MRS. ADA E. NORTH,

SEVENTH STATE LIBRARIAN OF IOWA.

1871-1878.

The subject of this brief sketch, though seventh in Iowa's official list of State librarians, was first to stamp the impress of individual service upon the history of the State. Between the first territorial librarian, Theodore S. Parvin, and the seventh State librarian, the service rendered by the several incumbents was incidental and temporizing—with the one single exception of that performed by Mrs. North's predecessor, John C. Merrill, whose usefulness was cut short by death after three resultful years.

Mrs. North's administration was characterized to a remarkable degree by vigor and judgment in organization, discrimination in the use of the limited funds placed at her disposal and gentle courtesy which gave new dignity to the position she so well filled.

With almost none of the many present helps to librarians, Mrs. North by correspondence and personal visitation made herself thoroughly acquainted with the progress then well begun in library science and, so far as seemed to her wise and practicable, applied her knowledge to the improvement of the State library as an aid to lawyers, legislators and the public generally.

But Mrs. North was not content with faithful and efficient service in the library. She was quick to grasp the modern idea of library service. To her mind libraries maintained by the people were for the people and not for a privileged few. She gladly availed herself of the opportunity cheerfully accorded her by the Clarkson Brothers to use the columns of the Iowa State Register for the dissemination of information as to the uses which might be made of public libraries and the duty of the State toward these invaluable adjuncts to the education of the schools.

It was long her dream to organize an association of librarians in Iowa, but not until she had been transferred to another field of labor was the dream fulfilled. Finding in the late T. S. Parvin, of Cedar Rapids, Curator Charles Aldrich, of the Historical Department of Iowa, and Capt. W. H. Johnston, now of the Iowa Library Commission, the sympathy and support she sought, in 1890 Mrs. North by correspondence and personal effort succeeded in organizing the Iowa Library Society, the lineal predecessor of the present influential Iowa State Library Association. Prior thereto Mrs. North had attended two annual conferences of the American Library Association, one at Milwaukee in 1886, the other at St. Louis, in 1889, and the editorial pages of the Library Journal, the organ of that association, attest the impress this brave, true woman made upon that body. For twenty-one years, from 1871 to 1892, this pioneer librarian of Iowa dreamed, planned and worked for the inauguration of the library movement now grandly sweeping over our State, and it is surely fitting that in this splendid era of fulfillment the name and career of this Prophet of the New Day should be honored by those who are enjoying the fruits of her labors.

The career of Ada E. North may be outlined as follows: Born in Alexander, N. Y., November 19, 1840; married in 1865 to Maj. George J. North, military secretary, afterwards private secretary to Governor W. M. Stone; left a widow in 1870; in 1871 appointed State Librarian by Governor Merrill; reappointed by Governors Carpenter and Kirkwood respectively; relieved by Governor Gear in 1878 (the office then being in politics); after a brief interval appointed city librarian of Des Moines; in 1879 chosen librarian of the State University at Iowa City; in 1892 compelled by failing health to relinquish her post; an invalid and a sufferer most of the time for nearly seven years thereafter; on the 9th of January, 1899, her spirit found release in death.

Her venerable father, Rev. Milo N. Miles, survived her but a brief time. Her son, Mr. Howard M. North, is at present road-master for the Southern Pacific Railroad at Los Angeles; her daughter is married and resides in South Dakota. Three brothers survive her, two residing in Des Moines, the other in Nebraska.

Librarian's Report.

OFFICE OF THE STATE LIBRARIAN, }
DES MOINES, IOWA, June 30, 1903. }

To the Honorable ALBERT B. CUMMINS, Governor of Iowa and President of the Board of Trustees of the Iowa State Library:

SIR,—I have the honor to submit for your consideration the Twenty-ninth Biennial Report of the librarian of the Iowa State Library, covering a period included between the thirtieth day of June, 1901, and the first day of July, 1903.

At the close of the twenty-eighth biennial period there were of record, 75,725 books in the State Library proper.

From this total were taken 4,115 books, transferred to the Historical department, under the law consolidating the miscellaneous portion of the State Library and the Historical department. From this total should also be taken 1,729 volumes of Government documents, transferred to the Historical department until the completion of the new building. From this total must also be subtracted 2,194 volumes belonging to the Traveling Library and transferred from the State Library to the Iowa Library Commission, as directed by the Library Commission law of the last general assembly. These deductions, aggregating 8,038, reduce the total of record in the State Library proper, to 67,687.

Books Added Since Last Report.

To this number of record have been added, during the biennial period now closed:

To the Miscellaneous department, by purchase .....	5,649
By exchange and gift.....	2,138
Total .....	7,787
From this department have been withdrawn.....	13
Making a net addition of.....		7,774
To the Law department, by purchase.....	1,387
By exchange .....	574
Making an addition of.....		1,961
Total .....		9,735

These accessions make the total of record in the State Library proper, 77,422.

The Historical department two years ago reported 9,707 volumes, exclusive of the books transferred from the State Library. Adding to this total the 4,115 miscellaneous books and the 1,729 Government documents transferred from the State Library, and the accessions of books and pamphlets—exclusive of newspaper volumes—in that department, during the last two years, namely, 1,877, the present number of record in this department is 17,428.

The grand total of record in the three departments, Miscellaneous, Law and Historical is, therefore, 94,850.

By Actual Count.

In the foregoing paragraphs I have used the phrase "of record" to bring out the fact that in previous reports, emanating from this department, the totals given have been made by the simple process of adding to the grand total of the previous biennial period the number of books accessioned during the period included in the report, making no allowance for losses, withdrawals, duplications, etc.

Not satisfied with figures obtained by simple additions, I have made, with the help of the curator of the law department and my first assistant, an inventory of all the books and pamphlets on the shelves of the State Library proper. For our easy identification in future inventories, and as a matter of general information, I have followed the decimal classification, in the count of the miscellaneous books, except in the case of such documents as, for convenience sake, are classified by states and territories, countries and provinces, and of pamphlets which are given shelf room but have not been formally accessioned. The count thus made reveals a considerable discrepancy between the total of record and the total in fact, and that, for causes above named, and for another reason to which reference will be made farther along.

Right here a few remarks seem to me to be timely on the place given pamphlets in the State Library.

First, it should be stated that the great mass of documents bound and unbound have been alphabetically arranged on the shelves by states, territories, provinces and countries. It has been the policy of my predecessors to accession, catalogue and shelve as books not a few pamphlets deemed more or less valuable additions to the library. These pamphlets, some of them containing but a few pages of reading matter, or a few columns of figures, have been included in previous reports of books in the library, thus swelling the number of books of record, but giving no evidence of the strength of the library in pamphlet literature.

Realizing that the real strength of a library lies not in the mere number of books reported, but in its ability to supply the wants of those who resort to it for help, it has long been clear to me that pamphlets which have been counted as books, but have apparently outlived their usefulness should be withdrawn as books and added to the general stock of unclassified pamphlets; also, that pamphlets which may wisely and consistently be grouped, as for instance reports, together covering a period of years, or completing some epoch, or administration, should be withdrawn from the accession book as separate volumes and should be bound together and the bound volumes given a new number.

It is equally evident that many unclassified pamphlets of recent dates may well be grouped and bound in volumes, each volume given an accession number, or held as unaccessioned pamphlets until a sufficient number of same are received to make a suitable volume for accession.

And again—and this appears to me to be a solution of the vexed question in every library, "What shall we do with our pamphlets?" It has been my purpose of late to place upon the shelves, with books of their class, many pamphlets which have temporary value and may prove to have permanent value, giving each its class and shelf number, but not an accession number. These, or any of these, may at any time be withdrawn, or grouped and bound, and the bound volumes so made up will be given accession numbers and permanent place in the library. These temporary additions to the library, if so placed, are frequently found to be extremely valuable to the many students of themes, who are permitted to go directly to the shelves for the information they seek; whereas, the same material, if put upon remote shelves, with large numbers of unclassified pamphlets, would be so much valuable material gone to waste. Pamphlets, however valuable they may be, are practically valueless unless they are accessible, and on the shelves along with the books they supplement. But it is misleading to the public, and, it seems to me, bad policy in all respects, to treat every pamphlet as a permanent accession to the library. It would be equally unwise to classify, catalogue and shelve all the pamphlets which come to the library, for such classification, cataloguing and shelving would not only give permanent form to much material that must in time be superseded by bound volumes and then rendered valueless, but would involve the large expense of the extra cataloguing involved.

But there are certain documents which, whether bound in paper or in cloth, naturally classify by states or governmental departments. I refer to the reports of state and national officials, legislative journals, the Congressional Record, bound and unbound, and the like. These can best be kept by themselves, classified as above indicated and arranged on the shelves alphabetically, or by date, as the case may be. These are easily carried in mind and are readily found. It has not yet been thought necessary to accession, catalogue and shelf-list these, their arrangement on the shelf being of itself a simple and effective means of identification. With these two methods of disposing of pamphlets on the shelves, and with a continual grouping of valuable paper-covered reports, etc., in bound volumes—with due regard for consistency in grouping the same—there will in time be little of permanent value in the remaining pamphlets now tentatively given place on our shelves. From these remainders there can well be spared from time to time the pamphlets that have clearly outlived their usefulness, or have been superseded by the same material which comes to us bound in permanent form.

I have given space to this subject because it is unquestionably one of much importance to the library. So much extremely valuable statistical material, and so many able and exhaustive arguments, addresses, discourses, literary, scientific and philosophical papers, first come to the library in pamphlet form, and may never come in any other form, that I have been compelled, in justice to the public and especially to legislators, educators and students, to adopt some general and easily recognizable policy relative to the present utilization of pamphlets, including documents on specific themes, without at once making them permanent additions to the library.

Classification of Books in Library.

By actual count, separating the unaccessioned pamphlets from the books, the number of books and pamphlets in the library is as follows:

Total of record in the three departments, as already given.....	94,877
Apparent discrepancy between record and count.....	2,637

The discrepancy between the number of record and the actual count is easily accounted for. My only surprise is that a larger discrepancy was not discovered. That there must have been some shrinkage in the number of miscellaneous works in the library may be accepted without question. The excess of the total obtained by count over the total obtained by addition is undoubtedly due to the fact that documents and pamphlets have in recent years been withdrawn from the mass of unclassified documents and placed upon the shelves. It seemed to me best to let the accession totals stand as the official statement of the library's strength; and, during the next two years, to continue along present lines, combining small documents and miscellaneous pamphlets into bound volumes as fast as those of permanent value and like character accumulate in sufficient numbers to warrant the expense of binding them.

Completion of the New Building.

I stated in my last report that the law consolidating the miscellaneous portion of the State Library with the Historical department could not be carried out, so far as relates to the actual transfer of all the books in the miscellaneous department from the State Library to the new building erected for the Historical department, owing to want of space in the wing of the new building. The failure of the last general assembly to make an appropriation for the completion of the new building left the State Library burdened with an embarrassing inability to carry to a conclusion a mandate of the State, and compelled the librarian to continue a temporizing policy which every day grows more and more embarrassing. Permit me to urge that the special attention of the 30th General Assembly be given to the necessity which recent legislation has imposed—and which is emphasized by the growing needs of the Historical department and of the Miscellaneous and Law departments as well—namely, the speedy completion of the new building.

A Pressing Need.

The failure of the last General Assembly to provide the consolidated State Library with a bookkeeper has also been a serious embarrassment. With the accounts of the three departments of the State Library to keep, with a detailed financial statement to present to the Library Board at every meeting, with a lengthy report of expenditures of the three departments to be contributed annually to the report of the Executive Council on expenditures of state officers, with a voluminous biennial report to present to the Governor, with lists of books purchased and books recommended for purchase to be prepared prior to every meeting of the Board, and with a large volume of correspondence necessitated by annual exchange of hundreds of documents and the purchase of thousands of dollars' worth of books, it is apparent that few officials of the State have greater need than the librarian, not only of a competent and reliable bookkeeper, but also one who can skillfully use the typewriter and take letters from dictation. I would urge the addition of a bookkeeper to the force now employed in the library. Such a measure of relief would materially add to the efficiency of our present force, relieving the curator of the law department and my second assistant of duties which now seriously interfere with those which should claim their undivided attention, and relieving me of the embarrassment of drawing on outside help for correspondence and type-written lists and reports.

Acknowledgments.

I take pleasure in acknowledging the uniform courtesy which the president and the members of the Library Board have accorded me in furthering my plans for the upbuilding of the State Library and the wise counsel and generous aid rendered me by Curators Aldrich and Small, and by my library assistants, Miss Lee, Mrs. Russell, Miss Rosemond and Miss Keller.

The Sixth Biennial Report of the Curator of the Historical department is to appear, as previous reports of that department have appeared, under separate cover.

The first biennial of the Curator of the Law department is herewith appended.

To Hon. Johnson Brigham, State Librarian:

DEAR SIR,—I have the honor to submit herewith my first official report as curator of the law department of the State Library, for the biennial period ending June 30, 1903.

The past two years are marked by the development of the law division of the State Library into a department, and the creation of the office of Curator of the new department.

In carrying out the provisions of the law, the Curator of this department is required to make a report of the progress and work done. Complying herewith, I submit to you the following:

It is a pleasure to state that the various branches of the work have steadily developed, though I have been seriously handicapped through the entire period by the responsibility put upon me, for the time being, by the failure of the last legislature to provide the consolidated library (including the Historical department) with a bookkeeper. It is to be hoped, for the good of the library, and especially the law department, that the next general assembly will supply this evident need.

Accession.

The law department is becoming more and more a source of pride; having been greatly enriched, the past two years, by the accession of many rare and valuable works, the completion of several uncompleted sets, among these, works on early laws, jurisprudence, history of the law and the new reprint of the English reports; also, by the bench and bar proceedings of the several states. And, besides, the recent text and law reports have been brought down to date, making in all a very satisfactory growth, although much more could have been done had our funds permitted. We confidently expect each year to increase the efficiency of the law department. At this time it ranks among the best, but we are not satisfied with even that proud position, our aim being to still further advance Iowa's position among the states maintaining a law library.

Cataloguing.

The law department is undergoing a thorough classification. We are using the old form of subject arrangement (which is, far the best); we are also making author and title cards for each book, and subject cards for all important matter contained therein which has heretofore been a hidden mass of material. By this arrangement one may refer to the cards and draw out all the library contains on a given subject. All new books are carefully classified and catalogued under this system, and we are working back to former purchases and exchanges as time will permit.

Another very important improvement is being made in the Abstracts and Arguments. Heretofore when an attorney called for any of these volumes for a certain case, we were required to ask in what volume of the Iowa reports the said case was found, then find the case, get the term and date of decision, and then go after the Abstracts and Arguments, beginning in the term in which the case was decided, and searching back until the case was found. This often compelled a search of a period of two years; and in a few instances the case was not then found, owing to error in binding or indexing. Under the new card arrangement, should an attorney call for, say "Smith v. Jones," we refer to the cards under the alphabetical arrangement and find "Smith v. Jones, volume 625, page 162, October term, 1898," "abstract," or "rehearing," as the case may be.

We have not as yet been able to complete this work, but are working on it as fast as possible. At this time we are back to the year 1895.

Exchanges.

Our exchange of laws and law reports is becoming more and more satisfactory. With a few exceptions states and territories promptly respond to our tender of exchange. We have effected exchanges with nearly all the Canadian provinces, the latest of these being the Northwest territories. We have also effected an exchange of our laws for those of England. I hope to go further and exchange our law reports with the colonies and other countries. Many of these are slow to respond to our requests of this nature, but I believe the time is not far off when our exchanges abroad will become general. The greatest difficulty at this time is the private publication of these works in not a few provinces and countries.

Counting of Law Books.

For the first time, to my knowledge, the books of the Law department have been counted by classes, thereby giving information that has long been desired. The count is as follows:

Text books, works on Agency, Contracts, Evidences, Railroads, Taxation, etc .....	3,852
State reports, reports of the several states and territories .....	7,257
Report on system, West and Co-operative .....	785
United States, United States court reports .....	773
Foreign reports, principally English and Colonial .....	3,497
Statutes, laws and digests, Nation and States .....	3,932
Statutes, laws and digests, foreign, principally English and English Colonies .....	744
Periodicals, law .....	2,241
Literature of the Law, works on early history, speeches, bench and bar, jurisprudence, etc .....	715
Constitutional Conventions, journals and proceedings .....	175
Trials .....	177
Total .....	24,118

Surplus Stock for Exchange.

Laws .....	2,416
Odd volumes of law .....	32
Odd volumes of law pamphlets .....	125
Law reports .....	858
Total .....	3,431

Larger Accommodation.

The vacant shelf space in the library is fast becoming filled; already we are obliged to pile books on the floor, and in some instances sets have been divided, owing to want of room. It is a question where we shall shelve the hundreds of volumes which are pouring in upon us. Also, the table room in the library is limited. Under the present crowded condition, the lawyer, the doctor, the club woman and the student are frequently compelled to study at the same desk, and to the disadvantage of all. Often persons coming into the library are obliged to sit in chairs in the galleries without tables and proper accommodations, and, of course, are much in the way of readers and students desiring access to the shelves. This embarrassing condition gives much force to the claim for the completion of the new building, which would enable the State Library Board to carry out the law consolidating the miscellaneous portion of the State Library with the Historical department.

Periodicals.

At this time the Law department is receiving regularly thirty-eight legal periodicals, and these are bound into volumes as fast as they are completed. Our aim is to have all the leading law literature to be had, and I may safely say, we are in the front rank along this line, although there yet remain several old and rare periodicals, the purchase of which would greatly strengthen this department.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, I take this occasion to express to you my appreciation for the kindly treatment and encouragement I have ever received at your hand, and to my associates in the library, whom have rendered valuable service in the Law department. I am especially indebted to the second assistant for the good work she has done in cataloguing the books of my department.

Respectfully,

A. J. SMALL,
Curator Law Department.

Permit me in conclusion to present a comparison, drawn from the Official Register of 1893, and the Official Register of 1903, showing the growth of the library movement in Iowa during the past ten years:

Iowa now has 248 public libraries of record, as follows:

	Volumes.
Supported by the state, 22 .....	236,953
College and academic, 36 .....	179,261
Association and subscription, 32 .....	52,080
Free public, 70 .....	336,305
Miscellaneous, 11 .....	89,159
Public school, 77 .....	75,982
Total .....	969,740

In 1893, when library statistics first appeared in the Official Register, Iowa had eighty-three public libraries, as follows:

	Volumes.
Supported by the state, 12 .....	178,974
Association and subscription, 10 .....	81,234
College and academic, 24 .....	95,114

Free public, 15	98,809
Miscellaneous, 7	46,176
Public school, 5	7,850
Total	418,157

An increase of 195 libraries in ten years and an increase of 551,583 volumes in that time!

The present outlook for libraries in the state warrants the prediction that the ratio of increase during the next decade will be at least correspondingly great.

I append herewith a financial statement covering the receipts and expenditures of the several departments during the biennial period; also a list of accessions to the miscellaneous department, and a list of accessions to the law department, during the last biennial period. Respectfully submitted,

JOHNSON BRIGHAM,
State Librarian.

Additions to The General Library, June 30, 1901, to June 30, 1903.

Explanation.

This list is on the same general plan as that published two years ago.

The list of publications of governments and states is now printed separately, not in the classified list as heretofore. Excepted from this list, for the greater convenience of students and specialists, are the geological reports; also other scientific reports and industrial reports by states; also special monographs on various subjects, all of which are included in the class list.

The author index is especially strong in full names, since it is designed to serve as a reference book for cataloguers whose reference works are limited in number. The general use of this bulletin by the librarians of the state leads to the conclusion that progress along uniform lines of development and classification is well begun in Iowa.

The class list is arranged numerically, according to class number, and the author index is in alphabetical order. The order of subjects in the class list is described in the outline of classification which precedes the class list.
