Hallo Laserdisc- und DVD-Fans, liebe Filmfreunde!

Herzlich willkommen zu unserem ersten Newsletter im Jahre 2008. Nach einer kurzen Pause melden wir uns wieder zurück und präsentieren Ihnen das Neueste aus Deutschland und den USA. Die große Menge an Neuveröffentlichungen in diesen beiden Regionen hat dazu geführt, dass wir in der vorliegenden Ausgabe auf die Japan-Releases verzichten haben. Das holen wir aber selbstverständlich im nächsten Newsletter nach. Für uns Filmsammler fing das neue Jahr bereits mit einer grandiosen Neuigkeit an: die Welt wird blau! Der schon viel zu lange anhaltende Konkurrenzkampf zwischen den beiden High Definition Lagern "Blu-ray Disc" und "HD DVD" scheint beigelegt zu sein. Anstoß dazu gab Warner Home Video mit der Ankündigung, ab Mitte 2008 High Definition Versionen nur noch im "Blu-ray"-Format anzubieten und auf "HD DVD" zu verzichten. Das löste eine gewaltige Lawine in der DVD-Branche aus und führte zu strahlenden Gesichtern bei den Fans. Denn damit dürfte die "HD DVD" auf lange Sicht gesehen vom Markt verschwinden. Logisch dass Toshiba als "HD DVD"-Verfechter nun alles erdenkliche tut, um sein System am Leben zu erhalten. Immerhin hat man zumindest mit Paramount derzeit noch einen der Großen mit im Boot. Aber es dürfte nur noch eine Frage der Zeit sein, bis auch Paramount ins "Blu-ray"-Lager Einzug hält. Daran werden auch nicht die fallenden Preise bei "HD DVD" Playern etwas ändern. "Blu-ray" dürfte hier der ganz klare Sieger im Formatstreit sein. Aber solange die Industrie noch Filme auf "HD DVD" veröffentlicht, werden wir diese auch zum Kauf anbieten. Und wem High Definition trotzdem noch nicht scharf genug ist, dem sei verraten, dass inzwischen die Pornoindustrie ihre nackten Tatsachen auf beiden Systemen vermarktet. In diesem Zusammenhang sei ganz dezent auch auf die nächste Seite verwiesen.

Mit der ersten Newsletter-Ausgabe 2008 starten wir eine neue Serie: "Wolfram Hannemann Film-Blog" (siehe Seite 4). In loser Folge wird hier der "Laser Hotline"-Chef persönlich seine knappen Kommentare zu aktuell gesichteten Kinofilmen in Form eines "Blogs" publizieren. Damit Sie auch auf dem Laufenden bleiben, was das Kinogeschehen angeht. Letztendlich werden die meisten dieser Filme irgendwann einmal auf DVD veröffentlicht. Und da ist es ganz gut zu wissen, welche Filme einen Kauf lohnen. Aber wohlgemerkt: es handelt sich hier um subjektive Eindrücke! Zu Risiken und Nebenwirkungen...na ja, Sie wissen schon.

Und jetzt viel Spaß beim Lesen. Bis zum nächsten Mal!

Ihr LASER HOTLINE Team

Darf's auch ein bisschen schärfer sein?

Beim Anblick der Dame auf dieser Seite sollte gleich klar sein, dass wir mit "schärfer" nicht unbedingt auf High Definition Bezug nehmen. Was nicht heißen soll, dass es im Hardcore-Sektor nicht auch ganz allmählich mit hochauflösender Ware beginnt. Vielmehr haben wir uns aufgrund zahlreicher Anfragen dazu entschlossen, unseren Kunden ab sofort auch das komplette Hardcore-Sortiment anzubieten. Wir haben Zugriff auf nahezu alle verfügbaren Hardcore-Label. Ob es ein bestimmter Titel ist, den Sie suchen, oder alle Filme mit Ihrer Lieblings-Aktrice - wir besorgen's Ihnen problemlos und zu akzeptablen Preisen. Voraussetzung dafür ist allerdings, dass Sie bei uns als "Laser Hotline Certified Customer" registriert sind. Noch Fragen? 0711-832188 oder einfach info@laserhotline.de

Der erste Trash-Hit 2008

Schon lange keinen echten Trash mehr gesehen? Dann probiert's doch mal mit NATIONAL TREASURE: BOOK OF SECRETS. Der neueste Film aus Jerry Bruckheimers Schmiede hat alles, was man zum Verzehr von gezuckertem Popcorn benötigt. Aber wenn das Popcorn alle ist, ist das Machwerk (leider) noch lange nicht zu ende....Hollywood strikes back ;-) . Ob der Film nur unfreiwillig komisch ist oder einfach komisch sein wollte, vermag ich momentan nicht zu beurteilen, da noch total „geflashed“.

Also: Augen auf, Hirn aus - und los geht's! Ab 24. Januar bundesweit.

27 Kleider treffen auf Cholera

Es gab zwei weitere Screenings am heutigen Freitag....äh...Freitag:

27 DRESSES (CinemaScope, DD 5.1)

Speziell in der ersten Hälfte äußerst seichte US-Unterhaltung, die dann aber doch noch so etwas wie Gefühle vermitteln konnte. Ein Film, der auch im Privat-TV mit fünf Werbeunterbrechungen noch funktioniert. Hübsche Hauptdarstellerin ;-)

LIEBE IN ZEITEN DER CHOLERA

(CinemaScope, DD 5.1 EX)

Obwohl er nur 138 Minuten dauert hat der Film eine gefühlte Länge von vier Stunden und zweiundzwanzig Minuten :-P ....und ist im Grunde genommen nichts weiter als ein gut getarnter Soft-Porno.

Damit zurück zu wichtigen Dingen....

Zynischer Krieg und digitaler

Breakdown

Das war mein Montagsmenü:

CHARLIE WILSON'S WAR (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Man könnte Mike Nichols neuen Film fast schon als Satire bezeichnen, wäre er nicht nach einer wahren Geschichte entstanden. Was sich hier in weniger als zwei Stunden an Dialogfeuerwerken voller Zynismus entlädt, ist einfach phantastisch. Tom Hanks und Philip Seymour Hoffman brillieren in Ihren Rollen und sind durchaus Oscar-verdächtig. Wer Filme mit politisch aktuellem Bezug mag, der ist hier richtig. Ab 7. Februar überall.

SEA MONSTERS 3D (1:1.85, Digital 3D)

Mehr oder weniger belangloses Infotainment. Sehenswert eigentlich nur wegen der digitalen 3D-Effekte (in Stuttgart mit Shutter-Technik). Allerdings konnten wir den Film trotz seiner Länge von nur 40 Minuten nicht ganz anschauen. Wieder einmal hat die Digitaltechnik hier einen Strich durch die Rechnung gemacht. Nach etwa fünf Minuten gab es einen kurzen, kompletten Bildausfall. Danach lief der Film zwar weiter, jedoch kam der Ton etwa zwei bis drei Minuten (!) zu spät. Nach weiteren 15 Minuten war dann nur noch ein konstantes Brummen zu hören. Da half auch ein Booten des Servers nichts. Offensichtlich war die angelieferte Festplatte schon mit Schrott bespielt.... Hoffen wir, dass die Sache zum Start ab 31. Januar ohne Probleme läuft.

Dienstag = Komödientag

Zwei Komödien haben heute versucht, die Kritiker auf Ihre Seite zu ziehen. Nur einer ist es gelungen:

LOVE AND OTHER DISASTERS

(1:185, DD 5.1)

Das Schönste an dem Film war die Location: London. Da habe ich mich doch gleich wieder wie zuhause gefühlt. Allerdings war der Mix aus Altbekanntem aus dem Comedy-Bereich nicht sonderlich originell und lohnt nicht wirklich den mühsamen Gang ins Kino. Und dort gibt's den ab 13. März zu sehen.

OSSI'S ELEVEN (CinemaScope, DD 5.1)

Wem „Ocean's Eleven“ gefallen hat (es soll solche geben), der wird an diesem Werk aus deutschen Landen erst einmal erkennen, wie witzig ein Film sein kann! Und dazu noch in faszinierendem CinemaScope - da wirken die Plattenbauten im Osten noch doller! Klasse Locations, klasse Ensemble. Made in Germany. Kaum zu glauben. Überzeugt Euch selbst ab 28. Februar. Back to work.... :-(

Entzugerscheinungen

Es gab heute Vormittag nur 1 Film. Werde ich jetzt an Entzugerscheinungen leiden?

MEIN BRUDER IST EIN EINZELKIND

(1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Politisch-dramatisches Kino aus Bella Italia mit dem Flair eines TV-Movies. Es kann ja nicht immer nur Spitzenware sein.... Um den o.g. Entzugerscheinungen vorzubeugen, habe ich für heute Abend noch ein reguläres Kinoticket gekauft.... :-D

Von Quallen und Drummern

Ein weiteres Kapitelchen in meinem Film-Blog ;-) ...

JELLYFISH (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Als ich im letzten Jahr DIE BAND VON NEBENAN gesehen habe, wurde mir klar, dass auch das israelische Kino richtig was zu bieten hat. Und mit JELLYFISH hat sich meine Meinung gefestigt! Faszinierende Bildersprache voller Symbolik und Metaphern; dazu mehrere sich überkreuzende Handlungsstränge und tolle Schauspieler - unverbraucht und gut! Ab 13. März in guten Kinos.

MEER IS NICH (CinemaScope, DD 5.1)

Ein Jugenddrama made in Germany und einigen Parallelen zu John Hughes SOME KIND OF WONDERFUL. Mit Newcomerin Elinor Lüdde als Mädel, das kurz vor dem Schulabschluss steht und von einer Karriere als Drummerin träumt. Die Elinor hat mir gut gefallen - meinen Kollegen dagegen „nich so“. Aber ich bin ja bekannt für einen exquisiten Geschmack :-D ... Negativ aufgefallen an diesem Werk ist mir die Ton- und Bildqualität. Den 16mm-Blow-Up sieht man den Bildern leider an. Und die Dialogverständlichkeit leidet sobald O-Ton verwendet wird. Da nützt auch nicht die Aussage des Pressebetreuers, der sagt, den Film in einem anderen Kino schon einmal besser gehört zu haben.

Nadeln und Blutfontänen

Zum Wochenausklang ging's noch mal richtig ab!

LAUF UM DEIN LEBEN (CinemaScope, DD 5.1)

Basierend auf der wahren Geschichte des „Ironman“ Andreas Niedrig, der es vom Junkie zum Spitzensportler geschafft hat. Perfekt für die große CinemaScope-Leinwand umgesetzt und ausgestattet mit einem sehr ansprechenden Sounddesign (gemischt in den Ruhr-Sound-Studios). Ein weiterer Beweis dafür, dass deutsche Filme nicht immer wie TV-Filme aussehen müssen. Kinostart: 24. April.

SWEENEY TODD (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Ein Grusical in alptraumhaftem Look wie man es von Tim Burton mittlerweile gewohnt ist. Das Blut schießt literweise aus den aufgeschlitzten Kehlen der Kunden des singenden „Barbers“ Johnny Depp. Nichts für schwache Nerven. Bombastischer Score. Und alle Schauspieler singen ihre Rollen selbst - sogar Alan Rickman. Ab 21. Februar mit FSK 16 (!) bundesweit.

Schönes, filmreiches Wochenende!

Galaxy Railways - The Complete Series

Anime writer and creator Leiji Masumoto (STAR BLAZERS, CAPTAIN HERLOCK) fashions another imaginative take on intergalactic space travel in his sci-fi series THE GALAXY RAILWAYS. Sometime in the distant future, humans crisscross the cosmos on an unusual transportation system comprised of flying trains and protected by an elite guard known as the Space Defense Force (SDF). The SDF's newest recruit is Manabu Yuuki, a brash teenager who finds himself going against his mother's wishes to fend off train accidents, terrorist bombings, and alien attacks on the Galaxy Railways with the help of an oddball crew. Deftly sustaining an aura of fantasy and wonder amid its action sequences, the sci-fi anime series is presented in its entirety with this collection of episodes.

Gurren Lagan - Vol. 1: Breakout!

In a world where mankind has been forced to live underground in the darkness of dangerous caves, constantly on the verge of collapse, one brave young man ventures to the surface. There he discovers a hostile environment held under siege by a group of giant robots, called Gunmen, determined to rid the planet of all humans. Are the mysteries hidden in the caves the key for mankind's return to the surface? Or is it foolish to even try in the face of this mechanized threat? All it might take is the bravery of an orphan—and the rest of his newly formed Great Gurren Brigade—to take back the planet, or die trying.

Pumpkin Scissors - Vol. 3: The Wounds of War

The landscape of the Pumpkin Scissors continues to expand in this third volume of the anime series that presents a parallel universe to the post-WWII Europe of the 1940s. The rich continue to live off the profits of war while the rest of society remains in chaos and poverty—despite Malvin and his team's constant efforts to restore order to the land. In this volume, Oreld befriends a prostitute whose brother fought alongside him in the war. Then, when Alice gets kidnapped, the plot begins to thicken as we learn more about the past lives of the team before the cease-fire was finally called. It's high drama, with enough atmosphere and comic moments to keep anime fans hooked to this addictive series.

Sam & Max: Freelance Police - The Complete Series

All 24 episodes from the animated Fox show SAM AND MAX: FREELANCE POLICE are included on this collection. The show was based on a comic book by Steve Purcell (who worked on the popular animated feature film CARS), and revolves around the various missions that freelance detectives Sam and Max are sent on. Sam resembles an oversized dog and Max is a larger-than-average rabbit—together they travel to the moon and to the center of the Earth (among many other places), and they often get distracted from their missions by the crazy creatures from the unusual world they inhabit.

Shrek 2 / Shrek 3D Party in the Swamp 2-Pack

Mike Myers, Eddie Murphy, Cameron Diaz, Antonio Banderas, Julie Andrews, John Cleese, Rupert Everett - Dir. Andrew Adamson

In this meet-the-parents sequel to the romantic fairy tale in which two ogres fall in love, SHREK 2 brings the loveable green menace (voiced by Mike Meyers) back to the big screen for a second round of mischief. This time, in addition to the voices of Cameron Diaz (as Shrek's sweetheart, Fiona) and Eddie Murphy (as their companion, Donkey), Julie Andrews and John Cleese chime in as Fiona's parents, Queen Lillian and King Harold. Surprising newcomer Puss in Boots (Antonio Banderas)—a slyly funny tabby honed for swashbuckling adventure—joins the crew. Last but certainly not least, the conniving duo of vain Prince Charming (Rupert Everett) and his power-hungry mom, the Fairy Godmother (Jennifer Saunders), spice up the action. With shimmering animation giving SHREK 2 near-3-D visuals, the witty scripting and eclectic pop music soundtrack keep the film hopping along with an upbeat pace. This double feature presents SHREK 2 and its companion adventure, SHREK 3-D.

Shrek / Shrek 3-D 2-Pack

Mike Myers, Eddie Murphy, Cameron Diaz
Set in a strange, colorful land populated by fairy tale characters, SHREK is a hilarious comedy that will win over audiences of children and adults alike. Shrek (voiced by Mike Myers) is a fearsome green ogre living in isolation in his own cozy little swamp. He is not receptive to visitors, and fends off the occasional party of torch-wielding villagers with ease. But when the power-hungry Lord Farquaad (John Lithgow) turns Shrek's swamp into a relocation camp for dozens of banished fairy-tale characters (including some pesky dwarves, wolves, and fairies) Shrek's quiet, introverted life is ruined. Joined by the talkative Donkey (Eddie Murphy), Shrek makes his way to Farquaad's realm of Duloc, where the Lord promises makes Shrek and offer: He will rid Shrek's land of the unwanted visitors if Shrek will go on a simple quest to free Princess Fiona (Cameron Diaz) from her remote, dragon-guarded castle and convince her to marry Farquaad. On their quest, Shrek and Donkey run into a number of bizarre situations, and Shrek finds himself realizing that he isn't quite the fearsome monster he has always made himself

12 Angry Men (Special Edition)

Henry Fonda, Lee J. Cobb, Martin Balsam, Jack Klugman, Jack Warden, E.G. Marshall, Ed Begley - Dir. Sidney Lumet
Sidney Lumet's directorial debut is a snapshot of the American judicial system in action. Twelve average New York males convene in a very small jury room on a very hot day in order to reach a verdict in a murder trial. Almost everyone wants to vote guilty and get on with their lives except for Juror No. 8 (Henry Fonda), a conscientious citizen who insists on establishing reasonable doubt. Arguments are made, cigarettes are smoked, murder weapons examined, diagrams drawn, and prejudices revealed. Firm opinions weaken and reverse; voices get raised, the clock ticks, and a ghetto kid's life hangs in the balance.

The Apartment (Special Edition)

Billy Wilder's THE APARTMENT blends his customary harsh cynicism with a humane streak that appears only fleetingly in his films. It stars Jack Lemmon as C.C. Baxter, an office clerk who carries favor with the executives in his office by giving them the key to his small apartment for the odd afternoon dalliance. Among them his is his callous boss, J.D. Shelldrake (Fred MacMurray), who Baxter eventually learns is using his place to sleep with Miss Kubelik (Shirley MacLaine), the sweet elevator operator the clerk has loved from afar. When Shelldrake coldly dumps the vulnerable young woman, she tries to commit suicide, but is saved by the intervention of Baxter. As the clerk lovingly nurses the young woman back to health he begins to realize, with the help of epigrammatic neighbor Dr. Dreyfuss (Jack Kruschen), exactly how much of a fool he has been. Wilder brilliant depiction of the average American office as a place of brutality, coldness, and alienation conjure up Kafka and Marx. The director seduces the audience into what appears to be an unusually frank sex comedy, but turns the tables in displaying the c

Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford (Blu-ray)

Brad Pitt, Casey Affleck, Sam Rockwell, Sam Shepard, Mary-Louise Parker, Paul Schneider, Jeremy Renner, Zooey Deschanel - Dir. Andrew Dominik
Based on the 1983 novel by Ron Hansen, THE ASSASSINATION OF JESSE JAMES BY THE COWARD ROBERT FORD captivates depicts the final few months of the legendary Jesse James's life. He was 34, and his days of ruthless robbing had dwindled, yet his fearsome reputation continued to swell. With an abundance of nickel-books retelling his brutal gun-slinging adventures, James (portrayed by Brad Pitt, in one his most convincing and moving roles) had become a symbolic hero for many Americans, and a dazzling tabloid icon for the 19th-century media. A particular young man seduced by the wonderment of James, the shifty Robert Ford (a breakthrough performance by Casey Affleck), wormed his way in as a James groupie, in the hopes of snagging a coveted spot alongside his brother Charley (played by the always affable Sam Rockwell) as one of the bandit's cronies. Ford, fiercely insecure and painfully aware that he would never be taken seriously by James (who, ever-plagued by paranoia and skepticism, found Ford's earnest obsession a bit unsettling), grew increasingly angry with his idol, leading to a destructive path

Becoming Jane

Anne Hathaway, James McAvoy, Maggie Smith, Julie Walters, James Cromwell, Helen McCrory - Dir. Julian Jarrold
BECOMING JANE is based on an incident in the life of the beloved writer Jane Austen, and follows the real-life romance that inspired her classic novels. Like many of her heroines, Jane (Anne Hathaway, THE DEVIL WEARS PRADA) is bright, strong-willed, and unwilling to marry merely for money, even though her family is struggling financially. Though many of her friends wish her to pair up with the nephew of a rich woman (Maggie Smith, HARRY POTTER AND THE ORDER OF THE PHOENIX), Jane wants something more. When she meets the Irish rogue Tom Lefroy (James McAvoy, THE LAST KING OF SCOTLAND), she initially can't stand him, but their romance blooms, serving as the inspiration for PRIDE AND PREJUDICE.

Bridges of Madison County (Special Edition)

Meryl Streep, Clint Eastwood - Dir. Clint Eastwood
The film adaptation of Robert James Waller's wildly popular, bestselling novel. The story takes place in 1965, in the farmlands of Iowa, where bored, middle-aged Italian housewife Francesca has just sent her two kids and husband away to the state fair. Shortly thereafter she encounters Robert Kincaid, a mysterious, rugged, "National Geographic" photographer, on assignment taking pictures of Iowa's covered bridges. The two are immediately attracted to each other, and when Francesca invites Robert back to her home, they begin a romantic, sensual, illicit affair that lasts over the next few days. For Francesca, this is the first time in years that she's experienced passion in her life, and she realizes that maybe she's found her true love. Robert feels the same way, and shortly before her family returns home, asks Francesca to run off with him. Francesca now must make an important decision — one that will affect the rest of her life and could leave her with many regrets...

Darjeeling Limited

Owen Wilson, Jason Schwartzman, Adrien Brody, Anjelica Huston - Dir. Wes Anderson
*Wes Anderson, the creator of RUSHMORE and THE ROYAL TENENBAUMS, offers another quirky, melancholic riff on familial ties and father issues in THE DARJEELING LIMITED. Francis (Owen Wilson) has invited his brothers, Jack (Jason Schwartzman) and Peter (Adrien Brody), to join him on a train trip for a spiritual quest through India. The brothers have been estranged since their father's sudden death, and each is now embroiled in his own personal drama. Jack is being toyed with by his two-timing girlfriend, Peter's wife is about to give birth, and Francis recently survived a car crash that nearly killed him. As the train chugs its way across India, the brothers try to reconnect, but mainly end up arguing and sharing pharmaceuticals. Francis admits that the real reason he lured them there is because he wants them to visit their mother (Anjelica Huston), who is living in a convent in the Himalayas. Peter and Jack are none too pleased with this plan, and immediately want to go home. The trip hits another snag when they are kicked off the train for a series of offenses. ## Dazed and Confused (HD DVD)

Richard Linklater's DAZED AND CONFUSED takes a hysterical, nostalgic cross-clique look at high school social development. On the last day of school in May 1976, students at a suburban Texas high school wait, lackadaisically, for classes to end. The restless almost-seniors—an eclectic group of stone-heads, fraternal jocks, and snobby sorority girls—can't wait to haze the incoming freshman, an annual event as harrowing for freshman boys as it is humiliating for girls. Amidst this teenage wasteland of drugs, partying, and rock and roll is football star Pink (Jason London), who saves scrawny pre-fresh Mitch (Wiley Wiggins) from being paddled to oblivion by upper-classmates. But Pink has his own battles: he's struggling over the head coach's demand that football players sign a pledge to abstain from sex and all psychoactive substances. When a wild end-of-the-year party is cancelled, the students end up congregating at a beer-blast in the back woods, organized by aging hang-about Wooderson (Matthew McConaughey). In the same way that George Lucas assembled a cast of fresh young faces for AMERICAN GRAFFITI, L

Death at a Funeral

Matthew MacFadyen, Rupert Graves, Peter Dinklage, Alan Tudyk, Daisy Donovan, Jane Asher - Dir. Frank Oz
Written by Dean Craig and directed by comedic veteran Frank Oz, DEATH AT A FUNERAL finds a well-to-do British family attempting to bury their patriarch amidst a backdrop of secrets, revelations, rivalries, and illicit pharmaceuticals. While the dutiful Daniel (Matthew MacFadyen) stoically contends with major roadblocks in planning his father's funeral, including being presented with the wrong body, others connected with the family have catastrophes of their own, including the anxious Simon (Alan Tudyk), who is engaged to Martha (Daisy Donovan), and mistakenly takes a hallucinogen to calm his nerves. Lurking in the background is a mysterious stranger (Peter Dinklage) who threatens to send the chaotic proceedings over the brink.

Deep in My Heart

José Ferrer, Merle Oberon, Helen Traubel, Paul Stewart, Jim Backus, Walter Pidgeon,

Paul Henreid, Ann Miller, Cyd Charisse, Isobel Elsom, David Burns, Rosemary Clooney, Gene Kelly, Jane Powell, Vic Damone, James Mitchell, Howard Keel, Tony Martin, Joan Weldon - Dir. Stanley Donen

This daring musical biography of composer Sigmund Romberg, whose music graced scores of stage shows and a dozen films before his death in 1951, features compositions by Romberg himself and sparkles with the talent of dancers such as Gene Kelly, Cyd Charisse, and Ann Miller. Howard Keel and Jane Powell (who teamed up memorably the same year with director Stanley Donen in SEVEN BRIDES FOR SEVEN BROTHERS) and Rosemary Clooney add their voices to the tale, as do other famous singers, while José Ferrer plays the part of Romberg. Romberg moved to New York City in 1909 and became a conductor in a restaurant orchestra, then was hired by Jacob Shubert to be his staff composer, writing about 40 scores for musical shows. The operettas THE STUDENT PRINCE and THE DESERT SONG made Romberg's name.

Descent

Rosario Dawson, Chad Faust, Vanessa Ferlito, Wilson Jermaine Heredia, Tracie Thoms - Dir. Talia Lugacy
Rosario Dawson produces and stars in DESCENT, a project directed by her real-life friend Talia Lugacy, and one close to the actress's heart. A very dark film, DESCENT assures viewers from the very first frame that something is going to go wrong. There's just something off about the colors, the sets, the slow-moving dialogue. Many critics have said the film begins with Dawson as a carefree college girl navigating the fun, party-filled world of college. But Dawson's character, Maya, is not your typical sorority girl. Instead, she's a smart, serious student who spends much of her time alone and has apparently not had a date in months. So when a good-looking guy named Jared asks her out and will not take no for an answer, she reluctantly accepts, having no idea that their short-lived romance will culminate in his date-raping her in a basement.

Matt Damon, Ben Affleck, Linda Fiorentino, George Carlin, Salma Hayek, Chris Rock, Jason Lee, Jason Mewes, Alan Rickman, Kevin Smith, Bud Cort, Alanis Morissette, Janeane Garofalo, Brian O'Halloran, Jeff Anderson, Guinevere Turner - Dir. Kevin Smith
Irreverent enough to merit a disclaimer at the beginning, DOGMA is nevertheless pro-God and pro-tolerance. The story involves two fallen angels, Bartleby (Ben Affleck) and Loki (Matt Damon), who have found a loophole in Catholic dogma that will allow them back into heaven. However, this breach would result in the destruction of the world, so a ragtag group of prophets, scions, and apostles set out to stop them. The success of the film is in the juxtaposition of Smith's trademark acerbic attitude and witty dialogue against the enormous canvas of Christian iconography and apocalyptic conflict.

Cate Blanchett, Geoffrey Rush, Clive Owen, Samantha Morton, Rhys Ifans, Jordi Molla, Abbie Cornish - Dir. Shekhar Kapur
*Nearly a decade after Cate Blanchett drew the attention of audiences and critics alike with ELIZABETH, the Oscar-winning actress returns to the role of the Virgin Queen. Though the protestant ruler has been on the throne for decades in 1585, Elizabeth I's reign is still under attack from both inside her country and from the continent. Her cousin, Mary, Queen of Scots (Samantha Morton), carries the favor of the nation's Catholics as she schemes for the throne from prison, while Spain's King Philip II (Jordi Molla) plots an invasion with the power of his famous armada. But Elizabeth is also concerned with the arrival of Sir Walter Raleigh (Clive Owen), a charming pirate and adventurer. 1800s, this family film chronicles the triumphant victory won by Frank and his mustang Hidalgo in the Ocean of Fire, an often-fatal competition in which the best riders and thoroughbreds race across Middle Eastern deserts. For Frank, who is known in the west for his prowess as a Pony Express rider and the winner of long-distance horse races, the lure of the Ocean of Fire is not only the $100,000 purse but also the clear challenge—both of which prove irresistible, and inspire him to travel across the world for this life-altering experience.

Ice Age (Blu-ray)

A star-studded cast provides the voices for the prehistoric creatures in this computer-animated feature set 20,000 years ago as the Ice Age approaches. Seemingly anti-social Manny, a woolly mammoth (voiced by Ray Romano), acts as if he just wants to be left alone. When he meets Sid (voiced by John Leguizamo), a sloth, the two become unlikely traveling companions. The plot thickens when the duo finds a human infant and decides to try to return the child to its „herd.“ Manny slowly but surely reveals his heart of gold, while Sid continues to provide comic relief. Diego (voiced by Denis Leary), a saber-tooth tiger with ulterior motives, soon joins them in their search for the humans. Ultimately, this group of misfits becomes its own herd, learning about friendship and loyalty as they brave snow, ice, freezing temperatures, predators, hail, and even boiling lava pits. All the while, a saber-tooth squirrel, Scat, provides comic relief as he valiantly struggles with an acorn. A well-written, humorous script and endearing characters mesh well with the state-of-the-art technology and effects. Other stars lendin

In the Valley of Elah

Tommy Lee Jones, Charlize Theron, Susan Sarandon, Jason Patric, James Franco, Josh Brolin, Frances Fisher - Dir. Paul Haggis

Tommy Lee Jones plays Hank Deerfield, a retired military man investigating the mysterious disappearance of his soldier son, Mike, in this somber mystery-drama from director Paul Haggis (CRASH). Charlize Theron is the civilian homicide cop in the small town near the base where Mike recently returned from a term of combat in Iraq. When this unlikely pair ends up investigating the mystery together, they encounter some suspicious covering-up from the army. Deerfield gets access to his son's camera phone which contains startling video footage from combat overseas. Using a muted palette of military browns and greens, Haggis shows the same sharp eye for humanistic detail that served him so well in CRASH, infusing desolate scenes of civilian life—sterile concrete barracks, sleazy strip clubs, homey but empty diners, drugs, fast food joints, and ghostly motels—with vivid detail. Performances are all Oscar-worthy: Jones's craggy, weather-beaten face hiding grief and anguish beneath a steely facade until they threatens to boil over. ## Jane Austen Book Club

Life imitates art in this adaptation of Karen Joy Fowler's bestselling novel about a book group reading the work of Jane Austen. Each of the people in the group is at a different stage of life: there's Sylvia (Amy Brenneman), whose husband has just left her for another woman, and her daughter Allegra (Maggie Grace), who's looking for a woman herself. Bernadette (Kathy Baker) has six marriages under her belt, while Jocelyn's (Maria Bello) most significant relationship is with her dog. New to the group of friends are Prudie (Emily Blunt), a teacher who is unhappy with her marriage, and Grigg (Hugh Dancy), the group's only man—a sci-fi fan invited by Jocelyn to take Sylvia's mind off her failed marriage. As they make their way through Austen's novels, they discover that the writer's work is just as relevant in the 21st century as it was in the 19th. The group has its own Emma, and a sparring would-be couple bears striking resemblance to Elizabeth Bennett and Mr. Darcy.

Margarita Lozano, Claudio Bigagli, Franco Franchi, Frankie Ingrassia, Franco Scaldati, Omero Antonutti - Dir. Paolo Taviani, Vittorio Taviani

Four stories by Luigi Pirandello are the basis of this five-part anthology film directed by Paolo and Vittorio Taviani.

In the first, „The Other Son,“ Mariagrazia (Margaret Lozano), is the mother of three sons, one of whom lives with her. Despite his reverence for her, she can feel only contempt for the boy. The second tale, „Moonstruck“ tells of Sidorò (Enrica Maria Modugno), a woman whose husband has epileptic seizures during a full moon which he must conceal from his neighbors. „The Jar“ concerns a craftsman (Franco Franchi) who has been hired by a feudal lord, Don Lollo (Ciccio Ingrassia), to repair an enormous olive jar, but while working, he traps himself inside. In the fourth story, „Requiem,“ a group of villagers oppose a feudal landlord, the Baron (Pasquale Spadola), and a group of local officials in a struggle to be allowed to bury their dead. The final episode, „Conversing with Mother,“ is a dialogue between Pirandello (Omero Antonutti) and the shadow of his deceased mother (Regina Bianchi). Pirandello's simple tales, less philosophical than his classic plays, have been injected with the Tav Oddball auteur David Lynch takes viewers on another surreal journey in this highly enigmatic neo-noir. The story concerns a jazz musician (Bill Pullman) who is tormented by his cheating wife (Patricia Arquette), haunted by a spectral demon, and ultimately accused of his wife's brutal slaying, which he doesn't remember. Then „plot two“ takes over as the musician switches roles with a mechanic who launches an affair with the seductive moll (Arquette again) of a dangerous gangster. Lynch leaves it up to the audience to connect the dots, which makes for a challenging, though exhilarating, motion picture.

Ginger Rogers, Ray Milland, Rita Johnson, Robert Benchley, Diana Lynn, Edward Fielding, Frankie Thomas, Charles Smith - Dir. Billy Wilder
One wonders how greatly Billy Wilder's farce about an older man's unusual interest in a teenaged girl would have to be altered to be remade now. It stars Ginger Rogers as Susan Applegate, a young woman forced to disguise herself as a 12-year-old girl to get a half-price ticket while traveling from New York to her home town. En route, she meets Major Kirby (Ray Milland), an instructor at a military school who is unable to figure out the mysterious quality which draws him to the seemingly innocent young girl.

Flooding on the tracks on the outskirts of town brings Kirby's fiancée Pamela (Rita Johnson) to the train, where she finds that he allowed Susan to spend the night in the lower berth of his compartment. To prove his story he brings her back to the school, until she can be taken home, housing her with Pamela. Although her younger sister Lucy (Diana Lynn) sees through the ruse, her hatred for her sister creates a bond with Susan. The light romantic comedy, Wilder's first American film as a director, features his favorite motif of disguise and deception. Despite the genre, the scenes between Roges and

Martian Child

Joan Cusack, John Cusack, Amanda Peet, Oliver Platt, Sophie Okonedo, David Kaye, Bobby Coleman, Richard Schiff - Dir. Menno Meyjes

After decades of playing single men in romantic comedies from the classic SAY ANYTHING to the critical favorite HIGH FIDELITY, the year 2007 marks a change for John Cusack. With roles as fathers in 1408, GRACE IS GONE, and MARTIAN CHILD, the beloved actor grows up and deserves some of the highest praise of his career. In MARTIAN CHILD, David Gordon (Cusack) is a successful science fiction author, plagued by both the death of his wife and writer's block. When a group home worker (Sophie Okonedo) tries to pair him with a young boy named Dennis (Bobby Coleman), David initially resists. But once David spends time with Dennis, he realizes how special the boy is. The outsider (and sci-fi fan) in David thinks he might just understand Dennis best since the child believes that he's from Mars and he'll return there soon. David and Dennis struggle to create the most unconventional of families, as Dennis strives to learn more about being human.

Michael Clayton (Blu-ray)

George Clooney, Tom Wilkinson, Tilda Swinton, Sydney Pollack - Dir. Tony Gilroy
Michael Clayton (George Clooney) is what is known in the legal world as a „fixer,“ or in the character's own pejorative version, a „janitor“ who cleans up legal messes for VIPs and corporations on behalf of a prestigious New York City law firm. A former litigator, Clayton has found a niche that capitalizes on his legal acumen and shrewd people skills, and yet, after 13 years on the job, finds himself increasingly disgusted with his clientele. The film covers four pivotal days of his life, in which a midlife crisis and a crisis of conscience neatly converge when he is called in to „fix“ a situation unfolding in one of his firm's hottest cases. Brilliant lawyer Arthur Edens (another powerhouse performance by Tom Wilkinson), representing a huge agro-chemical corporation being hit by a class action suit, has a bipolar breakdown, compounded by guilt over his defense of a company that is probably in the wrong, but is wealthy enough to buy its innocence either way. The company's CEO (Tilda Swinton) will stop at nothing to keep Edens from sinking the case. Clayton must decide how much of Edens's mad rebellion a

Night of the Shooting Stars

Omero Antonutti, Margarita Lozano, Claudio Bigagli, Luigi Vannucchi, Marcello Modugno - Dir. Paolo Taviani, Vittorio Taviani
Framed as the memory of a woman remembering her childhood during WWII, it focuses not on combat, but on the life-changing effects of war on the residents of a small village. Starring Maria Lozano as Concetta, the narrator, the film begins during the closing days of the war as Nazi troops, aware that the war is lost, take revenge on the old men women and children who remain in the towns and villages of Italy, as they continue to retreat in the face of advancing American forces. The people of Concetta's town, San Minato, try to decide whether to stay and possibly be butchered by the Nazis, or leave the area to seek out Allied troops. Although one faction, led by a wise old man, ventures out on the road, the rest, distrusting the Americans as much as they fear the Nazis, stay put. Although the death and suffering inevitably take prominence in Concetta's memories, there are surreal touches, such her fantasy that the partisans are Greek warriors. In addition, moments of lyricism, such as Galvano's awkward declaration of love for her, evoke the complex texture of war experiences.

Redacted

Izzy Diaz, Daniel Stewart Sherman, Patrick Carroll, Mike Figueroa, Ty Jones, Rob Devaney, Kel O'Neill - Dir. Brian De Palma
Director Brian De Palma, whose CASUALTIES OF WAR addressed a horrific tragedy that occurred during the Vietnam war, turns his attention to Iraq with an unfortunately similar tale. Inspired by true events, REDACTED follows a group of soldiers who are stationed at a checkpoint in Iraq. Angel Salazar (Izzy Diaz) is an aspiring filmmaker who is intent on capturing his experience on videotape. His fellow soldiers—Reno Flake (Patrick Carroll), Lawyer McCoy (Rob Devaney), and Gabe Blix (Kel O'Neill)—seem to be surprisingly well-adjusted at first, but it isn't long before their true colors come through. When Reno decides to get drunk and harass an Iraqi family, the situation devolves into rape and murder, putting an incredible strain on Lawyer, who wants to expose Reno but doesn't want to rat out a fellow soldier.

Revolver

Ray Liotta, Vincent Pastore, Andre 3000, Terrence Maynard, Jason Statham - Dir. Guy Ritchie

Director Guy Ritchie's (LOCK, STOCK AND TWO SMO-KING BARRELS) fourth feature film is about a hard-bitten gambler named Jake Green (played by Ritchie favorite Jason Statham). Green has just spent a lengthy stretch in jail and is seeking revenge on the man who put him behind bars—crime overlord Dorothy Macha (Ray Liotta). Macha's thirst for gambling is his weak spot, and Green exploits it by soundly beating him on a visit to the crime boss's own casino. A hit is subsequently ordered on Green, and he teams up with two tough guys. Avi (Andre Benjamin aka Andre 3000 from Atlanta-based hip-hop outfit Outkast) and Zack (Vincent Pastore) who offer to protect him. Green must give all his money to Avi and Zack, and work for them, if he values his life, so he agrees to the deal despite simultaneously discovering that he suffers from a rare blood disease that will kill him within three days.

Ranbir Kapoor, Sonam Kapoor, Salman Khan, Rani Mukherjee - Dir. Sanjay Leela Bhansali

*Bollywood and Hollywood entwine for this mix of romance, singing, comedy, dancing, and melodrama, directed by Sanjay Leela Bhansali (DEVDas) and produced in tandem with Sony/Columbia. The achingly beautiful Rani Mukherjee narrates and appears as Gulab, a streetcorner princess haunting the red light district in an expressionistic melange of Venice, Vegas, and Amsterdam. The irrepressibly callow musician Raj (Ranbir Kapoor) catches her eye, but Raj thinks he's in love with Sakina (Sonam Kapoor) who prefers to pine away for her absent lover, Imaan (Salman Kahn). All this longing (it's based on Dostoyevsky's WHITE NIGHTS) is stunningly captured through bizarre and elaborate backdrops, winding staircases, torrents of rain, and a color scheme heavy on the blues. Fans of Baz Luhrman's MOULIN ROUGE will want to live inside this film: there may not be a whole lot of weight to all the tomfoolery, but the pain of youthful romantic idealism is part of the message. The music is always the thing with Bollywood films and SAAWARIYA packs in its share of rousing numbers. Anthony Hopkins, John Turturro, Christian Slater, Stella Arroyave, Camryn Manheim, Lisa Pepper, Gavin Grazer, Michael Lerner, Fionnula Flanagan, Michael Clarke Duncan, Jeffrey Tambor - Dir. Anthony Hopkins
Anthony Hopkins channels his inner David Lynch for this MULHOLLAND DRIVE-like descent into the warped mind of a Hollywood screenwriter. Felix Bonhoeffer (Hopkins) appears to be losing his grip on reality. After he witnesses a highway road-rage incident go deadly, Felix's world begins to spin out of control. For one thing, the characters he's written into his most recent script have begun to appear in his actual life. Two of these figures (played by Christian Slater and Jeffrey Tambor) happen to be evil hit men who have just knocked off another seemingly innocent victim (Michael Clarke Duncan). But when Slater's character drops dead on set, the maniacal studio boss (John Turturro) sends Felix to the Mojave Desert to rewrite the script and resolve the situation. Along the way, he struggles to separate reality from fiction before the two blur together to the point where he no longer knows what world he's living in.

Solomon and Sheba

Yul Brynner, Gina Lollobrigida, George Sanders, Marisa Pavan, John Crawford, Laurence Naismith, Jose Nieto, Alejandro Rey - Dir. King Vidor
Yul Brynner stars as the legendary figure of the Bible in King Vidor's only contribution to this popular 1950s genre. When aged King David (Finlay Currie) has a vision from God telling him that Solomon should succeed him as ruler of the Israelites, David heeds His word. This angers his martial brother, Adonijah (George Sanders), who threatens to wrest the throne from his younger brother. Israel thrives under the reign of the wise king, and its success creates uneasiness among the powerful kingdoms of the region. The pharaoh conspires with Sheba (Gina Lollobrigida), granting her access to the Red Sea that she might beseege Solomon with her charm, thereby luring the ruler to his doom. Solomon is dazzled by the queen's beauty and quickly falls under her sway. As the king's attention is turned away from the Lord and the welfare of his people, the country begins to deteriorate. The Lord finally expresses his displeasure with the prevailing atmosphere of licentiousness by destroying the Temple of Jehovah. The chastened Solomon grasps the error of his ways, and a transformed Sheba decides to convert to Judaism

*Director Richard Kelly's follow-up to 2001's surprisingly popular DONNIE DARKO is a sprawling dystopian satire featuring an all-star cast and a storyline that splinters off into strange and unexpected places. The film begins with a nuclear explosion in Texas, which sparks a full-scale war between the U.S., the Middle East, and North Korea. Kelly's central character is action-movie star Boxer Santaros (Dwayne „The Rock“ Johnson), who is suffering from a bout of amnesia upon returning from the desert. His reasons for being in the desert are hazy, but he's hooked up with porn star Krysta Now (Sarah Michelle Gellar), and together they have written a screenplay about the end of the world. Santaros tries to prepare for the film by taking a ride with a cop named Taverner (Sean William Scott). But the cop is actually Taverner's twin brother, who is working for a shadowy group of neo-Marxists who are trying to overthrow the government. ## Swordfish / Terminator 3: Rise of the Machines

Kristanna Loken, Arnold Schwarzenegger, John Travolta, Hugh Jackman, Halle Berry, Don Cheadle - Dir. Dominic Sena, Jon Mostow
SWORDFISH: Star John Travolta revisits the grinning villain territory he explored in BROKEN ARROW and FACE/OFF with this stylish, supercharged techno-thriller. He plays Gabriel, a charismatic, fast-living mystery man who, with help from his right-hand woman, Ginger (Halle Berry), recruits ex-con and former master hacker Stan (Hugh Jackman) to aid in a plan to steal billions from a secret government bank account. Stan reluctantly agrees to help in order to finance the legal battle for custody of his young daughter (Camryn Grimes). Meanwhile an FBI computer crimes specialist (Don Cheadle) is determined to find out what's about to go down, and plans to use Stan to find out. The movie amply earns its keep by cleverly zig-zagging away from audience's expectations and delivering many clever, pulse-pounding action set pieces—including an incredible opening explosion, a car chase through downtown Los Angeles replete with blazing machine guns, and a spectacular airborne climax.

Tierra De Violencia

Rodolfo De Anda, David Reynoso, Rogelio Guerra, Lorena Velasquez - Dir. Raúl de Anda
The Mexican Western TIERRA DE VIOLENCIA (LAND OF VIOLENCE) is about a town caught in a struggle between competing interests that erupts into bloodshed. Plans are made to build a railroad through the town, but many of the wealthy citizens believe it will affect them negatively. They hire a group of vicious gunmen to attack the railroad and stop its construction, but the presence of the thugs changes the makeup of the town for the worse. The production of TIERRA DE VIOLENCIA was a family affair: it stars Rodolfo de Anda, was directed by his brother Raul de Anda Jr., and was written by their father, the celebrated Mexican filmmaker Raul de Anda.

Touch

Skeet Ulrich, Bridget Fonda, Christopher Walken, Tom Arnold, Gina Gershon - Dir. Paul Schrader
Based on a novel by Elmore Leonard, TOUCH chronicles a young former Franciscan monk's return to Los Angeles following years spent in a remote jungle monastery. Charlie Lawson—or Juvenal (Skeet Ulrich), as he is known—takes a job in a rehab center, where he discovers stigmata on his palms and a gift for healing when he restores a blind woman's sight. As word of his miracles gets out, con man Bill Hill (Christopher Walken) sees money in these divine occurrences and sends promoter pal Lynn Faulkner (Bridget Fonda) to infiltrate Juvenal's world and find out if he's authentic. In true farcical style, she falls for him in the process. What follows are many slightly zany attempts to capture Juvenal and his powers by a religious zealot and two sharklike reporters. Surprisingly slick and light, TOUCH (based on the novel by Elmore Leonard) is highlighted by a knockout supporting cast and is filled with cool dialogue and enhanced by hip production design. Director Paul Schrader once again looks at religion in the context of the modern world—this time with a sense of humor—in this fun and original film.

Joaquin Phoenix, Reese Witherspoon, Ginnifer Goodwin, Robert Patrick, Tyler Hilton, Dallas Roberts, Shelby Lynn, Waylon Payne, Shooter Jennings, Jonathan Rice, Sandra Ellis Lafferty, Dan Beene, Ridge Canipe - Dir. James Mangold
Primarily the story of the love that grew between country stars Johnny Cash and June Carter during the early years of Cash's career, WALK THE LINE is the result of intense collaboration between director James Mangold, co-writer Gill Dennis, Johnny Cash, and June Carter Cash. Though both Cashes died in 2003, they oversaw the script's development for seven years. Mangold and Cash's insistence that the film's stars would actually sing paid off. Witherspoon's singing (as June) is lovely, and Phoenix's contains the raw energy and soul that defined Cash's sound.

Moritz Bleibtreu, Mary Beth Hurt, Lily Tomlin - Dir. Paul Schrader

Director Paul Schrader (AMERICAN GIGOLO, AFFLICTION) has often described himself as making films with two characters: a man and his room. In THE WALKER, his lonely man is Carter Page III (Woody Harrelson), a charming social accessory in the Capote vein, escorting the wives of high-powered politicians to society gatherings and offering witty rejoinders at the appropriate moment. Dressed in a peacock's assortment of tailored suits, Carter attends an exclusive, trash-talking canasta game with the wilting wives of D.C. power brokers: queen bee Natalie Van Miter (Lauren Bacall), old vet Abigail Deloreau (Lily Tomlin), and newcomer Lynn Lockner (Kristin Scott Thomas). It is not unimportant that Carter, the prodigal son of a famed Southern politician, is gay and living in a city controlled by a right-wing administration. Indeed, it is Washington D.C. that provides Schrader's stifling „room,“ a landscape where everyone has an angle, sympathies change in a heartbeat, and lives are ruined with a whisper. The film's plot is set into motion when Carter chauffeurs Lynn to a sexual rendezvous with a Washington lobb

Patrick Fugit, Shannyn Sossamon, Tom Waits, Will Arnett, Leslie Bibb, Shea Whigham, John Hawkes, Abraham Benrubi, Mark Junior Boone, Jake Busey, Mikal P. Lazarev - Dir. Goran Dukic
If a film begins with a suicide, chances are, it won't be the feel-good movie of the year. But WRISTCUTTERS: A LOVE STORY is surprisingly sweet and funny even as it proudly features a dark streak that lives up to its title. After a rough breakup, Zia (Patrick Fugit) decides to off himself by slashing open his wrists. Instead of waking up in heaven or hell, Zia arrives in a bland world that looks a lot like the one he just left, though with far less color, life, and—obviously—happiness. In this afterlife reserved for suicides, no one can smile, and the sky is a starless void. But when Zia hears that his ex-girlfriend (Leslie Bibb) has killed herself and lives in his world, he sets out on a road trip to find her. Joined by Russian musician Eugene (Shea Whigham) and pretty hitchhiker Mikal (Shannyn Sossamon), Zia crosses the desolate landscape and encounters a variety of strange characters. With the help of Mikal, Zia realizes that maybe his ex-girlfriend isn't really what he's looking for.

Woody Guthrie - This Machine Kills Fascists

An exhaustive documentary exploration of one of history's most important, socially conscious folk singers, THIS MACHINE KILLS FASCISTS combines rare documentary footage of Guthrie's era with interviews from the artist's friends and family. Weighing in are Pete Seeger, Guthrie's son Arlo and daughter Nora, his friend Jimmy Longhi, and a panel of experts. The program outlines the concerns of the times through Guthrie's music, tracing the origins and meanings of such songs as „Pastures of Plenty,“ „Pretty Boy Floyd,“ and „This Land is Your Land.“

GWAR - Phallus in Wonderland

A long form video from the alien warriors of Richmond, Virginia who try to offend everyone. The narrative — in which the institutions of America come together to censor GWAR — basically serves as an assault of modern capitalist culture and its values. The movie contains several of their gross-out songs, all of which are from the album „America Must Be Destroyed.“ The strangest tongue-in-cheek political satire you'll ever see.

1968 with Tom Brokaw

Host Tom Brokaw explains why 1968 was one of the most important years in 20th century history. Vietnam, the Beatles, Martin Luther King's assassination, the Civil Rights movement, Richard Nixon in the White House, and the death of Robert F. Kennedy are just a few of the events Brokaw recalls in vivid detail. Archive footage and expert commentary from the veteran broadcaster combine to bring 1968 back to life.

Crossing the Line

In 1962, James Joseph Dresnok, a soldier in the U.S. Army, crossed over the heavily guarded line of demarcation and defected to the communist country of North Korea. Soon there was a group of four American military defectors in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, becoming part of Kim Il-Sung's and, later, Kim Il-Jong's propaganda machine. After more than 40 years, Dresnok tells his story for the first time to filmmaker Daniel Gordon (THE GAME OF THEIR LIVES) in CROSSING THE LINE, a fascinating look at a little-known corner of the Cold War. Dresnok had a difficult upbringing, including living in foster homes and an orphanage. The instability in his personal life impelled him to join the army, which stationed him in South Korea. But because of his lifelong mistrust of authority, he refused to follow direct orders and was facing a potential court-martial when he sneaked into North Korea, a treasonous move that had even more impact because it came at the height of the Cold War. There, he was joined by Larry Allen Abshier, Jerry Wayne Parrish, and Charles Robert Jenkins, who all went on to star in a s

My Kid Could Paint That

In this fascinating documentary, filmmaker Amir Bar-Lev chronicles the rise and fall of child artist Marla Olmstead, the daughter of a dental hygienist and factory worker from upstate New York. Marla was all of four years old when she sold her first abstract painting. When the New York Times published a piece about her prodigious talent, she became an overnight media sensation, and her paintings quickly began to sell for up to five figures. While many lauded her amazing ability—and even likened her to Picasso—her success also sparked heated debates about the true value of abstract art.

Nanking

In 1937, Japanese armed forces entered Nanking, China, and systematically raped and killed over 200,000 Chinese in one of human history's worst atrocities. Decades later, there's still bad blood and unresolved tensions. This wrenching documentary from Bill Guttentag and Dan Sturman combines harrowing archival footage, interviews with survivors (including conrtrite Japanese vets), and reenactments with actors Woody Harrelson, Stephen Dorff, Mariel Hemingway, and Jurgen Prochnow (as a Schindler-like member of the Nazi party), reading from the diaries of real-life heroic westerners who set up a safety zone in attempt to shelter the hundreds of thousands of refugees from the city. Though this element adds some much-needed hope for humanity, this is still a deeply upsetting documentary. It's very well made and should be considered required viewing, but be warned: some of the rarely-before-seen archival footage is truly graphic and disturbing. Based on the bestselling book, THE RAPE OF NANKING by Iris Chang, this documentary makes effective use of a quietly shattering Kronos Quartet score. The film is presente
