Streets, Highway Maintenance Crews Deserve Vote of Thanks from Us All

Some of the most overlooked, overworked men to be found in public service have literally been working the clock around the past five or six weeks to do their assigned jobs.

We are referring of course to the men of the Village Public Works Dept. and personnel of the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

No matter what time of day or night old man winter unleashes his fury it's only-a matter/of minutes until we see the sanding trucks and scrapers springing into action. And many is the time these crews are forced to work through the night to keep our streets and highways clear for essential traffic.

As we prepared to drive to work this morning (Saturday) we expected a miserable, slippery condition on the roads because we knew a blizzard had been raging at 1:30 a.m. before we-retired.

But to our pleasant surprise we found 1-94 completely cleared so cars and trucks were whizzing along at normal speeds. Village streets were plowed out and snow removal crews were already hustling around in hauling away the sixinch accumulation of the white, fluffy substance we have found too frequently in the past few weeks.

these men must have been working through the night to clear the roads and streets for all of us. And this is not unusual for them either. Entertainment consisted of folk singing by Miss May Hawks of Birmingham, who formerly had her own program on radio station WJR.

The address of welcome was given by Leroy Heller, president Washtenaw County Livestock Council. Donald. R. Johnson, county extension director, was master of ceremonies.

The annual Washtenaw county vestock banquet is held for the purpose of highlighting a most important industry in the county. According to the 1959 census, Washtenaw county ranks second only to Lenawee county in total livestock farm sales, Washtenaw's 1959 farm sales in livestock was $5,279,709. In 1954 it was $4,297,430 and in 1949

Six special poultry short courses have been scheduled in Michigan during the next few months to bring the state's poultrymen up to date on latest developments in he industry.

Extension poultryman Floyd licks at Michigan State University. co-ordinator of the courses, announces that they will be open to anyone interested in modern methods of egg production. Hicks estimates that about two-thirds of all Michigan producers with over 2.000 bird flocks are exnected to attend one of the schools.

The MSU specialist reports that 20 noultrymen attending a recent session of the course at McBain owned more than 60.000 hens.

The schools are held "to keep poultrymen informed of current trends and information which is of practical use to them in their operations," he savs.

Schools are usually held for six consecutive weeks and meet from 3:30 until 9 p.m. Programs include discussions of egg production technology, nutrition, pullet rearing. laver housing, physiology and disease control, management, promotion, record keeping and credit.

-Special school features include nanel discussions of housing. equipment and credit by industry representatives working directly with producers in these areas. Courses' will be held this spring at Fremont, Traverse City, Milan. Sault Ste. Marie. Escanaba and Houghton, County extension agents have futher details and the starting dates of each school.

Price, spice and everything nice. Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's whol Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money, That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still-another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down?
