Moths and Butterflies of Guernsey 2010

The following is a summary of the moths and butterflies recorded in the Bailiwick of Guernsey during 2010. The summary includes both light trap records and sightings by myself together with all other records passed on to me by other recorders. In particular I would like to thank Trevor Bourgaize, Jane Cleal, Peter Costen, Mark Lawlor, Tim Peet, and Wayne Turner. Unfortunately this year I have not been able to include any records from Alderney. I have also included records from the Rothamsted trap and would like to express my thanks to the staff at Plant Health Services for continuing to set and empty the trap.

Alderney continues to be extremely well recorded by David Wedd and a complete summary for both the micro and macro moths can be found on the Alderney Record Centre web site and I see no point in duplicating this information. I have only included the new records.

The butterfly recorders continue to provide records and I would particularly like to thank Ian Hall, Chris de la Mare and Andy Smith for their excellent work.

On one of his many visits to Guernsey Phil Sterling looked at set specimens of Small Grass Emerald Clorissa viridata and wondered if another species was involved as the habitat was so different from this species in the UK. During 2010, with the help of P Costen and Mark Lawlor, he examined both old set and freshly collected specimens and determined that they were all Southern Grass Emerald Clorissa cloraria. The full description of this work was published in The Entomologist's Record and Journal of Variation Vol. 123 Part 1 published in January/February 2011. From this paper it would appear that all historic records referring to Small Grass Emeralds should be considered to be Southern Grass Emerald.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has taken the trouble to pass on their records. In this rapidly changing world it is only by keeping good records that we can monitor changes.

Where monthly counts are given for species these are not necessarily exact totals but are intended to give a good indication of flight times and/or relative monthly abundance and refer to Guernsey records only.

The order and species numbers used in the summary are as used by J. D. Bradley in 'Checklist of Lepidoptera Recorded from the British Isles' published in 1998 and incorporating subsequent updated nomenclature published in various journals. Taxonomic changes have taken place since Bradley and Fletcher originally assigned each species an identifying number but, for ease of reference, I have kept the list in strict numerical order.

The species added to the island lists were as follows:-

New Channel Islands Records:-

0656	Tachystola acroxantha (Mey.)
0774	Teleiodes luculella (Linn.)
0822	Scrobipalpa acuminatella (Sircom)
