Chris Tebben, John Hoffmeyer and Cliff Lee — and with them went an average of 66 points, 42 rebounds and 18 assists.

Three are playing college ball — Baker at Central Michigan, Kirkpatrick at Albion College and Mulder at Hope College.

THE CUPBOARD wasn't left entirely bare, however. Four players return with some pretty good credentials, but it will be a new-look Salem team that takes the floor Tuesday in the season opener at Trenton.

"This team is so new and inexperienced, I don't have any idea" what to expect, Brodie said. "I don't know if we'll come out like gangbusters or go the other way. I've seen them in practice but not in game situations.

"Any time you lose six players the caliber we lost, you have to readjust your goals and your thinking. Obviously, we want to defend our championship at the end and win as many games as we can. I want to impress upon them we want to take it game by game and try to improve."

The varsity holdovers are seniors Eric Stemmer (6-3), Mike Abraham (6-5) and John Flynn (6-2) and sophomore James Head (6-6), who some consider one of the best young players in the state.

"Physically, he's a little stronger, he's one year more mature and he's been through the program once," Brodie said. "He's going to look like a grown man out there, but he's still only a sophomore."

Head, who averaged six points, five rebounds and four assists, and the three seniors figure to be key players.

"ALL OF THEM were decent players last year and were just behind some outstanding players," Brodie said. "On an average team, they probably would have gotten a lot more time."

Stemmer, who plays guard and also averaged six points in a reserve role, will miss the first game because of a red card he received in the last soccer game. For a senior,

Plymouth Canton went the farthest of any Observerland team in the boys basketball tournament last year, becoming the first in school history to play in a regional final.

With eight players returning from that team, the Chiefs have the talent to be successful again and contend for the Western Lakes Activities Association championship.

But Canton will have to get through the first month without one of its top players — 6-foot-8, 260-pound senior Tony Coshatt, who suffered a broken wrist when he fell during practice. He will miss all of December.

"I think he's frustrated," Canton coach Dave Van Wagener said, "but we'll just be that much stronger when we get him back. The league season doesn't start until the middle of January."

"The first six non-conference games are real tough. We'll just have to buckle our seat belts and go with what we have."

WHAT THE Chiefs, who were 17-8 and upset heavily favored Plymouth Salem to win a district title, have is a quality team even with Coshatt on the sideline.

Canton still has plenty of height and possibly the best group of shooting guards in western Wayne County. Senior Derrick McDonald (6-1), junior Mike Stafford (6-1) and senior Jon Paupore (6-0) will generate much of the offense from the back court.

McDonald, an All-Observer player, averaged 16 points and six assists, as well as six rebounds. He took his game a notch higher late in the season when he averaged 20 points in the last 10. Paupore averaged 10 points and Stafford eight.

"I feel we have three of the best outside shooters I've coached," Van Wagener said. "They're all on the same team so that makes it nice. It will make it hard for teams to zone us, because those guys can really fill it up."

In addition, Canton has a pair of high-scoring players from a 14-6 junior varsity team. Sophomore Matt Paupore averaged 20 points and junior Brad Paskievitch 17. Both are big guards as each stands 6-2.

"This is the best shooting team I've ever coached, and it has the potential to be the best offensive team," said Van Wagener, who has moved Stafford to point guard, a position shared by McDonald and Karl Wukie last year.

"MIKE IS probably our best passer, and he can shoot the ball, which is a deadly combination," Van Wagener said. "If people lay off him, he can stick the outside shot. If they get right in his face, he's going to

'Old Timers' are still big rollers

THEY ARE CALLED "Old Timers," but don't anyone believe they are just out for the exercise.

The 61st annual Old-Timers Tournament, held last weekend at Thunderbolt, brought out a strong field of 636 very qualified bowlers.

It was my privilege to bowl next to these legendary names. Just to see a man in his 80s, like Norris, who competed with the U.S. Olympic Demonstration team in the 1936 Olympics...

The overall winner of the tournament was Philip Horowitz, 52, of West Bloomfield. Phil shot 52 of 167-2615 for a 669 series and the championship trophy.

Perhaps one of the mysteries about the sport of bowling is how people can still perform well at practically any age. This keeps the enjoyment level pretty high.

A new tournament is about to debut at Bowl One Lanes on Fourteen Mile Road in Troy. This will be the first annual "Bowl One

Ocelots come up flat in final tune-up for league season

The final tune-up for the Eastern Conference season did not go well for Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team.

The Ocelots made the trip to Spring Arbor College to play its junior varsity workout with two starters - point guard Rahim Woodson, who sprained an ankle and was unavailable, and leading scorer and rebounder Jarvis Murray, who missed the team bus.

The game didn't go any better. Turnovers and missed free throws proved to be SC's downfall in a 96-90 loss.

"I don't know why," said coach Dave Bogataj when asked why Murray was absent. "I'm going to find out why he wasn't there. That really hurt us."

Asked if Murray might sit out the conference opener at Highland Park CC Wednesday, Bogataj answered, "I'm going to talk to him first, before deciding. I know he won't start."

THE GAME at Spring Arbor was, in Bogataj's description, ugly. The two teams combined to make 60 turnovers (28 for SC), and they shot 48 free throws. But the Ocelots completed just 23-of-37 from the line (62 percent), and - when it counted most - they missed, failing to make their last seven in the final three minutes.

Spring Arbor, conversely, scored all of its points in the final 3:36 from the stripe and made 27-of-43 in the game.

There was one bright spot for SC: Chris Habitz, one of his team's top recruits, broke out of his funk to shoot 26 points in 10-of-17 shooting.

He also had five rebounds and three assists. "He looked to take the shot," said Bogataj, who has been urging Habitz to do just that.

Mitch Fyke added 18 points and seven rebounds before reinjuring his leg, how seriously has yet to be known.

Other MSU football note: junior guard Toby Heaton, from Plymouth (Catholic Central HS), was also named to the all-academic team. Heaton has a 3.49 grade point in advertising.

determined. Scott Meredith finished with 14 points and 10 rebounds, and Jamal Ahmed netted 12 points.

Woodson's injury may cause him to miss the Highland Park CC game as well. "If he comes back, he'll come in off the bench," said Bogataj.

Talent is there to carry Chiefs

In the absence of Coshatt, who signed early with Saginaw Valley, the Chiefs will start 6-5 senior Hal Heard and 6-5 junior Owen Crosby up front.

"We have no goals as far as scoring, but we are looking to push the ball up court hard and put pressure on the defense," Van Wagoner said.

"I'd like to see us get tougher on defense and improve our rebounding so we can do that. We will go as far as defense and rebounding takes us, because I think we're as good as anybody offensively."

Canton begins the season Tuesday playing at Wayne Memorial and has four more difficult non-league games before meeting Westland John Glenn in the WLAAs opener Jan. 10.

Those (non-league) games helped us make our tournament run last year," Van Wagoner said. "We're going to try and win those games, but we're also using them as a means of getting ready for the league season."

"I think we're going to have a good team, but that's just on paper. This team needs to prove itself on the court."

Every summer I see the two Redford Catholic Central basketball stars playing pick-up with a bunch of "washed-up" or "wannabe" ballplayers behind the old Bentley High School in Livonia.

Now, whenever I'm a captain and need another player on my team, and Kummer and Varga are still available, I follow a simple rule: whoever's standing closest to me, I pick.

It doesn't matter who I take because having either Kummer or Varga on my team assures victory and makes me look like a better recruiter than University of Michigan coach Steve Fisher.

Of course, now that the outdoor season is over, I put the shorts and tank top away, grab my note pad and because I'm the sports writer, finally make up my mind on these two.

Um, anyone got a coin? Editor's note: Players from Livonia, Redford, Westland, Garden City, Plymouth, Canton and Farmington are eligible to make the Observer's preseason Top-10.

1. Bob Kummer, 6-4 senior guard/forward, CC. Kummer, who signed early with the University of North Carolina-Charlotte, gets the nod because he's a bit more versatile than his running mate, Varga.

2. Chad Varga, 6-4 senior forward, CC. The most exciting player in Observerland, probably because of his 36-inch vertical leap. Has a smoother shooting style than Kummer, but maybe not as much range.

3. Keith Roberts, 5-7 senior guard, Livonia. Frankie: A surprise choice to some, but this kid is a great high school player. Made second team All-Observer last year and improved his outside shooting.

4. Derrick McDonald, 6-1 senior guard, Canton. A defensive specialist, McDonald showed his offensive skills by scoring 20 of his game-high 24 points in the second half of last year's district upset over Plymouth Salem.

5. Paul Glyvidis, 6-4 senior center, Harrison. Signed early with the University of Tennessee. A three-year starter can score inside and out and could end up at a mid-major Division I school.

Canton's Derrick McDonald averaged 16 points, six assists and six rebounds last season, which was good enough to earn him All-Observer status.

McDonald, Head, Coshatt: best around Steve Kowalski

It usually isn't this hard choosing between Bob Kummer and Chad Varga.

6. Tony Coshatt, 6-8 senior center, Canton. Will miss a month with a broken wrist and that's a shame considering how hard he works (getting up at 6 a.m. every day in the preseason and working out at Vic Tanny). Must work on foot speed but should be a good recruit for Saginaw Valley State University.

6 players gone; can Rocks rule?

The starting front line will have Abraham at center, Head and Flynn at the forwards. The guards in the first game will be juniors Todd Forbes (5-10) and Mike Sione (6-3).

Forbes averaged eight points and four assists, Sione 10 points and four rebounds on the JV team.

Junior forward Brian Jensen (6-2) is a solid player who could crack the starting lineup, Brodie said. He was the leading player on the JV, averaging 12 points and 12 rebounds.

The Rocks could also be helped by junior guard Bob Schneider (6-4), a transfer from Redford Catholic Central who becomes eligible in January. He has raw ability but needs to learn the Salem system and work into it, Brodie said.

The Varsity roster also includes guard Eddie Whitt (6-4) and forwards Kevin Baumgartner (6-2), Don Johnson (6-1) and Brandon Sione (6-3), a twin brother of Mike. Webb is another CC transfer and is eligible immediately. All are juniors except for Baumgartner, a senior.

BAUMGARTNER is a good shooter who can be a zonebuster, and Johnson runs the floor well and plays aggressive, Brodie said. "He doesn't hesitate to dive on the floor after a loose ball."

As for shooting the three-pointer, the Rocks are not lacking for volunteers. "Actually, we've got quite a few people who can knock down the three," Brodie said, naming Abraham, Head, Mike Sione, Stemmer and Schneider. "Last year it was pretty much Baker and Mulder who shot from the perimeter."

But Salem has always been a good post-up team, and the Rocks plan to stick with the inside game primarily, Brodie said. One of the team strengths is that it retains good overall size.

"We could be as big or bigger all around than at times last year," Brodie said. "Any time you put big bodies on the floor who can shoot the ball well it's going to create problems for opponents."

"We're going to be competitive. We're going to put a team on the floor that people have to play against. Win or lose, we're going to come ready to play."

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

Hoping to make 78 RPM a publishing success are publisher Dan Santoni (left) and layout artist and designer Adam Hoffman.

New spin for music Magazine lets the artists do the talking

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Cynicism may be viewed as the bane of all artistic expression and, darn, if Dan Santoni allows such skepticism to seep into his new publication, 78 RPM.

Geez, that's no fun.

The magazine debuts this month and will provide a forum for all types of artists to articulate a viewpoint of their work and on the arts in general. No thumbs up or thumbs down, no star or rose ratings — just the words from the artists themselves.

"For one, I'm an artist myself. I know what it is like to put your artwork into a show or a band dealing with club owners," said Santoni, 21, who is a photographer. "I want to give the artist an opportunity to speak freely for themselves instead of someone else doing it for them."

In a prototype issue, 78 RPM features interviews with a person who makes jewelry out of recyclable materials, an avant-garde photographer as well as local musicians Brothers from Another Planet and national music sensation Fishbone. The articles are either in-depth autobiographical pieces or a Q&A format.

THOUGH SUCH articles would seem cursory and a one-sided exercise of ego, Santoni said the magazine's mission is to delve deeper into motivations and psyche of the artist. Too often, he feels, those interpretations are left to outsiders who can only surmise to what threshold a person seeks to achieve with his craft.

What may separate 78 RPM from other art publications could be the artists themselves.

Instead of covering trendy designers and pop art, Santoni sees his task as bringing to the surface those artists submerged in their own obscurity. The publication will be highly visual, relying on artists for its attitude rather than its staffers.

At least that was the initial source of inspiration for Santoni. The idea for an arts magazine developed a year ago through a conversation among co-workers in the Sam's Jams parking lot in Ferndale where he worked.

The discussion centered on the history of Detroit music. More precisely, the emergence of such innovators as Iggy and the Stooges and the MC 5 and how their influences still permeate music today.

"We were wondering what's around now that's like that," Santoni said.

GOOD QUESTION, and the answer usually takes a considerable amount of research and commitment. The group decided to pool their resources; several are writers and photographers themselves.

But several meetings in the planning stages degenerated into what Santoni described as "a real mess" with 14 people voicing varying opinions on what direction the publication should take.

Others began to fall off. Finally, Santoni and a few others carried on with their original premise.

In December, the 38-page publication will debut on newsstands and through mail subscriptions. The price is tentatively set at $2.50 a copy.

A benefit, "Mural of Reality: An Establishing of New Foundations," Nov. 5 at Industry in Pontiac raised an estimate $1,100 for 78 RPM. The start-up costs have been offset through contributions and $1,500 out of Santoni's own pocket.

"We're trying to fill a new niche, especially in Detroit," Santoni said. "It might be a risk, but I feel it's worth doing."

Cosmic 'ole' for Banditos

By Joseph S. Hoffmann
special writer

It's reggae. No, it's rock. No... now wait a minute, it sounds more like spiritual speed metal.

It's the Cosmic Banditos, a local group with a singular and diverse sound.

Their stage performance is a high-energy excursion that has to be seen to be appreciated.

"Our music is like that played by the monks in Tibet. You know, the ones way up in the mountains who sit around and play horns and drums. They will sit and play for hours, some in monotone, and they all come up with different stuff. Well, we're like that," said the band's raucous drummer, Scott Goldstein.

Although none of them resemble monks, many of the group's lyrics have a religious undertone.

Much of this pious influence comes from Matthew Ruffino, the group's Rastafarian devotee who grew up in the Farmington Hills.

"I sing a lot about Jah (short for Jehovah), who is the man/women creator or God, and about salvation," he said.

DREADLOCKS askew and forever smiling, Ruffino, the band's mainstay guitarist/vocalist, said the band has gone through many changes since its birth in early 1989.

Scott Cothran, who commands rhythm guitar and who lives in Farmington, said the band used to play hard-core rock, but that their sound has now taken on a psychedelic folk and blues style.

"We don't think of ourselves as a band, we think of ourselves as a family. This gives our music the kind of precision we could not get any other way," Ruffino said.

All of the band members hail from suburban Detroit except Charles Levine, their bass player, whom Ruffino met when he lived in Atlanta for a short time.

In a time when many bands choose to portray a sardonic nature to today's youth, the Banditos sing more on a positive metaphysical note.

The Banditos have a wide range of influences.

"Everything from Bob Marley to Black Sabbath from Pink Floyd to the Bad Brains have been this band's influences," Levine said. "It's hard to pinpoint exactly."

REVIEWS

PROFILE: THE ULTIMATE SPARKS COLLECTION — Sparks

Well, it's about time. Sparks, one of the best and brightest bands of the '70s (their best period) who still had more than a few bright spots during the '80s and may surprise us all in the '90s, have released this double retrospective of their brilliant career as rock's "weird guys."

First, there was Ron Mael, the group's songwriter and keyboard player, with a penchant for playing in his minimalist style as his brother (and resident heartthrob) Russell danced around, singing in his falsetto voice, which often disguised the fact that, hey, these guys are writing some of the smartest, cleverest lyrics around, bar none.

Even today, songs such as "Hasta Manana," "Monsieur" and "Achoo" easily stand up. Did I fail to mention they wrapped those lyrics around some of the catchiest rock of the era? If so, take it from me: they did. And it still holds up extremely well.

The L.A.-based band had to go to England to become stars, with hits such as "This Town Ain't Big Enough for the Two of Us" and "Something for the Girl with Everything" and many, many more, including their biggest U.S. hit, "Cool Places," sung with Sparks fan extraordinaire and Go-Go Jane Wiedlin.

In fact, my only complaint with this double-set is that it leans too much on the band's later work and not enough on their earlier stuff. For example, I would have loved to hear "Whippings and Apologies" or the hilarious "BC."

The CD has 40 cuts, seven more than the tape, including rare B-sides like "Barbecue" and "Lost and Found." The tape includes some unreleased gems too, though, such as the original version on "I Like Girls," which was virtually destroyed with over-production on the "Big Beat" album.

Sparks may be an acquired taste, but it's one far more worthwhile than sushi and dark beer, as far as I'm concerned.

Eclectic? Undoubtedly. Essential? Surely. Rocking? One listen and you'll never have to ask again. Highly recommended.

'Star Trek VI: A fond farewell

"Star Trek VI" starts out with a bang. A Klingon moon explodes, sending shock waves through the galaxy. With their main source of energy production destroyed and their ozone layer quickly diminishing, the Klingons face extinction within 90 years.

If all of this sounds more than a little timely, it should. The latest and (if you can trust the advertising) last episode in the popular "Star Trek" film series wears its political correctness on its sleeve. It reflects 1990s sensibilities in the same way the original series tackled war, racism and the youth movement during the turbulent 1960s.

It's no secret that the warrior race of Klingons introduced in the "Star Trek" series were actually thinly disguised Soviets. Peace, after all, had already been established on earth, where young Easton Favo Chekhov could now join the diverse ethnic and racial mix aboard the Enterprise.

From the "Evil Empire" vantage point of the 1970s, when "Star Trek" arrived on the movie screen, the Klingons were as ugly as they were

tickets please

mean. They even caused the death of Captain Kirk's only son. It's at this point that Kirk and the rest of the original crew are volunteered to escort the Klingon high command to an interplanetary peace conference.

THE IDEA of making peace is not a happy one for Federation veterans like Kirk or his Klingon counterparts. "In space, the only war is a cold war," says Chang, the Shakespeare-loving Klingon commander.

Kirk must face his prejudices against a planet of people he genuinely feels can never be trusted. Fortunately, "Star Trek VI," subtitled "The Undiscovered Country," is only partly about politics. It's also an action film, and though it doesn't exactly move at warp speed, it keeps globules of dark pink blood. WHILE CAPTAIN Kirk finds the obligatory love interest with a sexy alien, the usual cornball humor is kept to a minimum. In one of the film's few comic asides, the ever-cranky Dr. McCoy laments that Kirk always gets the girls.

It's no accident that the film is so good. Nicholas Meyer, the talented director and screenwriter, was responsible for the best film in the series, "Star Trek II: The Wrath of Khan." He knows how to generate suspense from what can easily become a boring formula.

Will this really be the last "Star Trek" film? Yes and no, according to the film's conclusion. The original crew of the Enterprise appears ready to lay down alongside Gene Roddenberry, the characters' creator who died this fall.

If there is another film, Captain Sulu (George Takei), who has spent the last 25 years taking orders, may finally get his chance to take command.

Women open up about the abuse

Dear Readers: The column of Sept. 16, in which I asked you to write with stories of women who were willing to put themselves in danger, resulted in an outpouring of letters. For the next few columns, those letters will be printed without comment. When all of them have been published, I will print my personal reactions and yours.

Barbara
I could relate to your article of Monday, Sept. 16, concerning abuse. I am not going to relate my situation because each individual's abuse is unique but similar. What I feel is more helpful is to tell you I find an assertiveness training classes taken through Oakland Continuing Center finally turned on the light and gave me the resources to begin to help myself and my abusive husband.

"Education is our salvation. I don't mean to take anything away from my Lord. It is the reason He created us with a brain. I am yet an advance in 'self.' I have not even advanced in my own mind to self-esteem. I will be 50 years old in March. I am not worried to be arriving at such a late date. The journey has been tedious, painful and expensive. I have paid my dues. I hope that I may be directed to help others — women and men — to be neither victims or perpetrators. Co-dependence is a social disease.

"Is it denial when you really do not know? I think the thing I like most about AST was its non-blaming posture, its human rights and respects. I could not blame who I love. I shared the blame. It began to teach me to take responsibility for myself and define my morals and their boundaries. By so doing, I set an example and gave my bully the freedom to do the same.

'Stray Dog:' Thriller sans violence

Looking very dapper in his crisp white suit, the police detective leaves the gun range and gets on the trolley car.

Packed cheek-to-cheek with other passengers, the detective soon loses his coolness in the oppressive heat. As the other riders jostle around to make their stop, the detective realizes that his pocket has been picked and his gun is missing.

This incident is the young detective, played by Toshiro Mifune, on a long journey through the slightly seedy, desperate and outright criminal parts of society to retrieve his lost weapon in Akira Kurosawa's 1949 film "Stray Dog," currently available on video.

After losing the thief in a foot pursuit, the detective returns dejectedly to the police station to receive the punishment or firing he expects over the loss of his weapon.

"This isn't the army," an older officer tells him as he sends Mifune, a homicide investigator, over to the division that handles pickpockets to start his search.

There is a nice montage sequence as Mifune, dressed in ratty clothes and a cap, moves through the streets looking for a dealer in hot guns. His eyes never rest, moving over the hurrying crowd and homeless people sleeping in streets and alleys.

THE EARNEST young detective's worst fears come true when he learns his gun has been used in a crime. The detective is increasingly panicked by thoughts of being responsible, by losing his weapon, for further damage.

Mifune is very good as the detective, his desperation barely under control and combining with his inexperience to cause some errors.

A veteran officer, played by Takashi Shimura, joins the search and clearly knows more about a criminal investigation than the younger man. The pair are able to track down their man but not without personal costs.

"Stray Dog" — the title comes from comment by the older officer about their suspect — is a well-paced tense detective drama. But it's probably not what you'd expect from that description. There are no car chases, the officers walk or take the street car, and there is very little violence or gunplay.

The story moves through the characters and the unfolding investigation. Kurosawa assumes the audience is intelligent enough to follow the story as it proceeds without stereotypical action film devices.

The film also looks at broader issues, some that would have been particularly relevant in Japan during the years immediately following the Second World War. The man the officers are seeking turns out to be a officer doesn't agree. He isn't concerned about why criminals break the law. He is there to protect the real victims, those whose suffering is caused by criminals.

Very subtly, Kurosawa provides comments and glimpses of post-war Japanese society that has been disrupted and altered forever. Learning that a female pickpocket has given up her trademark kimono for a dress and hair permanent, Shimura says, "Times do change."

I was fascinated by even the visual subtext of Japanese life of the era shown from a Japanese perspective.

"I SAW men go bad very quickly during the war," he comments. Well played by Shimura, the older

Atlanta, the south's largest city, has all the razzle-dazzle of an American metropolis: a glittering skyline, a wide choice of gritty hotels, shops and restaurants, a tempting array of shows, exhibits and nightlife and attractions that range from Atlanta Underground to the World of Coca-Cola.

The city seems to be on a roll. After the drama of seeing the Braves in the World Series, Atlanta is looking forward to the 1994 Super Bowl and the 1996 Olympics.

Excitement is in the air. But another Atlanta still exists in the side streets, a traditional soft-spoken, slow-paced, friendly southern town.

One way to enjoy that ambience is to stay at the Shelmont Bed and Breakfast house, built in 1891 with many fine architectural details, located in a quiet residential neighborhood within walking distance of downtown Atlanta. The main house has 20 rooms, all with private bath.

THE SHELMONT'S carriage house, a small building in the back of the property, is a real find for travelers who like a home-away-from-home feeling. There's a living room, kitchen, bedroom and bath with hands-on activities, a gingerbread village, continuous performances and a carousel.

The striking High Museum, at 133 Peachtree St. downtown, creates a quiet, contemplative world of its own with art collections and special exhibits. But even here there's a holiday mood, with an Hispanic Fiesta featuring music and dance on Dec. 17 at 12:15 p.m.

As big cities go, Atlanta is easy to get around in, thanks to the rapid rail and bus system known as MARTA. (15 minute rail service to the airport costs $1.) Now the New Georgia Railroad is offering holiday rides, with caroling groups on board, for the Atlanta Loop and the Stone Mountain Loop on Dec. 14 and 21. These rides depart twice daily from the Milepost Station near Underground Atlanta, call (404) 656-0769 for times and reservations.

Underground Atlanta will, of course, be alive with lights, decorations, community choirs, street performers, storytellers and costumed characters — everything but snow and ice, which isn't traditional during the Christmas season in Atlanta, anyway. Look for the Great Tree.

Take kids to Chicago by train

By Vera Hogan
special writer

My son Sean was a perfect car traveler as a baby. We could spend Christmas with his grandparents, Doris and Larry Hogan, of Parsheville, and we could visit grandma and grandpa in Chicago almost as easily.

By one, a Christmas trip to Chicago was a nightmare. My darling son used six hours of confinement to test his lungs, and to play "throw the bottle and scream."

That's when I decided that long car trips with Sean would end until he spoke fluent English and understood my "rules of the car."

This year I had a brilliant idea: we would travel by train.

I was delighted to learn that my round-trip fare on Amtrak would cost only $40, and my son would travel free. Not only was I going to be able to maintain reasonably good mental health, I was going to save money as well.

WE WERE to board the train to Chicago in Ann Arbor, a pleasant and easy drive from our home in Holly. I knew right away that traveling by train with my son would be a definite improvement.

While waiting on the platform for our train to arrive, people were introducing themselves and sharing "why we're going to Chicago" stories. Some even made plans to sit together during the trip to play cards or just chat.

Fortunately, our arrival was uneventful and my parents were on time waiting for us.

Traveling by train has also solved an "at home" problem. We live two blocks from tracks where trains come through several times a day. A sound that once terrified by son, now sends him flying to the window with happy excited cries of "toot, toot!"

If you're planning a long trip alone with a small child, I highly recommend doing yourself a favor and travel by train. For information and reservations, call Amtrak toll-free (800) 872-7245.

IN ADDITION, my parents had warned that because of construction on several major Chicago highways leading to Union Station, they might be delayed in picking us up.

With this in mind, I bought a 3-foot, heavy-duty, chain-linked dog leash before leaving on our trip. Once we arrived in Chicago, I put my hand through the sturdy leather handle of the leash, slid it up my arm inside my jacket and secured it tightly around my upper arm.

The other end of the leash was clipped onto the clasps of my son's overall jeans, inside his jacket. Although I did receive a few odd looks, I took comfort in the fact that if someone were to grab my son, they were going to have to take me too.

When awake, Sean was happier and more relaxed, and had my complete undivided attention. He took great pride in sitting in his seat and eating snacks from the pull-down tray table like a "big boy." He very much enjoyed gazing out of the train window and taking occasional walks through other cars.

Because I'm a new first-time mother, one concern I did have on this trip was the possibility of "child snatching." I recalled that there was quite a long, underground walk from the tracks to Union Station upon arrival in Chicago.

Ford, Levin, Pursell support abortion counseling bill

Here's how area Observer & Eccentric members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the week ending Nov. 22.

HOUSE

ABORTION — By a vote of 276 for and 156 against, the House upheld President Bush's veto of a bill

(HR 2707) permitting pregnant women to get abortion counseling at federally funded health clinics. The margin was 12 votes shy of the two-thirds majority Democratic leaders needed to override the veto of the Department of Health and Human Services spending bill. Override supporter Thomas Foley, D-Wash., the House Speaker, said the abortion counseling is constitutionally protected free speech.

Christopher Smith, R-N.J., said sustaining the veto would uphold "the most important pro-life policy of the year."

A yes vote supported abortion counseling by clinics that get federal funds.

Local legislators voting yes were Pursell, Hertel, William Ford and Levin.

U.S. Rep. Broomfield voted no.

BANKING BILL — By a vote of 344 for and 84 against, the House passed a bill (HR 3768) making $70 billion in taxpayer-backed credit available to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. for closing failed banks and paying off insured deposits. Future fees on banks would supply up to $30 billion of the capital. The FDIC would borrow the remainder from the Treasury, using seized bank assets as collateral. Taxpayers would stand behind both mechanisms. The bill also steps up FDIC examinations of bank books, and makes the deposit insurance fund more secure against risky banking practices.

A yes vote was to pass the FDIC recapitalization bill.

Michigan representatives voting yes were Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, William Ford, D-Taylor, Sander Levin, D-Southfield and William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, voted no.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE — By a vote of 74 for and 355 against, the House rebuffed an attempt to limit federal deposit insurance to $100,000 per person per bank, plus $100,000 for an IRA. The vote occurred during debate on HR 3768 (above).

Sponsor Richard Armev, R-Texas, said his intent was "to limit taxpayer exposure to any potential repeat of the savings and loan debacle in banking."

Opponent Carroll Hubbard, D-Ky., said the proposal would alarm consumers and cause capital flight from small-town banks.

A yes vote was to limit deposit insurance to $100,000 per person per bank.

Area legislators voting no were Pursell, Hertel, William Ford, Levin and Broomfield.

FAVORED SOVIET TRADE — By a vote of 350 for and 78 against, the House approved legislation (HJ Res 346) granting most-favored-nation trade status to the Soviet republics, entitling their exports to the lowest U.S. tariffs.

Dick Schulze, R-Pa., said "we want to try to encourage this transition from a totalitarian centralized economy to a market economy."

Gerald Solomon, R-N.Y., objected to increasing trade with the Soviets while they arm Cuba and send aid to North Korea and Vietnam.

A yes vote supported favored trade terms for Soviet exports.

U.S. Reps. Pursell, Hertel, William Ford, Levin and Broomfield voted yes.

SENATE

BANKING SERVICES — By a vote of 34 for and 62 against, the Senate refused to require banks to help the poor and the elderly by cashing government checks at a small fee and offering "lifeline" accounts that allow limited activity at low or no cost. This occurred before the Senate passed, on a non-record vote, a bill providing $70 billion in new capital for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (S 543).

Don Riegle, D-Mich., said banks receiving taxpayer backing should help "the 20 percent of the people in the country that now have no banking relationship."

Opponent Trent Lott, R-Miss., said it is wrong "for the government to get in the business of dictating who must cash checks."

A yes vote was to require certain banking services for the poor and elderly.

Michigan Sens. Carl Levin, D, and Donald Riegle, D, voted yes.

BROKERED DEPOSITS — By a vote of 64 for and 32 against, the Senate rejected an amendment to prohibit federal deposit insurance from covering "brokered deposits" in banks. Such risk-free investments are packaged by securities brokers and sent nationwide in search of the highest rates. The amendment was offered to the FDIC bill (above). Mindful of how brokered deposits fueled the S & L collapse, the bill restricts them to strong banks.

Jake Garn, R-Utah, called the amendment unnecessary because the bill already guards against abuses from brokered deposits.

Sponsor Bob Graham, D-Fla., said "the U.S. taxpayers should not be putting their subsidized deposit insurance behind those accounts."

A yes vote supported federal deposit insurance for brokered deposits in strong banks.

Sen. Levin voted no. Sen. Riegle voted yes.

Red Cross seeks county volunteers

The American Red Cross seeks volunteers for its Wayne County programs.

Volunteers are needed to drive the Red Cross Bloodmobile, assist at bloodmobile sites and deliver blood products to area hospitals. They are also needed to assist at the Dearborn Regional Office, Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn, the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Allen Park and at Westland Medical Center.

In addition, the Red Cross seeks volunteers to promote and install the Lifeline Personal Emergency Response system, a service for the elderly and others who must stay home alone. Volunteers are also sought for Red Cross hypertension screening centers. Licensed nurses are also needed to help disaster victims.

Those interested in volunteering can call the Dearborn office, 274-5450.

Men, if you're about to turn 18, it's time to register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

Are you a Compulsive Overeater?

	Yes	No
1. Do you eat when you're not hungry?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2. Do you go on eating binges for no apparent reason?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3. Do you have feelings of guilt and remorse after overeating?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4. Do you give too much time and thought to food?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5. Is your weight affecting the way you live your life?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
6. Do you use fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting or laxatives to control your weight?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
7. Have you tried to diet for a week (or longer), only to fall short of your goal?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you answer "yes" to three or more of these questions, you may be a compulsive overeater. You are not alone. Millions of Americans suffer from this disease. Compulsive overeating is a painful, relentless illness that interferes with every aspect of life. It is a disease that gets progressively worse if left untreated. Weight gain often accompanies this illness. But not always. Many compulsive overeaters maintain normal body weight by strict diets, fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting, or excessive laxative use. These methods are ineffective and medically dangerous. Weight is not the problem, and dieting is not the solution. The problem is the disease of compulsive overeating, and the solution is a program of treatment and recovery. The Eating Disorders Recovery Center (EDRC) of St. Mary Hospital offers an outpatient treatment program that leads to lasting recovery. Our approach is comprehensive. We help our patients make lifestyle changes that give them renewed confidence in themselves and more control over their lives. Gradually, the chronic binge/diet cycle is replaced by a healthy, more satisfying, and more productive way of life. With food in its proper place, weight normalizes. At EDRC, we work as a team -- psychologist, psychiatrist, physician, nutritionist, and specially trained therapists -- to diagnose and treat eating disorders. This experienced staff provides treatment with understanding and sensitivity. If compulsive overeating is a problem for you, or someone you love, take the first step toward recovery. Call us today at 591-2936, WE CAN HELP.

Pamper birds, pets with treats

As I sit in front on my word processor in a cozy office with my belly full of food, I have mixed emotions about writing a column such as this.

Anyone who has not been touched by the plight of the needy must be going through life wearing rose colored glasses.

PICK UP any newspaper and headlines abound with stories of the homeless, general assistance cuts, unemployment and the general negative state of the economy.

I have much to be thankful for. In addition to a wonderful family, I have a crazy cat named Kibbles and a bird feeder outside my front and back windows that hosts many a wild feathered friend.

Many pets have touched my life including a spider monkey named "Singe" and a golden retriever named "Jack." The aquarium collecting dust in the basement has been home for angel fish, sharks, turtles and even a hamster or two.

THAT'S WHY this year, in addition to other Human charities, I'm supporting the Humane Society. But just as important as writing a check, I'm also getting into the spirit of making some good old fashioned pet food for the upcoming winter months for my pet, and the ones that give me so much pleasure in my backyard.

Having just finished reading "Feed the Birds" by Helen and Dick Witty (Workman Publishers, 1991, $8.95) I couldn't wait to start my own backyard birdfeeder resplendent with homemade suet bells coupled with a birdacious corn and raisin cake.

This book is filled with tips on inviting our fine feathered friends to your yard so that you too can watch their goings-on and hear their song.

THE RECIPES are easy enough for a "bird brain" to follow. If there's a bird lover, and a window in your house, this book gives a whole new meaning to "guess who's coming to dinner!" But during this time of year, we should also remember the driving force behind the animal rights movement.

Anyone who has ever enjoyed the warmth of a pet has heard of the Humane Society. Kibbles came from the Huron Valley Humane Society with a warning that having been an abused pet, she might not adapt well to home life, especially with the exuberant Janes Gang.

We must have had a lot of love to offer because Kibs has been a part of the Janes Gang now going on five years.

This year, as in the past, Christmas morning will find her tearing into a pet basket filled with homemade tuna cookies, home-grown catnip, yarn balls, and one of those springy-squeaky mouses on a string that all cats go crazy over.

But in addition to a check, Kibs will again ride in the van with a donated "goody" box for needy animals at four local animal shelters. The box will be packed with old towels and a generous assortment of food for less fortunate animals.

These are the same animals that have given you and me a laugh, and sense of love. Animals that people have decided to give up for one reason or another, but animals that right now need our help, love and hope.

THE MICHIGAN Humane Society has an outstanding 1991 Holiday Gift Catalog in addition to a retail outlet appropriately named "Pawpourri" at 817 N. Main in beautiful downtown Royal Oak (545-3780).

If you have a pet, include them in your holiday revelry. A special treat, and a donation to the Michigan Humane Society in their name will help other less fortunate pets.

Families repeat timeless holiday tradition

By Larry Janes
special writer

MY UNIQUE ability to procrastinate will again this year have me finishing my holiday baking sometime by New Year's Eve. There's little doubt that I will once again be forced to chill my dough for an hour in the freezer rather than allowing it to mellow and harden normally for a few hours in the refrigerator.

I WILL again break my vow of not shopping after midnight trying to find an all-night grocery in search of sugar, red and green sprinkles and butter-flavored Crisco, knowing darned well I should have had enough on hand before I even started.

But people like Ursula Rymarz of Livonia, and Yvonne Christensen of Farmington Hills certainly influence me with a continuing reminder that there is hope for us cutting-edge trendoids.

Rymarz, the mother of three grown children, calls herself "basically an old-fashioned, down-to-earth gal" who eschews the virtues of newfangled air-cushioned cookie sheets and parchment paper.

She still uses old cookie sheets handed down from her mother, and wasn't the least bit interested in learning more about parchment paper.

She has always looked upon her holiday baking chores as a tradition more than a job, and has been doing so for more than 28 years. This year, as in the past, she and her daughter Michele, 22, will have made 12 different types of Christmas cookies, ending up with "about 25 dozen or so, depending on how many they taste."

Christensen will also have her holiday cookies baked, packaged and secured in addition to sewing holiday costumes for kids Katie and Heather for a holiday pageant. With a little help from husband Claude, and even 8-month-old Corey getting into the spirit, the family will gather for an evening of cookie baking and decorating.

Christensen claims that several years ago, she went out and bought some "fancy-shmansy" cookie cutters, only to fall back on the old faithful inexpensive tin ones after being disappointed. Not even knowing the benefits of air-cushioned cookie sheets or parchment, this holiday baker will again rely solely on her "Baker's Secret" cookie sheets and 39 cent tin cookie cutters.

I KNOW I rely far too much on trendy gadgets and goodies that make life in the kitchen a little easier, but for folks like Ursula Rymarz and Yvonne Christensen who have yet to discover the joys of baking cookies on parchment paper, once you try it, you'll never want to grease another pan.

Parchment paper that can be reused not only makes clean-up a breeze but it literally enables the cookies to slide off the sheet.

Here are two examples of modern-day women who have little or no need for the "trendy" equipment that modern-day cooks need. They might not have air-cushioned cookie sheets and fancy cookie guns, but the final product emerging from the oven shows that with a mixer, a bowl and a few spoons, "nothin' says lovin' like somethin' from the oven!" See recipes inside.

Smart cookies share secrets

"A home with cookies baking in the oven is a home filled with love and happiness," said Rose Levy Beranbaum, author of "Rose's Christmas Cookies," (William Morrow, Inc. $23).

Here are some of Beranbaum's tips for perfect cookies.

To cream butter, begin with room-temperature butter, or use refrigerated butter cut into squares. Beat until light and fluffy.

Choose flat baking sheets with very low edges so the air can circulate over and around cookies during baking.

Preheat the oven for at least 15 minutes prior to baking. Double-check the oven temperature with a thermometer that rests on the center rack in the oven.

Arrange baking sheets in the oven at least 2 inches apart so the hot air can circulate freely around each sheet. If the oven does not accommodate two sheets, bake only one batch at a time. Rearrange and rotate cookie sheets halfway through baking time to ensure even browning.

Do not store soft cookies and crisp cookies together; the soft cookies will cause the crisp cookies to soften.

Use a separate container to store each variety of cookie to preserve its special flavor.

For the holiday baker looking for timeless holiday baking tips, Yvonne Christensen recommends:

● Bake one sheet of cookies at a time on the center rack of a preheated oven. Check at the end of the minimum baking time — a minute can make a heck of a lot of difference.

● Unless recipe states otherwise, remove immediately from the cookie sheet with a spatula to a wire rack to cool.

● Place a slice of bread in cookie tins for storage to keep cookies from drying out and getting too hard.

● Place a pan of water in the oven while baking cookies and other holiday baked goods. The humidity keeps the baked goods from rising too high in the center.

The American Dairy Association has created a new leaflet filled with hints for baking, storing and sending butter cookies. For a copy, send 50 cents, plus a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope to: American Dairy Association, Butter Cookie Traditions, P.O. Box 760, Dept. PR, Rosemont, Ill. 60018.

Book captures Christmas spirit

By Keely Wygonik
staff writer

Reminders of Christmases past, and answers to questions about Christmas present make "The Frugal Gourmet Celebrates Christmas," by Jeff Smith a holiday treasure.

Published by William Morrow and Company Inc. ($25), the hardcover book features original woodcuts of characters at the manger, color photographs taken by Smith of his creche figures, reproductions from the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and more than 75 color photographs of the recipes.

IF YOU have children, or grandchildren, especially ones who ask a lot of questions, this is the book for you. Beginning with a chapter on Advent, Smith leads readers through the history of Christmas focusing on traditions, theology, myth, and food. Many chapters end with a recipe.

In a chapter about Joseph the Carpenter, Smith writes, "what should we prepare for Joseph? Something that simple man would understand, such as unleavened brown bread cakes. You could make these and take them on a trip, as they would last a long time." A recipe for unleavened bread follows.

Subsequent chapters explain Christmas traditions like Santa Claus, the Christmas tree, Christmas carols, gift giving, Christmas bells, puddings and cakes.

There's even a chapter on the history of Hanukkah followed by recipes for a seasonal meal of latkes and Tzimmes.

A chapter on cookies contains some unusual recipes like Babes Wrapped in Swaddling Clothes and Cookie Ornaments for the Tree.

For those of looking for something different to serve for dinner, there's a section of favorite Christmas menus and recipes including roast prime rib of beef, roast goose, and crown roast of pork.

See recipe inside.

Enjoy the holidays with the Frugal Gourmet's newest book "The Frugal Gourmet Celebrates Christmas."

Homemade treats for birds, dogs

See Larry Janes' taste buds column on Taste front.

BIRDIE SUET AND SEED CAKES
3/4 cups peanut or beef-fat trimmings, cubed
1 1/2 cups fresh hearts or peanuts
1 cup rolled oats
1 1/4 cup sunflower seeds
1 cup cracked corn or yellow cornmeal
1/2 cup sugar

In a large bowl, pour hot water over oatmeal and drippings. Stir in bouillon. Let stand 5 minutes. Stir in powdered milk, cornmeal and egg.

Combine fat, nuts and oats in a food processor or chop to a rough, chunky mass, not a paste, using a meat cleaver.

Heat in a saucepan, stirring until fat begins to run freely. Remove from heat and stir in remaining ingredients. Press into muffin pans and chill until set.

These can be placed in feeder bags, on feeders or distributed about the yard. They freeze well when wrapped in individual plastic bags.

HOMEMADE DOGGIE BISCUITS
1 1/2 cups hot water
1 cup uncooked cornmeal
1/2 cup beef drippings
1 teaspoon beef bouillon granules
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk

Stir in flour, 1/4 cup at a time, until a stiff dough is made. Roll into 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into desired shapes. (The Humane Society sells a doggie biscuit cutter.) Bake at 325 degrees for 50 minutes. Allow to stand in the oven overnight to dry out. Makes about 2 pounds of biscuits.

Combine fat, nuts and oats in a food processor or chop to a rough, chunky mass, not a paste, using a meat cleaver.

Heat in a saucepan, stirring until fat begins to run freely. Remove from heat and stir in remaining ingredients. Press into muffin pans and chill until set.

These can be placed in feeder bags, on feeders or distributed about the yard. They freeze well when wrapped in individual plastic bags.

Pasta perfect for holidays

This recipe is from "The Frugal Gourmet Celebrates Christmas" (See related story on Taste front). Made with two different colors of pasta, Straw and Hay (Paglia e Fieno) is perfect for those busy evenings before the holidays.

Think about the donkey in the manger when you make this dish.

STRAW AND HAY
Serves 6 as a pasta course
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/4 cup olive oil
4 cloves garlic, peeled and minced
1/2 pound spinach linguine
1/2 pound regular linguine
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Heat a small frying pan and add the butter, olive oil and garlic. Sauté the garlic briefly, but do not burn. Set aside. Bring a large pot of water with a pinch of salt to a boil and in it cook both pastas. (Check the cooking times for both types of pasta so that you can time them properly.) Drain.

Return the pasta to the pot and toss with the reserved butter and garlic mixture, the cheese and salt and pepper to taste. To serve, top the individual portions with additional cheese.

Combine fat, nuts and oats in a food processor or chop to a rough, chunky mass, not a paste, using a meat cleaver.

Heat in a saucepan, stirring until fat begins to run freely. Remove from heat and stir in remaining ingredients. Press into muffin pans and chill until set.

Roll out the dough it's cooking cutting time

See story on Taste front.

WREATH COOKIES
2 hard-boiled large egg yolks
2 large eggs, separated
2 cups granulated sugar
2 cups all purpose flour
2 sticks (1 cup) unsalted butter, soft

Roll 1 tablespoon of the dough into a four-inch rope. Form the rope into a ring, overlapping the ends and transfer to a lightly greased cookie sheet. Make rings with remaining dough in the same manner and arrange them 2 inches apart on the cookie sheets.

Allow to cool 1 minute on sheet, then transfer to racks to cool completely. These cookies can be made three weeks in advance and kept frozen between sheets of waxed paper in airtight containers. Makes about 40 wreaths.

NO TIME TO MEASURE DOUBLE NUT CHIP COOKIES
1 box yellow cake mix
1 stick butter, melted
1 egg
one handful chocolate chips
1 handful chopped nuts
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup margarine
1/4 cup sugar
1 unbleached egg
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine cake mix, butter and egg in a large bowl. Mix at low speed with an electric mixer until just blended. Stir in chocolate chips, nuts and half the almonds. Shape dough into equal sized balls. Press top of balls into remaining almonds and place on a lightly greased baking sheet, 1 inch apart. Bake in a preheated 375 degree oven for 9-11 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool 2 minutes on baking sheet, remove to cooling racks. Makes 3-3 1/2 dozen.

YVONNE CHRISTENSEN'S SUGAR-BUTTER CUT-OUTS
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup margarine
1/4 cup sugar
1 unbleached egg
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine flour and salt in another bowl. Gradually add to flour. Stir with fork until mixture forms large clumps. Press with fingers to form ball. Flatten between hands to form a 5-6-inch pancake. Roll pancake between unfloured sheets of wax paper. Peel off top sheet, flip into 9 inch pie plate.

Don't forget those favorite Winner Diners. I know a lot of people clip them out. Call me at 953-2105 or write Keely Wygonik, Taste editor, 38251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150.

Combine flour and salt in another bowl. Gradually add to flour. Stir with fork until mixture forms large clumps. Press with fingers to form ball. Flatten between hands to form a 5-6-inch pancake. Roll pancake between unfloured sheets of wax paper. Peel off top sheet, flip into 9 inch pie plate.

Don't forget those favorite Winner Diners. I know a lot of people clip them out. Call me at 953-2105 or write Keely Wygonik, Taste editor, 38251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150.

Roll 1 tablespoon of the dough into a four-inch rope. Form the rope into a ring, overlapping the ends and transfer to a lightly greased cookie sheet. Make rings with remaining dough in the same manner and arrange them 2 inches apart on the cookie sheets.

Allow to cool 1 minute on sheet, then transfer to racks to cool completely. These cookies can be made three weeks in advance and kept frozen between sheets of waxed paper in airtight containers. Makes about 40 wreaths.

NO TIME TO MEASURE DOUBLE NUT CHIP COOKIES
1 box yellow cake mix
1 stick butter, melted
1 egg
one handful chocolate chips
1 handful chopped nuts
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup margarine
1/4 cup sugar
1 unbleached egg
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine cake mix, butter and egg in a large bowl. Mix at low speed with an electric mixer until just blended. Stir in chocolate chips, nuts and half the almonds. Shape dough into equal sized balls. Press top of balls into remaining almonds and place on a lightly greased baking sheet, 1 inch apart. Bake in a preheated 375 degree oven for 9-11 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool 2 minutes on baking sheet, remove to cooling racks. Makes 3-3 1/2 dozen.

YVONNE CHRISTENSEN'S SUGAR-BUTTER CUT-OUTS
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup margarine
1/4 cup sugar
1 unbleached egg
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine flour and salt in another bowl. Gradually add to flour. Stir with fork until mixture forms large clumps. Press with fingers to form ball. Flatten between hands to form a 5-6-inch pancake. Roll pancake between unfloured sheets of wax paper. Peel off top sheet, flip into 9 inch pie plate.

On Jan. 13 we will be celebrating our 100th Winner Dinner. Help me choose the three most popular Winner Diners.

Better Crocker tip of the week: Crepes have the distinction of being a very dressy dessert without being difficult. Fill crepes with vanilla pudding, drizzle with raspberry sauce and top with a dollop of whipped cream and a sprig of mint.

"Detroit: Santa Isn't Coming to Town???", a locally produced half-hour Christmas special featuring Detroit-area celebrities, airs Monday, December 16, at 8 p.m. on WJBK-TV 2.

The story unfolds when Santa Claus, played by WOMC-FM morning personality Tom Ryan, announces that he is skipping this year's Detroit Thanksgiving Parade due to a severe economic crunch at the North Pole. Instead, Santa has accepted an offer of "a million billion dollars" to appear in a Thanksgiving Parade in a foreign country.

Stunned city officials begin interviewing possible replacements for Santa, including a deadpan Maurice "Mr. Belvedere" Lezell practicing his best "ho, ho, ho." In the meantime, four local children take matters into their own hands, inviting Santa to come to Detroit on a fact-finding mission with hopes of changing his mind.

The kids escort Santa around town, showing him such highlights as Belle Isle and taking him to see local celebrities who try to convince him to appear in the Detroit parade. The final stop on the tour is a visit to the home of Santa's favorite baseball announcer Ernie Harwell for a last-ditch pitch.

As Santa struggles with the dilemma of disappointing the children of Detroit or taking the million billion dollars, he is reminded by one of the kids that Christmas is about giving, not getting. The story concludes with TV news coverage of the Detroit Thanksgiving Parade, revealing the outcome of Santa's decision.

"Detroit: Santa Isn't Coming to Town???" was written and produced by Tom Delisle and shot at locations in and around Detroit by TV 2 photographer Bob Berg.

HOROSCOPE

by C.C. Clark

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)
A disagreement with a loved one could get blown out of proportion. Try to look at the situation objectively and compromise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)
You can only take so much from people before you rebel, and this time you're in the right. Just be sure to check your facts before you go off on that tear.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
The beginning of the week may have you running around like a crazy person, but things will settle down in a few days.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20)
You'll stay busy at work or school, but that's just the way you like it. Because you're not one to sit idle for long, new projects will please you immensely.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
An elderly person may give you advice and you would do well to take it. Financial matters should be taken seriously at this time.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Don't question things you don't really want to know the answer to. Keeping your nose out of other people's business is tough, but necessary.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
You've got to stop burning the candle at both ends. You are leaving yourself open to every germ that crosses your path. Take care of yourself.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
You may have to make a major career decision in the near future. Try to laugh at situations over which you have no control.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)
Conversations with loved ones will soothe your frazzled nerves. Be sure to show your appreciation to those who listen to your troubles.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)
You must make a difficult decision concerning a co-worker or close friend. The truth may be nasty, but it must be told. Try to be tactful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)
Keep personal issues out of the workplace or face the consequences. Gossip will tear your personal life to shreds if you're not careful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21)
Try to open your mind to new possibilities. Don't assume those around you can read your thoughts; explain what you need.

After 50 Christmases, Bob Hope's a regular-issue Santa

Yule special features Culkin, McEntire, AP gridiron team

by Suzanne Gill

"Let's put on a show!" That was the stock solution for bluesbusters from Mickey Rooney's Andy Hardy to South Pacific's Nellie the nurse. But, as any high school thespian will tell you, it's easier said than done.

Except when Bob Hope does it. For 50 years — ever since he came across the fledgling USO during World War II — Hope has been putting on shows for troops stationed at bases and aboard ships from Asia to the Middle East. And for four decades, he's been entertaining the civilian populace on television. In the opinion of the U.S. Air Force, Hope's earned his oak-leaf clusters, which are to be presented to him as part of this year's Christmas special, airing Wednesday, Dec. 18, on NBC.

Hope's on-screen producer is daughter Linda Hope, who seems to have the master chef's recipe for success close at hand as she draws up the guest list for one of her dad's specials.

"What I've been trying to do," she says, "is get some of the hottest people around in their respective fields. For this show, I wanted to have a child, because my dad works particularly well with children, and also because it's Christmas. So I said to myself, 'Who's the biggest child star around?' and Macaulay Culkin of course comes to mind."

Typical of Hope guests, Culkin was eager to accept the invitation, but already rather busy with other commitments. Still, Hope is Hope, and a deal was struck with 20th Century Fox to spring the child actor from the set of "Home Alone 2" for a couple of days to do the Christmas show.

A few more phone calls and country music's Reba McEntire and Carolyn Sapp, Miss America 1992 ("My dad worked with her for a charity show in Florida about two months ago and thought she was a very talented young woman, and said, 'Let's see if we can get her for the Christmas show.'") were added to the roster for a show taped between Dec. 7 and 15 in Colorado Springs, Colo., the site of the U.S. Air Force Academy, and Nashville, Tenn.

Also featured this year is a tribute to comedian Redd Foxx ("because my dad loved Redd Foxx, and Redd went with him on a couple of those overseas Christmas tours") that includes a memorable sketch from the 1972 Christmas show that saw Foxx playing Santa.

An annual highlight is the singing of "Silver Bells," a latter-day holiday standard Hope introduced in the 1951 movie "The Lemon Drop Kid." He's included it as a duet in 15 shows, and this year asked that wife Dolores, whose singing voice still earns well-justified praise, join him on the stage.

Because taping of the show would be completed just three days before its scheduled air date, with guests (including the Associated Press All American college football team) flying in from all over, producer Linda Hope has developed some contingency plans, but she says her father usually gets what he needs for a show — from guests to weather.

"My father has been really amazing with the weather," she recalls. "Last Christmas we were in Bermuda, and we were out on a beach doing a sketch which was the final piece of the show. All of a sudden, the rain came up. But we had everything set up, so we went ahead and did the thing, and we were just going to do it one more time to take off any rough edges, and we got through three quarters of it and it started raining, so we at least had everything in the can, as they say."

Although showman Hope has been heard to say that he puts himself in his daughter's hands during production of the television specials, she insists with a laugh that "he's being very kind, but he's the man who's been doing it all these years."

"I deal with the scheduling — the nuts and bolts part of it." She laughs again. "He's very cute to say that."

And now, for the fiftieth year and counting, on with the show.

Rise and fall
of Russian Empire

By Dan Rice

Thanks to gremlins in the Kremlin, the superpower that was the Soviet Union seems to be crumbling, to the dismay of no one but American defense contractors. When Red Empire first aired on English TV in 1989 it was hailed as "the definitive history of Russia." Now updated, this documentary uses eyewitness accounts to trace the history of the world's largest nation from the fall of Czar Nicholas II to the failed coup d'etat against Gorbachev, and its aftermath. Part of Time Machine With Jack Perkins, the seven-part series begins Friday, Dec. 13, on A&E.

Hark, the heralded angel sings. Celebrated opera singer Jessye Norman performs a special recital from the Cathedral of Notre Dame de Paris on A&E Stage, premiering Tuesday, Dec. 10. In Jessye Norman at Notre Dame, the diva offers an eclectic selection of sacred music, spirituals and Christmas carols.

Switching to down-home harmonies with the emphasis on brotherhood, on Saturday, Dec. 14, TNN's The Staller Bros Show welcomes guests Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers.

LET'S TALK

Write to 'Beverly Hills' cast in, er, Beverly Hills

By Taylor Michaels

Q: Please give me an address where I can write to Jason Priestley and Luke Perry of Beverly Hills, 90210.

—Ronnie Edington, Redwing, Minn.
A: You can write them c/o Beverly Hills, 90210, Fox Broadcasting Company, P.O. Box 900, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90213.

Q: I would like to know whom to write concerning bringing back old programs such as Six Million Dollar Man, Bionic Woman, Incredible Hulk, Little House on the Prairie and many more. There are no decent shows on for children or adults anymore. —Jill Appelhanz, Montrose, Colo.

A: All of those shows are available in syndication, so you need to write your local stations. They are the ones who need to know what the public wants. In the meantime, why don't you check out Quantum Leap, MacGyver, Northern Exposure, Superboy and Star Trek: The Next Generation? You should probably also check out what's on your local PBS station. Public television is not the dull, dry television it used to be.

Q: Whatever happened to The Party Machine With Nia Peoples? Is it in hiatus? —Trena Harris, Tenaha, Texas.

A: The show was canceled due to poor ratings.

Q: Would it be possible for you to provide the address of the producer or director of Monday Night Football? I would like to offer some comments about the presentation. —J. Kelly Unger, Brooksville, Miss.

A: Send your comments to Geoffrey Mason, Executive Producer, ABC Sports, 47 West 66th Street, 13th Floor, New York, N.Y., 10023.

Q: Could you please tell me what movies Rebecca Schaeffer was in? Are there any biographies on her? —Michael Canavan, Montrose, Calif.

A: The actress, who co-starred with Pam Dawber in My Sister Sam, appeared in the films Radio Days and Scenes From the Class Struggle in Beverly Hills. She was shot to death on July 18, 1989, at her home in Los Angeles by Robert Bardo, an obsessed fan. One psychiatrist described Bardo as more disturbed than Mark David Chapman, the man who shot John Lennon. According to a Waldenbooks staffer, there are no books about Schaeffer yet.

Jason Priestley

Q: I am a big fan of Star Trek: The Next Generation and was wondering if you could give me some information on Patrick Stewart and Marina Sirtis? Also, is that Stewart's voice we hear on the Pontiac commercials? —D. Long, Beaufort, N.C.

A: Stewart grew up in the English town of Mirfield. For 25 years, he has been an associate artist of the Royal Shakespeare Company. He appeared in the BBC productions I, Claudius, Smiley's People and Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy. American filmgoers will remember him as Gurney Hales in Dune, which was directed by David Lynch.

Sirtis was born in East London to Greek parents and was brought up in North London. Sirtis attended the Guild Hall School of Music and Drama, and after graduating became a member of the Worthington Repertory Theatre. She has worked extensively in British television, musical theater and repertory companies throughout Europe. She appeared in The Wicked Lady with Faye Dunaway and in the European touring version of Rocky Horror Picture Show. Sirtis recently played a cameo role in Waxwork II: Adventures in Time.

The folks who make Pontiac commercials seem to have a knack for picking distinctive voices. It is indeed Stewart's voice you hear on the voice-overs. The woman singing the theme is pop star Laura Brannigan. Previously, singer Richard Marx did the commercials with his mother.
