

Paul A. Rooke

Executive Vice President, Lexmark President, Printing Solutions and Services Division

Paul Rooke is an executive vice president of Lexmark International, Inc. and president of the Printing Solutions and Services Division. He is responsible for meeting the needs of Lexmark's worldwide business customers for products, supplies, software, solutions and services.

Rooke became president of PS&SD in December 1999. He previously was president of Lexmark's former Imaging Solutions Division, responsible for worldwide supplies distribution. Rooke joined Lexmark at the company's inception in 1991 and has held various management assignments, including vice president of worldwide marketing and sales in the Consumer Printer Division.

Rooke began his career with IBM in 1980 as a manufacturing engineer. In 1984, he came to IBM's Lexington, Ky., facility as manager of Wheelprinter automation. He worked in a variety of diverse assignments for IBM, including manager of cost engineering, product planning and assistant to the vice president of the Systems Printer Division.

Rooke holds a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Michigan and a master's in business administration from the University of Kentucky.