Dear Friends,

It's an exciting time as we prepare to close another academic year here on Caney Creek. Our graduating seniors will either be seeking advanced degrees or joining the work force for which they are well prepared. Thank you for your part in helping them reach this milestone in their lives.

This year, we celebrate the 30th anniversary of The June Buchanan School. It was in 1984 that President Jerry C. Davis saw the need for a K-12 preparatory school to serve the local community and the children of faculty and staff members. Over the years, hundreds of students have passed through the doors and gone on to live lives of service, becoming doctors, lawyers, teachers, politicians and servant leaders in their communities (read more on page 3).

The desire to become willing servants for their communities is just one of the many quality traits we instill in our students as they travel the Purpose Road. This dedication is illustrated through the lives of two of our alumni, Dr. Clyde Thornsberry and Kari Thornsberry. They have taken alternate routes on their way to achieving success, but both attribute their success to the education they received at Alice Lloyd College (read more on pages 2 and 34). Current ALC and JBS students Ashley Daily and Channing Everidge are still walking the Purpose Road, but have already realized the importance of education, both inside and outside of the classrooms (read more about their journeys on pages 1 and 3).

Our purpose, as well as that of our students, could not be carried out without the continued support of people such as yourself. For that reason, we've dedicated this issue of Pippa's Song to you. As you read through the 2013 Annual Report, you'll realize that there are many others who share your passion for Alice Lloyd College. Again, thank you so much for all that you do for our Appalachian students.

God Bless,

Joe A. Stepp
President

Alice Lloyd Junior to Study at Oxford

by Adele Williams

Alice Lloyd College is proud to announce that junior Ashley Daily has been awarded a scholarship from the English-Speaking Union, Kentucky Branch to travel abroad and spend a summer term studying History, Politics, & Society at Oxford University.

The scholarship, part of the English-Speaking Union's British University Summer School Fellowships Program, provides high school teachers and qualified Kentucky college students with the opportunity to further their education through summer study at various prestigious learning facilities in Britain, including Oxford University, Shakespeare's Globe Theatre, Cambridge University, and the University of Edinburgh.

"This is a huge honor and a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity," said Megan Burnett, Alice Lloyd's Study Abroad Coordinator. "We are so proud of Ashley for winning this highly competitive scholarship."

Ashley, daughter of Troy and Amy Daily, resides in Hiltons, Virginia, and is a double major in History/Pre-Law and Sociology. Daily met all of the requirements for the scholarship and after being interviewed, was selected as one of only four Kentucky students to receive the scholarship.

The scholarship includes tuition, lodging, and two meals per day for the three-week courses at the institution. In addition to this, the scholarship includes one week's lodging in London and a cash allowance to cover costs of travel and any other expenses.

"The committee was very impressed with the high level of competition this year," said Emil S. Jeffers, the Kentucky Branch Scholarship Coordinator. "Clearly, any student selected to represent their college at this level of competition has a successful career path ahead of them."

During candidate interviews, the Kentucky Branch's Scholarship Committee looked for students they believed would have experiences during this summer program that promised to be especially "life changing." The Committee's primary intention was to find students who could become lifelong ambassadors for British/American cultural exchanges and who might also return to Kentucky for a career. By selecting Daily, the committee felt that she exhibited a high degree of professionalism and an outstanding academic and personal record, which placed her in the top 10% of her academic field of study at Alice Lloyd College.

"I'm very excited about this rare opportunity," said Daily, currently interning at the state capitol in Frankfort, Kentucky. "I never imagined I would get to participate in such a program. Oxford is, of course, such a prestigious university, and I am honored that the English-Speaking Union chose me as one of the participants."

Daily's future plans involve furthering her education in law school. She also wants to eventually enter the world of politics.

ALC Alumnus is World Renowned Scientist

Dr. Clyde Thornsberry is a proud alumnus of Alice Lloyd College who was born and raised on Caney Creek. His parents, Lummie and Ollie Thornsberry, chose to live in Pippa Passes so that Clyde and his siblings could have an education provided by Alice Lloyd. Clyde studied under Mrs. Lloyd at the Caney Elementary School and later at Caney Junior College, which would eventually become Alice Lloyd College. Dr. Thornsberry remembers his time at the College fondly and says, "The influence that the school has had on my life is immeasurable." He continued, "The quality of the professors and the curriculum were excellent, but the education went far beyond the '3 R's.'" Although his major interest was science, he is forever grateful that he was introduced to the humanities, particularly literature, before becoming totally immersed in the sciences. He says, "How else would I have known about, let alone see, Gilbert and Sullivan operettas?"

Dr. Thornsberry married a true mountain girl, Glenda Martin, whose family had ties with Alice Lloyd. They have three children, Teresa, David and Robert, which he proudly refers to as his biggest success, eight grandchildren, and at present, two great-grandchildren.

He began his high school career at the very young age of 10, and began college four years later. He graduated from Caney Junior College once in 1947 and again in 1952. After serving in the military during the Korean War, he decided to continue his education at the University of Kentucky where he received his Doctorate in Microbiology.

Dr. Thornsberry's professional career began at the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia. While working at the CDC, he gained a national and international reputation as a scientist and an expert in several fields including, but not limited to, microbiology and infectious diseases. He authored and coauthored hundreds of peer-reviewed scientific articles, books, and chapters on these subjects as well as various others. His laboratory at CDC was selected to be a World Health Organization (WHO) laboratory, which is a huge achievement.

In 1989, Dr. Thornsberry left the CDC but continued his work in the industry. He and Glenda moved to Franklin, Tennessee, where he held an appointment at Vanderbilt University School of Medicine. In 2012, he and Glenda moved back to Georgia (Macon) to be closer to family. He continues to work, but at a lesser pace, focusing more time on his family and enjoying the life that he has built.

Dr. Thornsberry was, and is, active in his profession and has reached countless achievements. He has been an active member of the American Society for Microbiology for more than 50 years and has served in many capacities for the ASM. He was Chairman of The Interscience Conference on Antimicrobial Agents and Chemotherapy, the most prominent infectious disease meeting in the world. He is also a longtime member of The American Academy of Microbiology, The Infectious Disease Society of America and its European counterpart, and the New York Academy of Sciences. He was instrumental in the development of the Clinical Laboratory Science Institute and has worked with them for more than 50 years to develop standard laboratory methods that are used worldwide. He remains active in editing and reviewing articles submitted for publication in scientific journals to determine their scientific accuracy and continues to lecture on these subjects, not only in America, but worldwide.

Dr. Thornsberry has received numerous awards for his work and service. Among them are the Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant for his service in the Korean War, the Public Health Service Superior Service Award (which is the highest award given by the PHS to a non-military individual), the Public Health Service Award (presented to him and his laboratory personnel), major awards from the American Society for Microbiology, has been named a "most cited author," is a member in Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in Medicine, and Who's Who in Science and Engineering. Dr. Thornsberry is also a proud Kentucky Colonel and a Tennessee Squire.

While Dr. Thornsberry's amazing medical achievements might make him seem unapproachable, one will find that he is very down to earth. When asked about his memory of Mrs. Lloyd, Dr. Thornsberry warmly refers to her as an "incredible lady" who always had something to say. He advises current students, commenting, "It's easy to give advice, but hard to take it," but says to "work hard and enjoy what you are doing."

ALC is proud of Dr. Thornsberry and all of the terrific accomplishments he has reached! While he has retired, we know that there is much to come from him in the future. Dr. Thornsberry is an example of how far an education and hard work will take you.

JBS Celebrates Thirty Years

By Tawny Aguayo

Born in 1887 in Moravia, New York, Dr. June Buchanan, affectionately known as “Miss June” to those who knew her, was brought up to recognize the importance of education and religion. She graduated from Syracuse University in 1913 and attended graduate school at Wellesley College. It was there that she first learned of Caney Creek from her classmates who had built a recreation hall for the Caney community and became adamant to visit. “I just couldn’t resist Alice Lloyd’s burning vision,” Miss June said of her visit in Miracle on Caney Creek. “But when I saw it with my own eyes, I knew I had to stay.” Miss June did, indeed, stay and contributed 68 years of service to Alice Lloyd College until her death in 1988. For this, Miss June has been recognized in many ways, the most prominent being The June Buchanan School.

The June Buchanan School was founded by then ALC President Jerry Davis in 1984 to serve local children in grades kindergarten through twelve who had a desire for smaller classrooms and personalized education. Over the course of The June Buchanan School’s thirty years in operation, students from all walks of life have passed through its halls, forever impacted by the values and traditions left behind by Alice Lloyd and Miss June. The June Buchanan School boasts over 300 graduates who have gone on to serve their communities by becoming educators, lawyers, doctors, nurses, politicians, and leaders in the professions they have chosen.

“We are honored to be celebrating our thirtieth year of providing education to our community,” says Amanda Clark, Dean of The June Buchanan School. “Our students are able to receive a high quality education that prepares them for their future endeavors.”

Without a doubt, Miss June is watching over The June Buchanan School with pride as the school continues to uphold the standards she set years ago. Producing graduates with a drive to learn, to serve their mountain communities, and to praise God above all else, The June Buchanan School has proven to be a driving force in the mountains and lives up to one of Miss June’s favorite poems and teachings by Edwin Markham:

*There is a power that makes us brothers,
no one goes his way alone.
All that we send into the world,
comes back into our own.*

JBS Senior Accepted to William & Mary

by Adele Williams

The June Buchanan School is proud to announce that one of its graduating seniors, Channing Everidge, has been accepted to William & Mary, one of only eight schools in the nation designated a “Public Ivy” institution. A Public Ivy offers a superior education at a cost far below that of Ivy League schools. Everidge is the daughter of Angie and Steve Spady of Leburn, Kentucky, and Jeff and Kathy Everidge of Ary, Kentucky.

Everidge has attended The June Buchanan School since her first grade year and has flourished both academically and artistically. She recently signed a multi-book deal with Lifeway Christian Publishing, becoming the youngest illustrator to have worked with this publishing company in over twenty years. Additionally, Everidge has participated in the Kentucky Governor’s Scholars Program, Hugh O’Brian Youth (HOBY), is a Rogers Scholar, and has received many artistic awards. Although she has yet to decide upon a major, she is very excited about this terrific accomplishment and knows that her perseverance and the work ethic she learned at JBS will lead her to success.

“I am unbelievably honored to be accepted by such an esteemed institution,” said Everidge. “I know that it wouldn’t be possible without the preparation that The June Buchanan School has provided me.”

The second oldest college in the nation, located in Williamsburg, Virginia, boasts a proud history and lays claim to having some of the best and brightest students in the nation. “Our students are not only some of the smartest in the world, but passionate about serving others and serious about having fun,” states the William & Mary website. Since students at JBS learn the importance of serving others and giving back to their community at a very young age, Everidge will be a good fit at the College and will undoubtedly make an easy transition to campus life.

Amanda Clark, Dean of The June Buchanan School, says, “I am so excited for Channing on being accepted to William & Mary! Channing is only one example of how far hard work and dedication can take you. She stands out as not only a student and artist, but also as an athlete, proving to be a well-rounded individual and exemplifies a true scholar. I’m proud of her and wish her the best in her future.”

The Charitable Gift Annuity

Secure your future and help students in Appalachia at the same time.

How Is Your Retirement Fund Doing?

I imagine that you, like the rest of us, are feeling the effects of a slow economy! Interest rates are at an all-time low – .5% or less; CDs are not paying enough to go to the trouble of investing; the bottom has dropped out of the bond market; and although the stock market is doing much better, we all know the volatility of investing in stock – especially when you are depending on income during your retirement years.

Have You Considered A Charitable Gift Annuity?

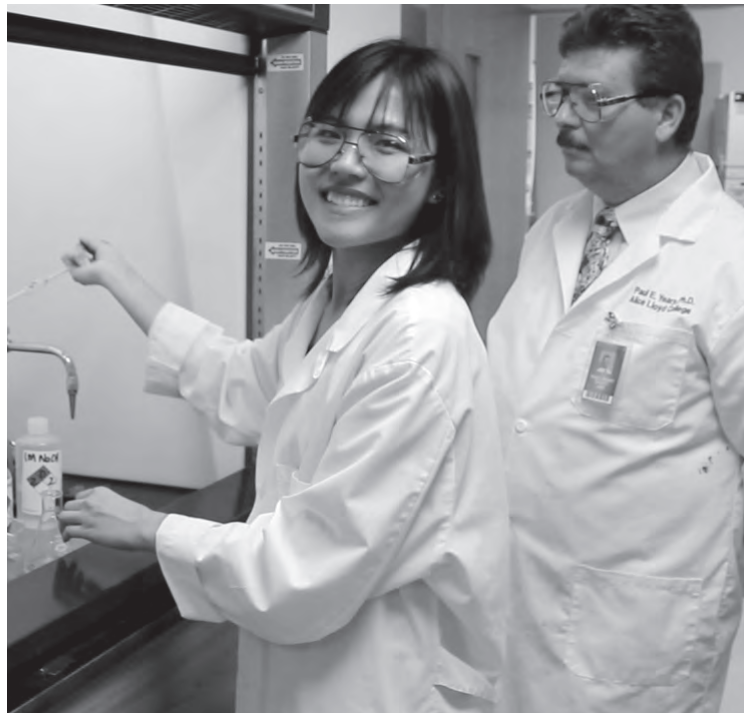

If you are sitting on some money that you use mainly for investing and producing income or you are holding onto stock that has appreciated and you prefer not to cash it in and pay capital gains tax, there is a great giving opportunity that can provide you with several tax advantages and, at the same time, help secure the future of Appalachian students attending Alice Lloyd College: The Charitable Gift Annuity, which actually pays YOU income for YOUR LIFETIME!

How Does A Charitable Gift Annuity Work?

In return for a transfer of cash, marketable securities or other assets, you will be paid a fixed amount of money for your lifetime (or you and another person, if you choose a joint annuity). After you are gone, the remaining funds will become a “gift” of bequest to Alice Lloyd College. This is a wonderful opportunity to provide that “Planned Gift” that you have wanted to do, without the risk of giving up income you depend on for your retirement years.

How Do You Get Started?

Contact us for a formal, no-obligation proposal; look it over, and decide when you want to go forward. You can transfer as little as $1,000 or as much as you wish – rates and payment amounts will be determined based on the projected income and your age (life expectancy) – much like insurance. The funds will be held in a reserve account to guarantee life income payments to the annuitant(s). This is one of the easiest planned giving tools in existence, and no lawyer or financial advisor is necessary unless you desire such advice. The best part is that Appalachian students who attend Alice Lloyd College and work for their education will reap the benefits of your generosity.

Kari Thornsberry

By: M.B. Miller

Alice Lloyd College alumna Kari Thornsberry is living proof that one can still achieve their hopes and dreams despite facing great adversity. While a student at Alice Lloyd, Thornsberry lost her way, but through determination and hard work, she picked herself up and set her mind on a firm purpose for her life, graduating in 2006 with a bachelor's degree in English. Today, she has become the owner of one of Hindman, Kentucky's best and most popular places to eat, the Holly Hills Restaurant.

The road to success has not been an easy one for Thornsberry. During her sophomore year at ALC, she had to endure the losses of many family members, and then, tragically, her boyfriend of seven years was killed. Her heart was shattered, and finding herself unable to deal with her grief, Thornsberry ended up in a total tailspin. She stopped going to classes and all but disappeared from view.

"I didn't withdraw from school," she explained. "I just stopped going. This led to some issues when I wanted to return in the fall of 2003. But I was so determined to reinvent myself that I went before the academic board and begged them to let me back in!"

They did, of course, and Thornsberry took full advantage of the opportunity. It felt like a new beginning, a great light of hope in a time that was filled with so much darkness.

"I worked hard and gave 110%," said Thornsberry. "I made the Dean's List, and after resuming my job in the President's Office, I eventually became a work head in the Student Work Program."

She also gained a new focus and passion. Prior to her break from ALC, Thornsberry had majored in biology, intent on becoming a pharmacist. However, after having gone through so many difficult circumstances, she realized that this was not the right path for her. Thornsberry switched her major to English, which proved to be everything she needed at that point in her life.

"It became a therapy for me," she said. "I could express how I felt through writing papers."

Despite her ongoing emotional struggles and hefty student responsibilities, Thornsberry maintained a full-time job off-campus at the Holly Hills Restaurant. Not yet the owner, Thornsberry worked in the restaurant's always-busy kitchen and dining room. Her hard work and perseverance paid off, earning her various management positions before she was 20.

"I enjoyed it," Thornsberry said. "I held down that job while still managing to graduate from Alice Lloyd. It took me six years to get my degree, but I got it."

Afterwards, Thornsberry worked a few odd jobs, but she always kept her eye on the little restaurant in the Holly Hills Shopping Center that had helped to get her through such tough times.

"I told myself I'd own that place before I turned 30," she said, "and I got it for my 29th birthday."

Today, Thornsberry continues to run the restaurant with great success. In the suddenly shifting economic climate in eastern Kentucky, she has avoided many of the pitfalls to which other local business owners have fallen victim. She counts herself as part of the wave of young entrepreneurs who are beginning to shape the future of the region.

"I have always loved to cook and interact with the public," said Thornsberry. "I always knew, in the back of my mind, that I would one day be where I am today."

She isn't stopping there, though. Thornsberry has big plans for her business, which include an expanded catering service. Considering the obstacles she has overcome, there is no doubt that she will be at the helm, guiding this tiny but much beloved restaurant to even bigger and better things.

New Members Named to ALC Alumni Board of Directors

We are pleased to announce that the following four alumni have accepted appointments to serve as members of the College's Alumni Board of Directors. Their terms officially began on January 1, 2014.

Gary I. Conley (Class of 1968) is a semi-retired attorney who worked many years as Executive Vice President and General Counsel of Kentucky River Coal Corporation and Kentucky River Properties, LLC. He remains on the Board of Directors of these companies, which have for years supported Alice Lloyd College financially. Gary is originally from Hindman and now lives on his farm in Bath County, Kentucky.

Chuck Stamper (Class of 1991) of Paintsville, Kentucky, has worked with the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service since 1991, and currently serves as the State Extension Program Leader for Community and Economic Development & Fine Arts, and coordinates Extension Education. He has completed course work for his Ph.D. in Family Science and will finish his dissertation this fall. Chuck has served as president of both the ALC Alumni Association and the Floyd County Alumni Chapter.

Kari Thornsberry (Class of 2006) of Hindman, Kentucky, owns and operates Holly Hills Restaurant & Catering. A life-long resident of Knott County, Kari is passionate about animal rescue and donates a great amount of time and resources to helping and raising awareness of that cause.

Brittney Adams (Class of 2010) of Whitesburg, Kentucky, currently works as a family resource coordinator in the Letcher County School System. While a student at ALC, Brittney was involved with several campus activities including cheerleading, Baptist Student Union, and the yearbook staff. She also served in leadership positions such as SGA President and Head Resident Advisor.

Completing their second consecutive term as members of the Alumni Board of Directors in December 2013 were Mr. Andi Hajdini of Wichita, Kansas; Dr. Shane McDougal of Blackey, Kentucky; Mr. George Parsons of Frankfort, Kentucky; and Mr. Leo Watts of Allen, Kentucky. Alice Lloyd College is grateful for the time and service each of these distinguished gentlemen gave to assist the College and further the efforts of the Alumni Association. Amy Tufts (Class of 2003), of Melvin, Kentucky, completed her first term on the Alumni Board in December, and has graciously agreed to serve a second term.

A New Look at Life Insurance – The Alice Lloyd College Fellows Program

Several years ago, ALC founded its Fellows Program – a planned giving program for alumni and friends who choose to make a future gift to ALC through life insurance. Quite often our supporters express a desire to make a significant gift to ALC, but with families, mortgages, and other demands for income, creating a planned gift is difficult to imagine, much less actually do.

Did you know that life insurance provides a low-cost investment with a great payout in the future? And, life insurance can be distributed to a charitable organization such as Alice Lloyd College. If you purchase a $25,000 whole-life policy in Alice Lloyd College's name (ALC is the owner and beneficiary), your annual premiums become tax deductible, and premiums never increase. This program also provides a way to contribute to the College on a systematic basis, since, each year, you will receive credit for a contribution in the amount of your premiums paid. The insurance becomes a planned gift, providing a minimum gift of bequest of $25,000, at your death.

If you are interested, please clip this card, complete it, and send it to the attention of Margo Sparkman, Director of Development. An insurance professional will contact you to explain the program in further detail. We look forward to celebrating your membership in our Fellows Program!

Yes, I am interested in becoming a Fellow of Alice Lloyd College!
