Individual Records

Official NCAA softball records began with the 1982 season and are based on information submitted to the NCAA statistics service by institutions participating in the statistics rankings. Official career records of players include only those years in which they competed in Division I. Annual individual champions in runs, bases on balls, toughest to strike out, slugging percentage and saves were added in 1989, along with annual team champions in home runs, triples, doubles, stolen bases, slugging percentage and double plays. In statistical rankings, the rounding of percentages and/or averages may indicate ties where none exist. In these cases, the numerical order of the rankings is accurate.

USA Today/National Softball Coaches Association Division II Final Poll.....	70

Individual Records

Official NCAA softball records began with the 1982 season and are based on information submitted to the NCAA statistics service by institutions participating in the statistics rankings. Official career records of players include only those years in which they competed in Division II. Annual individual champions in runs, bases on balls, toughest to strike out, slugging percentage and saves were added in 1990, along with annual team champions in home runs, triples, doubles, stolen bases, slugging percentage and double plays. In statistical rankings, the rounding of percentages and/or averages may indicate ties where none exist. In these cases, the numerical order of the rankings is accurate.

Northern Kentucky's Krystal Lewallen was a major factor in the Norse's 2005 success, as she posted 32 consecutive victories from February 11 to May 20. She also tossed 54 consecutive scoreless innings during that span, from March 10 to April 9, and finished the season with 20 shutouts. Her 32-1 record last year enabled her to rank second in winning percentage in a season, at .970.

Individual Records

Official NCAA softball records began with the 1982 season and are based on information submitted to the NCAA statistics service by institutions participating in the statistics rankings. Official career records of players include only those years in which they competed in Division III. Annual individual champions in runs, bases on balls, toughest to strike out, slugging percentage and saves were added in 1990, along with annual team champions in home runs, triples, doubles, stolen bases, slugging percentage and double plays. In statistical rankings, the rounding of percentages and/or averages may indicate ties where none exist. In these cases, the numerical order of the rankings is accurate.

Freshman Samantha Findlay (running in foreground) helped Michigan to its first Division I softball title by hitting a three-run homer in the 10th inning of the championship game against UCLA. The first baseman was named the Women's College World Series Most Outstanding Player, marking the first time a freshman position player has claimed the honor.
