Mr. Hugh Munro In The Legislature

In discussing the school question in the Legislature on Thursday afternoon of last week, Mr. Hugh Munro, M.P.P. spoke as follows:

Before disposing of the question, I want to make a few remarks, representing as I do a county that may be justly termed the storm centre of the vexed question.

What adds very much to the difficulty, is the extreme stand taken by a class of people who are endeavoring to get all possible publicity in the press and otherwise and therefore magnify the trouble.

From the trend of events, you might as well try to dam up the St. Lawrence river and try to stamp out the use of the English language in the Dominion of Canada or the province of Ontario.

Now what are the facts in this respect? Let me say, Mr. Speaker, that I do not believe there is an English-speaking member in this Legislature who has had the unique experience which I have had for the last twenty-five years...

My customer would set either the Notary or village priest to transact the business and with the aid of my catalogue the deal would go through. This is the way I had to do business in many of the out-of-the-way places when I first commenced to try to do business some twenty-five years ago.

Mr. Speaker, that fifty per cent of the members of the Quebec Legislature speak both languages with ease, while most of the others do so indifferently, and it is very much to their credit that they can speak both languages.

On Saturday morning, 27th March, on the old homestead, 11-5th Kenyon, there passed away Mrs. Donald McCormick, in the 90th year of her age. She was born in the 2nd of Kenyon, in 1825, and in the year 1846 married Donald McCormick, who predeceased her 34 years ago...

could speak no language but their own when they lived but they soon learned to speak English. As I already stated, in their own self-interest they learned the English language...

French, have not the qualifications required by the Education Board to teach. These teachers are nearly all from the province of Quebec and their standing is not much higher than what is required in this province for the entrance examination to our high schools.

Now that we have seen the situation before the Government, and that they have assumed the serious responsibility that has today, and which I believe that our Government are adopting soon to meet the situation, it will be getting worse.

By the Government, a commission was appointed by the Government of two or three men, and I am sure that they would approach the question in the right spirit, and with a desire to settle the matter in a way agreeable to both parties.

One proposition offered was, that if the law was changed so that in a mixed community where they failed to agree that the same privilege be given the French to withdraw from either the Public or Separate school and form a bilingual school in the same way that Roman Catholics may now form a Separate school by withdrawing from the Public school...

That is a ridiculous question. You might as well ask the Chinese. This is a grave question. A commission to go into the question thoroughly with a view to some satisfactory settlement is what is urgently needed.

BRITAIN NEEDED A CRISIS

George Meredith, Novelist. I sisted Grave Time for Countries. "You will live to see it; I shall not. I am too old, not in spirit but in years. I shall not see Armageddon. But with all the talk of peace, the signs of the times are for war."

He doubted the genius of the Labor Party to become for a long time a power in European politics. The one thing, he said, that members of this party at present lacked was an international outlook, and in that respect would they demonstrate their weakness in the struggle of nations.

An excellent compilation of school boy "bloomers" is made by University Correspondence. Here are some of the best: Charles II. told the people they could get drunk and gamble and do what they liked. That was called the Restoration.

Henry VIII. was very fat being a Nonconformist. Cologne is famous for the made cheese. To germinate is to become territorialized German. A refugee keeps order at a football match. People often lose their consciences when they are ill.

Whose Obituary? Mr. J. D. Leckie tells an amusing story of editorial ingenuity. Some years ago the first three horses in the Lincoln Handicap were Ob, Dean Swift, and Roseate Dawn. A press agency in London wired the result as "An Australian paper as follows: 'Lancolin Ob Dean Swift Roseate Dawn.'"

Running the Gauntlet. The heroism of privates who have risked almost certain death in the fighting-line to save the lives of wounded officers has been one of the most stirring features of the great war. It was such an act which won for Corporal J. Smith, of the 2nd Battalion South Staffordshire Regiment, the Distinguished Conduct Medal.

Private C. Green, of the Essex Regiment, tells the story of an heroic act at Ammentories. Their trench was flooded, and he and his companions took refuge in a house. They stayed for two days. Thoms started shelling it, and decided to make a run for it. Trenches of the King's Own Lancashires. A shell burst a right of them, killing four.

Alexandria's Greatest Store Every Monday Bargain Day.

As announced in this space last week J. O. Simpson will continue the business formerly conducted by the late John Simpson and himself under the same name John Simpson & Son.

Before soliciting your patronage and explaining our policy for the future, we wish to thank you sincerely for your support in the past. Without it we could never have made the success of it that we are pleased to say we have.

We are going to attempt to sell you goods at lower prices than ever before, lower than you can buy them for in any other retail store. We believe we are in a position to do this for several reasons. We have for some time belonged to an organization, all the members of which buy goods at the same prices that the largest wholesale firms buy at.

As usual we will take in exchange for goods all kinds of farm produce at highest market prices.

If you have never traded with us we ask you to give us just one chance to show you how we do business. If you are not convinced that it will pay you to continue, we will be very much surprised.

We have engaged two more clerks so that you may be sure of almost immediate attention and better service than ever before.

Next week we will give you a few prices that will be an eye-opener to you.

BRING US YOUR EGGS

JOHN SIMPSON & SON
