her program of folktales, Days," congregant Ellen lead listeners on a soulful journey toward the quiet that heralds the season of the High Holy Days.. Her storytelling has been called 'innovative and spirited,' 'vivid and enduring.'

Ellen says: Storytelling is a wondrous partnership between a teller, a story and an audience. Each time I tell a story, it is different. The story becomes newly drawn by those who are listening. I watch the audience. I see a wink of recognition, a faint smile, a quick intake of breath - each an awakened memory. These tokens, freely given, inform me about the inner landscapes we are traveling and color the story as it is being told.

Join her and the stories of our people.....

From the Rabbi's Study

Dear Friends,

When I was growing up, the whole family would gather to celebrate my grandpa Alex's birthday at my grandparents' lake house in upstate New York on July 4 (or a day close to it). Although he claimed it was, I always suspected that July 4 was not grandpa's actual birthday. Rather, I suspected that he chose the 4th as his birthday as a way to celebrate his pride at being a citizen of the United States of America and to give thanks for the remarkable freedom and acceptance he found here after jumping ship in New York harbor in 1919. Throughout his life, he recognized that this country, founded on the ideal of freedom and equality, gave us, as a Jewish community, remarkable opportunities. How tragic that two generations after he first set foot on the shores of our great nation so many of us take our freedom for granted!

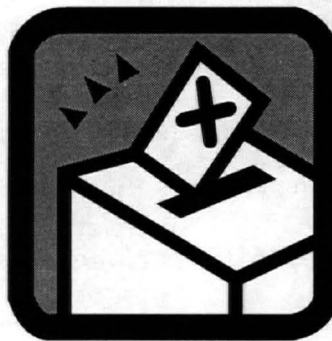

For the past 80 years, we Americans Jews have voted in remarkable numbers. Historically, in fact, about 90% of all eligible Jews actually voted in presidential elections. This, in itself, is an amazing display of how much we have always valued being part of the fabric of this great nation. Through exercising our right to vote we have been able to allow our values to shape our nation, protect our interests as a community and defend the rights of all Americans regardless of race, religion, or economic status.

Yet if recent patterns continue, close to one million Jewish Americans who are eligible to vote will not do so this November. What was unthinkable just a generation ago is increasingly the norm as so many of us opt out of the electoral process. If we learned anything from the 2000 election debacle, in which George Bush won the state of Florida and the presidency by just 537 votes, it is that each vote does, indeed, matter.

Perhaps most sadly, a disproportionate number of those Jews who will not vote are of college age. During this, the first presidential election for which they are eligible to vote, they will forfeit their right to help shape the future of our nation, and, in doing so, they will fail to fulfill a basic obligation of every citizen. I therefore urge you to make sure that you and every adult in your household are registered to vote. If your child or grandchild will be out of town or out of the country on Election Day make sure that they have requested, completed, and mailed an absentee ballot. For more information check out this link to the Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism— <http://www.rac.org/pubs/vote04.html>

This year we celebrate the 350th anniversary of Jews in America. For the past three and a half centuries, in this environment of remarkable opportunity, we have created the most successful and educated Jewish community in the history of our people. It is our responsibility to exercise the rights we have found here and to help shape the future of our great nation.

At the very least, the 2004 presidential election promises to be an electrifying experience for all voting Americans. Our inaugural speaker for the 2004-2005 "Conversations ..." season promises to be nothing less.

Joe Klein presents provocative and probing analysis of events in Washington, DC and abroad. Klein, now a senior writer for TIME, has a weekly column "In the Arena" that covers national and international affairs, is a regular contributor to CNN and is a frequent guest on Meet the Press and The Chris Matthews Show.

As a speaker, Joe Klein "makes you laugh and think at the same time. His incisive commentary and quick wit combine to provide a real insight into national affairs while making our political leaders come alive for the audience."

Take advantage of the opportunity to hear Joe Klein interpret the politics of this presidential year. Join in the "Conversations ..."

Yom Kippur Afternoon Service: A Spiritual Lift

It's Yom Kippur, about 3 p.m. You're tired. You're hungry. The last thing you're focusing on is the service. You just want to go home.

Sensitive that for many congregants, the Yom Kippur afternoon service had lost its meaning, Cantor Aronson and more than two dozen Temple members assembled a re-energized service for when everyone's batteries are low.

At the core of the service is music. From the opening niggun (a wordless melody) to "By the Waters" (sung as a round) to "Zamru L'Adonai," the service mixes traditional melodies with more recent ones that speak to the special character of our community.

The service includes brief readings and Torah cantillation by an array of Temple members and includes the traditional procession and prayer of the ancient Kohanim. The whole sanctuary is put to use as a way to envelop the entire congregation. The goal is to inspire a sense of awe as we remember who we are as a people, and remember the people who have shaped who we are.

Please listen again to the Manginot CD that was distributed last year to every Temple family so that again we can join in song together. If you've misplaced it, please pick up a replacement in the Sisterhood Gift Shop, at services, or at the Temple office during the week.

"Live" Worship Services Available to Homebound Temple Members

We are pleased to be able to provide LIVE Holy Days worship through home telephone lines to members of the congregation who are unable to attend services.

Through prearrangement, you will be able to call Temple and be connected to the Sanctuary sound system by telephone. You will hear the service "live" as it is conducted by our clergy. It would be preferable if you have a speakerphone option on your telephone.

We are grateful to the Josh Littman Fund which has generously enabled Temple to offer this service to our congregation at no charge.

Please call the Temple at 973-763-4116 and ask for Karen for further details.

Come Decorate Temple's Sukkah

Everyone is invited to help create a festive, cheerful sukkah on Wednesday, September 29. We'll meet in the Green Social Hall at 5:30 p.m. for a light supper. Then it's "hands on" as we make paper chains, popcorn strings and a variety of one-of-a-kind decorations.

Please respond to Sunny Seglin at Temple, 973-763-4116 or email sseglin@tsti.org by Sept. 12 with your name and number attending. Your reservation is important!

Rabbi Cohen and Cantor Aronson will lead a Sukkot Service on Thursday, September 30 at 10:30 A.M.

The Religious School Board

We are so please that Debbie Bernstein continues to be our Religious School Board Chairperson. As always the Religious School works hand in hand with our Religious School Board.

Congratulations to Religious School Chair Hope Pomerantz, as she embarks on her new Board of Trustees position as VP of Education.

We know that Hope, Debbie and the rest of the Religious School Board will continue to make themselves available to the entire Religious School family to discuss any issues or concerns that you may have.

What to do if . . .

What if you need to pick up your child early? It is important that you send a note to school along with your child. Please park in the parking lot, not along the roadway, and come to the Religious School office to sign your child out. At that time your child will be retrieved from class and brought to the office to meet you.

Did you Know?..... that the Bible speaks of Rosh Hashanah as occurring on the first day of the seventh month. The first month of the Jewish calendar is Nissan, occurring in March and April. Why, then, does the Jewish "new year" occur in Tishri, the seventh month? Judaism has several different "new years," a concept which may seem strange at first, but think of it this way: the American "new year" starts in January, but the new "school year" starts in September, and many businesses have "fiscal years" that start at various times of the year. In Judaism, Nissan 1 is the new year for the purpose of counting the reign of kings and months on the calendar, Elul 1 (in August) is the new year for the tithing of animals, Shevat 15 (in February) is the new year for trees (determining when first fruits can be eaten, etc.), and Tishri 1 (Rosh Hashanah) is the new year for years (when we increase the year number. Sabbatical and Jubilee years begin at this time).

The Iris Family

At a motivational meeting the lecturer told a story about two American couples who were traveling together on a vacation in Italy. One couple, let's call them Archie and Irene, had already been to Italy and were excited to act as tour guides for their friends, Jerry and Carol for whom this was a new experience. Archie and Irene planned diverse activities allowing for different interests amongst the four friends. There were many compromises, laughs and learning experiences along the way. Having spent most of the two-week vacation together, Jerry and Carol felt comfortable enough with the language, the money exchange and the lay of the land to strike out on their own for a day. The two couples planned to meet at the hotel in the next city for dinner.

Archie and Irene mapped out their route, planned their tourist stops and arrived at the prearranged final destination in a reasonable amount of time. Jerry and Carol, on the other hand, took off without a plan. They made numerous wrong turns, stopped impulsively at shops, sites and restaurants that were not part of an AAA approved guidebook and arrived five hours later.

The point made by the motivational speaker was that those who planned ahead were more efficient, better at time management and more successful in reaching their 'goal'; hence we should emulate them.

Yeah, they may be more efficient, but did they have any fun? They were, after all, ON VACATION! Who needs efficiency on vacation? What about spontaneity, adventure, the thrill of the hunt? Any outing rarely disappoints me as I have very few expectations. Rain isn't a problem and delayed flights are a mere hindrance when I have no preconceived notions of the final outcome.

(Mind you, I write this a week before my own family vacation, comfortable in the knowledge that we have only a vague idea of where we are headed and no idea where we will be sleeping.)

The comic strip Family Circus has been around for many years. It is easy for me relate to the panels that illustrated the child, much like Jerry and Carol, starting at one point in his front yard and taking a very circuitous route around the neighborhood just to wind up 2 feet from where he started. Rather than bend down to pick up the item he was sent to fetch for his dad, he jumped over, climbed up, twirled around, wiggled through and squirmed under every tree, bench, toy, and lawn chair that he encountered. Seems like great exercise. Along the way he dug, poked, prodded, stared. He took time to stop and smell the roses. Sure it took longer. Did he waste time? Did Jerry and Carol waste time? I don't think so.

Children of all ages desperately need the luxury of 'downtime' to explore without being hurried along to the next activity. It isn't always the end goal that is important. Sometimes the route one takes to get there is really where the important learning takes place.

Sisterhood extends an enormous thank you to all who help sustain our L'shana Tovah project. It is heartwarming to know that the families listed here have supported Sisterhood by sending their good wishes for a happy New Year to all.

Ann Merin, Sara Merin and Marcia Weinstein deserve heartfelt thanks for organizing this project and seeing it through to the end.

On behalf of Sisterhood, I wish everyone a New Year of Peace and Prosperity.

Mazel Tov To Our B'nai Mitzvah

Matt Tyler Bond, son of Wendy Bond and Jon Bond, will be called to the Torah on Saturday, September 4. His brother, Alex, and grandparents Judy and Marvin Sachs and Alma Bond will join him for this special occasion. Matt enjoys creative writing and physical ed at Millburn Middle School, and can be found playing sports, acting and hanging out with friends in his free time. His "Mitzvah Project" involves volunteering to work at the JCC with a special group of children.

Matt says of this milestone, "Becoming a Bar Mitzvah means beginning to leave childhood behind, taking studies more seriously, volunteering for community service and doing good deeds."

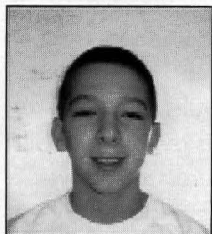

Claire Julia Goldman will become a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, September 4. With her will be her parents, Kenneth Goldman and Kristen Peck, and siblings Hannah and Elliot. Claire attends Millburn Middle School and especially English, acting, writing, soccer and basketball. For her "Mitzvah Project" she collected items from her schoolmates and created gift packages to be mailed to soldiers in Iraq.

"I am the first one in my family to do this and that feels very special," says Claire.

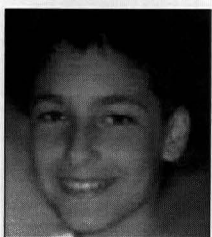

Carmel Rose Gordon will become a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, September 4. She is the daughter of Michael and Arlene Gordon, sister of Jeremy and Sarah, granddaughter of Herbert Cahn and great granddaughter of Elizabeth Lighton. She attends Millburn Middle School and finds time for travel, music and sports. Carmel has worked in a soup kitchen and donated money to The Jewish Foundation for the Righteous for her "Mitzvah Project."

Carmel says, "Handling the responsibilities of a Jewish woman as well as possible is what becoming a Bat Mitzvah means to me."

Alexander William Coleman, son of Patti and Steve Coleman, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, September 11. Grandparents Blanche and William Tall and Rita and Sam Coleman, along with his brother, Keith, look forward to celebrating with him. Alex enjoys math and science at South Orange Middle School, and finds spare time for playing basketball, soccer and baseball. His "Mitzvah Project" is to help mentally challenged kids to play soccer.

Alex says, "I will learn how to take on responsibilities as I start to do things for myself."

Harry Daniel Tarre, son of Stephanie and Howard Tarre, will be called to the Torah on Saturday, September 11. Celebrating with him will be his brothers, Jason and Josh, and grandmothers, Jessie Van Vort and Cyla Tarre. Harry attends Millburn Middle School where he likes creative writing and the history of WW II. His hobbies include basketball, football and hanging out with friends. He is collecting small toys and craft items for the prize chest at the Valerie Fund's Children's Center for his "Mitzvah Project."

"I feel proud to be joining the generations before me in this tradition. It is exciting to share this special day with my family and friends," says Harry.

Danielle Jordan Seltzer, daughter of Lori and Tom Seltzer will be called to the Torah on Saturday, September 11. Her brother, Adam, and grandparents Nanette and Gene Hobicorn look forward to being with her. Math tops the list of favorite subjects at Roosevelt Middle School. Dani also enjoys playing softball, playing the piano and being with friends. Her "Mitzvah Project" involves volunteering at the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

"I have taken time to learn and understand more about my religion, and know that I need to take on more responsibility as a young adult," says Dani.

Conversations ... and the Mitzvah Program (perfect together)

Watch for information from Conversations ... about a program on October 24, featuring Marcia Freedman of Brit Tzedek v'Shalom (Jewish Alliance for Justice and Peace). She will discuss the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. This program is being sponsored by Conversations under the stewardship of Linda Kirsch and her dedicated committee. The program was developed by Pam Kruger of the Mitzvah Program's Political Action Group, a small group of TSTI-ers who inform congregants about social action issues. If you are interested in future social action programs, contact Pam at 973-313-9709 or pkruiger@comcast.net.

Habitat

Would you like to help revitalize Newark by building homes for families who normally could not afford them? Our first work date is September 12, but if you can't make that one, we have another date coming up in November. Adults and teens (ages 14 and older—all teens must come with an adult) can help. We work under the supervision of an experienced staff construction foreperson. To volunteer, call project coordinators Barbara Laub and Dennis Percher at 973-763-8379 or e-mail to bjlaub@att.net.

TSTI Soup Kitchen

Now entering its 4th year, the TSTI Soup Kitchen is a Mitzvah Project at the Lighthouse in Newark. We go twice per month (Sundays) from about 10:30—1:30. We shop, cook, serve food, and clean the kitchen. It's wonderfully rewarding for adults and kids alike—and a great way to meet other TSTI members.

Available dates: Sept. 12 & 26; Oct. 17 & 31; Nov. 14 & 28; Dec. 12 & 19; Jan. 16 & 30; Feb. 13 & 27; Mar. 13 & 27; Apr. 10 & 17; May 15 & 29; and June 12 & 19. To reserve a date, email Karen Seidmon at kseidmon@aol.com (or call 973-564-6272) and Jill Kassirer at plkjsk@aol.com (or call 973-912-8875).

It's All About You

If you want to get involved in a Mitzvah Project, let me know. I can help you brainstorm about ideas for you, your kids, or your Aunt Rose. Take things you already like to do and put a Mitzvah spin on them! Email me at jillmkushner@yahoo.com or call me at 973-763-8844. Let's talk Mitzvot, dahlink!

South Mountain Conservancy

Many of us take advantage of the beauty of the South Mountain Reservation, to hike, picnic or ride a bike. But if you go to the Reservation, you've no doubt also seen signs of natural and human-caused neglect and abuse. Luckily, the South Mountain Conservancy is working hard to fix these and other problems in the Reservation.

The Conservancy is a volunteer organization founded to preserve and protect the over 2,000-acre piece of land known as the South Mountain Reservation. They recently received funding from the state and county that will allow the restoration of woodlands, trails, and drainage systems. The planning process for this restoration will include analyzing the conditions of the forest, meadows, and its soil, as well as studying deer in the Reservation. Improved woodlands management is a key goal of the Conservancy.

If you want to volunteer with this worthwhile group, contact TSTI member Dennis Percher at dpercher@att.net or 973-763-8379 (also known as the guy who co-chairs TSTI's work with Habitat along with his wife, Barbara Laub). You can help protect and restore this beautiful natural environment. You can also go to their website at www.SoMoCon.org to find the most up-to-date information about the grants, hikes, and volunteer activities.

HELLO PARENTS OF 9th-12th GRADERS

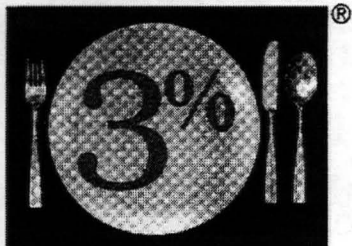

We would like to introduce you to STISY TEMPLE SHAREY TEFILO-ISRAEL SENIOR YOUTH

STISY is a student led organization under the guidance of the youth group advisor, Tracy Horwitz and Rabbi Ellie Miller. STISY is a wonderful way for teens to get involved in our Temple community. The STISY Board plans and implements all of its own programs. The programs include but are not limited to: Midnight Run, Trick or Treat for Hunger, Sporting Events, NYC Trips, and a Weekend Retreat. STISY teens run our High Holy Day Children's Program with the help of adult chaperones, they volunteer at our Purim Carnival and assist in many other social service projects throughout the year.

Since STISY is run by teens for teens, a large part of the process is teaching the teens how to budget, publicize, create, plan and present programs. Sometimes we do make a few mistakes as we learn together. We want to encourage all of our teens to be part of this wonderful program. Therefore, let us know if you would like your teen on the STISY mailing list or if you would like a STISY member to call your teen to encourage and welcome him or her into the group. Membership is only $36 per year and entitles the teens to membership prices on all events (many are free for members) and access to wonderful large-scale Regional events. Please contact Tracy Horwitz via email at thorwitz@tsti.org or call 973-763-4116 for additional information or for a membership form.

9th GRADE PARENTS WILL BE RECEIVING A CALL LATE SEPTEMBER WITH INFORMATION ABOUT OUR OCTOBER FRESHMAN KIDNAP EVENT!

MAZON

Founded in 1985, MAZON : A Jewish Response to Hunger, is a national nonprofit organization that allocates donations from the Jewish community to prevent and alleviate hunger among people of all faiths and backgrounds.

In the spirit of Jewish tradition, make the High Holy Day season even more special by providing food and other help to poor families everywhere. You will enrich their lives — and your own.

IS YOUR CHILD COLLEGE BOUND THIS FALL?

After years of parental involvement and supervision your child is now off on his/her own! It's a big world out there with lots of new experiences and situations to face. The TSTI College Committee believes now is the time for the Temple to continue a connection with our young adults.

PLEASE REGISTER YOUR CHILD(REN) WITH THE TSTI COLLEGE CORNER!

We send the Temple Bulletin each month so they see what is happening here at home, email from Rabbi Cohen, and "care" packages 2-3 times per school year. In addition, Sisterhood sends a Chanukah package to each student.

Don't let your child feel left out when he sees the students around him receive packages from their synagogues. Fill out the form below as soon as you have the correct address for your college student and mail with a check for $20 to: TSTI, 432 Scotland Road, South Orange, NJ 07079 Attn: Karen Patton

Renaissance Group

Shalom—September is here and so are we. Once again, we're ready to go with plans for a wonderful year. Hopefully, every one of us had a relaxing and healthful and enjoyable summer.

Our first meeting is a "lunch-brunch" scheduled for Sunday, September 12 at 1:30 in the Green Social Hall. This is a paid-up membership occasion so there is no charge, but you must be a paid up member for the 2004-2005 year. Do you remember Danny Stiles, a very popular radio "D.J." who has endured through the years and is now broadcasting on AM radio station WNYC. His music is "our" music. He will talk on "My Life in Radio." This should be trip down memory-lane for many of us. If you are planning to join us for the first time, you can mail your membership dues to Daniel Goldberg at 404 Barringer Court, West Orange, 07052. All Temple members, age 55 or over are invited to join. If the other member of your household is not yet 55, they may join with you. The annual dues per person is $15.

Our first field trip is scheduled for Wednesday, October 20. We will visit the Isamu Noguchi Garden Museum in Long Island City and the American Museum of the Moving Image in Queens. Of course, we'll enjoy a great lunch at a Greek taverna. The Garden Museum offers us an opportunity to experience beauty in a very spiritual environment. The Museum of the Moving Image will bring us moments of nostalgia and reflection. A bus will transport us from Temple to our New York destinations. Co-chairpersons Lenora Beckerman and Alice Forman have planned this interesting and diverse day for us. If you are a member of Renaissance, you have undoubtedly received our calendar for the year. You know we have wonderful events planned for us. Please watch your mail for details on the October trip and respond promptly because reservations are limited.

Our best wishes to our dear friend Barbara Pfeiffer for her successful path to recovery from a difficult illness she suffered this summer.

We look forward to seeing you at our paid-up meeting on the 12th. It will be nice to meet and greet all our friends after the long hiatus of the summer months.

Golden Generation

We are thrilled to announce that our Golden Generations group will be staffed and programmed by our own Fran Miller. Fran, a Family Educator, brings a host of exciting ideas and new programs for our Monday senior group. Currently, Fran teaches in our Sharey Ateed Hebrew High School, Sharey Tikvah 7th grade program, and is a 5th grade teacher in the Slucker Religious School. In addition, Fran coordinates special Religious School large scale events and tutors our Bar/Bat Mitzvah students. Fran has truly made a difference in our Temple community and we are confident that she will continue to nurture and strengthen our Golden Generations group.

Golden Generation meets the 1st Monday of every month and the 3rd Monday of each month excluding January-March

October 4: Luncheon with lively discussions and entertainment by Kathleen Kelly.

October 18: Bring a bag lunch. We provide side salads, dessert, coffee and tea and a wonderful program featuring Rabbi Arnie Zoref.
