by Bud Besser

During this rite of spring, graduation-time, every ceremony has a guest speaker. Profound thoughts about the future, unending opportunities and "you can be anything you want to do," come down from the speaker's platform in an avalanche of words which are forgotten before they reach the middle row of sitting graduates.

On C-Span TV Monday night, good old Kurt Vonnegut addressed graduates from Agnes Scott College, a small girls school down south in Georgia.

Vonnegut, whose Slaughterhouse 5 novel is to today's students what Salinger's, Hemingway's and Fitzgerald's novels were to past generations, is a silly, funny uninhibited speaker who says whatever comes to mind. He speaks in non-sequiturs. He quotes Robert Browning only changing the gender in Browning's most quoted words.

Vonnegut spoke for 45 minutes, some gibberish, some shocking bits of trivia.

Dist. 219 balances the books--for now at least

by Rosemary Tirio

Despite dire projections of a $20 million shortfall by the 2005-06 school year that led officials to consider selling Niles North High School in an effort to raise money, the District 219 ended the year with books balanced and prospects for remaining within their $71 million budget for the coming year.

How has the district gone from the brink of disaster to a more

Des Plaines Police charge Oregon man in 1996 slaying;
Skokie Police accuse inmate of 1977 murder

Local police solve murders from '96, '77

by Rosemary Tirio

Last week was a banner week for the police departments in Skokie and Des Plaines which announced on successive days that two long-ago murders have finally been solved.

Des Plaines police announced May 24 that James Justin Thivel, 27, was arrested at his job at a floral delivery company in Medford, Ore., for the 1996 murders of a young couple as they sat in a parked car in a Des Plaines lover's lane.

The next day, Skokie police announced that Ralph Andrews, 54, has been charged with the rape and murder of 16-year-old Chicago babysitter Susan Clarke whose body was found in a Skokie weedpatch in 1977.

Eva Caudell, 20, of Joliet and Robert Farberger, 24, of Wheeling were both shot several times in the head Jan. 10, 1996, as they sat in a parked car on Prairie Avenue in Des Plaines.

Although police at the time of the murders said they had few clues and no leads, Lt. David Hachmeister of the Des Plaines Police Department, said Thivel was a suspect from the beginning of the investigation. The recent discovery of witnesses and addi-

MG planning second TIF development

by Rosemary Tirio

Morton Grove officials are studying the feasibility of a second tax increment financing district roughly in the area between Lehigh and Ferris avenues just south of the metra station, running north and ending just south of Dempster Street.

A condominium development along with some retail businesses is planned for the area, close to the site of the Morton House condominium.

The Village Board approved a feasibility study by the firm of Trkla, Pettigrew, Allen and Payne, Inc. The resolution calling for the hiring of the consultant includes mention of the village's intent to launch the redevelopment project in the Ferris/Lehigh area. Consultation fees are to be limited to $29,000 for the study, which is to be done in three phases and will determine the actual area to be encompassed in the TIF district, according to the resolution.

The proposed TIF project, the second in the village, may involve a half-dozen single-family

Pioneer Park Ribbon Cutting Ceremony

Niles Park District celebrated the opening of the new Pioneer Park at 7135 N. Harlem Avenue with a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony and Open House on Sunday, May 16. Niles Park District and the Village of Niles worked together through a cooperative effort to create the new park for the entire community. The opening of Pioneer Park was an exciting event for the Niles Park District Commissioners, Mayor, Village Trustees and the entire staff.

A-SCIP meeting to feature pharmacist

For many people, taking prescribed medication, vitamins, herbs and other supplements mean better health and living. Sometimes, however, certain medicines and herbs can react with each other producing dangerous results. Pharmacist Steve Bond, R.Ph., from Nasset Pharmacy in Park Ridge will explain the difference between many supplements and how they are best used with regular medications.

"Steve's friendly manner goes a long way in helping people understand the importance of intelligent and educated use of the wide variety of products available at the drug store these days," said Donna Anderson, Maine Township Director of Disabled Services. "Steve's been a pharmacist for 25 years, has developed wellness programs and has been a nutritional consultant for the past 3 years."

The meeting is scheduled for June 3, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road in Park Ridge. There is plenty of free parking available.

A-SCIP, originated as "Amputees and Spinal Cord Injured Persons" and targets people with any physical disability. A-SCIP meetings are designed to offer participants an opportunity to discuss and share methods of coping with various disability-related problems such as employment, housing, health related issues, relationships and other topics.

The Town Hall is handicapped accessible, and an interpreter will be present. For additional information, contact Donna Anderson at (847) 297-2510. TTY access via (847) 297-1336.

Lilac Tree to hold benefit at Borders in Deerfield

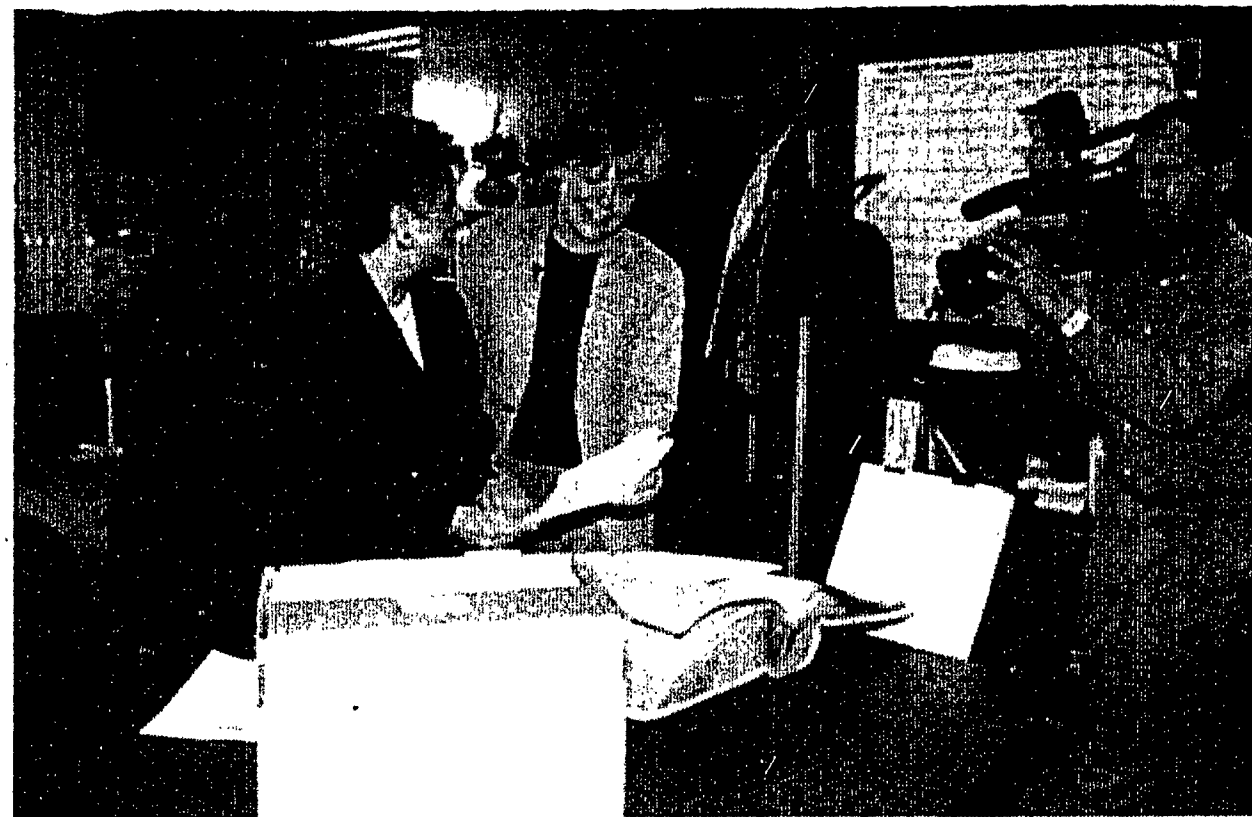

The Lilac Tree, a non-profit organization providing legal, emotional and financial services to women undergoing divorce, will kick off a fund-raising event at Borders in Deerfield with "Women and the Divorce process" from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. June 11.

Divorce attorney Burton Hochberg, J.D., and mediator and psychotherapist Karen Bloomberg, Ph.D., will discuss what to expect during the divorce process, selecting an attorney, knowing your rights and controlling your case.

A question-answer session will also be included. The fund-raiser will continue June 12 and 13. Borders is located at the southeast corner of Waukegan and Lake Cook roads.

For more information, call Carol Patinkin, director, at (847) 328-0313.

Cook County Circuit Court Clerk Aurelia Pucinski (left) and WBBM-TV Investigative Reporter Carol Marin, view historical documents at the Clerk's Records Center in Chicago. "I love showing off the archives because people don't realize what valuable things we have here," said Pucinski. Marin and a film crew from Channel Two interviewed Pucinski about the Records Center for a recent news program. There are records dating back to the Great Chicago Fire and include, divorce, and probate proceedings, as well as criminal, civil, law, chancery and traffic violation cases.

Precious Moments Care-A-Van to arrive in Niles

The Precious Moments Care-A-Van will pull into Niles on Sunday, June 13, as part of its nationwide tour to raise awareness about hunger and collect food donations for Second Harvest Food Bank. In the true spirit and inspiration behind the Precious Moments Collection, the Care-A-Van will stop in more than 80 cities throughout its eight-month tour in an effort to collect 60,000 pounds of food helping to provide food for 60,000 people -- making it the largest, continuous food drive of its kind.

Visitors can tour the 53-foot-long traveling museum which brings to life the history and special features of the more than 1,400 Precious Moments figurines and are invited to make food donations, which will be given to a local food bank. In addition, visitors will receive orange ribbons, an official symbol of domestic hunger, with a food donation or any monetary contribution to Second Harvest at European Imports, 7900 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles on Sunday, June 13, from 12 to 5 p.m.

The Precious Moments Collection by Enesco is one of the world's most popular and recognizable gift and collectible lines. The teardrop-eyed porcelain bisque figurines that bear sentimental messages created by artist Sam Butcher, have touched millions of people's lives for more than 20 years, helping to convey heartfelt emotions and celebrate personal milestones from birthdays and weddings to report cards and graduations.

The Precious Moments Care-A-Van will continue to spread the Collection's message of "Loving, Caring, Sharing," as it drives cross-country from April to November for Second Harvest, the nation's largest, charitable, hunger-relief organization.

Niles North principal gets District 219 post

After a 28-year career with Skokie School District 219, including five years as principal of Niles North High School, David Schusteff will become assistant superintendent of human resources. Superintendent Griff Powell has announced.

Beginning with the district in 1971 as a biology teacher and football coach, Schusteff became dean of students at the now defunct Niles East High School in 1977 and then at Niles North High School in 1980.

In 1981, Schusteff became director of practical arts at Niles North and in 1986 became the school's director of math and sciences. In 1994, he was named principal. In his new position, Schusteff will be in charge of recruiting and hiring for the district, a position that will become increasingly crucial as many early retirements are expected within the next three years.

Preparation coordinated with the right opportunity means financial success.

As part of the 1999 Leaning Tower Concert Series, the Village of Niles will host a "Battle of the Bands" on Thursday, August 26, 1999 at the Leaning Tower, 6300 West Touhy in Niles at 7 p.m. To be eligible, one high school age Niles resident must be a member of the band. Interested bands (rock, a capella, jazz, or any other type of music) must submit a demo tape or recording of a performance. Bands must also fill out an application form, which can be obtained by calling Kevin C. Wachtel at the Village of Niles (847.588.8007).

Audience will select the winning band. Top three bands will receive cash prizes ($300 for 1st, $200 for 2nd, and $100 for 3rd).

and the winning band may receive free studio time at a local professional studio to record two tracks.

Sound equipment will not be provided. No profanity, offensive or vulgar language or band names will be permitted. Demo tape, references, or recording of performance must accompany entry form. The Village of Niles reserves the right to deny entry to any band that is deemed inappropriate in any way. The number of entries received will determine length of set.

Please contact Kevin C. Wachtel at 847.588.8007 with any questions or to obtain an entry form.

ty," said Edie Freimark, the SeniorNet Site Manager at Kaplan. "In our program, participants will be able to successfully learn in a comfortable, non-intimidating atmosphere."

All classes will be taught by volunteer instructors who participate in training on SeniorNet teaching methods, curriculum development, and classroom management. Courses are held in JCC's state-of-the-art computer learning center which houses new IBM compatible computers complete with Windows 95 software, a scanner and laser and ink-jet printers.

Provenzanos celebrate 68 years of marriage

Recently, Michael and Joan Provenzano of Niles, joined by family and friends, renewed their wedding vows. This loving couple celebrated 68 years of marriage. The ceremony took place at The Shrine of Our Lady of Pompell in Chicago, the same church they were married at 68 years ago. Officialing at the ceremony was the Reverend Richard Fragomeni. Following the ceremony a reception honoring the couple was given by their children at the Bella Notte Trattoria.

Michael and Joan are very active in their community. They are members of St. John's Golden Age Club, St. Isaac Jogues 55+ Club, the Knights of Columbus, the Maine Township Seniors, and the Maine Township Regular Republican Organization.

Culver's Carl Travor to retire after 34 years

Carl Travor began a career as an educator because he "always liked school and liked helping people with their work". He started in 1965 at Culver School at 21 years of age with a Bachelor of Science degree from Iowa State. During his first year of teaching, Carl taught three classes of Science and three classes of Industrial Arts. He created and implemented the Industrial Arts curriculum that included woods, metals, drafting and leather.

Culver School has undergone several changes since 1965. The school moved from a "departmental system" to a "team approach" to teaching. Carl said, "instead of teaching one subject to several groups, you would teach at a grade level and more subjects. You are more involved with a smaller group of children and you work as a team to help the kids." The student enrollment has also impacted the school's development. As the school's enrollment increased in the late 60's and early 70's, the classes became larger. When Culver experienced a decrease in enrollment, teachers needed to teach multiple subjects and classes.

While Carl worked at Culver School, he was also attending graduate school at Loyola University. He received his masters in education with a focus in Guidance and Counseling and explored his new career. Carl worked at Waukegan High School as a Guidance Counselor for two years. He decided that he would return to teaching because the position did not turn out the way in which he thought.

Upon Carl's return to Culver School in 1971, he continued to teach Industrial Arts. Due to decreasing enrollment, Carl began teaching more science classes. Eventually, he taught three Industrial Arts classes, Math and Science. The Technology Committee decided to phase out Industrial Arts and Home Economics due to the growing need for students to learn computer based skills. Carl played a role in helping to develop the technology lab and implementation of the curriculum.

Carl's most recent accomplishment includes his direct involvement with the Illinois Junior Academy of Science. Carl has helped students develop their science projects for the Regional and State Science Fair competitions. He is extremely proud of the number of Culver students that earned awards during the competitions. Only 1,000 projects were exhibited at the State Science Fair. Culver School did an outstanding job by having three students and one alternate qualify for the State Science Fair. One student received an "Outstanding" and two students received a "First Place" award.

After his final year of teaching, Carl said he would miss the interaction with students and working with a committed team of teachers who put forth their best effort to educate students. Carl is looking forward to retirement.

Kissing reduces chance of cavities

Kissing, of all things, has been linked to the prevention of tooth decay, because it stimulates saliva, which helps reduce the incidence of cavities, reports the Academy of General Dentistry, an organization of general dentists dedicated to continuing dental education.

"Kissing is nature's cleansing process," explains Heidi K. Hausauer, DDS, FAGD, spokesperson from the Academy of General Dentistry. "Saliva washes out the mouth and helps remove the cavity-causing food particles that accumulate after meals."

During moments of increased saliva stimulation, a person can produce up to a 1/2 teaspoon of saliva per minute, and throughout the day, produce up to four cups of saliva.

More than a good night kiss is needed to protect teeth. "When you sleep, the flow of saliva slows down," says Dr. Hausauer. "It's important to remove plaque by always brushing and flossing before going to bed."

No one to kiss? Chew sugar-free gum - it can produce three times the regular amount of saliva.

The skinny on saliva:
• Saliva is made up of water, proteins, electrolytes and mineral salts.

• Your body produces saliva on 24-hour rhythm cycle, and can generate up to four cups of saliva per day.

• During periods of saliva stimulation, a person can produce up to a 1/2 teaspoon of saliva per minute.

• Saliva levels are higher when standing or laying than when sitting.

• Your salivation rate is higher in winter than in summer and higher in the morning than afternoon.

• Its mineral ions helps remineralize early lesions in tooth enamel.

• Chewing sugar-free gum can increase saliva flow by three times.

• Sugar, salt, bitter and acid tasting foods produce the highest saliva flow.

• Anxiety levels and thoughts of food effect the saliva flow rhythm.

Local residents honored as value leaders by Lutheran General Hospital

Mary Fryksdale, NCT

Eva Sawicki

Mary Jane Bennett, RN

Lutheran General Hospital recently honored six of its associates who exemplify the hospital's mission, values and philosophy (MVP). Their stories, chosen from over 1,000 submissions, illustrate what it means to demonstrate the Advocate values of compassion, equality, excellence, partnership and stewardship.

Mary Fryksdale, NCT, of Niles and Tracy Dunham, RN, of Rolling Meadows, were named MVP value leaders for compassion. Fryksdale and Dunham collected money for one of their patients who was dying and purchased gifts for his family, who he did not want seeing him in his weakened condition.

David Cruz, of Portage Park, was named the MVP value leader for equality. Cruz, who works in research and education at the hospital, was called upon to translate for a family whose baby was critically ill in the newborn intensive care unit. Cruz not only made it possible for the parents to understand what was happening, but he also comforted and supported them in a way that others couldn't due to the language barrier.

Pat Soderlund, of Rolling Meadows, was named the MVP value leader for excellence. When a group of friends were unable to send flowers to a dying friend in the surgical intensive care unit, Soderlund, the manager of the hospital's gift shop, took the time to pick out two cards, sign them and deliver them to their friend before his death.

Eva Sawicki, of Des Plaines, was named MVP value leader for partnership. Sawicki, an employee in the hospital's medical records department, was called upon as a one-time translator for a rehabilitation patient. Sawicki continued to visit every day, helping to alleviate the patient's concerns. She also worked closely with the staff, her involvement making it easier for them to respond to their patient's needs.

Mary Jane Bennett, RN, of Des Plaines, was named MVP value leader for stewardship. Bennett, a nurse in the newborn intensive care unit, cared for several infants who had recently died. In addition to providing high quality care to these babies and their families, she attended the hospital's memorial service, lighting candles for them. After the service, she stayed on to speak with several of the bereaved parents. Bennett was a visible reminder to the families who gathered of how the hospital staff are touch by these lives.

All six employees were recognized for their valuable contribution during the hospital's Associate Appreciation Week with a special luncheon in their honor.

Cardiac Rehab participants celebrate

Rush North Shore Medical Center's Cardiac Rehab Program celebrates the 16th annual "Keeping the Beat Walk/ Jog" event for cardiac rehabilitation participants on Sunday, June 6 beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the Medical Center's main entrance, 9600 Gross Point Road, Skokie.

The event is open to all past and present participants in cardiac rehab programs throughout the metropolitan Chicago area. Spouses who are free of cardiac disease are also welcome to join the event. Eating the Wrong Types of Carbohydrates Can Lead to Overeating

by Dr. Robert L. Richart

Americans have become increasingly diet conscious in the last decade. New labels on foods have resulted in a more educated consumer. Protein, total carbohydrate and fat content, and other information can be found on the labels of foods we buy.

A recent study, published in the March 1999 edition of Pediatrics, looked at the type of carbohydrates consumed and their effect on hunger and overeating. The researchers were testing a hypothesis that consumption of foods with a high glycemic index leads to excessive hunger and overeating in obese individuals.

The glycemic index (GI) of a carbohydrate measures the rate at which a carbohydrate enters the bloodstream. Carbohydrates that enter the bloodstream quickly have a higher GI than those that enter more slowly. The faster the carbohydrate enters the bloodstream, the more insulin is secreted. Fruits, vegetables and legumes tend to have a low glycemic index, while starchy carbohydrates such as refined grains and potatoes have a high glycemic index, in fact higher than table sugar by some 50%.

In the study, twelve boys who weighed 20% more than their ideal body weight were given identical test meals at breakfast and lunch that had low, medium and high glycemic indexes. The results showed that food intake after a high GI meal was 35% greater than after a medium GI meal and 81% greater than after a low GI meal. The study also noted a corresponding elevation in insulin levels.

The researchers concluded that the rapid absorption of glucose after consuming a high GI meal promoted excessive food intake in obese subjects.

Practical applications from this study are numerous. When choosing carbohydrate containing foods, we need to consider the glycemic index of the foods. Fruits and vegetables have a lower GI than pastas and breads and will enter the bloodstream more slowly. High GI meals also cause an excess of energy after their consumption and then fatigue as the insulin levels drop a few hours later.

The researchers also suggested that excess fat consumption should not continue to be the main focus of what causes and maintains obesity. Eating a low fat, high GI carbohydrate that results in excessive hunger later does not appear to be an effective way of weight control.

Carbohydrate guide books listing the glycemic indexes of foods can be found in most bookstores.

State should restore Medicaid dental coverage

Illinois state lawmakers should heed an editorial in the Tuesday, May 18 issue of the Chicago Tribune and restore Medicaid benefits for poor adults, which was eliminated four years ago in a misguided attempt to save money.

"The decision to cut dental care as well as optical care probably has done more harm than good," says Randall B. Grove, executive director of the Chicago Dental Society. "By going without regular visits to the dentist for routine dental procedures, poor adults suffered from abscesses and other problems that caused them to seek costly treatment in emergency rooms, where taxpayers picked up the bill, or worse, they lost their teeth altogether."

In fact, says Mr. Grove, a poor person who has a tooth that is unsalvageable and needs to be pulled can use Medicaid benefits for a tooth extraction; Medicaid pays dentists $26 per tooth. In the past four years, more than 60,000 teeth have been extracted from the mouths of the poor and underserved. "Dentists don't like this," he explains. "They are in practice to save teeth because they are needed to eat and speak properly, as well as maintain self-image through beautiful smiles. So Medicaid will pay for an extraction but offers nothing to maintain the tooth. As a result, dentists have quit Medicaid programs in large numbers. They don't want to be any part of a very flawed program."

The irony is that the government wants to decrease welfare roles by encouraging more poor people to work. "However," says Mr. Grove, "employers frequently will not hire someone who is missing their teeth, especially the front teeth. Some may think that a person with missing teeth has a violent domestic life or poor hygiene in general. They don't want sales clerks who have no teeth when they smile or who have impaired speech when they talk because they are missing teeth."

However, there is a surplus in next year's budget and most dentists hope that Governor George Ryan and state legislators will decide to restore the dentistry benefit to the Medicaid program. A First Aid and Safety Class offered at Holy Family.

On Saturday, June 19, a First Aid and Safety Class will be held at Holy Family Medical Center from 8 a.m. - 6 p.m. This one-day course will be taught by experts from the American Red Cross.

Participants will receive information about how to care for breathing and cardiac emergencies, perform rescue breathing, and one-person CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation).

For more information or to register, please call the American Red Cross at 1-800-337-2338, including the course code number, 3218-9999074.

fit, a cost of roughly $7 million for one year. The federal government would match that figure with another $7 million. The new money would provide dental care for the 135,000 adult Illinoisans who currently receive Medicaid benefits.

"The original decision to cut dental benefits was a knee-jerk reaction to save money but it is not logical," concluded Mr. Grove. "We now have an opportunity to correct that mistake and provide much needed dental care that will get these people back on their feet and working."

Illinois ranks near the bottom all 50 states in terms of Medicaid reimbursement rates.

Sun's rays cause more than wrinkles...

We're told every summer - by doctors, cancer specialists and our mothers - to stay out of the sun as much as possible, and when we are in the sun, to always wear sunscreen and protective clothing. Yet this year, an estimated one million people will be diagnosed with skin cancer, most often as a result of dangerous exposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays. Melanoma, the most serious form of skin cancer, is expected to be diagnosed in close to 42,000 people this year, and an estimated 7,300 people will die from it.

But for as high as these numbers are, nearly all skin cancers are preventable. The American Institute for Cancer Research offers some important guidelines for preventing skin cancer:
• Use sunscreens marked "SPF 15" or greater, even on cloudy days. For sensitive parts such as lips, nose, and ears, use sunblock. Remember to reapply sunscreen every two hours, especially if you're swimming or sweating.

• Wear protective clothing such as a brimmed hat and long sleeved shirt.
• Avoid exposure between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., when the sun's UV rays are strongest.
• Be careful when taking certain medications that may make skin burn more easily, such as sulfa drugs, tetracycline, indomethacin, and retin-A.

For a free brochure with more information on reducing skin cancer risk and tips for early detection, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. BHS, P.O. Box 97167, Washington, DC, 20090-7167.

Troop 175 thanks VFW Post #7712

The Boy Scout Troop 175 would like to thank the Niles Memorial VFW Post #7712, for their generous donation to the troop fund. The funds will be used to purchase various camping equipment so drastically needed for the growing troop.

The troop would appreciate any donation made to help the troop through it's growing phase. For more information on this tax deductible contribution - please call Bob Galassi at (847) 965-0920.

Niles Center/Skokokie Woman's Club highlighted contributions

The Woman's Club of Skokie/Lincolnwood has made a monetary contribution to the Skokie Historical Society for the preservation of the Woman's Club scrapbooks and minutes dating from 1926. At the Skokie Heritage Museum, Barry Humphrey, the 1998-99 President of the Skokie Historical Society is shown accepting the Woman's Club scrapbooks and minutes from Woman's Club members, Phyllis Cossarak (President), Sally Baumann (Treasurer) and Eunice Kozam (Vice President).

The Woman's Club of Skokie was established in 1926 and is the oldest community service club in Skokie. It has donated books to the Public Library, initiated tree planting along Lincoln Avenue, and sponsored the Camp Fire Girl Scouts. During World War II, the members sold War Bonds and Stamps, encouraged Victory Gardens and worked with the Red Cross, Civil Defense and the American Defenders Council. The Woman's Club was instrumental in the launching of services at the Orchard School for the Retarded, established a Senior Citizens group that continued for twenty-five years and initiated the re-organization of today's Skokie Historical Society.

The Woman's Club has always focused on the youth of the community and continues to this day. Since 1926, hundreds of youths have benefited from the scholarships awarded by the Club. The history of this important community service organization will be preserved on microfilm and saved for the future.

Fashion Show benefits LSSI's Child Care Programs

On May 8, The Women's Network of Lutheran Social Services of Illinois (LSSI) hosted its 15th Annual Brunch and Fashion Show, "Into The Looking Glass: A Century of Style" at the Westin Hotel in Rosemont. Five hundred people attended the event, including Representative Rosemary Mulligan.

"Into The Looking Glass," featured current fashions from Chicago designers as well as a special look at authentic fashions from the last century from the collection of Doris Phillips, a Park Ridge resident.

Each year, proceeds from the Women's Network fashion show benefit LSSI's Community Child Care Services (CCCS), which operates nine child development and Head Start centers in Chicago neighborhoods including Austin, Cabini-Green, Rogers Park, Uptown, Humboldt Park and West Englewood. These services provide children with nurturing, safe environments and enriching educational programs. CCCS also operates the Lutheran Children's Center, an accredited program that provides early childhood education for 2-5 year olds. The Center is conveniently located at the O'Hare Plaza, 8765 W. Higgins Road.

For more information about how The Women's Network benefits LSSI programs or Community Child Care Services, call 847/635-4625.

Kim Hendoo (left) and Doris Phillips (right), former and current Park Ridge residents respectively, recently attended LSSI's Women's Network fashion show, "Into The Looking Glass: A Century of Style." Phillips provided the vintage fashions used in the show from her extensive collection. The event benefited LSSI's child care and Head Start programs.

'Take Our Daughters (& Sons) to Work Day'

Cook County Circuit Court Clerk Aurelia Pucinski (center) and her employees hosted a group of young people from the Mercy Home for Boys and Girls in Chicago and Maryville Academy in Des Plaines in recognition of the nationally known event, "Take Our Daughters (& Sons) to Work Day."

"Our young people are the next generation of workers who will have the opportunity to change the world," Pucinski said. "This special day provides insight into the many different jobs available for their future, as well as instill confidence, strength, and motivation to succeed in school throughout their teen years." The Baby Brigade program fact sheet

Baby Brigade: Is a nursing home visitation program, done in a group setting. Operates Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday mornings from 10-11 a.m. at 8 participating nursing homes on the north side of Chicago and northern suburbs on a rotating basis.

- Provides a meaningful volunteer experience for parents, and socialization for babies and toddlers.
- Provides a positive community contact for nursing home residents, and shows children that aging is a natural part of life.
- Charges no fee for volunteer participation.

- How it works:
- Parents bring their infants and toddlers to participating nursing homes to visit with a group of residents.
 - A Baby Brigade coordinator facilitates each visit by planning activities and providing toys.
 - Participants spend the hour chatting or engaged in activities such as story time or singing.

Volunteers:

- Must be able to meet at the scheduled nursing home one morning per week from 10 to 11 a.m.
- Will be asked to complete an application process, and will receive an orientation provided by the coordinator.

Kids' College Art Fair at Oakton

Mike Tiemey of Des Plaines shows off his artwork at the Tenth Annual Kids' College Art Fair held recently at Oakton Community College, Des Plaines. Children, kindergarten through eighth grade, from schools in Oakton's district participated in the art fair.

An estimated 500 guests, including the artists, parents and teachers, attended a reception on March 18 to honor the works of these young artists. Oakton President Margaret B. Lee greeted the attendees. The Glenview District 34 Orchestra performed musical selections.

Summer art camp for kids

The Museum of Contemporary Art (MCA) announces its 1999 summer Art Camp program for children ages 6-12. The MCA Art Camp meets for four weeks, from July 5 through July 30, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to noon. Campers may sign up for one week or multiple weeks. Art Camp is generously supported in part by the North Shore Affiliate and the Women's Board of the MCA.

"Art Camp at the MCA emphasizes creativity, skill-building, and the innovative use of a range of materials," said Director of Education Wendy Woon. "We encourage campers to seek inspiration from the art on view in our galleries and sculpture garden."

The 1999 summer art camp season offers the following:

- Set the Stage - Working in the MCA theater, campers learn puppet-making techniques using a variety of materials. Write the script, build the set, and put on a production for family and friends.
- Reuse It-Working with Found Objects - With recycled materials (campers can bring something from home), a few tools, and a creative imagination, create amazing works of art.
- Passion for Paper - Using everything from basic construction paper to decorative and handmade papers from around the world, campers learn to create pop-up books, folded animals, masks and more.
- It's Only Natural - With Mother Nature as a guide, campers work on a variety of projects - such as a mobile, a terrarium, or a pot for your favorite plant - all inspired by the great outdoors.
- Let There Be Light: Non-Darkroom Photography - Campers learn to build their own camera with a cardboard box. Learn the fundamentals of photography including negative and positive images, the effects of light, and how a lens works.
- Now You See It, Now You Don't: The Art of Magic - Learn the tricks of the trade in the MCA theater. After practicing the subtle movements and sleights of hand that made magic so fascinating, campers put on a group performance for family and friends.
- I've Got Rhythm - Learn to make a variety of percussive instruments from around the world. Each class will introduce campers to a different musical style from places such as Africa, Cuba, Brazil and the Caribbean.
- Animation Creation - Create amazing characters and bring them to life, using the latest in computer technology. Campers will use the software Multimedia Director.
- Drawing in the Museum of Contemporary Art - This class takes campers into the museum's galleries and sculpture garden, introducing the day's focus by looking at works of art. With a sketchpad in hand, campers will learn the basic techniques of drawing using a variety of media.

Emerson students create soap opera

Emerson Middle School 8th Grade Spanish and French students; Loreen Fordice - French teacher; Pam Vaskey - Spanish teacher have created scenes for a soap opera which will be performed in three languages: Spanish, French and English. They will be videotaped during this process. Students wrote their own scripts and developed cue cards and props for their performances. The performances will take place Friday, June 4 and Monday, June 7 from 9-9:40 a.m. at Emerson Middle School Multi-Purpose Room/Cafeteria, 8101 N. Cumberland Ave., Niles, (847) 318-8110.

By completing this project, students will hopefully recognize the similarities between the Spanish and French languages and make connections from one to the other. This may also inspire them to learn another language in high school or beyond. These same students participated in National Foreign Language Week by playing international Bingo. The successful combination of students and languages for that event prompted this project.

Summer Youth Training and Employment Program

Niles Township High School District 219 is seeking business participation in the 1999 Summer Youth Training and Employment Program. This is a grant-based program offered under the Federal Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) with monies made available through the Workforce Development Council of Northern Cook County.

The program is designed to provide employment training and experience for high school special education and economically disadvantaged students. Students earn summer school credit for a six-week program combining one hour of classroom skill training and three to four hours of on-the-job training experience daily. The students will be available to work from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The program runs from June 18 through July 30, 1999.

One to five students and a program job coach are assigned to each work site. Students are bussed to the work site and receive hourly pay for the program experience. Transportation fees, and all student job coach salaries are paid with grant monies. Students will be interviewed and screened by a team of Niles Township High School Personnel.

If your business is interested in participating in this program, or you have any questions, please call Alexa Forman at (847) 568-3609. Fax (847) 568-3949.

Glenbrook South freshman gets perfect score on ACT

Hirsh Sandesara, 14, a Glenbrook South High School freshman became the only freshman to get a perfect 36 on the ACT college entrance examination.

A total of 67 students nationwide achieved a perfect score on this year's test, but Sandesara is the only freshman, according to Rose Rennekamp, ACT vice-president for communications. Nineteen of the perfect scores were achieved by seniors, 42 by juniors and five by students whose class levels are not known.

Sandesara has won numerous other academic awards, including five Cook County spelling bee championships, and fifth place in the 1997 national bee and third place in the 1998 competition.

Sandesara lives in Glenview with his parents, Kalyan Sandesara, a Chicago pediatrician, and Jyoti Sandesara, a research associate in neonatology at Evanston Hospital, and his brother, Anand, 10.

Hirsh Sandesara is one of the 30 freshmen selected from among the 1,000 freshmen attending Glenbrook South in

International Young Eagles Day, 1999 at Chicago's Meigs Field

On Saturday, June 12, over 200 children and teens from throughout the Chicagoland area will take part in an exciting educational program at Chicago's Meigs Field: International Young Eagles Day, 1999. Participants will have the opportunity to "Touch the Sky" and experience their first introductory flight at one of the largest such flight rallies in the country.

All children between the ages of 7 and 17 are eligible for this free program with the signed permission of a parent or guardian. During the event, the terminal building at Meigs will be transformed into a kind of "living air museum" and learning center, complete with ground school elements, demonstrations of aerodynamics, and even an operating instrument flight simulator.

Participants will have an opportunity to meet and chat with some of the original Tuskegee Airmen, the service organization founded by the African-American aviators who first broke the color barrier to fly for the U.S. armed forces during World War II. All children will receive commemorative Meigs Field posters to take home. A special display of historical aircraft will also be featured on the ramp in front of the terminal building.

At the Meigs rally, reserved flights are already scheduled for the morning, but the afternoon is being held open for children who are visiting the Museum Campus on a walk-up basis. It will not be necessary for these children to hold reservations. Rain checks will be issued in case of inclement weather or an overflow of participants.

The Friends of Meigs Field regularly provide financial and logistical support for the Tuskegee Airmen Young Eagles Program at Meigs. At the airport's 50th anniversary celebration in December, the Friends of Meigs donated a new scheduling computer and $1,000 to the Tuskegee Airmen.

Date: Saturday, June 12, 1999
Time: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Location: Merrill C. Meigs Field, 15000 South Linn White Drive, just south of the Adler Planetarium.

For more information on this event, please call the Young Eagles Hotline at (312) 409-5621.

Lambs Farm 13th Annual Auto Show

Auto enthusiasts won't want to miss the 13th Annual Auto Show at Lambs Farm on Sunday, June 13. More than 300 beautifully restored antique and classic automobiles will be on display from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. And, unlike other local auto shows, general admission and parking are free.

Timed drills will be held at 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. where a team of five car club members will rebuild an entire car and drive it away. The team boasts a typical reassembly time of less than two minutes! In addition, the owner of the "best in show" automobile will be awarded with a hand-made trophy at 3 p.m.

Visitors will have the opportunity to meet the owners of the cars and talk about history, restoration techniques and mechanical details. The show, open to all makes and models, includes more than a dozen different auto clubs from all over the Midwest. There is an $8 donation required per entry for owners who wish to exhibit their vehicles. Both pre-registration and same day sign-up are encouraged. Plaques go to the first 250 entries.

No picnic baskets or coolers are allowed as all proceeds benefit programs for Lambs Farm's more than 250 participants with mental disabilities. Lambs Farm is located just off I-94 on Route 176. For more information, please call Lambs Farm at (847) 362-4636.

Wellness Fair fares well

A variety of community health and welfare agencies participated in the recent Wellness Fair held at Niles West High School. Representatives from the various organizations distributed information and were available to speak with students. The Wellness Fair, which was held in the school cafeteria drew steady crowds of students all day.

Among the agencies participating were: Skokie Health Department, L.I.N.K.S., Northern Illinois Council on Alcohol & Substance Abuse, Niles Family Services, Northwest Council Against Rape, American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, National Association for Anorexia Nervosa & Associated Disorders, United Way, American Lung Association.

The Niles West Respect Committee organized the fair, which was part of a yearlong program focusing on "Respect." Faculty and staff members include Joyce Van Alstin, Jude Erickson, Pat Harn, Dana Kanwischer, and Hope Kracht.

Wolff's Flea Market opens ninth season

Wolff's Flea Market recently kicked off its ninth season at the Rosemont Horizon, once again producing the bargains and hidden treasures that tens of thousands of visitors have come to expect from Chicagoland's leading outdoor marketplace.

Opening day saw the market open to threatening skies and chilly temperatures. Despite the less than ideal conditions, a strong turnout of vendors and shoppers flocked to Wolff's Flea Market to hawk their wares or look over the thousands of items on display. Among the items one can find every week are antiques, collectibles, crafts, Beanie Babies®, tools, sporting goods, personal care items, apparel, footwear, books, videos, and "garage-sale" items.

The opening day through more than doubled the following week, when the market opened under bright, clear skies and warm temperatures. "Our attendance in week two, as well as our turnout of vendors, was nearly that of our peak days last year, when we set records in both areas," said David Wolff, who co-owns the market with his brother Donald. "Clearly, people were anxious for the season to begin."

Wolff's Flea Market succeeds in part because of its location, the Rosemont Horizon. Because the market is held in the Horizon's parking lot, it is a very clean market, compared to others in the area which are held on gravel.

"The others do tend to get dusty and grimy," David Wolff said. "We also employ a cleaning crew throughout the hours of operation, as well as off-duty Rosemont police, to make sure that the time our guests spend at our market is pleasant."

In addition, the lot is big enough to accommodate expansion, something that has been a necessity every year since the market opened in 1991. "We become more established - and bigger - every year because of the excellent word-of-mouth advertising we receive from our patrons," said Donald Wolff. "Plus, people see us from the Northwest Tollway, and jump off at Lee Street. It's pretty easy to get to Wolff's Flea Market."

The Wolffs are also quick to credit the management of the Horizon for their support over the past nine years, especially this year, when a major construction project at the arena this summer threatened to disrupt the market.

Wolff's Flea Market is open every Sunday through October 31, from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Admission for shoppers is $1, children under 13 and seniors over 62 are admitted for $0.50, children under 6 are free. Vendor spaces are available for $25. More information can be obtained by calling 847-524-9590.

Children's entertainment train makes first run

Yes, a new train will be riding the rails in June filled with story tellers, costumed characters, special entertainers, and more. The Storyland Express, specially chartered Metra trains, will be stopping at 18 suburban cities on Saturday June 5, June 12, and June 19 on the Rock Island (Joliet), Burlington/SantaFe (Aurora), and Milwaukee West (Elgin) lines.

Children (ages 2-10) will be wide-eyed as costume characters parade through the Storyland train cars (characters are close enough to touch and talk to). When not being entertained by storytellers, entertainers, and characters, children will be happily engaged in numerous fun activities including face painting, singing, and more.

This special train will be traveling to the Story Book Village, a real destination, where children will visit with the characters at their homes.

A ride on the Storyland Express Train will be more than just a train ride; it will be an entertaining experience for children ages 2-10 (and their parents, grandparents, and special friends). This train ride is more than just a fun and entertaining experience in a unique atmosphere, it is also designed to be informational, educational, and motivational for your children.

For most children just the chance to experience a real train is something very special.

All these activities are designed to keep the children from thinking about what they are going to see at the Storybook Village. Everyone will tour the various scenes from your favorite stories and visit with the characters at their home in the Story Book Village.

Dora Kruger, the train's entertainment coordinator, states: "This train ride is more than just a fun and entertaining experience in a unique venue. It is also designed to be informational, educational, and motivational for children of all ages. Children also interact with train engineers and conductors as well as learn about train safety."

Tickets are available by mail or telephone by calling toll free 1-877-998-7246. Advance tickets are required. Tickets are $9 for children and adults. Children 24 months and under are free. Information and ticket request forms are also available at all Eagle Country Markets in Chicagoland and Northwest Indiana.

The country with the highest taxation is Norway, where the highest rate of income tax in 1992 was 65 percent, although additional personal taxes make it possible to be charged in excess of 100 percent.

Storyteller Series at Niles Community Church

Niles Community Church, 7401 W. Oakton Street would like your children to join us the week of June 28 through July 2 as we cast our nets into the water and fish for a deeper understanding of the relationship Jesus had with his disciples, especially Peter.

The Fisherman's Story: Jesus Calls Peter, the 5th edition in the Storyteller Series, tells the biblical story of Peter accepting the call to follow Jesus. Through story telling, music, crafts and games we will learn how Jesus calls on each of us by name and how we can respond to that call.

VBS is open to all children from pre-school through 6th grade (as of September). The cost this year is $10 per child up to a maximum cost of $30 per family. For pre-registration or further questions, please contact the church office at (847) 967-6921.

Free Lira performances at Art Institute of Chicago

The Lira Singers and members of the Lira Chamber Orchestra, who specialize in Polish music, will present two free performances at the Art Institute of Chicago on Sunday, June 6, during the opening weekend of a magnificent exhibition of fine and decorative art from Poland's Golden Age. The exhibit titled Land of the Winged Horsemen: Art in Poland 1572-1764, will be on display at the Art Institute through September 6, 1999.

Two brief Lira performances will offer Polish music of the Baroque Period, the historical period featured in the exhibition. The concerts take place at 1:30 p.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. in Fullerton Hall on the first floor of the Art Institute, which is located in Grant Park at Michigan Avenue and Adams Street. Admission to the concerts is free with admission to the Art Institute. Suggested admission to the Art Institute is $8 for adults and $5 for seniors, students, and children. However, any donation is accepted for admission. No special tickets are needed for the Polish exhibit or the Lira concerts.

For more information about the Art Institute's exhibit of Polish art, call 312-443-3600. For more information about the Lira Ensemble performances, call 773-539-4900.

Chris Carter to perform 'Mindscape'

Parents -- do you know where your kids will be after graduation ceremonies, or for their Senior Prom this year?

If they're lucky, they will be part of Christopher Carter's hypnotic "Mindscape" show. Carter, a resident of Des Plaines, has been hired -- in some cases for the fourth consecutive year -- to headline the Post Graduation/Post Prom parties for area high schools, part of their very successful "lock in" parties.

Carter will perform his "Mindscape" hypnosis show for students graduating from Downers Grove North High School (Post Graduation Party, 11 p.m. on Friday, June 4); for the fourth consecutive year at Maine West High School/Des Plaines (Post Prom Party, 1:30 a.m. on Saturday, June 5); and for the second consecutive year at Maine South High School/Park Ridge (Post Prom Party, 3:30 a.m., Saturday, June 5).

The program coordinators at these high schools have high praise for Carter:

- "The response to Carter's show was overwhelming last year" (Vince Walsh Rock, Student Assistance Program Coordinator/Downers Grove North High School)
- "This is the fourth consecutive year that Chris Carter will be headlining our Post Prom Party, and he is the biggest draw that we have to keep our kids off the streets for this celebration" (Debbie Kouleates, Chairman of Post Prom Party/Maine West High School, Des Plaines)
- "Chris Carter received rave reviews from our Post Prom Party last year; he relates well to 18-year olds and is our main attraction" (Nancy Olson, Entertainment Coordinator for Post Prom Party/Maine South High School, Park Ridge)

Banquet at Tam

American Girl Place introduces new summer events

American Girl Place, Chicago's popular new retail and entertainment site for girls, is launching a summer series of events and programs for girls and their families.

The three-part performing arts series begins on Tuesday, June 8, as the Chicago Symphony Orchestra's lively Trio con Brio takes girls and their families on an informative, interactive, and entertaining musical journey. Participants learn firsthand about three members of the string family and what it's like to perform in a world-class orchestra. On Tuesday, June 22, soprano Anisha McFarland of the Lyric Opera will bring opera to life for children and adults with memorable selections ranging from Gershwin to Puccini while sharing the story of her own musical career. On Tuesday, July 6, dancers from the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago will keep audience members on their toes as they show girls a few dance steps, display costumes from the holiday favorite, The Nutcracker, and provide insights into the disciplined life of a ballerina. The one-hour performing arts shows begin at 5:30 p.m. in the American Girl Theater. Tickets are $20 per evening or $54 for the series.

A Date with Dad offers fathers, grandfathers, and uncles a chance to share a magical and memorable evening with the American girl in their life. The program begins with a performance of The American Girls Revue, a ground breaking, professional musical -- written by Broadway talents Gretchen Cryer and Nancy Ford -- and inspired by the beloved characters and stories of The American Girls Collection. After the show, girls and their guests will have a special dinner in the American Girl Cafe. A Date with Dad is scheduled for Thursday, June 3, and Thursday, June 10, at 5:30 p.m. Tickets for the theater and dinner are $49.50 per person for the first two guests and $45 for each additional guest.

In the first of an ongoing series of American Girl author visits, girls and their families will have an opportunity to attend Meet the Author: Breakfast and Book Signing with Connie Porter on Friday, June 25. Ms. Porter is the author of the award-winning Addy books, which tell the story of a courageous nine-year old African American girl determined to be free during the Civil War. The ticketed program begins at 9 a.m. and includes breakfast in the American Girl Cafe and an opportunity for young Addy fans to participate in a lively Q & A discussion with Ms. Porter. Breakfast tickets are $14 per person. After breakfast, Ms. Porter will sign Addy books from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in a free, public book signing.

All ticketed events are reserved for adults and children ages six and up. Reservations are required. For more information or to make reservations, call toll free 1-877-247-5223. American Girl Place is located at 111 E. Chicago Avenue, across from the historic Water Tower.

Program on Asthma, Allergies, the Environment

A Community Education Program jointly sponsored by Niles Family Services and Niles Senior Center will be conducted by Lenore Coover, RN, MSN on Saturday, June 12th, 8:30 a.m. - 10:30 a.m. at the Niles Family Services/Niles Senior Center, 999 Civic Center Drive from 8:30 - 9 a.m. for Light Breakfast and a 9-10:30 a.m. presentation. This event is free to the public.

Do you know that thirteen million Americans have asthma, asthma is most likely to occur in children by age five and adults by age 40 and one in ten new cases are diagnosed in persons over 65.

Lenore Coover's presentation will cover what asthma is, symptoms, treatment goals and management, psychosocial concerns and resources.

Please call to register at 588-8420 or 588-8460 for this free program.

Cancer Survivors Day Celebration

A free celebration of National Cancer Survivors Day will take place at the Hyatt Regency O'Hare, 9300 West Bryn Mawr Avenue, Rosemont, from noon to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 6. The celebration is being sponsored by Resurrection Health Care, 7447 West Talcott Avenue. Resurrection Health Care provides cancer treatment at Resurrection Medical Center, Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center, St. Francis Hospital in Evanston and Westlake Community Hospital in Melrose Park.

"We anticipate nearly 1,000 people will attend this year's celebration of life on National Cancer Survivors Day," said Carol Flanagan, R.N., Coordinator of the Cancer Treatment Center at Resurrection Medical Center. "Anyone with a diagnosis of cancer is invited to attend with their families or friends."

The National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship defines cancer survivorship as the day of diagnosis through the remainder of life.

Joining the celebration as guest speaker will be cancer survivor Lawrence Baran, Ph.D. Baran is the first cancer survivor inducted into the National Teacher Hall of Fame and was named the Reader's Digest American Hero in Education.

The celebration also will include square dancing; the Heart Brothers, a contemporary music group; a buffet style luncheon and a raffle, which will include two tickets to a Cubs game.

National Cancer Survivors Day is designed to help draw attention to the issues faced by the more than 8.2 million cancer survivors in the United States. The celebrations that take place across the country will also focus on advances made in cancer research and treatment.

Registration is required. For more information and to register, call the Resurrection Cancer Institute at Resurrection Medical Center at 773-792-5116.

Living Through Loss lecture at Wheeling Township

On Tuesday, June 8 from 10 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., a free program entitled "Living Through Loss" will be sponsored by Holy Family Medical Center and the Wheeling Township. The program will be held at the Wheeling Township offices, 1616 N. Arlington Heights Road in Arlington Heights.

Speaking at the lecture will be Rosemary Salerno Amato, Licensed Clinical Social Worker, who specializes in grief education and counseling. Presently, she is the Bereavement Coordinator for Rush Hospice Partners. Amato's work includes grief counseling, planning and facilitating grief groups and coordinating the bereavement follow-up program for hospice families.

The goal of the program is to provide participants with the tools necessary to live through loss. Amato will discuss the types of grief (physical, emotional, and behavioral), the dynamics of grieving (working through the pain) and discuss strategies for confronting loss in healthy ways.

For more information or to register for this free program, please call the Wheeling Township offices at 847-259-7730. Registration is required.

KOC prayer service a big success

Carl Ferina, church committee chairman of the North American Martyrs Council 4338, Knights of Columbus, would like to thank all the participants in the millennium family prayer service, held at St. John Brebeuf Church, Niles, on Wednesday, May 19.

The over 300 participants made the evening's service very special in praising our Holy Mother and our Lord, Jesus Christ.

Grand Knight Rich Zaprzalka thanks Carl, the Sir Knights in the honor guard, the Polish prayer group and especially Carl's prayer service committee for their hard work in the coordination of this successful event.

Rich also thanks Father Tom May for presiding over this beautiful prayer service.

Police News

Criminal damage to property

A 53-year-old mechanical engineer from Wheeling was driving his 1995 blue Toyota westbound on Golf Road between 2:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. May 27 when the male driver of a newer tan or cream color Ford or Chevrolet sports utility vehicle apparently became angry with him for an unknown reason.

When the victim stopped in traffic at 9100 Golf Road, he lost sight of the offender. However, several moments later the offender walked up to the victim's car on the passenger side and struck the victim's passenger side mirror, breaking it off. The offender fled to his auto. The victim observed the license plate on the offender's car but was not positive of the last three numbers. The license plate reported checked to a blue 1987 van registered to a Chicago resident. Police are investigating the incident.

Burglary

The 56-year-old resident of a residence in the 9800 block of Robin Drive reported that unknown offender(s) gained entry by kicking in the rear entry door sometime between 6:15 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. May 28. Once inside, the offender(s) ransacked three of the four upstairs bedrooms and various closets throughout the house.

Approximately $800 was removed from the home. A pillow case filled with miscellaneous costume jewelry items was left in the middle of a bed upstairs.

A 57-year-old resident of the 7100 block of Lee Street reported that two hours after he and his wife returned from a vacation around 2:30 p.m. May 31, they realized that a stereo valued at $300 was missing from a china closet in the living room.

He also found that other items were out of their usual places, and he found financial papers and a $100 bill on the floor of a bedroom. The papers and money originally were located in a jewelry box along with credit cards that were left behind by the offender(s). The victim found his passport on the floor in another part of the bedroom, but personal checks and $300 in cash were left behind.

Police theorize that the point of entry was a rear sliding glass patio door where pry marks were found.

Police theorize that the point of entry was a rear sliding glass patio door where pry marks were found.

Arson/unlawful use of weapon

Police were dispatched to the 9700 block of Huber Oval around 4:47 a.m. May 29 on the report of shots fired into a house and a possible car fire. When police arrived they found a blue 1994 Dodge Caravan on fire. After the Niles Fire Department extinguished the fire, police spoke with the 45-year-old owner of the home and car that had been victimized, and his 22-year-old son.

The victim told police he heard several shots and glass breaking in the house. Police observed a red plastic gas can leaning against the left rear wheel of a 1993 Infiniti sedan parked in the driveway facing east. An accelerator trail of gas led from the front of the van across the driveway and onto the Infiniti, ending approximately 25 feet behind the sedan. A cigarette butt was located approximately 12 inches from the gas can.

Police observed many bullet holes in the front windows of the victim's home and recovered seven Luger 9 mm shell casings from the driveway and front lawn area of the house. In a canvass of the neighborhood, police learned that neighbors witnessed two unknown male subjects running northbound on Huber Lane and a burgundy or red sedan speeding eastbound on Maynard from Huber Lane shortly after the gunshots were heard.

Police spoke with attendants from two service stations at Greenwood and Milwaukee Avenue and at Golf Road and Greenwood Avenue. Both advised that no one had purchased a gas can or gas dispensed into a can during their shifts.

Found property

An unknown person came to the Niles Police Department and turned in six loaded tear gas cartridges at 9:15 a.m. May 29. The cartridges were inventoried and placed in an outside storage shed for disposal.

Retal theft

A 37-year-old woman living in a Morton Grove motel was arrested in a retail store in the 6100 block of Touhy Avenue around 1:50 p.m. May 27. The offender was attempting to leave the store with merchandise valued at $689 without paying for it. Because of the offender's previous arrest history and conviction for retail theft, she was charged with felony theft. A July 6 court date was scheduled. A videotape of the incident was inventoried.

Theft

The loss prevention agent of a retail store at 220 Golf Mill reported that a male suspect and a female suspect, both in their 20s, are suspected of taking a pair of gold and diamond earrings valued at $600, which were discovered missing by the jewelry clerk who had opened the display case to show the female suspect a necklace. The male suspect had placed his jacket on top of the open case, preventing the clerk from closing the case completely. After the offenders left the area, the clerk noticed the earrings were missing and notified Niles police, who are investigating the incident.

Stolen auto

A 21-year-old Evanston student reported that unknown offender(s) stole her 1985 silver Toyota Camry while it was parked in the north lot of the Golf Mill Mall sometime between 3 p.m. and 4:42 p.m. May 30. A police check of the area proved negative.

'Judges in the Classroom' program

The Illinois Judges Association (IJA), in cooperation with the American Judicature Society (AJS), is participating in the new "Judges in the Classroom" program, which places judges in junior and senior high schools throughout Illinois to teach students about the judiciary and increase their awareness of how the justice system works. Planning the upcoming visits in Chicago area schools are (from left) Hon. Stuart A. Nudelman, presiding judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County and chairman of the IJA's Community Relations Committee; Nancy C. Biro, AJS project attorney; Pamela M. Penczak, AJS executive assistant; Hon. Cheryl A. Starks, judge, Circuit Court of Cook County; and Hon. J. Patrick Morse, associate judge, Circuit Court of Cook County. For more information about the "Judges in the Classroom" program, call (312) 558-6900. The Illinois Judges Association, formed in 1971, provides continuing legal education to members of the judiciary and education to the public on matters regarding the judiciary.

A 35-year-old bakery owner was delivering bread to the supermarket in the 5600 block of Touhy Avenue between 9 a.m. and 9:15 a.m. May 26 and left his 16-foot 1998 Chevrolet Express Van outside the store with the keys in the ignition. When he returned to the parking lot, the vehicle was gone.

Lost/stolen property
A 69-year-old bicycle shop owner from Skokie returned home after shopping at the food store in the 5600 block of Touhy Avenue between 4:40 p.m. and 4:55 p.m. May 30. The victim discovered that her black leather fanny pack containing $250 cash, credit cards, her driver's license and a day planner was missing. She was unable to locate the fanny pack when she returned to the store.

Why Select A Family Owned Funeral Home?

- *Prices are traditionally much lower than those of corporate owned funeral homes.
- *Our funeral directors and staff do not work on commissions. They will never pressure you to buy something that you don't want or need.
- *All of our preparation work is done at our funeral homes by licensed funeral directors. Your loved one will not be transported to a "factory like" embalming facility.
- *You will be treated with the respect and appreciation that only a family owned business can offer.
- *We consistently upgrade our facilities and equipment to offer families only the best.
- *The comfort of knowing the person you're dealing with. You will always see a familiar face at our chapels. Our staff is not rotated among dozens of funeral homes.

Hula dancers entertain at Bethany Terrace

Bethany Terrace Nursing Centre was swinging and swaying like palm trees on a sunny Hawaiian Island during the grand finale to Nursing Home Week. Not only did Kukana, Zinna and Sina from the Royal Polynesian Ravva, professional hula dancers, entertain more than 150 residents and guests, but the male nursing staff danced the hula with exquisite grace and rhythm at the annual Talent Show.

Traditionally, Nursing Home Week begins with Mother's Day and ends on Saturday. All nursing homes in the country have special programming. Bethany Terrace celebrated the week with a special Mother's Day Tea on Sunday, a bingo bonanza followed by a wine and cheese party on Monday; a magic show on Tuesday; the hawaiian Luau and a pet show on Wednesday; followed by a Resident and Staff Talent Show on Friday.

Residents Eva Ardelean and Ken Hartman read poems while Hilda Kale showed off her paintings and Jeanne Heller displayed her portfolio of art work. The following talented employees swayed with the rhythm and performed to the delight of all guests: A. Cephus (known as A.C. to his friends) of Dietary sang a blues song; Dominic Figueroa (Nursing) performed a rhythmic yoga; the entire Activity Department wrote and performed to an original rap song about Bethany Terrace and directed by Lori Lentz, Activity Director; Diana Ross impersonator Suzanne Crow, Social Service Director, did a terrific impersonation and lip-synced the tune of "Reach Out and Touch Someone." Maintenance Director John Burns juggled not only balls but scarves to the delight of the residents; Rosy Oden of Housekeeping (who plays beautiful classical music) tinkled the ivories to several musical pieces; Shirley Sax of Administration showed off her beautiful needlepoint and read an original poem, followed by a real show stopper—an all make Hawaiian hula dancers in full costume performed by the men on the afternoon nursing shift, Jose Rodriguez, RLA, Rodol Garcia, RN,

Power wheelchairs available

The Senior Wheels Program makes available Power (Electric) Wheelchairs to Senior Citizens (65 yrs. old & up) with walking impairments usually at no cost if they qualify.
The aids are provided to those 65 and older who require them for use in their home and meet the qualifications of the program. The person must be non-ambulatory and unable to propel themselves in a manual wheelchair.
When approved, the power chair is then delivered to the Seniors' home and instruction in operation is given by the Program Director.

Regency sponsors a week-long celebration of chocolate

In the spirit of sponsoring activities that are unique and creative, Regency sponsored a whole week of fun events in celebration of one of our residents' favorite foods: chocolate! The week's events were a sweet success, with our residents enjoying a variety of delicious desserts and engaging activities.

Our "Celebration of Chocolate" began with the viewing of that popular movie, "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory," along with chocolate refreshments. The second day, we enjoyed a strawberry chocolate dip, following our "Bowling for Dollars" activity. The strawberries were enormous and everyone had at least two!

On the third day, we invited a baker to come and demonstrate the fine art of cake decorating. He started with a large unfrosted cake and turned it into a thing of beauty! Everyone enjoyed not only seeing the demonstration, but afterwards, sampling the finished product. We also enjoyed "Chocolate Trivia and History," with chocolate bars for prizes.

On Thursday, we held a chocolate "Bake-Off" with clients from Regency Senior Day Care Center. We made a variety of chocolate delights, such as three kinds of brownies - frosted, caramel, and walnut; chocolate cake with fudge frosting; chocolate covered nuts; chocolate cream pie; and chocolate muffins. We only ate small samples, as we wanted to serve it for our upcoming tasting event.

The week's biggest event was Regency's "Taste of Chocolate" that included residents, family and staff. We showed the famous Lucille Ball TV classic, where Lucy and Ethel went to work in a chocolate factory; had a chocolate quiz; and ended with a taste of all the chocolate desserts we had baked the day before, plus generous donations from our staff here and at the day care center.

BLOOD PRESSURE SCREENING

According to the American Heart Association, the diagnosis of high blood pressure is based on the average of two or more readings taken at each of two or more medical visits after an initial screening. The Heart Association's classifications for adults age 18 and older are:

- Ideal, less than 120/80; re-check in two years.
- Normal, less than 130/86; re-check in two years.
- High normal, 130-139/85-89; re-check in one year.
- Mild high blood pressure, 150-159/90-99; confirm within two months.
- Moderate high blood pressure, 160-179/100-109; evaluate within one month.
- Severe high blood pressure -- more than 180/110; evaluate immediately.

Free blood pressure screening is offered from 9 to 11 a.m. on Tuesday, June 8 in the Morton Grove Village Hall Senior Center.

COMMISSION ON AGING

Kids' golf clinic offered at Oakton

This summer, Kids' College, part of Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL), the continuing education program partnered with Oakton Community College and area high schools, is offering a golf clinic for boys and girls between the ages 7-14.

Four clinics will be held at the Des Plaines Campus, 1600 East Golf Road. Session 1 (KSG 001-31) will be held on June 21-24; Session 2 (KSG 001-32) meets on June 28-July 1; Session 3 (KSG 001-33) will be held on July 12-15; and Session 4 (KSG 001-34) meets on July 19-22. All sessions will run from 11:30 a.m. - 1 p.m.

The golf clinics will stress the fundamentals of the game, including the golf swing and hitting methods. There will be two assistants, along with an instructor. The clinics will include progress reports and take a home video. All equipment will be supplied by Oakton. The fee for the Summer Golf Clinic varies

Take a zoo trip with Morton Grove

Join the Prairie View Travel Club on Tuesday, June 15 as we visit the Lincoln Park Zoo. A Chicago Architecture Foundation docent will conduct a tour of the award winning examples of Neoclassical and Prairie School buildings. Grandchildren are welcome on this trip. Everyone will enjoy this wonderful animal habitat, the second oldest zoo in the country.

Lunch will be a zoo feast under a big top tent with your choice of the scrumptious Turkey breast sandwich on white bread with Swiss cheese or a delectable smoked ham sandwich on rye bread with cheddar cheese. There will be time to visit your favorite spots at the zoo. The motorcoach will leave at 9:15 a.m. and return at approximately 4 p.m. The cost is $32 for Morton Grove residents and $38 for non-residents. Dora La Forest will provide all materials and guidance. The cost of the workshop is $4. Please register at Prairie View Community Center, 6834 Dempster by June 5th.

Annual Niles North Golf Outing set

The Niles North Golf & Recreation announces the first session of summer adult tennis programs begin June 5 at Niles West High School Tennis Courts. Youth tennis programs begin on June 14 at Devonshire Park and at Niles West High School. All programs are under the direction of the Frank Sacks Tennis Camps, Inc. and follow the guidelines of the United States Tennis Association instructional and grow-the-game initiatives.

The format for the outing will be a four-person best ball scramble. Each member of the foursome will tee off and then proceed to the ball that is in the best position to take the second shot. The same procedure applies to all shots from then on. Because of this unique format, no previous golfing experience is needed. Participants may register as a foursome or individually. Individual golfers will be assigned a foursome.

Prizes will be awarded for competitions such as longest drive, closest to the flag, and others. The cost, per golfer, is $53. This will include 18 holes of golf, shared golf cart, and light lunch (hot dog or brat, chips and drink).

For further information and reservations contact: Joel Kessler at Niles North High School 568-3344.

ISU alumni to bid farewell to President Strand

Illinois State University will host events June 16 and 17 for Chicago-area alumni and friends to honor and thank retiring president David A. Strand for his 22 years of service to the University. On Wednesday, June 16, a reception will be held at the Wyndham Garden Hotel at 17 West 350 22nd Street in Oakbrook Terrace from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The Thursday, June 17, reception will run from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Illinois State University Foundation Chicago Office, 150 North Michigan Avenue, in downtown Chicago.

President Strand became the 15th president of Illinois State University in August 1995 after serving as vice president and provost, as vice president for business and finance on two occasions, and as executive officer. After his retirement from the presidency, Strand will return to teaching in the department of educational administration and foundations in 2000. Under his administration, the University completed the $32 million Science Laboratory Building and received a record $9 million gift from the State Farm Companies Foundation for a College of Business building. Strand is a strong proponent of diversity on campus, and he and his wife, Trudy, established the David A. Strand Diversity Achievement Award for the University in 1995. Each event will be similar and costs $55 per person. Advance reservations are required for both events. Please contact the Illinois State University Foundation Chicago Office at (312) 251-3500 to register or receive more information.

Columbia College

Start a Web Business

How to Set Up a Web Business, Careers in Professional Sports, Freelance Travel Writing, and Vocal Expression for Professional Women are among the more than 50 courses offered this summer by Columbia 2, the continuing education division of Columbia College Chicago.

Courses begin the week of June 14 and range from a single half-hour session to eight weeks in length. Tuition ranges from $40 to $600. Registration can be in person or by mail, fax or phone. Classes meet at Columbia's downtown campus and in Wilmette. For information and a catalogue, call (312) 344-7259.

Earth Day at St. John Brebeuf School

The Student Council of St. John Brebeuf School worked very hard to make Earth Day a meaningful experience for the entire school community. Students were urged to recognize their environmental responsibility.

A prayer service was held on the afternoon of April 22. Members gave readings from Scripture and Chief Seattle's letter to Washington. A giant Earth was created from a beach ball and used as part of a ritual to remind the community of their roles as stewards of the Earth. Music was provided by the SJB Children's Choir.

Each classroom received packet of seeds to plant as a sign of their commitment to respect the earth. Student Council also sponsored environmental prizes for several student winners, including dinner at the Rainforest Cafe.

St. Paul Lutheran Church and School

Seventy-three St. Paul students recently participated in the "Jump Rope for Heart" program sponsored by the American Heart Association. The $2,374 that they raised will be used by the association to support biomedical research aimed at discovering the causes of cardiovascular disease and aiding in prevention.

A combination of great fielding, impressive hitting, and aggressive base running led the girls softball team of St. Paul Lutheran School to a recent win over the St. Paul Comets of Mt. Prospect by a final score of 17 to 9. Team members include 8th graders Joanna Lekkas, Beth Tarasievich, Amanda Guwa, Jenny McKinney, Marta Anderson, Kristy Hall, Emily Newton, Frieda Kolas, and Allison Bauer; 7th graders Stacy Niemie, Julie Young, Kim Grmusich, Cejey Roman, Kristen Elmer, Becky Burright, Sheila Bolbolan, and Maggie Jones; and 6th graders Dana Raabe and Lauren Elmer. The team is coached by Mrs. Robin Rocans, Mrs. Paula Hebble, and Mr. Rusty Elmer.

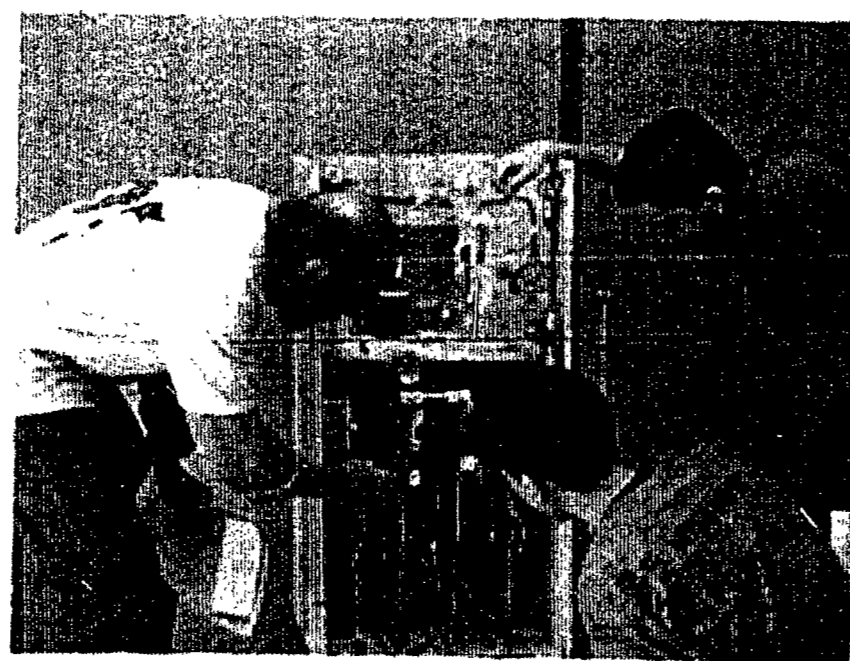

St. Paul Lutheran School students recently took part in a Math-A-Thon to raise money for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. The students raised just over $1,200 by working math problems in special math books provided by St. Jude's. The books are designed to provide an enjoyable way for students to review standard math skills, exercise problem-solving techniques and develop critical thinking processes.

St. Paul students recently participated in a 5th- through 8th-grade Spelling Bee. Earning the right to compete in the championship Spelling Bee were Amanda Guwa, Sandra Na, Jill Raabe, and Robert Fabry. Team alternates were Mike Croon and Stacy Niemiec. The St. Paul Spelling Team took second place at the annual spelling contest at St. Paul Canfield.

Edward Jones: Good News About Capital Gains

Congress recently gave investors an attractive gift by simplifying the capital gains provisions passed in 1997. In a nutshell, Congress replaced the former maximum capital gains rate of 28 percent with a maximum rate of 20 percent and made the lower rate retroactive to Jan. 1, 1998.

That means nearly all gains earned on investments held more than one year will now be taxed at a maximum rate of 20 percent. (For investors in the 15 percent tax bracket, long-term capital gains will be taxed at a rate of 10 percent.) Better yet, in a year-and-a-half, the long-term capital gains rate will drop further. Beginning in 2001, investments purchased and held more than five years will be taxed at a maximum rate of 18 percent.

Gains on investments held less than a year, on the other hand, will continue to be taxed as ordinary income, which means tax rates up to 39.6 percent. That makes a powerful case for investing for the long term.

Although stocks should never be sold simply because of changes in tax laws, lower capital gains tax rates provide an excellent opportunity to diversify your portfolio. If your portfolio has become overweighted in a single stock, or if the outlook of a stock you own has deteriorated, you may want to take advantage of the lower capital gains tax.

It's easy to control how long you hold individual stocks, but how do you control buying and selling within your mutual funds? Unfortunately, you can't. However, you can choose mutual funds that practice buy-and-hold investing. To determine how often your mutual fund buys and sells stock, check its turnover rate, which indicates how much trading occurs within the fund. The lower the turnover rate, the better. For example, a fund with a 100 percent turnover rate holds its positions an average of one year before selling. A fund with a 50 percent turnover rate holds its positions an average of two years before selling.

Your mutual fund's turnover rate can be found in its prospectus or its annual or semiannual report. Your investment professional also can provide this information.

If your mutual fund has a high turnover rate, consider moving your money into a high-quality fund that subscribes to a long-term, buy-and-hold strategy. After all, you're the one paying the price for the fund manager's short-term decisions to buy and sell. And, you may be paying as much as 39.6 percent in taxes, depending on which tax bracket you're in!

It's been said that the best gifts are those that keep giving. Congress has given investors a gift that will allow them to keep more of what they earn and pay less in taxes. Make the most of this gift, and hold your investments for the long term whenever possible.

Jeffrey Cardella can be reached at Edward Jones, 8141 N. Milwaukee, Niles, 470-8953.

Annual Salvation Army 'Donut Day' set

Thank The Salvation Army the next time you dunk your favorite donut! While The Army may not have invented the first donut - that distinction is lost in history - it can certainly take credit for the popularity of donuts today.

The tag day was established in 1938 to honor the work of World War I Salvation Army "ladies" that prepared donuts for thousands of heroic soldiers in World War I.

The Salvation Army's 61st annual Donut Day is Friday and Saturday, June 4-5. The tag day is held throughout northern Illinois and northern Indiana. More than five thousand Salvation Army workers will provide donuts for those familiar paper donuts.

The organization has been serving needs of people in this area since 1885.

It helped 110,516 victims and workers at hundreds of fires and disasters throughout the Chicago area last year.

One and a half million persons receive meals from the Army each year.

Nearly 800 people locally will spend tonight under a Salvation Army roof.

The goal for Donut Day is to raise $350,000 to help support these programs.

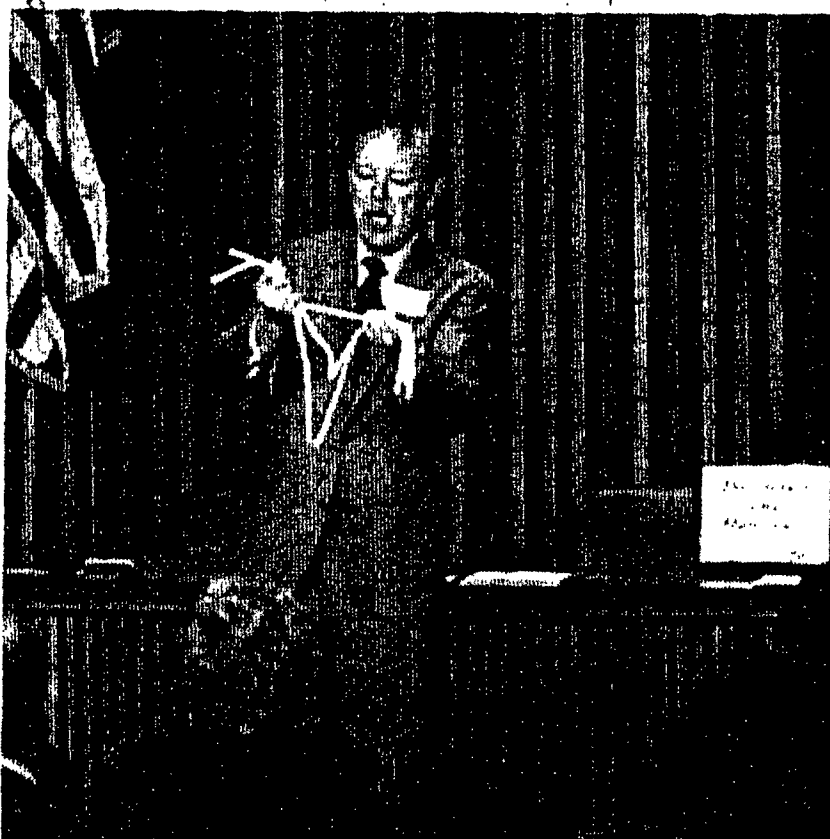

According to Lt. Colonel William Roberts, Divisional Commander for The Salvation Army in this area, "Disaster emergencies can happen at any time and without warning. People receive assistance from The Salvation Army who never expect that they will need such help.

"The Salvation Army is always on hand whenever there is a need. We ask donors to give their dollars to donuts because, believe me, every dollar counts!"

For the seventeenth consecutive year, Chicago-area Dunkin' Donut Shops will again join The Salvation Army in promoting "Donut Day."

For a limited time, a customer can receive six free donuts at Dunkin' Donuts when they purchase one dozen at regular price just by turning in their paper donut.

Over 100 attend Maine Township 'Agency Day'

Representatives from over 100 area service agencies gathered at the annual Maine Township Agency Day to network, exchange ideas, and hear speakers on agency related subjects. Thinking small has Focus Development in the big leagues

In 1998, fewer than 50 Chicago-area home builders had revenues higher than Northfield-based Focus Development. However, Tim Anderson still refers to the company he started in 1993 as small.

One is tempted to believe him. His laid-back demeanor and boyish looks disguise the fact that he has been involved in design and construction for more than 20 years: the first as an architect, then as executive vice president at Optima, Inc., and, eventually, as president of his own company.

Over the past six years, Focus Development has carved out a niche as one of the premier builders of new-construction, mid-rise condominiums in the northern suburbs. Past projects include sold-out developments in Lake Forest, Evanston and Winnetka, and current projects include Delacourte Condominiums in Buffalo Grove and 2000 Green Bay Road, a joint venture with Highland Property Development, in Highland Park.

"Focus is a full-service real estate company," says Anderson. "We integrate every aspect of development, including design, construction, sales and customer service. A lot of developers either don't have that capability or don't want that responsibility. We do."

By taking ownership of all functions, Anderson believes Focus can build better homes. In design and construction this occurs through value-engineering.

"We eliminate elements that don't add value, things that might not always be apparent to the average homeowner," says Anderson. "There is definitely a process by which a developer can maximize the value of a building, and we're in tune with it."

One example of that process is the parking garage at 2000 Green Bay Road. It will be positioned halfway above ground and halfway below, saving about $200,000 in excavation costs. Any aesthetic issues stemming from a portion of the garage being above ground will be remedied by adding berms along the sides of the structure.

The $200,000 savings are passed along to buyers in the form of lower prices and features that do add value, such as cast-stone balconies and Carrera marble foyers. The end result is that 2000 Green Bay Road offers the same amenities at a lower cost-per-square-foot than competing developments in Highland Park.

Another component of value-engineering is the fact that most of Focus' project managers and field managers are architects. They apply their knowledge of design and costs in order to anticipate problems and offer quick solutions.

Customer Service:

A People Business

Responding to a problem in the field is one thing. Responding to the needs of a customer is quite another. Most developers are good at one. Focus pays close attention to both, a practice Anderson attributes, once again, to the principle of ownership.

Focus Development has customer service down to a science -- specifically, computer science. Using a custom-designed program, it tracks each unit from the start of construction through the warranty period.

Focus knows exactly what requests are outstanding and when they originated. This ensures that requests are handled promptly. Most work orders are completed within 30 days, and at one point last month, the company had only one outstanding item.

Focus also uses technology to monitor quality. The computer can sort by category, so that Focus can analyze specific types of units, or elements within those units, such as cabinets, paint or tile. If they see an unusual number of warranty requests in a particular area, they will look for ways to improve.

Form Follows Function:

Homes That Make Sense

There are two considerations a developer must take into account when designing condominiums -- the individual unit and the building as a whole, because what is outside the unit affects the value of the property as much as what is inside.

To achieve design that appeals to a buyer's sense of style, as well as their sense of value, Focus works with architects who understand the company's objectives for a given development. The fact that Anderson is an architect makes communication of these objectives much easier.

With Delacourte, Focus wanted to incorporate many of the characteristics of the single-family homes its move-down buyers are coming from. Thus, the architect, Antonovich Associates, Inc., designed floor plans that feature separate living and dining rooms, dens, Great Rooms and dine-in kitchens.

Addressing the needs of an upscale, move-down market is also a priority at 2000 Green Bay Road. So the choice of James March Goldberg, of Goldberg

Create Your Own Painted Lady

For those who spend countless hours repainting the exterior of their home or place of business, good news comes from the Chicago Paint & Coatings Association. The search begins Memorial Day for "Chicago's Finest Painted Ladies." If you beautify your home or business this summer with a new coat of paint, your work will not go unnoticed. A commemorative plaque and special ceremony is planned to honor the winners of our competition.

The Chicago area will be divided into sectors: North, Northwest, West, Southwest, and South. There are two categories: "non-professionally painted & professionally painted." Size or building style is not a factor in the judges' decision. Single, family, multi-family, commercial, Victorians and other styles may be entered. The only measurement will be the craftsmanship and the creative beauty of the paint.

Contest ends on Labor Day. "Chicago's Finest Painted Ladies" will be judged by a panel of experts. To assist our judging we ask that before and after color photographs as well as paint chip samples be submitted with the application. Winners will be notified by mail.

For more information on the "Chicago's Finest Painted Ladies" contest please phone (847) 755-9850.

Learn Lawn Care at home

What grasses are best to use for lawns in our area? What kind of fertilizer is best and when should it be put on the lawn? What can be done about crabgrass, dandelions and moss? These are among the topics homeowners in Cook County area often ask about lawns. The answers to these and many more lawn care questions can be found in a University of Illinois Extension Program called the Lawn Challenge. This home lawn self-study program includes 3 lessons, each with a quiz to go along with it. The lessons will be mailed at weekly intervals. Lessons include selecting and establishing lawns in northern Illinois, lawn maintenance practices and managing home lawn pests.

Subscription for the program is $10. Send your name and mailing address, along with a check made payable to University of Illinois to: Lawn Challenge, University of Illinois Extension, 3807 West 111th Street, Chicago, IL, 60655. After completing the program, you'll be all set to have a great looking lawn in 1999!

Focus Development

Downey Architects, Inc., was a natural. Goldberg, known for his designs of high-end custom homes on the North Shore, was asked to include some of those designs on a smaller scale. However, value features in design are not always as obvious as lavish floor plans or luxurious finishes. Focus takes a "big picture" approach, considering how the decisions it makes during planning and construction will affect the condominium association after the developer has moved on.

"Some developers fail to construct a building to meet its projected assessments. We have a solid understanding of the costs a condominium association incurs, and we take that into consideration in our design," says Anderson. He cites the decision to use attractive fluorescent light fixtures in common hallways, because they last five times longer than incandescent lighting. It's one small example of how the association will save on maintenance costs. But thinking small is how Focus made it to where it is today. So what does the future hold for the small builder from Northfield? How about growth? Focus has an option on a new site in another North Shore suburb, and is looking to build in the city, as well. However, maintaining its hands-on approach is paramount. "I wouldn't mind if Focus Development became a household name, but we'd like to stick with what got us here," says Anderson. Delacourte Condominiums, located at Dundee and Weidner Roads in Buffalo Grove, offers 136 two- and three-bedroom residences priced from $155,600 to $289,000. A model is open, and a few residences are available for immediate or near-immediate occupancy. For more information, call (847) 419-8100. 2000 Green Bay Road is located at Green Bay Road and West Park Avenue, one block from downtown Highland Park. Two- and three-bedroom condominiums are priced from $279,900 to $429,900. First occupancies are scheduled for Winter of 1999. The sales center is located at 1848 First Street, in Highland Park. Lincoln Ridge's largest condo just got bigger

The largest condominium at Lincoln Ridge, Robin Construction Corp.'s master-planned community in north suburban Skokie, just got bigger. "The largest unit in our first mid-rise condominium building was 1,724 square feet with its 6-1/2 by 14-foot balcony. The largest unit in our final condo building, including a slightly larger balcony, will have 1,794 square feet of living area," explained Cynthia Lee, director of sales.

Another design change in the reconfiguration of the six-story luxury condominium building is moving the three-bedroom, two-bath plan 04-10 into corner units. The three-bedroom plans in the first building are in the interior with two-bedroom units occupying the corners. "Moving the three-beds to corner positions lets us stretch the rooms a bit and to create a separated area for the dining room. The living room alone in the new plan is approximately 360 square feet, while the combined living/dining room in the original plan measures about 328 square feet," explained Lee. "It also lets us add windows in the dining room for more natural light."

While the kitchen/dinette area is identical in both designs, the room is more squared off in the new plan. "This arrangement is a step-saver by bringing the refrigerator, cooktop/oven and sink closer together," said Lee. While the pair of three-bedroom units replace two of the four corner units, all of which are two-bedroom designs in Condo 1, the remaining two-bedroom units in the other corners also are a bit larger at 1,419 square feet in the new building.

The three-bedroom units are pre-construction priced from $244,500. Lincoln Ridge is situated on a nine-acre approximately two blocks north of Touhy Avenue and just east of the intersection of Skokie Boulevard and Lincoln Avenue. The $40 million complex will have a total of 188 residences, including 60 one, two and three bedroom residences in each of two six-story masonry condominium buildings and 68 carriage homes. The carriage homes are being built in clusters of 17 buildings, designed in the style of single-family homes, each of which has four two- and three- bedroom, single level residences.

Pre-construction prices run from $139,500 to $274,500 for Phase II condominiums and from $246,900 to $294,900 for carriage homes. Prices and availability are subject to change without notice. The new lineup of homes now being offered in the final condo building includes one bedroom, one bath units with 979 square feet, one bedroom plus den, 1-1/2 bath plans at 1,222 square feet and two bedroom homes with one, 1-1/2 or two baths that range from approximately 1,169 to 1,456 square feet as well as the three-bedroom plan. Many layouts have master baths with both a separate shower enclosure and tub and a double vanity top. Each residence has a balcony with sliding doors and screens. Kitchens include a cozy breakfast area, a full-size pantry in most residences, a choice of designer cabinetry and no-wax vinyl flooring. White-on-white General Electric appliances include frost-free refrigerators with icemakers, built-in dishwashers, continuous-clean gas ranges and waste disposers. Corner units have a window above the sink for natural light. Each condominium residence has a spacious laundry. Standards also include plush carpeting in living areas, individually controlled heating and air conditioning, lever handle door hardware and a large walk-in closet. Ceiling heights in all living areas of the condominiums are approximately 8-1/2 feet, adding wall space and height.

Each carriage home has a private front door entry and a private garage with direct access to the home. Optional enhancements include family rooms, fireplaces and vaulted ceilings. Lincoln Ridge boasts a location on the border of Skokie and Lincolnwood that is just blocks away from the Touhy Avenue entry to the Edens Expressway (U.S. Highway 94).

"The maintenance free community is particularly attractive to buyers who want to stay connected to the Skokie/Lincolnwood area while downsizing," points out Richard Robinson, president of Robin Construction Corp. "It's an ideal location in terms of access to work centers in both downtown Chicago and the suburbs, as well as such major shopping centers as Old Orchard, Village Crossing, Lincolnwood Town Center or Northbrook Court and countless dining and entertainment facilities. For additional information, telephone (847) 329-0303.

which arouse his audience and kept them listening to the very end of his speech.

He claims to be a non-religious humanist yet approved and quoted Jesus' words extensively. He's a serious internationalist who was a P.O.W. imprisoned near Cologne Germany, and decried the fire bombing of Cologne by the American Air Force near the end of World War II, needlessly killing thousands and destroying a non-military target.

Since I haven't the slightest remembrance of any past graduations' words of wisdom, and I doubt you do either, I was pleased to hear Vonnegut simply quote a few words the graduates may well remember through the coming years. He noted an uncle of his was sitting under an apple tree with members of the family drinking a cool glass of lemonade. Their world was momentarily at peace, and with little profun-ditly, the uncle said, "This is nice." Perhaps not any profound thought. But just a simple, "This is nice."

What Vonnegut was saying was to stop and enjoy the moment.....and smell the roses.

How often when we get together do we savor the moment? We may joke or gripe or gossip but how often do we appreciate the moment of simple pleasures?

At my high school graduation the very erudite Robert Maynard Hutchins spoke to our class. He was the 30 year old president of the University of Chicago and was a prize catch for a local high school graduate. While I'm sure his thoughtful presentation was well received, it was soon forgotten. But this past week's speaker at Agnes Scott College said three simple words which will be long remembered by the 1999 graduates, "This is nice."

stable financial position? Officials concede that some of school improvement projects have had to be postponed or re-configured. Capital improvement spending, for example, has been reduced, saving the district $9 million in the 1997-98 school year, when some proposed remodeling projects were put off.

The district also realized a cash infusion when $22 million in new bonds were issued to replace bonds that were being retired.

In addition, the new administration at the district has led to a new approach and clearly less alarmist philosophy in interpreting budget data.

A state analyst brought in by the district's new administration went over the books and determined that the district is in sound financial condition at least for now. Nonetheless, officials admit that the growing enrollment, aging facilities and technology needs, the same considerations that worried the former administration, will likely result in a referendum proposal at some time in the not too distant future.

Supt. Grif Powell said that the district schools can continue to function and operate at the present levels. However, money for expansion is lacking.

As part of the belt-tightening program now underway in the district, officials are rethinking some of the proposed capital improvements, including remodeling and reconfiguring classroom space and renovating the heating and cooling systems.

According to school board president Robert Silverman, the district has reauthorized expenditures and found more economical ways of doing things.

The $22 million obtained by the bond sale made funds available that the previous administration did not have access to.

Some of the deferred projects will be undertaken this summer, including a $5 million improvement to the air conditioning system at Niles West and a $5 million science lab expansion at Niles North, the latter to accommodate an influx of new students expected in the district.

About 100 new students per year are expected to arrive in the district from the 19 feeder elementary schools in Lincolnwood, Niles, Skokie and Morton Grove. As new residential developments are completed in the area, however, even more new students may be added to the district's enrollment.

A referendum to increase taxes to support the district may be introduced next spring or the year after that. However, officials said they will not push for a referendum until they are sure they can explain clearly to the public exactly how the money will be used.

tional evidence made the actual arrest possible, according to a statement by the Oregon State Police, which assisted in the arrest.

Thivel had been living in Medford since the slayings. He was charged with two counts of first-degree murder. An extradition hearing was scheduled.

Andrews, serving a life term at Stateville Correctional Center for the 1991 murder and rape of Virginia Griffin, 43, of Rogers Park, began bragging to a fellow inmate about six months ago that he had gotten away with the murder.

The inmate informed prison authorities, who obtained a court order to conceal a recording device on a person who would have contact with Andrews. In February, a conversation occurred during which Andrews described in detail how he abducted and murdered Clarke.

Police then executed a search warrant in Andrews' cell where they found notes Andrews had written with Clarke's name on them, newspaper clippings about the murder and notes Andrews had written about the murder.

Despite the fact that police questioned him at the time of the crime, Andrews escaped indictment because police lacked evidence.

Andrews, who once lived in Chicago, was charged May 25 with the kidnapping, rape and murder of Clarke, a junior at St. Scholastica High School, who lived on Chicago's North Side. Clarke disappeared after leaving a baby-sitting job in Lincolnwood Aug. 25, 1977.

If he is convicted of Clarke's murder, Andrews would be eligible for the death penalty, according to Cook County State's Atty. Richard Devine, whose family had also employed Clarke as a babysitter.

Andrews is now a suspect in two other local cases. Amy Alden, 15, of Evanston disappeared in 1972. Her remains were found in 1977 in the Memorial Park Cemetery in Skokie.

Arvella Louise Thomas, 14, who lived on the North Side of Chicago, disappeared in 1978. Her body was found in an alley in Skokie.

Because of the murders bear some resemblances to serial murders, authorities in Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin are attempting to link Andrews to between 20 and 40 unsolved murders in those states.

Devine said his office along with the Illinois Department of Corrections, the Illinois State Police and the Skokie Police Department had conducted the investigation. He pledged that all leads and information regarding other cases would be investigated until all incriminating information linked to Andrews has been exhausted.

Zoning for a new gas and food service center at 7235 Caldwell Avenue was approved by the Niles trustees. Owned by National Energy Properties, the site will house a 24-hour Shell Oil gas station/convenience store and a Subway fast food restaurant.

Board president Nicholas Blase and trustee James Mahoney expressed concern that, according to notes from a previous zoning board meeting, the sale of packaged liquor from the Shell convenience store had been discussed.

"I'll assure you, that you will not be selling liquor because we don't issue packaged licenses for those kind of operations," said Blase.

The developer's representative, Frank Vibock of Caldwell Banker told the board that "after leaving that meeting, we decided no beer, no wine, no liquor at all."

homes as well as some industrial property, including the Lawn-ware Products building on Lincoln Avenue.

Morton Grove's first TIF development is well underway along Waukegan Road where a new Walgreen's store and other generally commercial buildings will be built on the site formerly occupied by the Admiral Oasis Motel.

In the second TIF project, the village will try to avoid including any new existing buildings in the project, according to Village Administrator Larry Arft.

A TIF district in effect freezes property taxes for the targeted area which taxing bodies like schools and parks annually impose. The increased revenues in property and sales tax that the development is expected to generate offset the loss of revenue as well as reimbursing the village for any costs incurred in acquiring the property, preparing it for development and providing general improvements such as lighting and streets.

Redevelopment of the area near the train station is part of the village's comprehensive plan. A draft of the plan is expected to be completed by the end of the summer.

Improvements in that area will improve the quality of life for the entire community, Trustee Joe Weiss said.

Arft said the feasibility study should be completed in about three months. A public hearing will be held on the proposed TIF district at that time.

A joint review board composed of representatives of all the taxing bodies affected by the TIF district would also have to meet, officials said.

Lincolnwood Public Library

Face to Face Productions launches the Summer reading club for kids at the Lincolnwood Public Library with Cover to Cover, a special program at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, June 9.

When the great detective Sherlock Holmes is mysteriously drawn into the world of writing, with his colleague Dr. Watson, they journey through a book from cover to cover trying to discover the mysterious elements of fiction.

Holmes pursues such zany suspects as the legendary Duke of Descriptions, the personable King of Characters, and the always verbose Duchess of Dialogue. Using his investigative skills, assistance from the audience and the powers of imagination, he uncovers what makes fiction so fascinating.

Tickets are required and are available free at the circulation desk three weeks before the program to Lincolnwood residents and one week before to non-residents. The program lasts about an hour. The library is located at 4000 W. Pratt Ave., phone (847) 677-5277.

Organizations benefit from Ameritech

Illinois area non-profit organizations-- recipients of more than $10 million in Ameritech grants in 1998-- are among those highlighted in Ameritech's new booklet titled, "Giving Back: Ameritech's Report to the Community." The 24-page booklet cites various examples of Ameritech's corporate citizenship and offers a glimpse into the company's continuing community commitment.

Ameritech actively searches for opportunities to lend a hand to the communities it serves. The company aims to instill a love of learning in our children by supporting programs in elementary and secondary education, open doors for career development and success by supporting innovative technology programs in higher education, and enrich communities by supporting arts and cultural events.

In Northern Cook County, Ameritech grants benefited the following non-profit organizations: Boy Scouts of America Troop 175, Niles; City of Hope, Skokie; Evans Scholars Program, Golf, Fairview Elementary School, Skokie; Immanuel Lutheran School, Glenview; Jerusalem Evangelical Lutheran School, Morton Grove; St. Catherine Labourer School, Glenview; St. John Brebeuf Parish- GLADD Tidings, Niles; St. Lambert School, Skokie.

Do I Really Have to Sweat?

Karen Collins M.S., R.D., C.D.N. American Institute for Cancer Research

"Do I have to sweat or don't I?" First we heard the "no pain, no gain" philosophy of exercise. Then the American College of Sports Medicine and the National Institutes of Health came out recommending 30 minutes a day of activity equivalent to brisk walking - broken up into shorter sets if desired. Yet the most recent report from the American Institute for Cancer Research recommends that for optimum health we increase our goal to an hour of moderate activity each day, and through the week tack on one or more sessions of vigorous activity to total at least an hour. If the differences in these messages is confusing, the key is to focus on what each is trying to achieve. Remember, at least 25 percent of adult Americans are sedentary couch potatoes. The recommendations that we work in at least 30 minutes of moderate activity are giving us a first level, achievable target to hit. We can reach this goal through walking, gardening, bicycling, and even lifestyle adjustments like taking the stairs and parking farther from our destinations. This is exercise at a pace that's invigorating but does not leave us short of breath. No sweating required! What's the pay-off? This level of activity, if done five to seven days a week, reduces the incidence of heart disease, high blood pressure and diabetes; decreases the pain of arthritis; and aids in weight control. Many find that it even improves sleep and mood swings. Research is strong and consistent that regular exercise protects against colon cancer, and it may reduce risk of breast cancer as well. While difficult to quantify and compare, activity levels equal to slightly beyond minimum recommendations - totaling about 500 to 700 calories per week - reduce risk of colon cancer by about 40 percent compared to sedentary men and women. So why bother with anything vigorous? Studies show that more intense exercise pays off with a greater drop in heart disease. By pushing heart rate a bit farther (but not beyond limits appropriate for an individual's age and medical condition) greater heart conditioning occurs. Some researchers recommend that a single longer exercise session strengthens the heart in ways that can't be achieved when it must beat a little harder for only short blocks of time scattered through the day. The final message then is an individual one. None of today's published exercise recommendations discourages vigorous exercise. But if you don't have the interest or time, or if you're starting at the sedentary end of the scale, don't get caught in all-or-nothing thinking. Start by trying just 10 minutes, then 20 to 30 minutes of moderate exercise. For a free brochure, Get Fit. Trim Down, with tips on how work towards a healthy weight and incorporate exercise into your daily life, send a self-addressed, stamped ($5 cents), business-sized envelope to: American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. Previously banned drug-Thalidomide-found effective for treatment of brain tumors

The previously banned drug - Thalidomide - is being studied for its effective treatment of brain tumors. Researchers at Luthern General Hospital are participating in a national clinical study with the Radiation Therapy Oncology Group, a national organization of 150 cancer centers and university hospitals studying ways to combat Glioblastoma Multiforme (a cancer of the brain that is difficult to treat with standard treatment). Thalidomide was first developed as a sleeping pill and was also used to treat morning sickness in pregnancy. It was never approved for use in the United States because it was found to cause severe birth defects when given early in pregnancy. In recent laboratory studies thalidomide has been shown effective in preventing new blood vessel formation, thus preventing tumors from growing. It works best when the tumor is small and is usually given shortly after surgery and continued indefinitely. The drug has been used in patients with brain cancers that have relapsed after surgery, radiation therapy and chemotherapy. Promising results were seen in a study of 40 patients treated with thalidomide in this setting.

"We expect thalidomide will be most effective in patients with newly diagnosed glioblastoma," said William Hartsell, M.D., director of radiation oncology at the Luthern General Cancer Care Center. "This is a tumor that creates many new blood vessels to feed the tumor, and thalidomide effectively prevents those new blood vessels from forming, thus choking off the blood supply to the tumor. This is an exciting and promising treatment because it virtually cuts off the blood supply to these aggressive tumors." The study will continue through the summer of 1999.

Men, wrinkles and vanity

-- A growing number of men are paying more attention to their nutrition. In addition to the health benefits, some experts say good nutrition may help improve your appearance. A recent study, "Men & Appearance: Getting an Edge," based on a series of surveys of 500 men between the ages of 18 and 50 found "male vanity driven by societal shifts," with 47 percent ready to take steps to improve their appearance. This can range from purchasing tailored suits to using skin treatments. For example, one company offers a skin product specifically for men which contains marine proteins and carbohydrates along with a comprehensive group of vitamins, antioxidants, minerals and nutrients. If the experts are correct who say it may help prevent wrinkles, that's even more a good reason for good nutrition. The company, Scandinavian Naturals, recently introduced Samson Protein Plus -- which some claim to be an anti-wrinkle pill for men -- that complements the company's similar pill for women, Sincera. For more information, you can call Scandinavian Naturals toll-free at 1-800-288-2844. You can visit the company's Web site at: www.scandinaviannaturals.com

What to do if you have no retirement plan at work

Odds are, if you work for a small company you aren't covered by a retirement plan. Only three in ten businesses with 100 or fewer employees offer retirement plans to their employees, according to an extensive survey of small employers released this past summer by the Employee Benefit Research Institute. Furthermore, only two in ten employees in small businesses actually participate in a plan. That's bad news if you're one of the 80 percent who aren't in a plan, since you may face a bleak retirement if Social Security is your main source of income. Fortunately, there are some steps you can take to change your situation.

Join your employer's retirement plan
Few small employers offer employer-paid pension plans. Most offer plans in which the employee contributes, such as a 401(k) or simplified employee pension plan (SEP). Some employers will match your contributions. Even if only you contribute to the plan, it will almost certainly pay to join. Your contributions are tax-deductible and earnings grow tax-deferred, so you can build a comfortable nest egg, given enough time.

Ask your employer to start a plan
Small employers cited the cost, administrative burden and uncertain revenue as reasons they didn't offer retirement plans, according to the survey. But one of the major reasons was that their employees didn't seem to care about retirement plans. They were more concerned about wages, health care and even vacation time. You and your fellow employees may want to encourage your employer to set up a plan. For one thing, the survey found that many employers don't realize that they can set up retirement plans that are inexpensive and

Students Conquer Math Word Problems

The sixth graders at Saint John Berchard School are learning problem solving techniques by playing a game called Witness/Detective. Many students have trouble with word problems because they get overwhelmed by all the information and fail to sort out the important facts and necessary operations.

Students work in partners and are assigned roles. The witness is given a problem and time to read it about twice. The witness is not allowed to take any notes about the problem or write at any time during the solution. Next, the detective arrives at the scene. The detective can take notes and ask the witness anything they want to about the "crime" that they need to solve. The witness can only answer the questions posed by the detective and cannot volunteer any information.

This game helps both students focus on the important aspects of the problem. Witnesses have to look for key information as they will not have time to memorize everything. Detectives have to use problem solving steps to effectively question their witnesses without overwhelming them. "Most importantly, I see real teamwork develop since neither student can solve the problem alone," repeats teacher Carrie Fraher.

Boerner awarded prestigious Goldwater Scholarship

Joanna Boerner, a junior at Lawrence University, has been named a recipient of a $7,500 Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship for outstanding academic merit.

A 1996 graduate of Glenbrook North High School, Boerner was selected from a national field of 1,181 mathematics, science and engineering students nominated by faculty members from colleges and universities in all 50 states.

A total of 984 scholarships were awarded for the 1999-2000 academic year.

A biology major, Boerner is only the third Lawrence student in the program's history to be selected as a Goldwater Scholar. She is the daughter of Wolfgang Martin and Eileen Boerner, Northbrook.
