Alcohol Awareness Week

In observance of National PTA's Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week the Hicksville Junior and Senior High School PTSAs will present a program on March 11 at 8 p.m. in the Hicksville High School Little Theater.

In keeping with this year's theme "Positive Alternatives: A Community Responsibility, the program features Michael Dalvana, social worker, Hicksville Senior High School; representatives from TADA (Teens Against Drug Abuse), a high school group formed at the request of students; and representatives from community organizations which deal with alcohol and substance abuse education.

ng

According to statistics cited by drug enforcement authorities, drug abuse among young people has not decreased or remain ed stable. Therefore, drug abuse remains a dangerous threat to today's youth.

The program is designed to help parents and students learn the facts about drug and alcohol abuse. Keeping the lines of com-munication open between parents and children will also be discussed.

Priof to the program, the Senior High School PTSA's business meeting will request volunteers for its nominating committee, which will present a slate of officers in the spring.

The Junior High PTSA will present the following slate of officers for the 1987-88 year during its business meeting: President: Terry Moehringer; Vice President: Pat Rooney; Recording Secretary: Ginny Romano; Corresponding Secretary: Eileen Millis; Treasurer: Joelena Ocuto; Council Delegate: Joan Moeller

Nominations will be taken from the floor.

School Board Highlights At the February 25 meeting of the Hicksville Board of Education President

William Bennett announced that the district had been approached by Mr. Allen Udell of the Delco Corporation, owners of Mid Island Plaza, regarding their interest in purchasing the Burns Avenue School property.

The Board approved the expenditure of no more than $2,500 to engage the services of two separate appraisers to assess the property in order to study the possibility of a sale.

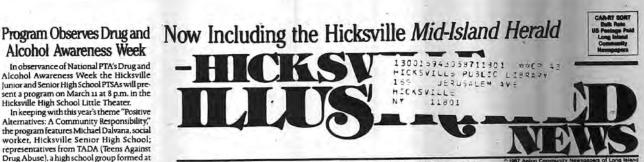

It was suggested by a resident during the General Public session that the board get an appraisal of all elementary school property thus enabling them to determine which piece of property would bring the most money to the district, should the district decide to close a school.

After a lengthy discussion on the use of absentee ballots for school district elections, the board adopted a resolution authorizing the use of absentee ballots for the May election and thereafter. Residents who will be out of the district and residents registered to vote and designated permanently disabled will be eligible to receive ballots.

Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Catherine Fenton, presented her report on the Con-sultants Options for Elementary District reorganization which was authorized by the Long Range Planning Committee.

Among other matters discussed was the question of placing a possible change in the district's transportation policy before the voters. Since the ninth graders will be atten-ding the high school in September, it was suggested that the policy be changed to require the two-mile limit for students in grades o through 12. Currently there is a one and one-half mile limit for students in grades 7 through 9. The change would save the district $105,000.

All requests for transportation of nonhandicapped students attending private and parochial schools outside the school district within the 15 mile limit must be made in writing by April 1 for the 1987-88 year. Application forms are available from the Transportaion Office in the Administration Building on Division Avenue. If you need further information, please call the Transportation Office at 933-0518.

Restrictions Control A Hicksville Zone Change

By DAGMAR FORS KARPPI

The square footage of the land was lessened when Newbridge Road was expanded. The property belongs to Peter E. Kenney and Josephine M. Kenney.

The granting of a change of zone is always a case of weighing the factors of both the existing conditions and the possible conditions should a case be brought to a higher court. The Oyster Bay Town Baord has approved a request for a change of zone in Hicksville where an owner desires to create a flower

A change of zone with restrictions has been granted by the Oyster Bay Town Board from "E" residence district to "F" neighborhood business district for a small parcel of land on the corner formed by the intersection of st side of Newbridge Road and the northerly side of West Marie Street.

At the original hearing on the case, local copie spoke of increased traffic and the fear that the zone change would have a domino effect in the community. Town spokesperson Phyliss Souther said that Supervisor Joseph Colby and Councilman Tom Clark "aren't happy with the deci-sion, but it is the lesser of two evils."

If the case were to got to a court, recent experience shows that the courts do not sup-EXPERIENCE SHOWS THAT THE COURTS do not sup-port local zoning. According to Phyllis Souther, they go for "the right of property." By granting the change of zone, the Town Board can set restrictions on the use of the property.

Another feature of the case is that the property is on Newbridge Boad, a commer-cial area, and West Marie Street, which is lential. resi

At the Town Board meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 24, a local resident came to express concern that the building might be used in the future as an apartment. She pointed out a peak at the top of the structure. The Board listened to her comments, although the official record of the case had been 'closed.

They accommodated her concern by addin a futher restriction, that the building could never become an apartment.

"In granting the application, which will allow for the construction and operation of a floral business, the Board did impose number of restrictive covenants," said Councilman Angelo A. Delligatti.

The Town Board stipulated that the (continued on page 6) Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby announced that he will not seek the Republican nomination for Supervisor, thereby ending his eleven years of leadership of Oyster Bay Town government. In a letter to Nassau Republican Chairman Joseph Mondello, Cobly discussed two major goals that he cares deeply about. Colby said he made his announcement at this time so that there would be ample opportunity for the Republican Party to choose a candidate to succeed him.

The Supervisot said, "I am gratified by the accomplishments achieved by Town govern-ment during my administration and express sincere deep thanks to the Town employees who made these accomplishments possible."

Supervisor Colby injured his back in a spor-ing accident a weekend ago. He said he was launching a catamaran. As a result, he is in a back brace, resting at home and not available for further comment.

Letters From Our Readers

To The Editor: I would like to thank you for publishing the letter from Mr. John G. Peterkin. Also thank that gentleman, for having the intestinal fortitude to speak out against the disgusting salaries our politicians receive. At least, now I know I am not the only one complaining. Yet when I talk to some people about writing their representatives, I get the response: "I do it at the polls." What they do at the polls is vote these people in, then sit back and complain because the same old situations are there-nothing changes. Then you hear the prop wash: "Oh, you can't tell them anything, you can go to jail! Well, I haven't gone to jail yet for telling so called representatives what I like, or dislike, nor am I afraid to tell them. It is my contention that we have "taxation without representation.

The citizens of this county and state are the highest taxed in the Union, yet the majority sit back and say and do, nothing. All the money that was ripped off in the city should be confiscated and deposited in the treasury. They'd be enough to fix up all the old tenements for the homeless.

And they should be made to work on those buildings, as well as the young and able-bodied on welfare.

Whose fault is it that these people are jobless and homeless? It is their own, not anvone else's

There are plenty of jobs, even for the unskilled.

Then there is the wife of the politician who killed himself. She generously offered to donate $300,000 to charity, then clear out of New York. Well. all the money, of her husband's ill-gotten gains, should have been seized.

Personally, I would not want money that my husband got illegally. I couldn't sleep nights. -

Then we have LILCO. They have no competition, but are wasting millions of dollars for radio and TV advertising-and we the consumers are paying for it through our noses.

Complain about it' Sure. But the response one gets is "double talk." God bless you, Mr. Peterkin, I prav you've starred up some gumption in our citizens.

Smile

When's the last time you gave a smile, To help someone feel that life is worthwhile? A smile is an expression of saying hello Even to someone you do not know. For they might be carrying a heavy load As they walk along life's lonely road. Hicksville-Jericho Rotary Club

The weekly meeting was opened by Dr. Peter Rocco.

Samuel Carr, our newest perspective mem-ber, was introduced to the Club by loe Trebitz. Many dollars were donated due to the wonderful news that Ruth Kunz is out of intensive care and that her prognosis is excellent. Donors included Jim Grossman, Pete Rocco, loe Muraca, Russ Marciano, Al Levine, Art Pettorino, John Komara, Irwin Gross, Augie Cassella, Fred Meyer, Irwin Solomon, Tom McConnon, and Fred Stanwise.

Pete Rocco read a letter from the District Governor, Andy Tini, regarding the status of the Gift of Life program as an official func-tion of the Rotary Club. A district-wide vote be taken in the near future to officially incorporate this program as part of Rotary. There is no doubt that the Hicksville-Jericho club will provide unanimous support.

Many people may not be aware that ev-ery day 25,000 children die, and an equivalent number are crippled, throughout the world due to polio. However, the unit cost to totally immunize a child from this dreaded disease is only 12 cents. Rotary international is committed to assist in the eradication of polio throughout the world by the year 2005. At the next Board of Directors meeting our Club will discuss fund-raising ideas for this important project. Any members who can spare some time and partake in this project please contact Tom McConnon. Bill Hayday and Mike Joseph have already volunteered.

President Joe Giordano's Message:

'A reactionary is a somnambulist walking backward.' F.D. ROOSEVELT

Because of the transition of newspapers, the articles concerning the Galileo Lodge have been in a state of disarray. But I believe everything has been straightened out, as they say.

Now that the Galileo Lodge's Social and Recreational program has gotten under way, it is merely a matter of waiting for one event to start and end, then for another one to follow. Like perpetual motion, i'd say. So now the Galileo Lodge announces that another affair is in the works, our 5t, loseph's Dance, scheduled for Saturday, the rist of March. Tickets will sell at $14.00 per person, a very nominal fee that also entitles you to a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee, and cake, set-ups and music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Joe Morace will 'chair' this dance, aby assisted by General Chairman Armand Del Cioppo. Please note that the customary mouth-watering 'zeppoli' will also be served, which is in keeping with tradition, of course. So for a real pleasant and enjoyable night at the Galileo Lodge on the date mentioned above, why not put this date on your 'must at thend' list. Please note that this dance carries a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy.

which is in keeping with traduon, of course. So for a real pleasant and enjoyable night at the Galileo Lodge on the date mentioned above, why not put this date on your 'must at tend' list. Please note that this dance carries a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy. We all need recreation and relaxation, despite the fact that they might come in one form or another. It brings to mind the old adage that all work and no play makes Johnny a dull boy, which to some people is a truism as well as an axiom. Concerning our 1987 recreational and social program, it was started with our St. Valentine's Day Dance which was a success as usual. Now it's the St. Joseph's Dance and this will be followed by a dance featuring the music of the fifties and Sixties. Then in late May or early June, or thereabouts, the Ladies Auxiliary will present a Testimonial Dance honoring ex-President Mary Monteforte. And there is a possibility that others may follow. But this is not all there is to this very enjoyable program, because in August the Galileo Lodge holds its annual picnic at Elsenhower Park. Then we can also look forward to golf outings and fishing expeditions. As you can see, this 1087 program is quite diversified, so much so that there is a little something for everybody here. It is a program designed for the edification of all members of the Galileo Lodge and Ladies Auxillary as well as its patrons and friends.

All members, male and female, are urged to attend the swearing in of officers ceremony scheduled for late March, and this ceremony will feature the swearing in of the male of ficers of the Calleo Lodge as well as the officers of the Ladies Auxiliary. Come and give a rousing welcome to these new officers who have under taken the responsibility of keeping the Galleo Lodge afloat during the year 1957. Many of the leading dignitaries of the Order of the Sons of tally will officiare. Food and refreshments will follow, and a good time will be had by all who attend. This ceremony is somewhat solemn as it is enjoyable, and it provides you with the opportunity of giving all these dedicated people a warm round of applause, including the recognition of the dedication and loyalty of the outgoing officers.

Ist Asst. President Skip Monteforte recently celebrated his birthday, and we wish him the very best. Three new members were recently installed into the membership rolls elthe Galileo Lodge, and they are Joe Ribarich, Carlo Sporacini and Joe Nataro.

What causes that degree of desirability? Certainly no one factor can be singled out, but residents who moved into Oyster Bay during the past number of years have told me that the Town's services and facilities played an important part in their decision to move here.

here. One service we recently improved is the method of picking up garbage, rubbish and bulk items put out by residents within the Town's Garbage Collection Districts. Just this past week we instituted a program which eliminated separate collection days for rubbish removal and the need for residents to call for a special pickup of bulk items.

The decision to make these improvements to the collection system was based on the results of a pilot program conducted last spring. The first month of the pilot permitted rubbish disposal on both collection days in three selected routes, but continued the need for a special call to the sanitation division for a bulk pickup. The second four weeks allowed residents disposal of all household waste, including large items, on both days. When the results were evaluated it was found that the Town could improve service to residents, equalize sanitation routes and still save some money in the process...always a plus.

The rules and regulations which existed previouslay concerning the number of pounds of material and the number of containers to be put at curbide each collection day, was well as the limitation on the length of disposed items will exit, but with two days for disposal of all material it is now much easier to get rid of rubbish and bulk items.

Sanitation trucks will now routinely take up to three bulk items—such as large appliances and furniture—and if there are more than three, the route foreman will call for a pickup ruck to remove the remainder that day or the next working day.

Educated people, and we are, care about world happenings. But when you get down to it, what happens day to day, what makes living in one place better than resident somewhere else, are the things that directly affect us an a regular basis. It's no surprise that Oyster Bay is valued as a place to live because the people in Town government are constantly working to improve the already exemplary services that we provide throughout the year.

Ripping Away Hicksville's Historical Heritage The continuing conspiracy to obliterate the historical heritage of the Hicksville community is glaringly shown on the sign pictured above. It indicates the Hicksville Courthouse as it was known for almost 100 years—as the site of the Gregory Long Island Earth Science Center—with the identification as the Heitz Place Courthouse. The name of Hicksville is no where to be seen. Inside reposes a collection of community history and memorabilia, but it is not Inside reposes a collection of community history and memorabilia, but it is not the Hicksville Historical Museum—it is the Gregory Historical Museum! Mr. Gregory was a teacher for some thirty years in the Hicksville Public School system who compiled a valued educational collection of rocks and minerals. His service was admirable and commended. However, many are raising the question that the combination names diminish the 300 year history of the name 'Hicksville'.

The courthouse has been designated a National Historic Trust. It should be known as the 'Hicksville Court House' By what right does any government-directed committee have the bureaucratic pomposity to take unto itself to change an historical fact?

Many Hicksville residents donated family photographs and histories to be housed believing that they were contributing to the perpetuation of our historic hamlet.

Dominant in the Heitz Place conspiracy is the Town of Oyster Bay, which financially supports and is the governing influence, in the squashing of the Hicksville Pride, Financial backing also comes from the Union Free School District #17. Hicksville, New York.

A very difficult aspect of this protest is that the fine, able, earnest and affable Richard Evers is the curator of the Historical Museum. Such a dedicated and respected manshould not bear any personal criticism for the insistent designation of Heitz Place instead of Hicksville.

However, a Hicksville Historical Society, free of Oyster Bay Political influence, is in the making—and needed.

An agenda for action is being formulated and those who have pride in Hicksville's heritage can demonstrate by writing: Howard J. Finnegan, clo Hicksville illustrated News, P.O. Box 70, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

1987 marks the 339th year of the founding of Hicksville. It is time for those who have made their home here for many years... right on up to those who just moved in yesterday... to proudly acknowledge the historical heritage of their community.

Co-Generation Lights Up Grumman Guest Editorial From Long Island Business By LEWIS ROTHLEIN

Despite the fact that it will bring needed extra electricity to LI, the +50-million 50 Mw Grumman co-generation plant is liable to generate political as well as physical heat. It will require environmental permits, a process that includes a public hearing and comment period, and some aspects of the plant could very well arouse controversy.

Grumman announced last week that it had selected a team of three companies— General Electric Co., Brooklyn Union Gas Co., and Trans Canada Pipelines Ltd.—to construct, own and operate the plant to be located in Bethpage. The team will sell Grumman electricity for 15 years at a discount from Grumman's normal rate, and the company estimates power savings of about 43.5 million annually. A co-generating plant not only produces power, but converts the waste heat into steam for heating and manufacturing.

One future debate may be stirred over the fact that L.I. residents and businesses will have to buy power from the plant at an expensive rate. Grumman will use a little more than half the energy produced, and the rest will be sold to LILCO, which is required to purchase it at $0.06 a kilowatt because of a prior commitment made by NYS and federal regulations during a time when co-generation was being promoted.

According to sources familiar with the plant, LILCO could make or buy energy for at least 10.02 cheaper, which adds up to a lot. If 25 Mw, or half the electricity, is sold to LILCO annually, "it would mean that LI is subsidizing GE to the tune of 14-million a year, because it's building a larger plant," said a source. A larger battle could ensue over the pollution-control system the plant is designed

A larger battle could ensue over the pollution-control system the plant is designed to use. On similar plants, the pollution control system uses large volumes of water—in this case 25 to 50 gallons per minute—and the water evaporates, essentially gone forever. While Grumman said the plant would be dry-cooled rather that water-cooled, a spokesman did not know whether the pollution-control system would use water or not.

If the plant uses this type of pollution control system, those concerned over LI's water supply will certainly raise the issue during environmental hearings.

The Grumman plant is expected to go on line in July 1989, and Chairman John Bierwirth commented on its positive angles. "This plan assures an adequate supply of electric power for our Bethpage operations at a reasonable cost. As a result," he said, "an additional 50 Mw of power becomes available for homes and businesses on LL."

Grumman's Bethpage facility requires 37 Mw of electricity a year. Not all the land is contiguous, and there are outlying buildings aside from the main group. The plant will power the main buildings only, because beyond a certain distance, co-generation becomes uneconomical. Grumman will continue to receive its full 10 Mw allotment of low-cost upstate power."

Girl Scouts Celebrate 75th Anniversary

1987 marks the 75th Anniversary of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. with the theme "Tradition with a Future." Throughout the year, nearly 3,000,000 Girl Scouts na-tionwide, including 18,000 in Nassau County, are celebrating the rich tradition of Girl Scouting along with the exciting future that awaits them. Since its founding by Juliette Low in 1912, Girl Scouting has influenced 52,000,000 girls and adult volunteers.

The year-round anniversary festivities will kick off on Thursday, March 12 at 4 p.m., local time, when members and friends join together in special ceremo-nies highlighting the Girl Scout Promise. All former Girl Scouts are invited to join in a "Promise Circle" in their own communities on March 12, or at the county ceremony in the Special Events Court at Roosevelt Field Shopping Center, Garden City, at 4 p.m. on March 12, hosted by the Girl Scouts of Nassau County. Service to others is a tradition in Girl Scouting and the 75th anniversary is also being celebrated by giving girls of service to the community. Nassau County Girl Scouts have pledged a total of 50,000 hours of service to the county's senior citizens during 1987.

Today's Girl Scout program, in addition to teaching the ideals of service to God, country and people, also gives girls the practical skills they need to cope with life in the 1980's and to prepare them for the challenges of living in the 21st century. Today's Girl Scout Program includes learning about career choices and leader-ship, as well as child abuse, drug and alcohol, peer pressure, being home alone while parents work, and other contemporary issues. Our newspapers salute the Girl Scout movement.

What the Politicians are saying....

Senator Norman J. Levy (R-C, Merrick) has announced that the State Senate has approved legislation to include houseboats which are affixed to land as taxable real property to insure that they can be taxed to pay for the services that they receive from various school districts and local governments.

Attorney General Robert Abrams, the New York Coalition for Safety Belt Use, and the Greater New York Automobile Dealers Association launched a "Citizens for Safety Belts" campaign to broaden the reach of a law that has saved hurnderd of lives since it went into effect two years ago on January 1, 1985. New York was the first state to adopt a mandatory safety belt use law which was proposed by Governor Cuomo.

Governor Mario M. Cuomo has proposed legislation which would increase the opportunity for students to vote in their college communities. Under current law, students are often prevented from voting in their college communities and limited to voting by absentee ballot from addresses at which they no longer intend to reside. The United States Census currently considers students residents of their college communities which benefits the community by increasing the amount of federal aid it receives and by increasing the size and geographic location of federal and state election districts and the authorized number of representatives.

Street-wise law enforcement officers are aware of places right in your own neigh-borhood where a "joint, reefer, blow or hit" is not only available for sale, but used habitually by some and occasionally by others. We know it is difficult for parents and grandparents to believe that such places exist. They do. Drugs here are a very profitable business, especially when customers are like the 23-year-old mother who, two days before the holidays, robbed a stationery store while her baby sat in the lap of her boyfriend outside in the car. The police blotter at the local precinct is riddled with these unfortunates who dug their own hole.

local precinct is riddled with these unfortunates who dug their own hole. Most of us are naive about this seamy side of our communities and prefer to re-main so unless, of course, the drug scourge preys upon our young. Then watch out! Retired NYC Police Officer Donald Hagan, a community representative and drug educator, visits two high schools a day, five days a week, to point out the realities of the drug world touching our youngisters. Said Hagan, "When I walk into a prin-cipal's office and tell them that they have a drug problem, they look at me in amaze-ment. They don't want to know." They know though that, under the law, no police officer can enter the school without permission from the administration. Just last week, in Farmingdale High School, the principal, Dr. Steven Kussin, had a drug problem surface. He reouested that the students get helm and when they rea drug problem surface. He requested that the students get help and when they re-fused to do so, he called in the law enforcement officers in order to protect the en-tire student body. Naturally, the move made headlines, but not without criticism from some quarters who felt the principal had violated some sort of trust existing between him and the students.

Said Hagan, "I believe that the obligation of any administrator is to the entire student body and not just to the families of those youngsters. Those students violated that trust when they brought drugs into the buildings and grounds of a public school supported by our taxes. I certainly would not want to send my child into a building where there are drugs known to be used. That principal should be applauded for his actions, not chastised for violating the trust of children with the teaching body. We need more administrators with his intestinal fort tude."

We agree wholeheartedly. Teaching a child to say "No" to drugs is going to do more than all the laws in Albany. And if enough say no, the dealers will fold their tents and go elsewhere, It is a simple matter of education and Farmingdale has the best educator we have encountered for a long time.

Ripping Away Hicksville's Historical Heritage

The continuing conspiracy to obliterate the historical heritage of the Hicksville community is glaringly shown on the sign pictured above. It indicates the Hicksville Courthouse as it was known for almost 100 years—as

It indicates the Hicksville Courthouse as it was known for almost 100 years—as the site of the Gregory Long Island Earth Science Center—with the identification as the Heitz Place Courthouse. The name of Hicksville is no where to be seen. Inside reposes a collection of community history and memorabilia, but it is not the Hicksville Historical Museum—it is the Gregory Historical Museum

Mr. Gregory was a teacher for some thirty years in the Hicksville Public School system who compiled a valued educational collection of rocks and minerals. His service was admirable and commended. However, many are raising the question that the combination names diminish the 300 year history of the name 'Hicksville.'

The courthouse has been designated a National Historic Trust. It should be known as the 'Hicksville Court House'. By what right does any government-directed committee have the bureaucratic pomposity to take unto itself to change an historical fact?

Many Hicksville residents donated family photographs and histories to be housed believing that they were contributing to the perpetuation of our historic hamlet.

Dominant in the Heitz Place conspiracy is the Town of Oyster Bay, which financially supports and is the governing influence, in the squashing of the Hicksville Pride. Financial backing also comes from the Union Free School District #17, Hicksville, New York.

A very difficult aspect of this protest is that the fine, able, earnest and affable Richard Evers is the curator of the Historical Museum. Such a dedicated and respected man should not bear any personal criticism for the insistent designation of Hettz Place instead of Hicksville.

However, a Hicksville Historical Society, free of Oyster Bay Political influence, is in the making—and needed.

An agenda for action is being formulated and those who have pride in Hicksville's heritage can demonstrate by writing: Howard J. Finnegan, c/o Hicksville Illustrated News, P.O. Box 70, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

1987 marks the 330th year of the founding of Hicksville. It is time for those who have made their home here for many years... right on up to those who just moved in yesterday... to proudly acknowledge the historical heritage of their community.

Co-Generation Lights Up Grumman Guest Editorial From Long Island Business By LEWIS ROTHLEIN

Despite the fact that it will bring needed extra electricity to LI, the +50-million 50 Mw Grumman co-generation plant is liable to generate political as well as physical hear. It will require environmental permits, a process that includes a public hearing and comment period, and some aspects of the plant could very well arouse controversy.

Grumman announced last week that it had selected a team of three companies— General Electric Co., Brooklyn Union Gas Co., and Trans Canada Pipelines Ltd.—to construct, own and operate the plant to be located in Bethpage. The team will sell Grumman electricity for 15 years at a discount from Grumman's normal rate, and the company estimates power savings of about 13.5-million annually. A co-generating plant not only produces power, but converts the waste heat into steam for heating and manufacturing.

One future debate may be stirred over the fact that L.I. residents and businesses will have to buy power from the plant at an expensive rate. Grumman will use a little more than half the energy produced, and the rest will be sold to LILCO, which is required to purchase it at 40.06 a kilowatt because of a prior commitment made by NYS and federal regulations during a time when co-generation was being promoted.

According to sources familiar with the plant, LILCO could make or buy energy for at least $0.02 cheaper, which adds up to a lot. If 25 Mw, or half the electricity, is sold to LILCO annually, "it would mean that LI is subsidizing GE to the tune of $4.million a year, because it's building a larger plant," said a source.

A larger battle could ensue over the pollution-control system the plant is designed to use. On similar plants, the pollution control system uses large volumes of water—in this case as to so gallons per minute—and the water evaporates, essentially gone forever. While Grumman said the plant would be dry-cooled rather that water-cooled, a spokesman did not know whether the pollution-control system would use water or not.

If the plant uses this type of pollution control system, those concerned over LI's water supply will certainly raise the issue during environmental hearings.

The Grumman plant is expected to go on line in July 1989, and Chairman John Bierwirth commented on its positive angles. "This plan assures an adequate supply of electric power for our Bethpage operations at a reasonable cost. As a result," he said, "an additional 50 Mw of power becomes available for homes and businesses on LL."

Grumman's Bethpage facility requires 37 Mw of electricity a year. Not all the land is contiguous, and there are outlying buildings aside from the main group. The plant will power the main buildings only, because beyond a certain distance, co-generation becomes uneconomical. Grumman will continue to receive its full 10 Mw allotment of low-cost upstate power.

Education Advocates Plan Trip To Press For Continued State Aid

Governor Mario Cuomo's proposed State Budget for 1987-88 calls for cuts in education aid, particulary 'save harmless' and flat grants. These monies go directly to local districts, such as Hicksville. Our community is slated to lose 4416-000.

On March 17, citizens from 57 Nassau County school districts concerned with the proposed loss in aid will be going to our State Capitol to meet with legislators to discuss this important matter. Lobbying efforts are most effective with the support of a broad spectrum of residents, in this case, parents, teachers, school administrators, senior citizens and local businessmen. 1987 marks the 75th Anniversary of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. with the theme "Tradition with a Future." Throughout the year, nearly 3,000,000 Girl Scouts nationwide, including 18,000 in Nassau County, are celebrating the rich tradition of Girl Scouting along with the exciting future that awaits them. Since its found-ing by Juliette Low in 1912, Girl Scouting has influenced 52,000,000 girls and adult volunteers.

The year-round anniversary festivities will kick off on Thursday, March 12 at 4 p.m., local time, when members and friends join together in special ceremo-nies highlighting the Girl Scout Promise. All former Girl Scouts are invited to join in a "Promise Circle" in their own communities on March 12, or at the county ceremony in the Special Events Court at Roosevelt Field Shopping Center, Garden City, at 4 p.m. on March 12, hosted by the Girl Scouts of Nassau County.

Service to others is a tradition in Girl Scouting and the 75th anniversary is also being celebrated by giving gifts of service to the community. Nassau County Girl Scouts have pledged a total of 50,000 hours of service to the county's senior citizens during 1987. Today's Girl Scout program, in addition to teaching the ideals of service to God, country and people, also gives girls the practical skills they need to cope with life in the 1980's and to prepare them for the challenges of living in the 21st century. Today's Girl Scout Program includes learning about career choices and leader ship, as well as child abuse, drug and alcohol, peer pressure, being home alone while parents work, and other contemporary issues. Our newspapers salute the Girl Scout movement.

What the Politicians are saying....

Senator Norman J. Levy (R-C, Merrick) has announced that the State Senate has approved legislation to include houseboats which are affixed to land as taxable real property to insure that they can be taxed to pay for the services that they receive from various school districts and local governments.

Attorney General Robert Abrams, the New York Coalition for Safety Belt Use, and the Greater New York Automobile Dealers Association launched a "Citizens for Safety Belts" campaign to broaden the reach of a law that has saved hurnderd of lives since it went into effect two years ago on January 1, 1985. New York was the first state to adopt a mandatory safety belt use law which was proposed by Governor Cuomo.

Governor Mario M. Cuomo has proposed legislation which would increase the opportunity for students to vote in their college communities. Under current law, students are often prevented from voting in their college communities and limited to voting by absence ballot from addresses at which they no longer intend to reside. The United States Census currently considers students residents of their college communities which benefits the community by increasing the amount of federal aid it receives and by increasing the size and geographic location of federal and state election districts and the authorized number of representatives.

"Sweet Shop" At Woodland Avenue

Mrs. Goldstein's Special Education Class at Woodland Avenue School in Hicksville cooks every week. For Valentine's Day, they had a sale to share some of their goodies. They baked and cooked candy, cookies, Rice Krispies treats, and popcorn. Their parents contributed other goodles. With the use of the computer, they made ligns and invita-tions. They decorated their "Sweet Shop" and made hats and Valentine name tags to wear. The children then became "clerks and cashiers" to serve their "customers"-the children at Woodland Avenue School.

A good time wes had by all, as well as a fantastic educational and social experience. and as heard by one second grader, Matthew Trygar, "This is a great store. All stores should be this cheap."

Hicksville Republican Club

Assemblyman, Fred Parola (R-C, Wan-tagh) announced that he will sponsor legistration that would dedicate all state Lottery profits for state school a'd. The measure could boost state aid to schools in Nassau County and around the state by more than $1.1 billion, he said. The state Lottery was sold to the public on the premise that the proceeds would be used to enhance aid to our local public schools, over and above regular state ap-propriations, Parola said. "So far, state of-ficials have failed to live up to that promise. Each year, Lottery proceeds have been combined with general revenues when aid to education is determined."

Parola, a member of the Assembly Education Committee, noted that by figuring Lottery revenues into regular educa-tion aid, school districts do not recieve the 'Bonus" they were promised.

"Last year the Lottery made a $650 million profit, and a $730 million profit is projected for the coming year." Parola said. The governor has requested a $405 million increase in education aid. That's a potential increase of more than $1.1 billion for education which could be used for new programs or to keep local taxes down." This bill would stipulate that state aid formulas for education be set in place in the annual budget prior to adding Lottery funds. The Lottery revenue would then be used to enhance education over and above regular aid amount, for a variety of purposes. "The governor has made education his number one priority this year. Now it's time to hold him to the fire. These added funds would boost aid to Long Island Public schools, improve the quality of education and help lighten the local property tax burden for our schools. I will work for the passage of this vital legislation in the coming session," Parola concluded.

This week saw very exciting games in the Senior Girls Division and the Junior Boys Division. Our referees are to be complimented for maintaining decorum at these games. Congratulations to Anthony Anzalone of the Lakers in the Boys Junior Division for his first basket and to Philip DeMartino of the Celtics in the Boys Rookies Division for his first basket. The good sportsmanship and companionship that the boys and girls have learn-ed in basketball will be of lasting benefit.

It seems that everytime you pick up a newspaper you read about another teenager who got in trouble. This column is dedicated to the teenagers, male and female, who aren't front page news,

The referees who officiate at PAL functions are teenagers who in their youth played PAL are teenagers who in their youth played PAL sports. It is encouraging in these times where there are so lew positive teenage role models for our children, to see these young people participacing in the community. Their maturity and confidence are commendable. The kids in our programs relate extreme-ly well to these young people. There are many games where you will see the referees out on the court talking and helping the kids dur-ing the break between quarters. This week we will honor one of these special young people. Our sincere thanks go to all of them.

All-Americans Highlight Liberties' Squad

A total of eight former collegiate All-American products comprise the New York Liberties volleyball squad, the flagship of the Major League Volleyball circuit. The above total includes player-coach

Mary Jo Peppler, who herself was a member of the 1964 U.S. Olympic volleyball contingent

"I'm real pleased with our personnel", said Peppler, who drafted this team herself. "We ear to have a very strong net game. This group has been progressing nicely as they are etting more cohesive with each practice."

Featured in that strong net attack are out-side hitters April Chapple (U. of Tennessee) and Sandy Aughinbaugh (Cal Poly/SLO). The middle blockers are Ellen Bugalski (Cal Poly/SLO), Sue Harbour (U. of Oregon) and Long Island's own Laura Smith (Central Florida). The setters include Peppler (Sul Ross), Jo Ellen Vrazel (Utah State), Wendy Stevenson (U. of Florida) and Cheryl Tye (Utah).

Long Island resident Susan Gades, a middle blocker who played collegiately for Hofstra, has been selected for the team's reserve squad and will be available to be activated during the four month season ending in May.

Vrazel and Chappie were the Liberties' two preferential picks and they are expected to be the club's two offensive starts. The two San Luis Obispo products, Aughinbaugh and Bugalski, were the first and second round choices, respectively, and they are expected to contribute heavily.
