HOME ASSISTANCE. Mr. Phelan, Superintendent Assistance Officer reported that the amount of Home Assistance paid out during the month was £2,338 10s. 9d.

LISMORE HOSPITAL. A letter from Dr. Healy, Lismore District Hospital drew attention to the darkness of the passage way from the Hospital which makes entering or leaving the Hospital dangerous to the staff.

He recommended that an outside light be erected at a suitable point. There should be a two-way control switch fixed at convenient points.

BOARD-KEEPERS' REQUEST. Mrs. Margaret Daly, The Lodge, District Hospital, wrote asking for lights in the other apartments of the house owing to the scarcity of candles and paraffin oil.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT. The financial statement submitted by the Secretary showed a debit balance of £61 10s. 9d.

MORE LIGHT. An application from Thos. Power, Caretaker, Dungarvan Dispensary, asking the Board to install one light in the living room as it is impossible to get candles or paraffin oil.

APPLICATION FOR INCREASE. Mrs. Mary Savage, Caretaker, Templemichael Dispensary, wrote asking for an increase on her salary of £3 per annum after 38 years as caretaker.

SESKINANE DISPENSARY. Dr. Mulaney, M.O., wrote, stating that he had erected a lean-to shed at his own expense which would accommodate 3 or 4 tons of turf.

well as Assistant officers should be specially instructed to keep closely in touch with the working of the scheme so as to ensure that the special food allowance granted by the Public Assistance Authorities are supplied as authorised.

Mr. Cosgrave—This is a grant, not a loan, that is very satisfactory. Secretary—The cases will come before you in the ordinary way at the revision meeting held by the committee.

Mr. Phelan, Superintendent Assistance Officer said that in that there is no provision of remuneration for the extra work which the carrying out of the scheme will impose upon the Assistant officers and Mr. Phelan to deal with this scheme without extra remuneration; these men are already working late into the night.

Mr. Power—It should mean an extra man unless you are going to have overtime labour. Mr. Cosgrave—Surely the Board will not expect the two Waterford Assistant officers and Mr. Phelan to deal with this scheme without extra remuneration; these men are already working late into the night.

Commissioner Moynihan asked would the extra remuneration be taken from the Grant for the poor people. The Secretary said he did not think so, the Department would not agree in similar cases previously the extra remuneration had to be provided by the Board.

HOME ASSISTANCE FOR UNMARRIED MEN. In a letter from the Department regarding the granting of Home Assistance to persons who refuse to join the Construction Corps the letter states:—The Minister observes from the report of the S.A.O. that the ages of the applicants range from 18 1/2 years to 25 years and desire to point out that the Construction Corps was especially formed for the purpose of providing an opportunity to young unmarried, unemployed men to improve themselves physically and mentally so that they would be enabled to take a useful part in the life of the nation.

Mr. Power—Could they not give them a living wage? The Minister is alright with his £1,700 a year. Mr. Cosgrave—It means we can't give them any relief.

Mr. Caulfield—It means we were right from the first. LIGHTING OF CAPPOQUIN STREETS. Mr. Power called attention to the inconvenience caused to the residents of Capouquin due to the fact that the street lamps were not lighted.

Secretary—The equipment is more modern. Mr. Caulfield—With all due respects to the Doctor, I think he is talking through his hat. We have got the most modern X-Ray apparatus in Waterford, portable and stationary, which were secured from the funds of the Hospitals' Sweepstake.

Mr. Cosgrave—How long is the apparatus in Waterford. Mr. Caulfield—Hardly half a dozen years. Mr. Cosgrave—And it's not modern. Chairman—Perhaps it is that they could "see through you" quicker in Cork (laughter).

Mr. Caulfield said the hospital in Waterford is as up-to-date as any other and we should not allow patients to be sent to Cork, when they can be X-rayed in Waterford, in an institution that the ratepayers are contributing to its upkeep.

Mr. Cullen referred to the order made at a previous meeting regarding the employment of a temporary married driver only if available, while the permanent driver is on holidays or unable to be present. Committee should be asked why their institution is not up-to-date.

Mr. Power—The Infirmary Board should be notified that their apparatus is not modern. Secretary—You have two members of the Infirmary Board present. They can bring the matter before their next meeting.

Commissioner—There is another boarded-up boy in this house? Secretary—Yes.

Dr. J. M. Casey, Dungarvan, recommended the sending of a patient named M. Kenneally, Loughmore, to Cork for X-Ray treatment. Secretary—Why to Cork? Mr. Caulfield—The equipment is more modern.

Mr. Caulfield—With all due respects to the Doctor, I think he is talking through his hat. We have got the most modern X-Ray apparatus in Waterford, portable and stationary, which were secured from the funds of the Hospitals' Sweepstake.

Touraneena Medal Tournament. Slabh gCua, 7-5; Kilgobnet, 3-1.

The first game in the above tournament was played on Sunday last when Slabh gCua and Kilgobnet were the contestants. It was a hard-fought game, with the Touraneena men slightly the better combination.

Slabh gCua, who were in the form played without Ed. Walsh and P. Nagle, but three newcomers in the persons of J. Power, Coffey and Halpin were prominent on the side. The Touraneena men have improved since their championship engagement with Stradally and will now stand a good chance of winning the medals.

The forward in particular made good use of every opportunity which was usually the case with a country team, and were always in front of their opponents.

Kilgobnet were without Bove, Devine, Nagle, McCarthy, Drummy and Kieley of their championship team, but they were replaced by useful substitutes. They indulged in too much fancy play which lost them a score or two.

Slabh gCua forced the pace from the throw-in and played with a strong breeze were soon a point up off a free. Slabh gCua were quickly followed by a goal. Kilgobnet held out for the next ten minutes before the Slabh gCua forwards got going when D. Kieley pointed. Kilgobnet were on the defensive for the remainder of the hour and the Co. heath brothers had a point each. The score at half time was Slabh gCua, 1-4; Kilgobnet nil.

Slabh gCua got away from the restart but Kilgobnet came back for JM Power and a free by Beaton was well centred and quickly, Tobin and Cantwell, got through for a goal. Kilgobnet went out to even up and a point to the same side soon followed. A dangerous attack by the Slabh gCua men resulted in a point. At this stage there was a stoppage as a number of players were in grips, and the referee had to clear the field. There was no further score until Kilgobnet playing with the wind made desperate efforts to get through. The final whistle fell the scores Slabh gCua, 1-5; Kilgobnet, 1-1.

Slabh gCua were post served by P. Power, J. Power, E. Burke, Jim Keefe, Jim the Cotter brothers, Willie D. Flynn, J. Power, M. Power, P. Moloney, P. Dunford, T. Beaton, P. Ryan and M. Cliffe (goal) were best for the losers.

Mr. J. Moloney, N.T., directed. The next game in this tournament will probably take place on October 5th, when the contestants will be either the Bricks Rangers v. the Nire (first round) or Touraneena v. Slabh gCua (second round).

PAYMENTS.
A pay-sheet for £17 3s. 4d. on the general account and a sum of £10 10s. on the demolition area scheme (O'Mahony's site) was also passed. Mr. Dahill asked if any application was yet made by the Council for recoupment from the owners of the demolition areas. Mr. Hassett, B.S., said there was no application, as any of the sites were not completely cleared yet. Chairman—There is no use in making a claim until all the details are complete.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.
Letters thanking the Council for resolutions of sympathy passed by them were read from Sister M. de Sales, Presentation Convent; Mrs. A. Walsh, Square; Mrs. Patterson, Auburn; Abbeyside, and the Harwick family, Quay House, Dungarvan.

CHANGE OF CATTLE POUND.
Mr. T. A. Colbert, county registrar, wrote in reply to the Council's letter in reference to the proposed change of premises for the purpose of a pound, stating he is agreeable to this change, providing, however, that the alternative premises will be approved by a representative from his office. He shall instruct Mr. English to call when next in Dungarvan.

Chairman—Has he called yet?
Clerk—No.
Chairman—I suppose it is better to defer it so.

Mr. Connors—Could we not pass it here subject to his approval. If he came on Monday and approved, the Clerk could notify the Factory, as they are in a hurry.
Chairman—The Council must yet go into the terms offered.

Mr. Dahill said this yard cost the Council £50 or £60, and are they now going to give it for £5 a year.
The matter was deferred.

PLANS SUBMITTED.
Messrs P. Broderick and P. Quailly, Abbeyside, wrote enclosing plans of structures in course of erection by them, for the Council's approval. The plans were referred to the B.S. FACTORY EXTENSION PLAN.

The Dickens Leather Co. wrote re the piling of stones on the cleared site in Castle Street, as follows:

Mr. J. Scott, writing that we are in receipt of your letter of the 11th inst. in connection with the stacking of stones on the site at Castle Street. These stones have been obtained from the demolition of old property in Quay Street and have been purchased by Dr. Casey from whom we had instructions to deliver to his property at Castle Street. We believe that the storage of these stones on the site is only a temporary measure and that arrangements have already been made for their removal.

Mr. J. Scott, writing before Dr. Casey, who will, no doubt, communicate with you about the matter.
Chairman—I wonder are the stones going to be left there for any length of time.

SHELTER FOR L.S.F. PATROLS.
Mr. J. Scott, writing, Dungarvan Group, L.S.F., wrote asking that the following letter be placed before the Council:—
"The members of the force, who give their time unselfishly to patrol duty in the town area, are very badly in need of a suitable shelter for wet nights, and I have been asked to apply for permission for the use of the weigh house as from 1st October next. It is proposed to supply some suitable type of heating apparatus, and as the building is of concrete, I trust that no objection will be raised. I might mention that Mr. J. J. Walsh, the present lessee, has expressed himself quite agreeable."

Mr. Crotty—It is very essential, particularly on bad nights.
Chairman—They would certainly want some shelter for the winter.
Mr. Crotty—It is very essential, particularly on bad nights.
Chairman—They would want to make arrangements about the keys, etc.

Mr. Crotty—Mr. Walsh is a member and they can easily arrange with him.
WATER.
The report from Mr. Denis Deane, caretaker, Deelish water supply, stated that owing to the stream being low, he was unable to work the filters.

COMING CONFERENCE.
The Department wrote stating that the Minister would be glad to be informed as soon as convenient of the date fixed for the conference between the consulting engineers, the contractor, and others concerned in connection with the Dungarvan water improvement scheme.

Mr. B.S. said he had been looking into the matter of the tanks. There was one tank already there, but the construction of another would be a costly affair. He would hand in a report for next meeting.
Mr. Mansfield asked if the Board of Health would accept portion of the responsibility for its erection. It was decided to take the matter up with the Board of Health.

The members considered the letter from the Secretary of the County Council requesting the Council to allow the powers under the Act to be delegated to them.
The Clerk said that the Board of Health were taking over the powers for their area.

Mr. Crotty—They should hold a rat week as they do in England.
Chairman—The County Council will delegate their powers to us.
Mr. Connors—What can we do?
Mr. Connors—It there is wholesale destruction we could offer a penny or two pence for every rat brought in.

Mr. Mansfield—You would have them coming in from all over the county.
After further discussion the Council decided to take over the powers.

DANCE LICENCE.
Mr. McCarthy moved the notice of motion standing in his name viz:—
"That the resolution on the books deciding not to apply for a dance licence for the Town Hall be rescinded."
The motion was seconded by Mr. Mansfield.

Mr. Dahill said he thought the blank time as dressed meat, a canteen on the Council.
Mr. McCarthy held that all that is required to get the licence was to have the required number of lavatories.

Mr. Crotty—The estimate for the requirements of the County medical officer is £1,000.
Mr. Hassett—The Co. M.O.H. gave me the minimum requirements and if you carry out that my estimate is £1,000.

Mr. McCarthy said that if the lavatories were put in it would be sufficient for the Judge. It is a shame to see our young boys and girls going miles to dances.
The Chairman agreed and said there is sufficient cloakroom accommodation, but certainly our lavatory accommodation is not sufficient. If we put in decent sanitary accommodation and perhaps a larger exit at the stage end, there is no reason why a licence would be refused.

Mr. Dahill—What is that going to cost?
Chairman—That is a thing I don't know, but the B.S. could be asked to estimate.
Mr. Mansfield—To my mind the requirements of the County M.O.H. are ridiculous. Something like the "Plaza" with a wash hand basin for every person he wants.

Mr. Dahill—That is his minimum.
The Chairman said the cost of installing sanitary arrangements would be very much smaller, probably one tenth.
Mr. Dahill said that what he thought most necessary was the provision of proper dressing rooms for play companies.

MINISTER AT EAST WATERFORD

Comhairle Ceantair Meeting.

Mr. P. Little, Minister for Posts and Telegraphs with Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., were present at an important meeting of the East Waterford Comhairle Ceantair, held in the Adelphi Hotel, on Monday night, Mr. T. P. Rabbett, Chairman presiding.

Delegates were present from the following Cumainn—Ml. McGrath, Ml. Moloney, St. Mary's, Ballygunner, Checkpoint, Butlerstown and Passage.

SECRETARY'S APPOINTMENT RATIFIED.
The appointment of Mr. Seumas O'Meara, as Secretary of the E.W. Comhairle Ceantair, made recently, was ratified at the meeting.

MINISTER'S ADDRESS.
Addressing the meeting of the Comhairle Ceantair, Mr. Little drew the attention of the members to the statement which was recently made by An Taoiseach calling on the organisation to make the annual collection for Fianna Fail. He emphasised the necessity of keeping the organisation at full strength, saying that the Government should always be in a position to make an appeal to the people of any issue of grave national importance.

"In the past," he said, "our strength depended upon such appeals. Now, we have no reason to doubt that we have the full support of the people for the policy which the Government is carrying out. There has been no serious breach of the political truce although a great deal of severe criticism has been made to the Government, but the Government has nothing to fear from the frank expression of grievances, especially at the present time. It is obvious to anyone with common sense that the Government has given extremely valuable services to the people and has protected them from many of the worst results of the present world war."

"The Government," said Mr. Little, "could be expected to work miracles or to deal with all the difficulties which must arise in a neutral country when all the great powers are making war around them."

Referring to the ban on the export of the "Irish" Waterford port, the Minister said he had done everything possible to have the port of Waterford opened, but under the present circumstances, they were afraid that it was quite impossible, and that it was absolutely useless to appeal to the British Government at the moment.

The Department of Agriculture, he proceeded, considered that Waterford had done better than other parts of the country in present circumstances in regard to the disposal of stock. The number of cattle shipped at the Royal Humane Society and cooked meats, etc., amounted to about 5,000, and a considerable amount of that number were shipped from Waterford. The Dublin Meat Committee also bought cattle from the southern counties for consumption in the city of Dublin.

"There are," said Mr. Little, "other counties in Ireland which have not got these facilities for dead meat export."
The Minister concluded by saying he would do all in his power when the time came to have the port opened as soon as possible.

Gaelic Classes.
Classes in English were held at Ballymacarbery, Half-Way and Modeligo during the coming winter and spring, and we hope to see large attendances at those centres during the coming session. The work will be so arranged as to give those who know no Irish a chance of making a beginning, as well as catering for those who have already a fundamental knowledge of the language. All who attend joining at any of the above centres should do so at the opening of the classes and so reap the full benefit of the instruction. Names of intending members should be given to Padraig Ó Fiannghusa before October 1st if possible and any further information concerning the classes can be had from him.

Since the foundation of "Craobh Aodh O'Donnacht" of the Gaelic League by a little band of enthusiastic Gaelic at the Half-Way a few months ago "Gaelicinn" has come into the limelight in this district. The great progress being made in the learning of our Gaelic dances is a source of satisfaction to us and now we want more progress in other directions which will lead to the creation of a truly Gaelic atmosphere in Sliabh gcúis and the adjoining parishes. We appeal to the clergy, to the national teachers and to parents in particular to give us their whole-hearted co-operation in this fight against foreignism. We want the youth to join our ranks, we want their talent to be placed at our disposal for our contests and our feiseanna, etc. We want them to perfect the knowledge they have gained of the language in the national schools, and to learn to speak it to one another in public as their ancestors did.

The opportunity of learning the language offered to the public in Irish classes is generally badly availed of, especially in rural districts where the cultural work done at those classes is not appreciated. It is strange how we in the rural districts always seem to lag behind the town's folk, even in this matter of Gaelicisation. Many arguments are advanced for the non-attendance of Irish classes in the country—in-
"I'm too far at night for young people," "no time to spare," "couldn't get the goods of Irish," "I got enough of that in school," "what good is that damn English Irish to a man on the land," etc.

Were any one of those petty excuses logical or reasonable, at the least, but the truth is that they simply amount to nonsense. Let us now take them one by one and answer them briefly.

Of the first two, I would say this: in certain cases they command our sympathy, and they may impress us much more, could we imagine those who advance such arguments to be sincere. Couldn't they get the goods at night don't seem to deter them from attending other night classes or dances, or pictures, or long travelling shows, or card playing, etc.

We must admit that there are at present, some who cannot find much time to attend night classes. It is strange to say it is very often those very people who manage to attend night classes, but not those who can find ample time to attend every "raquet" in the locality, but not an Irish Class.

The excuse "I can't learn Irish," coming from anyone with an average intellect is incredible when it comes from those who claim to be educated and take a just pride in the fact, it is simply most unacceptable. Anyone who undertakes the mentality of the person who says "this country cannot grow wheat" can understand the mentality of the "can't learn Irish" individual, and the same remedy can be applied to both with beneficial results. Were those people to speak the truth they would say "we won't bother our heads about Irish" or "we haven't the patience to learn it." But the patient is a virtue which can be acquired by practice.

Those who abhor Irish because it is a school subject which recalls bitter memories of sore hands, and cross teachers, should remember that the little "Irish" they were taught at school was meant to prepare them to face the world afterwards with greater ease and they should look back on those "stony school-days" with pride rather than abhorrence and their views on education and knowledge for the people should differ from the "school-child view."

It would require too much space to give a complete and satisfactory answer to those who say "what use is Irish to the worker or the man on the land?" We could, if space permitted, demonstrate how a realisation of the social, political, and cultural life of the community, would benefit all directly, both morally and materially in time, as the policy of self-sufficiency is beginning to do at present. However, we will just say in now to those who imagine that they will never require Irish, unless some unforeseen catastrophe should occur through which Ireland as a nation should perish. Gaelic will one day enter the lives of those who disregard it at present, be it the man in the field, in the shop, in the office or in the council chamber, it will enter their lives to torment them, to impede them, to shame them to shut them out from the cultural life of the community. To make them outcasts in their native land.

We know of a generation in this land who were despised, considered illiterate, thrown into the background, because they knew no English and how humiliated they felt, how they felt proud to be able to speak even broken English. Each similar fate awaits another generation during the transition period upon which we have entered, and greater will be their humiliation, because it is their native language which they will lack and not a foreign one. It is for many to-day to say whether they will one day belong to the ranks of the illiterate in the past, or to the ranks of the illiterate in the future. It is for parents to decide whether they are prepared to bequeath such a legacy to their children. He who is wise prepares for all future possibilities.

DEATH FROM SHOCK

Verdict On Well-known Dungarvan Man.

Mr. T. C. Williams, Acting Coroner held an inquest in the Court-house, Dungarvan, into the death of Denis Meade, on Friday evening. The following jury were sworn: M. Kyne (foreman), Messrs. John Carroll, Square; E. Power, Mitchell St.; Wm. Wynn, do.; R. Hayes, Main St.; P. Sheehan, do.

Superintendent Walsh represented the Authorities.
Pk. Hurley, Lr. Strand Street, was the first witness called and in reply to Superintendent Walsh said he was at the Lookout at about 9.45 p.m. on Thursday night and saw the deceased.

Deceased, who spoke to witness and said he was going to the County Home, appeared to have drunk taken. After deceased had gone away towards the park witness and a man named Duggan went to moor a boat. Ten minutes later they were called by Mr. John Dunphy, who told them that there was a man drowning. Witness and Duggan rowed the boat to a position where Mr. John Moloney told them the man was. Witness saw a body floating face downwards in the water and took the body into the quay. Witness recognised the man as Denis Meade. Deceased was alive when taken out of the water.

John Moloney, Priory House, Dungarvan, said he saw the deceased at the "Look-out" at about 9.30 p.m. and he appeared to have drunk taken and inclined to stagger. Some time later witness saw deceased going towards Coady's Quay and heard him stumbling about the steps. The next thing witness heard was a splash, and rushing over immediately, witness saw deceased in the tide about ten yards from the quay. About five minutes later the boat came along. Guard Enright, Dungarvan, said he was standing orderly on Thursday night, when deceased, who was under the influence of drink, was taken into the station at 8.5 p.m. by Gerard J. O'Dea. Deceased was discharged at 9.40 p.m., and he was sober. It was reported to witness at 8.50 p.m. that a man had fallen into the tide and witness later learned it was deceased.

John Meade, 5 Thompson's Street, brother of the deceased, said his brother was 71 years married and an ex-soldier. He stayed at the County Home for over 25 years. Witness saw him alive at 12 noon on Thursday and he appeared normal. He had come in for his pension.

KILMATHOMAS NOTES.

NO COURT.—The usual monthly Court which fell due to be held at the Courthouse, Kilmathomas, was adjourned to the third Wednesday of next month.

CHURCH LIGHTING.—From Fortlaw we have it that electric lighting is being installed in the well kept Church there.

MATRIC-EXAM.—Miss Cecilia Dowley, Ballyknock, Carrick-on-Suir, who has passed her Matriculation Examination, is a niece of the Very Rev. M. Dowley, P.P., Ballyduff Upper, and Mr. Timothy Dowley, P.C., Millbrook Tree, Kilmathomas.

LEFT.—Mr. John Power, R.C.S., stationed at Taunton, England, where he is attached to the General Post Office, concluded a short period of leave, spent at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Power, Brenan, Kilmathomas, when he returned on-chance last week-end.

RIGHT at the foot of the Comeraghs, hard by the homely and hospitable hamlet of Mahonbridge, are encamped our urbane Urtis Inacta friends, Messrs. Willie Foley, Pa. Kelly and Co., who are having their happiest holiday ever and were well to the fore at last Sunday night's Cinderella dance at the ever popular Pike Hall.

ANOW AT YOUGHAL.—Sovial Mr. P. J. Gaule, Manager Provincial Bank, Kilmathomas, is now at Youghal on his annual holidays. Mr. Gaule, who is a valued member of the local Parish Council and a prominent figure in our township's sporting and social circles, is by birth a Co. Kilkenny man, and some years ago was one of Ireland's leading exponents of the handball code.

ALSO HOLIDAYING.—Son of Mr. A. Power, H.O., Fahaeleagh, Kilmathomas, and the late Mr. Thomas Power, do., is Mr. John Power, Civil Services (Dept. of Industry and Commerce), Dublin, who is at present on a holiday here by the Mahon and is accompanied by his amiable life-partner.

IN MEMORIAM.—Anniversary Office and High Mass were offered up at St. Brigid's Parish Church, Kilmathomas, on Thursday morning of last week for the eternal welfare of the soul of the late Very Rev. Canon Coffey, P.P., Tramore, who was a native of Ballylinch, Kilmathomas.

FROM ENGLAND.—Now on a visit to her natal home is unfailingly cheerful and dispositive Mrs. T. Woods, eldest daughter of universally popular Mr. J. J. Maher, licensed vintner, Main St., Kilmathomas. Mrs. Woods, who is in excellent health and spirits, is domiciled across-channel, where her husband, a brilliant engineer, who is occupied in important war-work.

DANCING.—Largely attended and well enjoyed was last Sunday night's Cinderella dance at the admirably appointed New Hall, Kilmathomas. Mr. Paddy Barron, as M.C., kept the couples merrily on the move to the strains of an excellent band. A raffish held in conjunction with the dance panned out a pronouncedly successful venture.

REGRETTED KILROSSANTY DEMISE.—It is with the most sincere regret that the announcement of the death of Mr. Patrick Kirwan, Ballinacoola, Kilrossanty, is made. He died at his home on Friday evening of last week, following a somewhat protracted illness and at a moderately advanced age, and the sad event was the cause of deep sorrow in the district.

GOOD WORK.—The company of County Council men operating under capable overseer Richard Cashin, senior, Ballygarry, Kilmathomas, have neatly trimmed the fences fringing the Kilmathomas-Bonmahon road (via Ballynane), and have repaired the pot-holes which were in evidence here and there along the stretch.

COAST TO COMERAGH CHIPS

WHAT ABOUT IT?—Why not an honour day for dishonest shopkeepers? After all, they are courageous in carrying out their profiteering racket in the present period of grave emergency. Yes, they are "beeding" the poor and the very poor right gloriously and callously, and are able to get away with it. Crisis or no crisis, the honest trader is content to sell his commodities at prices which leave him a reasonable margin of profit. Silly to suggest an honour day for the straight dealer!!!

GAELIC GARNERINGS.—Quite a nice-sized crowd at the Ballyduff Lower venue, on Sunday evening last saw P. H. Pearse winning this year's Eastern Divisional minor hurling championship from Clones-Power by a substantial margin. Plucky Paddy Wade, of Croughan, Dungarvan, cycled to the city Gaelic ground last Sunday, arriving just in time to top up and take the field with Erin's Own. Paddy scored 3 goals against the County Champions, and after the match he cycled to the Pike Hall dance.

BIKES.—The roads are swarming these days with cyclists. There is evidence on all sides of the great revival in Irish cycling. In organised runs, in more casual parties and in pairs, the devotees of the wheel are invading the rural districts. And very sociable outings they are too.

OVERHEARD.—Tramore Hairdresser (selling the Metal Man a dresser) (talking to a customer): "Be careful not to take the cork out of the bottle with the teeth, sir, unless you want to grow a moustache!"

INGENUITY.—Fews farmer—"I've hit upon a plan so as not to be caught by any drought next summer." His faha friend—"What's the idea?"

Fews farmer—"I'll plant onions and potatoes in alternate rows. The onions will make the potatoes' eyes water and so irrigate the soil."

Rathgormack, and Rev. Fr. Hennebery, C.C., Lismore (cousin).

Interesting to note that the deceased's grave is beside that of his first-cousin, Mr. Edmond (Eddie) Kirwan—a member of the far and far-famed Kilmathomas family of athletes—who, though but a mere youth when death claimed him in November, 1898, had already distinguished himself as a Gaelic footballer and all-round athlete.

DEATH OF MR. M. CLEARY.—Fortified by the rites of the Holy Catholic Church, of which he was a most exemplary member, Mr. M. Cleary, Kilmathomas, Kilmathomas, answered the Great Call at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, on Friday of last week, after an illness of some months and in the fullness of his years. He was a man of singular integrity of character, a generous, kindly and helpful neighbour, and an extremely well-liked. He came of an old and widely connected Kilrossanty family, and was predeceased by his wife. He reared a most respectable family, to whom, as well as to his brothers (Messrs. Denis Cleary, Kilrossanty; Andrew Cleary, Cleary, Kilmathomas; and sister (Mrs. Mary Dee, Rathmeaden), much sympathy goes out in their bereavement and loss.

An enormous gathering was present on Saturday evening when the remains were conveyed by motor-hearse to St. Brigid's Parish Church, Kilrossanty, wherein they were rested overnight on a catafalque before the High Altar.

Subsequent to the celebration of the 11 o'clock Mass on Sunday, the interment was made in the adjoining cemetery, in the presence of innumerable relatives, friends and sympathisers. Fr. Meenan officiated at the graveside. Masses for the eternal welfare of the departed soul were offered up during the week—

May he rest in peace. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. John Kent, undertaker, Kilmathomas. (American newspapers will please copy).

CONDOLNCE.—The Leamybrien L.D.F. and L.S.F. Groups, respectively, voted sympathy to Guard Synnott on the death of his mother.

GOOD WORK.—The company of County Council men operating under capable overseer Richard Cashin, senior, Ballygarry, Kilmathomas, have neatly trimmed the fences fringing the Kilmathomas-Bonmahon road (via Ballynane), and have repaired the pot-holes which were in evidence here and there along the stretch.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

LATE MR. P. LOOBY.—A well known and most respected resident of Cappoquin district died on Monday last in the person of Mr. Patrick Looby, Salsburgh. A native of Jallybacon, Co. Tipperary, deceased had been ill for some time, but his death was unexpected. He was a general favourite well known for his many estimable qualities and his demise has occasioned much regret. To the members of his bereaved family, including Rev. Fr. T. Looby, South Africa deep sympathy is extended.

PARISH COUNCIL DANCE.—A successful and enjoyable dance, under the auspices of the local Parish Council, was held in the Boathouse Hall. First class music was supplied by the Blackwater Serenaders' Dance Band (Cappoquin).

WHIST DRIVE.—Whist patrons in Cappoquin and district are eagerly looking forward to next Wednesday's big whist drive in the Boathouse, in aid of the Cappoquin and District Nursing Association. A big array of valuable prizes are offered and a great night's enjoyment is assured to all. A special attraction is a draw for a pig (kindly presented by Lady Keane) which will take place at the interval. It is hoped that the function will receive the support it merits because of its great christian and humanitarian work.

NEARING COMPLETION.—The extension to the Cappoquin Bacon Factory is rapidly nearing completion. The work is being carried out by John Murray and Sons, Contractors, Youghal. The new abattoir will serve as a great boon to farmers and will, in addition, give further employment. The management are to be heartily congratulated in their initiative and enterprise in the matter.

MATCH POSTPONED.—Owing to the lamented death of Very Rev. Canon Burke, P.P., Lismore, the M.F. championship match arranged for Cappoquin on Sunday last between St. Carthage's (Lismore) and Cathal Brugha's (Dungarvan) was postponed.
