National Headquarters: Colorado Springs, Colo.

Website: usahockey.com

Membership Base: Nearly 600,000 Players, Coaches, Officials and Fans of the Game

USA Hockey, Inc., is the National Governing Body for the sport of ice hockey in the United States. Its mission is to promote the growth of hockey in America and provide the best possible experience for all participants by encouraging, developing, advancing and administering the sport.

USA Hockey's primary emphasis is on the support and development of grassroots hockey programs. In January 2009, the organization launched the American Development Model, which - for the first time ever - provides associations nationwide with a blueprint for optimal athlete development.

While youth hockey is a main focus, USA Hockey also has vibrant junior and adult hockey programs that provide opportunities for players of all ability levels. The organization also supports a growing disabled hockey program and maintains an inline hockey program to provide structure and support for its growth across the nation.

Beyond serving those who play the game at the amateur level, USA Hockey has certification programs for coaches and officials to ensure education standards are met that coincide with the level of play. Furthermore, a large focus is put on parent education with equipment needs, rules of the game and parental roles in youth sports among common topics.

Members of the organization are entitled to many benefits, including a subscription to USA Hockey Magazine, the most widely circulated hockey publication in the world; excess accident, general liability and catastrophic insurance coverage; access to USAHockey.com; and opportunities to participate in USA Hockey National Championships, as well as player development camps.

USA Hockey is the official representative to the United States Olympic Committee and the International Ice Hockey Federation. In this role, USA Hockey is responsible for organizing and training men's and women's teams for international tournaments, including the IIHF World Championships and the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. Closer to home, USA Hockey works closely with the National Hockey League and the National Collegiate Athletic Association on matters of mutual interest.

USA Hockey is divided into 12 geographical districts throughout the United States. Each district has a registrar to register teams; a referee-in-chief to register officials and organize clinics; a coach-in-chief to administer education program for coaches; a risk manager to oversee liability and safety programs; and a skill development program administrator to facilitate learn-to-play programs for youth players and their parents.

TEAM USA Media Policies

Members of the 2009-10 U.S. Women's National Team will be made available to media at specified times throughout the season, as well as upon request to the USA Hockey communications department. See contact information below for USA Hockey's communications staff.

AVAILABILITY

U.S. Women's National Team players and staff will be available for 30-45 minutes following games and practices during the 2009-10 season. On game days, interviews must be completed immediately following the pre-game skate. Following games, players and coaches will be made available following a 10-minute cool-down period.

A member of the USA Hockey communications staff will be on-site at all games listed on the 2009-10 schedule to facilitate any media requests.

ADDITIONAL AVAILABILITY

Media wishing to schedule an interview outside of the designated times, please contact Christy Jeffries, manager of communications at USA Hockey (719-538-1169/ christyj@usahockey.org).

CREDENTIALS

Media credentials are available for each game via the USA Hockey communications department. Request forms are available through a member of the USA Hockey communications staff, or at QwestTour.com. Credential requests must be submitted by the deadline date for each game, which is listed on the application form.

INFORMATION

Up-to-date statistics, news, features and other various media resources on the 2009-10 U.S. Women's National Team and the QwestTour are available at QwestTour.com.

GAME FORMAT

Games against NCAA all-star teams and international teams will follow International Ice Hockey Federation protocol, thus if the game is tied after three periods, the teams will play a five-minute sudden-death 4-on-4 overtime period following a three-minute intermission. If the game remains tied after overtime, the game winning shots procedure will apply with three players from each team. If still tied, the GWS procedure continues in single-player rounds until a winner is determined. Players who participated in the first round are eligible to continue shooting throughout the remaining rounds.

Games against teams from the Western Collegiate Hockey Association will follow league and NCAA protocol. If the game is tied after regulation, the teams will play a five-minute sudden-death 5-on-5 overtime period following a two-minute intermission. If the game remains tied, three players from each team will be chosen for a shootout. If still tied, the shootout continues in single-player rounds until a winner is determined. Players who participated in the first round are ineligible until every other player from their team has shot.

THIS IS The Qwest Tour

The Qwest Tour, presented by Qwest Communications, features the 2009-10 U.S. Women's National Team playing a 10-game, nine-city domestic tour that runs from Sept. 25 until the start of the 2010 Olympic Winter Games in Vancouver, B.C.

During that time, the U.S. squad faces off against Canada; Finland; all-star teams from the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, Hockey East and ECAC Hockey; and various NCAA Division I women's ice hockey teams.

"The Qwest Tour will not only bring the top level of women's hockey to cities around the country, but it will be a huge asset in preparing our team to compete for the gold medal at the 2010 Olympic Winter Games in Vancouver," said Dave Ogrean, executive director of USA Hockey.

Now in its third year of sponsoring USA Hockey, Qwest expanded its relationship to utilize its communication technology to bring more exposure to the sport of women's hockey. USA Hockey and Qwest have teamed up for many joint initiatives that will help fans get more connected than ever before with the U.S. Women's National Team in the lead-up to Vancouver.

"Qwest is thrilled to support the U.S. Women's National Hockey Team and to be a part of its journey to the 2010 Olympic Winter Games," said Rich Karlis, Qwest director of channel marketing and corporate sponsorships. "The Qwest Tour brings world-class match-ups to fans across the U.S. and Qwest services will bring USA Hockey fans closer to the action as the team prepares to compete for Olympic gold."

Fans can follow the team through the Tour's official website, QwestTour.com, as well as via Facebook (Facebook.com/USWomen'sHockey), Twitter (Twitter.com/QwestTour) and by registering for weekly text message alerts delivering player quotes, game scores, training tips and information on team appearances. To sign up for weekly text messages, simply text QTOUR to 95294 (standard text message rates apply).

In addition, Qwest is giving fans an all-access pass to the team during the 2009-10 season by providing weekly podcasts starring Angela Ruggiero and Erika Lawler. To view the podcasts and find out more about the Tour, visit QwestTour.com.

MICHELE
Amidon General Manager

Michele Amidon began her duties as USA Hockey's first-ever director of women's hockey in August of 2006. She is responsible for the management of the women's national team program, including development efforts of both coaches and players.

In early 2008, after Amidon had been in her role with the national governing body just a year and a half, Team USA captured gold medals at both the International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's U18 Championship and the IIHF World Women's Championship. Then, at the 2008 Women's Four Nations Cup, Team USA earned its first championship since 2003. In 2009, both the U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team and the U.S. Women's National Team successfully defended their world titles.

A former U.S. Women's National Team player, Amidon spent eight seasons (1998-2006) as the highly successful head coach of the Bowdoin College women's ice hockey team prior to joining USA Hockey's national office staff.

During her nine seasons at Bowdoin – eight as head coach and one as an assistant coach – Amidon led the Polar Bears to unrivaled success. She guided the team to a 140-52-12 overall record, which included four NCAA tournament appearances, two New England Small College Athletic Conference championships and four NESCAC championship-game appearances.

Bowdoin began its rise to national prominence during the 2001-02 season, a year in which Amidon guided the Polar Bears to a school-record 23 victories, the NESCAC championship and the school's first-ever appearance in the NCAA tournament. For her efforts, she was honored as the NESCAC Coach of the Year.

The 2002-03 campaign brought even more success, as Amidon guided Bowdoin back to the NCAA tournament and a third-place national finish. That year, she was named both the NCAA Division III Coach of the Year by the American Hockey Coaches Association and the NESCAC Coach of the Year.

Amidon also has coaching experience at the international level, having served as assistant coach with the U.S. National Women's 22 & Under Team that competed in the 1999 Christmas Cup in Fussen, Germany. In addition, she has been involved as a head coach at USA Hockey's Player Development Camps on several occasions.

Amidon has a multitude of international playing experience on her resume, including winning a silver medal as a member of the U.S. Women's National Team at the 1992 IIHF World Women's Championship.

A 1994 graduate of St. Lawrence University, Amidon was a four-year letter winner and three-year captain of the SLU women's ice hockey team. In her first year with the team, she was voted ECAC Rookie and Division III Player of the Year. Named the ECAC Most Valuable Player as a junior and to the ECAC All-Star Team her senior campaign, Amidon was a three-time MVP of the St. Lawrence team. She was inducted into the SLU Sports Hall of Fame in 2009.

Amidon resides in Colorado Springs, Colo.

MARK
Johnson Head Coach

Mark Johnson, who will lead the U.S. Women's National Team through the 2010 Olympic Winter Games, is among the most accomplished coaches in the world today.

Johnson has been involved as a head coach in the U.S. Women's National Program the past three seasons. In January of 2009, he guided the U.S. National Under-18 Team to the gold medal at the International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's U18 Championship. He followed it up by guiding the U.S. Women's National Team to gold at the IIHF World Women's Championship just three months later.

Johnson also served as head coach for the U.S. Women's Under-22 Select Team in 2007-08 and guided Team USA to a second-place finish at the 2006 Four National Cup, as well as the silver medal at the 2007 IIHF World Women's Championship.

As part of his role as head coach of the 2010 U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team, Johnson will guide the squad during the Qwest Tour from September 2009 through February 2010 in the lead-up to the Vancouver Games, as well as at the 2009 Women's Four Nations Cup.

Prior to working with the women, Johnson twice served as an assistant coach for the U.S. Men's National Team in the IIHF Men's World Championship (2000, 2002) and also was an assistant coach at the 2001 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Orientation Camp.

Beyond his numerous roles with Team USA, Johnson is the head women's ice hockey coach at the University of Wisconsin. There, Johnson has taken the Badger program to national prominence in his first six years at the helm. Under his guidance, the Badgers have advanced to the NCAA championship game in each of the past four seasons and captured the title in three of those years (2006, 2007, 2009). Since the 2005-06 campaign, Wisconsin has recorded 135 wins, more than any other team in the nation.

The 2006, 2007 and 2009 Western Collegiate Hockey Association Coach of the Year and American Hockey Coaches Association Division I Coach of the Year, Johnson led the Badgers to back-to-back WCHA regular-season, playoff and NCAA championships, while winning more games (72) in a two-year period (2005-07) than any other team in women's college hockey history. During the 2006-07 campaign, Johnson's team broke or tied 18 NCAA team and individual records, including wins in a season (36), fewest losses (one), best winning percentage (.927) and most shutouts (18). Johnson leads all active women's college hockey coaches with an .880 winning percentage after compiling a record of 210-19-22 in his first six years at Wisconsin.

Prior to his time on the Wisconsin women's bench, Johnson served as an assistant coach with the UW men's ice hockey program from 1996-02. In addition, Johnson coached professionally, directing the Colonial Hockey League-expansion Madison Monsters to a 37-30-7 mark in the 1995-96 season and earning CHL Coach of the Year honors.

Meanwhile, Johnson has represented the United States as a player in 13 international tournaments, including eight world championships. Most notably, he led the 1980 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team to the gold medal, tallying a team-leading 11 points, including two goals in the "Miracle On Ice" game against the Soviet Union.

Additionally, Johnson played at the University of Wisconsin, where he garnered WCHA Rookie of the Year honors in 1977 and went on to become the school's second all-time leading scorer with 256 points, including a still-standing school-record 125 goals in just three seasons. He was a two-time All-America selection (1978, 1979) and earned league MVP accolades in 1979.

Johnson enjoyed an 11-year National Hockey League career, during which time he racked up 508 points in 669 games. He enjoyed stints with the Pittsburgh Penguins, Minnesota

North Stars, Hartford Whalers, St. Louis Blues and New Jersey Devils.

Among his numerous accolades throughout the years, Johnson, the son of legendary coach Bob Johnson, is a member of the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame and the IIHF Hall of Fame.

Johnson, a native of Madison, Wis., earned his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Wisconsin in 1994. He regularly resides in Verona, Wis., with his wife, Leslie, although he will be stationed in Minneapolis during the lead-up to the Vancouver Games.

The couple has five children, Doug (2/24/84), Chris (11/3/85), Patrick (4/21/89), Mikayla (8/15/94) and Megan (1/15/97). Doug is the head coach for the Wisconsin Ice Spirit Girls' U14 hockey team, Chris is a senior captain for the Augsburg College men's ice hockey team, Patrick is a junior on the UW men's ice hockey team and Mikayla and Megan play hockey for the Wisconsin Ice Spirit Girls' U14 and U12 teams, respectively.

DAVE
Assistant Coach

Dave Flint, head coach of the Northeastern University women's ice hockey team, is in his third season on the staff of the U.S. Women's National Program. He will serve as an assistant coach for Team USA through the 2010 Olympic Winter Games.

In November 2008, Flint was an assistant coach for the U.S. Women's Select Team at the 2008 Women's Four Nations Cup, where Team USA took home its first championship since 2003. Then, in April 2009, he served in the same role as the U.S. Women's National Team captured the gold medal at the IIHF World Women's Championship.

The 2009-10 season marks the third year of Flint serving as the goaltending consultant for the entire U.S. Women's National Program. At the 2008 IIHF World Women's Championship, he was on hand as the U.S. garnered its second-ever gold medal.

Before being named Northeastern's head coach prior to the 2008-09 season, Flint spent five years as head coach at St. Anselm College in Manchester, N.H., where he compiled an 88-15-2 (.848) record.

Flint arrived at St. Anselm in 2003 to take over a club team making the transition to varsity status, and he made it an immediate winner. In 2007-08, the Hawks posted their fourth straight 20-win season with a 23-2-1 record, which included a 17-1-1 mark in the ECAC East to secure first place. In their four seasons as a varsity team under Flint, the Hawks won two ECAC East regular season championships and three ECAC Open Tournament championships. Flint was recognized as ECAC East Coach of the Year and a finalist for National Coach of the Year three consecutive seasons from 2006-08. Because of its status as a non-scholarship Division II institution, St. Anselm was not eligible to compete in the ECAC East

Tournament or the NCAA Division III Tournament.

Flint produced three ECAC East Players of the Year, two ECAC East Rookies of the Year, one ECAC East Goalie of the Year, one First Team All-American and three Second Team All-Americans.

Prior to his success with the women's hockey program, Flint served as assistant coach of the St. Anselm men's ice hockey team for seven seasons. During his tenure, Flint was responsible for recruiting and coordinating the team's defense and goaltending. The Hawks won back-to-back ECAC Division II Championships from 2000-01. A certified athletic trainer and strength & conditioning specialist, Flint was also the assistant athletic trainer at St. Anselm.

From 1999-2008, Flint also worked at the Superskills Training Center in Tewksbury, Mass., as the director of off-ice conditioning and assistant to the director of on-ice instruction. At Superskills, Flint helped instruct and train both collegiate and professional goaltenders, including NHL goalies Peter Skudra, Andrew Raycroft and Scott Clemmensen. He now works with Stop It Goaltending in Woburn, Mass., as an on-ice instructor.

A 1993 graduate of North Adams State College (now the Massachusetts College of Liberal Arts), Flint received his bachelor's degree in biology with a concentration in sports medicine. Flint was a four-year goaltender on the varsity men's ice hockey team at North Adams State and was named the team's MVP as a senior.

He and his wife, Alison, have two children, Paige and Tate. They regularly reside in Merrimack, N.H., although he will be based in Blaine, Minn., in the lead-up to the Vancouver Games.

JODI
McKenna
Assistant Coach

Jodi McKenna, head women's ice hockey coach at Wesleyan University, is serving as an assistant coach for Team USA through the 2010 Olympic Winter Games.

McKenna held the same role at the 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's Championship, where Team USA earned the gold medal. Previously, she served as an assistant coach at the 2008 USA Hockey Women's Under-22 Camp and at the 2008 USA Hockey Women's Holiday Camp.

McKenna has served for two seasons as the head coach at Wesleyan after spending nine seasons as an assistant coach at St. Lawrence University. In her nine seasons with St. Lawrence, she helped the Saints qualify for the NCAA tournament five times, making it to the Frozen Four on each occasion and playing in the title game in 2001.

A 1998 graduate of Brown University, McKenna played four seasons for the Bears, and helped the team capture an ECAC regular-season or tournament title three times. In her senior year, Brown played in the first-ever women's ice hockey national championship game, where the Bears fell to the University of New Hampshire.

A certified strength and conditioning coach, McKenna developed and monitored the year-round training program of the St. Lawrence women's ice hockey squad.

After receiving her bachelor's degree from Brown in 1998, McKenna added a master's degree from St. Lawrence in 2000.

She regularly resides in Middletown, Conn., but will be based in Minneapolis during the lead-up to the Vancouver Games.

TEENA
Murray

Strength & Conditioning Coach

Teena Murray, who is the director of Olympic sports performance at the University of Louisville, has been the strength and conditioning coach for the U.S. Women's National Program since 2006. During each of the last three seasons, she has worked year-round with the athletes and provided programs to help them achieve peak performance.

During her time with USA Hockey, Murray has accompanied Team USA to three Women's Four Nations Cups (2006, 2007, 2008) and the 2007 and 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's Championships. In addition, she has been involved in every training camp during the last three years, including the USA Hockey Women's Holiday Camp, as well as the Women's National Festival.

Having been at Louisville since 2004, Murray oversees the strength and conditioning and performance nutrition programs for the Olympic sports. She works primarily with women's soccer, women's basketball and softball.

Prior to Louisville, Murray spent four years as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Connecticut, and, prior to that, she spent three-and-a-half years as assistant director of strength and conditioning at Cornell University.

In addition to her work at the collegiate level, Murray has worked as a consultant for the National Hockey League's Florida Panthers and Anaheim Ducks, and the Hartford Wolfpack of the American Hockey League.

Murray is a native of Shawville, Que. She played collegiate basketball at Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo, Ont., where she earned a bachelor's degree in kinesiology. She also holds a bachelor's degree from Queen's University and a master's degree in exercise physiology from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Murray resides in Louisville, Ky.

JILL
Radzinski

Athletic Trainer

Jill Radzinski, a member of the University of California, Davis athletic training staff, joined the U.S. Women's National Program as an athletic trainer in 2008. In her role, she traveled with Team USA to the 2008 and 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's Championships, as well as the 2008 Women's Four Nations Cup.

Radzinski's clinical viewpoint incorporates functional, multi-faceted rehabilitation programs into the progressive hands-on/manual treatment services offered at UC Davis. She has an avid interest in emergency medicine and applies this in the university setting as well as in the outdoor locale, functioning as a member of the National Ski Patrol with the Lake Tahoe Backcountry Ski Patrol.

Prior to UC Davis, Radzinski held certified athletic training positions at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo., Colorado College and Bates College. She also has worked and traveled internationally with the U.S. Short/Long Track Speed Skating Team. In addition, Radzinski has worked in the National Football League with the Chicago Bears as the second female certified athletic trainer in the NFL setting.

Radzinski obtained her bachelor's degree from Penn State University in the athletic training curriculum program. While at Penn State, she was an All-American field hockey player. As a graduate assistant athletic trainer at the University of Richmond, Radzinski was granted her master's degree in athletic administration.

Radzinski resides in Davis, Calif.

DR. JOLIE
Holschen

Team Physician

Dr. Jolie Holschen is entering her sixth season as a team physician for USA Hockey's National Team Development Program and first with the U.S. Women's National Team.

Dr. Holschen served as the team physician for the U.S. Men's National Under-18 Team that captured the gold medal at the 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Men's Under-18 Championship in Fargo, N.D., and Moorhead, Minn.

A graduate of the Washington (Mo.) University School of Medicine, she completed her residency in emergency medicine at the University of Chicago. Dr. Holschen also served as a flight physician with the University of Chicago Aeromedical Network and AXA Medical Assistance. She stayed on at the University of Chicago as a clinical faculty member in emergency medicine.

Dr. Holschen went on to complete a sports medicine fellowship at the University of South Carolina at Palmetto Richland Hospital. Her fellowship training involved caring for medical illness and musculoskeletal injuries with the university's athletes, Benedict College and the Capital City Bombers minor league baseball team.

Dr. Holschen is board-certified in emergency medicine and sports medicine. She currently serves as a faculty member at the University of Michigan emergency medicine residency program and practices sports medicine at MedSport Domino Farms.

She resides in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Therapist

Jill Kolivoski began working with the U.S. Women's National Program and USA Hockey in 2007 as an ART/massage therapist. Since that time, she has traveled with Team USA to two Women's Four Nations Cups (2007, 2008) and to the 2007 and 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's Championships. In addition, she was on staff at the 2008 USA Hockey Women's National Festival.

Kolivoski currently runs her own business offering hands on therapy, training, nutritional counseling and sport specific competition preparation. She is also a professional natural bodybuilder and earned the overall title and three gold medals at the Natural Olympia in November of 2007 in Greece. She has been featured in Flex Magazine, Women's Physique World, Muscle & Fitness, Ironman and Musclemag.

Previously, Kolivoski served as the director of rehabilitation for Champion Health Associates, where she worked under Dr. P. Michael Leahy, founder of Active Release Techniques. A graduate of Mercyhurst College with a bachelor's degree in sports medicine, Kolivoski also holds a license in massage therapy and all certifications for Active Release Techniques.

Kolivoski currently resides in Colorado Springs, Colo.

JIM
Jeans

Equipment Manager

Jim Jeans has been an athletics equipment manager at The Ohio State University since 2005 and has been involved with USA Hockey since 2007. For the U.S. Women's National Program, Jeans has served as the equipment manager at multiple events, including the 2007 Women's Four Nations Cup and both the 2008 and 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's Championships.

In addition, Jeans has been the equipment manager at two USA Hockey Women's Holiday Camps (2007, 2008), at the 2008 and 2009 USA Hockey Women's National Festivals and for Team USA at the 2008 Under-22 Series.

At Ohio State, Jeans works with the women's hockey and swimming and diving teams. His responsibilities include ordering all equipment, sharpening skates, laundry, repair of all equipment, packing for the road and assisting in keeping the locker room clean and in order.

Prior to Ohio State, Jeans worked for the Topeka Tarantulas of the Central Hockey League. In addition, he spent time with the St. Louis Heartland Eagles of the United States Hockey League, the Peoria Pirates of the American Football League, the Peoria Rivermen of the ECHL, the Missouri River Otters of the United Hockey League and the St. Louis Sting of the North America Hockey League.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Jeans resides in Grove City, Ohio, with his wife, Emily, and his son, Patrick.

EMILY

Video Coordinator

Emily McKissock is serving as the video coordinator for the U.S. Women's National Team after serving in the same role for the 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's Championship.

Previously, McKissock spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the University of Vermont women's hockey program. She was instrumental in the program's move to Hockey East in 2005-06 and the team's improvement on the ice.

During McKissock's time at Vermont, she was involved in all aspects of the program and also served as the goaltending coach. In 2008-09, the Catamounts set a Division I program record for road wins and established new marks for most Hockey East wins and points.

Prior to arriving at Vermont, McKissock was the head coach of the girls' ice hockey program at Proctor Academy in Andover, N.H. for two years. She also served as an assistant coach of the girls' varsity soccer team and the assistant director of admissions.

McKissock was a first-team All-American goaltender at Bowdoin College. During her final two seasons, she posted a 37-7-4 record and owns the school record for most career wins (45). She helped the Polar Bears advance to the NCAA Division III Frozen Four as a senior in 2003. A two-time captain at Bowdoin, McKissock left her mark on the Polar Bear record books, finishing in the top 10 of every goaltending category in school history.

Originally from Westwood, Mass., McKissock has also participated as a head coach at several USA Hockey Player Development Camps, the Bowdoin College Ice Hockey Clinic and the Joe Bertagna Goaltender Hockey School.

McKissock resides in Portland, Ore.

CHRISTY

Jeffries

Communications Manager

Christy Jeffries is in her fourth year as the manager of communications for USA Hockey. In her role, Jeffries is responsible for all media and public relations responsibilities relating to the U.S. Women's National Program, in addition to her overall duties within the organization's marketing and communications department.

Jeffries travels to all international tournaments with the U.S. Women's National and Select Teams. She has been on staff at three Women's Four Nations Cups (2006, 2007, 2008), three International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's Championships (2007, 2008, 2009) and two IIHF World Women's U18 Championships (2008, 2009). In addition, Jeffries annually attends the USA Hockey Women's National Festival.

Beyond her duties with the women's program, Jeffries is responsible for overseeing the selection for the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, as well as planning the award ceremony. She is involved with the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame induction ceremony, in addition to many other initiatives and events involving hockey at all levels.

Prior to joining USA Hockey, Jeffries spent a year as the assistant director of athletic communications at Boston University, where she served as the primary media contact for the NCAA Division I men's ice hockey team, as well as five other Division I sports.

A 2004 graduate of BU with a bachelor's degree in public relations, Jeffries spent the year after her graduation as USA Hockey's Brian Fishman Intern in the communications department. In addition, she was a student assistant in the BU athletic communications department during her four years in college, while also serving a media relations internship with the Boston Bruins.

Jeffries currently resides in Colorado Springs, Colo.

BEN

National Team Advisor

Ben Smith has been working with the USA Hockey organization for over two decades and became the national team advisor in 2006. After serving on the coaching staffs of U.S. teams at the junior national, men's national and Olympic level starting in the mid 80s, he was named the first full-time head coach of the U.S. women's program in 1996, a position he held for 10 years.

Smith led Team USA to three Olympic medals, including the first-ever gold medal awarded in the sport (1998). In addition, he guided the United States to its first world championship in 2005, as well as silver medals at the event on five occasions.

Smith received the USA Hockey Distinguished Achievement Award at the 1998 USA Hockey Annual Congress and was named the United States Olympic Committee Coach of the Year for the 1997-98 season.

On the men's side, Smith served as an assistant coach for three-straight U.S. National Junior Teams (1985-1987), and helped guide the 1986 team to the United States' first-ever medal – a bronze – at the IIHF World Junior Championship. In addition, he has twice served on the coaching staff for the U.S. Men's National Team (1987 and 1990) and served as an assistant coach for the 1988 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team.

Smith's most recent men's assignment was as head coach of the U.S. Men's Select Team at the 2007 Deutschland Cup. Prior to that, he led the 1998 U.S. Men's Select Team at the IIHF A-Pool World Championship Qualification Tournament in Klagenfurt, Austria, to qualify for the 1999 IIHF A-Pool World Championship.

A 1968 graduate of Harvard University, Smith has spent time as an assistant coach with four NCAA Division I men's ice hockey teams, including Boston University, Northeastern University, Yale University and the University of Massachusetts. He also served as head coach at Gloucester (Mass.) High School, his alma mater.

Smith resides in Gloucester, Mass., with his wife, Julie.

USA HOCKEY Leadership

RON

DeGregorio President

A lifetime and career spent dedicated to advancing the sport of hockey in America culminated on June 14, 2003, with Ron DeGregorio's election as just the fourth president in the history of USA Hockey.

DeGregorio has been involved in the sport for more than 40 years as a player, coach, administrator and team owner. His first appointment with USA Hockey came in 1973 when he was named registrar for the New England District. DeGregorio was first elected to the USA Hockey Board of Directors in 1975 and was the organization's first vice president of youth hockey. In the 1980s, he served as treasurer of USA Hockey. In 1995, he was elected as a vice president and the international council chairperson, positions he held until being named president.

He has represented the United States at countless events during his tenure with USA Hockey. He served as team leader of Team East at the 1979 United States Olympic Festival, from which the 1980 "Miracle On Ice" U.S. Olympic Ice Hockey Team was chosen and also for the 1994 U.S. Olympic Ice Hockey Team. DeGregorio has represented the United States at the 1998, 2002 and 2006 Olympic Winter Games and at numerous International Ice Hockey Federation Men's, Women's and Junior World Championships.

Honored with the National Hockey League's Lester Patrick Award in 2002 for outstanding service to ice hockey in the United States, DeGregorio is president of the PenFacs Group, an investment and insurance firm specializing in the design, administration and funding of executive benefit plans.

He resides in Salem, N.H., with his wife, Susan and has four grown children, Eric, Mark, Kim and Kara.

DAVE

Ogreaan Executive Director

Dave Ogreaan, one of the most respected leaders in amateur sports, returned to USA Hockey as executive director on Aug. 1, 2005. He previously held the position from 1993-99 and began his career in the sports industry with the organization (then the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States) as its director of public relations in 1978.

Under his leadership since returning to the organization, USA Hockey created a new department for membership development; began an annual nationwide celebration called Hockey Weekend Across America; hired the first-ever Chief Development Officer for the USA Hockey Foundation; executed a successful bid for the United States to host three World Championships; and led efforts that resulted in USA Hockey gaining responsibility for the selection process and induction event associated with the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame.

Among his many accomplishments during his first term as executive director, Ogreaan oversaw a significant increase in membership and revenue, and the construction of the current national headquarters; helped create the USA Hockey InLine program and the National Team Development Program; was a driving force in establishing the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, presented annually to the top player in women's college ice hockey; and developed the concept of STAR (Serving the American Rinks) with U.S. Figure Skating.

Before returning to Colorado Springs, Ogreaan served as executive director of USA Football from 2002-2005. He was recruited by the National Football League and NFL Players' Association to build a new, independent, non-profit organization to support and promote the sport of amateur football at all levels.

Prior to joining USA Football, Ogreaan served as president and CEO of the Colorado Springs Sports Corporation where he led the development and creation of the Colorado Springs Sports Hall of Fame and the Rocky Mountain State Games.

From 1999-2000, Ogreaan worked for the United States Olympic Committee as deputy executive director of marketing. While there, he led the USOC team that, together with the Salt Lake organizing committee, generated almost $200 million.

Previously, Ogreaan served the USOC from 1990-93 as director of broadcasting. He was responsible for creating the initial broadcast division and generated over $12 million in revenue as well as unprecedented exposure for the national governing bodies of Olympic sports.

From 1980-88, Ogreaan worked at ESPN in corporate communications and programming.

Following a successful eight years at ESPN, Ogreaan joined the College Football Association as assistant executive director for television. During his two-year tenure, he worked with CBS Sports on remote production, with CBS and ESPN on game scheduling and selection and helped launch the syndicated series, "This Week in College Football."

Ogreaan received his Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of Connecticut (1974) and his master's degree in film from Boston University (1978).

Listed among The Sporting News' Top 100 Most Powerful People in Sports from 1993-99, Ogreaan is currently among The Hockey News' Top 50 People of Power and Influence. He is a member of the nominating committee for the U.S. Olympic Hall of Fame.

He and his wife, Maryellen, have three grown children, Matt, Tracy and Dana.

TONY

Rossi

Vice President, International Council Chairman

Outside of a highly successful business career, Tony Rossi has generously donated significant time, resources and expertise to USA Hockey for more than 30 years at the grassroots and executive leadership levels.

After beginning his volunteer career with the National Governing Body in the mid-1970s, Rossi was elected to the USA Hockey Board of Directors in 1983 and served as a director from the Central District until 1988. In 1989, he was elected to the USA Hockey Executive Committee, serving as secretary from 1989-95. In 1995, Rossi transitioned to the role of USA Hockey treasurer, a position he held until June 2003.

In his role as both secretary and treasurer, Rossi helped guide the formation and growth of The USA Hockey Foundation, a charitable and educational non-profit corporation that provides long-range financial support for USA Hockey and promotes the growth of hockey in the United States.

In June of 2003, Rossi was elected to his current post as USA Hockey vice president and international council chair. In his role, Rossi works closely with the organization's National and Olympic Team programs, as well as the International Ice Hockey Federation during a host of global competitions held throughout the year. He was elected to the IIHF Council in May of 2008.

Rossi also serves as president for RMK Management Corporation and Moran & Company.

He resides in Chicago with his wife, Marie, and has four children, Elena, Deanna, Michael, and Tony, Jr.

WALTER L.

Bush, Jr.

Chairman of the Board

One of the most recognized and respected leaders in hockey, Walter L. Bush, Jr., is the chairman of the board for USA Hockey, a position he has held since June 2003.

Bush, who served as a member of the organization's Board of Directors from 1959-2003, became president of USA Hockey in June 1986, following Wm. Thayer Tutt and Tom Lockhart. He served in the capacity for 17 years before taking his current position as chairman of the board. In recognition of his 45th year of service to USA Hockey, the organization dedicated its national headquarters as The Walter L. Bush, Jr. Center in June 1999.

Bush retired as a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation Council in May 2008 after a 23-year stint, the last 14 years as a vice president of the organization. He served on numerous committees within the IIHF, including as chairman of the IIHF Women's Ice Hockey Committee, the IIHF InLine Hockey Committee and the IIHF Hall of Fame Selection Committee.

Bush is a member of the Board of Directors of the USOC and is secretary of the U.S. Olympic Foundation. During the 2002 Olympic Winter Games, Bush received the Olympic Order from the International Olympic Committee, the highest honor in the Olympic movement.

Bush was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2000. He received the NHL's Lester Patrick Award in 1973 in recognition of his outstanding service to ice hockey in the United States. He was enshrined in the United States Hockey Hall of Fame in 1980, and in 1989, was elected to the Minnesota Sports Hall of Fame. He currently serves as a governor and vice-chairman for the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto.

Bush resides in Naples, Fla., with his wife, Sis. He has a daughter, Anne Hanson, and two sons, Walter III and Steven.

2009 WORLD WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Team USA Recap

After outscoring Japan and Russia by a combined score of 16-0 in the preliminary round, the U.S. Women's National Team earned the top spot in its group for the qualifying round. The U.S. defeated Finland, 7-0, in its first qualifying-round game and, in the process, clinched a spot in the gold-medal game against Canada for the 12th consecutive year. Team USA lost its qualifying-round matchup against Canada, but topped the Canadians in the gold-medal game, 4-1, to claim its second consecutive world championship and third in the last five years (2005, 2008, 2009). With the victory, the U.S. earned the No. 1 world ranking for the first time since the system was introduced in 2004.

ALL-TIME RECORD vs. Canada

The United States and Canada are the only gold-medal winners in Olympic Winter Games and IIHF World Women's Championship history. Team USA won the inaugural Olympic gold medal in 1998, while Canada took the top prize in both 2002 and 2006. The United States has captured gold at three of the 12 IIHF World Women's Championships, including each of the last two years (2008, 2009). The teams have also met frequently during the Four Nations Cup and pre-Olympic tours. Overall, the United States holds a record of 27-5-7-41-1 (W-OTW-OTL-L-T) in 81 contests against Canada.

HISTORY OF Women's Hockey

Lord Stanley of Preston, Canada's sixth governor general and namesake of the Stanley Cup, supervises the flooding of a large lawn on the grounds of the Government House. Lord and Lady Stanley and their children, including two daughters, spend many hours on the rink playing hockey.

1890

Isobel Preston, daughter of Lord Preston, is photographed playing hockey at Rideau Hall. It is the earliest known image on film of women involved in a game of ice hockey.

1891

The first newspaper account of a game between two unnamed women's teams appears in the Ottawa Citizen on Feb. 11. The game, which was played in Ottawa, is now regarded as the true start of women's ice hockey.

1892

What was originally thought to be the first organized and recorded all-female ice hockey game is played in Barrie, Ontario. Research reveals a description of just one game in that community during that year and that the game actually featured women playing men dressed as women.

1920's

College teams form in both the U.S. and Canada.

1940s-50s

World War II slows the growth of the women's game as many women turn their attention to working and supporting their families. The growth of men's professional hockey and the increased demand for ice time also hurt the women's game.

1970s

Teams form in Sweden, Finland, Japan, China, Korea, Norway, Germany and Switzerland. Canadian provincial and college organizations begin operation. U.S. college varsity and club teams form in the Midwest and East, while participation by girls in youth hockey rises. Special chest pad and pelvic protector gear is designed for women.

early 1980s

The Amateur Hockey Association of the United States (now known as USA Hockey) hosts the first National Championships for girls' (1980) and women's (1981) divisions.

1984

Providence College wins the inaugural Eastern College Athletic Conference Women's Championship.

1987

The first Women's World Invitational Tournament is held in North York and Mississauga, Ontario, with teams representing Canada, Ontario, the United States, Sweden, Switzerland, Holland and Japan. The United States defeats Sweden, 5-0, for the bronze medal. Groups lobby the International Ice Hockey Federation for the creation of a World Women's Championship.

1989

The IIHF president attends the European Women's Championship, and plans are drawn for future IIHF World Women's Championships.

1990

The first IIHF World Women's Championship is held in Ottawa. In the championship game, the United States takes an early 2-0 lead before Canada roars back for a 5-2 victory and the gold medal. Finland defeats Sweden, 6-3, for the bronze medal. Bodychecking is allowed but becomes illegal in future World Women's Championships.

The second IIHF World Women's Championship is held in Tampere, Finland. Canada defeats the United States, 8-0, to repeat as the gold medalist, and Finland once again captures the bronze medal.

On Nov. 17, the International Olympic Committee announces that it will include women's ice hockey as a full medal sport beginning in 2002. The IOC gives the organizers of the 1994 Games in Lillehammer, Norway, and the 1998 Games in Nagano, Japan, the option of including women's ice hockey on their programs. Norway declines, but Japan accepts to showcase the Olympic debut of women's ice hockey.

The third IIHF World Women's Championship is held in Lake Placid, N.Y. The finish is a familiar one as Canada emerges with a 6-3 victory against the United States for a third consecutive gold medal. Finland defeats China, 8-1, to finish third once again.

Minnesota becomes the first state in the United States to sanction girls' ice hockey as a high school varsity sport.

The inaugural IIHF Pacific Women's Hockey Championship, featuring the United States, Canada, China and Japan, is held in San Jose, Calif. Canada edges the United States in an overtime shootout to earn the gold medal.

1996

Vancouver, British Columbia, serves as host for the 1996 IIHF Pacific Women's Hockey Championship, where Canada earns its second straight gold medal by defeating the United States.

HISTORY OF Women's Hockey

On June 3, Ben Smith of Gloucester, Mass., is named the first-ever head coach of the U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team.

The United States extends Canada to overtime before falling, 4-3, in the gold-medal game of the fourth IIHF World Women's Championship in Kitchener, Ontario. Finland adds a fourth bronze medal to its caché by defeating China, 3-0.

In December, the United States defeats Canada, 3-0, in the championship game of the 1997 Three Nations Cup in Lake Placid, N.Y. It marks the first time Canada has ever been held scoreless and is also Team USA's first gold medal in international competition.

Canada, the United States, Finland, China, Sweden and host nation Japan make up the field of six teams that compete at the XVIII Olympic Winter Games as women's ice hockey makes its debut in the Olympics. History is made on Feb. 17 when Team USA defeats Canada, 3-1, to earn the first Olympic gold medal ever awarded in women's ice hockey. Gretchen Ulion, Shelley Looney and Sandra Whyte score for the United States.

The first-ever Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, annually recognizing the nation's top player in NCAA Division I women's ice hockey, is handed out in Boston to University of New Hampshire forward Brandy Fisher.

The University of New Hampshire defeats Brown University, 4-1, at Boston's FleetCenter to capture the first American Women's College Hockey Alliance Division I National Championship.

In March, the 1999 U.S. Women's National Team falls to Canada, 3-1, in the gold-medal game of the IIHF World Women's Championship for the fifth time.

A.J. Mleczko receives the 1999 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award. She enjoys the most prolific scoring season in the history of women's college hockey in 1998-99 with 114 points (37-77) in 34 games and in the process breaks Harvard University's all-time single-season and career scoring record for men or women. She also leads Harvard to the 1999 ACHA Division I National Championship.

Brown University goaltender Ali Brewer is named the 2000 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award recipient after posting a 1.33 goals-against average and a .942 save percentage. The Ivy League Co-Player of the Year finished her career as Brown's all-time leader in save percentage, saves, wins and shutouts. Brewer led Brown to the 2000 ACHA Division I National Championship game, but the Bears fell, 4-2, to the University of Minnesota, the first women's Western Collegiate Hockey Association team to earn a national title.

In April 2000, the U.S. Women's National Team falls to Canada, 3-2, in overtime of the gold-medal game of the IIHF World Women's Championship. Canada captures its sixth-consecutive gold medal and No. 1 seed in the XIX Olympic Winter Games, while the United States earns its sixth silver medal.

On August 23, Julie Sasner is named assistant coach for the United States Women's National and Olympic Teams, becoming the first-ever female member of an American Olympic ice hockey team coaching staff.

The 2000-01 U.S. Women's National Team defeats Canada, 3-2, at the Pepsi Center in Denver on Feb. 2 as part of the 2001 National Hockey League All-Star Weekend. The 9,562 spectators comprise the largest crowd ever to watch a women's hockey game in the United States.

After hosting the Women's Division I National Championship in 1998, 1999 and 2000, the ACHA and USA Hockey hand off to the NCAA, which holds the inaugural NCAA Women's Ice Hockey National Collegiate Championship, March 23-25 in Minneapolis, Minn.

In preparation for the XIX Olympic Winter Games, Team USA participated in the 31-game Visa Skate To Salt Lake Tour that crossed two continents (North America and Asia) and three countries (the United States, Canada and China). Team USA posted a 31-0-0 overall record on the tour, including a 23-0-0 mark against international opponents and an 8-0-0 record against college teams. Team USA outscored its opponents by a 252-27 margin. A major component of the tour was an eight-game series against Canada – the defending world champion and No. 1 seed in the Olympic women's ice hockey tournament. The United States posted an impressive 8-0-0 record in the series against Canada, outscoring the Canadians, 31-13.

The United States downs its first four opponents by a 31-1 margin at the XIX Olympic Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah, leading to the much-anticipated match-up against Canada in the gold-medal game. Canada captures its first Olympic gold medal with a 3-2 victory. The United States earns silver.

HISTORY OF Women's Hockey

On March 22, Harvard forward Jennifer Botterill becomes the first two-time winner of the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award. She also won the trophy for the top women's college ice hockey player in 2001. Teammate Angela Ruggiero and University of Minnesota Duluth forward Jenny Potter join Botterill as the 2003 finalists.

The IIHF World Women's Championship, to be held in Beijing, China, is cancelled due to SARS virus concerns.

In November, the U.S. Women's Select Team captures the gold medal at the 2003 Four Nations Cup for the first time since 1997. Goaltender Pam Dreyer did what no other U.S. Women's goaltender had done before by defeating Canada twice in the same tournament. Dreyer turned in a .986 save percentage and a 0.48 GAA, allowing only one goal in 125 minutes of play. She also stopped all 11 shots in the sudden-death shootout versus Canada in the gold-medal game. Cammi Granato notched the game-winner for the United States.

After being named a top-10 finalist for the fourth time in her career, Harvard senior Angela Ruggiero wins the 2004 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 27.

On April 6, the U.S. Women's National Team falls to Canada, 2-0, in the gold-medal game at the 2004 IIHF World Women's Championship in Halifax, Nova Scotia. The U.S. team takes its eighth-straight silver medal at the event.

With a comeback victory in Burlington, Vt., on August 28, the U.S. Under-22 Select Team defeats the Canadian Under-22 Team, 3-2. The win gives the United States its first-ever sweep in the annual three-game series between the teams.

The U.S. Women's Select Team defeats Sweden and Finland and ties Canada to advance to the gold-medal game at the 2004 Women's Four Nations Cup in Lake Placid, N.Y. On Nov. 14, Canada wins the gold-medal game, 2-1.

Angela Ruggiero and her brother, Bill, make history competing for the Central Hockey League's Tulsa Oilers in a game on January 28. The pair becomes the first-ever brother-sister tandem to play together in a professional hockey game in North America. Angela also becomes the first female position player to score a point (assist) in a CHL game.

After 60 minutes and a 20-minute overtime period, Team USA and Canada go to a shootout in the IIHF World Women's Championship gold-medal game on April 9. Team USA scores three shootout goals to Canada's one and the 2005 U.S. Women's National Team claims its first-ever World Championship gold medal in Linköping, Sweden.

Team USA opens the Hilton Family Skate to 2006 Tour before 5,739 fans at St. Paul's Xcel Energy Center on Sept. 30. The Tour was a 10-city, 11-game pre-Olympic training schedule featuring the U.S. Women's National Team in competition against Finland, Canada and top collegiate all-star teams. By Tour's end, Team USA earned a 9-2-0 record after playing in front of 30,799 total fans across the nation.

In a vote by her teammates, forward Krissy Wendell is named captain of the U.S. Women's National and Olympic Teams. Wendell led the 2005-06 National Team with 23 points and 17 assists in 22 games.

After going 3-0-0 in the preliminary round with an 18-3 goal differential, the U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team is upset by Sweden in a shootout in the semifinal round at the XX Olympic Winter Games in Torino, Italy. It sends the United States to the bronze-medal game for the first time ever, where Team USA shuts out Finland, 4-0.

Sara Bauer wins the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 25, then leads her University of Wisconsin team to its first-ever NCAA national championship the next day.

HISTORY OF Women's Hockey

USA Hockey hires Michele Amidon to be its first-ever director of women's hockey operations. She previously served as head women's hockey coach at Bowdoin College and was a member of the U.S. Women's National Team in 1992.

Julie Chu makes history when she becomes the 10th winner of the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 17.

The U.S. Women's National Team plays in front of the two largest crowds ever to watch a women's hockey game when it takes on Canada twice during the 2007 IIHF World Women's Championship in Winnipeg, Man. The building is sold-out for both games with crowds of 15,003. Canada takes the gold medal with a 5-1 victory over the United States.

For the first time ever, the IIHF stages a World Women's U18 Championship. It takes place in Calgary, Alta., at the home of Hockey Canada. Team USA goes undefeated in the preliminary round, tops the Czechs, 8-0, in the semifinals and earns a 5-2 victory over host Canada to capture the first gold medal at the women's U18 level.

Sarah Vaillancourt wins the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 21, becoming the fifth winner from Harvard University.

The U.S. Women's National Team makes history by beating Canada in back-to-back games at the 2008 IIHF World Women's Championship in Harbin, China, to capture its second-ever world title (and second in the last three world championships). Finland also makes history by posting its first-ever victory over Team USA (1-0 in overtime).

Later in the year, Team USA captures its first Four Nations Cup since 2003. It marks the first time since the 1997-98 season that the U.S. topped Canada in back-to-back international events. During the tournament in Lake Placid, N.Y., the Canadians suffer their first loss to any team other than the United States when Sweden earns a 2-1 overtime victory against Canada.

At the second staging of the IIHF World Women's U18 Championship, the United States again goes undefeated to defend its world title. Team USA rolls through the preliminary and playoff rounds, outscoring opponents 55-2, then beats Canada, 3-2, in overtime for the championship.

Jessie Vetter of Cottage Grove, Wis., wins the 12th Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award.

The U.S. Women's National Team again makes history by successfully defending its world title for the first time ever at the 2009 IIHF World Women's Championship in Hameenlinna, Finland. It gave the U.S. the No. 1 ranking in the world for the first time since the system was introduced in 2004.
