A Time for Reflection

The stage is set for one of the most exciting RVIA Louisville Shows in years, as RV manufacturers and aftermarket suppliers prepare to introduce a new wave of design and technology. The enhancements will bring fresh energy to the full range of RV products – stimulating new sales and giving repeat buyers the reason to trade in and trade up in 2014.

The new wave of innovation comes from R&D that started on the drawing tables as much as 24 months ago. It shows how progress continues at a steady pace – and in a good year, new features can stimulate sales across the full range of RV products.

RV Lifestyle DEALER NEWS is proud to present the annual Canadian RV Dealer of the Year nominee issue, profiling this year's candidates for Canada's most prestigious RV industry award.

This marks the 21st annual presentation... an occasion to reflect on the many changes that take place over the years. For most families, 21 years is a full generation – for the RV industry, the last two decades have been a period of very significant progress.

When we first presented the award, there were more than 40 Canadian RV manufacturers, with factories in almost every province. Our Camping Canada Campground Directory listed 4,000 RV parks from sea to sea, and the Canadian RV Dealer's Association had about 600 members. Today, the RVDA of Canada boasts more than 800 members, there are more than 300,000 fully serviced RV sites in Canadian campgrounds, and on a per capita basis more Canadian families enjoy the RV experience than any other group in the world.

Our RV dealer networks have certainly made a major contribution to this growth, but if you step back and give the camping phenomenon a bit of thought, it soon becomes apparent that the foundation of the RV lifestyle, and the most important sector in the industry, has always been the campgrounds. Without the hard work and welcoming approach that characterizes campground owners and operators throughout North America, the RV industry could never have developed to the level that it enjoys today.

For several years, the nominees for the Canadian RV Dealer of the Year Award have distinguished themselves by acknowledging the contribution that local and regional campgrounds have made to the success of the industry. It is refreshing to see that several of the Canadian RVDA chapters have created programs to assist local campgrounds by providing service and logistical support. It is through cooperation at all levels of the RV industry that the future of the lifestyle will continue to prosper.

“...AND THE NOMINEES ARE...”

RV Lifestyle Magazine and industry representatives recognize some of the top dealers for 2013.

TERRY RUMPEL Glenwood Rv Centre Saskatoon, SK

Terry Rumpel of Glenwood RV Centre of Saskatoon, SK. – a 33-year veteran of the RV industry – has been endorsed and nominated for the coveted Canadian RV Dealer of the Year.

Terry Rumpel

Rumpel began his career at Glenwood after his father started Glenwood RV in 1968. Starting with an overall objective of providing sincere sales and service and maintaining a philosophy of honest business practices and developing a strong emphasis in skills and training, Rumpel and Glenwood RV have enjoyed continued growth and expansion since its inception. To this day, Rumpel still looks forward to continued growth of Glenwood RV and currently represents several lines including Jayco, Pleasure-Way, and is an exclusive Jayco dealer.

“Terry has been an excellent business partner for many years,” says Dave Ash, vice-president of Jayco. “He is a straight shooter, dedicated to the RV business and always conducts himself and his business with a high-degree of integrity.”

With this concept, the Rumpel family opened Pleasure-Way Vans in 1986, starting with just 12 employees and a 5,000 square-foot manufacturing facility. Today the Saskatoon-based manufacturer has expanded its staff of 170

employees housed in an 85,000 square-foot manufacturing facility

Throughout his career, Rumpel has been actively involved in the RVDA of Saskatchewan since its inception in 1996 and served as Director from 1999 to 2000 and Treasurer from 2001 to 2007. He was elected President from 2007 to 2008 and following his term, he remained on the board as Treasurer.

Outside of the industry, Rumpel has one daughter and two sons (who are now working in the RV industry) and has always been actively involved in his children’s sports and extracurricular activities. Rumpel and Glenwood RV also support various local charity organizations throughout the year, including The Children’s Wish Foundation of Canada.

“The staff of Glenwood RV has been great to all of our wish families,” says Tenay Diggins, Wish Coordinator for The Children’s Wish Foundation of Canada. “Children’s Wish truly appreciates making the wishes of our wish children come true as these families have been through so much.”

“HE IS A STRAIGHT SHOOTER, DEDICATED TO THE RV BUSINESS AND ALWAYS CONDUCTS HIMSELF AND HIS BUSINESS WITH A HIGH-DEGREE OF INTEGRITY”

KYLE REDMOND

Bucars RV Centre / Balzac, AB

Kyle Redmond has been involved in the RV Industry for more than 20 years after his family purchased Bucars RV in 1989. Like many family businesses in the RV industry, Redmond became active in the business at a young age, climbing up the company ladder, working in every business segment of the dealership – from rentals and parts to service and sales – before going full-time in 1998.

Today, Redmond shares the General Manager role with his brother Jeff (since 2006) and through dedication to customer service, strong family/community values and a focus on staff training, Redmond has played a pivotal role in the growth and success of Bucars.

A founding member of the RVDA of Alberta, Bucars RV Centre first opened in 1959, before being purchased by the Redmond family. Under the new ownership, the family business started with just 10 employees in a rented facility. Over the years, the business eventually expanded to 65 employees in a 16-service bay, 40,000 square-foot modern RV service center and dealership.

The business's focus and dedication on customer service is reflected in Bucars' RV mission statement, "We are a family-owned and operated RV dealership that prides itself in providing quality products and services for RV enthusiasts." This emphasis on service has been recognized by the RVDA of Alberta as well as The RVDA of Canada with Dealer of the Year awards. Bucars has also been recognized by RV Business magazine with its Top 50 Dealer Award, which, according to the publication is "a quality-focused program that sets the bar for best business practices in the RV industry."

Redmond has an extensive career within the RVDA at provincial and national levels. He has served on the Alberta Board of Directors from 2007 to 2012 and served as the association's President for 2012 – 2013. He also served on the RVDA of Canada Board from 2010 to present and is currently the Chairman.

He also extends his time and efforts to epitomizing Bucars' commitment to the RV Industry, by performing any task or function asked of him. He has chaired the local Calgary RV Show committee, served on dealer councils, and is currently participating in the acclaimed Spader 20 Groups. Redmond also serves the local business community.

Born and raised in Calgary, AB., where he currently resides with his wife, Ruby, and three children, Ava, Isabella, and William, Redmond has supported his children's extracurricular activities (both financially and morally) and volunteers for numerous community groups including the Rotary Club, the Young Canadians of the Calgary Stampede and The Kids Cancer Care Foundation of Alberta. He has served as coach of his son's hockey and soccer teams and is actively involved in the Calgary Old-timers Hockey. Besides playing and coaching hockey, Kyle also enjoys golf, skiing and when he can, surfing.

HERB COWEN

Pike Lake Golf Club & Trailer Sales
Clifford, On

With a series of accomplishments to his credit, it's a natural progression for Herb Cowen of Pike Lake Golf Club and Trailer Sales to be nominated and endorsed for the Canadian RV Dealer of the Year.

Cowen's involvement in the industry includes being actively involved in the ORVDA since 1989 where he served as board member, president and has hosted several association and training seminars. He has also been a member of two show committees, the OPCA, and was a "driving force” in shaping the future of the ORVDA RV shows and events.

“Herb has always worked with the ORVDA to help provide assistance and support to their endeavors,” says Bryan Baker, General Manager of Northlander Industries. “His support goes beyond simply providing a facility for training sessions and seminars. Herb’s goal was to make the event a favorable experience both professionally and personally and make every participant feel proud to be part of the organization.”

Cowen began his career at Pike Lake Golf Club and Trailer Sales under the guidance of his father, Irv, who founded the RV facility approximately 50 years ago. What started as a dealership with one inventory model and an inexperienced sales/service staff has grown into a second, even third generation business with a campground and golf course. The facility is also considered one of the most professional dealerships in the province with its first-rate service facilities, parts store, trained technicians, and sales/administration staff.

According to Baker, Cowen and Pike Lake has been a Northlander dealer for 40-plus years and have sold more than $70 million in product. However, what built Pike Lake to what is it today was Cowen’s core values that included “work hard,” “show respect,” “treat people fair,” and “provide a quality product” – values that still stand prominent today.

Despite his impressive career, his dedication is not limited to the RV industry.

A prime example of Cowen being a pillar of the community was when Cowen and Pike Lake donated $17,000 to the local Harrison Fire Department for improvement and upgrades during Pike Lake’s 50th Anniversary in 2011. Pike Lake has also assisted with the Mayor’s Charity Golf Tournament for the last three years (to benefit local service groups) while the Mary Lynne Forrest Memorial Golf Tourney has raised more than $390,000 in six years to benefit hospitals in the communities of Mount Forest and Palmerston, Ontario.

IAN MOORE
Big Boys Toys / Nanoose Bay, BC

With an honest approach of dealing with retail customers/business partners, and his dedication to the series of provincial and national RV associations, Ian Moore has been nominated and endorsed for Canadian RV Dealer of the Year.

Augusta RV Making all the Right Moves

In the last 20 months, Augusta RV, a start-up company based in Bristol, IN, is swiftly moving forward with an eye to the future, introducing new models, a series of floorplans, and a growing dealer body in Canada and the United States.

“Right now we have approximately 70 to 80 dealers in the U.S. and Canada,” says Randy Nielsen, Vice-President of Customer Care for Augusta RV. “Our dealer body is increasing tremendously, especially in Canada. Alberta is our strongest province right now. Quebec is strong, too, but had an off selling-season in the spring due to the weather. New Brunswick also has strong sales, but the dealers in Alberta are selling our product very well.”

Nielsen pertains this success in Canada to having a series of good, strong dealers that understand its product, know its product, and most importantly, know how to sell it. With a very high-end construction process that includes using hung-fiberglass sidewalls, (high-gloss gel coat) and an all aluminum-cage construction with sixteen-inch centers, the Bristol, IN-based manufacturer offers a very competitive product against the larger players throughout Indiana and the mid-west.

As Augusta’s current line includes fifth wheels ranging from 29 to 36 feet, with a line of travel trailers ranging from 26 to 37 feet, the company reports its fifth wheel line is very popular and doing well among its dealer body. They have also just introduced two new floor plans plus a new model this past September called the LUXE – a high-line fifth wheel featuring residential appointments and features. According to the company, all Augusta RV units come with a one-year hitch to bumper warranty and a two-year limited structural warranty. Augusta also offers what is called the “Flex Care warranty program that, in addition to many benefits, provides Coach-Net emergency road side assistance in the event of an accident or mechanical breakdown.

Nielsen explained that while the company went through “a bit of a learning curve” in 2012, Augusta found its ground in the Spring of 2013 after revamping its fifth wheel and travel trailer lines with décor, design and wood changes. In turn, Augusta reported a 4,200 percent increase – a considerable statistic given the company began 2012 with low retail registration. Since January 2012, they have doubled its work force, office staff, as well as its product line and even production.

“It’s all showing for us right now,” said Nielsen. “When you’re competing against larger companies it gets challenging. We have been blessed with signing good dealers that see the value in our product and in turn, they are selling units.”

Currently, Augusta RV is working to meet dealer orders for the remainder of 2013 and into the early part of 2014 with plans of increased exposure at the series of upcoming dealer and retail shows across the U.S. For instance, Augusta RV will be showcasing eight models this year in Louisville at its 9,000 square-foot exhibiting space with further plans to support its dealers at retail shows throughout the year.

“Being a smaller company we have the leverage to do what dealers need. We are here to help at retail shows and if they need a floor plan change to a model, we can adjust to accommodate their needs. Larger companies that do 25 to 30 units per day don’t have the ability to adapt and meet specific changes. We can adapt to our dealer body, service their needs, and have a relationship that we can grow and strive with.”

Danzy Move Proves Efficient Delivery; Customer Service

Following the announcement of Danzy Distributors expanding their delivery network into Alberta, the company has just moved distribution operations into a 72,000 square-foot warehouse in Calgary, AB. The move into a larger facility was made in efforts for more efficient and streamlined deliveries to its business partners in Western Canada.

In addition to establishing new truck routes to service customers in Alberta such as Red Deer, Edmonton and Calgary on a daily basis, Victor Byskal, Western Canada Regional Sales Manager for parent company Robert Thibert Inc, owners of Danzy Distributors, explains the new facility will house a call center, customer service center and logistics purchasing centre for the company.

“The new warehouse will be the hub of our operations for Western Canadian provinces,” says Byskal. “We now have the potential for deliveries further south in Alberta including Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, and other areas that we haven’t gotten to before.”

With operations now under “all one roof” Byskal explained they will be able to stock and supply more product in a more streamlined manner, providing same-day delivery to retail outlets and dealers in Western Canada.

“One aspect where we will save on is shipping and delivery times,” said Byskal. “For instance, where we will save is on Danzy’s RV Pro Line. In the past, the product has been coming in from our overseas suppliers and going on rail through Calgary to Montreal, then back. Now, for this particular product, it will ship directly from Vancouver, which not only offset our costs and time, but provide savings and efficient deliveries for our customers. The response so far has been good. We are not the only guys in the game but we haven’t gotten away from our customers. We have a multi-million dollar investment in serving our customers better.”

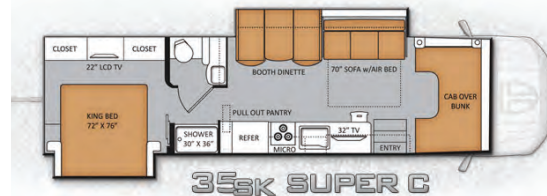

Thor Motorcoach “Super Sizes” Class C Diesel for 2014

Thor Motor Coach gets bigger and better for 2014 with the launch of its new 35SK Super C RV, the latest addition to the company’s line of “Super C Diesel Motorhomes.”

Launched in October at the California RV Show in Pomona, CA, the 35SK has the strength and power for optimum towing and carrying capacity thanks to the Ford F-550 chassis and PowerStroke 6.7L diesel that offers 300 hp and 620 pounds-feet of torque.

“With great feedback from our customers on the original 33SW Super C Motorhomes, we were able to design and bring to market the 35SK addressing the needs of Class C Motorhome buyer wanting additional space, with diesel power,” said Joel Grimm, National Sales Manager for Class C & Gas Class A Motorhomes of Thor Motor Coach. “These New Super C RVs deliver on all levels, including better driving comfort, large towing capacity, creative and spacious interior design, and room to entertain a gathering of one or eight.”

Optimum towing and carrying capacity is provided thanks to the Ford F-550 chassis and hefty PowerStroke 6.7L diesel.

According to Thor, the 35SK offers exceptional living space, with a slide-out that expands to a sofa/dinette area, creating an ideal entertaining hub. A cab-over home theater entertainment center with a 50-inch LCD TV and sound bar can be optioned in the cab-over, replacing the standard 32-inch LCD TV. The interior is also complemented with rich furniture, LED lighting, a residential 18-cubic-foot refrigerator and 30-inch over-the-range microwave. An oversize pantry and pull-out countertop adds extra space and convenience. Expect to see the 35SK at the upcoming National RV Trade Show in Louisville, KY.

RV Care Network: Show of Strength for its Canadian Dealers

British Columbia-based RV Care Network Ltd., is moving forward for 2014 with a strong mandate on providing optimum service and support for its Canadian dealer-base and its customers.

Following the announcement of its alliance with U.S.-based Priority RV Network at the turn of 2013, the RV Care Network significantly strengthened its dealer-base for providing emergency services for Canadian RVers travelling south of the border.

“Through our alliance with Priority RV Network, we now have more than a hundred RV dealers throughout the U.S., in which an RV Care dealer can call and take care of their customer,” says Earl Manning, Vice-President, RV Care Network Ltd. “It’s a philosophy of providing a quality dealer that will look after that customer and is a reciprocal agreement for Priority RV customers travelling north.”

In addition to this support, the company is continuing to concentrate efforts on dealer marketing tools and programs to increase sales, traffic, and excitement for RV Care dealerships and their customers in Canada.

According to Manning, in the past year, RV Care Network launched a series of Retail Parts Events, hosted at RV Care dealerships across the country. The events – centered around key selling seasons throughout the year – identify a series of seasonal and non-seasonal RV products from its partner suppliers. The events were held in efforts to increase sales and traffic for its dealers and were held prior to the May 24th long weekend and July 1 long weekend and the fall winterizing season.

“The events were very successful,” says Manning. “In each case we put together a themed promotion around the spring, summer and fall and held national promotions on seasonal and non-seasonal products with strong advertising/pricing in efforts for the dealers to generate larger sales.”

Other efforts from RV Care include providing digital, online and print tools for its dealer-base. For example, Manning explained that the RV Care App, introduced approximately two years ago for tablets, cell phones and similar technology, is becoming more popular with continued growth in the last year. Designed to provide a quick, easy source of finding an RV Care or Priority RV dealer location for support in an emergency, the App will even provide all the necessary information even if a live connection isn’t available.

“Our marketing tools continue to be developed,” said Manning. “We have videos for dealers’ websites and stores, electronic images for messages on video monitors in showrooms, and supply marketing tools they may require for newsletters and/or websites. We are always working to develop additional tools to help them with merchandising and sales at their dealership.”

CCRVC Plans Priorities For Canadian Campground Industry

Following the announcement of the Canadian Camping and RV Council (CCRVC), which was devised to be an advocate for the camping and RV industry in Canada, the association has so far accomplished a series of initiatives in efforts to support this sector of the industry.

Created and funded by the Canadian Recreation Vehicle Association (CRVA), RVDA of Canada and Campgrounds Camping Canada, the CCRVC has so far represented campgrounds at select association events and has recognized the Seasonal Assessment issue in New Brunswick. A strategic planning session for the CCRVC was also held in November.

“It’s still a young organization, but what we are seeing is much more communication between the CCRVC and the associations of our industry, which is a good start,” said Maryse Catellier, President of the CCRVC. “Right now, we are communicating on a monthly basis and moving forward.”

– Maryse Catellier, President of the CCRVC.

“We will invest whatever it takes in the CCRVC because we have to,” added Roger Faulkner, vice-chair of the CCRVC (who also serves as Chairman of the CRVA). Faulkner explained that CCRVC has no intention of dictating to the campground operators, but rather work very closely with the provincial campground owners associations to determine what direction they want to take.

“We need to concentrate more efforts in this sector and one way to succeed is to assist the provincial campgrounds associations to grow our industry,” said Faulkner. Without campgrounds, dealers and manufacturers have no place for their customers to park their units. We need to get them to realize that we are moving forward with this and it takes support of what we want to do for the campgrounds – we are prepared to provide that support.”

GE CAPITAL CDF CANADA: An Eye to the Future in the Canadian RV Industry

Increased dealer confidence, higher inventory turns and more competition within the inventory financing sector through 2013 all indicate a stronger year ahead for the Canadian Recreational Vehicle (RV) industry, according to Howard Shiebler, President and CEO of GE Capital, Commercial Distribution Finance (CDF) Canada.

While these positive signs are a reflection of a stronger Canadian economy and increased consumer confidence, Shiebler and CDF Canada continue to move forward with providing floor planning and inventory management expertise for its approximate 3,500 Canadian dealers, 300 of which are RV dealers, across about 16 industries.

Shiebler explains that CDF Canada is successful in large part thanks to its specialization in inventory finance. Moreover, its sales representatives are experts in each industry they represent, from RVs to marine to motorsports and beyond.

“We can loan RV dealers money like any other financial institutions, but we also offer precise expertise in specific areas of the RV business,” said Shiebler. “We understand the nuances, the needs and all that goes into what is important to RV dealers. We know the industry – what’s going on with manufacturers, the trends, what models are selling at the shows and everything that the dealer has to go through.”

Howard Shiebler, President and CEO of GE Capital, Commercial Distribution Finance (CDF) Canada.

As one of the largest inventory finance providers in North America, Shiebler explained that CDF Canada also has the resources to put millions of dollars into technology to meet additional needs of its customers.

“Technology, if used properly, can deliver productivity, speed, and ease of doing business, all of which can help dealers make better decisions every day for their business.”

Shiebler forecasts a solid 2014 for the Canadian RV Industry based upon improving economic forecasts and the 2013 momentum. This year, the RV industry has seen wholesale volume up nearly 9 percent and liquidations north of 10 percent year-over-year from 2012.

“These are very healthy signs. It shows that the dealers are reducing aged inventory, selling more product, and restocking – showing confidence in continued growth,” said Shiebler. “For 2014, we think the RV industry is looking at volume growth of 3.5 to 4 percent, compared to projected overall Canadian GDP growth of 2-2.5 percent. I hope we are on the conservative side of that, which is what I am suggesting for 2014.”

As the economy continues to show more strength, it is apparent that more banks and financial institutions are involved in lending to RV dealers, which, in turn, provides more competition for CDF Canada.

“As the economy continues to improve, banks and lending institutions are all trying to deploy their capital, which is good news for RV dealers because it provides them with more choices. Believe it or not, we believe additional competition in our space is healthy. It’s healthy for the industry, it keeps us sharp and provides customers with options. So, it’s a good thing that more capital is finding its way into the RV space.”

PROVINCIAL RVDA ASSOCIATIONS: UPDATES, MANDATES AND CHANGES

RVDA of Alberta

In addition to the announcement of the new board of directors for the RVDA of Alberta for 2013-2014, the association has a key initiative of providing more emphasis on the development, support and association-involvement of the campground facilities throughout the province, according to Kyle Redmond, Past-President of the RVDA of Alberta and Chairman of the Board for the RVDA of Canada.

“Right now, there’s a bottleneck effect with the campgrounds as far as the number of facilities available to accommodate the number of RVers and the newer style of RVs,” says Redmond. “Twenty-one percent of households in Alberta own an RV, which is pretty high. The shortage of facilities needs to be recognized as the campgrounds play a pivotal role in the RV industry and lifestyle.”

According to Redmond, RVers currently need to book several months in advance to guarantee a campground for their vacation while many campgrounds require upgrades or modifications. Involving the campgrounds within the association to generate solutions, plus having dealers educate consumers more on the camping experience are just a few ways of rectifying a solution.

“As an RV dealer myself, we need to place more emphasis in educating the RV consumer on the whole camping experience,” says Redmond. “For instance, rather than just selling a unit and explaining set up and operation, we need to encourage the campground and RV lifestyle to customers.”

According to Redmond, since the initiative was brought to the table approximately 20 campgrounds have signed on for membership of the association.

Some other key initiatives set out by the RVDA of Alberta for 2013-2014 include expanding relations with Travel Alberta & Tourism Alberta, increase the number of attendees for the seminars and workshops at the association’s RV Learning Weekend in May, and encourage young people to enter into the RV Industry through training programs at the Southern Institute of Technology in Calgary (SAIT) and other facilities.

RVDA OF British Columbia

Efforts to request the Government of British Columbia change legislation and allow dealers to import, service, take on trade and sell either Z240 (CSA) or NFPA1192 (RVIA) units is just one key initiative the RVDA of British Columbia is concentrating on for 2013 – 2014.

According to the RVDA of BC, units are built to an approved standard as recognized in each country and the U.S. models are available for import by consumers without certification or alteration. The dealers are requesting the same opportunity as the consumer.

“In Canada, different provinces require that RVs imported from the U.S.

The RVDA of BC is working to change legislation and allow dealers to import, service, take on trade and sell either Z240 (CSA) or NFPA1192 (RVIA) units.

have third party certification (i.e. CSA, QAI) stickers affixed to the unit,” says Chris Clarke, President of the RVDA of British Columbia. “Provinces to the east, Alberta and Saskatchewan have successfully changed their legislation to allow dealers to import either Z240 (CSA) or NFPA1192 (US) units. We are hoping to accomplish the same thing in British Columbia”.

According to Clarke, the change in legislation of the CSA and QAI standards provide several benefits for dealers. In addition to reducing costs and time, dealers are able to obtain quicker turn around times for purchasing units, gain inventory turns throughout the season, and the ability to buy open inventory from a manufacturer’s yard stock.

“Right now, BC dealers are not able to take advantage of buying open inventory from a manufacturer because the units are non-CSA approved. Getting the units approved also means added expense.”

RVDA of Ontario

Concentrating efforts on its RV consumer shows is the key mandate the RVDA of Ontario (ORVDA) is working towards for 2013-2014.

While the ORVDA is meeting mid-December to determine a two-show schedule for 2014, it's moving forward with the long-standing Hamilton RV Show, scheduled January 31 – February 2, 2014. The show is also scheduled to be held at a new venue, the Player's Paradise in Stoney Creek, ON. The show was previously held at an alternate facility in the Hamilton area.

"The Hamilton RV Show will be at Player's Paradise in Stoney Creek, ON, which is a 90,000 square-foot facility with a six-court soccer field without posts or obstructions," says Larry Boyd, executive vice-president of the ORVDA. "It is 52 feet high, well lit with windows and lighting, and is right on the Q.E.W. for easy accessibility."

Boyd explained that in the past, the ORVDA shows have been sold out with an overall objective to provide a profitable and successful show for exhibitors.

"At the moment, the ORVDA will be meeting December 16 to discuss whether we are having two shows. It's on our agenda, but right now, the dealers seem to want two shows. My feeling is that a two-show program will continue but it has to be voted on by the board of directors."

Boyd also explained to RV Dealer News that at its 2013 Fall Show dealers sold 236 units and sales were up $3 million from the previous year.

- Herb Cowen, President, Pike Lake Golf Club and Trailer Sales, Clifford, ON
- Keith Stapleton, Vice-President, Gimme Shelter Ltd., Shelburne, ON

RVDA of Manitoba

The RVDA of Manitoba is moving forward in 2014 with a full agenda to include working with the Manitoba Public Insurance (MPI) to obtain commercial-rates for when dealers perform repairs on insurance claims for RV units.

According to Geoff Powell, executive director of the RVDA of Manitoba, dealers in the province currently fall under the automotive repair rate under MPI. Manitoba Public Insurance is a non-profit Crown corporation automotive insurance provider based in Manitoba.

"We are currently working with MPI in efforts to get better, commercial-style rates for our membership when they conduct insurance claim repairs. We are also concentrating on getting accreditation for RV dealers," says Powell. "If dealers are accredited doing the work then we hope they receive an improved rate, versus a dealer that isn't accredited who will receive the current rate paid. So we are currently working with MPI to determine a minimum standard."

Another key mandate in the association's schedule for 2013-2014 includes working with the Office of the Fire Commissioner in Manitoba to further regulate the necessity on RV safety standards between commercial, non-dealers and private unit sales. Currently, according to Powell, RV dealerships in Manitoba are required to have a label/permit on units and obtain a "seal of approval" from the Office of the Fire Commissioner to ensure safety before any sales are final on an RV. The regulation doesn't apply to non-dealers or private sales.

"What's happening is there are non-dealers and private individuals out there that buy RV units in the United States, bring them over the boarder and sell them without obtaining a label / permit. Right now, it costs the RV dealer between $500 to $1000 per unit to bring it up to the level for the inspection. These non-dealers and private sellers are not part of our dealer group and we want to try and level the playing field."

RVDA Atlantic Canada

According to John Sutherland, Executive Director of The RVDA of Atlantic Canada, dealer training through the Spader Group Business Management and being involved in two Atlantic RV shows are just some of the top mandates for the association in 2013 – 2014.

According to Sutherland, the exclusive dealer training with representatives from the Spader 20 Group will be taking place mid-December in Moncton, NB.

“We are running the Spader 20 Group training course in regards to best practices and concepts in hiring good employees,” says Sutherland. “We recognize these are very-well acknowledged trainers and we heavily subsidize these courses so they are more accessible to the smaller RV businesses in our membership.

Sutherland also explained the association is participating in two RV shows to kick-start the selling season for participating dealers. Shows include The Halifax RV Show, January 23 – 26, and the Moncton RV Show, February 21-23.

“These shows are very important to the start of the season for our members and RV dealers,” says Sutherland. “From a consumer perspective, there’s a tremendous range of product, plus a vast selection of makes and models of RV units. We think this is a real benefit to the consumer. One of the prime benefits for dealers of course, is it gives them a jump start to the new season in respect to sales.”

Two popular RV shows are scheduled to take place in the Atlantic Provinces, including The Halifax RV Show, January 23 – 26, and The Moncton RV Show, February 21-23.

IAN MOORE Big Boys Toys / Nanoose Bay, BC

With an extensive background in land management and development with his family's businesses, it was approximately 15 years ago when Moore began his career in the RV Industry, after he and his family purchased 50 percent of Big Boy's Toys Ltd. and subsequently purchased the remaining shares in 2001.

Since Moore's involvement, the company has more than doubled its staff with up to 18 full-time employees and in July 2000, the company moved from a one-acre property to its current eight-acre site with a facility that includes a large business office and showroom, parts store, and a 5,000 square-foot service department.

There's no denying that Moore has been actively involved in the industry. He has served with the RVDA of British Columbia for many years as a Board Member, Treasurer, Vice-President and President. Following his term as President, he continued on as Past-President for an additional two terms. On the national level, Moore has been involved with the RVDA of Canada as Director, Treasurer, Vice-Chair, Chairman and is presently the association's Past Chairman.

Outside of the industry, Moore lends his knowledge and expertise to community organizations and is an active member of the Better Business Bureau and is an active supporter of the local Chamber of Commerce. Other involvements in the community for Moore and Big Boy's Toys include supporting community literacy, local food banks through their annual "Help Fill the MoHo With Food" Campaign, Scouts Canada, The Canadian Cancer Society, Wishful Thinking and the Royal Canadian Legion's Poppy Fund.

"The growth at Big Boy's Toys since Ian's involvement and the integrity, with which he deals with both Jayco and our customers have only added to the respect and appreciation that we have for him," says Derald Bontrager, President and CEO of Jayco. "Simply put, Ian runs the kind of dealership that every manufacturer strives to have as a partner." 🍀
