FIRE DESTROYS HILLCREST HOSPITAL

Taylor, Burwell, Elyria Visited By Gang of Burglars

Safes Blown, $400 Cash and Much Merchandise Stolen; State Sheriff on Job.

About $400 in cash and merchandise worth $100 or more was stolen from business houses, Garfield county offices and a postoffice by a gang of burglars who descended on Taylor, Burwell and Elyria Monday and Tuesday nights. State Sheriff W. W. Flake, who came from Lincoln yesterday, believes all these burglaries were performed by the same gang that has been working in Nebraska since early last autumn. Since that time 51 safes have been opened throughout the state.

At Burwell Tuesday night the burglars broke into the Garfield county court house and pried open safes in the offices of County Clerk Anderson and County Treasurer Pearl, stealing $266.19 from the safes. In Treasurer Pearl's office the safe was literally wrecked, the big doors being pried off their hinges with bars and other damage done. County officials were making a check-up yesterday to see if any license plates were stolen.

Didn't Want Stamps.

Later the same night at Elyria the thieves entered the Ed Holub store by prying open a west window, trundled the postoffice safe into the back room and pried it open, stealing $45 in cash but leaving several hundred dollars worth of stamps untouched. They also stole about $3.00 in small change from Holub's cash register, took two strips of bacon and possibly other merchandise. Before leaving the store they entered the window through which they entered they ate a leisurely lunch from merchandise on the shelves of the grocery department.

The Clemy store also was broken into and there the burglars took $35 in cash from the safe, which was not locked. They also sat around long enough to drink several bottles of beer.

The Philip Wentek garage also was entered in Elyria but nothing of value was stolen.

Time of the Elyria robberies has been fixed as after 2:00 a. m. Wednesday morning, as one of the Clemy boys was in the Clemy store until that hour and noticed nothing unusual about the village. Probably the robberies at Burwell occurred earlier.

At Taylor Monday evening five business houses were entered, probably by the same gang. At the Brown & Johnson store a safe was blown, its contents scattered and $60 in cash stolen. At Moon's garage they got four gallons of Prestone and some tools. Wiley's grocery store lost some loose change, the Holmes store had the safe blown and loose change taken. Blankets, hosiery, shirts and other merchandise also were taken.

No Finger Prints Found. Sheriff R. E. Johnson, of Burwell, Sheriff George Round, of Ord, State Sheriff Flake and Deputy State Sheriff Manley Davis are investigating the burglaries but can find no clues that give promise of development. In every instance gloves were worn by the burglars, as not one finger print has been found.

Officer Flake believes the burglars' headquarters either in Sioux City or Omaha, driving out into the state to perform their robberies and being far from the scene of their crime before daylight the next morning. It is thought they "holed up" somewhere in Valley, Loup or Garfield counties Tuesday after the Taylor robberies, struck again in Burwell and Elyria Tuesday night, then headed for their headquarters in Sioux City or Omaha, probably the former city.

A postoffice inspector is expected to reach Elyria today to assist in the investigation, Postmaster Holub says.

Car Licenses Sold Short Of Last Year

According to the record of county treasurer George Satterfield the number of car licenses issued up to Feb. 1 in 1937 was slightly behind the record for the same time in 1936. The number for 1936 was 1509, and for 1937 it is 1436, a reduction of 73. However, there is little doubt that the ultimate number sold for 1937 will be ahead of last year.

Business Is Rushing at Ord Postoffice

Gross business at the Ord postoffice showed a large increase in 1936 and is expected to increase again in 1937, so Postmaster A. L. Hill and employees can really say that "business is rushing." Here is shown the whole office force. In the front row are Mark Tolen, Carriers John Lemmon and Dale Norman, the latter being a recent appointee, and in the back row are Clerk Ray Severson, Postmaster Hill and Assistant Postmaster Guy LeMasters. ### Lynn V. Collins, Son Of Pioneer Family, Is Dead Injury Months Ago Caused Lung Infection; He Died In Hillcrest Monday.

Lynn V. Collins was born Feb. 14, 1887 in Valley county and passed away at the Weekes hospital Monday, Feb. 1, 1937 being 49 years, 11 months and 17 days of age at the time of his death. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Collins, who were among Valley county's earliest pioneers, coming here from Wisconsin by ox team and arriving June 7, 1872. He spent all his life in Valley county.

On June 24, 1914 Mr. Collins was married to Edna Fern Stam, and to this union five children were born: Lois, who is teaching school in Ord, and Vernon, Thelma and Marion, who are at home. Mr. Collins farmed near Olean. In 1920 he moved to the farm in Mira Valley where he has lived ever since.

A number of months ago Mr. Collins became so ill that he could no longer handle the work on the farm, and he has gradually become worse in the weeks that followed. Finally he was taken to the Weekes hospital, where everything possible was done for him, but without avail.

In addition to his immediate family mentioned above he leaves to mourn his passing five brothers and two sisters, Oscar, of Mira Valley; Helen, of Ord; Ralph, of Loup City; Earl, of Mitchell; Dr. Floyd H., of Scottsbluff; Rex, of Arlington, Wash.; Mrs. J. W. Seeley of Brownsville, Nebr.

The funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:00 P. M. from the Mira Valley Evangelical church, of which he was a faithful member, with Rev. C. E. Nichols of North Loup in charge of the services. A mixed quartet sang several selections. The pall bearers were Merrill Koelling, Edwin Bredthauer, Herbert Bredthauer, Carl Geweke, Albert Peterson and R. Clafls Clement, all old neighbors and close friends of the deceased. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Start Advertising For Bids on Pipe

Today the North Loup power and irrigation district starts advertising for bids on cement pipe, to be used in cross drainage structures throughout the district. It must be manufactured within the district and is counted on to furnish considerable employment, once work is started.

Last night directors of the district were to be in session and expected to elect a successor to the late Bert M. Hardenbrook, president, and also hear the annual report of Engineer-Manager Dumire.

New Hatchery Equipment. Mrs. Thomas Goff has added a new separate sanitary hatchery to the equipment of the Goff Hatchery, bringing custom hatching capacity up to 65,000 eggs at one time. This is the season of the year when hatcheries are busy and the Goff Hatchery is no exception. People wanting custom hatching done should make arrangements early.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Sack went to Crete last week-end.

Urgent News Calls Bernard Clark Home

Bernard Clark who arrived with his brother Ansel from Colorado Monday evening to be here for the golden wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Clark, received a telephone call from home early Tuesday morning. A doctor in his home town of Boulder called him and informed him that his wife had been taken suddenly ill and that an immediate operation was necessary. Mr. Clark gave them the necessary permission, and later was told that the lady passed through the ordeal very well. The men left for home Wednesday morning, and were glad that they had the opportunity to see their parents, if only for a few hours.

Mrs. Sol Brox Died Jan. 29th

On Friday, Jan. 29, less than a month after she and Mr. Brox celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, Mrs. Sol Brox passed away after an illness with influenza and pneumonia. She was 69 years old. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church at 2:00 p. m. Sunday, Rev. Mearl C. Smith conducting, and interment was in the Ord cemetery.

Great Disparity In Printing Prices States Tax League

The Nebraska Federation of County Taxpayers League releases the following interesting information on the disparity of prices paid by different counties for various materials as revealed from recent surveys of county operation:

Some counties pay $32 per thousand for warrants, while others pay from $6 to $10; some counties pay $40 per thousand for tax receipts, while others pay from $16 to $20; some counties pay $50 per thousand for personal tax notices, while others pay from $5 to $10; some counties pay $240 per thousand for tax statements, while others pay as low as $20; some counties pay $250 for tax list books, while other pay $130.

One county in the state paid at the rate of $486.67 for leaves to fill a mortgage record book which could have been bought at from $35 to $50.

Some counties pay $45 to $50 per thousand for lumber and others pay from $32.50 to $35.00. Frank G. Arnold, president of the Federation, states that the remarkable and unexplainable feature of this disparity of prices is that only in very rare instances is it true that supplies furnished for the high price have been furnished through the local newspaper, and that frequently these high prices are paid to large printing concerns when the local printers, who are also local taxpayers, have offered to do the work for a great deal less money. Mr. Arnold also stated that in every instance of the low price quoted above, they were made by a local printing concern or a local lumber dealer.

"It is no wonder," said Mr. Arnold, "that there has been so much talk about grand jury investigations of county affairs in some counties."

Farmers Grain And Supply Co. Meeting

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers Grain and Supply company was held Thursday Jan. 28. There was a very good attendance. That the members were well pleased with the work of the directors was shown by the fact that all who were elected to the membership of the board is as follows: Ed Lee, A. V. Mensing, Chris Nielsen, John G. Bremer, Joe Vastcek, Henry Benn and Will Koelling.

—R. N. Inbody is holding a clean-up sale on the farm nine miles east of Ord on Thursday, Feb. 18. This is the farm one mile east of the old Sumter station, known as the Pierce place.

Red Cross Flood Relief Fund Totals $557, More to Come

Donations Double the Quota Assigned County; Ordites Gave over $400.00.

The Red Cross drive for flood relief funds is "over the top" in Valley county, in fact the county's quota of $275 has been more than doubled and donations are still coming in, revealed Treasurer Horace Travis at noon yesterday. The wonderful response people of Ord, North Loup, Arcadia and rural districts made to the Red Cross appeal for funds is given the highest praise by Mrs. John P. Misko, county chairman, and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, who headed the flood relief campaign.

A total of $556.97 had been received at noon yesterday, Treasurer Travis told the Quiz.

More Coming from Arcadia. Ord people responded the most generously, over $400 being given locally. The North Loup chapter collected $100 and to date Arcadia has turned in $55. Yesterday Mrs. Clyde Baird, the Arcadia chairman, telephoned Treasurer Travis and stated that more funds have been raised there but did not give the total. It seems certain, however, that over $600 will be raised when the drive is completed.

Father Lawler of the Catholic church of Ord very proudly announced that his parishioners had contributed $52.50 at two masses on Sunday to the Red Cross. This, in addition to the $15 given by the Catholic Ladies society last week, is certainly a fine showing.

North Loup Generous. The list of donors from North Loup includes Roy Cox, Erlov Babcock, H. H. Clement, Melvin Cornell, W. H. Bulger, Bartz store, Babcock bakery, Bates Coplen, A. C. Hutchins, Mrs. W. G. Rood, Mrs. James Brannon, Riley Brannon, J. A. Barber, Mrs. Fannie Weed, Mary R. Davis, W. H. Stephens, Arthur Willoughby, Farmers Grain and Supply company, A. J. Manchester, Ches Chinn, Elmo Hurley, Ed Hurley, Homer Sample, George Mayo, Clifton McClellan, Peter Jorgensen, Knapp Brothers, D. S. Bohrer, R. C. Nickolas, Mrs. I. L. Sheldon, Noble Lee, Bennie Nelson, W. T. Hutchins and wife, Mary Clement, Ava Johnson, Laura Robbins and Mrs. May Shattock.

Quiz Photos Show Hillcrest Blaze As It Started, In Progress—And After!

While a large crowd looked on, Ord firemen attempted to carry a hose line to the roof when the Hillcrest fire started Tuesday afternoon but lack of water pressure compelled them to quit and let the blaze take its course. This picture was taken for the Quiz by Lavern Duemey about 4:00.

Top story gone, second floor in flames, this is how Hillcrest looked at 5:30. Because they feared the chimney or the roof might fall, firemen kept onlookers at a safe distance and none can be seen in this picture, although a crowd of several hundred were present. Photo by George Jensen.

And here is what remained on the Hillcrest site when dawn broke Wednesday morning! In the basement was a tangled mass of smoldering furniture, representing a loss of thousands of dollars in hospital equipment. Only the chimney remained standing. Lavern Duemey took the picture.

Merl Peek Is New Ord Hi Teacher

Merl Peek, graduate of Peru college, was selected to fill the vacancy in the Ord high school teaching staff which was left when Burdett Cowel accepted a position as director of athletics at Minatare. The selection was made at the weekly school board meeting Monday evening. Peek will take over the position as soon as a man can be secured to take over his duties at the present time at Burchard high school.

Mr. Peek graduated from Peru in 1935 and has been teaching in the high school at Burchard since that time. He is a major in physical education and minors in social science and music. In college he lettered in football and track and played in the college band and orchestra. He is an A. B. degree holder.

Frank Lee, new instructor at Ord high this year, will take over the position of assistant coach left open by Burdett Cowel while Peek will take Lee's position as director of junior high sports.

Patchen Harvesting Quality Ice Crop

Harry Patchen has had a crew of men busy for the past week, and Sunday finished putting up a splendid crop of ice on the pond east of Ord. The ice is exceptionally clear all the way through due to the continually freezing weather through January, and it was twenty inches thick on the average. Mr. Patchen estimates that he has at least one thousand tons in the ice house, which should be enough to last through the 1937 season.

No Water Pressure, Firemen Powerless Halt $25,000 Blaze

Started in Clothes Chute At 3:30 Tuesday; Building, Contents, Total Loss.

In one of the most spectacular fires ever seen in Ord, which started shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and continued into the night, Hillcrest Hospital and practically all of its contents was completely destroyed. The location of the hospital on the crest of the hill made the great blaze visible from almost any part of Ord, and for miles up and down the valley and across the river.

Its location hampered the work of firemen, who responded promptly and labored valiantly all through the afternoon, only to find their best efforts in vain. Because of the height of the building, the top of which was almost as high as the water in the reservoir on the hill behind it, there was not enough water pressure to render their work effective. Also, the lofty location gave the strong wind opportunity to fan the smoldering coals into flame.

Fire Had Big Start. Origin of the fire, as nearly as can be determined, was near the top of the clothes chute that ran from the top floor down to the basement. It evidently had burned there for a long time, eating its way down until finally discovered. When the alarm was turned in the fire had gained a great deal of headway in the upper part of the building, which was of course the most difficult to reach.

For a time it seemed that firemen would succeed in smothering the flames, but the weakness of the water pressure, combined with a freshening of the wind set all their efforts at naught. In spite of these heartbreaking handicaps they remained steadily at their task, even when it became apparent that nothing could be saved. Fire Chief A. J. Shirley was on the job from the beginning and saw that everything possible was done, but the best he could do was not enough.

Only 1 Patient There. Maggie Briley, who has been a patient in the hospital for some time, was at once removed to a place of safety in the Dr. Weekes home, one block east of the hospital, and apparently suffered no ill effects from the experience. She was the only patient there at the time.

Luella Naab, nurse on duty at the time the fire was discovered by the cook, Hope Dumond, first pulled clothing out of the door to the clothes chute and then tried to extinguish the flames with a hand fire extinguisher. In doing so part of her hair was singed, her eyebrows burned and her face badly scorched. Miss Naab lost all her personal belongings, which were in an upper room.

At the time the fire was discovered Mrs. Stella Hollingshead, Lena Meyer and Hope Dumond were in the basement, busy canning half a beef. When the blazing clothes were pulled out into the hall the women had to run through the fire to get up to the first floor. Thinking it might be possible to get Mrs. Briley out of an east window, Mrs. Hollingshead opened a door into an east room, only to find the entire interior blazing.

Mrs. Hollingshead Hurt. She shut the door, rushed out through the outside door, and around the corner of the house to the west, thinking to help get her out of a west window. As she came around the corner one of the women inside kicked out the window, the storm sash hitting Mrs. Hollingshead, making a bruise on her head and hurting her left limb. By this time Dr. George R. Gard, Mrs. Weekes and Harold Barnes had arrived in answer to a hurly call to the Dr. Weekes office.

They helped get Mrs. Briley out of the window and to the Weekes home. Mrs. Hollingshead, who was bruised and suffering from excitement and shock, was also taken there. She was later taken to her home over the Safeway.

This new gas does not "put the patient to sleep," as did gases formerly used in dental and surgical anesthesia, but it completely eliminates pain. While the dentist works the patient stays wide awake and may carry on a conversation, expectorate or do almost anything he likes. For extractions the dentist uses this gas while making a "nerve block" with a local anesthetic and then gas and the local anesthetic combine to make the extraction painless, no matter how severe it may be. Patients who have had dental work done by Drs. Blessing or Osentowski since Tuesday praise the new anesthetic in the highest terms and they are confident that these costly pieces of apparatus will prove extremely popular.

My Own Column By H. D. Leggett

The great flood which has cost the lives of hundreds of people and destroyed property to the value of hundreds of millions of dollars might have been avoided, probably, had congress and the politicians listened to Senator George W. Norris 20 years ago. For many years Sen. Norris has been fighting for a system of flood control to protect the Mississippi valley. He has contended that a series of great reservoirs along the Ohio, Mississippi and other rivers which are accustomed to flood, could be built and in times of danger the entire flood could be held back. This idea has been partly worked out by a series of such reservoirs in Minnesota, but it was done more from a selfish motive than from a humanitarian one. It was done to provide power water for the Twin Cities in times of drought. The government should build reservoirs on the Loups, the Missouri and on all other rivers so that at times like the present the normal flow could be held back and there would be no floods. The cost would be only a small part of the great damage that this great flood has cost.

This column is not designed to be an editorial column in the usual sense of the term. The editorial column is supposed to state the policy of the paper and I am hoping the Quiz will soon have an editorial column regularly. The policies of the Quiz, I think, are pretty well known however. It is always the policy of this newspaper to boost for the betterment of the community, the county and the state; to support with its columns and with its finances all good and worthy projects; to assist the schools, the churches and all the other worthy civic organizations of the town and county. While those policies are well known, I think the editor of this paper should, each week, expound those policies by endorsing or condemning proposed legislation, by commenting on acts of the governing bodies of the various divisions of the state or community. This can always be done in a friendly way. As a rule just and fair criticism is welcomed by every one, at least by everyone who is fair and honest. But this column is not an editorial column but it is my own personal column where I may and do voice my personal opinions, promote such advertising as I wish to talk about, josh such people or institutions as I wish and dare to josh.

And that reminds me of something that I want to write about. I got a letter this morning from a former Ordite now living in California, giving me thunder because I sent her notice of stopping her paper when she was two weeks late in sending renewal. Her claim is that no notice was received. Notice was sent on a government U. S. postcard. Perhaps Uncle Sam's mail carriers erred; perhaps it arrived and was overlooked. Anyway the good woman always gets a receipt when she pays and she could, if she wished, keep those receipts and she would know when her time was out. The income from subscriptions in a year pays approximately 25 per cent of the labor costs of producing this newspaper. The other 75 per cent of the labor cost and all of the other costs, which combined is just about the same amount as the labor cost, has to come from advertising. The subscription rate on papers to far states like California is all eaten up by postage, which, the further away we send it, is increased. Most papers (all dailies) charge a much higher rate abroad than at home. The dailies to California from Omaha, are double what they are in the state here. We continue to send the Quiz to our friends and former Valley county people who want it, at the same price we charge at home, as an accommodation. Hereafter we are going to stop all foreign papers promptly when the time is out. If you don't want to miss one or more copies send in your renewals before the time is out.

I have asked three different residents on the west end of the Ord-Burwell pavement out of Ord, if they had known of any effort on the part of either city or county officers to curb the speed demons using the road and none of them knew of it if any such effort had been made. All stated that there was plenty of speeding there the same as there had been before the terrible accident of a few weeks ago. I am wondering if we will pretty soon, have a recurrence of that accident and if we do, what the public reaction will be.

A couple of years ago a lady told me that three neighbors were reading their Quiz and that sometimes the neighbors came after it before they got a chance to read it. I commented on it at that time and soon one of the neighbors came in laughing and said I had smoked him out and that he was going to have the paper for himself. I presume the other two neighbors are still borrowing for it goes without saying that they are reading the paper. A man from the southeast part of the county told me recently that I would be surprised how many people in his neighborhood who didn't take the Quiz, read it. I have been told that from all over the county, mostly folks say that everyone reads the Quiz. Now if you folks who loan it to your neighbors will report to me I will send those neighbors samples and try to get them to subscribe. It will relieve you for a week or two anyhow. If people only knew how most folks who buy and pay for the paper, hate to be deprived of its use, they would either subscribe or go without reading it.

I believe if the outside agitators the parasites who often mislead and misinform the real workers, could be eliminated, it would be easy for the employers and the employees to get together. It is admitted that it is not a matter of wages that is causing the big strike now on in the automobile industry. It is contended that a very large per cent of the workers now out on strike, did not want to quit work and have, right along, wanted to go back to work. I have never been in favor of a dictator but I would like to see President Roosevelt tell Bull Lewis where to head in and take enough authority to send the striking employees back to work, that is, all who want to go to work, and then tell those who don't want to work, to get away from the plants and stay away and not bother those who do want to work. I would also have those who don't want to work checked over and if any aliens are found among them, have them deported at once. I suspect that many of the chronic kickers are not citizens.

County Board Chairman S. V. Hansen dropped into my office Friday long enough to have me send in his renewal for the State Journal. I appreciate this business and it don't cost you any more than to order it yourself, in fact saves you a few cents and some bother. I am agent for all the daily papers.

Something Different

From Florida Mrs. A. M. Daniels writes to say she is with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Davis and family, and with Mrs. A. P. Brown, spending several weeks in the south. They have enjoyed the climate and the scenery of some ten states, and expect to go from Miami along the coast of the gulf to New Orleans, Galveston and Corpus Christi. They wished to greet Ord friends through the Quiz columns.

The radio station KMMJ at Clay Center has been broadcasting historical sketches of various towns at 12:30 on some recent noons. One day last week the town used as a subject was Burwell, to the great interest of people in this region.

Material used for the Burwell program was secured from L. B. Fenner of Burwell, those who listened to the program will be wanting to know.

There is so much talk about the many airplane crashes this winter. They were terrible, of course. But let me tell you that figures show automobiles have many more crashes than planes, mile for mile of travel concerned.

Also let me tell you that there are more household accidents than car accidents. This means you are in more danger in your own home than when in a car or a plane. Those shining waxed floors you are so proud of may cost you a broken hip the first time you hurry a bit. That cellar step you've been intending to fix is dangerous until you do. That carefree way to step from the bathtub may bring you crashing down some of these fine days.

A spot of water on the kitchen floor should wear a sign "Danger, Beware". Toys left about the house cause many a sad accident, a fact to which Dr. Smith of Burwell will swear right this minute as he nurses a broken leg.

I see by the papers . . . learning after the fashion of Will Rogers . . . that Dr. Inez Philbrick is helping prepare a bill for the legislature to make eunasthenia legal. That means an incurably ill person may request quiet aid from his doctor, not for living but for dying. The request, the bill provides, will duly go to the district judge, who will appoint two doctors and one lawyer to decide whether the mercy death asked for by the sufferer is necessary and justified.

It seems this would sometimes be a good thing. There is nothing so horrible as to have to watch a loved one suffer, praying for death that is slow to come, with little or no help possible except perhaps bigger doses of morphine. However the idea is new to many, and many will fight it because of religious feeling in the matter. I predict the bill will not be allowed to pass, if ever brought up. And that if it does pass, judges and their committee will be very chary of permitting such deaths.

One Ord doctor will not even discuss the matter. He is dead set against it, will not admit the idea could ever, under any circumstances, have any virtue.

One Chicago salesman was considerably taken down recently. The big firm which he represents received a letter from Chena Abegg of Alliance, Nebraska, inquiring a number of details about a large, expensive printing press made by the Chicago firm, stating that the writer saw their advertisement in a certain trade journal.

The letter was written on the letterhead of young Mr. Abegg's own newspaper, published weekly by himself for several years now. Mr. Abegg is perhaps fifteen or sixteen years of age at the present writing, and his newspaper has been his hobby, his absorbing interest since he was about five years younger. His father bought him a tiny press, the boy has added to his equipment and his circulation list from that time to this. A year or so ago he visited the big plants of state papers, inspected them with the greatest curiosity, was duly written up and pictured in their columns.

Anyway, the Chicago printing equipment firm was duly impressed by the businesslike letter they received from the young newspaperman.

In place of writing their answer they decided to follow up this hot tip with a high pressure salesman's personal call. So the salesman hopped on the train and dashed out to Alliance, scenting a big sale, a big commission.

Imagine the salesman's face when he found the young editor, the little newspaper at the end of the rainbow. In place of the conversation when the salesman and his bosses talked over the foolish trip. Imagine the nice blue air in that office.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

A lot of barley will be planted this spring. It will provide grain in mid-summer to substitute for the costly and scarce supply of corn. Barley is no great bargain at present prices, but it can be raised more cheaply if there is a normal harvest.

Barley yields more pounds per acre than oats and makes better feed. It is good business to substitute barley for part of the oat acreage.

As an all-around grain feed, barley ranks next to corn. Its main disadvantage is that it has to be ground, rolled, or crushed. For fattening hogs barley was worth 5 percent less than corn in trials at various experiment stations. It produces the highest quality of bacon.

Ground barley was fully equal to ground corn as a feed for dairy cows at the Wisconsin station. For fattening steers barley is but slightly lower than corn in value. Barley is worth about 20 percent less than corn for fattening sheep.

Chickens do not like barley as well as corn or wheat, but it is nearly equal to those grains as a poultry feed. As a concentrate for horses, ground barley rates slightly above ground oats, pound for pound.

The most desirable seeding time for barley is around the first of April. It is best drilled into a double-disked seed bed. Treble and Comfort are two high producing varieties for this region.

HIGH GROUND

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

There Are Two Sides. G. L. Hutchins told me times are better. I thought, perhaps he might know more about it than I, he traveling all the time, but that was not the reason he gave. He thought so because there are strikes everywhere and usually in hard times we do not have them.

I have heard of no strikes in this country although a few weeks ago some fellows quit their jobs in one township shoveling snow and moved to another because the other paid five cents an hour more. And the story is that a few fellows quit because they found they had to pay their taxes. Times must be a little better even here.

At that we have not struck for a six hour day as yet. To us fellows in the country whose day usually begins and ends with the sun, and a little added in the winter, can hardly understand the reasoning behind the demands of the strikers for such, unless it is to furnish more men with less work. Even working eight hours to most of us would seem like quitting in the middle of the afternoon.

There has been much discussion recently by we folks far away from the strikes, and most people proclaim against the strikers especially for the fact that they have taken possession of the factories. It seems foolish for us, so far away from the din of battle to cast unreserved opinions in favor of Mr. Sloan or Mr. Lewis either. But I found one man, a smart fellow too, who had worked in a factory, and he had the view of the situation from a laborer's standpoint. It is surprising how little of that side is published and how sympathetic for the most part the press is with Mr. Sloan.

"Perhaps it is not legally right to take possession of the factories" this man said. "But it is just a means to the end. It is about the only way they have of winning their point. If they leave, other men will be hired and Sloan will have them over a barrel. It is like war. Killing is not legal or right but it is the only means to bring the desired order of things."

"Mr. Sloan says he has a constitutional right to hire and fire and hold his property. Perhaps so but that constitutional right may be going too far. That is placing property right above personal rights. It is placing rights of stock holders, dividend collectors above the rights of a man who has a family to feed, to educate and to care for. His job is as important to his family as Sloan's job is to his, or that stock holder's right is to his dividend."

My friend went on at great length, one more point of which is quite interesting for we hear it so seldom. "Has not the man who has labored for a number of years given his life time, in a factory or plant an interest in the organization and should he not be assured of some compensation as well as the stockholders after his days of usefulness is gone?"

It all sounds socialistic but the drift is in that direction, we just as well admit the fact. I recently heard of a fellow being fired from an organization because the straw boss did not like him. In another instance I knew of a man losing his job because a son of the boss wanted it. In another case, one of John Shultz, worked faithfully until within a year of being eligible for a pension and he lost his job for some little trival trumped up so the company would not have to pay him the pension. In none of these instances, and many more that we know of, there

WASHINGTON LETTER

Flood Control Legislation Sure to Trouble Present Congress

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—There will be a whacking appropriation for flood control programs, and you may count on that.

But there is also going to be a considerable sectional scramble for the money. Flood control money has in the past been practically a perquisite of the senators and representatives from the states of the lower Mississippi valley. This year it will be different.

There never was any trouble in the past for statesmen from the bayou and canebreak regions to get a sizeable appropriation for more levees. For there was always last spring's disastrous flood to point out. For 40 years and more the federal government has been pouring its millions into the levees, revetments, floodways and other devices by which it has striven to harness the "Father of Waters."

Now 1937 sees a flood which is just about as disastrous, if not more so, than any on the records.

There are signs of coalition of congressmen from the Ohio Valley states, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, which will present a strong demand that the major part of the appropriation about to be made be spent for stopping the rampaging waters of the Ohio before they get started on their course down the Mississippi itself.

They will have a powerful argument. Representative Griswold of Indiana is one of the leaders of this "bloc." He points out that the damage in the Pittsburgh area alone in the 1936 floods was greater than that suffered by the whole lower Mississippi's flood area in 1927.

What he is driving at is that the Ohio, besides being the principal offender in building up Mississippi floods to damaging proportions, happens to pass through one of the key industrial sections of the country. Cincinnati's machine shops are under water. Steel mills of the Ohio Valley shut down. Such damage causes repercussions that may spread far farther than simple damage to an Arkansas farm. At least that is the argument of the Ohio Valley congressmen.

So when the huge fund for flood control begins to pass through the appropriation mill in Congress, you can look for considerable fur to fly.

NOBODY expected that nature herself would speed up at this time the growing tendency of the government toward centralization in Washington. And yet that's happening.

Already it is being proposed here to put all flood control works of whatever kind, "dry dams" in Pennsylvania, and levees on the Atchafalaya in Louisiana, all under a central board at Washington.

And yet turning over complete water-flood control to a Washington central board is going to encounter the usual "home rule" opposition of the states' rights states. Some sort of a permanent compromise definitely marking out the federal government's interest, the states' interests, and a supervision over both that will net the greatest national dividends, must be arrived at. And that is just another one of the difficult problems that is going to make this session of Congress a rip-roarer.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

Ord people were planning a royal welcome for Company I members, soon to arrive home from the Mexican border. About $150 was raised to defray expense of a banquet or reception and a committee headed by E. T. Weekes and P. C. Perryman appointed to plan the affair.

Anton Beran went to Kansas City to take a complete course in optometry. He had been working in the Aulse store and had pretty well mastered the watchmaking business.

While attending the Gates sale the latter's farm north of Ord, then bought an extra 40 next to the ranch that he bought from Clarence Bailey, located south of Ord. Otis was to occupy the former Bailey ranch and Merrill the former Garbacz place.

Cars driven by Clarence Pierson and Lewis Drake collided head-on on the muddy Springfield road,

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Mrs. C. E. McGrew Recalls Her Promise to Write.

Ogallala, Nebr., Jan. 28

To the Editor of the Quiz: When I was in the Quiz office and promised to write you some news I didn't think I would write anything until I got to Los Angeles but here I am still in the dear land of Nebraska and things happened since I left Ord so just thought I'd tell you a few things this morning.

The agent at Ord told me I could make my stop over I wished on my ticket. When I got to Grand Island I called up Dr. McGrew's at Hayes Center to see if they were all well before I began putting such a distance between us. Kirby answered the phone and said "You wait there I'll be seeing you. I'm just ready to start to Grand Island to bring a patient to the clinic." We had a nice visit when he got there but that didn't quite satisfy him. He said I must go on down and see Dora and the girls. He took me to the bus station and I was off in about ten minutes for Hayes Center. Well it is rather a round about way, first went to Hastings. Had to wait there about an hour and a half for another bus which would take me to McCook.

When I got settled for the wait I saw a familiar face in the ticket office. He wasn't busy so I stepped up to the counter and asked him if he was from Ord. He said yes it was my home for about eighteen years. I'm Dick Clochon (don't know how to spell his name). He was looking fine and has a good job.

Soon I was off for McCook. At a little station along the way I asked the driver if I would have time to get a drink of root beer. He said no but that I would at Holdrege. So when we got there he helped me off and said "Right in there next door to the bus station." I went in and was waited on immediately by a very nervous acting girl. I took the glass, turned around and sat down to a counter to enjoy it. Well the girl looked more wild eyed than ever. Finally I said "How long does that bus stop here?" And she said in a quivering voice, "Well not very long." I sipped on without a worry and all at once she yelled "He's going!"

I still didn't get excited. I swung my handbag up and said, "Well I've got my purse and my (Continued on Page 5.)"

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

So many good meat loaf recipes were sent in a few weeks ago when this column asked for them. There must be a lot of interest in this type of food.

Meat loaf has several virtues. It is easy and quick to make, and there is no waste whatever to the meat used. It is easy to eat for children, or invalids, those with poor teeth. And the latter is more important in many households than you might imagine.

Please send in more meat recipes. Readers like to try them ever more than they do cakes and desserts, I believe.

Veal-Ham Loaf. Combine one pound fresh ground veal with one pound smoked ham, also ground. Add one small can of mushrooms, cut fine with a knife, put in a small grated onion, two beaten eggs, two tablespoons catsup, one-half cup milk, one-half cup bread crumbs, season well with salt and pepper. Bake in the fashion usual for meat loaf. This is a good hot dish or excellent sliced for cold summer meat.

Mrs. E. L. Kokes. Pork Meat Loaf. Mix two pounds lean ground pork with two cups cracker crumbs, two beaten eggs, salt and pepper to taste. Use enough milk to moisten. Make into a loaf and pour over it four tablespoons onion juice and one quart of strained tomatoes. Keep basting with this sauce. Bake one and one-half hours.

Mrs. Bill Schauer. Meat Loaf. Mix two pounds of ground pork, one pound of ground beef with two cups cracker crumbs, one teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Add one finely minced onion, one chopped pimento and six olives cut fine. Moistened with milk, bake two hours.

Mrs. Bill Schauer. Stuffed Ham Roll. Cover a slice of ham cut one-fourth inch thick with a stuffing made of one cup dry bread crumbs, mixed with one-fourth teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, one-fourth teaspoon mustard, one slightly beaten egg and milk to moisten. Spread out the stuffing over the ham. Then roll up and tie with cord. Put in a baking dish and surround with beans which have been prepared as follow: take one and one-fourth cups lima or navy beans, soak for a few hours or overnight and par-boil. Put beans around the ham roll, add one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon brown sugar and hot water as necessary. Cover and cook in the oven until done. Remove lid for browning during the latter part of the cooking. If ham is hard to roll use the filling between two slices of ham.

Mrs. Van J. Creager, North Loup. Meat Loaf. Mix well one quart ground canned beef or ground pork with one cup broken crackers, one small can ground pimentos, two raw beaten eggs. Add one teaspoon baking powder, salt and pepper to taste. Mix well and bake in a moderate oven.

Mrs. C. B. Clements, Paonia, Colo. One of Mr. H. D. Leggett's favorite dishes is lemon cake. Do you have any unusual recipes for lemon cake or lemon desserts? We have one from Mrs. William Carlton we will print next week.

BURWELL NEWS

Jeddiah Lewis Jenkins.
Jeddiah Lewis Jenkins was born at Maquoketa, Ia., Dec. 9, 1850 and passed away at the home of his son Lewis Jenkins in Burwell, Nebr., January 30, 1937 at the age of 86 years, one month and 21 days.
In 1869 he was united in marriage to Alice Simpson and to this union were born eight children. Murray died in infancy and Reginald passed away in 1904. His wife also preceded him in death in 1926.
Mr. Jenkins came to Nebraska and settled in Valley county, in 1902 and for two years taught the brick school in Dist. 14 southeast of Burwell. In 1904 he moved to Burwell and taught the Willow Springs school for two years. In the fall of 1906 he was elected County School Superintendent, which office he held for over 16 of the next 20 years, retiring from active service in 1926. He was very fond of the works of Shakespeare and Mark Twain and often repeated passages of their writings.
He leaves to mourn his passing six children, Lewis A. Jenkins and Sarah Jenkins Grunkemeyer of Burwell, Nebr., Marjorie Carpenter of Arcadia, Calif., Lincoln Jenkins of Gordon, Nebr., Elise and Ansel of Maquoketa, Ia., twenty six grandchildren, several great grandchildren and one sister Harriet Dice of Maquoketa, Ia.
Funeral services were held in the Mitchell Funeral Home in Burwell Monday, Febr. 1, 1937 at 2:30 p. m. Rev. W. L. Goodell, minister of the Christian church was in charge. Interment was made in the Burwell cemetery.
Agnes Cech.
Agnes Hornak was born in Moravia, Austria Hungary on April 20, 1861 and passed away in her home in Burwell, Nebr., January 26, 1937 at the age of 85 years, 9 months and 6 days.
In 1870 she was united in marriage to Jacob Stanek and to this union were born 8 children, two passed away in infancy and one son Michael passed away at the age of 17 years.
In the year 1888 she came with her family to America and settled on a farm 4 miles south of Burwell in Valley county.
Her husband passed away in 1912 and she moved with her children to Burwell. In 1926 she was united in marriage to John Cech. She has always been a good, hard working woman and a loving mother.
Those who survive are her husband John Cech of Burwell, Nebr., two daughters Josephine Masin of Santa Ana, Calif., and Mrs. W. H. Glade of Omaha, Nebr., and three sons John and Frank Stanek of Burwell, and Albert Stanek of Omaha, Nebr. Also 9 grandchildren, 5 great grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends.
The funeral services were held in the Congregational church Thursday, Jan. 28, 1937 at 1 o'clock p. m. in charge of Rev. W. L. Goodell, minister of the Burwell Christian church. Interment in the National cemetery 12 miles south of Burwell.
Mrs. J. L. Pearl returned home Monday from Holdrege, Nebr., where she spent several days visiting friends.
Clyde Igenfritz went to Elba and Cotesfield on business Monday.
The ladies of the Worker's society of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. W. L. Goodell Thursday afternoon, Jan. 28 for their regular meeting. Fifteen ladies were present. At the business session it was decided to serve a patriotic dinner in the church basement on the evening of February 12. Several of the ladies spent the afternoon quilting. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. R. Van

They Clear the Roads in Michigan Twp.

When this group of fourteen Michigan township farmers got together to open roads after the recent storm they made snow fly so fast that one bystander remarked that they looked like a bunch of jack-rabbits having a reunion. Now these boys have decided to call themselves the Jackrabbit Crew of Michigan Township. When roads need opening so that a doctor or the mail man can get through, these men are on the job quickly. The picture was taken by Frank Rybin, Jr.

Wagner and Mrs. Merton Wheeler. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. D. Hemmett on Thursday, February 25.
Sheriff R. E. Johnson returned home Wednesday evening, January 27 from Norfolk where he spent a couple of days on business.
The announcement came to friends the past week of the marriage of Miss Wilma Eyeleth to Mr. Gene Schnell of Buffalo, S. D., in Buffalo Wednesday evening, Jan. 27. Mrs. Schnell was book-keeper for the Peterson Transfer Co., in Burwell for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ciemny entertained at a pinocle party Saturday evening in honor of their sister-in-law, Mrs. James Ciemny of Lincoln. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Will Dodge and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ciemny, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hoyt, the Bernard Hoyt family and Archie Ciemny.

Visitors in the Albin Carkoski home Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Albin Schroll of Ashton, Leon Carkoski and daughters and Paul Carkoski.

A card party was given at the Catholic club hall by the Ladies Study club on Sunday evening. Lunch was served later in the evening and a nice crowd was reported.

There was also a dance in the Ciemny hall with music furnished by the Swanek orchestra. A good crowd was reported there too.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kuklish and children spent Sunday in the Emil Kuklish home.

Mrs. James Ciemny and children returned to their home at Lincoln on Sunday after a few days visit with relatives here.

Clarks Observe Golden Wedding Tuesday

On Tuesday, Feb. 2 Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Clark quietly celebrated the passing of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The children had planned to have a special celebration and hold open house for the benefit of the many friends of the Clarks who would want to call and wish them happiness, but this was impossible. Both Mr. and Mrs. Clark were very ill for some time, and were in the hospital for more than a week. They are both at home now. Mr. Clark is able to be up, but Mrs. Clark will have to remain in bed for a number of days yet.

Rufus J. Clark was born at Richmond, Marquette county, Wisconsin, Feb. 13, 1864. His father died in 1871. The family came to Valley county by ox team, arriving on June 7, 1872. Mr. Clark took up a homestead which of late years was known as the Dan Huff place southeast of Ord. The Warren Collins family came to Nebraska at the same time, also by ox team. Hawley Collins homesteaded the quarter just west of Mrs. Clark's homestead.

Mittie Gifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Gifford, was born in Rome, Jefferson county, Wisconsin, Feb. 25, 1868. The family came to Valley county in November, 1884. They came by rail to North Loup and by stage to Ord. They moved on the Joshua Thurston place northeast of Ord. Joshua was the father of Herb and Ed D. Thurston, who were uncles of Mittie Gifford Clark.

R. J. Clark's grandfather had homesteaded the quarter just east of the John Vodehnal place, and he made a timber claim out of the quarter south of it. After his wife's death he sold this land to Mr. Thurston for $500. When he homesteaded this place he went to the cedar canyons near Burwell and brought down large cedar logs which were pit sawed and used to build a log house. This house still stands on the old Lickley place, but the logs are now covered with siding. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were married Feb. 2, 1887, in the house just east of where the Coryell filling station now stands. This house was built by S. S. Haskell and was owned by the father of A. J. Firkins. The house is still standing and in good repair.

Ord Church Notes

St. John's Lutheran Church. (Missouri Synod) 8 miles south of Ord. English services at 10:30 A. M. Holy communion will be celebrated. Walthers League at 8:00 p. m. Tune in to the Lutheran hour at 3:30 p. m. over KFAB Lincoln. Wm. Bahr, Pastor.

Bethany Lutheran Church. "Know ye not that they that run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? Even so run that ye may attain." I Cor. 9:24. Luther League will meet Febr. 6 at 8:00 p. m. in the home of Edna Mortensen.

Methodist Church. Our Sunday School attendance was larger Sunday morning than any time since Christmas, which indicates that the epidemic of sickness is growing less. A number of families kept out by sickness have returned to church.

Next week the Mid-Winter Institute takes place at North Loup on Saturday, the 13th. Delegations from about ten towns are expected. We expect to have a good sized group from Ord.

The Lenten season will soon be here. All activities of the church take on new life during this period, which comminates in Easter, which comes March 28.

Christians Science Services. The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, February 7, is "Spirit."

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians 3:18: "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed to the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from I Corinthians 2:12: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God. There are neither spirits many nor gods many. Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God." (pages 334-335).

Presbyterian Church. "God is a Spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." Character building is going on in every Christian Sunday school. We invite you to our Sunday school at 10:00 A. M. Sunday morning worship, 11:00 A. M. subject "Sons." Young people's meeting Sunday at 6:30 P. M. Informal Sunday evening service, 7:30 P. M. theme, "The Happy Home." Prayer service Wednesday, 7:30 P. M. Sunday evening, February 14, a sacred musicale of vocal and instrumental music will be held to which all are invited.

Fairview News. Charley Turner was a visitor Wednesday afternoon at Louis Penas'. Chas. Veleba conducted a Cornhog meeting at the National hall Monday. Last Thursday morning Emil Smolk left for Rapid City, S. D., to visit relatives. John Turek returned from Omaha last week to spend some time with his folks. The Lew Smolk family visited in the John Janac home on Tuesday evening of last week. John Turek spent last Wednesday evening in the Lew Smolk home. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Smolk and family were visitors at Frank Hrbys' Sunday afternoon.

Card of Thanks. We wish to take this means of thanking all those who so kindly assisted us in the sickness and passing of our beloved wife and mother. We assure you that these favors will never be forgotten. Sol Brox. A. R. Brox and family.

From CORPUS CHRISTI, TEX., to LAKE SUPERIOR with a KODAK

By H. D. LEGGETT.

I have planned for a long time to write a little story about the above pictures, which I took on a trip to the southland last year in January and February and later on a northern trip. We left Ord on January 10 and when we got down into Oklahoma we began to see trees draped with moss like the tree shown in No. 1. This particular picture was taken a hundred miles or so below San Antonio. There all the trees were more or less draped with the gray moss. It is a plant that grows on the tree and in time kills the tree. This moss is sometimes gathered for mattresses. It will grow to a length of several yards from some of the larger trees, and is very picturesque in places. Number 5, the picture at the bottom in the middle was taken in Breckenridge Park, San Antonio. This is a beautiful place and one could spend a week there and find something interesting all the time. The zoo in the park has all kinds of animals, birds from all parts of the world, great snakes that make you shudder to even look at them. A stream runs through the park and there is a pool where several seals disport themselves for the amusement of the dozens who are always watching them. They would come clear out of the water at times and I tried to get a picture of them but was not fast enough with the camera. There is a great space for trailers in the park and just outside at the edge of the park is one of the finest cabin parks in the country anywhere. Number 3 is a papaya tree which we found growing down close to the farthest point south in the United States. It was about 12 or 15 feet high and as you see, was loaded with fruit. It is a very sensitive tree, grows each season from seeds and weather even approaching the freezing point is very hard on it and the least frost kills it and makes its fruit rot. The fruit is similar in color and texture to our cantaloupes, is about the shape of a pecan nut and grows as large as a medium sized pumpkin. The claim is made that the fruit will cure any case of stomach trouble. It is eaten with a little salt like melon and is also made into preserves. It will not stand shipping very well. Number 2 is a picture of the international bridge at Pigeon River where we stayed all night when we came back from a visit to Fort William and Port Arthur last summer. You see Mrs. Leggett and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson on the bridge. We were killing time waiting for the gate on the bridge to be opened at 9 a. m. so we could come on down the trail. Number 4 is a scene in our rock garden at Jack Pine Lodge on Cullen Lake. This only shows a streak up through the middle of it principally because I am not an expert picture taker. We had a truck to haul the larger rocks, most of which don't show. Those that you see, the Missus and I picked up, one or two here and there all over the country from Dakota to Canada and hauled them home in the car. We are always seeing off shaped or colored rocks and if there is a chance we gather them up and take them along. The rock garden is filled with flowers, mostly perennials and we are wondering if we will find them alive when we go up this spring. We watered them as long as we were there last fall but it was dry there like it was here and we may find many of them killed out. Number 6 is the Chrysler on the North Shore Drive up on the north shore of Lake Superior. We took a trip up there last fall with Hallways and that was such a beautiful place that Mrs. Hallways went to stand on the edge of road while I snapped the picture. I had just secured the picture when the half grown bear walked up behind her, came out the brush. I probably looked around, the bear and she looked around, the bear and made the 20 or 30 feet to the car in about 10 jumps and in nothing flat. Yell which she gave, appeared to give impetus to both her and bear for the latter turned tail and was making about the same time into the woods that I was making toward the car.

THIS IS THE OIL FOR WINTER

Dance at Bohemian Hall on Tues. Feb. 9, 1937 Music By Lou Forman's Orchestra

THAT'S a strong statement, but it's backed by the results of comparative tests... This motor oil is specially made by Standard Oil Company to meet the winter that winter can offer. It has a low pour point of 20° below zero. With it in crankcase of your car, even in sub-zero temperatures, your engine spins v summer-like cranking speed at the first touch of the starter... yet the "body" Iso-Vis "D" is so tough and hardy that every working part of your engine has protection no matter how hard and how long you drive... Standard Oil Dealers throughout Nebraska have this special winter motor oil ready for you now. In Cans 30¢ per qt. In Bulb 25¢

PERSONALS

C. C. Dale was a Ravenna business visitor last Wednesday. George W. McNulty of Scotia asks us to change his copy of Quiz to Manville, Wyo. Verne Weller of the Weller Lumber company was in Lincoln a few days last week, returning Saturday. Wayne King is a new Quiz subscriber this week. He reports that he has captured a total of ten coyotes this winter. Mrs. Will Barnard has been up in Grand county caring for Mrs. Glenn Barnard, who has been very ill with the flu. Miss Wilhelmina Janssen of Omaha arrived last week to help care for her father, Ben Janssen while he is ill with the flu. Richard L. Gibbons, writing from Willamette, Ore., sends his renewal for the Quiz for another year. Ign. Kilma had to lay off Friday afternoon because of illness, but managed to get back on the job Saturday. E. H. Dummire was a business visitor in Lincoln and other eastern points last week, returning to Ord Monday afternoon. In writing to renew his subscription, Richard L. Gibbons sends a $2 bill, I think the only one left in circulation. Mrs. Ruby Tobias writes this week to have her copy of Quiz changed from Yorkville, Ill., to Minooka, that state. The Hartington Herald is holding a contest to find out who received the most Christmas cards. The highest entry to date reports a total of 179. Ben Janssen, who has been seriously ill with the flu, is reported to be feeling better and on the road to recovery. His son Jack is taking his father's place with the Co-op. Oil company while he is away. Mrs. Adrian Zikmund and little daughter Janet Elizabeth of Crete arrived in Ord Tuesday and will remain here until her father, Ben Janssen, recovers. Miss Thelma Schilling of Scotia and Paul Reynolds of Ithaca were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Schilling of Scotia. Both young people are graduates of the Scotia high school. Glenn Banks and Roy Ulm were down from Burwell Saturday in the latter's car on a business mission. They also spent a part of the time visiting old friends here. Martina Biemond left Monday morning for Davenport, Ia., where she will attend St. Catherine's school. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Biemond and has been attending Ord high school. James Bell, who is on the staff of the Morning Spotlight of Hastings, was here visiting the home folks over the week end last week. The fact that he is on the force doubtless helps us get a line on the doings of people we know in Hastings. Harold and Eric Erickson were visitors in Ord Saturday. Harold is selling insurance in Omaha, while Eric is working for the Goodyear Tire Co. Alfred Welgardt kept going while the rest of the family had the flu, but Friday he had to give up and stay at home for a few days. He is reported doing nicely and will probably be back in the court house at work by the time this is printed. Mrs. William Heuck was called to Madison Saturday by the report that her mother, Mrs. E. D. Ressegue was quite ill with the flu. From Fremont, Nebr., last Wednesday came Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Johnson and Mrs. Raymond Steen, to attend the funeral of Bert M. Hardenbrook. Mrs. McClelland is a sister of the late Mr. Hardenbrook. Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Barta went to Omaha Monday where the doctor planned to attend a stockholders' meeting of the National American Fire Insurance Co. They were accompanied as far as Wahoo by Mrs. E. L. Vogelanz, and to Omaha by Mrs. Keith Lewis. They returned to Ord Tuesday night. Erick Erickson, father of Harold Erickson, formerly of Ord, now of Omaha, died last Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elmer Larsen at Scotia. There are also three other daughters and three other sons. To Mr. Erickson goes the honor of giving his name to the town of Ericson, the spelling of which was changed later. Writing from North Loup, C. W. McClelland, president of the Loup Valley agricultural society, asks that his Quiz be sent him until further notice at Covina, Calif. McClelland court No. 11. From this it may be inferred that the McClellans are going to enjoy the (frostbitten) sunshine of California for a time. In the Curiosity Corner of the Nebraska Farmer for Jan. 30, 1937, Mrs. Louis Papernik of Ord tells about a new bridge west of Fort Hartsuff that was washed out in the spring of 1935 before it had once been crossed. The incident is illustrated with a drawing. People who read the Quiz will recall that this actually happened as she stated it. Keith Lewis and A. E. Chase went to Grand Island Sunday to meet Miss Eunice Chase, who was coming back from an Omaha hospital, where she had a major operation. Zola Barta went that far with them on her way back to her school work at Kearney, after spending a week end in Ord. They came back by way of Loup City, where Miss Chase will convalesce in the home of her parents before leaving on a vacation trip to California.

Reminder Of The Good Old Days In Ord— Henry Fales and John Lewis 25 Years Ago

How many of the older boys and girls, forty years old or older, recall the scene shown in the picture above? No doubt a lot of you people will remember the building, which was popularly known as the first Valley county court house. Hank ran a cafe there for a year or two, and Johnny Lewis assisted him. In this rare photo both of them are shown as Ord people will remember them then. John is still with us, grown older, but still the same old John. Henry left for the better land several years ago, but until the present generation has passed on he will be remembered. He was a character once known never to be forgotten. The Quiz is indebted to Leonard Furtak for the privilege of using the picture.

Virginia VanDecar, who is employed in the WPA office in Grand Island, came home over the week end. She was accompanied by a friend, Miss Colfer.

Mrs. Guy Ward and Miss Mildred Chambers came down from Burwell and ate supper with the John Ward family Saturday night. They were enroute to Omaha with Guy in the truck.

Myrtle Milligan was up from Grand Island over Sunday to visit her father, Edward Milligan, who has been quite seriously ill with the flu and complications. She returned on the afternoon bus, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner were Ord visitors Sunday, spending a part of the day in the Judge Clements home where other guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McBeth.

Rev. Mamie Young of the Ord United Brethren church left Saturday morning for Chicago, where she will attend the D. L. Moody centennial celebration. She will be gone for about two weeks. Sunday school will be held as usual next Sunday, but no church services.

Judge Edwin P. Clements and his court reporter, Mrs. J. D. McCall, are in Grand Island this week and the judge is presiding at a jury term of court with several important cases slated for trial. Judge Clements' sister, Mrs. Daniel Burke, who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Leggett, is spending the week in the Clements home.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Moon, Jr., returned to Custer, S. D., last Saturday where they will resume their work in a grocery and meat market. They left their work there last October and came to Ord to help Mrs. Will Moon Sr., take care of Mr. Moon, who has been quite ill for a long time. A grandson, Robert Miller, is staying with the old couple at present and looking after them.

In the Dec. 31 issue of the Quiz a mistake of ten years was made in the date of the grasshopper invasion in the story of the Sol Brox anniversary. It should have been 1874. We stand corrected.

Frank Gifford is in Ord at present. For the past year he has been employed by M. McBeth at Spalding but he is through with the work there. He plans on getting into some line of work in Ord in the near future, or else he will go west.

State Y. M. C. A. Convention. The annual convention of the state Y. M. C. A. was held Friday at Fremont. Elected to the executive committee for three years were Noah Burkhard of Seward, Clarence A. Davis of Lincoln, C. E. Fuhrer and J. T. Maxwell, of Omaha, J. B. Hillier, of Hastings, C. A. Lederer of Norfolk, G. S. Lininger of Fullerton, William Reutlinger of Grand Island, E. H. Westcott of Plattsmouth and E. J. Mille of Loretto.

touch with Dr. Platte. I told him who I was. He said I surely should not try to go on that long journey in such a condition, to order a cab and come to the hospital. He wanted to let Kirby know at once. I said no I didn't want any one to know it. Wasn't necessary I was in good hands. Well that eve Kirby called Dr. Platte and said "I'm bringing a patient for an operation." Dr. Platte said "All right. Say your mother is here" Kirby said "What!" Well it sure did look good when I saw him slipping into my room about one o'clock that night.

The next night the night nurse came in and asked me if I was from Ord. I said I was. She said she used to be Lela Cody, Mrs. Cody's daughter of Burwell. We had many pleasant little visits. Very fine little lady and I could tell her of so many she was interested in the old home town. Sorry though I could not tell her anything about her old pal Louise Misko (forgotten Louise's married name). She wanted so much to hear about Louise. I could just as well inquired about her as I was in Will's harness shop the day before I started.

There was no one to know I was there, ha! But I forgot hospital news is broadcast so before I got out of there several people called. Mrs. Hattie Baird and daughter Alice came to see me twice, also Mrs. Ella (Crow) Rich and daughter, Mrs. Darrel Watson called up. Mrs. C. S. Watson of Gothenburg wrote me a short letter and sent such a cute card that it all helped so much to pass the time. It was such a gorgeous hospital, really I never was in such a nice one. My room was beautifully done in lavender and green. My stay there would have been just perfect if I could only have seen some place to pour that medicine besides down my neck. They didn't know what a thrill Dr. McGrew was getting if he happened to be there when I had to swallow the nasty stuff.

Yesterday they released me and I came on here to make a short visit with Clate's oldest sister, Mrs. Addie Woods who is so well known in Burwell and Ord. However Mrs. Woods recently married an Ogallala man, Mr. John Tressler, and one doesn't need to be in Ogallala long to learn that he is a highly respected citizen so I'm sure we're all going to think lots of our new brother-in-law.

Today Mrs. Tressler took me to Thomas Hemmett, Jr., jewelry store. Thomas was a Burwell boy. He has a family of three fine young ladies, all have good jobs. One in a dress shop, one in a drug store and the other in the picture show.

Mr. Tressler had a caller I was introduced to. It was an old Ordite, John Sibel. He asked about many Ord people, especially his good friend, Charles Bals. Mr. Sibel's eldest son, Frank is city clerk here.

Am leaving for Los Angeles tomorrow. Mrs. C. E. McGrew

Ord City Literary and Debating Society

There may be three or four alive today to whom the above title may recall interesting memories. To most of us they don't mean a thing, and yet more than sixty years ago the name of a social organization which was the center of attraction in the town very young and very small to men and community of Ord. To me there is a touch of irony in the title of Ord City, as it was not then a city and did not become a city for at least twenty years later. But the citizens were looking forward into the dim and distant future, when Ord would indeed be a city.

Through the painstaking care of W. W. Haskell, who kept them in his safe for a great many years, the records of this earliest social organization in Ord have been kept for posterity. When H. D. Leggett bought the Quiz Mr. Haskell left these papers in the safe, and they have been there ever since until Mr. Leggett took them out a few days ago and gave them to the writer to look over for a possible story. The story is there, and while a lot of the material might be classified as chaff, there is enough wheat in it to pay for a careful winnowing.

The first official meeting of which there is any record occurred on Jan. 8, 1877, or a little more than 60 years ago. The minutes of that meeting read as follows: Minutes Ord City L. & D. Society, January 8, 1877.

Meeting called to order by the president. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. The president appointed Messrs. Shoemaker, Algor, and Phillips as a board of judges, and the following question was debated: "Resolved, that women should enjoy all the political rights now exercised by men." The jury rendered a unanimous verdict in favor of the negative.

On the first ballot the following question was elected for discussion on the evening of Jan. 15: "Resolved that education should be a basis for the elective franchise." W. H. Mitchell and Henry Rust were appointed as chief disputants then selected their colleagues as follows: Affirmative, H. Rust, C. D. A. T. Morris, S. S. Haskell, C. J. Nelson, and H. Thurston. Negative, W. H. Mitchell, C. D. Jno. C. Lee, H. Nelson, A. T. Stacy and P. Mortensen. This being the first meeting of the calendar month the society then proceeded to elect officers. The result was as follows:

President, Peter Mortensen, vice-president, A. T. Stacy, secretary, Alexander F. Black, treasurer, S. S. Haskell, librarian, Mrs. Stacy, and warden, Geo. Hall. Moved and carried that the warden be hereafter paid twenty-five cents for each night that he kindles the fire and prepares the hall. Moved and carried that we adjourn. John Cornell Lee, secretary.

The constitution under which this society was organized is among the papers, and should be of interest to a few, at least. It reads: Constitution. Article 1.—This organization shall be known as the Ord City Literary and Debating Society.

Article 2.—The officers shall be president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, librarian, and warden.

Article 3.—The officers shall be elected by the members of the society at the first regular meeting in each calendar month.

Article 4.—It shall be the duty of the president to preside at all meetings of the society—to preserve order—to put all motions and questions submitted to the society and decide upon same according to a majority vote of the members present.

Article 5.—It shall be the duty of the vice-president to perform all duties incumbent upon the president in the absence of said incumbent.

Article 6.—It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep a correct record of all the proceedings of the society in a book to be provided for him or her by the society.

Article 7.—It shall be the duty of the librarian to keep and take charge of all books belonging to the society, to number and mark the same, and allow them to be used only by the members of the society, and to keep a correct amount of the same, showing to whom loaned and when returned.

Article 8.—The warden shall be the custodian of all properties belonging to the society and not belonging to any other officer by virtue of his or her office. It shall be his duty to furnish fuel and oil for use of the society and to warm and light the hall for all regular meetings of the same.

Strangely enough, although the constitution provided for a treasurer, it did not define his duties as it did those of the other officers. So far as the records show, this mistake was never corrected.

A warden's bill submitted Dec. 29, 1877 should be of interest. It was itemized as follows: Ord Literary Society, to Geo. Hall, Dr. To one lamp globe, 10c. To two wicks, 5c. To one load wood, $1.50 To Ker. Oil, 10c. Total $1.75. Immediate payment of above bill is requested. Geo. Hall, warden.

The minutes for the meeting for Nov. 3, 1877 are in the handwriting of Peter Mortensen, and his name is signed to them. This is one of the few papers that were written in ink, most of them being in pencil, and consequently hard to decipher.

A program which was apparently carried out in full contained the following items: Opening address, S. S. Haskell; song, by H. Rust; select reading by A. T. Morris; dialogue, Herb Thurston and wife; declamation by H. Kinnie; essay by Mrs. Mortensen; song by Stacy family; declamation by George Young; Intermission; reading: Journal by George Bally; song: S. S. Haskell; dialogue by I. Clair and F. Bally; music by Mr. Seve son; declamation by Fay Morris; song by Larne family; dialogue: J. Cronk and George Hall; declamation by Luther Morris; select reading by H. H. Bally; song: B. Morris family; declamation by J. Collins; song by William Cronk.

There is the program, misspelled words and all. Other names mentioned are Fannie Clark, M. Bartlett, C. H. Potter, Mr. Ho lingsworth, Mrs. Rufus Collins, C. M. Harris, W. D. Long, E. I. Thurston, Minnie Kaiser, a Christian L. Frey, Mr. and Mrs. Severson and Dr. E. D. Thursto are the only ones now living of those mentioned above. —John L. Ward

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Grinding slowly and apparently surely toward the ultimate objective, passage of legislation, Nebraska's one-house legislature, the senate slipped through the fourth week of its existence with little of note appearing in the short sessions held before public gaze. Committees were working, more or less feverishly passing on bills, public hearings went ahead in prescribed fashion, but with it all, rumblings from some leaders to the effect the rules should be amplified to provide more speed in getting proposed laws to the senate in committee of the whole were heard.

Senators who earlier in the sessions were steering clear of the bill hopper found, apparently, it would not bite, and into its maw have gone as many as thirty bills a day, on some days. In proportion to the number of tentative bills introduced by 133 members in 1935, the number tossed in by the 43 senators still remains somewhat below the average.

A flurry came with the introduction by Senator Dunn of Lancaster of a measure eliminating the use of postage stamps by state offices and providing for a central mailing room and a stamp metering machine. Likewise, a central telephone exchange for the statehouse has been proposed. Friends and foes of the tentative measures drew swords, and these measures likely will bring spirited debate.

The senate moves slowly toward enactment of the measures that will continue the moratorium on farms, one of the first bills to be introduced. Included among the many bills to hit the hopper and wend their way to committee were the following:

LB 83, by Slepicka, increasing pay of village marshals from $25 to $50 a month and permitting trustees to receive $50 a year. LB 86, by Knickrehm and others, prohibiting outdoor shows, circuses or carnivals from showing at cities where any state, district or county fair is held within a period of 18 days to the date of fair.

remarkable when we consider that we have not adopted any new forms of taxes," said Cochran. The governor's campaign slogan in his recent victorious fight for a second term was opposition to new forms of taxes.

If Governor Cochran's recommendations are adopted by the senate, the comparison of the 1935-37 and the 1937-39 budgets would be:

For the present biennium: property tax, $12,255,424. Recommended: $11,843,543. For the present biennium: federal funds, $7,998,019. Recommended: $19,359,983.

For the present biennium: cash funds, $17,625,729. Recommended: $19,536,117. The funds labeled "federal" are sums made available to the state by grants and dollar-matching plans, and do not, however, include agencies such as WPA, PWA, NYA. The so-called cash fund is made up of money coming to the state from sources other than property tax, such as gasoline tax, fees and licenses.

One of the outstanding differences between the departmental head's request and the governor's recommendation was in the case of the University of Nebraska. The university asked for $8,172,256 from all funds, but the governor recommended $6,465,002. This is an increase of approximately $500,000 over the amount it had for the current biennium, but the increase comes entirely from federal funds, the amount coming under the governor's recommendation from state property tax being the same as appropriated by the 1935 legislature—$3,415,650.

The university had asked for a $5,139,434 appropriation from state funds, which would have included $24,334 for buildings and money to provide for restoration of salary cuts made in 1933.

Smiles of the week: It was during a session of the appropriations committee hearing arguments on a bill pertaining to the legislative reference bureau that the smile of the week developed.

Senator W. F. Haycock, an instant listener to the arguments, paid special heed to one Mrs. W. LeRoy Davis. She was asked who she represented and Mrs. Davis replied: "I represent Mrs. Public."

Although not new in the annals of Nebraska's lawmaking history, the introduction of bills providing for a short-form ballot and the concentration of power in a few elected men with appointive power has caused considerable concern in legislative-minded circles.

A short ballot bill was introduced by Senator J. N. Norton of Polk. It proposes a constitutional amendment which, if enacted, would leave the governor, lieutenant governor, a newly created non-partisan comptroller and a state superintendent as the only elective constitutional officers. Norton also proposes in a second bill an amendment to the constitution providing for the nomination and election of members of the railway commission on a non-political ballot.

and state treasurer. The auditor's office would be abolished with the comptroller substituted. He would receive $5,000 per year.

The amendment, if Norton's bill is passed, will be submitted to the electorate in November, 1938. The mechanics for administration, if adopted, are set up in the bill.

The state supreme court has ruled the constitutional office of land commissioner was not abolished at the election last November but that the office still exists and will continue to exist until the legislature sees proper to transfer its duties to some other department of state government.

The opinion was rendered by Justice E. F. Carter. Justices William B. Rose and George A. Eberly dissented from the ruling.

The majority opinion gave Leo N. Swanson, elected as land commissioner at the same election voters abolished his office, salary for another 2 years regardless of any legislative action, provides he still is a member of the board of educational lands and funds and provides that appropriation of funds for carrying out the duties of the office is a valid and subsisting appropriation running until July 1, 1937. Swanson brought suit in supreme court to test the case.

The wets and anti-wets interested in legislation reflected on a legislative bill introduced by Senators Regan of Columbus and Worthing of Omaha, postponing until April of 1939 the date on which Nebraska voters would voice their opinions on sale of package liquor to continue in their respective cities, towns and villages. Thus, if enacted the law will put ahead two years the time community judgment on package liquor sale in Nebraska would be passed.

Senator A. L. Miller of Kimball is introducing a bill whereby Nebraska automobile owners will have to pay all their personal taxes each year if they hope to get car licenses. A 1935 law was passed which required automobile owners merely to show proof they have paid personal taxes on their car in order to secure a license.

Mr. Erickson, a pioneer of Ericson, Nebr., was born in Olson, Sweden, Dec. 20, 1855, being 81 years, 1 month, 1 week old. He came to the United States in 1869, living about two years in Omaha, then moved to Burt county, Nebraska and lived there until 1881 when he moved to Wheeler county. On March 26, 1888 he was united in marriage to Clara Todd, to this union seven children were born, Mrs. R. L. Reeder of St. Paul, Mrs. J. E. Hamer, Mountain Grove, Mo., Mrs.

Elmer W. Larson, Scotta, Harold and Eric of Omaha, George of Marshallfield, Mo., Theodore of Ericson.

Besides his beloved wife and children he leaves to mourn his departure, two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson of Ericson, and Mrs. R. L. Staple of Omaha, two brothers, Peter of Portage and Chris of Vancouver, Wash., also 10 grandchildren and a host of friends.

In 1888 the town of Ericson was founded and named in his honor, he being the first settler.

He was a member of the Lutheran church in Ericson.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church in Scotta, Friday, Jan. 29, at 10:30. Rev. W. O. George officiating. Interment was in Mount Hope cemetery at Scotta.

As Disaster Rode Ohio River's Greatest Flood

More than 500,000 homeless; at least 100 dead; untold millions of dollars in property laid waste; the health of hundreds of thousands menaced from Pittsburgh to the Gulf—these were the hard facts the nation faced in the wake of the greatest flood disaster in the entire recorded history of the Ohio river. Whole cities were evacuated. Top photo shows a portion of Cincinnati as 80 feet of water left 65,000 homeless; a scene typical in Louisville, Evansville and many other cities. Lower left, as refugees fled with their meager possessions before the advancing waters; lower right, as homeless women and children got their first food in many hours at a Red Cross emergency depot.

Just a Billion in Bullion, That's All!

Under the constant guard of sub-machine gun squads, workers in the Philadelphia mint are shown here as they prepared $1,000,000,000 in gold bullion for shipment to the new government gold depository at Fort Knox, Ky. The precious gold bars, in 60 truck-loads, were carried by train and then by truck to the new fortress, which is said to be impregnable.

They Read Weekly Papers.

Editor J. P. O'Furey of Hartington has done a wonderful job of selling the advertising possibilities of the country press. His recent address before District 8, American College Publicity Association drove home an idea that was fast crystallizing as a result of the last campaign. The rural people, as a result of the depression, no longer maintain adequate contact with the daily press. Every line in the local weekly is read. Manufacturers, especially in rural electrification lines, are seeking advertising contacts with the country press.—Hartington Herald.

Picture of the Week

Snapped by Elmer Peterson, this fine "from the air" view of Arcadia wins the $1.00 prize as the Quiz "picture of the week." The snapshot was not taken from an airplane, as might be supposed, but from the top of Arcadia's new watertower, on which Peterson was painting last summer. He was working for the Omaha Steel Co., contractors, and one day took his camera aloft with him, Peterson writes. This fine picture shows the entire village, looking westward, with the Middle Loup river in the background.

Seed Corn Show Febr. 10 at B. B.

If you are in need of seed corn you are urged to attend the seed corn show and seed exchange to be held at Broken Bow next Wednesday, February 10. Farmers from Custer county will have samples of their surplus seed corn and all varieties of small grain on exhibition in the city hall at that place.

This promises to be one of the biggest events of this kind in the middle west, according to the county agent, M. L. Gould, who is secretary of the Custer County Crops Improvement association, the organization which is sponsoring this event.

A recent survey made by county agents over the state indicates that the territory south of a line drawn from the northeast corner to the southwest corner of the state would be short on seed corn and seed of small grain. This is further borne out by the survey made in Custer county which shows that out of 230 cards returned, about 50% will have to buy seed for spring planting. The other 50% shows a large surplus which will be for sale.

A short program has been arranged for, consisting of a question box and general discussion by D. L. Gross, of the agricultural college at Lincoln and a short discussion on water requirements of different crops by M. L. Gould, county agent.

If you need seed of any kind you are urged to attend this show as a real effort is being made to get buyer and seller together.

The Pinoche club will meet Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Draper at their home.

Pythian Sisters will hold a session this evening at their lodge rooms. There will be refreshments and a door prize, and a good attendance is wanted.

Delta Deck will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. Ed Holub at her Elyria home, having been postponed two weeks because of the death of B. M. Hardenbrook, father of Mrs. Forrest Johnson, who is a member.

Card of Thanks. We wish to take this means of thanking our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness and assistance and sympathy expressed during the illness and after the death of our husband and father.

Mrs. Lynn Collins and Family NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District. MAIN LINE CANALS CROSS DRAINAGE STRUCTURES P. W. A. ## Mrs. Clark Thought To Be Recovering, Passes Suddenly Esteemed Ordite Had Just Observed 50th Wedding Date, Was Almost 69.

A feeling of keenest sorrow and regret pervaded the entire community when it was reported Saturday morning that Mrs. R. J. Clark had passed away. She and her husband had been very ill several weeks, but they had both recovered sufficiently to return to their home from Hillcrest hospital. While Mr. Clark was able to be up and around the house, she was compelled to remain in bed. It was thought for a time that she was gaining strength, and only a short time before her death she seemed better.

The hand of a kind providence intervened twice in her behalf within a week of her death, first when she was taken home from the hospital only a day before it burned to the ground, and second, when she was permitted the joy of seeing all her children in her home on their golden wedding anniversary, Tuesday, Febr. 2. Mr. and Mrs. Clark had hoped to have an anniversary celebration Febr. 25, which would have been her 69th birthday, but this was not to be.

Leaves Four Children.

Mittie Marian Gifford, only daughter of Francis and Maria Gifford, was born in Rome, Jefferson county, Wisconsin, Febr. 25, 1868, and died at her home in Ord Saturday morning, Febr. 6, 1937. She was one of three children. One brother, Ernest, died at Long Beach, Calif., April 8, 1933. The Gifford family came to Ord in November, 1884. She was married to Rufus James Clark, Febr. 2, 1887.

Five children were born to them, four sons and one daughter. The eldest son, Melvin, died Sept. 27, 1912, at the age of 24 years. Her entire married life was spent in Ord. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Tuesday, with all four living children with them, two sons having come from Colorado for the occasion.

Funeral Held Monday.

Mrs. Clark is survived by her husband, Rufus J. Clark; three sons, Cecil W. of Ord, Ansel B. of Frederick, Colo., and Bernard V. of Boulder, Colo.; one daughter, Mrs. Ava Noll, of Ord; also eight grandchildren, one brother, Frank Gifford, of Ord, and numerous other relatives and friends. Funeral services were held from the Ord Methodist church Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, Mrs. Clark having been a member for many years. The pastor, Rev. Mearl C. Smith had charge of the services, and burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Mrs. Clark was always known as a woman of the kindest disposition and was highly esteemed by those who knew her best. She was always active in any work for the betterment of her home or the neighborhood, and she will be sincerely missed by many who will long remember her acts of kindness.

Epworth League At No. Loup This Week

Epworth Leagues of the Loup valley region will hold their mid-winter institute in North Loup Saturday, Febr. 13, with delegates present from Burwell, Ericson, Greeley, Ord, Wolbach, Arcadia, Loup City, North Loup and Scotta. About 25 Ord young people will attend, according to Rev. Mearl C. Smith, dean of the institute. Rev. W. H. Stephens is manager and Mrs. G. B. Clifton is registrar. Institute faculty will include Dr. Bernard Johansen, superintendent of the Hastings district for the Methodist church, Dr. Paul M. Hillman, superintendent of the Kearney district, Rev. E. R. Peterson of Loup City, Rev. J. T. Sawyer of Greeley, Rev. G. M. Bing of Wolbach, Rev. W. C. George of Scotta and Rev. J. B. Wylie of Burwell.

Buyers Cafe in Hastings.

Ed Mauer went to Hastings Monday in connection with the Bus Depot cafe, which he purchased last Thursday from M. C. Fischer, of Clay Center. Jackie Lukes is there now looking after the business. This does not mean that the Mauer's are leaving Ord, as they have no intention of doing so at the present time. They have run a cafe in Ord more than fifteen years and in spite of a fire, the depression, and the drought, they are still making good, which is more than many can say.

Cold Doesn't Worry W. W. Loofbourrow, He Threw Away His Overcoat Years Ago

W. W. Loofbourrow, who passed his 80th milestone several years ago, is still a better man than a lot of men young enough to be his grandson, as the picture above plainly shows. Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen is trying to reason with him on the error of his ways, but the old gentleman is so used to going without cap, overcoat or mittens, and with even his shirt unbuttoned that he would not feel comfortable any other way. Mr. Loofbourrow is one of the few left of that grand old school of men who really could take it. The picture is by the Quiz photographer, Lavern Duemey.

Farmers Reelect Hather President, Ollis Secretary

91% of Federal Loans Here In Good Standing, 30 Members Are Told.

Thirty stockholders of the Valley County National Farm Loan association attended an annual meeting Thursday at the American Legion hall in Ord, reelecting W. J. Hather president, Charles L. Kokes vice-president and James B. Ollis secretary-treasurer, electing as directors Joe Wadas, Evert Smith and John Bremer.

The association has 189 members and 91 per cent of the Federal Land Bank loans made through the association are in good standing, Secretary Ollis pointed out in his annual report. He complimented members on their payment record and asked continued cooperation in conducting affairs of the group soundly. The association is servicing $1,200,000 land bank and land commissioner loans now, Ollis says.

M. M. Inhelder, representative of the Federal Land Bank, gave a talk recounting the bank's operations during 1936. He urged stockholders to take greater interest in their cooperative credit organization by telling neighbors about the 4% loan based on a 3 1/2 year amortization period and by assisting their association to sell real estate on hand by making known to officers the names of any persons in the market for farms.

Today, said Inhelder, farmers recognize the land bank as a source of farm mortgage credit for all agricultural purposes in both good and bad times. The Omaha bank is 20 years old this year, he said.

Hastings College Band Here Monday

The thirty-six selected members of the Hastings college concert band will make the sixth evening appearance of their annual tour at the Ord high school auditorium Monday, Febr. 15, at 8 o'clock.

This group of musicians, which is to appear under the auspices of Ord high school music department will arrive in Ord from North Platte where a concert is to be given by the band Friday night.

Two Valley county boys, Carl Easterbrook of Arcadia, and Arthur Aulsebrook of Ord, are members of this band.

The program is to be given free to the public, however an offering will be taken to help defray expenses.

Found No Clues In Elyria Robbery

Postal Inspector Gustafson arrived last Friday morning to cooperate with Sheriff George S. Round in investigating the Elyria postoffice robbery but was unable to find any clues that give promise of leading to arrest of the burglars. Dozens of small post-offices in Nebraska and Iowa have been robbed in identical fashion this winter, he told Sheriff Round, and undoubtedly the same gang is responsible for most of them. No finger prints are ever found and methods of opening the postoffice safes indicate that one gang is doing the work. Eventually government men will catch up with the robbers and send them to Leavenworth for long terms, was the belief expressed by the inspector.

Ord Stores Will Have 'Dollar Days'

"Dollar Days" are this week's shopping feature in Ord, the bargain event being scheduled for Friday and Saturday with about fifteen or twenty stores participating. Many real values for tomorrow and next day are advertised in this issue, not only at the $1.00 feature price but at other prices as well. Read every ad in this issue, then come to Ord tomorrow or Saturday to do your shopping.

Loses Toes In Buzz Saw.

Joe Beran, 20 year old son of Stanley Beran of west of Elyria, was quite seriously injured Thursday while cutting wood with a buzz saw. In some manner the saw became loosened and fell toward him. Joe, who was throwing the cut wood away, was unable to get out of the way in time, and the revolving saw cut off toes on his right foot, and mangled the member badly. He was brought to the Ord hospital, where it is hoped that the foot may be saved, although it may make walking difficult for him in the future.

On State Press Program.

E. C. Leggett, Quiz editor, will appear on the program of the Nebraska Press association's annual convention, which will be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Lincoln. His topic is "Profit from New Fields." Leggett also will lead a round-table discussion at the Saturday session.

C. Wardrop Attends Gamble Convention

C. D. Wardrop, owner of the Ord Gamble store, left Wednesday morning to attend the annual regional convention of Gamble store managers and Gamble agency store owners being held at the Fontenelle Hotel in Omaha, Febr. 11 and 12. This convention brings together Gamble store managers and Gamble agency store owners from this entire territory. It is estimated that between 500 and 600 Gamble men will be at the convention.

Red Cross Drive For Flood Relief Reaches $800 Here

Arcadia Gives $102.50 More, Other Communities Dig Deeper Into Pockets.

The Valley county Red Cross chapter's drive for funds with which to assist in flood relief work in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys Tuesday passed the $800 mark, almost three times the quota assigned this county by national officers. The quota was $275.00.

Donations of $102.50 from Arcadia were the largest since last week's list was published, says Mrs. John P. Misko, county Red Cross chairman. North Loup also has raised additional funds although Mrs. W. J. Hemphill, who took charge of the drive there during the illness of Mrs. J. A. Barber, has not reported the exact amount raised.

Chamber Endorses Three for Directors

To aid directors of the North Loup project in selecting a successor to Bert M. Hardenbrook as one of the Ord community's three members of the board, directors of the Ord chamber of commerce Tuesday evening passed a resolution suggesting that either Ralph W. Norman, William Sack or Dr. F. A. Barta be selected. Any one of these three would capably represent this community, Chamber directors feel.

The Chamber's resolution was merely advisory, passed to assist project heads in filling a vacancy that will be most difficult to fill adequately. Because the Ord business club lead in financing the fight for PWA approval of the project, directors express the belief that the Chamber should have a voice in selection of Mr. Hardenbrook's successor, pending the next election.

Appointment of a new Ord director will be made Febr. 16 or 17.

Ord Firemen Held 49th Annual Ball

The 49th annual ball of the Ord fire department was held at the Z. C. B. J. hall Wednesday, Feb. 3. There was a very good attendance and the function was heartily enjoyed by all who went. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Puncocchar orchestra. Chief A. J. Shirley has made something of a record for attendance at these annual affairs, as he has never missed one yet. Next year will be the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Ord fire department, and it is planned to make this an occasion long to be remembered. The firemen appreciate the support they were given by the public.

Charles A. Veleba New President of Soil Conservation

Michigan Twp. Farmer Was Elected Saturday, Mensing Is Vice-President.

The annual meeting of the Valley county agricultural conservation association was held in the county agent's offices Saturday, beginning at 10:00 o'clock in the morning. As a result of this session Charles A. Veleba was elected president, A. V. Mensing, vice-president, and Ed S. Stone, member of county committee. These three comprise the regular county committee. W. E. Dodge of Elyria was chosen as alternate county committee man. C. C. Dale was chosen secretary, and Mrs. Tamar Gruber, treasurer.

At the township meetings held recently the following chairmen were elected: Arcadia, U. G. Evans; Davis Creek, J. J. Skala; Elyria, W. E. Dodge; Enterprise, O. E. Collins; Eureka, Paul Swaneck; Geranium, Joe Skoll; Independent, Alex Brown; Liberty, Ed S. Stone; Michigan, Charles Veleba; Noble, A. V. Mensing; North Loup, W. O. Zangger; Ord, George Nay; Springdale, David D. Arnold; Vinton, Theo. R. King; and Yale Don Round. In addition to these chairmen, there are three other members on each township committee.

Explosion in Romans Truck Thursday Rocked Business Buildings in Ord

Here is shown the Romans truck after an explosion of gas within the box had wrecked it and the Brown garage building in which it was parked early Thursday morning. An arrow at the lower left shows the exhaust pipe leading into the truck box, which resulted in accumulation of gas and caused the blast. An arrow at the lower right shows how 6x6 pillars supporting the roof were blown six inches upward by the explosion. Photo by Lavern Duemey.

When a terrific explosion shook every building in the business section of Ord at 3:15 Thursday morning, most of those who heard it decided that the burglars who operated in Taylor, Burwell and Elyria had started in to clean up Ord as well. The explosion rattled windows even in outlying sections of the city, according to reports that kept coming in during the day. It was not generally known just what had happened until early morning, when it was reported that Charles Romans' truck had blown up.

Charlie drove into town in the night with a load of beer in the box of his truck, which is built practically air tight. He drove into the C. C. Brown building south of the Dugan oil station, where he keeps his truck, and went to get a lunch, in the meantime leaving his engine running to keep the load from freezing. He had the truck equipped with an idea of his own. The exhaust pipe emptied into the box, and another pipe carried out the surplus air.

Match Ignited Gas. When he went back later he opened the outside door of the garage, climbed upon the platform and opened one half of the double door on the right hand side of the back of the truck. He then struck a match, but for some reason it would not light. Just as he threw the dead match down he saw a flame start just in front of him, and he realized that an explosion was about to occur. He turned and jumped through the open door into the street just as the explosion occurred.

Between his own efforts and the force of the explosion he landed well out in the street, a piece of timber from the back of the truck hitting him in the back as he fell. As soon as possible he got back to the garage, where he found that the explosion had started a small blaze inside the truck. This he beat out with his cap. He had made arrangements with others to take care of the cargo, and as soon as he could get away he went home.

Had Miraculous Escape. Investigation showed that he had made a miraculous escape. Several days growth of beard on his face saved him from having the skin scorched, but his whiskers were singed, his eye brows burned off, and the upper part of his face scorched. All the hair was burned off his hands where they were not protected by his coat sleeves. After a few hours sleep he felt practically no ill effects from his experience.

Examination of the truck Thursday morning showed that the box was completely ruined. Both sides were bulged out and broken in a dozen places, the top was broken in two in the middle. The front of the box was blown against the cab with such force that it bent the metal inward. Strangely enough, only three bottles of the load of beer were broken, the rest of the load appearing to be in perfect condition.

Must Build New Cab. The large doors of the garage, which open inward, were blown outward, and nearly blown from their hinges. Most of the glass above the doors was blown out into the street. One of the brick pillars in the front of the building was broken in two. The pressure lifted the roof of the building, raising the six-by-six supports fully six inches and setting them down in a different place.

The damage to the building is not very extensive, and repairs will not cost a great deal. The chassis of the truck is still as good as ever, but Charlie will have to build a new box before he can do any more hauling. He figures he is extremely lucky at that, as had he been standing on the back platform of the truck when the explosion came, he would doubtless have been killed. He believes that the fire started from a cigarette he was smoking at the time.

Frank Haught Dies In Calif. Accident

Dave Haught received a telegram Sunday saying that his brother, Frank, had been critically injured in an auto accident in California, and that his death was expected. Monday evening he passed away. Mrs. Haught will bring the body to Ord for burial, starting as soon as the authorities hold a hearing in regard to the accident.

Frank Haught was well known here prior to 1921, at which time he left for the west. Details of the accident that caused his death are lacking at the present time but details and the obituary will appear later.

Dr. Weekes to Have Hospital In Home

Pending completion of tentative plans for rebuilding Hillcrest hospital, which burned ten days ago, Dr. C. W. Weekes is fitting up a hospital in his home, located a block east of the Hillcrest site, and is now prepared to receive medical and surgical patients there. The large house has been rearranged and remodeled to provide individual rooms for patients, an operating room and laboratory have been fitted up, and the house is ready for use as a hospital. Destruction of Hillcrest, with only partial insurance in force, dealt a great financial blow to Dr. Weekes but he is hopeful that this spring or during the summer he may complete rebuilding arrangements. In the meantime his large residence solves the problem nicely.

Chester Barnes has been about down and out for several days with a bad cold, but is still keeping on the job at the Dugan Oil company.

City Council Will Buy Booster Pump, New Fire Truck Too

Hillcrest Blaze Awakens City To Need of Protection in the Hill District.

At the regular meeting of the Ord city council Friday evening steps were taken to have a booster pump installed on the fire truck now owned by the city. The plan is to have a hundred gallon tank on the truck and use the booster pump to deliver a powerful stream at the point needed. A committee consisting of Val Pullen, Frank Sershen and Guy Burrows was appointed to arrange for the purchase of this outfit.

It was also indicated that the council is in favor of buying another truck, and prices and specifications on this kind of an outfit are being investigated. It is thought some definite action will probably be taken in the near future. The outfit which the council is contemplating purchasing is designed to furnish a powerful stream of water at all times, regardless of the height the nozzle is in the air.

The Hillcrest hospital fire of last week demonstrated that any building located above the general level of the town does not have the fire protection that the rest of the town has, and it is the opinion of the council and experienced members of the fire department that the two outfits contemplated will put the higher buildings on a par with the lower from the standpoint of fire protection.

Rotary Club Plan For Irrigated Plot Showing Progress

50 to 75 Acre Tract to Be Used; Ag College Promises Cooperation.

Definite decision to sponsor a irrigated demonstration farm c about 50 to 75 acres in size, probably on the W. O. Zangger farm near Olean, was reached by members of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening and a committee made up of C. C. Dale, J. A. Kovand and M. F. Crosby was instructed to go ahead with arrangements for the tract.

Purely with the idea of rendering a community service Rotarians voted unanimously to sponsor the tract and to cooperate with the North Loup power an irrigation district to make it a effective means of acquainting farmers of the valley with best methods of soil preparation, cropland, application of water, cultivation and harvesting under the new irrigation conditions.

Completion of the Ord-Nort Loup canal this spring will be necessary before the demonstration tract can become education ally valuable but E. H. Dunmire, manager of the project, assure Rotarians Monday evening that the canal and diversion dam will be finished in time for use this spring and summer.

The extension department of the Nebraska college of agriculture has promised full cooperation with Rotarians, the club was told by Dunmire and Dale Monday. Experts will recommend best soil preparation and ground leveling practices, will supervise building of equipment needed, will recommend what varieties of seed to plant and from time to time during the planting, cultivating and harvesting seasons will give demonstrations at the tract. A 2-day irrigation school with farmers from the North Platte valley a instructors is proposed as an early spring feature.

Designated By State.

Crops to be planted will include corn, small grain, alfalfa with nyrge crop, potatoes and sugar beets, with possibly one or two others, it was proposed Monday.

The tract will be designated a state demonstration farm as well as a Rotary-sponsored project. The Rotary club does not expect to profit financially from the tract but will enter into the project with the sole idea of making available to farmers instruction as to best methods of farming under irrigation.

Ord Men Went To Lincoln Wednesday

Yesterday morning two groups of Ord men left by auto for Lincoln on business connected with the present legislative session. One car were E. H. Dunmire, Roy Al C. Bailey and Roy Hudson, who were to attend a committee hearing on a proposed public power and irrigation district zoning law. In another were Carl Dale, John P. Misko and Dwight Keyes, who were to confer with ag college heads and unicameral members as well as Governor Cochran, with regard to establishment of an agricultural experiment station in the North Loup valley. All were planning to return last night.

Golka Hit Bridge, Hurt

Stanley Golka of Elyria had narrow escape from serious injury Saturday night when he misjudged the bridge on No. 11 near the coal place and ran into the concrete on the end of it. The car was badly damaged, and Stanley was cut and bruised. He was brought to Dr. Barta at once, and after receiving necessary treatment he was taken to his home where he is recovering.

Will Ask Curb On Peddlers, Hawker

By motion passed at their meeting Tuesday evening, directors of the Ord chamber of commerce asked President John P. Misko to appoint a committee to confer with Mayor Flagg and the city council relative to "putting teeth in the occupation tax law so as to curb activity of itinerant auctioneers, peddlers and hawkers who have been visiting Ord regularly and disposing of much new merchandise on the streets. Stricter collection of present occupation taxes will be recommended, along with a proposal to raise daily license fees.

Two Sales Scheduled. The Quiz is advertising two sales for next week. Mrs. Lavin Lunney and Johnnie Lunney, jr. will hold a cleanup sale on their farm on Davis Creek Wednesday, Febr. 17 and R. D. Inbody is holding a cleanup sale on the farm mile east of Sumter, Thursday, Febr. 18.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I believe the legislature is acting wisely in killing a bill which proposed to junk the state serum plant at the ag. college. If the truth were known, probably the bill was introduced at the suggestion of those interested in making and selling serum at a much higher price than it is now being sold. The users of hog cholera serum are not in shape to pay fancy prices for the product. The state has not manufactured serum for some years but is in shape to do so on very short notice if present manufacturers get too grasping.

Every employer of one or more persons in his business, must keep a record and pay a tax. Not to do so is sure to get him into trouble with Uncle Sam, and that speedily as January business has to be reported to the government office in Omaha before the end of this month. Many think that the social security law will be found unconstitutional by the supreme court. Many of the employees, and those best able to pay by reason of getting good salaries, are exempt under the law. But until the court passes on pending litigation the only safe thing to do is to obey the law.

I went to considerable expense, last week, sending out notices to many in arrears, checking the month when their subscription expired. If they don't let us hear from them we shall feel justified in stopping their paper.

I contracted sore muscles in the calves of my legs the past weeks while it was so icy but if I hadn't done so I would probably have fallen and contracted sore muscles higher up.

I always send notice of expiration in plenty of time so subscribers can renew before the time is out. There is sometimes a delay of a few days and possibly the loss of an issue of the paper for one week, if we happen to be out of that number, when a name has been dropped and then a renewal comes later. We are sorry when this happens and the best way to avoid it is to renew promptly. In recent weeks we have sold entirely out of papers several times.

A Lincoln legislator has introduced a bill proposing to appropriate ten thousand dollars to light the state house tower. Looks to me like a silly idea. There are lights available in rooms of the tower all the way up, which should be sufficient so airplane people could keep from hitting it if they are sober. It is a poor time to spend ten thousand dollars for such a purpose.

If I had the opportunity to vote for the proposed law permitting Mercy Deaths for those who want them, I believe I would do so. I doubt if such a law would often be taken advantage of, however. There are cases where certain diseases in advanced stages makes recovery impossible and where the patient would be glad to escape from one to a dozen months of intense suffering, not only for himself but for the family, if it was possible to side-step it.

John Ward has got a story about what the Bible contains, in this issue but it doesn't mean that John has read the good book enough to know all those things. Someone else told him.

It looks to me as though the committee chosen by the two big parties to suggest legislation to change the primary law tried to do something without knowing what they wanted to do. We all know what they tried to do, namely to so arrange things that a group of politicians in each party can dictate who shall run for office, just as they always did before the primary law was passed. Here is one thing to keep always in mind, those committees which were appointed are politicians. I doubt if the electors will consent to go back to the system of hand-picked candidates. I believe the officers we have got now are just as good and just as representative of the people of the county and state, as they were under the old rule.

Down in Howard county the other day Donald Sperling was fined $35 and his driver's license was revoked when he was charged with reckless driving and convicted. No, he didn't kill anybody. Donald should come up to Ord to do his reckless driving. He would be perfectly safe here. No one would even think of depriving him of a driver's license, let alone fining him if he killed half the children in town.

When I bought the Quiz from Mr. Haskell back in 1913 he had taken with him a complete set of copies of the paper and left in the office a file that proved later not to be complete. At the time I didn't realize the importance of having a complete file. As years passed and we wanted to start the "When You and I Were Young Maggie" department, and began looking up the old files we awoke to the fact that we lacked many copies, in fact some whole years. Inquiry developed the fact that when Mr. Haskell, very ill, prepared to leave his home in Lincoln and go to California, he sold much of his belongings to a junk dealer who had instructions to clean the place out. The Quiz files went and I was unable to get any trace of them. The late C. J. Nelson is said to have had a complete file of the Quiz but upon his death the papers were thought to be so much junk and were destroyed. Another chance gone, to get the papers we so badly need and I am writing this in the hope that some old timer may have in his possession, many copies of this newspaper of early years, say from 1882 till 1900.

Many times since Mr. Roosevelt became president he has asked congress for unusual powers, often shocking and astonishing the country with his requests, and mostly his requests have been granted, until now he is the most powerful of any president we have ever had. Last week he shocked the country and stunned congress by making a greater demand than ever before. He asked congress to reorganize the federal courts from the supreme court down and if his demand or request is granted, the courts will be packed to do his bidding. The theory down through the years has been that changes in the courts would come gradually, a new man being added now and then as death or resignation made a new appointment necessary. It was never expected that any one president would have the wholesale appointment of six judges at one time, enough to control any court, as President Roosevelt now wants to do. It seems to me that no single act could come nearer to making Mr. Roosevelt a dictator in fact in the U. S. than to give him this power at this time. I do think that something is necessary to speed up the work of the courts. At present the higher courts are more the tool of the rich and powerful than the poor because it takes so long to get important cases through to a final decision that the poor client is frozen out or starved out long before the end of litigation. It seems to me to increase the supreme court from 9 to 15 would slow up instead of speed up litigation and would accomplish no good purpose. If the president is given power to appoint 6 additional judges now he will of course name six men who he knows will decide matters as he wants them decided. He will name six practical politicians of the Farley stripe; in other words he will pack the court with six men who will do his bidding. If he did not intend to do so there would be no object in his asking for the power. And I have no doubt the brutal majority that has in congress will insure his being given the power. Supreme court judges are eligible to retire at the age of 70 years on full pay. They all seem to prefer to work on and there are six of the nine who are past seventy, some many years past. I don't know how their present fitness for the work compares with what it was when they were appointed. The best you readers can do to determine that is to look around among your acquaintances who are between 70 and 85 years of age and see what you think of their present mental and physical condition compared with the way they were when they were 65, say. My guess is that the president was right when he says those six old men should retire and allow younger men to be named in their places. I doubt if any man has reached the age of 70 without himself realizing that he is not the man he was ten to twenty years earlier. But men who have a clench on position, power or wealth, are loathe to relinquish their hold and sometimes they hang on, to the great detriment of their employers or the people. I believe in this instance, congress should take plenty of time to hear from home folks, and if they do I think the matter of giving a president the power that Mr. Roosevelt has asked for will be submitted to a vote of the people. If that is done time enough will elapse to allow the people to make up their minds what they want.

There was quite a general grumbling of protest over the arrest of Joe Korbello a few weeks ago for shooting pheasants, and the confiscation of his high priced gun. Some fellows even said should he have plead not guilty a jury would have turned him loose, although it is hard for a man to plead not guilty when caught in the act.

The fact of the matter is there have been quite a few men shooting the birds this winter. The pheasants are more numerous than common and braver, too, in many instances coming to the feed yards and eating grain with the stock. One man says they feed out of his silo continually and another from his cane pile. The corn they eat the stock does not get and corn is $1.25 a bushel. Most of us do not know where to get the $1.25.

It has long been a question with many that the government overstepped themselves when they imported these birds to prey on the farmers and the farmer thinks so more than ever when the birds feed off him all year and then he is heavily fined for eating a few in the winter. A great many farmers have been forced to sell their hens this winter because they could not get the feed for them, and on the other hand they are forced by penalty to harbor great flocks of pheasants.

Also many farmers in late years have posted their farms against hunters. They have posted them largely as a protest against the city men and not that they care so much for the birds. A flock of one or two hundred pheasants can be seen any day on Gus Wetzel's yard, and with the hen coop empty for the lack of feed, a farmer soon loses his love for pheasants. He feels imposed on surely to think he is saving them for an army of city men to come next fall for the slaughter. It is argued the pheasants do much good in the form of eating grasshoppers and bugs but it has been proven they also cost considerable and like the crows, they may cost all they are worth, outside the worth from a sportsman's viewpoint, and for the most part the sportsmen are not the ones who are feeding them.

Herb Bredthauer saw me the other day and said inasmuch as I was a Quiz reporter I better say something about the crows. He thinks more people should take unto themselves to thin the crow ranks down a little. If they could only get an appropriation from some source for shells there would be many communities take after the crows. Last year the North Loup men divided up, having a contest, and killed some seven hundred crows. This was fine but the shells they used, and the gas they burned cost a pretty penny and most of the contestants hardly felt like spending the money another year. Perhaps a few of the $40 pheasant fines might be diverted for crow shooting and then in a few years, another perhaps, they might organize to thin the pheasants.

More of us are wondering if the magpies will become numerous in this country. In other places they are considered a menace. Three winters ago I saw my first one here. Since that there have been more. Most any day we can see

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

The Pheasants.
There was quite a general grumbling of protest over the arrest of Joe Korbello a few weeks ago for shooting pheasants, and the confiscation of his high priced gun. Some fellows even said should he have plead not guilty a jury would have turned him loose, although it is hard for a man to plead not guilty when caught in the act.

The fact of the matter is there have been quite a few men shooting the birds this winter. The pheasants are more numerous than common and braver, too, in many instances coming to the feed yards and eating grain with the stock. One man says they feed out of his silo continually and another from his cane pile. The corn they eat the stock does not get and corn is $1.25 a bushel. Most of us do not know where to get the $1.25.

It has long been a question with many that the government overstepped themselves when they imported these birds to prey on the farmers and the farmer thinks so more than ever when the birds feed off him all year and then he is heavily fined for eating a few in the winter. A great many farmers have been forced to sell their hens this winter because they could not get the feed for them, and on the other hand they are forced by penalty to harbor great flocks of pheasants.

Also many farmers in late years have posted their farms against hunters. They have posted them largely as a protest against the city men and not that they care so much for the birds. A flock of one or two hundred pheasants can be seen any day on Gus Wetzel's yard, and with the hen coop empty for the lack of feed, a farmer soon loses his love for pheasants. He feels imposed on surely to think he is saving them for an army of city men to come next fall for the slaughter. It is argued the pheasants do much good in the form of eating grasshoppers and bugs but it has been proven they also cost considerable and like the crows, they may cost all they are worth, outside the worth from a sportsman's viewpoint, and for the most part the sportsmen are not the ones who are feeding them.

them around now. They act much like the crows, eating in the feed yards and associating with them. The three, the pheasant, crow and the magpie are frequent thieves of the farm.

Old timers tell us that in early days there were no crows here in this country. They follow civilization. It is apparently the same with the magpie. And we wonder too why there are no buzzards here. I have never seen one although I heard of one having been seen in Mira Valley once. If it really was probably it was lost.

Church Attendance.
Those who are interested in religion and listening to good sermons should make an effort to hear Rev. Claud Hill some time. I told a friend the other day that there were two reasons why his sermons were worth hearing. First he seems to have a natural ability to talk but second and foremost those sermons show evidence from beginning to end that they have had much study and thought. It does not matter what it is, whether it is preaching a sermon, or writing a strip, or talking politics, or running a bank or a farm, the man who gives it the most study and thought does the best job. I heard a preacher's wife once say that frequently on the night before her husband didn't know what he was going to talk about on Sabbath morning. I thought that was very true after hearing his sermons, and I also thought that perhaps on Sabbath mornings he did not know what he was going to talk about either.

It is a struggle now days to get people to come out and attend church and those people who do turn out to hear some talk cooked up on the spur of the moment are filled with the spirit of religion to be sure and are saved (so to speak) anyway. Well, that's one reason for church attendance being so sluggish and there may be more.

Best County.
I overheard some fellows after Ed Lee the other day pestering him to get the township board together and pay for the snow shoveling. Ed didn't seem to be very worried although the fellows proclaimed loud and lustily they were broke and needed the money to buy groceries and car licenses, and baby clothes. But I heard a few days later how the board had a special meeting and paid the shovelers.

Those fellows can be thankful they live in Valley county and have Ed Lee as their father director in place of Greeley county. Over here last year we shoveled snow in January and got our pay the next September. This year they are not paying at all to clear the roads, or at least not in the west end of the county. Our roads are still blocked and we have to shovel them for nothing or cut across the fields or stay at home.

In Case You Didn't Know.
The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 773,746 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters and 66 books. The word AND occurs 46,277 times. The word LORD occurs 1,855 times. The word REVEREND occurs but once, which is in the 9th verse of the 11th psalm. The middle verse is the 8th verse of the 118 psalm. The 21st verse of the 7th chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except J. The longest verse is the 9th verse of the 8th chapter of Esther. The shortest verse is the 35th verse of the 11th chapter of St. John. There are no words of more than six syllables.

Something DIFFERENT

There are all kinds of parents, apparently. There are the kind that seem to feel their children owe them everything they can grab. And the kind who seem to feel they owe their children everything they can do for them. And the kind that set goals, such as "through college for each of my children" . . . or possibly "fifth grade is far enough for my children".

There are the kind who do exactly alike for each child, as well as parents that pamper one, box the ears of the other offspring.

There were parents, in old times, who furnished their girls linen to equip their homes for years to come, while boys were started with a team, a "back forty", etc.

There are still mothers who set themselves unbelievable amounts of work to give each of their daughters some kind of needlecraft that they have done. And there are some in Ord.

Mrs. Ed Milligan has made quantities of hand pieced quilts. I hear she is now working on her twenty-third one. If you ever pieced a quilt, you can appreciate this work she has done.

Mrs. E. C. James has made a large, elaborate cut-work tablecloth for each of her girls. She is now working on the last one, though many hours of patient stitchery is still needed.

There are numbers of beautiful quilts in Ord, numbers of women who love to make them. In any gathering a good argument can be stirred up over "the most beautiful quilt I ever saw" or the merits of piecing, appliqueing, embroidering or combinations of the three to make the prettiest quilts.

An Ord lady who enjoys making quilts and has numbers of lovely ones is Mrs. Charlie Stichter. Quietly she has kept at it much of her leisure time for years past, and she has a collection, one of a kind, every one a beauty.

When the Golden Rule store was the scene of a quilt show a few months ago, some very gorgeous ones were displayed. Some were dainty with delicate colorings, some were so old they barely hung together to display their ancient little pieces, their tiny tiny stitches.

Hillcrest always made such a unique topping for Ord's big hill, the peaks to the gables reminding me a little of a Japanese temple. Now it is gone, and everyone in this valley will miss it each time he glances up toward that skyline.

It seemed terrible to watch it burn, knowing there was nothing that could be done about it. A horrible waste, and a big blow to the owner, Dr. Weekes.

Those who know how generous Dr. Weekes has always been to others will hope that in some way the big catastrophe may prove to be a blessing in disguise, not the setback that it seems. But it is quite difficult to see what good that ill wind blew, along with the big fire it made.

Ord's firemen were as disgusted as everyone else, to feel so helpless, to have to watch such destruction because the water did not have pressure enough to fight that fire. They did what they could, keeping neighboring houses

WASHINGTON LETTER

New Deal's Power Program Is Due for Stiff Battle

WASHINGTON.—When the president abruptly ended negotiations to pool TVA power with electricity produced by private power companies in the Tennessee valley, the attention of Washington was focused on the new National Power Policy Committee.

Ostensibly, the committee is to make recommendations for legislation under which the $51,000,000 Bonneville dam, on the Columbia river in Oregon, will operate. But the committee members, who have pointed fingers at the persistent efforts of private power companies to press court suits against the TVA, are supposed to have influenced the president's decision to call off the power pool negotiations.

The tendency seems to be toward blanketing the country with public power projects such as TVA, to be handled by regional "authorities" which will make compromises with private power companies only when forced to by supreme court decisions. In particular the administration is known to favor an Ohio Valley Authority which would combine flood control and power development.

The new NPPC, is headed by Secretary Harold Ickes; and Frederic A. Delano, the president's uncle is one of its members.

Only a few insiders realized that a National Power Committee was already existent when the new one was created. TVA Director Lillenthal, who had a bitter row with TVA Chairman Morgan, was on the old committee but is not included in the new one.

The army engineers, who have co-operated with administrations more sympathetic to private power companies, are out of favor with the New Deal power group, so perhaps that's the reason Maj Gen Edward M. Markham, chief of army engineers, a member of the old committee, was not picked for the new one. Nor was T. W. Norcross, chief of the Forest Service's Division of Engineering, selected to sit with the reconstituted committee.

The immediate job of the NPPC is to work out a policy for rates and distribution of the power Bonneville will be ready to sell by October. It may recommend that rates be fixed temporarily by the Federal Power Commission.

Because industries locate where cheap power is available, it becomes apparent that the recommendations of the committee might make important changes in the industrial map of the country, if the government aggressively pushes any public power plan that will affect retail rates.

Whatever power legislation goes to Congress with President Roosevelt's backing will be fought, not only by private power companies, but by transportation interests as well.

The same group which is expected to try to defeat the St. Lawrence waterway legislation, when it comes up, will fight public power projects, which improve navigation.

The development of river valleys was what President Roosevelt had in mind when PWA was created. At that time Lew Douglas, who was director of the budget, persuaded Roosevelt that NRA was the recovery measure which ought to be pushed first.

PWA and CWA became clearing houses for huge sums of money which went into schools, sewers, bridges, and courthouses; and the original plan was put on the shelf.

It has now been taken down and is being considered by a hand-picked group of men who see eye to eye with the president on the power question.

What Other Towns Doing For Red Cross

From the exchanges for the past week we learn that other towns and communities are doing the utmost for the flood sufferers of the Ohio valley. We can well be proud of Ord, but it is fine to find in a state that responded so quickly and heartily to the call of need. Just to show what a fe of our neighbors have been doing and still are doing, the following list of town with amounts sent given. It must be remembered that the work is still going on every community.

Scotia, $109.29; Arcadia, $124.40; Dannebrog, $83.50; Cozad, $192.00; Hastings, $2,034.93; Palmer $12.75; Callaway, $123.50; Schulz, $385.40; Ravenna, $125.00; Geris $548.60; Rogers, $73.50; Mitch $575.00; Bruning, $120.01; Noi Loup, $102.00.

Merrick county, $764.35; Custer county, $906.35; Wayne county, $600.00; Saunders county, over $500.00; Howard county, over $500.00; Hamilton county, nearly $500.00; and Shelby county, Ia., $116.22.

Many other towns have reported their Red Cross contributions, in a number of cases the amount was not given, but only the individual contributions.

Pleasant Valley Program.
Everyone is cordially invited the Valentine program at Pleasant Valley school. They are having the Rhythm orchestra as a novelty feature. Program begins at p. m. No charge for admission lunch. The teacher is Floris Karty.

The Good Shepherd

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 14
Text: John 10:1-16

THERE is an appropriateness about this lesson on Jesus the good shepherd, coming in the month of February, that was not in the minds of the compilers of the lessons at the time they were planned.

This is the fact that the centenary of the birth of the great evangelist, Dwight L. Moody, is being celebrated throughout the world. Moody was born on Feb. 5, 1837. Associated with him in his evangelistic work was Sankey, the singer; and the song or hymn that was most typical of Moody's evangelism was the beautiful "The Ninety-and-Nine," based on the Parable of the Lost Sheep.

In our lesson the aspect of the shepherd is somewhat different, but it is the same essential fact that is emphasized; namely, the shepherd's care for his sheep, and his willingness to lay down even his life, if necessary, to defend and care for them.

The references that Jesus makes to Himself as the "door" are not easily understood, but the emphasis that Jesus puts upon the character of the shepherd, his care for his own, his patience, his love and his courage are unmistakable.

WE are told that the figure of the shepherd as the "door" is taken from the sheepfold of the East, to which there is a very narrow entrance. The shep-

The M. E. Ladies Aid met Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage. Mrs. W. H. Stephens and Mrs. Jennie Anderson were hostesses. Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Vodehnal of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Les Leonard of Mira Valley were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knapp.

Mrs. Art Willoughby was hostess to the Fortnightly club last Wednesday. Mrs. Warren Bailey conducted the lesson on "Home Furnishings". She was ably assisted by Mrs. Wm. Vodehnal, Mrs. Floyd Redlon, Mrs. Chas. Sayre and Mrs. Sterling Manchester. Wall decorations, linens, kitchenware and food purchasing were discussed. A paper prepared by Mrs. Ray Knapp was postponed until a later date. In place of roll call written suggestions for next year's program were handed in by each member. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter Thelma and Mrs. Clyde Willoughby, who was a guest.

Mrs. Fannie Weed had Sunday dinner with the Clark Roby family. In the afternoon they drove out to see the new baby at the Rube Athey home.

The No Lo club held its meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Joe Fisher. The leader, Mrs. Guy Kerr, had planned a travelogue from Chile to Colombia by bus. She was assisted by Mrs. John Manchester, Vesta Thorngate, Mrs. C. B. Clark, Mrs. Claud Thomas, Mrs. Glen Johnson, Mrs. Clara Holmes and Mrs. W. J. Hemphill. The hostess served a lovely lunch during the social hour.

Relatives here have received word of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Sample of Big Springs on Jan. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sheldon and Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell left Sunday for Excelsior Springs, Mo., where Mrs. Sheldon and Mrs. Mitchell expect to remain some time for treatment. The elder Mitchell is caring for the Mitchell children while their mother is away.

North Loup high school lost two basketball games last Saturday night in the local gymnasium. The first and second teams from Spalding were the invaders and left town with two well earned victories. The first game between the second teams was the harder fought of the two games, but at the end of the game the score stood Spalding 19, North Loup 16.

In the second game between the first teams of the two towns, North Loup took a much worse beating, the score at the end of the game being Spalding 50, North Loup 31. The real reason for the score standing this way was that the score just about shows the difference in the two teams. North

Loup was clearly outplayed throughout the entire game. Spalding was much faster and had a very much smoother playing team than did the home boys. Shortly after the start of the second half the locals showed some of their old form and brought the score within four points of the visitors, but that is the closest they ever came. The last quarter, seemed to be about what Spalding wanted it. The locals seemed somewhat bewildered with the smooth working outfit from the next county. The game was marred with considerable roughness for which there was no excuse, otherwise it was a fast game from start to finish.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schudel entertained the Whoopee club last Thursday evening. Esther Schudel won high score for the ladies and Art Hutchins for the men.

Mrs. Myra Gowen went to Lincoln Friday where she plans to stay indefinitely.

The subject was discussed in various phases by the following people: Marcia Rood, "In My Private Life"; Russell Barber, "In the School"; Doris Barber, "In the Christian Endeavor"; Merle Davis, "In the Church"; George Maxson, jr., "In Social Activities"; Pastor Hill, "In the Choice of an Occupation." An afternoon meeting was also held which was conducted by Mrs. Cora Hemphill. The topic, "Christian Youths Face the Future Together" was discussed by those present for about an hour. Iris Barber led the singing from the new Christian Endeavor hymnals, with Maxine Johnson at the piano.

A farewell social for the Roy Cruzan family who expect soon to go to New Jersey to make their home, was held at the S. D. B. church Sunday evening. About 60 friends sat down to supper together, after which members from the various church organizations expressed regret at losing the Cruzans. Rev. Hill represented the church, Jessie S. Babcock the Nellie Shaw society, Lillian Babcock the Christian Endeavorers, Albert Babcock the Boys' class and Mrs. Merrill VanHorn from the adult Bible class, responded with an original poem. A group of boys also sang two songs. Later the group played some games.

The representatives of the local study and project clubs are meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. J. A. Barber to make plans for the inter-club contest to be held in the spring.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Not new, not difficult to make, but always good is lemon cake. And it should have lots more attention in this column, for it is a favorite dessert of the Quiz publisher, H. D. Leggett.

Lemon Cake.

Cream two eggs with one heaping tablespoon butter and one and one-half cups sugar, add one cup milk and cream mixed. Stir well. Then add one and one-half cups flour which has been sifted with two and one-half teaspoons baking powder. It should not make a very stiff batter. Make the filling of one cup hot water and one cup sugar put on to boil. When boiling add a mixture including juice and rind of one lemon, three tablespoons cornstarch, one egg. Let boil up until thick, remove and spread on the cake.

Mrs. William Carlton.

Lemon Pie with Sponge Cake on Top.

Line a pie plate the same as for any other pie. Cream one cup sugar with three tablespoons melted butter, add the grated rind of one lemon and two scant tablespoons flour, sifted before measuring. Add yolks of three eggs and the juice of the lemon, then one cup milk. Whip the whites of three eggs stiff, beat in lightly. Bake in a very slow oven as much depends upon slow heat for this pie. This is very nice.

Mrs. J. H. Capron.

Lemon Chiffon Pudding.

Sift one cup sugar with one-third cup flour and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Add three beaten egg yolks, three tablespoons melted butter, the juice of one and one-half lemons, grated rind, then one cup milk. Lastly put in three beaten egg whites. Set the baking dish in a pan of water, bake forty minutes at 350 degrees. This has a very delicate texture, makes a sort of cake on top the pudding too.

Mrs. E. C. Leggett.

Health Salad.

Dissolve one package of lemon gelatine in two cups boiling water, when cool put in one small can of crushed pineapple, one cup chopped celery, one-half cup grated carrot. Place in a shallow pan and decorate with sliced stuffed olives, using one small bottle of olives. When firm cut in squares and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing. A little grated cheese is nice in this, too.

Mrs. John Andersen.

Mrs. Ben Waterman writes from Fremont that the Eggless Fruit cake should have added to it one cup raisins, one cup dried currants, dredged in flour, also one-half cup walnuts ground fine, as she forgot to write them in the original recipe published a week or two ago.

Hot Biscuits.

Sift together four cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one level teaspoon salt, blend with four tablespoons lard and mix with enough milk to make a soft dough. Toss on a floured board, pat out then cut and bake in a hot oven. This makes light, flaky biscuits.

Mrs. Charles C. Woolery, Ericson.

It is getting springtime. May we have springtime recipes, please, so they may be printed just before foods needed for them come on the market?

PATTERN 8289 sets a new high in simplicity and comfort. It is possible for even the amateur to make this novel house-dress in less than one afternoon. Sizes: 34 to 62. Size 36 requires 5 1/2 yards of 35-inch fabric. Practical, gay and easy to make, Pattern 8338 is cut in one piece and instead of seams at the sides it has a ruffled waist. This cunning pinafore-frock just suits the little girl's taste. Sizes: 2 to 10 years. Size 6 requires 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch fabric, plus 5/8 yard bias binding. Youthful and saucy, Pattern 8818 with its shoulder cape and pleated skirt has a touch of the swing influence. Sizes 12 to 20 and 30 to 38. Size 14 requires 5 1/2 yards of 39-inch fabric plus 1-6 yard contrasting for belt. ### Proceedings of the County Board

February 2, 1937, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.
Meeting called to order by Chairman with all supervisors present on roll call.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved as read.

The matter of the services of Mrs. Dena Lewis, came on for consideration after which it was moved and seconded that she be retained as case-worker in the Relief Office at a salary of $78.00 per month. Motion unanimously carried.

Bank balance in First National Bank, Arcadia, $10,457.17, as of January 30th, 1937, was read. Report of Road and Bridge Committee for January, showing list of bridge material on hand, and ordered, and probably will be needed during the ensuing year, was read, and upon motion duly carried same was accepted and ordered placed on file.

The following official bonds bearing the endorsement of the Committee on Bonds, were formally approved by the Board of Supervisors, to-wit:

Ross Leonard, Justice of the Peace.
Harry A. Bellinger, Justice of the Peace.

H. A. Masters, Road Overseer.
Frank T. Zulkoski, Road Overseer.

Charlie Vancura, Road Overseer.
Floyd Wozniak, Township Clerk.

James P. Lee, Township treasurer.

The following Resolution was then formally introduced upon motion, to-wit:

RESOLUTION.
WHEREAS in accordance with the Bulletin NH 152 issued by the Nebraska Emergency Relief Administration stating certain items of equipment now being loaned by the Nebraska Emergency Relief Administration to the various counties are to be disposed of by being given outright to the respective counties.

WHEREAS, requests for such equipment must be submitted by the Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, bearing the signatures of the board members.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Supervisors of Valley County hereby petition and request the equipment extended to the county under the County Loan Agreement, Schedule X (attached hereto) be given outright to Valley county.

Motion to adopt was seconded and upon roll call carried unamously.

The following Resolution was then introduced and motion made to adopt same to-wit:

"WHEREAS, the procedure of handling relief funds as outlined in detail in House Roll No. 13, of the 51st Special Session of the Nebraska State Legislature does not permit of handling expedient relief and emergency cases.

"WHEREAS, it is impractical to call a session of the County Assistance Committee to meet for the purpose of acting upon relief applications every time an application is filed.

"WHEREAS, a delay of the meeting of the County Assistance Committee for the purpose of accepting assistance cases may cause undue suffering before relief is granted.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of County Supervisors of Valley County, Nebraska, hereby delegate authority to the County Assistance Director for accepting relief cases and extending relief in the emergency cases prior to a meeting of a County Assistance Committee and formal acceptance thereof."

Motion to adopt was seconded and upon roll call unanimously carried.

Upon motion duly seconded and carried, the County Clerk and the County Engineer were authorized and directed to publish necessary notice inviting bids and prices on a new 1 1/2 ton and a 3 ton truck, inviting bids for 11:00 o'clock A. M., of March 2, 1937, with the idea of trading in a Model A-2 International truck now owned, on which report of claims is purchased.

Rever of Claims Committee upon State Assistance Fund Claims was Accepted as read upon motion duly carried, and warrants ordered drawn in payment of all claims allowed.

THE 25-MILLIONTH

F O R D
HAS JUST BEEN BUILT

It HAS never occurred before in automobile history that 25 million cars of one make, bearing one name, have been manufactured under one management. The 25,000,000th Ford car rolled off the Ford Rouge Plant production line on January 18, 1937.

25 million cars since 1903... more than one-third of all the cars ever built... enough cars to transport the entire population of the United States.

The figures represent a remarkable contribution to the social welfare, the industrial stability and the general progress of our country.

People respect Ford efficiency. They know Ford uses fine materials, the best workmanship at good wages, the most exact precision measurements. They know these things are passed along to purchasers in the form of extra value. Naturally, they like to do business with such a company. That is the only reason it has been required to produce 25 million cars.

Naturally, too, they expect more of a Ford car, more this year than last year—more each year than the year before. They have every right to. The experience gained in building 25,000,000 cars enables Ford to produce today a really superb motor car at a really low price—with the Beauty, Comfort, Safety and Performance of much more expensive cars.

The 1937 Ford V-8 combines advanced design, all-steel construction, extra body room, and brilliant brakes with a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines—the most modern type of power-plant on land, sea, or in the air.

The 85-horsepower engine provides top performance with unusually good economy for its high power.

The 60-horsepower engine gives good performance with the greatest gasoline mileage ever built into a Ford car—and wears the lowest Ford price tag in years.

People expect more of a Ford car because it's a Ford—and they get more, for the same reason. It is undeniably the quality car in the low-price field.

Clothing for adults and canned goods of all kind are needed now, says Mrs. Misko, and anybody wishing to make donations of this kind may leave them at Mr. Misko's office in the First National bank building. Railroads have agreed to transport without charge, through the Red Cross only, all clothing and canned goods donated for flood relief.

Cash donations made since last Wednesday noon follow:

$1.00 each from Will Zablouddl, Mrs. E. C. Leggett, the O. O. S. club, Frank Miska, Nell Peterson and Chas. Janda.

From the Elyria community: E. A. Holub, Lester Norton and Pete Bartuslak, $1.00 each; Baptist church, $1.41; P. Wentek, Ign. Krason, Frank Zulkoski, Albin Carkoski, Chas. Wozniak, E. Jablonski and R. E. Garnick, 25c each; Leon Cienny, 50c.

Wm. Misko, $3; Business & Professional Women's club, $4.65; Mrs. C. A. Anderson, 50c; Junior Matrons, $3.75; Dr. F. L. Blessing, $3.00; Frank Ptacnik, $2.00; Girl Reserves, $5.00; E. G. Brechbill, $3.00; Mrs. E. G. Brechbill, $3.00; Modern Priscillas, $2.00; Elm Creek club, $2.30; 20th Century club, $1.50; Elyria schools, 99c; E. P. Clements, $5.00; Helen L. Myers, $5.00; Ord city schools, $25.73.

From the Red Cross chapter at Arcadia came $100.00, much of which was raised at a box social sponsored by officers and employees of the Middle Loup power and irrigation district and the Henningsen Engineering Co., and $2.50 from the American Legion Auxiliary of Arcadia.

In the list of Red Cross donations published last week an error was made, the name of Anton Kluna appearing as Anton Klina. Anybody else desiring to donate to the fund is asked to leave their money with Horace Travis at the First National bank.

guests were present. The guest of honor received many pretty and useful gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Herman Parker and Gus Fisher were both recovering enough from their recent illness to return to their homes Saturday from the Cram hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Thurston were in Ord Monday where they attended the funeral service of Mrs. Rufus Clark.

IMPORTANT NOTICE. Next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the Methodist congregation will meet in the Christian church for preaching services. This arrangement has been made with officials of the Christian church for the Sundays of February in the interest of economy in heating operations.

The Sunday school will be held in the Methodist church as usual at 10 o'clock. Four rooms of the Methodist building are heated by stoves, and these will be used for the Sunday school.

The steam heating plant of the Methodist church requires a large amount of coal and must be fired constantly from Saturday afternoon to insure a warm building on Sunday, hence the temporary change. The Christian church people have kindly consented to have their church used for these worship services. It is expected that all services will be held in the Methodist church after March 1st.

Mearl C. Smith, Pastor of the Methodist Church.

Jerusalem Artichoke

The new farm crop pays well in spite of drought, hail and hot winds.

Now is a good time to think about an artichoke contract.

275 acres last season, planted late, averaged 4 ton—$14.50 per ton—$58.00 per acre. We have written contracts for 700 acres the past ten days. Our 4,000 acres in Nebraska last year averaged 6 ton per acre or $87.00. Not bad for 1936.

It will cost you $20.00 per acre to plant potatoes this year. All other seed will be higher than usual. An artichoke contract costs only $6.00 per acre for seed and the grower receives $12.00 per ton for the crop.

For further information write or phone.

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Highlight of the fifth week of Nebraska's legislature was the introduction of a "mercy-death" bill by Senator Comstock of Lincoln. It was unique in that it was the first bill of its kind ever to be introduced in an American legislature. The bill is sponsored by Dr. Inez C. Philbrick, former University of Nebraska member and a licensed physician for 43 years. She has registered as a lobbyist in behalf of her bill and has turned to the radio in its defense.

Almost immediately after the bill was dropped into the hopper, many clergymen of Nebraska expressed gratification at its introduction, the editor of a nationally circulated medical magazine denounced it as premature and the Nebraska Medical Association said it was opposing the bill because science is advancing too rapidly today to say death is necessary in so many cases.

Senators generally declined to comment on the bill. At least one, Adams of Douglas county, said he did not favor tampering with the things Divine. Among those who would comment, it was indicated they expected the measure to die an early death, probably never seeing the light of the senate chamber in committee of the whole.

Provisions of the "mercy death" act set forth the manner in which arrangements for the "fatal dose" are to be administered. Applicant must voluntarily apply to a district court judge, including $10 for right to die, as one construction of the bill puts it. A referee is appointed by the court and a series of examinations are made. Applicant's business affairs must be put in order and arrangements made so insurance is not affected. Then, everything in order and the medical authorities agreeing, the applicant is taken to an accredited hospital where the "dose-of-death" is administered in the presence of an officer of the court.

The only expense to the applicant would have been the $10 application fee; the county pays the balance.

One veteran senator commented: "The introducer of the bill stood a chance of going to the governor's chair if his bill had clicked. But it looks like the disfavor he gets through its disfavor may cost him his seat in the senate another term."

Thus the press association wires hummed, carrying hundreds of words to outside states on Nebraska's "mercy death" bill. And again the eyes of the nation turned this way, probably with a bit askance.

Primary law legislation, agreed to by both major parties, has been introduced in the senate by Senator Regan of Columbus. The bill was prepared by a joint committee of the republican and democratic party.

Besides the county and state political conventions now held after the primary, the bill would provide for pre-primary state conventions, nine weeks before the primary election, at which time the party would make its first and second choice of candidates for each political office. The names of the two choices would head the list of those on the party ticket at the primary. Other candidates' names would be placed after those endorsed by the party.

Delegates to the pre-primary convention would be chosen at county conventions previously. Delegates to the county convention, in turn, would be selected at precinct caucuses called by precinct chairmen.

Regan's bill also provides for congressional district conventions both before and after the primary, and that it would be necessary for a candidate to receive 35 per cent of the state convention vote to be endorsed in either first or second place.

The senate confirmed Governor Cochran's appointment of Mrs. Maud E. Nuquist of Osceola to the state board of control with but one member, A. L. Miller of Kimball raising his voice in protest.

Declared Miller: The retiring member is a western Nebraska; the appointee should come from that area. Miller voted against the confirmation; six senators declined to vote.

Meanwhile many loyal supporters of Governor Cochran through the years stood a bit chagrined. They remembered back in the days when Cochran, one of several candidates seeking the democratic gubernatorial nomination, an opponent, and a good fighter was Mrs. Nuquist. But, upon Cochran's nomination, Mrs. Nuquist leaped aboard his bandwagon. Time came when Cochran was selected. Mrs. Nuquist was appointed immediately as head of the state child welfare board, a post she still holds, but which, it was said she would resign March 1, to vacation until she takes her six-year post as control board member July 1.

A similar occasion is manifest in the statehouse. Richard Hunter, the attorney general was opposed in a tight race by Francis V. Robinson, Lincoln attorney. Hunter won by a margin of a handful of votes the primary election which resulted in his election last November over the republican candidate Richard O. Johnson. One of Hunter's acts was to name Robinson, his erstwhile opponent as assistant on his staff.

Some political-wise contend this is one way of eliminating potential opposition when another election year rolls around.

The fifth week of the Nebraska legislature saw three bills already enacted into law and a determination on the part of senators to at least abide by the comborsome list of rules for the one-house session insofar as meeting time was concerned.

After a session lasting just a few seconds less than 30 minutes on the first day of the fifth week, the usual motion to adjourn until 10 a. m. the next morning was made. Chairman J. N. Norton of the powerful rules committee voiced opposition to the hour. The rules adopted call for a 9 o'clock session.

Despite the loud chorus of "nos" voiced on a 9 a. m. meeting hour the presiding officer adjourned the session until 9 a. m. Newspaper men covering the session grinned. News is hard enough to get; possibly that extra hour may produce something worth writing about.

A "fair trade practice act" is before the senate. If it is enacted as introduced, it will permit manufacturers and distributors to contract with retailers for minimum sales prices of trade-marked goods. In introducing bill along with others, Senator Haycock of Callaway said the bill calls for a law similar to those passed in 15 other states.

Citing an example, Haycock said it would permit a distributor to sell "Jones aspirin" to a retailer under contract not to resell the article at a price less than 10 cents a box. Such contract with one retailer would prohibit all other retailers from selling the aspirin for less than that figure. The act is aimed at the practice of offering standard trade-marked articles for sale at a price below cost.

The majority of manufacturers and distributors are assertyd in favor of the measure which likewise has the endorsement of many retailers.

Corrective proposals for Nebraska's liquor control law have been dispatched to the legislature by the control commission, but upon digesting the contents, it was indicated several senators would start the sniping process before the 30th legislative day—the end of the bill introduction period—is reached. The supreme court, having acted on certain sections of the law have demanded change, and the control commission asks. A few measures pertaining to liquor control are already on file, and many more are anticipated.

By a vote of 25 to 18 the senate passed the bill to extend the mortgage moratorium for two years. A few days prior to the ultimate passage, the senate, considering a similar bill in committee of the whole, voted 19 to 22 to stick by the "little supreme court" or the "legislative councilors" to recommend the moratorium for but one year more. The extension of time is from March 1, 1937.

Permitting counties to acquire title to real estate offered at tax sale and not disposed of for want of bidders, a bill has been introduced by Senator Gantz of Alliance. Present law does not give counties the right to purchase real estate at tax sales. In event real estate offered for sale is not sold, the bill would permit the county to acquire title for the amount of taxes due. Confirmation of the sale to the county would be withheld two years and in that period, the real estate owners or other parties with equities could redeem the holdings. The law is patterned after those effective in Wyoming and Montana. Counties can lease the real estate only after acquiring it, and no authority thru the proposed measure is given the county to sell.

Within the confines of a capital building costing $11,000,000 and housing one of the unique experiments in government in a century is to be found a most obsolete bookkeeping system, according to State Accountant W. H. Pansing who finished an audit of the land commissioner's office. The check-up made at the request of Governor Cochran brought the comment from the auditor. The report will be discussed at the next board meeting and out of it may come some sort of remedial legislation.

Omaha's mayor Butler refused to sign a petition to the legislature asking it to pass a law increasing the pay of Omaha city firemen and policemen. The men circulating the petition are going over the heads of the Omaha city council in their zeal for more money, explained Butler.

Corrective measures in connection with his budget message were sent to the senators in the form of a letter by Governor Cochran. Senators agreed a letter would not suffice and sent it back to the governor. It was returned to the august body with the words "supplementary budget message" written across the top, presumably in the handwriting of the governor. The senate accepted it.

A state tax levied proportionately on counties for care of patients in state hospitals was favored by the senate. A bill would place the burden upon individual counties and Governor Cochran, in a radio talk, warned that a new tax of state nature would result if this was not adhered to. However it became apparent the senate would go counterwise of Cochran's wishes in the matter. Some declared it was a victory for small counties over big ones.

Hot Loup Valley Conference Tourney At Loup City Next Week Is Predicted

Ord, Dannebrog, St. Paul Loom As Favorites; First Games Tuesday.

With all of the Loup Valley high schools boasting exceptionally fine basketball teams this year, some red hot contests are expected to take place in the annual Loup Valley tournament which will get under way at Loup City next Tuesday, Febr. 16.

All games will be played in the new Loup City gymnasium, just completed this year. A little different than the usual Loup Valley tournaments, the tourney this year will last three days instead of two. After the first three elimination rounds which will be played Tuesday afternoon, all of the remaining games will be played at night.

Three Quints Favored. Three of the eleven schools who will participate in the tourney are figured as "tops" by the fans and are being given odds in selecting first and second place winners. Dannebrog and Ord appear as about equal in power, and St. Paul is considered as good as either of them if they are able to appear at full strength.

Coach Brockman's Ord high crew, which has marched through eight games with only one defeat, and that at the hands of the Hastings quint, is considered as one of the "sure" teams to play in the latter end of the tournament.

Dannebrog has a season's record with even more wins than that of the Chanticleers and unless some dark horse team turns the tables on them, will undoubtedly appear in the semi-finals.

May Be "Dark Horses". There are several other outstanding basketball teams in the Loup Valley region which will give the supposedly "top" teams more than a little trouble before the tourney comes to a close.

North Loup high school under the tutelage of Coach Willis has been going places in a big way this season and have a long string of victories behind them.

Sargent high has bounced along through the season, shining brightly in one game and looking very dull in another, but they are known to all who have played them as an excellent passing team.

Comstock has a team this year which is not to be sneezed at; throughout the season they have played a fine brand of basketball and are known to have a very deadly clicking combination. The Comstock team is made up of tall rangy players who are nearly all veterans at the game.

Ord Meets Sargent. Coach Brockman's squad has a tough one in the very first game of the tournament, when they are slated to meet Coach Copeland's Sargent high team. If the Sargent team puts up as tough a fight against the Redshirts in their tournament game as they did in their seasonal game the outcome will be very doubtful.

The Ord-Sargent match starts the tournament off, this game taking place at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Dannebrog plays Scotia in the second game of the tourney and is expected to dispense with the Tigers with ease. St. Paul also plays in the first set of games Tuesday afternoon, the Apostles meeting the Burwell quint at three o'clock. The Apostles will undoubtedly zoom over the Wranglers without sapping much of their strength.

In the second round of games to be played Tuesday evening the winner of the Ord-Sargent clash will meet the Arcadia team, this game being scheduled for seven o'clock. Assuming that Dannebrog will win over Scotia, Dannebrog will play in the second game of the evening, meeting the strong Comstock five. North Loup will play Taylor in the third game of the evening, this marking the first appearance of either team in the tournament, both teams having drawn first round byes. In the final game Tuesday night, which will be played at nine o'clock, the winner of the St. Paul-Burwell game will meet Loup City.

Trophies Will be Awarded. Following the usual custom, trophies for both the Loup Valley football and basketball champions will be awarded immediately after the championship game which will start at nine o'clock Thursday night.

A trophy will also be awarded this year by the Loup Valley association to the winner of the free throwing contest which will take place at various times through the entire tournament.

Hendrickson of Broken Bow, one of the best known referees in Central Nebraska, has been secured to act as referee for the entire tournament.

Here's the Trophy Won at Ravenna

Say, isn't this a hum-dinger? This is the silver trophy that the Ord junior high battled their way through a tournament to win. Fans are only hoping that the Ord senior high team can bring home the bacon in similar fashion next week as they play in the Loup Valley tourney.

Hastings Snapped Ord's Win Streak With 35-19 Verdict

Chanticleers Ahead Thru 1st Half, Then Faded; Clark Was Ord Star.

After holding the Hastings Tigers even for the first half Friday night the Ord Chanticleers faded to let the Adams county quint romp home to a 35 to 19 victory. During the final half the sum total of Ord's scoring was a single free throw.

With this hard-to-take defeat, the Ord Chanticleers had their winning streak come to an abrupt halt at seven wins. With the Ord scalp tucked under their belt the Thomas coached crew increased their win record to nine straight.

Ord Leads First Half. During the first half the Ord quintet played a game of basketball that looked better than that of the Hastings five. Coach Thomas started his second team, which the Chanticleers did away with by tossing in six points inside of three minutes. Before the quarter was over the Hastings first team was in the game and had brought the score up to a close 8 to 7 decision with Ord in the lead.

The second period was another quarter of the same caliber as the first, the Chanticleer team playing a superior brand of ball to trawl only one point behind the Tommyites at the half, Hastings having a 19-18 edge.

Then Chanticleers Wilted. Ord fans' dreams of a county, district and possibly state championship team were blown away in a hurry as the second half started. Ord's inspiration, pep, and even their shooting eyes were gone. The Chanticleer offensive wilted and only stubborn determination upon the parts of each of the team members, saved the Tigers from mounting the score into box car figures. In the final quarter the Chanticleer offense acted several times like it might be ready to start again but failed to materialize.

Clark Gets Hot. Clark and Barta with five points each, followed by Tunnicliff and Zulkoski with four points each did the Ord scoring. Haskell failed to show a thing and after receiving three fouls remained on the bench for a good part of the game. Clark brought the crowd to its feet with a couple of court-long loops.

The combination of Tunnicliff-Zulkoski, forwards; Barta, center; and Clark-Hughes, guards seemed to work the best for the Chanticleers and played the greater share of the game, Haskell and Zikmund being the only Ord men to see action against the Tigers. Helms and Hopp paced the Tommyites with four and five sinkers each. Taylor was held to one free shot.

A very large crowd witnessed the Ord-Hastings clash despite the bad weather, the school auditorium being packed to capacity. The Ord band, 50 strong, furnished music for the occasion.

Ord-Ansley Clash Feature Friday Eve
In their last game before the Loup Valley tournament next week the Chanticleers meet Ansley high on the Ord floor tomorrow night.

Eight lettermen are members of Coach Charley Foster's Ansley high basketball squad this year, and the Ansley crew have chalked up a nice record. Ansley boasts a powerful defense which when set is almost impossible to break through. Patterson at forward for the Ansleyites, is the "hot shot" and biggest scorer. Last week Sargent had a little trouble with the Ansley team finally coming through to win by a narrow 18 to 14 verdict.

The Ord second team will meet the Ansley seconds in a preliminary game.

GET A BATTERY THAT'S A REAL POWER HOUSE

Battery design has changed as much as car design in the last 5 years. Don't try to run a car in 1936 on a battery built for the needs of 1930. Get a genuine Ford battery instead—a real power plant for your car, with the big reserve capacity today's driving requires. You'll have the power for quick starts on cold mornings, and bright lights at night. No matter if you have a radio, a heater, and all the other electrical equipment that's so popular nowadays, the Ford battery will take care of all the load, and still have plenty of capacity left. You can't judge a battery by the case—it's what's inside that counts. Get a Ford battery for your car or truck—and know that you're getting a real power plant!

FORD BATTERIES—Three sizes—13, 15, and 17 plate. True Ford quality. Plenty of power for quick starting and radio and other electrical accessories.

Junior High Team Cops Ravenna Meet, Win Silver Trophy

Ord junior high, pouring a 25 to 19 win on Ravenna, swept through the finals of the Ravenna Junior high invitational basketball tournament held last Friday and Saturday. The Ord cagers, as champions, won the large silver tournament trophy while the Ravenna hoopsters were awarded the tournament ball.

This tournament was the first of its kind in this section of the state and it is hoped that these junior high school youngsters may develop into athletes who can adequately represent their high schools in a couple more years. Many of the teams were handicapped by a great variation in the size of team members.

In the first game of the tournament, the Ordites met Loup City Friday night. Henry Misko ran wild in this game to push his team on to a 36 to 29 score. It was in the second game that the Ord cagers got their real test, meeting the Mason City quint, which was one of the best teams in the tournament in spite of the fact they rated only third place. Carlsen, flashy little Ord forward, did some deadly free throwing in this game, which gave the game to the Ordites by a narrow 25 to 24 verdict. In this contest Carlsen sank five free throws and two field goals for 9 points, while Hurlbert swished through 4 field goals to follow behind Carlsen with 8 counters. After getting away to a nice 13-5 lead at the half of the final Ord-Ravenna clash the Ord team took it easy to slide in a decisive 25 to 19 win.

Mason City trounced Cairo 27 to 6 to win third place honors in the tournament. Gothenburg Juniors won consolation honors by whipping Loup City 17-11 and trouncing Litchfield 16 to 10 after losing their first game in the preliminary round. A figure trophy was awarded for consolation honors.

Boys who make up the championship Ord squad this year are Arthur Carlsen, forward; Henry Misko, forward; Ray Hurlbert, center; Richard Plskorski, guard; Dean Misko, guard; Robert Tunnicliff, forward; and Clifford Barnes, guard. This group was under the direction of Frank Lee this year and are to be congratulated on their fine showing in the Ravenna tournament. The junior high team, like the regular varsity squad, usually holds workouts every night of the week, all members obey training rules and all conduct themselves in commendable manner.

Coach Willis Promoted.
W. W. Willis, principal and coach of the North Loup schools for the past year, was elected last week to replace W. D. Bailey as superintendent. Mr. Bailey has served eleven years at the North Loup schools, first holding a position as coach, later as principal and for the past several years as superintendent.

Obituary
John Oakley Bouma was born in Custer county, Nebraska, October 27, 1918 and departed this life at the Ord hospital January 26, 1937. In 1928 his parents moved from Custer county to the Bouma farm north of Arcadia, where they still reside. John had his schooling in rural schools of Custer and Valley counties. He began working full time with his father on the home farm in 1934 learning the lesson of hard work.

John loved music and was good at learning to play several instruments. Though quiet and unassuming, he was popular among his many friends.

Those who mourn his untimely death are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riemer Bouma, his sisters, Irene and Evelyn, his grandmothers, Mrs. Jake VanWieren of Arcadia and Mrs. Tom Travers of Broken Bow, aunts, uncles, cousins, other relatives, and many friends.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

There are several ways of determining sex in newly hatched baby chicks. The simplest method is one limited to Rhode Island Reds. Female chicks of this breed show black spots and stripes. The males lack such markings.

Sex differences can also be obtained by cross-breeding. Rhode Island Red cocks crossed with Barred Rock hens produce chicks having different colored shanks. The young pullets come with black shanks, while the little roosters show legs of yellow and white spots on their heads.

Another cross is one in which the male is a Rhode Island Red or from a buff variety, and the females may be light colored Wyandottes, Rocks, or Brahmas. Female chicks from this cross are brown in color, while the males are white. It is known as the "gold-silver" cross.

A third type of cross is based on differences in rates of feathering. For example, a White Leghorn male is crossed with hens of American, Asiatic or Orpington breeds. The female offspring hatch with larger wing feathers than the males.

Cross-bred chicks are called sex-linked birds. These hybrids possess several advantages over their pure bred parents. They grow faster, and die less frequently. Some of them, especially the Leghorn-Red crosses, are superior layers. But cross-bred birds should never be used for further breeding or mongrels will result.

Purebred sexed chicks are now sold by many hatcheries. These firms employ experts trained by Japanese scientists, who discovered the phallic system in 1925. Phallic knobs are present in day-old cockerels, while the females generally have none.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee of Gresden, N. D., arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lee Friday for a few days visit. Mrs. Lee was formerly Anna Arndt. She states her father is well and in good health for a man 79 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hollingshead were guests of his mother. Mrs. J. H. Hollingshead in Ord Sunday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jess Casteel who were there from Long Pine, Nebr.

Mrs. Christine O'Connor entertained Miss Virginia Lutz and Milton O'Connor at Sunday dinner, in honor of Milton who is leaving for Oregon Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kayler of Wisner, Nebr., visited Mrs. O'Connor Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cantrall who have occupied rooms with Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Woods the past few months, moved Tuesday to rooms in Mrs. O'Connor's house.

A farewell party of friends and neighbors assembled at the L. P. Fenster home Wednesday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Braden. Mr. and Mrs. John Ingraham, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Fenster and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jameson and their families who are all moving soon. A basket dinner was enjoyed at noon and a social and neighborly afternoon was enjoyed. There were about 50 present who have been neighbors and friends for years and these severed ties cause heart aches as the happy hours spent together are reviewed.

LOCAL NEWS

J. L. Pearl of Burwell is a new member of the big Quiz family. O. M. Whitford has just added his name to the Quiz family of readers. You are going to need a record book to take care of your Social Security reports. $1.25 and $4 at the Quiz. W. E. Rice of Burwell tells of breaking an old sow from eating chickens by putting a snapping turtle in the pen. It worked. Frank L. Sevenker, who now lives on R2, added his name to our list Friday. Mr. Sevenker is going to move to R3 March 1. A. F. Black of Axtell, Nebr., was an Ord visitor Friday and visited this office long enough to subscribe for the Quiz. Mr. Black has a ranch near Burwell. Mrs. Donald Brennick writes to have her copy of the Quiz changed from Snohomish, Wash., to Granite Falls, that state, where they are now living. In three months the Gering Courier will celebrate its golden jubilee, as will also the city of Gering. The editor, A. B. Wood is one of the best known newspaper men of Nebraska. Otto Dudschus, for years deputy state sheriff, is now sales representative for the Ranney Safety company, makers of highway markers. Mr. Dudschus is well known in Ord and Burwell, where he formerly lived. Herman J. Becker of near Primrose, Greeley, Colo., died following an operation at the Albion hospital. He was 37 years of age and is survived by his widow and 7 children, the oldest 14 years of age. He died Monday. The parents of Mrs. R. S. Cram of Burwell have bought the Fenner property in Burwell just across from the Dr. Cram property, and plan to move from Ravenna to Burwell in May. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ronzo and son Virgil and wife are back from Nampa, Ida., where they went two weeks ago intending to locate. They found it too cold to make any definite arrangements. Ralph Grunkemeyer of Louisville, Colo., returned to his home from Burwell Wednesday of last week. He had been there to attend the funeral of his grandfather, J. L. Jenkins. In a letter from R. Evelyn Alvord, D. O. she encloses check for renewal of the Quiz to her father, W. M. Alvord, at Adrian, Mo. Dr. Alvord is president of the Kentucky Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, the offices being located in Lexington, Ky. Joy Schuyler, NERA representative in Phelps county with headquarters at Holdrege, is now assistant director for Gosper county. She will continue to handle her former work in Phelps county. Her headquarters will be at Elmwood, but she will go to Holdrege once per week. Miss Schuyler's home is in Burwell, where she formerly was employed in the relief work. Bill Grabowski of Eureka township was in Thursday and did not learn of the Weekes hospital fire until he got to town. He was especially interested, because his wife is the former Ella Coder, who was cook at the Weekes hospital from 1924 to 1929. The writer was in error in reporting that Frank Gifford might go west later. He has no intention of going at the present time, which news should be very gratifying to his many friends here. Rev. Frank A. Lenz of Kearney was in Mira Valley last week and while there conducted the quarterly conference at the Mira Valley Evangelical church. Rev. Lenz lived for many years in Mira Valley and is a brother of Ed Lenz, Mrs. A. J. Cook and Mrs. Herman Koelling. A community sale was held on the lots near the northwest corner of the square Saturday, this being the first that has been attempted this year on account of the cold weather. The day was rather cold for a sale, but there was a good attendance, and the offering brought a fair price. At the sale ring of the Ord Livestock Market Saturday 150 head of cattle were offered, and the bidding was brisk. The attendance was good and the owners are well pleased with the way the customers attended and the prices they paid. With the coming of fair weather in a few weeks, they expect even better crowds and better prices. County Clerk Satterfield of Taylor was the lucky man who got the contract for making out the abstracts for all parcels of land through which the irrigation ditches will pass in Loup county. It is understood that he is busy on the job at the present time. O. W. Taylor and John Wallace of Burwell were in Ord Thursday and called at the Quiz office. Mr. Taylor needs no introduction to old timers, and he was well known in Ord many years ago. Perhaps some of you recall the time he took the place of a visiting aeronaut and made a balloon ascension in Ord. Mr. Wallace is a brother of D. A. Wallace, who bought the Maddox ranch in Garfield county and the DeLashmuth ranch in Loup county early last December. Attorney Charles C. Larsen, for many years of Loup county, during which time he served as representative one term was chosen by the Howard county commissioners as successor to the late Peter Hansen, county judge of Howard county for two terms and elected for a third. Mr. Larsen also resided in Hastings for a number of years, and was admitted to the bar from that city. He has been acting judge since Nov. 16.

Coach 'Biff' Jones Arrives Febr. 15th

COACH A. M. "BIFF" JONES

Lincoln, Nebr.—Meet Coach L. M. "Biff" Jones of the University of Nebraska. The new Cornhusker coach, long an outstanding figure in national football circles, will arrive in Lincoln Febr. 15 to take over the reins of the University athletic department formerly held by D. X. Bible, who has departed for Texas. Tackle, captain and star of Army football before he entered the coaching ranks, "Biff" Jones was on the West Point coaching staff for 10 years. Six years he was a first assistant and for four years he was head coach of the Cadets. It was during his third year at West Point that his team led by the famous "Red" Cagle defeated Nebraska, 13-3, at West Point. When army regulations forced him to relinquish the coaching rein at the United States Military Academy, he continued in the service but found time to keep in close touch with intercollegiate athletics. Along with his military duties at Louisiana State he coached the Tigers through three brilliant seasons. During his second year his team was undefeated. It was during the last season that Jones returned to the national spotlight by telling the late Huey Long, Louisiana dictator, in plain-spoken words that the politician could not talk to the state team between halves. After leaving Louisiana State he devoted full attention to military duties but was drafted by the University of Oklahoma in 1935 to help settle the Sooner athletic problems as well as direct O. U. football. His appearance on the Norman campus was a signal for a boom in Oklahoma enthusiasm and his teams in addition to being successful were a colorful contribution to Big Six football. The "Biffer" teaches the popular double and single wingback style and stresses the running as well as the aerial game. His teams always have been noted for the powerful running attack while during his two years at Oklahoma an aerial threat was developed which made the Sooners a team feared by all opponents. He is a major (retired) with the U. S. field artillery. During the war he was a first lieutenant with the 85th aero squadron. Mrs. Besse Achen says she can't be without the Quiz and added her name to the list this week. The Methodist ladies are having a church supper and bazaar Saturday, Febr. 27 in the church basement. During the month of February services are being held in the Mira Valley Evangelical church on Sunday afternoons. Sunday school will start at 1:30, church service at 2:30, and league at 3:30. This arrangement is planned for February only. State Fire Marshal Horace M. Davis was in Ord Saturday shaking hands with old friends. He went on to North Loup to visit his mother and other relatives and friends. He had to get back to work in the office Monday. Irma Kokes of Ord, who is a senior at Doane college registered for the following classes at the beginning of the new semester: History of art, art in nature, geology, American history and mental hygiene. Richard, small son of Joe Kussek of Elyria was brought to the Ord hospital Saturday suffering from acute appendicitis. An operation was performed that day, and he is now resting easily and recovering rapidly. Dr. Floyd Collins, of Scottsbluff, Nebr., was here the past week to attend the funeral of his brother, Lynn. He remained only a day or two, as his practice there required his attention. Anton Beran who is working for the state highway department as traffic surveyor arrived in Ord Saturday and visited with his mother, Mrs. Mary Beran until Sunday. His work is checking the number of cars to pass over a given highway during a certain period of time, and also to weigh trucks for the same period to get the total tonnage passing over the road. He is working at night, and goes from here to Alliance. George Clark, brother of R. J. Clark, and his daughter, Mrs. Lila Carroll, of Custer, S. D. arrived in Ord Sunday forenoon, to be here for the funeral services of Mrs. Clark Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Clark of Frederick, Colo., and son Don and daughter Roberta arrived Sunday for the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Clark. The youngest son, Bernard was unable to come because of the serious condition of his wife, who underwent an operation in a Boulder, Colo., hospital last Tuesday.

J. P. Barta was in Omaha most of last week in the offices of the Farm Credit Administration. He also spent a part of the time in Norfolk and vicinity. He expects to be called to Omaha again some time this week. William H. Jackson, old time photographer, of Gering, Nebr., now 93 years of age, has been signally honored by the U. S. government. He has been commissioned to paint a series of western scenes for the new interior building at Washington, D. C. He is an artist of note, and also the author of the book, "The Pioneer Photographer." Mrs. Alyce Manchester is there now assisting with the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Plock called at Ross Williams' Sunday afternoon and at Roy Williams' Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack VanCleave of Sumter spent Monday evening at Harry Plock's.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cruzan called at Mike Whalen's Thursday afternoon.

Gerald and Leonard Manchester spent Wednesday at Will Naeve's.

Roy Cruzan ate dinner with Nick Whalen Saturday.

The community program at the school house Tuesday night was not very well attended although a good program was held.

After the program most of the crowd went to the home of Lloyd Manchester's for a farwell and surprise dance. Charley Ottos furnishing the music. The Manchesters were not at home, but were expected most any time.

They did not show up as they spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner of North Loup. So Mr. and Mrs. Don Horner acted as hosts, and an enjoyable evening was spent and lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Manchester will be greatly missed in this community as they were always active in the Sunday school and community work.

Irl Tolen went to Carl Oliver's home Friday to spend a few days and from there he will go to the Spencer Waterman home and to see Leonard at the Ed Pocock home.

Mike Whalen has not been feeling so well lately and Thursday morning he had a bad nose bleed which lasted two hours. He is feeling better but very weak.

Mr. and Mrs. Naeve had a letter from Pauline VanKleeck, Longview, Wash., saying they were all well and that Paul, Billie and Pauline had work.

Lloyd and Leonard Manchester and Wester Naeve got started back to their school work at Kansas City about 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whalen spent Friday in Greeley visiting relatives.

Ross Williams helped Don Horner fill his ice house Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Williams and children visited with Mrs. Horner.

The U. R. club met Friday for another all day meeting at Jessie Wright's. After all had done justice to the big covered dish luncheon the president, Dora Rich, called the meeting to order.

A short business meeting was conducted, some plans were made for taking part in the inter-county contest to be held in North Loup, probably in March.

Ruth Haught was elected to fill the vacancy of project leader. Helga Nelson is holding the office now but is moving the first of next month to another community. The project leader conducted a very interesting lesson on "Shortening the working hours," and "The Home Business Center." The club adjourned to meet with Gladys White Feb. 18th, for an all day meeting.

Ag Experimental Station in Valley Proposed In Bill

$20,000 Appropriation Asked By Bill Introduced By Tracy Frost Friday.

A $20,000 appropriation from state funds for the purpose of establishing a state-federal agricultural experiment station in the North Loup valley is sought in a bill introduced Friday in the unicameral legislature at Lincoln by Senator Tracy T. Frost, who represents this district. He introduced the bill upon the request of the Ord chamber of commerce, the Wranglers club of Burwell and the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District.

Official purpose of the bill, as set forth in the title, is "to provide for the carrying on of experiments in agriculture, horticulture and especially growing finishing feeds for livestock under irrigation."

The bill provides that this farm must be located within the limits of the North Loup district.

Seven of the nine members of the unicameral committee on agriculture signed the bill with Senator Frost.

Dean Burr Helpful.

Last week a delegation composed of John P. Misko, president of the Ord chamber of commerce, E. H. Dunmire, irrigation project manager, Roy W. Hudson, project president, Roy C. Bailey, Carl Dale and Dwight Keyes drove to Lincoln for a conference with W. W. Burr, dean of the Nebraska college of agriculture, relative to this bill.

Ord and Burwell organizations had learned previously, through correspondence with S. L. McCrory, of the federal department of agriculture, that establishment

John R. Sharp, 81, Died Tuesday; Was Pioneer Ranchman

Came Here in 1883 and Was Respected by All; Kindness, Honesty Known.

John Randolph Sharp was born in Pocahontas county, Va., Aug. 17, 1855. This was a part of Virginia that separated from the rest during the Civil war and formed the state of West Virginia. He lived there until the year 1882, when he came to Lincoln, where he lived a year, coming to Valley county in 1883.

He immediately went into the farming and ranching business on the farm about two miles west of the Brace school, where he spent the greater part of his life. He was married March 24, 1885, to Flora McEachran, of Lincoln. To this union eight children were born, six of whom survive. They are Reese J. Sharp of Kansas City, Mrs. Margaret Rashaw and Mrs. Kathryn Long, of Ord, John R. Jr., who passed away March 11, 1936, Mrs. Helen McNeil and Edwina Smith of San Francisco, Mrs. Ruth Madron of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. Frances Callahan, who died Aug. 21, 1931.

Mr. Sharp remained on the ranch until 1915, when the family moved back to the old home place.

Here Mrs. Sharp passed away Oct. 25, 1917. A year later he moved back to the ranch, where he lived for 7 years. He then moved into Garfield county for four years.

He lived for a year near North Loup, four years in Mira Valley and another three years near North Loup. He moved to Ord last fall.

For the past sixteen years Mr. Sharp's daughter Kathryn has made her home with him and looked after his household. For the past six years he has been partially paralyzed and unable to walk. A final stroke of paralysis caused his death at 4:00 a. m. Tuesday, Feb. 16, at the age of 81 years, 5 months and 29 days. In addition to the children already mentioned he leaves 15 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

John R. Sharp had one crowning virtue, his unswerving honesty, and one weakness, the willingness to help any one in time of trouble, whether deserving or not. No one was ever turned away from his door hungry, and no one saw a favor ungranted. A few years ago his passing would have meant much to a large number of people. Today those who knew him best are few, but their sorrow is none the less sincere.

The funeral services will be held from Sowl's chapel Thursday afternoon at 2:00 in charge of Rev. Merrill C. Smith, of the Methodist church, and burial will be made in the Ord cemetery.

Burwell Cow Drops Triplet Calves, 2 Are Living

A cow owned by Aldrich Jankeck, whose farm is near Burwell, recently dropped three calves, a very unusual occurrence. All of the triplets were alive when born but one lived only a few moments. The remaining "trips" are active, healthy animals.

Dr. A. J. Ferguson, Ord veterinarian, says this is the second set of triplet calves he has seen in his many years of experience.

Leonard Furtak Is Sentenced To 'Pen' On Theft Charges

Ord Barber Stole Grain, Coal, Money; Will Serve In State Prison.

Leonard Furtak, Ord barber, was arrested Wednesday evening at the instance of Emil Kokes, who reported that someone had been in his yard while he was in town. His suspicions were aroused when he saw lights of a car in the yard, and when the car passed him just after reaching the main road, he took down the number. The authorities found it to be Furtak's car. They found it parked near the barber shop, with about twenty bushels of rye in sacks in the back seat, and a bushel basket and a scoop with which he had filled the sacks.

When charged with the theft he told conflicting stories, but finally decided to tell the full truth when convinced that the evidence was overwhelmingly against him. Saturday he waived preliminary hearing was arraigned before District Judge E. P. Clements, and entered a plea of guilty, as charged. Sunday Sheriff Round and E. C. James took him to Lancaster where he started serving a 1 to 3 year sentence at once.

Said He Speculated. Among the different thefts with which Furtak admitted guilt was the stealing and selling of $284.00 worth of grain of all kinds at different times and sold to the Western Seed company, telling them that he had taken in the grain for settlement of barber bills. As the amount was not excessive at any one time, it was natural to figure he was telling the truth. When the amount of grain was large he told them that he was speculating a little.

He admitted breaking into the Benda clothing store and taking therefrom two suits of clothing. He also admitted taking money from Stanley Golka on an occasion when he was out there overnight. Further, he stated that he had taken coal from the Sack Lumber and Coal company on a number of occasions, the largest amount being ten sacks. These various deceptions began about two years ago, and were apparently brought about by his desire for liquor and his need of money to pay for it.

The day after Furtak's arrest Sheriff Round seized equipment of his barber shop for taxes. Tuesday Mrs. Joe Beranek, mother of Mrs. Furtak, paid the delinquent taxes and the shop is to reopen at once.

—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Abernethy of Lincoln were Ord visitors from Friday until Sunday.

—The pep band went over to Loup City Wednesday evening to encourage the Ord high basketball team in their tussle with Dannebrog.

—Mrs. Ed Holloway was called to Grant Thursday by news of the serious illness of her sister, Emma Burkey. She is still very ill, her trouble being poisoning from the after effects of flu.

—Mrs. C. A. Schrader went to Grand Island with Ed Mauer, who made the trip to Hastings Wednesday. From there she was going to Seward to visit relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Schooley of Wood River were visiting Mrs. Tom Goff Sunday. Mrs. Schooley is the mother of Mr. Goff.

—C. D. Wardrop returned Saturday evening from Omaha, where he had spent most of the week in attendance at the regional convention of Gamble store owners and Gamble agency store owners. He says there was an attendance of 550, coming from the states of Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

The founders of the organization were present from the head offices in Minneapolis. There is now a total of 1270 Gamble stores.

Toy Cannon Blast Hurts Mrsny Boy

Young Philip Mrsny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mrsny, suffered a very painful accident Saturday at his home on Davis Creek when a toy cannon he was playing with exploded, severely mangled his hand and cutting his leg. The young man had made himself a toy cannon and was loading it with blasting powder, tamping the powder into the cannon. To make a bigger noise he gave it an extra tamp and the cannon exploded. A large amount of the powder and a piece of metal went into his hand, and a piece of metal went into his leg cutting it quite badly. The boy was taken to the hospital at Ord and the wounds dressed. At present he seems to be getting along rapidly, and the wounds are not as bad as was at first expected.

Ord Has Largest League Delegation

The Ord Epworth League had the largest delegation at the mid-winter institute held in North Loup Saturday. There were 15 paid registrations, besides the older people who went as sponsors, Mrs. Stanley Gross, Mrs. Merrill C. Smith, and Rev. Smith.

The Ord League won the prize for earning the largest number of certificates, 15. The Arcadia League was second with 10. The Loup City League won the prize for travelling the most miles to the Institute. Both prizes were large boxes of candy.

Cecil Clark Will Succeed Shirley As Ord Fire Chief

Bud Is Put on Retired List After 40 Year As Chief; Clark Experienced.

At the regular meeting of the Ord fire department Friday evening A. J. Shirley, fire chief of nearly forty years, was placed on the honorary retired list, and Cecil Clark, assistant chief for nearly ten years, was advanced to the position of chief.

Fire Chief Clark is by no means a youngster in point of service, as he first joined the Ord department in January, 1912, and has been on the active list ever since. He has held positions of responsibility and trust most of the time he has been a member. He has been assistant chief nearly ten years, and president of the organization about the same length of time. He is known as an efficient and capable man and citizens express satisfaction because of his selection to this responsible position.

A fireman since 1888, A. J. Shirley, retiring chief, has made a record in Ord that is probably unequalled anywhere. He has been connected with the Ord fire department in some capacity almost since its organization in 1888, and the fact that he has been kept at the head of the fire department far past the age at which most men retire from active duty is a tribute to the esteem in which he has always been held by the men who worked under him.

Some time about the turn of the century Bud was first elected chief, and since that time his reelection was considered a matter of routine. Not only was he identified with the fire department, but he served the city in so many different capacities in his long and eventful career in Ord that his story will be the subject of a special article in the Quiz in an issue of the near future. Watch for it.

Auto Parts Dealer Opens Store Here

An auto parts dealer from Kearney has rented the north half of the building in which C. A. Hager and Co., is located, and will open an auto parts store there, according to information received Wednesday. The manager, L. Kuebler, is expected momentarily and it is expected that the store will open within a week or ten days. The man called up from Kearney Tuesday evening and said that they would take the building.

Sales Next Week. The list of sales for next week includes Frank Wigent, Feb. 22; Hager and Ollis, Feb. 23; Joe Gross and Sol Brox, separate sales, on Feb. 24; Ed Green, Feb. 25, and Cash Greenwalt, Feb. 26.

—R. J. Clark and his brother George went to Burwell Tuesday to spend the day visiting at the Dr. E. D. Thurston home.

Gas Company Will Seek Franchise To Sell Natural Gas

Would Install Pipe Line To Ord in Spring, Start Service By Fall.

H. L. Lee, of Oxford, a representative of the Ak-Sar-Ben Natural Gas company, a Nebraska corporation operated as a subsidiary of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas pipe line companies, was in Ord Friday interviewing Mayor Gould B. Flagg, City Attorney Ralph W. Norman and city councilmen relative to securing a franchise to bring natural gas to Ord. He will return Feb. 25 to ask the council formally for such a franchise, he told the Quiz. The council will hold a special meeting on that date.

The Ak-Sar-Ben people now serve about 30 Nebraska towns, closest being Elm Creek. The expansion program for this summer calls for building of a pipe line loop from Elm Creek to St. Paul, up the valley to Ord, from this city to Broken Bow, and back to Ravenna and Elm Creek. Sixteen villages and cities will be given natural gas service by this line if the necessary franchises are granted, Mr. Lee says.

Would Protect City.

Franchise sought here is for a 25 year period and nothing is asked from the city except permission to use streets and alleys for its pipes, with suitable guarantees against possible damage.

Rates as set out in the franchise are as follows: First 500 cubic feet, 20c per 100; next 1500 cubic feet 15c per 100; next 1000 cubic feet 10c per 100; next 1000 cubic feet 60c per 1000; next 90,000 cubic feet 60c per 1000; next 100,000 cubic feet 40c per 1000; over 200,000 cubic feet, 35c per 1000.

His company is particularly anxious to secure a franchise in Ord, Mr. Lee says, because of the "boom" this city will receive with completion of the irrigation project. Piping of natural gas to Ord will benefit this city because it will attract industrial development such as alfalfa mills, tile factories and other manufacturers who use natural gas in large quantities, he believes.

Provide Much Labor.

This is the first time in five years that natural gas has been proposed for Ord. In 1932 the Nebraska Natural Gas company asked for a franchise here and, after submitting the matter to a vote at a special election which resulted in a majority favoring natural gas, the city council was prepared to grant the franchise. About that time the depression hit and all natural gas expansion programs were cancelled. With recovery, these programs are being resumed and Ord will be one of the first Nebraska cities to get natural gas if the city council grants a franchise.

About $25,000 will be spent in building his company's distributing system within the city limits of Ord alone, Mr. Lee claims, and considerable labor will be employed both on this and on the cross country pipe line.

City Attorney Norman is investigating the Ak-Sar-Ben company and studying the proposed franchise, preparatory to the franchise hearing before the city council on Feb. 25.

In County Court.

Walter Beck of Scotia was picked up by Officers Covert and Pay duke about one o'clock Tuesday morning, in an intoxicated condition. He entered a plea of not guilty, but was found guilty at the hearing Tuesday forenoon and fined $17.50 and costs, $11.05, which has not been paid as this is written, and he is a guest of the county.

Ping Pong Players Contest Next Week

Feb. 22 and 23 are the dates set for the elimination rounds of the Ord ping pong tournament. The contest for the championship will be played Feb. 25, the runner up being the alternate for the state tournament, which is scheduled for early in March. All who desire to enter these contests are urged to sign up at once. Cards for that purpose will be found at the K. of P. hall, the Johnson Bakery and the Ord high school. A small entry fee will be charged to defray necessary expenses. Full information will be given you when you sign the card.

Frank Potter Dies.

Mrs. Nancy Covert received word Tuesday morning that Frank Potter had passed away at Arnold, Neb. The Frank Potter family lived in this section a great many years, but moved to Arnold perhaps twenty years ago. The family will be remembered by the older residents. The funeral services will be held at Arnold.

Ord Doctor Shot Moose in Canada, Has Head Mounted As Office Trophy

Last week Dr. J. G. Krumi received from Taxidermist Storey, of Duluth, Minn., the mounted head of the moose he shot while on a Canadian hunting trip last October. The taxidermist did a splendid job, and the trophy leaves nothing to be desired. When the doctor tried to get it up the stairway into his offices he found that the doors were not wide enough. Luckily the north window was wider, and the trophy was hoisted through it by means of ropes. It now reposes on the west wall of the office, where it is a source of admiration to all visitors.

Dr. Krumi shot this elk while on a hunting trip in the Lake-of-the-Woods country in company with Dr. and Mrs. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. F. Kinman, all of Grand Island. He was the only one of the party who bagged a moose. They brought the meat home, and had moose-meat dinners at Grand Island and at Ord. Dr. Krumi says that the hunting fever gets in your blood when once you have tried your hand at big game, and he hopes to make another trip after moose some time in the future.

Irrigation Work To Move Rapidly When Frost Goes

Hundreds of Men Will Find Employment This Spring On No. Loup Project.

A promise that work on the North Loup project will proceed at a rapid pace as soon as frost leaves the ground this spring was made yesterday by E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager of the project, who confidently expects that several hundred men will be given employment when canal digging, tile making and dam construction start.

Only the Ord-North Loup canal is under construction at present and the contractors, Litwiler Bros., of Seward, were forced to stop work for weeks because of the extreme cold and deep drifts. They now have moved another big dragline here and will work two outfits with the intention of completing the canal with all speed.

Construction will start on other canal units this spring by the Edward W. Morgan Co., Inc., of Jackson, Miss., whose bid of $100,650 on 68 miles of canal was accepted by district officials and the PWA.

Contract Letting Febr. 26.

Next Friday, Feb. 26, another big contract letting will be held at the district's offices. Contract to be let will be for manufacturing cement tile and other cross drainage structures to be used throughout the district. A provision in the contract requires the successful bidder to manufacture all structures within the district, which will require much local labor.

Monday President Roy W. Hudson and Mr. Dunmire were in Lincoln attending a water right hearing. There will be no difficulty about the North Loup district's water right, they say.

Advance of more money from the Public Works Administration is expected daily by district officials. A resolution now before the finance division of the PWA will, when approved, release loan funds as well as grant funds for use by the district.

Red Cross To Hold Election Febr. 26th

Ten days official notice is being given that on February 26 at 7:30 p. m. the Valley county Red Cross will hold its annual meeting and election of officers. The meeting will be held in the office of John P. Misko, Mrs. Misko being the chairman for the past year. Other officers have been Horace Travis, treasurer, and Miss Marie Hall, secretary, who has resigned as she is moving at once to California.

All who paid their $1 and joined at roll call time in November are eligible to come and urged to attend this annual meeting.

The Red Cross in Ord has done a great deal in addition to routine work during the past year. At roll call time a new high was achieved in collections, under the direction of Mrs. Keith C. Lewis as chairman for this county. When flood relief funds were needed, $800 was donated, under the direction of Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, disaster chairman. Dr. J. G. Krumi has offered a free first aid course of instruction twice within the past year at Ord, and a first aid station has been established at Elyria, under the chairmanship of LeRoy Frazier.

76th Birthday In Bed.

Frank Travis has been ill with the flu for the past month. When his illness first started he was taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. L. Hill, where he has had the best of care. He is slowly recovering but is still in bed. He spent his 76th birthday in bed Feb. 15, and, strangely enough, he also spent his birthday in bed last year.

—Ben Janssen is slowly recovering from the flu and an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

—Mrs. Joe Rowbal is back in the cooking department of the Mauer cafe.

—John Lewis changed his location the past week, and is now to be found in the Johnson and Clausen barber shop on the south side of the square, where he will be glad to meet all his old friends, and new ones too. Your laundry will get the best of attention if you send it through John.

Chanticleers Must Beat Dannebrog To Cop Championship

Loup Valley Tournament Is On at Loup City; Sargent, Arcadia Beaten.

BY LAVERNE LAKIN.

Loup City—Febr. 17.—Coach Brockman's Ord high cagers staged a terrific fourth quarter rally Tuesday afternoon which netted them a total of 14 points as they won 21-16 over Sargent in the first round of the annual Loup Valley conference tournament. At the end of the third quarter Sargent was leading the Chanticleers by a wide 14-7 margin. During the first three quarters of the Ord-Sargent game, the Ordites did very little in the line of good basketball. Easy set-ups were missed continually. The score spree started when Clark came through with a court-long loop in the final minute of the third quarter. Tunnell immediately hooked in a short shot for another counter. This was all the Ord team needed. From then on it was a continuous string of field goals. Haskell and Tunnell led the scoring with 7 and 6 points respectively.

In the second round game, Ord had little difficulty in doing away with Arcadia, decisively Coach Tuning's lads with a 31-11 score. Coach Brockman, endeavoring to save the strength of his first five, used the second stringers at least half the game.

Two upsets marked the opening round of play in the Loup Valley tourney. Coach "Bullet" Brown's Loup City cagers provided the major upset by downing St. Paul with an 18-11 spanking. Taylor created a ripple of excitement as they trimmed the North Loup quintet 20-14.

Semi-finals will be played tonight, Ord meeting Dannebrog while Taylor takes on Loup City. The Dannebrog clash will be Ord's crucial test. If they get past this team, which is favored in the dope, they should cop championship honors Thursday with ease.

Tournament scores:
Ord 21, Sargent 16.
Dannebrog 29, Scotia 14.
St. Paul 26, Burwell 13.
Taylor 20, No. Loup 14.
Ord 31, Arcadia 11.
Dannebrog 19, Constock 13.
Loup City 18, St. Paul 11.

William Henry Bratt.
 William Henry Bratt was born in England, July 8, 1860 and passed away at his home in Arcadia Wednesday noon, February 10, 1937 at the age of 76 years, 5 months and 2 days. At the age of 23 he came to America, taking a homestead about 8 miles northwest of Arcadia, where he lived for several years. In later years he moved to Arcadia, where he resided. In 1905 he was employed in the John Wall general merchandise store until 1915 when the store was sold to Mr. Bradie where Mr. Bratt continued for a time. While he was entirely deaf he managed to be very popular with customers and efficient help.
 Mr. Bratt was a member of the Arcadia Odd Fellows lodge. His friends speak very highly of him. He was a familiar figure on the street with a friendly disposition. A friend remarked, he was a good man, he never had an enemy, there is nothing too good you can say of him.
 He has no relatives in America, but one sister in England.

Welte-Jensen.
 Miss Irene Welte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Welte, and Harding Jensen, son of Mrs. Len Richardson of Arcadia, were united in marriage Wednesday evening January 27, 1937, in Broken Bow. Rev. Father Justin officiating, using the double ring ceremony.
 The bride is a graduate of Broken Bow high school. For several years she has made Ansey her home, where she was a clerk in the J. Atkinson store, and the past six years has been employed at the K. Shada store. Mr. Jensen graduated from the Arcadia high school and has operated an oil station at Westerville the past year.
 Miss Della Higgins of Ord visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higgins in Arcadia Sunday.
 Iona Sawyer who was operated upon at the Miller hospital for appendicitis returned home a few days ago.
 Mrs. Bridget Fagan is confined to her bed with the flu since returning from Hastings where she received treatment for her eyes. The bandages have not been removed from her eyes. Mrs. Jung is caring for her at the home of Al Fagan.
 Ben Greenland took his wife to Omaha Tuesday where she is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rosenquist. She has been taking treatment from a doctor while away. Bert Sell accompanied them, returning home the same evening.

North Loup News
 50 Registered Saturday at Epworth League Meeting.
 A day long to be remembered by North Loup Epworth League members was last Saturday when they held their institute at the local M. E. church. The institute opened at 8:30 in the morning with Mrs. Gerald Clifton acting as registrar. The registration reached about 50 which is considered good, in view of prevailing sickness. Rev. W. H. Stephens of North Loup was the manager of the institute and Rev. M. C. Smith of Ord the dean. Towns included in this institute were Burwell, Ericson, Greeley, Ord, Arcadia, Loup City, North Loup, Scotia and Wolbach. From 9:00 to 9:30 there was a worship period conducted by Rev. J. B. Wyllie of Burwell and with Miss Phyllis Gordon in charge of the singing. The address of the morning was given by Dr. Paul Hillman, Supt. of the Kearney district. His subject was "The Callings of the Church."
 The Ladies Aid served lunch at noon after which Rev. W. C. George of Scotia conducted a short worship service. During the afternoon discussion groups were led by the following: Rev. G. M. Bing of Wolbach on Government Jobs, Rev. T. J. Sawyer of Greeley on the business world, Rev. Leo Hamilton of Ericson on the teaching profession and Rev. E. R. Peterson on Professional Careers.
 At 5:30 came the banquet which was laid for seventy-two. Rev. W. H. Stephens acted as toastmaster. Mary Frances Manchester had charge of the decorations and a short musical program. Both were planned in accordance with Valentine's Day. A profusion of Valentines and much red and white paper, candies, cellophane, etc., were used for a very beautiful effect. A large Valentine with a heart shaped opening was arranged for the musical numbers.
 Dr. B. Johansen, Supt. of the Hastings district gave the banquet address.
Colonel Corns Have a Fine Record.
 After dropping two games in the previous week the North Loup basketball team defeated the strong Taylor team here, Feb. 11. The first half was a riot with North Loup leading 19-4 at the bell. Several North Loup subs went into the game during the second half and with a safe lead the boys took things easy for the rest of the game. Final score 33-17. Manchester and Bartz of North Loup led in the scoring with 9 and 8 points respectively.
 Last Saturday night the local boys defeated Arcadia by a score of 43-18. Led by the sharp shooting of Bartz, the locals pounded their way to a 21-4 lead in the first half. Bartz scored 14 points and C. Anyas picked up 9 points for second place in the scoring.
 The North Loup reserves also came through with a win over the Taylor reserves 10-7, and the Arcadia 16-10. In winning these two games, Weed, Hoepner and Goodrich furnished the scoring power.
 In summarizing the season the record shows 7 victories and 2 defeats. North Loup defeated Ash-ton, Ericson, Scotia, Elba, Comstock, Taylor and Arcadia. Spalding and Dannebrog defeated the Colonel Corns. In nine games the team has a total of 327 points, for their opponents 186. Carroll Anyas, the center is the present high scorer having picked up 83 points in nine games. Everett Manchester, guard, is next with 62 points and Bartz, forward, has 61. Something DIFFERENT

Believe it or not, election bets are still being paid off.
 One prominent young abstractor of Ord . . . now who could that be . . . is still paying double for shaves and haircuts because he chose the wrong political horse to straddle last November, early.

From Minnesota comes word that snow drifts have covered the Ord cottages pretty well over, that Jimmy Luther walked across the roof of the Leggett kitchen on his snowshoes. The Leggett cottage is what would be called a story-and-a-half type in this country. The kitchen is a lofty one-story, so you see they do have drifts, and snow, and weather in Minnesota.

It is said that in Europe people never talk about the weather.
 What would we do in this country, if a law should suddenly be passed forbidding discussion of the weather?

Consideration of a fourth class of murder, one especially for killers who use an automobile for an instrument, seems to be needed.
 I suggest thirty days on bread and water in solitary confinement as a punishment. Or more. Time for meditation.
 Killing isn't like other stealing. A thief may replace money, may give back valuables, may work out losses. But a killer can never replace that life he took even though only his carelessness is to blame, and the deed was not deliberately done at all.

When a paragraph in this paper bears the words "the writer," I wish to state John Ward is speaking. No matter how bold his words, he hides under this violet-like title, "the writer."

A little four year old was being asked his name and repeated it in all seriousness several times. But he could not talk the plainest in the world, and though he tried hard to get the name over to his unknown admirer, she couldn't quite decide on the mysterious syllables that were the name of this tiny lad.
 It sounded like Bicealanhoag. Mrs. Hubbard, or "Mother Hubbard" as she calls herself to the children, was flabbergasted, asked the little boy again and again. He answered politely, but at last, patience exhausted, inquired: "Are you hard of hearing?" The place went up in roars of laughter.

—Mrs. Joe Rowbal and her little grandson, Billy Joe, came up from York Friday, where they had spent the week visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Earl Cummings. The latter is her daughter.

—The warm weather Friday made driving more or less hazardous. Joe Jirak got off the center of the road near the Olean school house and found it impossible to get out without help. He sent to Ord and had a wrecker come out to pull him back into the traveled road.

—Kathryn Keefe of Burwell came up from Grand Island where she has been working for some time, and will spend a few days visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Keefe. In about a week she expects to leave for Los Angeles, Calif.

—Mrs. Margaret Benson took her daughter Lorene back to the General hospital at Lincoln Saturday. The girl has been undergoing treatment there for some time, and is showing marked improvement.

—A regional meeting of county supervisors and county clerks was held in Grand Island Thursday. Ign. Kilma attended from Ord. The object of the meeting was to discuss impending legislation, with the purpose of commending whatever proposed laws appear to be beneficial to the counties.

—Bum Phillips of Burwell has an albino coyote which was caught in a trap a short time ago. He is trying to tame the animal, and is meeting with some success. It is pure white in color, with bright pink eyes, and has difficulty in seeing in bright sunlight. Albino coyotes are extremely rare, and Bum feels that he was very lucky to secure the animal alive.

—J. G. Dahlin was an Elyria passenger on the bus Saturday evening.

—Magnus Hansen, who has been over to Arcadia for the past two months, came back to Ord Saturday.

—Don Harmon of Ord is now in charge of the Texaco station in North Loup, taking charge a week ago. He is taking the place of Arthur Nass.

—Virgil Key was a passenger to Burwell on the bus Saturday morning, on a business mission and to visit relatives. He returned Sunday.

—Dorothy Dee Williams and Alice Black, both students in the University of Nebraska, came up on the bus Friday morning for a short visit with the C. J. Mortensens.

—Joe Hybl is still having trouble with his left eye, which was affected by an attack of the flu. He still has to wear a bandage over it and the strain is rather severe on the other eye. He is hoping to get the bandage off in another week.

—Lloyd Manchester was called from Lincoln by sickness in his family, who are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Horner in North Loup. He returned to his work in Kansas City, where he is taking a course in the body and fender works.

—Dr. W. J. Hemphill of North Loup is slowly recovering from an infection and earache on the right side of his head. With Dr. E. J. Smith of Burwell still out of the running with a broken leg, it appears that the doctors also have their share of trouble.

—Boyd Holloway slipped on the ice near the Bohemian hall Friday and fell, his hand coming in contact with a piece of a broken bottle, cutting a deep gash in the palm near the wrist. The cut narrowly escaped the tendon and the artery, and he lost a quantity of blood. Several stitches were taken to close the wound, which is healing nicely.

—The Kline oil transport of Bassett went off the west side of the grade on highway No. 11 at the turn north of the cemetery Saturday morning, the driver misjudging the turn because of the dust borne by the high northwest wind. He was unable to pull out under his own power, due to the danger of fire, as the tank was tipped at a dangerous angle and the gas was spilling down the side. He came to Ord and got the county caterpillar to go out and pull him back upon the grade.

What Young Ladies Drove 25 Years Ago

In this picture, taken some 25 years ago, is shown the correct thing in automobiles. It is not much to look at now, perhaps, but it was very much in style then. Note the right hand drive, the shift lever and brake outside the body, the old style honker, the prestolite tank on the running board, the funny little parking lights, one of which is missing. Note also the folding windshield, with braces to the front of the car, the fancy folding top, and the dingbat on the side to hold the spare tire. How many of you recognize the ladies?

—Ed Michalek of Ord went down to Omaha to attend the Golden Gloves boxing elimination held there last week.

—John R. Haskell came in on the evening bus Thursday. He had been to Hastings on a business mission.

—Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Brohm and baby were visitors in Ord Thursday. Rev. Brohm is the Lutheran minister at Burwell.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pearl were down from Burwell to visit her people, the C. A. Carlsons family. Dorothy Cass came down with them.

—Chris Worden and Roy Dye of Garfield county have been hauling baled hay through Ord the past week. They have an order of sixty tons to deliver to Schuyler, Nebr.

—Recent sales reported by Richtmyer and Butler, Ord Ford dealers, include a Ford pickup to Clarence Scherbeck of Ansley, and a Ford to Earl Leonard.

—Sharp and Son of Brookings, S. D. were in Ord Thursday with their outfit for making keys. Not necessary here, as the Burrows boys can make them, as good as the best.

—Mark (Tubby) Tolen was having a very interesting time Thursday afternoon when the snow was melting and the water running everywhere trying to sweep the water away from the back door of the postoffice and keep it from running into the building.

—Walter Desch, Ord monument man, is very busy these days. He has made a number of sales recently and has a shipment of monuments on the road. With the approach of spring his work always shows increasing activity, but the interest is greater than usual this year.

—The Methodist ladies are having a church supper and bazaar Saturday, March 6 in the church basement.

—Myrtle Benson who works in Grand Island came in on the bus Saturday for a visit with the home folks.

—John Mach, who lives southwest of Burwell, was a bus passenger to St. Paul Friday morning, where he will visit a brother and other relatives.

—Mrs. Mike Kaczka and her son Carl who live west of Ord returned from Grand Island Thursday evening. They had been there on business.

—The Ord Auto Sales company reports two recent sales: Joe Jirak bought a master coupe, special job, Saturday; Supt. C. C. Thompson bought a master deluxe sedan Thursday.

—Brayton McKinney of Burwell was returning Saturday evening from the big regional convention of Gamble store dealers and owners which was held in Omaha last week.

—Jane Pinder of the conservatory of music of Grand Island came up Thursday morning, returning Friday morning. She has a class of pupils in Ord and is making these trips each week.

—Ernest Weller, Atkinson auctioneer, was an over night visitor in Ord coming in from Rising City Thursday evening, where he had been on a business mission. He went on to Atkinson Friday. He is looking fine, and says that he has gained 15 pounds in the past few months.

—The daily papers report that Earl O. Peeler, circulation manager of the Grand Island Independent, well known all over this territory, was elected president of the Midwest Circulation Managers Association at their convention in Kansas City last week.

—Rev. Murray of Burwell spoke before the Grand Island district of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women at Grand Island on Tuesday afternoon last week. His subject was "The Register", a church publication.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Phillips of Burwell, daughters Mrs. Evelyn Olcott and Mrs. Raymond Simpson and her two children were in Ord on a pleasure and shopping trip Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Simpson lives at Valleyview.

—Ed Kull of Ord is building a garage on the lot of the cafe he owns in east St. Paul, known as John's Cafe. The buildings are to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nielsen. Mr. Nielsen will run a repair shop in connection with his business.

—Mrs. Joe Beran went down to North Loup Friday morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. Ign. Pokraka. From there, the ladies will drive over to Ashton to visit their son and brother, Joe Beran, Jr.

—John Parkhurst of Brady Island, Nebr., came up on the bus Sunday and went on to Burwell. His mother, Mrs. Julia Parkhurst, is having a sale on the farm near Burwell, Febr. 18, and he will help her get everything ready.

—You are going to need a record book to take care of your Social Security reports. $1.25 and $4 at the Quiz.

—John Mach returned Saturday evening from a short visit with his brother Louis at St. Paul, going on to his home near Burwell. He found his brother somewhat improved, but still confined to his home. His is a long standing case of the flu.

—Don Borini and John Mascarello were returning to their homes in Omaha Friday. They have been employed on the new school building at Burwell, laying the terrazo marble floor, a very exacting job which calls for much training on the part of the workmen. They say the new floor at Burwell is one of the most beautiful they have ever laid.

—Ira A. Lindsey is able to be about again after a long siege of illness, and he wishes to thank his friends for their kindness while he was unable to help himself. He mentions especially the Pythias Sisters, the Knights of Pythias, Mrs. W. A. Bartlett and family for the beautiful flowers, and his good neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Benjamin and W. W. (Dad) Brown.

—Ira A. Lindsey is informed from letters he has received from his daughter Frances that her husband, Donald S. Baker is employed in the airplane shops at Lindbergh Field, San Diego, Calif. The company puts out planes for the government on contract, and is busy all the time. They put out the twelve planes that made the mass flight to Honolulu about two weeks ago.

Marcus E. Getter Here 60 Years Ago

By John L. Ward.

Just as I was wondering whom I would pick upon for a story for this week the boss brought in a letter from Marcus E. Getter, a lad of 88 years who is now living in Tu Junga, Calif., and from his letter apparently enjoying life. The name will mean nothing to the younger generation, but these stories are written for the older people, all of whom will recall the name and many of them the man.

In his letter Mr. Getter says that he is renewing for the Quiz because he might say something mean about him, and if we do, he wants to know about it. He compliments the Quiz on having some fine writers, naming W. A. Anderson, Mrs. Babcock, George Gowen and an editor. He says that the people who purchase citrus fruit will soon be required to pay double or more to help the growers, who have lost from 25 to 75 per cent of their crop this year in California due to the unprecedented cold weather.

He says it is the worst freeze in fifty years. He notes that there are some good advertisers in the Quiz, and says there should be more. In spite of his 88 years Mr. Getter still writes a very legible hand, in fact practically as good as he did more than fifty years ago. He first came to Valley county about 1875, according to information by W. A. Anderson, who furnished much of the information used here.

Mr. Getter was a man of many accomplishments, as Mr. Anderson recalls him. One of his early day jobs was supplying hay by contract to the government for use at Fort Hartsuff, and it has been established that he did this in the year 1879. The Getters came here from Michigan, and Mrs. Getter died about 1885. They had three children, Hattie, LeRoy and Alice.

Mr. Getter seems to have been a well man by trade, and that trade was very important in the early days. In fact, a man wanted to know whether he would find water on his land before he located. In this capacity we find that Mr. Getter was in his element. The well machine of the early days was an auger that cut a hole about ten inches in diameter.

Instead of using pipe as they do today, they used square timbers which were joined together at the ends with a metal knuckle. A wooden bar was attached to these timbers. The auger was turned by two men, one on each end of the bar, and a third man stayed at the well and kept the bar in the center of the hole. After the auger went down two or three feet it would be pulled out, the dirt dumped and the process started over again.

When the well was sunk to the required depth a wooden casing about eight inches in diameter was put down in the hole. This casing was made of a number of pieces fitted together much as flooring is, only that it formed a cylinder instead of a level surface. When the casing reached the bottom of the hole a sand pump was used to clean out the hole and give the bottom of the casing a good location in the water bearing stratum.

He worked at the well business for many years with varying success. Once, while putting down a well on the south end of the McNutt place, he lost the auger at the depth of about one hundred feet, and tried in vain to fish it out. He finally had to send away and get a new one before he could make the well, of course in a different location. That type of well has joined the cradle and the spinning wheel as a relic of the past.

Mr. Getter also did some real estate selling, which was quite a business in those days. About 40 years ago he moved to California. Before leaving he married again, his second wife being a sister of Herman Westover. He was a short heavy set man about the build of Mark Tolen, and was always smooth shaven. He did not wear glasses.

He was always in a good humor with a grin, a smile or a joke for everyone he met. He has corresponded with Mr. Anderson since he left here, and according to a letter recently he married a third time about 24 years ago, his bride being a lady once known as Florence J. Ferguson, Mrs. A. H. Schaefer. He says they have lived a very happy life, and that, in spite of his years, he is enjoying a fair state of health.

and taking the census of the same precinct was allowed Sept. 17, 1883, he was allowed $3.00 for examining the county records at the order of the commissioners. March 31, 1884, he was again appointed justice of the peace of Ord precinct and his bond approved. June 11, 1884, he was allowed $3.00 for services as road commissioner.

M. E. Getter was one of 66 signers to a petition Oct. 31, 1885, that Valley county issue bonds in the amount of $12,000.00 to aid in the construction of the Omaha and Republican Valley railroad to and into the village of Ord. The voting on this proposition took place Nov. 5, 1885. There were 220 votes cast. 217 were for the bonds, 2 against, and one rejected. Among other services listed are boarding a pauper, working on the river bridge, guarding a prisoner and on the jury list for May, 1886.

To Dr. G. R. Gard we are indebted for this additional information. He believes that Mr. Getter was a G. A. R. He knows that he was born in Nova Scotia. He was a deputy supreme chief of the Tribe of Ben Hur for Nebraska for several years before he left this part of Nebraska, and worked in the capacity with the doctor's father, D. A. Gard. They organized courts in Albion, Belgrade, Burwell, and several other towns.

Once driving along the highway they saw a man plowing corn. Mr. Getter said he would write him up. When the man came to the end of the field he got out, and spent half an hour explaining the proposition at the end of which time the man said "Huh." This made Mr. Getter disgusted and he said, "Just drive down this corn row, and back up that one over there."

He headquartered at Columbus and later in Lincoln while working for the Ben Hur lodge. About 1897 he quit this work and went out to Mitchell where he got in on the irrigation business and made good. From there he went to Long Beach, where he helped organize the Long Beach Transportation company, and acted as its treasurer. With Mr. Gard and Ernest Babcock he helped form the Chuch canal project which extended from Almeria to Sioux creek, over about the same course that a canal is now being planned. They even built the canal and flumes, but were unable to sell the water, so the deal fell through. They also made the preliminary survey for the Pottawattamie canal on the north side of the river from Pebble creek to the old town of Calamus, but the project got no farther.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I have tried to be nice to our subscribers and some of them are taking advantage of my good nature to such an extent that I am forced to stop a lot of papers. The Quiz is supposed to be paid for in advance. I always wish to be reasonable and I consider two or three months is reasonable to be delinquent. There are now 20 on the list who are back more than a year. Those are going to be stopped. There are several hundred back more than 6 months and those, also, are going to be stopped unless something is done promptly. The Quiz is better than it ever was before. We have recently enlarged it to 12 pages every week and more when advertising justifies it. We have added several new features and our photo-engraver is getting very good and we will be having more photos each week and probably never less than ten or more, something that no other Nebraska weekly newspaper does. We have, in addition to our picture news service, added a locally drawn cartoon and some real talent is being developed and we know you enjoy these pictures. Those who are in arrears are that way because, in the past, they have treated us fairly. Those who have not, have been dropped. If you are behind and cannot pay it all at once, you can all come in and pay soon. Even 50c at a time will soon put you in good standing again and will be better than being dropped and having your card show that you were dropped for non-payment. Once that is done the record remains. If you subscribe again, or send one of the children in, or take the paper, as a few have done, we know how you have treated us in the past and you can't kid us by having another take it for you, for we always check up and find it.

Valley county owns a court house, bought and paid for by the taxpayers of the county. Most of the court house has been taken over by government activities. Perhaps that is putting it pretty strong, but one wonders sometimes, upon going through the court house, if the regular county officials won't eventually, have to seek quarters for their work outside the building. In the court house is a district court room with comfortable seats and always heated and ready for use but very seldom used for court purposes, because, in recent years, there is not much litigation requiring its use. Formerly, when meetings of the fair association, the taxpayers league, farm bureau meetings and such, were to be held they were allowed to meet in the district court room. Now the buildings and grounds committee of the county board has ruled that this room may be used only for district court sessions. The city hall auditorium has been rented to the irrigation people and that source of supply is gone. I believe it is perfectly proper that profit making organizations like the creamery should be made to hire a hall for their meetings. It does not seem reasonable or fair to the taxpayers of the county that such an organization as the farm bureau which is supported by the taxpayers of the county, should have to spend county money to hire a hall for its meetings. Mr. Dale informs me that he has several meetings scheduled for early dates which he will have to take to Arcadia and North Loup where a meeting place will be furnished free. I don't like to see these meetings have to leave the county seat where they should properly be held. I am told that the Grounds Committee are justifying their ruling by passing the buck to the Ord Bar Association which they say asked them to make the ruling. Further inquiry tells me that one member of the bar, with no authority to speak for the association, made the request. If I have been correctly informed and if these are the facts as I have stated above, it seems to me that the public grounds committee of the county board should speedily change its ruling and instruct its janitor to have the district court room ready for the use of non-profit organizations of Valley county taxpayers whenever it is not needed for court use. This is just the personal opinion of one heavy Valley county taxpayer. The Public Pulse department of this paper is open for a discussion of this subject if anyone else wishes to discuss either side of it, so long as the discussion is done, as this one is, in a spirit of fairness and courteously.

Governor Cochran is proposing to join the neighboring states in buying toll bridges and make them free bridges. His idea is to use state road funds for Nebraska's share of the cost of buying the bridges. Doubtless there are arguments on both sides of the question. I can see where a free bridge will be of advantage to the towns at the end of the bridge. Omaha will be the greatest profit-er by the deal. Omaha now has most of its roads paved and would like to spend the money for something else of advantage. Of course the state road system is going to suffer if the road money is spent for bridges across the Missouri river. In time the toll system now in use will pay the bridges out and I believe that is the fairest way, everything considered.

I believe that Franklin D. Roosevelt, like Theodore Roosevelt is a friend of the great common people. I believe he feels that the people have not had a fair deal and that he is desirous of giving them a fair deal. I believe that what he is now asking regarding the reorganization of the supreme court and the other courts, would, in his judgment, be for the best interests of the masses. He may be right and if he is given the power he asks, time will answer the question. I believe that what he now asks will make him, in fact, the greatest dictator on earth. He now has congress warped to do his will and if he can get the courts in the same position, why won't he be in fact a dictator? He will be. I believe he will be a dictator for the benefit of the masses of the people as he sees it and I don't believe he would abuse his power. But I would hate to have such a precedent established. A Joe Bailey, or a Joe Robinson or an Ogden Mills or a Hoover, given the same power, might use it for the benefit of the lousy rich. Some past presidents have not been as solicitous for the welfare of all the people as is Franklin D. Roosevelt or as was Theodore Roosevelt or Abraham Lincoln. Neither of the last two named would ever have abused any power given them. But they were outstanding and above the average citizens, as is Franklin D. Roosevelt.

George Gowen finds fault because a poor guy was picked up and fined for having a pheasant contrary to law. Hell, George, don't you know yet that it is the poor guy with no money and no one to defend him who usually gets the worst of it. As a rule the other fellow gets away with his misdeeds but someone has to be made an example of occasionally, else how long would the officers hold their jobs. You had better get it out of your head that justice dominates such things, for it is not true. Let a so called prominent fellow in Ord get tooled up and he will be taken home and nothing but street talk is heard about it. Think back George? Can you remember such a one being thrown in? It is always the down-and-outer or the kid without money who goes to jail and has to lay it out.

Otto Pecenka is getting to be a regular cheese hound. He never lets a chance slip to get a new kind of good cheese. He sprung one on me Saturday which he said was made back in Herkimer county, New York. It was an aged cheese, plenty snappy and when I wanted to buy some he had to confess that his supply was exhausted so I have to wait till some time this week to get some.

The young man who starts out to drink whiskey, does not pay his bills when due and raises hell generally will eventually find himself without friends or business and the down hill slide is faster all the time. But each new applicant for criminal honor seems to think he can beat the game. None of them do for very long. They all get caught while still young in years, even the shrewdest, top notch criminals.

notice that there is an increasing number of new banks being chartered in Nebraska and I believe that is a further evidence that business conditions are improving and that any Nebraska community where crops are raised in 1937 will be a booming, prosperous community. And with returning confidence banks will again function as banks and not as just collection agencies. Hedges about as all banks have been for several years by federal red tape and regulations, they have been unable to function as banks formerly did and as they must again before business can hope to become normal.

QUIZ FORUM

Lake in Bussell Park Now Made Feasible.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
Through the courtesy of The Quiz the writer has been permitted to air his views on questions of public interest through its columns. Once again he has something to say on what seems to him ought to be of public interest. For several years the writer was a member of the Park Board and used his best endeavors to make the Ord parks a good place for recreation for any and all who might visit them.

James Bussell and myself were very good friends for years and I think I know his ideas about the park better than any person now living. In his mind he had pictured a lake in the park and at one time a survey was made. The plan was to build a dam across Dane Creek below the present park and make a lake. A survey was made and it was found that it would back the water of Dane Creek too far up and no one could say what might happen when a flood came, such as has occurred twice in the past twenty years, so the plan was abandoned. Mr. Bussell's plan was different. Anyone knowing the contour of the park is aware of the bayou in the northeast part. This bayou was formed maybe a million years ago when the river was a mile or more wide as is plainly shown by the benches along the river. Mr. Bussell's plan was to throw a dike across each end of this horseshoe shaped bayou and fill the bayou with water and thus form a lake. Several years ago the writer had a survey made to prove the feasibility of the project. The survey by a practical engineer showed that a lake of between three and four acres could be made, depending on the height of the dike. A depth of water from three to ten feet would be the result. The park board discussed the matter from all angles and how to fill the lake with water.

A well on the high ground in the center was suggested but the question of sufficient water was doubted. Another suggestion was pumping from the creek and filling the proposed lake. This was decided as maybe too expensive and the matter was dropped.

Now it seems to me the time has come when the dream of Mr. Bussell may come true. The irrigation canal is to come to Dane Creek and empty all surplus water there to be returned to the river. By extending the canal about one hundred rods the water could flow into the proposed lake and Ord would have as fine a fresh water lake as any in the state.

Of course trees would be planted on borders of lake and beaches would be graveled and bath houses erected and the lake made a real summer resort with people coming from everywhere to enjoy swimming and boating. In winter it would be the finest skating places. One generation follows another and we all pass on but parks are something that live on and we can enjoy them now and those who are to follow can have added pleasure by our thoughtfulness.

Let Ord have a lake.

Saturday the pipe leading in from the main to the Mouer Cafe sprung a leak, probably due to freezing and bursting, and Sunday Pete Darges dug it up and made the necessary repairs. In the meantime the Mouer Cafe was out of water and had to carry it.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.
The Ord high school basketball team defeated Stromsburg by a score of 40 to 14 at the Ord gym. Mrs. Josie Vanek, wife of Frank Vanek, passed away at the age of nearly 63 years. They came to Valley county in 1882. Miles Stacy, well known in Ord in the early days, passed away at his home at Waterville, Oregon, at the age of 64 years. Herman Westover, another old timer, prominent in civic and county affairs over a period of two decades, passed away in Omaha. Supt. C. S. Jones was re-elected as head of the Ord schools at a salary of $1,600.00 per year. The Ord alumni basketball team defeated the St. Paul town team at that place by a score of 43 to 19.

O. S. Haskell wrote the Quiz about seeing the Co. I boys at Houston, Texas. They were on their way back from the Mexican border. Public sales were being held by A. K. Jones, Geo. H. McGee and E. E. Williams, C. F. Hughes and sons, Jacob Osentowski, J. L. Worley, Alfred M. Holman, Boyd Mulligan and Ed Hansen. Sershen Bros., agents for the Maxwell automobile, were advertising the latest model, a touring car, at $635 F. O. B. Detroit. "The Spoilers" was a twelve reel feature at the Gem Theater and "The Little Girl Next Door" was featured at the Ord Opera House.

Among the advertisers were R. L. Dunham, abstractor, Fackler the Grocer, Gamble and Perryman, Ord Roller Mills, Ed McComas, Harbert Studio, Parkins, the Eye Man, First National Bank, Koupal and Barstow, A. D. Norling, J. H. Capron, S. V. Shonka, Johnson Drug Co., and Millfords.

25 Years Ago This Week.
The Ord commercial club met. P. C. Perryman was secretary, but it does not appear who was president. Dr. R. A. Billings wanted something done about merging the two telephone systems, and headed a committee, with H. M. Davis, D. B. Huff, Frank Koupal and W. W. Haskell as the other members, to find out what could be done. There was much talk of building a city hall. Also a paramount question was the establishment of 24 hour electric light and power service, and the building of a power plant. Miss Bashie Tully, elocutionist was putting on a play at Genoa, where her friend, Jennie Kates, was teaching.

The Ord Modern Woodman lodge entertained the Royal Neighbors in a big banquet. About two hundred were present. Madero's iron hand was being felt in Mexico.

There was a long article about harness horses and what could be expected in that line at the Loup Valley fair in the fall.

Fearce and Doyle, successors to Cornell's Hardware, were putting on a get acquainted sale.

Other advertisers were S. Fackler, S. J. W. Brown, Balley's Department store, F. J. Dworak and son, Ord Lumber and Coal Co., A. C. Doman meat market, and Mamie E. Siler.

Ed Mouer, who has been down at Hastings for some time on business with the bus depot cafe which he recently purchased, returned to Ord the latter part of the week. This week he is again at Hastings.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Farms to Rent.
It seems that an unusual condition exists this year in the farms to be rented. Ordinarily good farms are spoken for and promised months before the first of March, but this year, at this time, there are a number of the best farms around North Loup that have not been leased. There are a good many more of so-called second class farms that have no sign of a renter. Some people think there may be land idle this year for want of farmers with capital or nerve to tackle them. The last few years of drouth have used up the reserves of a great many men and extinguished their courage to tackle the job again. Many men feel they couldn't do any worse in town working by the day than they have done the last three years farming.

New Game.
Valentine's Day was observed at our school last Friday. It seems that the favorite game played with many of the children now days is so called "Cop and Robber." Part of the group will be cops and part are the robbers or kidnapers. Then some little chap has to be the kidnap victim and he is bound and secreted in some nook. So enraptured with the game was my small son that he looked up one or two old toy guns and insisted on taking them to school. "Taking a gun to school on St. Valentine's day?" His mother exclaimed. "Shooting one another and then giving a valentine with love words on it." His mother was firm in her refusal. "That would be as bad as to hang a gun on the Christmas tree. An instrument of death and destruction as a remembrance for the Prince of Peace."

I remember my father to be a stern and busy man, giving little attention or time to his third and unwelcome son, but I do remember that with forcible language he forbade me ever pointing even a toy gun at anyone and stiff chastisement would have been in order had I pulled the trigger. My memory returns to those harsh instructions every time I see a child aim a pop gun at his playmate, and in pretense, shoot him down. Times have changed, for that seems to be one of the favorite pastimes nowadays.

Makes a Difference.
In regard to the proposed Supreme Court rejuvenation and the President's urging that justices be retired at the age of 70, I heard a man on the street say the President must think differently in regard to senators for he came into Nebraska and advocated Norris' election and he is seventy.

Nothing New.
In discussing the bill in the legislature concerning "Mercy Death", many stories have been brought to light of long suffering people who were not only an awful trial for those who cared for them but suffered death every day for long periods awaiting the final jump.

An instance is told of an old, old lady that was bedfast and very large and was suffering untold agonies. She prayed every night that before morning her life might be taken to a new and better world. One day she had an unusually hard attack of her malady and upon calling the doctor he said there is only one medicine that will save her. That given

Roosevelt's Second Term Is Just as 'Fighting' as First

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON—It seems definite now that the president may be expected to be as full of fight in his second four years as he was in his first.

There were those who thought the president's second inaugural speech, promising that he would carry on the way he had been going, lacked the punch he had put behind his earlier fight talks. They concluded that the battle between Wall Street and the New Deal was temporarily off and began to talk of "an era of good feeling."

Proposals were made to curb the jurisdiction of the supreme court, and to introduce a constitutional amendment which would give Congress powers over general welfare, but none of these carried the stamp of White House approval. As a result, many people decided the president was willing to wait until death or resignation removed from the high bench some of the most bitter antagonists of the New Deal program.

THEN, on the eve of consideration by the supreme court of the Wagner act, the president sent to Congress his recommendations for a sweeping reform of the judiciary. The Wagner act guarantees to employees freedom to organize and bargain collectively, and it outlaws company unions. It has been widely defied and ignored by corporations, whose lawyers advised it would be declared unconstitutional. Their forecast is shared by many in the administration, too. Before he can score a point against the conservative element of the court, or big business interests which oppose him so bitterly, the president must win the first round in Congress. It isn't going to be easy to make this bill to revamp the supreme court a law of the land.

The division for and against the bill is generally the line between liberals and conservatives rather than the line between Republicans and Democrats. Conservative Democratic senators are combining with regular Republicans to defeat the bill. Some liberal senators may join them on the strength of their conviction that this plan resembles dictatorship and Fascism more than it does true liberalism.

A middle group which hasn't yet decided with which side it will join forces will probably decide the issue.

ADMINISTRATION liberals are confident they can persuade most of the liberal and progressive members who have expressed doubts about the proposal. Several methods of persuasion will be used, but the most effective factor probably will be the unanimous opposition of the die-hard conservatives.

The extent to which it will be necessary to bribe the middle group with patronage and favors to bring them around to the administration side, remains to be seen. Possibility of creation of new federal judgeships in the supreme, circuit, and district courts if this bill succeeds will not be overlooked as a tempting bit of bait.

and no doubt she shall recover for a time and otherwise she would more than likely die. The relatives talked it over and did not give her the medicine.

Could a person call this murder in any sense? Many people think that occasionally doctors administer an extra hard dose of morphine when patients are only to be wakened to a lingering suffering death. Of course I am not saying they do, I am only saying people think they do. This bill passed would only make such things legal.

No Speed Limit.
I was invited to a bridge party last Wednesday evening at Wilber Zangger's and I must say I had a very happy time.

There were five tables and at the beginning of the playing the announcement was made that for the players at the table that finished the game first there would be a premium of 100 points added to their score and those who finished last must take 50 points from their score. This feature of computation was new to me but I strongly endorse it.

Of course in that group there are none, but in many there are one or two procrastinators. They start to play one card, say the 4 of clubs, then change their mind to the 5 of clubs, then replace it for the 4 again, and stall and study and worry until a person of a nervous temperament such as mine feels like reaching behind and at the crucial moment, helping the impulse with a gentle prick of a pin at the point of the elbow. Now such temptations are dispensed with. The procrastinator plays the 4 and is done with it. More than that technicalities are dispensed with, such as cutting stacking, getting a good card on the bottom and the like. In our haste we got to dealing three at a time and there were no objections. It was speed we were after.

No one was giving you hell because you didn't do this or that unless you were too slow and in that event hell should be given. If you played a jack when an ace would have been better no one noticed it and the game went sailing on gloriously.

And there were no post mortems. Doctors may benefit from post mortems but bridge players never. There was no time for post mortems of Zanggers. When the last card was laid down one took the pencil and wrote the score (and no one questioned his figures either) while the other three straightened out the cards for the next distribution. It must be borne in mind there was not time for neat arrangements of the tricks. The cards were scooped in (so to speak) and the only ones counted were those of the loser.

Courtesy was dispensed with and each player picked up his hand one card at a time as they were passed so he would be ready when the bidding started. To speed up the dealer would frequently say a no trump or a couple spades before he looked at his hand so as to start the bidding off quicker.

I always thought I was a fast worker but I'll have to admit that some of the ladies there had me bested and with their help I managed to get my share of the hundred points and then some, even if I wasn't in the lead with the game scores.

—Mrs. Foster Mohler, sister of Mrs. Hollingshead, returned to Greeley Monday morning, after visiting her sister since Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Castlet left Sunday for their home at Long Pine, after spending a week in Ord visiting Mrs. Hollingshead.

The Ultimate Power of Jesus

Text: John 11:23-28, 32-44

THUS far we have studied the miracles which symbolized the power of Jesus to give life, to heal, and to bring light to the darkened souls of men. The ultimate miracle of the power of Jesus over death, attested in His own death and resurrection, is the subject of this lesson.

It is a very human story that is presented, of two sisters in Bethany, Martha and Mary, who were very unlike in their dispositions, but had in common a loyalty to the Master and a love for Him that made Him an honored guest in their home.

Into this home sorrow had come in the death of their brother, and the deep sympathy of Jesus, as well as His intense devotion to that hospitable home, is found in the simple words concerning His coming into the house of death—"Jesus wept." In the division into verses in our English Bible, it is the shortest verse of all; yet it is full of expression and significance.

The story of how Jesus brought Lazarus forth from the tomb is familiar to us all. It brings to every thoughtful and inquiring mind some very poignant questions. Why did Jesus weep, if He had the power to bring Lazarus from the dead? Why was the power of Jesus not exercised in more homes and circles of sorrow in His own day?

There must have been many, many cases of bereaved disciples, and yet the stories of Jesus bringing the dead to life are few. Why is the same power of Jesus not manifest in homes of death and sorrow today, where the devotion to the Master is as intense as it was in that home where Martha and Mary loved Him?

THESE questions we cannot answer, any more than we can explain the miracle. The rationalist might say that these stories have come from traditions that arose around the life of the Master, as they have arisen in some form around the lives of other great teachers and prophets.

But we cannot dispose of the miracles quite so easily. The miraculous records are imbedded in the story of a wonderful life, and one cannot feel that the life and salvation that Jesus brings to men have their ending in death and the tomb.

We have suggested that the miracles beyond the literal record have the symbolism of spiritual truth, and this is surely true concerning the miracle of restoring the dead to life. That is what Jesus does spiritually, in the souls of men. His recreating and reviving power has everywhere been manifest, both in the days of His life on earth, and all the years since, in the times and places where His gospel has made its power felt.

IN His earthly life and teaching, Jesus never promised His disciples immunity from pain and sorrow; He never told them that they would have unlimited physical existence. What He did promise was that eternal life would be the portion of those who found in Him the Way and the Truth.

Two Students Place In Speech Tournery

Two Ord dramatic students, Barbara Dale and Joy Loft, won honors for Ord high school in the invitational speech tournament held at Hastings college last week. They were accompanied by Miss Ellen Servino, Ord dramatic coach.

Other Ord students who entered the tournament but failed to place included a debate team with Virginia Davis and Lillian Karty as members; a one-act play "Cleo"; with Barbara Dale, Kendall Wiegard, Armona Beth Achen, and Joy Loft as cast members; Wilma Krikac, dramatic reader; and Virginia Sack, oratorical reader.

Barbara Dale gave an interpretive reading entitled "Leaves from a Grass House" to place second in that division while Joy Loft presented a humorous selection "As a Grain of Mustard Seed" to be given third place.

While in Hastings for the three day tournament, Ord contestants stayed at the Clark Hotel. Several of the Ord students dined at the new cafe owned by Mr. Mauer of this city, and report it to be a very fine restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Married 51 Years

This week Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Leonard, pioneer residents of Mira Valley, quietly celebrated the 51st anniversary of their marriage. They were married Feb. 16, 1886, and have spent their entire married life on the same farm. This consists of three quarter sections of good valley land, and is one of the best farms in the entire county.

Charles H. Leonard came to Nebraska from Middleville, Michigan, well over fifty years ago, his brothers Amedeus, better known as Bedie, and Asa coming about the same time. For many years Charles and Bedie ran a threshing rig in the valley, as quite a few of the older citizens may recall. They ran the horse power rig, a type that went out of use about forty years ago.

Mrs. Leonard was formerly Mary Bell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, Sr., the family coming to Mira Valley not far from the same time as the Leonards. An only daughter, Edith, passed away more than thirty years ago. Their three sons, Earl, Ellsworth and Ross all live in Mira Valley.

Mr. Leonard is essentially a home lover, and cares nothing for public office, although he served several terms on the Midvale school board. His special delight is in the work of the farm, and Mrs. Leonard ably assists her husband in her work in the home. Today they are both nearing the evening of life with the satisfaction that comes from a life well lived.

Mr. Leonard is past 78 years of age, while Mrs. Leonard is four years younger. Except for a slight difficulty in hearing their health is very good, and they are able to handle their daily tasks as usual. It is a matter of gratification to their many friends that they have been spared for so many years of useful life, and it is hoped that they may live to enjoy many more.

Mrs. Neuman Dies, Funeral at Dannebrog

Anna Madalena Dethlefs was born in Nordik Schleswig Holstein, Germany, May 30, 1866 and passed away February 13, 1937 in Grand Island, Nebr., after a short illness.

She was the eldest daughter and child of Peter and Margaret Dethlefs, and one of a family of four-teen.

When only six years old she came to America, locating at first at Omaha and later on a farm at Oak Creek, Nebraska. Being the daughter of pioneer parents, she related many stories of her early life. She related these stories so distinctly that it was a real pleasure to listen to her.

On September 15, 1884 she was united in marriage to Carl Fred Neuman. To this union eight children, five boys and three girls, were born. She was preceded in death by one son, Chris, who died in infancy; one daughter, Mrs. Emma Smith, who passed away April 30, 1917; and by her husband, who passed away in August in 1931. In the last years of his life he became feeble and she gave him her constant, loving care, never tiring of giving up her pleasures to be near him.

The first years of their married life were spent on a farm near Ashton, Nebr., where she helped her husband run the farm and postoffice, then known as Seben, Nebr. They later moved to several farms in Sherman county and in 1909 to Valley county, in the Davis Creek community where they made their home for many years.

Her past six years were spent with her son Fred, at Grand Island, Nebraska.

Wherever her home happened to be, she made many friends who knew her for a kind and true friend and devoted mother and wife; always looking on the bright side of things and always finding the good points of a faulty person.

A month before her death she had a slight stroke, which weakened her condition. Then, as she seemed to be improving she got the flu and later contracted pneumonia, which caused her death.

She leaves to mourn her departure, four sons, Charles of Farwell, Will and Henry of North Loup, Fred of Grand Island; two daughters, Mrs. Louise Houtby of Ord, Mrs. Amella Kucera of Orchard; twenty-three grandchildren; two brothers, Charles and Henry Dethlefs of Rockville; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Hansen and Mrs. Martha Tockey of Boelus and Mrs. Lizzie Christensen of Ashton.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Lutheran church at Dannebrog, Nebr., and the remains were laid to rest beside her husband in the Kelso cemetery.

Methodist Church.
 Sunday school will be held at ten in the Methodist church. The morning worship service will be at eleven in the Christian church.
 The attendance at the Sunday school last week was the largest since Christmas. The morning worship service had a large attendance. A good many people spoke of what a fine arrangement it was, to have the morning worship in the Christian church. It was comfortably heated, and the officers of that church did everything possible to give their visitors a hearty welcome.
 Dr. B. Johansen preached an excellent sermon in the Methodist church Sunday night. He had been the banquet speaker the previous night in North Loup at the Institute.
 Our young people were enthusiastic about the Institute in North Loup and the good time they enjoyed. With ten towns represented, Ord had the largest registration.

verbs 3:5: "Trust in the Lord with all thy heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."
 A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from Romans 11:33, 36: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out . . . For of him, and through him, and to him are all things."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "The time has come for a finite conception of the infinite and of a material body as the seat of Mind to give place to a diviner sense of intelligence and its manifestations,—to the better understanding that Science gives of the Supreme Being, or divine Principle, and Idea." Mrs. Alex King Is Dead At Age of 86

Medora R. King, daughter of Israel Morris and Margaret Daugherty, was born April 13, 1851, at Manchester, Adams county, O. Her mother passed away when she was six years old. Later her father married again, and she was required to assist in the raising of her step brothers and sisters.

The family moved to Champaign county, Ill., when she was eighteen years of age. She was married to Alexander King at Fischer, Ill., Nov. 29, 1877, the family moving to Emmett, Holt county, Nebr., in 1882. There they went through all the rigors of pioneer days, combating the blizzards in winter and the drouth and prairie fires in the summer, with little material reward for their labor.

They moved to Valley county in March, 1892, and lived for more than eighteen years in Mira Valley. In Oct., 1910 they retired from the farm and moved to Ord, which has been their home since that time. Mr. King passed away Nov. 2, 1918, since which time Mrs. King and her daughter Maggie have made their home in south Ord.

For some time Mrs. King had been in failing health, and her death, Febr. 12, 1937, was due to the infirmities of age. She would have been 86 years of age next April. One step-daughter, Nora King Rodman, preceded her in death, leaving two children, Ray C. Rodman, of Cheny, Kas., and Ethel Smith of Wichita, Kas.

She leaves to mourn her passing two sons, C. M. King, of Ord, Dick King of North Loup, a daughter, Maggie King, at home; one step-son, W. S. King; also 7 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. Also many friends who knew and loved her in the days of her residence in Mira Valley as well as those who made her acquaintance after her coming to Ord.

Mrs. King took keenest delight in the affairs of her home and in ministering to the welfare of others. She was a great lover of children, all of whom were instinctively her friends. She knew sorrows of life as well as its joys, for her father was a soldier during the Civil war, and she was old enough to realize what a terrible thing war can be.

Mrs. King was a member of the Methodist church, and one of the chief delights of her later years was attendance at church services, until the infirmities of age compelled her to remain at home. The past few years her chief pleasures have been listening to the radio and the companionship of her daughter Maggie, whose ministrations were a great comfort to her in her declining years.

Funeral services were held from the Sowl funeral parlors Sunday afternoon at 2:00 in charge of Rev. Mearl C. Smith. Music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Mrs. J. P. Barta, Mrs. A. S. Koupal, Glen Auble and John Haskell. The flower committee was Miss Helen Collins and Mrs. R. O. Hunter. Four grandsons, Irving, Ted, Merritt and Richard, and John and Charles Mason acted as pall bearers. Interment was made in the Ord cemetery.

Hastings College Band Is Welcomed By Huge Audience

A full house of Ord and Loup valley music enthusiasts turned out Monday night to hear the Hastings college concert band under the direction of James M. King. This was final appearance of the band as it completed a tour of Nebraska and Colorado covering over 1000 miles of territory.

The Hastings band appeared under the auspices of the Ord high school music department. Arthur Auble of Ord, is a member of the band.

A varied program was played by the band. A triple-tongued trio of cornetists with Allen Hein, Ray Mitchell, and Dwight Kier was the highlight of the evening's program. The trio played two numbers, "Triplets of the finest" by Paul Henneberg being the outstanding selection. Carl Easterbrook of Arcadia was given hearty approval by the audience as he sang the well known tenor solo "Song of Songs" by Moya.

Besides playing numerous pieces of the heavy "concert" type the band also took upon itself the task of pleasing children music lovers, playing to perfection the renowned "Clock and the Dresden Figures", by Albert Keteibey. This number was outstanding in that it featured a piano solo with band accompaniment.

"Mood Mauve" by R. S. Howland was a selection played by the band which featured exceptionally close harmony and unusual melodies. Two numbers, "Caprice Italien" by Tschalkowsky and "La Source" by Delibes were of the heavy concert style and exhibited the fine qualities of the band as a whole.

After playing their concert in Ord Monday evening the thirty-six piece band left Ord immediately to return to Hastings.

SAFEWAY
 CHECK THE NET CONTENTS when comparing prices

In shopping for foods it is well to know the different sizes of cans. While there are standard sizes easily recognized by merchants, in most instances the can itself, is not marked with its standard size. Sometimes sizes of cans are referred to in such general terms as "Large" or "Medium" which is apt to be confusing. However, each container has printed upon it the net contents and this is your best guide as to size.

The No. 2 can is possibly the most popular size in demand for fruits and vegetables and is sometimes called a "Medium" can. There are other cans similar in size such as the No. 300 and No. 303 and these also are sometimes called "Medium" cans but there is a difference in the net contents of from 3 to 4 ounces because of such variations the net contents of the containers should be checked in order to make a really accurate price comparison.

BURWELL NEWS

James Lewis Lytle.

James Lewis Lytle was born April 1, 1886 in Hamilton county, Nebraska and passed away February 11, 1937 at 10:30 a. m. in Burwell, Nebraska at the age of 50 years, 10 months and 10 days.

When he was just a baby the family moved to Cass county where they remained until he was 10 years of age. They then moved to Cass county, Nebraska. While living there he joined the United Brethren church.

In 1907 he moved to Burwell, Nebr., and on June 11, 1908 he was united in marriage to Iva Pearl Price. To this union five children were born, D. T. Wayne, Fern Violet, Leo Orvin, Eldon Ray and Bernard Morris. His wife passed away on January 20, 1921 in Burwell.

On April 15, 1923 he married May Van Houten and to this union two children were born, Hazel May and Robert Burton.

With the exception of one year since 1907 Mr. Lytle lived on farms close to Burwell. That one year was spent in Greeley, Nebr.

He was known by his kindness to others. He was a good neighbor, always willing to lend a helping hand. He will be greatly missed by his family and many friends.

Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his passing his mother, Mrs. Jennie Graham, 7 children, D. T. Wayne, Mrs. Fern Bowly and Eldon Ray all of Burwell; Leo Orvin of Salem, Ore., Bernard Morris of the CCC camp at Spalding, Nebr., and Hazel May and Robert Burton of Burwell. Ag Experimental Station in Valley Proposed In Bill

In the belief that the North Loup valley, with its constant supply of water and its fertile soil, is the proper place for such a farm, civic organizations here at once became active.

160 Acres in Size. Dean Burr advised that a bill would first have to pass the legislature appropriating funds for the purchase of 160 acres of land and providing $4,000 for incidental expenses before such a farm could be established. This will be the state's share of the expense, other maintenance items to be borne by the federal government. Once established, the farm would be under the control of the university board of regents.

After conferring with Burr the Ord men had a bill drafted by George R. Mann, of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and secured the cooperation of Senator Frost in introducing it. Messrs. Misko and Dummire state that they were given the heartiest reception and a pledge of full cooperation by Senator Frost.

The bill will come up for hearing within a few days and plans are being made here, at Burwell and at North Loup, to send a large delegation down to Lincoln to impress upon unicameral members how greatly the experimental farm is desired and is needed here.

Experimentation Needed. It is pointed out that experiments hitherto carried on in farming under irrigation in Nebraska cannot be very helpful in east central Nebraska because the climate, soil and other conditions in western Nebraska, where such work has been done, differ so greatly from ours.

What kind of seed to plant, when to plant it, how many cultivations needed and dozens of other problems which must be worked out before irrigation farming can be completely successful in the North Loup, Middle Loup and Tri-County areas would be undertaken by such a farm. It would be a permanent farm, as are the experimental stations now in existence at North Platte, Lincoln, Mitchell and Valentine, and would be a great advantage to this valley.

Valentine Tea Honoring Miss Mary Williams.

Sixty invitations were issued to a Valentine tea that Mrs. C. J. Miller and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen gave last Saturday at the home of Mrs. Miller, to honor Miss Mary Williams, home economics teacher in Ord, and to announce her engagement to Robert Helvey of Sheridan, Wyo.

On arriving, the guests were introduced to Mrs. Martin, Mrs. R. T. Helvey, of Sheridan and Mrs. Wayne Owens of Omaha, grandmother, mother and sister respectively, of Miss Williams' fiancée.

"Hearts" was the diversion of the afternoon, Mrs. C. G. Thomsen winning first prize for high score, Miss Flora Ewart of St. Paul, low prize, and the out-of-town guest prize, going to Miss Elaine Haggart of St. Paul. The guests were then presented with dainty sweetmeats, with the announcement of the engagement written upon a small cup attached underneath the flowers. They were invited to the dining room where refreshments of heart-decorated ice cream, heart shaped cakes, red and white candies and salted nuts were served from the tea table, with Mrs. Joseph P. Barta and Mrs. Bernice Brady presiding.

The table decorations consisted of a large bouquet of red roses in a crystal bowl on a mirror mat. The dining room was lighted by tall white tapers in crystal holders at each side of the centerpiece. Tall white tapers in silver candle holders also decorated the buffet.

Others assisting at the party were Dorothy Dee Williams, Alice Black, Martha Mae Barta, Marguerite Cornell and Mary Louise Miller. As the guests departed they were introduced to Robert Helvey, who arrived to spend the week-end in Ord.

Besides the above mentioned guests from out of town were the Misses Dorothy Dee Williams, sister of Mary, Alice Black, Marguerite Cornell and Mrs. M. G. Robinson, all of Lincoln, the Misses Maydee Taylor, Elaine Haggart, Maxine Petersen, Dorothy De Kay and Flora Katherine Ewart of St. Paul, and Miss Phyllis Gordon and Miss Beulah Willoughby of North Loup.

Miss Williams is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Williams. She made her home with her grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Morris of St. Paul for many years. She attended Hastings College, and graduated from the University of Nebraska, where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Helvey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Helvey of Sheridan, Wyo. He also attended the University of Nebraska where he was affiliated with Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity. He has been in the ranching business north of Sheridan. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

FRANK L. HAUGHT.

Frank L. Haught was born at Guide Rock, Nebr., July 29, 1891, and passed away in the San Juan hospital, Bakersfield, Calif., at 9:00 P. M. Febr. 7, 1937, as the result of injuries in an automobile accident the day before. He was a son of J. E. and Julia Haught and attended the schools at North Loup, and the Kansas City Veterinary college.

He was married May 6, 1925 at Torrington, Wyo., to Belle K. Keller, and to this union one daughter was born, Margie Jo of Los Angeles. The family was living at Fresno, Calif., at the time of his death. Mr. Haught lived in the North Loup section from 1903 to 1921, and in Arnold, Nebr., from 1921 to 1931; at Goshen from 1931 to 1934, and moved to California Nov. 29, 1934. He was a veterinarian with the exception of 9 years in the garage business in Arnold and Goshen.

In addition to his immediate family, he leaves to mourn his passing two sisters, Bertha Hansen of Ord and Viola Priel of Portland, Oregon; two brothers, David C. of Ord and Ralph R. of Arnold; and many other relatives and friends. During the war he was 2nd Lieutenant Veterinary Corps, Camp Lee, Va., enlisting from North Loup.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. from Sowl's chapel, services being in charge of Rev. Mearl C. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church. Burial was in Ord cemetery. The pall bearers were W. H. Haught, Joseph Haught, Freeman Haught, Vernon Andersen, M. F. Kosmata and Bud Clark. Music was furnished by Lucile Tolen and Fern Carlson, with Ava Noll, organist.

Mr. Haught was an attendant at church and Sunday school services at North Loup. He was also a Mason. Those in attendance from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haught of North Platte, Ralph L. Haught and family, of Arnold, and a host of friends from North Loup and Arnold. He was preceded in death by his father and mother, and one brother who died in infancy.

What Other Editors Are Saying

The Loup City Times says that Miss Marie Hall and Mrs. T. Gruber of Ord were in Loup City last week to visit with their friend, Miss Eunice Chase, who is recuperating from her recent operation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chase. Mr. and Mrs. Chase brought them home.

The Red Oak Sun tells of Harry Polsey who got up in the night and felt around on the dresser until he found a cough lozenge. He put it in his mouth and it helped his cough to the extent that he dropped off to sleep. When he woke up the next morning he felt the lozenge still in his mouth, so he spit it out, only to find that it was a button. So long as it proved effective, what was the difference?

According to the Custer County Chief there will be a sale of purebred stock at the Custer county fair the first week in August. The fair board passed on the proposition the past week. The business men over there are cooperating with the fair and have purchased 4000 calendars to put out around the country with the fair advertising on them. This is the true boosting spirit.

From an article last week in the Benkelman Post that town is strongly behind a project to get a hospital for Dundy county. Enthusiasm there is very high. One stumbling block was that the county had to have a population of 9,000 or more. Legislator Hugh M. Ashmore has presented a bill in the legislature to amend the law and lower the population limit. The plan has the support of the governor and will doubtless be made a law.

Legislators W. F. Haycock of Callaway and Roy Johnson of Miller had a narrow escape from serious injury when they turned out on the road about eight miles west of Lincoln to avoid hitting a tow car which was partly acrosswise of the road. Their car turned over two times, but due to modern construction Johnson was practically unhurt, while Haycock escaped with a black eye and a sore leg.

From the North Loup Loyalist we get the facts of a story that was repeated on the streets last week, but for which there was no court confirmation at the time. About three weeks ago the coal bins of the North Loup lumber company were broken into and some coal stolen. Marshal Glen Johnson was notified and traced the tracks of the sled used to haul the coal to the Roy Larkin home. Larkin admitted the theft, but the family is on relief, and he refused to do any further work on the WPA. Since then he has left the community and Sheriff George A. Round is carrying around a warrant for his arrest.

The Arcadian for last week carried a story of the car accident in which H. H. Henningson of Omaha was hurt. It seems that his car collided with one driven by Clifford Samek, of Weston, near Wahoo. Young Samek was seriously hurt, while Henningson suffered face and knee cuts, but returned to Omaha the same evening. Mr.

Henningson is a member of the firm that has charge of the building of the Middle Loup Irrigation project.

James Davis of Kearney is very much alive. He is in the best of health and expects to outlive a lot of newspaper men yet, according to his own statement, which was provoked by seeing the story of his own death in the Kearney Democrat. Luckily for Mr. Davis, he got his denial in print before his obituary had been printed.

Down in North Loup they want a bounty to be paid on crows and crow eggs. To this end they have sent in a petition to Legislator Tracy Frost asking that a bill be enacted, allowing a bounty of 6c each on crows and 1c on each egg. A similar petition has been sent in from Garfield county. In both cases they want the bounty made state wide, which is the only sensible legislation against predatory birds.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Mrs. McGrew Writes About Many Former Ordfies.
1944 Penn. Ave., Los Angeles.
To the Editor of the Quiz:
When I landed in Los Angeles on Sunday morning, Jan. 31, there was no one at the depot to meet me so I transferred to the Santa Fe road and went on to Santa Ana.
I went to the home of the Plummers who used to live neighbors to me in Ord. They were not home. The taxi driver inquired of a neighbor whether Plummers lived at that number, he said yes but they had gone to church. As luck would have it the door was not locked. I said, "Well, I've come a long way so I'm going in." In about twenty-five minutes I heard someone unlocking the back door. It was Mrs. Plummer coming in while Mr. Plummer was putting away the car. She was very much surprised and Mr. Plummer told someone later in the day that we both had hysterics. Guess we did act funny, but it had been fourteen years since we had seen each other. Mr. Plummer is not as fleshy as he used to be, but looks real well and is busy in his favorite occupation, finishing houses.
Mrs. Plummer looks pretty much the same. Muriel brought her little family over and spent the evening. The next day Muriel came over with her car and took us to Long Beach. There we called on Jonie and Doll Level. At their home we found Mrs. Will Hoffman, also her daughter and small granddaughter. We had not been there long when Mrs. Hoffman's son Francis came. They were all well and busy. From there we went to call on Mr. and Mrs. Roy Drake. They are looking fine. Mrs. Drake had been cleaning house. Roy was busy reading the daily paper.
We drove to a parking lot where Kent Stewart works. He looks much the same. I would have known him anywhere, but I had to tell him who I was. He has held the job there for several years and is happily married.
The weather was fine, sun shone bright, so Muriel took us down to the beach and drove around rainbow pier. Crowds were down on the beach that day. Muriel then took us back to Santa Ana and to her home for dinner where her very capable daughter, 15, had the evening meal well started. It was a great inspiration to me to see the way Muriel handles her little family. She certainly is a very fine mother. There are two other children besides the young lady, a boy, Charles about eleven and a little girl, Jo Ann, nearly seven.
On Tuesday, Febr. 2, Muriel took us to places of interest around Santa Ana, then to call on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rowell. They were so glad to see someone from the old home town. They were real well, but like the rest of us look older, inquired about their Ord friends and seemed anxious to see them again. I called on a George Young who used to live near Burwell. He is a brother of Mrs. Sam Warner and Mrs. Abe Rowan who lived in Ord so many years.
I came to Mrs. Carrie (McGrew) Campbell's in the evening of Febr. 2. They are all a very busy family. Carrie's youngest daughter, a nurse, took us to several different homes where she is caring for mothers and babies. One family were so pleased to see someone from Nebraska. Their name was Longnecker and asked me about the Vasiceks near Ord. (I think that is the name. Nurse also took us to see triplets, all girls and very fine babies.
Yesterday Mrs. Campbell and I went shopping. We went first to the store where Clara Lea VanWick works. She was so surprised with Clara Lea, she is so fat, much to her dislike. During the afternoon as we worked our way through the busy stores we came across Mable (Cornwell) Gallely, an old-time Burwell girl. Mable named our second boy LaVerne. She is looking fine and likes her work so much. She keeps a niece in her home, a daughter of Forest Cornwall, who died. Mable told me her uncle, Hiram Matthews, formerly of Burwell but now of Omaha has recently been taken to a hospital.
Putting my street and phone number in the Quiz proved to be a fine idea. When I got here were cards, letters, invitations, phone numbers and what not.
One evening this week we all went to Whittier to see Joe Campbell, an old time Nebraska farmer. Joe has a productive ranch consisting of lemons, oranges and English walnuts.
The freeze has been something very unusual here and one can see the effects, looks quite bad in places, but like the crops in Nebraska come out after a hard storm so will it be here with the fruit crop. Not going to be so much loss as they thought at first.
I am invited to attend an Ord club the 28th of this month so will see many that day whom people there will be interested to hear about.
Mrs. C. E. McGrew.

I don't thing there is an average farm in this country. Most of them run from 2 acres, more or less, in the little villages, up to several hundred acres in the hills. The valley farms are most any number of acres up to about 60, and a lot are 37, 42, 53 and so on, whatever number happens to lie in a bend of a creek or branch, as they say here, or a fairly nice place may be on the slope of the mountains some where. Up in the mountains where the timber is now heavier, they run from 100 acres on up. If the land is thin, that is, soil not very deep and very rocky, the trees are usually thicker and not much grass grows until the trees are cleared.
On the south of Ord place there is a strip of pines nearly 80 rods wide and a mile or more long, all on the south slope of the mountain. The pines are so thick you can hardly drive a team and wagon between them and rocks. The grass there is what they call bunch grass and the bunches are not so very close together. I do not suppose the whole strip in pines would pasture 8 or 10 head of cattle for a season. As soon as the trees are cleared off the grass comes in and makes the best of pasture, while what has been cleared, or the trees cut out for a few years furnishes plenty of pasture. On our east forty the trees have been cleared out sometime in the past and there is very good, thick grass now, but won't be long unless the young trees, hickory and oak are cut and kept out. They come up, thick and soon, shade the ground, and in normal years every little hickory tree is loaded with nuts and they come up all over, volunteers.
The land in price, runs from half the timber on it, if cut and sold, if you can sell it, to $100 to $200 in the valleys closer to cities and near Russellville where the valleys are all cotton land. Russellville is about 70 miles north-east of here. Around here land is general, is fairly cheap, most of it priced by the farm not acre. The farm west of us is for sale, 160 acres for $900, and well worth the money. The soil is thin but fairly good, about half the 160 acres under plow, a young orchard started, plenty of wood, and the water held out this past dry year, also 2 sets of buildings, such as they are. One set is an old log house with chimney or fireplace, with an old log barn. There are people living there. The main buildings are a new fairly large 4-room house with slab wash house and log barn and some other small buildings, some wire fence on the lines and a little cross fence, while the yard fences are made of rails, real old fashioned split rail fences, also spring water in average years.
A place south of us about 3 miles of 37 1/2 acres, more or less, as the deeds here call for, sold for $400 last fall. There is not much timber on the place but a good spring with nice spring house, a good soft water well, a few out buildings, mostly log, while the house is extra good for this country, 4 large rooms, 2 good fireplaces and storage attic, with a small screened back porch and a big porch across the front. Nearly all the porches are made as part of the house, the roofs high with a long slope, two ways, made to shed water and for shade, also to shed snow as it never blows here, just lays still until it melts, that is, when they have snow.
Farther south, about 30 miles, they tell us that you run into free range country and there land is very cheap, but it takes a lot of work to clear it, however there is plenty of timber for buildings, also better spring water.
Now don't all rush here but if anyone had $500 in cash, they could make a down payment on land and pick their place too, buy cows, as the best here sell for about $30, also a mule or two or some ponies, put in a crop, lots of garden and stuff to feed the cows through 2 or 3 months, a few chickens, raise a litter of pigs for meat, not plant much corn, just a little for cornmeal bread and a little if a good year, to feed the pigs. But there are other grains to make good feed that yield as good or better than corn, some oats to be mowed for hay, and peanuts are raised here for the hay as well as the nuts. They are a very rich feed and if run through a hammer mill, tops and all make great cow feed and they are great yielders too.
There are wild berries of several kinds, plums in places, while only a few miles to some of the largest peach and apple orchards in the United States. Most places have a few peach trees or other fruit trees. There are all kinds of wild hickory and black walnuts, while pecans and others will grow if set out and tended a little until they get started.
Now here is the other side—rent is cheap here, also on the share plan, and it wouldn't take so much cash to start. But I don't know what the land owner would say about getting away from the corn and cotton plan, as a new or different idea is rather hard to get started here. This country has all the prospects of being a great dairy country in the next 10 years, maybe less, as these last few dry years people have been selling a little cream where they never used to think of selling any, just depended on corn and cotton to make all the cash they needed. Like Nebraska and other states they are finding out that the cow and hen pay every week.
Nearly all the cattle here is mixed with Jersey so people can start with good grades, as I think most of them test very well as to butterfat. What I have seen milked, looked like it anyhow. As people keep a good cream or butter cow when they only have 1 or 2 and sell or trade the others off, so they find the way to the packing houses sooner or later. There is no testing association in this part of the country so far as I know.

It is hard to tell what average crops and acreage is here, as they put in according to the land they have and where located, but all plant some small-cared, quick growing corn, peanuls, lots of garden, and generally some cotton, also potatoes, 2 crops, while turnips are sown in the fall for table use and also as feed for the stock. We have a nursery catalogue from Rogers, Ark., north of Ft. Smith. They have a grain called Proso, something like kafir corn, but not the same. It is claimed to be a great grain yielder, does well if dry and good feed for poultry and stock as well as good for food. The rain is used extensively in European countries and has been proved out in these southern states some, but never tried right in here that we can find. We expect to plant an acre or so to see if it will grow and yield half as much as claimed it will. If so it will be a great grain for here. Uncle Joe Low down the road tells me that the pines here are the old yellow pines instead of white ones.

We had one day and 3 part days of sunshine from Christmas until the last of January. It rained or sleeted some time almost every day or night. 14 degrees was the coldest we had so far and expect it will be unless it changes for the worse soon as Febr. 14 is called garden day here, but think it will be a little cool yet unless it warms up faster than it has the last few days. I wish I had a kodak so that I could send a picture of the narrows and cliffs by them. One of the show places of this country is a high rock wall cliff on one side, nearly straight up, but the rock is in layers, with a few shelves where a layer sticks out farther than the rest, a bush or oak tree growing on those shelves. Over the other side a little way there are big boulders in the side of the hill, at the foot of which is the nicest little clear stream flowing over many colored rocks and moos. White pines edge the stream as do other trees and vines, especially a vine called scrotch vine and do they have thorns! They surely wind you up if you don't watch out. A bridge across the stream as the road follows the valley and cuts between the mountains. On the lower side of the bridge the prettiest pool with blue water and so clear you can see the rocks in the bottom and the reflection of the trees, sky and the walls around but the stream was not always as peaceful as now. People used to live there and get flooded out. There was a filling station but all that is left is the cement foundation and surveyors stakes, as there was talk of putting in a big dam with WPA work and making a resort of some kind. I haven't heard much about it this winter but will likely review with spring. I looked and looked but couldn't see a fish in the stream or pool. There were some a short ways down the stream a little earlier in the fall as some of the boys caught some, not very big ones though. They claim there is good fishing south of here in a creek or small river, 4 or five miles away and in another river over about 25 or 30 miles. I have heard a few stories about fish fries and fish but not many. Maybe we can go on some of them sometime, then I will tell some fish stories. We are mighty thankful we stopped on a mountain top where we did, instead of going on east where we would have been in the flood district.

Wind in the east and southeast again and blowing plenty hard, so I expect we are in for another rainy spell soon, as about 2 days of southeast wind, a day of fog then rain for a while is the way it has been. Well, we don't kick on the rain after digging Nebraska dirt storms out of our eyes, although it does get tiresome after a while and is hard on the wood pile, but then, there is lots of wood and a good way to get warm anyhow.

The flu is getting a good start now but most cases are not very serious. There were 10 out of 40 or 50 out of Happy's room last week with others and some of the teachers this week, but all are back in a few days at the most. Having no fish stories to tell one that an old man down the mountain tells in all seriousness, so believe it or not, maybe a goal for some of the heavy drinkers of Ord to aim at. He tells that in his young days the other boys bet they could get him drunk, so of course he drank a pint of whiskey which didn't bother him, so they followed that with 2 more and he still wasn't drunk. To finish up he drank just a gallon of wine and still wasn't drunk. Then the boys decided they didn't want to buy any more as it was a losing game. Little blue chickadees feed in the yard, quite a flock of them. They came when we had a little sprinkle of snow just after Christmas. They call them snow birds here. I saw a real red bird in the valley a day or so ago and hear other birds in the woods. This morning, Saturday, is very warm, hazy and not much wind, just a breeze, while yesterday we had a hard wind most of the day.
Yours truly,
Winnie Coats Cornell.

Severe Winter, Writes Kriz.
Caldwell, Idaho.
To the Editor of the Quiz:
Herewith enclosed check for $2.00 to pay for another year of the Quiz. Although gone several years from Ord, we always are anxious to see the Quiz come.
We have had a very severe winter in the Boise Valley, the worst winter since 1868. Boise valley is noted for its mild winter, but this year was an exception. Although now its broke and most likely spring will be here within two weeks. In January there were only about three days that it got above freezing and at nights it dropped as low as 29 below zero.

Our valley here which comprises several hundred thousand acres of rich irrigated land depends altogether on irrigation. The water is plentiful here. Our rainfall does not amount to much, commencing the first of May, the balance of the year it amounts to probably two inches. Hardly any wind prevails in this valley. This winter Caynon county here has purchased from four miles from Caldwell, a city of over six thousand people. Dairying is one of the main industries here. Caldwell having the second largest co-operative creamery in the United States, paying close to a hundred thousand dollar dividend to their patrons in 1936.

Land has been selling very briskly this winter. Potatoes are also a very good crop. Our neighbor last fall raised one carload of potatoes to an acre, which is some crop of spuds, 360 sacks. Alfalfa will cut from five to seven tons to an acre in three cuttings to the season. Fruit is plentiful. Emmett Valley, about twenty miles north of us ships over a hundred carloads of the black sweet cherries annually during their summer harvest.

We have just a few miles to the beautiful Snake river. Hunting and fishing is plentiful. It requires only a few hours drive to some of the best trout fishing in the country. Wild ducks since the heavy snow fall are so thick that farmers can't even feed their stock, especially the hogs in the feed yards, the wild ducks will swarm in so thick and eat more than the hogs would.

Over ninety percent of the rural farms are equipped with electricity, including everything modern, house lights, pressure water systems, yard lights, etc. At night, especially when short days come, every farmer has his yard lights on and the whole valley looks like one village.

We left western Nebraska nearly two years ago, after operating a five and ten cent store at Grant for several years. We like it out doors, especially in summer time. The days are quiet, no winds, no storms. When you put in a crop you know you will raise it, all you have to do is turn the water on it, which in most places is plentiful. We have an eighty acre farm here, with all new modern improvements, which we put up a year ago this spring. We are so modernized here that a daily newspaper printed in Boise at three p. m. is delivered to us daily to our door here in the country, every day, before six o'clock, same as they are in the cities in through the valley.

Sure glad to see that the Loup river will be finally harnessed up and the water, that prevails there so bountiful throughout the year utilized to some good. This I bound to be of great importance to the city of Ord in the future year. Same as it is and has been here in the Snake river country.

With best regards, I remain,
Yours truly,
Henry Kriz.

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

The Nebraska's senate committee of the whole dealt death to the Regan-Worthing local option bill that would have set ahead from April, 1937 to April, 1939 the right of communities to vote on liquor sales.

The "delaying bill," classified as one of the few introduced thus far that packed dynamite in its import, mustered only 18 votes when the operating force of the committee of the whole started functioning. Twenty-three senators voted for death and two others were present but not voting.

It was after nearly two hours of debate that the death-dealing blow was struck. Galleries were filled and standing room was at a premium. Prior to the committee of the whole action, when open hearing was held, the bill commanded much attention from speakers pro and con as well as spectators. On the day of its public hearing the measure commanded the spotlight, drawing as it did a majority of those legislative followers who find enlightenment and no little entertainment in following committee hearings, no matter what their interest, if any.

Senator Worthing, a co-introducer was the chief proponent of the bill. His argument that "if we permit some towns to become dry while others remain wet, we're simply voting to permit drunken drivers to get behind the wheel."

Senator Dufoe retorted: "This is a question for the people, not us to decide, and it is a decision which the 1935 legislature promised them they might make in 1937. Are we now going to say we were only fooling when we made that promise?"

Most of the senators who rose to argue for or against the measure stressed the fact they did not consider it a wet and dry issue, but were concerned with the bill principally as a matter of regulation and popular local sovereignty.

The vote:
To kill: Armstrong, Ashmore, Brady, Carlson, Carpenter, Carsten, Comstock, Dufoe, Diers, Dunn Hall, Haycock, Howard, R. W. Johnson, Murphy, Neubauer, Norton, Nuernberger, Schultz, Strong, Thomas, Warner and Wells.

To advance: E. A. Adams, J. Adams, Brandt, Brodbeck, Cady, Frost, Gantz, W. R. Johnson, Knickrehm, Miller, J. B. Peterson, Pizer, Regan, Reynolds, Slepicka, Tvrdik, Von Seggern and Worthing.

Not voting: C. H. Peterson and P. J. McMahon.

A lengthy bill outlining procedure for formation of bonded districts in Nebraska has been introduced by Senator R. W. Johnson and six others. It provides for the formation of bonded eradication districts by resident owners of contiguous lands, for the setting up of workable machinery and for the assessment of eradication taxes against the landowners therein on a basis proportionate to the respective benefits received.

Re-enactment of the additional 1-cent gasoline tax to aid in financing the state assistance program has been called for by Governor Cochran.

The 1-cent gas tax, enacted by the 1935 legislature expires March 1. The governor urged that the enactment be completed by that time.

In his budget message Cochran recommended that 40 per cent of Nebraska's fifth penny tax on gasoline be used for the assistance program and the remaining 60 per cent go to the state highway department for matching federal improvement allotments.

Without even a new dress, the same old fight on whether farmers shall be taxed for gasoline not used for operating vehicles on highways has been injected into the senate. Senator Neubauer introduced a bill substantially the same as those introduced in and defeated by two previous sessions of the legislature. It attempts to exempt from the gasoline tax, motor fuels purchased for use in tractors, stationary engines, combines and farm equipment other than trucks and automobiles. Fuel used in aircraft is not exempt from tax, according to the measure.

In hands of senators are two separate and different drafts of state unemployment insurance legislation. M. C. Murphy, former assistant attorney general and adviser on social security to the 1935 legislature, has prepared a measure introduced by Senator Dunn of Lancaster. George E. Price, former legislative bill drafter has drafted a different bill on the same subject and it was introduced by Senator J. J. Adams of Douglas.

Murphy's bill, LB 189, contains 38 typewritten pages of provision which would enable the state to come under terms of the federal social security act.

One Don E. Debow, treasurer of the National Liberty League, who wrote the governor from Omaha suggesting his support of a law legalizing all forms of gambling in Nebraska, and pointing out that state control over legalized gambling would raise approximately $15,000,000 revenue a year, met with gubernatorial frown.

In a press conference Governor Cochran said he had glanced over the letter, but considered the proposed plan "too preposterous" to merit answering.

"The people of Nebraska," the governor added, "voted to bet on horse races and I imagine that's about as far as they want to go."

That the legislature will be asked to pass another bonding bill, one that will be held constitutionally by the supreme court, seemed to be in the program. It was learned that Governor Cochran has ordered a bill on the bonding fund drafted for legislative consideration. He said he was under the impression that passage of a constitutional bonding fund act might not have been entirely barred by the supreme court's recent decision voiding the law passed by the 1935 legislature.

Senator P. J. McMahon of Douglas, one of two senators present but not voting on the Regan-Worthing local option bill that was killed in committee of the whole, is introducer of a bill which would extend the regulatory authority of city and village governing bodies to all alcoholic liquor business. At present this authority extends only over business of beer licenses, liquor sales regulations being laid down by the state commission. The bill carries the emergency clause.

Senator Amos Thomas was the single opponent to a resolution passed by the legislature that provided funds to the legislative reference bureau which will permit the continuation of George Mann's services as the bureau's bill drafter. The bureau was allotted $3,000. The legislature, acting directly, previously had employed three legal counselors of its own. Mann, an attorney, is hired by the bureau but is at the service of the legislature.

Seeking to repeal the state's anti-picketing laws enacted in 1921, after a series of riots in Omaha, Senator P. J. McMahon of Douglas has filed a legislative bill. The introducer explained that the existing law was the most drastic labor law of any state in the union, contending it was of "medieval nature." The present law provides penalties of fines from $10 to $100 or 60 days in jail.

One law on the statutes that is unneeded and that now has the chance of being repealed is that one prohibiting the smoking of cigarettes in public cafes. The law was passed by a fluke in 1919 at the time when the state was considering a bill to legalize the sale of cigarettes. Senator Cordeiro of McCook, member of the '19 session opposed the legislation and offered an amendment to make unlawful cigarette smoking in cafes, thinking the amendment would slay the whole bill. The bill passed with the amendment, however. Several attempts in past years have been made to rid the law-book of the obsolete provision, but to no avail.

Smile of the week: "There's a 50 cent charge," said the telegraph messenger boy to Senator A. L. Miller of Kimball as he delivered a sealed telegram. The senator, expecting a telegram, paid the 50 cents. The boy departed. But the message wasn't the one the senator expected. It was a message from some ambitious constituents who wanted him to oppose a certain bill. "From now on I'm turning down all collect telegrams," declared Miller.

Loads of mail are reaching senators, some for, but more against the "mercy death" bill on file and soon to be filed. Said one letter from an Omahan: "For mercy's sake don't legalize mercy death—it would simply be legalizing murder." L. M. Book was said to have been the writer.

An embryonic law that would halt the practice of working state employes as many as 12 hours a day, as is reportedly the case in some state institutions is embodied in a bill introduced by Senators Brandt of Gage and Dunn of Lancaster, prohibiting the state from working employes more than 8 hours a day or 48 hours a week.

Bearing the names of more than half the entire senatorial membership, a bill appropriating $10,000 for lighting the state capitol tower is on file. Twenty-two senatorial names were attached; Senator E. M. Neubauer is introducer. To pass with the emergency clause requires 29 of the 43 legislative votes.

Boosting from 30 to 90 days the minimum penalty for hit-run drivers of automobiles is provided in a bill filed by Senator Diers of Gresham. Persons stopping at the scene of an accident who refuse to call a doctor or render other aid needed can be punished under terms of the same act.

Senator Von Seggern's LB 159 would require chiropractors to have 4 years of 9 months each in an accredited school after 4 years in an accredited high school and to require an examination before a license may be issued.

Senator A. L. Miller, through

LB 168 would add marijuana to the list of banned drugs in Nebraska.

First and second-class cities and villages in Nebraska would be permitted to levy one mill for erection of public comfort stations under provisions in LB 172, by Senator Murray.

—Dick King of North Loup returned to his home on the bus Friday evening.

Tunnicliff Scores 22 Points As Ord Wins From Ansley

Don Tunnicliff, flashy little Ord forward, won a game almost single handed Friday night as Ord scored another victory by tromping under Ansley high 28 to 17.

Haskell, Zulkoski and Bar-ta on the front line of the Ord offensive machine failed to show a thing in the way of scores, though they all had plenty of opportunities.

Tunnicliff, game captain of the Ansley game, zig-zagged his way through the tight Ansley defense to swish a total of 22 of the total 28 Ord points through the hoop.

Coach Frank Lee's Ord second team took it on the nose again Friday night as they received a 17 to 9 drubbing at the hands of a fast Ansley team.

Ping Pong Meet Comes Next Week

Upon questioning this week tournament manager Syl Furtak said that the inter-city ping pong tourney would get under way sometime next week.

Plans which are now being constructed say that the tournament will be held probably three nights of next week in the K. P. and K. C. halls.

The official league standings not including Febr. 16 games:

League	Team	w.	t.	l.	pts.
American League	Green	3	1	.750
	White	2	1	.666

Mid-Six Conference Title Cinch for Ord

When Arcadia knocked over Broken Bow 19 to 16 last Friday, the Arcadians did the Ord Chanticleers a great favor—they clinched for them the basketball crown of the Mid Six conference.

Ord	4	0	0	1.000
Broken Bow	2	0	2	.500
Loup City	2	0	2	.500

Arcadia, Columbus, In Surprise Wins

As the sport fan picked up his daily paper last week he got a good surprise. The first surprise was the score of the Hastings, Columbus game and the next surprise—especially to Loup Valley enthusiasts—was the final verdict of the Arcadia-Broken Bow clash.

Hastings received its first defeat of the season by a team very inferior to the Hastings quint, the Columbus Discoverers, state champions several years ago, eking out a narrow 28 to 26 win over the Tigers.

With this loss served to the Indians, every team in the Mid Six Conference with the exception of the Ord team has two losses chalked up against them.

Two Leagues Playing B. B. In Ord Grades

"Quit your hollerin' you guys!" shouts Coach Eddy. "Come on now, get down to work."

Yes, those midjet grade school boys are plenty noisy, but can they play basketball—and do they have fun? Twice a week the grade school hoopers, with their eight teams, meet each other in league battles.

Last Thursday evening, the Whites continued their pace as they took the Black team into camp with a 9 to 4 score.

Games to be played Thursday night include the Whites versus the Greens and the Orange versus the Green.

In the National league the players and captains are as follows: White—Alwin Stewart, captain; Donald Atkinson, George Frysek, Bobby Haught and Bernard Lusk.

In the American league the players and captains are as follows: White—Frank Misko, captain; Freeman Johnson, Eddie Tunnicliff, Bobby Shunkwiler, Keith Kovanda, Orange—Raymond Vogeltanz, captain; Junior Lakin, Bobby James, William Rysay, Kenneth Kenfield.

The Ord team is scheduled to play in the tournament to be held in Hastings. Teams who will participate in the Hastings tourney, besides Ord, include: Aurora, Central City, Geneva, Grand Island, Hastings, Holdrege, Kearney, Minden, Ravenna, Red Cloud, St. Paul, Superior, Sutton, York.

Ord Chanticleers Capture Mid-Six Championship, Are Competing This Week for Honors in Loup Valley

This group of boys which makes up the first squad of the Ord high school basketball shooters, has gone through a "tougher than tough" season to remain undefeated in Loup Valley and Mid Six Conference play.

Ord Junior High Quint Beats G. I.

A crew of Ord junior high basketballers traveled to Grand Island last Saturday night where they got revenge for a previous licking handed them by the Grand Island Barr junior high quintet.

The game was a nip and tuck affair from the start with the Ord cagers finally proving their superiority by winning out by the margin of one field goal—24 to 22.

The Ord quint was working in grand style, all of the players coming in for a slice of the scoring. Five Ord men played the entire game, with Henry Misko, Ray Hulbert, and Richard Piskorski chipping in six points apiece in the scoring.

Chanticleers Will Play at Hastings

O. L. Webb, secretary of the Nebraska High School Activities Association, has announced tournament centers for the 1937 championship basketball play on Nebraska high school courts.

There will be eight Class A tournaments, 16 Class B meets and 31 Class C tournaments. Webb explained that this means one Class C tournament winner will qualify for the finals at Lincoln without a playoff.

Tournament centers are as follows: Class A, Beatrice, Fremont, Hastings, Lincoln, Norfolk, North Platte, Omaha, and Scottsbluff. Class B, Alliance, Ansley, Arapahoe, Atkinson, Beaver Crossing, Benedict, Columbus, Geneva, Humboldt, Lincoln, Minden, Neligh, Ogallala, Trenton, Wayne, West Point, Class C, Beatrice, Blair, Brainard, Cody, Coleridge, Columbus, Crete, Elba, Greenwood, Hastings, Hebron, Kearney, Lebanon, Lodgepole, Milford, Minden, Mullein, Naponee, Neligh, North Platte, Oholwa, Parks, Primrose, Sargent, Scottsbluff, Stella, Tadmage, Tecumseh, Thurston, Waterloo, and Venango.

The Ord team is scheduled to play in the tournament to be held in Hastings. Teams who will participate in the Hastings tourney, besides Ord, include: Aurora, Central City, Geneva, Grand Island, Hastings, Holdrege, Kearney, Minden, Ravenna, Red Cloud, St. Paul, Superior, Sutton, York.

Checker Players In Two Ord Tourneys

The checker players of Ord have played two tournaments recently. In the first Clay McGrew was high with 95 and LaVerne Burrows and Herschel McGrew were second with 80 points each.

In the second series, the going was tougher for all concerned, with the following scores: Clint Petersen, 80; Harry Foth, 75; Ed Knapp, 70; C. McGrew, 60; Burrows, 65; Jake Beehrle, 60; Raymond Burrows, 40; E. Petty, 35; Nels Bossen and Will Petty, 25. The games were played at the McGrew Shoe Shop.

Ord-Kearney Clash Features Next Week

Coach Helmut Brockman's Ord high cagers play their next-to-the-last scheduled game of the 1937 season next Tuesday night as they move camp to Kearney where they meet Coach Harlan Wyant's basketballers.

What the Ord-Kearney tilt will prove to be is a question yet to be solved. The Kearney quintet has been bouncing along through the season, hit by a mid-season slump, and just appear to be coming out of it.

With the fans expecting the team to "turn the tables" on Kearney this year a large number of Ord fans are planning to follow the Chanticleers to the battlefield to see exactly what the Red and White is going to do at this meeting with the Bearcats.

BACK FORTY

This season may be remembered as one of high food costs, but cheap grapefruit. Consumers are fortunate in having available the largest grapefruit production on record, and at a time when other food prices are unusually high.

Most folks do not eat enough fruit in the winter time. Fruits contain vitamin A which helps to keep away sickness, especially colds. It is wise to take advantage of the cheap grapefruit and eat a lot for they are better than medicine.

Nearly one-third of California's oranges and lemons froze, causing high prices. Florida will partly offset this shortage soon with the biggest orange and tangerine crop ever produced, but oranges will still be high.

Several of the high school lads, not content with thinking of baseball or softball, are even contemplating playing marbles.

They really have plenty of school spirit at Arcadia high school if what is said in the school section of the Arcadian is true.

Ed Kruml of Ord, wrestler de luxe, has been doing a lot of wrestling lately in the Omaha and Lincoln rings. He has done his share of tossing as well as being tossed.

Whether Coach Willis is directly responsible or not, nobody knows for sure, but North Loup athletic teams have certainly been on the "up and up" the last year.

Basketball Scores

Loup City 19, Rockville 10.
Columbus 28, Hastings 26.
Dannebrog 35, North Loup 28.
York 42, Grand Island 21.
North Loup 33, Taylor 17.
St. Paul 32, Shelton 25.
Arcadia 19, Broken Bow 16.
Kearney 22, Gothenburg 19.

—Mrs. Frank Johnson was a bus passenger for Omaha Tuesday afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Lewin and Ray Hill were over from Arcadia on business Tuesday forenoon.
—George Benn and Judge John L. Andersen were in North Loup on business Monday.

—Leather four-in-hand ties in medium and light patterns, easy to clean. Stoltz Variety Store. 47-11
—Mrs. Hattie Baird went to Grand Island on the bus Tuesday afternoon, and from there to North Platte on the train.

—George Round, Jr., of the university extension service, was a visitor in Cozad last Thursday afternoon.
—Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, Jr., are visiting this week at the John Ward, sr., home. They arrived on Monday.

—Mrs. Mickey Hather and sister, Alyce Mikkelsen came up from Grand Island Monday evening, returning Tuesday morning on the bus.
—E. Swanda, who has been operator at the Burlington depot in Ord for some time, is now at Sutton, Nebr., where he is filling in temporarily. However, it is expected that he will be given a permanent assignment some time in the spring.

—S. M. Davis, who has been in Omaha firing for the Union Pacific since Jan. 14, returned to Ord on the U. P. evening train Monday, going on up to Burwell on the bus. He will make his home there with his brothers while he is off duty, as he can help them in the Garfield County Shoe Service, of which they are proprietors.

—Two Valley county young men Paul McNamee of Ord and Wallace Cox of North Loup, signed up for the forestry service at Halsey, Nebr., and Frank Kruml took them over there Sunday. It is understood that the pay for this work is $39.50, and that $15.00 of this pays for board and lodging. The work is largely tree planting.

—Dwight W. Keyes, manager of the Brown-McDonald store here, left Monday by auto on a buying trip to St. Louis and Chicago, planning also to visit friends in Vincennes, Ind., where he formerly worked, and in Milwaukee. Mr. Keyes expected to be gone ten days or two weeks. Assistant Manager Wm. Darges is in charge of the store during his absence.

—Ken Peterson, in Ord Monday on business, was loud in his praises of the promptness with which the Burwell Fire department responded to the telephoned call for help when the W. S. Peterson home caught fire Saturday. The farm is 1 1/2 miles from town, but from the time that the fire whistle sounded until the truck drove into the yard was less than four minutes. The fire, which caught from the chimney and burned in the clothes chute, caused a damage of more than one hundred dollars, which was protected by insurance.

—Mrs. J. N. Johnson of Burwell spent a short time Tuesday morning with her daughter, Mrs. George Anderson, later accompanying her son-in-law, Mike Revolinski of Sargent as far as Grand Island on her way to Kearney. Mr. Revolinski went to Grand Island to meet his wife who was returning from Rochester, Minn.

—F. J. Dworak is in receipt of a letter from his son Joe to the effect that they will leave California at once, going first to Phoenix, Arizona, from there to Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and finally to Nebraska, where they will arrive about Febr. 27. The Frank Dworak, Jr., family also expect to come but cannot get away at this time. They will arrive later. Joe sent his brother-in-law, Jack Johnson of Burwell a souvenir ash tray which gives his opinion of California in forcible language.

Saturday Sale

Saturday, February 20
One o'clock

We had another large consignment at the Saturday sale, consisting of cattle, horses and hogs, but not so many pigs, and, the largest number of buyers that we have had at any sale since we have taken over the business.

The cattle market was active and the offering was above the usual standard.

The fat hogs brought within 7½ cents of the Omaha top, but, the plainer hogs and those that carried scurf were hard to sell. The pig market strengthened as the sale progressed. There was a good demand for thrifty pigs but the poorer kind were slow.

The horse market was active with good horses bringing very good prices. If you have horses to sell consign them because the buyers will be here again this week to buy them.

There is a demand for light weight cattle from 350 to 600 pounds and could sell unlimited number to local buyers.

If you have stock of any kind and are afraid to consign to this auction phone us as we have buyers who will come and bid on your stock.

We had 143 cattle, 222 hogs and 20 horses. These were actual sales.

We will have 150 Cattle Consisting of:

- 25 good Hereford calves.
- 1 extra good Angus bull, 16 months old.
- 3 purebred bulls, but are not registered, that were to be here last week will be here this week.
- 1 extra good Hereford bull, 3 years old.

25 Horses      175 Hogs

The increase of stock is proving that it brings an increase to buyers.

You can get your check after the sale if you care to wait or you can get advance money that afternoon if you need it.

Bring your stock in early as we want to start at 1:00

"Rainbow on the River" Brings Boy Marvel in Musical Drama

Bobby Breen, Overnight Film Sensation, Stars Anew in a Vivid and Heart-touching Story of an Orphan Adopted by a New Orleans Colored Mammy.

SET in the colorful background of New Orleans in the gay 70's, "Rainbow on the River," Bobby Breen's new singing vehicle produced by Sol Lesser for RKO Radio release, offers film patrons a lavish musical drama boasting a strong story plot, a fine cast, elaborate settings and a group of songs by the talented nine-year-old star.

May Robson heads the supporting cast of the young songster who skyrocketed to fame in his debut picture, "Let's Sing Again," after having won wide popularity as Eddie Cantor's radio protege.

Charles Butterworth, Louise Beavers, Alan Mowbray, Benita Hume, Marilyn Knowlden and Henry

The musical numbers, which are keyed to the action of the story and mood of the characters, come from the pens of foremost composers.

Three immortal numbers by the beloved Stephen Collins Foster are sung by the young lyric tenor, "Ring, Ring de Banjo," "Old Folks at Home" and "The Camptown Races." Representing the modern mode in music is the catchy theme song, "Rainbow on the River," written by Paul Webster and Louis Alter. "The Flower Song" was written specially for the star by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld, the musical director, with words by Selma Hautzik. Other important numbers include "Waitin' for the Sun," a typical

With Bobby Breen as a Southern orphan boy who comes North just after the Civil War in search of his parents, and May Robson as an irascible and wealthy New Yorker believed to be Bobby's grandmother, Bobby's new film is titled "Rainbow on the River." It is based on the popular novel, "Rainette's Philip," by Mrs. C. V. Jamison.

O'Neill essay important roles. More than a thousand atmosphere players appear in the several spectacular sequences.

Adapted from the well-loved novel, "Rainette's Philip" by Mrs. C. V. Jamison, the screen play presents young Bobby as a winsome waif raised in the southland by a devoted negro servant, Louise Beavers, until he is taken away to live in New York with a wealthy Yankee grandmother, May Robson.

In this strange environment Bobby yearns for the colored mammy and the simple life they led in their humble cabin. Because of her hatred of the South, inspired by the loss of a confederate son who died in the Civil War, the cold-hearted grandmother is reluctant to claim the southern lad as kin. Bobby, however, finally melts her heart with his enchanting voice while innocently revealing his loneliness by singing those songs which endeared him in the hearts of his southern friends and playmates.

At the ORD THEATRE, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 18, 19 and 20.

negro spiritual by Karl Hajos and Arthur Swanstrom; the traditional hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy," the hymn from Von Flotow's "Stradella," and Franz Schubert's "Ave Maria."

Elaborate settings are said to mark the production. Its locale includes the picturesque French Quarter in New Orleans during the reconstruction period of the 70's, the Mississippi River in springtime, an entire southern village, a humble plantation slave quarters, a war-torn southern mansion, a simple parish church, colorful levees and old river boats. As a striking contrast is the aristocratic northern mansion of Bobby's Yankee grandparent.

One of the highlights is the singing of the famous Hall Johnson Choir of fifty-four Negro voices in cotton-picking and Mississippi levee scenes.

Delegation Will Visit Lincoln To Boost Ag Station

Committee Hearing Will Be Held Soon on Bill To Appropriate $20,000.

Plans are being made to take a large delegation of Ord, North Loup and Burwell people to Lincoln when the unicameral bill No. 240 comes up for a hearing before the agricultural committee, which probably will be about March 15, according to advice from Senator Neubauer, chairman of that committee.

The bill, which was introduced by Senator Tracy Frost with six colleagues as co-signers, provides for an appropriation of $20,000 to make possible establishment of a state-federal agriculture experimental sub-station in the North Loup valley.

No. 340 has passed first reading and was referred to the agriculture committee for consideration. This committee, with other bills slated for hearing this week and next, cannot hold a hearing on No. 30 before the middle of March. Local people will be advised of the date set for the hearing five days before it is held, say Senators Neubauer and Frost.

Because of the coming of irrigation to the North and Middle Loup valleys, data on proper crops to plant under central Nebraska conditions is badly needed, hence local interests are anxious for the legislature to pass this bill making possible the irrigation sub-station.

If the bill passes about 160 acres of land somewhere within the North Loup district will be bought by the state and federal governments suitable improvements made on it, and it will be maintained perpetually as an experimental farm. Similar stations are in existence at North Platte, Mitchell, Lincoln and Valentine.

The Ord chamber of commerce will make arrangements for sending a delegation of local people to Lincoln to attend this committee hearing, when the date is announced, and the Wranglers club of Burwell and Community club of North Loup will be invited to cooperate.

Welniak Fined $25 Loses Driving Permit

Arrested Tuesday evening by Night Officer Roy Pardue as he was driving south out of Ord on No. 11 highway, Pete Welniak was charged with reckless driving in county court the next morning and upon his plea of guilty was fined $25 and costs by Judge John L. Andersen. His permit to drive an automobile in Nebraska was revoked for one year also.

Officer Pardue's testimony was that Welniak almost hit a car parked near the McGinnis & Ferguson office and then drove south in such a manner that his car was "all over the pavement."

Although intoxication was not charged by County Attorney Lee, Mr. Welniak admitted in court that he had consumed a small quantity of apricot brandy shortly before his arrest.

Footwangler's Cow Has 3 Fine Calves

Last week the Quiz carried a story of Aldrich Janicek's cow that had three calves, two of which were still alive. This is a very unusual incident, but strangely enough, Ernest Lange tells us that the occurrence was repeated out in Mira Valley last week. A half breed Hereford cow belonging to Lee Footwangler had three fine calves on Tuesday, Feb. 9 and at this writing they are all alive and happy. The Quiz plans to have a picture of these calves for next week.

New Food Center Store.

Food Centers, Inc., have opened a new store at Fullerton, the Quiz is told by Joe Puncocar, manager of their Ord store. Dwain Russell, previously manager at Arcadia, has been transferred to Fullerton and Darr Evans will manage the Arcadia store. About January 1 the Food Center concern opened a new store at Spalding with Jerry Puncocar of Ord as manager.

Artichoke Contracts Now Total 1000 Acres

One thousand acres of land near Ord have been signed to artichoke contracts for the coming season and about 3,000 will be signed before planting time, reports L. J. Auble, the agent here. Largest contract signed to date is that of Will Prien, who will raise 50 acres this season. Many others of the best farmers in this community are turning to artichokes as a cash crop that is sure no matter what the rainfall may be.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blessing and family came up from Lincoln Saturday afternoon for a short visit with relatives, returning Monday evening.

Ladies of G. A. R. Celebrate Mrs. Emily Burrows' 90th Birthday With Party

The Ladies of the G. A. R. gave a party Monday at her home in east Ord in honor of Mrs. Emily Burrows' 90th birthday. Her birthday was really on February 24, but she told the ladies that they could change her birthday earlier than they could change Washington's, so they celebrated on that day. The accompanying picture, taken by Lavern Duemey, shows who were at the party. Standing in the back row, left to right are Mrs. Larry Botts, Mrs. Ed Holloway, Mrs. Ivan Botts, Mrs. Arthur Ferris, Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mrs. Bessie Achen, Mrs. Emma Hansen, Miss Helen Chubbuck, Mrs. Helen Hunt, Mrs. Agnes Pratt, Mrs. William Carlton, Mrs. Nancy Covert and Mrs. C. F. O. Schmidt. Seated in the middle, left to right, are Mrs. Jack Burrows, Baby Kay Elaine Hughes, and Mrs. Emily Burrows. In the front row are Mrs. Bob Hughes, Mrs. Harvey Hohn and Earl Dean Achen. Mrs. Burrows was invited to the home of her son Guy Wednesday to eat her birthday dinner. Her other sons Raymond and Jack and their wives were also present, and Raymond's son Richard.

Councilmen Hold Hearing Tonight On Gas Franchise

Recommendations As to Passage, Rejection.

At a special meeting in the council room of the city hall tonight, Mayor Gould will preside and the six members of Ord's official governing body will hear the Ak-Sar-Ben Natural Gas company's formal request for a franchise to operate in Ord and will, in all probability, either take steps toward granting a franchise or reject the application.

H. L. Lee, of Oxford, and other Ak-Sar-Ben officials will appear at the special meeting, which is scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m. All citizens with opinions on the question of granting a franchise, either pro or con, are invited to attend the hearing and express their views.

The Ak-Sar-Ben people propose to start work this spring on installing a pipe line to Ord and building a distribution system within the city, provided they are given a 25-year franchise by the council. They will spend at least $20,000 on their local system and be ready to distribute natural gas here by fall, it is promised.

City Attorney Ralph W. Norman has been studying the proposed franchise and will, the Quiz understands, recommend a few minor changes for the council's consideration. In the main, he finds the franchise satisfactory. Attorney Norman has stated.

Should Ord grant a franchise it is likely that natural gas service also will be extended to the villages of Cotesfield, Eiba and North Loup which are adjacent to the company's proposed pipe line up the valley. From Ord the pipe line will be run to Broken Bow, taking in one or two villages en route. Applications for franchises also are being considered at Loup City and Ravenna, with excellent chances of passage.

Must Report Soon On Social Security

All Ord business men who have not done so should bear in mind the fact that they must report for January before March 1. It is not known whether any one has neglected to take care of this important proposition, but March 1 is the dead line, and all reports must be in by that time. Owing to the fact that this is a new proposition it is possible that some have neglected to do so, hence the reminder.

Ord Ford Dealers Hold Motor School

Richtmyer and Butler, Ord Ford dealers, held a four day school last week. The Omaha branch sent out a specialist named Mangas who has made a study of Ford ailments and their cure. The object of the school was to familiarize mechanics with the familiar Ford laboratory test set, which is designed to fully analyze motor troubles. The instruction was both mechanical and electrical. Representatives were in Ord from Burwell, Sargent, Arcadia, Scotia and Cotesfield.

Melvin Cornell Leases Loyalist Mrs. Rood to Wed

Ord Young Man to Manage
North Loup Newspaper,
Mrs. Barber Editor.

North Loup—(Special)—The Loyalist, newspaper edited and published in this village for more than 25 years by Walter G. Rood and, after his death, by his widow, Mrs. Grace Rood, has been leased to Melvin Cornell, formerly of Ord. Mr. Cornell will serve as publisher and business manager and has employed Mrs. Myra Thorngate Barber as new editor. Bill Bulger, linotype operator, completes the Loyalist working force.

Although the change does not become effective until March 1 the Loyalist has been under the management of Mr. Cornell for several weeks while Mrs. Rood has been in Lincoln visiting a daughter.

Reason for the change is Mrs. Rood's impending marriage to George Mayo, of this village, which will occur in Lincoln soon. They expect to spend several months in southern California, after which their plans are uncertain.

The new publisher of the Loyalist was graduated from Ord high school in 1929, having worked in the Ord Journal office while attending school. During the past seven years Mr. Cornell has been employed by the Scotia Register, Tecumseh Chieftain, Ord Observer, Ord Quiz and the Loyalist. He came to the Loyalist office in 1932 and has since had charge of the mechanical department, often assisting Mrs. Rood in the business office as well.

He is thoroughly experienced in all phases of newspaper work and without doubt will continue to publish an excellent newspaper here. Mrs. Barber, his chief assistant, also is trained in newspaper work, having been employed for many years on the Loyalist staff and with the Clay Center Star before her marriage to J. A. Barber, formerly chairman of the Valley county board of supervisors.

Dr. Earl Wise Is On World Cruise

A. J. Wise is in receipt of information from his son, Dr. Earl Wise to the effect that he has signed as ship's medical doctor with the Dollar Steamship Lines, and in all probability he will be on the next ship, which sails Feb. 27. As is well known, all shipping, including the Dollar line, was held up for some time by the maritime strike, and to date only one ship has sailed on a world cruise. These ships are scheduled to sail every ninety days, making stops at all important ports on the route.

Waterman On Same Section 40 Years

Archie Waterman was forty years old Feb. 19, and March 1 he will have lived on the same section forty years. When he was about two weeks old his parents moved to Section 8, Twp. 18, Range 13, which is over in the Malden valley neighborhood in North Loup township. They lived for a while on the southeast quarter and also on the northwest quarter of that same section. When his parents moved to Ord several years ago Archie remained on the place, and is still living there. Furthermore, he expects to remain there for a long time to come, unless something unforeseen occurs. Not only has he lived there but he has so lived that his neighbors appreciate him, and would not willingly give him up. In these times when the tenure in any given location is uncertain for any of us, to have remained on one section for forty years is a real feat, and Mr. Waterman is in line for congratulation.

Horners Married 50 Years Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. William Horner of North Loup are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary next Tuesday at their home, and will hold open house during the afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock. The family are holding their celebration on Sunday, but there will be many who will want to call and congratulate these fine people on the happy completion of a half a century of married life.

District Will Let Contracts Tomorrow

Contracts for tile and other cross drainage structures necessary during excavation can get fully under way will be let tomorrow by the North Loup district and nine contractors have bids on file, reports Engineer-Manager E. H. Dummire. Total cost is expected to approximate $50,000.

Notice to the Public.

During the absence of Dr. C. W. Weekes from the city, arrangements have been made to have Dr. W. J. Hemphill assume charge of his practice. Dr. Hemphill will be at the Dr. Weekes office in the Auble Block from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. daily.

River Ice Is Blasted To Clear Channel

H. O. Strombom, county engineer, and Ed Anderson were busy most of Saturday and Sunday blasting the ice just above the river bridge. The ice is not quite ready to go out, but the object of blasting was to clear the channel so that when the ice does start it will have a clear passage under the bridge. This is a case where prevention is better than cure, as the cost of the dynamite is much less than the cost of repairing the bridge would be.

Sales Coming Up.

The Quiz is advertising a number of sales for the near future. Cash Greenwall's sale will be Friday, Feb. 26. John Janac's sale comes Monday, March 1. Both the J. M. Kusek and James Arnold sales will come Tuesday, March 2. L. M. Portis will sell Wednesday, March 3. The C. A. Hager Estate and Parker Cook sale will be Thursday, March 4. Jack VanCleave's sale will be Friday, March 5.

L. A. Christensen Heads Credit Corp.

L. A. Christensen, son of N. C. Christensen of Ord, became president of the Production Credit Corporation of Omaha on Feb. 1. He worked in the Ord State bank many years ago. Later he became interested in the banking business in Wyoming. When he first went there he was connected with the Wyoming banking department for a number of years. After that he became an officer of the State Bank of Wheatland, which position he held for several years.

The past two years he has been connected with the short term lending activities of the Farm Credit Administration. The Production Credit Corporation supervises the lending operations of 42 Production Credit associations, including the PCA of Casper, Wyo., one of the largest cooperative short-term loan concerns in the nation. The many friends of Mr. Christensen here will be glad to know of his well deserved advancement.

Hastings and Ollis New Business Firm

James G. Hastings and James B. Ollis, former business partners of the late C. A. Hager are this week announcing that they have purchased his interests in the business, and will continue in the same location under the firm name of Hastings and Ollis. After March 1st Wm. B. Ollis will be associated with them. James B. Ollis worked for Mr. Hager for two years before he and Mr. Hastings entered into the partnership, which was eleven years ago. The firm has been in its present location at 243 South 16 St. for nearly 6 years.

Ord Co-Op. Oil Co. Has Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Ord Co-operative Oil company was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00. There was a good representation of stockholders present. Three directors were elected. P. E. Pockock was elected to fill the unexpired term of Henry Jorgensen, which had one year to run. Leo Long and Henry Benn were elected for three year terms. Howard A. Cowden, president of the Consumers Cooperative association, of North Kansas City, Mo., made a very fine address immediately after the business session. His speech impressed the stockholders very much. The present plans are to change from Shell to Co-op products in the near future.

To Lumbermen's Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sack left Monday for Omaha where they are attending the Nebraska Lumber dealers convention, which lasts until Friday.

Mrs. J. B. Young Passes at Exeter

Elizabeth Emmaline, daughter of Thomas J. and Sarah M. Lambdin, was born in Dallas City, Ill., April 14, 1861, and passed away at her home in Exeter, Nebr., Feb. 14, 1937, aged 75 years and 10 months. Her mother died when she was four years old, her father remarrying and a few years later moving to Bourbon county, Kansas.

She was married Feb. 26, 1883 at Girard, Kansas, to J. B. Young. To this union were born four children, Carol, of Holyoke, Colo., Mrs. Gladys Palmer of Fairmont, Mrs. Audra Behlke of Benkleman and Mrs. Lavanch Edwards who died in 1913. In 1891 they moved to Valley county living in Mira Valley for a period of twenty years, during which time they made many warm friends by whom they will always be kindly remembered.

In 1911 they moved to Fillmore county, and to Exeter in 1913. Besides her husband and three children named, Mrs. Young is survived by a brother, John Lambdin of Walnut, Kansas; a sister, Mrs. Fred Bailey of Vallejo, Calif.; half brothers, Thomas and Elmer Lambdin of Ord; two half sisters, Mrs. Henry Trefren, St. Maries, Idaho and Mrs. Bertha Haught, Ord, and 11 grandchildren. One sister, Mrs. John Young, died in 1895.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Exeter Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 16. Out of town relatives who were in attendance were Carol Young of Holyoke; Ed Behlke and daughter Marjory of Benkleman; Thomas and Elmer Lambdin, Mrs. Bertha Haught and Rev. Dickinson, all of Ord; Ollie Bell of Hastings; Rev. Moore Bell of Friend; and Miss Neva Belle Edwards of Lincoln.

Kearney Still Jinx To Ord, Win 29-19

Although they played a "fine game of basketball, the Ord Chanticleers were beaten Tuesday evening for the second time this season as Coach Harlan Wyant's Kearney cagers served the Ord quint a 27 to 19 defeat.

Effective shooting by Don Tunnicliff kept the Chanticleers trailing the Kearneyites by a close one-point 9 to 8 decision at the half. With Hughes out of the game at guard, the Red and White were unable to hold the Kearney team in check as they edged ahead for the final 27 to 19 finale.

Hughes received a serious ankle injury to make two regulars on the injured list.

Applications For Crop, Feed Loans Now Being Filed

First Lien on Crop or on Livestock Is Security;
$400.00 Is Limit.

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1937 are now being received at the county agent's office and at the crop and feed loan section of the Farm Credit Administration. Joseph P. Barta of Ord is district feed loan supervisor, looking after eight counties.

These loans will be made to farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source, as provided by regulations issued by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing his 1937 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock and may in no instance exceed $400.00.

Farmers are not eligible for these loans if they can borrow money from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern. Emergency crop and feed loans will not be made by the Farm Credit Administration to standard rehabilitation clients of the Resettlement Administration whose current needs are provided for by Resettlement.

As in the past, the security for these loans will consist of a first lien on the crop financed if the loan is for the production of crops, and if for the purchase of feed for livestock, then a first lien on the livestock to be fed. Landlords or others having an interest in the crops or the livestock to be fed, will be required to waive their claims in favor of the lien to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid. Checks in payment of approved loans will be issued by the Regional Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Omaha.

45th Anniversary For Nightingales

Mr. and Mrs. George Nightingale would probably celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary the first of next week, if they could only find a day to do so. As a matter of fact, they have had only ten anniversaries, although their wedding day occurred more than four times that long ago. They were married Feb. 29, 1892 and since that time have found only ten years in which there was a day for celebration. George explains it by saying that they selected that day in order to keep from growing old. Anyway here's hoping that they will live to see a dozen or fifteen anniversaries at least.

Atkinson Editor New Press Chief

Ralph Kelly, of the Atkinson Graphic, was elected president of the Nebraska Press association at the annual convention in Lincoln last week. He was vice-president last year. The new vice-president is S. P. Thurber, of Tecumseh. Fred J. Minder was re-elected secretary and F. O. Edgecombe treasurer. New directors are Ralph Cox, of Arapahoe, Park Keys, of Broken Bow, and C. E. Blauvelt, of Crete. The convention began Thursday evening with a banquet at the Lincoln Hotel, principal speakers including Governor Roy Cochran, Fred Archibald, of Omaha, and Dr. G. E. Condra. Sessions were held throughout Friday and that evening editors were entertained at the college of agriculture, one of the speakers being Major Biff Jones, new U. of N. football coach. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Leggett attended the convention.

$770.25 Was Final Red Cross Total

A total of $770.25 was collected in Valley county during the recent flood relief drive, announces Florence Travis, treasurer of the Valley county chapter. In addition to donations previously announced the following were received: North Loup chapter, $4.70; John Sebasta, $1; Anna Aagaard, $1.50; Edith Jones, $1; Freda Buchnick, $2; Mrs. John Beams, $3; Jacob John, $1; Catholic Ladies' Study club, Elyria, $8; Union Ridge, $1.50; Thursday Study club, $2; Barker Neighborhood club, $1.

Records Of Valley County in Year 1873

By John L. Ward.

Valley county was organized in the year 1873, although some of the earliest settlers had arrived the year before and had taken up their homesteads. The principal settlement in the county at the time was near the future site of North Loup, but it must be recalled in writing of those early days that there was not a village or hamlet in the entire upper Loup valley.

In the summer of 1873 a number of citizens got together and formed the first official county organization. Prominent among them was W. D. Long, who had gone through the period of county organization in another county, only three or four years before, and thus knew the steps necessary for the proper organization of a county. This had an important bearing on the future of Valley county, as will be shown later when the story of Mr. Long is given in the Quiz.

Valley county's first board of commissioners consisted of three in accordance with the state law governing that form of county government. It does not appear in the records how they were chosen, but it was not by election, as none was held until in November, 1873. They were L. C. Jacobs, chairman, and John Case and D. C. Bailey, well known as Uncle Daniel, and the only member who will be recalled by very many.

The records for the year were written by E. D. McKinney, acting county clerk, and transcribed into the new commissioner's record book in January, 1873, by Mr. Long who was the first elected county clerk. A notation is made that the board was duly qualified according to law, which doubtless meant that the state requirements relative to the organization of a new county had been complied with.

The first official act of the first county board was to provide a means of financing the county. This was done by the appointment of two well known old timers to assess all real estate and personal property in the county. O. S. Haskell was given all the territory on the north side of the North Loup river, and George R. Rood all the territory on the south side. This divided the entire county into two assessor precincts.

The instructions given to these assessors is interesting. Horses were valued at from $5.00 to $70.00. Oxen were valued from $25.00 to $70.00 per yoke. Cows from $15.00 to $25.00. Yearlings $4.00 to $8.00 and other stock in proportion. Farming implements and other personal property was to be taken at 2-3rds its cash value. Railroad lands were to be taken at $2.50 per acre.

Considering the number of people then living in the valley, the work of the assessors was not so difficult. It must be borne in mind that the only lands assessable at the time were the railroad lands, as all other land then belonged to the government until it was proved up on. The first levy was six mills per dollar, which at $2.50 per acre meant a tax of 1 1/2c per acre, or $2.40 per quarter section.

This first meeting of the board was held June 23, 1873. The writer would like to know where it was held. If anyone knows, let us hear from you. The board then adjourned until July 1, 1873. At this meeting a petition for road No. 1 was filed and acted upon. This petition was presented by Charles Badger, whose name appears frequently in the records of the 70s.

D. A. Post was appointed road viewer for this first road, which started in the center of Sec. 11, Twp. 17, Range 13, and ran due north eight miles through the center of the sections. It started two miles over into what is now independent township three miles south of the present west edge of the village of North Loup. That part from North Loup north to what is known as the Fish corner is an integral part of highway No. 11.

The following is a list of the names on this petition. If you think you know early history see how many of them mean anything to you.—Charles Badger, Thomas McDowell, for whom McDowell

Valley Teachers' Institute 25 Years Ago

The above picture was taken approximately 25 years ago, some time in February, 1912. It is a group of teachers and instructors assembled for the Valley county teachers' institute. The sessions were held in the south side school, which was the Ord high school at that time, and the picture was taken in the gymnasium. Among them are Supt. C. S. Jones, Eva B. Shuman, then county superintendent, Clara Clement Holmes, Marie Brown Pierce, Lella Moorman, John L. Ward and a number of others. See how many of them you can name, and hand The Quiz a list of them.

canyon was named, S. P. Horr, Ira Bristol, H. A. Babcock, Amos Burdick, D. C. Maryott, George B. Rood, C. J. Rood, Lucy Davis, Nels Anderson, J. A. Green, J. O. Burdick, Harry S. Davis, Enoch Davis, Ebenezer Davis, W. G. Collins, R. J. Collins, J. C. Collins, O. A. Clark, J. H. Collins and George Miller.

Road No. 2, which was objected to by Charles Badger for some reason, started at the southeast corner of Sec. 1, Twp. 17, Range 13. It ran along the east and north sides of this section and then north three miles, after which it angled to the northwest a mile and united with road No. 1. From the Fish corner it ran 1 1/2 miles west, 1/2 mile north, and 1 1/2 miles west again. All of this road is still in use, except the angling one mile. Thus the first roads in the county paralleled each other for more than three miles, and were only half a mile apart. They are still there.

The records show that the first bill allowed against Valley county was one for $1.50 allowed J. H. Collins as clerk of election. July 7, 1873, Elder Babcock was made justice of the peace for Valley county, and the county superintendent, name not mentioned, was allowed $2.00 for each day actually spent in the duties of his office. L. C. Jacobs was instructed to build a bridge of logs and poles across Mira Creek where it crossed road No. 1. This is at the northwest corner of the village of North Loup.

Also on July 7 the county was divided into three commissioner districts, each extending completely across the county east and west. Dist. No. 1 extended from the south county line, nine miles north and south. Dist. No. 2 was just north of this and six miles wide, while Dist. No. 3 comprised the rest of the county. On Oct. 6 voting precincts were fixed as follows: Precinct No. 1 all of the south half of the county south of the North Loup river; Precinct No. 2, all the rest of the county south of the river, and Precinct No. 3, all of the county north of the river.

A resolution was passed that they give Charles Badger $7.00 on the treasurer, no reason for the donation being given. On Oct. 14, 1873, the county treasurer was instructed to pay county warrants in the order in which they were given and the warrants were to be issued in the order in which the work was done.

On Jan. 6, 1874, the first regular meeting of the duly elected county board was held. O. S. Haskell and Byron H. Johnston were both appointed justices in Precinct No. 3. D. A. Post was to view and locate road No. 3, petitioned for by W. D. Long and O. S. Haskell. Ansel P. Payne was to view and locate road No. 4. C. J. Rood was to view and locate road No. 5.

County Clerk Long was ordered to procure from the state auditor the first supplies Valley county ever ordered. Included in this list was the first commissioners book of Valley county, from which the material for most of these stories is taken. The records of the first several years are in the hand of W. D. Long, who wrote one of the most legible hands of any of the clerks that Valley county has had.

Of special interest is the fact that of all the names mentioned in the records of Valley county's first official year only one man remains alive. The venerable C. J. Rood, or Charlie, as he is best known, is still alive and enjoying a fair state of health in spite of the fact that he is well past the 80 year mark. He is now living in Colorado although he spent the best part of his life in the North Loup valley.

Death Claims Two Former Residents

Alverdo R. Haskell passed away about Feb. 1st at his home in West Plains, Mo. Mr. Haskell was an old time resident of Valley county, and had reached the age of 87 years at the time of his death. Mrs. Haskell is still living. They made their home with their two daughters Ethel and Harriett, who run a book store. A sort time before Mr. Haskell's death this venerable couple celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary. Another daughter, Vera, lives in Iowa, and the only son, Walter, has been a missionary to China for twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Haskell came to Valley county in 1876, at the time the rest of the Haskells arrived. They came from Illinois, and Mrs. Haskell soon became so homesick that they went back to Illinois after they had been here only a short time. Alverdo Haskell was the 3d brother in the family and the next younger than the oldest sister, Mrs. Cynthia Robbins. Mrs. Rose Williams was the next younger member of the family, followed by W. W. Haskell. The youngest girl, Mary Jones, living in Canyon City, Colo., is the only one of the Haskell family now living, and Mrs. W. W. Haskell is the only relative of the early generation now living in Ord.

Hiram Matthews, a resident of Burwell for many years, passed away Wednesday morning in Omaha at the age of 90 years. He had been a resident of Omaha for the past twenty years. He leaves his wife to whom he was married 37 years next April 13. He also leaves four sons, Jack of Lincoln, Will C. C. L., and Q. Matthews, all of Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Matthews celebrated their 60th anniversary April 13, 1930 with a dinner given to a large number of friends and relatives at the Cornhusker hotel in Lincoln.

Franklin Potter Died Tuesday

Franklin Potter was born in Lexington, Kas., March 18, 1858, and passed away at his home in Arnold, Nebr., Feb. 16, 1937, being at the time of his death 78 years, 10 months and 29 days old. His father died when Franklin was three years old, and with his two older brothers away in the Union army, he had to help his mother about the home in those pioneer days.

On March 9, 1881, he was married to Sedonia Kitterman, in Jewell county, Kansas. In 1889 they moved to Valley county and lived on a farm in Springdale. They moved to Arnold in 1917 and ten year later, Feb. 8, 1927, Mrs. Potter passed away. Seven children survive. They are Abbie L. Stacy of Arnold; Emma B. Long of Stapleton; Ralph Potter of Arnold; Arthur Guy Potter of Arnold; Glen Potter of Weston, Ill; Harvey E. Potter of Omaha; Hattie E. Martin of Arnold; also a brother, Elmer (Ted) Potter of Harlan, Ia.

In addition to these relatives Mr. Potter is survived by 23 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren and a host of good friends and neighbors who sincerely mourn his passing. Funeral services were held from the Arnold M. E. church Thursday, Feb. 18, and interment made in the Arnold cemetery.

Card of Thanks. We wish to take this means of thanking the friends for their many acts of kindness and words of sympathy, during our bereavement. Your kindness shall never be forgotten.

Checker Players Have Tournament

Another pleasant evening was spent by Ord checker players at McGrew's Shoe Shop. The games were more closely contested than usual, with the following results: C. McGrew, 125; H. Poth and L. Burrows, each 110; H. Rogers, 105; W. Petty, 55; R. Burrows, 50; T. Bechrie, 45; E. Petty, 40.

Little Stories About People You Know

About 35 years ago a group of high school young folks, including a certain well known present day harness maker of Ord (No, his name wasn't Will) made a practice of going down to the Burlington railroad bridge for a swim after school. It happened that a short time before two notices had appeared in the Quiz, one to the effect that it was contrary to ordinance to swim within 100 feet of the bridge, and the other warning everybody to leave the gates of the ditch head alone. The old ditch head was just below the west end of the bridge.

One day quite a number of us went down to swim. Because they had been warned not to do so, some of the boys opened the gate, letting water out into the ditch, incidentally washing two fine bass out into the shallows, where the writer caught them and later had a fine breakfast. Then we all went over to the east end of the bridge and went in swimming. The boys would dive from the top of the bridge, climb out down below and come up and do it over again.

The rest of us were in the water, and Hank had climbed up on the bridge ready to dive again. He was sitting there resting when a man came along with a hand car. He stopped the car and said to Hank, "Don't you boys know it is against the law to swim near this bridge?" With a reproachful look at the rest of us Hank answered, "I told the boys not to go in swimming but the blamed fools would do it." "But what about you?" he asked. "Oh, I'm not in," was the reply, "and if I was, I can't swim!"—Henry Misko will probably deny this, but that don't change the facts a bit.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Fred Howard thought, by moving to California, that he would get far enough away so I couldn't keep track of him, but in locating at Ontario he has played right into my hands.

Senator Worthing of Omaha and those in the senate who believe as he does, have been making a great effort to get his bill extending the time two years, when towns like Ord may vote on local option.

As though it would be passed. It is not likely that Ord will ask to have the matter submitted this spring. It may be a long time before they will ask to have it submitted but that will depend upon how the liquor men conduct the business.

If I was in the bakery business in Ord I would raise so much hell with the bread wagons and their methods that there would be less of them inside of six months.

In order to keep the record straight, I notice that our senator Tracy Frost, voted to advance the bill to extend until April 1939, the time when people of any community, if they wish, may vote on local option.

Mr. Frost also voted with the minority on the resolution opposing the president's federal court program, that is, he voted in favor of giving the power he asked but the unicameral voted by a substantial majority against it, passing the resolution.

I am embarrassed when a person walks in, asks for a copy of the Quiz and walks out without paying for it and often without saying thank you.

Mr. and Mrs. William Banister celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary, their children planning the celebration for them.

The new firm of Bailey and Detweller bought out the lot on which the old Ord Hardware was located and were making plans to build a large building.

All I know about it is what I read in the papers but I fear our road fund from the gas tax is going to be sadly crippled.

may not have thought of it that way.

And I appreciate the large number who have mailed in my recent subscription reminder with one dollar or more to apply, as they could afford. If you got one of those notices with the month when your subscription expired checked and have not taken care of it, please do so at once.

The daily press says that very little interest is being taken in the proposed changes in the primary law. This is not a good sign.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week George Micklewait was carrying around a petition for the purpose of getting rid of pool halls in Ord. There was much talk of a library and a public play house for the young people.

The boys of Company I were home from an eight month sojourn on the Mexican border. The directors of the Loup Valley Fair Association were making plans for a bigger and better fair than ever before.

The North Loup State bank was sold. The buyers were James C. Wisda, C. A. Hager and Forrest Robinson. The bank was first established by Earnest Bros. who had made a success of it, but who desired to engage in other work.

William P. Summers, 68 and Joseph Heitz, 78, both passed away. Joe Knezacek, Union Pacific agent, was taking a vacation.

Farm sales were advertised by Boyd Mulligan, John Dana, Alfred M. Holman, C. S. Burdick and Harvey Parks, and J. S. Burrows and Ormsby Petty.

The Gem theater was advertising "the Spoilers" with William Farnum and Kathryn Williams in the stellar roles.

By George Gowen

Not By Bread Alone. A few weeks ago, in our town, a man working on the WPA stole a sack of coal.

The tracks of the little sled he carried the coal home with were traced to his door and he admitted the theft. It is also said, so it is alleged, that he refused to return to work until he could get his pay.

I have known the man for years. In spite of his reputation he has his good points. He is not a disagreeable man and is pleasant at home.

Overheard. Julius Schoning is good natured and he has a parrot. The parrot took a fancy to the telephone and likes to sit on it and say "Hello, hello."

I tried to place myself in his lot, mentally, and wonder what I would do. Out of coal to warm the kiddies, out of money, and in bad with the officials.

Fred Meyer and his boy Raleigh went to Inbody's sale. Raleigh, short and inconspicuous, stood down in front and Fred, tall and easy viewing, stood in the rear.

A cheese buyer had a long blade sampling knife and a nice knife too, and Art Hutchins said, "I'd like to have a knife like that. Where can I get one?"

Art was a little dumbfounded at the price but the buyer said he would never give away anything sharp. It would be the friendship.

Myra Thorngate Barber seems to be the chief literary artist in these parts. She has won an honorary mention with a poem she wrote and that is something.

Something Different

By George Gowen

The state papers say that Fred Howard, formerly of the Clay County Sun, or perhaps I should say, who formerly was the Clay County Sun, is going into the newspaper business in Ontario, California.

Ontario is the place where former Ord postmaster Edwin Clements and family settled when they went west. So Ordites now have a double interest in that town. And expect to hear of the meeting of those two Nebraskans before long. I am sure they would have a good time together.

Nebraska has never advertised herself like some states, California, Florida, Minnesota, etc. Nebraska has a good climate, rather dry, rather high, numbers of sunny and fair days. She has many beauty spots, lots of pretty creeks, hills, trees, parks, some freak formations to see such as bad lands, some freak findings such as fossils.

But Nebraska has been severely handicapped the past few years. Her loyal citizens, still fond of her after the Republican river valley flood, were next downed by many tons of fine dust and silt from states south and a bit west.

Windowills . . . curtains . . . washings to do over and over . . . the dirt storms were a housewife's nightmare, a real one.

Outdoors, Nebraska suffered from dirt storms also. A glance at the fence posts along most level roads shows the posts deep in fine dust. A glance across many fields shows them bare and hard-packed, every loose bit of dirt blown away.

The trouble is, Nebraska still looks this way. She needs her face washed, her neck and ears dug into. We mustn't advertise for visitors now; we will have to do some cleaning first.

A big boom is being predicted for this valley this spring, what with lots of nice ditch-digging to do, maybe gas mains to install, irrigation getting lined up, a possibility of new factories coming to Ord to locate, etc.

If we are going to have a boom, we should wash our face, tidy up a bit. Perhaps we should choose a

President's Court Plan Divides Nation Into Two Great Camps

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—C ertainly nothing in a long time has shaken official Washington so deeply as the tempest raised by President Roosevelt's supreme court proposal. It is THE one issue now, subordinating all others, including neutrality, relief, and the budget.

And as the controversy waxes hotter, the arguments pro and con divide pretty much along these lines: the opposition cries out against "dictatorship" of the president and Congress; and the proponents rail against "dictatorship of the judiciary."

The charges of "dictatorship" against the president are based on the grounds that Mr. Roosevelt already controls Congress by means of patronage, propaganda, and political reprisals. Hence, the opposition argues, it is all-important that the supreme court retain its independence as the only check on both Congress and the president.

If the president is allowed to appoint six new judges, the opposition argues, the last safeguard of the Constitution will have been swept away, since undoubtedly these new judges would be subservient to the will of the chief executive.

THEY go even beyond this, these foes of the president's plan. They contend that the supreme court is the main bulwark of American independence. "Pack it," or make it subservient either to Congress or the president, and you have cleared the flower, plant it along the roadside and identify it with Ord, the North Loup valley. This has been talked of, never done. Is still a dandy idea.

The enormous drifts have made spring thawing into a spotty business. For every big snow drift there was, there is now a boggy, rutty mudhole on the highways near here, though the highway department have sent out the drag, have shoveled and shoveled to smooth them up.

Where that huge drift was located just east of Olean school there was an odd sight three weeks or so ago. The big drift was probably five feet high, had been plowed through to open it to traffic, a lane about two cars wide.

Resting calmly, quietly, matter-of-course on its top just before dark one evening was a dark-colored sedan, exactly in the middle of this snowy lane. No one there, deserted. Like a ladybug wrong-side up. But not making as much struggle as a ladybug would to regain its proper position. The sedan seemed to be satisfied.

Next week will be moving time for many renters. In Valley county over three-fourths of them will lease farm land on shares.

If they rent for cash, the cost will be from about $2 to $5 an acre. Sometimes the use of pasture land is given free, or for a small lump sum. Alfalfa fields are usually rented for half the hay.

The Commandment of Love

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 28. Text: John 12:20-33; 13:34-35

THE story of this lesson about several devout Greeks who shared the faith of the Israelites and who were among those who went up to worship at the feast of the Passover at Jerusalem, gives evidence of the shadow of death that hovered over the Master.

They had heard of Jesus, and they wished to know more about Him. There is a certain air of mystery about the narrative. The Greeks came to Philip, and made known to him their wish to see Jesus. Philip seems to have questioned whether the Master would receive them or not. He tells Andrew about it, and Andrew and Philip tell Jesus.

Without any indication whether Jesus had received the Greeks or not, we have the record of His breaking forth in words concerning Himself. "The hour," He says, "is come that the Son of man should be glorified." And He adds the mystic words, "Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit."

He continues in the mystic saying concerning the love of life, and the losing of life by which one finds it. He is emphasizing very strongly the crucial nature of Christian discipleship. It is not something easy. It means the linking of men with Christ in great matters of judgment and destiny.

THE disciples could hardly have understood these mys-

way for a Fascist state, they maintain. Proponents of the Roosevelt plan, on the other hand, see a real danger in "judicial dictatorship," which they claim now exists in the high court.

Proponents go on to point out that ample precedent exists for "monkeying" with the court to bring it into line with prevailing political or economic philosophy. Morevoer, that people will not long tolerate the court "as a dictator" of economic and political policy.

Democracy, they contend, is effective just so long as the people's desires are met, and when a court stands between the will of the people and its legislature, democracy is endangered.

A COURT which would be more responsive to the desires of the electorate as expressed through Congress, could and should become one of the main bulwarks of our democratic system, adherents of the president's proposal contend. On the other hand, they say, if the court is to be blamed more and more for preventing solution of the nation's economic ills, it cannot in any case stand up long against encroachments of a dictator and protect civil rights.

Tenancy has been on the increase in this county as elsewhere. Nearly half of the land is operated by tenants. The number of Valley county farmers who are tenants has grown at the rate of 5 or 6 per year.

Our tenants are usually excellent citizens coming from good families. Most of them have fair standards of living and try to educate their children.

Tenancy is objectionable here, not because of its constituents, but on account of the handicaps under which they must labor.

Resting calmly, quietly, matter-of-course on its top just before dark one evening was a dark-colored sedan, exactly in the middle of this snowy lane. No one there, deserted. Like a ladybug wrong-side up. But not making as much struggle as a ladybug would to regain its proper position.

An ideal farming community would be one of free and independent farmers, each with his own land, livestock, and equipment. But agriculture is slipping farther and farther from that ideal.

Art Kaiser Makes Grandfather Clock

Mrs. Frank Glover handed in a clipping which her sister in Canada sent her. It tells an interesting story of their brother Arthur A. Kaiser, who lived here many years and will be well remembered. It appears that Mr. Kaiser decided to make a grandfather's clock and had it all finished in one week's time. Local fir lumber was used in its construction and it was finished in walnut veneer. It is so constructed that the works can be removed from the frame without removing a single screw. Mr. Kaiser followed his own design in making the clock, and put the works in himself. He says that with the tools he now has he could make the clock in two days. People who remember Arthur will not doubt this, as he was a very able carpenter while living here, and built several houses, among them the one just west of the Quiz office.

At Your Service!

It has always been the purpose of the firm of C. A. Hager and Co., to render efficient service to its customers. Though there has been some change in the personnel and the firm will operate under a different name, its policies have not changed.

IF you are in need of insurance we shall always be glad to figure with you. We write all lines of insurance.

IF you are in need of loans on real estate or desire personal loans we will be glad to talk it over and believe we can serve you as well as any office in this valley.

IF you have land or town property to rent and desire an agent to look after it for you, we will welcome a call from you.

IF you have either farm, ranch or town property to sell we would like to list it for sale. There is beginning to be some inquiry from those who are interested in buying.

IF you are in the market for a farm, a ranch or town property we will be glad to show you anything we have listed for sale that might meet your needs. We are agents for the Home Owners Loan Corporation in connection with their acquired real estate in Valley and Greeley counties and can sell your property on very favorable terms.

IF you have moved to a new location this spring we suggest that you take steps to have your insurance transferred so there will be no lapse of coverage. We will be glad to assist you with this at no cost to you.

Surprised on Birthday.

Mrs. Rex Jewett was honored Friday evening at a birthday supper in the home of Mrs. Edith Jones. Those present included Roy Pardue, Miss Olga Lukesh, Miss Josephine Grabowski, Mrs. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jewett. A birthday cake with candles formed the centerpiece at the dinner table. The party was a complete surprise to Mrs. Jewett.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement's 25th Anniversary Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Clement celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Sunday. The affair was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Marius Jorgensen, the Danish Brotherhood, and the Happy Circle club. The dinner was laid in the dining room of the Legion hall, about 200 being present. Mr. and Mrs. Clement received many lovely gifts of silver as well as others which were prized fully as much. These good people were married at Ashton, Nebr., and lived all their married life on the farm in Noble township until last September, when they rented the farm and moved to Ord. They have three children, Roy, Melvin and Milton, and also Pearl Knecht, who has made her home with them for a long time.

Friday Luncheon.

Pythian Sisters Meet.

The Pythian Sisters met Thursday evening. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Kovanda, and consisted of the review of the book, "Gone With the Wind". There was a fair attendance. After the lesson dancing and card playing were enjoyed by the members.

Mrs. Clark's Birthday.

Thursday was the occasion of Mrs. I. C. Clark's 64th birthday, and she and her husband were taken down to the Frank Clark home for a birthday supper. Afterward they all went to the Ord Theater and took in the show.

For Marie Hall.

A number of entertainments were held the past week for Miss Marie Hall, who left for California Monday. Mrs. Frank Serksen entertained for her daughter, Miss Hall on Thursday, Febr. 11, at a card party. Mrs. Keith Lewis took first prize and Mrs. Lorea McMinden second. Last Tuesday Mrs. Tamar Gruber and Mrs. John Ambrose entertained for Miss Hall at a 7:00 o'clock dinner at the Ambrose home. Mrs. Lester Norton won first prize, and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen second. Thursday Mrs. Horace Travis entertained for Miss Hall at her home.

Party for Jensens.

A number of friends took their dinners and surprised Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jensen on Friday, Febr. 19. In the afternoon the men attended a sale and returned for their supper and a very enjoyable evening of rook. Mr. and Mrs. Jensen have resided in the community five years and their neighbors regret very much that they must leave. They are moving to a farm near North Loup.

P. E. O. Meets.

The P. E. O. met Monday evening with Mrs. L. D. Milliken, with Mrs. Gould Flag as assistant hostess. Mrs. G. W. Taylor had charge of the program. Guests were Miss Mary Annabel Williams and Mrs. Frank Higleyman.

Weekend House Party.

Miss Vera McClatchey had a house party from Friday to Sunday for a group of her associate teachers of the Burwell schools. The guests were Miss Leanoor Appling, Miss Nadine Hanson, Miss Chloe Wilson and Miss Elsie Pencka.

The ladies of the G. A. R. met at the Legion hall Saturday at 1:00 P. M. for a covered dish luncheon. After the meeting the ladies quitted.

The G. A. R. ladies quilting division met with Mrs. George Pratt Wednesday afternoon.

The Rebekahs met Tuesday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall. The degree team put on a drill in preparation for the next meeting when there will be initiation. Mrs. A. J. Ferris and committee furnished the lunch.

Mrs. Carlton's Kensington division met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George Watson. Mrs. Carlton and Mrs. Shupkeweller served the lunch. There was a very good attendance.

The Social Forecast.

The Royal Neighbors will meet Friday night.

The Merry mix club will meet with Mrs. Ada Mason Thursday.

The Royal Kensington club will meet Thursday with Mrs. Earl Smith.

A group of the Catholic ladies are going to Burwell Thursday of this week.

The Business and Professionals' women's club meets at Thorne's safe Thursday evening at 6:15 o'clock. Mrs. Carol Mortensen is the speaker. It is to be an International Relations meeting. The art class of the grade school is making flags of all nations as place cards.

The Elm Creek Project club will hold a social meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. John Warford. A covered dish luncheon will be served at a late hour.

Red Cross Activities.

Mrs. Minnie Carlton, emergency Red Cross worker, gives the following list of clothing that has been made over, mended and given out: Except where otherwise specified, the articles had been used. Shoes, 26 prs.; boots, 1 pr.; dresses, 8; sweaters, 7, mended; 2; stockings, 16 prs.; underwear, 8 suits; mittens, 1 pr.; overshoes, 2 pr.; gowns, 1; shirts, 1; pants, 5 pr.; coats, 5; coveralls, 1 suit; caps, 5; hats, 1. New goods, 5 yds. outing for layettes; 2 baby quilts; 2 baby blankets; 1 comforter; 4 bloomers; also 1 sack of coal.

Anyone having old coats, pants, dresses or other articles that they are not using, if they will take them to Mrs. Carlton she will see that they are made into useful garments for some child or grown up. Any magazines or Sunday school literature would be greatly appreciated for distribution in the country or to shut ins who are unable to get to church or Sunday school.

Not long ago an item in the Albin News for forty years ago read as follows: "Mrs. Wm. Hellbusch residing on Plum Creek gave birth five girls and other babies are reported doing well." The statement is certainly interesting if true, and would antedate the famed Dionne quintuplets by 38 years. The public is awaiting with open ears any further reports on this remarkable event.

Cold Storage Locker System

(THIS IS IMPORTANT TO YOU)

☞ We are building COLD STORAGE ROOMS and expect to have them completed soon and in these rooms we are placing individual meat lockers, and when you butcher a hog or beef you can bring it in and have it cut up into pieces according to the size of your family. This meat will be individually wrapped in Wax Paper, placed in your locker under your own lock and key. Thus you can save all eatable parts of the critter, for less than 2 1/2c per day.

☞ You can place in each locker between 350 to 400 pounds of meat and we will have 100 of these lockers to begin with, so if you are interested you had better make arrangements for yours.

☞ A number of these lockers have already been spoken for, so COME AND GET YOURS NOW.

What Other Editors Are Saying

The Arcadian has the following items of interest. Mrs. J. H. Hollingshead and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Weekes and sons of Ord spent Sunday at the Charlie Hollingshead home.—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bly and Mark Murray went to Hastings Sunday to get Mrs. Mark Murray and her mother, Mrs. Fagan, the latter having had a cataract removed from her eye.—Mrs. W. J. Ramsey was called to Wolbach by the illness of her sister—Carl Dieterichs, James Lee and Ralph Hughes were Ord business visitors Tuesday.

The Comstock News got his wires crossed last week, according to the item.—"The prize fight between Joe Louis and Bob Pastor, held in the Madison Square Garden, New York City, last Friday evening, resulted in a decision in favor of Pastor. The fight went the ten rounds and was more even than most fight fans had predicted. Pastor is trying to get a return match with the brown bomber."

But the News has these items of interest about former Ordites.—The members of the Comstock Businessmen's club met at the Mutter cafe last Thursday evening with 24 persons in attendance. This was the first meeting under the new officers, who are E. J. Crawford, president; John Rockhold, vice-president; O. B. Mutter, secretary; and Roy Westlake, treasurer.—The village board of trustees met in regular session in the city hall last Monday evening. Fire chief Kenneth Myers and Charles Mutter appeared before the board in regard to purchasing a fire truck. The proposition was not definitely decided at the meeting.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

There are so many different recipes for making ice box rolls, most of them very delicious. An electric ice box is not necessary to use these recipes. In cold winter weather cover them closely and set the rolls out on the back porch, it will work just as well as "over night in the ice box".

These recipes vary little, chiefly in the amount of shortening, sugar, eggs, or possibly the leavening agent used. Each kind of roll has its advocates. What kind of ice box rolls do you make at your house? May we print the recipe, please?

Ice Box Rolls.

Mix one-half cup mashed potatoes, two cups of scalded milk, let stand until lukewarm. Beat in one-half cup melted shortening, one tablespoon salt, one-fourth cup sugar, two cups flour, one-half cake fresh yeast dissolved in one-fourth cup lukewarm water. Then add one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda. Let rise about two hours, then add three to four cups flour and put in a cool place for twelve hours. Pinch off the dough in small balls, let rise and when light bake about twenty minutes.

Corn Bread.

Combine one pint cornmeal, one-fourth cup sugar, one pint of flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two beaten eggs, one-half cup melted butter or lard, one pint of milk. Beat well and bake quickly.

Casserole of Tuna.

Crumble tuna fish in small pieces and place a layer of fish in a buttered casserole. Then put in a layer of crumbled potato chips, do this alternately until one small can of fish and one medium sized sack of potato chips have been used up. Heat one can of mushroom soup to boiling point and pour over the dish. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. A small can of mushrooms may be added. This is a lovely dish for luncheon, served with hot rolls.

Apple Crumb.

Butter a baking pan and cover with peeled, quartered sour apples, using about four. Work one-half cup butter or shortening with one cup brown sugar, one cup flour until the mixture is like granulated sugar. Bake until apples are soft and the top brown.

—Marjorie Messenger and Bernice Troxell of Burwell were on the morning bus Monday enroute to Grand Island to spend the day.

DONALD TUREK.

Donald Wayne Turek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Turek who live near Comstock. Donald will be 2 years old on June 9, but this picture was taken when he was five months old.

in Nebraska who has strong feelings on the proposed mercy death bill. In a letter to Hugh B. Ashmore of Palisade he wrote: "I am not very interested in banking legislation, but I am in favor of the death mercy bill. An amendment should be attached covering all sit down strikers. County bankers should be included. Perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea to include members of the legislature supporting such a measure."

The Palmer Journal contained these worth while notes.—"Every year we've been in the newspaper business we've written up a piece about the groundhog. This year we are not going to do it. We're not even going to mention that he saw his shadow Tuesday, nor are we going to speculate on whether this means six more weeks of winter weather. We don't believe in the groundhog, and we're going to keep still about him this year."

—"The study of arithmetic is getting more important all the time. For instance, it enables one to add up basketball scores, keep track of the football and basketball averages, and tune the radio properly. Of course it can be used also in figuring the income tax; but who wants to think about that?"

Jewett Is Mistaken.

The Quiz makes mistakes every week, but Rex Jewett called us to task last week for calling Dr. J. G. Kruml's moose an elk. The encyclopedia tells us that the largest living form of deer is the true elk, or moose. So for once the Quiz made a mistake in the right direction.

Who Drove His Car On Loup River Ice?

A man living up toward Burwell tells a strange tale of seeing a car bearing a Valley county license number driven down the middle of the North Loup river one day recently. He did not know the man, he says, but knows he isn't dreaming, as he went out afterward and looked at the tracks on the ice. He believes the car came all the way to Ord. Interesting, if true.

CHARLES W. CROMWELL.

Charles W. Cromwell, who lived for many years on the Cedar northwest of Ericson and also in Wheeler county, passed away at his home in Mountain View, Mo., Jan. 17, 1937. Mr. Cromwell was quite well known in Ord better than thirty years ago, when he lived here for a time and attended the Ord schools. He took a homestead near Gables about thirty years ago and lived there until 1926. He was 52 years of age, married and a member of the Presbyterian church. He leaves his wife, Agnes, three children, John, May and Oliver, and a brother, Oliver P. Cromwell, of Kimball, Nebr.

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

There were 551 proposed measures passed into or through the senate's bill hopper when the shade of night fell on the thirtieth legislative day of Nebraska's Senate...

Scanning the record, the 551 bills were introduced by 43 senators. Two years ago when 133 men made Nebraska's laws under the two-house system, 1,056 bills were introduced in the 20 days allotted for that work...

The day after the bill hopper closed with a bang, Governor Cochran signed the only major bill passed by the senate in its first legislative days. It was LB 4, Nebraska's mortgage moratorium law...

Two senators of Lancaster county are entitled to high and low honors in the matter of introducing bills. Lester Dunn of Lincoln, as author of 39 bills, sent more measures to the hopper than any other senator...

If a law proposed by Senator Comstock of Lancaster is passed, it will be necessary for purchasers of liquor to show a license to do so each time a bottle is purchased.

Cost of the license under measure terms is $1.05, the five cents going to the vendors of the license who would be designated by the state liquor control commission.

One of the busiest yet least publicized committees in the legislative setup is the appropriations group that have started hearings on the budget recommendations of Governor Cochran.

There is a bit of new dress to it, but in the main, the time-worn plan for state licensing and regulation of motion picture distributors has been placed before the senate.

Connection and interconnection of public power and irrigation districts is permitted under terms of a bill introduced by Senator Hall of Roseland.

members would supervise the activities of such systems. It is a bill that will draw fire from utilities. It allows the board to conduct generally the business of "furthering the use and sale of electrical energy."

Although lawed against, it is apparent that slot machines still operate in Nebraska, and to this end, a bill introduced by Senator Neubauer would seek to have them share their burden of state assistance.

A poll of Nebraska's senate indicated that the child labor amendment that has been a bone of contention for several seasons probably will pass this year.

The third attempt in two years to encourage payment of delinquent taxes by cancelling interest charges, embodied in a bill introduced by Senator Haycock of Calaway, has wound its way successfully through the senate's committee on revenue and taxation and now comes to the body elect for consideration in committee of the whole.

The measure that comes to light is a revamp of LB 1, offered by Haycock. The original bill carried no provision for time limit, but was inserted in committee as a constitutional precaution.

Appearing as a revenue measure, LB 499, a chain store tax bill has been introduced by Senator John Kuckreim of Grand Island.

The board of control has on file several measures introduced at its request. Included among them is LB 326, providing for removal of persons now cared for at the Millford soldiers' home to the soldiers' home at Grand Island by July 1, 1937.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Even College President Has His Lighter Moments. Febr. 18, 1937. Awroot to Norleans

To the Ord Quiz: Well Hank a week or two ago I got a tremendous big kick out of a letter you published which wuz writ I believe by Winnie Coats Cornell so I sez to myself when I woke up this mornin sumwhere in eastern Oklahoma with a whole day and a night yet to spend on this ramblin rockin old Misery Specific trane why dont I write Hank a letter and give him sum of my impresshuns cause maybe he would even be glad to hear from a green college president that is just learnin how to presdent a college.

Well sir I want to tell you when I looked out this mornin I dont belive I ever saw so doggoned many shacks on so blamed many hillsides in all my life and when the trane stopped at what I supposed wuz towns I wouldnt a believed it was possible for any one if they deliberty tried to toggle together so many different kinds and varieties of bulldins part stone, part brick and then some bords standing up and down and where they ever went for there names why there was Talala, and Oooloolah, Nodesha and Muldrow and so on well sir I wuz just about givin up hope of ever gettin anywheres and says to myself I bet we got blue off our course by some of these here dust laden gales and are lost somewheres in the great southWest when I want you to know we gave a couple of extra puffs, a toot and a whistle here we wuz landed in Fort Smith.

Well sir the conductor he got out and walked up and down the platform a couple of times with his arms full of green and red lanterns lookin I suppose fer passengers but finally he seemed to weary cause even though it was nigh onto eight or nine oclock there wuznt a soul stirrin so he got bak on the trane sorta reluctant like and then we started to back up and after wed backed and started a few times and just about splashed all my shavin water outa the bowl we took a fresh start and bless my soul if we didnt land smack dab in Van Buren Arkansas and there it wuz all hussel and bussel a colored fella was diggin a ditch and he threw out too hole shovel fulls just while we wuz taken on coal and water.

Well sir over on the hill side yonder was the hole famby out in the back yard doin the monthly washin it musta been monthly cause the clothes wuz piled clean up against the gable of the roof well sir there was a sign on the front end of all the Fords and Plymouths that said "Home of Bob Burns."

Sew I sez to a boy that wuz standin there by the depo with a straw in his mouth (no kidding) what daz that mean on the front end of all these ortamobiles enyhow and he sez Yew go on yew cant hev no fun with me youre one uv those goshdarned smartalecks from Nebraska and yew know who Bob Burns is or yew woodent a ast me in the first place. Well sir as we pulled out of Van Buren I got a chanct to see another one of what I assume must a been one of those big W. P. A. projects, cause here wuz a big truck dumpin a lot of debris and tin cans an garbage and the like and here were a couple of colored boys with a wheel barrow haulin it back to town again.

Well I must get serious before I get to N. O. so goodbye. Bert Cushing.

Ord Cops Conference Cage Trophy, Undefeated in Loup Valley Sports

Brockman Boys Rule Loup In Basketball As In Football for 1936-37.

By mowing down Sargent, Arcadia, Dannebrog and Taylor last week in the annual Loup Valley basketball tournament the Ord Chanticleers kept their record clean to remain undefeated in any type of sport by any team in the Loup Valley region this year.

On their second try at the team free throwing championship, the Ord squad tossed in 65 out of 100 chances to win the team free throwing trophy with ease.

Ord got off to a rather dull start in the very first game of the tournament as they came near receiving a good wallop by the inspired Sargent high school cagers. With Sargent leading 14 to 7 at the end of the third quarter, the Chanticleers came out of their trance to play a superb brand of ball and out the Bulldogs 21 to 16.

In the opening rounds of the tournament two upsets were chalked down as Coach "Bullet" Brown's Loup City crew shovled one of the seeded teams—St. Paul, out of the tournament with a final 18 to 11 score. Taylor high, the school that went into the finals along with Ord, squelched Coach Willis' touted North Loup team 20 to 14 in the first game for either school.

Dannebrog took it easy in their first round game experiencing little trouble in doing away with Scotia with a decisive 29 to 14 defeat. Fred Week's St. Paul Apostles had little difficulty in dispensing with Burwell high with a 26 to 13 decision.

With the exception of the Loup City-St. Paul match the second round games played Tuesday evening progressed exactly as forecasted, Ord putting Arcadia down for the count with a 31 to 11 verdict. Dannebrog ran into a little trouble as they took on the Comstock team, the Eagles being pressed to the limit to win by a narrow 19 to 13 margin.

Three Teams Tied. Three teams, Ord, Arcadia and Scotia went into a tie for first place in the free throwing contest as the returns were counted Tuesday evening. Each team had tossed through an average of 29 out of 50 throws. Floyd Smith, ace Arcadia basketeer, flipped through eight out of ten chances to take first place in the individual free throwing contest. In the final set of throws to decide the team free throwing champion, the Ord squad made 65 out of 100; Arcadia took second with 53 out of 100; and Scotia took third with 53 out of 100.

Barta Goes Again. Dean Barta, Ord center who had been in a slump for several weeks, broke loose in the final half of the Ord-Dannebrog clash to boost the Chanticleers to a 25 to 20 win. In the other semi-final game, Taylor eked out a narrow 18 to 15 win over Loup City to go into the finals along with Ord.

Neither team was able to open up with their full offensive power in the Ord-Dannebrog game, both teams playing a strictly defensive game. Dannebrog, after jumping into a 3 to 0 lead in the opening minute of play, was unable to hold their advantage and the Red and White took a 4-3 lead at the end of the first stanza which they never dropped during the entire game. This defeat handed to the Dannebrog five by the Ord crew, was the second out of a total of 18 season and tournament games. Hansen at guard for the Eagles made the game a nip and tuck affair, Dannebrog slowly closing in on the Ordites. It was at this time that Barta got loose to do some fancy scoring along with Harry Zulkoski which kept the Chanticleers out in front until the final whistle. The final score was 25 to 20.

After knocking St. Paul out of the tournament the night before, the Loup City team made a fiesta of the first half against Taylor to lose their bid for position in the finals. Golus at guard lead the scoring for the Loupers by making five points. Stone of Taylor took the individual scoring honors of the contest as he sank a total of seven counters.

Ord Classy Outfit. In the finals Coach Brockman's lads were plainly too classy an outfit for the Taylor crew, the Chanticleers swooping over the Taylor quint with 25 to 13 score. In the consolation match between Loup City and Dannebrog, Dannebrog took the Loup City team to camp with a 22-14 verdict.

A scoring spree was staged by the Ord team in the first half to take their lopsided win over the Taylorites. From the opening whistle the Ord quint came on the floor to play exceptionally brilliant ball, leading the Taylor team 9-2 at the end of the initial period. The scoring combination of Haskell-Tunnick-Zulkoski again snapped loose in this game, the end of the first half left Ord holding a wide 17-2 margin.

The Chanticleers "let down" in the final half playing a shiftless type of ball, scoring only one free throw during the third period. In the final quarter the Ord first team once more got going to increase the score another seven points. During the last five minutes of play the second stringers were given a chance to show their stuff. Don Tunnick led the scoring and was the class of the Ord team as he tipped in a total of 10 points for scoring honors. Sears, Taylor game captain, played fine ball to roll in eight points for his team while Haskell followed in the scoring with a total of seven plungers.

The tournament was held in the new Loup City gymnasium, with large crowds attending every session of the tourney. The largest crowd, of course, was present for the finals of the tournament when the new gym was packed to capacity. The Ord pep band, a high school organization traveled to Loup City for both the semi-final and final games. Hendrickson of Broken Bow was official referee for the entire tournament.

Referee Hendrickson

"How can he do it?" questioned observers of the first day's play in the tournament in which Hendrickson officiated at seven games with only one hour's rest. Mr. Hendrickson hails from Broken Bow and considering all things, did a fine job at the Loup Valley tourney.

Meet Grand Island In Regional Meet, Ord's Chance Slight

Ord's hopes of making even a fair showing in the Hastings regional tournament—toughest in the state—were dashed as pairings for the tournament were announced early this week. Ord drew into the same bracket with Hastings and to top that off the first team they will meet will be the Grand Island high school team.

The Hastings tourney will be a four-day affair, starting on Wednesday, March 3. The Ord-Grand Island game is scheduled for 6:55 p. m. opening day.

Pairings for the first round were as follows: Upper Bracket—York vs. Superior, Minden vs. Central City, Holdrege vs. Geneva vs. Aurora. Lower Bracket—Grand Island vs. Ord, St. Paul vs. Ravenna vs. Sutton, and Red Cloud vs. Hastings.

Providing that Coach Helmut Brockman's team manages by some stroke of luck to get by the Third City lads, the Ordites will meet St. Paul. If Ord secures a win over Grand Island and St. Paul they will be in position to get a direct shot at the Hastings quint, meeting them in the semi-final round.

According to the Nebraska sport writers, Hastings is a clack to win either the first or runnerup positions, while Grand Island, Kearney and York look like the best bets for the other place. It is generally conceded that if the dope bucket isn't upset, York and Hastings will

Ord Stages Rally to Win Over Sargent

Ord Wallops Taylor In Tournament Finals

The fans could almost kick cinders off the floor—so hot was that last quarter rally of the Ord Chanticleers in the first contest of the tournament. Haskell, Tunnick, and Zulkoski teamed up together to toss in some 15 points in the final period for the Ord win. Barta is shown flying into the air, fighting to get control of that tip-off.

Three Trophies... A Clean Sweep for Ord

Who says our athletic department ain't up to snuff? Take a peek at this. The Loup Valley basketball, football and free throwing championship trophies—all for the year 1936-37. Not bad!

Loup City, Ord, Meet In '37 Season Final

Unless they attend the regional tournament, local fans will see the 1937 version of the Ord high school basketball quintet in action for the last time this Friday as the Chanticleers play Coach Brown's Loup City five on the Ord court. This game will mark the last appearance of three Ord first stringers on the home floor, the three seniors being Gerald Clark, guard; Harold Haskell, forward-center; and Dean Barta, center, and Eino Zikmund, reserve center. This game is the remaining Mid Six conference game on the schedule for the Ord team and they have the title for the conference clinched even if they should lose to the Brownies.

Elba Class C Opens. The Elba district Class C tournament will get under way tomorrow night when Farwell and Boelus meet in the opening game. North Loup makes their debut against Elba on the same evening. Palmer meets Cushing and Ashton will tangle with Dannebrog in the remaining games of the evening. Dannebrog, North Loup and Palmer are favored.

Surely Not In Hastings. An exchange publishes a "correction" saying: "The compositor made us say last week that Jim Thompson was a defective on the local police force—what we intended to say was that Jim Thompson was a detective on the local police force."—Hastings Spotlight.

Coach "Bullet" Brown

With his constant, ever-present smile, "Brownie" was seen flitting from one end of the gym to the other seeing that minor details were all completed. He must be given credit for the smoothness in which the tournament was run off.

Here comes Hughes, that speedy Ord guard! Zing! Down goes the ball to that forward and—swish—another basket. This action shot was taken in the final quarter of the Ord-Taylor championship contest which the Ordites won 25 to 13.

Smith Wins Free Throw Trophy

Presentation of Loup Valley Football Trophy

Does that trophy look good? And for the second consecutive year too. Harold Haskell, Eino Zikmund, honorary co-captains along with Coach Brockman, accept the trophy from Mr. Cain.

Restaurant Scene... Hughes Was Hungry

Boy were they hungry! What's Coach Brockman laughing at? Hughes is performing a contortionist's act trying to get that whole 50c steak up to his mouth at one time! P. S.—He finally had to cut it up.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Frank Konvalin will hold a public sale of his personal property on the old Harvey Lewin farm, three miles north and one-half mile east of Comstock on Friday, February 19. The Konvalin family is intending to leave for California shortly after the sale. An advertisement of the sale is being published on another page of this issue.—Comstock News.

Mr. and Mrs. John Naab, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Moris, Mr. and Mrs. George Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Chancy Smith and family of Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Naab and family of Taylor, and A. L. and family of Broken Bow, were guests at a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Naab Sunday. The occasion was in honor of Mr. W. I. Naab's birthday.—Comstock News.

Saturday Sale

Saturday, February 27
One o'clock

We had a good market for stock of all kinds.
The pig market was active due to a strong demand.

The horse market was slow to weaker due to conditions in large central markets and poor demand locally.

The fat hog market was strong, bringing within 12½c of Omaha top.

We look for a large consignment of stock this week including:

- 15 Head of Horses
- 175 Head of Cattle

75 Head of Light Weight Calves

25 of which are Hereford calves from the Frank Vinette herd in Loup county. 10 of these steers have been on feed. The balance will include milk cows and heifers.

1 outstanding yearling Hereford bull from the Ka-putka herd from Elyria.

In the barn sale of March 6 Wilbur Zangger will have 12 head of his purebred Hereford bulls which are eligible to registry. If you are in the market for a good bull to use on your farm be at this sale.

We had 151 fat hogs on sale last Saturday and 75 stock pigs.

There will be 150 head of hogs.

There is always someone at the office from 8 until 6. Our phone numbers are: 602J, office; 602W, residence; 365, Chas. Burdick. Call any of these if you have anything to sell or consign to this auction.
