

DECEMBER 14, 2008
*C*OMMENCEMENT

Welcome

The IUP community extends a warm welcome to the families and friends of a very distinguished graduating class. Over the past several years the class members have worked and studied and are now ready to begin a new chapter in their lives. For some, this will mean a job and the responsibilities of a family. For others, it will mean graduate or professional school. Whatever course their future takes, we hope that our graduates will look back on their years here as having prepared them to meet and deal with the challenges that life will present.

In today's ceremonies, we recognize more than one thousand undergraduate and graduate students for their academic achievement. The university joins parents, spouses, relatives, and friends in congratulating the graduates on their accomplishments and in wishing for them the happiness of a productive life, the respect of their fellow human beings, and the love of their families.

Best of luck and congratulations.

The Star-Spangled Banner

O Say! Can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night, that our flag was still there.

O, say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Alma Mater

To our noble Alma Mater's name
We, her children, sing a joyful lay
And to her a new allegiance pledge,
That lives beyond a day.

Refrain: Sing, O Sing, Our Alma Mater's praise,
Hail, O Hail, her colors' gleaming hue!
Give to her our homage and our love
And to her name be true.

Participants in the commencement procession are attired in regalia that reflects a history and heritage that can be traced to the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the Middle Ages to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master; their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation—in color and pattern and design—that unified those of common discipline and like purpose.

In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895 establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932 the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap, and the hood.

The Gown. The flowing gown dates to the twelfth century. Many think it was worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. It is (with a few institutional exceptions) black for all degrees. Pointed sleeves indicate the bachelor's degree; long closed sleeves with a slit in the arm, the master's degree; and round open sleeves, the doctor's degree. The gown for bachelor's or master's degrees has no trimmings; the gown for the doctorate degree is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline in which the degree pertains.

The official colors of the college may also appear in the gown or its decorations. The trustees and some administrators of IUP wear gowns of slate trimmed in crimson velvet.

The Cap. The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortar board, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. At the baccalaureate level the color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The tassel is moved from the right side of the cap to the left side upon conferral of the degree.

The Hood. In regalia, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.

The Mace is a ceremonial staff carried by the chief university marshal, who is the most senior faculty member. The chief university marshal opens and closes all academic convocations, such as Honors Convocation and Commencement. Artist and metalsmith Walter J. Kipp designed and constructed the mace for IUP in 1967. The design was created around the state seal, which was placed at the top of the mace. The large keystone which comes next symbolizes the state emblem, and on this keystone the letters IUP are placed. The handturned shaft is made of native Pennsylvania walnut.

The President's Medallion is worn by the president of Indiana University of Pennsylvania during academic convocations as a symbol of the leadership responsibilities vested in that office. The previous medallion, designed and created by professor emeritus Robert W. Hamilton, featured the university seal in a jeweled setting. Professor Hamilton fabricated that medallion in 1998 to replace the original medallion crafted by Walter J. Kipp in 1968 for the fifteenth president, William W. Hassler. The current medallion was crafted by Wendell August Forge. President Tony Atwater was the first president to be inaugurated with the current medallion.

Honorary Degree Recipient and Commencement Speaker

Robert C. Anderson '67

Lieutenant Colonel Robert C. Anderson, USAR (Ret.), a member of IUP's Class of 1967, is an expert in psychological operations, combat stress, and terrorism. He was a 2005 recipient of the Distinguished Alumni Award presented by the IUP Alumni Association. Dr. Anderson currently serves as director of behavior medicine and bioethics for the Utah Valley Family Medicine Residency Program, but he draws from more than twenty years' experience in social work and mental health clinic settings in the U.S. Air Force.

His Air Force career has included providing training in hostage recovery for personnel who brought home hostages from captivity in the Middle East, and he responded to numerous crisis situations that included the bombing of the U.S. Marine compound in Beirut; the Achille Lauro hostage return; the bombing of a Pan Am Clipper over Lockerbie, Scotland; and the return of the USS Stark dead after an Iraqi missile attack in the Persian Gulf. President George H. W. Bush, in responding to Dr. Anderson's work with victims of international terrorism, referred to him as a "quiet hero" and noted: "You've done wonderful work with terrorist victims, and your positive attitude is truly encouraging. I'm deeply grateful for your efforts to help Americans who have been struck by tragedy."

In the Gulf War after-action report, the United States Central Command headquarters singled Dr. Anderson out as a "notable performer" who "provided unprecedented combat stress service." He has also consulted with colleagues who responded to the U.S. Air crash outside Pittsburgh and the bombing of the federal building in Oklahoma City. He has shared experiences on Armed Forces Radio and Television and the NBC Today show and in interviews with Stars and Stripes and the Air Force Times.

A ten-term president of the Society of Air Force Social Workers, Dr. Anderson has been honored with the Air Force Social Worker of the Year Award, the Air Force Association Humanitarian Award, six Air Force Meritorious Medals, two Air Force Achievement Medals, the National Defense Service Medal with Bronze Star, the Kuwait Liberation Medal, and the Southwest Asia Service Medal with two Bronze Stars.

His military education includes attending the U.S. Air Force Air War College. In addition to his bachelor's degree from IUP, Dr. Anderson earned a Master of Arts degree from the University of Chicago, a Master of Divinity degree from McCormick Theological Seminary, and a Doctor of Education degree from Nova Southeastern University.

A native of Cheswick, Pennsylvania, he currently resides in Orem, Utah, with his wife, Bonnie, his sons, Ken and Adam, his daughters-in-law, Alison and Kerry, his granddaughter, Eva, and his golden retrievers, Berechin and Lowen.

Before becoming president of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Tony Atwater served as provost and vice president for Academic Affairs at Youngstown State University, Youngstown, Ohio. He earned a Ph.D. in communication research from Michigan State University, where he was the recipient of a competitive doctoral fellowship. Dr. Atwater's research interest is news selection behavior in the mass media. He has published approximately thirty refereed journal articles on the subject. He completed postdoctoral study in the Department of Communication at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Atwater earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in mass media arts (magna cum laude) from Hampton University and a master's degree from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. He is the recipient of three graduate certificates in higher education administration from the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Earlier administrative assignments included roles as dean of the College of Education at Northern Kentucky University, chairperson of the Rutgers University Department of Journalism and Mass Media, and associate vice president for Academic Affairs at the University of Toledo. Dr. Atwater's experience also includes eight years of work in radio and television as a news reporter and director. In addition to his professional work, Dr. Atwater has assumed numerous significant community leadership roles throughout his career.

During his tenure at IUP, President Atwater has assumed several leadership roles. He is a member of the Pennsylvania Economy League of Southwestern Pennsylvania Board of Directors, the International Student Exchange Program Board of Directors, and the American Council on Education's Commission on Lifelong Learning. He is a member of the Indiana County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, the Indiana County Center for Economic Operations, Rotary Club of Indiana, the Greater Indiana Revitalization Steering Committee, and the Indiana County Tourist Bureau.

Dr. Atwater's wife, Dr. Beverly Roberts-Atwater, received both a Ph.D. and a medical degree from Michigan State University and is in private practice as a psychiatrist.

With its original 1875 building still standing at the heart of its campus, Indiana University of Pennsylvania has a long tradition of academic excellence and receives frequent accolades, including designation as one of The Best 368 Colleges in the 2009 edition of a Princeton Review book by that name. The university provides an intellectually challenging experience to fourteen thousand students at three campuses, all easily accessible from Pittsburgh and the Middle Atlantic region. IUP is the largest member institution of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education and the only one authorized to confer doctoral degrees.

Academic offerings include more than one hundred forty undergraduate programs with a variety of internship and study abroad programs, more than sixty master's degree programs, and ten doctoral degrees. Unusual opportunities for research at all levels and the Robert E. Cook Honors College provide special challenges for academic growth. The variety and quality of instruction are characteristic of a big university, yet at IUP, close, one-to-one relationships develop within the teaching framework, and a strong sense of community prevails.

Indiana University of Pennsylvania is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity.

Candidates for Degrees

Asterisks denote Latin honors for first-time bachelor's degree candidates as follows:

-  Summa Cum Laude 3.75 to 4.00
-  Magna Cum Laude 3.50 to 3.74
- * Cum Laude 3.25 to 3.49

Asterisks denote non-Latin honors for associate's degree candidates as follows:

-  With Highest Honor 3.75 to 4.00
-  With High Honor 3.50 to 3.74
- * With Honor 3.25 to 3.49

Graduation honors are tentative and are based upon the cumulative grade-point average after conclusion of the student's next-to-last semester. Final honors for these graduates will be noted after final cumulative grade-point averages have been calculated.

Averages are determined on the basis of the following:
4=A; 3=B; 2=C.

The appearance of a name on this program is not a valid indication of graduation. The diploma of the university and an official transcript, signed and sealed by the proper officers, provide authentic testimony to the conferring of a degree.

The following students have completed their first bachelor's degree program with a perfect 4.0 grade point average:

- Donald E. Bierer
- Megan M. Bond
- Anthony Joseph Cellitti
- Mark Joseph Chiarulli
- Kathryn Kristine Clark
- Lauren Ashley Cogan
- Carrie Ellen Glessner
- Megan Hales
- Erin Kristina MacKenzie Keller
- Andrew Paul Klick
- Jennifer Susan Rodgers
- Ashley Megan Simatic
- RyAnna Patricia Verbiest
- Bryan J. Vitali
