From the Interim Pastor: A Time for Everything

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven . . .

- Ecclesiastes 3:1

. . . including a time for the Interim Pastor to leave and for the installed Pastor to come. This “time” is soon arriving - a transition built right into the fabric and purpose of my ministry here all along. It’s a new beginning to be celebrated; but, like all partings, it has its sadness as well as its joy. After all, I have come to know many of you as friends as well as church members, and since I will continue to live here in the West-hampton community, I expect many of these friendships will continue.

My time as your interim has been busy and full, as well as fulfilling to me personally. I hope it has been fruitful and helpful to the church as well. I have thoroughly enjoyed learning about and sharing in so many of the wonderful aspects of your ministry and mission. These have included your Thanksgiving Harvest and Baskets, your sales and social events, including your Christmas Tea and Bazaar, your Rummage Sale, your Harvest Dinner, your Fundraising dinners, your Christmas Adopt-a-Family, your Summer Appeal, your fashion shows and other social events, such as the hot cross-bun breakfast at the Sunrise Service. So many of your social events also go to help the mission projects and programs your church promotes and supports. And, during the summer months and special occasions, it’s been a pleasure to lead services in your Quogue Chapel.

Rev. Vanessa Winters, whom you called as your Pastor beginning in January, will be serving a wonderful congregation, hopefully for many years to come. I pray that you and she will grow together and find ways to strengthen and expand the mission and ministry of WPC. While you will not see me at church or in worship for quite some time after the New Year, you will all be in my heart and in my prayers.

As you probably already know, once a Presbyterian pastor’s service in a church ends, he or she needs to give the new pastor an opportunity to develop a strong and healthy pastoral relationship with the congregation and its families. This means that for at least a year, I will not serve any official pastoral function at WPC, including at baptisms, funerals and weddings. These are times when families understandably desire a pastor they know and with whom they already have a personal relationship. However, these special and even tender times in a family’s life are also the very best times to establish pastoral ties with a new pastor. After all, it’s the new pastor who will come to be seen as “my pastor” to young children as they grow, are confirmed and are married themselves. So please do not ask me to participate in these events, as I will have to decline, though I will be holding you in my thoughts and prayers.

On a personal note, one of the most meaningful and powerful aspects of my ministry with you has been knowing just how strongly and deeply you have kept both myself and Linda in your prayers as we have gone through treatment for and continue to deal with cancer. Before I was your Interim Pastor, I could feel the love and energy you sent my way when you learned of my illness back in 2015 – before you even knew me. There has never been a moment I wasn’t aware of your love and support, and I want you to know how much I appreciate it.

WPC is a very strong and active congregation, and it has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve with you for the past 22 months. As you now look forward to a new chapter in your life as a community of faith, I wish you well, and promise that I will never forget the precious and valuable time I had together with you as your Interim Pastor. I will continue to hold you in prayer as I will cherish your prayers as well.

And please always remember that Christ is in us and we are in Him. We are well off in God, the Almighty, in God’s holiness, always.

- Pastor John

YOUTH MINISTRY

What? It's December...how can that be?! November was a very busy month for the youth of the church.

They were busy with tallying up the items that they collected for Maureen's Haven...over 400 hats, gloves, socks, small toiletries, and snacks to name a few. When I brought it over to the Maureen's Haven headquarters in Riverhead they were very much appreciated. The class that collected the most items was the 1-3 grade class. They will receive a $5 gift card from Dunkin Donuts! Thank you to all who helped with donations.

Next on our list was a Food Drive at King Kullen. It was a very blustery day but we survived and collected an abundance of food for the baskets, extra for the food drive and gave the Deacons a $100. We collected fresh items for their baskets! Thank you to everyone who stopped by or added to the food donations.

We finally made it out for some fun time, and headed to Wildwood Lanes for some bowling. The first game was without bumpers but we decided that in the next game we would use them...of course our scores improved. The girls found the "claw machine" and retrieved some mini basketballs and stuffed animals. Fun was had by all. Next trip we're planning will be to "Air Trampoline". I've heard it's a great place.

Sunday School has been rehearsing the Christmas Pageant...you won't want to miss their production of "Emoji Christmas" on December 16th.

Our annual Heifer Campaign will kick off during coffee hour on Dec. 2nd through the 23rd. This is a time where you can make a donation to Heifer in someone's name (we have gift cards for you!) or purchase an animal donation or make a contribution and the kids will pick out animals. Remember Heifer is a gift that keeps on giving! In addition to our campaign, we are looking into having the Sunday School class participate in a Read a Thon for Heifer for a couple of weeks in December to help support Heifer.

We also had our annual Advent Festival on Nov. 18th since we had a lot of conflicts to hold it a little closer to the actual start of Advent. The children made the annual Gingerbread houses, and advent candle for home, a "Kiss" tree and ornaments for the tree. A special Emoji ornament was made available too, to remind the kids of the Pageant this year too! Still working on our December activities and as always, we have to compete with school activities and concerts.

As I wrap up the final Tidings for the year, on behalf of all the church youth we'd like to offer our congregation and Tidings readers: A very Merry Christmas and remember..."The best gifts around a Christmas tree: the presence of family all wrapped up in each other".

End of Year Giving and the IRS

As you might imagine, the declaring of charitable gifts as tax deductions is highly regulated by the Internal Revenue Service. Since the end of the year quickly approaches, it seems an appropriate time to review those regulations.

Any gifts to the church should be in the church's "hands" by the end of the year. With the final Sunday being December 30th, the regular giving of offerings should be no problem for all who are able to attend worship that final day. If you are unable to worship with us on December 30th, and you wish to mail in your end-of-year pledges and gifts, the envelope must be postmarked no later than December 31, 2018, for that gift to be reported on your 2018 statement and thus be eligible as a deduction on your 2018 tax return.

For various reasons, some people like to prepay their following year's pledge. If you wish your 2019 giving to be deductible on your 2018 return, you must meet the above criteria. Be assured that the church sets aside prepayments for use in the following calendar year. Although you will receive the 2018 credit for the IRS, the funds will be applied to the 2019 expenses and budget. Just be sure to note on the memo line that it is 2019 giving.

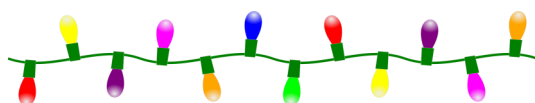

A recent announcement in the Sunday bulletin raised a few questions. This announcement was about prepaying pledges and per capita, suggesting that you hold these payments until after the first of the new year. We apologize for any confusion. You alone decide which year should be credited for your giving. Do as you wish for any 2019 giving -- prepay it, or hold it for 2019.

However, the church is not going to worry about keeping records of prepaid per capita. Per capita is each person's share of supporting the Presbytery of Long Island, the Synod of the Northeast, and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (USA). Each of these bodies determines their portion each year. Westhampton Presbyterian Church will pay per capita for each active member on the church's rolls as of December 31, 2017. (This number is 314.)

For 2019, the per capita assessment is $38.05, meaning that WPC will pay $11,948 in 2019. Naturally enough, we encourage you to give the church your share. However, since fewer than one-third of the congregation does so, the numbers are not significant enough for us to worry about the actual date these per capita offerings are received. Again, the question as to which year your per capita offering is to be a tax deduction is entirely up to you. Prepay it if you wish; pay it next month if you wish.

By the way, with all this talk about prepayments, don't overlook the possibility of post payments. You might have noticed that the 2019 budget was prepared with a line for postpaid pledges, since we have received such payments in the past. If you do not meet your 2018 goal, don't hesitate to pay your shortage in 2019. If you do so, we would appreciate your noting on the memo line of the check "2018 postpaid." Thank you for your support of WPC's ministry and mission for our Lord and Savior.

Diane F. Perry, Financial Secretary

FUNDRAISING COMMITTEE

The hustle and bustle of the holiday season is upon us. Be sure to add the following events to your calendar and join your church family for some fun and cheer:

The Christmas Cocktail Party will be in the Remsenburg home of Elizabeth Shane and Lou Pizzarello Friday, December 7 from 6 to 8 pm. The address is 136 South Country Road. Be prepared for some good food and fellowship. If you can't attend, think about buying a ticket and giving it as a gift. The requested donation amount is $30 per person. Only 38 tickets remain, so be sure to get yours. Tickets are available after worship in the fellowship hall or in the church office.

The Santa Brunch will be on Sunday, December 16 directly after the children's Christmas Pageant. Parents, bring your cameras as Santa and Mrs. Santa will be on hand. Back by popular demand is the "tree of treats" filled with scratch off tickets and gift cards to be raffled off at the brunch. Jane Otis and her crew will prepare a delicious brunch to warm your heart as well as your belly. The requested donation is $15 for adults, $10 for children and seniors with a cap of $40 per family. Raffle tickets are $5 each or 6 for $25. All are welcome so invite your family and friends. A sign up sheet is in the fellowship hall.

The fundraising committee wishes you all a happy and healthy Christmas and thanks you for financially supporting the Westhampton Presbyterian Church.

Presbyterian Women

Nine met Nov. 14th at noon for a covered dish luncheon/meeting. It was a welcome challenge to need an additional place at the table since we are meeting in the kitchen during the Westhampton Library renovation period. We need to add 2 or 3 seats around the kitchen table. A good problem.

Gale Seidler, accompanied by her “knee scooter”, presented the monthly Treasurer’s report. If you have not given to the Thank Offering please try to make your donation as soon as possible. Nov. 18th (my error, 17th in Sundays bulletin) was Thank Offering dedication Sunday. A check payable to Presbyterian Women with Thank Offering on the memo line will be sincerely appreciated.

Very busy days are right around the corner. The posters, radio announcement and news items were overseen by Christine Haddad. Thank you once more to Peggy Childs for printing sparkly posters.

Rev. John Kloepfer opened and closed our meeting with prayer.

Enjoy all the pleasures that are part of Thanksgiving, the things that add deeper meaning to our lives.

Happy Thanksgiving and Merry Christmas to all, near and far.

Notes from the Choir Loft

I love the music of Christmas! The choirs are busy rehearsing their favorite Christmas anthems. We are looking forward to our Christmas concert with The Long Island Brass Guild on Sunday, Dec. 23rd at 10:00 am. Invite friends!

Please consider making a memorial donation to sponsor the Guild. Your donation will be listed in the bulletin on Dec. 23rd.

Merry Christmas!

Words of Grief -- Words of Prayer

As you know, I love music, and I love singing. Besides being a source of pleasure, it is a source of comfort for me. I often sing to pray. For me, singing is also giving witness to God's love and mercy; it is my personal public confession of my faith.

I love to share my faith and my hope through music. I love that the choir is a community of faith; that we come together and worship as one in our signing; and that the Holy Spirit often inspires and augments our voices. Because of all this, I wish to share with you a hymn that Ann Van Cleef recently shared with me.

It was written by Carolyn Winfrey Gillette, MDiv, in response to the terrible mass shooting at the Jewish house of worship last month. This was my first introduction to Ms. Gillette, who has written many new words to familiar hymn tunes, and is evidently an accomplished author, as well as being an ordained teaching elder in our denomination. I will be seeking more of her songs as I celebrate her God-given gifts.

O God, This Day We Grieve

LEONI 6.6.8.4 ("The God of Abraham Praise")

O God, this day we grieve your children who were lost, and we, as one, are horrified by hatred's cost.

For people loved by you — your children, called and blest — were murdered on their Sabbath Day of prayer and rest.

We grieve for those who died, for families left behind, for those who wonder if this world can still be kind.

So many lives were changed, so many dreams were crushed.

There's so much hatred! God, what has become of us?

We thank you, God, for ones who bravely entered in, to serve and to protect, so hatred would not win — and for the ones who lead, we offer you this prayer:

May they be good examples of respect and care.

God, teach us all to love — and may we understand that hatred cannot have a place in this good land, and guns cannot secure the peace we pray will be.

May we, together, build a true community.

O God, unite us all, no matter how we pray,

and may we work together for a better day —

where all may safely live and have no cause for fear.

May we together seek your peace and justice here.

Some History of Westhampton Presbyterian Church from Marcia Koziarz

The current church facility began with the construction in 1887-88 of the sanctuary and a small side room at its northwest corner. The dedication of the cornerstone was held on December 29, 1887. This cornerstone lies in the south exterior facade, just to the east of the west entrance, and covers the opening which contains a tin box originally filled with coins and newspapers from that era. A special centennial celebration of the sanctuary, and a rededication of this cornerstone, took place on Sunday, December 27, 1987, under the leadership of the Rev. Charles M. Cary, and with the participation of a few prior ministers or their sons. The small room, spoken of above, had an outside entrance on the south and provides two entrances into the sanctuary on the east, one at the front wall through the choir loft, and the other directly into the seating area of the sanctuary. Most likely the room itself was originally used as a robing room for the minister. Throughout the 1950s and 1960s, and perhaps earlier, it was the choir room. It is unknown, at this time, if the choir loft was part of the original construction.

First addition

In 1948, during the tenure of the Rev. John H. Hendrickson, a Parish Hall was built to the north and west of the sanctuary, connected to the sanctuary by the choir room. This new Parish Hall provided a large room for gatherings, meetings, and meals, with a kitchen and two restrooms on the east side. At the north end stands an enclosed stage set between two small classrooms. Each room had steps up to a door onto the stage, providing free movement to and from stage left and stage right, and so used during productions.

The west wall of the Parish Hall had windows and two French doors to the outside. These doors were used freely during the annual church picnics as they provided direct access to the parking lot and side yard. They saved a great many steps when carrying food from the kitchen out to the picnics. At the south end of the large room, there was a hall running alongside the choir room and leading to the front door. A room to the west was the minister's study with entrances from both the hallway and the large room. For the first time in over 200 years, the minister actually had a place to prepare sermons and to tend to other duties outside of his home. With this new front door, the original door in the choir room was replaced with a window. It could also be pointed out that for the very first time, the church had indoor plumbing. Prior to this, parishioners had to cross the street to use the bathroom in the manse or be satisfied with the outdoor privy.

Sunday School classes shared the large room. To help with the noise level, rolling dividers were built. They looked exactly like rolling blackboards, but instead of the slate board, acoustical ceiling tiles were mounted on the sides. These acted as temporary walls between the "rooms" and successfully muffled much of the noise generated by the children gathered around the classroom tables. The sanctuary, and occasionally the manse, continued to be used for classes when needed.

Welcome Rev. Vanessa Winters, January 2019

Rev. Winters was born in Portland, ME where her family has lived for generations. She has deep ties to Maine and its coastal waters. She grew up as the oldest of five children. Following her graduation from high school, Vanessa attended Trinity College in Dublin, Ireland where she graduated with her M.A. in Biblical and Theological Studies in 2010.

She then attended seminary at Harvard Divinity School and graduated with her Masters in Divinity in 2013. Vanessa has been serving the Federated Church of Thomaston for the past five years where she has also served on the Midcoast Association Committee on Ministry and as a member of the Board of Directors for the Maine Conference of the United Church of Christ. Vanessa has also served her community both as a firefighter/EMT and as a chaplain for her local fire and police departments.

Vanessa, her husband Chris, and her 18 month old son Wesley are excited about moving to Westhampton. They also have two dogs, Tyson and Ginger. Vanessa loves to sail and has competed in sailing races since age 8. She also loves to spend time with her family, ski and read murder mysteries in the little spare time she has. She looks forward to meeting all of you and discerning the next steps of God's call.
