Curlers To Go Ahead With Plans For Artificial Ice While Continuing Drive

An immediate start on installation of artificial ice in Alexandria Curling Club was decided upon at a meeting in the rink last night. An ice committee was named to get tenders from the installing companies by next Wednesday, and a general meeting will be called soon after for approval of the committee's decision.

Meanwhile the canvassers will continue their drive for another $3,000 to add to the $5,000 Treasurer D. D. MacFarlane reported was already in the kitty. Given $8,000 of working capital, the curlers felt artificial ice would be a reality and there was optimism the extra $3,000 would be forthcoming in Alexandria.

The canvass is far from complete in town yet and it was decided Town Council, the Service Clubs, the Banks and local industries should be approached, as well as some outside firms.

Named as a committee to confer with the installing companies were President Jos. Filion, D. N. McRae, D. D. MacFarlane, G. G. Aubry, Doug. Baxter, Len MacLachlan and Pete Bonneville.

Rain Playing Hob With Grain Harvest

The almost daily rains are posing a serious threat to the grain harvest in Glengarry. Harvesting is practically at a standstill this week, and Ag. Rep. Jim Humphries estimates not more than 30 percent has been harvested.

At least a quarter of the crop is still standing, he estimates, and a lot of the remainder is lying unstocked on the wet ground. "It has been comparatively less rainy in the southern half of the county", Mr. Humphries reports, "and the grain there is not so flat. But there is still a lot of harvesting to be done on the front, too."

Given one week of good weather, though, the local ag. rep. avers, and you won't see too much grain left unharvested.

It is that one week of solid weather Glengarry farmers are asking for right now.

Took Additional Vows

About 40 close relatives from Windsor, Kirkland Lake, Sudbury, North Bay, Hamilton and Alexandria, attended the impressive ceremony in Toronto, Monday, September 1st, when Brother Damian took further vows with the Christian Brothers.

After the ceremony, a nicely arranged buffet luncheon was sponsored by Mrs. Hugh Allan McDonald, Mrs. Andie Cameron and Mrs. Hugh Cameron, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andie Cameron, Ajax, Ont. A lovely decorated cake centred the table.

Brother Damian is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McPhee of Windsor, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cameron, Alexandria, who were also present.

Chinchillas From Glengarry Finding Bullish Market In England

Plane after plane flying out of Dorval these weeks, is carrying a cargo of Glengarry chinchillas to a British market that is suddenly insatiable.

The Glengarry Chinchilla Ranch, here, has airlifted some 600 of the fabulously fine fur-bearing 'chinchies' across the Atlantic over the past six weeks. Its inventory is now down from a high of nearly 600 at one time to little more than a basic 200 of its best breeding stock.

The owner, Ronald Macdonald, is now buying from other Ontario and Quebec ranchers to fill the frantic orders from his agent in England, a young Britisher who got sold on chinchillas a year ago and established connections with the local ranch.

Business was spasmodic for a time, but it suddenly caught fire less than two months ago as the British market for breeding stock really developed. Mr. Macdonald senses a connection between that "bull" market and the presentation of a chinchilla stole by the City of Ottawa to Princess Margaret at the time of her tour. From the cabled demands for more and more breeding pairs he is receiving, it would seem half the people in England want to invest in the business of raising "the precious fur for the precious few."

A chinchilla coat sells at upward of $30,000, Mr. Macdonald reminds. "And a century ago it was reserved for royalty." The demand for breeding stock is steadily growing right across Europe, he reports, and especially in England where it seems boom conditions prevail.

He ships his crated chinchilla families via Air France or KLM Dutch Airlines, out of Dorval. They travel to Paris or Amsterdam and are there trans-airlifted to London, reaching his agent in less than 16 hours. So far there have been no casualties from the ocean hop.

Melvin McPhee Heads Toronto's Glengarry Club

The Glengarry Highland Club of Toronto held its annual meeting in the board room of the United Co-operatives Building in Weston, Ontario, on Wednesday evening, September 3rd.

Hamish MacLeod, president, was in the chair and conducted the meeting before relinquishing this position. His resignation was accepted with regret by all members, as Mr. MacLeod was a fine worker. He assured those present, however, that he would continue to lend his support to all their endeavors.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

President, Melvin McPhee; vice-president, Mrs. Tena Meikle; secretary, Miss Betty MacDonald; treasurer, Norman Catto; directors, Hamish MacLeod, Mrs. Julia Macdonald, Ken McDiarmid, John D. MacRae, Mrs. Gretta Mobbs, Joe Kennedy, Mrs. A. McNeely; Bill McLeod, Gildas McPhee, Mrs. Alex McNish, Corbet MacDonald, Mrs. Mae MacRae.

Plans were discussed for the St. Andrew's dinner and dance to be held in the Oak Room of the Union Station on Saturday, November 29th.

Empty Barn Lost To Lightning

An empty sheep barn on the farm of Duncan MacDonald, McCrimmon, was lost during Saturday night's electrical storm. Lightning struck and fired the barn about 8:30 o'clock. It stood only 25 feet from the main barn, but neighbors rallied quickly and prevented spread of the flames.

Grandson Lost Life In Canal

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lauzon, Sinclair street, learned Monday of the tragic drowning in the old Welland Canal at Port Dalhousie, Ont., that day, of their grandson, Gilmond Lauzon, 4. The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Guy Lauzon of 27 Sixth street, Port Dalhousie. Mr. Lauzon is a former Alexandrian.

Accompanied by two playmates, the child had wandered down to the water's edge and had clambered aboard a small cabin cruiser from which he tumbled into the water. The children ran for help and a woman nearby rushed to the scene to pull the floating body out of the water. Two hours of attempts at resuscitation proved unavailing.

In addition to the parents, there are four brothers and sisters.

Lions Resume Regular Meetings

The Alexandria Lions Club resumed its meetings Monday, following the summer recess, and almost 100 percent attendance was recorded as incoming president Ray Perliard assumed the gavel of office.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of pins to 11 members who had recorded 100% attendance during the past year. They were President Ray, John Grant, Cam Fraser, Past President Arnold Smith, Doug. Baxter, Sam Brunet, Ed Dupuis, Duncan Macdonell, Jack Reid, Tom Gauthier and Michael Barbara.

The Past President's pin was presented to Arnold Smith by President Ray Perliard.

Plans are being made by the Program Committee for a special meeting in November to mark the 5th anniversary of the club's organization under Lionism.

Alfred Roy Dies At Summerstown

The sudden death occurred Saturday morning of a widely known Summerstown merchant, Joseph Alfred Roy, a member of one of Glengarry's best known families. Mr. Roy had been active in his daily affairs and news of his fatal heart attack came as a shock to a large family connection and many friends. He was aged 50.

Mr. Roy was born at Glen Roy, a son of the late Jean-Baptiste Roy and his wife, Marie Decoste. He moved to Summerstown some 25 years ago, where he was a general merchant and a leading member of the community. A member of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, he was secretary of the Separate School Board and a member of the executive of the riding Liberal Association.

To mourn his unexpected death, he leaves his wife, the former Delia Filion, four sons and two daughters: Jean-Guy, Gerald, Jacques and Lionel, all of Summerstown; Mrs. Paul Yvon Boule (Yvette), Gatinneau Pointe, Que.; Miss Lucienne Roy, in Montreal.

Five brothers and five sisters also survive: Joseph Roy, Glen Roy; Wilfrid, North Lancaster; Ernest, of Montreal; Paul, of Alexandria, and Rene, Green Valley; Mrs. Hilaire Filion and Miss Anna Roy, Cornwall; Mrs. Victor Lefebvre, Green Valley; Mrs. Rene Vaillancourt, of Summerstown; Mrs. Gerard Parent, Cornwall. Another brother, J. B. Roy, Jr., predeceased him in 1949.

Members of the Fourth Degree K. of C. formed an honor guard at the funeral, held Tuesday morning from the Bonneville Funeral Home to the Church of the Precious Blood, Glen Walter. Rev. Rudolph Villeneuve, P.P., chanted the Solemn Mass of Requiem, assisted by Rev. Neil McCormick and Rev. Aime Leduc.

Paul E. Viau of Alexandria, was organist, and the choir was assisted by Revs. Rheel Gagnon, Bernard Pion and R. Bourque.

The pallbearers were six nephews: Maurice Lefebvre, Ovide Leroux, Jean Roy, Cornwall; Raymond Filion, Roger Roy, Glen Roy, and Donald Roy, North Lancaster.

The very large attendance at the funeral, the wealth of floral tributes and many Mass cards received were evidences of the widespread regret in his passing.

the Liverpool (N.S.) Advance, retiring president. Others are (left to right) Bert Smith, the Port Credit Weekly, who was convention chairman; Fred W. Beattie, the Annapolis Royal (N.S.) ## Raspberries Again

Three $100 Dominion-Provincial bursaries have been awarded Grade XII pupils at Alexandria District High School for Grade XIII study. They are Denis Borris, Paul Robinson and Claire Roussin.

Weekly Newspapermen Urged To Promote Papers At 39th Annual Convention

There is encouraging evidence that business and industry are beginning to realize more than ever the important market that weeklies serve in Canada, Hugh E. McCormick, of the Montreal Monitor and incoming president of the CWNA, told more than 400 delegates attending the 39th annual convention last week in Toronto.

But, he said, there never has been a time in the long and colorful history of the weekly newspaper industry in Canada, when there was a more urgent need to promote weeklies as a key advertising media in the business life of the nation.

The five million readers served in Canada by the weeklies were making an impression on advertising, he said.

"For 100 years the weekly press has had its problems but nothing like today when competition from other media, rising costs, employee demands and so on, threaten our very existence as a force in our national life", Mr. McCormick said.

He noted that the 725-odd weeklies in Canada were a big potential market whose impact on national life cannot be over-estimated. He pointed out that of the 265 constituencies with seats in the House of Commons, 194 at last count, were served by weekly newspapers.

Attended by weekly newspapermen and their families from all ten provinces, the convention featured daily business sessions, the presentation of awards in the Better Newspapers competitions and in other categories, addresses by Ontario Education Minister Dunlop, and others. Delegates saw the broadcast of a trans-Canada show by the CBC, were guests of the Canadian National Exhibition Friday afternoon and at dinner before enjoying the grandstand show featuring Danny Kaye.

Award was made of six honorary life memberships to veteran publishers. More than 30 Canadian weekly newspapers shared top honors in this year's Better Weekly Newspapers Competition.

Four weeklies headed the list with three or more awards each. The Steinbach (Manitoba) Carillon News won the Mason Trophy for the best all-round paper with circulation of over 3,000. It also took second place in the Amherstburg Echo Shield competition for the best front page in its class; and third place in the Charters Cup Competition for the best 1957 Christmas edition, a special competition open to all classes.

The Aurora (Ontario) Banner, in the circulation class of 2,001 to 3,000 won the Gertrude A. Dunning Trophy for the best all-round paper; the P. George Pearce Trophy for the best editorial page; and the Frank Howe Beattie Shield for the best front page in its class.

The Courtenay (B.C.) Argus in the class of 1,001 to 2,000 circulation, won the Charles Clark Cup for the best all-round paper; the Malcolm MacBeth Shield for the best editorial page; the M. A. James Shield for the best front page in its class; and took second place for the Printer and Publisher Trophy for the best sports page.

The Winkler (Manitoba) Pembina Triangle Progress in the 1,000 circulation or less class, won the Walter Ashfield Trophy for the best all-around paper in its class; tied for second place with the Nanton (Alberta) News for the John W. Eedy Trophy for the best editorial page; and took second place for the Printer and Publisher Special Trophy for the best front page.

Only awards coming to Eastern Ontario were two third places won by The Renfrew Advance in Class II. It scored for Best All-Round Paper and for Best Front Page. The News came close to a third placing in editorial page competition in this class. Walter Telfer's Humboldt (Sask.) Journal captured third place with 18.55 points to 18.38 points for the fourth place News.

Hugh E. McCormick, publisher of the Montreal Monitor and other weeklies, is the new president of CWNA. A one-time professional hockey player with Montreal Canadiens, he succeeds G. Cecil Day of the Liverpool (N.S.) Advance.

The 1959 convention will be held at Regina in mid-July.

Dies At Fassifern

The funeral is being held Friday morning to St. Alexander's Church, Lochiel, of a respected resident of the Fassifern area, John McDonald, who died Wednesday morning at the age of 94. The cortege will leave the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home, here, at 9 o'clock for service at Lochiel at 9:30 o'clock.

A son of Roderick McDonald and Janet Cameron, Mr. McDonald was born at Lot 2-6th Kenyon. He went West at the turn of the century and ranched in the Okotoks, Alberta, area for some years before returning to his home county. Quiet and retiring, he yet had many friends who will regret his passing.

Two brothers survive: Alex R. McDonald, with whom he resided on the home farm, and Dougald McDonald, Vancouver, B.C.

Breaks Fingers Saving Child's

Mrs. Alcide Lajoie, Green Valley, came out on the serious end of the mishap when her four-year-old daughter got her hand caught in the wringer of the washing machine at her home last Friday. In her haste attempt to free the child, she struck the release lever with such force she broke two fingers of her right hand.

So, while mother has her hand encased in a cast, daughter Carol is chipper as ever, suffering nothing more serious than a bruised hand and arm.

Buy Property At Green Valley

Laurent Crevier, Green Valley, this week purchased the home of Lawrence Leger immediately to the north of his garage. Mr. Crevier plans to move the Leger house to a new location next Spring in order that he may enlarge his garage. He now has three buses and one station wagon on the High School run.

The Leger family will remove to Cornwall.

Beverly Bradley successfully passed the Intermediate tests, while Mary Villeneuve and Grace Morris got their Junior qualifications.

Williamstown Fair Is Next Big Attraction Tuesday And Wednesday

A new pole barn is being rushed to completion at Williamstown Fair Grounds in readiness for the 145th annual Fair of the St. Lawrence Valley Agricultural Society next Tuesday and Wednesday. The new 100x24 pole frame barn will house calf club calves of which some 120 are expected as six Glengarry calf clubs hold their Achievement Day on Wednesday.

Ontario's oldest and best livestock show will again feature the County Black & White and Red & White shows and officials expect at least 125 entries in the Holstein classes as well as keen competition in Ayrshires.

Horse classes will be well filled, too, it is expected, and the Commercial Cheese and Hay shows will be other features.

A draw for two purebred calves is to be an attraction at next week's Fair; a small midway is expected and the Williamstown High School Girls' Band will be another attraction.

The traditional dance in the Show Hall, Wednesday night, will wind up activities.

Reeve Of Lochiel Moves To Alexandria

Eugene Ranger of Dalketh, reeve of Lochiel, on Monday moved into the house on Main street south he recently purchased from Jos. Sabourin. Mr. Ranger has sold his farm to his son Claude, we understand.

Mr. and Mrs. Ranger and their daughter, Nicole, a student at the local High School, will be welcomed to town.

IT'S OUR OPINION

The Gift Of Speech

A COUPLE of young newlyweds boarded the train that was bringing us home from the CWNA convention in Toronto, Saturday evening. They had seats directly opposite us in the chair car and they were extra-silent even as warm smiles flashed to one another a message of young love that was easily apparent to even one as aging and calloused as we.

Then their fingers started flashing and we knew them for deaf mutes and we turned our back that they might have the privacy honeymooners want and should be allowed to know.

But darkness had descended and the reflection in our train window provided a perfect picture our eyes could not ignore unless we kept them closed. We have long forgotten the sign language of the deaf mute we picked up somewhere in our youth. But there was no mistaking the rapid fluttering of those fingers to smiling eyes and lips and heart. They were talking the language of love.

A girl in her late teens, sitting up the aisle of chairs, watched in friendly interest, forced her eyes away from this intimate picture of young love and surreptitiously wiped them dry. We, too, were silently wishing this young couple could have been blessed with speech.

And that is when our mind flashed back to the Weeklies' convention we had just quitted, and focussed on a member of that group, this writer, who had spent three days bemoaning the fact he was temporarily out of voice. Our larynx had been over-strained a week previously and we had been forced to go through the convention with our usually strong vocal chords dulled to a husky whisper.

How we had pitied ourself. And how humble we felt, here in the presence of two young people happily facing an entire lifetime without speech. Humble, we now were, and not a little ashamed of our petty selfishness.

This is one lesson all of us are slow to learn, even though we daily see so many evidences of it. There are always people less blessed than ourselves. And we would be the better for consoling ourselves with that knowledge and in seeking ways to help the less fortunate, rather than in weltering in selfish thoughts of self.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

SIGN CHANGED

Williamstown, Ontario,

September 3rd, 1958.

Editor, The Glengarry News, Alexandria, Ont.

Sir: The members of Picnic Grove Women's Institute are protesting the name on the sign board at Glengarry Provincial Park.

When the sign was first erected it read Glengarry Provincial Park. A week or so ago it was changed and now reads Parc Glengarry Provincial Park. Since Ontario is an English-speaking province, we would like to have Parc removed from the top of the sign.

Yours truly,
(Mrs. Hartley)
HELEN MacCRIMMON,
Secretary - Treasurer,
Picnic Grove W.I.

The Weeklies Say

POOR ADDRESSES

Driving through the county on a recent evening looking for a certain farm on one of the rural routes out of town, we were struck by the number of farmers who either had no name on their rural mail boxes, or whose name was so illegible as to be useless in identifying the property. — Gananogue (Ont.) Reporter.

THE GAMBLERS

At summer fairs, thousands of citizens spend thousands of dollars on games of chance. . . . Aren't gambling laws a little ridiculous when they make betting and gambling legal for one week . . . and say it's a sin during the other 51? — Westlock (Alta.) News.

Beyond Price

One can no more put a price on a good teacher than he can judge the real worth of a man by his income. There is a dimension of teacher dedication that defies all salary schedules.—Courtenay (B.C.) Argus.

Now Let Me See

One Man's Reaction

(Ridgetown Dominion)

We can imagine that many people in Canada could write a personal letter to the Minister of Public Health, reading something like this:

"Dear Sir:—It has caused me some bother to be informed that I have to register and pay for common hospital service, whether or not I want it. Now I have lived much beyond the allotted time of three score and ten years and in all those years I have had no need, use, or desire for common ward hospital care. With one single exception when I had to have an operation which confined me to hospital for ten days, I have had no hospital experience whatever. That one time cost me, for hospital care, something like fifty bucks. Now if your scheme had been in operation at the 'low' (?) insurance rate of $25.10 a year for the past sixty years I would have paid $1,512 for what actually cost me only $38 or so, and your scheme would not have paid even that for it was the private room rate—not public ward.

"Yet you present your loaded law-gun at my head and make me fork out for something I don't want and in the course of a long life have never needed. I am not greatly in favor of out and out State medicine, but it would be far better than the inadequate half-way scheme you are putting into operation. As I see it your scheme will give a great boost to the hospital industry and will undoubtedly help some. On the other hand, if your objective were reversed—if you offered insurance covering doctor's fees and medicine bills and left the actual hospital accommodation to the individual the benefit would be certainly more widespread."

We think a lot of people would write a letter something like that—with individual variations, of course—don't you?

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER

By ED.

Busybodies usually have busy tongues, too.

DAY OR NIGHT

• We paid our bill at Toronto's King Edward Hotel when we checked out on Saturday. But somehow we get the feeling they may be feeling we still owe them something.

It all happened like this. We knew Montreal Alouettes were playing in Ottawa Saturday, so at 2 p.m. we sneaked up to our room from the convention luncheon and turned on our TV. Several Buffalo stations were giving out with teenage rock 'n' roll parties and such guff, but we couldn't tune in any football. Channel 6 was just a blank and after fiddling with the unfamiliar dials for ten minutes we phoned the desk.

"Yes, the game is being televised over Channel 6", we were told, "we'll send up the maintenance man."

So we sat, and along came Mr. M. M., and he had his turn fiddling with the dials and still Channel 6 refused to respond. So he says, "I'll go down and get another set". And so we sat, again; our mind filled with flying footballs and downfield tackling and fake hand-offs we were missing. And finally we decided we should be able to find another TV that worked in this huge hotel. So off we start and we meet our maintenance man in the corridor, patiently pushing a cart on which rested two more TVs.

"Back in a minute", we told him, and rushed for the elevator. "Where can we find a television set giving with the football game", we asked the operator, and he really floored us. "That game's being played tonight", he said.

That's where we coulda kicked our own poster for a really dumb show. We'd known it all the time, but we'd forgot.

We made sure Mr. Maintenance Man had quitted our room before we dared go back. Seems Channel 6 wasn't interested in competing with Buffalo at that hour. The TV was probably in better shape than we were.

We keep wondering, though, if the King Eddie will write off the entire do. Or are they going to bill us with a nuisance tax or something.

The more scientists learn of outer space, the less we are likely to know of inner peace.

P.M. OR PREMIER

• Somehow since our schooldays we have been under the impression Canada boasted only one Prime Minister, the leader of the governing party at Ottawa. All the elected heads of provincial governments were Premiers, as we remember being told early in our schooling.

Maybe we're wrong. We begin to doubt every time we see or hear reference to Prime Minister Frost. And these are becoming more frequent with every year Mr. F. solidifies his hold on Queen's Park.

Just last Friday Canadian weekly editors were guests of the Ontario Government at dinner and Education Minister Dunlop referred several times to Mr. Frost as the "Prime Minister". He may see himself as the "prime minister" of Ontario, which he undoubtedly is, but many of his hearers from the West and the East might be forgiven for thinking the reference was to Mr. Diefenbaker in Ottawa.

Just to settle an argument, Mr. Frost, "are you the Prime Minister, or is Mr. Diefenbaker?"

Some TV films are too old to stay up that late.

SEEING AND HEARING

• Thought we were seeing something for a minute. There we were, reading a report of Friday night's football game, and the closing sentence struck us as something not usually to be found on the sports pages.

"Billy Graham converted two of the four Hamilton TDs", we read. And right away we says to ourself, "What's the evangelist Billy Graham doing on a Canadian football field." And secondly we thought, "If he's going to convert any footballers, why does he pick on a winning combo like Hamilton Tiger-Cats?" Toronto might not mind him converting one of their players into a winning quarterback, we reasoned; Montreal could do with more enlightened players; but Hamilton has won its four first starts.

Then our cloudy mind focussed on that TD. That didn't stand for "tertiary defenders", it came to us, (Continued on Page 3)

Accidents Are Always Happening

SUMMER is over, September is here and our children are back in school. This is the month for motorists to remember that "Back to school time is child safety time".

For two months motorists have been completely ignoring the sign that reads "School zone, drive slowly". Now it is time for them to remember that the schools are once again occupied and that a school zone can suddenly erupt with a horde of youngsters who have been cooped up in class and are ready to run, sometimes into the path of a car.

Alexandria has been blessedly free of fatal traffic accidents for several years. Let's keep it that way; especially where our school-age children are concerned.

And while on the subject of accidents perhaps we should note the number of mishaps involving adults that this paper has recorded in recent weeks. Editorial emphasis is usually centred on the hazards of traffic, but we have seen one death and three instances of men seriously injured in falls while at work. Last issue brought the news of two seriously injured in a farm accident and recently we recorded a close escape from injury in a tractor accident.

Eternal vigilance is the price we must pay for safety from accidents. And that applies not only to the person behind the wheel of a car, truck or tractor, but to everything all of us do in our day to day existence.

We Are All The Losers

WHEN one reads that the Ontario Treasury is losing maybe half a million dollars a day, don't you believe it. In fact it's just possible the taxes on liquor and wines are bringing in as much or more than the thirsty Treasury garnered before beer became a memory.

We know not the relative taxes on each class of bottled goods, but we walked into a Toronto liquor store last Friday and we were reminded of the days of World War II rationing, except that this time there were no limits on what one might buy. Five cash registers were in perpetual motion and two long lines of customers waited as patiently as possible to make their purchases.

The same holds true of other Ontario cities and towns, we learned in conversation with fellow editors. Beer drinkers are substituting "hard stuff" and cheap wines for their usual intake of beer, and more than one compatriot told us drunkenness on the streets is becoming commonplace.

We doubt the Treasury is losing much money on the strike, if any. And among those profiting by it are the so-called liquor-barons, the wineries, the bootleggers and sundry beer merchants right around the province's periphery, in Quebec and U.S. border points, who are doing a land-office business.

Among the losers from this strike are Ontario's hotel keepers, the brewers, the members of the Union who are without their weekly pay-checks, and possibly the Ontario Temperance League. It seems to be being proven that when the beer drinker is barred from his brew he turns to something more lethal in the way of alcohol.

Actually the real loser is our form of government which is being shown up once again as ineffectual and pitifully weak in its dealings with Organized Labor. No one segment of our society should have the power to prevent the rest of the citizenry from enjoying its freedom to live within the laws. This strike, we are certain, is frowned on by almost every dues-paying member of a Union in Ontario.

And yet the provincial government early wiped its skirts of any responsibility; just as all our senior governments invariably do when Organized Labor is using the weapon of the strike.

Teeth must be put into our Labor laws. Perhaps we should be electing more dentists, and fewer lawyers.

Have You Exchanged Your Bonds?

IF YOU are a holder of Victory Bonds you have only until Monday to exchange them for one of the new Canada Conversion Loan issues now being offered at rates highly favorable to you. The offer lasts only until September 15th.

Many local people and businesses have already completed their conversion and added to the huge total for the whole Dominion. With returns now coming in increasing volume from small holders of Victory Bonds in centres like this, the figure had passed the four billion dollar mark two weeks ago.

But there are still Victory Bonds to be exchanged, many millions of dollars worth, and it seems many Canadians have forgotten that they own such bonds.

This writer can vouch for that. We have been conversion-conscious for weeks, have used these columns to urge on others the apparent advantages to be derived from converting old bonds for new. But it never entered our head that we might be one of the millions of small holders of bonds to whom the Treasury has been appealing.

We still cannot recall buying that bond during World War II, and it took our bank manager to convince us there was a bond in our name in his bank. Perhaps there are others among you whose memories of wartime are equally dim.

Bonds have turned up in the strangest places: in biscuit boxes, old strong boxes, bureau and desk drawers and country attics. These forgotten bonds have coupons attached so that their owners have not only been able to exchange them for new bonds at a higher interest rate but have also collected back interest and their cash adjustments.

From bank and investment officials comes the following advice:

1. Examine all possible storage places in your homes or offices for possible bonds.
2. If you have any bonds in your possession, exchange them for the new Conversion Bonds right away.
3. If you do not have any Victory Bonds but are looking for a good investment, ask your bank or dealer to buy some Victories for you and then convert them to the new issue.
4. Consider the long-term 4½ per cent bonds as investments for your children, but remember there are three other shorter terms to choose from.
5. The term "non-callable" does not mean you cannot sell your Conversion Bonds at any time. It simply means that you cannot be compelled to sell them until their maturity date.

Which appears to prove that the printed word carries much more impact than anything one hears.

Presbyterian W. M. S. Executive Met At Cornwall On Tuesday

Reports and discussions highlighted the meeting of the executive of Glengarry Presbyterian of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, held in St. John's Church, Cornwall, on September 9th, with Mrs. E. L. Blair, president, in the chair.

Mrs. Blair opened the meeting with the reading of the 91st Psalm, followed by prayer.

The minutes of the last executive meeting were read and approved by the recording secretary, Mrs. Athol McDonald. Mrs. J. McCleverty, corresponding secretary, read two letters, one reporting two changes in Synodical personnel, Mrs. F. M. Mooney, as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. D. Power, as Life Membership secretary, and the other from Council, re Presbyterian expense fund. The second letter brought forth much discussion and it was finally decided, on motion of Mrs. Robertson Millar, seconded by Mrs. Finlay McRae, that the corresponding secretary send a letter to all auxiliaries, advising of the need for sending remittances to the Presbyterian treasurer for the expense fund, and suggesting that larger amounts be sent if possible, due to the increase in Presbyterian expenses.

On motion of Mrs. Millar, seconded by Mrs. Buchanan, it was decided that a small gift be sent to the only applicant for the Story Telling contest for her willingness to take part, and it was also decided to withdraw the contest for this year, due to lack of interest.

Mrs. Lynden Harley, supply secretary, read a letter from Mrs. R. Good, Synodical supply secretary, asking that all money for Supply be sent as usual to the Presbyterian treasurer, and if more than the amount required were given, it would be dealt with in Toronto. Mrs. Harley also asked that Bale supplies be sent, either to her, or to St. John's Church, for packing the end of September.

Various departmental secretaries reported on their work up to this date.

Mrs. A. D. Stewart, Senior department, asked that auxiliaries send in blue cards to Head Office in Toronto, showing names of new officers and any changes during the year.

Mrs. Vanderwahl, Girls' Work secretary, suggested the necessity of holding a Rally for teen-age groups within the Presbyterian. After some discussion this matter was left in abeyance until a later date.

Mrs. Bush, Children's Work secretary, reported a successful Rally at Moose Creek in June, and told of her visits to Lancaster and Ingle-side. She was a member of the Training Clinic in Belleville this summer, and spoke of the inspiration received and knowledge gained there. She announced that a Workshop for leaders was being planned for the Fall and urged that leaders and potential leaders might attend.

Mrs. Neil McLennan, Literature secretary, stated that the new Study Book would be available in October.

District vice-presidents reported visiting auxiliaries and of the good work being done and interest shown.

The meeting closed with the singing of a hymn and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Bog Near Moose Creek Being Developed Into Commercial Garden

By ALEX MULLIN
in the Standard-Freeholder

A deep, quaking bog about two miles from Moose Creek is the scene of the first attempt in this area to turn waterlogged peat into commercial garden soil. The Gregory Javitch interests of Montreal have started working on the water control system that should turn the Roxborough swamp into another Holland Marsh.

are evidence that conventional farming has been tried here without much success.

Last winter the land was acquired by the new owners, some of it from Roxborough township. For the past month they have had the Gerard Racine, contracting firm of Casselman cutting trenches north and south. They have already dug miles of ditch 30 inches wide by five and a half feet deep.

At present the place is as unpromising as any farmland could be. The ground shakes underfoot. Some remnants of old fields, toppling fences a decrepit old log barn

In the centre there is about ten feet of muck. Eventually an area about 12,000 feet by 4,000 feet will be neatly lined with open ditches. This two square miles will in time be subject to controlled water level. There is still a great deal to be done, even after the ditches are complete. The Racine group, a family concern, has a great deal more to do. There will be much to be done after the ditching is completed.

But Gregory Javitch and his associates are familiar with such projects. They have already carried the development of a similar bog at Alfred, Ontario, to the production point. They have secured bog lands at Newtoning as well, with the intention of arranging three such projects eventually.

Originally European, the Javitch interests are now based on Montreal. The total investment contemplated is obviously extremely large, rough estimates of the total that has been and will be spent at Alfred amounting to two million or more.

In time Moose Creek and Newtoning should have similar installations. At this early stage no one will venture more than guesses, but labor needs might go to 200 or more men at each place, Kenneth Best, Stormont agricultural representative, suggested. The project is similar in many ways to the famed Holland Marsh vegetable growing area that has been so markedly successful near Toronto.

A new Holland Marsh in Eastern Ontario, producing such valuable crops as celery, lettuce, potatoes, onions and others, will be something entirely new in this area. By standards familiar to us the type of agriculture represented is new and very intensive. It involves large scale production, processing and packaging to a totally new pattern. It should mean many new families, particularly important to rural municipalities.

Holland Marsh and its Dutch farmers represent one of Canada's biggest agricultural success stories. There is every prospect that history will repeat itself here. The long ditches stretch forth on both sides, 172 feet apart. They look dismal enough now, but in a season or two they may well be symbols of a new and startling kind of agriculture in our midst. Large scale, big capital farming has come among us.
