Utilities spar over gas service

Consumers Power wants a piece of the action as new houses filled with new homeowners move into Canton. The township board introduced an ordinance granting the company a franchise.

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Consumers Power is seeking a natural gas franchise in Canton, but the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is fighting. CP wants a piece of the action as more and more of the 23,104 acres comprising Canton are filled with houses, retail businesses and factories. CP already serves natural gas customers in Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Westland and Wayne.

Now it plans to move into Canton, but needs permission from the township board.

Township officials seemed pleased Tuesday with the prospect of pitting CP against MichCon, which currently has the only gas franchise in Canton.

If the township board grants CP a 30-year franchise, the utility must then gain approval from the Michigan Public Services Commission.

With that in hand, CP would be free to compete with MichCon to provide gas to new subdivisions.

CP area manager Bill Pike and MichCon spokesman Paul Ganz were on hand at Tuesday's board of trustees meeting as the board voted 6-1 to introduce, table and publish a proposed ordinance granting a franchise to CP. Trustees will likely vote again in October on final approval.

Pike said CP could begin installing gas lines next spring. "It would be a pleasure and honor to serve this community," Pike told the board.

Canton Historical Society members say there will be no problem filling up a new barn with memories of the past.

"We want a little room to work on some of the machines, restore them and bring them back to life so future generations can enjoy them," said Joan Palmer, president of the Canton Historical Society.

Work began recently on a 40-by-64-foot barn behind the historic Bartlett-Travis House on Ridge Road in the Cherry Hill Historic District Village. The society will use the barn to store antique farm implements. Right now, the equipment is stored in members' barns and other storage facilities, such as the Canton Department of Public Works.

Among the implements that will be moved to the barn when it is done are a carriage used by former township Supervisor Phil Dingley. "He rode in it with his mother and father when he was a young boy," said Tillie Schultz, society

Library's Friends take to the links

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI

The weather was beautiful, the people had fun and the food was great.

That was pretty much the consensus among participants of the Friends of the Canton Public Library's first golf outing — Fore Friends — Sept. 13 at Pheasant Run Golf Club.

"I think it was wonderfully successful for a first time," said Jean Tabor, library director. "I know the Friends were pretty excited about it."

Approximately 91 golfers played in the outing that served as a fund-raiser for the Friends organization.

Marcia Barker, library volunteer and Friends coordinator, drove her golf cart hole to hole during the outing to be sure all was well on the links with the golfers who gave their day to the effort.

Unfortunately, there were no holes-in-one that would have nabbed golfers incredible prizes, such as a 1995 Dodge Stratus, courtesy of Century

Mettetal closed temporarily

The Canton Plymouth Mettetal Airport will be closed this coming week while the runway is resurfaced.

Economic club debuts

The public is invited to the seventh season of the Canton Economic Club. The first meeting of the season will be at noon Wednesday, Sept. 20. The guest speaker is the Rev. William Cunningham, founder of Focus: HOPE.

The economic club, which will continue to be sponsored by Rudolph-Libbe, also has a new co-sponsor, the Canton Observer. The economic club is moving to the Summit on the Park community center. Susan Rosiek, managing editor of the Observer Newspapers, is the new president.

Tickets are $15 for the luncheon. Season tickets are available. For reservations, call Joan Noricks, executive director of the Canton Community Foundation, which hosts the economic club, 981-3002.

Evening at the Summit

The public is invited to attend a preview gala at the new Summit on the Park community center Saturday, Dec. 2. The event will benefit the Canton Historic District Commission and the Canton Historical Society.

Tickets are $40 per person or $75 per couple. Admission includes a dine-around that will feature food stations and champagne and wine. For tickets contact Cindy Bastion, ticket chair, at 981-5991, or 44955 Glengary, Canton, 48188.

America's Most Wanted

America's Most Wanted Car Club of Canton, which has hosted the classic car show at the Liberty Fest, was recently honored by the Canton Township Board of Trustees for their charitable work in the community.

This year, the club raised about $2,100 for the Penickton Center for the Blind and $2,244 for Western Wayne County Special Olympics. In 1994, the club raised $1,200 for Special Olympics and also collected and donated toys and food to the Salvation Army during the holidays.

Police and fire needs dominate proposed budget

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Canton Township's proposed 1996 budget has been completed and is expected to be approved by the board of trustees soon. With an 8.67-percent increase in revenue — thanks mostly to new home construction — there is more money to spend, but a greater population to serve as well. The proposed $21.3-million budget would go into effect Jan. 1 when township officials adopt it. Of that total, $6.5 million (30.42 percent) is budgeted for police, $3.5 million (16.58 percent) for fire department, $1.2 million (5.8 percent) for recreation, $1.7 million (8.18 percent) for purchase of new equipment and capital improvements, $2.2 million (10.35 percent) for public works. General government and administration categories account for $6 million (27.93 percent) of the budget.

Much of the additional revenue is being spent on new hires. In 1994 there were 234 township government employees. Almost 20 were added this year, and four are expected to come aboard in 1996, bringing the grand total to 258.5 jobs.

Many of the new jobs are clerk/typist positions. Some are maintenance. Four are additional public safety officers, formerly called dispatchers, bringing the total to 12 PSSOs and 86 all together in the police division of public safety.

John Spencer said additional dispatching help is needed because it has been necessary to use patrol officers in the radio room. Police are also set to spend $369,000 on equipment, including five patrol cars, two bulletproof vests, cameras in the cell area, 14 computers and a plethora of radio equipment.

The radio staff is paid for with Canton's $156,000 share of a 4-percent fee on phone bills collected by Ameritech for Wayne County communities.

The fire division of the Public Safety Department adds no new positions for 1996, making do with a staff of 45. Nearly $400,000 will be spent on equipment including a $500,000 fire truck (half of the cost is in the 1996 budget, half in 1997), eight kitchen chairs, a gas monitor, six radios and four computers.

Also planned is construction of a new fire headquarters at Canton Center and Proctor roads. The building should be completed in 1997.

The fund balances, or rainy-day funds, for police and fire divisions are nearly healthy again after being depleted in 1994.

The police division fund balance shrunk from $863,000 in 1992 to $10,000 in 1994. It is expected to be $249,000 in 1996.

The fire division fund balance shrunk from $426,000 in 1992 to $13,000 in 1994. It is expected to be $329,000 in 1996.

Spencer said the fund balances got as low as they did because township board members declined to support an increase in police and fire taxes as long as fund balances were high. Police and fire millage rates were raised last year.

Elsewhere in the budget:

■ About $619,000 will be transferred out of the general fund to help pay for construction of Pheasant Run Golf Course. The township will get $300,000 of this back, Spencer said, once property adjacent to the course is sold to builders. Pheasant Run is expected to be sufficiently profitable in 1996, Spencer said, to subsidize the new Summit center. "Probably the first year or so the community center is going to need support," Spencer said. ■ Improvements totaling $30,000 are scheduled for the Bartlett/Travis House site on Ridge near Cherry Hill.

■ A $30,000 modular storage building will be purchased for the Heritage Park amphitheater.

■ A $16,000 warning siren will be purchased for Heritage Park.

■ About $150,000 is set aside to resurface the township hall parking lot.

■ A curb and pavers will be installed in Heritage Park for $70,000.

■ Work inside town hall, including remodeling of the recreation office, will run $113,000. Two $60,000 rooftop airhandler units will be purchased for town hall.

Property taxes aren't only source of revenue

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Canton Township will collect and spend about $21.3 million in 1996, but not all of it comes from property taxes.

Almost one-fourth of township revenue is state tax money that the state shares with townships and cities.

Revenue from licenses, permits and services is 7.73 percent of the total.

Court, revenue and interest income account for 2.56 percent and 4.27 percent, respectively. Property taxes provide township government with 60.83 percent of the money it spends.

For a property owner in the Plymouth-Canton school district whose house has a taxable value of $75,000, the annual property tax bite is $2,331 based on a millage rate of 31.0839.

However, township taxes — including police, fire and library — account for just 10.9917 mills of that amount. The remainder goes to schools, 8.6 mills; Wayne County, 6.73 mills; the Regional Education Services Agency, 1.9971 mills; Schoolcraft College, 1.8751 mills; the Hamtramck Jail, 0.96 mill; and the Huron-Clinton Metroparks, 0.23 mill.

To break the township property taxes down further, millage rates for 1996 are set at 5.1508 for police, 3.0195 for fire and 1.11 for general township operations. The library is a separate legal entity and survives with 1.6394 mills.

Back in 1973, Canton property owners were taxed at a rate of 5.05 mills to support township government. A 1.5-mill fire levy was introduced in 1977 and a 2-mill police levy in 1977.

The general operations millage dropped over the years to 2.32 mills in 1981 and 1.11 in 1988, where it has remained since.

Although rapidly rising property taxes were once a problem in some areas, including Canton, 1994 property tax reform capped taxable property value increases at 5 percent or the inflation rate, whichever is lower. That means that the most anyone's taxable value could rise this year is 2.6 percent. Only when the property is sold will the taxable value be reset to reflect the true value.

Tigers outing: Nearly 40 Plymouth Salvation Army youth and Plymouth Opportunity House tenants were recently treated to a Detroit Tigers game.

Tiger outing offers treat for one and all

About 40 Salvation Army Youth from Plymouth and Canton and Plymouth Opportunity House tenants were recently treated to a Detroit Tigers game, thanks to Plymouth Kiwanians and the Salvation Army.

"It ended up to be a super day," said Dave Siegrist of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, which helped chaperone the trip. The event was organized after Siegrist found himself holding 40 tickets to the Aug. 20 Tigers' game. That happened after an earlier Kiwanis golf outing was rained out, and tickets intended as prizes weren't distributed.

Noting that a Kiwanis slogan is "Young Children are Priority One," Siegrist said he called the baseball club and asked if the tickets could be used to bring Salvation Army Youth members and Plymouth Opportunity House tenants to a game. "They said fine, go ahead," he recalled.

Joining Siegrist to chaperone the event was Bill Stern, social science supervisor with the Salvation Army. "There were some kids that have never been to a baseball game, kids that don't get the opportunity to do things like this, this is what we tried to gear it for," Stern said. The group enjoyed hot dogs, peanuts, ice cream and more. "Everyone expressed their appreciation with many thank-yous," Siegrist said. "A great time was had by all, as it was a super day. Seven home runs were hit and there were plenty of runs scored," he said. The Tigers lost the game, in 10 innings.

Siegrist said Stern said they hope the outing can become an annual event.

Student radio station covers football games

WSDP, 88.1 FM, is kicking off its fall sports season with live broadcasts of Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth Salem varsity football. This season WSDP's broadcast team includes Canton junior John Kruger and Canton senior Chris Sample. Kruger, the 1995-96 sports director, brought listeners Canton and Salem football last fall. The broadcast schedule this season is: Sept. 22, Plymouth Salem vs. Farmington; Sept. 29, Plymouth Canton vs. Livonia Churchill; Oct. 6, Plymouth Canton vs. Walled Lake Western; Oct. 13, Plymouth Salem vs. North Farmington; Oct. 20, Plymouth Salem playoff; Oct. 27, Plymouth Salem vs. Plymouth Canton. Preparing: Volunteer Jeanne Dumas readies clothing for customers at the Plymouth-Canton Community Clothing Bank.

Bank clothes 800 in style

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

If you press them, volunteers Virginia Kocik, Pam Lyle and Jeanne Dumas will admit that operating the Plymouth-Canton Community Clothing Bank is hard work. They should know; on their own, the three have run the clothing bank, assisting more than 300 families each school year, for the past 12 years.

But their task is more than accepting clothing, organizing it, and giving it away to needy families who live in the school district.

Families who meet federal free- and reduced-lunch income guidelines are eligible to receive — twice a year — free wardrobes for each member of the family.

The rewards come when Kocik, Lyle and Dumas hear from families they've helped at the clothing bank, headquartered behind Central Middle School, 650 Church in downtown Plymouth.

"If it weren't for the clothing bank, I just don't know what our family would do," said a woman from Canton Commons. "My husband is working for minimum wage, and I'm working part time. It's a day-to-day struggle just to make ends meet. At least with the clothing bank, clothes, shoes and underwear are a big load off our minds."

The clothing bank uses financial contributions from the community to purchase new socks and underwear to give away. Torn, stained or out-of-style clothing isn't accepted.

A single mom who's used the clothing bank said, "I'm back in school, and basically, I don't know what I'd do without this tremendous assistance. I hope for my family, but for all those who are struggling to provide for the needs of their children with meager resources."

Carole Quattro Levine, director of the Educational Excellence Foundation, assists the clothing bank with contributions from the foundation.

"There's a perception that they're handing out rags, and it's not true at all. This is good quality clothing. People who come to the clothing bank want to feel comfortable with their peers," she said.

Levine has tremendous admiration for the volunteers. "These women aren't looking for glory. They've donated 12 years of their lives. That's a story in itself."

Inventory: Pam Lyle (left) and Virginia Kocik organize clothing in preparation for a new year at the Plymouth-Canton Community Clothing Bank.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education publicly recognized the three recently with its volunteer award.

Levine said plenty of area families are eligible for help from the clothing bank, but are probably unaware of it. "About 800 clients a year are serviced; that number could easily be doubled," she said.

The bank, housed in a 17-year-old portable classroom with a heating and cooling system that leaves lots to be desired, stocks everything from blue jean skirts, belts, hats, raincoats and winter coats. "That's not to say there aren't needs."

"We really need boys' and girls' pants and jeans, size 5 and up. And boys' pajamas we rarely have," said Kocik, who began working at the clothing bank when its founder, Flossie Tonda, was still volunteering.

Linda Bright of Plymouth Township is a teacher with the Head Start program for youngsters from needy families. She's donated to the clothing bank for 16 years "because I see how it helps families. That makes it real. It's just really neat."

Lyle got involved 11 years ago after she met Kocik at one of her son's ball games. Both women have sons who graduated from Canton High School.

"Our sons played baseball together, and at a game, she said, 'I've got a job for you. Eleven years later, I'm still here.'"

Volunteering "is just like an upper. It lifts you up," she said. "We've made wonderful friendships."

Dumas volunteered after reading a newspaper article about the bank's need for help. "I'm still here because volunteering makes you feel good about helping other people," she said. "All of us feel pretty lucky in life. This is a way to give back."

Kocik says, "I love it when a woman comes with her children, tells us she's finishing her schooling and doesn't need us any longer. We feel we've really helped these people."

None of it would be possible without the community's generosity, she added. "We certainly wouldn't be here at all if it weren't for the continued support of the Plymouth-Canton community, both in clothing donations and cash donations," Kocik said. The Clothing Bank is open while school is in session 9-11:30 a.m. and 1-3:30 p.m. Tuesdays. For an appointment, call 416-6179.

Doing her part: Virginia Kocik of Canton has developed plenty of upper-body strength moving boxes and bags from the warehouse to the Clothing Bank and back.

Aircraft group, state planning new hangar at Mettetal site

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

The state department of aeronautics and Mettetal Airport's chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association have agreed to jointly finance and build a 5,000-square-foot hangar and community meeting room.

"It's not just a good deal for us," said EAA Chapter 113 President Ed Purdy. "It's beyond that."

The 90-member EAA chapter will pay about $3,000 for building permits and architect fees, then donate strong backs to perform the actual construction, Purdy said.

The state government, which owns Mettetal, will pay for everything else. That cost has not been determined yet.

The EAA members will operate and maintain the building and schedule use of the meeting room in exchange for 10 years of free rent.

The piece de resistance for EAA members is the building's 2,500-square-foot airplane hangar, where they will fabricate aircraft that are currently being built in garages and other less suitable places. The plans also include a workshop and storage area.

It is hoped that the Mettetal

Building: The design is "still pretty much in pencil," EAA Chapter 113 president Ed Purdy said, but the tentative design for the hangar/meeting room was presented to the Mettetal Airport Advisory Board Thursday.

Airport Advisory Board will approve the plan in October. Construction would begin in May, and a dedication would occur June 16.

Although aviation groups get priority for the new meeting room, other groups are to be given access, too.

The plan was presented to the airport advisory board Thursday. Trustee John Vergona, who represents Mettetal pilots on the board, worried that there won't be enough parking spaces at the new building.

"If you're going to open the door to where anybody can use it, you're going to have trouble with parking," he said. Purdy's tentative drawings show about 20 parking spots adjacent to the building.

Symphony seeks fond memories

It's been 50 years since the Plymouth Symphony started playing music in the community. To celebrate that milestone, the symphony is giving away 50 free tickets to its opening concert at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, at the Plymouth Salem High School auditorium, as well as a gala afterglow at John Cleveland's Water Club Grill.

To enter the contest, submit a postcard with your favorite Plymouth Symphony memory. A panel of three judges will award the three most memorable entries with a pair of tickets and recognition in a future edition of the Plymouth Observer. Also, 22 winners will be randomly selected.

Mail your postcards to: The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, PSO Memories, Attention: Promotion Manager, 36251 Schoolcraft Road, Livonia, Mich. 48150. The postcards must be received by 5 p.m. Monday, Oct. 2. All decisions and selections made by the judges are final.

Observer employees and their families and Plymouth Symphony Society employees and their families may not enter.

The judges are: Douglas Miller, mayor of Plymouth; Edith Schulte, a 50-year Plymouth Symphony member and cellist; and Tim Richard, a 25-year member of the Plymouth Symphony. The contest is only one event on tap for the Symphony League. The group will host a fall antique show 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 29, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30, at the Botsford Inn, 28000 Grand River in Farmington Hills.

Also, a preview party is scheduled for 7-9 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28, at the historic inn, owned by Crean Smith of Plymouth Township.

Attendance for the preview party is $20 per person. It's $4 each for the antique show. The nonprofit symphony raises about one-third of its annual budget through proceeds from this event.

Order for trial a relief for fiancée of slain man

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

The Westland fiancée of Dale Farr, a 23-year-old Wayne Memorial High graduate who was slain Aug. 25 in Inkster, said she is relieved that her boyfriend's accused killer has been ordered to stand trial.

"I'm hanging in there because of Dale," 21-year-old Dawn Marie Manier said Friday.

Manier lived with Farr in Canton Township before his death. They were supposed to be married this coming Saturday.

On Wednesday, Manier was in court when a 15-year-old Inkster boy was ordered by Inkster District Judge Sylvia James to stand trial for Farr's shooting death.

"I'll be in court every day," Manier said. "I want to make sure this kid pays. I want him to have to look me in the face."

Roger Dunn, who has been charged as an adult, was ordered to stand trial following a preliminary hearing in Inkster 22nd District Court.

Farr was shot in the back Aug. 25 after he and his younger brother, James, clashed with three teens who wanted to sell drugs to them on Middlebelt Road in Inkster.

The Farris refused the offer and drove off in their car, but one of the teens threw a stick and hit the vehicle, prompting the brothers to pull off of the road and confront the assailants, Inkster Police Detective Greg Hill has said.

A larger crowd closed in, and the Farr brothers began fleeing when Dunn allegedly opened fire with a .38-caliber handgun and shot Dale Farr in the back, police have said. He also is accused of trying to kill James Farr.

Dunn faces trial on charges of first-degree murder, assault with intent to murder and felony firearms possession. He could face life in prison if convicted.

Manier and Farr were high school sweethearts who planned to marry Saturday and go on a honeymoon to Walt Disney World. Instead, Farr was buried with his wedding ring.

The couple, both graduates of Wayne Memorial High, had lived together in Canton Township for 3 1/2 years before Farr's death. Manier has since returned to Westland.

Manier, devastated by Farr's killing, told the Observer that the assailant "took everything away from me."

Resident joins center staff, will focus on pool concerns

A 32-year-old Canton resident with many years of experience operating indoor pools is the new aquatics specialist at Canton's Summit on the Park community center.

Jim McNellis, a Westland native, started with the township on Sept. 6. He most recently served as aquatics director for the Jewish Community Center in Oak Park, and has also worked for various school districts, hotels, country clubs and YMCAs in the area of aquatics management. McNellis said he is pleased to be joining the Summit staff.

"I feel 'ecstatic' in a word," he said. "It's a great opportunity. I feel everyone here has a good feel for the mission of the Parks and Recreation department."

McNellis said he plans to offer a myriad of programming in the aquatics center at the Summit, including something for all ages. He will also host classes in life-guarding, CPR and first aid for the community.

The 14,000-square-foot aquatics center at the Summit will feature five family pools: a five-lane lap pool, zero-depth pool with active water features, 120-foot-long water slide with plunge pool, a lazy river where visitors can float, and a therapy pool or whirlpool.

McNellis is responsible for operations and programming of this area of the new building, which is scheduled to open later this year. Residents can expect many new programs, since this is the first community-owned pool in Canton. McNellis said he would attempt to make full use of the pool at all hours of operation.

A major focus for the new specialist will be opening up lines of communication with all age groups in the community. He hopes to develop a relationship with local schools, seniors and other community groups which will be using the pools, he said.

McNellis holds a bachelor's degree in psychology and English language/literature from Eastern Michigan University, and also took classes in the teaching field and considered teaching as a career. He worked his way through college coaching swimming and working around pools, and chose it as a career path when he graduated.

An avid reader, McNellis is single and lives with three cats and a dog, and has several other dogs who live with family members.

Residents encouraged to attend commissioner-hosted meetings

Commissioner Bruce Patterson of the 11th Commission District of Wayne County will be hosting regularly scheduled "Citizen Advisory Group" (C.A.G.'s) meetings, at the identified times.

High court says house sellers due county refund

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

If you sold your home in Wayne County since 1990, the county owes you a tax refund, the Michigan Supreme Court has ruled.

"We won. We're going after a refund of all illegally collected real estate transfer taxes collected from 1990 to the present," said Peter W. Macuga II, attorney for TACT, a Wayne County homeowners' group.

The refund would be worth about $60 to the seller of a $150,000 house.

The state's highest court threw out a 1981 real estate transfer tax because voters never had a chance to vote on it, in violation of the 1978 Headlee Amendment to the state constitution.

One justice, Elizabeth Weaver, wanted to require refunds back to 1981, when it was passed. "The Headlee Amendment provides that property taxes, other local taxes and state taxation and spending may not be increased above the limitations specified in the amendment without direct voter approval," she wrote.

"Nowhere within the 10 sections comprising the amendment is it stated that a tax imposed in violation of the constitution would become valid one year after its enactment."

Macuga, contacted at his Detroit law office, was unable to say how much the decision would cost the county treasury. "We don't know yet. Wayne County has not responded to our demand for documents," he said.

The county predicted "fiscal disaster" if it had to make refunds all the way back to 1981, according to Kevin Moody's oral arguments before the Supreme Court. His firm, Miller Canfield, represented the county on appeal.

Justices heard oral arguments in April and decided the case Aug. 22. The background:

In 1980 Michigan had a 55-cents per $500 real estate transfer tax. The Legislature passed a law allowing counties of more than two million population to raise it 20 cents to 75 cents. Only the 20-cent surcharge would be refundable. Only one county, Wayne, fit the definition. The County Board of Commissioners raised the rate on Feb. 19, 1981.

TACT, a group from the eastern suburbs, pointed to the 1978 Headlee Amendment to the state constitution which says, "Units of local government are hereby prohibited from levying any tax . . . or from increasing the rate of an existing tax . . . without the approval of a majority of the qualified electors . . ." It said a vote is mandatory.

The county argued it was a state tax.

A key question was whether the statute of limitations bars taxpayers from seeking relief in the 1990s. The statute requires a plaintiff to bring suit promptly when the alleged error is discovered.

The Supreme Court said it doesn't. "A cause of action for a refund . . . accrues at the time the tax is due," wrote Justice Patricia Boyle for the majority.

Her opinion said the clock started in June of 1990, when Harper Woods homeowner David Pochmara sold his home and discovered the tax.

Macuga said the class action suit benefits all who sold homes, even if they weren't parties to TACT's suit.

United Way campaign benefits local families

If you think the United Way isn't benefiting you or your neighbors, think again.

In 1994, at least 31,025 residents of Livonia and Redford were helped by United Way agencies. Community and special assistance services like Legal Aid, the Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC), the American Red Cross, and Farmington Area Advisory Council assisted local residents.

Others were touched by United Way-funded health services like the Alzheimer's Association, Michigan Cancer Foundation, Rehabilitation Institute of Michigan, and Visiting Nurses Association of Southeast Michigan.

Some families sought assistance from First Step, HAVEN, Neighborhood Service Organization, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Catholic Social Services, and Lutheran Family and Child Services.

Last year, at least 23,351 residents of Garden City, Inkster, Wayne and Westland were helped by United Way agencies. And 14,691 residents of Canton Township, Northville and Northville Township were helped. At least 10,363 residents of Plymouth and Plymouth Township were aided by United Way agencies.

Torch Drive 1995 hopes to raise $58.8 million during the campaign which began earlier this week and runs through Nov. 9, according to '95 chairman Theodor Cunningham.

This year's campaign slogan is "Touch a Life the United Way." "We must convey the message that everyone must give," said Cunningham. "Our goal is aggressive but, we feel, achievable for funds essential to the community."

Almost 90 cents of every dollar given goes to providing services, since only 10.5 percent is used for campaign and administrative costs. This is lower than the majority of other fund-raising campaigns.

Competition between CP and MichCon, Pike said, "is good for both of us, and it's good for the residents and this board."

Ganz argued that MichCon has been a good citizen in Canton and provided excellent service. "If we don't have 100 percent of the potential customers, we certainly have plans for 100 percent of the customers."

Ganz said MichCon has gas lines running down all the main roads in Canton and therefore is in a better position to serve future neighborhoods than CP.

CP would have to lay its line out to MichCon's line, Ganz said, and the public services commission wouldn't permit that.

Trustee Bob Shefferly was the only board member to vote against CP's franchise. "I think MichCon is doing a pretty good job," he said. "They've been a good citizen as far as I'm concerned. I just can't understand why we would need (CP). I don't like too much competition among utilities."

Trustee Phil Laloy said, "I like the idea of competition. I'm in business. I have a lot of competition. If you take care of the customer everything else takes care of itself."

Treasurer Elaine Kirchgatter said she is undecided, but leaning toward approving the franchise. "I'm not opposed to competition," she said. "In that respect I would tend to approve it."

Supervisor Tom Yack said he doesn't believe there are legal grounds on which to deny CP its franchise.

Another prized possession is the "honey wagon" — actually a manure spreader — that was used to carry the Cow Chip Queen and her court of a bygone era in Canton during parades and other events.

"We've also got furniture that when the house opens we can use in there," said Evelyn Aksamit, society member. The original stove from the Travis house also has been stored waiting for its debut in its former home.

The wooden barn, which will feature two doors — one a regular one, the other a service door — as well as windows, will complement the Bartlett-Travis house. The barn also will feature a loft and an area where equipment and antiques can be worked on.

Right now, members of the society keep the machinery in good order. Roy Schultz, for example, oils the necessary parts of the machinery stored in his barn and ensures that the antiques remain healthy.

"The pitch of the roof will be so it is consistent with the architecture and the character of the era," said Virginia Parker, member of the society and the Canton Historic District Commission.

The society continues to raise money to pay for the $27,000 barn. A flea market — the first for the society — in August helped raise money for the effort. Originally, society members were going to raise the barn themselves. On second thought, they found that having a contractor do it was about the same price.

"The painting, though, is up to us," Palmer said. The barn will boast the same toasted sesame color as will the Bartlett-Travis house.

The Historic District Commission, which is funded by the township, prepared the site ready for the barn. Some brush was cleared and sand brought in for the start of construction.

"We're paying for the sand and the site work," said Canton trustee Melissa McLaughlin, commission member.

The commission and the society are working together on the Bartlett-Travis farm to develop programs and activities. When the barn is complete and the equipment moved, the public is expected to be able to view the antiques that represent a bygone farming era in Canton.

Handgun permit battle opens at the capitol corral

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Law enforcement chiefs issued a shrill call for defeat of a handgun permit bill, due to come before a House panel in Lansing later this month.

Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair and allies Tuesday pictured police officers as constitutionally sworn professional protectors of society and would-be handgun carriers as "criminals who have avoided conviction, hot-heads, alcohol abusers, drug abusers and people prone to domestic violence," plus malcontents with "a vigilante mentality" who are angry at bosses and spouses.

But the bill's chief backer said "the record does not support the paranoia at the front table." Tom Washington, executive director of Michigan United Conservation Clubs and president of the National Rifle Association, countered there has been no great increase in gun deaths in states like Florida, Texas and Virginia that have eased their concealed weapons permit laws.

"This has got to hurt," Washington said of O'Hair's anti-CW effort. Object of the battle is House Bill 4720, sponsored by Rep. Alan Crosey, R-DeWitt, in the House Judiciary Committee. Crosey's bill would eliminate 83 county gun boards, where Washington says some law enforcement officials "unconstitutionally deny concealed weapons permits to all but cops and ex-cops. The MUCC leader cited Livingston County as one example.

HB 4720, if adopted, would make Michigan a "shall issue" state — an applicant must be is-

Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair was among the law enforcement chiefs who last week issued a call for defeat of a handgun permit bill, due to come before a House panel in Lansing later this month.

Some 60,000 Michiganders now have such permits. Conventional wisdom holds that 4 percent of the population will seek CW permits if the law is eased — a total of 360,000. Washington insisted that number is high because Florida, a larger state, didn't reach the 360,000 mark until eight years after changing its law.

"Issuance of gun permits must remain a local decision," said Attorney General Frank Kelley, supporting O'Hair's group. "People are killing each other over fenderbenders (minor auto collisions)," State Police Commander Michael Robinson, citing a recent poll commissioned by the group, said "69 percent of our citizens don't support an increase in CW permits, and 71 percent believe accidental shootings will increase" if the law is eased.

Of the poll, Washington said, "You get the result you want. They pre-determined the result." Of the poll results, he said, "There's not a shred of evidence to support that."

Ron Deziel, Dearborn police chief and president of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, said that under current law "anyone who desires to carry a CW must demonstrate a need to a gun board." The Crosey bill would "promote a vigilante mentality."

Washington's response: Ex-police officers, lawyers and doctors, who already are able to obtain CW permits, have no particular need. "We've got slaughter on the streets right now." There aren't enough police now to protect people adequately. Prosecutors who plea-bargain cases and judges who sentence lightly are to blame for gun-toting criminals on the streets. "Recidivism is the problem," Washington said.

"Guns are used a million times a year by people other than police to thwart crime," Washington added.

Flint Mayor Woodrow Stanley objected that the Crosey bill "shifts the burden of proof from the applicant to law enforcement. We can't do that." And Saginaw County Sheriff Terry Jungel said, "this is not a constitutional issue; it's a public safety issue."

But Washington insisted it is indeed a constitutional issue because "Every person has a right to keep and bear arms for the defense of himself and the state," according to the Michigan Constitution. "When we are going to start trusting the vast majority of Michigan citizens?" he asked.

Refer to House Bill 4720 when writing your state representative, State Capitol, Lansing 48909. The House Judiciary Committee hasn't scheduled a hearing, but its regular meeting time is 9 a.m. Wednesdays in Room 428 of the State Capitol. The committee clerk's telephone number is (517) 373-0554.

Give your friends the time of day

Let time be on your side this holiday season by making some of your gift selections nice and early. A classic time piece is always a thoughtful and appropriate gift for everyone on the list. Watches are not only necessities, but stylish and often glamorous accessories.

When you think about it, a watch could also be an extension of one's personality. After all, it's the only piece of functional jewelry that's worn every single day for work, for play, and for nights on the town.

When choosing a gift of time, watch for the following personality traits.

If he is a risk taker or a free spirit, consider Breitling's new "Emergency" watch, which emits a distress signal heard 230 miles away. Perfect for the bungee jumper or the mountain climber, not to mention the frantic commodities trader. Help! Look for Breitling watches at MB Jewelry Design, 2884 Northwestern in Southfield, where Tony Ferrari also recommends the Chronomat, featuring a mother-of-pearl dial, an automatic movement and a light gold and steel bracelet ($5,200). Ideal for the adventurer, the Chronomat displays Greenwich time on a smaller watch face on the hand. Breitling watches from $700.

Is he cool, collected and classic? If he goes for traditional tweeds rather than flashy red sportcoats, he'll love Patek Philippe's Calatrava, a favorite since 1932. The hobnail patterned bezel, roman numerals and tasteful leather band cry understated elegance ($8,850) at Jules B. Schubot Jewellers and Tiffany & Co. in Troy. Did he coin the term "workday casual"? If his "uniform" is khakis and a polo shirt and he'd rather root for the home team than take to the playing field, he probably prefers a sporty timepiece that is functional, yet fashionable. Consider the "hot" Swiss Army brand pocket watch, a thoroughly '90s variation on a classic theme. Swing the bold red bezel and leather belt loop from hiking shorts or tuck it in your vest pocket ($150). Call 1-800-442-2706 for store information.

Other great sports watches include the TAG Heuer Sisel (Sports Elegance) Leather and the Beane & Mercer Hampton Tonneau with vintage styling and a tobacco calf leather strap (MB Jewelry Design). As for the lady on your list, if she's the driven professional woman who strives to be the best in the boardroom and on the golf course, her watch should be both elegant and distinctive. She deserves Patek Philippe's Golden Elipse ($8,500) at Schubot's and Tiffany & Co.

The woman who wears diamonds with ease and as graceful in sweatpants as she is in a ball gown, needs a glamorous watch. The epitome of elegance is Patek Philippe's diamond-framed Gondolo bracelet ($22,300) at Schubot's and Tiffany. But Omega's softly restyled Constellation is equally as feminine and sexy (from $1,100 at MB Jewelry Design).

For the fun-loving trendsetter, a playful watch is the right choice. Nicole Miller's new watch line splashes witty phrases on the band ($95-$190) at Adamo in Birmingham and Jax's charm watch features three interchangeable trinkets that attach to a leather strap ($75).

Retailers help define rules of casual dress

Retailers are putting big bucks behind Business Casual. Marketing strategies include textbooks, brochures, worksite consultations, and mall fashion shows. Aw! Come on! What's so complicated about wearing khakis and a polo shirt?

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Listening to Hudson's director of style explain the retailer's new Workday Casual Campaign, was giving me a headache.

"We look at Business Casual as almost a science in our new book, 'The Complete Guide To Dressing for Workday Casual,' Mariana Keros insisted. "We identify three working environments and explain how to dress casually for each. "People either work in an informal office environment, a semi-formal office environment, or a formal office environment. Each has a unique dress code for days when employees can dress casually. For example, you can wear jeans in an informal office, but not in a semi-formal office where you should wear khakis or a jumper, which would not be acceptable in a formal office where you should wear a pantsuit, or blazer and skirt, even on casual days. Understand?"

"Well, yes. But what if you're calling on a client on a designated casual dress day?" I posed.

Business best: Mervyn's presents its view of workday casual: an unconstructed poly/wool jacket, wool blend vest, checked cotton shirt and corduroy pants, all for $164.

Casual class: More from Mervyn's, burgundy suit separates in poly-rayon crepe over a cotton turtleneck, all for $85.

Frame fun: Smaller, more oval-shaped frames in a variety of colors is the trend in children's eyewear today, like these from Nickelodeon. Sears Optical offers any kids' frame with ultraviolet lenses, UV protection, and two-year breakage protection for $139.

New kids frames bring 'cool' to eye glasses

Getting children to wear their eyeglasses during school hours used to be a difficult assignment. Discomfort, self-consciousness, and fear of being different kept kids from seeing clearly and learning effectively.

Not so today, according to Marj McGraw, frame fashion consultant for Sears Optical. "Today's styles are so kid-friendly that even children who don't need glasses want to wear them," McGraw said. "For one thing, children's favorite forms of entertainment, like the Nickelodeon cable TV channel, are the namesakes for the newest eyewear lines."

Peanuts and French Toast are the popular, newer styles, but the Crayola brand has its loyal customers. McGraw said metal frames are the most popular material for kids' glasses frames, and this year, oval shapes are the most appealing because they are trendier. In addition, colors are more vivid than in past years. And, best of all, the logos the kids love are on both glasses and cases.

Any child or teen who watches Nickelodeon will be sure to spot the well-known symbols of "slime" and "dog bone" and will recognize the identifying logos that kids love to show off. Snoopy graces the Peanuts eyewear, and the French Toast logo appears on the lenses in the same way it is identified on the French Toast clothing line.

Dr. Greg Actipis, Sears Optical spokesman, said parents must be alert to spotting a child's vision problems. "Children don't necessarily know that they aren't seeing as other children see," he said. "Therefore, they may not mention their vision difficulties and it may take years to realize something is wrong."

If the need for eyeglasses is established, the first rule for getting children to not only love but wear their glasses is to allow the child to select the frames and glasses case he or she likes, even though it may not be the parent's first choice, according to McGraw.

"If children have a sense of control in the selection, they will be more likely to wear the glasses." Additionally, McGraw gives the following tips for helping children select glasses:

- Choose polycarbonate lenses, an impact- and scratch-resistant lightweight plastic material that provides important protection against serious eye injuries and provides UV protection to block out the sun's harmful rays.
- Look for flexible frames made of new bendable materials that return to their original shape when twisted beyond nominal endurance.
- Choose spring hinges, which give added flexibility to the glasses and enhance their ability to withstand kid handling.

During the past six years, Sears Optical has donated more than $800,000 to Prevent Blindness America's sight-saving programs. For information on a broad range of eye health and safety topics, you can call the toll-free number 800-331-2020 during regular business hours.

coordinating-casual-clothes for customers through the FYI Service. Call any Hudson's store for an appointment.

Caricatured mannequins dressed for work in casual outfits off the racks.

Much Ado About Casual is playing at Jacobson's stores, too. And spokeswoman Janice Hayes said the houses are packed.

"We've given our sophisticated workday casual fashion seminars out to thousands of employees at Chrysler Financial, ITT Automotive, and Delphi, a division of General Motors, to name a few," she said. "Jacobson's staff members work with each company's Human Resource Department to customize the presentations, and we often do makeovers on employee volunteers."

Hayes said when casual days are instituted, employees immediately have questions like, "Can I wear shorts in the summer? Are culottes acceptable?"

Jacobson's leaves each participant with its "Guidelines For Casual Day" brochure and a copy of "Working Partners" a catalog filled with wardrobe-extending separates, accessory options and ideas. Jacobson's personal shoppers have also been trained in selecting business casual ensembles for customers. For more details about any of these shopping aides call Jacobson's toll-free at 1-800-635-4770.

The fashion retailers at Laurel Park Place in Livonia and Northland Center in Southfield just staged mall-wide salutes to "Casual Concepts That Work," showing casual ensembles from their stores. Laurel Park Place's marketing director Susan Azar said the show was "inspired by the shift from traditional wear to casual wear in the workplace, designed to provide practical solutions to all the questions about what to wear on Casual Day."

Mervyn's is also on the business casual bandwagon with its very simplified "5 Essentials For Men" and "5 Essentials For Women," guides. According to the retailer, guys need: a sportcoat (preferably tweed), a vest (designed to enhance an outfit and offer layering possibilities), a denim shirt (worn with or without a tie), a shirt with a banded collar (wears well alone or under a sportcoat), corduroy pants (they strike a balance between formal and overly casual.)

Walk for diabetes

The third annual Walktoberfest, a special walkathon held every year by the Michigan affiliate of the American Diabetes Association, is expected to attract more than 4,000 walkers and raise a projected $282,000 for medical research aimed at finding a cure for diabetes.

The event, which will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, at seven locations across the state, will benefit the more than 500,000 people in Michigan and the nearly 14 million Americans nationwide who have diabetes. In southeastern Michigan Walktoberfest will be held at Lake Erie, Kensington and Metro Beach metroparks.

To sign up to walk in Walktoberfest or to find out how to sponsor a walker, call the American Diabetes Association at 1-800-254-WALK.

"Everyone knows someone with diabetes, whether it's a family member, a friend or a co-worker," said Dave Buck, Walktoberfest committee chairman.

"The money raised by Walktoberfest will fund medical research aimed at finding a cure and educational programs for people with diabetes to help them live successfully with the disease until the day when a cure is available. Walktoberfest is a fun and healthy way to support this effort."

More than half of the Michigan residents who have diabetes are unaware of it, according to Buck. Many of them will first learn they have the disease when treated for one of its serious health complications.

This year alone, more than 650,000 people across the country will be diagnosed with diabetes and more than 160,000 will die from it.

House pushed to pass lobby reform

(AP) — Pressure is building in the U.S. House to approve a Senate-passed bill that would overhaul the loophole-ridden legislation governing those who lobby Congress.

But in the end, passing such a lobby reform bill may hinge on whether Republican House members can convince their leadership that it can be debated quickly enough to be put on this year's already crowded and heavy-hitting GOP legislative agenda.

"Our lobbying registration laws have become a joke, leaving more professional lobbyists unregistered than registered," Sen. Carl Levin, D-Mich., testified Thursday before the House subcommittee responsible for starting the bill on its way toward the House floor.

"This Congress has a real opportunity to act, and it will enhance public confidence if we do act," said Levin, who has been working on lobby reform legislation for five years.

Rep. Christopher Shays, R-

Conn., the head of a 12-member bipartisan reform group, said Speaker Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., has promised that lobbying and gift reform will be taken up early next year. Shays wants to speed up that schedule.

Shays said the group hoped the Senate-passed bill could go straight to the House floor without getting bogged down in changes. He appealed to Rep. Henry Hyde, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, to help get Gingrich to raise the legislation this year under an agreement that it be debated for a single day.

Shays said the leadership's concern was that lobby reform could generate tremendous debate and divide Republican ranks already dealing with big issues such as balancing the budget and overhauling the welfare system.

The Senate lobby reform bill, crafted mostly by Levin and Sen. William Cohen, R-Maine, passed that chamber 98-0 in July.

Under the bill, professional advocates who spend more than 20 percent of their time lobbying Congress or the executive branch would have to register and identify their clients, which issues were lobbied and roughly how much was spent.

The General Accounting Office, Congress' investigative arm, said fewer than one-third of the thousands of individuals listed as paid advocates actually were registered as lobbyists. Of 1,000 lobbying reports filed in 1989, the GAO found more than 60 percent reported no serious expenditures.

"We need to address the concern that special interests have undue influence over Congress," said Rep. Paul Mahle, D-Pa., who with Shays on Wednesday introduced the House lobby reform bill identical to the Senate version.

Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass., a member of the Constitution Subcommittee, said, "I'm afraid this bill will be the recipient of more nice words and less legislative action than anything in the House."

Rep. Michael Castle, R-Del., worried if the House did not take up the Senate-passed bill, opponents would use the differences between the two to block it while the year ran out. The process would have to start from scratch again next year.

If the House pushed through the Senate-passed bill, it would go straight to the president's desk.

"I think now that the Senate has acted, there's a lot of us saying we want to do this," Rep. Fred Upton, R-St. Joseph, said in an interview. "You can't tell me between now and Christmas that we don't have one spare hour to do this. We do."

Frank repeatedly pushed Rep. Charles Canady, R-Fla., the subcommittee chairman, for a timetable within the next month when the bill could go to the floor. He received no firm answer.

In 1948, President Truman called for a reform of the 1946 Lobbying Regulation Act.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Harvest and preserve the fruits of your labor

Don't you just love this time of year? The kids are back in school, the days are getting cooler, and the nights are getting longer. It's the peak of the harvest season, and a trip to the vegetable market offers just about anything Michigan fields and orchards have to offer.

Raven-colored eggplant, cabbages bigger than basketballs, and apples so sweet and crisp that they explode when bitten into. My reusable mesh vegetable bag is bulging at the seams, and the freezer is jammed with blueberries, tomatoes, and blanched green beans.

Thyme, mint, basil, tarragon and dill have given my garden an aroma that just begs you to walk through it barefoot.

Canning guides

Canning season is under way. There are a multitude of books that answer just about all you ever needed - and wanted - to know about canning and food preservation. One of the best - and most widely used - is the 32nd edition of the "Ball Blue Book," available wherever canning supplies are sold.

The rules have changed since momma and I put up some peaches a few years back. Whereas in the olden days I might be tempted to get a canning book from my local library, or rely on a 1982 edition of "The Farm Journal's Freezing and Canning Book," now I rely on the "Blue Book," which won't set you back more than $10. But if you're short on time and money and need a quick fix, help is available from the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, (810) 858-0904 weekdays 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the Wayne County Extension, (313) 494-3013, Wednesdays 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

There are even a few recipe books on the market that offer exotic tips for "putting food up." Some of the suggestions and recipes are gourmet. A favorite is "Home Made in the Kitchen" by Barry Bluestein and Kevin Morrissey (copyright 1994, Viking Books, $24.95.) This tome includes traditional recipes and household projects that are easy to prepare. From herbal candles to meatless mince, I can personally attest to the red pepper jelly and blackberry cordial recipes.

If your vegetable garden is overflowing, check out "Salsas, Sambals, Chutneys and Chow-chows" by Chris Schlesinger and John Willoughby (copyright 1993, Morrow Books, $20.) Their cucumber chowchow can be made and refrigerated for up to one month. I've learned the longer it sits, the better it gets.

If you have herbs and have access to an assortment of peppers, your mouth will feel like an erupting volcano after making some of the chiles, dry rubs, salsas, vinegars and jellies in The El Paso Chile Company's "Burning Desires" by W. Park Kerr (copyright 1994, Morrow Books, $15). The two tomato Chipotle Sauce and Christmas Ketchup recipes are worth the price of the book. Pickle and Relish freaks will go bonkers over Andrea Chesman's "Pickles and Relishes," (copyright 1992, Storey Communications Inc., $9.95) which features 150 different recipes for making everything from apples to zucchini. The recipe for plum sauce is better than anything I have ever dreamed of putting over fowl.

U-pick directory

To coin a phrase from the Michigan Department of Agriculture's updated Farm Market and U-Pick Directory, "In Michigan, nothing's as good as homegrown." This year's updated directory includes nearly 300 farm markets and U-pick farms where you can enjoy fresh home-grown Michigan produce. Many of these operations also offer related products such as plants, herbs, Christmas trees, cider, honey, jams, syrup and a host of other Michigan agricultural products that are part of our state's bounty. The book is free by calling or writing the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Marketing Division at P.O. Box 30017, Lansing, MI 48909. (517) 373-1058.

This book has a permanent spot on my reference shelf and should on your's, too!

Some of the best times I've spent with momma were over a case of Mason jars and bushel of tomatoes. If you know of a senior, or better yet, want to share the experience with a youngster, the bounty couldn't be more readily available nor the time as well. The fruits of your labor will be appreciated. On a cold, blustery day in February, you'll thank me for the idea.

SEASON SWEET WITH

Apples & Honey

BY RENEE SKODLUND • SPECIAL WRITER

For centuries, apples and honey have played a significant role in harvest celebrations.

Cranbrook Institute of Science will celebrate the sweet taste of fall's harvest with a Honey and Apples Festival Sept. 23-24; Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. Bees are the festival's main focus, since without them there would be no honey and a lot fewer apples.

"A lot of people don't know that the bees make the honey. They know the bees collect the honey, but they don't know they make it," said Maureen Dolson, Cranbrook's head naturalist.

Glass-encased hives will give visitors a "bee's eye" view of the complex process of honey-making. If they're lucky, visitors may be able to spot the queen bee among her throngs of workers. She has a longer body and shorter wings and is often ministered to by a circle of "personal attendants." Eternally pregnant, she lays about 2,000 eggs a day. "She will die if she doesn't lay eggs," said Dolson.

Visitors also will be able to sample freshly harvested honey, made sweeter by the fact that it takes over 1,000 trips to a flower to fill one honeycomb cell. "People who don't like honey, like this honey," said Dolson.

Honey flavor and grade is determined by what the bees eat. Clover and wild flowers abound in this area, and there are no picky eaters among the Cranbrook bees. "They go out and get tree nectar, flower nectar, whatever is on the grounds," said Dolson. "Clover and wild flowers would be considered mid-grade. It's a matter of personal taste and gradient of color."

Thanks to an ample honey bee population, which rebounded from a devastating mite infestation a few years ago, Michigan is enjoying a bumper apple crop this year. "It's been a very good year for insects because of the light winter and the hot summer."

Apple cider is a complimentary part of the Honey and Apples Festival. Cranbrook's entire straining, everything that goes into the making of cider," said Lent. "It's about half a bushel for a gallon of cider. There won't be any containers. Bring your own milk jug with a cap."

Coinciding with fall harvest celebrations like Cranbrook's Honey and Apples Festival is Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, which is Sept. 25-26 this year. Honey and apples play a significant role in the celebration of the Jewish New Year, symbolizing hope for a sweet year.

On the first day of their New Year, area Jews will gather around the dinner table with friends and family, light the festival candles, and recite the Kiddush, a New Year's blessing. Soon, a dish of apple sections with a small bowl of honey will be passed around, and guests will dip an apple slice into the honey.

"Prior to the meal, you have a special blessing for the sweetness of the honey and the taste of the apple. We pray for a good year and a sweet year," said Alicia Nelson of Southfield who owns "Tradition! Tradition!," a business specializing in Jewish ritual objects.

On Rosh Hashana, Nelson carries the apple and honey theme throughout the meal. "I always include an apple cake, or an apple pie, or a honey cake," she said.

Betty Winkleman of West Bloomfield enjoys surrounding her table with guests for Rosh Hashana. "We celebrate both days. When our kids were in college we always invited other students. Generally we have a good-size crowd. Sometimes we have some of our immigrant families," she said. Winkleman is president of Resettlement Service in Southfield.

Besides a honey or apple cake, Winkleman likes to serve "Tzimmes," a honey-sweetened vegetable stew of sweet potatoes, carrots and prunes. "I'll make it for Rosh Hashana, but it's a nice winter dish," she said. "You don't have to do it for the holidays. You can do it on Friday for the Sabbath."

Both honey and apples are in abundant supply at local orchards this fall. Honey will be sold at Cranbrook's Honey and Apples Festival, and Maureen Dolson guarantees it will be delicious. "Beekeepers are pure people," she said.

Act now or you'll miss 1993 red Burgundies

In our May 15 column we sent you a 1993 Red Burgundy Alert! Consider this a reminder. Since then, we have tasted estate Burgundies selected by Dan Haas of Vineyard Brands. We've visited some of the estates Haas represents and can report that these producers grow their own grapes and make their own wine. That is the definition of "estate" Burgundies.

Haas genuinely considers it his privilege to bring wine to consumers and consumers together supplying dependable wine to the wine lover while supporting serious, quality-oriented vintners. He believes that when growers own their vineyards and work with the grapes year after year, the quality improves.

According to Haas, dependable brands and suppliers reinforce the integrity of Vineyard Brands. The more successful brands an importer has, the more distributors are interested in doing business. There is also great satisfaction when an importer achieves success with a quality product.

Haas continues to search out top producers in Europe as well as the New World and to stay in front of the consumer with top-drawer products.

"As importers and marketers, our business involves bringing together consumers and producers," Robert Haas (Dan's father and company founder) concluded. "Our job is to find good products to bring to the consumer and be able to jump through the necessary hoops to get them together."

In our opinion, the 1993 red Burgundies are very good. If you are, not familiar with real Burgundy, remember that the word Burgundy is not on the label. Burgundy is a place where pinot noir is the red grape responsible for the wines. Burgundy labels give more detailed place names. In our notes below, the place name is given first, followed by the producer's name in in capital letters. These wines are available now and will not last long in the marketplace. Call a few retailers to see who will have them and in what quantities.

■ Marsannay, Bruno CLAIR ($18) — bright cherry fruit, good acidity, good value.

■ Santenay Premier Cru La Comme, PIGUET-GIRARDIN ($20) — good oak profile against expansive fruit, exceptional value.

■ Gevrey-Chambertin, ROSSIGNOL-TRAPET ($25) — leather and meaty elements dominate fruit, not suggested unless you like that character.

■ Savigny-les-Beaune ler Cru Narbantons, MONGEARD-MUGNERET ($23) — ripe cherries with spice, closed in, will reward with time, very good value.

■ Volnay, Jean-Marc BOILLOT ($27) — explosive fruit, tremendous structure and length, outstanding.

■ Blagny Rouge ler Cru La Piece Sous le Bois, Joseph MATROT ($33) — tight compact wine, uncertain future.

■ Pommard Clos de la Platiere, PRINCE DE MERODE ($28) — seductive spice and rose petal aromas, solid structure, delicious, very good value.

■ Pommard ler Cru Javelieres, Jean-Marc BOILLOT ($45) — big wine with definite cellaring potential.

■ Nuits-St-Georges ler Cru Les Prulliers, Henri GOUGES ($41) — toasty oak dominates rose petal and cherry, massive, impressive.

■ Cordon Bressandes Grand Cru, PRINCE DE MERODE ($32) — may be the best wine for the money, rich, ripe, balanced and finesseful.

■ Echezeaux Grand Cru, MONGEARD-MUGNERET ($44) — truly excellent, black cherry, vanilla-oak, spice, generous. This is what great Burgundy is about.

■ Gevrey-Chambertin ler Cru Clos-St-Jacques, Genevieve BARTET ($73) — broad, solid, packed with fruit, needs minimum five years cellaring.

Great Burgundies are silky, seductive wines. They caress rather than bowl you over. They are lighter than merlot, but they have so much flavor. Burgundies are wonderful with food, almost anything except beef steak. A light Burgundy is a gustatory delight with grilled salmon or roast chicken. A heavier wine can be paired with veal, pork, lamb, or game birds, but it is wise to avoid tomato sauce.

Unlike Bordeaux or wines made of cabernet sauvignon, most Burgundies do not age gracefully past 10 years. A few age very long, but this is the exception, not the rule.

See Chef Larry Janes' Taste Buds column on Taste front.

right 1992, Storey Communications, Inc. $9.95

RUSSIAN BEET RELISH
3 pounds raw beets (10-12 beets)
2 1/2 cups chopped onions (about 4 medium)
1 cup chopped celery (2-3 ribs)
10 cups chopped cabbage (about 4 pounds)
1/4 cup grated horseradish root or prepared horseradish
3 cups sugar
3 cups white vinegar
2 tablespoons caraway seeds
Wash and drain the beets. Cover with water, bring to a boil and cook for 15 minutes. Drain. Peel and dice the beets. You should have about 10 cups of prepared diced beets.
Combine the vegetables in a large pot. Add the remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil and reduce to a simmer and simmer for 10 minutes. Ladle the hot relish into clean, hot pint jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Seal and process in a water bath canner for 10 minutes, according to directions. Makes 8 pints.

TEQUILA MARINADE
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/2 cup homemade hot salsa
3 tablespoons gold tequila or vodka
2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
In a small food processor or blender, combine the juice, salsa, tequila, lime juice, olive oil and Worcestershire. Process until smooth. Makes 1 1/2 cups. Enough to marinate 4 pounds of meat or poultry.
Recipe from: "Burning Desires" by W. Park Kerr, (copyright 1994, Morrow Books, $15).

PLUM CATSUP
2 pounds purple plums, stoned and quartered (4 cups)
1 small yellow onion, peeled and minced (1/2 cup)
1 cup water
1 cup cider vinegar
Combine the plums, onions and water in a medium saucepan. Bring to a boil, reduce the heat to low and simmer uncovered for 30 minutes.
Transfer the mixture to a food processor or blender and process to a smooth consistency. Rinse the saucepan and return the puree to the pan. Stir in remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil, reduce heat to low and cook, uncovered for 45 minutes or until no ring of water forms around the edge of a small amount spooned onto a saucer.
Can per canning or processing directions. Makes about 6 half pints.

Honey and apples make fall side dishes sweet

See related story on Taste front.

VEGETABLE TZIMMES
4-5 large sweet potatoes
8-10 carrots, well scrubbed or lightly peeled
2 cups whole pitted prunes
1 cup dark raisins
1 tablespoon margarine
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup honey
1 tablespoon lemon or orange rind
3 tablespoons fresh lemon or orange juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger

Boil sweet potatoes 25-35 minutes until tender. Drain, cool slightly, peel and cut into chunks. Boil carrots 8-10 minutes. Drain and cut diagonally in 1/4-inch pieces.

In medium saucepan, combine the prunes, raisins and remaining ingredients and simmer for 7-8 minutes. Combine vegetables and prune mixture in large bowl and transfer to greased 9 by 12-inch glass dish. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes.

Recipe compliments of Betsy Winkelman. Betsy occasionally adds rutabaga and parsnips for a richer fall vegetable flavor. Peel one small to medium rutabaga, cut into medium-size chunks and boil 35 to 40 minutes. Scrub 3 to 4 large parsnips (or lightly peel), boil 10-15 minutes until barely tender, drain and cut into chunks. Additional vegetables may require more sauce.

UKRAINIAN HONEY CAKE (MEDOVYK)
1 cup honey
1/4 cup vegetable oil
2 cups milk
3 cups plus 2 tablespoons whole wheat flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped nuts (pecans are excellent)
1/2 cup raisins
Glaze:
1/4 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Mix together the honey, oil and milk. In a separate bowl, mix the dry ingredients. Combine the mixtures, stirring thoroughly. Fold in nuts and raisins. Pour batter into a greased tube pan (bundt pan). Bake at 325 degrees F. for approximately 45 minutes or until a toothpick comes out clean. Cool completely.

To make glaze: Combine orange juice, honey and butter. Boil together for 2-3 minutes. Pour over cake.

Recipe from "Just Naturally Sweet" by Patricia B. Mitchell. The honey in this cake harmonizes well with the whole wheat flour. It adds moistness and tenderness and gives the cake "heaping" quality.

HONEY BEAR BREAD SPREAD
1/2 cup butter, softened
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup chopped dried fruits (raisins, apricots, prunes)
2 tablespoons chopped pecans
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel

Mix ingredients together. Spread on toast or your favorite bread.

Recipe compliments of the National Honey Board.

APPLE STUFFING
2 cups bread cubes
Cook onions, celery and parsley slowly in melted margarine. Add apples and brown sugar. Cover and cook slowly until apples are tender but firm. Add salt, pepper, sage and bread cubes. Toss lightly with a fork. Place in a greased casserole and bake at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Recipe from "Apple-Lover's Cook Book."

Little known bee facts

- Honey bees are identifiable by their fuzzy bodies, a trait which wasps and hornets do not possess.
- Bees may make three times the honey they need to survive the winter, so humans can enjoy the extra.
- Bees do not hibernate during the winter but instead keep the temperature of their hives livable by beating their wings to produce heat.
- Worker bees are female. They find and gather nectar, feed the young, care for and protect the queen bee and protect the hive.
- The average life span of a worker bee is six weeks. The average life span of a queen is three to five years.
- Bees communicate by wagging their bodies. With this method, one worker bee can direct other bees to pollen.
- Honey is formed in the honeycombs, when more than 80 percent of the water distills from the nectar.
- Bees also produce wax to seal and store the nectar or honey in the honeycomb. Wax is worth more per pound than honey.

'Nuclear' chili is out of this world

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Leo Buk of Trenton won the 17th annual Michigan Championship Chili Cookoff on Sept. 10 and will represent our state at the World Cookoff in Reno, Nevada on Oct. 1.

The cookoff was at Muskie's Urban Pier Restaurant in Auburn Hills.

Vaughn Irish of West Bloomfield placed second; Ken Brundage of Livonia, third; and Ken Horn of Plymouth, fourth.

Local cooks participating in the contest included: Diane Adamski (Redford), Richard Becker (Livonia), Marilyn Frederick (Farmington Hills), Ward Hunter (Farmington Hills), Paul Huyck (Farmington Hills), Mike Maiman (Birmingham), Ed McCoy (Plymouth), Gary Ray (Livonia), Pamela Perry (Bloomfield Hills), Nick Roncone (Birmingham), and Larry P. Strauss (Troy).

Marilyn Frederick reports that this year's Winter Chili Cookoff has been upgraded to Regional status. The cookoff will be Jan. 13 at the VFW Hall, 16736 Ecorse Road, Allen Park. First place winner advances to the world cookoff in Reno in 1996.

There will be refreshments, food, entertainment, first place cash prize and trophies. All proceeds to benefit Elks' Michigan Major projects for handicapped children.

Entry is $30 for International Chili Society members; $60 for non-members. Mail application to: Cookoff Chairman Frank Klancnik, 27861 Grix, New Boston, MI 48164. Call (313) 783-3122 for information.

Here's the winning chili recipe.

LEO'S NUCLEAR CHILI
1 pound pork (ground)
1 pound chicken (ground)
4 pounds round steak (cubed)
1 white onion, (chopped)
1 hot yellow pepper, (chopped)
1 green pepper (chopped)
1 cup chopped celery
7 cloves garlic
1 (6 ounce) can chilies
1 can whole tomatoes
1 can tomato sauce
15 white peppercorns (ground)
1 (12 ounce) beer
2 tablespoons Gardiner's with oil
2 tablespoons dark chili powder
3 tablespoons California Chili Powder — Kroger brand
2 1/2 teaspoons hot chili powder
1 tablespoon beef soup base
2 teaspoons cumin powder
1 teaspoon oregano
3 tablespoons Gerhart Chili powder 1/2 teaspoon coriander powder
2-3 tablespoons salt

In 10 quart pot add 1 tablespoon oil, 1 clove garlic, pinch of ground pepper and 1/2 the beef. Cook until brown, reserve in bowl. Scrape pot and repeat with other 1/2 of the beef. Scrape clean, re-oil.

Cook pork and chicken with dark chili powder. Cook until no pink is showing and scrape clean.

In same pot, add a little oil and garlic, cook 1 minute. Add onion, cook 5 minutes. Add celery, cook 5 minutes. Then add the peppers. At this time add juice from meat and 1 tablespoon chili powder. Add sauce, tomatoes, chopped, beef, oregano, beef base, 1/4 of the salt, cumin, coriander, Kroger Chili powder and hot chili. Add reserved beef, rest of the spices.

Bring to a boil. Add a little water, about a cup or so. Simmer about 1 hour, uncovered, stirring so the bottom does not stick. Taste, add more salt if desired. If too salty, add 1 teaspoon sugar.

CANTON SPORTS SCENE

Salem, Canton golf

Plymouth Salem's boys golf team got its second-straight 37 from Mike Hjelmstad, and a whole lot of other good scores, to beat Farmington 192-203 in a Western Lakes Activities Association meet Friday at San Marino Golf Course.

The score was among the best team totals ever posted at San Marino. Aaron Pawlowski also shot a 37, with Jeff Lear and Ryan Andrzejewski each shooting 39s and Brian Fox a 40.

The win boosted the Rocks' record to 5-1 overall, 2-0 in the WLAA. Farmington is 1-1 in the WLAA.

On Thursday at Hilltop Golf Course, Salem used a 37 from Hjelmstad to top Westland John Glenn 206-231.

Other Rock scorers: Fox, 40; Andrzejewski, 42; Lear, 43; Adam Wilson and Ryan Deshaw, 44s each.

A single stroke

That's all that separated Plymouth Canton and Livonia Stevenson Friday in the meet at Fox Creek in Livonia. Unfortunately for the Chiefs, their's was the higher number.

Final total was 225 Stevenson, 226 Canton.

The Chiefs were led by Brian Carlson, with a 41. Scott Belisle had a 42, Dave Dismundy shot 46, Mike Meibers totaled 47 and Chris Wilson finished with a 50.

For Stevenson, Steve Polanski led with a 40, followed by Brandon Wallis, 45; Scott Craver and Tim VanEeck, each at 46; and Jeff Lang, 48.

Soccer champs

The Canton Vipers, an under-11 boys select soccer team, collected top honors at the Dearborn Invitational Soccer Tournament Aug. 27. The Vipers defeated the Plymouth Kicks, the Downriver Rockets and the Livonia Meteors in pool play, then beat the Dearborn Heights Mustangs in the semifinals and the Northville Sting in the title match.

Basketball clinic

Registration is now on for the second annual Coaches Clinic, sponsored by the Wayne State men's basketball program. The clinic will be Sunday, Oct. 1 at the Matthaei Building, on the WSU campus, and it will feature six of the area's top basketball coaches:

If pre-registering (before Sept. 27), cost for the clinic is $30 per coach or $80 per staff (not to exceed four). If registering at the door, cost is $40 per coach or $100 per staff. For more information, call the WSU men's basketball office at (313) 577-7515.

Punt, Pass, Kick

Canton Parks and Recreation Services is sponsoring its annual Punt, Pass and Kick football competition Saturday, Sept. 23, on Griffin Park's Sheldon Road side. Registration starts at 9:15 a.m. with competition beginning at 10 a.m.

Top finisher in each 8-15 (as of Dec. 31st) age group advances to the next level of competition but the top two places in each group receive awards. Participants ages 14 and 15 are included for the first time. Cleats are not permitted.

Agape soccer wins

Paul Salah's goal provided Plymouth Agape Christian with a 3-2 victory over Saline Christian Thursday.

Junior Matt Major scored Agape's first two goals to help his team win its conference opener and square its overall record at 1-1.

Canton men's basketball

Men's recreational basketball for Canton residents only will begin on Wednesday, Oct. 4 at Field Elementary School. Registration, which began Sept. 11 at Canton Parks and Recreation Services, is $25 per person and ends Oct. 3.

The program runs Wednesdays for 10 weeks, from 6:45-9:45 p.m.

Welchans good in goal

Keepers Jori Welchans of Canton made half her first 12 saves of the soccer season for the University of Michigan in one game — a 2-0 loss Sept. 9 to 19th-ranked Dartmouth. Welchans, a junior, played every minute in three of U-M's first four games, allowing four goals and posting one shutout.

The second-year team was 1-3 after its first four matches.

Hawks slip past Canton

Two second-half touchdowns gave Farmington Hills Harrison a 28-14 football victory over host Plymouth Canton Friday.

Jason Granger, who had 204 yards on 24 rushing attempts, broke a 14-14 halftime tie with a 61-yard run.

Nick Shaieb's 1-yard run capped a 70-yard drive following an interception by Adam Smerecki.

Kyle Vessell kicked four extra points for the Hawks, 1-0 in the Western Division and 2-1 overall. Canton is 0-1 in the division and 1-2 overall.

Harrison led 7-0 after a 1-yard sneak by Kevin Bambenek in the first quarter.

The Chiefs answered with a 61-yard scoring pass from Rob Johnson to Ron Hunter, but Canton's PAT attempt was no good.

Granger scored on a 5-yard run after Harrison recovered a fumbled punt. But Canton tied it at 14-14 with Nick Allen's 4-yard run and Johnson's pass to Hunter for the two points.

Bambenek was 6-of-10 passing for 74 yards. The Hawks had 260 of their 334 yards on the ground. Shaieb led the defense with six tackles; Marcus Carter had five.

Johnson completed 9-of-25 passes for 164 yards and also rushed for 38 yards on 13 carries. Hunter caught six passes for 126 yards.

Late goal pushes Churchill past Salem

The preliminaries are over. The challenging part of the Plymouth Salem soccer schedule started last Wednesday, and the Rocks came up short in their first real test. With Troy and Livonia Stevenson on this week's blotter, it won't get easier.

Plymouth Salem fans should look at the bright side — at least their boys soccer team won't have the weight of an unbeaten season to carry around any more.

"We're a little disappointed," coach Ken Johnson said after the Rocks got tumbled and humbled, 2-1, Wednesday night by Livonia Churchill, ending Salem's season-starting six-game winning streak.

"But it's a tough league. We've got to bounce back, but we'll do it," he said. "We've got a good team."

"It was unbelievable," rookie Churchill coach Chad Campau said. "It was easily the biggest game I've ever been a part of."

"I played at Churchill and all the big games we played, it seemed like we never won. So this is one of the biggest. The guys played hard the whole game, both teams. It was an unbelievable game."

Brett Konley scored off an assist by Matt Simons to give host Salem a 1-0 lead midway through the first half. But Rob Bartoletti scored with some 10 minutes left in regulation to tie the score and Brian Zawislak scored with about a minute left to keep Churchill undefeated at 4-0-1.

Churchill is 3-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association, 2-0 in the Western Division and has only a tie against Rochester Adams to stain its record. Salem is now 3-1 in the WLAA, 3-0 in the Lakes Division and 6-1 overall.

According to shot charts kept by Campau's bench, Salem held a 13-10 edge.

Goalie Brian Stramecki "played a great game," Campau said. "He made a save in the first five minutes of the game that fired the guys up. It was a line drive and he made a diving save, knocking it wide."

"There's really nobody I can single out because everybody played well. The guys off the bench, everybody gave their hearts out for the whole game."

"They're pretty good — strong and fast," said Johnson, whose team hosts Troy next and then plays Livonia Stevenson. "We played decently. We had a couple of opportunities. Going down to the end, I thought we were going to end up in a tie."

0-for-3

Big plays propel Rockets to victory over Salem

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

It was hard to detect who were the winning and losing coaches following Westland John Glenn's 16-0 football win Friday night over visiting Plymouth Salem.

Glenn coach Chuck Gordon was certainly happy that his team is now 3-0 on the season, but less than thrilled about the way his team moved the ball offensively.

Meanwhile, Salem coach Tom Moshimer was upbeat about his team's performance despite falling to 0-3 on the year. They came out hitting and never stopped until the final horn.

"It's a win," Gordon said. "And believe it or not, we're getting a little better each time out, but we've got a lot of work to do and we have to get after some things."

"I thought Tom Moshimer and his staff did a tremendous job getting that team ready to play. They've started out 0-2, but I have a lot of respect for that staff and the way their players have hung in there during tough times."

It was a defensive struggle for the most part. Glenn had only 119 yards total offense to Salem's 113.

"We played hard and I'm extremely proud of our intensity," said Moshimer, whose team lost 42-0 to Belleville in the opener and 31-7 to Northville the second week. "We were a different team tonight than the first two games. It was gut-check time. We had to step up because we were playing an excellent football team. I thought if we played hard, and played mistake-free, we had a chance to win. We played hard, but unfortunately we made some mistakes."

The outcome boiled down to three big plays for Glenn and two costly errors for the Rocks.

The first big play occurred with 16 seconds left in the opening period when Salem punter Taras Senluch was tackled in the end zone for a two-point safety by Glenn's Terry Ringholz.

Glenn made it 9-0 with 8:36 left in the second quarter when sophomore quarterback Justin Berent, faced with a fourth-and-15 situation, connected with senior tailback Jay Jackson (19 carries for 64 yards) on a 24-yard touchdown pass.

Jackson, who ran in motion on the play, was wide open in the end zone.

Glenn's Matt Griglio then picked off a Salem pass on the ensuing series and five plays later, Berent hooked up with Bernie Toby, who was well covered on the play, on a 29-yard TD pass. (Steve Paling added his second point-after on the day to make it 16-0 with 3:45 left in the half).

That was the extent of the scoring.

In the third quarter, Salem drove 64 yards in 16 plays down to the Glenn 15, but tackle Jeff Cook, shooting the gap, stuffed Salem ball carrier Kevin Grim at the line of scrimmage on fourth-and-1.

"When you play defense like that you're always in the game," Gordon said. "That defense came up big when we needed them to. Our defense has played well all year."

But Glenn's inability to sustain an offensive drive troubles Gordon.

"That's disappointing," he said. "But they (Salem) were up in there (at the line of scrimmage) with eight guys. We hit a couple of passes, but you need to hit more."

"We hit some big plays. When you get a chance to make big plays you've got to make them."

Salem, meanwhile, is far from full strength. It seemed the Rocks had more (injured) players walking the sidelines not dressed than those suited up.

Senior quarterback Nate Gray, who suffered a broken thumb during the preseason, returned to the starting lineup.

"I think emotionally it helped our team having him back, even though he was very limited in what he could do because it's on his throwing hand," Moshimer.

Free ball: Plymouth Salem's Brett Burlison (No. 33) can't get a handle on the tipped pass intended for Westland John Glenn tight end John Becher.

Merger plan could be salvaged

Setting the record straight. Contrary to what some people may think, I am not opposed to a merger between the seven schools in the Western Lakes Valley Conference and the 12 school Western Lakes Activities Association.

WLA principals met last Monday and it appears the mega merger talks have been tabled once again until January.

The principals of the WLA apparently taking a wait-and-see attitude until court rights legal complaints are determined in the downriver Mega Conference.

Anyway, the merger between the KVC and the WLA could be done by two simple moves.

Put WLA members Northville, Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western into the KVC, joining Novi, South Lyon, Brighton, Howell, Milford, Lakeland and Hartland.

Fits into nicely into one geographic area, right?

That would also solve football basketball and wrestling scheduling problems for the existing KVC schools. In football, for example, you wouldn't have to schedule outside your league.

But what about nine remaining WLAA members - Plymouth Canton, Salem, Westland, John Glenn, Livonia Churchill, Franklin, Stevenson, Farmington, Harrison and North Farmington?

How about inviting Wayne Memorial, a member of the same school district as John Glenn, into the WLA? That makes another good fit - 10 schools all in a reasonable geographic area. It makes just as much sense for Wayne to travel to Farmington Harrison as it does in the Mega to travel to Monroe.

Then, both leagues could agree on cross scheduling.

The only hangup is the exclusion factor. Class A schools like Ann Arbor, Huron, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor Pioneer are still looking in from the outside.

Also, Northville assistant principal Dennis Colligan, the Mustangs' former athletic director and head football coach, said I took a cheap shot at his school in my recent column about the mega merger.

He pointed out that Northville has had one of the better cumulative football records in the WLA over the past five years and they don't duck anybody in non-league football contests, noting that the Mustangs opened this year with state-ranked South Lyon and play Novi in their other non-league.

Agreed from this end on both points, Denny.

But, I do recall Northville principal Tom Johnson stressing to me last summer that one of the big reasons why they were in favor of merging with the KVC was because it would align schools into divisions by sport based on performance records.

It's hard to say whether Northville would remain in the same football division as Farmington Hills Harrison. The Mustangs have only beaten the Hawks once during the past three decades.

My point is that the merger should be based on travel and enrollment concerns, not on past performance records by sport.

In football, it appears Dearborn High and Allen Park are both playing a division too low in the Mega based on their five-year records.

It just a thought.

More cheap shots?

Received a call from a parent on a cell phone who pointed out that Livonia Churchill's football team had been outscored 69-0 in its first two games and not 79-0 as was erroneously reported in my recent grid prediction column.

Math was never one of my strengths, except for geometry, so I apologize for the error.

But the complaint from the parent didn't stop there. He said our stories about Churchill football have been "one-sided" and we should "let up on them" because "these kids are working so hard."

I know, in my heart, we've tried to be fair about Charger football, despite the fact that they've been beaten 47 of their last 48 games.

First of all, if I hear another parent tell me their kids are working hard I'm going to gag.

I assume everybody is working hard, but let's face it, the concept of hard work can be open to interpretation.

Certainly, swimmers like Livonia Stevenson's Anne Aristeo know the meaning of hard work. Talent alone doesn't get you into the Olympic Trials.

And I'm sure all stater Brent Washington worked hard last year in the Glenn football program, but when I talked to him at the Michigan Media Press Day last month, I asked how practice had been going. He said, "Things were at a lot faster pace, here."

Laramore golf successful

One hundred and forty-four golfers hit the links Wednesday at Idlewild, raising nearly $10,000 for the Rick Laramore Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The event was held in memory of Laramore, a former Churchville hockey player who bravely battled Hodgkins Disease before he passed away last spring.

Three scholarships - $1,000, $750 and $500 - will be awarded at the end of the hockey season to a deserving Livonia Public Schools' player from either Stevenson, Churchill or Franklin.

Churchill teacher Marc Hage reported there were more than 40 hole sponsors. Red Wings memorabilia was auctioned off and each player received a donated prize.

The four-man scramble was won by Churchill coach Kirk Oiler and three of his players from the state's No. 8-ranked team in Class A - Gary Kraus, David Higham and Chris Kiebler.

Stempien's goal-spree lifts Crusaders

The record isn't bad, especially for a second-year team. At least that's what Pete Alexander, the coach of the Madonna University soccer team, thinks.

All his team needs to do is execute better on the offensive end, and its 3-2-1 record could be 5-1.

Last Thursday against visiting Concordia College, the Fighting Crusaders were able to put one into the win column. But the 3-0 victory wasn't perfect - not by a long shot.

"In the first half, we didn't play very good soccer," said Alexander. "We played down to their level."

And when you're playing a team as weak as Concordia - the Cardinals, who transferred in after Central Michigan University dropped soccer.

Stempien scored all three Madonna goals, netting one in the first half and two in the second.

Dan McEvilly (from Livonia Churchill) was in goal for the Crusaders to earn the shutout, one thing which did please Alexander. Although Concordia has been unable to defeat anyone, this was the first time the Cards were blanked.

"It was good to see we could come away with this," said Alexander. "They're doing well."

He'd feel a lot better about his team if a few more balls could end up in the opponents' net, instead of bouncing off the crossbar or flying over it.

Madonna battles back to upend WSU

Here's a place the Great Lakes Interscholastic Athletic Conference schools may choose to avoid in the future.

After what happened last week, who can blame them?

The dismantling of Wayne State's volleyball team Friday night for Madonna University, three days after the Lady Crusaders knocked off Oakland University in four games. Both matches were at Madonna.

The Crusaders were neither as effective nor as dominant against WSU, but they displayed their toughness. The Tartars took the first two games of the best-of-five match, 16-14 and 15-12, before Madonna rallied to win the next three: 15-11, 16-14, 15-11.

"It was a big win for us," said Crusader coach Jerry Abraham, his team now 8-5. "It wasn't great-played volleyball for us. But what was good was that we came back to win.

"We were out of sync a bit, but we were able to come back."

The Crusaders got strong matches from several sources - Kelly McCausland (from Redford Union), 16 kills and 23 digs; Julie Martin (Livonia Stevenson), 19 kills and three solo blocks; Meg Paris, 52 assists-to-kill and 13 digs; Heather Steinhilper, 10 kills and 15 digs; Karin Siung, nine kills and 16 digs; Erin Comment, 19 digs; and Vicki Toth (RU), 18 digs.

Madonna is on the road this week, visiting the University of Michigan-Dearborn Tuesday and the Tri-State Invitational Saturday.

VOLLEYBALL

Schoolcraft vs. alums

Schoolcraft College's volleyball team prepared for the start of its regular season Wednesday with a 15-12, 13-15, 15-10, 15-13 victory over its alumni squad.

The alumni had an eight-player team that included Nikki Stubbs, Maria Evans-King, Chris Boyce, Danielle Sheehy, Danielle Pfeffer, Nancy Ehler and Julie Wood. Coaches were Alisha Love and Andy King.

Setter Andrea Greer had 32 assists to lead the Schoolcraft varsity while Tracy Sleska had 10 kills. Jamie Clark had eight kills, Sarah Fabrikiewicz totaled seven, Angeles Herminia got six, and Stacy Salus finished with five.

Lumina minivan delivers value for the dollar

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

My neighbor Joe saw the shiny, red, front-wheel-drive Chevrolet Lumina minivan parked in my driveway. "I thought they were supposed to restyle this thing. It still looks like a Dustbuster," he said.

Joe works for General Motors, which proves your own employees can sometimes be your toughest critics.

The best part of this 1995 minivan, redesigned in 1994, is inside. The long, seemingly endless instrument panel hood was slashed in half. The result: A pleasant front window to stare out of, instead of a boring, larger-than-Texas-sized panel hood. Integrated in the front dash treatment are multi-sized trays so you can put things on the dash that won't fly around.

ROAD TEST
By

Instrumentation placement has changed just a little. Switches for exterior and interior lights are now to the left of the instrument cluster and the rear window wiper control is on the right.

Yet the entire instrument panel looks smaller and a lot less overwhelming than its predecessor. A driver's-side air bag and integrated child seats are now available as options.

On the outside, there are plenty of tweaks, including new treatments to the front and rear fascias, better placement of front head lights; new rocker panels, a liftgate handle, a molded-in rear step pad and new center high-mounted stop lamp.

The best newest feature on the Lumina is a power sliding side door (a feature available only on the Lumina and its sister minivans, the Pontiac Trans Sport and Oldsmobile Silhouette).

Couple the sliding door with remote keyless entry and you've got a $300 option that you can't do without. You can open the sliding side door from 50 feet away just by pressing a button.

The reason this is such an important breakthrough: It's always been an annoyance to close the sliding doors on any minivan. It takes balance, finesse and a good, strong arm to get enough momentum to shut it. With the power door, you can rest your muscles.

Don't worry about the door closing tight on an arm or even a bag of groceries. A Chevy official said people have put everything from a carrot to a 2-by-4, and the door stops and retreats because it has a sensitive sensor.

No minivan owner should be without this fabulous feature. It plainly makes life easier.

Also added last year were fold-down integrated child safety seats located in the outboard second-row seats. They're a bit of a pain to initially set up for individual children, but the seats are comfortable for my 2-year-old. Best part is the placement of the 5-point belts. They're locked in much like a NASCAR driver is.

Both the second and third row seats in the 7-passenger version have been redesigned. They now fold up and slide forward for increased rear cargo area. The seats can also still be removed from the minivan for even more cargo area.

An annoying feature added this year is an automatic door-lock system. All doors lock automatically when the vehicle is shifted out of "park." Great feature on the safety front, but you have to manually unlock the vehicle when you stop. In the dark, it's a pain to find that tiny button.

Some GM vehicles have an automatic door-lock system that unlocks the doors when the vehicles is shifted back into "park." That feature is on my wish list for the Lumina.

The remote keyless entry system is integrated into a low-power key fob. It uses a high-frequency radio signal to transmit a coded message to the receiver that opens the vehicle. It's programmable and you can customize the remote system for your particular needs.

Lumina comes equipped with a 3.1-liter EFI V6 mated to a 3-speed automatic transmission that provides an adequate 120 horsepower.

Also available is GM's fantastic 3800 V6 engine with 4-speed automatic transmission. You'll get 50 more horses — something you need when merging into traffic. It's a $619 option that's well worth the money.

Base price of the Lumina is $17,595, making it one of the lowest-priced minivans on the market. Even the top-of-the-line fully equipped Lumina costs just over $23,000.

Good value. This "Dustbuster" won't clean out your bank account.

GARAGE GARAGE GARAGE GARAGE GARAGE

Sale

Now is the time to clear out those closets, attics, basements and garages and make some quick cash in the process.

How do you plan a garage sale?

It's easy!

Just follow these simple guidelines:

1. Gather together the items you have for sale. Sort them into appropriate categories and price them fairly.
2. Place a classified advertisement in The Observer & Eccentric by calling one of the numbers below.
3. Hang signs throughout your neighborhood alerting residents to the upcoming sale.
4. Decide what to do with all the money you'll have after your sale!

Or, if you love to bargain-hunt and would rather shop than sell, be sure to look for our special garage sale listings every Monday and Thursday in your hometown newspaper. Observer & Eccentric classifieds make it easy to earn money and save money. Discover for yourself, today!
