Youghal Branch.
A special meeting of the above held at the Devonshire Arms Hotel, there attended Mr. Justin Condon, Chairman; Col. Roche, D.S.O., President; J. F. Deane, Hon. Treasurer; O. Crobie, Mr. Walsh, P.C., Town Clerk; J. R. O'Connell, P.C.; P. James and E. G. Halpin, Assistant Secretaries.

The Chairman said they had met to consider certain matters arising out of the present situation, and to ensure that every possible would be done to maintain the boat for any sudden call that might be made on her crew.

A general discussion the members entered themselves fully satisfied that the main Engineer and Crew would be ready should their services be required.

A letter of resignation was read from A. N. Cole, who had been for many years the Secretary of the local Branch. The Chairman said they had deeply regretted that under the orders of his doctor, Cole had found it necessary to lighten work. He paid a high tribute to the untiring attention Mr. Cole had given to the duties of his office, and said that people had a proper conception of immense amount of work voluntarily undertaken by the Secretaries of the local branches. It wasn't too much to say that successful working of the Branch depended almost entirely on the Hon. Secretary and on him who act the main responsibility for the launching and service of the Boat. He proposed a most cordial vote of thanks to Mr. Cole, expressing the hope that he would remain a member of the Committee, and help to advise his seniors.

The proposition was seconded by Col. Roche, who referred to Mr. Cole's services in the highest terms. Messrs. Walsh, McGrath, Smyth, and Mr. Philip James, acting secretary, all undertook to act as Hon. Secretary at the next Annual General Meeting.

The Accounts, presented by Mr. Deane, showed a substantial credit account about £100 having been received annual subscriptions and through the efforts of the Ladies' Committee. It was noted that in view of the heavy calls on the funds many subscribers had doubted the possibility of the launching and service of the boat with great generosity to whole service.

Before Mr. Troy, D.J.
LICENSING SESSIONS.
There were no objections to the applications for renewals of publican's license by Superintendent Walsh.
LICENSE TRANSFER.
A transfer of license to Catherine Crotty, Sexton Street, Abbeyside, which had been in the name of her deceased husband, was granted, on the application of Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.

DANCE LICENSES.
An application on behalf of Norah Monahan, Ocean View Hotel, Clonsa, for renewal of the annual dance license on the same terms as last year was granted, there being no objection.
William O'Leary, Mitchell Street, Dungarvan, represented by Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., applied for a renewal of the dance license for the Town Hall.

There was no objection, Superintendent Walsh, stating that although repairs which it had been promised would be carried out had not so far been done, they would be carried out as soon as possible, he understood.
The application was granted.
Patrick Keys, Garranbane, represented by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., applied for a renewal of the dancing license in respect of the Pike Amusement Hall, on the same terms as last year. There were no objections and the license was granted.

EXEMPTION ORDERS.
Exemption Orders were granted to all the licensees who made applications.
CIVIL BILLS.
Messrs. A. R. Farrell, T. C. Williams, and E. A. Ryan, solrs., applied for plain writs in a number of Civil Bills in which decrees or adjournments were granted.

ROAD OFFENCES.
John Power, Killonegan, Patrick Barron, Ballinamona, Oldparish, and John Hourigan, Goulane, Oldparish, were each fined 2/6 for using unlighted bicycles.
Mary Kyrne, Barnastooka, was fined 2/6 for allowing an animal, her property, to wander on the roadside.

LICENSED PREMISES OFFENCE.
Supt. Walsh charged Maurice Keane, Mary Street, with a breach of the licensing laws, and a number of others with being on the premises after hours.
Guard Giblin gave evidence of visiting the licensed premises of the defendant, with Guard O'Dea, at 11.10 p.m. and of being admitted by Mr. Keane. There were five men in the bar, two of whom were travellers. The others were in the kitchen. The latter apparently went to get out at the rear, but there were two other guards there. The offence was admitted.

Mr. Farrell, solr., who appeared for the defendants, stated that the circumstances were that when the two travellers were being admitted, the others pushed their way in, although the licensee objected. Mr. Keane found it hard to refuse them as they were friends of his. He would plead for leniency for the licensee who had held the license for 28 years with no record on it. There was no trouble on the occasion and the offence was admitted. It wasn't long after the closing hour, and the men hadn't been noisy.
The Justice—I will have to impose a penalty of £5, with a record.
The other defendants were fined 5/- each.

LARCENY.
Michael Kenneally, Thompson's Lane, Dungarvan, was charged with breaking into the house of his brother-in-law, Wm. O'Brien, Kilminton twice, and stealing on the first occasion £18 and £20, and on the second occasion 6/4.
Mr. Farrell, solr., who defended, said that the offence was admitted.
Superintendent Walsh said that William O'Brien, who was employed by the County Council, locked his door each morning going to work. On the evening of July 12, on returning from work he found that a trunk in which he kept some money had been moved from its proper position. On opening it he found that £20 had been taken. Defendant admitted taking £18.
This was not reported at the time. On August 29, defendant evidently broke the window and took 6/4. When Kenneally was interviewed he admitted the offence. The defendant had spent the money drinking with friends, it would seem.
Mr. Farrell said that his client denied spending the money on drink. He was a married man with a wife and four children, and was unemployed. He had been in hospital, and was in poor circumstances when he came out. He had got a right when he realized what he had done and found that the amount was £18.
He had spent the money purchasing food, clothes, and medicine. He had not been able to get work. He had a recommendation from a former employer, and was willing to pay back the money in weekly instalments when he got work.
Superintendent Walsh said they knew some of the associates with whom the defendant drank the money.
Defendant denied that he had ever been

Annuity dance license was also granted to Bridget Power, Kereen, of James Daly, Hon. Sec., Cappoquin.

ROAD OFFENCES.
Superintendent Walsh said that this step would be advisable and necessary.
The usual Exemption Orders were granted to all applicants.
GARDA CASES.
Denis Rogers and Thomas Walsh, Waterford, were charged with another man, had appeared at a former court, three abreast on the road at Ballyhane were fined 2s. 6d. each.

ADJOURNMENT.
Mr. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, for Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., asked for adjournments of a number of cases, which were granted.
SHEEP SCAB CHARGE.
William Connell, Graigue, Villierstown, was summoned for having on his lands two sheep affected by scab, and omitting to give notice of this to the local authorities.
Mr. Halley, solicitor, appeared for the Diseases of Animals Committee.
Superintendent Walsh, stated that four sheep, all of whom were affected by scab, were found on the defendant's lands, two had scab. A short time ago he had sold six sheep, all of whom were affected by scab. The sheep affected were bad cases.
Mr. Halley said he was confining the charge to two sheep on defendant's land.

Defendant said he did not see anything wrong with the sheep.
Mr. Halley said it was remarkable that the sheep which were sold were affected, but he had sold six sheep, all of whom were affected by scab. If cases of scab were not reported, it might mean there would be an outbreak of a horse power, as it was home-made.
Mr. Byrne said that defendant, once he had received instructions, carried them out very well.
A fine of 1s. was imposed, with 30s. costs, two months being allowed for payment.

TRAFFIC OFFENCES.
Michael McCarthy, Cappoquin, for using an unlighted bicycle, was fined 2s. 6d.
Thomas Scanlon, Abanboy, for driving a motor trolley without a tail-light was fined 1s. 6d.
For unlighted bicycle offences the following fines were imposed—Denis Scanlon, Curragroche, Villierstown, 2s. 6d.; Michael O'Donnell, Tourin, 1s. 6d.; and Patrick Foley, 2s. 6d. and 1s. 6d.
Philip French, Roden, Grange, for having a motor tractor unlighted on the road after lighting-up time, was fined 2s. 6d.
Patrick McCarthy, Ballyhane, was fined 2s. 6d. for an unlighted vehicle offence.
In another charge against the same defendant of having an unlighted tractor, binder on the road after lighting-up time, defendant said that there was no way of carrying a light on a tractor and binder. He had been offered one, but refused it. He was fined 2s. 6d.
Jas. Eckett, Knocknagerragh, for using an unlighted bicycle, was fined 2s. 6d.
Jeremiah Condon, Sarfield St., Clonsilla, for having only one front light on a motor trolley, was fined 2s. 6d.
Cornelius Walsh, Castlegreagh, Clogheen, for having only one front light and no tail light, was fined 2s. 6d.
Michael Whelan, O'Connell Street, Dungarvan, for having no licence for his car, was fined 2s. 6d.

HOME-MADE TRACTOR.
John Beston, Dromore, was summoned for having no road tax driving licence or insurance for a land tractor.
The Justice—What horse power is it?
It was stated, in reply, that it was of no definite horse power, as it was home-made.
The defendant said he hadn't known whether it would be successful or not, and he had intended, if it was successful, to tax and insure it.
There was also a summons for not having the wheels of his tractor properly shod.
The Justice, saying that he did not wish to discourage mechanical inventiveness, imposed a fine of 1s. 3d. on each of the four charges.
BOWLING AT ROCKFIELD.
For offences against the Traffic Act, Supt. Walsh, Dungarvan, charged 15 men from WEST WATERFORD BOARD—G.A.A.

SPECIAL MEETING.
At a special meeting of the Western Divisional Board, G.A.A., at Egan's Hotel, Dungarvan, on Thursday, September 26th, there were present, Messrs. P. Whelan, Chairman, T. Kyrne, Secretary, J. Goode, Co. Board, Declan Sullivan, John Conery (Dungarvan), P. Cliffe and J. Cotter (Slieve Gullion), Michael Downey and David Power (St. Annes), John Hayes and M. Noonan (Abbeyside), J. Mason and L. Ryan (Cappoquin), E. Fitzgerald (Cathal Brugha).

FIXTURES.
The first business of the meeting was to fix a venue for the Junior Hurling group final, Dungarvan v. St. Annes. The date was fixed as 8th October.
In reply to J. Hayes, Abbeyside, the Secretary stated regarding the Junior hurling match, St. Annes v. Abbeyside, that any player ordered off the field was automatically suspended for a month.
As a venue for the hurling match J. Hayes proposed Dungarvan and M. Noonan seconded. The whole county vote was in favour of Dungarvan.

David Power, St. Annes, said that St. Annes would not travel to Dungarvan. He proposed Leamybrien.
M. Noonan—The Leamybrien pitch is not fit for a hurling match.
J. Hayes—At a previous meeting of this Board it was decided that Leamybrien was not a fit field for a hurling match.
Chairman—We should try to meet the situation as fairly as possible. St. Annes have come three times to Dungarvan to play matches and they deserve some consideration. If Dungarvan were in St. Annes' position they would not be anxious to travel to Kilmachthomas.

Another delegate said that the Dungarvan club understood that St. Annes would come to Dungarvan and get expenses. They had then offered to bring the match to Cappoquin and give 30/- expenses to St. Annes and receive none themselves, and St. Annes would not agree.
J. Mason said he would be totally against a club getting a match at a venue other than their own. He had too much experience of that.
E. Fitzgerald—St. Annes have done a lot of travelling. The whole county vote was in favour of Dungarvan.

M. Noonan—A match should not be played in a field which isn't fit for hurling. Besides the rules demand enclosure and nets.
E. Fitzgerald—The field in Leamybrien is all right in general, except for the goal. J. Mason—The match in Tallow on Sunday was in a recognised pitch, and it was disgraceful. The whole county vote was in favour of Dungarvan.
D. Power—I got a field last year which I am sure is better than any other. We only want a neutral venue, and Leamybrien is half way.

Another delegate said that if the match was played in Leamybrien the crowd would be encroaching on the pitch in the first ten minutes of playing bowls.
J. Mason—We will have an important match in Cappoquin on Sunday, and we'll have no side-line, and allow no one on the side-line.
Chairman—I have all my life been against side-lines.
After further discussion D. Power said it would not be fair to put the matter to a vote. St. Annes would not go to Dungarvan.
Finally D. Power proposed Leamybrien as a venue, and M. Downey seconded. As a result of a show of hands the venue was fixed for Dungarvan by 5 votes, against 2 votes for Leamybrien.

D. Power—I am no good fixing it for Dungarvan. We won't be with the West-ern Board next year.
J. Hayes proposed giving St. Annes 30/- expenses.
The Chairman said he could understand St. Annes having a grievance about this match. He was sure Dungarvan or Abbeyside would not like to go down to Kilmachthomas in the same circumstances. He suggested that Joe Macken referee the match, and this was agreed upon.
Regarding scenes at matches, J. Mason said he was afraid that if the teams were going from the country, conduct on the field at present was disgraceful.
After some further discussion of the fixture of the St. Annes-Dungarvan match, the Chairman said he was sure that Mr. Power, who was appointed to a Gael as he could be found would find a way, and he would ask him to put the matter before his club.
The time was fixed at 4.15 p.m.

MINOR FOOTBALL FIXTURES.
Regarding the minor football group final, Stradbally v. Cathal Brugha, the Secretary suggested October 8th, at 3 p.m.
The Chairman suggested, and J. Hayes proposed, and M. Noonan seconded, L. Condon as referee.
J. Mason was finally decided upon as referee for the match.
LETTER FROM CLASHMORE CLUB.
The Secretary stated that he had received a letter from the Clashmore club, objecting to alterations of fixtures, but a matter that the divisional minor football final would not be affected at all.
SCENES AT MATCHES.
The Chairman said that as regards the junior hurling match he would suggest that there should be no side-line.
Occurrences at the St. Annes-Abbeyside match were serious, but much of the trouble was due to too many of the Abbeyside officials running on the field.
J. Hayes said that the blame was wholly due to Kilmachthomas and he was sorry to see the Chairman running down Abbeyside. He could say that a hurler would never again be handled in Abbeyside. He hoped that the reporter would take a note of what he had said.
Chairman—He is taking no note that I said anything against Abbeyside. The matter will be dealt with at the reading of the referee's report.

SARSFIELDS DEFEAT SWANS.

SARSFIELDS, 4-14; SWANS, 1-4.
With an overwhelming superior hurling force against them at Clonsilla on Sunday last the gallant "Birds" met defeat at the hands of the Thurles Sarfields, in the semi-final of the county championship. When the teams entered the hurling arena it was immediately noticed that the "Birds" were up against it. The Sarfields were nearly all six footers and built accordingly whilst the "Birds" looked very light. The Sarfields fielded seven or eight All-Ireland hurriers and with such odds it would seem almost impossible for the "Birds" to win.

Paddy Dwyer (Swans) deserves great credit for his fine display at the opening of the game. J. Shea, J. L. Sullivan and T. Wall in the back-line drove back attack after attack but odd were too much against them in the long run. Denny Leaky, Tom Wall, John Shea and Leaky rallied together to change the tide of battle but went down fighting. The Swan team with great determination, fought hard during the whole hour to turn the tables on the Sarfields but unfortunately were outplayed by a stronger and more experienced team.

THE GAME.
When the ball was thrown in the "Birds" got away with a grand shot by P. Fahey, who delivered just outside the Sarfields' goal. T. Lonergan (Sarfields), relieved the pressure, returning to the other end the ball rebounded off O'Gorman's hurley to go over for the Sarfields' first point. Mason returned to the pick-out and Smith cleared a shot from Murphy, but Gleeson drove back for a point. Tom Wall, John Shea and Leaky were outstanding in driving back stupendous attacks. John Duane and Mick Shea got possession but Doyle beat them for the ball to break up a fine movement. From a cut in the "Birds" rushed the Sarfields' goal, and Jerry Doyle saved a very nasty situation at the expense of a "70." Mason then put the Sarfields attacking and Maher got possession and a loose ball and sent over for a point. This was followed by a goal from Murphy to the full-forward position. After hard exchanges at mid-field Mason sent an attack and Murphy missed a grand chance of netting the ball. Maher then dropped a free far in and Paddy Dwyer, with a grand kick, drove the ball out of danger. Gleeson, nevertheless, caught the ball and sent it over for a point. Paddy Dwyer now got possession and sent the "Birds" attacking but unfortunately the ball was sent wide. W. Kelly, (Swan goalkeeper), was put to the test in stopping a hard ball from Lonergan. J. L. O'Sullivan came to his aid and relieved the pressure, but the ball hit the goal post and sent in a grand goal. The half-time whistle fell the score: Sarfields, 4-8; Swans, 0-4.

On the resumption, goals were scored by Doyle and Lonergan. Then J. L. O'Sullivan and P. Dwyer sent the ball up field and were in hand but in not scoring. Doyle, (Sarfields), raced along the wing and passed the ball to Gleeson who missed the Swan goal by inches. Tom Wall now called his men but Doyle stopped the attack. Paddy Fahey robbed three Sarfields men of the ball and repulsed a Thurles invasion and sent the ball to Tom Walsh who opened the scoring for the "Birds" with a point. This was followed by a wide free Paddy Dwyer. Willie Morrissey did great work at mid-field and sent to Mick Shea who delivered to Hogan to score a grand goal for the Swans. Sarfield men now renewed attacks but Tom Lonergan sent wide. Denny Leaky now sent up the ball to P. Smyth who sent over for a nice point for the "Birds." Thurles now fought back, Danny Doyle passed the ball to Gorman, who found the net. Carrick attacked again but the Thurles backs stemmed the onrush. Gleeson then sent in a goal from 30 yards. Doyle, Gleeson and Lonergan scored a point each and the long whistle sounded after Mick Shea had sent over a grand point for the "Birds." Final score—Thurles Sarfields, 8-10; Carrick Swans, 1-4. The teams lined out as follows:—

CARRICK SWANS:—
D. Ryan, J. Shea, J. L. Sullivan, T. Wall, P. Leaky, T. Walsh, P. Dwyer and W. Morrissey.
SARSFIELDS:—
P. Fahey, J. Dwyer, J. Shea, J. Hogan, P. Smyth, J. Smyth, G. Doyle, G. Connolly, J. Semple, J. Lanigan, J. Maher, J. Lonergan, P. Maher, T. Lanigan, C. Gleeson, D. Doyle, P. Gorman, P. Murphy.
To conclude here's a toast to the gallant "Birds" that won the South championship.

And here's to the gallant Carrick Swans With their jerseys black and white. In every combat hurried right To win a gallant fight. With swish of ash they were not rash, But played a manly game. With dash and speed, they will succeed To bring us county fame.
Roll on 1940. Come on the "Birds"!

STRAINED. A few evenings ago unusually large shoals of mackerel and sprats came in so close to the beach at Ballydun Cove that numbers were stranded by the receding tide. Good fun was provided for local young men and boys, who had no better catching denser of them on the sands.

LATE MR. PATRICK DOYLE. SILVERBUE. Probably not. He has a place of his own amongst the personalities of Portlaoigh and purities. We heard of him in a very casual black-out at the Leather City the other night when a local tanner suddenly changed the subject saying: "There is only one whistling driver in this place. That is why he has his title. His whistle is distinctive. It is a musical warble or in staccato form according to the nature of the command. But the horse understands." We must be on the look out for the whistling driver, meanwhile we are not entirely satisfied that he is the only driver who controls his steed by such lip service.

THE SEPTEMBER FAIR. Held at Kilmacthomas on Tuesday was an average-sized fair. All classes of stock cattle met a brisk demand at improved rates. Fat cattle sold well and springers and milch cows were in good request at higher prices. Sheep and lambs sold readily, and pigs were quickly disposed of at improved figures.

AN unusually large number of dancers patronised last Sunday night's Ceilidh dance in the New Hall, Kilmacthomas. Music was supplied by the well and popularly known Bohemian Dance Band (Waterford), and the usual catering was supplied by the Management. Mr. Paddy Barron acted as master of ceremonies with wonted ability. The function was a magnificent success and was thoroughly enjoyed by all participating. Look out for advertisement for the forthcoming grand and gala "20 night" at the New Hall, under the auspices of the Kilmacthomas and District Jubilee Nursing Association.

The semi-final of this year's junior hurling championship of East Waterford saw Clonca-Power (colours, green and gold; coached by Mr. J. F. O'Sullivan, N.T.) in action against Ballyduff-Lower (colours, red and white; coached by Mr. Paddy Donnelly) at the Gaelic Field, Portlaoigh, on Sunday last. A big attendance of spectators were treated to a fine exhibition on a faultlessly laid out pitch. Mr. Jim Ware (Eoin's Own H.C.) refereed without fear, favour or affection, and when he blew the long whistle the score sheet showed the Clonca-Power side worthy winners by a nice margin.

THE BRIDGEMEN. The bridegroom is a prominent and popular figure in greyhound track racing and coursing circles, being owner-breeder of numerous prize-winning dogs both in Ireland and across Channel. He and his most estimable life-partner were the recipients of many costly and serviceable wedding presents. The Parish Church, Carrickbeg, was the scene of a very pretty wedding in the brilliant sunshine of Wednesday morning, when Miss Aily Walsh, eldest daughter of Mrs. B. Walsh, licensed victualler, Kilmacthomas, and the late Mr. Maurice Walsh, do, became the wife of Mr. Thomas Walsh, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Walsh, Carrickbeg, do. The ceremony (with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing) was performed by the Rev. J. Walsh, C.C., Carrickbeg (cousin of the bride), assisted by the Very Rev. J. Chilly, P.P., Kilmacthomas; Very Rev. Dr. P. Aherne, St. John's College, Waterford; Very Rev. D. Power, Adm. St. John's College, do. (cousin of bride); Rev. W. Meehan, C.C., Kilmacthomas; and Rev. J. T. Power, C.C., Kilmacthomas. The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her cousin, Nurse Bridie Hassett, Thomastown, Co. Kilkenny. Mr. Patrick Walsh (brother of the groom) acted as best man. Following the ceremony, the wedding party motored to the Bridge Hotel, Waterford, where a reception was held. The happy couple left later on their honeymoon, which is being spent on a tour of the west of Ireland. The bride is sister of Mr. M. Skipper's Heroism. Captain Joseph Davies, skipper of the Newcastle freighter Hazleide amidst the ruins of his ship, gave an order which was his own death warrant. He was standing on his wrecked deck, with his lifeboats smashed, 18 of his crew overloading a boat built for 8, and five others clinging to rough rafts. His order was "Pull away, there's enough in it." Before this final order, Captain Davies had just ordered into the crowded boat, his wounded wireless operator, who had stuck to his post, sending out S.O.S. after S.O.S. which the U-boat attacked. After his final order, he then jumped into the sea and was not seen again. Eleven members of the crew are dead or missing, and 8 of the 23 survivors are injured. Among the dead is Denis Treacy, of Meadow's Place, Arklow, who was killed by a shell. Aged 23, Mr. Treacy was unmarried. Brian O'Gorman (15), Belfast, who was making his first trip in the Hazleide, jumped overboard with a lifebelt, and his brother James went after him. They had been in the water 20 minutes when James, finding a rope and some floating timber and they made a raft. James assisted Brian on to the raft, and held on to it himself until help arrived. The survivors were landed at Schull, the injured being taken to Skibbereen hospital.

SLIABH gCUA FOR WESTERN FINAL.

PIKE DEFEATED IN CLOSING STAGES OF GAME.

On Sunday last by defeating the Pike junior football team, Slabh gCua qualified to meet Lismore in the Western Divisional Final. The Touraneena men were, on the whole, better footballers and deserved their win.

The game was a doubly-fought struggle from start to finish and the football was very robust, though not brilliant. Although the Pike held the lead for fifty minutes, the Touraneena men showed better marksmanship, and were deserving winners. The losers were rather unlucky where free against them were concerned, for Slabh gCua turned these to good account and scored one goal and two points off free against the Pike.

defended the road goal. With the throw in the Pike were away, and Tommy Power cleared. The Pike had first a wide, and then a point per Jim Fennell, a long way out. The Pike kepting on the pressure...

SECOND HALF. The breeze having calmed somewhat, the Pike were away per Daly and Bove, but Power cleared. Maurice Connors retired injured, and was replaced by M. Kallahan, who sent the Pike attacking when Bove finished with a point, which he lifted over the bar. Play continued at mid-field, and Daly continued to star for the Pike, while Jim Fennell was equally sound. Exchanges at the stand side of the field continued for some time and the game was winding down in the centre field. As the time passed it looked as if the Pike would hold on to their point to win. Both halves were very sound. The Touraneena men showed better combination and team work. Both sides attacked in turn and the game became very fast and tauter was neither given or asked.

NATIONAL H. AND F. LEAGUES.

The probability of travelling difficulties owing to petrol rationing was stated by Mr. J. Mullane, (Mayo) at the meeting of the Central Council on Saturday to be one of the reasons why his country, the National League champions, were unlikely to take part in the Football League this season.

It was also stated that Kildare, Cavan, Antrim, and Armagh would not take part, and in view of the uncertainty regarding Mayo it was decided to carry on with the first round of Group A, in which Mayo have a bye, and, if Mayo withdraw, it was decided that Group A, to be re-drawn, the draw to be on the basis that a team away at the first round be at home in the second round. The draw is:

- Round 1—Group A (Oct. 8)—Limerick v. Westford (J. Barry), Cork; Clare v. Kilkenny (R. Nealon, Nenagh), Cork bye. Group B—Tipperary v. Galway (P. Hayden, Kilkenny); Westmeath v. Dublin (P. I WOULD NOT TELL HER NAME.

I met her by the seaside not many years ago. She appeared as stately as a queen in garb as white as snow. She was born in old Ireland, a place of high renown. A credit to her parents bred in grand Dungarvan town. When I beheld her saintly face my heart was filled with love. To think that she by cursed laws from home was forced to go. Her deeds are well recorded, she's worthy of great fame. I never will forget her but will not tell her name.

Alas! Alas! it cannot be that we will meet again. Except the same as when we met and sailed across the sea. By Gods decree she is not free to grace a happy home. But memories of her sacred life will guide me as I roam. God grant the day, I fondly pray, when we will meet once more. In that bright home beyond the clouds where sorrow is no more. I'll cherish in memory this lady of great fame. That I love very dearly but will not tell her name.

Reports of scarcity of high class Steel lead us to believe that Razor Blades sold in three months time will not be as high a quality.

HARPUR BROS. Waterford.

SOWS CAN DO WITH ROUGHAGE.

While the present world upheaval exists and the consequent increased price of cereals it is plain that an increased proportion of pig rations must consist of home-grown food, and the important thing is to see that this is fed to the greatest advantage. The first principle which we must bear in mind is that apart from such tall corn or slightly damaged cereals as will be available from farm resources, the home-produced, bulky food must be largely restricted to the older pigs. Younger stock cannot make use of bulky food, and will, in fact, suffer from being made to eat too much of it. Under about four months of age pigs should mostly be fed on concentrates.

Good sows of the home-bred type will do their work on a high proportion of bulky food provided that the concentrates which they do receive are of good quality. It may be that some of the finer types of sows will not do as well on this kind of feeding as on a wholly meal diet, but in the present circumstances it is quantity not quality which we must produce, and any sow that does not come up to the level of her mates in this respect should be got rid of.

We must always be careful, however, not to lose our sense of proportion, and as quality will again be wanted after the war it is important that the really good quality stock should be maintained by breeders of sows raised in them for safe keeping. The way in which sows are fed varies a good deal from one district to another, and even between neighbouring farmers. However, on bare soil or in yards where no other form of feeding is available the average sow will require about 6lb. per day of meal while she is in pig.

In the summer months the bulk of this can be replaced by grazing, and some producers give no meal at all for some months. By this time of the year, however, the nutritive value of grazing is deteriorating, and we have to see if we can replace some of the grazing with other forms of home-grown food. During the autumn and early winter there is a fair amount of greenstuff available in most farms, but where pig feeding is concerned it is very important to see that only the right kinds of the material are fed. Green food which is too fibrous or too old is largely wasted on pigs, and waste is just the very thing that must be avoided. Green food which is too fibrous is a good mixture for pigs provided that it is not too green.

Some places kale will be the best available crop, and in certain circumstances this does well with sows. The important thing in my experience is about kale is that it should be grown unthinned. This I think is more important than variety, and it may be well to keep next year's crop. A mixture of thousand-head and marrow-stem will give better results than either by itself, and will be more certain of overcoming the effect of the flea beetle.

Mangolds are a crop that will soon be available for feeding to sows, but a certain amount of caution is required in their use. About 7lb. of mangolds will be needed to replace 1lb. of meal, but it is not likely to give more than about 20lb. per day in most cases. This will replace approximately 5lb. of concentrates and 2lb. of mangolds. Amounts appreciably beyond this may have the effect of over-stimulating the milk supply, and lead to inflamed udders at farrowing time. Sows are theoretically even better fed on feeding to sows than mangolds, but where sows do not as a rule like them so well, therefore I would advise treatment of some kind such as judicious bolting, to make them more palatable. Then, of course, we have to consider potatoes. The difficulty about them is that they are a kind of boundary trap in the present circumstances because they are also used for human consumption. In any case there will be considerable amount of "chaff" to be consumed. Owing to the fact that we have had a good deal of blight this year it will probably be sound policy to feed the potatoes mainly by the hand to avoid loss in the clamp. I always advise that potatoes should be boiled before feeding, but number of commentators have pointed out that they have no facilities for this and ask how far raw potatoes may be fed. Where raw potatoes are healthy and particularly where they do not contain any great tubers, to feed them raw may well be economical, although they are not digested as well as when boiled.

On convenient patches of very rough ground it may be wise to grow some artificial clover and other feeding year. Their value for pig feeding is often over-estimated, but they are a hardy crop that will grow anywhere, and it might be possible to cultivate them where other crops would not be successful. In the case of sows the possibilities of feeding legume hay should not be overlooked. This means hay made from any of the legume crops such as clover, sainfoin, lucerne, etc.

On farms in the United States of America satisfactory results have been obtained, and sows have been kept through the winter largely on this product. In this country we do not often get the weather to make the high quality hay which is necessary, as there must be a large proportion of leaf to stem for pigs. However, clover or lucerne hay made early in the year before the rain came might prove to be useful. Silage, too, should not be overlooked as a possibility. Here, again, the whole secret lies in securing material that has been made from very succulent crops. Young grass which has been cut in the first flush of growth may make excellent silage for pigs, but older sows that would be all right for cattle is a little help to sows. Silage can be fed, chopped, along with meal in the proportion of 2 parts of silage to 1 part of meal. Only the heavier feeding pigs, apart from sows, should be seen to be fed on silage, and in the case of roots these should be pulped. Preferably the pulped material should be mixed with the meal, though some like to feed it separately. If the middle of the day—H.R.D.

BLACKWATER FISHERY CONSERVATORS

At the usual monthly meeting of the Blackwater Board of Fishery Conservators, held at the Devonshire Arms Hotel, Tallow, there attended: Messrs. R. Grove Annesley (Chairman), Captain R. Holroyd Smyth, R. Sheehan, Major Coote, Miss G. Montgomery, J. Kent, M. Shanahan, W. O'Neill, J. Kennedy, Ion Villiers Stuart, T. E. Montgomery, Messrs. Joseph Power (Clerk) and J. P. Kenny (Inspector) were also in attendance.

THE SALMON SEASON. The Chairman took exception to a statement in the Inspector's report, read at the meeting, to the effect that the salmon season was good in the river. It might have been good in the salt water, but it was shocking in the fresh.

Mr. Sheehan said it wasn't good in the salt water either. He had a boat which caught only 27 salmon for four men. Mr. Sheehan said he thought the Inspector was in error. If the fish were going below they would get them above.

Mr. Sheehan said it was very hard on the upper men to block the passage in that way. The Inspector—They want to allow no fish to go up.

CUTTING THE CORN.

Though the weather was bad, and no help to be had; Yet Casey's stout heart was undaunted. That field of old hay he'd cut over the way. Would supply all the fodder he wanted. The rent he had paid, so he was not afraid that the bailiffs would come some fine morn.

His stock for to seize without hope of release. Ere yet he had cut down the corn. It was ripe to be sure and 'twas far from being poor. But he had no binder or reaper. But his sickle more keen than a mowing machine. Cut a swath that was wider and deeper. And his daughter Noreen was as sweet a colleen. As e'er on this earth had been born. And I worked by her side as the big sheaves we tied. When Casey was cutting the corn.

Since that bright harvest day when at work or at play. She ne'er left my thoughts for a minute. And her voice to my ears was more sweet and sincere. Than the notes of a lark or a linnet. But the weeks quickly flew, and Sep-tember's chill dew. Of winter's approach came to warn. But my heart was not chilled, for with hope it was filled. When Casey was threshing the corn.

Sure the barn that night was a scene of delight. And we brought in the big kitchen table. And on it Noreen danced "the step o' Kippeen." And truly and well she was able. How the old rafters rung with the songs that we sung. Morrissey, Mr. B. Dowley, Mr. J. Kelly, Mr. P. Murphy, Mr. T. Rossiter, Miss Eily McGrath, etc.

POST OFFICE. The Carrick Post Office front has been stripped of its last year's coat of paint and is now about to be painted again. Mr. Martin Loneragan, Painting Contractor, has the contract for painting same.

PRETTY WEDDING. A very pretty wedding took place at St. Nicholas' Church, Carrick, last week end, the happy couple being Mr. Paddy Ryan, Carrickbeg, and Miss Kathleen Nugent, Sir John's, Carrick. Mr. P. Nugent, brother of the bride, was best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Mary Ryan, sister of the bridegroom. The wedding breakfast took place at the Mercy Convent, in which the bridegroom is employed. After the wedding breakfast, the happy couple left on their honeymoon for Dublin.

IS IT TRUE? I'M ASKING YOU! That 1,000 Swan supporters travelled to Clonmel on Sunday to see the struggle between Thurles Saracens and the Swans. That the train left at 2 o'clock. That a party of Musicians with melodeons and banjos raised the hearts of the travellers on the way up. "Down Mexico Way" and all the latest songs were sung. That the weather was ideal. Even the Clerk of the weather was delighted with it. He had no tears to shed over it. (rain.)

That J. M. P. Rathgorman district wrote to me this week to know what name she would call a Persian cat who was very lean and thin. That J. M. P. "why not call your cat lean (Kathleen)." I sincerely hope she is not a "pershing" cat instead of a Persian cat, trusting that this answer is not too dogmatic. The "black-out" each night is being strictly adhered to by the residents of the town. That motorist find it very difficult motoring with the dim light. That the tanning factory in town is making good progress. That a great many from town are employed there. That Mr. P. Kealy, foreman, Kilkenny Co. Council is to be congratulated on the fine new turns made on the Tybroughy road, Carrick. That the humble worm was responsible for the landing of a fine trout, 2 1/2 lbs. weight caught on the river on Friday last. That Mr. P. Kavanagh has arrived home from Lancashire, England, on a holiday after being fourteen years away. That the Clonmel Hurling team won their match at Portlaw on Sunday. That two young Portlaw gallants enjoyed a dance in the Co. Kilkenny recently. That the game of billiards is enjoyed by all the members of the temperance club at Greystones Street, Carrick. That Mr. and Mrs. Eddie O'Halloran have arrived on a holiday in the old town from London. MONTHLY FAIR. The monthly fair held on Monday last was one of the best for many years. Cattle and pigs were bought up by buyers from Cork, Dublin and Waterford. Smiles adorned the faces of the farmers as they were paid outside the banks a very lucrative price for their stock. "Sure it's near time" as the farmer I met near the Town Clock told me, that we get something decent for our cattle after five or six years of bad fair prices—14 year olds fetched from £1 to £12, whilst sows and litters went as high as £18. Fat bullocks fetched up to £22, whilst the smallest pig or slip fetched £22.

CUTTING THE CORN.

Though the weather was bad, and no help to be had, yet Casey's stout heart was undaunted. That field of old hay he'd cut over the way would supply all the fodder he wanted.

Since that bright harvest day when at work or at play, she never left my thoughts for a minute. And her voice in my ears was more sweet and sincere.

IRISHMEN ON LOST SHIP. It was stated on Monday night that there were 4 Irishmen amongst the crew of the steamship Royal Sceptre, which was sunk by a German U-boat 300 miles off Ushant. They were: Boatswain James Meyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Meyler, Selskar St., Wexford; Able Seaman Martin Power, O'Connell Street, Dungarvan, where his wife resides. He is son of the late Patrick and Mrs. Kate Power, Home Rule St., Abbey-side, and brother of Mr. Michael Power, Home Rule St., Abbeyside and Christie Power, Ballinrood, Dungarvan.

The draw would only take ten minutes at the most, and as the hall is very central he would be obliged if the use of same was given. The application was granted.

PURCHASE OF HORSE. The owners of the two horses which the Council had considered for purchase at the last meeting wrote, one stating that he would sell his horse for £12, and give a week's trial, the other for £22, with 3 days' trial. On the suggestion of Mr. Quinn it was decided to give each horse a three days' trial.

SURETIES QUESTION. A young man who appeared before the Council stated that he found it hard to get a security for the new house for which he was applying on account of the war. The Chairman said he should complete his form and send it in. The man then asked if there was any answers to the letters which had been sent to the Department. Mr. Foley said this was not the question. Mr. Foley said he had signed the letters and sent them afterwards. The young man said he had signed the letter and did not deny it. He knew people who would not send in the forms while the rent was so high. The Chairman said this was a question to be considered at some other meeting. The man said that it was a mistake to build the houses at 7/2 per week. Mr. Crotty wrote to the Department and tell them. We have nothing to do with it. We only did what we were told. The Chairman said they had built houses at 3/- a week as well. They had done the best they could. The young man said they would all be in the Co. Home before three months. The Chairman—that is not the question at all.

WATER DISTRIBUTION. A letter from the Department stated that the Minister for Local Government and Public Health desires to receive an intimation of the arrangements which the Council consider should be adopted for the preparation and supervision of the improvement works proposed in connection with the distribution system. The writer was also to enquire whether the work of testing the mains has been completed and whether a comprehensive report on the matter can now be submitted. As regards the Consulting Engineers'

U. S. NEUTRALITY PROPOSALS

NEW CODE PURCHASE OF MUNITIONS

American vessels will not be allowed to carry passengers or goods to belligerent countries if the Administration's proposed new neutrality legislation is adopted.

The terms were made public on Monday by Senator Key Pittman, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and at the request of Senator Borah it was decided to delay action until Thursday.

The new legislation was drawn up over the week-end by a Committee of Democrats. The Bill includes President Roosevelt's recommendation for the repeal of the arms embargo, but provides powerful Congressional curbs on Executive discretion.

The main provisions of the proposed legislation are: 1.—American vessels would not be allowed to carry passengers or goods to belligerent countries.

2.—Violations of this provision would be punishable by fines not exceeding $50,000 dollars (about £10,000) and imprisonment for a period not exceeding five years.

3.—Belligerent Powers purchasing goods from the United States would have to take the title to them before the goods were shipped.

4.—Losses sustained by American insurance underwriters, on war cargoes could not be made a basis for claims against the Government.

5.—The President could designate "combat areas" and prohibit American citizens or vessels from entering them.

6.—Americans could not travel in ships of belligerent Powers except in accordance with rules prescribed by the Presidents.

7.—Red Cross personnel and vessels chartered by the Red Cross would be exempt from the restrictions on American travel, and shipping.

8.—American merchant vessels would be prohibited from carrying any but the small arms necessary to preserve discipline on board.

9.—Belligerent Governments could not sell securities in the United States.

10.—Belligerents could obtain ordinary commercial credits for a period not exceeding 90 days.

11.—President Roosevelt would report to Congress every six months on the amount of short-term credits extended to belligerent parties.

12.—The Munitions Control Board would report on January 1st and July 1st annually regarding the amount of arms, munitions, and implements of war purchased by belligerents in the U.S. The names of the purchasers, whether foreign Governments or individual companies, in foreign States, would be included in the reports.

13.—The solicitation of funds in the United States for belligerents would be prohibited.

14.—The President would have authority to impose special restrictions on the use of American ports by the submarines or armed merchantmen of belligerents.

The State Department, it is learned, has received copies of telegrams from Germany, both plain and in commercial codes, destined for various persons in the United States.
