otorists may be using a newly paved ramp from westbound I-696 to southbound I-275 as early as Thursday when it is tentatively scheduled to reopen to traffic.

But late last week Michigan Department of Transportation officials and project engineers wrestled with how traffic can best be managed through the area. They are considering leaving the ramp's old detour open as an alternative route to ease traffic backups onto westbound I-696,

That detour directs motorists to a turnaround ramp on the new M-5 (the Haggerty Connector) just south of 12 Mile Road in Farmington Hills. MDOT is considering modifying that detour so that the portion of M-5 between 12 Mile and 14 Mile roads, located north of the detour, can be opened to motorists in August.

Southbound and northbound I-275 traffic is expected to be crossed back over to the newly paved southbound side during the first week of August. (See accompanying story on xx.)

Cox appointment draws criticism

David Cox's appointment to a Westland City Council vacancy continues to stir strong emotions among his critics and supporters - one month after he was tapped for the job.

Cox's selection as a six-month

Citizens continues to question the city council regarding David Cox appointment to a vacancy left by resigning member Chuck Pickering. Cox was chosen over nine other applicants for the six month position.

> appointee has angered residents like Joseph Zuccaro, who lashed out Monday at council members who chose Cox over nine other candidates.

> Zuccaro noted that voters in 1995 ousted Cox from office after he served a two-year council term, and Zuccaro angrily criticized the June 21 appointment.

"It's like spitting on us," Zuccaro said. "My son asked me, 'Dad, does your vote count?' I said, 'No, I guess not." Zuccaro's statements came during a Westland City Council meeting and echoed criticism that resident Jim Davis fired at council members earlier in July.

Davis repeatedly described himself as "angry" over the appointment, and he loudly criticized the council for ignoring voters' wishes and choosing Cox for the vacancy.

Cox was picked for the job after former Councilman Charles Pickering resigned early from his four-year term. Pickering chose to step down after deciding not to seek re-election this year.

A divided council voted 4.2 to place Cox in Pickering's seat, giving him incumbent status as he campaigns for election this year.

Councilman Charles "Trav" Griffin on Monday defended his support of Cox, calling him "a stellar candidate" among a group of 10 appealing applicants.

"All of the other people were stellar people, but I had to make a choice,"

Three candidates file for vacant board seat

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER delem@oc.homecomm.net

In a decision that will help steer local public education, Wayne-Westland school board members Monday are expected to choose a one-year appointee in the wake of David Cox's resignation.

Board members will choose from three hopefuls: • Diane Abbott, longtime Westland municipal cable station director.

• Richard Eisiminger, a Realtor serving on a school construction bond oversight committee.

• Marshall Wright, a social worker who recently earned his elementary education bachelor's degree.

The three candidates beat a 2 p.m. Friday deadline for entering the competition.

Six school board members hope to fill a seventh seat after interviewing board hopefuls during a meeting scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday at district offices, 36745 Marquette east of Newburgh. The interviews will be conducted in public session. Board member Ed Turner, contacted at home Friday, said he believes the field of candidates is big enough.

"I'm comfortable with three," he said. "Numbers don't mean that much to me. It's the quality of the people who are applying.'

Even before Cox resigned July 12 to accept a Westland City Council appointment, rumors of his impending departure prompted interest in his successor.

District resident Nancy Pride has urged the board to appoint Wright because he ran for a seat in the June 14 election.

Wright lost the race but finished just 58 votes behind one of the winners, Lorne "Skip" Monif. Wright garnered 708 votes compared to Monit's 766.

The Westland Kmart offered some fun for children while pledging $4,500 to help two Westland Police Department programs.

The Kmart store on the southeast corner of Wayne and Cherry Hill sponsored a Kids Race Against Drugs event in the parking lot on July 17-18.

Kmart donated $5 for every child who rode along a makeshift race track in electric Mustangs that police officer Tom Lochinski described as "sort of like modified golf carts. They were pretty neat."

Kmart ended up donating $2,500 to DARE America, allowing Westland police to order supplies from the company for their Drug Abuse Resistance EduPLACES & FACES

Children also received small gifts such as hats and various certificates.

Westland City Councilman Richard LeBlanc attended the event and said, "It was fun. These kids were having a blast."

There was a mishap, however. On July 18, Lochinski snid strong winds toppled tents and metal towers that had been set up around the track, and one tower fell on an Explorer and injured her leg.

"She had to be rushed to the hospital," Lochinski said. "She got some stitches and had to use crutches

Cable staff receives acknowledgements, raises

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

delem@oe.homecomm.net

Westland's municipal cable station director, praised for airing triple the local programming she's required by contract, has been rewarded with a 20 percent raise.

WLND station manager Diane Abbott's salary increased from $43,044 to $51,900 following a sweeping vote Monday from the seven-member Westland City Council.

Her raise followed a third consecutive year that WLND has captured a firstplace award for overall excellence in government access programming from Washington, D.C.-based Alliance for Community Media.

WLND, honored by industry peers, beat out many strong competitors from cities such as Farmington Hills. "I'm real pleased with this award," Abbott said: "It's nice to get an award from your peers."

Council President Sandra Cicirelli praised Abbott and her staff for an 'excellent job" in local programming.

"Every year it gets better and better," Cicirelli said.

'Abbott's executive producers, David Monak and Craig Welkenbach also received salary increases putting their annual pay at $39,500. Their pay hikes ranged from 6 percent to 16 percent.

Abbott has led WLND since 1991, and she and her staff now produce 350 to 380 hours of local programming each year.

That's more than triple the 115 hours that she said her contract requires.

"Our local access channel is one of the finest in the state," Councilman Charles "Tray" Griffin said.

Programs appear on Channel 10 for viewers who have cable service through Ameritech; Media One customers tune in to Channel 12.

WLND not only airs city council and planning commission meetings, but also covers local ice shows, senior citizen events, community concerts, festivals and parades. Most shows are repeated.

The station also periodically airs informative programs featuring Mayor Robert Thomas, Fire Chief Mark Neal, Diane does do a fine job for us in that department."

Glenn Anderson --City councilmember

Police Chief Emery Price and other administration officials, Abbott said.

The few people who have openly criticized programming have often been political enemies who accused Thomas of trying to boost his image as mayor by frequently appearing on WLND,

However, some who have had differences with Thomas still praise the city's government access programming.

"Diane does do a fine job for us in that department," Councilman Glenn Anderson said Monday.

He supported the salary increases even though he said he would have preferred to see the pay hikes implemented in two steps, rather than all at once.

Abbott, meanwhile, said WLND provides more programming than required by contract because the station serves a city that is busy with events and government meetings.

"I just thought that's what we should do," she said, explaining why the station covers so many events.

. Some council members noted that cable station directors from other communities have often sought advice from Abbott on how to provide quality programming.

Supermarket punks

A Farmer Jack manager told police that as many as seven young males have been coming to the store on Ford Road near Wildwood, harassing a worker and trying to get him to fight.

The manager said members of the group scream in the worker's face and threaten to beat him up, but they leave as soon as someone starts to call police for help. He described the culprits as 16 to 18 years old with shaved heads.

The manager reported that the group has caused problems on several occasions in recent weeks and "has been scaring his customers with their behavior," a police report said.

The manager told police that he feared the situation would escalate into a fight unless the problem is addressed. Police are investigating.

No peace and love

This apparently isn't the summer of love, despite a Woodstock concert that comes 30 years after the original.

> As Wood-'99 stock loomed this weekend, one Westland woman had reported losing her tickets to an apparent thief at her residence on Norris.

CRIME WATCH

The 24-year-old woman told police that the tickets may have been taken by someone who had knowledge of her receiving them from the United Parcel Service.

She went to work after receiving her tickets on July 14 but found them missing when she returned home at 2 a.m. July 15. She found that her back door had been kicked in.

Missing were a pair of Woodstock tickets valued at $351. She also lost emptied on the bedroom floor.

The woman couldn't be reached to determine if her tickets had been returned or if she had made alternative arrangements to attend the concert.

String of thefts

Police believe that a young woman and a young man may be responsible for at least three thefts in Westland.

The latest occurred at 4:50 p.m. July 17 when a Farmington Hills woman reported that a young man grabbed her purse outside of Toys R Us, on the $12, taken from a purse that had been northeast corner of Wayne and Warren roads. She said he escaped in a small red vehicle.

> About two hours earlier, another purse-snatching incident was reported at Farmer Jack on Ford near Wildwood, and a police report said a young woman and a young man escaped in a small red vehicle.

> Police believe that the same two suspects may have been responsible for a July 13 incident in which a "boom box" was stolen from a garage in a Westland residential neighborhood.

The incidents remain under investigation.

CITY OF GARDEN CITY ORDINANCE #99-006 NOTICE OF ADOPTION

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that at its Regular Meeting of Monday, July 19,

Griffin said.

Griffin's vote for Cox on June 21 was echoed by colleagues Sharon Scott, Sandra Cicirelli and Justine Barns, but Councilmen Glenn Anderson and Richard LeBlanc opposed the decision.

Cox had been rumored as a front-runner for the job long before the votes had been cast, but he was selected only after council members interviewed all 10 applicants.

Scott has described Cox as more mature than he was when he served his two-year term that ended in 1995. She and others have said Cox emerged as the most qualified candidate for the posť.

Cox has remained quiet as have trickled in at Westland City Council meetings, and the criticism - while highly vocal hasn't been widespread.

Cox works full time as Romulus deputy mayor, but his council appointment prompted him to resign his position as Wayne-Westland school board president - a post in which he also drew mixed reviews. A majority of his school board colleagues supported him, and on council has - at some point - questions about his appointment Memorial Day parade even before Monit was elected June 14. They appeared with a classic car, owned by Cox, that flashed a Board of Education sign.

Meanwhile, Cox's supporters continue to defend him against charges that he shouldn't have been chosen for a council vacancy - if only because voters oust ed him in 1995.

Some council members pointed out that everyone now serving 1999, the City Council of the City of Garden City did adopt the following Ordinance:

Generous donations help further cause

In the holiday spirit, Westland donors gave thousands of dollars to the Westland Community Foundation for a Christmas in July fund-raiser Thursday at the Hellenic Cultural Center.

"It was wonderful," board of directors member Sharon Scott said. "People were very generous." As of Friday, foundation President Glenn Shaw said the amount collected had reached $34,000. Some single contributions reached $1,000 to $2,500. Scott said.

The money helps pay for programs for The Salvation Army and the Wayne-Westland YMCA, and it provides scholarship money for local students.

Scott said some 200 people attended. Many brought canned food for The Salvation Army. The crowd also enjoyed an Army band, a performance of oldies music by The Laredos and ice sculptures. Scott praised Shaw for putting his "heart and soul into this foundation."

Livonia making progress with MEAP scores

Livonia Public Schools have been improv- tests given in January - fourth- and seving steadily on low scores, set in 1991, on the Michigan Education Assessment Program in math, reading, science and writing. At that time, the percentages of students demonstrating proficiency in those subjects ranged in the 30s and 40s - meaning more than half of students taking the test that year didn't pass.

enth-graders are tested in mathematics and reading, fifth- and eighth-graders in science and writing - two percentages are in the 80s. Two are in the 70s and two are in the 60s.

Science is the one subject with the proficiency level in both tests still below 50 percent, but those scores are still well above In the 1998-99 school year, of the eight state averages.

Only two test scores show backsliding: a two-point drop on the fifth-grade science test and a 10-point drop on the fifth-grade writing test. The 10-point drop also shows up in the statewide average. And it also shows up in the results of such nearby school districts as Farmington Community Schools.

The charts above show the 1998-99 MEAP results, by building, for the Livonia Public Schools.

Poolside party

Line dance: Teens dance poolside in Westland.

Things are hopping poolside every Tuesday at the Westland Bailey Center. Teenager from throughout Wayne County gather for the weekly Teen Night dance and swim party sponsored by the Westland Parks and Recreation Department.

According to Debbie Lindquist, pool manager, approximately 130-150 middle and high school students meet each week to enjoy the music of a themed party behind the Bailey Recreation Center.

Attraction

"We have a mom from Detroit who brings a car load of girls and this week someone from Dearborn came up and introduced themselves," said Lindquist.

Following the 8-9:30 p.m. event every Tuesday, teens are provided with Toarmina's pizza as they head home. Former city councilmember Chuck Pickering donated t-shirts that say "I swam at the Bailey Pool." Winners of weekly best dressed and best dancing contests take home the shirts.

If you would like more information about the Teen Night event call, (734) 722-7620. A $1 fee is charged at the door. The event runs through Aug. 17.

O'Hair to keynote NAACP fund dinner

The NAACP Western Wayne County Branch will hold its annual Freedom Fund Dinner on Oct.

17at O'Hair Crowne Plaza. 8000 Merriman, Romulus.

Retiring Wayne County Prosecutor John D. O'Hair will be the keynote speaker. Retired UAW Vice President Ernest Lofton has been named honorary chairman.

A reception will begin at 3 p.m., followed by dinner at 4 p.m., Dinner Chairman James Netter said.

Tickets are $50 per person and can be ordered by sending a check, payable to NAACP Western Wayne County Branch, to P.O. Box 153, Wayne MI 48184.

For more information, call Netter at (734) 729-8812 or email him at JATC153@ aol. com

The dinner is a fund-raiser for the NAACP's western Wayne County branch, which serves 15 communities. But Netter also underscored the importance of "bringing together people of diverse backgrounds once a year to break bread and talk with each other."

Netter said O'Hair was chosen as keynote speaker because he has supported minority issues.

"He has never hesitated to stand up to the Nazis and the Klans and those kinds of hate groups," Netter said. O'Hair will retire next year. "That takes the politics out of it."

The NAACP Western Wayne County Branch will be planning a separate membership drive, likely sometime in February, Netter said. Details will be announced later.

I-696 to I-275 ramp reopens Thursday

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK STAFF WRITER kabramczykCoe.homecomm.net

Western Wayne County residents who drive on I-275 each day soon will face another traffic shift as the freeway's new southbound-lanes will be opened the first week of August.

Motorists who drive into downtown is expected to be com-Wayne County also may be using a newly paved ramp from westbound I-696 to southbound 1-275 as early as Thursday (July 29) when it is scheduled to reopen to traffic.

The Michigan Department of Transportation also announced Friday that the second phase of the Haggerty Connector - or M-5 — between 12 and 14 Mile will open to traffic in early August.

Dates will be finalized on the crossover and the Haggerty Connector this week. That first week of August marks the halfway point for the 1-275 project, while the I-75 project pleted along with the Southfield Freeway construction at that time, according to Gary Naeyaert, MDOT spokesman.

"That is a big week for us." Naeyaert said.

As the $50 million construction project to repaye the five miles of I-275 between I-696 and the M-14/I-96 interchanges nears its halfway point, MDOT, preparing for many transitions in the project that will affect the 200,000 motorists that use the freeway each day.

I-275's current six lanes of traffic — both northbound and southbound - will be moved from the northbound side to the recently paved southbound side, which contains four new lanes and two shoulders.

That crossover route will run between Five Mile and Grand River.

While the ramp from I-696 to southbound I-275 will be opened, only one lane of traffic will be maintained on the ramp because the traffic flow needs to be narrowed for the three lanes

Women's Center needs volunteers

The Women's Resource Center tion, a divorce support group, at Schoolcraft College seeks volunteers to assist in its role of helping people who wish to enter or re-enter college, research new careers, find information on or would like to know more available services or who need help through a difficult situation.

The WRC offers peer counseling, financial aid for education, a program for women in transi-

If you would like to volunteer about this rewarding role, attend an informational meeting 6:30-8:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 12, in (734) 462-4400, Ext. 5524.

MDOT and project engineers continue to examine how traffic can best be managed through the area. A detour that now directs motorists to a turnaround ramp on M-5 just south of 12 Mile Road in Farmington Hills will be closed and then modified, Naeyäert said.

"Some time after Thursday, that detour route will be temporarily unavailable as we make final preparations for M-5," Naeyaert said. Once that modified route is re-opened, it will act as an "unofficial detour" route for motorists who wish to avoid any traffic backups on westbound I-696 as that narrows to a single lane.

"It's likely that after M-5 opens, we may decide to keep the ramp open," Naevaert said.

"It won't be assigned as an official detour, but we won't discourage motorists from finding and using alternate routes."

If a meter registers in excess of 2% more than the actual quantity of water passing throughout it, it shall be considered "fast." If a meter registers in excess of 5% less than the actual quantity of water passing through it, it shall be considered as "slow,"

50.11 BILL ADJUSTMENT.

If a meter has been tested at the request of a consumer and shall have been determined to register "fast," the City shall credit the customer with a sum equal to the percent fast multiplied by the amount of all bills incurred by such customer within the six months prior to the test, and if the meter so tested is determined to register as "slow," the Department may collect from the consumer a sum equal to the percent "slow" multiplied by the amount of all hills incurred by the consumer for the six months prior to the test. When the Department on its own initiative makes a test of a water meler, it shall be done without cost to the consumer.

- Mark your calendars and start dieting.

Plans are well under way for Schoolcraft College's Culinary Extravaganza Sunday, Sept. 20. The event is a premier fund-raiser for the Schoolcraft College Foundation, which provides scholarships for students in all programs.

Last year's event raised more thần $130,000.

"It's wonderful, wonderful." We're 'way ahead of schedule. The packaging is very exciting, very unique," said event cochairwoman and foundation board member Suzanne Thomas Flighes of Plymouth.

Thomas Hughes and co-chairwoman Colleen Pobur of Plymouth put their time and talent together last year to make the auction one of the most successfiel attractions of the Culinary Estravaganza. The auction raised $20,000.

Center holds open house

The Early Learning and Child Development Center at the University of Michigan-Dearborn invites parents to an open house 4-6 p.m. Wednesday, July 28.

Visitors will meet staff at the Center Office, Room 1031, in the CASL Annex, on the campus's Fair Lane Drive, west of Evergreen Road.

The center offers full- and halfday kindergarten programs from September through June plus developmentally appropriate, play-based programs and summer day-camps for preschoolers and toddlers.

For information, call the center at (313) 593-5424

This year, the two women want to up the ante. "Our goal is to raise that bar by 20 percent," said Thomas Hughes.

With 45 restaurants already committed and several attractive bid packages taking shape, selling tickets, which go for $75 for two or $40 for one, won't be a problem.

"It a huge value to come to this party, with all the wine and ambiance," said Pobur.

The emphasis of this year's auction packages is on soup-tonuts completeness, nothing left for the winning bidder to do but for 10 couples by master sommeenjoy. Here's a sampling:

Two tickets to next year's MIS 2000 races. Package includes clothing and possible driving experience.

Dinner party for several couples prepared by a master chef in the host's home.

Embassy Suites getaway that includes a massage for two and roses in the room.

Soaring Eagle Casino overnight package.

RE/MAX balloon ride with pick-up and return in the RE/MAX Hummer. (Last year, the package included driving the Hummer, which raised another $500, said Thomas Hughes.)

Food and wine presentation lier Madeline Triffon of Unique Restaurant Corp.

Raffle prizes include two round-trip tickets from Northwest Airlines to anywhere in the continental United States, a three-month auto lease from Saturn of Plymouth/ Farmington Hills, and a garnet-and-diamond lady's ring from Orin Jewelers. Raffle tickets are $5 each or three for $10.

Raffle tickets carry an extra bonus: Each ticket is good for $5 off any dinner or purchase at participating restaurants.

Thomas Hughes, a loan center officer at Flagstar Bank in Plymouth, and Pobur, director of concessions and quality assurance at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport, will soon be squeezing even more volunteer time out of their busy lives as the event nears.

More auction packages are being planned and polished. "We want the packages to be so complete, you don't have to do a thing. We take care of all the details. The coordination is included," said Thomas Hughes.

There's still time to be part of the Culinary Extravaganza. In addition to auction items, sponsors are needed. Depending upon the level, sponsors' packages include tickets, program advertisement, names on outdoor lighting, VIP parking and event preview.

More restaurants are welcome. The Waterman Center has room for at least 60 restaurants.

Supreme Court upholds merger

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK STAFF WRITER

kabramczyk@oe.homecomm.net

Wayne County and the city of Detroit's attempt to stop the abolition of Detroit's Recorder's Court has failed" The Michigan Supreme Court upheld a threeyear-old state law that merged the court into Wayne County's Third Circuit Court.

In a 4-3 decision issued Tuesday, justices rejected the argument that the court reorganization outlined under Act 374 approved by state lawmakers in 1996 - violated the Headlee. Amendment to the Michigan Constitution.

Detroit and Wayne County had argued that the reorganization law requiring Detroit to pay for 36th District Court and Wayne County to pay for the newly reconstituted Third Circuit Court violated the Headlee Amendment because it placed financial obligations on them that they were not previously required to shoulder.

That argument focused on the second sentence of Headlee, which reads: "A new activity or service or an increase in the level of any activity or service beyond that required by existing law shall not be required by the legislature or any state agency of units of local government, unless a state appropriation is made and disbursed to pay the unit of local government for any necessary increased costs."

In the majority opinion that rejected that argument, Justice Clifford Taylor wrote: "We conclude that Act 374 neither imposes new activities nor increases the levels of activities on local units.

"Further, because in 1978 and under Act 374, the state's only contribution to the activity at issue relates to the payment of judicial salaries, these matters are not subject to an analysis to determine whether Act 374 decreases the state's proportionate share of the necessary costs of the activities it requires of these local units."

Concurring with Taylor were Chief Justice Elizabeth Weaver, and Justices Maura Corrigan and Robert Young Jr.

Justices James Brickley, Michael Cavanagh and Marilyn Kelly dissented. Cavanagh wrote in the opinion: "I believe that the state's obligations under the second sentence of Article 9, Section 29 (Headlee) flow to each individual unit of local government and not local governments in the collective. Therefore, I would hold that, if the state should mandate a program shift from one local unit to another, that program is 'new' to the unit that must now provide the activity."

CHEF JOSEPH STYKE

Belgian beer is just peachy

ast Sunday Michelle and I went to a barbecue at a friend's house and everyone brought a dish to pass.

We wanted to bring something different — it's summer, and we thought cold peach soup would be a winner. It's rich, refreshing, soothing and cooling on a hot day.

Then the question of what beer to serve with the soup came up. Michelle really does not like beer except for four or five kinds, and one of them is Lindemans Peche or "peach," a lambic made with fresh peaches.

This stuff is awesome, and the perfect accompaniment for chilled peach soup. It makes a nice apéritif too. You can serve Lindemans Peche in a champagne flute.

History

Lambics originated in the town of Lembeek on the River Zenne southwest of Brussels 500 years ago. There was a brewer's guild in Lembeek and it was an important brewing center in that part of Belgium. Today, the only brewery left in Lembeek is Boon's.

Chilled soups offer cool comfort

What better way to cool your palate this summer than with a bowl of delicious cold soup. Don't shy away from these cool-as-a-cucumber delights. The choices are downright flirtatious, from tangy gazpacho to silky smooth honeydew-mint and luscious strawberry-banana. "A lot of people are scared of cold soups until they try them, and then it awakens them to a whole new world," said chef Jeff Ice of the Clarkston Union, a popular restaurant in Clarkston.

Ice likes to make big batches of gazpacho in the summer. In addition to lots of chopped tomatoes, his gazpacho is chock full of cucumbers, onions and sweet peppers. A purist, Ice chops his veggies by hand to preserve their texture.

"You're looking for crispness when you make a cold soup, things that go snap when you chew them," he said.

When it comes to tomatoes, Ice favors the Roma. "It releases more juices and has a better color. In fact, I use only Romas in all my recipes." While most gazpacho recipes call for vinegar, Ice prefers to use wine, a shi-raz or cabernet, and he doesn't add any olive oil. He also insists only fresh herbs will do since dry herbs do not soften and release their flavors as well in cold soups as they do in hot.

And if you're hesitant about using a hefty splash of Worcestershire sauce in your gazpacho, relax and splash away. Ice's recipe calls for one fourth cup. "I recently made my gazpacho for a big catered party. They loved it."

Chef Steve Allen of Steve & Rocky's in Novi grows his own melons in his Hartland home garden. As soon as they're ripe, Allen will transform them into a wonderful honeydew-canteloupe soup that includes pineapple or cranberry juice, Major Grey chutney, maybe a touch of grated fresh ginger and "a little bit of cayenne for a little bit of kick."

Secret

The secret to making excellent cold soups is choosing almost overly ripe fruit, said Allen. "The softer to the touch, the riper it is and the more flavor you'll get."

Allen said people should experiment when making cold soups and adjust the Lambics are made in the fall from September to March or April. The early spring and summer is for fermenting and aging. By royal decree, a lambic must be made with at least 30 percent raw wheat and the remainder malted barley, but some have been know to contain up to 60 percent wheat.

Mashing times of three hours are not unheard of and boils of two to five hours are not uncommon. The hops used seem to be whatever was handy or the best price. Lambic brewers use hops for their preservative value rather than flavor and aroma.

The hops are aged two to three years. Lambic brewers use three to four times more hops than conventional brewers, but because the hops are so old there really is no flavor or bitterness from them.

Fermentation

Now comes the interesting part. After the boil, the wort is pumped up to large shallow copper or steel vats in the attic to cool overnight. Windows are left open to expose the wort to the night air so the wild yeasts of the region can attack the wort and start fermentation. There are more than 100 microorganisms at work in the valley. Two are named for the area -- Lambicus and Bruxellenis.

After the ferment starts the wort is pumped into old wooden wine barrels about 250 liters in size. After the lambic is about 16 months old, fresh ripe peaches are added. The beer is allowed to sit on the fruit for 6 to 8 weeks while another fermentation spices to their taste.

"I was taught never to cook by numbers," he said. "If it's not right, we fix it." Like most cold soup-loving chefs, Allen personalizes his gazpacho. He adds sliced green Spanish olives, chopped hard-cooked eggs and cumin. "Don't be afraid to spice things up, especially during the summer," he said. "Spice opens up your pores and cools you down faster."

Color and flavor

Chef Keith Matherly, who owns Adventures in Dining, a personalized chef service, and Martin's Butcher Block in Livonia with partner George Shier, adds cut fresh corn to his gazpacho "for color and flavor."

He also adds cumin and cayenne pepper. "I like my gazpacho hearty. It's almost a meal in itself. It's cool, refreshes you and gives you good nutrition."

Matherly also makes a chilled cucumber soup seasoned with mint and dill. When selecting cucumbers, Matherly recommends avoiding the stubbier waxed cucumbers sold year-round; rather, buy the longer, thin-skinned English cucumber. It has less water, denser meat and tastes better.

Consistency of cold pureed soups is important. Adding water may or may not be necessary during the puree process. "The soup needs to hold up a garnish," he said.

If you are a soup lover but don't have time to make your own, head to Zoup!

Difficult choice: Jeff Ice of the Clarkston Union offers his guests a choice between chunky gazpacho or smooth cucumberdill. You can always take them both.

New chef service eliminates messy kitchen

BY RENÉE SKOGLUND STAFF WRITER rskoglund@oe.homecomm.net.

Don't feel like cooking tonight? No problem. Don't teel like cooking for ... like, the rest of your life? No problem, say the owners of "Adventures in Dining," a new personal chef service based in Livonia.

Chefs George Shiel and Keith Matherly do the menu planning, food shopping, cooking, and packaging of delicious entrees such as Sweet Pepper Chicken and Polish Reuben Casserole for people who live alone or for families too busy to prepare a main meal.

"It's geared for singles, couples and working families of four or five. They just do not have time for things they need to do - sit down to a good meal. It's not an afterthought," said Matherly.

Prices are based on 20 dinners, which include a vegetable and a starch. The average price is $200 for one person, $275 for two people, and $325 for a family of four. Discounts are given for referrals.

Zoup! offers two cold soups a day, including the popular Grilled Chicken Gazpacho.

"It is dee-lishous. It has the grilled taste of the chicken and the fresh taste of cilantro," said Eric Ersher, managing partner.

Zoup! soups are made fresh daily off-site at the restaurant's huge commercial kitchen near Eastern Market and delivered early every morning. Cold soups include a tart-tasting berry and Summer Avocado with chopped tomatoes.

Customers get to sample soups before selecting, and each order comes with a "big hunk" of sourdough or multi-grain bread, said Ersher.

Whether you decide to make your cold soup at home or dine out, all that's needed to complete your meal is some good bread and a light fruit dessert of fresh berries, cold plums or sliced peaches.

Entrees are nearly packed in microwavable and oven-prior containers and delivered direct to customers' homes, anywhere within the Detroit area.

Skip fat, calories with delicious oven-fried chicken

BY DANA JACOBI SPECIAL WRITER

If fried chicken is high on your love-hate list of foods, meaning that you love to eat it but hate all its fat and calories, oven-baking is the answer.

The secret to enjoying this American favorite, crisp and crusty outside and succulently moist inside, but without the fat, lies in finding the right recipe.

It took some experimenting to get golden brown "fried" chicken cooked in the oven, full of juicy flavor and with a delicious crust that's not soggy.

Using breast meat added to the challenge of producing moist and tender results.

cess, I started out using both boneless chicken breast and halves with the ribs. With each, I tested one wet coating, several dry ones, and two different oven temperatures. In every case, the cutlets came out cardboard dry, the bone-in breasts moist.

From the start, I knew yogurt would be the best wet coating. Its tart flavor is close to the tang of the true buttermilk used by old-time cooks.

Normally, I would use milk to thin the yogurt. Experience, though, demonstrated that lightly beaten egg white was better because chicken coated in this mixture stayed moist without needing time to soak in it.

For the dry coating, I tested four possibilities: corn flakes, soda crackers, bread crumbs, and flour. Ultimately, a base of seasoned flour, followed by a outdoor parties. coating of the yogurt mixture, then a generous covering of crushed crackers, produced superb results. Perfectly crisp when hot, this coating was still appealing on leftover chicken refrigerated overnight. It tasted great, hot and cold:

An oven temperature of 375°F made the chicken properly brown and cooked it all the way through; a higher temperature singed the cracker coating and hardened the meat. Placing the chicken on a greased rack helped it brown evenly without turning.

In sum, using a rack and coatings of seasoned flour, yogurtand-egg white, and crushed soda crackers, produced great, lean "fried" chicken to serve proudly at home and enjoy at picnics and

My siblings and I loved to wake up early in the morning and head out with our baskets to pick wild berries.

The method was always the same - one for the basket, one for our belly. Once we filled the baskets, we raced back to the house to wash our bounty, while my grandmother prepared the griddle for fresh blueberry pancakes. Now that summer is in full swing, the selection and availability of fresh fruits and berries is incredible. Picking fruit and vegetables at a nearby farm or orchard is a fun, and relatively inexpensive, family outing. I guarantee your recipes will taste better if you use freshly picked fruits and vegetables. Ordinary experiences are special for kids with medical needs

BY KIMBERLY A. MORTSON STAFF WRITER kmortson@oe.homecomm.net

ooking out at more than 100 kids, from the porch mof the main lodge at Camp Copneconic in Fenton, it's hard to distinguish the children they call the "kidney kids" from everyone else.

The nickname comes from the fact that they have kidney disease. The National Kidney Foundation of Michigan has been hosting the week-long Kids' Camp at the 84-year-old retreat for Eric Ziga, also from Dearborn, bunked in cabin Winnebago the same as Lipani. Ziga, 15, offered his fellow camper a different perspective on the illness — Ziga received a kidney approximately three years ago. After trying hemodialysis, the Dearborn teen says he opted for peritneal dialysis which he could do at home on his own — avoiding the significant amount of time hemo treatments demand of patients each week.

Peritoneal dialysis is performed by introducing dialysis solution into the abdominal cavity through a catheter. The natural approximately 15 years. The goal of the Kids' Camp, according to NKFM Program Coordinator Linda Johnson, is to provide activities for is to provide activities for young people who might not otherwise find a camp that could accommodate their need for dialysis and frequent medical attention.

"It's a nice opportunity for the kids to have fun and forget about it. We don't want them to dwell on their health so they camp right along with other children who don't have kidney problems," said Johnson. "Camp Copneconic is owned by the YMCA and is used year-round by a wide variety of groups and organizations ... not just the Kidney Foundation of Michigan."

Because of the special nature of the camp, children come from throughout Michigan and nearby states like Illinois and Indiana. Physicians, children's hospitals and outpatient dialysis centers make recommendations to their patients and families to attend the camp.

Dearborn resident Joe Lipani, 17, was urged by his doctor to partake in the camp for the first time in July. The Dearborn High School senior suffered from kidney failure at the age of eight after consuming what his mother Camille Lipani believes was undercooked "chicken."

Lipani's organs suffered permanent damage, causing a gradual decline in his kidney's over the past eight years.

"I'm really proud of him knowing all that he's been through," said Camille.

In 1998 the Dearborn teen's health status made it necessary for him to start hemodialysis, three times a week for up to five hours at a time. "I'm on the machines Monday, Wednesday and Friday after school," said Lipani who receives dialysis treatments at Children's Hospital of Michigan in Detroit.

Lipani says he currently maintains an inactive status on a transplant list to receive a kidney and will progress to active status when he chooses to do so.

"It's my decision," said Lipani. "I'm not quite ready. I'm scared of rejection."

Test: Eric Ziga, 15, checks his blood sugar level. Kathy Carroll of Canton, a registered nurse from Children's Hospital of Detroit, looks over his should to monitor his levels.

rroll through the membrane into the dialysis solution. This solution can be drained out of the abdomen into a bag and be thrown away in about 45 minutes compared to the 4-5 hour process of hemodialysis.

Ziga said he too had fears about a transplant but wouldn't trade how he feels now for anything. "I was tired all the time, now I feel fine."

Lipani and Ziga both said they didn't come to camp with the purpose of sharing their medical backgrounds but to have fun — meeting other kids who have walked in their shoes was an added bonus.

Like any other camp

For the most part, the Kids' Camp is no different than any other. Children between the ages of 8 and 17 participate in activities such as archery, games, swimming, arts/crafts, boating, canoeing, softball, kayaking and horseback riding.

There are very few restrictions for the "kidney kids." All of them are weighed and have their blood pressure monitored each morning and medications are distributed throughout the day. If a child is receiving peritneal dialysis they cannot swim and transplant patients must wait one year beyond their surgery date to horseback ride.

Johnson said camp counselors are very conscious of the kids health and know what to look for if they are becoming fatigued or need to take time-out. "There's a rest period after lunch that gives everyone the opportunity to catch their breath and relax. The counselors know some of these kids can't be pushed as much and may need a break."

The health center for the kidney kids, a separate building from the camp's main medical building, is staffed with volunteer nurses and physicians from Hurley Medical Center in Flint and Children's Hospital of Detroit.

Canton resident Kathy Carroll, a registered nurse from Children's Hospital, has been volunteering at the Kids' Camp since the very beginning.

Reaching out: The low-ropes exercise provides an opportunity for the kids to work together. Above, Eric Ziga, 15, of Dearborn, pulls one of his fellow campers to safety.

Ziga, a diabetic, visits with Kathy twice a day to check his blood sugar levels and to receive medication. She'll accompany Lipani and a handful of other campers twice during the week-long camp to Hurley for their hemodialysis treatments.

"I volunteer because it's nice to see many of the kids I see at the hospital enjoying themselves. Because of their health some of them lead pretty sheltered lives and don't get the chance to be involved in so many activities like they do here," said Carroll.

Helping hand

The National Kidney Foundation of Michigan also sponsors a Family Weekend Getaway in the fall for adult kidney disease patients and their families. Johnson said many of the same activities are available to the adults with additional programs for their children or guests.

"The Kidney Foundation through fundraising pays for the cost of the camp for a good percentage of the kids. No one is turned away," said Johnson.

NKFM works with thousands of people annually who are coping with kidney failure through education, programming, patient services, advocacy and research to promote organ and tissue donation.

"This camp is something we're proud to be involved with," said Johnson. "It's very rewarding to see the kids enjoy themselves and form new friendships while they're here."

Sewage charge will be based on a volume rate and surcharged based on volume of discharge and the strength of BOD, suspended solid. phosphorus, fats, oil and grease or other pollutants present in the wastewater. In the event other pollutants are required to be surcharged under this subchapter, authorized variances, or by special arrangements with the owner of the publicly owned treatment works, the rules and regulations adopted herein will apply, said rules and regulations begin on file with the City

In my family, learning is everything.

Books don't just enlighten. They empower. Our children are growing up knowing this. A good education is one of the most important things we can give them. And we will, with the help of U.S. Savings Bonds. Through the Payroll Savings Plan, we put aside something with every payday. And little by little, it will add up to college for our children.

little rain and change in starting time didn't stop Sue Gentz Band Jan McDonald from arriving at 9 a.m. for the Ann Arbor Art Fairs on Wednesday, July 21. They simply took refuge in Amer's restaurant on the corner of Liberty and Main. That's where I ran into them. They kindly shared their table with my sister and me.

"The size of fairs and the variety of artists is why we never miss it," said Gentz, a Plymouth resident. "There's something here for everyone."

McDonald, a Livonia resident, likes to watch people so Ann Arbor was the perfect place to be July 21-24.

"I get a lot of Christmas shopping done," said McDonald. "We always come on opening day. The threat of rain didn't deter us. When my hus-

A new world: This "Study for Jersey Homesteads Mural" by Ben Shahn shows a group of immigrants coming down a gangplank onto Ellis Island in the mid-1930s.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER lchomin@oe.homecomm.net

They first met when she was writing' about Shahn's Sacco and Vanzetti paintings for the Ohio State Journal. The paintings, which focused on the en Shahn comes alive with every executed Italian-immigrant anarchists, established Shahn as a social realist painter. "Diego couldn't speak English well and said 'let me get my assistant.' His assistant was Ben," said Bernarda Bryson Shahn. Like Bernada's stories, all of the paintings in the exhibition, opening today at the Detroit Institute of Arts, recall a time in Shahn's life. Bernarda said she thinks the exhibition captures the essence of those years — from 1936 through the early 1960s. She saw "Common Man, Mythic Vision: The Paintings of Ben Shahn" last winter at The Jewish Museum, New York, which organized the exhibition of 43 paintings. The exhibit, grouped in five galleries dealing with social realism, religious tradition, war, humanity, and the Saga of the Lucky Dragon, continues through Sunday, Oct. 31, "I thought it was a wonderful show," said Bryson Shahn about the exhibit which traveled to New York and Allentown, Pa. before opening in Detroit. "It required a lot of work to find as many as they did.' A study for the Jersey Homesteads mural is one of Bernarda's favorites. It reminds her of the days she assisted her husband in creating the work dedicated to Jewish immigrants resettled n what is now known as Roosevelt New Jersey. It's where Bernarda and Ben began their married life and where she lives today. The mural captures the plight of Jewish immigrants coming to this country in the mid-1930s.

"We were both working for the Resettlement Administration in Washington, D.C. when the mural was painted," said Bryson Shahn. "Ben's father grew up working with his hands so Ben associated with people who worked with their hands." His father and grandfather were woodcarvers, Shahn related to the Jewish immigrants he painted, because his family emigrated to the U.S. from Lithuania in 1906. Leaving behind his grandfather to whom he was especially close. and his father, exiled to Siberia for anti-czarist activities, was a traumatic experience for Shahn. His father eventually joined the family in the new country. The Saga of the Lucky Dragon, displayed in the fifth gallery, is based on illustrations published by Harper's in a three-part article about Japanese fishermen exposed to radioactive poisoning during an American bomb test in 1954. When Shahn created the works in the early 1960s, they pleased him immensely. "At the time he thought it was his most important work," said Bryson Shahn. "The Saga of the Lucky Dragon was a crown of his thinking and more mature painting."

Local collectors are smitten with Shahn

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER lchominCoe.homecomm.net

Lois Pincus Cohn considers Ben Shahn an artist for all times. The Bloomfield Hills resident says it's one of the reasons she admires his work and would like to share it with others.

Pincus Cohn and her husband Judge Avern Cohn are among the nine private collectors who have lent work to "Ben Shahn and Detroit" opening today at the Detroit Institute of Arts. The 11 paintings, spanning the years 1931 to 1958, complement "Common Man, Mythic Vision: The Paintings of Ben Shahn."

This exhibit includes Shahn's study for the post office mural in the Bronx, an image from the Dreyfus Affair, two studies for the Social Security Building murals, and a series of prints on Sacco and Vanzetti.

The Cohns lent their gouache painting titled "Mason," Shahn's portrait of a working man.

"I like Ben Shahn because he evokes an era in the 30s and 40s and evokes a social consciousness," said Pincus Cohn, owner of Artspace, a Birmingham gallery. "In-'Mason,' you begin to understand the pain of the Depression years. Shahn was Jewish and liberal in his politics, and believed passionately in light and dark forces. He painted a universal realism. His paintings are very moving. He painted the human condition." Hugh and Carolyn Greenberg lent two gouache paintings -- "Les Expert" and "Carpentar" that they bought in the 60s and 70s. The Franklin residents own several of Shahn's works. "Shahn's a great craftsman and humanist," said Carolyn Greenberg. "I relate to his people. He has a social and political consciousness that dovetails with our sensitivities. Ben Shahn has not received as much attention as he deserves. It's wonderful that they're exhibiting his work."

band asked me when I'd be home, I said we'd stay until my hair got wet."

By 10 a.m., this year's official opening time, Gentz, McDonald, myself and my sister Gwen Dietrich were on the streets looking for art. The first stop for me, since I was writing my column on the art fairs, was Tom LeGault's booth.

"I'm running on fumes. I've been working 18 hour days to get ready for Ann Arbor," said the Plymouth painter. "Ann Arbor is the best. We'll probably have four days of thunderstorms but the people don't care. They'll still come."

If you missed LeGault in Ann Arbor, you can find his impressionistic boat and Northern Michigan scenes at the Northfield Hills Art on the Lake 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 22, on Long Lake Road between Crooks and Coolidge in Troy, (248) 641-9080. He will also be at the Plymouth Community Arts Council's Artists and Craftsmen show 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 11, and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 12, at Central Middle School, Church and Main Street. On the road again

This was Tom Hale's 19th year in the State Street Area section of the Ann Arbor Art Fairs, which are actually three fairs in one. A Farmington Hills artist best known for his paintings of classic cars, Hale brought new landscapes to the fairs, which feature nearly 1,100 artists. His cars, howeyer, remain favorites with their lyrical lines, and nature reflected in their chrome and body parts.

"I don't think anybody's ever ready for Ann Arbor," said Hale. "It's physically exhausting. It's the hardest show I do."

When Hale wraps a red rose around a fender in his paintings, his years as an automotive designer are evident. He says he's always trying to feel the contour of the car when he sees a reflection in it, and it shows. But you can see for yourself when Hale shows his classic car paintings at the Meadow Brook Hall Concours d'Elegence Invitational Art Show 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 1 on the grounds of Oakland University in Rochester Hills. Sixteen automotive artists are bringing their work from France, Canada, Germany, England and the U.S. to the 21st annual Concours d'Elegance. Along with the artworks, there will be the real Bugattis, story his widow Bernarda Bryson Shahn tells. Her voice is smitten as a schoolgirl's as she talks about Diego Rivera excusing himself to retrieve his young assistant to speak about the mural he was painting at the Rockefeller Center in New York. The project turned into an international scandal and was never completed because Rivera sketched in heads of Lenin and Marx. But it did succeed in bringing together Bernarda and Shahn for a second time.

PROFILE DSO's Spisto is heading home to New York

BY FRANK PROYENZANO STAFF WRITER

fprovenzano@oe.homecomm.net

Finding time for lunch hasn't been easy for Louis G. Spisto.

By all accounts, in a year-and-a-half whirlwind after arriving at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra from the Pacific Symphony, Spisto has succeeded in enhancing the public perception of the DSO. Lunch? Obviously, that's had to wait.

When he took over from former DSO President Mark Volpe, who moved on to the Boston Symphony, Spisto inherited a prestigious arts organization that had just recently become "financially credible."

While at the time, the orchestra had plans for trips to Japan and Europe, there was a clear mandate for the new president set forth by DSO board members.

"There weren't any programs in place, nor was the image of the DSO effectively communicated to the public. I looked at my position as a minister," said Spisto, who met with the Observer & Eccentric over lunch at 220/Edison, a restaurant in downtown Birmingham. "I'm always on call."

Island, where Spisto will live near his many family

Louis G. Spisto, president of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will become the executive director of the American Ballet Theatre in New York.

director of the American Ballet Theatre, arguably the finest dance company in the world. He has been hired to expand audiences for ABT's New York performances at the Metropolitan Opera House and City Center, He'll also be in charge of finding a way to increase concerts in the United States and around the world for the company's 80 dancers.

Spisto might be heading East, but there are sure signs he hasn't pulled up all roots in Detroit. Last year, ABT established a formal relationship with the Michigan Opera Theatre to make the Detroit Opera House its Midwest home.

In many ways, joining ABT is an extension of the groundbreaking marketing programs Spisto enacted with the Pacific Symphony and the DSO,

Creating a marketing strategy to connect with a wider audience for dance, according to Spisto, will be "the "toughest of all."

Everyman demeanor

To know first-hand the depth of Spisto's ability makes his departure difficult to accept, especially when his creativity, leadership and everyman

Even though Shahn put his art a modernist not as a social realeducation on hold to work as a lithographer to help support four younger siblings, he eventually attended New York University, City College of New York and the National Academy of design. He later traveled to Paris to study art.

Shahn's works in the DIA exhibition are as relevant today as they were when he painted them.

"Allegory" with its red lion and pile of dead children symbolizes the suffering of African American Jim Hickman.

"In 'Allegory' Shahn refers to Jim Hickman living in a tenement in Chicago and his family who perish in a fire believed to be set by the landlord," said Rebecca Hart, assistant curator of Modern and Contemporary Art at the DIA. "Shahn's work was always about social injustice, the plight of the working man, his belief in moral action and moral life. The exhibition's a reconsideration of Ben Shahn as ist which has the connotation of propaganda art. Shahn is much more than that."

The exhibition may reconsider Shahn as a modernist painter but his themes of social injustice prevail throughout the five galleries.

"Shahn's taking war experiences and Jewish experiences and applying it in a universal way for social justice," said Hart. "As a WPA photographer, Shahn's job was to document the devastation of the Great Depression."

Religious influences

Throughout Shahn's life his Jewish heritage and traditions also influenced his work.

"By 1930, he eschewed ritual observance of Judaism but the tradition stayed with him, the storytelling and the moral action," said Hart. "In 'New York,' painted from a photo of a fish market and an orthodox Jewish man, Shahn is moving away from realism. It becomes sort of a dream or a memory."

Allegory and symbolism

By 1943, Shahn was working with the Office of War Information designing posters, but his own painting had shifted from political issues to universal issues, which focused on the individual. An Italian landscape which is surreal in nature, shows the experience affected him deeply.

"At this point, Shahn's one of the few people privileged to have access to photos of what's happening in Europe," said Hart. "He sees some of the first documents of the Holocaust. He decides the devastation is so awful he decides to refers to it in an allegorical way."

Among Hart's favorites is "Study for Clarinet and Tin Horn" from the DIA's permanent collection. Painted in 1951, the work refers to the agony a musician goes through when creating. Here, he sits imprisoned by a row of horns, his head invisible.

"Shahn's trying to talk about the intensity of creativity. He's talking about high and low art with the row of clarinets and a carnivalesque horn. The artist is in agony," said Hart.

At a time when self expression was dominant, Shahn reached international recognition when the Museum of Modern Art chose him to represent the U.S., along with Abstract Expressionist Willem de Kooning, at the Venice Biennale in 1954.

"Shahn was a representational artist," said Hart. "Critics after the war tended to disregard him. Shahn decides to put emotional content into a single figure and tell the story. One of my other favorites is 'Age of Anxiety' (1953) because it speaks to the fears felt world wide after the development of the Atom Bomb. This was a time of McCarthyism, a time when Ethel and Julius Rosenberg were executed for allegedly selling atomic secrets to the Soviets. A woman with an x-ray body looks like she's pregnant and poses the question what happens to our children."

Saga of the Lucky Dragon

Shahn's Saga of the Lucky Dragon, with its obscurely placed fire dragons or hydrogen beasts, are also favorites of Hart.

"These Japanese fisherman are awakened by the "sun" rising in the west then "death ash' descends on their boat. They collect it and bring it back to Japan. Shortly thereafter the radio man is the first to die." said Hart. "I'm taken at how begutiful Shahn's paintings are. They're just as topical as they were 40 to 50 years ago because he's made these universal. They touch a chord in people.'

Clay art

Alan Gibson, who brought his contemporary wall pieces and clocks to Ann Arbor, approaches the fairs as a seasoned veteran as well. He's been doing the show for more than 15 years and accepts the grueling hours as the price he has to pay to expose his work to the public. Gibson, a Livonia resident, will bring all of his works, including smaller abstract pieces perfect for accenting a wall, to the Novi Art Festival 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday-Sunday, Aug. 7-8 at the Novi Town Center. One of the most interesting booths in Ann Arbor was Nancy Strailey's. The Pennsylvania artist creates drawings of cheeattending classical music concerts.

"I've always approached classical music from the audience's perspective," said Spisto, whose participation in the arts includes acting and directing in summer stock during his undergraduate years at the University of Wisconsin and during graduate studies at the University of Notre Dame, where he earned an MBA in arts administration.

In the upcoming season, Spisto proudly points out, the DSO will begin a program intended to educate adults on the history of music.

With the DSO's 1999-2000 season set, the expanded schedule of summer concerts at Meadow to's departure comes when the momentum is increasing.

"It would have been preferable to see things through for another couple years, but I think there's a strong purpose and understanding about the programs for the next five years," he said.

A logical decision

Spisto, 42, made it clear that he didn't initially approach ABT and that at one point he withdrew from any consideration. When ABT persisted, he realized that going back home was a "logical decision."

To live within walking distance of ABT's offices in Manhattan - and a short drive to visit his family - was simply irre-Brook selling beyond expecta- sistible. "In the end, it was the Nothing personal, Detroit. Indeed, the strong relationships forged with DSO board members, he said, made it an especially difficult decision.

"It wasn't easy," he said. "I've had many good relationships here. But it was clear, and then there's the fact that ABT is at the peak of their game."

Bittersweet

While the DSO's 75-member board is a Who's Who of the corporate world, it wasn't until Spisto applied his marketing wizardry that one of the region's most prestigious cultural institutions began to appear more spirited.

In addition to the 200-plus grams while elevating its role in shaping the cultural renaissance of downtown Detroit.

If there were any doubt of Spisto's vigor and zeal, it would be dispelled by the many public photos, where he's smiling broadly with mayors, corporate executives and marquee musicians who have performed at Orchestra Hall.

"I have a deep love for the orchestra," he said. "I always felt like I could excite people."

Unfortunately, in his final weeks at the DSO, Spisto will have more time for lunch and farewells.

Pet portraits

Patricia Bombach's booth was crowded with people who wanted to see examples of her people and pet portraits. The publicity she received when Fox 2 reporter Lee Thomas featured her in a spot on the Livonia Arts Festival at Greenmead Historical Village in June was obviously overflowing into Ann Arbor.

I was there because I'm considering commissioning Bombach to do a portrait of my three-yearold Irish Wolfhound, Shamrock. Bombach recently retired as a teacher's aide from Livonia's Churchill High School and plans to take a breather from doing art fairs as well. So if you're interested in a portrait of your pooch tahs, elephants and other animals on papyrus. Strailey's love for the animals shows in the works on this rare form of paper. She used to do volunteer work at a sanctuary in North Carolina which took in a lot of the "big cats." Strailey leaves for Africa in two weeks to research elephants for her drawings. The results will be on display at Arts, Beats & Eats, Sept. 3-6 in downtown Pontiac. Check out their Web site at www. artsbeatseats. com

BOOKS U-M and UFOs mix in fun-to-read whodunit

"The Silly Season," by Susan Holtzer (St. Martin's press, $22.95).

SUNDAY, JULY 25, 1999

'Summer in Ann Arbor is always the silly " 9 season,' character observes in this latest mystery written by University of Michigan grad, Susan DIAZ Holtzer.

readers will remember from other Holtzer mysteries, and her gal pal, Jenna Lenski, are on their way to a State Street ice cream parlor when they spot the strange lights, and speed off to investigate.

" 'Maybe it's a flying saucer that thinks it's found a friend.' ' Jenna remarks, referring to Crisler Arena's resemblance to the cosmological mothership in "Close Encounters of the Third Kind."

When the two arrive at the scene, the strange lights appear to have intensified, and a small crowd is gathering. As they watch the strange phenomenon, the arc lights in the parking lot flicker, dim, and finally go out. Almost simultaneously, the UFO seems to grow in size, nearly blinding the watchers. Then, it disappears suddenly, leaving all to wonder what they have witnessed.

But the excitement has only just begun. The very next night. a similarly-spectacular sighting occurs directly above The Rock, a historical granite "monument" at the intersection of Washtenaw and Hill Streets.

Ultimately, Prof. Thomas Edison Stempel, " 'the University's resident expert on UFO's,' " is discovered dead near still another of the sightings. Electrocuted by some mysterious device, it looks as if the controversial academic may have actually been done in at the hands of little green men.

Holtzer does some of her best work when sketching word-pictures of Ann Arbor and the UM the intrepid student reporter campus. Readers can practically savor the coffee and raisin toast at Zingerman's on a sticky June morning, or feel the oven-like heat of the old Daily offices in the summertime, or smell the dewy grass in Fuller Park.

*CA

Sometimes, a comically-wicked touch adds to the brisk action. TV media folk from Detroit are "over-coiffed." Nestled among the colored crystals, "ceramic unicorns, pewter elves and . . . candles" at a thriving New Age store are "greeting cards featuring dyspeptic-looking angels." The only thing more ridiculous here than the infighting among academics is the infighting among various factions of UFO "experts."

Combining forces, Michigan Daily reporter Kaplan, Ann Arbor police lieutenant Karl Genesko, and his fiancee. Anneke Haagen, eventually uncover what lies at the heart of this eerie mystery. Readers take note, however: As in "Black Diamond," journalist Kaplan seems to be pushing Genesko and Haagen more and more away from center stage, and Haagen especially seems to play almost a cursory role here.

Many fans may feel that the series is a bit poorer for this change in direction.

I, for one, miss Haagen's spirit and influence, and hope she'll soon take more of a starring role again. Holtzer implies that she will, assuring us that in the next novel, she and Genesko will finally tie the knot, making official a relationship that's gone on for years now between the former Wolverine football star and the 50-year-old computer whiz.

Tuesday, July 27 at 7 p.m. Judy

Anderson will discuss "The Mental Game of Golf."

This book is a little silly, too.

But that is as it is intended. As Holtzer tells us in a brief preface: "After the serious . . . content of "Black Diamond:" (her previous novel). I felt that Anneke and Karl and Zoe - and their creator - deserved a break. ... this one ... was written strictly for fun."

Fun it is, too, and maybe especially fun for those readers who remember Ann Arbor's 1966 UFO sightings and all the brouhaha surrounding the events. These turned out to be something called "swamp gas." UFO to according investigator/Northwestern University professor J. Allen Hynek, who came to town to look into things. In this work of fiction, UFO's once again hover in and about Ann Arbor, but this time they definitely are not the result of swamp gas.

The story begins one sultry June evening with a sighting over Michigan's vast sports complex at the corner of Stadium and Main Streets. Zoe Kaplan, people, if asked to free associate about metropolitan Detroit, aren't likely to spit out the words "extremely

Let's face it, we're known for our heavy duty, fuel-injected automobiles, not our fashion aesthetics and voracious hunger for stylish clothing.

tication.

It's even fair to say the metropolitan Detroit area lacks a signature style.

Female residents of New York City, the nation's fashion capital, are, for instance, known for wearing black apparel day-in and day-out.

In contrast, women in Dallas are known for donning somewhat flashy clothing. Men there feel naked until they've slipped on a pair of stylish cowboy boots.

Women from the South, a sales representative with Anne Klein in New York City tells me, prefer brighter, more colorful clothes, which explains why the company markets and sells different portions of their apparel collections to different regions of the country.

While metropolitan Detroit may not be known as a high style headquarters, residents from the Detroit area may have recently surprised a few outsiders, among them internationally known clothing designer Carolina Herrera. They even may have surprised themselves.

Herrera was in town to present her fall collection of women's clothing at the Detroit Institute of the Arts at a benefit for the museum put on by Saks Fifth Avenue.

To begin with, the event was well attended. More than 300 people showed up, and museum personnel were scurrying to set up additional chairs around the runway just minutes before the show began. Perhaps local residents are simply more excited about fashion and style than outsiders perceive.

More importantly, the majority of attendees were, pardon the expression, dressed to the nines. There were numerous floor-length ball gown skirts and a plethora of tasteful black cocktail dresses.

Once more, a significant portion of the attendees were men, and most of them were dressed in tuxedos,

Yes, the event was billed as black tie. But, if anyone challenged the dress code that night, it was the women, not the men.

Even the Eccentric fashion photographer who accompanied me to the event, Jerry Zolynsky, showed up in black dress pants, a crisp, freshly ironed shirt, red tie and polished black shoes. (Newspaper photographers adamantly defend their right to wear blue jeans on the job, no matter the occasion.)

Noteworthy attendee, writer Elmore Leonard, wore a colorful, patterned bow tie with his penguin suit, a nice touch and a perfect way to distinguish himself.

Sure, everybody loves to kick back in a pair of soft blue jeans and looks forward to casual Fridays at the office.

But if we're interested in convincing the outside world to look upon Detroit as a sophisticated metropolitan community, we have to, at least occasionally, play the part.

It's not as if we're being bombarded with a sea of invitations to black tie dinners and swanky galas one week after another.

Q: Why is athletic and outdoor-inspired sportswear so popular today?

A: People are living a more casual lifestyle, and I think people would much rather be relaxed than not. ... It stands for fun. It makes people feel very comfortable.

Q: How has your clothing impacted sportswear?

A: When I came on the scene in the early 80s; I was really the first to develop a total casual sports collection and it immediately touched a nerve. It made (people) feel more relaxed and more comfortable. ... It was relaxed and it was happy, and it still is.

Q: Your logo and name seem to be everywhere today, what do you think about that? A: I think that there are a lot of people who like to wear logos because of status.

Q: How important are logos to fashion and style?

A: I think that the label is as important as the product is. If the product is good, the label is important.

Q: Which pieces in your fall collections for men and women do you think are particularly well-suited to suburban Detroit residents and why?

STAFF PHOTOS BY JERRY ZOLYNSKY

A: We have a lot of very modern prep edge ... a lot of stretch, fine gauge sweaters, chinos, cargos and drawstrings.

Q: Music and culture obviously interest and influence you. What does music from metropolitan Detroit - for example, Motown in the '60s - say to you about clothing and have any of these artists influenced your designs?

A: Actually, I'm doing a book now on rock style and how it has influenced fashion. .., I think the Motown style had a big effect on everybody. They were all in uniform, so to speak. The Supremes were really the first -supermodels.

Q: Sailing is extremely popular here and I understand you are a sailor. Has the sport influenced your designs?

والاستحداد بتبيه مندوان والعاد الإام أتعجب

A: Absolutely. In a major way: ... The (sailing) look is exciting. It's fresh and makes people look and feel good.

Q: Has the sport of sailing incorporated the Hilfiger look and how?

A: A few years ago, I started doing sailing gear, and I saw that a lot of people in sailing were wearing my clothes partly because of the red, white and blue colors.

TRAVEL State's beaches get loving treatment in new book

"Go to a place you've never been before. Get toasty-warm under the sun. Spend hours laying on silky smooth sand. Become mesmerized by sparkling sunlight dancing on crystal blue waters. Watch a glowing orange orb slowly disappear as it sets upon iridescent waves awash with lavender, purple and blue....'

-from The Zen of Beachfreaking in the book "Beach Freaks' Guide to Michigan Best Beaches" by Joan and Bob Elmouchi.

BY DOUG JOHNSON STAFF WRITER

Four summers ago while basking in the sun on one of Michigan's beaches, Joan Elmouchi and her husband, Bob, got a terrific idea.

Why not write up the best beaches in Michigan and maybe turn the information into a book?

The result is "Beach Freaks," a neat paperback book full of details about Michigan's best beaches.

Joan is director of the Garden City Public Library. Bob is an environmental and safety engineer for a car seat leather manufacturer in Rochester Hills. The couple live in Southfield making the job commute bearable. She was born by the beach (Atlantic City, N.J.) but came to the University of Michigan for a library science degree and has never left.

"I had seen books on parks, hiking trails and Michigan travel but none on Michigan beaches. So, we started taking notes, writing up the best beaches,' Joan said.

After the initial idea four years ago, the book became a warm-weather project. During the last three summers the couple have traversed the state in search of the perfect beach.

The book lists beaches from four areas: Detroit Metro, West Coast, East Coast and Upper words perfectly. A chapter on Michigan's sand dunes is included.

How did she pick her Top Ten? "I was looking for natural beauty, not concession stands. We picked the beach on Sturgeon Bay No. 1 because it is extraordinarily beautiful. It's pristine; there's miles of shoreline, clear, sparkling water, sand dunes."

The beach is just a few miles from Mackinaw City in Wilderness State Park and is a "Beach Freaks' paradise" according to the book. The rest of the Top Ten were based on scenic value, sand quality and openness of swimming.

"Some sand is trucked in and has a lot of dirt. Some is very stony," Joan said, like a true beach connoisseur.

If you use a wheelchair, you might want to check out Bronson-Park near Muskegon, where you can get very close to the water on a wooden ramp.

The book also is critical where necessary, especially about dirty beaches. "But, things change fast at beaches," Joan said. "Water levels, amenities, sand dunes, clean-up - all can change rapidly."

The Top Ten also include some hard-to-find places. North Bar Lake, for example, is not on most maps; there are no clear road signs. It is in the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore. "Duck Lake Sate Park got an honorable mention. It's near Lake Michigan and has the uncommon linking of a Great Lake with an inland lake, although it is not as fully developed as some parks," Joan said,

"We love Michigan. We love traveling in Michigan. We want people to realize what an unique resource we have with both a sunrise (east) and sunset (west) coast."

"Beach Freaks' Guide" is 269 pages; $16.95; available at Bor-

Peninsula. "The first summer we did the

Blackmore an All-Star

Livonia Churchill product Ron Blackmore, a shortstop with the Michigan Panthers of the Great Lakes Collegiate League, was selected to represent to West Division squad in today's All-Star game at Westview Park in Celina, Ohio (home of the Grand Lake Mariners).

Blackmore, who plays for the University of Detroit Mercy, batted .289 in 36 games. He was sidelined for three games during mid-season after taking a fastball to the jaw.

Blackmore rebounded from the injury with a nine-game hitting streak.

Gregg Mucerino (Citadel) coaches the Panthers in the wooden bat league.

Spartan mat coach Berg retires

BY BRAD EMONS SPORTS WRITER bemonsCoe.homecomm.net

For a guy who didn't know much about high school wrestling when he started out, Don Berg certainly got a lot out of the sport.

Berg is calling it quits after 19 seasons as Livonia Stevenson's varsity coach. During his tenure, his program became one of the area's strongest. He wanted his exit to be quiet, tendering his resignation after the team banquet last spring.

The Hawks also place first during the spring season with a 12-0 record, allowing just four goals.

But his teams made a lot of noise, particularly during the 1990s.

Berg's final numbers are impressive: •134-11-4 dual meet record;

•Seven team dual district championships;

•Four Western Lakes Activities Association crowns;

•Three Observerland Invitational titles;

 Two team regional dual crowns; •One state semifinal berth (1995) followed by another quarterfinal berth (1996);

 Thirty-three state qualifiers and 27 state placers:

 Two state champions (Craig Martin, twice, and Josh Gunterman); •Earned Regional Coach of the Year and Observerland Coach of the Year honors.

"It's a good time to leave," Berg said. Ron Krueger (of Plymouth Salem) said when you leave, 'don't leave the kitchen empty,' and because of the good kids and the good coaches I've had with me at Stevenson, it's far from empty. "I also appreciate the good support I received from Dr. (Dale) Coller (Stevenson's principal) and Roger Frayer (Stevenson's athletic director)." Berg, who has taught both alternative and adult education in the Livonia Public Schools since 1982, plans to retire from teaching in December.

"My wife (Joyce) just retired from the Farmington (Public) Schools after 27', years and I have three grandchildren, it's time to let somebody else do it," Berg said. "I'll still be around to help out, but when the cold weather hits, I just might decide to go south.

Joel Smith, who has been Berg's assistant the past three seasons, will take over the position. (See related story).

Ironically, Berg had little knowledge of the sport when he was asked to take over the program by Frayer.

"I learned as I went through," Berg said. "I always had fine assistants. I went to clinics, read books, looked at tapes."

Joel Smith is no stranger to the wrestling mats.

The new Livonia Stevenson High varsity coach, who is replacing the retiring Don Berg, brings with him wealth of experience even at the young age of 33.

"I really enjoy the sport, and what knowledge I have, I want to give back." Smith said. "Stevenson has had some very successful seasons. There will be a few changes, but the goal is to keep bettering the program.'

Stevenson returns several grapplers, including 103-pound state champion Josh Gunterman and state qualifier Imad Kharbush.

"I think we'll have a more balanced lineup, but we're still rebuilding because we're still really young," Smith said. "And our kids have been doing a good job with the training program the last few years. We're excited about next vear."

One of the changes Smith plans to implement is stage a team dual meet tournament at Stevenson.

"We're going to bring in some really good teams, build on something that we all can be proud of, even if we take a few lumps in our own tournament," Smith said.

Smith is no stranger to success on the wrestling mats.

He was a three-time state prep champion at Detroit Bethesda Christian (now Warren Bethesda).

Smith went on to become a two-time Mid-American Conference champion at Eastern Michigan University. In 1989, Smith placed fifth at 158 pounds in the NCAA Division I tournament.

"I'm just going to try to be a positive. influence whether it's wrestling or life." Smith said.

Bucks plan Scicluna halftime tribute

The Mid-Michigan Bucks, who have set the Premier Development League on its ear, will honor former co-owner Paul Scicluna with a halftime tribute in his final regular season home game, 7:30 p.m. Saturday at White Pine

Scicluna, the Godfather of soccer in western Wayne County and Eastern Michigan women's coach, passed away this past spring in a tragic automobile

Bucks are for real

I was fortunate a few weeks ago to see the Bucks, made up primarily of collegiate players, take on the Tampa Bay Mutiny of the Major League Soccer.

The Mutiny, despite a 2-1 victory, got more than they bargained for before 4,800 fans in Saginaw in a third-round U.S. Cup matchup.

Co-owners Jim and Dan Duggan. Livonia natives, have put together quite a team.

Valderrama, the great Colombian star, appeared to be going through the two-time defending NAIA champion Lindsay Wilson (Ky.).

Djeukeng could start for any team in the MLS right now, but each MLS team allows only four foreigners per roster.

It was a very well played match and the Bucks, who are 18-1 overall and 13-0 in the Great Lakes Division, are well worth the trip to Saginaw to watch.

Modano hits Late, Late Show

Winning the Stanley Cup has its perks, just ask Westland native Mike Modano who brought the famed hardware into the studio of the CBS Late, Late Show, hosted last, month by for-against Buffalo.

He broke his wrist in the third game. "I kind of jammed it into the boards and I figured it was done and that was it," Modang told Kilborn. "The doctors put a cast on it. They numbed it up and the next morning it felt pretty good."

Modano spent his third three years with Minnesota, playing in the 1991 Stanley Cup finals flosing 4-2 to Pittshurgh): before the team moved to Texas.

"We knew we were going somewhereelse after going to the finals and then we're shocked to hear we're only drawing 8,000 (in Minnesota)," Modano told the Late, Late Show host, "We get good support in Dallas, almost every game is a sellout and we'll be m a new arena in

"We felt we had a good enough team to win the last two years," Modano said. "The expectations had been building. Had we not won it a lot of questions had to be'answered.

"It was a great relief to see Brett score and get it over with and get our names on the Cup."

Each player gets the Cup for 24 hours, so it's doubtful that Modano will be bringing it back to Westland (he was in Los Angeles with the Cup that night).

Modane then capped off his appearance by going a perfect four-for-four feeling blind objects (including the Cup) Yambo Four Game-o-Matic:

No word if Modano is scheduled yet for Leno, Letterman, Howie Mandel or even Conan O'Brien.

Summer musings

Clarenceville running back Walter Ragland is headed for Adrian College.

Whatever happened to Chuck Donaldson?

My favorite golfer on the Senior Tour? Bob Murphy.

Hearing more rumors the three Farmington Schools are pulling out of the Western Lakes to join the Oakland Activities Association. We should know more Aug. 3 when the WLAA athletic directors meet. It wouldn't suprise me at all.

Wondering now if the Tigers would have taken Ryan Anderson instead of Matt Anderson?

Ryan Anderson's ERA is 5.10 at Class AA New Haven, but his strikeouts to innings pitched is very impressive. Ryan was throwing 94 MPH-plus in his one-inning stint during the AA All-Star game (seen on ESPN 2).

Why would the Tigers pay all that money to Eric Munson, their first round draft pick? He apparently can't catch and is being converted to a DH-first baseman.

Why not take a guy like Drew Henson and let him play the summer close by in Grand Rapids?

Whatever happened to Brent Washington and Guy Rucker?

Catholic Central's Nick Moore, headed for Toledo, hit double figures in a lopsided loss to the Indiana All-Stars in the Wendy's Classic played at Wright State. The Michigan team, coached by Glen Donahue (ex-Schoolcraft Coach), was beaten soundly in two games, but that's understandable since the state's best three players - Lavell Blanchard, Jason Richardson and Al Anagonye, did not participate.

Aaron Scheffer spent 12 days in the Majors. Ironically, Plymouth Salem product Tom Davey was sent down to the AAA level (by Toronto) the same week as Scheffer (now in Tacoma).

What happened to men's modified softball?

Don't look now, but high school football season practice starts in 15 days.

Knights win Incredible title outright

Meghan Misiak turned out to be the Livonia Knights' in shining armor.

The right-handed pitcher tossed a seveninning, two-hit shutout in the opener as the Knights swep the Canton Cobras, 6-1 and 18-4, to win the National League title in the Incredible Girls Fastpitch Softball League.

Misiak, who also took National League MVP honors, struck out 11 and walked just one in the first game at Livonia Churchill High School.

Christine Fones and Sallie Kuratko paced the offensive attack with two hits apiece. Fones had an RBI triple in the first inning and Kuratko scored a pair of runs.

The Knights then invoked the 10-run mercy rule in the second game with six runs in the second innin and 12 in the third to complete their season at 14-2 overall.

Three Cobra pitchers combined for 15 walks.

Winning pitcher Renae Ritz struck out four, allowed just one hit and did not walk a batter during her three-inning stint.

Kuratko again led the offense, going 3for-3 with three runs scored. Fones, Courtney Cross and Kathleen Schram also scored three runs apiece.

"This is first time we've won the summer league and it's exciting even though the Canton varsity team was not in it this year," Knights manager Dana Hardwidge said: "The kids were pretty dedicated that's the key to a good summer league team."

+CYCLONES 10-6, THUNDER 8-3: The Livonia Cyclones wound up their season in the National League with a 9-6 mark after sweeping a double-header Thursday from the host Plymouth-Thunder at Salem High School.

I FASTPITCH SOFTBALL

Mary King had a three run triple and Lindsay Hollandsworth contributed a two-run triple in the opener for the Cyclones in a 10-8 victory in the opener.

Hollandsworth also had a run-scoring single to finish with three RBI. Kelley Hutchins contributed a two-run single.

The Cyclones put the four-inning game (time limit) away with four runs in the second inning and six in the third.

Winning pitcher Kim White struck out three; walked three and scattered five hits.

The Cyclones secured fifth place in the league by winning the nightcap, 6-3, in five innings.

Hutchins, the winning pitcher, gave up five hits and one walk.

Emily Campbell had a two-run single, while Sara York and Hutchins each added RBI singles.

King, the catcher, was outstanding detensively, throwing out a total of four base stealers in the twinbill.

DIAMONDS 10-9, HORNETS 0-1: If it wasn't incredible, it was a least pretty good.

The North Farmington Diamonds wound up their season Thursday by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the Farmington Hornets, 10-0 and 9-1

Beth Danielewicz pitched a no-hitter in the five-inning mercy first game. She walked just one batter and struck out seven.

Danielewicz is an incoming freshman at North Farmington.

Kristina Colombo pitched a two hitter to win the second game, striking out nine. The Diamonds ended the season with a 10-6 record good for fourth place in the National Division.

The Livonia Knights finished first, with the Plymouth Lightning second and the Franklin Lasers third.

Finishing behind the Diamonds, in fifth and six place, were the Livenia Cyclones and Lancers, The Homets finished seventh with a 5-11 record.

Meanwhile, the Livonia White Sox won the American Division of the Incredible Girls Faspitch Softball League, beating out the Farmington Hills Mustangs.

The losing pitcher in the first game of the Diamonds Hornots doubleheader was Jennelle, Welling.

Kristen Schrock pitched the second game and took the loss despite striking out nine.

Jackie Smylle and Welling caught both games for the Hornets, who got good games from Ellen Doughty and second base and Abbey Cleland at shortstop.

Colombo went 2 for 3 in the opener, scoring two runs and driving in one. Samantha McComb had a sacrifice fly.

The Diamonds capitalized on 12 walks and four hit batters in the mercy shortened first game.

They scored six runs in the third, with McComb's sacrifice fly and Colombo's RBI hit keying the inning.

Stacey Russell went 2-for-3 In the second game, scoring a run, while McComb scored twice and went 1-for-2. Danielewicz went 2-for-2 with a run scored.

The Diamonds scored two runs in the first. inning and wrapped it up with six in the third. McComb had her hit in the third while Russell. connected for one of hers in the frame.

Walks kept the rally going for the winning team.

"He's very organized and put a lot of years and a lot of dedication into it. We weren't very good at the beginning, but we worked our way up and Don was the captain of the ship, the guy who held us together."

Berg let his assistants get heavily involved in practices, demonstrating wrestling moves and technique.

And when the Stevenson coaches walked into a gym, they were always easily identified by their matching blue coaching shirts. "He treated all of us (the assistants) with dignity and respect, we all worked well together," Moreau said. "He treated us like us own sons. And he treated the kids the same way.

However, he did not return to defend his title.

McEnroe caused a bit of a stir last year after he threw his racquet and yelled at the crowd when his infamous temper took over during a quarterfinal match.

Word around BOH circles said it was pretty much a mutual understanding that he did notwant to return and BOH officials; really did not want him back.

Bahrami could not play the pro tour in his younger days because of the volatile political situation in his native Iran when overseas travel was restrained. He eventually made it to France - where he now calls home - and competed in the 1989 French Open. He finished ranked among the top 50 doubles players in 1987, '88 and '89.

The 43-year-old Iranian joined the Worldwide Senior Tennis Circuit in 1994 - two years after its inception - and immediately gained a reputation as a court jester.

He entertains with an engaging, energetic style that includes a number of behind-the-back and between-the-leg trick shots. Combined with an appealing personality that often finds him interacting with the crowd, it's easy to understand why Bahrami is a fan favorite.

While a charming and humorous court presence is his manner, he is quick to point out there is quite a serious side to his often overlooked ability.

Bahrami is currently the Worldwide Senior Tennis Circuit's fourth-leading point scorer after the first seven events. He won the singles title at the Delta Airlines ATP Senior Tour of Champions earlier this year in Doha, Qatar, and was a doubles finalist with Kriek at the BTI Championships in Raleigh, N.C.

"I have plenty of disguises. I won the first tournament of the year and I'm number four on the tour," said Bahrami, who learned to play tennis while working as a ballboy at a Tehran Tennis Club.

"So don't get me wrong. Don't think I am a clown. No, I am not a clown. I am a tennis player who is playing different tennis than the other guys.

"I play the game I always play. It is no antic," he said. "That's the way I play. And that's what I enjoy.

While he insists his comedic style is no act, Bahrami realizes his brand of entertainment is a valuable commodity on the circuit:

"People like the way I play because it's different," "said Bahrami. "I like to play and keep

Dimitriou restocks Ocelots' roster

BY C.J. RISAK SPORTS WRITES cirizak@ge.homecomm.net

In the last two years, Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team has put 86 wins up on the board.

What has eluded the Ocelots is an NJCAA title, something they were hoping to get a shot at last year.

Those hopes remain for the upcoming season, as buoyant as ever. But to realize them, coach Van Dimitriou is going to have to depend heavily on a completely rebuilt roster.

"In essense," Dimitriou said, "we're counting on our incoming class."

Only two players from last season's 18-4 squad will return for certain: Dave Lotarski and Livonia Churchill graduate Mike Slack. Others, like keeper Eric Anderson, midfielder Naum Popoysky and stopper Joel Wizinsky, are attending summer classes in an attempt to qualify academically.

But Dimitriou, who has coached at SC for more than 20 years, knows better than to count on such things. He has therefore recruited heavily at every position, with plans to not just continue the team's success of the last couple years - but to take it to an even higher level.

Dimitriou has raided the local talentladen schools more heavily than ever in an effort to rebuild his squad. With Anderson's future in doubt. Dimitriou went after a pair of keepers who shared the same field, although they played for different teams: Plymouth Canton's Doug Koontz and Plymouth Salem's Jeremy Finley.

Both were strong in their senior seasons of high school, with Koontz earning all-Observer first-team honors after helping the Chiefs reach the Division I state semifinals. An all-Western Lakes Activities Association all-Division pick, Koontz ---who was honorable mention all-state --averaged 1.43 goals against while collecting six shutouts.

"Personally, I think our biggest question mark was in goal," Dimitriou said. "That's why we recruited two of them."

On defense, there are plenty of top-caliber telents to help make either Finley's or Koontz's job easier. Start with Paul Ansara, who played last fall on Novi's state championship team. "He's a very good marking back," said Dimitriou.

Then there's a couple of others from Canton: Mike Bennett, who can play sweeper or stopper and was good enough to be recruited by Eastern Michigan, and Rob Barnes, whom Dimitriou called "our most versatile kid. He's definitely a starter."

For Barnes (who was all-Division and second team all-Observer), the question is where - forward, midfield or defense. Dimitriou isn't adverse in using Barnes at any of those positions, even in the same game. However, at present he sees Barnes at forward.

Perhaps that's because of the depth of incoming defensive talent.

Another defender expected to have an immediate impact is Plymouth native Kevin Graff, a Redford Catholic Central graduate. "He's very likely a starter," Dimitriou projected of the former CC captain. Again. Graff is versatile: at CC, he started the season on defense, then moved to midfield to help the Shamrocks control play more. He finished with four goals and five assists, and was a third-team all-state selection. At 6-foot-3, he should help playing balls in the air.

There's also Aaron MacDonald, a Salem grad who was second team all-state, first team all-WLAA and first team all-Observer. MacDonald's marking ability was so profound he was named the Rocks' most valuable player. Indeed, his coach at Salem, Ed McCarthy, called MacDonald "by far the best player on our team," adding that "I'd rate him as the premier. marking back in the state."

The final defensive recruit is Tom Stark, another player with size (6-2) and solid bloodlines - he's from Brighton, which tackled Novi in the Division I state final. He was also instrumental in the Bulldogs' elimination of Canton in the state semifinals.

At midfield, Dimitriou has more talent, starting with Gary Bell, an Irish immigrant whose brother Charlie is a midfield standout at Madonna University. And there's Dan Wielechowski, from Salem: second team all-Observer and all-division. a player Dimitriou called "very heady."

Northville graduate Nick Skotanis has size (6-1) and could develop, either at stopper or midfield.

Versatility, again, is not a problem. Sergio Mainella, a second team all-stater from Livonia Stevenson and a first team all-WLAA and all-Observer selection, is currently pencilled in at forward with Barnes and Mike Jones, a Fenton grad who scored 24 goals as a senior.

But Mainella played midfield for the Spartans, serving as a team co-captain. He scored seven goals and assisted on 16 others as a senior, with Stevenson coach Lars Richters calling him the team's "engine. and a great leader by example."

Still, Dimitriou thinks Mainella possesses "more moves than anyone on the team right now. And he's very strong."

Dimitriou compared Jones to "Phil Esposito," a nockey Hall of Famer who always managed to find the net by positioning himself in front of it — and staying there. "(Jones) puts the ball in the net with either leg," the SC coach noted.

Size and strength won't be lacking at forward, for certain, Jeff Azumah, from Taylor Truman, is 6-2 and 200 pounds, and Dimitriou believes he has "enough raw talent that by the end of the season he could be a big help." Then there's Kevin Brown, another Brighton grad, and George Donnelly, from Royal Oak Kimball.

Dimitriou thought the same thing about both: "Once they pick up your program," they'll help."

All things considered, the 16 new recruits have enough raw ability to carry SC back to the "Big Dance" in November. Problem is, there are so many of them: There's a lack of experience at the collegiate level.

"It's mostly new people, but they are quality people," said Dimitriou. "It will take time to get it together."

Which means the length of their upcoming season will depend greatly on "how quickly they jell."

METRO SUMMERY HOCKEY LEAGUE

Even with an unbalanced regular-season schedule, there was. no doubt this game meant a lot in the Metro Summer Hockey League.

And the Bulldogs made certain they reaped the biggest benefit.

The 'Dogs wrapped up first place, and they did it in commanding fashion Wednesday night. After spotting the Huskies an early lead in a game that could decide the MSHL regularseason championship, the Bulldogs put 10-straight goals on the board — five of them by Kevin Swider (from Livonia) - and rolled to a 14-4 triumph at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

Because there are only seven teams this season in the MSHL. league commissioner Keith Pietila was forced to go to a schedule in which the Huskies played 12 regular-season games and the rest of the league played 11.

The schedule balances out in the first round of the playoffs, which all the teams qualify for. The Huskies don't play in the first round, getting an automatic bye.

Pietila had considered giving the top team the bye, but such a thing would be difficult to plan around — particularly with one team playing an extra regularseason game.

Going into Wednesday's game. the 'Dogs were 7-2-1 (15 points). while the Huskies were 7-3 (14). The win means the Bulldogs finish the regular season with 17 points; the Huskies, who finish their 12-game regular season today against the Lakers, can accumulate no more than 16. The best any other team can do is 12 points.

The game had additional incentive, especially for the Bulldogs. One of their two losses had been to the Huskies, by a 5-3 margin on July 7.

Swider alone provided more offense than the Huskies could handle. After John Pietila had given the Huskies a 1-0 lead 4:29 into the game, the 'Dogs scored seven times before the end of the period. Swider was a major problem for the Huskies; at one point he scored four-straight goals in a 6:08 span. He finished with six goals.

Adam Krug (Livonia) and Troy Milam contributed two goals and one assist apiece, while Jason Basile (West Bloomfield) had a goal and four assists. Corey Swider (Livonia) had two goals and Eric Bratcher had a goal and an assist.

Ted Martens and Phil Osaer (Livonia) divided time in goal for the Bulldogs.

Dwight Helminen had a hand in all four of the Huskie goals, scoring one and assisting on the three others. John Pietila and Phil Pietila added a goal and an assist each, with Jayme Joncas also scoring a goal.

Art Baker was in goal for the Huskies.

OUTDOORS & BOWLING

My bear memories revisted

Reading Tim Nowicki's Nature Notes column about black bears in Observer the last week brought to mind an experience I once had with bears.

It's an old story that occurred 20 years ago this month but one I recall fondly and remember well.

Just a half year out of college, I was working as the sports editor of The Pioneer, a small daily newspaper in Big Rapids, which is about an hour north of Grand Rapids.

On a hot, July morning, I was at my desk when photographer Chris Mikula walked into the newsroom and asked if I wanted to go along that afternoon to investigate a report of bear sightings.

After lunch, we drove a half hour north to Reed City and west to a little town called Chase in Lake County.

When we arrived at Don Palmer's summer cottage, I had an idea what it was like to be a pioneer. A single home stood in a clearing in the middle of thick woods and dense underbrush.

And there, staying a safe distance from a handful of humans, were two little cubs, just hanging around. Actually, there were three of them, but one hadn't been seen for a while.

Department of Natural Resources field biologist Fred Ignatoski estimated the age of the bears to be five to six months, their weight 15 to 20 pounds and their height 1ⁱ, to two feet.

The bears had been seen in the area for several days, and the obvious question was 'Where's mama bear?'

That was a real concern at

So the cubs were on their own, and this was the spot they picked. No doubt they were encouraged by the food handouts they'd been receiving.

"They were nosing around like they were hungry - and they were! They were starved to death," Palmer said. "I put some bread and milk out there and, boy, they got into that."

Each of us took turns offering goodies to the bears, and it was an unforgettable experience to have a wild animal eat from my hand. Though it was only a cub, it was still a bear.

One of the bears, the smaller of the two, was more willing to leave his safe haven near a tree and venture toward us. The smell of grape jelly smeared over bread was too irresistible.

The cub approached cautiously on all fours and rose to its back legs as it neared me.

Even as I knelt down, holding out my right hand with the food, the tiny bear stood barely half as tall as mé.

The bear used the soft pads of its paws to lightly grip my wrist and brace itself. I was impressed by the length and apparent sharpness of its claws as they extended above my arm.

It seemed even a little bear like this could do damage if it had the mind to do so.

But the cub was very focused on its meal and ate voraciously. The bread was gone in no time as the bear's tongue moved at a feverish pace.

It licked each of my fingers, had a quick look to see if there was more and, content there was not, was down on all fours again and heading back to the security of the nearby tree.

I remember how coarse its tongue was. It had a sandpaper quality to it, like that of a cat only magnified several times. Afterward, I thought 'Now I know how bears are able to lick

Even the smaller, less inhibit-.ed bear hadn't completely lost its fear of man, however. Without the offer of food, there was no way of getting close to the bears.

After giving it a handout, another person attempted to patthe bear on the head, but the bear reacted defensively, scurrying away and making a growling sound that, frankly, was impressive for such a little creature.

The DNR was aware of the situation but planned to let the bears stay where they were a while longer to see if the mother or third cub returned.

"If it wasn't for the third one and giving it a chance to come back, we'd take them out now, because it's so very, very unusual for her to leave them," the DNR's Ignatoski said. "We'll wait three or four days to see if the sow shows up, though. That would be the best solution for the problem.

"If not we'll have to capture them, because they're not old enough to take care of themselves. If the sow was around. they wouldn't be anywhere near here.

"They'll probably end up in a zoo, because if you have to hand feed them, you can't send them back into the wild."

We hear a lot nowadays about suburban sprawl encroaching on the natural habitat of wild animals, and wild animals learning to adapt to living in close proximity to man.

Now, bears doing that seems extreme, but I found it interesting that Nowicki wrote about a black bear who wandered into the Clarkston city limits.

Twenty years ago when I wrote my bear story, such a sighting was rare even in the west, central part of Michigan.

It was thought to be the first in a quarter century for an area us suburban residents would consider remote.

Osprey prove they can hack it at Kensington

Osprey, sometimes called a fish hawk, are impressive birds of prey.

Before ice starts to form on the lakes the young osprey will start their migration south. They will probably end up in . South America. They will stay there for about three years.

Mature males will return to the area in which they were raised - Kensington Metropark, if all goes according to plan.---Many times it does.

Birds banded throughout the years by researchers have demonstrated time their advantage. By exposing birds at and again, that birds typically return to ____an early age to an area where they are the area in which they were raised.

This is accomplished through a process which behaviorists call imprinting. Young birds become "attached" to the first thing they see when they hatch from their egg. Typically its one of their adults.

Bonds that develop like this are very beneficial to the young and the adult. Inexperienced young learn from their adults and young stay with the adults for protection.

This behavioral phenomenon was recognized and popularized by Konrad

Lorenz. Wildlife biologists have taken this basic behavioral practice and used it to to be introduced, scientists learned that this technique will cause them to return new area in order to establish two or in the future.

Evidence is sketchy as to whether osprev were nesting in southeastern. Michigan before settlers arrived, but based on their range and choice of habitats, it seems very likely that they were native to our area.

The discovery of imprinting, and lots of trial and error, has enabled researchers to bring back species that were extirpated.

Peregrine falcons, California condors, Goper's havek and others have all here successfully reintroduced to once nativeareas using the hacking/imprinting technique:

researchers to introduce a species into a Michigan in about three yea

more populations

Establishing new populations in new areas is beneficial in the event disease or disaster strikes the only established group Among some species they could be the only existing individuals.

Bringing back native species to an area is valuable to the natural systems.

Native species coexisting with other native species have been able to maintain their relationships for a long time Introduction of alum species often disrupts relationships between species causing problems."

Blind bowler Craft put name in books with 300
