MESSAGE FROM LAU'S PRESIDENTS (DR. JOSEPH JABBRA)

It fills me with pride and gratitude to have been part of such an extraordinary university, during such remarkable times of advancement and growth. Indeed, recent years have been more difficult for the Lebanese American University (LAU), and we have all unfortunately witnessed unprecedented turmoil and a multitude of crises in Lebanon.

Yet, despite the many adversities, LAU is successfully pushing forward, due in large part to its donor community, who continue to demonstrate that together, everything is possible, the title of this publication. In fact, during Fiscal Year 2020, which spanned from September 1, 2019 to August 31, 2020, we raised $16.3 million through 924 gifts. Similarly, and despite worsening conditions, during Fiscal Year 2021, which spanned from September 1, 2020 to August 31, 2021, we raised $24.4 million through 983 gifts.

We are all in awe of our supporters' generosity, which has allowed the institution to persevere during these volatile times. We owe it to our community of benefactors, old and new, who have instilled renewed hope in us and our students, offering an invaluable gift of confidence that LAU and Lebanon will prosper once again.

I am incredibly grateful to have been witness to the tremendous show of support from LAU's donor community throughout the years, and especially during Fiscal Year 2020. I am delighted to pass the baton to LAU President Dr. Michel E. Mawad, who I am fully confident will continue to lead the institution on its path of excellence.

With eternal appreciation,

Joseph G. Jabbra, Ph.D.
President Emeritus, Lebanese American University

MESSAGE FROM LAU'S PRESIDENTS (DR. MICHEL MAWAD)

It is an incredible honor to have been chosen to follow in the footsteps of one of LAU's most admired presidents, Dr. Joseph G. Jabbara. During his presidency, he was able to bring LAU to astonishingly new heights not only in regards to academics, research, and rankings, but also in terms of giving towards the university. Dr. Jabbara, along with his dedicated team, cultivated and grew LAU's loyal and global donor community to one that is strong and endlessly devoted.

During Fiscal Year 2020, which happened to be Dr. Jabbara's final year as president, Lebanon witnessed numerous hurdles – including political unrest and mass protests, the COVID-19 pandemic, the August 4 nuclear-level explosion, and the nation's deteriorating economy. Yet, Dr. Jabbara and the institution never gave up on their mission of educating youth, and ensured that the growing number of financially disadvantaged students received resources to continue their education. Fiscal Year 2021, my first year serving the institution as president, was equally troubling for the country, with fuel and medicine shortages, continued political instability, and a dramatically weakened national currency.

Despite the adversities, LAU significantly adjusted its budget to accommodate students' financial need, but also, and importantly, our supporters opened up their pocketbooks to contribute. Hand-in-hand with our donors, we have again proven that together, everything is possible. As a result, our promising young scholars continue to receive an excellent education despite their financial circumstances.

Undoubtedly, it is thanks to LAU's faithful donors that the institution is able to continue on its mission to offer academic excellence to all who seek it. Thank you for giving me this opportunity to lead LAU's incredible community towards the prosperity that it so deserves.

I look forward to continuing Dr. Jabbara's legacy and helping provide students with the invaluable gift of an education that will hopefully lead our society to better days ahead.

With gratitude,

Michel E. Mawad, M.D.
President, Lebanese American University

LEADERSHIP DONORS

Thanks to the support of the following Leadership Donors throughout Fiscal Year 2020 (September 1, 2019 – August 31, 2020), and Fiscal Year 2021 (September 1, 2020 – August 31, 2021), LAU was able to continue on its mission to provide academic excellence to its students, and maintain an environment of prosperity for its entire community.

GRADUATE PROFILE CHRISTELLE BARAKAT

Major: BA Political Science/
International Affairs

Graduation: 2020

“LAU has prepared me academically, personally, and professionally to be worthy of a Fulbright scholarship and has turned me into a leader who is focused on giving back to the community around me.”

“My experience at LAU served as the foundation and basis of my admission and acceptance into the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNCG),” says LAU alumna Christelle Barakat, who pursued an MA in Peace and Conflict Studies with a concentration on International Peace Development at UNCG.

Even more impressive is that Barakat’s graduate studies are fully funded by the prestigious Fulbright Scholarship Program that covers a scholar’s tuition, living stipend, and travel and academic expenses.

“When I received the phone call stipulating that I was awarded the scholarship, I remember my mind going blank for a few seconds, not really processing what was being said,” explains Barakat. “I felt a sense of gratefulness overcome me; I had just been given the opportunity to pursue my educational aspirations and this might have not been possible without Fulbright,” she continues.

Barakat’s success in securing an esteemed Fulbright scholarship is a true testament to LAU and the education and experience it offers its students.

“LAU has prepared me academically, personally, and professionally to be worthy of a Fulbright scholarship and has turned me into a leader who is focused on giving back to the community around me,” says Barakat, who also received critical financial aid throughout her time at her alma mater. She also received scholarships and was the recipient of the President’s Award for the School of Arts and Sciences for 2020.

Active in countless clubs and activities and earning a spot on the Honor List throughout her time at LAU, Barakat made the most of her experiences at the institution and the financial support she received.

It certainly paid off. After graduating from LAU in 2020 with a BA in Political Science/International Affairs, she began her MA studies abroad, where she was also awarded a Graduate Assistantship serving as the Global Leadership Program Coordinator at the International Programs Center at UNCG, and a graduate assistant for programming. She was involved in various other initiatives on top of her Fulbright scholarship.

Her list of achievements does not stop there. Barakat received a scholarship to the Middlebury Institute of International Studies in Monterey, California to attend their summer 2021 Peacebuilding Program virtually, which she will be balancing with a virtual internship with the esteemed Carter Center Internship Program. She also did a virtual internship with Peace Boat US at the same time as the Carter Center and the Summer Peacebuilding Program.

Her successes thus far highlight her dedication to contributing to a better, more peaceful world through her studies. She hopes to continue on that path by landing a job at the United Nations (UN) and also pursuing a PhD in the same field.

Indeed, Barakat is well on her way to achieving those goals. She was recently selected as 1 of 10 UN Youth Champions for Disarmament by the UN Office for Disarmament Affairs (UNODA), from among 6,515 applicants worldwide. In spring 2021, she was given the Outstanding Student Leader Award by UNCG for showcasing an exemplary balance of personal and academic excellence and leadership.

Reflecting on how LAU helped her reach these new heights, Barakat hopes that its scholars today are offered the same financial aid support she received to be able to follow in her footsteps. She recently donated to LAU’s Emergency Financial Aid Fund and encourages others to do so too.

“LAU needs all of us now. It needs us to be able to give opportunities to more people like me who might have not been able to attend LAU if it weren’t for scholarships or financial aid,” highlights Barakat.

VOLUNTEER GROUPS

Alumni Volunteers

Since 1959, when LAU opened its first alumni chapter in Mount Lebanon, the institution's alumni volunteers have helped promote their alma mater's position as a leading institution for academic excellence in Lebanon and around the world. Working together and with their respective alumni chapters, they help support the university through various networking and fundraising activities to advocate LAU's mission – making them highly valued members of the institution's community.

Beirut Fundraising Gala Dinner Organizing Committee 2019

Each year, LAU's community members, supporters, and friends join together for the purpose of organizing the institution's Beirut Fundraising Gala Dinner. These valued members, all part of the Beirut Fundraising Gala Dinner Organizing Committee, share ideas, dedication, and expertise to help put on a spectacular event with the aim of raising funds for LAU students. It is thanks to the committee members' prized support that the Gala Dinner attracts substantial funding each year, all of which is allocated to the Gala Dinner Endowment Fund.

Though the 2019 Gala Dinner was postponed due to adverse circumstances in Lebanon, we honor the committee members' efforts and are grateful for all their devotion to this annual initiative.

President's Circle

Created in 2012, the President's Circle (PC) focuses on ways to promote the university that transcend conventional academic channels. Its members and volunteers continuously engage with their community in order to foster a culture of support and philanthropy. PC activities involve multiple events each year ranging from holiday parties for underprivileged communities to creating special awards for exemplary students, and organizing lectures for specific programs such as organ donations, and coordinating fundraising events and campaigns to better the community as a whole.

NAMING A SEAT OR BENCH AT LAU

FY 2020
(SEPTEMBER 1, 2019 – AUGUST 31, 2020)

Alumni, friends, faculty, staff, and supporters of LAU have the opportunity to leave a lasting impact on the university's campuses through the Seat and Bench Naming Campaign, launched a decade ago. Through this program, those who wish to leave their mark at LAU can do so by naming seats at the Irwin Hall Auditorium in Beirut and the Selina Korban Auditorium in Byblos, as well as numerous benches located across both campuses. This unique program allows LAU community members to leave a lasting legacy while providing vital support to the university.

The following contributors made generous donations towards the Naming a Seat or Bench initiative.

PHONATHON

Launched in 2014, the Phonathon is a student-led program that allows the institution's students to take part in fundraising for their beloved university. The program usually sees LAU's students call between 800 and 1,000 of the university's alumni, regionally and around the world, in order for them to secure pledges.

Running for five weeks every spring, this important and interactive program gives both students and alumni a chance to give back, while playing an important role in ensuring the university's prosperity. Due to the COVID-19-related lockdowns, LAU was not able to carry out the Phonathon program fully during Fiscal Year 2020.

STUDENT PROFILE MARIO FARHAT

Majors: BE Petroleum Engineering

Graduation: 2021*
expected*

“The financial aid I have received at LAU has truly been a lifesaver.”

Mario Farhat, a third-year Petroleum Engineering student, could never have dreamed of attending LAU. Financially, it was out of his reach.

Fortunately, he received crucial financial aid that allowed him to pursue his BE in the top-ranked program in the nation, and could not be more satisfied as a result.

“The financial aid I have received at LAU has truly been a lifesaver. Without it, I would have not been able to complete my degree. I almost had to give up on engineering, but thankfully financial aid came through and I can look forward to graduating this year,” he explains.

Farhat is one of the many driven and dedicated students who have recently benefitted from donations to LAU's Emergency Financial Aid Fund (EFAF), launched in 2019 to provide vital support to the institution's most qualified but financially vulnerable scholars. Since its launch, EFAF has helped hundreds like Farhat, whose financial aid now covers 80% of his tuition fees. Farhat says the support has allowed him to thrive academically.

“Given such help, I have been able to study more, focus better, increase my GPA, and even make it to the Dean's Honor's List,” Farhat says.

In fact, Farhat, along with four of LAU's most talented Petroleum Engineering students even landed first place at the 2020 Abu Dhabi International Petroleum Exhibition and Conference – University Programme Competition, which sees up to 70 students from the region compete to present the most innovative project brief to a group of leading industry professionals.

The LAU team beat 23 university teams from across the MENA region, highlighting the LAU School of Engineering's leading role in the region to equip its scholars with growing expertise in operations, planning, community involvement, and innovation in engineering.

With the skills, knowledge, and experience gained from LAU, Farhat has high aims. In specific, he plans to apply his growing expertise in the field by landing a job in oil and gas.

“I want to become a shaper of the industry within the next 10 years, and assist in the transition to renewable energy through the incorporation of Artificial Intelligence,” explains Farhat.

His ability to excel and to dream big, is thanks to the support of LAU's cherished family of donors who have stepped up to protect Lebanon's youth from having to forfeit their chance at a university degree. Without such support, he and many of his peers might not have been able to shine.

“To LAU I would like to say: thank you for being so transparent and helpful, and to the supporters behind financial aid: thank you for being generous. You did much more than just donate money. Without these funds, being enrolled in a university would have been a dream that was otherwise hard to achieve,” says Farhat.

LAU ANNUAL FUNDRAISING GALA DINNERS

Launched in 2012, the LAU Annual Fundraising Gala Dinner is one of LAU's most important donor events of the year. With an aim of raising funds for student scholarships, the occasion brings together the institution's most cherished supporters, friends, alumni, and staff. In addition to fundraising, the event serves to celebrate the university's generous donor family who make so many important endeavors possible.

Snapshots from the seven LAU fundraising gala dinners throughout the years. The gala has been temporarily suspended since 2019 due to the COVID-19 outbreak and deteriorating economic conditions in the country. The 8th fundraising gala dinner will resume next year. It is already scheduled for Thursday, March 16, 2023, and will be called "LAU Solidarity Evening." With the theme "Give to live, Give to learn". All the proceeds will go towards student scholarships and support for patients seeking care at our LAU medical centers.

INDUSTRY GIVING BACK

Throughout the year, LAU hosts several extracurricular events for its students and the greater community. Companies and organizations are able to contribute through gifts-in-kind or monetary donations that greatly enhance university events. Industry professionals also have the opportunities to share their expertise and experiences with LAU's students to help them expand their skillsets through these educational activities.

Our rich roster of activities would not be possible without the generosity of the following corporations, organizations, and professionals who contributed during Fiscal Years 2020 and 2021.

GRADUATE PROFILE TAMARA SALLOUM

Major: BS in Biology,
MS in Molecular Biology

Graduation: 2013, 2015

“LAU provides its students with the opportunity to conduct research in internationally competitive laboratories, equipped with top-notch equipment and with leading techniques and tools.”

“As a researcher in the field of biology, I can say that I was born and raised here at LAU,” says Tamara Salloum, a pioneering researcher of COVID-19 solutions, who earned a BS in Biology and MS in Molecular Biology at LAU in 2013 and 2015, respectively.

Salloum also holds a PhD from Newcastle University in the incredibly complex field of evolutionary parasitology, and recently received the prestigious Newcastle University Medical Sciences Doctoral Thesis Prize for her project exploring solutions for parasitic disease Cutaneous leishmaniasis. In addition, she was among six Arab female scientists selected by the L’Oreal-UNESCO for Women in Science Levant Fellowship Programme in 2019, which recognized her doctoral work and role in the development of the region.

Her success post-LAU is undeniable, and it speaks volumes about the skills and knowledge she gained from the institution. However, none of Salloum’s achievements would be possible without the financial aid she received as a student at LAU.

“Solely because of LAU’s financial support, I have been able to follow my goals without compromising my family’s well-being. I believe that LAU has invested in me and I will prove my gratitude to them through my devotion to science, and to Lebanon,” says Salloum.

Today – a decade after joining the LAU community in 2010 – Salloum is a part-time instructor at her alma mater, where she is tackling the world’s biggest threat through her research on COVID-19. This effort is in partnership with the Lebanese Ministry of Public Health (MoPH), Rafik Hariri University Hospital (RHUH), and the World Health Organization (WHO).

Salloum firmly believes that the high quality education she received at LAU set her up for success in her career.

“LAU provides its students with the opportunity to conduct research in internationally competitive laboratories, equipped with top-notch equipment and with leading techniques and tools,” she explains.

In addition to earning several degrees, contributing to her alma mater, and conducting critical research, Salloum has become a mother of two boys, co-authored 22 publications in high-impact journals including Scientific Reports, and participates in conferences around the world.

Her latest research at LAU’s Microbial Genomics Lab, titled Genetic Code of COVID-19: Insights into the Spread, Evolution, and Control, is exploring new ways to combat the unprecedented pandemic.

“LAU’s Microbial Genomics Lab was one of the first to study ways to tackle the evolution of SARS-CoV-2 in Lebanon,” she explains. Not only that, but they discovered the first case of the UK variant of the disease in collaboration with the MoPH. Salloum and her team will soon be receiving support from the WHO to continue their groundbreaking research on the virus.

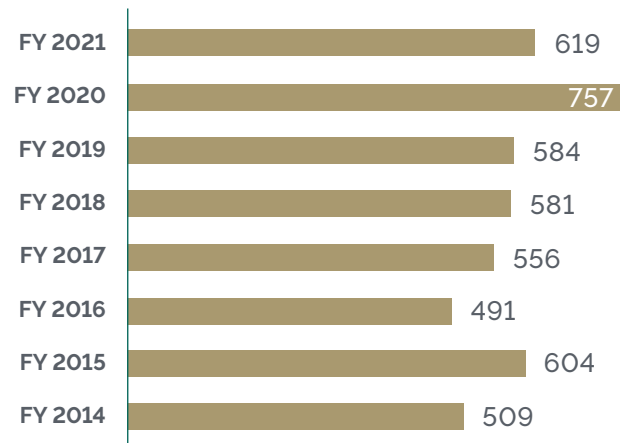

Before the COVID-19 outbreak, Salloum was also working towards improving health conditions for large populations, including those that hit close to home. In fact, Cutaneous leishmaniasis, the focus of her doctoral project, is an issue in both Lebanon and Syria, where there are more than a thousand cases in refugee camps in Lebanon alone.

Salloum’s notable PhD dissertation and her many accomplishments demonstrate the power of LAU and its educational offerings, as well as the importance of financial aid.

GIFT-IN-KIND DONORS

LAU is honored to receive non-monetary donations throughout the year that help develop and enhance the university and its campuses. Donations can range from equipment to artwork to valuable property and book collections. Through these gifts to LAU, donors can help the institution fulfil its promise of providing an excellent educational experience to its students.

The following are donors who supported LAU through gifts in-kind during Fiscal Year 2020, which spanned from September 1, 2019 to August 31, 2020 and Fiscal Year 2021, which spanned from September 1, 2020 to August 31, 2021.

NAMING FACILITIES

LAU offers a range of naming opportunities of its buildings, benches, seats, rooms, suites and other tangible and intangible entities throughout its campuses. Donors can also name other entities like schools, programs, facilities, positions, scholarships, and endowments – and by doing so they can leave a lasting influence at LAU.

Though they may vary, contributions towards naming a facility at the university range between $2,000 and $2,500 per square meter, determined by the respective space's functionality, visibility, and its technological components. The naming of such entities at the university is a significant way to show our donors recognition for their generosity, as well as to create a lasting and visible legacy on campus for LAU's students to be inspired by.

The following are facilities named in honor of LAU's generous supporters.

ENDOWMENTS

Whether made monetarily or through assets, endowments provide needed resources for future investing and expenditures for the university. Around the globe, universities like LAU rely on endowments to provide permanent, self-sustaining sources of funding that foster dynamic and long-term stability from which the university can prosper.

Through such endowments, LAU has the capability to rely on a safety net for any unforeseen issues, as well as to rely on extra resources to help provide constant support to critical areas of the university's development, such as scholarships and financial aid, campus expansions, and other various operational costs.

The importance of an endowment is acutely demonstrated during this past fiscal year that has seen a number of unexpected events such as Lebanon's ongoing crises, the COVID-19 pandemic, and August 2020 explosion. These events, and their financial impact to the university, are precisely why the endowment exists, and which makes it an important area for constant funding.

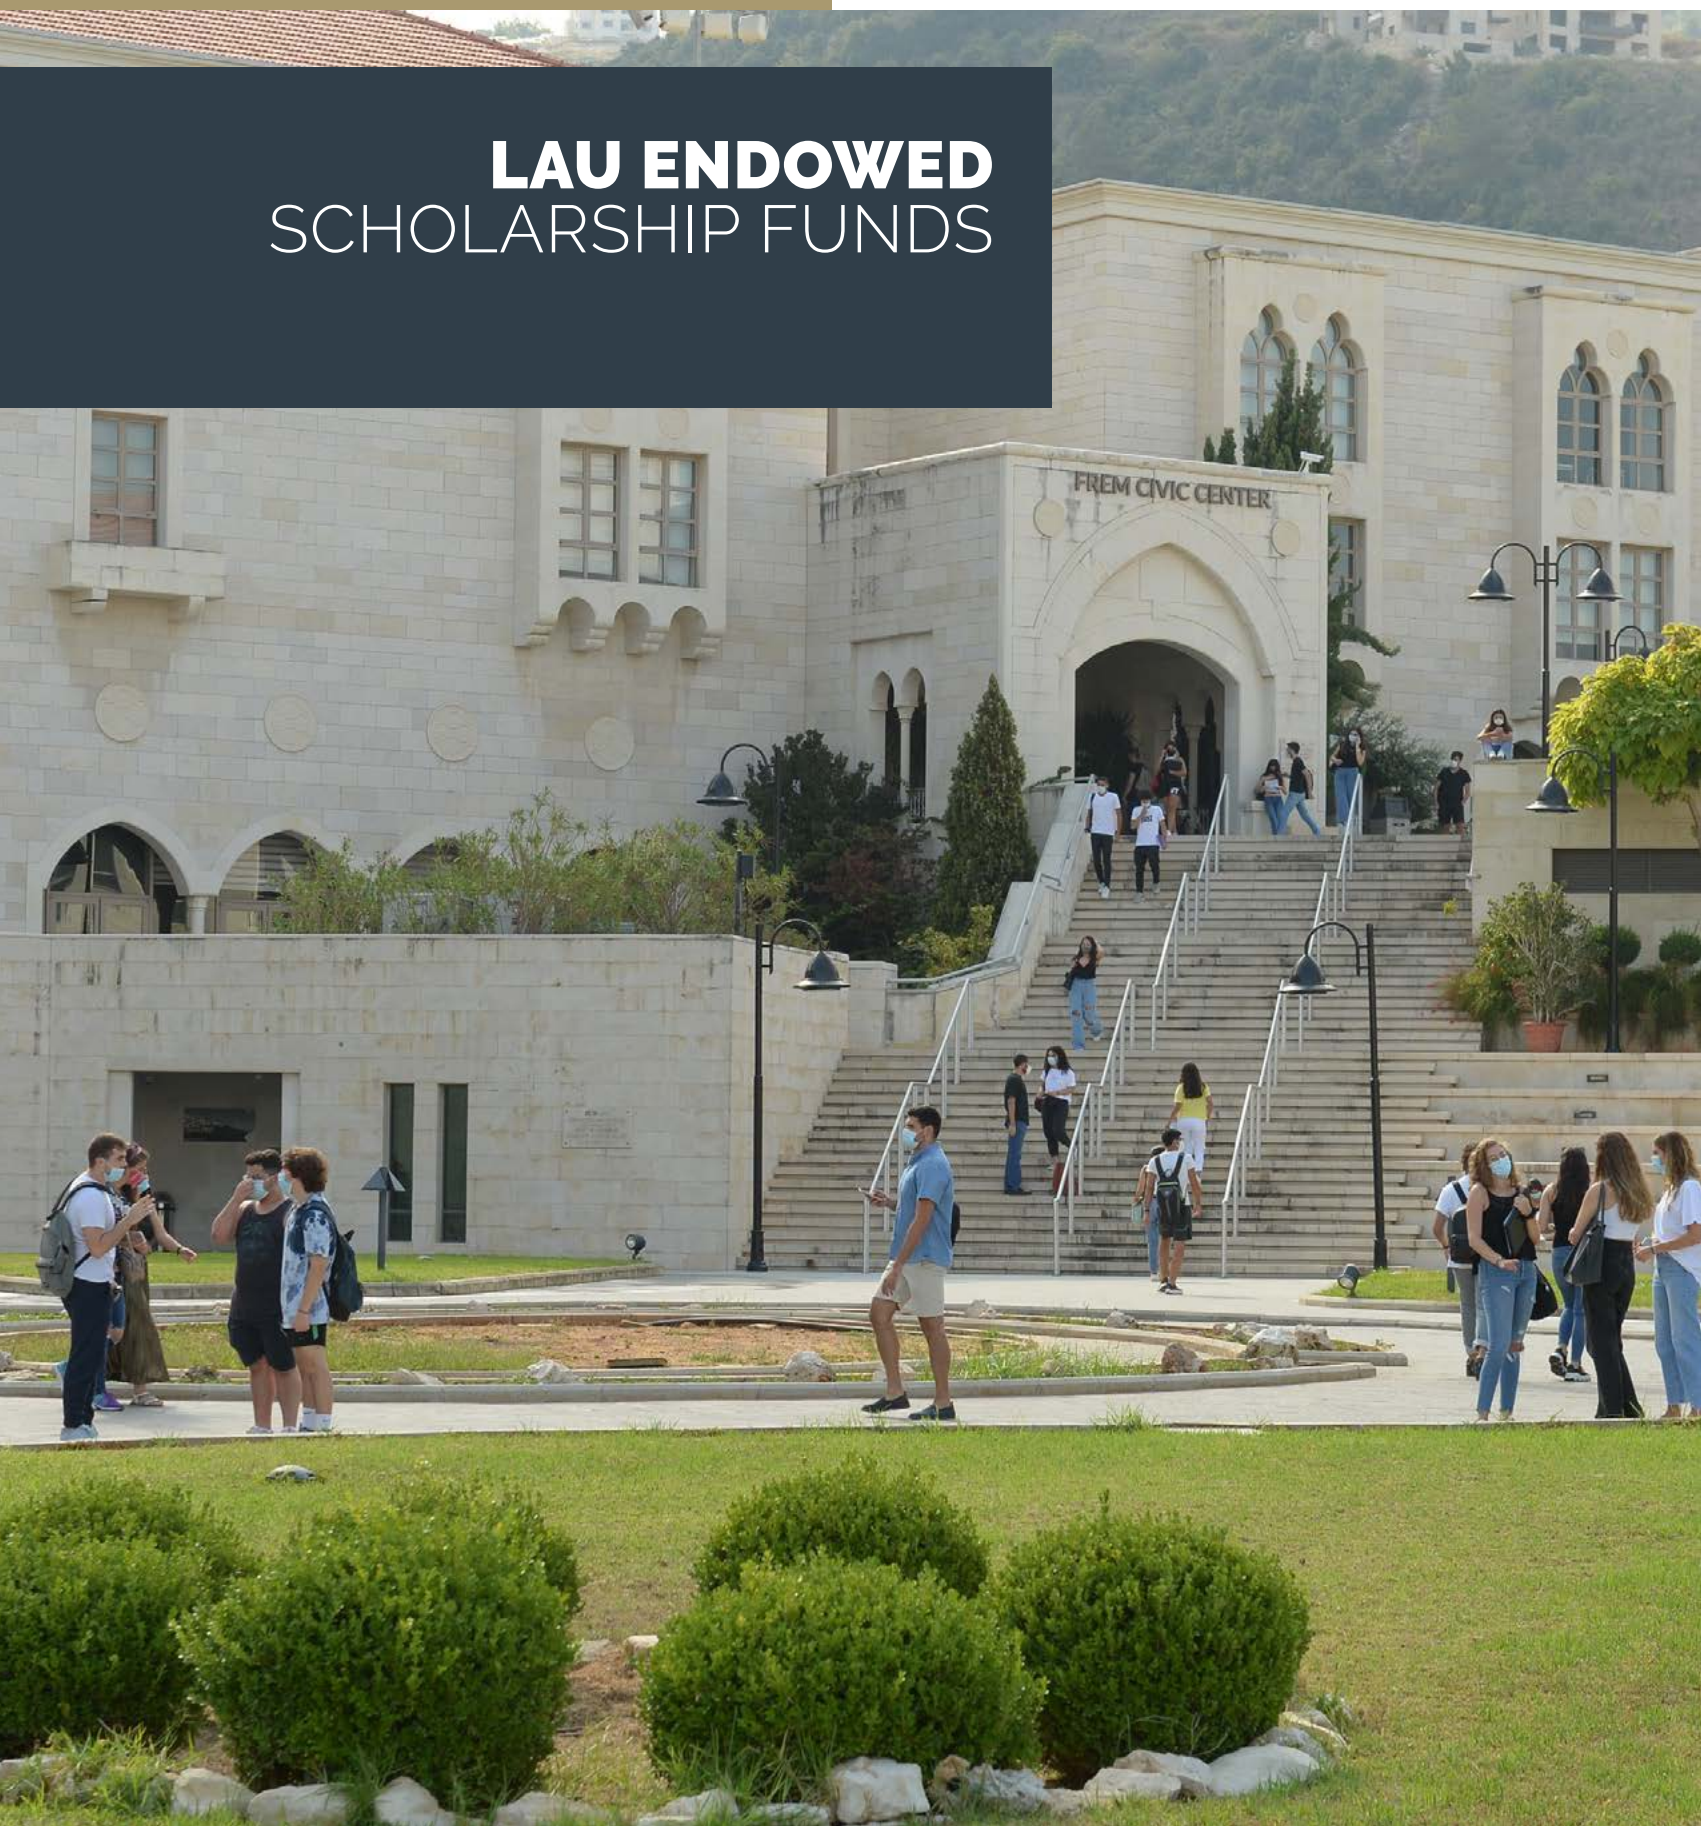

At LAU, the endowment is divided into three different funds: general, schools, and financial aid. Within the region, students and their families are facing pressing economic challenges – meaning that financial aid is the most pertinent endowment at LAU that requires the most support. Those who donate to these funds make lasting impacts for the future of the university and provide positive opportunities for a countless number of students each year.

During Fiscal Year 2020 and Fiscal Year 2021, LAU's investment portfolio – which encompasses endowments – outperformed market indices. Looking ahead, some risks are expected to be well-rewarded, and well-structured portfolios should achieve realistic investment goals.

To ensure a financially sound future for the university, the Office of Development continues to seek endowment gifts while the investment committee, finance and investment offices, and investment consultants focus their attention on winning strategies while monitoring diligently the endowment portfolio, assessing market conditions, and building a strategic asset allocation mix and robust manager selection processes.

ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIPS

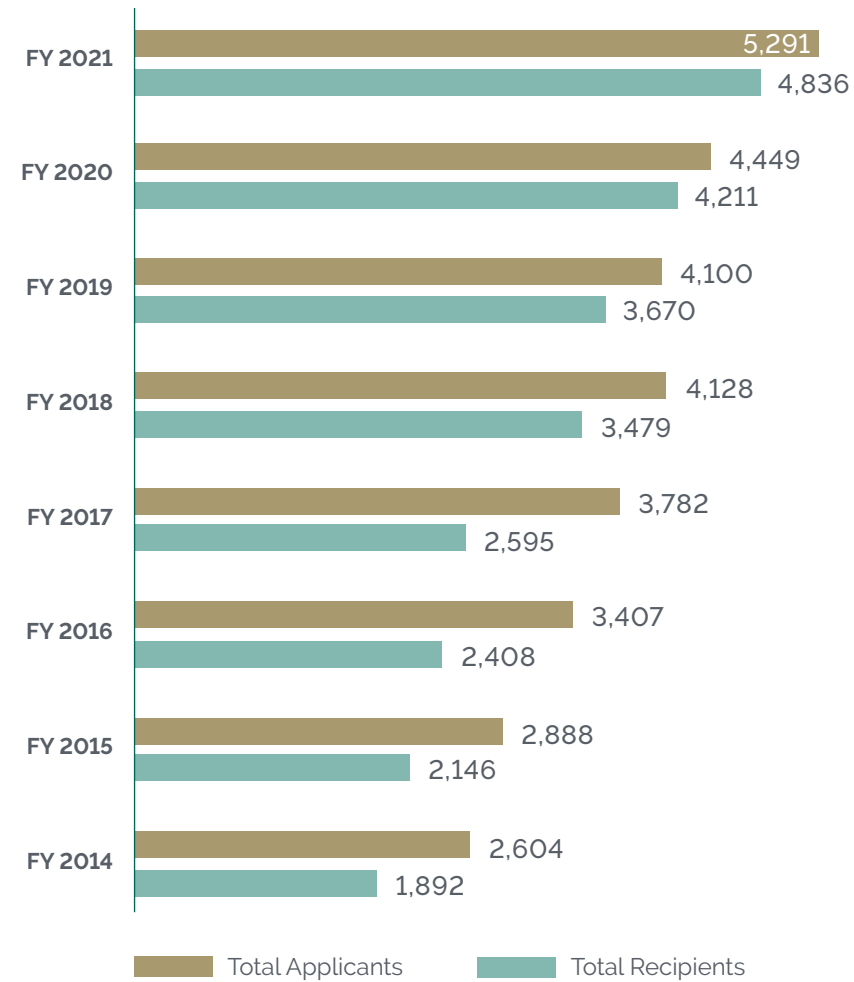

Gifts towards LAU's annual scholarship funds help the institution deliver an excellent education to all students who are qualified, but who may not have the financial ability to afford tuition. Annual scholarship funds are distributed within the year of their donation and help strengthen LAU's scholarship program to ensure that it benefits as many students as possible.

Fiscal Year 2020 saw $29.2 million in need-based financial aid distributed to the unprecedented number of students – 4,211 in total – whose families were devastated by Lebanon's deteriorating economic conditions. Similarly, $50.7 million in need-based financial aid was distributed to 4,836 students during Fiscal Year 2021. Many of these donations went towards LAU's Emergency Financial Aid Fund, launched in 2019, to provide vital support to students at risk of dropping out.

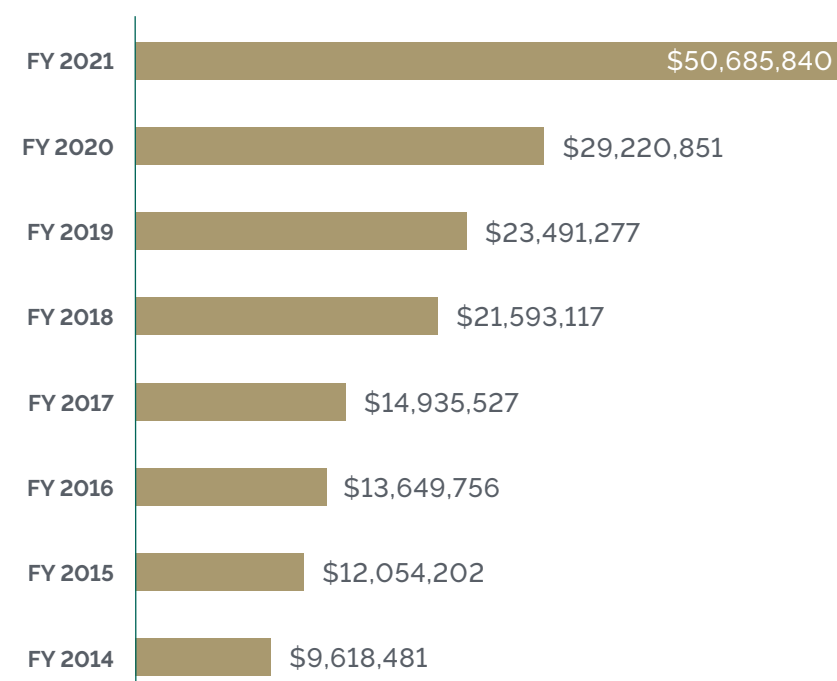

Indeed, annual scholarship gifts play a vital role to LAU and its students, and have an immediate impact on those who might otherwise not be able to afford the greatness of an LAU education. All gifts towards scholarships and endowments are of primary significance to the university – notably so because the number of need-based applicants far exceeds the recipients each year, and because that number continues to grow at a record rate.

LAU is honored to accept donations of all amounts towards annual scholarships, and annual gifts above $1,000 allow donors to create a named scholarship fund.

THANK YOU

Your kindness and generosity has allowed LAU's students to continue to shine, despite a period that has seen incredible darkness. LAU would not be able to serve as a haven for academic excellence, prosperity, and hope, without your incredible kindheartedness. Your support has guaranteed that together we can make a better, brighter future for our institution, our country, and, most importantly, its youth.

Education is the key to unlocking better days ahead, by equipping our future leaders with the resources and experiences they need to propel us forward. Your support to LAU comes at a time when the institution and its scholars have needed backing more than ever before. As such, your support is truly invaluable and we are forever grateful.

LAU strives to accurately list the names of all its donors for Fiscal Years 2020 and 2021.

If you have any questions or name corrections, please contact the Office of Advancement Services by telephone at +961 1 786 456 ext. 1324 or email at advancement.services@lau.edu.lb.
