Goddard Home Brings Outdoors Inside

Frank Lloyd Wright Creation Recently Completed on Beck Road

One of the most auspicious homes in the Plymouth area is the Lewis Goddard residence located at 12221 Beck road. Extremely advanced in its design, the Goddard house was conceived in the mind of Frank Lloyd Wright, internationally known architect and building designer.

As a visitor approaches in his car, the home appears large and massive set back away from the road and built into a hill overlooking a small man-made pond. Then a rambling driveway brings the visitor around to the rear of the building amid an arrangement of green trees and shrubs.

Greeted by the Goddards and their four daughters, the guest steps through the back door, which is the only main entrance-way into the home and is impressed by the soft reddish-brown color scheme that sets off the home's interior.

This comes from the wide but not over-use of soft red in the mahogany wall paneling, the brick walls and the cement floors.

Extending 40-feet to the left of the doorway is a narrow hall off of which are the five bedrooms, linen-storage space and two baths. Down the outside wall of the hallway is a feature of Frank Lloyd Wright designed homes, that of a perforated wall with glass windows inset.

To the right of the doorway and down a flight of four steps is the kitchen, small and efficient and beyond that a laundry room. Directly ahead from the main door and down another flight of six steps is the huge living room.

The largest room in the house, the living room measures 24' by 36' and has in it a small den for Mr. Goddard complete with television set and writing desk.

At the far end of the living room, as the visitor enters, is a wide expanse of window space extending around three walls of the room. Curtains, 66-feet in length, travel around the windows on a continuous track, so constructed that all of the curtains may be pulled to one place at a time.

The view down from the living room's windows is toward Beck road overlooking the water pond. A terrace is planned in the future to extend out from the living room toward this small lake.

The idea behind the wide expansive living room with its large window space is to create the impression of once again being entered through the small main entranceway.

Over the fireplace, which is built flush with the floor, is a high sky-light 16-feet long and several feet wide. All of the windows in the living room, plus the glass doors that will lead out onto the terrace, open outwards so that the feeling of being closed within the home is erased.

The Goddard home is filled with unique features that add interest and modern livability to the Wright-designed residence. Included is an inter-communications system between all the rooms in the house and the recreation building, which is located about 100 feet south of the main house.

In addition to the inter-com system, two telephones are situated for quick access in the home, plus one more phone in the recreation building. This recreation house is also storage space and a work shop.

The home is heated by oil, with the furnace located in a compact closet directly inside the main entrance to the house. Controlled by three thermostats including a master thermostat, the rooms are kept at an even temperature by radiant heat through the floors.

A car port is planned for the future to house the family automobile and to be located off the bedroom wing of the home. The Goddard's land includes seven and one-half acres west of Beck road.

Added unique features in the home are the wide use of screws in the absence of nails to fasten the mahogany paneling, plus all copper eaves and water spouts to drain rain water from the roof. There are no regular eaves.

Surprisingly for a home with such wide window area, the Goddard home is not outfitted with thermopane glass. All windows are made of commercial plate glass of regular thickness.

The home, which took about 11 months to build and was constructed entirely by local contractors, is built on a system of measurements typical of Wright-designed buildings. Many of the individual construction-points in the house are built in four-foot sections or in multiples of this dimension.

The squares in the living room floor are all four-feet wide and deep, the French doors in the living room, 10' high, are all four-feet wide, the fireplace is four feet wide and other features evolve around this four foot scheme.

One other feature in the living room is the dividing posts between the French windows. Called mullions, these posts, or vertical beams, extend away from the wall outside the house to act as weather breakers and protect the windows from storm. They also keep heat, cold and direct sunlight out of the main room of the house.

The living room is furnished with a solid wood dining table with a formica top and modern comfortable dinner chairs. Other furniture includes strange half-moon appearing yet easy-seating resting chairs, a sofa, many floor lamps and a piano.

The bedrooms are small yet roomy, attractively decorated in bright colors. Many colored Navajo throw rugs on the floors throughout the house set off a sharp contrast to the over-all red hues.

The Goddards, after looking over many other home plans, decided that the most appealing lines were to be found in plans by Frank Lloyd Wright. Contacting him in Spring Green, Wisconsin, the Goddard's individual drawings were made shortly and work on the present home was begun in June, 1954.

Named HiLo by Wright, the house was worked on by ten local contractors. Ernie Burger handled the concrete and masonry work; Bill Fehlig, carpentry; Ovid Deace, plumbing and heating; Hubbs and Gilles, electrical wiring; Diack-Brown, the mill work; Plymouth Glass company, all glazing; Carl Blaich, the sheet metal work; Plymouth Nurseries, the landscaping; Plymouth Lumber, all rough lumber work; and Drapery Fair, the draperies.

U-M Dentist Graduate To Work with Brother

A recent graduate from the University of Michigan, with the highest honors in his dental school class, Melvin G. Fitch, 26, will shortly become associated here with his dentist brother, Dr. Gerald H. Fitch, at the latter's offices, 320 South Main.

Originally from Indiana, Plymouth's newest dentist is now living in Dearborn but plans to move to this city in the near future. He officially begins his dental association with his older brother, Monday, July 11.

THE FIREPLACE WOULD crackle cozily in the Goddard home's wide and spacious living room on a winter night as the family sits down to dinner. Furniture in the main room is modern and brightly colored, contrasting pleasantly to the room's red-brick walls.

MORE WINDOW SPACE is created by having the lower half of the walls solid and the upper portion all glass. This picture is of the master bedroom at the end of the 40-foot hallway. The bedrooms of the four Goddard daughters also extend off the long paneled hall.

WIDE EXPANSE of window area in the living room is shown in this picture along with the 66-foot curtain that is set on a continuous track around the three walls. View out the living room windows is down over the small man-made pond in the front of the Frank Lloyd Wright designed home.

Post Card Survey from Hunters Lists Information on Game Take

Preliminary information from the Conservation Department's first annual post card poll of small game hunting information shows Michigan hunters bagged 1,102,000 pheasants, 394,000 ruffed grouse, 388,000 ducks and 1,440,000 cottontail rabbits during the 1954 season.

Also, 352,000 snowshoe hares, 159,000 raccoons, 550,000 squirrels, 49,000 woodcock and 9000 geese were taken, according to the poll.

For several species, the post card survey figures nearly matched those taken from voluntary hunter report cards. For others, however, a sharp margin of difference was noted.

For pheasants, for example, the post cards show a kill of 1,102,000 while voluntary report cards indicate a kill of 1,114,000. Post cards show hunters took 394,000 ruffed grouse, while voluntary report cards show a total of 395,000. On most other species, the margin of difference was also very slight.

However, post cards show hunters took 9000 geese, while the voluntary reports indicate 13,000 were bagged. And for raccoons, the post cards show a kill of 159,000 while voluntary reports total 95,000. Game men are planning further studies of these results to determine if this margin of difference is valid or accidental.

American Legion News

Correction in inequities in compensation and pensions for widows and orphans of veterans of the two World Wars and the Korean conflict is being urged by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Marie Thompson, president of the Passage-Gayde unit of the Auxiliary. The Auxiliary is joining the American Legion in support of an omnibus bill, introduced by Senator Young of North Dakota, to accomplish these corrections:

The bill would accomplish four different things, as follows:

1. Provide pensions for widows and orphans of World War II and Korean War veterans dying from non-service-connected causes, as now authorized for widows and orphans of World War I veterans.

2. Provide pensions for widows and orphans of men who died in service during World War II and the Korean War but whose deaths were held to be not in line of duty. At present there are no benefits for such widows and orphans.

3. Increase annual income limitations for death pension purpose to $1,800 for a widow or child, and to $3,000 for a widow with children. At present a widow without children is ineligible for a pension if she has more than $1,400 a year income, and a widow with children if her income is more than $2,700.

4. Change the definition of a widow for compensation and pension purposes. At present the widow of a World War I veteran must have been married to him before December 14, 1944, or at least ten years before his death, to be eligible for compensation or pension. The bill would change the date to January 1, 1955, or five years before his death. For widows of World War II veterans, the marriage must have taken place before December 31, 1956, or five years before the veteran's death. The bill also provides that if a child is born of the union, no time factor shall apply.

Little Nancy Gearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gearn of Northville road celebrated her first birthday on Tuesday, June 14, by serving ice cream and cake to eight of her little cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dent of Blunk street entertained Mr. and Mrs. Foster Brown and family at a farewell dinner last Thursday, prior to the Browns leaving to make their home in Illinois.

All hunters are supposed to fill out and mail voluntary reports to the Department at the end of each hunting season, but annually only a small percentage turn in the cards, a fact that has in some degree reduced their accuracy.

The post card poll is a statistically-based random sample of hunters where the Department makes a concentrated effort to obtain exact information, a method subject to a margin of error of probably less than 10 percent on the more important species.

Guardsmen to Aid Traffic Control

A full force of Michigan State Police will be aided by 216 National Guardsmen in an effort to hold down the traffic death and injury toll over the Fourth of July week end.

The Guardsmen are part of a total of 400 called out for traffic duty by Governor Williams. The remaining 184 are assigned to sheriffs.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs has canceled all pass days from noon Friday, July 1 to noon Tuesday, July 5. All enlisted personnel will be on traffic duty, with detectives and other officers on special assignment working at post radio desks or on patrol.

The Guardsmen will be used both on patrol and point control at places of congestion. On patrol each will travel with a State Police officer. Two-man patrols are ordinarily operated at night and this will permit the second State Police officer to take out another patrol. Over the holiday they also will ride double during the day.

"Use of the guard materially increases our strength, but we want to appeal to the driver to police himself," Childs said. "The roads will probably be crowded with the heaviest traffic we have ever had over the Fourth."

Last Fourth of July week end 35 persons were killed in Michigan traffic accidents.

Passes Ballet Exam

The Cecchetti test in classic ballet dancing was recently passed by Dolores Aldrich, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aldrich of 8847 Northern, who was among the candidates for the examination given last week in Detroit.

A student of Aleta Christie, instructor at Plymouth high school, Dolores has completed six years of ballet. Judges for the ballet test in Detroit were Sylvia Hamer and Chula Morron.

Many From Here To Attend Big Air Exposition

One of the big attractions that many Plymouth citizens will attend over the holiday weekend is the 8th International Aviation Exposition at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport, July 2, 3, 4. It will feature the largest and most massive display of air strength in the hands of the Strategic Air Command.

The big stick of SAC, the B-36, the big ten-engined Convair transcontinental bomber, the indispensable weapon in the nation's plan for peace until it is replaced by the newer B-52, will be on display.

One of the most thrilling sights of the show will be the refueling operation conducted in the air by the KC-97 Boeing Stratofreighter tanker which will pump fuel into a B-47 medium bomber. Also seen will be a new light bomber, the Martin B-57B; the F-100 Super-Sabre; the F-84F Thunderstreak; the F-86D Sabrejet; F-89D Scorpion and F-94C Lockheed Starfire.

Two Starfires will stage a "scramble" and demonstrate their 90 degree "lead collision" course tactics in intercepting a B-25 which will simulate an attacking bomber.

A total of 25 different types of military aircraft will be on display at this year's Exposition. In addition to the bombers and fighter-interceptor aircraft already mentioned, Show visitors will have a chance to get a close-up look at the Curtiss-Wright C-46 Commando, the C-47 Douglas Sky Train, the C-54 Douglas Sky-master, the Fairchild C-119 Pack-ee, C-123 Fairchild Avitruck assault transport, C-124 Douglas Globemaster, Convair's C-131 Samaritan, hospital evacuation aircraft, the SA-16 Gruman amphibian Air Rescue plane, the H-19 Sikorsky helicopter and the world's largest helicopter, the Piasecki Workhorse.

Opening event of the Air Show on July 2 will be the arrival at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport of the 22 Air National Guard pilots who will race cross-country from California in competition for the Ricks Memorial Trophy.

In addition to the military participation in the 8th International Aviation Exposition, commercial airlines will feature displays of their luxurious equipment, private plane manufacturers will have on hand for everyone to see, their latest models for business and pleasure use. Among the companies displaying aircraft of this type will be Cessna, Beechcraft, Heliplane and Aero-commander.

Mr. Becker of Wheeler and Becker Association interpreted the plans for the new elementary school and unveiled an artist's conception of the building and grounds.

Mrs. Burr expressed concern for the safety of children crossing at Sheridan and Sheldon Streets in front of the Bird Elementary School. She pointed out that the school buses turning from Sheridan on to Sheldon exposed children to a hazard.

Some discussion followed relative to this problem and it was agreed that further study was necessary. It was strongly suggested that a plan be worked out to have an unloading station for school buses on school property off the highway.

Mr. Becker of Wheeler and Becker Association interpreted the plans for the new elementary school and unveiled an artist's conception of the building and grounds.

Meeting adjourned at 9:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

BACKFIRE

An English undertaker found a donkey lying dead in his back yard and went to inform the police.

"What shall I do with it?" he asked the officer in charge.

"Do with it? Bury it, of course," said the officer, laughing. "You're an undertaker, aren't you?"

"Certainly I am," replied the undertaker. "But, I thought it my business to come round and inform the relatives first."

How Woodpeckers Stand the Pecking

Occupational diseases among woodpeckers should logically include scrambled brains, loosened eyeballs and ruptured eardrums. But nature, as usual, has a logic of its own in adapting its creatures to peculiar living habits.

Besides protection against addled pates, some woodpeckers have extra climbing toes, spiked tails for bracing against tree trunks, and retractable harpoon tongues that curl up inside the cranium when at rest, according to Walter P. Nickell, naturalist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

Hours of daily hammering into trees would jar loose many delicate head membranes if there were not a built-in shock absorber of spongy cartilage between the beak and cranium. This buffer functions in the same manner as the cushion on a catcher's mask softens the impact of a ball striking the iron grillwork.

Most woodpeckers, including the red-headed, pileated, downy and hairy woodpeckers, and the well known Michigan flicker, have twelve stiff tail feathers to keep them propped in a vertical position on tree trunks, and four strong toes, two forward and two behind.

Despite the staccato tumult he makes, the woodpecker is seldom working as hard as he sounds, for he usually chooses dead trees or the rotten parts of living trees in which to probe for food or to carve out an apartment. Not only is dead wood softer and free from oozing sap, but it contains a richer supply of tasty ants, beetles and grubs.

Sailors, Take Warning

One of the oldest practical jokes, known to seamen especially, is that of sending naive recruits on missions to obtain the mythical "striped" paint. New developments in paint technology may one day deprive the old salts of this prime source of merriment. Color-flecked and multi-color finishes, although still in their infancy, are finding increased industrial and architectural uses. They are applied with spray guns to such items as radios, TV sets, furniture, home appliances—and even to walls. The number of color combinations is infinite.

The old sailors, however, are safe so far. The striped variety hasn't yet appeared—but it may happen in the paint, varnish and lacquer industry!

CHARLES H. BENNETT celebrated his 92nd birthday Monday by receiving the best wishes of many friends and groups. Four members of the Plymouth Rotary club, of which he was a member since 1925, are shown offering the Daisy Manufacturing president their congratulations. From left are L. P. McGuire, Carl Shear, Dave Galin and Dr. B. E. Champe. Mr. Bennett has been able to get outside only a few times during the past few years. He remains as the sole surviving organizer of the Ford Motor company.

CHECKING TO SEE if the Sidney Strong residence at 1251 Williams has met expectations as a model home for those in retirement years were some 40 delegates from the U of M conference on gerontology who visited the Plymouth home Tuesday. The Strong is shown (center) chatting with Miss Theresa Clark of the Omaha (Nebraska) Education association, left, and E. E. Ashly of Washington, D. C., chairman of the housing workshop at the U of M conference. Built with an eye to low maintenance costs, and ease of upkeep for retired persons, the local home was featured in newspaper and magazine articles four years ago.

Conference Delegates Tour Plymouth Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, 1251 Williams, was the subject of interest Tuesday morning for some 40 persons attending a conference on gerontology at the University of Michigan.

The group, composed of representatives from as far away as Seattle, Washington, came to Plymouth to study the Strong home in relation to research in the field of gerontology, which covers the vast number of problems besetting the nation's rapidly growing population of persons aged 65 and over.

The Strong home had been the subject of articles published in Detroit newspapers, The Mail and two national magazines four years ago as a model home for persons of retirement age and over. Considered unique at that time, the local home was designed for low maintenance cost, convenience and ease of upkeep to fit the needs of older persons.

Conference delegates made their Plymouth visit to see whether the Strong home had succeeded in meeting these requirements and what improvements, if any might be made in homes built for a similar purpose in the future. Results of their findings will be published after subsequent visits by the group to the Presbyterian Village at Farmington, the Jewish Home for the Aged in Detroit and low-cost housing projects in Windsor.

In addition to housing for older people, delegates at the conference table in Ann Arbor this week are studying such subjects as preparation for retirement, budgets for those 65 and over, employment opportunities for older persons, medical care and facilities and general health maintenance.

Sanitary Land Fill Site Purchase is Completed

Purchase of a sanitary land fill site in Salem township has been completed by the city of Plymouth and its use will begin as soon as a new garbage-rubbish ordinance is enacted by the city commission.

Legal aspects of the land purchase were concluded last Friday as the abandoned stone quarry become property of the city. It is located on Chubb road in Salem township.

A caretaker will move to the sanitary land fill site and a bulldozer taken there to bury all refuse as it is dumped. Salem township residents will also be able to use the service.

Before the quarry is opened for land fill use, the commission will pass a new ordinance governing the pick-up of all garbage and rubbish. It will specify that the two can be placed in the same container. It will also tell where the containers should be placed for pick-up and will limit their size.

Boy Scout Troop RG No. 1 held their last Court of Honor for the season on Tuesday, June 14, at the clubhouse, 9611 Hubbard. As I told you last week, Ken Bourgon received the Palms award on his Eagle. This is thought to be the first Troop in Livonia to have an Eagle Scout receive this award. Harry Burton received his Star Award. Five boys received their First Class Award. They were Milton Secor, Robert Wetherholt, John Ruth, Carl Garko and Jim Keras. Two boys received Second Class Awards. They were Fred Graham and Douglas Forward. Douglas was unable to be present at the meeting.

Scout Headquarters presented an electric torch to the Muskrat Patrol for taking second place in the skill event at Metamora on June 3 at the District Campout. This is an honor because there were 60 patrols competing in the event. Scout headquarters also presented Troop RG No. 1 with a green ribbon as a top rating troop in the area for continued high advancements and maintaining a high percentage of new registrations. Scoutmaster Jim Ruth informs us that there will be another Court of Honor in the fall at which time they hope to have a few more Eagle Scouts.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richard of 9831 Berwick attended the University of Detroit Alumni dinner at Botsford Tavern on Monday, June 20. An alumni get-together can do wonders for your morale if you happen to be one of the fortunate male individuals that have retained your hair and maintained a fairly muscular figure, and Frank has managed very nicely.

Many mothers and fathers in Rosedale are racking their brains trying to think of original costumes for their offspring to wear in the annual parade presented on July 4 by the Civic association. It has been a tradition in the "Gardens" to spend the day at home and enjoy the entertainment presented throughout the day by the Civic association. In the morning, the children have a parade down West Chicago from about Berwick to the clubhouse. Outside judges are stationed at various places along the way and they pick three winners in each category which is generally made up of Pretty, Patriotic, Comic, Original, decorated Bikes and Trikes. Of course every child wants to be in the parade and win a prize and believe me there are some extremely clever costumes so that the competition is pretty stiff among the mothers. After the parade there is a ballgame for the men. The streets are divided into East and West and it may not be exactly professional but every one has a wonderful time. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Civic Board directs the games that are played for prizes. The boys and girls are divided into age groups and there are also three games for husbands and wives participation. After dinner everyone again assembles at the clubhouse to see a show with professional entertainment picked especially to entertain the children and the day is closed with a fireworks display.

We were very sorry to hear that Miss Baker, principal of Rosedale School, has been in the hospital since school was dismissed. We hope she is feeling better, and enjoys the summer vacation so she can be back on the job in September.

In case you haven't heard the Tot Lot will again be in session at the clubhouse Monday thru Friday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., starting Monday, June 27, and ending August 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Horgan of 9620 Arden, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Horgan, Jr. of 11301 Fairfield and Mr. and Mrs. James Salter of 9825 Loveland attended a surprise birthday party for Mr. and Mrs. Horgan's daughter, Mary Ellen Wagner, in Redford township Friday night. Another daughter, Mrs. Robert Hayes from Philadelphia, is here on vacation with her husband and three little daughters. They are a little crowded at 9620 Arden but no-body minds they are so happy to be together.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Arnold of Westmore are the proud parents of a baby boy. This makes the fourth boy for the Arnold family.

After postponing the trip numerous times because of the weather the Nursery Group took the children to the Detroit Zoo on Thursday, June 23. There were 18 children and they took a picnic lunch. The mothers hoped to take them on the train and, if there was time, to take them to see the Chimp show. Pat Boyd, the teacher, and seven mothers, Polly Breed, Terry Denman, Betty Golze, the new president of the group, Ailne Hultquist, Sandy Kwasnica, Mari Nabrazy and Helen Ward accompanied the group.

St. Joseph Island is the summer home of a number of Northville families. The Northville colony is located on the west shore of this Canadian island, noted for its beauty and historical landmarks. Northvillites enjoy boating, water-skiing and excellent fishing on the St. Mary's River. Also, many delightful island activities, among these, square dancing and the spectacular bagpipe bands and Scottish dancers, rate highly. The colony is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Del Hab, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloom and daughter, Martha, Mrs. Harper Britain and Jack. Other frequent visitors to the shore are Mrs. Cansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coolman, Rebecca and Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harrison and Nancy, originally of Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Kolek and son, Mike, who now make their home in Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Bloom left for the island on June 25. The Hahns will follow on the thirtieth.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hannaford will spend a few days in Northville. They are bound for Pine Island, Canada, their summer home. Mr. Hannaford once owned Hannaford's Hardware, which is now occupied by the Northville Record. The Hannafords make their home in Hollywood, Florida.

The Edwin Flahertys are saying goodbye to Northville this week as they depart for Pine Island, Canada. The Flahertys will make Pine Island their summer home and will spend their winters in Florida and other parts of the United States for the years to come.

Mrs. Emil LaPointe,
GARfield 1-2029

Eleven Boy Scouts from Scout troop 270 of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, along with six men went on a canoe trip down the AuSable river in northern Michigan. The Scouts participating in this excursion were Cubby Culbertson, Bruce LaPointe, Paul Overmyer, Tom Lau, Steve McCann, Donald Pope, Dale Angevine, Ronald Cowden, Ross Kogel, Jr., Gary Palomen, John Champe, Dr. John Bremer of Grosse Pointe, C. V. Culbertson, Bob Angevine, Emil LaPointe, Ross Kogel, Sr., and Mr. Cowden were the men who went along. The group left Livonia on Friday evening, June 17, with their immediate destination being Grayling. They arrived at the midnight hour and left the dock of the canoe shelter at 7 a.m. Saturday. They arrived home, a tired but happy bunch, Sunday, June 19, at 11:45 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wood of Ravine drive have been vacationing at Houghton Lake, Michigan for the past two weeks.

On Wednesday evening, June 15, Joan Garrett presented her pupils in a piano recital at the Rosedale Gardens school in Livonia. The Harmonaires sextette were guests and presented two numbers as their part in the program. The pupils participating in the program were Nancy Naas, Larry Dickie, Susan Hartsell, Janie Hoab, Douglas Forward, Karen Peterson, Pamela Wilson, Phillis Higley, Florence Higley. Awards were presented to some of the pupils for outstanding achievement during the year. Third award was given to Phillis Higley. Tied for second were Douglas Forward and Nancy Naas and receiving the first award was Karen Peterson.

Boy Scout troop 270 of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church held their Court of Honor and last meeting until September on Monday, June 20. With the full contingent of Scouts on hand and a representative group of parents present, Senior Patrol Leader Steve McCann started off the program by leading the pledge to the flag and the Boy Scout oath. There then followed the ceremony of lights in which 12 scouts took part by lighting one candle and reciting a portion of the Scout law. Ross Kogel, scoutmaster, then presented Tenderfoot awards to the following boys: Gerald Heilman, William Schoeneman, Richard Lynn, Dave Jetton and Dennis DeCoster. These boys were taken in with the ceremony of the square knot circle. Tim Boling presented the second class awards to Bill Eddleman, Bill Thompson and Michael Pierson. The first class awards were given out by Dave Ormond to Emerson Jones, Ross Kogel, Jr., Gary Palomen, Bruce LaPointe, Paul Overmyer, Ronald Cowden and John Champe. The Wolverine Patrol of the troop walked off with 375 points out of a possible 422 to place 7th in District 7 Camporee recently held at the D-Bar-A Ranch. The Thunderbird patrol came next with 350 points to place eighth in the whole district. The results of a recent doughnut sale were announced by Bob Angevine. The Scouts sold 992 dozen of doughnuts with Scout Nickels selling 92 dozen and receiving, for this accomplishment, a Scout axe. Scouts Pope and Eddleman each sold 73 dozen. They also received awards for the endeavors. To close the evening Mr. Culbertson lead the flag candlelight service with four Explorer scouts assisting. With the scoutmaster's benediction the program was brought to a close. However, the parents retired to the outside to view a camp sight set up by the scouts earlier in the day and to enjoy a hot dog roast with each Scout roasting the hot dogs for his parents.

The choir of the Newburg Methodist church along with other friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe on Joy road on Saturday, June 25, for a pot-luck picnic. Guests present for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nixon and children, David and Carole; Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Fedus and daughter, Sally; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Case and Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood and daughters, Denise, Debbie and Kim. The occasion also called for a triple birthday celebration to honor the birth dates of Ed Reid, Carole Nixon and Mrs. Emil LaPointe. Games were played outside and then the group retired to the LaPointe home for an evening of singing.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road on Sunday, June 26, were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller, Mrs. Alma Frahm, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Sr., all of Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Jr., and son, Stephen, of Belleville, Michigan.

A program given by the children of the Newburg Methodist church Daily Vacation Church school will be held in the Newburg Methodist church on Thursday evening, June 30, at 7 p.m. All parents of the children are urged to attend to see the children's accomplishments during the past two weeks of the school. There will be songs, recitations and a play all dealing with the things that have been taught during the two weeks time. At the close of the program the parents will be invited to visit the classrooms to see the handicraft that has been done by the boys and girls. It is the wish of the director, Mrs. LaPointe, to thank all the teachers and helpers for their wonderful help in making this Vacation Church school the complete success that it was.

Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood and daughters, Denise, Debbie and Kim, of Newburg road have just returned home after spending two weeks vacation at Rice's Resort on Round Lake in the northern part of Michigan. They also visited Arthur Kreger in Traverse City. Mr. Kreger is Mrs. Greenwood's brother.

can re-power your engine over the 4th of July weekend

Pre-firing and spark plug "miss"—the result of engine deposits—can steal the power high octane gasoline should provide. By neutralizing these deposits, Shell Premium with TCP* re-powers your engine—and within 400 miles.

No need to put a tool to your engine to get more power for your holiday trip. Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP can tune it up for you while you drive.

You see, the around-town driving you do during the week builds up harmful engine deposits. These deposits cause pre-firing and spark plug "miss," which deny you the full power you should get from high octane gasoline. By fireproofing these deposits in combustion chambers, TCP additive prevents pre-firing. By changing the deposits on spark plugs so that they no longer cause short circuiting, TCP puts spark plugs back to work "full time."

As a result, Shell Premium with TCP gives you the full power of high octane. It's the only gasoline with both TCP and high octane.

Continued use of Shell Premium with TCP is essential to retain its benefits. Shell Premium with TCP is the most powerful gasoline your car can use.

Get off to a good start!

While you're at your Shell Dealer's, let him inspect your tires, wiper blades, battery, radiator, motor oil, and lights. It will pay you to have them checked before you start your trip.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Scouts Off On Campout

Fourteen boy scouts from Plymouth troop P-4 gathered in the parking lot behind the Presbyterian church Sunday for the loading of their troop trailer which officially marked the start of a six-day outing to Howell scout reservation near Brighton.

During the stay at the camp this week the local troop members are participating in various scouting activities such as swimming at the new reservation pool, fishing, rifle and archery shoots. From results in these and other activities, the scouts will earn points toward merit badges.

Accompanying the scouts in rotation during the six days of the event are the following fathers, each of which will spend a day with the troop: Albert Hubbs, John Vos, Alan Read, Jack Robbins, George Conover and J. Rusling Currier.

Arrangements for the trip were made by Troop P-4 Scoutmaster Frank Beach.

Ypsi Starts Week Of Celebration

"This is Ypsilanti" is the theme of this year's big July 4 celebration now taking place in Plymouth's neighboring city. Sponsored by the American Legion, the observance began Tuesday and will end next Monday.

A children's parade will take place at 1:30 p.m. Thursday to highlight the day's events. Children will also be allowed reduced prices until 6 p.m. at the carnival which will be in operation every day at Waterworks park.

"On Stage," a children's talent show will start at 8 p.m. Friday. This is open to any child who can provide some type of entertainment. The beauty queen finals will begin at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Monday will be governor's day. The July 4 parade will begin at 11 a.m. and will move down Cross, Adams and Michigan. The Cochran Majorettes will appear at 2:30 and Governor Williams will speak at 4:30. Fireworks at 10:30 will conclude the program.

Governor Williams Speaks At Girls State Assembly

Three Plymouth girls, Pat Clifford, Ann Higley and Carol Partridge, were among the 300 delegates to hear Governor G. Menen Williams as principal speaker for the 15th Girls State Assembly sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary on the University of Michigan campus June 14-22.

Following election of state officers at the assembly on Saturday, Williams spoke at the Sunday evening inauguration. One of nine delegates to hold state office at the assembly was Pat Clifford, who was named auditor-general.

On the state and county levels, Ann Higley held the post of state police officer assigned as guard to the mythical governor, while Carol Partridge held the offices of city engineer and county clerk.

In addition to Governor Williams, other speakers at the assembly were Dr. John H. Romani, head government instructor for the assembly who recently completed a study of the Philippines government, and Ralph G. Strobe. Strobe spoke on civil defense from his experience as witness at the recent H-bomb explosions at Yucca Flats.

The assembly started off Tuesday, June 14, with division of the 300 delegates into 15 cities of 20 girls each. County units were then formed on the basis of three cities each, with five counties comprising the mythical state organization. Elections were held on each of the government levels and city, county and state governments set up.

Problems similar to those encountered by actual city, county and state governments, were presented to the delegates for solution.

Wednesday evening state conventions were held, with delegates divided into two parties, nationalists and federalists. Following nomination of candidates, campaigning started which continued through Saturday noon. That afternoon the state officials were elected, taking their oath of office at the Sunday inauguration.

The governor's budget was set up Monday as elected officials took over their duties of office. In addition, a model case was tried before the supreme court.

Special awards were made Tuesday evening to the various cities such as citizenship, recreation, etc. Announced at that time were the names of Sybil Piersma of Grand Haven and Sandy Smith of Niles as the two girls selected to attend Girls Nation in Washington.

Sponsors of the local delegates were: Miss Clifford, Passage-Gayde Auxiliary No. 391, American Legion; Miss Higley, Woman's club of Plymouth; Miss Partridge, B.P.O. Elks.

Neighbors Hurt In Two-car Crash

Cars owned by Elmhurst street neighbors collided last Saturday morning, sending three persons to the hospital.

Injured were Mr. and Mrs. John J. Stretenski, 9264 Elmhurst and William H. Burton, 9024 Elmhurst. All were taken to Wayne County General hospital and later released after treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Stretenski had just driven onto Ann Arbor road and were enroute to do their shopping when the oncoming Burton car began weaving from one side of the road to the other. Burton told sheriff's deputies that he apparently had fallen asleep. Both cars were heavily damaged in the collision.

The accident happened at 10 a.m.

On next Monday, July 4th, the people of the United States will celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. This document, proclaiming the independence of the thirteen colonies in America, signed by the delegates to the Continental Congress, was, in some particulars, no more than a recognition of the existing state of affairs.

Signed by John Hancock, the President of the Congress, on July 4th, 1776, the Declaration was subsequently engrossed on parchment and signed by fifty-three members of the Congress on August 2nd of that same year.

Largely drafted by Thomas Jefferson, the Declaration of Independence expresses the essence of Jefferson's own personal political philosophy. This, briefly, is the idea that men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, including life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Moreover, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men and derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. The Declaration asserts that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as shall seem most likely to affect their safety and happiness.

It seems strange to us, in this day, to reflect that the Declaration of Independence, which proclaimed the principles of the colonists in their war for independence, does not express the spirit of some of the descendants of the men who fought under General Washington. Human nature being what it is, it is perhaps inevitable that there should be a large number of people in every country devoted to the established order, whatever it is, and however it may have worked.

While we admire the handiwork of those who framed the machinery of our Federal Government, and we believe in the principles expressed in the Declaration of Independence, we find ourselves more tolerant of those who advocate changes from time to time. We believe that the defects of our present governmental system, whatever they may be, are due more to men than to the machinery of government and, we, therefore, realize that, from time to time, some adjustments are necessary.

We would suggest that our readers celebrate the anniversary of the signing of this historic document this year by taking the necessary time to read its words. The reading of it would do us all good.

SINGER MAUREEN BAILEY will be one of the more attractive attractions appearing at the Independence Day celebration in Plymouth. The young vocalist is a Detroit girl who began her career a short time ago as Miss Fairweather on WXYZ-TV. She was once selected as Miss DSR and is now singing in Juraz, Mexico. Miss Bailey will appear during the evening program.

Grange Cleanings

The picnic is the principal topic right now so don't forget the important date, July 7, at 6:30 p.m. The place is in Riverside Park between the Plymouth road bridge and the R. R. viaduct.
 One may gain access to the spot from Mill street or from Ann Arbor trail or from Schoolcraft road, so our new members will take notice and should have no difficulty in locating the Grange crowd. Bring your own table service and a dish to pass as for any pot luck. In case of rain we are to go to the Grange hall.
 Mr. Fenton is now at home from the hospital and is improving very nicely, is up and around the house part of the time.
 Remember the big Tri-County Grange picnic at Milan on July 17—same place as last year.

Plymouth Loses Youngest Pastor To Bolivar, Tenn.

Plymouth will lose its youngest minister this week with the departure of 24-year-old Reverend Robert Hampton, pastor of the Church of Christ, who leaves to take over a similar congregation in Bolivar, Tennessee.

The new minister of the South Main street church will be the Reverend W. Herman Neil, now pastor of the Church of Christ in Mineola, Texas.
 Hampton will deliver his last sermon to the Plymouth congregation of approximately 200 persons this Sunday, July 3. The new pastor is expected to take residence in the parsonage at 162 Rose street on July 8. He will preach at Sunday morning services on July 10.

Plymouth's youngest minister took over the local pastorate two years ago last September. Prior to that time he preached 15 months in Selmer, Tennessee while attending Freed-Hardeman college in Henderson, Tennessee.

A relatively new church in Plymouth, the Church of Christ had its beginning here in 1938 when a congregation was formed by five persons meeting together. As the number grew to 35 a few months later, a store building was rented on East Liberty street for meetings.

Plans for a church building of their own were made when the congregation bought two lots in November 1946, one facing South Main street where the present building is located; the other facing Ball street, directly behind the building.

The Church of Christ as it now stands at 9451 South Main street was built in 1949 by members themselves. The only cost was $11,000 for materials.

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

New Chemicals Aid Gardener In "Bug Battle"

When temperatures warm up, it is time to use the duster or sprayer for the protection of your garden crops from insect and disease enemies. The "insect invaders" that appear suddenly to threaten the youthful beauty of your plants probably spent the winter in some form nearby, and were made active by the sunshine.

Immediate action is required to protect your plants from damage; for such injury cannot be healed, but must be prevented by prompt defense. Never were more or better insecticides and fungicides available to home gardeners than now. There are so many, indeed, that their number may be confusing, and especially their names, which to most amateurs give no clue to their performance.

DDT was the first postwar insecticide to supplant the old-time trio of arsenic, nicotine and Bordeaux-mixture, which the average amateur of prewar days deemed adequate to handle such juice-drinking or leaf eating insects, or fungous disease, which might threaten his plants.

DDT had, and still has, a range of effectiveness which no previous material equalled. It also leaves a residue on plant leaves which continues to kill for a long time. It is not necessary for an insect to eat the leaf on which it lies; when they touch it most kinds are destroyed.

But many aphids and some beetles resist DDT. To reach these, and to increase safety to users, other new chemicals have been developed, with an even wider range of pest destruction than DDT. Many of these are sold under coined names, approved by the American Standards Association Committee, to take the place of long chemical terms, or strings of initials, which might otherwise be employed.

The average amateur cannot expect to know them all, but he should learn the names and general purpose of those most widely tested and made available for stocking his anti-pest ammunition chest. Here are a few:

Chlordane kills insects that crawl on and burrow in the soil, such as ants, grasshoppers, cut worms, and it discourages moles. Dieldrin is like chlordane, but kills quicker the grubs in turf.

Above Are Common Garden Insects which D.D.T. Misses but New Formulations Control. 1—Mexican Bean Beetle. 2—Tomato Horn Worm. 3—Most Aphids. 4—Cucumber Beetle.

curculio on fruit and the black weevil on yews.

Lindane controls aphids, thrips, leaf miners and flies on flowers, but may give an off-flavor to fruits and vegetables.

Methoxychlor is like DDT, but safer to handle and has a residue. It is not effective against aphids or mites, but kills the Mexican bean beetle which DDT misses, and in general kills most of the insects which succumb to DDT.

Parathion is said to be the best aphicide but not as safe for the amateur to handle as the others.

New fungicides keep pace with insecticides in improved safety and effectiveness compared with prewar materials.

Captan is especially effective against black spot of roses and other leaf spots, and is safe to use on fruits and vegetables, which it protects from many diseases.

Ferbam, also called ferimate and carbamate, is safe and effective on all plants for rusts, leaf spots and other diseases. It leaves a black residue.

Nabam is effective on tomato and potato blight which others may not destroy.

Ziram is like ferbam, except that it leaves a white residue and is not effective against fruit or tomato blights. Zineb is like ziram, but especially suited to preventing disease on vegetables and flowering shrubs.

Research is continuing with the hope of developing materials having wider effectiveness, until finally the perfect combination is achieved, of a dust or spray which will destroy all pests on all plants.

IT WAS HEADS UP last week for The Plymouth Mail photographer who snapped this shot about 90 feet up in the air atop the steeple of the new St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church at the corner of Garfield and Penniman. Workers are just lowering one of the prefabricated porcelain baked white metal casements that will form the outer covering of the spire. The spire is unique in so much as the casements are assembled on the ground and then lowered and fastened into place over the tip of the spire atop the church. Dedication date for the new church is set for September 11.

hickory AND horsehide
 by DIZZY TROUT

You can never tell about baseball trades. On paper the deal may look good, but the outcome may be entirely different.

Take the Tigers' big swap with Chicago last winter. The deal brought first baseman Ferris Fain, pitcher Leo Cristante and infielder Jack Phillips to Detroit and sent outfielder Bob Nieman, first baseman Walt Drogo and pitcher Ted Gray to the White Sox.

The exchange seemed favorable to the Tigers. Detroit had given up on Drogo and Gray, and Nieman, although a long ball hitter, was expendable because of our drop of fleet, young outfielders.

In return, the Bengals were getting a two-time winner of the American League batting crown in Fain and the leading pitcher in the Southern Association last year in Cristante. Phillips was slated for a utility role.

NOT HEALED
 But what happened? Willy Frank Lane, general manager of the White Sox, apparently pulled a fast one. A knee seriously injured by Fain last season has not mended, just as Lane anticipated, although Detroit had reports that the knee was again sound.

Moreover, Cristante has not quite measured up to big league standards. He has been sent down to Buffalo, the Tigers' top farm club, to make room for Earl Torgeson, whom we bought from the Philadelphia Phils to replace Fain at first.

So, while Fain rides the bench with Phillips, serving in an occasional pinch hit role, and Cristante toils for Buffalo, both Nieman and Drogo are having pretty good years and belting quite a few long balls for Chicago. Only Gray failed with the Sox, and he's now with Cleveland.

But this is not intended as sour grapes. The Tigers have outmaneuvered canny Mr. Lane on occasion. We traded him catchers last year, Matt Batts for Red Wilson, and Lane doesn't talk about that one.

GOOD DEAL
 Batts failed to last the season, while Wilson has proven an extremely competitive player and is doing a masterful job behind the plate for Detroit.

The trade the Tigers most like to look back on is the exchange with Cleveland early in 1953 when we obtained third baseman Ray Boone and pitchers Steve Gromek, Al Aber and Dick Weik. In return, Cleveland got pitchers Art Houtteman and Bill Wight, catcher Joe Ginsberg and infielder Owen Friend.

What a deal that turned out to be for the Tigers! Gromek is the ace of our pitching staff, Boone has helped to move Detroit up several notches in the standings with his timely hitting (although injuries have plagued him this year) and Aber is probably our best relief pitcher. Only Weik failed to make the grade.

On the other hand, all but Houtteman are long since gone from Cleveland and even Art is having his troubles in the Hickory and Horsehide game.

Two Low-hit Wins Notched by D & L

Davis & Lent, behind two-hit and three-hit pitching performances, earned a pair of quick wins in the class "E" 16-year and under recreation baseball league as action in this loop got underway last week.

The local entry turned back Wroten's Riding Ranch from Livonia on Jenkin's two-hit 8-0 shut-out decision and then stopped Northville recreation, 5-1, behind Robert Cloar's three-hitter.

D & L, against Wroten's in the season's opener, Tuesday, June 21, backed up Jenkin's solidly with seven base-knocks including doubles by Thomas, Calhoun, Dzurus and Tait. D & L scored virtually at will, tallying four in the first frame, two in the third and two in the fourth.

The only base-hits that the visitors were able to garner off Jenkin's hurling were two singles, one by Rosendahl in the second and another by Lorenzen in the fifth. Loser was Bombach for Wroten's. Jenkin fanned 16 for the winners.

Two days later, Davis & Lent could muster only four hits against Northville recreation, but made them count to hold back their opponents, 5-1. Aiding the Plymouth cause were three miscues by the Northville squad.

Plymouth scored three in the fifth and two in the sixth after Northville counted its lone run in the third. Cloar, on the mound for D & L, gave up only three hits to pad his way to victory.

Merchant's Rally Not Enough as Northville Nine Edges Locals, 14-13, In Eleven-Inning Slugfest

Plymouth Merchants, in an eleven inning four hour slugfest last Sunday, suffered a scant 14-13 loss at the hands of Northville's entry in the Inner-County league. It was the Merchants' second straight loss and evened their record for the season at four wins and four losses.

Northville, in victory, had to weather a four-run uprising by the Merchants in the top of the ninth which gave the locals a one-run lead. Northville came back to dead-lock the count at 13-13 in the bottom of the ninth and finally win in the last half of the eleventh.

It was a wild-scoring affair that found both clubs using a total of eight pitchers between them. Merchants feasted at the plate, slugging the opposing collection of pitchers for a total of 19 hits, their highest base-hit spree of the season.

Northville, who sent five of the eight hurlers to the mound, bagged only ten hits, but were aided by seven errors by the Plymouth Bassetts, who came on in the seventh frame for the Merchants in a relief role. Winner was Phondetta, the last of the five Northville twirlers.

In the top of the ninth, Merchants came to bat trailing by three runs and proceeded to surge back on a bases loaded triple off the bat of Johnny Schwartz. Following Schwartz' three-bagger, Kessler pushed the Plymouth squad into a short-lived lead by singling his teammate home from third.

Northville tied it up again in the bottom of the ninth when Benacusto tripled and rode home on Vandetta's single. Neither team was able to score in the tenth and Merchants failed to score in the top of the eleventh. But Northville in the bottom of the eleventh loaded the sacks with no outs and brought a halt to the battling when a sacrifice fly drove home the Northville runner at third base.

Merchants spread their run-scoring out over the length of the game, while the Northville team flourished on two big innings. Merchants counted single runs in the first, third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings, plus two in the second and seventh and the four-run outburst in the ninth.

Northville plated two in the fourth, six in the sixth and four in the seventh, plus the game-deciding tally in the eleventh.

On the mound for the Merchants was Bill Runge who started and was shelled to cover in the sixth, when Eddie Hock came on to be relieved by Bassetts in the seventh. Northville started Nix, with Fryule coming on in the second, Etsol in the fifth, Painch in the seventh and Phondetta in the ninth. Phondetta was credited with the win.

Pacing the attack for the Merchants was center-fielder Joe Gatteri with four hits in five trips to the plate. Teammate Elmer Rousseau got three for five. Big gun for the winners was Benacusto, with a triple and three singles in six trips.

Next week the Merchants play two games to go along with the big Fourth of July week-end. Sunday at 3:00 p.m. the locals take on Garden City at the Garden City diamond and then on Monday Wallaceville comes to Plymouth to meet the Merchants. Game time for the second contest is also 3 p.m.

Fires Hole-in-One At Warren Valley

The third hole-in-one fired by a Plymouthite this season was carded by Mrs. Ray Hulce, 9275 McClumpha, a golfer of only two years. Mrs. Hulce holed out a two-wood shot on the 149-yard seventh at Warren Valley last week.

The ace, her first, helped Mrs. Hulce to a 64 for nine holes at the nearby lay-out.

round-table discussion will be held following the presentation.

His appearance here is part of a state-wide tour designed to enlighten sport enthusiasts concerning the world's fastest game. The tour, sponsored by The Stroh Brewery Company, will continue through the month of July.

Edward Campbell, 424 N. Harvey, is chairman in charge of the arrangements for the special sports program.

Public Fishing Site Acquisitions Doubled

Work and acquisition on the state's popular public fishing site program will be more than doubled during the coming year.

About $35,000 was spent on the program during the last fiscal year; $75,000 will be used in the coming fiscal period.

At present, the program makes available to the public more than 630 lakes, ponds and streams in the state.

The Army is expanding its aviation arm.

Merchants Lose Twice In Tri-City League

Plymouth Merchants lost two contests last week in the Tri-city league as Dietrich beat the locals 6-3, Friday, and Garden City edged them, 4-3, Wednesday.

Dietrich had previously decided the local sand-lot team in Inner-County loop competition and this Sunday the Merchants face the same Garden City squad in Inner-County action.

This Tri-city league is a newly formed loop, which gives several of the area's hardball squads additional chance to play. Most of the teams in the new league are also entered in the older Inner-County baseball loop.

Sixty-eight conservation law violators paid an average of more than $16 each in fines and costs for their illegal activity, the Conservation Department's latest weekly summary shows.

Fifty-eight broke fishing laws while the remainder violated game and forest burning statutes.

Sand Boxes for Tots To Open Next Week

One more summer youth activity, this for the city's smaller fry, has been announced by the Plymouth recreation department. Described by Director Herb Woolweaver as a pair of "Tot Lots", the newest activity consists of two huge sand boxes, one at Bird school and the other at Allen, at which youngsters from three to five years of age may play.

Slated to start Tuesday, July 5 and last throughout the first two weeks in August, the sand box play time will be held each week day morning from 10 until 11, at the two different schools. Supervising the play at Bird school will be Mrs. Donald Urquhart while Mrs. John Hoffman will be in charge of the children at Allen. Mrs. Urquhart explained the sand box play time as a chance to give children of that age an opportunity for co-operative play for at least one hour each week day during the summer.

For additional information or to register your child at either of these two "Tot Lots" call Mrs. Urquhart at 1340-R or Mrs. Hoffman at 267-M.

Cavalcade Wins 2 in "A" Loop

Action in the recreation class "A" Open softball league last week found four games recorded with Cavalcade dominating play by copping two wins. Evans and Beglingers each won one contest and lost one, while the Box-Eagles lost two decisions.

Cavalcade turned back first Beglingers, 1-0, and then the Box-Eagles, 4-3, for its pair of victories. The defeat for Beglingers, league leader, was the first of the season for the Oldsmen.

Against Beglingers, Cavalcade pushed across one lone run in the bottom of the seventh frame to edge the Oldsmen. In this contest Cavalcade could muster only two hits and Beglingers one. Winning pitcher was Lowe, while Thibideau was tagged with the loss.

Cavalcade's game-winning run in the seventh came on a pair of errors, a single and a sacrifice fly which drove home the runner from third.

The cellar-dwelling Box-Eagles gave the Cavalcade squad a battle, when they arose in the sixth to score a pair of runs and come within one run of Cavalcade. But that rally was put down and, despite a threat in the seventh when Rutenbar tripled with one down, Cavalcade managed to salvage a victory.

Other battling included Beglingers' 3-0 shutout of the Evans squad, which provided the Oldsmen with their one-win and one-loss split during the week's action.

Beglingers built up a three run lead in the first two frames and coasted from there to the win. Evans got only two hits, one in the second frame and one in the seventh.

Winner was Thibideau and the loser was Stevens. Wilkie led the Oldsmen at the plate with a pair of doubles, while Menchaca and Barlow were the two Evans men that marred Thibideau's bid for a no-hit win.

The final game of the week provided Evans with its split of two games as the Box-Eagles were turned back, 6-2. Stevens was credited with the win, as Kearney suffered the loss.

Menchaca garnered two hits, both singles, for the winners, while Rutenbar tripled for the losers. Evans totaled nine hits as compared to seven for the Eagles.

League standings up to June 27 are:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Beglingers	5	1
Cavalcade	4	2
Evans	2	4
Box-Eagles	1	5

Walks To Victory Over Wall Wire

Daisy strolled to a 19-4 rout over Wall Wire last week in the Oldtimer's class "B" recreation softball league as Wall Wire's pitchers allowed the Daisy batsmen 14 free passes to first base.

The winner's road to victory was made that much easier as they pounded out ten hits and were aided by eight errors affield by the Wall Wire ball club.

Daisy scored with ease in each frame, reaching their peak in the sixth when they counted eight runs. They played a trio of runs in the first inning, two in the second, one in the third, two in the fourth and three in the fifth.

Wall Wire kicked the scoring column into action in the top of the first when it notched the first run of the game on a single by Waage, a walk to Williams and an error of Cowal's smash allowing the run to come across.

But this lead was short-lived as Daisy proceeded to open the floodgates and literally walk to victory.

Winning pitcher was H. Williams who allowed only five hits although facing 32 batters. Loser was Ronyne for Wall Wire.

Other action in the "B" league found Barnes-Gibson-Raymond winning its first game as Beglingers took the count, 8-3. The Independents won their second game of the season, with no defeats, when they trounced Plymouth Stamping, 12-2.

The league standings up to June 27 are:

TEAM	WON	LOST
Daisy	3	0
Independents	2	0
Northville VFW	1	0
Plymouth Stamping	1	2
Barnes-Gibson-Raymond	1	2

Fisher's Cards Two Easy Wins In "F" Hardball

Fisher's Shoes, competing in the "F" recreation baseball league, racked up two easy victories last week, as the locals put together a 10-3 victory over Pierson and an 8-1 decision over Livonia Center.

Against Livonia Center Monday, June 20, the Plymouth entry pounded out nine hits and aided by seven errors from the opposing club coasted to the win. Knipschild handled the mound duties, giving up only two hits and walking none for Fisher's.

He faced only 24 batsmen in his seven inning stint, allowing a double and a home run for the Livonia squad's only base-knocks of the contest. The homer by the Livonia team in the seventh was the only score the neighbors could muster.

Pacing the attack for the locals was Runge with three hits in four times at bat to score three runs. Catching Knipschild's near-perfect performance was Urquhart.

Pierson, another team from Livonia in the 14-and-under age league, caused the locals no trouble Wednesday, June 22, as Fisher's banged out ten runs on 13 hits. Pierson got three tallies on six hits.

Fisher's, in this contest, scored almost at will, notching five runs in the first inning, two in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh. Pierson registered one in the first and a pair of runs in the seventh.

On the mound for Fisher's and receiving credit for the win was Jones, who struck out seven and walked two. Loser was Zambiasi for Pierson. Runge again led the attack with two hits in five tries, while Wells smacked a pair of two-baggers for Fisher's.

It's the new kind of hardtop—

The 4-Door Riviera!

Hottest-Selling Buick in History
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highway—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—capping the popularity that has already moved Buick into the top circle of America's best sellers.

YOU drop the side windows down on this airy beauty of a Buick with the solid steel roof—and it's as wide open as a Convertible, with no center posts to mar your view.

That's what makes it a hardtop.

But what makes it a very special kind of hardtop is the fact that it has four doors instead of two.

Cheers? Brother!—they're really rolling out for Buick's 4-Door Riviera!

Now, you see, you can have the tremendously popular styling of a true hardtop combined with the room, comfort and full convenience of a 4-door Sedan.

And it took a completely new kind of body design to come up with this marvel—a new kind of body built to wholly new structural principles.

So it looks like Buick's done it again—because the 4-Door Riviera is a sweeping sensation across the nation.

It's rolling off the assembly lines in volume numbers to meet the demand—in the high-powered CENTURY Series, and in the bedrock-priced SPECIAL Series, illustrated here.

And each one is all Buick—with record-high V8 power, the level steadiness of all-coil-springing, the extra roominess of a full-size Buick Sedan—and, most certainly, with the instantaneous getaway response and bettered gas mileage of Buick's spectacular new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Come in for a look at the brand-new kind of hardtop—the 4-Door Riviera. You'll find it priced at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door model—and a buy too thrilling to pass up.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Who Cares, Anyway?
It's Only $1,000,000

It was again a sad reflection on the American democratic process two weeks ago when only 374 voters in the entire Plymouth Township School district bothered to go to the polls. With an estimated 12,000 citizens of voting age living in the district, simple mathematics show that a shameful figure of three percent exercised their privilege.

True, there were no big political names on the ballot. There was no flag waving, hand shaking or name calling to get voters worked up. The school election decided by one school board vacancy and the issue of Teacher Tenure.

National and statewide elections attract up to 50 percent of the voting public. We must point out that these figures also should be higher. But it seems strange that half of the people will turn out to vote for president of the United States (who probably couldn't point out Plymouth, Michigan, on the map), but only a fraction of these same people will go to the polls to select a man who is going to help spend over $1,000,000 a year of LOCAL tax dollars.

Yes, the school budget is now over a million dollars annually, more than twice the budgets of the city and township combined. The school system is also starting a $3,000,000 building program and the board has about 150 people on its payroll. This is all a big responsibility for five citizens. We have no doubt that the man elected June 6 is well qualified for the job, but certainly it leaves the winning candidate wondering if he is actually a representative of the people.

Russia has often used this as a piece of propaganda. They have been able to logically point out that a minority runs things in America. In most cases, they are right!

Turnouts at our township and city elections are not much better than the recent school election. Here too, are people directly in charge of spending our tax dollars and making decisions affecting our homes and property. Leaving the selection of local candidates up to a few hundred people is a dangerous thing. A few people with an axe to grind can easily work up enough support to elect their candidate.

It will be a while before another local election takes place. In the meantime, look around. Chances are that when something goes wrong in our schools, city hall or township hall, the person who didn't vote will yell the loudest.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"You have heard it said many times that youngsters of today don't show the respect to their elders as they did years ago. Do you believe this is true?"

MRS. FRED VAN DYKE, 9585 Joy road: "I think there have been changes in this respect. The outward show of respect is less—they have less fear of adults. But children mind just as well as they ever did. In my day, there was more of a surface respect for adults. They believed that children should be seen but not heard."

MISS EDNA JAROSS, 265 North Harvey: "In my work as a waitress, I find many who don't show respect; it depends upon the way you talk to them or approach them. I think children today have more interests and know more about different things. Some children you can talk with but from others you just get a smart remark."

MRS. ORA RATHBUN, 254 North Mill: "I believe children today have a little too much freedom; they're spoiled a little. Parents tend to cater to them a little too much. Children should be controlled but still feel at liberty to express their ideas and grow up as individualists."

MRS. CLYDE SMITH, 8010 Newburg road: "I do think that they have a little more freedom than they used to have."

RENEWED MESSAGE FOR THIS "FOURTH"

"WE ARE AGAIN FACE TO FACE WITH THE NECESSITY OF ASSERTING ANEW THE FUNDAMENTAL RIGHT OF FREE MEN TO MAKE THEIR OWN LAWS AND CHOOSE THEIR OWN ALLEGIANCE, OR ELSE PERMIT HUMANITY TO BECOME THE VICTIM OF A RUTHLESS AMBITION THAT IS DETERMINED TO DESTROY WHAT IT CANNOT MASTER"

Vacation Dollars Swell State Tax Tills

Tourists are pouring back into Michigan for the 1955 season among Michigan's 11,000 lakes in the rich resort areas which are enjoying increased prosperity after last year's decline.

It's a $50 million a year business for the state and a healthy flow of tax dollars for the state treasury.

Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council, predicted that a 10 per cent decline in dollar volume last year will be erased before fall.

"This should be a great year for one of Michigan's biggest industries," he said.

Settlement of automobile contract disputes in Detroit was a harbinger of a good season. Full employment in Detroit and other metropolitan centers has a direct impact on the resorts.

The state is keeping pace with the industry.

Conservation officials have groomed the 57 state parks for the summer. These are areas where tourists can camp and fish and swim — and relax — free or for small registration fees.

Major park project this year will be continuance of work on Sterling State Park on Lake Erie. This park was heavily damaged by a storm in 1950, and part of the beach was swept into the lake. But with only a small strip of beach and play area, Sterling had more visitors than all but three parks in the state last year.

Still in the future, but certain to be tourist magnets are Michigan's new highway construction program and the Straits of Mackinac Bridge.

The bridge, to be completed in 1957, already is drawing crowds. The five-mile span will rival some of the biggest bridges in the world. Highway officials hope by the time it opens there will be enough highways to carry traffic to its approaches.

Michigan motorists already are paying a 1½-cent increase in the state gasoline tax to pay for the new roads, at $35 million a year. "All this is going to make Michigan an even more attractive place to spend a vacation," said Furlong.

Korean veterans who received general discharges have won their point.

The state bonus law, administering the $60 million grant giving veterans a maximum $500 for service in the Korean conflict, specified that only honorable discharges would be recognized.

"We can only follow the law," said Major Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant general.

General discharges were given for a variety of reasons, some for disciplinary cases, others for mental or physical disability, and some for emergency releases.

They were discharges with honor in most cases, but were not considered "evidence of faithful service," a requirement of the state law.

L. J. LaLone, secretary of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund, said that more than 5,000 veterans would be denied bonuses under the general discharge ruling. Hundreds complained.

Then came the answer. Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled that the legislature intended to give the bonus to all veterans who were not dishonorably discharged . . . and another crisis in state government was averted.

Parents are asked to help the Michigan Liquor Control Commission enforce the law against teen-age drinking.

Chairman Frank Blackford said that increased penalties against tavern owners and package liquor dealers have not cut down measurably on the problem.

"We must get the cooperation of parents or we will fail to meet the problem," he said.

Enforcement officers note a general increase in under-age drinking every spring and have cracked down with legal weapons in state laws, but, until now, there has been a loophole.

One state law forbids a minor from possessing liquor in a car. Officers say youths hold their parties in parks. The law does not apply unless a minor and liquor are found together — in a car.

The 1955 legislature gave officers another weapon — a legal ban on possession, in or outside a car. Blackford said the new law will help.

Stiffer penalties against licensees — up to 15 days suspension, an increase from the seven-day suspension — has not helped, he said.

"Now we've got to get help from the parents," he said. "There's a safety factor involved, too, as well as the fact that drinking by a minor is strictly against the law."

Roger Babson

Expects World Industrial Revolution

Babson Park, Mass., June 23, 1955. Since President Eisenhower's great address at Pennsylvania State University last week, I have been much more hopeful of the years ahead. This world may be entering a new Industrial Revolution commensurate with the two previous great Industrial Revolutions of a century and more ago.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTIONS

The first was based upon the invention of printing by movable type, upon the development of education combined with Bible reading, and upon the discovery of America. Thus, the three great men of that day were Gutenberg, John Rogers (my ancestor), and Columbus. The second Industrial Revolution was due to the harnessing of steam and steel, the development of democracy, and the building of railroads and steamships. Thus, the three great men of that time were Watt, Washington, and Stephenson.

My purpose this week is to impress upon readers that future history may show that we are now entering a third great Industrial Revolution. This could come from the harnessing of uranium, the development of labor unions accompanied by the redistribution of property, and the possibilities of aviation. The three men responsible for these developments were Einstein, Roosevelt, and the Wright Brothers. The first two Industrial Revolutions, with the exception of the discoveries of Columbus, were largely confined to nations and bounded by national lines.

AIRPLANES MAKING GREAT CHANGES

Let me now state that any third revolution will know no national boundaries, but must be a world revolution. For instance, uranium is found everywhere and can be used anywhere; the masses all over the world are demanding property, education, and opportunity; while airplanes, telephones, and television know no boundaries. They are reducing the size of the world to the size of an average country a generation ago. Today I call London by telephone as freely as I called New York a few years ago. Members of my organization are lunching with me today; and they are having breakfast in London tomorrow morning. Furthermore, the difficulties of communicating with the people of other nations, which handicapped the two previous industrial revolutions, have been eliminated by radio and television.

The stock market, of course, will have bad breaks. Then will be the time to buy more of the stocks which will profit from this new Industrial Revolution. The main purpose of this week's column is to get you to become world conscious and to recognize the great possibilities ahead. Some look upon advances in electricity as bringing on a new era; but no, electricity is simply a new method of distributing power already manufactured by coal, oil or gravity. This same applies to electronics and many other inventions which people are going crazy about. Actually, these are incidental. Great new eras are based on the use of a new power; material, spiritual, political, or a combination of all, as "Billy" Graham is preaching.

HOW TO LOSE MONEY

All kinds of speculative promotions followed the inventions of Watt, Stephenson, and especially Columbus. Hundreds of new companies were formed and floated to get gold from Mexico or Peru, to enjoy the Fountain-of-Youth in Florida, to import sugar, spices and slaves from the West Indies, to get timber and ore from Virginia or New England. The settlement of Gloucester — my home city — was undertaken by an English company to make money by gathering the cod, halibut, and mackerel which were said to fill Gloucester Harbor. A few of these companies made money, but most of them, including the Gloucester enterprise, went broke.

Too many investors of those days thought only of themselves and tried to get rich by speculating in individual companies; but they lost out. Those, however, who did not attempt to speculate in these new companies but who got the vision that new industrial revolution was fanning out before them, applied this vision to their own business, whether banking, insurance, manufacturing, merchandising, or foreign trade. They became wealthy. I forecast that those who now get and so usefully apply this vision will be likewise rewarded.

LET US NOW BE OPTIMISTIC

So, I close with this appeal. Let us forget, for the present, World War III, Russian Communism, threatened Stock Market Collapse, Juvenile Delinquency, and all the other pessimism featured today. Instead, let us think of what Aviation, Chemistry, Wonder Drugs, Television, Weather Control, Cybernetics, Automatic Factories, and the greatest of all, uranium will do for us who get this vision and are anxious to work. Even this does not mean buying your head to find some uranium stock to buy. The fact is, future history may look back upon the present stock markets as you and I look back on horses and buggies! Therefore, may we be awakened to a new vision. May we think how we can use airplanes, uranium, and especially advertising, to develop our own business, and help our children and grandchildren. Without doubt some stocks are good short sales at the present time; but don't now sell the world short!

One more thought: On the 6th of last December I completed fifty years in very active business. This year, 1955, I am devoting to selecting 2,000 enthusiastic persons — preferably those physically handicapped as I have always been, but who have the Vision — to represent me and the United Information Service in 2,000 cities. A list of these selected cities will be sent, on request, by my Babson Park, Massachusetts, office. Any reader who can help in this work will be doing a good thing both for the person selected and for the merchants of the community in which he or she lives. If you doubt it, read in the Bible the first sentence of Verse 18, Chapter 29, of the Book of Proverbs.

Let's Save Some Lives

As we all know, there are more than 30,000 persons killed in motor vehicle accidents in this country every year. The American public, and that includes all of us, has been strangely apathetic over this terrible death toll on our highways.

We all seem to take it for granted that motor vehicles and dead pedestrians go together and even if, at times, the occupants of the automobiles get killed, the accident is usually termed "unavoidable."

With the Fourth of July weekend in the offing, it is certainly timely to warn drivers of motor vehicles of all kinds to be particularly careful. Let's not permit this celebration to end in a carnage of death for hundreds of people. The oft-repeated warning, "If you must drink, don't drive," is certainly applicable at this time.

Be extra careful — remember — the life you save may be your own!

Money in the bank never ends up this way

Funny thing, but some people still carry large sums of money with them wherever they go. They do this in spite of the fact that almost everyone agrees it's unwise to carry more money on your person than you can afford to lose.

There are several good reasons why the people who do this should change their ways. Most important, the cash they carry with them or leave around the house sometimes has a way of getting lost, misplaced, or stolen.

Not so with money in the bank. The money you deposit in your savings and checking accounts at National Bank of Detroit is safe from possible loss or theft. In your savings account your regular deposits can accumulate safely as a cushion for unexpected expenses, and for the fulfillment of your hopes in the years to come.

Similarly, the best place for your "active" money is in a National Bank checking account. Paying by check is convenient. You always have a written record and a legal receipt for every financial transaction. And you can send checks safely through the mail.

That's why the best way for you to manage money is to maintain a savings account and a checking account at your friendly neighborhood office of National Bank of Detroit. You use the checking account as an aid in managing your finances, and the savings account to help build security and provide for the things you want in the future.

That's good planning. If you haven't already found out how many ways the National Bank of Detroit can help with your money matters, we hope you'll stop in soon.

Here are the easy directions for making Mrs. Gladstone's favorite recipe:

- Ice-Box Cookies
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup white sugar
 - 1 rounded cup vegetable shortening
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 2 teaspoon soda
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla

Apple Products Make Ideal Suggestion for Outdoor-Eating

This is such a broad, far-sweeping land that many of our fun and frolic activities are regional in nature, changing from section to section. But the happy warm weather custom of eating outdoors is virtually universal.

Will you be sitting down to a patio party this weekend? Or entertaining the neighbors with a cooling drink and refreshing snack on the porch? Treating the family to supper in the backyard with or without barbecue equipment? Or packing a lunch into a hamper and setting out for a good old fashioned picnic? Any way you choose to eat, these apple ideas will add a welcome touch to the "makings." With canned apple sauce, apple slices and apple juice in plentiful supply this summer for the first time in a few years, keep a stock on hand for quick use.

Making Ice Cream Even Better

Mix a half-cup of crushed peppermint stick candy or crushed after dinner mints with two cups of canned apple sauce for a spicily luscious topping for ice cream. The apple sauce-peppermint mixture should be chilled for several hours to blend the flavor. It can be made up ahead of time and kept in a container in the refrigerator. A two-cup can of apple sauce will make enough topping for six servings, figuring a quart of ice cream.

This also makes a delectable filling between layers of sponge cake and an exciting topping for baked or unfrosted cakes. If you're packing it to a picnic, keep the chilled sauce in a plastic container and spoon it over the cake or ice cream when you're ready for dessert.

Barbecue and Beach

From an easy-to-open and easy-to-tote can of apple slices and another one of cocktail frankfurters, is born a wonderful barbecue skewer for broiling outdoors at beach or backyard party. Be prepared with plenty because a whiff of the sizzling sausages and fragrant apple slices will just demand for seconds.

Just take the juicy slices from the can, roll in brown sugar and place on the skewer alternately with the cocktail sausages. For easy eating, de-skewer onto crispy frankfurter rolls that have toasted while the skewers broil.

For A Cool Drink

Summer entertaining puts the emphasis on drinks — long cold drinks embodying enough novelty and flavor to provide a lift for heat-fagged spirits. Picnicking finds thirsty youngsters tapping the thermos jug with frequent regularity. For either occasion, apple juice is a smart idea. Not too sweet for a hot day, but tangy and refreshing, and wonderfully economical to serve, the amber juice may be conveniently stored in the refrigerator and carried in the thermos bottle. The individual six-ounce cans are convenient for picnics. Just punch a hole and insert a straw — no cups necessary.

Advise More Liquids On Summer Menus

Is your family getting enough water during these first hot days of summer?

A foods and nutrition expert at Michigan State college, explains that although water is not usually considered a food, it is probably the most important of all foods. We depend on water to dissolve and distribute all the food we eat and to transport the waste products formed in our bodies.

She points out that with the first hot days of summer there is a sudden increase in the water losses of our body in the form of perspiration. This loss is necessary to keep body temperatures from rising in hot weather.

But, this water must be replaced, she adds, and summer is a good time to increase the amount of liquid food served with meals. A suggestion is to serve all sorts of fruit punches, iced tea and soups either hot or cold. The expert points out that most fruits and vegetables contain 90 per cent or more of water.

Most important, she declares, is to be sure that a good cool drink of water is always easy to find. She suggests that if your tap doesn't run cold, to put a bottle of fresh water in the refrigerator each morning and fill it regularly during the day.

Patio Party For A Glorious Fourth

Patio, porch, or lawn—celebrate the Fourth of July in gay style! And if you feature lovely—and completely harmless!—crepe paper fireworks as the centerpiece for the picnic table, and serve hearty picnic food, you may even divert the children's interest from the noisier brand of celebration! Special note: the unusual decoration on the centerpiece is laundry bead-bluing—one with a brand new "nylon brightener"; be sure to try it on your white nylons—a surprise as delightful as this centerpiece awaits you!

Base of Centerpiece: From red crepe paper cut strip 7" deep x 18" long... fold in half lengthwise. Cover an 8" paper plate by inserting edge of plate into the fold and pasting.

Next Step: Unfold 2 packages of crepe paper icicles... with Bead Bluing brush tips only. To make the "paint" mixture, mix 1 cup bead bluing to a froth with 1/4 cup water. Let dry, then brush lightly with clear nail polish and sprinkle at once with silver "fitter."

Pompon: With needle and strong thread, gather one strip of icicle about 1" from straight edge, forming a fluffy pompon. Tie tightly, and paste the short ruffle against center of plate.

Ruffle: Fold back straight edge of second strip of icicles 1 1/2"... gather along fold and tie around base of pompon.

Rockets: Paste two blue silver stars back to back at one end of a red straw... make 8 of these and insert in pompon.

Place Card: From white crepe paper, cut strip 3"x15"... fold in half lengthwise and gather along fold. Tie into flat rosette. Brush tips with Bead Bluing mixture and sprinkle with "fitter." From red straws cut 12 3" lengths... tie together at middle with pipe cleaner, bending other end of cleaner up, and fastening two stars at top. Trim with tiny bow, leaving one end of ribbon long and attaching to it a place card. Paste tied straws in center of rosette.

Chilled refrigerator cookie dough may be cut more easily with a wire cheese cutter rather than a knife. For a standard double bed, home economists recommend using an 81-inch width and 108-inch length sheet.

"Stretch" Togs Fit Better, Last Longer

"They surround, but do not bind." This is the way people who have worn "stretch" yarn hosiery, socks and undergarments describe them.

An instructor in the textiles, clothing and related arts department at Michigan State college explains that these stretch yarn garments are made with a twoply crimp nylon yarn.

When the first stretch yarn hosiery came on the market several years ago, she points out, it was heavy, warm and more expensive. Since then manufacturers have made the sheer 15 denier, 60 gauge hose which are quite comparable in price to other stockings.

"Much of the 'stretch' hosiery is made from helanca yarn. These nylon yarns are set in a coiled form by heat so the coils remain permanent. Due to these twists or crimps in the yarn, the expert explains, the garments made from it have much 'give.' Hosiery clings to the legs and does not snag easily. And gloves made from helanca, she adds fit snugly on any size hand; they are cool, and easy to launder.

Because of the "stretch" quality of garments made from helanca, stores need not stock such a quantity of hosiery. To meet all needs and sizes with "stretch" hosiery, the store may carry a maximum of six sizes. For regular hosiery, they must carry over 20 sizes to be completely stocked.

It's much easier to remove soiled spots and stain if you "lock in" the spot by using embroidery hoops on the material. Brushing, sponging or pouring boiling water over the stain is simpler when the material is taut.

alone, with a dash of lemon, or floating a scoop of sherbert. For a delicious combination, use apple juice instead of water in blending frozen orange juice. Drop a maraschino cherry in each glass.

Good with dainty tea sandwiches or cookies when company is being entertained on the porch or in the garden is apple juice and iced tea, half and half, in tall glasses garnished with a lemon slice and sprig of fresh mint.

The children will go for sandwiches spread with a peanut butter and apple sauce filling. Blend the peanut butter with ready-to-use apple sauce until you obtain the desired consistency. It's a nutritious combination that is equally good as an open-faced sandwich spread, and as a filling for heftier sandwiches.

"Comfort First" Say Designers Of Tots' Clothes

What the well-dressed child will wear gets as much attention from modern designers as what the well-dressed woman will wear. This is understandable when you know that in 1954 the birth rate hit a high of 4,060,000; 1955 is expected to go even higher.

It is quite a challenge to design clothes for infants. Not only must they look attractive but the seams must be flat so as not to irritate tender skins. Armholes must not bind and the fastening must be simple. Popular are the gripper type fastenings because they are easy to manage with a squirming baby in hand.

In the past children were dressed like miniature adults and in flowing dresses. Today designs put first the comfort of the child. Adult type clothes are adapted for children, still, with great success. For example, you will find rumba ruffles, cardigan and little-boy jackets, tattersal plaids and new looking cotton prints.

Nylon and other materials that do not require ironing are being used for infants and older children. This saves endless hours of ironing and has made a big hit with mothers.

There is a new waterproof non-allergic material for babies' panties that is causing a bit of commotion in the baby fashion world. Pediatricians believe that correct undergarments play a vital role in building a baby's health and well-being. The most important requirement for baby's clothing is elasticity. This is doubly important concerning clothes worn next to the skin.

These new panties fill this requirement. They are made of one seamless piece of tiny checked gingham patterned latex and come in all the popular baby shades.

When you want to cook frozen hamburgers in a hurry, there's no need to thaw them first. Just heat a little fat in a skillet, brown the patties slowly on both sides over moderate heat, and cook them until they are done just the way you like them.

If you feel you would like to enrich your salads a bit when they're on the light side, garnish with deviled eggs to which you've added a bit of deviled ham when you're blending the cooked yolk mixture.

Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners!

162 H.P. V8
180 H.P. V8

See that fine fat mountain yonder? You can iron it out, flat as a flounder... and easy as whistling!

Just point one of Chevrolet's special hill-flatteners at it (either the 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" or the 180-h.p. "Super Turbo-Fire")... and pull the trigger! Barr-r-r-r-o-o-o-OOM!

Mister, you got you a flat mountain! ... At least it feels flat. For these Chevrolet V8's gobble up the toughest grades you can ladle out. They love to climb, because that's just about the only time the throttle ever comes near the floorboard.

And that's a pity. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo... built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the torrest stroke in the industry, designed to gulp huge breaths of fresh air and transmute it into blazing acceleration.

So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, light and easy as a zephyr, purring out an effortless fraction of their strength.

... Until an emergency screams "NOW!"... until your foot bangs down and that V8 explodes into action!

An engineer can run his eye over the specifications of these V8's and instantly understand why they are so hyper-efficient... how friction is held so low they need just four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more... how big valves and short manifolds let them "breathe" deeply for maximum power... how the 12-volt electrical systems (exclusive in Chevrolet's field) provide twice the punch for cold-weather starts and faultless high-speed firing.

But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in, slip behind the wheel, point the nose at the nearest hill, and feather the throttle open. These V8's can do their own talking... and nobody argues with them!

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

DO-IT-YOURSELF project of Cyril "Kennie" Ewer, 257 Hamilton, consisted of completely remodeling his kitchen and adjoining bath. It took Ewer, a telegraph operator at the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, approximately a year of part time work to complete his remodeling project. Pictured here is the kitchen sink and the entrance way into the adjoining bath. The job consisted of tearing out all the old lath in the walls, taking out all the lighting fixtures and also a partition at the rear of the kitchen. He then extended the rear kitchen wall back three feet and built in a stairway to his basement. He replastered both the kitchen and bath after building in a new door to the bath. The kitchen door is a two-piece Dutch affair. Other features are an Anderson sliding window, vinyl-plastic tile, a vent fan for the new electric range and birchwood cupboards in the kitchen. In the bath there is a ventpane window, a new shower over the old tub, ceramic tile on the walls and an automatic wall gas heater.

Light Up Outdoors for Added Fun in Summer Living; Employ Light in Trees, Flower Beds, and Shrubbery

Lighting an outdoor space for summer living is almost like adding another room to your home. One of the newest and most exciting pleasures in summer outdoor living is comfortable, lighted surroundings where families can read, relax or entertain friends on warm summer evenings.

The added freedom of doing many of the things outdoors that we do in our cheerful, comfortably lighted rooms indoors can add many extra hours of pleasure after the sun goes down. On cooler evenings too, when you're staying inside, you can enjoy the beauty of your own "lighted view" from the comfort of your own armchair.

To extend your outdoor living space, first step is to start with a lighting-level plan. Every house is as individual as the family that lives in it. Today's outdoor lighting, however, can play many roles. Whether you start out on the smallest scale in the smallest house with portable outdoor lighting units which you can place yourself or, have them permanently installed by your electrician, you'll discover new beauty and excitement in your nighttime setting.

Look around at your yard, your porch, trees, shrubbery, and flower beds. Remember, lighting can bring out the beauty, color, form, texture, line and size of any object so you look at your scene as a whole and then decide upon your own personal plan. When you light up outdoors at night you'll find your place will have a whole new personality by night.

There are any number of ideas in the pictures above that you can use around your home this summer. If your house doesn't already have a pleasant outdoor terrace like the one pictured above, perhaps you could create your own version of it on the side of your garage. This one has a simple slanted roof or overhang, that provides just enough protection so the family can still enjoy it during summer showers.

Although it is a thing of beauty in itself, this lighted terrace is as versatile as it is attractive after dark. From indoors, it's almost an extension of the living room and, provides a colorful picture from indoors and a comfortable place to entertain, dine or have fun outside.

In spite of a luxury look, there's nothing luxury priced about the lighting equipment for the terrace shown through the window. In fact, you can duplicate this arrangement on your own smaller terrace for less than $30.00 worth of outdoor lighting equipment.

Of course, that's exclusive of wiring but, if you've been lighting up for the Christmas holidays you may already have enough weatherproof outdoor outlets.

For a party atmosphere, those clever bubbles on the terrace glow with color from 25-watt flament bulbs. They're lightweight, durable plastic, open at the top and bottom, and their bulbs can be easily changed to suit the occasion.

For an evening of relaxing or entertaining, bulbs are changed to 60-watt yellow which discourage night-flying insects. When the terrace is used for dining, a quick change to a 75-watt R-30 reflector bulb provides a dramatic spotlight effect on the table when it is located beneath it.

To bring out the vibrant color of potted geraniums that decorate the terrace, two louvered PAR-38 spot lamps are placed at the two corners of the overhang and directed on them.

The unusual lighting of an old apple tree which is located between the bubble terrace and the larger terrace shown in the picture is achieved from four locations.

Two 150-watt projector spotlights, in outdoor-type holders, located in a nearby tree at the left, create the highlight on that side of the tree. Another pair of projector floodlamps, 25 feet apart on the house which is just to the right of the tree, model the remaining foliage and emphasize the form of the tree.

The larger terrace which may give you ideas about your own covered porch area, has 75-watt reflector bulbs as sketched above, clamped to and shielded by the broad louvers that support the plastic roof. Three R-30 flood and two spot-lamps not only make an interesting lighting effect but give chairs located beneath them generous light for reading.

Last, but by no means least, are the lighted flower beds that border the windows. Weatherproof 150-watt PAR-38 projector lamps with louvered attachments, mounted to the overhang on the far corners of the open terrace, cross light the colorful zinnia bed that borders the picture windows.

DESIGN A-353. Several features which ease household operation stand out in this plan. One is the elimination of the basement and basement stairs. Another is the tiny hall which can be reached from all rooms and the grouping of laundry and storage facilities within easy reach of the kitchen. There is a large living room with a picture window, entrance vestibule and coat closet; two bedrooms; wardrobe closets; linen and storage cabinets; combination kitchen-dinette, and an attached garage. First floor construction is an insulated slab on gravel fill. The balance is frame construction with siding and asphalt shingles. Floor area is 91 square feet, with 10,901 cubic feet, not including garage. For further information about DESIGN A-353, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Insulation Helps Cut Expense of Air Conditioning

One economist has stated that this country could avoid a depression for the next 25 years by merely passing a law that every new home or apartment building or office building must be built with air conditioning.

He reasons that the resulting increase in jobs, gross national income and spending power would provide impetus for a boom that would continue indefinitely.

We doubt whether such a law is ever passed. But without it, air conditioning is still on its way to becoming as common as central heating.

Right now it costs considerably more to operate an air conditioning system than it does a central heating system. So all the advice about the advantages of insulation, storm windows or double glazing, weather stripping and protection from prevailing winds is even more pertinent for the air-conditioned home.

There are lots of things you can do to an older house to make it more suitable for air conditioning. If you're building a new house, there are also many points to keep in mind regarding air conditioning, the most important being to provide for air conditioning now and save yourself a lot of money later on.

Insulation is critical in the air-conditioned home, new or old. It can reduce your operating expense by as much as 40 per cent. Moreover, good insulation makes it possible to use smaller air conditioning units, cutting down on the initial investment. So you save two ways.

It is important to have insulation in both the sidewalls and under the roof. The importance of sidewall insulation has resulted in increased use of insulating siding in combination with insulating sheathing for new homes. Combining the two materials provides highly effective yet economical insulation.

Both insulating siding and in-insulating sheathing come in big, easy-to-handle panels. Insulating siding comes with a factory finish which is good for the life of the material. So the cost of painting is eliminated both as an original cost and as a maintenance expense.

If you're planning to install air conditioning in a middle-aged home, insulating siding may be especially attractive to you since it can be installed over existing walls, providing in most cases all the additional insulation that is needed.

FINDING BOARD'S CENTER

Finding the center of a board is simple as ABC. Lay an ordinary ruler diagonally across the board so that an even number falls at the edge. One half of the even number in inches will be exact center of the board. In the illustration from American Builder, authoritative magazine for builders, the figure at the edge is 4; therefore a mark at half this figure, or 2, will designate the board's center.

TRYING, ANYWAY

"Hey, you can't turn around in the middle of the block."
"Oh, I think I can, officer; just give me time."

TAKING MEASUREMENTS for an awning, one of the numerous orders that come into their custom sheet metal department, are George Humphries and son, Edwin, of Humphries Repair Shop, 1028 Starkweather.

In Year's Time, 1500 Saws Pay Visit to Local Shop

In this age of mass production and large-scale enterprise it is refreshing and interesting to find a shop where the owner is still his own boss and his workday determined only by the volume of business set up for him by his customers.

Such a place is Humphries Repair Shop, in business nearly 34 years at 1028 Starkweather. Owned by Edwin Humphries since his father's retirement three years ago, the little shop nets an average of $9,000 a year from custom sheet metal work, welding and various and sundry repair jobs.

The local firm was started by George Humphries, who began his career at the age of 14, working in hardware companies in Detroit where plumbing and other types of metal work were learned as part of the trade.

In 1922, nine years after he came to Plymouth, he decided to branch out on his own and set up a repair and custom sheet metal shop at the Starkweather site. A partnership was later formed in 1947 by Humphries and his son, Edwin, and the shop subsequently turned over to the son with his father's retirement in 1952.

"Retired" in name only, George Humphries still puts in an active work day. A visitor stopping by the Starkweather shop can find both father and son there, working perhaps on some of the 1500 saws and 750 lawn mowers that will pass through their shop in the course of a year.

The repair shop, which occupies its original site and building, is divided into two areas. In a room 18x26 feet at the front of the shop, the Humphries do all their custom sheet metal work. Customers come from a radius of 25 miles to have such special items made as heavy-gauge smokepipes, furnace ducts, awnings, air tanks, gas tanks for boats, pontoons, etc. The shop has even made window boxes for business establishments here and in neighboring areas.

Passing through this section of the shop the visitor enters the 18x22 foot repair room, picking his way carefully through the myriad machines, lawn mower handles, grinders, drills and other equipment. To right and left are grinding machines for scythes, axes, sickles, and farther on, the bench where saws are filed, rust removed and teeth put in those minus some of these important essentials.

In still another corner the blades of a lawn mower flash like a fourth of July sparkler as they are sharpened on a special machine.

Keys are another specialty of the shop, for which it is well supplied with an assortment of 14,000 key blanks decorating the walls of two sides of the room. Even more are concealed behind this display area and in drawers under the bench.

In a year the shop is called upon to make some 20,000 of these important items, ranging in types from duplicates to those for locks where the original key has been lost. A machine is also available whereby keys can be devised from a code number.

Although no time clock is punched, the volume of work in the shop determines the Humphries' workday. During summer when repair of garden tools is their main business, the Humphries are on the job from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. In wintertime, as things slack down a little and concentration is more on sheet metal work, the Humphries are out in the shop at 8 a.m., finishing up their day at 4:30 p.m.

because it's super-refined to burn clean

No gasoline, no matter how high the octane, can keep on giving you full power from your engine unless it burns clean.

That's why New Gulf NO-NOX is your best gasoline buy. In making new NO-NOX, Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in today's high-compression engines.

As a result, you get a clean-burning gasoline that gives you:

- More complete engine protection than you get with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines
- Extra gasoline mileage in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most
- Freedom from vapor lock, stalling and stumbling in hot-weather driving
- No knock, no surface pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines

G.I. Ownership Easier Under New Law

Home ownership for servicemen has become more easily attainable under a federal mortgage insurance law which is now being put to use, Clyde E. Alexander, president of the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors, said today.

"This law makes it possible for a man in uniform to buy a house costing up to $18,000 with a 5 per cent down payment," he said. "Monthly payments of principal and interest on the mortgage may be spread over a period as long as 30 years, thus making repayments comparatively modest. The interest rate is 4 1/2 per cent.

"This attractive credit is insured by the Federal Housing Administration in the same kind of arrangement established for insuring the mortgages of those purchasing homes under the usual FHA plan. Civilians buying homes under this plan, however, must put up larger down payments generally, and pay a 1/2 per cent premium charge to cover insurance expenses.

"The serviceman is relieved of paying this premium. This charge is paid by the branch of the military in which he is serving.

"Legislation providing for this form of insured mortgage (FHA Section 222) is designed to enable the serviceman on active duty to enjoy the same benefits as veterans. At the same time, the use of this federal insurance entitlement does not bar the user from enjoyment of similar benefits if he becomes a veteran later on," Alexander explained.

"Those eligible are officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard who have been on duty two years or more. Applicants for this mortgage insurance must get certificates of eligibility from their service to pave the way for obtaining private loans to be used in the home purchase, and FHA insurance on the loan.

"To meet FHA requirements, the serviceman borrower must meet its credit standards, just as civilian borrowers, and the GI's monthly mortgage payments must bear a proper relation to his present and anticipated income and expenses.

"The home that the serviceman builds or buys with an FHA-insured loan may be located any place in the United States or its territories, but the location, construction, and design must meet FHA minimum property requirements.

"Down payments required under the program are at least 5 per cent of the valuation of the property, up to an $18,000 valuation. Houses costing more may be purchased, but the insurance covers the amount up to $18,000."

Details of the program may be had in an FHA booklet called "Information for the Home-Buying Serviceman." It is available for 10 cents at the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C. Other information may be obtained through the services, the nearest FHA field office, or realtors of this area.

Realtors are members of the local real estate board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. They are pledged to serve those with realty problems on a high ethical plane, in accord with the sense of the ethical business code to which they subscribe, Alexander concluded.

'Good Offense' Best Bet in Dealing With Garden Pests

A good offense is the best defense. That's especially true when it comes to protecting your prize home garden from insect and disease attack.

Your first big worry will be cutworms. Many gardeners have trouble with these pests at the time they set out their transplants of cabbage, tomatoes and even flowers. The main thing to remember is that treatments should be applied the day the plants are set out, warns a Michigan State college extension entomologist.

Here's how to fight them off: Dust around the stalk of plants with a 5 per cent DDT dust or spray with two level tablespoons of DDT to one gallon of water. Where cutworms damage cucumbers, dust or spray over the rows just before the plants come up.

Some home gardeners like to use a tar paper collar fitted around the stem of cabbage and tomato plants, next to the ground.

Aphids or plant lice are other garden pests found on a number of crops, the expert points out. They cause curling of leaves. Aphid control demands thorough spraying with nicotine sulfate, rotenone or other suitable materials.

Rotenone or methoxychlor may also be used for control of flea beetles. These insects cause small shot-hole-like openings in the leaves of tomatoes, potatoes and other plants.

Michigan State Farm Pageant Set for Aug. 15-20

History of farming from the horse-powered thrasher and one-man corn planter of 1855 to the powerful combines and tractors of today will be presented in an hour-and-a-half pageant at Michigan State this summer.

The pageant will dramatize the life of a farm family through four generations from the Civil War to the present. This parade of the old and new in farm mechanization will be staged at no charge to the public in a specially-designed arena seating 6,000. The pageant will be presented daily and on four evenings, August 15-20.

The pageant stage will be made

As the years progress from 1860 to 1955 the interior of the open farm home will change with the period. The cast will be costumed in the style of each particular era, up as a typical farm home which will overlook a 16,000-square foot area representing farm land. Action of the pageant will alternate from the stage to the open space of fields where machinery demonstrations will display the farm mechanization of each generation.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: As sure as God is good, so surely there is no such thing as necessary evil. —Southey.

Superstitions, Legends Surround Sassafras Tree

One of the most interesting trees common to central and southern Michigan is the sassafras, easily identified by its various mitten-shaped leaves which usually turn orange or orange-red in the fall. Buds and twigs which turn up like candelabra are a bright green color. The fruits of the sassafras tree are blue drupes born in clusters of two or three. Almost since the discovery of America, strange superstitions and legends have been associated with this tree, many of which probably have their origin in the existence of a volatile oil of strong pungent odor in the bark and roots of the tree.

For centuries it was a common belief that sleep would be sounder in a bed made from the wood of sassafras. Paddles for mixing and stirring homemade soups were made of sassafras. At one time twigs and roots were placed in chicken houses to drive away rats. Sassafras is probably most famous for its purported medicinal value. About the middle of the 16th century, the French learned from the Indians the medicinal value of the sassafras and in 1569 the first account of this tree was published by the Spanish physician, Monardes.

Sassafras tea is still made from the roots of the tree by steeping in hot water. In case you are interested in trying some, collect a quantity of roots, preferably in late fall or early spring, wash them thoroughly, place in a pan of water and boil for approximately 45 minutes. The tea will be red in color and you can drink it hot or iced, adding cream or sugar to suit your taste.

In colonial America it was thought to be a blood purifier and tonic. It was a common sight to see large roots hanging in kitchens where it was hacked off as needed. In Louisiana the Choctaw Indians made gumbo file, a powder from ground sassafras leaves and buds, which was used to give consistency to gumbo soup.

Less than 25 years ago packages of sassafras, consisting of bundles of smaller roots together with split larger ones cut in 5-6 inch lengths, were common in our grocery stores. Oil of sassafras, which is richest in the bark of the roots, still has extensive commercial value in flavoring candies and soda pop as well as medicines and in scenting soaps and other toilet articles. The wood of sassafras makes excellent rustic signs since the bark does not readily peel off. In addition it can be used for paneling, furniture and cabinet work.

Over 104,000 County Residents Receive Benefits

Over 104,000 persons in Wayne county are receiving $6,034,000 each month in benefits under the old-age survivors program, an increase of 30% over last year, said Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest office.

$3,848,706 goes to the 54,813 retired workers in Wayne county. In addition, the number of dependents and survivors of workers and total payments made were as follows: Wife or husband, 15,229, $582,293; widow or widower, 11,952, $612,398; mothers with children, 4,459, $232,726; children, 17,329, $740,326; dependent parents, 326, $17,218.

Baltuck stressed the importance of these benefits as the greatest or the only source of income to many of the families who received them. "Two out of three people now reaching age 65 can qualify for old-age and survivors insurance benefits," he said, "and nine out of ten mothers and children in the country are assured of survivors benefits in case of the death of the family breadwinner."

The 1954 improvements to the law account for the increase in benefits.

The Detroit-Northwest district office is located at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan.

MSC Changeover Effective Friday

The Schools at Michigan State college will be known as colleges effective July 1, the day that M.S.C. officially becomes M.S.U.

On July 1, the schools will be called College of Agriculture, Basic College, College of Business and Public Service, College of Communication Arts, College of Education, College of Engineering, College of Home Economics, College of Science and Arts, College of Veterinary Medicine and the School for Advanced Graduate Studies.

The State Board of Agriculture, Michigan State's governing body, which approved the new designations, also provided for the separation of the department of geology and geography into two separate departments.

The department of geography will be placed in the division of social science in the School of Science and Arts, and the department of geology will remain in the division of mathematical and physical science.

The want of necessities is always followed and accompanied by the envious longing for superfluities. —Solon.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Winchester dam is finished and the Martiny Lake flooding project near Barryton is now a physical reality after more than 25 years of negotiations.

The dam will back up waters of the west branch of the Chippewa River into Chippewa River state forest to join several lakes and make a 1420-acre island-dotted lake and marsh area.

Sportsmen's clubs and individuals tried to start the project in the late '20's, but it wasn't until late last summer that property ownership and financial problems were solved.

Work on the $15,000 dam and earth embankment started last November and was completed late last week.

Conservation Department engineers expect the flooding will be complete, or nearly so, in time for duck season this fall. How fast the fill occurs depends on rainfall this summer.

Michigan's 1955 black bass season got under way Saturday, June 18, with sunshine and calm, pleasant weather flooding the state.

An estimated 70,000-100,000 anglers took advantage of the Saturday opener to troll, cast and still-fish for the husky native large-mouths and smallmouths.

Conservation Department field workers said success was fair to good. Some anglers reported fish hitting surface plugs about dawn, but by midmorning still-fishing and other methods seemed to work better.

Bass were the last major species removed from the closed list. The season remains open until December 31 on all non-trout waters.

Rain lowered the fire hazard last week and 10 reported fires burned about eight acres of forests and grasslands in Michigan.

Conservation Department totals show that 568 fires have burned 3404 acres this year.

Harry D. Ruhl, chief of the Conservation Department's game division, received the annual award of merit from the Michigan United Conservation Clubs at the organization's recent annual meeting at Escanaba.

The award was presented to Ruhl and capped by a standing ovation for his "steadfast and devoted efforts on behalf of Michigan wildlife."

P. H. "Hy" Dahlka, MUCC official from Rockwood, presented the plaque.

Francis B. Criqui of St. Ignace was elected president of the organization to succeed Bernard W. Ansley of Lansing. Ken Dahlka of Trenton, Louis Morse of Lowell and Dr. John H. Kitchell of Grand Haven were elected vice presidents.

The next annual meeting will be held at Traverse City in June, 1956.

Production of an educational film on the soil conservation districts of Michigan will get under way during the coming fiscal year.

Michigan State College, the Soil Conservation Committee and the Conservation Department will cooperate in making the film to be used by schools, service clubs and other civic organizations.

A warm-water fisheries research station will be set up at the present Hastings state fish hatchery in the near future.

Conservation Department director Gerald E. Eddy said the recent legislature made funds available to set up the station for studies of state-warm-water fish problems.

At present, the hatchery is used for a variety of fisheries work, but many of its 12 ponds have been unused in recent years.

About $40,000 will be spent for work at the station during the coming year.

A long list of proposed projects includes tests of competition between game and non-game fishes, fertilization experiments, vegetation control in relation to fish production and tests of modified fishing regulations.

Funds for the work will be available July 1, start of the new fiscal year.

Michigan's Conservation Department "located several important weaknesses" in the Civilian Defense use of its communications system during the recent "bombing" of Flint and Detroit.

"We found where communications and movement of equipment and supplies could bog down," said M. M. Bergman, chief of state forest fire control and liaison between the Department and Civilian Defense headquarters.

"Naturally," he added, "we'll iron these out before the next test." One problem uncovered was a need for more help at regional and district control centers.

A general discussion of the experiment is planned within three weeks.
