Trenchant Defence of Youghal's View on Bridge Proposal

Let Eireann Remember

REMARKS OF WATERFORD COUNCILLORS' CRITICISED

Remarks made by members of Waterford Co. Council during a discussion on the proposed new Youghal Bridge had a sequel at a meeting of Youghal Urban Council when several members made a trenchant defence of the policy the local Council had pursued in the matter.

—By TOM TOBIN

Girl Attacked Near Youghal

A young girl, Miss Kathleen Leahy (19), of Killea, Templemichael, Youghal, was held up last Friday evening between 6.0 and 6.30 p.m. shortly after leaving her place of employment by a man who threatened her with a knife. As the girl walked towards her home a man passed her on a bicycle and just as she was about to turn up the main Tallow road near the Youghal Stone Bridge, the man dismounted and shouted to the girl to stop which she did and walked towards him. He compelled her, at the point of a knife, to stand with her back to the ditch and just then she saw a car approaching. It was the Seaford Fabrics Bus from Youghal taking workers home to Tallow and Lismore. He warned her to keep quiet and nothing would happen; she promised and just as the bus was about to pass she rushed out and shouted, the bus stopped and terror stricken she got aboard. She immediately told what happened and two men left the bus to search for the man but he was gone.

WEDDING BELLS

SEIFER-BYRRE

The marriage took place in the Church of the Holy Rosary Harold's Cross, Dublin, of Dr. Roman Seifer, son of Dr. M. Seifer and the late Mrs. T. Seifer, Croydon Surrey, and Miss M. Boyle, daughter of Dr. M. Boyle and Mrs. Michael Boyle Lismore Co. Waterford (formerly of Kilmacomas).

TRIBUTE TO LATE DR. McGRATH

The following appreciation by Drs. S.J. Boland of Waterford-born John McGrath, M.D. M.Sc. B.L. (1901-1957), of the journal of the Irish Medical Association:

On January 11th, 1957, John McGrath, having spent the morning correcting examination papers, drove away from his front door. About forty yards down the avenue, he stopped on the side of the drive, switched off the engine, pulled on the brake and died peacefully in the shade of the trees he loved so well.

Two days later, he would have been 56 years of age, and in that stretch of years—short by modern standards—he had established himself as one of the outstanding figures in Irish medicine of this century. Scientist, sportsman, traveller, bon viveur and friend, the president of the Royal Zoological Society, one of the founders of our Blood Transfusion Service—a model of its kind—and member of the Medical Research Council, his interests were widespread, yet to each activity he gave himself unsparringly.

Best known to the public as his work. Driving great distances of office he had travelled the length and breadth of the Twenty-six Counties, and wherever his duties called him he is remembered. Helpful and courteous to everyone, he made a host of friends, for as more than one of those whom he contacted: "He was so approachable." Only those who knew him intimately can realise the enormous effort he expended in his work. Driving great distances at all hours, even in mid-winter, at a moment's notice carrying out his investigations at the highest scientific level, often under primitive conditions, some of his cases are classics of their kind and will serve as a memorial to his meticulous accuracy and scientific competence. He worried over the evidence against the accused—perhaps even more, in fact than did those responsible for the defence, for everything was tested and re-tested lest error should creep in. To have worked with him was a liberal education, demonstrating as it did a value of accuracy, patience and the judicial mind.

A fishing enthusiast from his student days, a fisherman's keen golfer, he was essentially an outdoor man. Too busy to devote sufficient time to excel, he was none the less better than most at most sports. One thing is certain—he was a great competitor. At singles, no matter what the apparent superiority, he always had a partner he spurred you on mercifully to greater effort. A keen horticulturist, his knowledge was utilised in providing Portmarnock Golf Club with young plantations, and the trees that now flourish in that area still are a living memorial to him.

A great traveller, he had visited most of the continent and knew the West European countries as intimately as he did his own. These trips were recorded superbly, for he was

Local Man's Appointment

Congratulations to Mr. Jack Forde on his appointment as Manager of the Youghal Greyhound Track. We feel that this appointment will be a very popular one as Jack has a lifetime experience of the longtail and for quite a number of years held a similar position at Clonmel Track and knows the game from every angle. We are informed that quite a number of improvements are underway at Youghal including the installation of a new type of silent hare and the introduction of 550 yards circuit etc.

Shakespearean Actor Visits Dungarvan

Mr. Denis Francis, the well-known Shakespearean Actor, is at present in Dungarvan and today he visits the Augustinian College.

Within the next few days he intends to visit the other schools in the area.

He is lecturing on "Shakespeare Without Tears."

Mr. Francis, who is Polish born, will shortly be seen in John Ford's "Three Leaves from a Shamrock" in which he plays the part of a Black and Tan officer in the "Rising of the Moon."

The amiable actor has just recovered from a recent illness in England. After Dungarvan he is going on to Fermoy.

OBITUARY

Death of Mrs. Bridget Broderick

CLASHMORE

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Bridget Broderick (nee O'Donovan), Clashmore.

Deceased, who was a very popular figure, was a member of a well-known family and was wife of Mr. John Broderick, sister of St. Francis Geronimo, U.S.A.; Miss Nora O'Donovan, do., and of the late Rev. John O'Donovan, S.J. late Rev. Robert O'Donovan, the late Rev. David O'Donovan and the late Miss K. O'Donovan, U.S.A. She was aunt of Rev. Michael O'Donovan, C.C., Trainer; Rev. Patrick O'Donovan, P.I.; Supt. T. O'Donovan, Mr. James O'Donovan, Mr. John O'Donovan, N.T., and Misses K. and N. O'Donovan.

Her passing has occasioned deep regret and much sympathy is extended to her bereaved relatives.

Solemn Office and Requiem High Mass for the eternal repose of her soul was offered up in Clashmore Parish Church, Rev. M. O'Donovan, C.C. (nephew) was the celebrant Rev. D. Slattery, C.C. Aglish, was deacon; and Rev. M. Power, B.A., C.C., Clashmore, was sub-deacon. The choir consisted of the following: Very Rev. J. Canon Kieley, President, St. John's College, Waterford; Very Rev. D. Power, P.P., Clashmore; Very Rev. M. Hackett, P.P., Aglish; Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Ballinacree; Rev. P. Dwyer, C.C., Newcastle; Rev. J. Foley, Burna.

Subsequently the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of a large and representative gathering of mourners.

propose that we ask the Co. Manager when the erection of the new bridge is going to start.

Mr. Daly seconded.

Chairman: I think it is only fair that so far as we are concerned, the members of the Council and previous councils tried to have the bridge erected on the most suitable site and the remarks made at the meeting of the Waterford Co. Council were most derogatory. We had one idea and one idea alone and that was that was to get the bridge erected on the site of the existing bridge. The discussion ended.

Mr. Lawlor: We should very strongly protest against the manner in which Youghal U.D.C. was held up to ridicule by the Waterford Co. Council as reported in the public press. I think, said Mr. Lawlor, it was a poor tribute especially from Deputy Kynne to deride the steps taken by Youghal Urban Council which were taken in the best interests of the town of Youghal.

Mr. Lynch—I second that we are getting facts at last. Years ago I was one of the members of this Council who attended all bridge meetings. If something was not done to the bridge, Youghal was going to lose the trade from the Waterford side, and the first trouble was the placing of barrels along the bridge. Deputy Kynne was one of the gents who said he wanted a new bridge—the cat is out of the bag and the fact that the bridge is as it is to-day is worth thousands of pounds to Dungarvan. The Youghal Urban Council were right in trying to get the bridge erected on the existing site. Mr. Hesling too should be the last man in Waterford to do what he did. When he was going forward for the Bill he promised all the help in his power to the people of Youghal; he was a wolf behind the scenes. I now

This Memorial erected on the road to Killeen, commemorates the memory of young Volunteers of the Golligan Coy., I.R.A., who made the supreme sacrifice in 1921.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

I have read with interest Mr. Norman Walsh's letter in your issue of last week. While I agree that there are many establishments of an industry in any area of West Waterford, I feel that the prospects of establishing a successful book-binding industry in West Waterford as suggested by your correspondent, "Face the Issue" Capouquin, are not as remote as may at first sight appear.

The essential materials for a binding industry are glue, paperboard and leather, all of which are being manufactured in this county at present. The fact, over the past few years, that many Co. Librarians find it necessary to send a considerable amount of books requiring rebinding outside Ireland, proves the existing Irish binders are unable to meet the demands of the home market. The position in this respect was so bad that the Library Assoc. of Ireland set up a committee to investigate the problem. The findings of this body have not yet been made public.

Seeing that the establishment of such a bindery would benefit existing Co. Waterford industries might not these firms be induced to interest themselves in the project? Or alternatively an approach might be made to the existing Dublin firms, failing this to one of the Scottish firms whose standing in the trade is of the highest repute.

It is heartening to see that our public representatives are interesting themselves in the vital matter of industrial development in this area, and we trust that their efforts in this direction will bear fruit.

Yours faithfully,
M. V. GOUGH,
Chapel St.,
Lismore,
3th February, 1957.

Editor OBSERVER

A Chara.

It is generally agreed that the present County rate is excessively high and there is a tendency to hold the County Council responsible for the situation. It should be understood that the Council bear little authority in the matter as successive Governments have compelled the local authorities to implement new services & schemes which in my opinion should be charged on the Central Fund.

The big majority of the members of Waterford County Council have done all that is humanly possible to keep the rates at a reasonable level but have found their efforts nullified by Department regulations and orders.

It is a healthy development that the N.F.A., who are a realistic body, have decided that the problem of local rates will have to be tackled at a national level and have acted accordingly. It is only proper that the general public should be aware of the facts and that

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Senator P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman, presided at the usual meeting of Youghal U.D.C. on Friday night. Others in attendance were E. P. Lynch, S. Daly, E.E., A. N. Coko, Ph.C., and P. J. Linnahan.

STRAND SEWER

The Town Clerk gave details of his interview and that of the Town Surveyor, Mr. J. O'Regan, B.E., with officials of L.G.D., in connection with the proposed sewerage for the strand. The proposal was agreed in principle by the Department.

Mr. Daly: They were refused. I think that poor people should get preference after bakeries. I think the treatment of these poor people was very unfair and I trust it will not happen again.

Preparing for the fishing season, opening on 15th Feb. this young disciple of Isaac Walton is having a preliminary try out.

The Inside Story

By Tom Tobin

They went behind closed doors to celebrate

Dungarvan Hurling and Football Club had their annual social and dinner at the Devonshire Arms Hotel recently.

At this year's function medals were presented to men who played game many years ago including Tom Lannon, Joe Foley and Paddy Noonan.

These officials of self-imposed importance seem to forget the very important fact that they would not be there at all were it not for the Press.

Should the Dungarvan club, and others as well, find it ever necessary to pay for the advertising in getting the message across?

The Minister for the Gaeltacht, Mr. P. J. Lindsay, S.C., T.D., and other Ministers will find something to interest them in this little item, i.e., of course, if they are still in office when the paper is read by them.

On Sunday week, the Minister for the Gaeltacht visited our town for the purpose of addressing a meeting of the Fine Gael executive at Egan's Hotel.

Before the meeting, he decided to visit the desolate fishing pier at Helvick to see how the people were faring out. The same day he also called in to Ring College to see the position there.

On the Friday before the meeting took place, it was unofficially informed that the Minister for the Gaeltacht would visit Dungarvan and I was told that it would be notified of arrangements by the Secretary.

This was the newspaper that got the inside story of Mr. Sweetman's secret meeting with the privileged members of the Fine Gael party in Dungarvan some time ago. A story that upset those concerned. We had to be taught a lesson.

Someone told someone and that someone told me. Officially, however, we were to be ignored. I blame the Secretary. It was her duty to send a card to the representatives of the Press, all of them and not just one particular reporter.

The Housing Question This weekend will see a very important meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council. The question of a site for the erection of the town's urgently required new housing scheme will again come up for discussion.

The motion reads: That we rescind the resolution carried to purchase Boreenathra for the building of 30 houses. My reason for this notice of motion is that we require at least 70 houses in Dungarvan to fulfil the requirements of those who are badly in need of houses.

While there is a lot to be said for the point made by Mr. N. Kelly I am afraid there is nothing that can be done at this stage. Certain action has already been taken by the Co. Manager following the decision of the last meeting and it may well be impossible to undo what has already been done.

Mr. Kelly's motion strikes me as being useless. He is right, however, when he states that at least seventy houses are needed to meet the demands of the homeless or those living in bad houses but, why turn down Boreenathra. It is the ideal housing site. Why not purchase the Cloney site as well. It is still on the market and money spent on land is money invested.

On Sunday week, the Minister for the Gaeltacht visited our town for the purpose of addressing a meeting of the Fine Gael executive at Egan's Hotel. Before the meeting, he decided to visit the desolate fishing pier at Helvick to see how the people were faring out.

Saturday night next will see the visit to Dungarvan of Mr. Douglas Hyde, the former Communist, who gives a lecture at Friary Hall sponsored by the Friary Past Pupils Union in aid of the Missions. Make a note of it. The opportunity may not come your way again.

More Bother About a Doctor's House There is a spot of bother over a house that was recently built for the R.M.S. at Ardeen Chest Hospital, Waterford. I'm told that the R.M.S., Dr. F. L. Corrigan, had to run out of the house three days after moving in. Among his complaints, was one of 'condensation' which I am told was so bad he would not risk his health or his furniture in the place. However, I understand the L.M.A. has a hand in the case and will present quite a surprise when their demands are placed before the members of our County Council.

Another person, too, who does much to make Dungarvan District Hospital the efficient institution it is, is Mr. Jack McCarthy. Without Jack, I guess it would lose an awful lot. And last, but not least I want to mention the good Sisters of Mercy. They make it possible for shorter hours in a hospital. You are not just a chart and a number there, you are a person and you are made feel perfectly at ease with all.

know that it had nothing on the Dungarvan Hospital. Jack continued and I had no intention of interrupting him. I went to the sick man and thanks to the attention I got I am back on my feet again, thank God. All I can say is that the treatment, the general attention and the service were excellent in every way and I would like to take this opportunity to pay a well-deserved tribute to Dr. B. McCarthy. I doubt if you could get a better doctor anywhere. The staff were Nurses Mary Fitzgerald, Mai Guiry, M. Drea-Moloney, Noreen Ryan and Ann Drohan.

Each of them is a credit to her noble profession. I want to mention the attendants, Misses Nora Butler Christine Duggan and Jean Keane. They do a fine job and certainly look after the patients with feeling.

Message from Rome During the week I had a postcard from a well-known Cistercian priest, a native of the Carrick-on-Suir side, who is now in Rome. He expressed his appreciation of this column and the many contacts it renewed. I like the interesting (and sometimes, energetic) way you put things in your column he said, and wished us every success in our efforts.

From London too came an unusual request indeed. It came from a newspaper who wished to place the Dungarvan Observer among the hundred of newspapers on sale in that great city. The newsagent is now receiving a regular supply of the OBSERVER and from the way the number is increasing, it would seem that the Old Boro is well represented in the area. However, I will find the story behind this unusual delivery within the next couple of weeks.

Twenty-one Years Old this Year This year will be an important milestone in the life of the Dickens Leather Company Ltd. It will mark the 21st birthday of the factory that has made Dungarvan leather a product known and sought after the world over. Already there are special arrangements in hand to mark the great occasion.

The Big Wind Monday last will be long remembered because of the big wind that swept the country with hurricane force doing much damage to life and property. In the Old Boro it lashed the district with a force that swept slates off hundreds of houses, knocked down trees, swept away advertising signs and hoardings, lashed shipping at their moorings, disrupted telephone services and threw many areas into complete darkness when electric power cables were blown down.

The village of Abbeyside was without light or power up to a late hour and the fact that they were restored was a credit to the engineers who worked in the heart of the storm to repair the damage. Hundreds of local people went to the cinema to find the doors closed. At 8.30 that night a big number stood there waiting. The hospital authorities say this is impossible and point out that in order to have a forty-eight hour week, 20 additional attendants would need to be employed at a cost of approx. £4500 annually. Waterford Board of Assistance is prepared to provide the extra staff but the Minister will not sanction it.

A Tribute to Our Hospital Attendants Now the Dept. of Health has issued instructions to the hospital authorities to see if they can cut down the working hours of the attendants without taking on additional staff. A decision will be required within two months. This will wait that long...but no longer. If no agreement is reached by then, stated Deputy Kynne in Dungarvan yesterday, we reserve the right to take further action in the matter.

It is understood that a number of Department engineers recently inspected the site of the proposed new Youghal Bridge. The recent announcement that the construction of the approach roads will give considerable employment to Co. Waterford men is welcomed in this area where there is a good deal of unemployment at present.

Busy Time Ahead of for Local Boxers

Things are again in full swing at the Dungarvan Club after the sickness during the Christmas holidays and the boxers have a busy time ahead of them. Both the older and younger boxers will be competing in the championship and league. First on the list will be a tournament on Friday, Feb. 15th in Cork which will be run by the Cork Corinthian B.C.

The Dungarvan club will have several bouts as follows: E. Bluet v. Pte Howard, F. North v. M. Fisher, T. Sheehan v. D. O'Neill, M. Delany v. O'Connell and Juvenile S. Hynes v. D. O'Keefe.

This is a bill worth watching and the Dungarvan Club are very lucky indeed to have so many boxers on this very attractive programme.

On Sunday, Feb. 10th, the Munster Senior Championships will be held in Tipperary town. There is a magnificent cup for the best team in the championship and the Dungarvan Club will have a formidable entry in F. North, T. Sheehan, E. Bluet and J. Woods and could capture the trophy for the first time. The above boxers will also compete in the Cork senior championships.

The club's juvenile boxers will also be busy as they have been entered in the Cork County League and championships.

At the annual general meeting of 'West Waterford Comhairle Ceannair F.F.', held at Clashmore, the following officers were unanimously re-elected: Chairman, Mr. T. Moloney, Ardmore; Vice-Chairman, Mr. T. Meschan, Mount Stuart; Treasurer, Messrs. P. J. Cunningham, Clashmore, and Liam Hayes, Aglish. Hon. Sec., Mr. P. Kenneally, Aglish. Delegates to All Ceannair—Messrs. M. Troy, Ardmore, and L. Hayes Aglish.

The report of the Treasurers, which showed a substantial credit balance, was adopted as was the report of the Hon. Sec., which showed the organisation to be in a healthy condition in the area. Tributes were paid to Mr. P. Kenneally for his work for F.F. during the past year.

Addressing the meeting, Ald. W. Kenneally, T.D., said that the Government was falling to pieces and a General Election was inevitable. Mr. Sean Ormonde, T.D., in the course of a lengthy address referred to the present economic crisis and outlined the F.F. policy on Partition. Mr. C. Curran, M.C.C., said that the youth should be induced to join F.F. in whose ranks they could do worthwhile work for the Irish nation.

SCOUT NOTES

The usual Troop Meeting was held on Saturday night with a good attendance and to the chaps who were reported sick was a quick recovery so that someone else in the house can get a bit of attention. The first item of the bag (apart from the Easter Eggs) was for Scouts to try to guess the Question which would bring the answer already fixed. A big number of questions were asked by Scouts in turn to some of which they got answers but it was a long time before Ga Kynne struck oil and got an Easter Egg. After the first attempt Scouts got the hang of the idea and a few got eggs. To show that we really can do drill we did it almost like clockwork again to-night and now that every chap understands that you have the head as well as the feet, we look forward to a good performance at the Parade on Sunday morning next. "Noise" is not usual at a meeting but on Saturday night it was actually on the programme. The Tiger Patrol were given a short message which they were to call out to the Panther Patrol while the other three Patrols were to make enough of a row to stop good reception. It worked all right and the fire alarm would not have been heard in the din. There was quietness for the remainder of the night. We were told that there was some going on like this in "The Mikado."

We had some tips and practice on the 1st Class Estimations Test and to try out measurement of time two Scouts from each Patrol stood out and were asked to estimate "What a Minute" and step back when the minute was up. They all stepped back too soon.

At the C.O.H. meeting the patrol report was given a short work is progressing but among the younger fellows mostly. However, we know that as Scouts advance the tests do get harder and so require a longer time to prepare. It was decided to start training our Doccian team and we hope our Melvin team soon. Bi Ullamh must really be their motto all the time this year. Burke did his best to get 52 cards and six to play then but he found when he had got the cards, Duca had lived up to his name. He probably needed a rest after his walking towards Cork. Anyhow, we had a few games with five and I would say that Burke slept solidly for the remainder of Sunday morning. Talking of sleep and Burke reminds me of the night in Thurles not so long ago. The west was really asleep that night.

REG. 1957. The S.M. has the forms for registering Troop Membership for this year and hopes to complete them by next week. There are a few names on last year's list and the owners would want to present themselves if they are interested in staying members of the 4th Waterford C.B.S.I. Well, no doubt we'll see everyone on Sunday morning at 7.45 a.m. and we'll ask why of those whom we don't see on Friday night at 7.30 p.m.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT HOGAN—The brother and sisters of the late Miss Bridget Hogan, Pulla, Dungarvan, wish to thank sincerely all the kind friends who sympathised with them in their recent bereavement; all who sent Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy and all who attended at the obsequies. As a token of their gratitude, Holy Mass will be celebrated for the intentions of all.

KIELY—The widow of the late Matthew Kiely, Davis Street, Dungarvan, wish to thank most sincerely all those who sent Mass cards, telegrams and letters of sympathy in her recent bereavement. She trusts that this will be accepted by all in grateful acknowledgment.

POWER—The brother, sisters and relatives of the late Ellen Power, Halfway House, Ballymacarthy, wish to thank most sincerely all who sympathised with them in their recent bereavement. Holy Mass will be offered for the intentions of all.

Local Happenings

expected to be exported. The sausages are being made by Messrs. Clover Meats, Waterford. A large consignment of frozen and chilled beef left Waterford on Tuesday for Sweden. This is the second large consignment to be exported from Messrs. Clover Meats to Sweden.

Of Interest to Young Farmers.—Some vacancies are available for a four weeks' course in Agriculture which will begin at Athery Agricultural School on the 18th February, '57. The course will be open to young men of 17 years of age and over and will include classroom instruction in up-to-date farming, supplemented by practical demonstrations in the fields, farmyard, gardens and poultry runs attached to the school. Lectures on veterinary hygiene will be a feature of the course. Debate amongst the students will be organised and displays of agricultural films will be arranged. Tuition will be free but a charge of £6 will be made towards the cost of board and residence at the school. Further particulars and application forms may be obtained from the Secretary, Department of Agriculture (Section 24) Dublin.

IN MEMORIAM HALLAHAN (Graigu, Villiers-town) (Third Anniversary)—In fond and ever-loving memory of our dear beloved mother, Mrs. Mary Hallahan, whom God called home on the 9th February, 1954, Marian Year, Oq whose soul Sweet Jesus have mercy. Most Sacred Heart of Jesus, In whom we trust and pray, Grant to the soul of our dear Mother, Eternal rest to-day. —Always fondly remembered by her fond family, Ellie, Katty, Willie, Brother Dick and grandchildren.

Dungarvan Camogie Club will hold a Cell and Old-time Waltzes in the Town Hall, on Friday, February 15th. Rinnee 8.30 to 1 a.m. Admission 3/-.

Flisk Rovers Junior Football Club will hold a social (at which a presentation of medals will be made) at Ballinacree, on Friday, February 15th, commencing at 9 p.m. Tickets 2/6. Cash mile fairs (adv.)

Ballinacree N.F.A.—The annual general meeting of the above will be held in the Technical School, Ballinacree, on tonight (Friday), 8th February, at 8 p.m. Members and all interested are requested to attend.

Festival of Traditional Music.—As will be seen in our advertising columns, official notice is given that the All-Ireland Festival of Traditional music is being held in Dungarvan next Whit week-end. This notice should contain certain persistent rumours that the Festival had fallen through owing to petrol rationing etc. Preparations are well in hand and during the coming fortnight members of the committee will carry out a canvass of the town and surrounding districts to ascertain what accommodation will be available, and what help the townspeople will give in the running of the festival. Members of the Ennis Committee will visit the town in the near future with a film of the Ennis Festival and it is hoped to get this for a public showing at a future date.

As part of the fund-raising campaign, a cell will be held on the night of Le Fheile Phadraig, for which the services of George Ross (just returned from his successful tour of America, where he appeared on stage, screen, T.V. and radio, and his prizewinning Ceili Band have just been secured. All lovers of Irish music, language, culture and games are asked to patronise this function. The committee appeals to the townspeople to do their part to make the Feast a success and they are sure that their appeal will bear fruit.

Ceremony at Nazareth House, Hammersmith, London.—On Feb. 2nd, Feast of Our Lady's Purification, a ceremony of Clothing and Final Profession took place at Nazareth House, Hammersmith, London. The following postulants received the White Veil: Miss A. Halley (Sister Teresa Bernadette) Waterford; Miss E. Tracey (Sister Rita Joseph) Ballinacree; Miss N. Geary (Sister St. Pius) Castletin, Co. Donegal; Miss M. Hennessy (Sister Mary of Cleophas), Ballinacree, Co. Cork; Sister M. Phillips (Corry) Coacraire, Co. Clare, pronounced Final Vows. The celebrant, Rev. Fr. McAlinden, S.M.M., was assisted in the sanctuary by Rev. A. Thorold, Chaplain. The ceremony concluded with the Te Deum prayers for benefactors and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Tribute to Late Dr. McGrath

(Continued from Front Page) best, for he was the soul of hospitality. To have him as a guest assured the success of your dinner-party, for he could talk with authority and interest on so many subjects. With no family himself, he had numerous pseudo nephews and nieces, who referred and still refer to him as 'Uncle Jack.' They loved him because he listened to their prattle with the same gravity and respect that he accorded to their elders.

In his appointment as Professor of Pathology, and later as Dean of the Medical Faculty of U.C.D., he had reached the summit of his personal ambition. The future he could devote to passing on the knowledge gained over the years to the encouragement of the average student, and the shepherding of his bright young men along the paths best suited to their abilities. His mind teemed with new ideas, all directed towards the improvement of teaching and the training of the future doctors of our country.

His death has been a heavy blow to his friends & colleagues. In our sense of loss we must not be selfish, but pause and recollect what his passing means to his wife, who so efficiently helped him to attain all he did. Quietly, patiently, his self-effacing 'Pattie' was the perfect partner. She enjoyed all the things that he did, and managed perfectly the beautiful home and garden in which both took such pride and joy. Her single-minded devotion during his past months of ill-health, and her courageous acceptance of the inevitable arouse our sympathy and admiration.

At Cappoquin, where Geraldine and Tourin are billed to try conclusions in a postponed Sargent Cup tie and the homestays play hosts to Ballyduff in a challenge encounter, has the Gaelic scene all to itself on Sunday next.

The meeting Tourin and Geraldine is an attraction in its own right, and the fact that Ballyduff are down to oppose the junior titleholders in their second round engagement on Sunday week makes their fixture with the Cornerstone side more than just another challenge outing.

Tourin are reputed to be in a much happier position now than had their tilt with the Aglish men come off on the original date four weeks ago. These more than useful stick-men and rugged battlers have their sights trained on the Cup this year and it looks as if it will take a supreme effort on the newcomers part to call a halt to the avowed resurgence of the 1956 champions.

But the Aglish men have nurtured aspirations of their own since their convincing triumph in the junior final last October. They play a hard, determined game—a style no unlike their rivals and when they put the skids under a fancied Ballygunner side in the junior decider impressed many shrewd observers as a potential senior force.

I believe a lot will hinge on how well they acquit themselves in this encounter. Both sides face the test in confident frame of mind. Unless I see it wrongly there will not be more than a score or two one way or the other when it's all over.

KILMATHOMAS — KILROSSANTY and STRADBALLY DISTRICTS

By GEORGE C. KIELY

Following a protracted illness and in the fullness of years, Mrs. Mary Cullinan (nee Keaver), widow of Mr. John Cullinan, farmer, Ballyvella, Stradbally, died at her home on Sunday, 3rd inst. One of the most beloved and most popular figures in the district the mourning for her loss will be general and sincere and a great wave of sympathy goes out to her family (son and three daughters and nieces and nephews. The funeral, which took place on Tuesday, at the cemetery adjoining the Parish Church, Stradbally, was the largest and most representative seen locally for a long time, a fitting tribute to the memory of departed worth. Rev. F. R. Draper, C.C., do. gave final absolution at the graveside. Sheaves of spiritual bouquets were received. At a luncheon at 3.30 p.m. Sunday 10th Feb., when candidates for the coming General Election will be selected.

The Co. Convention is set for the Courthouse, Dungarvan at 3.30 p.m. Sunday 10th Feb., when candidates for the coming General Election will be selected.

The passing of the oldest inhabitant of the village of Kill, Mr. David Power, who was aged about 83 years, has caused widespread feelings of regret and evoked deep sympathy for his prominent ties who are held in very high esteem. Possessed of a natural gift of gentle and cherry kindness, he commanded the esteem and confidence of many friends to the end, and death was in keeping with a life of exemplary attachment to the Mother Church. On Sunday last the remains were interred in the family plot at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Kill and the large attendance of the public was proof of the deep respect in which the deceased was held by all classes. The prayers at the graveside were read by Rev. Fr. Walsh, C.C., Kill, R.I.P.

Late Mrs. Alice Doyle, Kilbrack, Rathgormack. — This likeable lady who was a native of Aghadow, Kilmathomas, died in St. Patrick's Hospital, Waterford, and was buried in the cemetery adjoining Rathgormack, after Requiem Mass celebrated by Rev. Fr. Mulcahy C.C., do., who also officiated at the graveside.

Her many good qualities won for Mrs. Doyle marked and widespread popularity, and her demise occasioned deep regret over a wide area.

Chief mourners were Mr. J. Doyle (husband); Mr. William Doyle, South Africa, and Mr. P. Doyle London (sons); Mrs. S. Ward, do., and Mrs. Michael Sheehan Carrickbeg (daughters); Mr. M. Sheehan and Mr. S. Power (sons-in-law), and Messrs John and Michael Power, Ash town, Kilmathomas (brothers).

Accident. — Mrs. Nora O'Connor (nee Mooney), native of Kilstague, Kill, and her daughter, Mrs. M. Brennan, of Ballinaloboy, Kilmow, were concerned in the accident referred to in last week's "Observer," near Hennessy's Garage, at Scraban, Kilmac, on Wednesday night 30th.

It is learned that a tyre of the car, which Mrs. Brennan was driving, burst, causing the vehicle to overturn.

Both were injured, the driver seriously, and were quickly removed to a city hospital, from where, we are glad to learn, Mrs. O'Connor was discharged after treatment.

Mrs. Brennan, who is progressing as favourably as can be expected, is widow of Mr. Patrick Brennan, who was, it will be recalled, fatally injured last year when he was crushed by a bale of paper in the National Board and Paper Mills, Grannagh, Waterford.

Her father, the late Mr. L. O'Connor, former proprietor of the Rob Roy Bar, Quay, Waterford, and late of a licensed premises under the same name, at Millinaval, Co. Kilkenny, was a member of one of the best known and most respected families of the Ardmore Parish Grange and his grave is in the cemetery adjoining Grange Church.

THE DEAD WHO DIED FOR IRELAND

Upon her loving breast; And Rory, Liam and Dick & Joe with dauntless Cathal Brughan And Kevin and Sean Treacy, were there to welcome you. The dead who died for Ireland green Erin's sleep is past, They've woke her from her dreaming, she's found her soul at last. And those that are left behind them, God guard them night and day, The kindred of her valiant sons, who're laid beneath the clay. M. WALSHIE, Ballingown, Kilrossanty.

"For one armed man cannot resist a multitude nor one army conquer countless legions, but not all the armies of all the empires of the earth can crush the spirit of one true man and that one man shall prevail." —Terence MacSwiney

Dance at Glebe Hall, Aglish. KEEPING A DATE: The 24 February is likely to be a date for all patrons of the Glebe Ballroom, Aglish. On that night there will be held at the ever-popular Glebe a dance to end all dances for all dancers there, for the season. A monster Fancy Dress and Masked Ball will be promoted for the last big night before Lent. Remember to make it a date.

Sargent Cup Match. Ballyduff, must find replacements for the doughty Paddy Rafferty and goalman Flynn this year will be in experimental mood when they face Cappoquin in the other tie. Their form will be interesting, especially with a vital second round engagement pending on the following Sunday. Cappoquin will, however, have a big advantage in fitness in the fact that should see them with something in hand at the end.

REVOLUTIONARY PETROL ECONOMY!

New Minor '1000' gives NEARLY SIXTY MPG!

PERFORMANCE TOO! Just as impressive were the tests made with the standard carburettor needle, driving at average speeds. Though these tests were made to prove the car's performance, petrol economy was little short of miraculous.

INDEPENDENT PROOF UNDER THE WORST CONDITIONS. The Editor of a leading Irish motor magazine on testing of the remarkable petrol economy of the Minor '1000' asked to be allowed to 'test for myself'. So, in the Phoenix Park, Dublin, he drove across the city and back and got 48 miles to the gallon! This was without the economy needle!

And, THIS IS LUXURY MOTORING

There's nothing missing from the equipment of the Minor '1000' — from heater (standard in all Minors!) to deep, fitted carpets, from windtone horn to Dunlopillo upholstery, there's everything driver and passengers need for comfort: plenty of room for everyone and their luggage too! This is economy motoring you enjoy!
