Collections

After this year's convention Tom Gormally sent me his collection to sell off. Tom was big into "C"s, "E"s, "J"s, and "T"s. Several sections of his collection are offered in this issue. Take the time to check over as he had a lot of hard to find openers.

2014 JFO Convention #36 April 9-13 Hampton Inn & Suites Chapel Hill NC

Two words, awesome convention. Thank you to all attendees especially Pat Stanley for really making things go smoothly and outside of a big pollen attack the weather was great. Don and Bonnie Bull opened their house for a little post-convention trip to Smith Mountain Lake, Va. When you read the convention write-up you will see we had parts of three opener collections available for sale and several members brought some rare and unusual openers for sale and trade. Two of the collections available were brought by Ernie Thoms and Stan Summers plus Ben Hoffman brought some of Harold Queen's better openers and corkscrews to sell. Another big thank you to members who provided photographs. John Eblen, Sandra Emme, Mike Krejci, Alex Redl and Theresa St. Amand took a lot of good pictures that are in this issue. Pat wanted to thank again the ladies (Darlene Atwood, Phyllis Gormally and Sharon Hinton) who helped with making the "nanner pudding" for the Friday visit to the Stanleys house. Every year the convention just seems to go fast and even though I misplaced six openers it was the most openers I have added to my collection in many years. With 32 members attending (we lost one John Ross who had to have a last minute hospital stay and is doing fine now), it was a convention to remember and the Stanleys are very appreciative of everyone who came. Amazingly the state with the most members in attendance was California with four (John Cartwright, John and Marcia Eblen, Tom and Phyllis Gormally, and Bill and Sherron Muma.) It just proves that the convention is well worth attending no matter how far you have to come.

2015 JFO Convention #37 April 22-26 Hampton Inn Phoenix-Midtown Phoenix AZ

Contract is signed and all set for Phoenix for next year. We will be at another Hampton Inn with a similar setup as we had in Chapel Hill this year. The combination hospitality room and show room is a little smaller but it should work fine for our needs. The Hampton Inn offers a free breakfast and the rate is $115.00 a night. A new light rail service will bring you from the airport to within two blocks of the hotel. Cost is $3 one way or $4 gets you an all day pass. Several restaurants are nearby and we will have good local support headed by Todd Barnes and Brian Cooley along with the usual support and help by John Cartwright. Mark the dates on your calendar. As always BE THERE!

JFO Member's Update

It was just reported to me that June of last year we lost one of the original JFO members, Duane Dummer #7. He was a real early collector of openers and all breweriana from Wisconsin. Our thoughts and prayers go to the family.

Spouse's Corner

By Pat Stanley, the Editor's Spouse

If you haven't been to a JFO Convention, you need to put it on your bucket list. It is much more than openers and corkscrews, it's all about people.

It's more like a family reunion, but one where everyone holds the same interest and is nice to each other so someone will sell/trade something to you that you really, really want.

You missed a great one this year, held where the Editor himself and his wonderful spouse (me) live.

Wherever we have the Convention, John Stanley keeps me very busy, but having it here challenged me to find the balance between whatever John put on my agenda and spending time with spouses I only get to see once a year.

John had offered the Stanleys for airport pickup. Well, I knew what Stanley that meant as the host would soon be absorbed in opener heaven. That was ok as long as I had everyone's flight #s and cell phone and they had my cell, as I never did find one couple one year. At least I know this airport and didn't have to cross any high bridges like I've had to creep across in other cities.

Again, because this group is so special, I didn't mind the 8 trips to the airport starting at 10 a.m. and ending after midnight. I was very thankful that the weather cooperated and I didn't have to become a logistics expert.

It all worked out plus pulling off the other concurrent task to walk the dogs between 8 and 9, 11 and 12 and 5 and 6. Still more fun than being at work!!

On Friday everyone was coming to our home. Again the weather was perfect as people had to spend time on the patio and slowly take turns taking the tour.

Darlene Atwood had volunteered to help me make two turkey roaster pans full of scratch banana pudding. Then a new spouse returning for her second convention, Sharon Hinton wanted to help too. Phyllis Gormally thought that sounded like fun and came along too. Now we have a small house and a small kitchen, so I was a little concerned about too many cooks in the kitchen, along with confining the two Yorkies in there as about 50 people arrived to see John's collection. Boy was I glad they all were there to help. I told Sharon that the bananas had to be cut in consistent thicknesses and she did just that to perfection. I had them all on the run while I stirred the pudding.

After everyone left the four of us sat out on the patio and relaxed with a great deal of satisfaction for a job well done.

Not sure if it was that night or another evening that the spouses had so much fun with some homemade wine. A friend of the Stanleys had given John some wine some time before JFO and he had not ventured to try it, so he brought it over to the hospitality room with the idea that the women would drink anything. John Cartwright, always helping the host, decided to open the wine and serve us. That in itself was fun with John putting a napkin over his arm, looking like a butler for the very rich.

There were two choices of wine, one tart and one sweet, but one thing they both had in common was unidentifiable sediment. John was right, we would drink anything. We laughed and laughed and hoped that John's friend really does like him and that we had not just poisoned ourselves.

I talked to the winemaker a few days later, knowing that it would mean a lot that we liked his wine. However, I did have to tell him that a lot of the laughter was while guessing just what was in the bottom of the bottles and floating around in our glasses (plastic cups). His response was that he must have been drinking too much of the batches, as he usually strains it pretty well.

I missed most of the show on Saturday and the awards as I was getting the dogs ready to be boarded as we were going to make a journey north on Sunday with anyone wanting to see the Don Bull Collection, a once in a lifetime treat.

Saturday night the group decided to go to John's favorite BBQ place. That's what you do in the South, eat banana pudding and BBQ. Parking there is limited, but the crowd is not, so I did the best I could getting everyone assigned to as few vehicles as I could. I should have been a Girl Scout leader to prepare for this.

But the biggest challenge and thing that I was most concerned about was the trip on Sunday, close to 3 hours each way. Some friends drove themselves as they would head home from there. All the others coming back to NC rode with either John or me. You always feel responsible for anyone in your car, but having a car full made me very aware of all the lives in my hands. It was ok, my chiropractor helped straighten my fingers from their death grip on the wheel the next day.

Everyone found the restaurant we selected for a group lunch on the way and from there most of us drove directly to the Bulls, except for one that took the scenic route to the opposite side of Smith Mountain Lake, the lake the Bulls live on. I think they blame me for not waiting on them when they ran to fill up their car as we left the restaurant, but I thought they had gone on without me...after all, how long does it take to fill up a VW Bug? Again, I was probably busy praying for everyone's safety as we loaded up for the last few miles of the trip, but I do apologize to you Alex. You never meet a stranger, so you probably got engaged in a conversation with someone, probably telling them about JFO!

Relaxing on the boat dock at the Bull's helped me to recover from the drive, which was well worth the trip as no one can describe Don's collection. It is a must to see.

I had good intentions of writing some hand written notes to thank people for so many things, especially the Pina Colada. The Canadians have been supplying my favorite drink for years. This year the Arbers made sure I had a back up bottle.

Of course my kitchen crew gets a lot of thanks from me and everyone who had pudding or should I say puddings (John Cartwright).

We were very happy that Stan Summers came as we know it was difficult after the recent loss of his wife Pat. I think it was good for him to be with people who care. Like I said, this is really a family gathering.

I don't know how Art Santen made the trip driving by himself except by sheer determination not to miss a JFO.

When Ursula Williams couldn't make the trip planned by car due to problems with her shoulder, I'm sure she understood when Scott bought a last minute airline ticket so he wouldn't miss coming.

I'm sorry I didn't get to say good-bye to the Hoffmans and Stahly's to name a few. The Stahly's took John under their wing at his first JFO convention (before my time) and the Hoffman's call him their "red-headed stepson" as he has spent many nights in their home.

I know I say this every year, but every year I'm reminded of some lessons in life when Bill and Karen Hanold come. We all respect and admire them for their courage and their attitude.

I won't attempt to mention everyone who made the trip to North Carolina for I might miss someone and each and everyone is special to us.

Some have asked for the banana pudding recipe. Write me at stanleyp@mindspring.com if you want a copy. I'm sure Sharon will help you cut up some bananas!! Actually here is something Sharon wrote in a recent email:

"I have been trying my best to come up with something for the spouses corner and I think it would be so simple to have a recipe in each one. I also think the wives should also bring 5 of their favorite recipes with them and then maybe we can start a collection of recipes and then come up with the JFO's Spouses cookbook. Recipes do not take up any space and I always love making something new. And there is no telling the variety we would have since we have people all over the US. Just a thought. It wouldn't cost anybody anything and we could have a good time talking about our favorite things to cook or bake!!!"

I'll see if John has room in this issue for banana pudding, but it's the Convention issue with lots of picture.

John did something this year for the spouses that was fun and will try to do it again next year. He put a box of miscellaneous items on the spouse's table for them to go through and take anything they wanted. It was fun to watch them check it all out.

Thanks to Everyone for Making This a Great JFO. Like I said, it's the people that make it, not just the collections.

It's 1:30 a.m., so I better stop reminiscing about JFO.

Make Plans for Phoenix Now.

AN IMPRESSIVE AMERICAN COMBINATION TOOL

Joe Young

A recent find of a can opener, corkscrew, bottle opener, screw driver, etc. Joseph Holsen's second US patent #1,453,979 issued on May 1, 1923. The design patent, D53,658 was issued on July 29, 1919 - four years earlier.

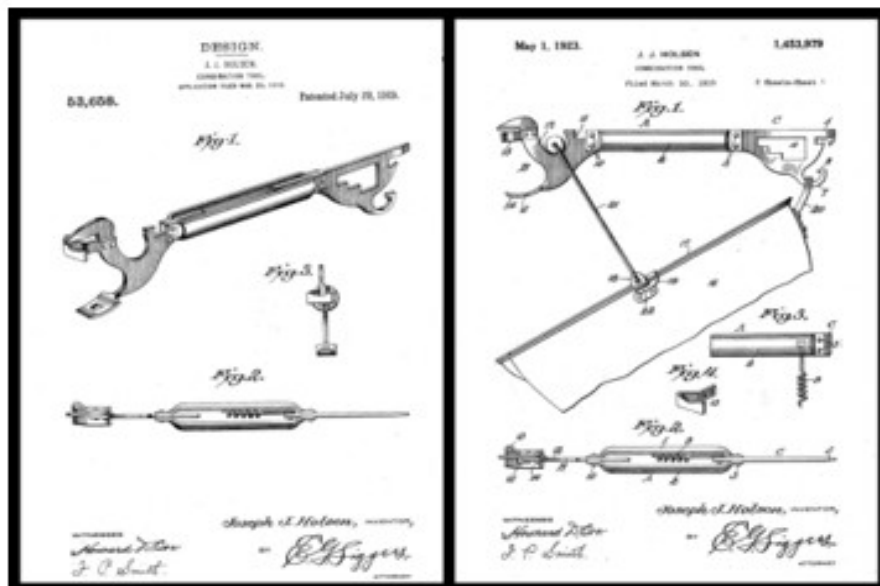

This combination tool is a very impressive piece.

It measures 11 1/2 inches in length. Can you identify all of it's functions? In the patent description, a great deal of time is devoted to the usefulness of the handle which is helpful in carrying and emptying pails of boiling water taken from the stove.

Scalding accidents were a problem in the kitchen at this time.

(See the third picture)

Joseph Holsen was from Manitowoc, Wisconsin which is located on the western shore of Lake Michigan north of Milwaukee.

36th JFO Convention Chapel Hill, North Carolina April 9-13

The days leading up to the convention were busy getting openers ready to be displayed for the Friday house tour, buying food and snacks, and getting last minute room changes made at the hotel. The first arrival on Tuesday was Josef L'Africain at 3PM. I started taking things to the hospitality room at 2PM and after an initial load headed to the airport and picked up Josef.

We already had a possible deal going. Last October on our San Francisco trip I rode with Pete Nowicki to the Watsonville Beer Show. On the way back we hit a couple of antique malls and then were going to hit two more but Pete drove by the exit. We were ten miles past the exit when he said do you want to go back? I said yes as nothing else was going on (Pat was back shopping in the city). We went back to San Jose and in the first mall and close to the front I saw an old corkscrew. I was pretty sure it was a good one and the price was outstanding at $38.00 plus tax. Let's say I was one happy camper and I knew Josef had shown a picture of one on his wish list. A quick email to Don Bull confirmed it was a "Folding Hicks & Reynolds." A fairly rare one and after some more research the only sale result was from eBay a couple of years before for $1,300.00. Once I notified Josef we started talking but I still owned it leading up to the JFO Convention.

The trip from the airport was quick but Josef never asked about the piece but once we got to the hospitality room the trading started. It took about 30 minutes and some back and forth but the deal was done. I came out very well and Josef got one he had been chasing a long time.

After supper Tommy Campnell showed up and the corkscrew blow-out sales started. Tommy bought quite a lot. Bill Hanold arrived but things were pretty slow the first night for bottle openers.

Wednesday was airport pickup day for Pat and first in was John Cartwright at 10AM. After he arrived at the hotel Ben Hoffman showed up early and had brought some of Harold Queen's openers and corkscrews to sale. It was about noon when we dumped the boxes on a table and several hands reached in and many items were bought quickly. Tommy and Josef got most of the corkscrews and Bill Arber bought several openers. It is always nice having fresh merchandise at a show.

That afternoon Stan Summers arrived and he had brought all of his non-Michigan openers for sale. Again some fresh material and I managed to get few openers he had. By that evening most attendees had arrived and there was lots of buying and selling going on in the hospitality room. One thing I brought this year was a bunch of books and general advertising items, glassware and just some miscellaneous. It was put on the hospitality room tables and anyone who wanted it could have it. I was told the ladies had a lot fun looking and discussing the items. There was something to keep everyone happy.

Another item to note was that I went with only local micro beer to drink and everyone seemed to enjoy most of the brands. Pat spent most of the afternoon picking people up at the airport and she would finish the day with a 11:15PM pickup of the Eblens from California and then just after midnight the Gormallys arrived also from California. John Cartwright and I went to Ruth Chris Steakhouse for supper and enjoyed an awesome steak. Even though I did not stay at the hotel as we lived only two and a half miles away, it was a late night for getting to bed. Pat made it home just after 1AM.

Thursday was all day dealing in the hospitality room. My big chore was early in the morning picking up ten more tables. We had twenty and needed ten more as the tables were the narrow six foot ones. Tommy and Josef made a day trip to Williamsburg, Va. to visit fellow JFO member and corkscrew collector, Paul Luchsinger. Though most of his corkscrews were not for sale, they both got something and Tommy made a "crazy offer" on a rare folding bow and got it for $1,000.00. They both came back that night happy.

Speaking of soda we did have three local walk-ins during the afternoon and two of them were soda collectors. In the end I sold the one man a 7Up knife and made the other man (Kevin Kissel) pretty happy. After he had bought a few $5-$10 soda openers he wanted a bunch out of my soda junk bag. I told him he could have them but he had to buy the entire bag for $20.00. His eyes got a little big and he quickly said yes. The three of them (Kevin and his wife and not sure if the other man was a friend or family member) had driven fifty miles from Greensboro and they were very glad they did.

The new material kept arriving when first Don Lawhorn brought three trays of nice openers (non Southern U. S.) for sale and trade. He kept people busy during the early afternoon and then Ernie Thoms arrived with a couple thousand non Ohio openers for sale. He needed three tables and covered them up. Ernie had his openers all tagged with the JFO numbers and had plenty of beer and soda openers available.

When he set up there were just a lot of hands reaching and people looking. In the end I bought about 60 openers from Ernie with a split between beer and soda. I made an initial pass and got about 15 openers and then later that evening after everyone had looked I bought a bunch more.

After the first look at Ernie's openers Pat brought some meatballs, dip and pickles for everyone to snack on. Larry Moter arrived late in the afternoon and Thursday night was officially micro tour night. Several members went with him and of course they hit several that had openers I did not know about. I believe they arrived back around 11PM and by then we had closed the hospitality room up.

Friday was the first big tour day. We hit one bump in the road when my favorite BBQ place (Q-Shack) said they were too busy to cater lunch for us. So before we went to our house about 20 people headed over for lunch. The Q-Shack in Durham has some great brisket, pork, chicken, turkey and ribs. It is all good. After a great lunch we headed to the Stanley Estate (our home is 1,717 square feet). Pat and some of the ladies had went early as she made fresh banana pudding for dessert.

By 1:15 everyone was at the house and I had placed the collection on our master bedroom bed, the extra room bed, some in the living room, some in my computer work room and most were in the opener room. The weather was great and many people after looking stayed in our backyard. I had one neighbor named Sherry Dukes hanging over a fence in our backyard and telling me we were too loud. She was kidding thankfully.

Inside the traffic moved fairly well and I was able to show and tell about some of the openers. Of course two members (Tommy and Josef) were busy going around checking out the corkscrews. I was pretty amazed that Josef spotted my "Mumble Peg Toy" patent wooden sleeve corkscrew advertising Pepsi-Cola. It was hanging on a hook on my closet door and he really wanted it. He made an offer of $350 and I asked $500. On his way back to the hotel we closed the deal at $400. The piece was mint but it needed a new home.

Before these two left they spotted my P-76 Murphy button

corkscrews with beer advertising. Tommy jumped first and offered $350 for the P-76 Bergner and Engel. The deal was done and then Josef paid $350 for my P-76 Schlitz St. Paul. Even a first time attendee, Judy Mathison, got in the action and paid me $50 for my Mr. Peanut (FBOC-533) cast iron wall mount as she collected Mr. Peanut.

That took care of the house action as like most opener collectors, I have so much it was hard to focus on any one item unless you are a corkscrew collector. By 2:30 most people had toured the collection, ate some banana pudding and were heading back to the hotel. The auction would be starting at 4PM.

Sadly it was not a good year for auction material that would generate excitement. But as always with Jeb Burruss and Gary Deachman running the show we had lots of entertainment. I did put in a M-3-43 Queen City brewing slide-out and Bob Stahly did not know he needed it even though I told him he did. He lost out to Alex Redl who went on a buying spree getting three items including the slider which he got for $21. Remember things went cheap and this was right in Alex's wheel house. The top lot was Darvin Stilwell buying a P-82-1 Anheuser-Busch wooden handle corkscrew for $25. Jeb and Gary ran a fine auction and I filled in for Pat as recording secretary since she was busy cleaning the house up.

Afterwards we continued the buy-sale-trade session and several of the guys went out for micro beer night number two. Again they were late getting back and hit several of the local micros and again found some openers that I did not know about. The hospitality room closed a little early as the show would start at sunrise the next morning.

Each night I would go home and stay as it is hard to beat sleeping in your own bed. After taking care of the dogs Saturday morning I arrived back at the hotel and folks were already setting up displays. We ended up having nine large displays and six for the Bill McKenzie "Best of Show" Award. Two members had to leave early, Stan Summers and Tim Bowers, and we still had all 30 tables full of openers and corkscrews and then had the displays on the round tables at the front of the hospitality room.

Walk-ins were scarce except for a couple of friends of mine. The beer and opener collectors in this area are few and far between. One big breweriana dealer, Erik Amundson, was at a beer show in Harrisburg, Pa. We had a lot of last minute dealing going on and by 10AM the display voting was completed. There were some great displays and the first time ever we had a three way tie for first so those three were ranked by your editor.

Gary Deachman won first place for his painted "A"s, "B"s and "C"s opener display. Second place went to Mike Krejci for his neat looking B-73 style display. He made B-73 in large wooden letters and hung about 150 different B-73s on nails. Third place was taken by Sandra Emme for her expanded "Animal Kingdom" display. She has entered it before but keeps adding more figural animal style openers. John Eblen won the "Bill McKenzie Best of Show" Award for his mint condition O-6 F&S beer wall mount that had great graphics. Thank you to everyone who entered a display and to the attendees for taking the time to view and vote.

As usual the show really winds down by noon and people start packing up to leave. I started folding down the ten rented tables and with help from several people got them loaded into the Expedition to return to the North Durham rental company. Unfortunately I missed Ben and Cornelia Hoffman leaving and people told me it was pretty tearful as they said it was probably their last convention. Hopefully they can make it to Harrisburg area in two years when JFO will be in their own backyard.

After returning the tables and arriving back at the hotel we started planning for an early supper for everyone remaining at the Q-Shack BBQ restaurant. Pat coordinated rides and we arrived just after 5PM before their big supper rush. You stand in line to order and with about fifty JFO people we had the line outside their door. It went very smoothly and you get a lot of food for a good price. The weather was great and most everyone got back to the hotel by 7PM. We hung out in the hospitality room and Pat made final plans for the Sunday trip to Don and Bonnie Bull's house. Most everyone turned in by 10PM.

Sunday morning I actually was up early and cleaned a few openers added at the convention for the second big tour day. A little "show and tell" for the almost three hour ride up to Don Bull's house. At the hotel everyone was ready by 9AM. Pat had seven in her car, I had seven, four others would be driving and going home after visiting and seeing Don's collection. Of course Josef and Tommy had gotten permission to come up early to get the great deals before everyone else showed up.

We all agreed to meet at Applebee's in Rocky Mount, Va, for lunch at 11:30AM. We beat the Sunday rush, had some nice food and a great waitress who took care of all 22 people. We did make an attempt to check out a micro brewery along the way for openers but it was closed. We arrived at Don's by 1:30PM. To say he has a fabulous house, fabulous location and fabulous collection is an understatement. It really made for a special day. His house has an awesome view of the lake and upon arrival Don had boxes full of corkscrews for sale and boxes of individually priced corkscrews.

Most of the people just spent time viewing his collection and enjoying the food and snacks prepared by Bonnie. I did buy a lead handle Williamson corkscrew for $50 but the highlight of the day was when Alex and Peg Redl arrived because after our momentary stop at the closed micro, Alex got lost. Alex being an avid collector like the rest of us did find a corkscrew priced $1 in one of the boxes and one that just had the number 50 on it. He said John do you think it is 50 cents or $50. I said $50 and then he asked Josef who also said $50. Alex not to be deterred said he would ask Don. He then got the fateful reply that both pieces would be $51. He bought the $1 corkscrew.

By 3PM everyone had made the tour, seen the collection, and was ready to head back to Chapel Hill. We said our good-byes to Don and Bonnie and then to Bob and Marge Stahly, Darvin Stilwell, Judy and Frank Mathison, and finally Alex and Peg Redl as they were all heading home from Don's. We made good time going back to the hotel and arrived back at 5:45PM. That evening a small group of us went to P. F. Chang's for Chinese food and most people decided to turn in early as they were had early flights or were getting on the road early.

One last chance to buy openers as I had brought a box of Verne Vollrath's "B"s left over from his collection and several folks checked them out and a few found new homes. The hotel had cleared out the hospitality room save for one table and we sat around and talked some before everyone turned in by 10PM. I did decide to stay at the hotel and shared the adjoining suite with Mike Krejci for the last night. Still wired from the convention I rose early at 3AM as Scott Williams had an early flight out. I drove him to the airport by 5AM. Returned to the hotel and picked up Jeb and Josef for the next flights out at 7:30AM.

Josef said Tommy was on the road by 3AM as he wanted to antique on the way home. It is nice to be young and full of energy. After Jeb and Josef, I took Mike and Theresa St. Amand and Sandra Emme for late morning flights and finally at noon John and Marcia Eblen were the last ones I took for their early afternoon flight. Pat did take Gary Deachman and Rick and Darlene Atwood late morning to the airport. The convention was officially over and everyone made it home safely and on time except for Gary and the Atwoods who due to bad weather in the northeast had to fly into Boston, rent a car to go to Manchester (N. H.) to pick up their car at that airport. From there they finally got home at 1AM in the morning.

Thank you to everyone who attended and made the 36th annual JFO Convention special. It was great having it here at "home" and we are anticipating next year's convention in Phoenix, Az. April 21-25, 2015. You know the drill "be there!"

Above going clockwise: My friend, Linwood Blalock (he collects Nehi openers) with Mike. Josef showing John Eblen Don's wall mount corkscrew drawer. Don showing some corkscrew tips for Rick Atwood. One of two floor to ceiling glass display shelves full of good corkscrews. Food and corkscrews on the pool table. Marcia listens to Don telling Rick about some of the collection. Don explaining to Linwood, Rick and Gary how a corkscrew works. Pat Stambaugh and Darvin listen in. Tommy who bought two big boxes of corkscrews with Gary and Marcia. Boxes full of corkscrews looking down towards the boat house. Bob Stahly looking with Don. Bob Mathison in the corkscrew room with Bob, Josef and Scott. Alex and Peg stopped at a real big house on the way home, The Biltmore Estate. Below when we got back to the hotel, a box full of Verne Vollrath's "B"s for the guys to check out. One last chance to wheel and deal openers!

Darwin Stilwell is the only bidder on eBay for a M-3-UL Beverwyck Slider!

Top: M-3-UL Famous straight across, Beer only, darker green color.

Bottom: One of the most common sliders you can find. Famous slanted, Beers Ales, and lighter green color.

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

The last six months saw many good results on eBay but the site is still overwhelmed with new or overpriced junk items. With free listings for everyone several sellers have chosen to list items at super retail prices and if the item does not sell they just keep relisting without reducing the price. Thankfully many good and unusual items are listed to offset the crap. The eBay powers keep changing rules and are really trying to force the site to be like Amazon, totally focusing on new goods and to heck with collectibles. But now to focus on what did sell and as usual the “good stuff” brought the best prices.

A-001-023, Graf w/ Graf Bottle Charm, 8, $61.13

A-001-023, Graf w/ Graf Bottle Charm, 6, $9.99

The A-1-23 Graf is a common opener but add in the bottle shaped Graf charm attachment and you have a different story. The $9.99 sale price is a fair value.

A-005-999, Thirsty? Just Whistle (BIN), 6, $100.00

The seller was hoping to get $20 for this one and a buyer offered $100 if a Buy-It-Now was added. It was added and sold but still a $20 opener on a good day.

A-015-017, Buffalo, 6, $239.15

A-015-023, Moehn, 4, $103.50

A-015-999, Coca-Cola Anderson Rochester NY, 6, $180.49

Certain New York openers have been going crazy with prices. The A-15-17 Buffalo is a hard opener to find but $100.00 should be the normal high price. Those Iowa collectors keep going crazy over Moehn (pronounced main) openers. The A-15 Coca-Cola eagle opener without a town name can be found fairly easily. When a town name is added the price doubles or even triples.

A-022-001, Ballantine, 8, $127.50

A-022-001, Ballantine (w/ 11 Misc), 4, $66.54

An A-22-1 Ballantine does not turn up that often. I would value a nice one at $150-200. The first one was in real nice condition and went to Jeb Burruss' collection. The second example was pretty rough but after spending some time cleaning up, it was passed along to Rick Atwood (for $60 and the other 11 openers in the pile had a couple of decent “B” types.)

A-034-004, Gold Top, 8, $127.75

A-040-001, Inland, 8, $159.37

The A-34-4 Gold Top beer is one of the harder to find openers for beer powder horns. This one was in great condition and $127.75 was a fair price. The high relief brass “September Morn” A-40 was another fair price at $159.37. Within the usual selling range of $150-200.

A-999-999, Harley-Davidson Motorcycle Spinner, 8, $393.88

Your editor just knew this Harley-Davidson motorcycle spinner would bring $500 being in excellent condition. So I bid $433 and parked another Harley-Davidson in the garage as two runner-up bidders went in the $375-385 range.

B-002-038, Heil, 8, $295.00

If you have been following results in past issues you figured out that good Iowa openers can bring high prices. The B-2-38 Heil is not that rare but this one was in good shape and several bidders pushed it high but not that surprising. Wait until the next issue to see an even higher selling price.

B-018-108, Hamms (In Hamms Envelope), 10, $162.51

B-018-155, Bradford, 6, $133.10

B-019-017, Hamms / Digesto (In Original Hamms Envelope), 8, $152.51

B-019-158, Hauenstein, 6, $148.50

B-019-279, Park Hancock (Best Offer), 6, $150.00

B-021-480, Elk Run, 6, $124.25

B-021-619, Kuhlmann, 6, $200.00

B-022-022, Berghoff, 8, $159.49

B-022-UL, Hamms Ideal Beer Random Lake WI, 8, $100.00

B-024-101, Yough (w/ B-23-82 Yough), 6, $122.51

For the most part all of above “B”s are on the rare side. The exceptions are the Hamms and Hauenstein openers but they were in original envelopes so that led to the big ending price. The other exceptions are the B-22-22 Berghoff (not too hard to find) which went way over its normal $20-25 price. I went crazy on the B-22-UL Hamms Ideal Beer since it was a B-22 and Unlisted I paid $100 and was the only bidder. The Bradford, Elk Run and Yough are very hard PA openers to find. Park Brewing from Hancock, Mi. is a rare one. The seller wanted $300 or best offer and $150 took it home. The Kuhlmann again a rare New York opener but $200 was semi-crazy.

C-013-189, Rockford, 8, $204.37

C-013-221, Hollen, 8, $125.95

Two somewhat scarce “C-13”s that I have sold for $18 and $25 in the past year bring $204.37 and $125.95 on eBay. A second C-13-221 was listed after the sale of this one and sold for $70.00. As often happens sellers come out smiling big time.

CBO-DHM-UL, John Drew Cigar, 8, $169.49

CBO-PKT-06, Fitzgerald St Paul MN, 6, $129.47

CBO-RND-09, M Peyser Jr Macon GA, 6, $166.99

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

CBO-SHM-06, Swift Cigars, 6, $136.49

Just wanted to note some of the higher selling Cigar Box Openers. Like other areas tough CBO types can bring a premium. Many CBO sell for under $25. The four above were all unusual styles.

E-004-999, Cheerwine, 6, $104.48

One wire brought a high price but then previous examples have sold well when they advertise Cheerwine. One of the soda brands that brings a lot of bidding activity.

F-009-008, Gutsch, 6, $107.50

F-009-008, Gutsch, 6, $85.95

F-009-008, Gutsch, 6, $35.00

The F-9-8 Gutsch ice pick openers are listed in the order they sold. It is one of the more common F-9s and I was surprised at the high end sales. The $35 auction was more in the ball park of true value.

G-005-011, Clinton, 4, $204.05

G-005-054, Elk, 6, $158.10

The G-5-11 Clinton was a fierce battle between two Iowa collectors and the same for the G-5-54 Elk but it was two Pennsylvania collectors. The Elk opener was not that big of a surprise but I was shocked at the G-5-11 Clinton.

When checking records I realized it was only the second one I had seen.

K-007-001, Budweiser, 4, $126.47

Darvin Stilwell got a nice buy on this K-7-1 Budweiser bar mount. It needs a new paint job but a very hard to find bar mount style with beer advertising.

L-002-010, Home (BIN), 6, $129.99

A good buy-it-now for someone on a tough to find bottle corkscrew. Just a few short years back there was one known L-2-10 Home and now at least four more have turned up. The $129.99 was still a great buy.

M-002-018, Muehlebach (Best Offer), 8, $150.00

M-002-018, Muehlebach (BIN), 8, $249.95

M-002-019, Rising Sun See-Bo (Best Offer), 6, $250.00

M-002-022, Rising Sun Bohemia (Best Offer), 6, $300.00

The M-2-18 Muehlebach has been found in nice condition several times the last few years but did not slow down action on the two sold for this issue. The $150 price for a real nice condition one is a fair price. Both Rising Sun M-2s offered were in very good condition. The “Best Offer” prices are high considering the condition but they are two hard to find M-2s.

M-019-999, Texaco (Brass), 6, $189.50

Lots of M-19 muddlers are sold all of the time on eBay. One highlite was the M-19 Texaco at $189.50. Also note that many of the fantasy and reproduction soda M-19s are being offered and it is always “buyer beware.” If you want to pay a few dollars for one that is OK. But anything over $25 for one of the fantasy pieces is not smart. Some-one kept the Southeast Asian opener makers busy.

M-026-007, Western, 6, $127.51

M-073-001, Missoula, 8, $250.00

M-073-004, Missoula, 6, $152.50

The M-26-7 Western brass sleeve corkscrew was sold at market value at $127.51. The two M-73 corkscrew “sliders” saw one in really nice shape bring $250 and one in average condition bring $152.50. For painted openers condition is even more important than for non-painted openers.

N-029-999, Coca-Cola Ronald Roth Salesman Starr Brothers, 8, $321.07

One thing for sure every time a Coca-Cola “bullet pencil” opener is offered on eBay it will bring $300-$500. This one was in that price range and was in great shape. Over the years about 10 examples (three different Coca-Cola examples are known) have been sold on eBay.

N-045-004, Hamms, 8, $202.50

Another opener that has seen several turn up and if it has Hamm’s Beer then you can figure it will go for $200+. It is a round celluloid handled knife and has a big draw to Hamm’s beer collectors.

O-005-999, Nehi (BIN), 4, $200.00

The surprising thing about this sale was the opener in bad condition for a Starr wall mount and still sold for $200 (as a Buy-It-Now.) Lately this Nehi opener has been selling in the $100-150 range.

O-002-999, Coca-Cola (Porcelain), 10, $177.76

O-006-999, Coca-Cola (Porcelain), 8, $255.00

O-006-999, Lime Crush Ricky, 8, $330.77

O-006-999, Orange Crush (Porcelain), 8, $304.99

The Erickson Wall Mount opener “pile” just continues to roll along. There is no shortage of these before now “unknown” painted and porcelain wall mounts. Whether beer or soda advertising the mostly great condition wall mounts bring lots of high bids. One has to wonder when and if ever will these openers finally dry up. I won’t even say “buyer beware” because buyers do not seem to care.

O-012-001, Pabst (BIN), 6, $250.00

The Pabst wall mount with the 1904 patent date sold for

“Opener and eBay Trivia” (“BIN” Buy-It-Now & “DNMR” Did Not Meet Reserve)

$250 on a Buy-It-Now. Great wall mount and it usually sells in the $150-$250 range.

O-502-999, Coca-Cola, 6, $471.89

O-502-999, Coca-Cola (Best Offer), 4, $400.00

O-502-999, Delaware Punch, 8, $701.99

O-502-999, Delaware Punch (w/ O-5 Crosley & Misc Starr Openers), 6, $385.22

The Starr side mounted wall mount opener is very desirable. One can easily buy one with advertising for “The Liquid.” Any other advertising on this style is rare and hard to find. To see two Coca-Cola and two Delaware Punch in one six month period is pretty amazing. But then maybe they are not as rare as I think.

O-505-999, Big Bill, 8, $355.00

O-516-999, Starr, 6, $280.00

After advertising for Lime Cola and Saegertown on an O-505 (long neck Starr) the next hardest one to find is “Big Bill.” This one was in excellent condition and $355.00 was a good price. For the O-516 Starr wall mount with corkscrew type, the most desirable one advertises “Starr” itself.

P-002-UL, Rheingold Voigt Brewery Detroit MI, 6, $290.00

P-007-034, Schells, 2, $202.51

P-008-106, Alabama, 8, $247.50

P-018-UL, Kalispell Brewing & Malting, 8, $271.00

Above are four rare beer corkscrews. The P-2-UL Voigt was the first Voigt P-2 known with Rheingold as the beer. The Michigan beer collectors went crazy. Even more crazy was the P-7-34 Schells in fair shape at best bringing $202.51. I am always saying that condition is a must and this result proved that wrong. The P-8-106 Alabama was in excellent condition and southern beer collectors went hard for it and it was the third one I have seen. Last but not least are the Montana collectors going high priced on a steel sleeve corkscrew from Kalispell Montana. It was a P-18-UL so one no one had seen it before.

R-999-999, Winston Churchill V For Victory Brass Opener on Brass Base (Best Offer), 8, $375.00

Two of these openers are in my collection (one brass and one aluminum). Twenty years ago in an old political auction one sold for $250.00. I value mine at about $50-$75 each. The seller of the eBay one was asking $500 and kindly accepted the best offer of $375. One thing I must add is the eBay someone had attached the opener to a nice brass base. Still $375 versus $75. Maybe the base is worth $300 and it is the first one with a base attached I have seen.

Z-Corkscrew, English 19thC Thomason Wide Full Fluted Barrel , 6, $4,509.24

Last but not least eBay corkscrews. There is no shortage of corkscrews in any price category. Many prices are down but as I always state, good pieces still bring good money. The one shown above was the high priced seller the last six months. Following “Opener and eBay Trivia” are results from the last ICCA Auction.

As I finish this issue eBay just made another “dramatic change.” You can no longer search by bidder ID to see what someone has purchased. Ebay is determined to give buyers full anonymity. At one time on eBay a bidder search not only showed auctions a bidder had won but anything they had bid on. I cannot tell you how many times I would see something a person was bidding on and I would end up bidding on that item thus helping the seller get a higher final price.

There were three non-JFO bidders I followed and one guy in particular was awesome at finding openers in obscure categories or really mis-listed in some way. About four or five years ago eBay only allowed you to see auctions the bidder had won. Now it was up to me only to locate listings like the above and it takes a lot of time and searching. At least be able to see what bidders were buying so I could see what I have missed out on.

Then about two years ago eBay really started pushing sellers to offer Buy-It-Now auctions and a lot of good openers have been sold cheap but the prize goes to the first person to see the auction. With the latest change I will have less eBay auction results because I tracked many JFO members and other buyers in general who bought nice openers.

With the above changes eBay just keeps pushing sellers out of the market place. Besides helping a buyer like me to see what other people are bidding on or buying, it was great for the seller because it got more bidders on their items especially if they had not listed the opener correctly (either by category or description or both.)

It will be interesting to see what eBay does next to keep messing with a once great auction site that is slowly becoming an “Amazon Number 2!” Anytime you buy a good opener drop your editor an email so I can add to the eBay results list. Especially if it is a “Buy-It-Now” opener or corkscrew. I catch a lot of results but will miss many good ones unless you help out.

Four good openers bought the last six months on eBay. The C-12-UL is from Pointer Brewing Company of Clinton, Iowa with #1033 stamped on it. There is a sister opener A-20-31 Pointer and it has #133. Both are manufacturers type numbers. A New Discovery CBO double hammer for John Drew Cigars. Another O-6-UL painted wall mount from Hyde Park of St. Louis. Before you say the M-1 is the common M-1-12 Haffenreffer litho opener, the common one is Black on Orange. This is Black on White. Congratulations to Jim McCoy for finding this one.

Just so everyone knows the top M-3 Slider shown is a before now unknown listing. The very common Beverwyck slider is on the bottom. Darvin Stilwell proved that it is always a good idea to check every opener carefully. You never know when a rare version or variety will turn up. Darvin got a steal at $24.99 (shipping was $2). Something this rare deserves to be shown twice in the same newsletter.

A few issues back Ben Hoffman had sold the CBO shown in the picture but his did not have a bottle opener. The CBO style is BB-15 and the one at the right has an opener cut into the blade by someone and is not factory produced. The strange part is both pieces (Ben's without and opener) and the one shown at the right sold in the $60 range. Unfortunately people are always trying to enhance the value of a piece. Buyer Beware!
