Telephone Rate Raise Comes As Surprise to Ord

Commission Rejected Request in November; No One Here Notified.

An announcement that the Nebraska Continental Telephone Company had been permitted to raise local rates again came as a complete surprise to Ord citizens.

News of the announcement came Saturday from the state railway commission. The order was issued on the condition that the company satisfy service complaints, many of which were long standing, the commission said.

The telephone company, which serves Ord, Burwell and Greeley in this area, also acts as switching central for fifty some country lines in this area.

The company had applied for an increase in rates last fall, but following public hearing, the request was rejected by the commission in an early November ruling.

That the rate request was being reopened and reconsidered was not known locally, and chamber of commerce officials in Ord said they thought the matter was closed last November.

"Whether the increase was granted or not, we feel we should have at least been notified that the commission was going to change its mind," a spokesman for the chamber said.

Increases granted the company range from 35 cents to 65 cents per month for one party residence telephones and from $1.15 to $2 per month for one party business phones. Local residents now pay $4.26 per month for residence phones and $6.27 per month for business phones.

The new schedules do not allow for an increase for rural grounded service but rural metallic service increases range from 35 to 89 cents per month.

The exact amount of increase as it applies to towns in this area is not as yet known by local telephone company employees.

Legislative Bill Would Reshuffle Present Districts

Sen. Herbert Dais' proposal to redistrict the state for legislative representation would give Douglas county two additional Senators and Lancaster county one more.

With the additions, Douglas county would have nine Senators and Lancaster county four. The total for the state would remain 43.

The Gothenburg legislator's proposal would put Valley county into a district with Howard, Merrick and Greeley. Wheeler and Garfield counties would be lumped with Holt, Boyd, and Rock counties.

The bill is expected to run into heavy seas. Several outstate senators were quick to express opposition on the grounds such a realignment would give Douglas and Lancaster counties too heavy a representation.

Merrill Williams Sells Dealership

From a copy of the Sebastopol Times of Sebastopol, Calif., loaned by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Mortenson, it has been learned that Merrill "Bill" Williams, former Ord man, and well known to many here, has sold his Western Auto Stores dealership in that city.

Mr. Williams has been in that business there since 1940. He and Mrs. Williams will continue to make their home in Sebastopol, but plan to travel extensively, including a trip to Ord soon.

Keith Robinson to Receive Eagle Scout Badge at Ceremony Monday, Febr. 8th

The crowning feature of a Boy Scout's life is to be awarded the badge of the Eagle Scout. Ord is to be congratulated that on Monday evening, Feb. 8, at 7 p. m. in the basement of the Masonic hall this honor is to be given to one of its own Scouts, Keith Robinson. All friends of Scouting are invited to this ceremony.

The week beginning Saturday, Feb. 7, is nationally known as Boy Scout week, for it is during that period that the 43rd anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America occurs. The Eagle Scout ceremony is only one of the week's high points in Ord.

Another is the attendance of all Scouts and Cubs at church services. In Ord on Sunday, Feb. 8, these groups will attend in two different bodies, the first at the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help at 8 o'clock and at the First Methodist church at 11 o'clock.

During the life of Scouting in the U. S. more than 20,000,000 boys

R. CLARE CLEMENT

Old Reliable Show and Sale Draws Interest

Eyes hereford breeders in this territory will turn to Grand Island Thursday and Friday of this week, when the Old Reliable Hereford association holds its annual show and sale at the Harry Livestock Commission Co. barns.

A good many local breeders will have stock for sale or in the show, and most are planning on attending. R. Clare Clement of Ord is sale manager for the association.

In addition to Clement, others from here who are association members are George Bell, Hugh Carlson, Eugene Petka, Robert Noll, George Clement, R. H. Knapp, Eugene Novak, Wm. H. Shaffer and R. N. Shaffer.

One of the eleven trophies in the show, February 5, is given by the Ord Quiz, for the best three bulls.

Knights of Columbus Will Initiate Class

An all day meeting is being planned for Sunday, Feb. 8, during which a large class will be initiated into the Ord council of Knights of Columbus.

The day will start with Mass and Communion in our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church of Ord at 9:30 a. m. This will be followed by breakfast which will be served in the K. C. hall. Immediately after the breakfast, there will be a meeting of the council.

The initiation will start at 1:30 p. m. and will take place in the hall. George Dietrick, of Norfolk, district deputy of the Norfolk district will be in charge of the degree work.

In the evening a banquet will be served in the basement of the Masonic hall. His Excellency, Bishop John Paschag, of Grand Island, will be guest speaker.

It is expected that several from other councils will be present for the day.

Men's Chorus Sets Next Meet Feb. 17

Interest continued high in the newly formed Ord Men's Chorus when nearly thirty turned out for rehearsal Tuesday evening. The group got their first look at new music especially purchased for them.

Next meeting of the group will be Tuesday, Feb. 17, 7:45 p. m., at the Methodist church. Recruits are still welcome.

Charles Black Dead

Through their lawyer, John R. Sullivan, it has been learned that Charles Black, son-in-law of the late J. A. Barber of North Loup, died on January 31. The home was in Bradford, Ill. The telegram also stated that Mrs. Black was critically ill.

Fined $100, License Suspended 2 Years for Drunken Driving

Ray O. Kohltz, who was apprehended by Patrolman Otto Zapp on Jan. 24 and brought before County Judge Ellisworth Hall for a hearing on Jan. 31, was charged with driving while intoxicated. This is his second offense. He was fined $100 and costs of $4, and his driving license was suspended for two years.

Red Cross Quota Raised to $1,800

The Red Cross quota for Valley county last year was $1,100 which after the Missouri floods was raised to $300. Under the leadership of the roll call chairman, Rev. Keith Shepherd, the total sum of $1,600 was raised. The quota this year for the county is $1,800. Rev. Shepherd will again act as chairman for the roll call, the drive to be made in March.

School Board to Start Long Term Improvement Plan

New Wiring, Lights, for Grade School First Step to Come.

The Ord board of education decided Monday night to call for bids for complete electrical re-wiring and the installation of new lighting fixtures in the grade school building.

The new wiring and lights are another step in a long range program for the grade school designed to modernize the building and expand class rooms to cope with a constantly increasing enrollment.

Bids will be called in late February or early March for the re-wiring and lighting job. Plans, as drawn by architect Frank B. McNett of Grand Island, call for placing the building on three separate circuits, and fluorescent lights of the latest design in all school rooms. Estimate of cost is $11,000.

During the summer the school will add another class room by converting a basement room now used as a projection room. The program calls for tile floors, a new acoustical ceiling and modern design desks.

The present music room in the basement will be made into a combined music and projection room. Cost is estimated at about $2,000.

Each year hereafter, the board plans to modernize one or more class rooms in the same manner, and next summer will probably convert the present study hall into two modern classrooms. Most of the converting work will be done by the school janitors.

Mid-Nebraska Night League Will Be an Eight Team Circuit

Ravenna, Boelus, Join; Twice Weekly Play to Start by Mid-May.

The Mid-Nebraska Night Baseball League, of which Ord is a member, will be an eight team circuit in 1953, according to Rollie Johnson, manager of the Ord Baseball club, who attended a final organization meeting in St. Paul on Monday evening.

In 1952 the league had only six teams, Ord, Loup City, Broken Bow, St. Paul, Ansley and Arcadia. All six indicated their desire to take part in the league again this season and all favored inviting two more clubs to comprise a more workable eight team loop. Ravenna and Boelus were invited to join and both signified their acceptance Monday night.

The only uncertainty among the eight teams comprising the roster is Arcadia. They hope to put a team in the field but are handicapped by lack of players. If Arcadia should decide not to participate a selection will be made between Scotia, Mason City and Cairo to fill out the league.

With a 28 game league season in the offing, twice weekly play will necessarily start earlier this season, probably by mid-May, according to Manager Johnson, and last until early September after which a play-off series will be played. Officers of the local club this year are: Henry Enger, president; Rollie Johnson, team manager; Harold Christensen, secretary-treasurer; directors: Bill Heck, Jim Gilbert and Victor Kerchal. League officers have not been chosen.

Manager Johnson says he expects to put a good team on the field this season. He will have Novosad, Ellis and Beran as veteran pitchers and practically all members of his 1952 team plus a number of excellent prospects among graduates from Junior Legion baseball. Practices will be called as early in the spring as weather and field conditions permit.

Successful Drive for Polio Funds Is Completed Here

According to county chairman J. R. McKnight, the drive for funds to fight polio, as well as to care for those who are stricken with the disease, first ward, Broken Bow, McKnight and the city chairman, Mrs. Richard Piskorski, wish to extend special thanks to those who assisted in the drive. The list includes:

Mrs. Clark Weckbach, who was in charge of soliciting the business district; first ward, Frank Perry, Mrs. Otis Miller, Mrs. Paul Martin, Mrs. Harry Zukoski, Mrs. Robert Lynn, Mrs. John Rogers and Mrs. Marvin Malicky; second ward, Mrs. George Vasicek, Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. Ted Lenker, Mrs. Bob Adams, Mrs. Ralph Craig and Mrs. LaMoine Wiggett; third ward, Mickey Whiting, Beth Woods, Lois Wigent, Mary Jo Clayton. All of these young ladies are seniors of the Ord high school.

Special thanks are due to Mrs. Piskorski who acted as able city chairman and spent much time at the work.

From Mr. McKnight comes the following totals of collections in Ord and vicinity: Business district, $835.35; first ward, $124.00; second ward, $111.42; third ward, $91.39.

The Catholic Altar Society gave the sum of $10.00 to the fund.

From the March of Dimes cards which were sent out to the rural people, Mr. McKnight has received $302.91. The chairman asks that the cards be sent in as soon as possible, that the drive may be ended.

The St. Mary's Catholic church of Elyria, through the efforts of Fr. Leonard Ziolkowski, took a special collection Sunday and raised the sum of $50.00 for the fund.

Mr. McKnight says that the chairman of the drive in North Loup and Arcadia have not made a report of the money taken in. The last report made in North Loup, where the American Legion Auxiliary is in charge, is that the sum of about $300 has been raised. The work is not completed as yet. A county total of $2,200 or more is prophesied when all donations are turned in.

H. L. McGinnis Dies

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis were called to Maywood Friday afternoon by the serious illness of his father, H. L. McGinnis. Mr. McGinnis passed away that evening and the funeral was held on Monday. He was 92 years of age last July, and spent some time here with his son and wife during the past year. Dr. and Mrs. McGinnis returned home Tuesday.

DR. R. J. LYNN

Dr. R. J. Lynn Faces Possible Call to Army

Young Ord Surgeon to Be Classified 1-A if Appeal Board Rules.

Dr. R. J. Lynn, young Ord surgeon, faces a call to the armed services if action February 9 of the state selective service board places him in Class 1-A.

Lynn is the second Valley county physician to be called for army service. Dr. M. E. Markley of North Loup has already been classified 1-A, but has been granted a six months stay to wind up his affairs in North Loup.

Lynn, who came to Ord in 1950, entered the enlisted army reserve in 1942 while a pre-medical student in the University of Nebraska. Upon graduation in 1944, he was called to active duty as an enlisted man and received basic army training in Leavenworth, Kan., and Morgantown, W. Va. That same year he was transferred back to the army medical training program from which he was discharged in December, 1947. He then went ahead and completed medical school, and after a year of internship in Omaha and a year in Sioux City, started the practice of surgery and medicine in Rock Rapids, Ia. After a year there he came to Ord.

Sargent Road Is Slated for New Bridges, Grade

County Dads Decide Request Federal Aid for Six Mile Stretch.

A complete face lifting and installation of new bridges on the first six miles of the Ord-Sargent county highway is slated for this summer as a result of action by the county board of supervisors Tuesday.

The supervisors went through the formalities of requesting federal aid for the secondary road project, and as soon as the project is okayed, will start survey and engineering.

Plans of the supervisors are to install at least two new bridges, reduce grades, eliminate curves, and in general, make a brand new road. Since federal aid is involved, the road work will be more elaborate than used on the average county road, but due to the aid feature, will cost the county about the same or less than if they did the job themselves.

Other than the Sargent project, county dads did not discuss roads to any great extent, awaiting the results of a mile-by-mile inspection of county roads to be made this month by the road committee. Some traveling money for the job is slated, but will be done on several miles of road constructed last fall by joint county-township efforts.

Township roads, taken over by the county last fall for grading and graveling, were returned to the townships for maintenance, by formal action.

C. of C. Dinner in Ord Thursday Well Attended

The annual Chamber of Commerce dinner, which was held on Thursday evening for all the members and their families, was well attended. The Masonic hall basement where it was held was comfortably filled.

The covered dish dinner was served buffet style, and there was food in plenty. The members of the PMA of the Ord high school, headed by their teacher, Miss Achen, assisted in the serving of coffee, cakes, ice cream and cookies were furnished by the Chamber for dessert.

The tables had been decorated by the incoming president, Mrs. Aleen Papiernik, being centerpiece of cedar branches, cones and paper lanterns. Grace was said by Rev. Keith Shepherd.

Hilding Pearson, outgoing president and master of ceremonies, presided at the short program which followed the dinner. The main feature of the program were several selections by the Joe Lush Jr. Band, an organization of five seniors of the Ord high school. The group was made up of Norman Walker, leader, who played the clarinet, Norma Sperling, cornet, Karen Smets, saxophone, Lyle Gilroy, trombone and Rodney Nelson, bass. All five were in costume and had appropriate names.

Others appearing on the program were a trio of high school girls, who sang two numbers, being Jeanine Lange, Lorraine Dunlap and Ruth Ollis. Mary Thompson was accompanist. Iva Jo Stowell sang two solos accompanied by Ruth Ollis. Vonna Belle Nelson assisted the band.

Mr. Pearson introduced the members of the board and the officers, and gave a resume of the work that the Chamber accomplished during the past year. In turn he introduced the incoming president, Mrs. Aleen Papiernik, who told of some of the things the Chamber hopes to do during the coming year.

Among these are, more work for the SON highway, Christmas lighting, decorations and celebration, a corn yield contest, an Easter egg hunt, and a Halloween parade and party. Work toward a new auditorium, plans to make Decoration Day a homecoming and family day, bean soup day, 4-H party.

President Papiernik says that the Chamber will encourage the Davis Creek reclamation project, also new industries and housing projects.

She stated that a representative from the Great Western sugar company has contacted members of the board of directors as to interesting farmers in the growth of sugar beets. The Chamber, she said, would cooperate in all ways possible for new industries. The fair board was to have whole hearted support, dial telephones were to be considered, and a fishing contest was being considered.

In closing she announced that the annual pancake day had been set for Wednesday, March 18.

At the close of her talk, several came to Mrs. Papiernik to extend congratulations and to promise cooperation. As far as is known, she is the only woman chairman of such an organization in the state.

John J. Skala, 58, Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack

Wife to Omaha to Consult Doctors, Own Health Good.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon for John J. Skala, who died Thursday, Jan. 29, in Omaha, from the Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Keith Shepherd.

Hymns were sung by the Mira Valley quartet, composed of Harold, Kenneth and Orel Koelling, and Harry Foth, accompanied by Mrs. Ed Lenz, as pianist. Mrs. Orin Kellison was the organist.

Active pallbearers were Allen Edwards, Jack Rashaw, John McCarville, Henry Janus, Archie Mason and Ernest Augustyn. Honorary bearers were Herbert Metel, Edgar Roe, Gene Cochran, Joe Osewowski, Jim Sobon and Walter Dehmit.

Burial was made in the Ord City cemetery with the Hestings-Hanson Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

John Skala, son of John and Katherine Skala, was born in Valley county on April 11, 1894, and passed away at Omaha, Neb., on Jan. 29, at the age of 58 years, 2 months and 13 days. He attended school at Longwood, Brax, and later in Ord. He was married to Rosie Puncchar on Jan. 9, 1919 at Ord. They resided on the farm southwest of Ord until Feb. of 1944 when they moved to Omaha and made their home there for one year, moving back to Ord in Feb. of 1945. He passed away suddenly due to a heart condition at Omaha, Neb. on Jan. 29, 1953, where he had gone to take his wife to consult a doctor. Death came to him on their 34th wedding anniversary.

He leaves to mourn his devoted wife, Rosie and one daughter, Mrs. George Rybin of Ord. Also one son, Fred Skala, Sr., and several nieces and nephews and a host of friends that he had made through his congenial way. His parents and three sisters preceded him in death.

Highly respected by his friends and neighbors, Mr. Skala served his community in many ways. While living in the Davis Creek neighborhood, before coming to Ord, he was on the school board and also the township board for many years. He also was on the AAA board as reporter. When the family moved to Ord, he served on the PMA board. Before coming to Ord he was a farmer. He had been employed with the Ord Farm Supply, where he made many friends.

Married 51 Years Ago Friday in Ord

Visitors in Ord on business Friday were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Merritt, of Burwell. The day happened to be the anniversary of the 51st year of their wedding and they were married in Ord. Mrs. Merritt has Emma Van Scoy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Scoy, whose home was in Ord at that time. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Methodist minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt have lived in Saunders, Butler and Lancaster counties, since their marriage. Eight years ago they moved from Lincoln to Burwell, where their home now is. They have a son, George Merritt, who lives near Arcadia. They lived on farms until they first got into active work. Mrs. Merritt's health is not too good, but Mr. Merritt says he feels fine.

They did not come to Ord to celebrate, he said, but because they had a chance to ride this far, and wanted to look after several matters.

Ord Man to VFW Washington Meet

Dr. Frank J. Osentowski, Ord commander of the Department of Nebraska, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will be in Washington, D. C., Feb. 15-18, for the annual mid-winter conference of V.F.W. state commanders.

While there, Commander Osentowski will also attend the annual V. F. W. congressional dinner in the Hotel Statler.

The Ord man is scheduled to address the conference on VFW work in community service. Community service work by the VFW in Nebraska received national attention last year, and the Ord VFW post, of which Osentowski is past commander, has also received state and national honors for community service work.

Relative of Tolens Buried in Ord

William Edney, whose home was in Broken Bow, a brother-in-law of Mark Tolens, died Sunday in Broken Bow. The body was brought to Ord for burial Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Edney, and his wife, the former Rettle Tolens, lived on a farm close to Ord at one time. Later they went to Burwell, where they also had a farm. After they retired, they made their home in Broken Bow. Mrs. Edney is still living.

Dismissed from Hospital

Mrs. L. R. Campbell, who had been ill with pneumonia, was dismissed from the Ord hospital, where she had been cared for, Monday afternoon.

'Too Much Speed' Puts Two Local Youths in Hospital

Donald Radke Gets Shoulder Separation; Gene Gross Bruised.

An automobile accident that highway patrolman Otto Zapp called "too much speed" put two local youths in the Ord hospital Saturday evening and caused more than a thousand dollars damage to a 1952 Chevrolet car.

The two were Donald Radke, 17, of Elyria, the driver, who suffered a separation of the left shoulder and an injured kidney, and his companion, Eugene Gross, 18, also of Elyria, who received bruises and facial cuts. Both are students at Ord high school.

The pair were bound for a dance at Loup City about 11:15 p. m., when the driver lost control of the car on a curve 13 miles southwest of Ord on the Arcadia highway. The car rolled over twice, landing on its wheels.

The boys were picked up by a passing trucker and taken to North Loup where they were treated by Dr. M. E. Markley and later transferred to the Ord hospital for further care.

Under regulations of the state brand commission the hide and meat was confiscated and sold, and the money turned into the school fund. Since all parties concerned were innocent except for ignorance of the law, the matter has been settled.

Jeep Overtakes, Hanson Injured

While Rewan Hansen was going about his duties of coyote eradication last Thursday, the jeep in which he was riding tipped over, and he received a cut on the head. He was able to tend the jeep, but lost much blood in so doing. He did not want to let it go, but received help. The cut in his head took two stitches to close and he was ordered by his doctor, Dr. Otis Miller to rest a few days. He is recovering nicely.

Leadership Training

County Agent C. C. Dale, with Jon Chippis and Alvin Hoer, went to North Platte Wednesday, where they attended a meeting for 4-H club leaders.

Primary Election Is Held Wednesday in Ord High, 285 Students Casting Ballots

The Ord high school was turned into a political battle ground last Wednesday, for this was the day that the primary election was held in preparation for the actual election day, coming on February 4. And this still leads to the County Government day, which is to be held in Ord on February 11, in cooperation with the county officials and the American Legion membership.

The entire high school of 315 young folks has been divided into groups, the Nationalists and the Federalists. In this way, there could be no "ganging up," and it was the only way that was different from the regular privilege of choosing the voter's particular party.

For some few days before the primary took place, the various students filed for the office they wished to fill. They were not compelled to do this, nor were they told which office to seek. Only members of the junior class could file. The filing was done on slips of paper similar to the regular one used in filing and the same procedure was used.

On the voting day, booths were set up in the lower hall and tables arranged for the clerks. The clerks

Ord Man Wants Bowling Alley; Asks Law Change

Plans 1st Ward, Too. Council Establishes 3rd Ward Old District;

A modern four-lane bowling alley may be established in Ord if plans of George Dworak come to a successful conclusion.

Dworak appeared before the city council Monday evening to ask that certain ordinances regulating bowling on Sunday afternoons and evenings be changed.

Dworak told the council that he has just about completed arrangements for a new 4-lane regulation alley but that Sunday operation would be essential to his business.

Councilmen deferred decision of his request, but were inclined to be favorable to the proposal.

The same evening councilmen set final boundaries and definitely established an old treatment street improvement district in the Ord third ward. Preliminary plans for a similar project in the first ward were discussed with both these projects scheduled for early summer completion.

C. Leggett, spokesman for the Ord Baseball club, appeared before the council to make arrangements for a new 4-lane regulation alley but that Sunday operation would be essential to his business.

Hot Water always on tap!

Automatic Gas and Electric Water Heaters

More Hot Water for Less Money with Heatmaster

The penny-pinching control unit turns the burner ON when the water cools — turns it OFF when the water is hot. With the new HEATMASTER Insulation, water stays hotter — longer!

Consider These Facts!

HEATING ELEMENT
ELECTRIC—The heating element is immersed in the water for full-heat and highest heat transfer. The wattages are designed to prolong the life of the heater and to keep liming and scaling at a minimum.
GAS—The burner and mixer are one piece with the pilot mounted on the mixer to give more efficient operation. The burner, mixer, and pilot are quickly and easily removed for adjustment and cleaning, WITHOUT SPECIAL TOOLS.

INSULATION
Thick, non-setting "Fiberglas" insulation, scientifically applied to keep heat in the water longer. The insulation completely surrounds the tank for maximum insulating protection.

THE TANK
Every HEATMASTER Tank is extra-thick steel, electric welded throughout and heavily bonded with zinc for longer life. The Deluxe tank has an "anodic" rod of magnesium which resists rust and corrosion.

THE CONTROLS
ELECTRIC—The thermostat may be set to the temperature you desire and the heater turns itself on and off automatically. A true masterpiece of simplicity for extra convenience.

Capitol News

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN—The Legislature settled down to something resembling sanity this week after a hectic rush to meet the Monday deadline for introduction of bills by individual members.

So eager were the lawmakers to rewrite Nebraska's statutes that Bill Drafter Jack Wilson and a battalion of aides worked throughout the weekend to slap together bills that would at least be suitable for introduction.

The grumbling was loud among legislators who had delayed submitting their request for bills. One senator found so many bugs in his measure he hesitated to offer it but colleagues assured him it would be better to beat the deadline and try to get rid of the bugs later.

Among the last to be introduced was Sen. Dwight Burney's sales tax measure in which he was joined by Sens. K. W. Peterson of Sargent and L. M. Schultz of Rogers.

This is the third try for Burney on a sales tax bill and he's hoping for some charm in that fact. He estimates the bill would produce around $26 and $28 million a year.

DIVERSION

To the surprise of nobody, the legislature has a water diversion bill in its lap again this season. The 1947 fight over whether the 17-year-old Nebraska law against diverting water from one basin to another should be repealed still stands as one of the classic struggles in the history of the Unicameral Legislature.

This year's version was introduced by Sen. Richard D. Marvel (Marvel) said, "The bill is based on the contention that any kind of diversion of water from the Platte to the Republican Valley would have the effect of lowering the water table in the Mid-State area."

Immediately young Sen. Joe Martin of Grand Island promised a hot battle against the bill. He has his opposition primarily in the contention that any kind of diversion of water from the Platte to the Republican Valley would have the effect of lowering the water table in the Mid-State area.

Representatives from all sections of the state have cooperated in the formulation of the proposed legislation. We believe we have developed a plan which all can support."

While Marvel and Martin, both relative newcomers to the Legislature, head up the opposing forces in the Legislature, the real protagonists will be the Tri County Public Power and Irrigation District and the Mid-State Reclamation District.

One ironic twist is that while Martin is allied with Mid-State in the diversion fight, he has offered a series of bills aimed at the district.

PRIMARY

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City last week came up with a pair of bills designed to reform the method in which Nebraskans indicate their choice for President and express that choice at the national political conventions.

Retain the direct vote for President in the preferential primary but give Nebraskans a more meaningful choice.

Apportion the number of delegates a candidate receives to the actual vote of the people. The present system, Bridenbaugh maintains, is on a winner-take-all basis.

Bind delegates to support the man they identified themselves with on the ballot so long as he is gaining strength at the convention. The bills are likely to find rough going in the Legislature. One almost certain foe is Sen. Lefty Williams of Kearney who two years ago managed to knife the law under which Nebraska's nationally famous All-Star Primary was staged.

HIGHWAYS

As they always will, highways continued to make news in the Legislature.

Sen. Karl Vogel of Omaha introduced his proposals to re-negotiate the penny-a-gallon gas tax increase and the higher registration fees which the 1949 Legislature enacted but which were repealed in the referendum of the following year.

Highway Department officials say the extra cent of gas tax, from a nickel to six cents, would mean $4 1/2 million a year more for the department. The higher license fees—an increase from the present $5 to $8 for most passenger cars—is expected to yield $1,700,000 additional.

The farm, trucking and petroleum interests which sponsored the 1949 referendum have indicated they would be unwilling to support additional revenue bills unless and until a highway commission is established.

Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton has proposed a commission in this session.

Meanwhile, Sen. Terry Carpenter's demand for a "full report" from the Highway Department on the state's road situation won the blessing of the Legislature and Carpenter was appointed to head a committee to secure the report.

Other members are Sens. Vogel, Tom Coffey of Alma, Otto Liebers of Lincoln and Hugh Carson of Ord.

Carpenter has proposed a 2 per cent sales tax bill with the entire proceeds going for highways.

TEACHERAGES
The Legislature has given its tentative approval to a pair of bills designed to help school districts in rural areas solve their teacher housing problems.

The Education Committee reported out two bills on the subject. One would allow school districts to build, rent or purchase "teacherages," and the other legalizes such previous acts by school boards.

The State Supreme Court some time ago held that such authority does not presently exist.

Several school board representatives and teachers appeared to testify that without housing it was next to impossible to obtain a teacher. There was no opposition.

BRYAN

The Bryan Statue, that eight foot likeness of the Great Commoner which adorns—or defaces, depending on which side of the controversy you're on—the front steps of the Capitol, is likely to remain there for some time.

The Legislature engaged in one of its most heated and lengthiest floor debates of the young session trying to decide whether it should kill a bill giving itself the say-so on removing monuments and works of art from the Capitol and its grounds.

The decision was to restrict the language of the bill so that it covers a narrower field but still includes the Bryan monument.

MACHINERY

You can't sell a tractor, corn-picker, cornsheller, combine or hay baler in Nebraska if the serial number is removed, according to a bill which has won the endorsement of the Legislature's Judiciary Committee.

One of the session's largest crowds jammed the hearing room to hear both dealers and farmers urge passage of the measure.

The committee reduced the proposed penalty from a maximum of $3,000 or five years in prison to $2,500 or a year in prison. Sponsors of the measure, L.B. 42, are Sens. Herbert J. Duis of Gothenburg, Charles Wilson of Norfolk and Richard Marvel of Hastings.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's Pills have helped folks who were told to help the 15 million of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

From Mr. and Mrs. Bohy

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bohy are spending the winter in San Juan, Tex., their post office box number being 2034. Mrs. Bohy writes to Quiz friends her letter being dated Jan. 28.

warm and pleasant that morning here. I remember how I walked around in the yard, enjoying the flowers, huge roses and tall poinsettias. The last are still beautiful, tho they have been in bloom since early December, and are still gorgeous, many as tall as the eaves. I found one so large and do-able, I thought I would measure it and found it to be 13 inches in diameter. Later I cut some rose buds to put in letters. So many have told me in other years how they enjoyed the buds and how even after they were crushed down in a letter, they often revived and were nice for several days in water. Later I dropped down in a chair out in the sun but it soon was too warm so I moved to another near by, under a big banana tree with its long fronds moving in the breeze over my head. But even there old Sol poured down too bright and warm, so I too, came in the house, and wrote a letter, all before dinner time. I was thankful in a way that I could not see the blanket of snow and hear the old north wind howl around the corners.

"A friend of Broken Bow wrote last week, "Someone saw a robin before long, and you will be coming home." Yes, in about eight or nine weeks we will be turning northward. We have been having a lovely time here where hundreds of other northerners are visiting, but it will be nice to get home again. "Be it ever so humble," you know, last week.

dard and Mrs. Leo Long, the Valley county chapter chairman. A total of 44 women enrolled in the home nursing class and with the six taking the instructors course, there were 50 women who have benefitted from the instruction. Forty-nine women have completed the work. One was forced to drop her class because of illness.

Plans are being made for a public presentation of certificates to be given to those who finished their course. According to Mrs. Long, there seems to be much interest manifested in having more home nursing classes in the near future. Those who desire to take the work are asked to call Mrs. Leo Long and when there are sufficient numbers enrolled, classes will be set up.

Plans are being formulated to start classes in First Aid. It is hoped these classes can begin later this spring. Fred Stoddard is an authorized Red Cross first aid instructor. There are also other instructors in Ord who are interested in having their certificates renewed so they can assist in first aid classes.

Later, it is hoped that classes in Mother-Baby care can be started. April 14 is the date set for the next visit of the Blood-Mobile to Ord. This will finish the quota for the year for here.

Ground Hog Prediction If tradition is true, then it should be easy to know what is ahead as to weather for the next six weeks. Monday being the noted Ground Hog Day, it will be remembered that the day was both cloudy and also sunny. Therefore, there might be three more weeks of bad weather and three weeks of good weather.

Saw Former Ord Man While in Washington at the Inauguration, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen saw Arthur Bailey, son of Mrs. B. C. Bailey. Mr. Bailey is a lawyer in the nation's capital, where he and his wife live. They are very well situated there, according to Mrs. Mortensen. Mr. Bailey lived in Ord, when younger.

Fished Through Ice J. J. Jensen and Leslie Nash spent Thursday and Friday of last week at Rat, Beaver and Dewey lakes, where they fished through the ice. They caught a nice lot of perch and crappies. Mr. Nash says he never saw such fat pheasants and grouse as there are on this game reserve, and all seemed to be perfectly unafraid. The men stayed overnight in Valentine.

Mira Valley Miss Emma Smith accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George Nass to Grand Island Wednesday. Luana and Galen Wells of Cotesfield spent a few days with their grandmother, Mrs. Alma Brecht-hauger. Their mother Mrs. Leonard Wells submitted to surgery in a Grand Island hospital Wednesday.

Cared for Sister Mrs. Emma Janieck returned to her home in Burwell on the afternoon bus Monday. She had been caring for her sister, Mrs. Anton Radil, the past few days. Mrs. Radil had been quite ill with the flu.

Seal Money In Katherine Helzer, county chairman of the Christmas seal drive for funds to combat tuberculosis, says that the last of the seal money has come in, save for some stragglers which might be coming in for months yet. The total sum credited to the drive of 1952 amounted to $708.28. The sum deposited last year was $698. She thinks that less than 50% of the number of stamps sent out the first of last December have been accounted for.

North Loup Mrs. Hannah McDonald, 86, passed away Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Gillespie, where she has been cared for nearly three years. Funeral services were held Sunday from the mortuary in Ashland, Nebr., and burial was in the family plot in the Wabash cemetery between Murdoch and Ashland. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie went to Murdoch Thursday and did not return home till Tuesday afternoon. An obituary will be available next week.

Virgil Annys has taken over the Holsum bread wagon which Jerald Manchester has been driving for the Holsum Company in Grand Island. He began his new work Monday. Annys has been operating the Socony Vacuum tank wagon, but after this week Nels Jorgensen will take that over.

Mrs. Herman Desel was in Norfolk, a guest in the home of her brother Darrell Noyes, from Thursday till Sunday. Sunday Miss Donna Desel entertained the family at a birthday dinner honoring her sister, Mrs. Dale McTavish of Wood River, at her home in Grand Island. Other guests besides the McTavish family were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Desel, of North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Noyes and family of Norfolk and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Desel and two children.

The Miss Study Circle of the Methodist W.S.C.S. met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. August Kriewald for a lesson in charge of Mrs. Harold Hoepfner and Mrs. J. A. Miller. Mrs. Miller had "Toward Understanding the Bible" and Mrs. Hoepfner "The Right We Hold". Thirteen ladies were present.

Obituary MRS. ANNA THOMPSON Last rites were held Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Anna Thompson, who died Monday, in the Hastings-Pearson chapel, conducted by Rev. Keith Shepherd. Don Auble, as soloist, sang "Holy Spirit, Faithful Guide" and "Going Down the Valley," the same hymns that were sung at Mrs. Thompson's husband's funeral last June. Mrs. Orin Kellison was the organist.

Bearers were Walter Whipple, E. Ball, M. B. Cummins, Elliott Clement, Roland Johnson and Charles Krick. Burial was made in the Ord City cemetery, with the arrangements being made by the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary.

Anna Slavicek was born August 15, 1874 in Cleveland, Ohio. She was married March 18, 1893 to Thomas J. Thompson, in Valley county, Nebraska.

Much of their married life was spent on farms. Mr. Thompson also was a merchant. Their homes have been in Dannebrog, Alliance and Lincoln, and later they returned to Ord. She was in her 79th year at the time of her death. Mr. Thompson died last June in the Whipple Nursing Home. Here also, Mrs. Thompson passed away after a lingering illness, on February 2, 1953. Two daughters have also passed away.

Left are three daughters, Mrs. Walter Fullagar, Lincoln, Nebr.; Mrs. Robert Davis, Venice, Calif.; and Mrs. William Baccagualupi, of San Francisco, Calif. Six grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive her.

Still No Jars Mrs. Charles Caselton, who advertised in last week's Quiz, for the return of the jars taken from her cellar, says that there is still no evidence of their return. She believes in the power of want ads, however, and yet has hopes.

Cared for Sister Mrs. Emma Janieck returned to her home in Burwell on the afternoon bus Monday. She had been caring for her sister, Mrs. Anton Radil, the past few days. Mrs. Radil had been quite ill with the flu.

Large Number Called From John R. Sullivan, clerk of the Selective Service board, comes the information that 18 Valley county boys have been called for induction during the month of February, and five sent for physicals. The date set for the boys to leave is February 24.

Church Notes Methodist Church Keith A. Shepherd, pastor Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Morning worship, 11 a. m. M. Y. F. will meet on Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. at 8 p. m. The general meeting of the W. S. C. S. will be held on Wednesday afternoon with Miss Dorothy Sandfort of Humboldt, a returned missionary from Lima, Peru, as guest speaker. The executive committee of the W. S. C. S. meets at 1:45 the same afternoon.

The study class, "Toward Understanding the Bible" will be taught by the pastor, for the W. S. C. S. This class will be held on four Sunday nights and is open to anyone who wishes to attend. Sunday, Feb. 22, is the date for the first meeting. Choir rehearsal is held every Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. Karen Smets sang as a special number Sunday morning, a solo by Demarest, "Hymn of the Last Supper." The anthem was "O Lord Most Holy," by Stradella-Lester.

Presbyterian Church Rev. Allen Strong and family of Hastings were in Ord for the week end. On Sunday, Rev. Strong gave his farewell address to the congregation, which he had served for about three years. A large number attended the morning service, in order to hear him and to wish him success in his new work. The young people of the congregation will be in charge of the service on next Sunday, Feb. 8.

be a snob, vote for Bob" and "Don't be a shmoe vote for Iva Joe." The candidates were allowed but three posters apiece. There were several that simply asked for support, one said succinctly, "Koop for commissioner," and one of the last posters said, "Don't be in pain, vote for Elaine."

Besides the poster campaigning, the candidates were allowed to talk to the various voters and state their qualifications for the office for which they were running. However, they were not allowed to be noisy or bumptious.

There was no campaigning near ceived were Roger Aldrich, 37; Vernon Needham, 34; Jim Stobaszewski, 37.

Four were on the ballot for county superintendent. Of these, Ruth Hillis received the high vote of 162. Her running mate at the election will be Betty Wiberg, who received 67 votes. Others who ran and their number of votes were Loretta Nelson, 38; and Anton Kvetensky, 29.

On the Federalist ballot, four ran for the office of county treasurer. Of these, Sharon Hastings was high with a total of 63 votes. Her runner up was Ruth Daily with 42 votes. Others on the ballot for that office were Karen Neumeyer with 35 votes and Alice Severance with 6.

On the same office on the Nationalist ticket were Margie Kluna with 105 votes and Darrel Harmon with 41 votes. On the regular election tickets the names of Miss Kluna and Miss Hastings, will appear.

Two ran for the office of county attorney on the Federalist ticket, being Elaine Cook, who received 106 votes against 50 for Ronald Sobon. Ivo Jo Stowell was the only entrant for the office on the Nationalist ballot and polled 115 votes. Miss Cook and Miss Stowell will run against each other in the general election.

For county sheriff, Robert Campbell was the only contender on the Nationalist ticket and received 142 votes. Four were ambitious for that office on the other ballot, being Gene VanWinkle who received 49 votes and will run against Mr. Campbell in the election. Others who vied with VanWinkle for the office were Lores Wolf, who received 49 votes; Vernon Potrzeba, 32; and Merlyn Petersen, 28.

Grace Kokes received 132 votes for the office of county assessor, on the Federalist ballot. Her opposition will be Marvin Volf, who received 106 votes. Others who ran on the Federalist ballot were Adele Studebaker who received 115 votes, and Margaret Lange, of the Nationalist party with 38 votes.

For county clerk on the Federalist party ballot were Beverly Falter who received 88 votes and Sharon Hansen, who received 60. Kay Hughes was the only applicant for the same office on the Nationalist ballot and received 144 votes.

This group of voters evidently favor the commissioner style of county government, since there were three to be selected from each party, and three will be elected Wednesday. The three on the Nationalist ballot and the number of votes they received were Harold Dubas, 121; Leta Nelson, 113; and Jeanne Muncy, 108. The Federalist party offered Lorraine Dunlap, who received 104 votes; Phyllis Kapustka, 91 and James Laver, 90.

It appears that the feminine side of the students are more interested in politics than the masculine side, since there were 21 female names appearing on the ballot against 15 boys.

Already the candidates for the opposing parties are trying to marshal the voters on their sides for the general election, Wednesday, February 4. There are more campaign posters and promises, and with it all these young folks are learning first hand just what are the advantages of a republic where secret ballots can be cast, those ballots being according to the dictates of their own conscience.

Chudzinski Plans for 104th Birthday

T. B. Chudzinski, who now lives in Ashton, Sherman county, but formerly of Valley county will celebrate his 104th birthday on Saturday, Feb. 7. Mr. Chudzinski is the step-father of Mrs. Katherine Zukoski and the step-grandfather of Mrs. Joe Osentowski, both of Ord.

Mrs. Osentowski says that there are no plans for a big celebration of the event.

Mr. Chudzinski lives with his stepson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Papiernik. For several years he lived alone in a house he built himself. Up until a short time ago, he did all his own cooking, washing and housework.

He came to the United States from Denmark, in eastern Germany in 1880. He came directly to Valley county. He moved to Sherman county in 1905. Most of his life has been spent in farming.

His wife died in 1934. He has five step-children, but no children of his own.

His eyesight is failing, his hearing is not too good and he has to walk with a cane, but his mind is as clear as it ever was and he can remember a tale of his long life.

He used to walk to town every day and to church every Sunday, but since 1952, all this exercise has had to be given up.

He is the oldest resident in Sherman county.

Attended Oil Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. George Vasicek, accompanied by Mrs. Ernie Swaneck were in Grand Island last Wednesday, where Mr. Vasicek attended a meeting of Standard Oil dealers. The ladies shopped during the time.

Fireman's Ball

True to tradition, the annual Fireman's Ball, an event of Monday evening, was a nice affair. The music was presented by the Bob Mills orchestra and the Bohemian hall where the ball was held was filled with members of the Ord fire department and their families and friends. The dancing lasted far into the night.

Here for Sale

Guests in the home of Mrs. Will Treptow Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Haught of Curtis, Carl Treptow and son, of Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Treptow and two sons of Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Butterfield and Mrs. Ida Miller of Burwell. All came to attend the sale of the late Mr. Treptow's effects, which was held on Tuesday.

Tabs Going Slowly

County Treasurer Lloyd Wilson says that the tabs for attachment to the licenses of all motor vehicles are still going out very slowly. A few are sold daily, but there has been no great rush. The deadline for the purchase of these tabs is Feb. 15. Arrests of drivers of unlicensed cars will be made after that date, says Sheriff V. J. Beran.

To Washington

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Loft have received word that their son, T/Sgt. Don Loft had been transferred to the Plains Air Force Base in Washington state. He has been stationed in Cheyenne, Wyo., for some time. Before the move is made, he will have a leave of 12 days which he plans to spend with his parents here. He will be accompanied by his wife and baby daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Loft expect them soon.

Majored in Economics

James Fafetta, who graduated last Saturday from the College of Business Administration in the state university, majored in Economics. He arrived home Saturday and is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fafetta, jr., until his orders for the armed service comes through. He received his commission as Second Lieutenant last summer, but was given permission to finish his university work first. While in the university he was a member of the Delta Sigma Pi fraternity.

Rabbit Season Closed

Nebraska's rabbit hunting season closed Saturday, Jan. 31. The season will remain closed through February and March and open again on April 1 and continue through the remainder of the year.

Received Slight Hurts

Kenny, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Nelson, received the slight hurt of a scraped back Saturday evening, when run into by the car driven by Mrs. Ed Rajewich. The little boy was running after his basketball near his home, when hit. The car was going very slowly.

Attended Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Yount and family, Mrs. Don Bokhan, Mr. and Mrs. August Vodehnal and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Behring, Mr. and Mrs. George Puncocchar and Harlan, Mr. and Mrs. Worley Williams and son, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Neville and son, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fagan and sons, Miss Betty Puncocchar all of Grand Island; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neville and family of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stanley and family of North Platte; Miss Patricia Ann Yount of Denver; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Puncocchar and Mrs. Ann Jones of Omaha were here for the funeral of John Skala. Also present were several friends of the family who wished to do Mr. Skala honor.

Son Had Operation

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dahlin were in Grand Island Wednesday to be with their son, Don, of Loomis, who underwent an operation. They were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Art Larsen. They returned home Thursday bringing with them their granddaughter, Sheri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Dahlin. They took the little girl back to Grand Island Sunday, and later went to Kearney where they were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dahlin. Don is getting along very well.

To Father's Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson and son were called to Kearney Thursday, by the sudden death of Mr. Peterson's father, Reuben Peterson. The funeral was held on Monday and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson and son returned home Tuesday evening. Mr. Peterson is teacher of shop work in the Ord high school. His father was night clerk in the Midway Hotel. He worked through the night before and passed away about nine o'clock the next morning.

Besides Mr. Peterson, there are left of the family, a brother and sister in Kearney, a brother in Great Falls, Mont., a sister in Portland, Ore., and another brother in Torrance, Calif. The mother is dead.

Paramount Newsreel - EISENHOWER INAUGURATION

Spent Day in Lincoln

Supt. C. C. Thompson spent Saturday in Lincoln, where he attended the meeting of the state board of high school activities. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mary, also Karen Snaets and Betty Iwanski. The girls spent the day shopping and sight seeing.

Rotarians Entertained

Members of the Rotary club and their wives were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Biemond Monday evening, and were shown the current picture at the Ord theatre. "Road to Bali" also the inauguration picture. The members were also given an extra special turkey dinner. A short business session was held.

Wins Another Honor

Lucigrace Switzer, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Switzer, of Grand Island, won another honor the past week, when she was announced that she had taken first place in the essay contest sponsored by the Nebraska Daughters of the American Revolution. The essay was entitled, "How Can the American Government Be Kept Responsible to the Government?" There were 3 essays in the contest. Lucigrace also had the winning essay in the state contest sponsored by the state committee of democrats.

Verna Sehon spent all of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sehon, in Loup City.

Chants Win Third in Row; Stop Sulton, 63-55

Duane Wolfe and John Douthit Lead Ord Attack

Ord stalled out the last few minutes here Friday night to turn in a 63-55 victory over Sulton high school.

Duane Wolfe and John Douthit were high scorers for the winners, with Wolfe bucketing 19 points and Douthit collecting 13. R. Unterseher and Larry Lohmeier led Sulton as Unterseher hit for 19 points and Lohmeier connected for 17.

Ord led nearly all the way in the contest, building a first quarter 11-9 lead and holding the best end of a 36-23 half time score.

Sulton entered the final frame trailing by 15 points, 37-52, but rallied to cut Ord's lead to six points in the last minutes before Ord went into a stall.

The victory was the third in a row for the Chanticleer squad and the fourth this season. Sulton now has a record of five wins and six losses.

Sulton Junior high school took a 5-23 decision in the preliminary game with Ord Junior High.

Ord VFW Five Hits St. Paul by 71-38

Ord VFW basketballers copped their fifth consecutive win Wednesday evening, beating St. Paul VFW 71-38.

Ord led all the way, sparked by the sharpshooting of Buzz Maurice, who finished with 21 points, Paul Penas and Dan Dilla each added 17, Jerry Nelson and Wayne Lauritsen were high for St. Paul with 13 and 11 points respectively.

Ord was minus the services of Jim Finley, team captain, who underwent an appendectomy a few hours before the game. The winners held leads of 20-16, 38-24 and 9-30 at the quarter marks.

Ord VFW will meet Grand Island and McElroy's tonight (Wednesday) on the Ord court. McElroy's landed the Ord crew its only defeat so far this season in seven starts.

The VFW will play at Broken Bow, Monday, Jan. 9, and are scheduled in the Loup City Invitational tourney, Feb. 15 to 22.

Lt. and Mrs. Dwight Hatcher and the daughter, also Mrs. Hatcher's mother, Mrs. Irl Tolen, left Monday for Amarillo, Tex., where Lt. Hatcher, who is in the Air Force station at Amarillo, and his little girl have been here for some time. Lt. Hatcher came to Ord Friday to get his family, having found an apartment for them. Mrs. Tolen plans to remain several weeks.

With Distinction

Jean Joseph Hunter, who just graduated from the University of Nebraska on January 31, had the honor of being the only Business Administration student to graduate "with distinction". Mr. Hunter is interested in accounting. He is the husband of the former Elaine Noll, daughter of Walter Noll of Ord.

Used Bow and Arrow

Mrs. R. C. Austin has received picture and story of her son, Norman Harris, who lives in Lakeview, Ne. Mr. Harris was one in his neighborhood, who killed a deer with a bow and arrow, which took place in October. There were 40 who were so fortunate, in the large group interested in archery. Mr. Harris sent a picture of his feat, also the arrow which he used. The arrow has been returned.

Junior Chants Lose Tourney to Loup City

Loup City came from behind to defeat Ord 32-28 in the finals of the Loup City Junior High Invitational basketball tournament at Loup City Thursday night.

Ord held a 7-6 lead at the first quarter and was in front 15-11 at the half. The visitors held a 26-23 third period bulge and were in front eight points before Loup City began to whittle away on the lead.

Dale Rein, Loup City center, was high pointer with 12. Nelson led Ord with eight.

It was the second Loup City win over Ord Junior High.

Ansel defeated Burwell 44-21 in the opening game for the third place trophy. Hallman led the win with 11 points and Ellison had nine for Burwell.

Straw-Filled Barn Ablaze at Long's

Both trucks of the Ord fire department were put into use at noon Wednesday to fight a fire in the barn on the Leo Long place, 1 1/2 miles east of town, across the river bridge. The farm is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hodgson. The barn was filled with baled straw which firemen and neighbors were throwing to the ground, while a short skit in which the various candidates were shown. Election of the candidates for the county officers took place Wednesday.

Mr. Hodgson says that he thinks the fire started from friction when he was using a grinder, in use near the side of the barn. He did not see any evidence of fire until he saw smoke rising from the roof. A neighbor came into town to turn in the alarm.

Water aside from that furnished by the trucks had been furnished from the farm pump. Later a mounted tank was pressed into service.

Cattle Run Cut, Trade Braces

Trade feeders cut marketings sharply at Omaha Monday—the run down to 7,200 as against a record for January 23,345 the previous Monday—and with that slicing of supply, forced slaughter steer, yearling and heifer prices 50c and more higher. It was the first such upturn in weeks, but was credited solely to the short run, as Eastern meat trade continued to lag.

Best steers in the run Monday at Omaha were some at $26-$27.50, but most sales ranged downward from $24-25, plain killers still down to $15, odd head $14. Best load of 1000 heifers was $22.50, but mixed steers and heifers scored $25, $22.25. Cows sold 50c up, best action on low grades at $11.50-$13, beef cows to $14, some on heiferette order to $14.75. Bulls sold 50c higher, bolognas to $17.50. Veal—top hit $27.

Stockers and feeders sold steady or strong, spots 50c up, bulk $18.50-24, better steer calves $25-$27.50. Montana feeder steers hit $21, Colorado stock steers $24.

Among recent sales at Omaha for hogs for this area: Garfield County—Lantis & Chaffin, 6 cows, wt. 903, $14.50. Valley County—Emmett Frazer, 25 hogs, wt. 216, $19.00. Victor Benben, 14 hogs, 239, $18.90. John Sedlacek, 52 hogs, wt. 246, $18.00.

Bishop Paschang Gives Address as 22 Join Ord K. of C.

Initiation Sunday Was Followed by Banquet in Masonic Hall.

The Ord Council of the Knights of Columbus initiated 22 new members into the order Sunday. The three degrees were put on by members of the Greeley Council with George Dietrick of Norfolk in charge of the third degree.

The day's activities began with corporate communion at the 9:30 a. m. Mass which was sung by Rev. Thomas Siudowski, pastor and the chaplain of the Ord Council. Initiation began at 1:30 p. m. Following the initiation a banquet was held at the Masonic hall for members and their wives and friends. There were 180 present for the banquet.

Grand Knight of the Ord Council, Carl Weckbach opened the evening program by introducing the group of new members. Toastmaster Clark Weckbach then introduced Rev. Monsignor Thomas Murray formerly of Burwell and a past member of the Ord Council who spoke briefly. Before the guest speaker of the evening, His Excellency Bishop John Paschang was introduced, musical numbers by a vocal duet, by Joan Novosad and Rosalie Dunlap and a vocal solo by Jim Douthit provided the musical entertainment. District Deputy E. A. Ondracek of Greeley also addressed the group.

Bishop Paschang gave a stirring address, dwelling upon the principles embodied in the teachings of the Knights of Columbus and also emphasizing the pleas of the Pope in a recent address to the people of the world for an awakening to more christian influence in preventing world conflicts.

Rev. Thomas Siudowski gave the invocation and the benediction. The banquet was served by ladies of the third circle of the Altar Society.

The new members of the Ord Council of the Knights of Columbus are Bernard Swaneck, William Gogan, Jim Finley, Henry Janus, John Galka, Wm. Novosad, Jr., William Beard, William Fafeta, James O'Halloran, Emanuel Kapuska, Milo Florian, Jerome Florian, Lee Krepel, Vernon Ptanik, Ralph Wilberg, Leonard Swaneck, Vernon Dlugosh, Andy Kusek, Lyle Waldmann, Ray Grabowski, Stanley Skalka and Alfons Welniak.

Besides the many members and guests from neighboring councils the members of the clergy who were present were His Excellency Bishop John Paschang of Grand Island, Msgr. Thomas Murray of North Platte, Rev. Walter Phalen, Rev. Carl Hayden, Rev. Michael Szaszny, Rev. A. Vifquain, Rev. L. Ziolkoski, Rev. Bernard Cabansky, Rev. Paul Wachter, Rev. Thomas Siudowski and Rev. Peter Kenney.

O. A. Kellison Staging Show

Everyone is invited to a free movie, coupled with other entertainment next Wednesday, Feb. 18, when O. A. Kellison stages his annual John Deere show. The show will be held at the Ord theatre.

JACK ROMANS heads fair board.

Stock Car Races Again Slated for Valley Co. Fair

Society Out of Debt for First Time in Years; Set Dates.

Stock car races in the evening will be the feature attraction at the annual Valley county fair again this year, members of the fair board decided at an organizational meeting Wednesday evening.

The board set the dates of August 4, 5 and 6 for the annual event.

Highlight of the evening was the announcement that the fair had paid off the last of its debts, a $1500 note to Archie Geweke, and had a working balance of several hundred dollars.

The indebtedness dates back to depression days when poor attendance and expensive entertainment put the Loup Valley Agricultural Society, managers of the fair, in the red.

New officers who took charge at this meeting are Jack Romans, former board member, and now president, Stanley Nolte, secretary; Ernest Janus, vice-president and Ernest Horner, treasurer. The board of directors includes Archie Geweke, Louis Jobst, Jay Auble, Albert Peterson, Clare Clement and Walter Jorgensen.

Men's Chorus Meets Again Next Tuesday

The Ord Men's Chorus will meet Tuesday night, Feb. 17, at the Ord Methodist church at 7:45 p. m. Glenn Trent, director, announced today.

The chorus, composed of thirty voices, now has new music, and is practicing for a public performance to be given late in April or early May. Recruits are still welcome.

Home on Leave

A/3c Verdon Jobst, who is stationed at the Forbes Air Force Base in Kansas, spent the weekend on leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jobst.

Extension Service, SCS, to Hold Annual Meeting Jointly

Ex-Dean Burr to Be Featured Speaker at Session Febr. 18th.

The joint annual meeting of the Valley County Extension Service and the Valley County Soil Conservation District will be held next Wednesday, Feb. 18th at the Masonic hall basement in Ord.

The meeting will begin at 10:30 a. m., according to the announcement by Gilbert Babcock of North Loup and Alfred Purson of Ord, presidents of the two organizations.

Featured speaker on the afternoon program will be W. W. Burr, former Dean of the Nebraska College of Agriculture. Mr. Burr has recently returned from an agricultural mission to Burma and is said to have an excellent set of pictures showing farming conditions and other phases of life in that country.

Other numbers on the program will be moving pictures, reports of accomplishments of the two organizations for the past year and the election of two directors to the county extension board.

All farm men and women and the general public are invited to attend. A potluck dinner will be served at noon and each family is asked to bring one covered dish plus sandwiches enough for themselves. Coffee and ice cream will be furnished.

Ord High Elects Co. Officers for Government Day

Wednesday was general election day in the Ord high school, when officers for county government day, Feb. 11, were selected from the candidates who received the highest number of votes in the primary election, held Jan. 28.

Don Maurick was declared county judge, receiving 161 votes and his opponent, Jim Douthit, 101. Others elected and their runners up were: County superintendent, Ruth O'Leary, 175; Betty Wiberg, 96; county attorney, Elaine Cook, 163; Iva Jo Stowell, 98; county treasurer, Sharon Hastings, 153; Margie Kluna, 108; county sheriff, Robert Campbell, 152; Gene VanWinkle, 111; county assessor, Marvin Volf, 127; Grace Kokes, 125; county clerk, Kay Hughes, 142; Beverly Falter, 119.

Three county commissioners were elected, being, Lorraine Dunlap with 145 votes, Harold Dubas, 143, and James Layher, 126. The losers in this race were Phyllis Kapuska with 120 votes, Leta Nelson, 116 votes, and Jeanne Muncy, 101 votes.

Both elections were held in the school building and were very exciting.

Had Finger Removed

Guy Mulligan had the little finger of his left hand removed by Drs. Miller and Martin Friday. The operation took place in the Ord hospital. He returned home Saturday morning.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Ward and Mrs. Jennie Brown of North Loup, who represented the American Legion and Auxiliary of that place, also several county officials, Miss Jensen of the North Loup high school, Mr. Vannier of the Arcadia high school, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Gogan of the Ord high school, and Don Eastman of North Platte, a guest of John Wozab, who was in charge of the affairs of the day. Other Legion members assisted Mr. and Mrs. Wozab were also present.

After the meal, the young folks were addressed by Ralph Norman, county attorney. The afternoon was spent in the various offices of the court house, and just before returning to their homes, all met in the court room again for a resume of the day's events.

In the absence of the county clerk, L. B. Woods and the chairman of the board of supervisors, Edgar Roe, Jack Romans, a member of the board met with the commissioners elected from the schools and explained to them the work of this organization.

Young folks present from North Loup were Kay Sawyer, who doubled as county clerk and judge; Emil Hrebec, treasurer; Harold Placke, sheriff; Janet Maryvicka, attorney; Roger Hellwege, judge; Shirley Brown, welfare director; Helen King, superintendent of schools and supervisor.

Hand Amputated When Caught in Power Take-Off

It was necessary to amputate the hand of Earl Gogan, young Arcadia farmer, when it was severely mangled and torn after being caught in a tractor power take-off Friday.

Mr. Gogan had reached into the take-off without shutting off the power. He was in the tractor seat at the time.

The surgery was performed late Friday afternoon at the Ord hospital by Dr. Nyel Moss. Gogan is resting easily at present.

Ord Entries Win in Old Reliable Hereford Show

Knapp, Clement, Noll, Take Honors at Grand Island.

Three Ord Hereford breeders walked off with an impressive list of awards at the annual Old Reliable Hereford Association show and sale last week end.

In one of the largest shows in the association's history more than 200 top Herefords from all over the state of Nebraska were entered for the two day event. Judges were P. S. Shearer of Iowa State State College, and John L. Block, Hereford breeder of Worthington, Minn.

In the sale, 22 females averaged $336, 14 polled bulls averaged $438 and 136 horned bulls, $428. Grand champion bull of the sale brought $1700.

The top polled bull, owned by A. R. Madsen & Son of Minden, sold to D. E. Bussell of Scotia for $750.

The Quiz trophy for best three bulls, was awarded to Ralph Prill of Pine, Neb.

Winners from this locality include: Senior yearling; R. H. Knapp, Ord, third.

Early junior yearling; Clare Clement & Robert Noll, third.

Aged cow Clement & Noll, second.

Senior yearling heifer; Clement & Noll, first.

Pair yearlings; Clare Clement, first.

Senior yearling heifer; Clement & Noll, third.

Friday the 13th to Be Unlucky Day for Prairie Dogs

Meeting Is Called to Plan Eradication of All Dogs.

Friday the 13th is slated to be an unlucky day for prairie dogs, according to County Agent C. C. Dale. The reason is that on that evening a meeting to plan a campaign to get rid of these pests has been called for the district court room at 7:30 p. m.

Tom Turner, assistant district agent with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and Rewvan Hansen, federal hunter who is stationed in the county now, hope to have all farmers who have dog towns on their property in attendance at the meeting to help in planning for community effort to get rid of all the prairie dogs in the county.

Monday of this week 43 farms have been reported as having dog towns ranging in size from one of two acres to 160 acres in area. There are no doubt others which have not been reported. To make the pain for eradication successful everyone who has an interest in any dog town should be at the meeting. Remember the time and place, Friday the 13th, at 7:30 p. m. in the district court room.

Parks Is Re-elected League President; Play Starts April 26

8-Team Loop Will Play Long Schedule; Arcadia Plans Lights.

The Mid-Nebraska Night Baseball League will open the 1953 season with an afternoon game on Sunday, April 26 and play a full 28 game schedule with eight teams participating, it was stated Tuesday by Rollie Johnson, manager of the Ord Baseball club.

Final organization of the league was completed at a meeting held at Loup City. John Parks of Ansley was elected president of the league, an Ord man, James Gilbert was chosen vice-president and Paul McMurt of St. Paul is secretary-treasurer, a position he has held for the past two years.

At the conclusion of the session a standard Shawnessy play-off will be held between the four top teams. The eight teams holding franchises in the league are, Ord, St. Paul, Loup City, Broken Bow, Arcadia, Ansley, Boelus and Ravenna.

It is hoped that weather conditions will permit night play to start by the middle of May. Arcadia is said to be planning installation of lights and therefore all games after the 15th of May will be played under lights weather permitting.

Stan Jurginski Charged With Drunken Driving

Elyria Man Requests Jury Trial for Second Offense Hearing.

Stanley Jurginski of Elyria will face a jury trial early next week on charges of driving while intoxicated. He was arraigned in county court Wednesday, pleaded not guilty, requested a jury trial and was released on $100 bond.

Jurginski was picked up Saturday by the highway patrol between Ord and Elyria, and lodged in the county jail.

In a similar offense in 1949 Jurginski also pleaded not guilty, but changed his plea after the case had gone to district court. L. W. Cronk is his attorney.

Please Get Cards In

Polio Drive Chairman J. R. McKnight is desirous that the March of Dimes cards sent out early in January be sent in at once. The drive proper ended on January 31, but many of the cards which he had sent to the people in the rural districts, have not been returned. It is impossible to make a full report until these cards come back to him. He plans to have all reports in by February 15.

Mrs. Parkins Improving

Mrs. George Parkins, who had been quite ill from a heart disorder, is slowly improving. She is able to get about the house a bit at the present time. She is being cared for by Mrs. Alfred Albers.

To Class Reunion

Mrs. Robert Lynn was in Omaha Monday, where she attended a reunion of the 1940 class of nurses, which was her class.

Mrs. Margaret Robinson proudly pins the coveted Eagle Award, highest honor in Scouting, on her son Keith. Locking on are Fred Apple, Scoutmaster, and Pat Melia, troop leader.

Ord's Eagle Scout

With impressive ceremony and before a Court of Honor held on Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Rotary club, Keith Robinson, son of the late Ivan Robinson and Mrs. Robinson was made an Eagle Scout, an honor which all Scouts long for, and yet few achieve.

The regular dinner was served earlier at the meeting in the Masonic hall. Among the guests were Mrs. Ivan Robinson, and former Scout workers, Herbert Smets and David Watson. Mr. Smets served as the board of review man.

Another guest was Pat Melia, who told of his visit in Lincoln, where with other Boy Scouts of the state, he met Governor Crosey, in recognition of Boy Scout Week. Pat spent the week end in Lincoln.

The tables were decorated with red hearts and candles which were placed in holders fashioned from small logs. Valentine raptures were also used.

Hilding Pearson, in charge of Scouting activities from the Rotary club who sponsors the project, presided. He announced the Court of Honor to be:

Clerk, Almond Brox; Counselor, George Allen; Judge, E. L. Vogel; Board of Reviewman, Herbert Smets; Jurors, John Haskell, representing the home, Rev. Keith Shepherd, representing the church, F. L. Stoddard, representing education, and David Watson, under whom the candidate had received much of his Scouting experience, who represented Scouting.

Tables and chairs were arranged to represent a regular court session. Pat Melia as the guard of honor conducted the candidate to his place before the judge. He also brought Scout Master Fred Appelget and assistant Scout Master, Bob Moore, and Mrs. Robinson to the front. The Eagle badge was pinned on Keith by his mother. The Cornhusker Council and Ft. Hartsuff District to which the Ord troops belong, then presented to Keith a miniature pin of his own badge which he pinned on his mother. She was also given a corsage by the Rotarians.

Present at the Court of Honor and the pinning were, besides the Scout Master and the Assistant Scout Master, several younger members of the Boy Scout troops and Cub Scouts, with Cub Master Adolph Sevenker, and other friends.

Estimate Long Fire Loss at $1,000

The loss on the building on the Leo Long farm by fire last Wednesday was estimated to be $800 and on the contents, $200, the building being valued at $2,500 and the contents, $800. The insurance on the building was $500, with none on the contents thereof.

The roof of the barn was ablaze when the fire department arrived on the scene, and many felt that to fight the fire was not only impossible but unnecessary, since there were of the opinion that the building could not be saved anyway. It was argued that the water might better be saved for other buildings.

The boys worked hard for over two hours, and by that time the building was saved and the contents wetted down so there was no danger of the fire spreading.

Condon Trial Is Postponed

Because of the death of County Attorney J. J. Barrett, the trial of John Condon, charged with shooting a man on the Foster Brayton the night of Nov. 13, has been postponed by District Judge E. G. Kroger of Grand Island. The trial was scheduled to be heard last Monday.

Judge Kroger said he would set a new date within a short time. — Greeley Citizen.

Boy Scout Week Recognized in Ord With Window Displays, Special Church Service

Recognition was given to the Boy Scouts and Cubs in Ord during the past week, as a part of national Boy Scout week.

Special services were held for the organization Sunday, where in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church the boys of that faith attended in a body at the morning Mass.

In the Methodist church, the first five rows of pews in the sanctuary were filled with boys of both Scout organizations, with their Cub Scoutmaster, Adolph Sevenker. The boys advanced with their flag and the flags of the United States, in regular order, led by Keith Robinson and Pat Melia.

There the boys were given a special message by the pastor, Rev. Keith Shepherd. For the responsive, Rev. Shepherd had arranged Scripture to conform with the oath taken by the boys. To further honor the boys, the bouquet on the altar rail was of blue and gold flowers, the Cub Scout colors.

On a personal side, the four sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Vasiček, all of whom belong to the Scout organizations, were given a surprise dinner Sunday, in honor of Scout Week.

Windows in the business places about the square have been decorated by the Cub Scouts, and the four patrols of the community, showing the various work of the boys.

In the Penney window are the very interesting projects of the Cub Scouts. Their monthly themes have ranged from transportation to comparison between the times of the early settlers in America, to now. The boys have made many interesting articles to show what they learned from their projects. There are four dens of Cubs in Ord, each with a capable leader and also a busy Den Mother.

The Cobra Patrol has arranged various articles in the Beranek drug store window, to show adventures in camping out, and traveling light. Here beside a tiny tent, the boys have placed a bed roll, and dishes, and other such equipment.

The Owl Patrol members have placed in the window of the Mike Yost business place a collection of old guns and weapons, also several old files of the Ord Quiz. Here are some pictures of early day Ord, and the book, "The Trail of the Loup."

The Coyote Patrol had as their project soil erosion, and have placed several pictures of such in the window of the Aulsebrook store. There are also several varieties of seeds shown in glass bottles.

The Wolf Patrol arranged the flags of the countries of the United Nations in the window of Wrights-man shoe store.

Bob Edgill Opens Garage

Bob Edgill, a former employee of the Anderson Motor Co. is going into business for himself under the firm name of Edgill Motors. He will do a general automobile repair and maintenance business.

Edgill has leased the Wilson building, just east of the court house, and is, now open for business.

Council Creates Oil Treatment Area in First

Also Sets Paving Assessments; To Allow Sunday Bowling.

In a lengthy adjourned session Monday evening, the Ord city council set up the boundaries for an oil treatment district involving most of the first ward, fixed assessments for downtown paving, and passed an ordinance permitting Sunday bowling.

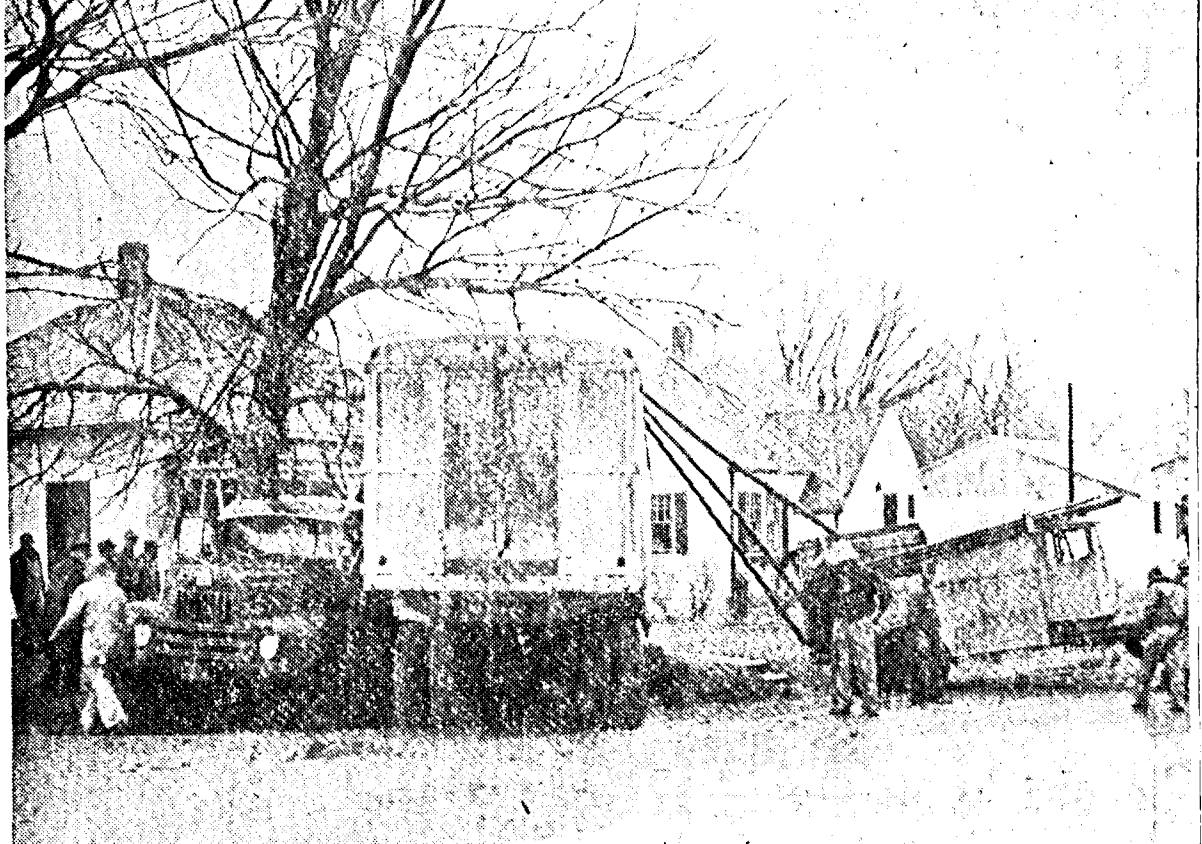

The latter ordinance was passed at the request of George Dworak who has announced his intention of putting a modern five-ally establishment in Ord.

The first ward oil treatment will complete this type of work in the city, and unless objections are filed, will go in about the same time that the third ward improvement is made.

In setting up assessments for downtown paving city dads found a total cost of $48,753.33. Assessments, published on page four of the second section of this issue, vary according to width of lots and width of paving, with Valley county being the largest single owner. The county's share of repaving around the court house square was $6,307.00. Railroads will also contribute a healthy share of the cost.

In a reversal of previous decision, the council decided to allow the park board to charge the baseball club $5.00 per game for dragging the diamond and cleaning the ball grounds.

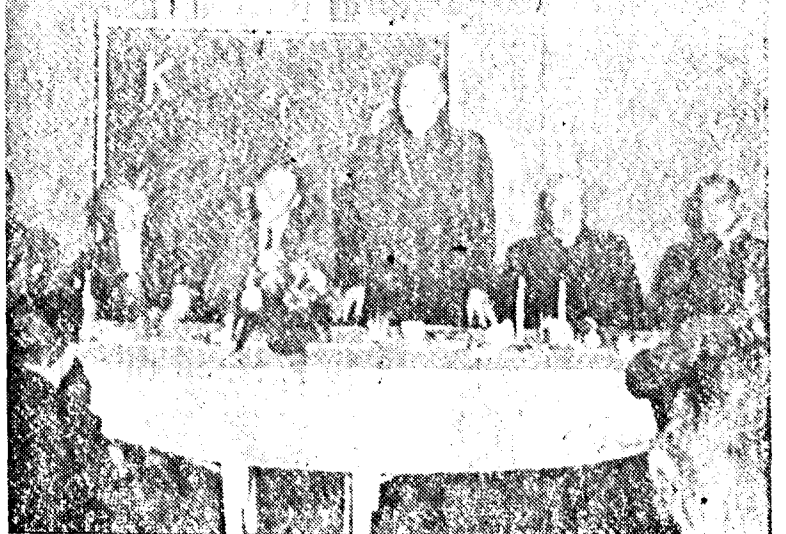

Ord will again have its summer recreation program for school children. The city will allow $500 toward this project which will be handled by Wm. Gogan.

Stevens Truck Skids Into Tree, Jackknifes

A semi-trailer owned and driven by Ralph Stevens looked like this Monday after it skidded and crashed into a large tree near the left property on Highway 11. Shown is the city light & water maintenance truck and power winch helping to clear the debris. Loss was several thousand dollars, the cab and tractor being a complete wreck.

Stevens was coming down the long hill to the south, when a truck driven by Anthony Athey came out on the highway from the east (the road to the fairgrounds) without stopping. Stevens, only a few feet from the truck, but could not prevent the trailer from jackknifing. Athey did not stop following the accident and was later picked up by highway patrolman Otto Zaop and Sheriff V. J. Beran. County attorney Ralph Norman said Wednesday that charges would probably be filed against Athey.

Brothers Meet After 46 Years

Two brothers Carl D. and Neils Jensen, came from Copenhagen, Denmark in 1903 to New Jersey, Carl D. coming to Greeley county and his brother, Neils settling in Cass county, Nebraska. Neils joined Carl soon after and was a witness at his wedding, then going to Florida in 1906, where he married and raised a family of six children. The two brothers had corresponded off and on but had never had the opportunity to make each other a visit. Carl D. had planned to make a trip two different times, but something intervened, each time. (Neils was in the pure blood chicken business and Carl D. took up farming and ranching).

One night as the Jensen family were listening to the Truth or Consequence program, Carl Jensen stated that he wished some one do something like that for him. No sooner said, than done. His son, Everett, who has been a semi-invalid since a car-truck accident two years ago, immediately pulled the necessary strings to bring the two brothers together.

Last Wednesday afternoon Neils Jensen was met in Grand Island and brought to his brother's home here. Carl D. was speechless and had not fully recovered on Friday when this picture was taken at the Carl D. Jensen home north of Scotia.

The Jensens have three other brothers in this country, Antone and Andrew in New Jersey and Tom in New York. Antone made a visit here in 1912. Carl D. is wishfully thinking how nice it would be to see the rest of his brothers, but he says with his farm work and many cattle to care for on his ranch north of here, the outlook is not favorable.

Pvt. Virgil Michalski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Michalski of Scotia was a recent visitor at the home of his parents. He entered the armed services in September, 1952 and received his basic training at Ft. Bliss, Texas. He has received orders for overseas duty. His present address is: Pvt. Virgil Michalski, US 5227929, Co. E 218-ASU, Army Pers. Cen., Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murphy and son of Grand Island were weekend visitors at the Jack Halpin home.

The Riverside Pinochle club were guests Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Donscheski. Mrs. Otto Gebhardt was awarded high prize for the ladies and Derrell Ingram won high for the men and traveling prize.

—Mrs. Hattie Sasek, who had been the guest of her son, Otto Sasek and family the past few weeks, returned on the bus Monday to her home in Omaha.

On Monday evening a covered dish dinner was given to the new members of the Tri-S, the senior girls being the hostesses.

Nevrklia Tells of Flood in England

Mrs. Francis Simons recently received a letter from her nephew, Al C. Laverne J. Nevrlia, who told of his experiences during the flood in England, since he is stationed but 12 miles away from the district. He wrote that he and others were lucky as their base is on one of the highest places in England.

In Kings Lynn and Hunstanton where many service men and their dependents live, many lost their lives, as the water rose so fast.

He wrote of an incident his buddy experienced. He was taking a bath and his wife was cooking a meal, when their little girl noticed water coming into the house. He grabbed his clothes, and before they left the house, water was chest high. After reaching dry land, he went back to warn his neighbors, but it was too late.

Another service man and his wife sat on the roof of their house from 9 a. m. until 4 a. m., only to be rescued before the roof caved in. Still another and his wife and their three children sat on the roof of their house until it collapsed. The wife and children were swept out to sea and he never saw them again.

The tragedies there are endless. The English people were praising the Air-Sea Rescue Sq. of A/C Nevrlia's base as they did a wonderful job of helping them out. Equipment at the base was all used for rescue work.

The wind velocity was 75 miles per hour.

—Viola Wozniak, who had been spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wozniak and other relatives, went to Grand Island Thursday morning. She recently moved there from Denver.

Lovely Amaryllis

Mrs. Harry Wolfe is justly proud of her pretty amaryllis, which has four big blossoms and one bud about ready to unfold. She says it is not often that such plants have as many blossoms. The flowers are a bright red, which she also says is unusual, since generally the blossoms are of a more delicate color.

Card of Thanks

I wish in this way to thank all my friends and relatives who remembered me while I was in the St. Joseph hospital in Omaha. Your kindness will always be remembered.
Mrs. Lillian Bruha.

CORN - - MOVIES - - FERTILIZERS WIDE SPACED CORN

Watch Your Step Tomorrow! Again Friday, the 13th, Appears on Calendar

Comes now the day when all precautions must be taken, and also the day that will be the scapegoat for any evil that might befall, be it a run in a stocking, the tumble down a flight of stairs, a low score in a basketball game, or even a loss of a sum of money — none other than Friday, the 13th.

Probably the most superstitions are dated so far back that few remember their origin. Some belong to families alone, and some belong to certain nationalities.

Whatever the origin, most of these things that people avoid are interesting and offer food for thought.

Friday is thought by some to be a day of ill omen, since that was the day Christ was crucified. The number 13, might be considered unlucky from the days of the French Revolution, when the thirteenth person was counted out for beheading. So putting the two together might seem to be doubly unlucky.

There are many other superstitions, some for luck and some not. It is considered lucky to see a pin and pick it up, all the more if the point is straight in the path of the picker-up. If the pin is crossways, that means a letter.

It is considered bad luck to put on the left shoe first, but rather the right. This does not seem to hold with the stockings. It is also bad luck to walk about the room with one shoe on, and the other off.

It is bad luck to walk under a ladder, openly defied by some, and just as openly honored by others. Some consider a black cat unlucky, especially when one is walking on the path. On the other hand, some have declared that a black cat is a true mascot.

It is bad luck to return for something forgotten. The only way to overcome this is to sit down, wait a few minutes and start out anew.

It is bad luck to spill salt. To overcome this, throw a bit of salt over the left shoulder.

It is bad luck to see the new moon over the right shoulder or through the branches of a tree.

It is bad luck to dream of a wedding, but on the other hand, it is good luck to dream of a funeral.

There are lots of signs of coming company. One is when the rooster crows on the doorstep. Another is to drop a piece of cutlery, the knife, fork or spoon which fell to determine the sex and age of the company. A dish cloth dropped to the floor is a sure sign of company unless shaken vigorously. A cover left unintentionally on a cooking stove, if the fire is also means that company is coming.

It is bad luck to shake hands over the table, or to light three cigarettes on one match or to be a bridesmaid over three times. It is bad luck to sneeze on Sunday, but to sneeze on Wednesday means a letter. If the sneeze comes out of bad luck to break a mirror, and if by any chance a bird should fly into the house from outside, it is a certain sign of a death in the family. It is good luck to put on an article wrong side out, but equal bad luck to have seven years of bad luck to right side before the day is over.

It is bad luck to start a journey on Friday. It is equally as bad to start a new piece of work on Friday. That means that said journey or piece of work will never be finished.

Should a piece of mending be done on a garment while the garment is still being worn, there will be as many lies told as there are stitches taken.

The dream of the dead is to hear from the living. However, should the dead be on their bed, then the sign says that some of the living are sick.

The fingernails of a baby should not be cut before it is a year old, neither should it be shown a mirror. Dire things happen if these precautions are not taken.

It is bad luck to sweep the floor just after dark or to sing before breakfast. It is good luck to dream about snow or flowers, but bad luck to dream about silver money. It is also good luck to dream about horses.

There are more superstitions than one "can shake a stick at" concerning weather and most of them have been handed down so long that few are even considered any more. There are so many superstitions regarding weddings that should all be kept there would be little time for repeating the vows.

Most all of the ideas advanced above have been handed down through a generation or two of family members. Of course, none of them mean anything.

But, just to be on the safe side most of us will be careful not to take any chances on Friday, the 13th.

Bulbs Starting

Spring might be early this year, possibly "just about the corner." The evidence given for this prophecy is that there are some weeds shooting up through the muck left where the snow has gone off. Mrs. John Andersen also reports that her spring bulbs are beginning to show green on the south side of her home. Several have heard the cardinal, but generally these birds stay in the trees about Ord the year around.

Courteous Cops

A mark of courtesy greets parking violators in Fairbury. Envelopes for sending dimes to the police station have replaced a ticket on the windshield. On the envelopes, with "or else" implied, is printed "R.S.V.P."

++ Something Different ++

One evening radio program now has a rather "cute" program to choose the Liear of the Week, etc.

I'm thinking George Anderson could win himself a real citation here, though he swears his story is true.

Once upon a time he and Charlie oboda went a-frogging on one of the lakes north of Burwell. They got a good many frogs and had a lot of fun, but upon reaching Ord they found that George had lost his cigarette lighter, an unhappy touch.

Next afternoon, not being too busy, George said to Charlie, "Let's go back and get a few more frogs, and find my cigarette lighter this afternoon." Charlie agreed: they went, but did not find the cigarette lighter. They had a pleasant enough afternoon and started home. About the time they got to Ord, Charlie went to look at the time, and found he'd lost his watch. This was quite upsetting.

So the next afternoon, Charlie said to George, "I'm not too busy; I guess I'll take my family and drive up there and get a few frogs, and look for your cigarette lighter and my watch." So it was settled, and that's Svobodas' cent.

George was quite interested to learn the facts of the last trip so the next day he hunted up Charlie to inquire, and George SAYS Charlie declared: "Yes sir, I found your cigarette lighter, and a few feet away I spied my watch. But do you know, there were a hundred frogs lined up watching that watch? And more coming every minute, listening to it tick. Just sitting there fascinated!"

So now you know how to catch bullfrogs!

Muddy days are coming, spring will be here. And how do you keep your family from bringing in mud? Lock the front door? And let the family gripe?

Putting down "mud rugs" or using the old power of suggestion by spreading newspapers? I inflict both these on my family.

We have added another muddy weather touch: I went downtown and bought a big woven basket, a laundry basket. And I parked it by the front door, and it is for the purpose of holding overshoes and suchlike.

Yes, it helps, you wives of houses!

Everyone seems interested in more recreational activities for Ord. All at once I hear much conversation about bowling alleys and skating rinks.

And a good deal of talk about how much Ord really needs an auditorium. The school particularly needs it, for many times meetings and clinics are stymied in Ord when the weather is such that they need to meet indoors. We don't have enough room.

Could we combine our needs? Could a new auditorium have a basement that was used for bowling, or for skating? With the main floor for gymnastical activities, we'd be sitting pretty.

Every time the Quiz writes, as this week, that spring is just around the corner, well, every time, there seem to be about six snow storms between here and the corner!

Lately Ailing Cattle Market Still Spoonfed

Cattle feeders who last week achieved a measure of much-needed price recovery thru light to moderate marketing, employed that same strategy again Monday. The Monday cattle run at Omaha was under 11,000 and 20% of that total consisted of replacement cattle.

Among recent sales at Omaha for shippers from this area:

Garfield County—

Ice Leaves River, Ducks, Geese, Seen; Signs of Spring?

Ice went out of the North Loup river in an orderly manner during the night Friday, according to Archie Bradt, dam tender for the North Loup Irrigation District. It is the second time since Harden brook dam was built that channel ice has gone out without dynamite being needed. There is still some ice left on sand bars and isolated spots, according to Bradt, but channel ice is completely out of the Loup.

Many flocks of ducks were reported to be flying northward early this week and a few flocks of geese were also seen. Signs of spring?

M. V. Livestock Club

The Mira Valley Livestock club met at the District No. 10 schoolhouse Monday evening with 15 members present.

Plans for a tour of the club members to see all the calves which are on feed were discussed. Members voted to purchase a 4-H flag. The lesson was on breaking calves to lead. After adjournment the members played games. — Keith Sohl, news reporter.

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank my friends and relatives who sent me the beautiful cards, flowers, corsages and letters, also for the kindnesses shown to my family and me while I was in the hospital. The kindness will never be forgotten.

Mrs. Ray Wiberg

McElroys Trip VFW Quintet, 48-45

The McElroy quintet of Grand Island, sparked by several former all-state stars, came from behind in the final two minutes to nose out the Ord VFW basketballers 48-45 here Wednesday evening.

Ord led 13-10 at the end of the first canto, and the two teams went into the half tied at 20 all. Ord again slipped ahead 33-31 in the third quarter.

Maurice and Penas led the VFW attack and Anderson and Haack were top men for the visitors.

Jim Finley, ace basket man for the VFW is still out following an operation, but hopes to be in shape for the Loup City team tournament Feb. 15 to 22, where the VFW will meet Havers of Lincoln in the opening round.

The Ord unit will entertain the Broken Bow VFW on the local floor tonight (Wednesday).

Chanticleers Split in Week's Games

The Ord Chanticleers won from a Class A Team but dropped a game to a Class C Team in the week just past, thereby, breaking even in the week's activities.

Curtis was the Class A victim and the Chants took them with a score of 56 to 49 Friday night at the Curtis maples. Curtis led at half-time 28 to 23 but Ord put on a big third round rally for twenty points and was never headed.

Lanky Bob Bennett bucketed 15 points for Ord with Wolfe making 13.

Tuesday evening on the Ord floor it was a different story when the mighty Class C mites from Loup City defeated the Chants again, 61 to 53.

Ord had a one point lead at the quarter and still led 26 to 23 at the half but the Red Raiders took over in the next period and won with ease. Golas was best for Ord City making 20 points, while Wolfe and Brox with 10 points each led the scoring for Ord.

The next game for the Chants is at Broken Bow Friday which is the final conference game of the season. Three more games following the Broken Bow clash will be played by Ord. Alliance and Aurora are scheduled to play here while Ord will play Central City there. After this the Ord team will engage in tournament play.

Big Meeting for Farm Loan Group

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Farm Loan Association was held in Ord, Feb. 10. There were 121 members and guests present for the hot turkey dinner, served "family style" by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. The dinner and business meeting, and the program that followed were held in the Presbyterian church.

In the business meeting two directors were elected for three-year terms. Joseph Warner, of Greeley, and George B. Clement, of Ord, were elected to succeed themselves on the board of directors. Other officers are Evert Smith, of Ord, W. O. Zanger, of North Loup, John Ryan of Greeley, John Schere, of Burwell, and Art Coleman of Taylor.

The annual financial report showed that the association was making progress in establishing reserves against any possible losses. Dividends of $4,342.00 were paid to the members in 1952. These dividends, if deducted from the note rate of 4%, give a net rate substantially less than the 4% called for on the borrowers note.

Rev. Thomas A. Burton, chaplain at the Veterans' hospital at Grand Island, was then introduced, and gave a splendid address, using as his topic, "A Look at Life." He stressed the point that we, as a nation, cannot live isolated, without considering the conditions of people of other lands.

Soil Conservation Has Enthusiastic Meeting in Omaha

Alfred Burson and Elvin Johnson returned home Wednesday evening from Omaha where they with several hundred others had been attending the national convention districts as delegates and representatives. They both say that the convention did not come up to the one held a year ago in Cleveland, one reason being that there was no place in Omaha big enough to hold all the crowd. Mr. Burson had the pleasure of meeting several friends that he had made at the Cleveland meeting and acquaintances were renewed.

During the meeting, excursions were made to Boys Town and to the Union stock yards, where lunch was served to the crowds. Fifteen buses was used to take the men to the stock yards.

To the question "Should the soil conservation service continue to be the agency responsible for furnishing technical assistance to farmers and ranchers through soil conservation districts?" 4,136 answered yes and 190, no. Nebraska gave 199 yes to two no.

Another question, "Do you believe that farmers and ranchers should continue to receive payments for soil conservation practices?" 2,757 said yes to 1,512 who said no. Nebraska voters were 113 yes to 79 no.

"In the event that appropriations should be made, should such payments be made only for permanent type practices?" To this question, 3,563 said yes and 779 no. Nebraska voted 199 yes and 190 no.

The meeting next year will be held in New Orleans and already the officers and members of the Valley county district are hoping that they can attend.

Of interest during the meeting was the report from some of the 500 questionnaires sent out to the Soil Conservation District supervisors, commissioners and directors the first of the year. Answers to 4,447 ballots are given here.

To the question "Would you approve a proposal to turn the Soil Conservation Service to the Land Grant Colleges and State Extension Services with technical assistance to districts furnished by assistant county agents, there were 457 yes to 3,889 no. Nebraska voters gave eight yes to 186 no.

Should the SCS be transferred to the ACP branch of the Production and Marketing Administration with county ACP committees directing a unified soil conservation program?" There 227 who voted yes and 4,069 who said no. Nebraska said 4 yes to 189 no.

The last question was, "Should ACP be transferred to SCS with the Soil Conservation Districts directing a unified soil conservation program?" To this, 2,717 said yes and 1,414, no. Nebraska voted 54 yes to 19 no.

Gave Needed Assistance

Hershal Place, a barber of Palmer, closed his own place of business Saturday and came to Ord to assist Irvin Merrill, who was handicapped in two ways. Since two falls which he experienced lately he is very lame, and the other was that Mr. Lewis who works in the shop with him recently suffered a severe heart attack and is still being cared for in the Ord hospital.

Mr. Place worked in Ord at his trade for several years before buying a shop in Palmer.

Bedding Requested

Mrs. Herbert Smets, head of the county welfare work, makes the request that good, clean bedding is greatly needed in the county by needy persons. There is no objection if the bedding has been used. She also says that children's clothing, clean and in good condition, is also badly needed, this also need not be new. Should there be any that can be given, please leave it at the welfare office in the court house where it will be thankfully received.

Firemen Elect

Officers were elected at the regular meeting of the Ord firemen Monday evening, and this being the end of the fiscal year, reports for the year were given. The department answered 40 calls during the year just passed, 20 in the country and 20 in town.

The officers for the following year were chosen to be, President Ray Falter, Secretary-Treasurer C. D. Cummins, and Chief Richard Rowbal.

Officers for Co. 1 were elected as Captain Melvin Clement; Lieutenant Russel Rose, Fire Police Rollin Dye and trustee, Henry Benda.

Officers for Co. 2, Captain Roland Norman, Lieutenant Fred Worm, Fire Police Lyle Waldman, and trustee, Ernie Swanek.

Officers for Co. 3, Captain Glen Eschliman, Lieutenant Everette Williams, Fire Police Roland Daily, trustee, Mort Beran.

The following was sent to the fire department and was made a part of the records of the organization:

"These aren't words that can express our thanks for the job you fellows did in putting out the fire in our granary at the farm last Wednesday. You did much to keep our loss at a minimum.

"We, like almost everyone else, have taken Ord's Fire Department for granted as another worthwhile civic organization. After seeing how hard you all worked, with regard for yourselves and your clothes, and how capably you managed a difficult job, we certainly have a new and deeper appreciation of our Volunteer Fire Department.

"Please accept this check as an expression of our thanks and gratitude to each of you.—Sincerely and gratefully, Leo and Lea Long."

New Members for B&PW Club

The Valentine motif was used in the table decorations at the regular dinner meeting of the Ord Business & Professional Women's club Tuesday evening, held in the fellowship room of the Methodist church. Mrs. Clark Weckbach and Mrs. Edw. Kokes were hostesses.

Several guests were present, seven of whom were taken into membership of the club. Those given a welcome were Rosalie Blaha, Joyce Bennett, Joan Hanson, Ruth Hayes, Marlene Norman, Mrs. Alfred Hill and Mrs. Charles Kriewald. Each was given a carnation from the bouquet which had been presented by Mrs. C. J. Mortensen.

Several bundles of clothing were brought by the members which will be sent on Saturday to the Clothing for German Youth project, which is sponsored by German branch of the B&PWC and assisted by the American organization. Mrs. Orin Kellison spoke of this work.

Several committee members were appointed by the president, Mrs. Edw. Kokes, to assist with the next meeting at which time the members of the Burwell sister club are to be guests.

Seed Grains

This week we received the first load of our Certified Nemaha Oats. We will have non-certified Nemaha and Certified Cherokee arriving next week. We can get Certified Velvon 11 barley and non-certified six row barley. This seed is all cleaned, tested heavy seed and the oats is in 3 bu. bags and the barley in 2 bu. bags. If you are going to need seed barley or oats you should reserve your seed soon.

Legumes and Grass Seed

We have a very limited amount of Ranger alfalfa seed and some common alfalfa seed, all local grown. We can secure Northern grown Certified Ranger Alfalfa at a reasonable price.

We have in stock Ladino, Red Clover, Alsike, Red Top, Brome Grass, Crested Wheat, Timothy and Intermediate Wheat Grass. Let us figure with you on your needs in this line.

Have very limited amount of White Blossom Sweet Clover but pretty good stocks of Yellow Blossom and Huban Sweet Clover.

Seed Corn

Do you have all the seed corn bought that you will need for the coming year? Our seed corn will be delivered in the next month and we will have a good amount of seed corn that is suitable for our section of the state. This seed will be very closely graded and all of it will be treated.

Spraying Material

If you have spraying equipment we would appreciate a chance to make you a price on the material that you will need for the coming season. Our price will suit you and the stock will be ample to take care of your needs if you will let us know about what you will be needing.

Nutrena Feeds

Have you seen the new Nutrena Products. Several new ones have just arrived. Nutrena Sow 30, Milk Replacer for pigs, Cal-O-Life in both grower and starter. Get the prices on these new feeds.

University of Nebraska Celebrates 84th Birthday Feb. 15; 474 Teachers Now

On February 15th the University of Nebraska will celebrate its 84th birthday—the 84th anniversary of the legislative act chartering the institution. It's come a long way in these 84 years. Consider the size of the faculty, for example. Today there are 474 on the teaching staff. In the beginning, there were five, including the Chancellor.

Great care was exercised in selecting members of the first faculty so that they would be as widely representative of the various religious denominations in the state as possible. There was fear in the early days that the university would come under sectarian influence, and precautions were taken to prevent representatives of any one religious group from dominating the faculty.

The first chancellor was Allen R. Benton of Alliance, Ohio, who formerly had been president of Butler College in Indiana. His salary was $4,000 per year, and in addition to his administrative duties, he served as professor of intellectual and moral science. The first four faculty members, each at salaries of $2,000 per year, were: A. H. Manley, ancient languages; H. E. Hitchcock, mathematics; Rev. O. C. Dake, English literature; and Rev. Samuel Augby, natural sciences.

Perhaps the best known member of the first faculty was Professor Augby. Though educated for the ministry, the bent of his mind led him to give most of his time to the study of science, particularly geology and botany. Perhaps he is best known for advancing the theory that "rainfall follows the plow," a theory used extensively in advertising the state. He had an interest in history as well as in science, and was the first secretary of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

Professor Dake might well be called Nebraska's first poet. During his first year at the University he published a volume entitled, Nebraska Legends and Other Poems, in which he developed the Indian legends of the Weeping Water and the Raw Hide. Aside from his literary activities, Professor Dake frequently engaged in religious controversies.

Professor Hitchcock, who came to Nebraska from Knox College, remained as head of the mathematics department until 1893, when he became professor emeritus. Mr. Hitchcock was long remembered fondly by the many early students who came under his tutelage.

Of this first faculty, Professor Howard W. Caldwell, in his Education in Nebraska, wrote, "that although not men of genius, they were all good workers and fully abreast with the development of the young State, and better prepared, perhaps, to do the work than needed than men of more brilliancy and more erudition would have been."

To Lincoln

Lois Wigent went to Lincoln on the evening bus Friday. There she was a guest of Billy Schauer at a dance that same evening. He is attending the college of agriculture in the state university. She returned home the next evening.

Had Pneumonia

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark returned home Thursday evening from Gordon, where they had been the guests of their son, Arden and family. Their visit was marred since Mr. Clark was ill with pneumonia while away. He is recovering slowly.

Miss Gilroy Better

Minnie Gilroy, who received a broken hip some time ago, when she slipped on the ice while caring for the rabbits in the back yard of her home, is getting along very well. She underwent an operation in the Ord hospital where she is being cared for, in connection with setting the bone in her hip, and is now able to be in a wheel chair at short periods morning and afternoon. In a short time, her doctors think she can go to the home of her brother, C. E. Gilroy, where she will stay for awhile. Later she plans to return to her own home.

Completes Course
ACAN Gerald Bryson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bryson of Scotia, recently completed a 14-week training course in "Air Control" at Olathe, Kan.
Mr. Bryson graduated from the Scotia Consolidated schools in 1947, enlisted in the U. S. Navy, Feb. 18, 1951. He received his basic training at San Diego and was later transferred to Corpus Christi, Tex., where he has since been stationed less the 14-weeks spent in Kansas. Bryson is married, his wife being the former, Phyllis Daudt, daughter of Mrs. Louise Daudt of Scotia.

Graduated and Assigned

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen heard on Thursday evening that their daughter, Evelyn Urban, who had been attending school of instruction for stewardesses on the American air line, graduated at three o'clock, Thursday afternoon, February 5. A little over an hour later she was on a plane to Ft. Worth, Tex., which will be her headquarters from now on. She has been attending the school in Chicago for a month.

With Miss Urban were three other girls, who had been assigned the same headquarters. Plans are that the four will live together in Ft. Worth.

Uniforms had been issued to the graduates, which those who attended the graduation say were very nice looking.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen were unable to go to the closing exercises, since the time they would have had with Evelyn was too short to warrant the trip.

—Dorothy Sandfort, who had been the guest speaker on Wednesday at the Methodist church, returned on Thursday to her home in Humboldt.

Young Folks Service

The young folks of the Presbyterian church were in charge of the morning worship services Sunday, Katherine Gilroy being the chairman in charge. Ruth Ollis served as organist and the ushers were Dale Zimund, Keith Gilroy and Tom Anderson.

The call to worship and invocation were made by Carol Poccock, who also gave the morning prayer. As a special number Keith Cook sang a solo.

The message was, "The Problem of Pride and Peace" and was divided into three parts. The first was "What is Wrong with the World?" with talks being given by Elaine Cook and Ruth Ollis. The second part was entitled, "Are We Americans Too Proud?" those taking part in the discussion being Lyle Gilroy, Dale Strong, and Keith Cook. Dawn Covey spoke on the third part, "God and the Nations."

The benediction was given by Katherine Gilroy. The regular parts of the service were given as usual.

A speaker from the college at Hastings will bring the message next Sunday.

—Dorothy Parkos, who had spent the weekend with relatives in Ord, returned on the Sunday afternoon bus to her work in St. Paul.

Christian Science Services "Soul" is the subject of the Lesson Service which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Feb. 15. The Golden Text is: "My soul waiteth for the Lord more than that which eateth bread." (Psalm 130:6). Other Bible citations include: "That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with His son Jesus Christ. And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full. This then is the message which we have heard, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all." (1 John 1:3-5).

Bals House, Soon to Be Sold, Opened for Inspection First Time in 6 1/2 Years

Newcomers to Ord have seen a large house standing empty on M street next to the library, and many have wondered about it. Several have expressed the fact that it seemed strange, especially during the days when housing was hard to find, that this place was not available. Children played on the lawn, which was kept mowed and immaculate. The walk in front was cleared of snow regularly. But the house was plainly a mystery, and the place was a mystery.

When questioned, those who had lived here for a long time would explain that the house belonged to Mrs. Charles Bals, and that she was in Belgium, where she had lived as a young girl, and that she might be coming back some time. So the place had been kept just as it was when she left it 6 1/2 years ago.

Several weeks ago there came the message that told of her death and it became necessary to care for the many affairs concerning her estate as soon as possible. So the house was opened to the public.

Every room in the house bore evidence of the former occupants, in spite of the fact that when Mrs. Bals went to Belgium to live with her family, she took many things with her.

That she was musical was manifested by the piano which is in one of the rooms. This was an upright piano of a light colored finish. On the top are several old shaped cases, made of brass. The covering or scarf for this piano used to be exquisitely made, which Mrs. Bals had made. It is gone, now.

Rumor says that Mrs. Bals made lovely articles with this same kind of work, also Harding, the set for which she brought from Belgium. Her glass, silver and other things were some of which were among those aired by the cleaners when the house was opened, and since put back at the windows.

In the same music room stands a sort of a dining table, with a bright painted china top, and those who know say that this stand came from Belgium and was left behind. It stands between two all candle sticks each fitted with equally tall candles. Doubtless Mrs. Bals fitted these candles into the sticks herself, and maybe stood back to see the effect.

There are several pictures on the walls, many being hand painted in oils. These are copies of more famous pictures and there are some beautiful scenes on some. Friends say that Mrs. Bals did not paint, but the pictures were the work of friends.

There are many family pictures, one of Mr. and Mrs. Bals' wedding, which showed them to be a fine looking couple. The wedding took place in Belgium, and was a full dress affair.

Other pictures are of Mr. and Mrs. Bals taken in later life, and are said to be excellent likenesses. Pictures show the parents of the couple, and there are many family groups.

In the cupboard off the dining room are some sets of glass goblets and sherbets, all set off by thread lace doilies. In one corner there are a few pieces of painted china.

In the basement there stands a queer washing machine, the like of which doubtless few if any have ever seen. It is of oval shape, and built low.

In a small square room on the second floor, off the bedrooms, there stands an old fashioned kneehole desk. Here Mr. and Mrs. Bals attended to their many business affairs, for they owned much property. Mrs. Bals kept all the books, and assisted her husband as he required it.

Mrs. Bals was an active lady, and those who knew her during her life in Ord not on the ranch home, say that she worked hard. She did all her own work because she enjoyed it. And for another reason, both she and her husband enjoyed the cooking of their home land, and there was no one here who knew how that was done. Both of them were plain people, and did not entertain much. However, on the ranch there were many business friends, especially those who bought and sold cattle or who were tion to such benefits, to pay the costs of such improvement and to issue such district and intersection bonds and warrants to pay the cost and expenses of such improvements as may be deemed necessary or advisable; that said plans and specifications may be approved by resolution or otherwise on the date this ordinance is adopted even though said ordinance has not been published in accordance with law, or as soon thereafter as may be deemed right and proper. Sec. 5. After passage, approval and publication of this ordinance, the clerk is directed to publish notice of the creation of such district in The Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper published in Ord, Nebraska, for two consecutive weeks, and if a majority of the resident owners of the property abutting on the streets to be improved shall file with the city clerk within 20 days after the first publication of said notice written objections to the creation of such district, said improvement shall not be made as provided in this ordinance and this ordinance shall be repealed. If such objections are not so filed, the work shall proceed as aforesaid. Advertising bids for such improvement may commence at any time after the passage, approval and publication of this ordinance. Sec. 6. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Sec. 7. This ordinance shall be in full force and take effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, according to law. Passed, approved and published on this 9th day of February, 1953. F. L. Blessing, Mayor. ATTEST: Agnes Dodge, City Clerk. Febr. 12-1tc Ord, Nebraska February 9, 1953 The Mayor and City Council met in special session at 7:30 o'clock p. m. on February 9, 1953. The following Councilmen were present: Schoenstain, Wozab, Pecenka, Gnaster, Huff, Hastings. Absent: None. Theretupon Mayor Blessing announced to all persons present that the Board of Equalization was in session for the purpose of granting a hearing to all persons desiring to be heard on the apportionment of assessment of the costs of the construction of street improvements in Street Improvement District No. 6 in said city for the purpose of equalizing and levying such special assessments. The following persons appeared and were heard: None. The following filed written statements of objections which were read and considered by the Board: None. Councilmen, Schoenstain, Wozab, Pecenka, Gnaster, Huff, Hastings, being present and the persons who desired a hearing having been heard, and the Council having considered the recommendations of the City Engineer in charge of said improvements and the members of the Board having heretofore personally inspected the real estate improvements and the real estate abutting upon and adjacent thereto, the following Resolution was introduced by Councilman Hastings: "BE IT RESOLVED by the Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska, sitting as a Board of Equalization, as follows: 1. The Mayor and Council find and determine: The cost of the construction in Street Improvement District #6 in said city, exclusive of the intersections and areas formed by the crossing of streets, avenues and alleys and one-half of the streets adjacent to real estate owned by the United States or the city, is $48,758.33. 2. The Mayor and Council further find and determine: The Mayor and Council have heretofore designated this time and place for sitting as a Board of Equalization for considering and levying special assessments upon the property specially benefited by said street improvements to pay the cost of constructing the same; notice of the time and place of this meeting and sitting as a Board of Equalization for said purposes has been duly given as provided by statute by publication in the Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper having a general circulation in this city, at least four weeks prior hereto, said notice having been published in the issues of said paper dated the 8th, 15th, 22nd and 29th days of January, 1953 and the 5th day of February, 1953; the Mayor and Council, substituting this Board, have each personally inspected said street improvements and the real estate abutting on and adjacent thereto; this Board has at this session heard all persons who desired to be heard in reference to the equalization and levying of special assessments on the real estate in said districts for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing the street improvements in said districts, and with reference thereto have considered the advice of the engineer in charge of the construction of said improvements, said street improvements have been constructed and completed according to plans and specifications and contracts let therefore and have been accepted by the city. 3. The Mayor and Council further find and determine: That the several lots and parcels of real estate in said district are equal and uniform, and in proportion to the feet frontage of each of said lots and parcels of real estate, abutting upon said street improvements and that the assessments levied herein should be and are according to such feet frontage. 4. There are hereby levied and assessed upon the several lots and parcels of land in said District special assessments in the amount of dollars and cents set out in the schedule below under the heading "Special Assessments" opposite the description of each lot or parcel of land.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS table with columns: Description, Amount, and list of lots and parcels.

Ninth Grade English

The quality of mercy is not strained. It falleth as the gentle rain of heaven. Upon the earth beneath. It is twice blessed. It blesseth him who gets and him who gives. It is enthroned in the heart of kings. It is an attribute to God Himself. For then the earthly power doth show like unto gods. When mercy seasons justice.

There are strange things that seem to be going on in the schools of these times, and some of the old timers can and probably will shake their heads and murmur. "Times have changed since I went to school". And, on the other hand, there is no doubt but that the lessons the young folks learn nowadays stay with them much longer than the things learned in the long ago.

For now present experiences are recorded and expressed in the words of the boys and girls themselves. It could be possible if the future citizens think in their day to day lives, especially of those in authority over them, or concerning the people they see every day, there might be some changes in conduct.

The ninth grade English class taught by Don Ballard, is so large that it is in two sections, and even then the classes are too large. Three sections would be much better, Mr. Ballard thinks, if it were possible. Then he says that he could give the individual attention to the members.

The section visited is made up of about four girls to about 35 boys. In the other section, there are more girls. There was no class distinction in the division made, but taken according to those who had a music class at that time. The average age of the young folks, Mr. Ballard said was 14 years.

Many of the class is made up of students from other districts, and the greater share are farm boys and girls. Several are the tuition students of which are about half of the total enrollment of the Ord high school students.

The class had been taking literature which will lead up to more grammar and language construction. The text book used is entitled, "Within the Americas" and is made up of several sections. The one that the young folks are reading at the present time is, "Tales and Stories". They have been reading stories about the Rio Grande, and other tales about the region south of the border. Later they will have stories about American heroes, and poetry, and the classics.

In the section being studied at the present time, they had heard a tale on insect life. Following the study of this selection, they had written an essay on insects and birds. Much of this work was made up of articles on Nebraska birds. Later they read a story of a trip on the water, and their essay was on an excursion.

Another story was on how there is a constant fight for survival in nature. The essay this time—each was requested to write on "The Cruellest Thing in Nature." Since most of the class are farm boys and girls, the stories were taken from the things they had seen on the farm, especially dealing with animal life. Others took up the matter of parasites on trees.

The story that had been read last was, the time honored and well known, "The Devil and Daniel Webster," by Benet. For their assignment in written work, the students had been asked to write an essay on "The Devil Has Him," or her as the case might be. These essays were read by the class, one at a time, in front of the class. It was interesting to learn what they really considered bad enough, that such a person was consigned to Satan.

Several mentioned the old slave drivers, especially the cruelty with which the old overseers were apt to treat the slave workers in the fields. Several mentioned Stalin. Several mentioned teachers, many in fun, and some that were not so funny. Some told of persons who were cruel to their parents, and some told of men who were cruel to their families. Some told of bandits, and some told of drunkards. All of the essays were especially vivid, and might have been used to see the persons written about as others see them. There was an uproar of laughter with the most of the essays, since some were personal. The reader went to the front of the room when called by Mr. Ballard and gave their story. He picked at random the readers, and not nearly all had a chance to give their master pieces.

The next story to be read was, "Miss Hinch", a mystery story and the essay to follow this was to deal with imagination. The essays were to be but a page long, and each line was numbered. The original essay is corrected by two students, the corrections, which deal mainly with mistakes in spelling, grammar and construction, placed on another sheet, with the line numbered corresponding to the line in the essay. After the article is corrected, it is rewritten. All three pages are returned to Mr. Ballard for the final graduating. In this way he discovered the weakest spots, which will be studied later, when the class will take more grammar, and spelling and construction. All seemed to be interested in their work, and during the short time allotted, a bit of preparation for their next assignment, the whole crowded room was very still.

Mr. Ballard says that most of the students are active in the outside interest of the school, athletics and music. And also most of them live on farms and have to go some miles to get home. Some, he says, leave home early and get home about seven. These he says are getting full benefit of the money paid by the rural districts and parents for tuition. But he says that the entire group of freshmen are really taking their high school work seriously, especially as he sees it in his classes.

MEAT CONTROLS END Here's Why the Lifting of Meat Controls is Big News to You... With the removal of OPS controls from the sale of meat, Safeway is once again able to bring you all the popular cuts of meat, prepared the way our customers have demonstrated they prefer them. For example, you will again find on sale at Safeway:

Rib Roasts — ready for the oven. These are prepared before sale. For perfect roasting, the heavy chine bone is removed and replaced with a thin layer of fat to seal in juices and make the roast easy to carve. Cubed Steaks — made from top grades of beef. And, as always at Safeway, made from only round or sirloin tip. Stewing Beef — lean beef pre-diced and labeled "Stewing Beef." Always priced low at Safeway.

Ground Round — no longer are you required to purchase Round Steak and wait for grinding. Ground Round is now prepared in advance, ready for purchase. Of course, if you prefer, you may continue to buy steak and have it ground to order.

Quality and Price — all cuts of Beef and Lamb at Safeway will continue to be of the Top Government Grades... just the Top Grades, too, of Pork and Veal. You'll find them at money-saving prices, every day, at Safeway.

POWER that Pur-r-r-s when the going gets tough! NEW FORD TRACTOR. The reserve of power you want when the going suddenly gets tougher is here in this new Ford Tractor. Just take a look at its new Ford "Red Tiger" engine and you'll see why. You'll see a new overhead valve engine, with big bore and short stroke that cuts the travel of each piston approximately 5 miles in a working day, reducing friction and helping to make possible greater power with new economy of gas and oil. You'll see an engine with big, rotating exhaust valves, new lightning-fast governor and dozens of other examples of advanced engineering. Ignition is completely weatherproof. All oil is normally filtered every time around. The whole engine is extra strong, extra rigid as well as extra powerful. The more you know about tractor engines, the bigger kick you'll get out of looking over the one in the new Ford Tractor. The more you know about tractors, the better you'll realize that here is the most modern tractor on today's market. Come in today... look it over! Dean Trac. & Equip. Co. Arcadia & Ord, Nebraska away the No. 1 problem before the Legislature this week.

Spurred on by Gov. Robert B. Crosby's personal request for a legislative policy before Feb. 25, the lawmakers buckled down to face what has emerged as the prime headache of the session.

Crosby came before the Legislature last week to sketch the situation:

Time is short; the assessment date is the tenth of next month.

The Nebraska Supreme Court held, in the now-famous Johnson County case, that property under the Constitution must be assessed equitably and uniformly at 100 per cent of its value.

Present law provides for assessment of real estate every two years and that class of property is not up for re-assessment in 1953. Sen. John Aufenkamp of Julian has submitted a bill to provide for annual assessments.

Two other bills have an important bearing on the tax problem, LB 272, by Sens. Earl J. Lee of Fremont, Art Carmody of Trenton and Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City providing that all property be assessed at just half its actual value; and LB 89 by Sen. Dwight Burney of Hartington limiting tax collections to 105 per cent of the total collected the previous year. The second measure is important because if all valuations are raised to 100 per cent and the levies aren't lowered, the total tax dollar take will be staggering.

All three measures are scheduled for hearing this week and the senators were preparing to set aside other matters in order to clear the decks for speedy action.

School Lands

Measures to untangle the knotty school land lease snarl are receiving generally good treatment in the first stages of consideration by the Legislature.

The Education Committee has reported out to the floor two bills which were written as a result of a study of the problem by Sen. McNutt's Legislative Council committee.

One, LB 97, repeals the provision that half the payment for the assignment of a lease should go to the state and the other, LB 95, provides for appraisal of the lands every three years instead of every five as at present.

The Miscellaneous Appropriations Committee couldn't immediately decide what to do with a proposal by Sen. Herbert J. Duis of Gothenburg that county boards be allowed to fix the salaries of county officials.

The officials themselves appeared divided on the bill, LB 9. Leslie Stull, Box Butte county commissioner, contended that because of widely differing conditions between counties, the officials' salaries could be better determined locally.

A delegation from Sarpy county also spoke for the bill but a group from Wayne county opposed it.

Delay

This week's show-down fight on the highway battle has been delayed at least a week.

Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton, who with Sens. Tom Coffey of Alma and Hugh Carson of Ord, has introduced a highway commission bill, LB 4, agreed to hold up floor debate on the measure until a watered-down "highway committee" bill, by Sens. Karl Vogel of Omaha and Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City can be considered.

Both Vogel and Bridenbaugh are opponents of the highway commission bill. Their measure, LB 268, will be heard by Sen. Carson's Public Works Committee this Friday.

There is a strong possibility that this session may see re-enacted the breakup of highway legislation which took place in the closing days of the 1951 session.

The backers of bills to increase highway revenue by upping the gas tax and registration fees have threatened to withdraw them if LB 4 passes.

And by the same token, the Carmody-Carson-Coffey group will not support the revenue bills unless the commission bill is approved.

Go Home

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff has offered a resolution calling on his colleagues to accept Gov. Crosby's budget recommendations and quit.

He said he realizes it's a drastic step but he knows no other way to convince the public that the governor's budget isn't all right the way it is.

In effect, he wants to toss the ball to Crosby and say, "Here, it's yours, run with it."

Fight

Battle lines are already being drawn in what could be one of the warmest rhubarbs of the session.

It's over Sen. Glenn Cramer's LB 467 which would impose a 2 per cent severance tax on oil and gas produced in Nebraska. The income would be earmarked for the permanent school fund and Cramer offered it at the request of the Nebraska State Education Association.

Leading the opposition will be Sen. A. A. Fenske of Sunol in whose district the fast-developing oil and gas industry is centered.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff is another ardent foe.

Several eastern Nebraska senators think the time has come to slap a "reasonable" tax on the new industry and they reject the arguments of industry spokesmen that development has not reached the point where taxation and regulation will not be deterrents.

Fired

Gov. Crosby has "accepted the resignation" of another appointee of ex-Gov. Val Peterson. The governor handed reporters a statement saying that Assistance Director Neil C. Vandemoer's leaving gave him "a feeling of regret."

And at the same press conference, he announced the appointment of Mayne J. Stukel, an 11-year veteran of the aid department to succeed him.

But Vandemoer said he'd been fired and that he hadn't been given a reason. He said he thought he still had some valuable service to offer the state as he has for the past 16 years.

Visiting in California

Mrs. C. J. Miller left by train Thursday for Las Vegas, Nevada, where she spent the weekend with her son, Roger, who is at Nellis Air Force Base. Later she planned to go to California, to spend a few weeks with Mrs. R. L. Dunham, of Hollywood and other friends in Los Angeles.

New York Visitor

A visitor of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. McMIndes from Thursday until Sunday was Mrs. Charlotte Vickerstaff, whose home is in Buffalo, New York. When Mrs. Vickerstaff left on the afternoon bus Sunday she took with her the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McMIndes, Geraldine Lee, who will spend a week with her grandparents. Mrs. Vickerstaff is the step mother of Mrs. McMIndes.

To Represent County

Leanne Kerchal, Ord high school senior, and winner of the fourth place in the state cherry pie baking contest, plans to go to Lexington on Thursday, Feb. 19, to enter the district public speaking contest, sponsored by the 4-H clubs. Miss Kerchal will probably be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Victor Kerchal and Katherine Helzer, home extension agent.

Moved to Denver

Mrs. George Hubbard was pleased to get a telephone message Sunday from her grandson, Gary Hubbard, who was spending his 24 hour leave with his father, Maurice Hubbard, in Elm Creek. Gary had been stationed since November at Parks Field, Calif., and had recently been changed to Lowry Field, Denver, Colo.

Salvation Army in Annual Drive

It has been announced that the annual appeal for funds for the Salvation Army will be made soon.

Local funds are administered by the local committee for health and welfare use and such needs as clothing for school children, dental, optical and medical assistance and welfare aid. The remainder of the funds are used for hospital and medical care for the unfortunate, disaster relief and other emergencies.

Charles Wrightsman is chairman of the county work. C. J. Mortensen is secretary-treasurer. North Loup and Arcadia are also represented on the board of directors.

Mr. Wrightsman is awaiting further instructions before he makes plans for the drive for funds.

Went to Arkansas

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner and family went to Arkansas on Friday where Mr. Horner looked after matters of business in various places in the state. They returned home the middle of the week.

Officers Selected

The commissioners who were elected at the general election in the high school, in preparation for county government day, Wednesday, have announced the following appointive officers: Extension heads, Vernon J. Potrzeba and Karen Neumeyer; welfare director, Phyllis Kapustka; veterans affairs officer, Ronald Sobon.

Visit Uncle

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Carlson of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bailey of Sauk Center, Minn., were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuehl. The guests came to see their uncle, Charles Hanson, who is being cared for in the Ord hospital. He is getting much better, and will soon be moved to the Whipple Nursing Home for care.

The guests from Minnesota also visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Rose.

Seek Sugar Beet Acreage in Ord Vicinity

Beet Dump Promised Here If Sufficient Acreage Signed.

Owners and operators of irrigated areas are invited to attend a meeting at the K. of C. Hall in Ord Wednesday, Feb. 25, at 7:30 P.M.

The meeting is sponsored by the American Crystal Sugar Co. of Grand Island, the Ord Chamber of Commerce and the Valley County Extension Service.

Mr. Winkoff and Mr. McLeay of the sugar company will be present to show pictures of the new mechanical methods of beet culture, which they say have done away with much of the hand labor which was formerly necessary in the growing of beets, and to answer questions which the farmers may have.

Mr. Winkoff states that a beet dump will be installed in Ord if sufficient beet acreage can be secured. For several years the Burwell area has grown beets.

The local sponsors want it known that they are not telling farmers that they should grow beets, but are assisting with the meeting so that farmers will have an opportunity to learn about growing beets by the latest methods. They can not then decide for themselves whether or not it will be profitable.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the close of the meeting.

Students Planning Musical Comedy

Ord High music students are busy working on the forthcoming musical comedy, "The Belle of the West." This operetta will be presented for the entire Ord community on Tuesday evening, March 10. The comedy concerns itself with a tale of the old west, when barbers were young and pretty, and men were rough and needy. The operetta is being directed by Glenn L. Trent, and stage and property designing by Don Ballard.

Some of the main characters are Mrs. Ida Mae Brown, the barber; Speedy Summers, the hotel manager; Boise Bess the laziest woman "in these here parts"; Handsome Harry, shy, good-looking, and mighty bashful; Sure-Shot Sam, an ornery cuss whom you can't trust; Alan Miller, the handsome Romeo; Cussin' Cal, a grizzly old miner; Carmen, the Spanish senorita; and many more wild and woolly characters of the Old West.

Plan to attend this big event. Some very western melodies will come pouring over the footlights and many a laugh will be had by all.

Wheat Outlook Is Questionable, Says County Agent Dale

Moisture Condition Is Better, But Some Think Wheat Rotted in Soil.

The outlook for the 1953 wheat crop is still very questionable, according to County Agent C. C. Dale.

Moisture conditions have improved since December 1, with the total precipitation of 2.95 inches. Since the moisture consisted of both rain and snow and some of the snow blew off the wheat fields the total effective moisture on wheat land probably did not average more than two inches. On average soil this will wet the ground down to about 10 inches in depth. Beyond that depth the soil is very dry and the subsoil moisture must be replenished by spring rains if any reserve is to be established for use of the crop later in the season.

Before December 1 the soil was so dry that some wheat germinated and died and some of it died after coming up. Reports from farmers in the county differ on what has happened in the last month to the seed which did not sprout last fall. Several have said that they have found seed which has sprouted during the recent warm weather, others report finding that the seed has rotted. Seed which has germinated may be O.K. as experiments at the College of Agriculture a number of years ago showed that winter wheat planted during the first half of February outyielded spring wheat planted at the same time. At the present time the outlook is for a light crop on a reduced acreage. A number of farmers who had their fields ready for seeding last fall decided it was too dry and did not plant any wheat. A good many fields which were seeded probably show such poor stands this spring that they will be used for other crops.

Valley County Sales Up 34.5, Best in State

Retail sales in Valley county in December were among the best in the state, a survey by the business research department of the University of Nebraska, revealed today.

An increase of 34.5 over November sales was recorded. Over the same period the average was 3.8 up from November.

Union Pacific Plea Set for Hearing on Thursday

Individuals to Protest Vigorously; Express Service Vital.

When the hearing of the Union Pacific railroad's plea to drop daily express service in this area goes into action Thursday, there will be quite a number of vigorous individual protests.

Planning to appear for Ord are C. J. Mortensen, E. C. Leggett and Robert Noll. Mortensen is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce transportation committee, Leggett and Noll are both heavy users of express service here.

"The whole thing is a matter of time," Leggett said. "My business, the Quiz, ships dated magazines, and photo engravings in newspapers and magazines which have a time value. In other words, if they are held up as much as a day due to lack of express service, they will become valueless."

Noll said that his problem was also one of time, although he was a recipient rather than a shipper. "Flowers are perishable, and not valued until they arrive here in time for the many special occasions such as weddings and funerals for which they are ordered. Daily service is essential to our business."

Other protests are being planned by individuals and organizations in Burwell, Scotia, Elba, Cotesfield, North Loup, Loup City, Ashton and other towns served by the present daily express service which the UP seeks to eliminate.

As yet it is not known which examiner of the state railway commission will conduct the meeting here Thursday.

Former Ordite Loses Hogs in Spectacular Fire

Ord Business Firm Also Loses Good Customer in Blair Blaze.

R. P. "Dick" Flynn, former Ordite, lost 158 head of hogs in one of two fires in the Blair community Saturday night. Flynn farms just north of Blair.

The same evening, the Quiz Service lost one of their good customers when an earlier blaze crippled the Lutheran Publishing House of Blair, for a loss of more than $100,000.

Although the publishing house, owned by the United Evangelical Lutheran Church, of which both Flynn and the Quiz Service are members, plans to resume operation, it will be many months before the plant can get going on their former scale.

Eugene Flynn, a son, awakened by the sound of sirens in the town fire, dashed into the yard to find the hog house afloat. Assuming some one had seen the hog house blaze, he postponed calling for help for several minutes.

Two trucks from the volunteer department raced to the farm, found the fire there out of control. Twenty-eight sows and 130 pigs were destroyed and the building was leveled.

One of the fire trucks sent to the farm immediately returned to join the two truck companies at the town blaze when it became known the hog house was doomed. Cost of the farm blaze was set at four thousand dollars by the Flynnes.

Cause of both fires was undetermined.

Here's where Ord's water comes from—right out of the constant flow Loup River. At certain seasons of the year it gets a brackish taste from algae and other minute animals, but generally these are removed in purifying processes. The stake denotes water intake.

Pure Water in Unlimited Quantities Available for Ord's Use from Loup River

Some things we take for granted as life and liberty and happiness. Some other things, more materialistic, maybe, we also take for granted, such as air and sunshine and water. The lack of water has long been known as something which spells hardship, and on the other hand, only those who have been through floods can know what too much water can mean.

But, many fail to give a thought about the very essential gift of life, and that is water to drink. Also many fail to realize how essential water is to health, in terms of cleanliness.

So, it was a pleasant task to find out the other day about the water supply that we have in our city. Aside from the fact that it was known to be pumped from the nearby river, and that it always seemed to be plentiful, even in the dry months just passed, little was known.

Another known fact is that George Allen is the city engineer, and that his office is supposed to be in the city building. After an hour or two spent with him, it was really discovered, that as an engineer, Mr. Allen is a man of many trades, and that his office might be most anywhere between the city building, or at the water and light plant or even at the pumping station.

Many newcomers might have wondered why the water was taken from the river, especially when there are wells, close by, in North Loup, say, or even in Ord city, itself. The sheets of water are variable, and even if a vein can be found one place, that is no assurance that such can be found just across the road. Several wells have been sunk, says Mr. Allen, but sometimes their vein of water runs out and sometimes the menace of quicksand fills the well screens, and then the whole thing is gone, at great waste of money, which taxpayers are paying and also time. Some have sworn that by means of water-witching, a good vein can be found, but that method has not yet been tried. Some day the city might turn to this, but not for a while, anyway.

So the river has been put to use as far as the Loup has never failed. Even with the dry spell of the summer, there was but once that the use of water was curtailed and that was when an accident happened in the engine room, and water covered the engines.

The present system of pumping from the river was started in 1925 and during all that time, there has always been plenty of water. An average of 125,000 gallons of (Continued on page 5)

Estimated 2,000 Acres Taken Over by Prairie Dogs

Farmers Decide to Buy Poison, Start Program to Clean Them Out.

About fifty farmers were present at the prairie dog control meeting at the court house Friday evening. These men estimated that some 1,500 to 2,000 acres of Valley county land is being used to pasture prairie dogs instead of cattle and all were anxious to get rid of the dogs on their farms and they want neighboring farmers to do the same.

Funds were subscribed to finance the purchase of 1500 lbs. of poison bait from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service at Mitchell, S. D. This bait should arrive in Ord early in March and will be distributed under the direction of Mr. Hanson, the federal hunter, who is stationed in Ord. Each farmer will be expected to pay for the bait used on his own premises and the sponsor who put up the money for temporary financing will be repaid from the amount accumulated when the bait is sold.

Tom Turner of the Fish and Wildlife Service led the discussion of plans for conducting the campaign. In answer to a question about the effectiveness of the coyote control work being done in the county, Mr. Turner explained that there is no way of getting an accurate check on the total number of coyotes actually killed. He said that the coyotes killed by eating the poisoned horse carcasses can only be estimated because they may die several miles from the point where they ate the bait due to the slow action of the poison used. Upwards of 100 coyotes can be killed from feeding on one of these carcasses. He further stated that he had personally checked on three of these carcasses that day and found that coyotes are feeding on all of them and one carcass was almost completely eaten. On the other hand a good check can be made on those killed by the coyote getters, and to date over 100 have been accounted for by this method.

Loup City Man Is Found Dead

Joe Grabowski, 63, was found dead of a shotgun wound in the head at the farm home of his nephew, Alvin Grabowski, late Sunday.

A 12-gauge shotgun lay near the body but Sheriff Earl Hancock and County Coroner W. H. Line, who investigated, said they could not determine how the gun was discharged.

Grabowski liked to hunt and often worked on his guns in the basement of the farmhouse where his body was found. No inquest is planned.

The body was found by Alvin Grabowski when he came home. The farm is five miles southeast of Loup City.

The elder Grabowski was a bachelor.

Traffic Charge, Drunk Driving Cases; Trial Set

Jurginski Jury Trial Set for Thursday; Athey Traffic Charge Wed.

A traffic violation charge and a drunken driving charge are set for hearing in Valley county court this week.

Anthony Athey, who figured in the truck crash last Monday in which Ralph Stevens skidded into a tree and wrecked his large semi, will face charges in county court Wednesday afternoon for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Thursday morning, Stanley Jurginski of Elyria will have a trial on charges of driving while intoxicated. This will be Jurginski's second trip before a jury on the same charge. L. W. Cronk is his attorney.

Ord Co-Op Oil Stockholders in Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Ord Cooperative Oil company was held on Friday, Feb. 13, in the Masonic basement and was attended by some 125 to 150 people. From W. C. H. Noll, the secretary-treasurer of the company came the following figures reported at the meeting.

The auditor's report shows the sales of all fuels to be 1,150,696 gallons; lubricating oil, 11,165 gallons and grease, 15,547 pounds.

The sales in dollars amounted to $272,218, an increase of $19,800 over the year 1952.

The net savings amounted to $33,506, or broken down, from operations, $16,175; transport savings, $13,170 and refunds from CCA, $4,161.

The rebates credited to patrons to 10%, and rebates deferred to 2%. The total taxes paid amounted to $2,527.

Elmer Zlomke and Joe Boosa were elected directors to succeed themselves for the three year term. At the present time Henry Benn is the president and Raymond Pocock vice president.

Following the meeting doughnuts and coffee were served to all those present.

Brother Hurt in Car Accident

Rev. and Mrs. Keith A. Shepherd and children went to Lincoln Sunday afternoon where they remained until Monday evening. The Rev. and Mrs. Shepherd returned with his brother, Lt. Myron Norton, who is on his way to Korea. He was in Indiana, where he was bringing his mother to Nebraska, when his car was hit by another car. He received cuts on his head and hand, and his mother is still being cared for in a hospital in Anderson, Ind., the accident happening in Alexander, Ind.

In Lincoln, the pastor and his family visited with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Genuchi, who is seriously ill in one of the city hospitals. She is recovering slowly.

Mrs. Elliott Clement stayed with Mrs. Shepherd's mother, Mrs. Genuchi, during the absence of the family.

Rotary Initiates

GENE LARKIN GERALD LARKIN

Two Sons in the Service

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Larkin, who live in the Pleasant Hill neighborhood, south of North Loup, have two sons in the armed service of the United States, their pictures being shown here.

Gerald arrived in Korea in March, 1952, and since that time has been on or near the front line, serving as a driver or gunner of a tank. On Feb. 5, 1953, his unit was moved back into Battalion reserve, where he will be until he is rotated home on furlough, which at the present time he hopes will be in April. The weather has been cold at times, but with the clothing and equipment the boys have, the cold is not too hard on them.

Gene is stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. Except the fact that the boys are still restricted to camp, he finds the life to be interesting and not too difficult.

Their addresses follow:

Pfc. Gerald F. Larkin 1217843

Joint Extension S.C.S. Meeting

The Valley County Extension Service and the Valley County Soil Conservation District held their joint meeting Wednesday, Feb. 18 in the Masonic hall. The meeting began in the morning according to the presidents of both organizations, Gilbert Babcock, of the Extension service, and Alfred Burson of the Soil Conservation service.

At noon a pot luck lunch was served to which the families of the members were invited. Coffee and ice cream was furnished by the services.

Bresley Buys Harris Buildings at Auction

Harry Bresley was the high bidder at auction sale of the late Clyde Harris property, just north of the Ord Hotel, Friday afternoon. Bresley paid $8550 for the two old frame buildings and real estate. A pair of the oldest buildings in Ord, they were once the site of Frank Dwork's Blue Front store.

Power tools and other carpenter equipment also brought spirited bidding. Ernie Well and Charles Burdick were the auctioneers.

The new owner has not as yet announced what he will do with the structures, whether to patch them up for a possible storage warehouse or to clear the site for a possible new business building.

Dr. R. J. Lynn Gets Draft Nod

Dr. R. J. Lynn of Ord has been classified 1-A in selective service status, he was notified by the state selective office this week.

City Caucuses Coming March 3

According to the law, city caucuses must be held exactly five weeks before the annual spring election. The annual election is always held on the first Tuesday in April, which this year falls on April 7. The city caucuses will be held on Tuesday, March 3, at which time nominations will be made for all offices in which the terms of the present incumbents expire. Members of the city council hold office for two years and members of the board of education hold office for a term of three years.

This year there will be three councilmen to be nominated, since John Wozab, Ward No. 1, was appointed to fill a vacancy. The others whose terms expire this year are Howard Huff, Ward 2, and Gus Schoenstein, Ward 3. On the board of education, the terms of Ralph Norman and Orin Kellison expire this year.

Kick-Off Breakfast Starts Scout Drive

The kick-off breakfast which will start off the drive in this community for funds for the Boy Scout project, will be held at 7 o'clock, Wednesday morning, Feb. 25, at Harmony House. This is a national date, since such breakfasts will be held all over the United States at the same time. Emil Babka is chairman of the event to be held here. It is planned that at least 25 men will be present, most of them being members of the Rotary club, sponsor of the Scout work in Ord.

Following the breakfast, the annual drive for funds will be made, which is to last just for the day.

Cotesfield to Have New Grade Building

School District No. 14, Cotesfield, will have the convenience of a new modern grade school building. The voters at a special election on Friday voted 64 to 26 in favor of issuing $30,000 in bonds for the erection of a new structure. The architect's plans call for a two-room building with moveable partitions, whereby it can be converted into one large room for community purposes.

The present frame structure has been used for many generations.

Jackets Lost When Boys Get Wanderlust

It was late Wednesday morning when the Quiz want ad telephone rang. "This is John Sullivan. My two boys developed the wanderlust yesterday afternoon and wandered clear down to the Catholic church, because the day was warm they took their jackets off and hung them on the back of a truck. And when they thought about their jackets the truck was gone. Can you make a want-ad out of that, or is it a feature story?"

The Quiz ad-taker answered, "Well, John, it's a want ad. LOST—two little boy's jackets near Catholic Church. Finder please return to _____ and the charge will be fifty cents, John."

Study of Unicorn Designs Dismisses Fable Theory

The unicorn—fabulous beast of medieval art—was not entirely a product of the imagination. In the Muslim world, stretching from Moorish Spain to the famed cities of Bukhara and Samarkand in central Asia, its prototype almost unquestionably was the one-horned rhinoceros of India whose form became weirdly distorted in reports of travelers filtered through popular legend.

Capitol News

By Melvin Paul
Statehood referendum
LINCOLN—A man with an acceptable solution to Nebraska's painful property tax problems would be welcomed to the Legislature this week.

Debate has been resumed on the three tax proposals which Gov. Robert B. Crosby asked speedily action but even the sponsors don't claim to have all the answers.

The three measures are: LB 272 which would set the valuation of all classes of property for tax purposes at 50 per cent of its actual value.

LB 299 which would limit taxing subdivisions to collection of not more than 105 per cent of the taxes it raised the preceding year.

LB 302 which provides for annual instead of biennial valuations of real property.

LB 268, a sort of compromise measure which provides for a "highway committee" instead of a commission, and is sponsored by opponents of LB 4.

LB 258, which increases the state tax on gasoline from five to six cents a gallon.

LB 258, which increases the state traction fees on motor vehicles. For most cars the boost will be from the present $5 to $8.

There is evidence that the discussion which split the supporters of the commission bill and those who want the revenue laws last session is present again.

Hearings on the revenue bills are slated for this week and the other two measures come up for floor debate.

TERRY
Terry McGovern Carpenter has recently switched the headlines away from his colleagues in the first six weeks of this legislative session.

The Scottsbluff businessman's conduct in the Legislature moved veteran Sen. Sam Kalver of Omaha to remark respectfully, "Now Gov. why they call him 'Terrible Terry'."

Statehouse newsmen are frequently asked, "Just what kind of a man is Carpenter?"

It's a tough question and most of us have to admit we don't know. Not yet, anyway.

The biggest asset Sen. Carpenter has is an ability to put into very common language what a lot of others have been groping to say.

Even those who oppose him had to admit that his 40-minute speech on behalf of his motion to enact Gov. Crosby's budget and go home was masterful.

I asked two of the men who know Carpenter as well as any of his colleagues—what they thought about him.

Sen. Hugh Carson of Ord, himself set back at making headlines, said, "You don't realize how thoroughly he's gone into everything he talks about. You notice that he's frequently gone from the chamber? He's down in the various departments, digging out facts and asking questions."

"And on top of that," volunteered Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton, "Terry's smart. He knows what he wants and how to get it."

That's pretty high praise from two of the most influential men in the Legislature.

But Terry has had his lumps, too. He took a bad beating from the Budget Committee on a bill which would require legislative approval of projects built under the LI mill bidding program.

Not only was his suggestion rejected but the so-called "defrosting committee" was abolished too, giving the institutions more freedom than they had before Carpenter's bill was offered.

And the legislature beat down his attempts to kill LB 89, the tax limitation measure.

WATERSHEDS
Another watershed bill comes up for hearing this Thursday in the Legislature. It's LB 99, and is a streamlined version of LB 455 of the 1951 session which the public Works Committee killed by a split vote.

LB 99 is the result of a Legislative Council Committee study which was aimed at ironing out the features found objectionable in LB 455. But that doesn't mean there won't be protests.

Sen. Lefty Williams of Kearney, for instance, who last session told reporters he had not read the bill, did not attend the hearing on it, is expected to lead the attack on this session's version as he did in 1951.

The bill has a total of seven introductions and is given a good chance of passage. Basically, it is "home rule" enabling legislation which would allow the creation of watershed districts to combat the twin threats of flood and soil erosion.

Proceedings for the establishment of a district would be initiated only by the filing of a petition with the county clerk. A majority of votes cast at an election after a public hearing on the proposal would be necessary for the creation of the district.

Directors of the district would be authorized to levy a tax of no more than a quarter of a mill for five years to cover engineering and maintenance expense.

CONTEMPT
The State Board of Equalization was holding a series of skull sessions this week to map its defense against contempt proceedings by the State Supreme court.

The contempt threat grows out of the board's failure to do anything about the valuation of farm lands in Johnson county although ordered by the court to reconvened and consider the case.

The board is expected to act in its defense on the peg that it hangs to the best of its judgment in the Johnson county case.

The high court has ordered the board to appear on March 5 and show cause why contempt proceedings should not go ahead.

DIVERSION
State house insiders are still trying to figure out why Gov. Crosby last week issued a statement saying he would not veto a water diversion bill.

Nobody here knows of any particular pressure the governor was under to make known his attitude toward a diversion bill. And even there were such pressure, a governor can't always say he doesn't know what he'll do with a bill until he sees what's in it.

Even Crosby recognized this second point because he said, "This is not a precedent. It is doubtful if I shall give notice in advance of my intention toward any other bill during this session."

The statement, quite naturally, drew the wrath of young Sen. Joe Martin of Grand Island of the anti-diversion forces, and, quite naturally, it drew the praise of Sen. Dick Marvel of Hastings, introducer of the bill.

SCHOOL BILLS
Gov. Crosby had two school bills introduced into the Legislature.

LB 500 allows a county superintendent to dissolve a district which contracts for instruction of its pupils by another district for two consecutive years. The dissolved district would be attached to neighboring district.

LB 559 provides that state third grade elementary teaching certificates shall be issued only to graduates of the 1952 and 1953 general elementary school certificates shall be given only until Sept. 15, 1958.

Both bills were prepared by State Supt. Freeman B. Decker after the senators themselves produced only token restricting or teacher certification bills.

Man can live without music, He can live without books, But civilized man Cannot live without cooks.

And the enthusiasm with which the members of the freshman class for their home economics work, especially when it comes to cooking, is shown, that there are several civilized men who will have some excellent cooks, say a half dozen years from now.

The class is divided into two sections, since it is large and a smaller class in this subject makes it easier for closer instruction. The girls are then divided into families in each section.

The new kitchens built not too long ago and adequately furnished are arranged that the families work as a group, when actually cooking. Each family has a father and a mother, a big and little sister, in some of the families, there are brothers as well. Each has a particular round of duties to perform, and the schedule is changed daily.

The girls have been preparing and serving three meals for three days, or three breakfasts, three lunches and three dinners. It was the dinner meal that was served when visited Friday, and to this meal each of the five families represented were privileged to invite a guest.

The girls are given a pattern menu on the day before they actually cook by their teacher, Miss Patricia Achen. They are also told to make out an actual marketing list and a time schedule.

The dinner on Friday was to consist of meat loaf, potatoes in some form, some vegetable, some breadstuff, dessert, and beverage besides jelly. They also arrange the table, and prepare the centerpiece.

The Smith family, of which the Quiz reporter was a guest, served the meat loaf required. There was also mashed potatoes, creamed carrots, tiny date and cheese muffins, apple jelly, chocolate pudding, green jelly, and small mallow, and iced tea. The centerpiece was a bouquet of flowers, and place cards were heart shaped.

In this family, Rosalie Dunlap was the mother, who was the hostess, and who also prepared the main dish and was the general manager. She assisted in clearing the dishes and stacking them.

The father of this family was Jeanie Meyers, who was to say the grace, prepare the breadstuff, and the beverage, also to assist in the clearing and the stacking. The big sister was Jeanie Thompson, who prepared the vegetable dishes, prepared the salad, set the table, was responsible for the centerpiece and if needed can double as a guest. These members of the family are rotated for every meal and all have a chance to do something different. The Smith family work in what is known as the Mulberry room.

In the pink room, the members of the Dickey family held forth. Here the father on Friday was Marjorie Svoboda, the mother was Helen Clark, the big sister was Marjorie Augustyn and the little sister was Louridine Sok.

In the yellow kitchen the Cooper family lived. In this family, Donna Nelson was the father, Phyllis Lee the mother, Katherine Gilroy was the big sister, and Barbara Lint, the little sister.

The green kitchen was set aside for the Ballard family. Here the father of the family was played by Judy Beorline, that of the mother by Pauline Bleach, the big sister was Darlene Dent and the little sister by Lillian Sydzyk.

The Gray family, appropriately enough, lived in the gray kitchen, and for some reason the mother and little sister were not present. However, the father, Jo Isbranifsen, and the big sister, Phyllis Ehresmen, carried on.

Members of the other section of the freshman home ec class are Mary Ann Dubas, Evelyn Iwanski, Carol Poocek, Phyllis Jablonski, Irene Zukoski, Darlene Dancek, Dorothy Dancek, Jeri Wilson, Karen Fish, Rita Zukoski, Kathleen Gregory, Dorothy Pokorny, Josena Benson, Doris Zadina, Deores Zadina, Betty Kovarik, Terr Wadas, Virginia Cummins.

These girls were divided in families also, being the Martin, Winkle, Carter and Smith families. Some of these families had in connection with the father, mother, big and little sisters, a little brother also.

Miss Achen explained that the girls meet for one session, and mark their evaluation sheet for the meal prepared the day before. They compared their time schedule with the time the meal actually took and found that the time was generally longer than they expected.

Then they answered yes or no to the tasks assigned the workers, whether or not each did the assigned work, or needed help, cared for the dish washing correctly, if the dishes were sorted, scraped and stacked properly, washed in correct order, thoroughly dried, glasses shining, and returned to proper places. In personal appearances, each member was considered if their hands were properly washed and dried, and if the cooks had removed their aprons.

When the five groups get together, Miss Achen explained that there was generally much confusion, or was until the girls were marked for their controlled voices and their talking.

The food products were then marked as to being good, fair or poor. Considering the fact that the average age of the girls visited Friday, the food was exceptionally well prepared, and all of the guests, Mr. Ballard, Mrs. Bellinger, Mr. Stoddard, Mrs. Achen and Mrs. Barber were all of the same opinion.

The class had earlier learned nutrition values, and had studied the seven basic foods, one serving of green, leafy or yellow vegetables, one of citrus food, two servings of other vegetables or fruit, one serving of meat, poultry or eggs, one serving of fats and one of cereals, about which all their menus are planned.

Earlier food preparation had been demonstrated before the class, all leading up to the complete preparation of the meal. Miss Achen is everywhere at once, inspecting, answering questions, and giving advice. She teaches the girls to follow their recipes closely, and many are already making their own recipe files. They do not have to use the general recipe that she gives out, but if they find one they like better, they are urged to use it. They are also urged to make as many variations as possible to the original. The girls are also taught to measure accurately, in fact one whole lesson was given over to just this one phase of cooking. Later they will be required to plan a whole day of meals, themselves.

Most of the girls have to leave for another class soon after the dinner was started. The meat or salmon loaves were put in the oven, and the beverages prepared, and most of the vegetables were made ready. Miss Achen keeps her eye on the kitchen work in connection with her next class, that of evaluation with the second grade. She said this gave the girls the idea of proper timing, and so the art of doing two jobs at once.

In cupboards above the stoves and sinks were several staples, spices, salt, sugar, flour, baking powder, vanilla, and cocoa. The other articles they wish for their meals are given to Miss Achen in a list and are procured. One of the things the girls learn how to make out a correct marketing list.

In the evaluation lesson, she explained about the use of fruit in salads, and that some fruits were the kinds that need not be peeled, while some were not to be peeled until time to serve. She reminded them that they must keep in mind, color, texture and flavor, while they were making out their menus for the next day.

Miss Achen explained that these girls would take up more complicated dishes as time went on. The sophomore classes, also divided into two sections followed the same system of families and cooking evaluation. They have learned to make harder dishes, as yeast breads, or jelly. The juniors and seniors who complete the class make cakes and pies, do canning and prepare food for freezing.

She says that some of the girls have already done some cooking, but all are willing to change their ways to the ways taught, should there be any difference. She says that she had heard the girls use that the equipment the girls use in the school is much nicer than they have at home or might have in their own homes later. In this she disagrees, since most kitchens are now up-to-date, and modern, and with the coming of REA, more and more kitchens are getting new stoves and deep freezers and refrigerators.

The girls are also learning to sew. They do this on other days. They have already made skirts, and next will take up making spring dresses.

Times certainly have changed in what is taught in the schools, and especially in the way home management and cooking, all for the better.

Here for Funeral

Mrs. Milburn passed away on Monday and last rites were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Congregational church in Arcadia. Mrs. Glen Beorline was a granddaughter of Mrs. Milburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Monce Milburn and Ernest Milburn of Arcadia were also with their mother during her last illness, Monce and Ernest being her sons.

SHORT STORY

The Blue Serge Suit
By MICHAEL TIFF
I hung on the wall opposite the door as you came into the front room—the picture of my father in his blue serge suit, the only suit I had known him to own.

More than once she had told me about how my father had courted her in that suit and when she had first seen him in it she had sworn him to be the best looking man in the world. It had become the symbol of their merrier days and both of them cherished it.

But things between my father and mother were not altogether peaceful. They spent their time together arguing about little matters. As for instance, my father would clump into the kitchen on a wet day and leave mud tracks on the floor.

"There you go," she'd say, "reading mud tracks all over my clean kitchen. I suppose you like to see me carrying knees scrubbing away like a slave." And my father would say, "I can't walk into my own house without being blasphemous."

On a bright summer morning my mother was serving breakfast and I could see her eyes sparkle as if she had an idea. "I'm going to visit

My mother seemed different somehow here in Scottsville. She even smiled.

"I'll take Henry with me," she said. "Always thinkin' up something. Where's the money coming for tickets?" said my father.

"I saved it up, penny by penny," said my father. "With so much work on the farm, in the middle of summer, she wants to take a trip to her mother. Huh?"

"I can see my own mother sometimes in a blue moon. I'd be glad to get away from you for a spell, believe me. The way you snap and bite at me."

"All right, then. Go and see if I care," said my father.

Stolidly my mother packed a satchel. She dressed me in my Sunday white blouse and black corduroy trousers. I wore my shoes. My father took us to Oak Leaf Junction a mile away. We rode in the top-wagon, drawn by our white horse, Prince.

At the station my mother bought the tickets and we waited in silence. The train clanged in, and we got on, and I heard my father say "Good-bye" to my mother and she said that until time to serve. She reminded them that they must keep in mind, color, texture and flavor, while they were making out their menus for the next day.

As the end of the second week approached the favorite subject of conversation for my mother was my father. Soon she talked of hardly anything else.

We were going home. The train flitted by forest and meadow and stream.

I could close my eyes and picture my father in his overalls, waiting for us with Prince and the top-wagon, just the way we had left him.

The train slowed down. Soon we were being helped off the coach by the conductor. My mother looked nice in her new dress, so carefully selected by her and my grandmother, bought with the remainder of my mother's savings.

As she stood on the platform of Oak Leaf Junction at last, she seemed to be of the city, indeed, I saw my father coming toward us and his face was quite clean shaven. He didn't wear his sun hat and his iron gray hair was combed back. As I looked at him my eyes opened in wonder. So did my mother's. My father was wearing his blue serge suit.

He nodded at me. He took the satchel from my mother and we started toward the horse and wagon. He stumbled over the single platform step to the ground and brushed against my mother. "Excuse me," he stammered.

Indian Origin
Idaho came from the Indian words, Edah hoe, meaning Light on the Mountains.

Seniors May Take Merit System Exam

The annual Merit System examinations for seniors from the Ord high school commercial departments will be given on Saturday, March 21, by the head of that department, Mrs. Helen Kokes. Applications must be made on the official form and postmarked not later than Feb. 28. The examinations will be for two positions, Typist Clerk I and Stenographer Clerk I.

All participating students will take a written examination covering English usage, business arithmetic, spelling, etc. Those interested in the typing positions will take a performance test in that field, and the stenographers will also be tested in the shorthand skills. The entire examination requires approximately three hours.

Most of the Merit System jobs to be offered the senior who pass these examinations will be in the offices of county assistance, state employment and local health. There will also be some openings in the state offices of their departments in Lincoln.

Taking Short Course
Dr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert went to Ft. Collins, Colo., Saturday morning where he is taking a short course in veterinary work. Mrs. A. J. Ferris is caring for the children of Dr. and Mrs. Lambert during their absence. They plan to return Monday.

Here it comes, hundreds of gallons per minute, pouring from the river intake into settling basins at the plant.

Pure Water in Unlimited Quantities Available for Ord's Use from Loup River

water is used a day. At the peak season one half millions of gallons have been pumped. The capacity is three quarters millions gallons, but so far that quantity has never been used.

Even when there is much irrigation going on, the city has the prior right, and no one need ever fear that the city will suffer from thirst or from dirty dishes in the sink, even if a lot of water is used for thirsty lands.

In contrast, Mr. Allen says, some states depend on surface water, or from rainfall. He cites Iowa for example, and says that there the water is held in vats and piped into the cities. When there is no rainfall, naturally there is no water. Some can remember reading during the summer of certain cities bringing water from great distances. So far the river has never run dry.

He says the main objection to the water that we have to drink is the taste, especially in the summer time. In the winter, the water is pumped from underneath the ice, and then it is cold. Sometimes there is a peculiar taste, due to the willows along the island, near the pumping station. Users objected to the taste last summer, which he thinks may have come when a chemical was put in the irrigations to kill the algae found there.

Once a month a sample of the city water is sent to the state board of health in Lincoln, where it is thoroughly examined. It is sampled for purity, and for any evidence of contamination. There has never yet been a bad report returned by this board. It would take someone with a lot of knowledge of chemistry to understand all that is done at the plant to insure purity of the water we drink every day. Every thing must be done just so, and the correct amount of any chemical used. One of the drinkers will notice it at once. For instance, if over .3 part of chlorine to a million parts of water is used, the taste and odor will be detected at once.

The inside of the water plant is big and mysterious. Plenty of places for an Ellery Queen murder story, but there is nothing under cover to the men who work there. By pressing a button, the water began to come in to one of the upper rooms, where it fell over three castles for aeration. After it is piped to a vat where it is treated with aluminum sulphate, which forms a "floc", that upon settling causes the particles in the water to sink and which are later forced out of the pipes and cleaned. Then the water is given a treatment of carbon for purifying, even as charcoal used to be used in sick rooms. Mr. Allen says that about 40,000 pounds of aluminum sulphate is used, which is purchased in carload lots. The amounts of chemicals needed might vary at times, and he and the other employees have to resort to the trial and error method to ascertain the correct amount. The chlorine is put in the first stage in the treatment, and the water is moved once to each of the four big vats, to be sure that all impurities have settled. Each vat hold 60,000 gallons and eight vats are required for this step of sedimentation. Then the water is filtered. About two tons of chlorine are used annually.

Mr. Allen explained that when the filters became too full of the "floc" or the impurities, the water is forced back through the filters in reverse procedure, and all things that might have been in the water, but have been filtered out, are washed away.

And after all this work and chemical reaction, this means of sating our thirst is pumped to the reservoirs west of the city, which hold 375,000 gallons and is ready for use at the turn of the faucet.

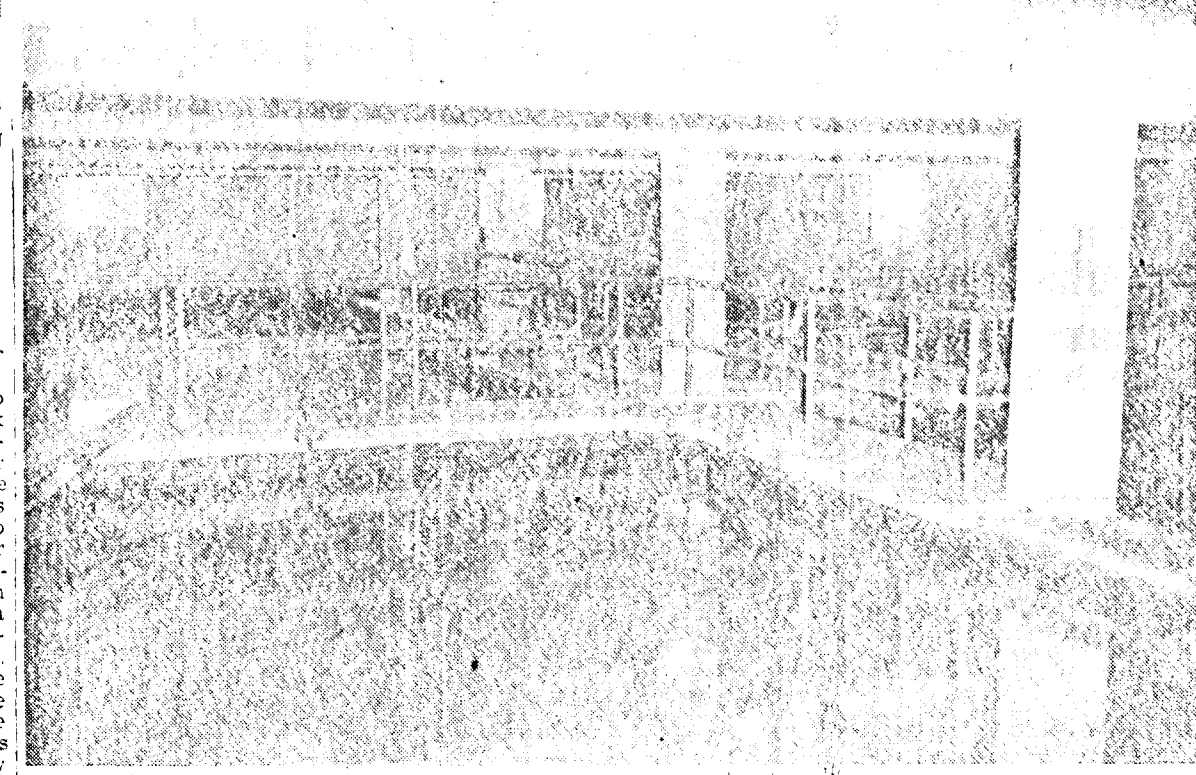

Mr. Allen says that in the neighborhood of 70 million gallons of water was pumped during the year just past. Of this some 50 million gallons were used. Much of the purified water is used to flush the filters. Then quantities of water are used in flushing hydrants, and for washing streets. It is always necessary to have plenty of water on hand to fight fires, but this year according to Mr. Allen, that call was not too great.

The domestic use of water averages about 140 gallons per person per year.

The heaviest usage for the past year was during June, July and August, with greatest amount being used in June. Mr. Allen says that one-half again more was used during these three months than in October, November and December.

George Allen, city engineer, checking one of the pumps that moves river water into the water plant for treatment.

Settling basins at the city light and water plant in which the river water loses sediment and other foreign objects. Aluminum sulphate aids the process in precipitating the junk. Each of the vats above holds 60,000 gallons.

Wayne Pierce, plant employee, checking the chlorination apparatus which keeps Ord's water medicinally pure, at any rate.

He says that the users try very hard to keep their gardens and trees going for a while after a wet spell, such as we had in the spring last year. So June showed a large increase. But when the dry weather continued and there seemed to be little chance of saving the lawns and all, the use slackened in September. The greatest volume was used for lawns.

Operators who assist Mr. Allen in the city water and light plant are W. E. Lincoln, Ed Suchanek, Ted Szabazewski and Lyle Wierhax. Wm. Beard is in charge of the river pumps, and Wayne Pierce has the care of maintaining the pumps, and filter plants.

Step by step, chlorine, aluminum sulphate, carbon, filtering all, plus plenty of thought and planning to say nothing of cost, and pure water is made available for all Ordites in unlimited quantities, at the turn of a faucet.

County Added Many Miles of Improved Roads During Year

Although the road improving and building program in Valley county got off to a bumbling start last year, with frequent bitter arguments among board members, the end result was better than most anticipated.

The Quiz map above shows roads built and improved during the year with county and township cooperation. Not shown is four and a half miles of intensive road work from Ord south which was done with federal assistance.

Since county road funds were split among townships as equally as possible, improvement was limited only to the amount of money that the townships themselves, either through taxation or direct contribution were able to raise to help extend the road system. The extensive work done in some townships and light work in other is a direct reflection of this policy.

County roads are now being studied mile by mile and the 1953 program will soon be announced, according to the county board of supervisors.

Probate Work, Guardianships, Most Important Duties of County Judge

There are other things that a county judge does besides handing out fines for traffic violations and other minor offenses. There are other things that fill his time than giving advice to any and sundry who might drop into his office in the court house for a word or two. In fact, all these are of small importance compared to the many detailed tasks that he must do, according to law.

To some the criminal cases that come before him might appear to be the most important. However, in looking over the files of the work that comes before Judge Ellisworth Ball, probably his most important job is handling probate matters and caring for guardianships of minors and incompetents.

In Judge Ball's office during the year just past, he has booked 37 probate cases. There were also 11 new guardianships filed and five adoption cases were recorded. The court, through Judge Ball, is administering several guardianship cases. When it is remembered that said guardians have to give an accurate account of every penny of their wards' estates, and often time these estates amount to much money and the county judge cares for all of these accounts it can be seen that phase alone takes much time.

In 1952, there were 25 civil cases filed in the Valley county court, where the consideration was less than $200. There were also 13 civil cases where the consideration was $200 and less than $1,000. Cases involving more than $1,000 are cared for by the district court, with which the county judge has nothing to do. The lesser cases are tried by the justice court.

It is the duty of the county judge to issue marriage licenses. Not only does County Judge Ball issue these licenses, but oftentimes he has been called upon to perform the marriages themselves. Sometimes he also procures the witnesses for these events, and often presses his stenographer.

—Quiz want ads get results.

Mrs. Clara Kinkade into such service.

It is his duty also to commit persons to the institution for the feeble minded. He cares for such juvenile cases as involve children who break the law.

Of late years, especially since the time of World War II, the importance of having the correct birth certificate has been stressed. A law was passed about 1941, in which birth certificates, which are labeled under the heading of "delayed certificates" can be issued to those whose birthdays came before records of such were kept in Nebraska. During 1952, Judge Ball considered and issued 72 delayed and correction birth certificates. This often makes more work for him and his secretary, for there is generally much correspondence and searching of old proofs.

Most of the cases heard by Judge Ball during his term of office had to do with traffic violations.

His court does not handle state cases that are called felonies. Only small cases are tried and cared for in the county court. In the case that a jury trial is requested, which is any one's right, the judge chooses the jurors, and makes the panel.

Serious criminal cases are first heard in the county court, where the defendant is given a preliminary hearing. Then if there is need Judge Ball turns the case over to the district court for trial. Among his other duties he sets the amount for bonds in several cases, among such being in serious criminal cases, and for guardians. The bonds furnished for guardians is commensurate to the amount of the estate to be handled, and often is for a large amount. It is his duty, too, to set the fines for certain violations of the law, and to fix other punishment.

In all probate matters, which deal with estates, the county court has the full power, no matter what is the size of the estate. However, when it is necessary to sell land in settling an estate, or for the benefit of a person under a guardianship, then the district court takes over.

Judge Ball says the probate work and the guardianships are probably the most important items of his work, since money and time are both involved.

Other matters are less important, although he has a feeling that everything that comes under the heading of county judge and county court are important and serious.

Calls New Pastor

The congregation of the Assembly of God church in Burwell has called the Rev. L. O. Triplett, pastor of the church of the same faith in Fairbury, to serve the Burwell church. He has accepted, and plans to move with his family there by March 1. He has two small children.

Sherman-Howard Loop Organizes

A Sherman-Howard baseball meeting was held at Ashton Monday night with six teams, Farwell, Rockville, Palmer, Ashton, Dannebrog and Elba present, all stating that they would try to field teams this season.

North Loup and Scotia signified via telephone that they would also like to re-join last year's roster. Cushing and Boelus indicated they would not come into this league.

One or two of these towns are not positive of fielding a team, so League Secretary C. A. Dilla of Farwell was ordered to contact Cairo, Bluff Center, St. Libory, Arcadia and Wolbach to obtain two more teams, to bring the league up to last year's membership. March 10 is the deadline for these towns, and all the other teams to make up their mind on league entry.

If the league can field 10 teams, it will play an 18-game schedule and start April 26, playing each Sunday, but if the league will have only eight teams, it will open on May 3 and play 14 games. Either schedule will carry a top 4 team play-off at the schedule end.

Last year's officers were all re-nominated, namely: L. D. Jamrog, Ashton, president; Jack Sumich, Elba, vice-president; and G. A. Dilla, Farwell, secretary-treasurer.

Von Dane Named 'Flying Warden'

The State Game Commission Monday selected Ralph B. Von Dane, 31, a Lincoln native, as its flying warden. Present plans call for Von Dane to be stationed at Grand Island with the commission plane.

He will succeed Art O. Edwards, who after 18 years with the department resigned to enter private business.

Von Dane, who has been at Hartington as a warden, has been with the commission for about five years and is a small plane expert who got his training with the Union Airport at Lincoln and Prairie Airways.

Poor First Half and Chants Lose to Indians Friday Eve

A tall, red-hot Broken Bow team downed the Ord Chanticleers 63-49 at Broken Bow Friday night.

The very tall Indian club controlled the rebounds throughout the game as the small Chants were unable to cope with the height advantage.

The Indians led at the way and the quarter scores read 18-7, 39-22, 55-32.

The Chants rallied in the second quarter 26-20 with four minutes remaining in the half but fell back 39-22 by the time the first half buzzer sounded.

The Ord team played even ball with the tall Broken Bow club the second half and were only outscored 2 points, 29-27, during this half but the 17 points halftime margin was too much for the Chants to overcome.

Francis and Spencer, 6'2" Indians led the Broken Bow attack with 23 and 18 points respectively. Bennett with 14 and Brox with 11 helped the Ord cause.

In a preliminary tilt, the Ord Jr. high dumped Broken Bow Jr. high 51-25.

Chanticleers 'Hot' During Stall, Win from Central City

The Ord Chanticleers came from behind to defeat Central City Tuesday night 49-43 at the Central City court.

Paced by Duane Wolfe with 22 points the Chants rallied after trailing in the ball game for 26 minutes. Ord grabbed a 36-35 lead for the first time in the game with six minutes remaining. The Chants lost the lead temporarily 37-36 but came right back 38-37 and stretched this to 40-37 on two free throws. At this point Ord started its stall which collected fouls and by making 8 out of 9 gift tosses pulled away to a 43-35 lead.

Duane Wolfe warmed up in the third period and potted 11 of the 12 points scored by Ord in this quarter. He also played fine defensive ball the last half, holding Scholl, 6 ft 4", Central City ace to one field goal the third quarter. The goal the last quarter until 2 1/2 minutes remained in which he collected 3 more goals. The Central City contributed 23 points during the evening for the Bison cause.

Meredith Brox played a nice floor game and contributed 10 points for the Ord cause.

The Central City Reserves defeated the Ord Reserves 49-46 in a preliminary tilt.

Ord Juniors Play Final Tuesday Against Walnut Jr.

The Ord Junior High basketball team will make its final appearance of the season Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock when they enter Walnut Junior High of Grand Island on the Ord court.

The high riding Walnut team is currently tied for the league title in which they are a member. Their season play and the improvement made by the Ord squad during the season should provide a fine ball game.

The Ord fifth and sixth grade will play the seventh grade in a preliminary tilt starting at 6:30. Engaged in this game will be many of Ord High school's future stars.

Need Early Start to Protect Trees

Cankermoths have eaten the leaves of many elms and hackberry trees in Valley county during the past two or three years, and tree owners who want to protect their trees should start soon, according to County Agent Tanglefoot bands four inches wide may be placed on trees high enough from the ground to prevent children and pets from getting into the sticky material. The band must be tight to prevent the moths from crawling under. One method is to shave off the rough bark at the spot where the band is to be placed. A better way with no danger of damaging the tree is to place a layer of cotton under the band and then draw the band tightly around the tree so that the cotton fills the crevices in the bark. To prevent the moths going under the band, if the infestation is heavy check the bands frequently to see that the bodies do not form a bridge over which other moths can crawl without getting stuck.

The female moths are reported to be emerging from the ground now in eastern Nebraska and a continuation of mild weather here should bring them out within the next two or three weeks. These moths lay their eggs on the tree branches and the little worms hatch in April and May and immediately start feeding on the young leaves. Unless the moths are prevented from getting up into the trees the only control is to spray after the worms are hatched. Spraying big trees is a very difficult job.

New Grandson

Mrs. Ed Beran returned home Tuesday evening, where she had been for the past few weeks, for her new grandson, a son who was born on Feb. 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGill, whose home is in Custer, S. D. The baby was named John G. Jr., and weighed 7 pounds and 1 ounce.

Not in Flood District

Mrs. Louise Petska has heard that her son, Lt. Jerry Petska and family, are stationed in Irchester, England, and some distance from the flood districts, in which several American airmen lost their lives. There was much high wind, Lt. Petska wrote, but no damage from the water.

Essay Contest

Students in the junior and senior classes are invited to participate in an essay contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The topic is "A Citizen's Responsibility" and the composition should not exceed 500 words in length. Local prizes of $5.00, $3.00 and $2.00 will be awarded, according to Mrs. F. J. Fafeita, local Americanism chairman, and the winning essay will be sent to the state contest. Specific rules which will be used in judging may be obtained at the high school from Mr. Stoddard. All essays must be turned in to Mrs. Fafeita by February 26.

Has New Location

Dr. G. R. Gard, whose office has been in the Biemond building on the west side of the square, will move soon into new quarters, the building north of the Clement filling station, in the Misko block. This place was formerly occupied by Dr. Kominek, who did tailoring. Dr. Gard's office will be taken over by Mr. Biemond who is going into the spraying business with his sons. Dr. Gard does not plan to move for at least two weeks, yet.

Visited in Holdrege

Mrs. C. A. Anderson, accompanied by Mable Misko, went to Holdrege, Thursday, where they remained overnight. ### No. 1 Rank to Omaha on Huge Cattle, Sheep Runs

Big cattle and sheep runs put total livestock supply over the 40,000 mark Monday at Omaha, and gave the market top rank.

But the big runs also jolted slaughter and lamb prices.

Meanwhile, hogs in moderate supply, sold steady to mostly 25c higher, some over 250 pounds up more. Butchers weighing 180-360 brot $18.25-$20.85, a part load $21. Sows weighing 270-550 cleared at $16 to $18.25, stags at $12.50-$14.

On the slaughter cattle side, scattered early sales of light weights rated no worse than weak to 50c off, but bulk of the steer, yearling and heifer sales were unevenly 50c to $1.50 lower, instances off more, and late in the day an estimated 5,000 cattle remained unsold. Most steer and yearling prices ranged from $20 to $23.50, with better heaves $24-$26, one load Iowa-fed Angus steers $26.50. Plain to medium killer cattle brot $15-$19.50. High on fed heifers was $23.75.

Cows sold steady to 50c lower, $12-$16. Bologna bulls sold to $19, vealers to $30.

Among recent sales at Omaha for shippers from this area: Valley County—Walter Foth, 36 hogs, wt. 311, $19.00. Lyle Foth, 21 hogs, wt. 310, $19.00. Anton Novotny, 7 heifers, wt. 880, $22.00; 3 steers, wt. 1,043, $23.00. Wm. Vogeler, 16 Holstein steers, wt. 1,375, $19.75; 6, wt. 1,354, $19.75. Leon Ciemny, 22 heifers, wt. 886, $21.75. F. J. and Merlin Schudel, 17 steers, wt. 1,120, $24.50. Alfred Burson, 19 steers, wt. 1,195, $24.50. Harold Burson, 9 steers and heifers, wt. 993, $23.00. E. O. and Maynard Schudel, 9 steers, wt. 1,057, $25.00; 21, wt. 1,256, $24.50; 5, wt. 1,330, $22.50. Otto Oberg, 27 hogs, wt. 262, $19.75; 19, wt. 333, $18.25.

Miracle Movie Coming Next Week

"The Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima," Warner Bros. dramatic picture of the miracle which occurred 35 years ago in a little Portuguese town, shows Tuesday and Wednesday at Ord theatre.

Filmed in color by Warner Color, the story concerns three little shepherd children who in 1917 reported that a vision had appeared before them and had foretold the coming of events which were to later shape the destiny of the world. Shortly after a series of miracles occurred at Fatima which gained international attention. After years of careful investigation, the Bishop of Leiria-Fatima released a pastoral letter stating that the revelation at Fatima were deemed worthy of belief.

The children and the teachers of the grade school went all out to make beautiful Valentine boxes for their various rooms this year. All were made of the conventional red and white colors, and all decorated with hearts and cupid. Several were made to represent houses, in the kindergarten room sporting a red roof, with heart shaped windows and doors. Another had a red chimney, where the Valentines were supposed to be dropped. One box was trimmed with lace paper, some had flowers for adornment, and some had old fashioned pictures of ladies and gentlemen for decoration. Several were placed on tables, and all decorated with red and white streamers. One stand was almost covered with large and small hearts. For the lunch for their party, the members of the fifth grade served cookies which they had made themselves.

Father Injured

Mrs. Hilda Tuma was told Thursday evening that her father, Joe Moravec received injuries in an accident. He is employed in the grain elevator in Cotesfield, and was struck by a truck in the runway of the building between the bins. He received broken ribs, and possibly other injuries, but they were not considered serious enough that he had to have hospital care. He is in his late 70s.

Benda - Erikson

Mrs. Hazel Benda of Gem Kans., announces the marriage of her daughter, Ida Marie, to David D. Erikson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Erikson, of Comstock. The wedding took place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Swedish Mission church of Herndon, Kans. Rev. Hjalmer S. Swanson performed the double ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with baskets of red and white carnations and red and white tapers in four tall candelabra. Wedding music was played by Miss Elva Larson, who also accompanied Willard Noren, brother-in-law of the bride, who sang "The Cause" and "To My Bride." He also sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. The tapers were lighted by Mrs. John Benda, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Shirley Hurst, cousin of the bride. Their gowns were aqua and pink.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John Benda, was lovely in a gown of slipper satin which was fastened with a fitted bodice and a large bertha collar. The long sleeves came to points over the hands. The full gored skirt tapered into a cathedral length train. Her finger tip veil of Swiss tulle was held in place by a tiara of red rose buds. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with satin streamers and wore a double strand pearl necklace, a gift from the groom.

Connie Benda, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Her gown, veil and flowers were identical to that of the bride.

Mrs. Willard Noren, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown of yellow moire tulle was fashioned similar to that of the bride. Bridesmaids were the Misses Sharon and Karen Erikson, twin sisters of the groom, who wore gowns of orchid identical to the one worn by the matron of honor. The attendants carried heart shaped bouquets of red carnations and wore tiaras of red carnations in their hair.

Miss Maryanne Benda and Miss Leanne Benda, nieces of the bride, wore floor-length dresses of taffeta. They carried heart shaped bouquets of assorted red flowers.

Bobby Benda, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a heart shaped satin pillow trim in white lace. He wore a suit, light blue-green with a red carnation boutonniere.

The bridegroom wore a medium green suit with a white carnation boutonniere. Mr. Vernon Erikson, brother of the groom, was man. Eric Erikson, brother of the groom and Wesley Benda, brother of the bride, served as groomsmen. Aard Erikson, cousin of the bride, and Keith Olson ushered.

The bride's mother chose for daughter's wedding a dusty lavender dress with purple and black accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Erikson wore a blue dress with red accents, and a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. The bride's table was laid with a white damask tablecloth and was centered with a three-tier heart shaped cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The table was placed with sterling silver which was formerly her grandmother's.

Mr. Albert Schmidt, aunt of the bride, cut the cake and Mrs. Vern Erikson and Mrs. Eric Erikson, sisters-in-law of the groom, poured. Mrs. Merle Pavlicek was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. LeRoy Schmidt, Mrs. Francis Hurst, and the Misses Carolyn Cochran and Jan Robbins were in charge of the gifts.

The bride chose for her going away attire a wine nylon-orelon dress with green accessories. She wore a white carnation corsage. Following a wedding trip they will be at home at 120 N. Saunders, Hastings, Nebr.

The bride graduated from Decatur Community high school and groom from the Comstock high school, both in the class of 1952. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Iver Erikson, Karen and Sharon of Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Erikson and Robin of Ord, and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Erikson, Comstock.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Benson and family were Mrs. Viola Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Goff and Twila. Mr. and Mrs. Goff's birthday were celebrated which was Feb. 13. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Benson and Sandra and Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Wadas and girls visited with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Urbaniski and family Wednesday evening.

Wednesday guests of the Ben Wadas family. Sunday dinner and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kasper were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sobotka and Delores. Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Irebec and family were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sobotka and Delores. Patricia Wadas and Tommy Urbaniski visited school Friday afternoon.

William F. Cody, Most Colorful Nebraskan of All, Was Born February 26 on Iowa Farm

February 26 is the birthday of one of the most famous and colorful Nebraskans of all time—William F. Cody. The famed "Buffalo Bill" was born on a farm in Scott county, Iowa, February 26, 1846. He died in Denver, January 10, 1917, and is buried on the top of Lookout Mountain, near Golden. Of these facts we are sure. Of much that occurred—or is supposed to have occurred—between his birth and death, we are not so sure.

As I have written in this column before, many of the details of Buffalo Bill's career are mighty obscure—particularly during the period before he became a world figure, when he was making his reputation. It's not that there hasn't been anything written about him. More words have been spilled about Bill Cody than about any other Nebraskan. The sketch of his career in the authoritative "Dictionary of American Biography" states the dilemma accurately and succinctly:

"Much of the material for a biography of Cody is found only in his own statements! It is no derogation of his many substantial qualities to say that he was an untidy, unworthy chronicler of events. He dealt with facts in a large, free way, and he had a tendency after he became famous to make himself the central figure in the episodes he recounted. Most of his statements are inaccurate; many are preposterous and he sanctioned on the part of his publicity agent, a gross indulgence in fiction. He was better in action than in narration."

The earliest of those publicists was Ned Buntline, who met Cody in North Platte in the summer of 1869. Buntline, author of dime novel thrillers of the wild and woolly west, saw a rich field in Cody's experiences, real and imagined, and soon busied himself in exploiting the career of the famous scout. He there, became one of the most famous places in Nebraska.

We'll probably never be able to separate fact from fiction completely regarding his career, he will remain one of the West's great legendary heroes.

—Mrs. Arthur Smith came to Ord Friday from North Loup. She came to call on Mrs. Clyde Kelley who is being cared for in the Ord hospital.

—Roberta Markiey, who had been spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Timmerman, and her small boy, Dougie Markiey, returned Thursday morning to her employment in Grand Island.

Petty-Cash!

Some loose change... a few dollar bills... in a little tin box. In business, they call it "petty cash." Every home has its "petty cash" too... maybe in Mother's sugar bowl... maybe in Dad's back pocket. And isn't it amazing how low "petty cash" gets by the time next payday rolls around? If you figure on saving "what's left," you may not get very far. Try this better way: Deposit a fixed amount in your savings account FIRST, then spend "what's left." Before you know it, your cash in the bank will be far from "petty"!

Forgotten Daughter

An Ashland family, arriving home from an out-of-town visit, discovered their 10-year-old daughter was not with them. The mother insisted she had to be there. When the telephone rang and the father's brother asked if they were missing a little girl, the family found what had happened. They had stopped at a Tecumseh service station and, unknown to them, the girl had slipped out of the car to buy a candy bar, only to be left behind.

Precocious Youngster

When a child learns something new, he is usually eager to display it. A little fellow in West Point, after learning of Jesus and the cross, enthusiastically ran to his daddy with this query: "Did you know Jesus is head of the Red Cross?"

Renovations Made

Charles Jones, the operator of Chuck's garage has been busy the past few weeks, arranging his office and storage places in his garage on M street. He has built an office from a corner of his big display room, and placed in the partition a large window. Of late he has been busy putting some new parts into storage bins.

Free Bath
It's sometimes a good idea to watch what the other fellow is doing, or so one Blair citizen decided—too late. Armed with plungers, he and another man went to work one day on a clogged V-pipe that drained a double sink. Thinking his side was clear, one man bent over to take a closer look. For a reward he received a faceful of dirty dish water. His partner had pulled out his plunger on the other side.

Howling Blizzard Ties Up Area; Mercury Slips to -4

Phone Lines Out Four Days; Ord in Center Storm

No Loss of Life to Humans or Stock, But Traffic Stopped.

Valley county and central Nebraska were about "dug out" as the Quiz went to press Wednesday, from a howling blizzard that hit late Thursday evening, crippling traffic and communication here for several days.

The storm was preceded by a drizzling sleet that gave roads an ice coating under the blanket of nearly a foot of snow that fell Friday.

Driven by high winds, the snow piled up huge drifts across highways and streets, sending road maintenance crews out on 24-hour shifts, while electric and telephone linemen worked through the night to restore service.

Ord appeared to be near the center of the storm that swept most of north central Nebraska, although more snow was reported in Burwell, Atkinson and O'Neill, than fell here. The fall here accounted for 65 in moisture.

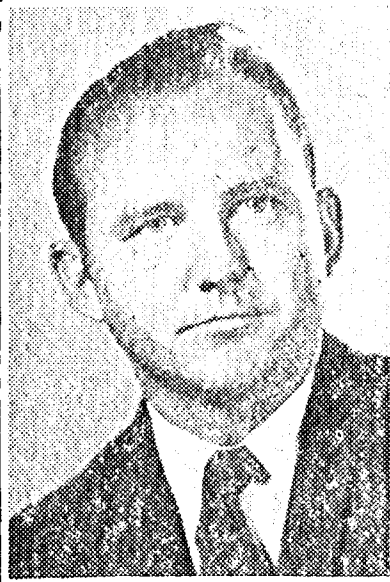

In the immediate Ord area no deaths were reported to either humans or livestock, although two persons died from the storm in the O'Neill and Osmond vicinities.

In Ord, traffic was not resumed until Saturday morning at which time the highway to Grand Island was opened. Throughout Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday morning there was no telephone service here, although telegraph wires went into service early Monday. Over the area, 66 towns were isolated by the storm, and service was still not been restored to Sargent and Taylor. More than fifty telephone crews are working in the area, the Loup City-St. Paul-Broken Bow area being one of the hardest hit in the state. Broken Bow was receiving calls Tuesday, but by way of Alliance and Sidney to Grand Island.

Many rural telephone lines are still down in this area. North Loup and Scotia suffered hardships Friday and Saturday when they went without electrical service. (See story in another column).

On Friday, day of the blizzard, the mercury skidded to 9 degrees, but Saturday night, took another plunge to a minus 4 degrees. Although storm warnings have been given this area, of new snows and high winds to come, temperatures have been above freezing Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. As the Quiz goes to press today, skies are overcast, but local weather prophets think the new storm will skip this vicinity.

Ord street crews, with their new loading equipment, had nearly all snow removed from the business area by Tuesday, and traffic was open all over town. Most county and rural roads were also open by Monday.

Admitted to Bar Association

Among the eight new members of the Nebraska State Bar Association announced on Wednesday by the supreme court clerk in Lincoln, was the name of Richard J. Dalton of Ord. Mr. Dalton has his office in rooms over the Ord Grill. He and his family moved to Ord a few months ago.

Rural Electrification Line Crews Are the Unsung Heroes of Friday's Blizzard Here

Among the unsung heroes of the Friday blizzard are the line crews of the REA who were out all day that day, until 1 o'clock Saturday morning, all day Saturday, returning to their home about 4:30 on Sunday morning and working on Sunday from 8 until noon.

The group was also hard at work on Monday, there being many broken poles, and dragging wires. Over 600 customers were without power of any kind, since this branch of the REA covers farm lines from Ericson to beyond Loup City. To make the conditions much worse, the substation at Loup City was also damaged by the storm.

The line crew consists of Chet Austin, Bernard Suminski, Leonard Suminski, William Clemens, Stan Petka, Jr., Don Simpson and James Justice.

Members of the office crew were also assisting in making repairs being Robert Moody, Don Edwards, Stan Petka, Sr., Wilbert Calvin and W. P. Hollands, who is the general manager.

Many of the farmers were badly handicapped since it was impossible to get water, most of their

Alliance, Aurora Here This Week to Close Season

Chants Play Last Home Games Thurs. and Friday Nights.

The Ord Chanticleers will be hosts to two basketball games on Thursday and Friday of this week. These two games will wind up the regular season play for the Chants.

Thursday night, Febr. 26, Ord will entertain Alliance in the high school gym. This game is the postponed game of Febr. 20. Friday, Febr. 27, Aurora travels to Ord for a game which will be the final regular season game for both teams. Both games are scheduled for 8 o'clock with a preliminary game beginning at 6:30. The preliminary game Thursday night will be Ord Jr. High vs. Ord Reserves and Friday night will be Ord Reserves vs. Aurora Reserves.

Alliance comes to Ord with a fine Class A ball club with a 10-5 record. Their losses have been two to North Platte, two to Scottsbluff and one to Holdrege. Each game that they have lost has been by a very small margin.

Mrs. George Allen returned home Saturday from Lincoln, where she had been spending several days with her son, George Jr. and family. The storm prevented an earlier return.

Add One Small Boy, A Match, A Candle, and You Get a Fire

Curiosity of a three year old boy and a candle were to blame for a fire Sunday which did undetermined damage to the upstairs of the Cliff Hawkes home. Friday and Saturday the family had no heat or lights. They lived in their kitchen with their gas stove for heat and used candles to find their way around and Mrs. Hawkes says she worried all the time for fear of a fire.

Sunday morning she missed Dennie, who is three years old and when she saw him come quietly down the stairs, for some reason went up to see what he had been into and found the little girls bedroom on fire. The little boy had played with a candle and somehow found a match and lit it and left it on the bed. Damage to paint and wallpaper is extensive and some damage was done to the floor where the burning mattress fell. The fire department was called and soon had the fire under control. Damage was covered by insurance.

Valley Residents Oppose U. P. Truck Removal

Testify That Daily Express Service Is Vital to Area.

Representatives from Ord, North Loup and Cotesfield appeared before the State Railway Commission in a hearing here Thursday to testify that removal of a Union Pacific truck serving this area would be a catastrophe to transportation systems of the Valley.

The hearing was conducted by Richard Larson, chairman of the commission, in the Valley county district court here.

Application had been made by the U. P. to remove their coordinated truck line that services this community on the three days that the train does not run. The move would have eliminated daily express service in and out of Ord.

The railroad was represented by its attorney, W. J. Given of Omaha, while W. F. Mansell of Burwell, represented the objectors.

Hereford Tour Planned Here

The 1953 Hereford Tour of Nebraska will probably take in the area around Ord, C. Clare Clement, advised the Quiz this week.

About 200 to 300 persons usually go on the tour which visits outstanding Hereford operations in Nebraska.

Hereford breeders in the area who would like to have the tour visit their herds are advised to get in with Clement. The tour will be made in August.

Vernon Dlugosh in Six-Vehicle Smashup Friday

Nevada Man Killed When Roman's Semi Crashes Two Cars.

Vernon J. Dlugosh of Ord, driver for Romans Motor Freight, suffered only slight injuries, when the big semi-trailer he was driving was involved in a six-vehicle collision near Ozone, 20 miles west of Cheyenne, Friday.

Killed was Earl G. Schulz of McGill, Nev. Injured was Wyoming State Traffic Safety Director Lt. Paul C. Boyd of Cheyenne. According to highway patrol officers, Lt. Boyd was helping Schulz who was stuck in a snowdrift by the Ozone underpass on U.S. Highway 30, when the accident took place.

Dlugosh, driver of a semi-truck for the Jack Romans Trucking Co. was headed toward Cheyenne from Laramie when his truck smashed into the front of the Schulz vehicle.

Schulz was killed instantly when he was pinned between his car and that of the patrolman.

The officers said that following the accident, two pickup trucks and another car skidded into the tangle of cars and trucks.

An inquest into the accident will be held later.

Schulz is survived by his wife, Irene, and three children of McGill, Nev., and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Schulz of Portland, Ore.

The Romans truck was loaded with a cargo of dry onions. Only damage was to the radiator of the tractor, although Ordites were first advised that the cargo had frozen. A charcoal heater in the truck prevented that.

B. Burr Tells Farming Problem Under Socialists

Joint Meet Extension Service, Soil District Widely Attended.

A discussion of agricultural conditions in Burma, by W. W. Burr, former Dean of the Nebraska College of Agriculture was the main feature of the joint annual meeting of the Valley County Extension Service and the Valley County Soil Conservation District, Dean Burr's talk was illustrated by slide pictures in color, which he had taken on the trip.

Among the facts brought out by Mr. Burr was that the Burmese government which is socialist must export large quantities of rice, the principal crop, in order to buy needed goods from other countries. All rice produced by farmers must be sold to the government at a fixed price and this price is set at a low figure, so that the government can make large profits on the handling of this crop. The land is becoming depleted and needs commercial fertilizers, but at the low price which the government pays for rice and the high price which they charge the farmer for fertilizer, the increased cost of the use of fertilizer will not pay for the cost. So rice yields continue to decline, and the government calls in foreign agricultural experts to figure out what the trouble is.

Another factor is that the Buddhist religion will not permit its members to take any sort of life, so they do not poison the many insect pests which feed on the plants. They may pick the potato bugs off the plants, but instead of dropping them into a can of oil to kill them, they carry the bugs away from the field and then release them unharmed. He told of an incident where with a group of local agricultural experts, he was inspecting a tomato field which was being badly damaged by cutworms. Finding one of the cutworms he passed it around for inspection, and when the last expert had examined the worm he very carefully put it back on the tomato plant.

In the election to select two directors for the extension service board for terms of two years each, Fred Bossel of Arcadia was re-elected and Mrs. Wallace Coats of Ord was chosen to succeed Mr. Leo Nelson, who has moved to Howard county.

A Capella Fellas Plan May Concert

The A Capella Fellas, Loup Valley Singing Men, plan a concert in late May, it was revealed at the regular Tuesday rehearsal of the group.

The group is now at practically full strength but still has spots for a few more men who like to sing. John Haskell is president of the group, Glen Trent is the director.

John W. Mason Farm Home Burns to Ground

$20,000 Lost in Mason Farm Fire Sunday

Lack of Water Keeps Firemen from Saving Any of Contents.

A Sunday morning fire, which fire chief Richard Rowbal believes was started by a short in auto wiring, completely destroyed the John W. Mason farm home east of Ord, and put the owners, Mr. and Mrs. John Mason in the Ord hospital.

Mr. Mason, who suffered second degree burns on the face and neck when he dashed into the burning farm home to rescue his wife, only to find that she had escaped without trouble, is still in Ord hospital for treatment for the critical burns. Mrs. Mason, who was suffering from shock, has been discharged from the hospital.

Loss of the eight room modern farm home, one of the finest in the country, and its contents, was set at about $20,000 by Chief Rowbal. It was partially insured.

Firemen believe the flames started from a short in the battery motor from a gasoline powered lawn mower and other emergency equipment was pressed into service in North Loup Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when electric power lines went down.

When Consumers service to the village was suspended about 8 o'clock, Roy Stine started his emergency plant, purchased from war surplus several years ago. Stine had 4000 eggs in his incubator.

Friday night and Saturday morning, several other North Loup farms were hooked on the Stine generator, including the bank, Hill's Top Market, Farmers Store, Ann's Cafe and Dr. Markley's office.

Saturday evening the Strand Theatre was also hooked on, and the evening show was just ready to start, when Consumers resumed service.

North Loup residents with electrically powered furnaces had difficulties. Some moved in with neighbors who had manually controlled heat, others kept warm as best they could. The Fred Bartz family used a gasoline engine to start the furnace and did their cooking on a small oil stove.

Fred Lundstedt borrowed Bob White's gasoline powered lawn mower and used it to run his furnace. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Milligan took turns firing their furnace by hand, staying up all night. One lady turned on the oven of her bottled gas stove and spent the day Friday baking and cooking.

Of most concern to residents was the water supply, which by Saturday night was down to a mere trickle. The electric heaters which keep the standpipe from freezing were out of commission, the water froze and there was no power to keep water flowing in to the mains. Fortunately there was no fire alarm until Sunday morning, that at the Cliff Hawkes home, but by that time the village had plenty of water.

War Surplus Light Plant, Power Lawn Mower Goes Into Service at No. Loup During Storm

A war surplus light plant, the motor from a gasoline powered lawn mower and other emergency equipment was pressed into service in North Loup Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when electric power lines went down.

When Consumers service to the village was suspended about 8 o'clock, Roy Stine started his emergency plant, purchased from war surplus several years ago. Stine had 4000 eggs in his incubator.

Friday night and Saturday morning, several other North Loup farms were hooked on the Stine generator, including the bank, Hill's Top Market, Farmers Store, Ann's Cafe and Dr. Markley's office.

Saturday evening the Strand Theatre was also hooked on, and the evening show was just ready to start, when Consumers resumed service.

North Loup residents with electrically powered furnaces had difficulties. Some moved in with neighbors who had manually controlled heat, others kept warm as best they could. The Fred Bartz family used a gasoline engine to start the furnace and did their cooking on a small oil stove.

Fred Lundstedt borrowed Bob White's gasoline powered lawn mower and used it to run his furnace. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Milligan took turns firing their furnace by hand, staying up all night. One lady turned on the oven of her bottled gas stove and spent the day Friday baking and cooking.

Of most concern to residents was the water supply, which by Saturday night was down to a mere trickle. The electric heaters which keep the standpipe from freezing were out of commission, the water froze and there was no power to keep water flowing in to the mains. Fortunately there was no fire alarm until Sunday morning, that at the Cliff Hawkes home, but by that time the village had plenty of water.

Jurginski Gets Fine, Suspension, for Drunk Driving

Athey Also Rapped $30.40 for Failing to Yield Right-of-Way.

Stanley Jurginski, Elyria farmer, was found guilty of driving while intoxicated by a six man jury Thursday, after nearly 12 hours of deliberation.

On this second offense, he was given a $50 fine, and a suspension of his driving permit for 120 days. In addition he was assessed costs of $50.10.

County attorney Ralph B. Norman represented the state in the trial while L. W. Cronk appeared for the defendant.

Anthony Athey of Brewster, who figured in the Stevens truck crash a week ago Monday was found guilty in county court, of failure to yield the right-of-way and was fined $10 and cost of $20.40.

VISIT ORD'S NEWEST MODEL HOME

Open for Inspection Saturday and Sunday, February 28th and March 1st

Ord's newest model home, just completed by John Wojtasek, general contractor, will be open for inspection Saturday and Sunday of this week, and prospective buyers and others who plan to build this year are cordially invited to come and look over its features.

Superbly located on a spacious lot, in Ord's finest residential district, overlooking the valley, the new home is one of those few that will not depreciate in value.

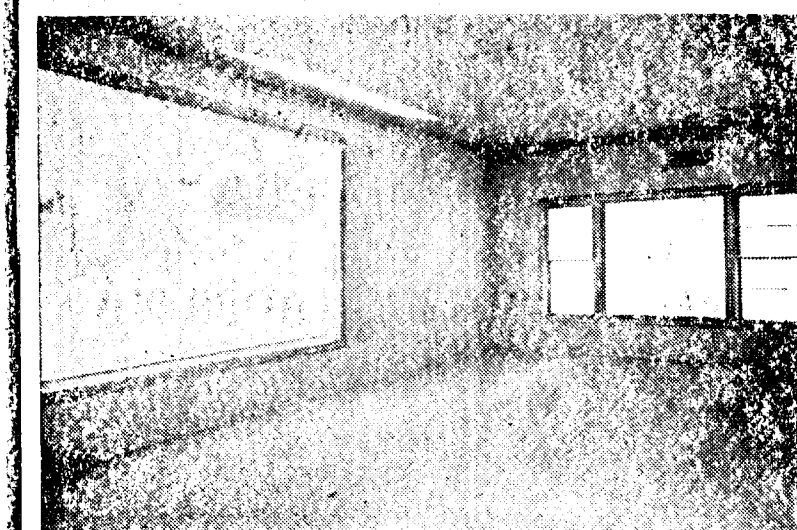

When you look at this home, one of the first things you will notice is that there has been no scrimping--no pinching in construction. It's generous rooms are designed for a maximum of comfort and living area.

The attached garage and breezeway accentuate the low, massive lines of the home, which is further enhanced by the novel stone exterior, especially designed and constructed by the contractor.

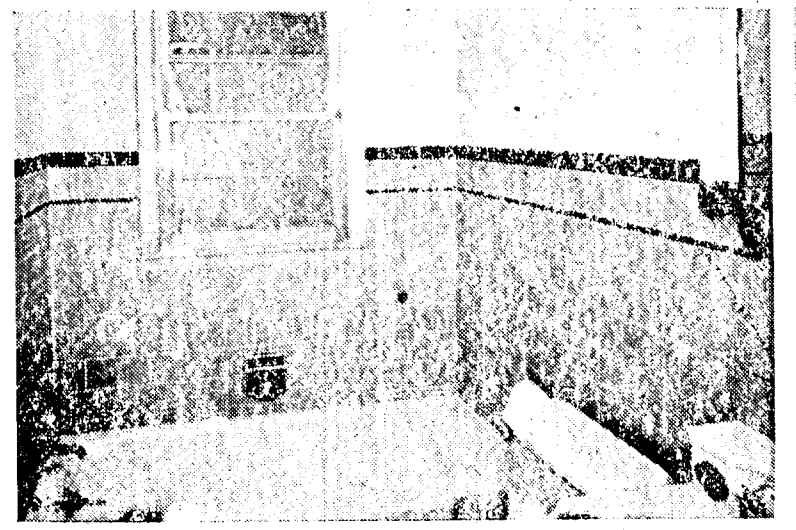

And for details that "do not appear on the surface" the house is snug in winter and cool in summer with 3/4 inch insulated sheath under the stone, backed by Carney Rock Wool Batts on walls and ceiling. Plastering is the new Perlite process, with its "built-in" acoustical and insulative value. General construction is of Weyerhaeuser 4-Square lumber. Roof is a pastel plent of genuine Rubberoid.

This house is for immediate sale. Contact the contractor on the "open house" days. The price will pleasantly surprise you.

Materials by Sack Lumber Co.--John Wojtasek, General Contractor

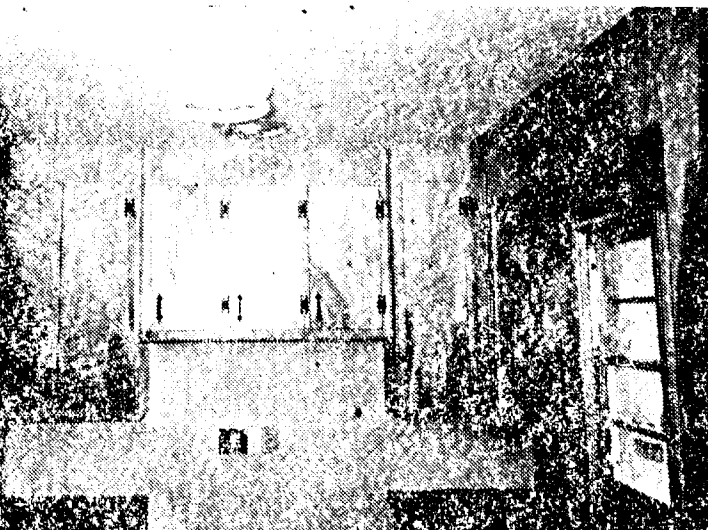

Not one, but two large picture windows enhance the spacious living and dining room area. The home will be carpeted in the purchaser's choice of color scheme by Avers Furniture, in one of their best grades, wall to wall carpets. Where else could you find this feature?

The attractive bath has Eljer fixtures installed by Henry Janus of Ord Electric and Supply, tile from Beran Hardware. Ord Electric also furnished the General Electric Airwall heating system, gas fired. Typical of the attention paid to detail throughout the home is the fact that 19 wall plugs are placed for your convenience.

The sleek, modern, slab doors add a distinctive touch. The bedroom above will be furnished with items of harmonizing design from Gable's furniture department, to give you an idea of how attractive a modern bedroom can be.

Genuine birch cabinets--and lots of them--grace this ultra modern kitchen, flanked by genuine Armstrong cabinet tops and tile from Beran Hardware. Again you'll note that there has been no scrimping. Only the best materials have been used--installed by the best sub-contractors in the business!

Girls Still Work as Nurses Aides

Last year several members of the Girls Social Service club of the Ord high school started a new project in which they became assistants in a small way in the hospital. This year the same project is being carried on, although there are fewer in number than when the work was started. Those who started are enthusiastic about the work.

This year finds the numbers much fewer but the enthusiasm is no less abated. One reason for the lesser number is that last year all were freshmen, and with the promotion into other classes the time for such activities was cut. Another is that some decided that nursing was not to be their chosen field.

At this time, there is but one sophomore, Phyllis Christensen, who is continuing the work. She, long ago, decided to make this her career, and the past year of making beds and emptying wash water has not caused her to change her mind one bit.

Others who work in the hospital from the club are Phyllis Lee, Lourdie Sok, Judy Beeline, Pauline Blech, and Janice Melia. The girls work in two-hour shifts, from 4:30 to 6:30 from 6:30 until 8:00 p.m. Some work on Tuesday and Thursdays and some on Mondays and Wednesdays.

They assist the patients in washing up for supper, and later pass the trays as needed. In the case that the patients are unable to feed themselves, the girls also assist in this task.

They also help in getting a room ready for another patient when the occupant has been dismissed. To do this, they wash all the utensils in the room and remake the bed, in regular hospital style.

They are allowed to watch operations when it is possible, and at times help in the care of the new babies.

They are charming in their blue pinafores and white blouses, which is really their uniform.

All of the girls seem to enjoy the work, and they are great assistance to the hospital staff, especially when the hospital is full, as it has been of late. Some are looking forward to the summer when they will put in full time at the work.

—Mrs. Edw. Johnson was a business passenger to Scotia Tuesday morning.

Neil Sintek spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Sintek, jr., while his mother, Mrs. Gail Sintek, was in Grand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Sintek, jr., and family were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Sintek and family Tuesday evening, in celebration of the fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Sintek, jr. On the same evening the Eldon Sintek family were guests of the Bennie Sintek, jr., family, where cards were played.

Breakfast Began Scout Fund Drive

The annual "Kick-Off Breakfast" to raise funds for the Boy Scouts in this community and state is under way on Tuesday morning at the Harmony House at seven o'clock. Emil Babka was in charge of the arrangements.

Twenty-one men of the community were present and enjoyed a breakfast. Place cards were prepared on tiny cards, since the slogan is "We are not after peanuts."

Scout Master Fred Appelget presided at the program which followed the meal. He introduced Bruce Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Pearson who spoke of the work of the Cub Scouts, and Kenneth Babka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Babka who told of the Scout work.

Their talks were followed by another talk by Hilding Pearson, who is the representative of the Rotary club, which sponsors the Scouting project. He outlined the plans for the day's solicitation and explained what had been done during the past year in Scouting and what was hoped for the coming year.

F. L. Stoddard, president of the Rotary club followed with giving instructions to the men who were to make the drive. Ord's quota this year is $825.

Arthur Jefferson, chairman of the auditing committee, explained how and when the money taken in during the day was to be turned in.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday evening a "Koffee Klatch" was held in the city hall at which time a count was made of the money received, and the cards were returned. Coffee and doughnuts were served at this time.

SHORT STORY

Green Fingers
By F. ANTON REEDS

3 Minute Fiction

OUTSIDE the windows of Kerry Productions a murky drizzle shrouded the outlines of Herald Square and twisted and distorted the street sounds from below. Alone in the comfortable inner office Patrick Kerry tried not to notice the autumn drizzle beyond the windows.

He thought of the plans for the country place tucked away somewhere in one of the drawers of his desk. Yes, he was getting well along now—so well along that at last he could admit that the country place of his would never be built.

Of course, he thought quietly, life had been good—mightily good—and he glanced from one to another of the scores of autographed photos that lined the four walls of the office. Friends in plenty he had.

He had watched a thing that was misnamed Broadway discard its gaudy minstrel garments and take its first baling steps in a strange new world of quiet understatement.

But on rainy days he got to thinking of the moist, soft earth and the little rivulets trickling like blind, hesitant puppies among the clods of plowed fields—and his green fingers began to itch. Old Michael told him he had green fingers. What a proud day that had been.

A young Irishman had stood in the rain and said that to a girl whose eyes were rimmed with tears.

Eleven years old he had been then. That would have been—well, never mind.

Patrick Kerry wasn't in any hurry about opening the envelope his secretary had just brought in. His thoughts were not in his office today, and he had difficulty in bringing them back from his dreams to present realities.

Finally Patrick's old fingers snaked open the brown flap and rapped the envelope sharply so that the contents slipped out onto the desk. He rifled through them, picked up the precisely filled-in card that was one of the most beautiful of the cryptic reports.

He forced his tired old eyes to the doctor: "This boy is the one you want. No doubt about it. He's got a freshness that's the real article."

Miss Wintersten was hovering inside the door again.

"Mr. Compton is here," she said.

PATRICK KERRY had just time to glance at the photos of a sensitive but rugged countryman's face before the face itself was there before him.

There were several things Patrick Kerry had meant to say; instead he found himself asking: "Just what sort of a place is this that you have outside of Mill Medford, Compton?"

"It's a nursery, Mr. Kerry. That is, it will be. They take time getting started, you know."

Maybe it was the rain. Anyway Patrick Kerry found himself asking a good many questions, about privet hedge and fall plantings and apple graftings.

"Look here," Patrick Kerry said abruptly. "What about this place of yours? Say you get this part, what would become of it?"

The young man answered slowly. "We talked about that, Ellen and I," he said. "I figure that if I make good with you, a few years—even five or six years—on Broadway would give us the working capital for a real go at it later on. We could always go back and start over. I suppose we'd want to anyway, some day."

Patrick Kerry rose and went over to the window.

"Of course I'll be coming back in a few years. Maybe we can get a place of our own then by Peck's Villa or down at Irvington."

A young Irishman had stood in the rain on an autumn day in 1896 on the wooden station platform at Fairdale and said that to a girl whose blue eyes were rimmed with tears.

Funny how you believed everything you said when you were young.

Elaine it on the rain, he thought if it weren't for the rain I might not have had to do this. He was very business-like as he put down again.

"I'm afraid we've been very unkind, Compton, and I'm sorry. But the fact is our Mr. Mullen was just a little impetuous. You see, Compton, we're going to need a professional for that part."

and family. The Dials have two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Greeley Gebhardt were hosts to three tables of pinocle Sunday night. Mrs. Allen Sims and Mrs. Frank Zulkoski were Sunday dinner guests at the Greeley Gebhardt home.

The Mr. and Mrs. Club held their meeting Wednesday night of this week. The affair was held in the Zion Lutheran church.

Chris Schaler, former Scotia resident and his brother-in-law, Mr. Meridith of Boone, Nebr., spent a day last week visiting with friends in Scotia. The Schalers operated the Socony Oil station when living in Scotia. Mr. Schaler, better known as Flossie to her friends, did not accompany her husband here but stayed at Boone. The Schalers are making their home in Missouri.

A large crowd attended the Monday night meeting of Consumers Educational Association. Leonard F. Cowden, Kansas City, past national president of the C. E. A., was guest speaker, talking on cooperation. Haskell Tison, Sioux City, who is a field man for C. C. A., was chairman of the meeting, assisted by local president, Roy Fillingim. W. A. Nell of Ord gave brief talks on cooperative management at Ord.

Two short movies were given followed by group singing. Lunch was served by the Legion Auxiliary and there were free gifts for all.

Mrs. Harold Swanson was released Monday from the Ord hospital after undergoing major surgery last Friday. She is staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sims for a few days after which she will go to the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Swanson.

A deal was made recently when Mrs. Hattie Curtis sold her home in east Scotia to Mrs. Charles Beebe for the sum of $3,800. Mrs. Beebe, the former Delouris McWilliams purchased the house and that surgery was necessary, however Mr. Swanson did not want to undergo another operation if it could be avoided. She was brought to the Louie Swanson home where she remained over night.

However on Friday she became ill and was taken back to North Loup where plans were made to take her to the hospital. In order to make the trip, Scott's tank truck led the procession, with Mr. and Mrs. Swanson in the second car, followed by Dr. Markley and a tow truck which carried the car. Mr. Swanson to accompany the caravan to Ord each armed with a scowp in case there would be trouble getting through. Two cars were stalled on the highway west of the Ray Knapp farm and had scowped and had to be towed to the highway. The highway was reported to be a glaze of ice, Dr. Markley said the Swanson car had difficulty staying on the highway but the trip was made with out mishap. The surgery was performed in record time and Mrs. Swanson is on the road to recovery.

Louie Swanson had his troubles too. They had brought the children to their home and without heat, other than a gas stove in the kitchen. The entire family wore coats to keep warm. Louie took several volunteer friends and set for the farm home of his son, Harold to do the farm chores. There he found two cows had freshened and as they had not been cared for the night before, were not too happy. One cow repaid them for their efforts, giving a 5-gallon pail of milk. After the two-day period, all ended serene and calm.

The storm that isolated Scotia for two days last week struck Thursday afternoon, coming in full blast by evening, leaving the village and rural areas without power or telephone. Families grouped in houses with hand heating appliances and cooking was done on top of furnaces and make shift heating appliances. Stockmen who had not heeded the storm warning were forced to brave the snow driven by a 50-mile wind. Telephone service is still limited, and it is not rumored that the department will be mighty short this week. Who wants those good old days back when we did not have modern facilities.

Mrs. Chester Bennett was hostess to the River Valley Extension club last Thursday afternoon. Part two of the lesson on choosing and making of draperies was given by Mrs. Arthur Holt and Mrs. Derrill Ingham.

According to Mrs. Clara King, her son-in-law, J. Lawrence Gorman and two of her sons, George McKnight of Omaha and Bob McKnight of North Loup were stranded at Douglas, Wyo., on their way to Sheridan last week. They left Grand Island Wednesday night and did not reach their destination until early Saturday morning. They returned to Grand Island the same night.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rich returned to Salinas, Kans., Sunday after attending a few days at the parental home. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rich, Wayne has been employed by the Barfield Construction Co., and will now work for the R. M. Wolfe Construction Co.

M. Sgt. and Mrs. Max Sims of Ft. Sill, Okla., are the parents of a son, Terrence Lee, born Febr. 17. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sims, partner of Sgt. Sims, are in Okla. home on Thursday of this week to make the acquaintance of the new grandson. He weighed seven lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fuss and daughter plan to make a trip to St. Louis, Mo., and on to Chester, Ill., where they will meet Mrs. Rose Fuss and take her to her home here. Mrs. Fuss has been visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dial

Mrs. M. Biemond Tells Story of Her Childhood in Holland to Woman's Club

The members of the Woman's Club of Ord recently had the pleasure of hearing one of their members, Mrs. M. Biemond, tell of her early life in Holland. The subject is of full importance this time, with the terrible floods that have recently devastated that low country, and call for funds to help the people who are living there.

Mrs. Biemond says that she and her family came from another part of Holland, and that the flood was mostly on the coast, and especially hard hit were a group of islands near the shore line. Both she and her husband, who is also from Holland, have relatives left in Holland, and to date they had not heard just how badly the flood had treated them, or if they had had any bad effects at all.

Mrs. Biemond lived when a little girl in a province called Friesland, which later became noted, since this was the place from which the black and white Holstein cattle came. The name of her home village was Roordahuizum. The last part of the name means "house", and the first part is a family name, so Mrs. Biemond thinks the name was taken from the house of one of the best known inhabitants.

Her home, was not too large, but she remembers the red roof and the bright windows. The house stood square on the street, she also remembers.

One of the most interesting of her remembrances were her experiences in the sewing school. All girls from eight years old, until they finished the grade school had to take sewing from recess until noon and the boys had to take shop work. One period of each day was devoted to this learning. To prove this, Mrs. Biemond has some lovely bits of needlework she made when she was yet a little girl. Her sampler is still bright and fresh, on heavy net, embroidered in red. On it she has the letters of each of her children's names, and such are on all samplers. In doing the work, she said the work was not outlined, but the little girls had to count the threads. It was not put on a frame, but fashioned to a strap fitted to the back of each girl's desk. She also had several samples of her knitting, in all kinds of stitches, and some crochet work. One of her samplers is made as are the Mexican varieties, the same on both sides.

On a piece of linen she shows several different kinds of needlework. She learned to make, also the various kinds buttonholes. She says that she still likes to patch, and a sample of the work the little girl did is still a piece of splendid needlework.

All this work was accomplished while in the grades, in connection with the regular routine of reading and writing and arithmetic.

She also showed a pair of regular wooden shoes which she says are surprisingly comfortable. One reason for this she says was because of the heavy wood stockings that they all wore. It is probably needless to say that the hose were all hand knit, and that Mrs. Biemond did her share of the family knitting, another art learned during the sewing periods. In the summer, she says, the shoes were of leather, and the reason the wooden shoes were worn, was because of the wet ground, and mud. She also says that the wooden shoes worn on Sunday for best were painted in gay colors.

Mrs. Biemond also has a pair of skates for she says everybody skates in Holland. These are made of wood, with thin sharp steel for the ice. The steel is very close to the ice, and she says there is not so much danger of any one falling who uses this variety. The wooden part is long and curved, and are very similar to those worn by Hans Brinker, known and loved by all younger children, who won a pair of silver skates. The skates fit snugly over the wooden shoes, and when the canals are frozen, it is a pretty sight to see the skaters in their gay colored woollens all over the ice.

True to all stories, these people from Holland are very clean. Mrs. Biemond remembers scouring the yellow brick of the side walks, and giving the windows a vigorous polishing every week. She remembers the many pieces of brass that were in her mother's kitchen, which also received regular cleaning, and was so bright that it reflected all the other articles in the room.

She remembers the vegetable carts that came by the house every day. Her family lived in town, and there was not enough room for a garden. Every day then the carts would come by the house, and the selections would be made. The vegetables were fresh and good. One of the favorites in her family was red cabbage, which she says her mother cooked so very well, and that was because her mother used some vinegar, also some sugar.

All of the children go to nursery schools, Mrs. Biemond says. She remembers attending these, and the games the children would play. The youngest age was about three years, and children attended these until they were old enough to go to the regular grade school. The little folks had places to play out of doors during the nice weather, and inside, they learned to sing and to play together.

Schools are open all the year around in Holland, with but a few weeks off at Christmas time and at Easter. There are free high schools and trade schools.

She and her family attend the Dutch Reformed church, which is the national church. By that is meant, she explained, that the church was supported by the government, not that every one had to belong to that one church. She says in beliefs it is very similar to the Presbyterian church.

She remembers that much of their baked stuff was purchased at the bakery in the small town where she lived. She remembers the delicious pastry, which is enjoyed very much in the United States to this day, a flaky sort of bread, filled with a creamy frosting. She says that the cookies were always good, also. But one special treat was the tarts, which were made on occasion, and were the best ever. Tea was served every afternoon, to any guests who might drop in, or in case of no company to just the members of the family. The tarts were for special company and were not served every day.

Holland is a dairy country, and the butter and cheese made there constitutes most of the work for the people who live there. The care takers are very careful and insist on absolute cleanliness. Every thing has to be sanitary, and every thing is under close inspection.

Mrs. Biemond says that Holland is very thickly populated and the country is unable to care for the large population. With so much of the land now washed out and ruined for a time because of the salt water that washed over it, there will be more need for the inhabitants to seek a new home, one says that many are going to Canada, as the climate there, is very like that in Holland, damp and cold. There too is plenty of pasture land for cattle, and cities for the disposal of the cheese and butter that the Holland people know how to make, are not too distant.

Mrs. Biemond was about 11 years old when she and her parents, also her sister and brother, who died later came to America. She well remembers the journey over, and the landing in New York City. The family came to Arcadia, Nebr., where they lived with a brother of her father, and here the family home was established. Mrs. Biemond remembers going to school, and how soon after entering that she and her sister were able to talk American, even though they had always spoken the Dutch language in their home.

Mrs. Biemond also came from Holland, but his parental home was nearer The Hague. This is also some distance from the flood area. And while both are good, loyal citizens of the United States, they both have many delightful memories of the land they left long ago.

Board of Education of Ord, Nebraska, will publicly open said bids and will award contracts to the lowest and best bidder. Proposals will be received for this project with separate proposals as follows: 1. Electrical Work - Plans and Specifications may be examined at the office of the Architect-Engineer Frank N. McNett & Company, 1803 West 2nd Street, Grand Island, Nebraska, and at the office of the Superintendent of Schools, Senior High School Building, Ord, Nebraska. Plans & Specifications will be furnished to qualified bidders upon request to the Architect-Engineer and upon tender of ten (10) Dollars deposit for each set of documents required. Deposit will be reimbursable upon surrender to the Architect-Engineer of the Plans and Specifications in good condition. Plans & Specifications are also on file in the Plan Rooms of the F. W. Dodge Corporation and the Omaha Builder's Exchange, both of Omaha, Neb., the Lincoln Builder's Bureau, Lincoln, Nebr., the Hastings Builder's Bureau, Hastings, Nebr., and the Rocky Mountain Contractor, Denver, Colo. Bidders may withdraw their bids at any time up to the scheduled closing time for the receipt thereof, but may not be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days thereafter. The Contractor will be required to furnish a performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent of the Contract Price. Each proposal shall be accompanied by a cashier's check or certified check in the amount of five (5) percent of the proposal. Such check shall be drawn on a solvent bank and shall be made payable to the Board of Education, Ord, Nebr. Such check will be retained by and forfeited to the said Board of Education as liquidated damages if such proposal is accepted, the contract awarded, and the Bidder or Bidders fail to enter into a contract in the form prescribed with a satisfactory surety bond within ten (10) days after such award is made. A bid bond in a like amount, with authorized bonding company or companies as surety, may be tendered in lieu of the cashier's check or certified check. The Board of Education reserve the right to reject any and all bids or to waive irregularities or technicalities where it appears in their interest to do so. Ralph W. Norman, Sec'y., Board of Education, Ord, Neb. Feb. 20-3tc

Chanticleers Face St. Bonaventure in Tourney Opener

Undersized Locals Have Hopes in Class B Event.

Tournament play gets underway March 3, with David City meeting Central City at 7 o'clock and Fullerton meeting Ravenna at 8:30 p. m. On March 4, Aurora meets Albion at 7 and the Ord-St. Bonaventure game starts at 8:30. Winners of the first round will meet Thursday, March 5 at 7 and 8:30 o'clock, with finals and consolation events set for the same hours on Friday, March 6.

Coach Bill Gogan's Ord Chanticleers will bid for Class B Regional honors when they tangle with St. Bonaventure of Columbus in a first round tournament game at 8:30, March 4 at Central City.

The Chants play the last game of the first round, St. Bonaventure is one of the two seeded teams of the tournament and carry a 12-4 season record. Fullerton is the other seeded team.

The Ord team walked through the tournament last year when they carried height and a lot of scoring punch. They defeated St. Bonaventure 65-41, Fullerton 70-45 and Albion 60-43. This year the small Chants will find things a lot more difficult and it will require excellent ball playing to go through, especially by opening the tournament against a seeded team.

Coach Bill Gogan's hopes are pinned upon the excellent ball handling of the team and the determined hustle necessary to make up for the lack of height in the Ord squad this season.

Band Students Attend Bow Music Clinic

Lentz States Band 'Sounds Better'; Bid Made for 1954.

The Ord High School Band boarded two buses last Wednesday and attended the annual "Three Loups" Band Clinic at Broken Bow. Fifty-four Ord Band members participated in the all-day clinic, and arrived back in Ord Wednesday night with plenty of band music and instruction "under their belts." Glen Trent, Ord band director, sponsored the trip and reports that it was a successful day for the band.

During the morning, the Ord band spent 45 minutes playing for Don Lentz of the university, who in turn gave the band suggestions for improvement. In general, he stated the Ord band needed improvement especially in the Clarinet section as the tone was too "sawed." He also stated the Ord band to his knowledge sounded better this year than ever before.

In the afternoon, the massed bands spent about two and one-half hours in combined rehearsal under Mr. Lentz's direction, and performed during the evening concert. Each band played two selections, individually during the evening program and then the 270-piece massed group played their own selections. As a special request, Mr. Lentz, accompanied by his wife, played an exceptional flute solo. He is an outstanding flutist, and often uses his flute in demonstrating the proper tone and technique.

The Ord band returned home late Wednesday night, just missing the very cold winds which were starting to blow. Ord has requested that the Band Clinic here next year as this town has not had such a clinic in many years.

Spent Friday in Snow Drift

Mrs. Myra T. Barber, who works in the Quiz office, and Harold Rice, who is employed in the Safeway store, started to Ord Friday morning, to get to their places of business, from North Loup. The visibility was so bad that at times it was impossible to see the ornaments in the front of the car, and also the highway was a glare of ice.

In the hills, about two miles from the Devil's Fish place, another car was stalled in the snow, that driven by Darrel Fish, who is employed in the Coryell filling station. Here the drifts also proved to much for the Rice car.

The wind was so strong that at times the side of the highway could not even be seen, and when it was suggested that it might be possible to walk to the nearest house, that was found to be impossible because of the high wind, the icy highway and the poor visibility.

The cars became stuck at about nine o'clock. At about two o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Fish decided to make it back to his home, as at that time the sun was beginning to peek through the clouds, and the wind seemed to be abating for a time. He says it took him about 20 minutes to get to his home, as he was pushed by the wind. He, too, made matters a bit worse, did not realize how bad the storm was and had left home without a cap or head covering of any kind. He remedied this, however, by wrapping himself in a seat blanket.

After getting some hot food and a change of dry clothing, he and his brother, Harold returned to the Rice car, in the father's car which fortunate was able to buck the light drifts, and with much shoveling, was turned and Mrs. Barber and Mr. Rice were taken to the Fish home, where about 3 o'clock they were filled with hot soup and coffee. The highway to North Loup was cleared and later both were taken there.

There were no ill effects from the long wait in the snow, since the weather was not too cold. As it was, however, all the occupants were kept busy clapping their hands, swinging their arms, and stamping their feet. Toward the last of their long wait, there was a light to ward off drowsiness.

Run Cut, Most Livestock Higher Monday at Omaha

Livestock marketings Monday at Omaha were rather sharply curtailed, in part because the major packers were slaughtering no livestock. For them, Monday was the observance of Washington's birthday.

The short runs hiked swine and lamb prices, but cattle trade proved uneven. Most steers and yearlings sold strong to 50c up, some yearling steers at up to $21 as much as a dollar higher, but outlet for steers over 1,500 pounds was narrow, and closing trade on that class was rated no better than steady to 25c lower. Heifer trade wound up the same way, after opening steady to 25c up.

Among recent sales at Omaha for shippers from this area: Garfield county: Charles Lech, 11 cows, wt. 1,053, $15.00; 5, wt. 1,078, $13.75. Joe Lech, 18 steers, wt. 1,181, $23.50.

Valley county: John Kokes, 21 steers and heifers, wt. 975, $22.00; 4 steers, wt. 1,165, $21.50.

Ray Knapp, 17 heifers, wt. 943, $21.50; 5, wt. 746, $19.50. Stanley Jurzenski, 20 Holstein steers, wt. 1,155, $18.00.

E. J. Lange & Son, 17 hogs, wt. 241, $25. Vogler, 18 Holstein steers, wt. 1,343, $19.50. Eldon Lange, 21 Holstein steers, wt. 1,133, $18.50.

Howard County Votes Bonds for Hospital

St. Paul Will Be Site of $135,000 Building Project.

Howard County was assured of a new community hospital Tuesday when the voters in a special election by more than four to one approved the issuing of $135,000 in bonds, for the construction and equipment of the building. The proposition carried by more than a four to one majority. The number voting for the hospital was 2,247, the number against was 547. There were 61 mail ballots, which will not affect the outcome of the election.

The votes by precincts:

For	Ag't
St. Paul 1st Ward	536 35
St. Paul 2nd Ward	413 1
Spring Creek	108 24
Dannebrog	188 48
Cotesfield	71 66
Loup Fork	97 71
Warsaw	83 33
Franklin	61 6
Cleveland	48 13
Logan	79 12
Pothen	115 89
Elba	127 50
St. Libory	133 33
Dannevirke	43 39
Kelso	53 7
Gage Valley	92 10

The overwhelming approval of a new county hospital indicates the wishes of the voters in this matter that was voted upon three times. The first time, more than seven years ago, the voters gave their approval to construct a county hospital by voting $100,000 in bonds. No action followed. Time had elapsed so that no pressure could be made to take advantage of the approval by voters to issue bonds. Another try was made at the last general election, Nov. 4. At that time two ballots on the proposition, one for issuing bonds, the other for leasing the hospital, faced the voters, besides the ballots regarding the regular general election, a presidential vote. The outcome at that time was indicative of approval but lacked the necessary 2-3rds majority, required when the mill levy exceeds the statutory limit of 5 mills.

Tuesday's results means a forward step for Howard county in general. It means the people will be assured of adequate care in times of illness. It means growth, as there will be attraction for people to reside within its borders, knowing their medical assistance will be equal to that obtained anywhere.—Howard County Herald.

City Caucuses Coming March 3

According to the law, city caucuses must be held exactly five weeks before the annual spring election. The annual election is always held on the first Tuesday in April, which this year falls on April 7. The city caucuses will be held on Tuesday, March 3, at which time nominations will be made for all offices in which the terms of the present incumbents expire. Members of the city council hold office for two years and members of the board of education hold office for a term of three years.

This year there will be three councilmen to be nominated, since John Wozab, Ward No. 1, was appointed to fill a vacancy. The others whose terms expire this year are Howard Huff, Ward 2, and Gus Schoenstein, Ward 3. On the board of education, the terms of Ralph Norman and Orin Kellison expire this year.

P. E. O.

Mrs. C. J. Miller was hostess to the P. E. O. organization at her home Monday evening, Mrs. J. B. Ferguson being the assistant hostess. A musical program was presented for the lesson, in charge of Mrs. Miller and Katherine Helzer.

Birthday Supper

The birthday of Helen Clark which was on Tuesday, was celebrated by a supper at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, that evening. Guests were Marjorie Augustyn, who also spent the night with Helen, and Mrs. Mable Anderson, Alice Severance and John Vanberk. Mrs. Lily Coleman was an evening guest.

Four Years Old

Guests of Terri Swopes at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swopes Saturday afternoon, to eat birthday cake were Mrs. Lee Francis and son, Jacky, Mrs. John Rogers, and daughter, Cynthia, and Mildred Auhle. The party planned for the little girl's fourth birthday on Friday, was foregone because of the storm.

Returned from Long Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Dworak returned home Saturday evening from an extensive trip which took them to North Carolina, and to Florida. They started the storm on their return but had to stop in Hebron, because the roads were impassable. The first stop was made in Wilmington, N. C., where Mr. Peterson's family had lived at one time, and he desired to locate some cousins. He had not seen them for 30 years, but upon investigation they were found easily, in fact one was in a restaurant where they stopped for food, and was recognized at once by Mr. Peterson. He had wished to trace his family lines and was able to do so in Wilmington.

The party visited the Mammoth Cave, also crossed the Ohio river on a ferry both of the experiences being very pleasant.

In Key West, Fla., they visited their son, Robert, who is in the navy and is stationed there. Since they were not in Key West on visiting day they were unable to go on his ship, but they saw it in the yard. Bob was given a short leave, and for entertainment took his parents and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson out into the ocean for some deep sea fishing. The fishing, done from a chartered boat, was successful and over 20 big fish were caught. Another new experience was the witnessing of dog races.

The next stop was in New Orleans, where they saw the Mardi Gras. Mrs. Dworak says that there were great crowds, and much gaiety, but that the parades themselves were a disappointment. The floats were old, and none too pretty, and were not original. Besides, she says, the weather was very cold all the time, and they all wore their coats. But everyone was having a good time, and everything save the eating places were closed for the day.

They spent some time in the French Quarter, where they found excellent food, but prices were very high. It was difficult to find housing, some of the places they looked at being rated at $50 a night, and it was necessary that they sign that they would stay for two nights, so the price would be $100. They found much cheaper places out about 45 miles. They had plenty of good sea food to eat.

Enroute home they visited a brother of Mr. Peterson in Waldron, Ark., another brother in Prior, Okla., and still another brother in Miami, Okla. They came home by way of York, and Grand Island, and found the highways to be cleared but still very icy. They saw the first snow in Ord, than in any other place in Nebraska.

Two other places they saw that were of interest was Oak Ridge, where the atom bomb was made, and in Ft. Meyers, Fla., Edison's home. Here the townspeople were observing the "Pagan of Light" in memory of the inventor. Here were many lovely floats and a nice parade.

Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lukesh and family were dinner and supper guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Duda and family Sunday.

Heard from Carrolls

Mrs. Jessie Haught, who is caring for Hotel Ord, during the absence of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Al Carroll, says that Mr. and Mrs. Carroll are enjoying themselves in various places in Florida. The last card she had, they were in Hollywood, Fla., and were planning to return to St. Petersburg, Fla., later.

Birthday Party

A birthday party was held for the 18th birthday of LeRoy Adamk Wednesday evening, Febr. 18. Guests were JoAnn Burrows, Kay and Sandra DeNovoy, all of North Loup, Refe Stone, Betty Urbanski, Dorothy Adamek, Alden Elsholt, Jim Urbanski, Don Radke, Daniel Klimek, Leonard Zabloudil, and Bob Kovarik. The evening was spent playing games. Jim Urbanski won the door prize. Lunch was served later in the evening. The honored guest received many nice gifts.

Dinner for Inductee

A dinner was held Sunday, Febr. 22 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lech and family in honor of Everett Lech, who left for induction into the armor forces, Febr. 24.

Guests for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jablonski, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lech, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lech, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Micek and families, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lech, sr., Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shotoski, Pate Mattered, Dixie Stone, Fren and Rene Dubas and Irvin Zulkoski, FN., who is home on leave from the navy.

Jolly Neighbors Club

A very interesting lesson "Deep Fat Frying" was given at the regular meeting of the Jolly Neighbors club held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Sam Brickner, by Mrs. Laverne Aldrich and the hostess. Twelve members were present to sample the fine doughnuts, also the pineapple, corn, apple and onion fritters. Valentine decorations were carried out on the lunch tables. As the meeting fell on Febr. 12, facts about Abraham Lincoln were brought out in the roll call.

Chimes to Play

For a half hour, preceding the World Day of Prayer Service, the chimes on the Methodist church will be played, beginning at 2:00 o'clock. The service will start at 2:30 p.m. promptly.

At Presbyterian Church

Rev. Edward F. Trefz, of Hastings and connected with the Presbyterian college there will speak at the local Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Everyone is welcome to attend this period of morning worship. The hour is 11:00 o'clock.

Neighbory Sisters

Neighbory Sisters met at the home of Mrs. Ernest Zabloudil February 18, with 13 members and 1 guest, Mrs. Emanuel Smolik present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Don Axthelm, after which songs were sung to commemorate the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, and Valentine day. Members responded to roll call with a French fry recipe.

After the business meeting Mrs. Jos. Bonne presented the lesson on deep fat frying, and also gave a quiz program on fat.

All of those present assisted with the lesson. The onion rings, apple fritters, and doughnuts prepared were used as part of the lunch served by the hostess. Mrs. L. F. Zabloudil entertained with games and prizes. Mrs. Gary Krikac was entertained as a new member. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. F. Zabloudil, March 18.

Saw Many Friends

While Mrs. C. J. Miller was visiting in Los Angeles, Calif., she had the opportunity to see several old friends, who entertained her. She was a house guest of Mrs. R. L. Dunham, the former Dora Johnson, who once lived in North Loup, and is the daughter of Mrs. George Johnson, and the late Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. Miller was a luncheon guest of Mrs. Leslie Flynn, the former Ruth Hoepfner, the sister of Harold Hoepfner, who now is postmaster in North Loup. She was also a luncheon guest on another day of Mrs. Helen Hill Harris, who now lives in Glendale, Calif. Mrs. Harris lived in Ord at one time. She spent an enjoyable day with Mrs. Stanley Shatto, and her family. Mrs. Shatto being the former Ruth Baird, who also once lived in Ord.

A week end was spent with her son, A. J. Roger Miller, who is stationed in Las Vegas, Nev. He was able to be in Los Angeles during a week end while his mother was there, so she saw him a second time.

Mrs. Miller says that she had nice weather all the time that she was away from home.

Circle Meetings

The four circles of the Methodist church met on Wednesday afternoon as follows:

Circle 1 met at the church with Mrs. Cash Rathbun and Mrs. Deane Hallock as hostesses. Mrs. Hallock led the devotionals, and Mrs. Don Kriek was in charge of the lesson.

Circle 2 met at the home of Mrs. Harold Christensen with Mrs. Jerry Nelson as co-hostess. Mrs. Leo Long led the devotionals, and Mrs. Glen Kubic conducted the lesson.

Circle 3 had a covered dish supper for the members and their families in the church parlor Wednesday evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Leon Woods, Mrs. Leonard Woods, Mrs. L. A. Muncy, Mrs. Will Trepport and Mrs. Mike Naeve. This was a Valentine party.

Circle 4 met with Mrs. Ed Hackel, Mrs. Elsie Rathbun being the assisting hostess. Mrs. Ella Bechle led the devotionals, and Mrs. Elmer Zlonke had the lesson.

The Social Forecast

St. Ann's Study Club will meet with Mrs. John Woltack on Wednesday evening, Febr. 25.

Keystone Bible class luncheon to be held in the parlors of the Methodist church Friday, Febr. 27 at noon.

Radio Bridge will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Norton Wednesday evening.

Junior Matrons will meet with Mrs. Lester Norton Friday afternoon at 3:30 p.m., an hour later than usual because of the World Day of Prayer meeting.

Saturday Evening Foursome will meet with Mrs. W. P. Hollands.

Modern Priscillas will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Henry Stara.

The Loup Valley Promenaders will meet Thursday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Stuben of Omaha spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hansen. —Mrs. Melvin Puckett, who has been the guest for a few days of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnard, left Thursday morning for her home in Kansas City, Mo. —David Pokraka returned to his home in North Loup Thursday morning, after spending the night with his aunt, Mrs. Joe Karty. —Mrs. Sena Jones returned to Grand Island Thursday afternoon, after spending a short time in Ord on business.

Home on Leave

Irwin Zulkoski, who is in the United States navy, came home Wednesday, and is spending his 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zulkoski, and other relatives and friends. He plans to go to the Great Lakes training school following his leave, where he will take work in diesel engineering.

In Training

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hollander have heard that their son, Cylvan, is in Camp Carson, Colo., where he is taking his basic training. His address is: Pvt. Cylvan V. Hollander, U. S. 55 327005, Co. B 11th Arm'd Cav. Regt., Camp Carson, Colo.

Early Planting

Mrs. C. E. McGrew called Monday to say that she had planted some radish seed February 16, and if she had had any pea seed she would have planted them too. She says that the seeds have such a heavy white blanket over them that they will not be harmed and that she is expecting some early vegetables in the not too distant future.

Service Postponed

The World Day of Prayer service, which was to have been held on Friday, Febr. 20, was postponed until Friday, Febr. 26. It is to be held in the Presbyterian church as planned with the theme, "Walk as Children of Light." All of the Protestant churches of the community are having a part in the service, which is open to all who care to attend.

Moved Into New Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKnight and family moved during the week end into their new home, the Bert Needham place. They had been living in the Ben Augustyn house in the west part of Ord.

Did You Come Up to Average?

The average take of pheasants during 1952's season was nine birds per pheasant hunter. This was based on a preliminary compilation of over 1,500 hunter's report cards received recently by the Nebraska Game Commission.

The cards were sent to a random sample of permit buyers in all counties of the state at the end of the hunting seasons and also included hunting records for waterfowl, grouse, quail, doves, rabbits and squirrels.

Greeley County Attorney Named

Harold E. Connors, a Sidney, Neb., attorney, has been named by the county commissioners of Greeley county to serve as county attorney, to take the place of P. J. Barrett who died recently.

E. A. Ondracek, who was appointed as a temporary county attorney, will resign as soon as Mr. Connors is able to take on his new duties, about March 1.

Sugar Beets

Two representatives of a sugar beet company were in the North Loup valley recently talking up the idea of more sugar beets in the coming years than we have raised in the past. It is to be hoped that farmers under irrigation will be permitted to raise more beets in 1953. The crop has proven all to the good, but in recent years the acreage here has been so restricted that only a few could raise any beets.

The sugar beets ever raised in the North Loup valley were grown some sixty years ago, largely as an experiment. The first man to talk sugar beets for the valley was W. A. Anderson, and it is believed that he raised the first ever planted in Valley county. He was a pioneer in this crop, and did not make any money from his idea.

But he did one thing which is much more important. He proved that sugar beets could be raised and could be raised profitably in this area. He laid the ground work for what came later. When the time came to raise beets here, it was not necessary to do the experimental work, as this had already been done.

It has been proven that the soil in the North Loup valley is especially adapted to certain crops, among which are corn, alfalfa, popcorn and sugar beets. All of these crops have been raised now for over fifty years, and each of them has proven financially sound. In recent years the acreage of popcorn has dropped off materially and that of beets has never been what it could be.

Practically everyone raises corn and alfalfa, which make the ideal combination for growing livestock. It does not pay to plant the same crop in a field year after year. In time it becomes necessary to replace the worn out elements in the fields. Diversified farming tends to keep the soil elements in better balance and calls for more of such crops as sugar beets.

County Government

An event of more than ordinary importance occurred in Ord on Wednesday, Feb. 3. It was the observance of County Government Day. Through the courtesy of John J. Wozab, who was county chairman for this event, a brief statement with regard to County Government is available. Mr. Wozab wrote this and delivered it to the students assembled from Valley county for the occasion. Given herewith are the high points of that speech:

ORIGIN: Hon. Robert G. Simmons, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of our state of Nebraska, proposed to the directors of Cornhuskers Boys State that a study of extending governmental instruction and operation to more boys and girls be made. It was his thought that this effort be established on county and community levels, and that it afford practical experience to a greater number of high school pupils than could be accommodated in the existing Boys and Girls State.

Hon. E. F. Keating, president of Cornhuskers Boys State named a committee to make this study and perfect a plan of operation.

RESEARCH: Research revealed that there were no precedents for this program on a state-wide basis, although individual schools and communities had experimented with the idea. Unable to locate satisfactory text material, the committee determined to proceed on the basis that factual data would have to be assembled from statutes and be compiled and written as a textbook. Because no other state had tried the plan it was determined that experimental units would have to be set up and the experience thus gained incorporated in the manual.

OBJECTIVE: The basic thought underlying this activity is that an informed citizen will strive to create more effective county, state and national government. On this theory the committee decided to develop a program for the study and practice of county government. It was decided that the schools should handle the activity and that county government officials should handle the practical application. It was decided to have students of the 11th grade participate, since they would have still another year of school for practical application of what they had learned. The experiment was tried in six counties at first, but now is a state-wide event.

Sponsors: The American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, being the largest patriotic, non-political, non-secretary groups in the state, were selected as the sponsoring bodies.

There is much more detail in Mr. Wozab's original manuscript, but for the sake of brevity it need be stated here only that the organization is incorporated and that it operates smoothly and efficiently through the cooperation of many educational groups as well as the county officials throughout the state.

It is a revelation to be present at one of these meetings of the young people who come to the county seat to make a study of county government. In their home schools in which different members of the Junior class have been nominated and later elected to the several county offices. They come to Ord for the purpose of studying how the office to which they have been elected operates.

One cannot but be impressed with the serious interest that permeates all the meetings. An occasional mistake may cause a smile, but these young people come with a definite purpose in mind, to learn the underlying principles of county government well enough to be able to go back to their respective schools and tell their teachers how our county government is run.

All credit is due to Mr. Wozab, who had done his part well, and to Otto Niemeyer, Jr., who took over the preparation of the noon lunch of the group and who did a splendid job of it. There were also a few more present who did everything they could to make the affair the success it was.

It has been determined that the idea of county government day is fine, and that it can and should be a success if carried out as planned. Now it is up to the Legion posts to do what they should do in helping in any way possible to make this one day the success that it can be if the proper interest is shown.

The group at Ord talked it over after the meetings and decided upon the following general plan of action. It was suggested that a committee of twelve Legionnaires, three from North Loup and three from Arcadia. That a similar group be chosen by the Ladies Auxiliaries. That these persons get together well ahead of time and plan the program for county government day.

This same group will go to Ord next year and assist the county officials in any way possible in the Legion and Auxiliary are entrusted with a most valuable educational program, a program that cannot be put over by last minute work, such as was tried this year. It requires long planning to get the maximum results from the single day allotted for the purpose of this program.

The Legion and Auxiliary are open to suggestions. There are members of both organizations who have the time and are willing to take the time to improve county government day in any way they can. They believe that the role they play in this important day is to assist the county officials and teachers in any way they can. They believe that whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well.

Some of the 4H programs for boys and girls are so fascinating you can hardly keep the children away from them!

Such is the cooking course conducted once each month for little girls by Mrs. C. A. Anderson aided by Mrs. Sack Walford. The class of 20 is entirely too big for most efficient functioning but the teachers thought surely some of the little ladies would surely lose enthusiasm and drop out.

Not so. The class continues to have 20 very determinedly attending young members who are going to learn to make cocoa, cinnamon toast, sandwiches and other goodies... or else! Quite a tribute to their teachers, wouldn't you say?

What could be more interesting than the ambitions of the young? Their various enthusiasms follow one another in a certain pattern.

Ye Colonial Tea is only a fair sample of the parties and other gatherings held in those days, all of which differed materially from those held in present day Ord. I recall one attraction that was used quite frequently. Fifty years ago and that was a Japanese Wedding carried out according to the customs of the Japanese at that time with the actors garbed in oriental costumes. Another popular feature were the tableaux, with people made up to represent some important event in history. They were lined up on the stage in the dark and stood like statues while a powder was burned, giving off many colored lights. They were very effective, but were replaced long since by the sage spotlight. More like the present day must have been the program given by the Wesleyan quartette (old spelling) given at the Baptist school under the auspices of the high school. A group of Odd Fellows came up from Ord 55 years ago and no doubt put on the same degree work still used by the order.

meat diet, our Chipper instance. He thinks horse meat is a wonderful invention, while he doesn't know potatoes exist.

There are dogs who like only the table scraps, no matter what they may be. Dog meal plus hot water is a staple diet for several well cared for dogs I know.

Of course the easiest way to feed a dog is to turn it loose to find three meals a day in the neighborhood garbage cans. And lots of other wise nice people seem to feel this is legitimate.

After what Ellen Beeghly calls "a big fat blizzard," it will really be a contrast to leave Ord for a warmer climate, as the saying goes. We have fallen in love with Lima, Peru, then with Barbados, and now with the Cayman Islands, and we now hope to go to the latter place, which lies south of Cuba in the Gulf of Mexico, quite a jump from here.

It is all quite indefinite. Perhaps the best way to tell you where we're going, though, would be to wait and tell you where we've been, then we'll go home.

—Irma

Among those who came were J. F. Earnest, Charles Thrasher, Orville Burdick, Milt Earnest, C. and George Winslow and J. A. Palmer. A certain Prof. Frailey gave a number of Shakespearean readings at the Presbyterian church. Perhaps we should be just as deeply interested in the Bard of Avon as ever, but the fact is that we are not. Perhaps the most interesting of the banquets held in those days were the bean soup parties put on by the Grand Army of the Republic. They were far different from the parties and conventions held by veterans today, but I covered them in an article printed some time ago.

As we look back through the years we cannot but note how tragically has camped on the trail of some people most of their lives, while others have escaped with little of the seamy side of life showing. In my own case I have a little cause to complain. I have had very little sickness, and most of the deaths that have come have come in the fullness of time, when such griefs are to be expected. It is much the same with quite a few people I have known through many decades, while others I have known have had more than a fair share of grief. It is with this in mind that I admit that I made a mistake in the "When You and I Were Young" column not so long ago when I said that Charles Kupke was still living at Willow Springs, Mo. That was his last home, but two friends reminded me that he died a few years ago. I wanted to acknowledge my error, and while I am at it, I might as well tell for the benefit of those who do not know it, the story of Charley's life and the tragedies that he met with. It is now 53 years since the first blow of fate struck him. The neighborhood had an old muzzle loading shotgun with which they had been trying to hunt rabbits. They had the gun loaded, but they had not been able to get it to go off. According to the usually accepted story one of the boys was trying to pump the gun at Charley, who grabbed it by the muzzle and pushed it to one side. The gun went off while his hand was in line with the shot and took off all his hand except the thumb and little finger. He recovered from this and got so he could work pretty well with a crippled hand, when he had his second accident. This time he had laid a loaded gun in the wagon, barrel to the front. Then he got into the wagon and drove off. The jolting of the wagon discharged the gun and he lost much of the flesh and bone from one of his legs a short distance above the knee. It seems that some people are accident prone, while others are much more lucky.

A statement of the condition of the North Loup Irrigation and improvement company as of Jan. 1, 1933, appeared in the Ord Quiz about that time. This calls to mind the fact that the North Loup valley between Ord and North Loup, practically along the lines of the present Ord-North Loup ditch, had going irrigation system well over fifty years ago. This system, much as it has now become, was the result of a drought, that of 1804, the first plans for this ditch were made that year, and the ditch was completed and water was being put in the land around North Loup some two years later. The chief difference between the two ditches is the fact that the old one was made by a company of North Loup men and was built at a time when such work could be done at a low price. There were no big payments to engineers to get the surveying done, and there was no huge amount paid to have the ditch built. As a result, the ditch, according to the statement given in 1933, was in good financial condition and able to continue in business.

It seems that the chief reason he ditch finally had to quit was because the Lord was doing the irrigating and the farmers were so short sighted that they figured they could never need a ditch again. Instead of paying their water assessments, which, after all, are really a form of crop insurance, they refused to pay, and the ditch went out of business because they had no business left. The records show that Samuel McClellan was resident at that time and that E. J. Babcock was secretary. The other members of the board were W. E. Gowen and O. S. Potter. He paid up capital stock was $25,000, the total assets of the company being $25,719.12, and the total liabilities being $10,545.64. It is not stated what the water cost per acre, but the total amount of water sold for the year 1897 was given at $1,239.33, which cost must have been more than about 50c per acre. It is a very different story today.

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN—The Nebraska Legislature turns its attention this week to highways, a matter pretty much crowded out of the spotlight so far by the property tax headache.

The Revenue Committee has held public hearings on two bills which would re-enact the 1949 revenue laws knocked out in the 1950 referendum.

A poll of the committee indicates that both measures command enough votes to win them advancement to the floor of the Legislature. Their fate after that isn't so certain.

The bills—to raise the gas tax a penny and to raise vehicle registration fees—brought out two of the session's biggest crowds.

Highlight of the two hearings was a suggestion by the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, spearhead of the attack on the 1949 laws, that another state wide vote be taken to test the contention of the bill's backers that the people have changed their minds since 1950 when they voted to repeal the revenue laws.

Meanwhile, the Public Works Committee was seeking to coordinate two bills providing for a new agency to oversee the State Highway Department.

And State Engineer Harold Aiken went before the Legislature this week to present an up-to-date report on the exact status of Nebraska's highway system.

County case which caused all the trouble to start with.

The board cut Johnson County farm land valuations by 15 per cent and said it was done "with the hope that such action will be considered to be in compliance with the mandate" of the high court.

The board faced the contempt charge because it had failed to change Johnson County valuations which are the highest in the state when measured against the average 20-year sales price.

The cut in valuations moved Lewis Laflin, the Johnson County landowner who brought the original action, to drop his appeal from the board's Feb. 4 action but the board still must show up in Supreme Court on March 5 and defend itself against the contempt allegation.

The board lowered the Johnson County valuations on the third try. When Val Peterson was still governor, Laflin asked that the assessment figures be trimmed but nothing was done. Peterson, who had urged "equalizing downward," was removed to advise Laflin, "If I owned land in Johnson County, I'd manadumus this board to reduce the valuations."

Laflin took the advice and the Supreme Court ordered the board to meet again and do something. The board met but did nothing. That's what prompted the contempt threat.

This time the board finally discovered that Johnson County assessments in 1952 were "disproportionate to the state average."

Members of the board now are Gov. Crosby, Secretary of State Frank I. Marsh, State Treasurer Frank B. Heintze, State Auditor Ray C. Johnson and Tax Commissioner Norris J. Anderson.

Martin of Kearney had opposed the bill and there was some speculation at the Statehouse that Crosby would refuse to sign it. But sign it he did on the very day it hit his desk.

Capitol insiders pointed out that even had the governor wanted to veto the bill, it was unlikely that he could have made it stick. The measure passed with 23 votes, one more than was needed, with 16 votes against it and four members not voting. Twenty-six votes are needed to override a veto.

One senator who voted against passage of the bill told me that he would switch and vote to override the governor "simply because I don't think a governor should tell us how to vote."

Spanking
The teacher in Hamilton County who spanked her pupils still holds a license from the State Educational Department.

Superintendent Freeman B. Decker who held a hearing on a parent's charge that her son was spanked until he was black and blue said he had warned Mrs. Ida Bell that "the evidence indicated she was using this means of punishment more than should be necessary in a well-operated school."

Decker stressed that his failure to revoke the license, as the outraged mother had asked, "does not mean to establish any principles" in regard to spanking since each case will be decided on its own merits.

Proposal
Sen. O. H. Liebers of Lincoln has come up with a new proposal to chart the way out of the state's property tax tangle.

Put simply, it suggests using farm land, Nebraska's most stable and basic resource, as the material from which to whittle a yardstick for measuring tax valuations.

Liebers thinks the ratio between the current value of farm lands to its value over the past 20 years is the proper measuring stick. If, for instance, the state-wide average of land scales in 1952 was $80 an acre and over the past 20 years, the average was $40 an acre, then the ratio would be 50 per cent and this would be the figure at which all property assessments would be figured.

If the ratio worked out to be 64 per cent, then all property would be assessed at 64 per cent of its value.

A bill establishing the principle has been introduced at the request of Gov. Crosby.

Prompt
Gov. Crosby lost no time signing a bill which the leaders of his party had hoped he'd veto.

The measure repeals the pre-primary law and means that the parties will no longer endorse candidates in the primary elections.

State GOP Chairman David T.

Trouble
LB 9 is in for trouble.

That's the measure allowing county boards to fix salary limits of county officials and employees. The bill had a little difficulty getting past the Government Committee and was in pretty wobbly shape when it reached the floor.

And at week's end, Sen. V. J. Williams of Kearney had prepared a motion to kill it and it appeared he had the votes to do the job.

Watershed
The Legislature's Committee on Public Works has given the green light to a bill authorizing the establishment of watershed districts in Nebraska.

Stripped of most of the controversy which surrounded a similar measure last session, the bill drew a crowd only a fraction the size of the one which jammed the hearing room two years ago.

The bill, LB 9, is the result of a Legislative Council committee study and is given a better-than-even chance of passage by the Legislature, although it is certain to be amended in many places.

Obituary
MRS. JENNIE MILBURN

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Congregational church of Arcadia for Mrs. Jennie Milburn, who died on Feb. 16, following an illness in which she was cared for in the Ord hospital. Rev. Wilbert G. Helberg was the clergyman, and conducted the service.

Ruth Masters and Rae Jean Googan, accompanied by Florence Erickson, sang "In the Garden" and "Abide with Me." Bearers were Walter Dobson, Fred Cox, H. M. Brandenburg, Wm. Paben, Ray Waterbury and Wm. Lieninger.

Interment was made in the City cemetery of Arcadia, the arrangements having been made by the Hastings-Pearson mortuary.

Mrs. Jennie Gilchrist Milburn was born January 27, 1872 in Vinton, Iowa. She was a few days past her 81st birthday at the time of her death.

The family moved to the Arcadia, Nebr., community, when she was eight years old. Here she grew to womanhood. On March 3, 1890, she was united in marriage to Ernest P. Milburn. To this union five sons were born, being Frederick of Riverton, Wyo., Monce of Arcadia, Nebr., Cecil of Riverton, Ernest, Arcadia and Kenneth of Lander, Wyo.

All of her sons survive her and mourn her passing, together with ten grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren. Three sisters, also are left to mourn her death, Mrs. Hertha Walker and Mrs. George W. Warne, both of Toronto, Canada and Mrs. Paul Peterson, Deer Lodge, Mont.

Preceding her in death are her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gilchrist, one brother and two sisters.

—Mr. and Mrs. Al Stewart and family were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Neumeyer and family.

The Dark Can Kill You

America's millionth traffic victim has been dead a year. Yet auto wrecks go right on changing our country crossroads into killer corners.

Where's the villain?
Some say "more cars on the road these days." Some point to "reckless youths" ... "lax laws" ... "drunken driving" ... "speeding."

But something else may be more to blame for auto accidents than any of these. Darkness. Plain old darkness.

Look at one case. In a Connecticut area 182 pedestrians were killed at night in two years—179 on poorly lighted streets.

Busy traffic centers are waking up fast, lighting their death-trap streets. Salt Lake City cut night deaths 92% in one area, Grand Rapids 78%, Bridgeport 93%.

Some small communities have been first to pick up the newest in lighting equipment. Oakwood, Ohio, has the largest installation of fluorescent street lamps in the country. And there's a broad-daylight look in Lyndonville, Vermont, even late at night. Fluorescent lighting as developed by General Electric has now been extended to street lighting.

Good street lighting has been a pet project of ours for years. General Electric engineers work with local officials on other community problems, too—traffic control, water shortage, waste disposal, farm and home modernization—wherever electricity can help progress. For progress is our most important product. General Electric Company, Department 2-123, Schenectady, N. Y.

Visek-Lenstrom
At a beautiful wedding ceremony in the Wescott Covenant church Sunday afternoon, Feb. 22, Evelyn Visek, daughter of Mr. Ludvik Visek of Comstock, was united in marriage to Gerald Lenstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lenstrom of Comstock.

Rev. J. C. Rundblad performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked on either side by seven branched candelabra and baskets of roses and white snapdragons.

Mrs. Richard Stone played the traditional wedding music and also accompanied Clayton Montanye, who sang "Because" and "Through the Years."

Mrs. Carmen Ellersick, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a yellow net over satin ballerina length gown with strapless bodice trimmed with pearls and double bouffant skirt with net ruffling and matching stole. She carried a matching headpiece and mitts and carried a colonial bouquet of wine feathered carnations.

Miss Barbara Oliver of Shelton, a friend of the bride acted as bridesmaid. She wore a mint green ballerina length gown, styled identically to that of the matron of honor. The headpiece and mitts were also identical. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Victor Lenstrom as best man, and the bride's brother, Leroy Visek.

Vicky Lynn Ellersick, niece of the bride was flower girl. She wore an orchid dress fashioned similar to that of the bride and her attendants with matching headpiece and mitts. Her gown was designed by her great aunt, Mrs. James Visek, of Ord. She carried a basket of snapdragons.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina length gown, designed with an Irish lace bodice and a double Johnny collar and long sleeves and the double bouffant skirt of nylon tulle was trimmed with alternating rows of satin piping and net ruffling. Her finger-tip veil of nylon tulle was designed by her aunt, Mrs. Jim Visek. She carried a white Bible with a cala lily, the favorite flower of her mother. She also followed the age old tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" and a penny in her shoe.

Candles were lighted by Mrs. Gayle Lenstrom and Mrs. Layton Hyde, friends of the bride and groom. They wore formal dresses of rose and blue respectively.

Guests were seated by Leroy Visek, brother of the bride, and Richard Erikson.

Mrs. James Visek, aunt of the bride and acting hostess chose for her niece's wedding a teal blue dress with white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Gordon Hyde had charge of the guest book. Miss Shirley Plock was in charge of the gift table. The three tiered wedding cake was cut by Carmen El-

Nebraska Ducks Travel Wide Area

Ducks banded in Nebraska travel wide and far. Returns from ducks banded on the Dodge-Saunders county refuge in the winter of '52 by the Game Commission have been received from such distant places as the northwest territories of Canada's northern provinces and southern Louisiana.

Returns have also been received from areas as far east as southeast Illinois. A few ducks banded on the refuge were taken in western Nebraska.

Comparable distant flights by ducks and coot banded in the sand hills last summer have also been reported. Band returns showed that blue-winged teal were generally taken north and east of Nebraska. The bulk were shot in Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin and over as far as Michigan and Ontario.

The most southerly blue-winged teal reported shot was taken in Costa Rica. A band was returned from a coot killed on the western coast of Mexico.

Mallards were reported both north and south of Nebraska. The only pintail reported taken out of Nebraska was in Illinois while the only shoveller outside of the state was shot in Minnesota.

Lloyd P. Vance, supervisor of game for the Nebraska Game Commission said: "These band recoveries to date indicate that summer movements of ducks do not follow the accepted theory that all ducks migrate directly south when ready to migrate. These recoveries, instead, substantiate knowledge gained by waterfowl biologists that early movements may occur in any direction."

New Fishing Pamphlet Out

A new 12-page pamphlet, "Nebraska Fishing Waters," will be available without charge to sportsmen in late March. The pamphlet, published by the Nebraska Game Commission, will have the most complete list ever published of major fishing waters in the state.

Also included in the anglers' guide will be a listing of the predominant species of fish inhabiting each lake, reservoir, river or creek. A map of the state with each water plotted on it will facilitate locating the different fishing areas.

Individual request for the pamphlet will now be accepted. Sportsmen are reminded, however, that the guide will not be available until late March.

Dorothy Parkos returned to her work in St. Paul Monday evening after spending the week end in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Acheson, whose home is in Wakeeney, Kan. were overnight guests Saturday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Long. They returned to their home Sunday.

Started Out for Lexington Contest

Mrs. Victor Kerchal, her daughter, Leanne, and Katherine Helzer started to Lexington, Neb., Thursday morning where Leanne was to represent Valley county, in the public speaking contest, sponsored by the 4-H clubs. When they got to Arcadia, they found the roads to be slippery, and the vision obliterated because of the freezing snow, it was decided that it was better to turn back.

1953 Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks are more truck for the money!

4 powerful reasons why you get more of what you want

- more engine power
- more staying power
- more braking power
- more economy

Advanced Loadmaster engine—standard on 5000, 6000 Series and forward-control models, optional on 4000 Series heavy-duty trucks.

Heavier, stronger, more durable frames increase rigidity, add to ruggedness and stamina of 1953 Chevrolet trucks.

Trucks up to 4000 Series heavy-duty models have "Torque-Action" brakes. Series 4000 and above use "Torque-Action" brakes in front, "Twin-Action" in rear.

New stamina plus extra gasoline economy in heavy-duty models with Loadmaster engine, reduces hauling costs per ton-mile.

Automatic Gas and Electric Water Heaters

More Hot Water for Less Money with Heatmaster

The penny-pinching control unit turns the burner ON when the water cools—turns it OFF when the water is hot. With the new HEATMASTER Insulation, water stays hotter—longer!

Consider These Facts!

- HEATING ELEMENT
ELECTRIC—The heating element is immersed in the water for full heat and highest heat transfer. The wattages are designed to prolong the life of the heater and to keep liming and scaling at a minimum.
- INSULATION
Thick, non-setting "Fiberglas" insulation, scientifically applied, keeps heat in the water longer. The insulation completely surrounds the tank for maximum insulating protection.
- GAS—The burner and mixer are one piece with the pilot mounted on the mixer to give more efficient operation. The burner, mixer, and pilot are quickly and easily removed for adjustment and cleaning, WITHOUT SPECIAL TOOLS.
- THE TANK
Every HEATMASTER Tank is extra-thick steel, electric welded throughout and heavily bonded with zinc for longer life. The Deluxe tank has an "anodic" rod of magnesium which resists rust and corrosion.
- THE CONTROLS
ELECTRIC—The thermostat may be set to the temperature you desire and the heater turns itself on and off automatically. A true masterpiece of simplicity for extra convenience.

Ericson

Mrs. Gertrude Michener Quiz Representative Ericson

This community was visited by the worst storm of the winter Thursday and Friday. Thursday brought rain and sleet all day with snow beginning about five o'clock which turned into a blizzard later in the evening and continued all day Friday. Electricity went off Thursday evening at 6 and didn't come back until late Sunday afternoon. Two crews of men from Loup City worked 24 hour shifts. The plant here at Lake Ericson has been undergoing repairs the last week and this community and Bartlett were receiving power from the Loup City plant. Twenty-nine poles were down the Loup City line. Some farm and town homes depended on the electricity entirely for water, lights, heat and cooking. Wood and oil stoves were installed for the emergency in many homes. The locker plant at Ericson was kept closed Friday, Saturday and Sunday until the power was restored.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Cook and family were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Ord, parents of Mrs. Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baldwin and family of Bartlett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lillenthal and Bobby Harris were Thursday dinner and supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Watson and family.

Mrs. George VanHorn and daughter-in-law of Mayme VanHorn underwent throat surgery Friday, Feb. 20, at an Omaha hospital. Her home is at Honey Creek, Ia.

Mrs. Celia Hinze of Albion spent Sunday through Tuesday in the home of her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dahlsten.

Staff Sgt. Gene Foster left Saturday for Salina, Kan., where he will be stationed with the air force. He had planned to leave Friday, Feb. 20, but because of the blizzard he had to stay over.

Linda Booth was an overnight guest Saturday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Booth, sr.

Mrs. Mayme VanHorn spent her first day of work at the library Wednesday, Feb. 18, since her recent illness.

Mrs. Sam Loscke and son, Lee, went to Clearwater, Saturday and attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Bartok at the St. John's church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wagner and son, Art, of the Parnell community were Ericson visitors Wednesday and attended the Hereford bull sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adamek and Donnie went to Ord Sunday and visited in the home of their daughter-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dodds of Laurel, Mr. and Mrs. Art Bridgland of Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Patrick and Elaine and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster and Eddie were Wednesday guests in the home of Mrs. Martha Jackson. They installed a new gas range, a birthday gift to Mrs. Jackson from her brother-in-law.

Junior-Senior Public Speaking

All the world's a stage And all the men and women mere players. They have their exits and their entrances, And one man in his time Plays many parts, His acts being other persons' prologues.

Members of the Junior-Senior Public Speaking class, taught by Edwin Sawyer, know their Shakespeare, and they also know how to find a bit of satire, however hidden in light talk.

And this fact was well brought out when visited Thursday morning for the class was permitted to see and react to a play or rather a skit concerning Shakespeare and the women he had put in his plays.

Although the skit made light of the characters, it raged all through the conversation were quotes from the immortal bard.

The class which consisted of some 20 members were invited to the auditorium for the playlet. It was held to be in the empty room, all the seats being removed, and a few times the other persons present being three younger boys who it seemed were measuring the floor, one by stepping off the width, and others by taking up and putting down a foot ruler.

However, soon the other members of the public speaking class entered, and there was the usual flurry of getting chairs adjusted and arranged, and the air of excitement when it is sensed that something good is going to be offered.

And the play, "Shakespeare's Women" was good. It was announced that the play which later took the form of Ophelia, dressed in white flowing robe, which might have been an old fashioned night gown. She carried a zither harp, and wore a monstrous wreath of imitation flowers on her head. She sat on a chair, and her paper roses, and how she juggled her book since the parts were read and not memorized, her harp and her bouquet was a mystery.

Others in the skit were Portia, who was portrayed by Elaine Cook, wearing a long black robe; Desdemona, whose robe was supposed to be Oriental, was played by Phyllis Kapusta; Katherine of Shewish fame, whose part was very correctly taken by Kay Hughes, her robe being of sober black enhanced by demure fringes; Cleopatra, a regular siren in modern dress was the part given by Ruth Daily, and Ruth Ollis, in a bright red choir robe was the one selected to play the part of Juliet.

The girls did the casting themselves, and the parts were well taken. The story was boiled down to the fact that all of the women thought that Juliet should be wedded against Rome, since he was her only love. In turn she gave all the other characters much food for their own thinking.

After the skit the students went to their own room where the short time remaining of the class period was spent, first in the evaluation of the skit, and then in the skit itself. Several of the members have written their own little plays which have been presented before the class.

Mr. Sawyer explained that the purpose of using the auditorium was to familiarize them with the back stage, and to help them to become more at home there. He also hoped that they would learn how to use their voices, in the larger room. He complimented the girls on their intonations and also on their gestures.

Later, he said that the skits would use both boys and girls in the acting, and also would be more

It Happened In NEBRASKA...

IN 1870, when the "Burlington and Missouri River Rail Road Company" had pushed as far west as Lincoln, Nebraska, few towns farther west had been named. So, as the new railroad forged into the unsettled prairie country, it determined the location and names of towns along the route. In alphabetical series: Crete, Dorchester, Exeter, Fairmont, etc.

Nebraska taverns have pushed forward, too—in respectability, in abundance of the laws. Today we accept taverns as a well-kept part of our society. And commend the tavern owner for running a wholesome business!

Quiz Representative MRS. ETHEL HAMER North Loup

The blizzard Thursday evening led to dampen the ardor of the North Loup Lions, who had made up their minds to entertain their ladies that evening. As the storm grew worse toward evening, it was apparent that some would be unable to attend and the loss of electricity at 6 p. m. threatened to dim the entire evening.

The cooks, Bessie Roby and Mary Clark, had the beef cooked at that time, but the rest of the meal was uncooked. An oil stove was borrowed from the high school, a kerosene lamp and several candles were installed and business went on as usual, although a little late. Twenty-eight Lions and their ladies were present.

The meal was served by four high school girls, Judy Ingerson, Dolores Cox, Jeanne Brennick and Idona Vodehnal. In the absence of the regular tail waiter, W. H. Vodehnal acted in a very effective and entertaining way. Light was furnished by three members who brought gas lanterns.

Ericson

Mrs. Gertrude Michener
Quiz Representative
Ericson

This community was visited by the worst storm of the winter Thursday and Friday. Thursday brought rain and sleet all day with snow beginning about five o'clock which turned into a blizzard later in the evening and continued all day Friday. Electricity went out Thursday evening at 6 and didn't come back on until late Sunday afternoon. Two crews of men from Loup City worked 24 hour shifts. The plant here at Lake Ericson has been undergoing repairs the last week and this community and Bartlett were receiving power from the Loup City plant. Twenty-nine poles were down the Loup City line. Some farm and town homes depended on the electricity entirely for water, lights, heat and cooking. Wood and oil stoves were installed for the emergency in many homes. The locker plant at Ericson was kept closed Friday, Saturday and Sunday until the power was restored.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cook and family were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Ord, parents of Mrs. Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baldwin and family of Bartlett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lillenthal and Bobby Harris were Thursday dinner and supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Watson and family.

Junior-Senior Public Speaking

All the world's a stage
And all the men and women mere players.
They have their exits and their entrances,
And one man in his time
Plays a hundred parts, his scenes being seven ages.

Members of the Junior-Senior Public Speaking class, taught by Edwin Sawyer, know their Shakespeare, and they also know how to find a bit of satire, however hidden in light talk.

And this fact was well brought out when visited Thursday morning for the class was permitted to see and react to a play or rather a skit concerning Shakespeare and the women he had put in his plays.

Although the skit made light of the characters, it read a deal all through the conversation were quotes from the immortal bard.

The class which consisted of some 20 members were invited to the auditorium for the playlet. It was held to be in the empty room, all the seats being removed, and for a time the only persons present being three younger boys who it seemed were measuring the floor, one by stepping off the width, and others by taking up and putting down a foot ruler.

However, soon the speaker members of the public speaking class entered, and there was the usual flurry of getting chairs adjusted and arranged, and the air of excitement when it is sensed that something good is going to be offered.

And the play, "Shakespeare's Women" was good. It was another play by Jean Murry who later took the part of Ophelia, dressed in white flowing robe, which might have been an old fashioned night gown. She carried a zither harp, and wore a monstrous wreath of Italian flowers on her head.

Others in the skit were Portia, who was portrayed by Elaine Cook, wearing a long black robe; Desdemona, whose robe was supposed to be carried by a young girl, paper roses, and how she juggled her book since the parts were read and not memorized, her harp and her bouquet was a mystery.

The girls did the casting themselves, and the parts were well taken. The story was boiled down to the fact that all of the women thought that Juliette should be wedded against Romeo, since he was her only love. In turn she gave all the other characters much food for their own thinking.

After the skit the students went to their own room where the short time remaining of the class period was spent, first in the evaluation of the skit, and then in the skit itself. Several of the members have written their own little plays which have been presented before the class.

Mr. Sawyer explained that the purpose of using the auditorium instead of the regular class room was to familiarize them with the back stage, and to help them to become more at home there. He also hoped that they would learn how to use their voices, in the larger room. He complimented the girls on their inflections and also on their gestures.

Later, he said that the skits would use both boys and girls in the acting, and also would be more serious in order that both sides of comedy and tragedy could be shown.

Some of the members also were to read before the others, and at this period, Phyllis Kapuska read an article taken from a bound copy of the Readers Digest.

Then the time was taken up in a short lecture by Mr. Sawyer, in the art of speech making.

He announced that the speeches he was going to require from the young people, were to be delivered without notes. Furthermore, he said that the skits which had been placed in the front of the room for the use of the speakers, was to be removed. He explained that when such a stand were used, there was a tendency to lean against it, and the speaker would come to depend upon it. He said that such a stand limited the free body movements of the speaker. He also said that it was a good speaker who could stand in front of an audience, without self-consciousness, and be able to put across the message that was theirs to give.

There was a groan from the class when he made these announcements, but without doubt in the classes to come, they will find that he is right.

Then he spoke on the speeches that are used to convince, and gave the class the four groups of audiences to whom they might be called upon to give their speeches. One was the audience who does not believe in the existence of the problem; one who is indifferent to the situation; one who is interested but hostile and one who is interested but undecided. He told that the first step in such a speech was the attention step, or the step showing the specific need and the next was the step showing the need.

Since the audience would not be entirely composed of one of the different groups mentioned before it should be the aim of the talker to get the audience to believe as he did, and should produce both logic and evidence, should visualize his topic before his audience and stimulate emotion.

It Happened In NEBRASKA...

In 1870, when the "Burlington and Missouri River Rail Road Company" had pushed as far west as Lincoln, Nebraska, few towns farther west had been named. So, as the railroad forged into the unsettled prairie country, it determined the location and names of towns along the route. In alphabetical series: Crete, Dorchester, Exeter, Fairmont, etc.

Nebraska taverns have pushed forward, too—in respectability, in abundance of the laws. Today we accept taverns as a well kept part of our society. And commend the tavern owner for running a wholesome business!
