PLANT OF THE YEAR

We are delighted to announce we were awarded PLANT OF THE YEAR at the Chelsea Flower Show 2015. The winning plant is Viburnum plicatum 'Kilimanjaro Sunrise'. It is a striking structural shrub which has 4 chapters of added interest through the year

- Clusters of soft white changing to pale pink lacecap flowers cover the plant from top to bottom in Spring
- Masses of deep red berries in Summer turning glossy black as they ripen.
- Once the berries have gone in late Summer there follows a second light flowering.
- In Autumn the foliage attains its splendid red to purple shades

Viburnum plicatum 'Kilimanjaro Sunrise'

Throughout these four chapters the plant has an excellent upright habit allowing it to be easily trimmed lightly into a pyramid with horizontal layers like a wedding cake. Perfect for small spaces as the pyramid shape takes flower up vertically without robbing the light and attains app 2.5 m in height by app 1.5 m width after 10 years.

Suits sun or light shade, most soil types ph 5.6 to 7.5 and hardy to minus 18 degrees C.

Jan Willem Wezelenburg Hazerswoude discovered this as a seedling amongst the crop of the recently introduced parent V plicatum Kilimanjaro. PBR protected.

WELCOME TO BURNCOOSE NURSERIES

Dear Customer

2015 has been another outstandingly successful record year. For the first time ever order numbers in April and May were higher than those in March which is traditionally our best single month. We operate in a business sphere where so much can go wrong. Unusually the weather was firmly on our side last year with a mild winter and a warm spring capped by an unexpected election result boost in early May.

The highlight of the year was not so much the welcome return of a Gold Medal at Chelsea but the totally unexpected award of RHS Plant of the Year 2015 for Viburnum plicatum 'Kilimanjaro Sunrise'. Sales of this exceptional garden plant have already been massive and we are fortunate to be the preferred UK mail order supplier by the European breeder. Nevertheless the plant may well still be in short supply in 2016 so please order early.

The growth in our internet sales, which now account for over 80% of our mail order turnover reflect, I believe, a fundamental shift in customer behaviour. We live in an era where everything, however rare or obscure, is readily obtainable by mail order in less than five clicks. It has taken some time for our older and more traditional (ie computer averse) mail order customers to catch on to the reality that plant nurseries with good websites have a huge and inbuilt advantage over garden centres. Twenty years ago traditional specialist nurseries who derived their business from shows were driven to the wall by the growth of garden centre chains. Today nurseries can again dominate their niche as suppliers to your door of rare and unusual plants which modern garden centre business models can never accommodate. Their move towards 'click and collect' reflects this challenge.

Within the catalogue we share with you some of the key findings from our own customer surveys

- 30% of our customers are existing customers and 70% are new customers. This figure has not changed in many years.
- Just over 20% of our customers who place an internet order have our catalogue to hand when they do so.
- In the last year 953,117 people visited our website, many using it simply as a source of information and advice.
- Speed of delivery, good packing and good quality plants are an essential part of our business. In 2015 1,150 customers placed a second or third order with us.
- 85% of our customers find the website easy or very easy to use and place an order, so if you are a techno-phobe now is the time to try out our website.

We have also, with the help of our longstanding website designers and managers, Forgecom, radically changed our website in the last year so that it is now fully mobile and tablet friendly. The site has evolved and grown over 18 years and long before such devices were even thought of but, in the process of this change, we have also radically altered the layout and appearance of the category and individual plant pages. Only very few of the plants which we offer for sale do not have four separate pictures of the plant you may be intending to buy. This has taken nearly nine years of continuous photographic work by Karol Pawlak to achieve.

As usual, not everything has gone exactly as we would have wished, and the sheer volume of orders in late May combined with our attendance at Chelsea did cause us to miss our delivery time targets from then until early June. We apologise to those who got cross with us at the time because of delays and stock shortages. There is only so much stress and overtime which our excellent packing shed staff can cope with.

The surge in orders has caused us to rethink how we despatch larger orders of over £320 in value or containing specimen sized plants. These will all now be sent by pallet at a slightly higher courier cost but with much less packing and a much quicker turnaround time for larger orders. We have also designed our own custom made boxes for smaller orders which need less packing materials to protect your plants during delivery. With these and other changes to the layout of our packing sheds and the ordering process we hope to avoid problems in 2016 during the spring surge.

We must thank Terra Firma Capital Partners for their continuing sponsorship of the Burncoose stand at Chelsea. Thanks also to Her Grace the Duchess of Rutland for her glowing endorsement of our work in creating a new woodland garden at Belvoir Castle.

If you ever have difficulty identifying a plant I would recommend PlantSnapp, a simple app developed by another family member, George Williams, with a horticultural interest and business.

Please remember that you can avoid all our carriage and packing charges, as so many customers do, by simply visiting the nurseries and enjoying our 30 acre woodland gardens. That is why, unlike other mail order companies, we do not include or hide most of the carriage and packing costs in the price of the plants themselves. Our carriage and packing charges simply cover the extra actual costs of couriers, packing and packing materials.

With many thanks to all the recipients of this (free) catalogue who have contributed to such a successful year.

Yours sincerely

Charles Williams

Awards Received in 2015
Chelsea Flower Show Gold Medal

Royal Cornwall Show Large Gold Medal

We win GOLD for our 'Endangered in the Wild Garden'

After months of planning, designing, and growing, all of the hard work paid off when we received the news that we had been awarded a well-deserved Gold Medal for our 'Endangered in the Wild Garden' at the RHS Chelsea Flower Show.

Designed by Louisa Lazarowicz and Geraldine Hammond, The Burncoose Nurseries garden, which is once again supported by Terra Firma Capital Partners, is intended to increase public awareness of the little known fact that many of the plants which are grown in gardens throughout the UK are actually threatened with extinction in their native habitats in the wild. The message running throughout the garden is that everyone should be encouraged to do more to counter the threats of climate change and deforestation by growing these threatened wild species more widely at home.

Charles Williams of Burncoose Nurseries said, "We stock nearly 4,000 varieties of plants and we are aware that some are extremely rare in cultivation. In developing the theme for our garden this year, we thought it would be an interesting exercise to find out how many of these plants are actually endangered in the wild. Some of the answers have proved to be quite a surprise, with many plants we might consider to be readily available among those threatened.

"Winning Gold is a great honor and testament to all the hard work of the team. I'd like to thank them for the efforts and I'd also like to thank Terra Firma for their continued support of Burncoose Nurseries at RHS Chelsea Flower Show."

Guy Hands, Chairman and Chief Investment Officer of Terra Firma Capital Partners said, "We are very proud to once again sponsor the garden and to be able to highlight our support of the Prince's Trust and the outstanding work they carry out. I'm delighted for the Burncoose team. Winning anything at RHS Chelsea Flower Show is a challenge so being awarded Gold is a great achievement.

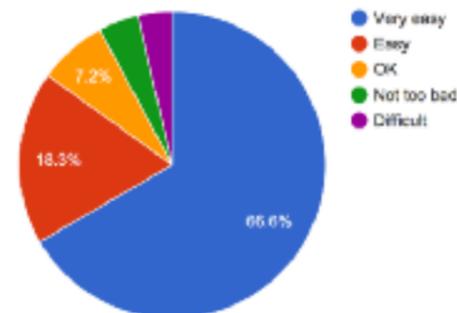

Some plant species have already vanished from the wild and exist only in botanical collections, while others continue to survive only because of the work of specialist nurseries, such as Burncoose.

NURSERIES & GARDENS

Nurseries

Burncoose is a working nursery of around 10 acres producing one of the widest ranges of plants available by mail order anywhere in the U.K. Although mail order is our main business we welcome locals and holiday visitors alike to Cornwall and to the nursery 7 days a week to browse around at their leisure and select their own plants while also taking a stroll through the gardens for inspiration.

Gardens

The Burncoose woodland garden of some 30 acres, which was once described as "A garden oasis in the mine wastelands of Cornwall", has progressed over the years from being a typical Cornish spring garden into a garden for all seasons. It contains as extensive and diverse a range of plants as can be found anywhere in the West of England. The early spring display of Camellias, Rhododendrons and Magnolias moves on through to the late summer show of Hydrangeas and Eucryphias, then a warm symphony of autumn colours.

FROM OUR NURSERY SAFELY TO YOUR DOOR

It is rare for any two mail orders to be identical so packing individual orders which might contain a 3 metre tree as well as shrubs and herbaceous plants is a skilled business.

There is no such thing as a standard box and part of the skill of the packer is to ensure that plants are secure and fully protected for shipment.

Many customers are concerned about the risks of damage in transit. Our experience is that breakages are thankfully very rare and we hope that this is in no small measure due to the experience and expertise of our packing department.

All larger orders are dispatched by overnight courier to arrive on the next working day.

Smaller orders are dispatched by guaranteed 24-hour service which is traceable and insured. The 24-hour service applies to working days and not weekends.

During the course of one year we will despatch separate orders to well over 20 different countries.

For more information see the order form in this catalogue or visit our website: www.burncoose.co.uk

Recycling

We try to use when ever possible recycled materials for our packing. This includes the boxes, shredded material and wrapping paper.

Louise Holland supervises the selection, lifting and packaging of all mail order despatches from Burncoose. Louise has worked at Burncoose for many years and has the most up to date awareness of stock availability on the nursery.

It is Louise and her team that you have to thank for all the care and attention given to lifting preparing and packaging thousands of your orders.

BURNCOOSE NURSERIES LANDSCAPING

PLANNING & PLANTING SERVICE

Turfing • Seeding • Pruning • Patios • Rockeries • Paving • Pools

Burncoose Nurseries offer a full landscaping service covering all aspects of hard and soft landscaping work, but our speciality is in planning and planting. Since the nursery offers some 3,500 different varieties of ornamental trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants we have a wealth of expertise and alternative designs to offer using our own plants.

After many years experience designing Cornish Gardens, we are familiar with the problems of wind damage, exposure and salt sprays which exist in so many coastal and even inland gardens in Cornwall.

Although straightforward design and planting work is a major part of our landscape business, we are very happy to undertake patios, rockeries, paving, pools, turfing, seeding, pruning, or virtually any other landscaping work.

If you have a new garden, or wish to upgrade an existing garden or simply start again after a substantial pruning please contact: Philip Knuckey on 01209 860316.

Philip will arrange to call on you to discuss your longer term plans, objectives and requirements. We will then prepare a detailed planting list and sketch plan for you to consider.

Phil Knuckey
Phil is the partner who runs the landscape department. Philip has over 30 years experience designing, building and planting gardens for customers throughout Cornwall. His father David Knuckey, won more gold medals at RHS shows for Burncoose than any other exhibitor.

Belvoir Castle

"Around 10 years ago I visited the Burncoose stand at Chelsea and asked Charles Williams to design and commence a long term planting programme to develop a woodland garden at Belvoir. The objective was to encourage more visitors to come to the gardens and develop a new feature previously lacking in the historic Capability Brown landscape surrounding Belvoir Castle.

Over 20 acres of new plantings of camellias, magnolias and rhododendrons have now been completed alongside clearance of new vistas and woodland landscape features. The overall impact is already stunning and a huge addition to Belvoir's ability to attract new visitors for which Burncoose Nurseries must take great credit. The new gardens will be open to the public in 2016." Emma, Duchess of Rutland

Capability Brown and Belvoir - Discovering a Lost Landscape by The Duchess of Rutland and Jane Pruden (as seen on the Channel 4 programme presented by Alan Titchmarsh) can be purchased from the Belvoir website at a price of £35.00. www.belvoir.com

MAGNOLIA

Large and Specimen sized magnolias are almost all grafted plants. Many are also very rare.

Large plants are 2-3 year old grafts and Specimen plants 3-5 year old grafts. Different Magnolia varieties grow at very different speeds and therefore the size of a Large or a Specimen plant and the exact pot size it is delivered in can vary markedly for plants of identical age.

Large plants: May vary in size according to variety (and also the time of year) from less than 2 feet to 4 feet in 3, 5 or 7.5 litre pots.

Close up pictures of many of these magnolia flowers can be seen at: www.caerhays.co.uk as well as the Burncoose website

Specimen plants: are usually (but not always) between 4 feet and 8 feet in height in 10, 15 or 20 litre pots.

Magnolias do grow very quickly in a single season but do please ring to check the exact size of your chosen variety if you so wish.

If we are unable to offer a Large sized plant we may well also have smaller plants at a lower price.

GR/TS/E PROTEA

- Despite the casualties from the winter of 2010/11 proteas are much easier to grow than many people imagine and can readily be grown outside in milder areas PROVIDING the soil is very free draining, acidic and low in nutrients (ie no fertiliser containing phosphates). Full sun and a south facing slope would be ideal. To avoid proteas getting wet feet it is helpful to plant them on a raised mound and add bark or grit for improved drainage.

A Spectacular Collection In An Enchanted Garden

Awarded National Collection Status In 2001, the grounds at Caerhays contain over 600 magnolias, making it one of the most important collections in The British Isles.

The original home of the world famous x williamsii Camellias, Caerhays still has many original plants collected in China by the intrepid plant collectors in the early 1900's which grow happily alongside more modern hybrids bred by the Williams family, owners for nearly 150 years.

Nestled in a secluded valley above Porthluney Cove, the 120 acre gardens at Caerhays Castle are one of Britain's horticultural treasure troves.

Historic Caerhays is one of Cornwall's Great Gardens, a springtime paradise of glorious Camellias, Magnolias and Rhododendrons towering above carpets of delicate Narcissi and Primroses.

Choose between four woodland walks through magnificent displays of spring flowers which are amongst the best in Britain. Guided tours of the house are also available for a limited period. Out of season group tours can be arranged.

GIFT SHOP & TEA ROOMS

Open daily the Magnolia tea rooms situated in the inner courtyard along with the Caerhays Castle Gift shop.
