Hallo Laserdisc- und DVD-Fans, liebe Filmfreunde!

Kennen Sie Jasna Fritzi Bauer? Wenn Sie die Blog-Seite unseres Filmbloggers Wolfram Hannemann immer aufmerksam durchlesen, dann sollte Ihnen dieser Name durchaus vertraut sein. Denn in Ausgabe 293 unseres Newsletters rezensierte Wolfram Hannemann die deutsche Komödie EIN TICK ANDERS, die seit 07. Juli nun auch bundesweit in den Kinos zu sehen ist. Jasna Fritzi Bauer spielt darin die Hauptrolle und hatte es unserem nimmermüden Filmblogger nach Sichtung der Pressevorführung angetan: “...Andi Rosenhagen liefert mit seinem Film eine nette kleine und durchwegs sympathische Komödie ab, die ganz von seiner hübschen und talentierten Hauptdarstellerin getragen wird. Jasna Fritzi Bauer glänzt als Minderjährige, die sich nicht nur mit Tourette herumschlagen, sondern auch noch den gesamten Rest der Familie auf den richtigen Weg bringen muss. Dass der Film in der zweiten Hälfte plötzlich von einer Jugendkomödie mit Anspruch in ein teilweise albernes Märchen umschlägt, macht leider in anfangs so gute Stimmung etwas zunichte. Dank der exzellenten Hauptdarstellerin und der hervorragenden Kameraarbeit von Ralf M. Mendle sowie der vielen witzigen Regieeinfälle aber dennoch sehenswert...”. Sie können sich vielleicht vorstellen, wie überrascht Wolfram war, als er erfuhr, dass auch Jasna Fritzi Bauer selbst zu den Leserinnen seines Film-Blogs gehört. Auf ihrem eigenen Internet-Blog zitiert die junge Dame sogar seine Rezension zu EIN TICK ANDERS. Nachzulesen gibt es das Ganze hier: <http://jasnfritzibauer.blogspot.com/2011/05/andi-rogenhagen-liefert-mit-seinem-film.html>. Wir wünschen Jasna Fritzi jedenfalls viel Erfolg mit ihrer skurril-turbulenten Komödie, die durchaus einen Gang ins Kino wert ist.

Kommen wir nach dieser positiven Meldung gleich zu etwas Unangenehmen. Unlängst wurde endlich die lang erwartete HERR DER RINGE TRILOGIE mit den “Extended Versionen” erstmals auf Blu-ray Disc veröffentlicht. Doch wer jetzt glaubte, damit am Ziel seiner Träume zu sein, den enttäuschte Warner Home Video ziemlich herb. Vermutet der ein oder andere anfangs noch, dass seine Gehörgänge nicht mehr ganz in Ordnung seien und ein Besuch beim Ohrenarzt von Nöten wäre, so gab es jetzt seitens des Herstellers eine Entwarnung. Warner ließ verkünden, dass die deutsche Tonspur in der Tonhöhe nicht richtig an die Abspielgeschwindigkeit der Blu-ray Disc (24 BpS) angepasst wurde und damit etwa um einen halben Ton tiefer ausfällt. Im dritten Teil, so ist zu hören, wird der Film sogar für kurze Zeit asynchron (etwa bei Minute 57). In einem Schreiben von Warner Home Video heisst es nun:

“Wenn du mit der Ton-Qualität des Produktes unzufrieden bist, bietet Warner die Möglichkeit für einen kostenlosen Austausch der entsprechenden Blu-ray Discs an. Um den Austausch-Service in Anspruch zu nehmen, steht ab Montag, den 4. Juli 2011, ein Service-Center zur Verfügung, das per Post, E-mail oder Fax wie folgt erreichbar ist:

TCC SERVICES
WARNER HOME VIDEO / Kundenservice
„Stichwort: Der Herr der Ringe“
MAURERSTR. 50 / Werk 2
52477 ALSDORF
E-Mail: WHVKundenservice@tcc-services.com
Fax: 02404 58319

Unter Einsendung einer Kopie des Kaufbeleges werden dort alle eingehenden Austausch-Anfragen registriert. Eine Einsendung der gekauften Blu-ray Discs an das Service-Center ist nicht nötig. Spätestens ab 1. August 2011 erhaltet ihr dann ein Set von 6 Blu-ray Discs mit dem verbesserten Ton per Post zugesandt.”

Wer also mit der Tonhöhenlage der deutschen Tonspur nicht zufrieden ist, der sollte sich schleunigst mit dem oben genannten Service-Center in Verbindung setzen. Bleibt als Fazit in Abwandlung eines altbekannten Spruchs: “Es ist nicht alles Blau was glänzt!” oder so ähnlich.

Und jetzt viel Spaß beim Stöbern in den folgenden 56 Seiten!

Backstage in the Writer's Room

Eine der häufigsten Fragen, die mir gestellt werden, ist: "Wie schreibt man denn über Film?" Die kurze Antwort lautet: Ist nicht immer so einfach.

Film ist eine meiner großen Leidenschaften im Leben. Ich konsumiere Filme nicht nur oft und genüsslich, ich arbeite auch mit ihnen. Manchmal würde ich sogar so weit gehen zu behaupten, ich atme Filme. Ich träume von und mit Filmen und Schauspielern; ich gehe zu Festivals; ich habe immer ein Filmzitat auf den Lippen – meine Freunde sagen, für jede Situation das passende. Doch Filme lieben und über sie schreiben können, sind zwei verschiedene Paar Schuhe. Wissen ist nicht Inspiration.

Filmkritiken, dachte ich bis letzten Mittwoch, sind eine der einfacheren Übungen. Zumindest die, die ich für ein Schweizer Onlineportal verfasse. Dort sind die Inhaltsangabe und die Bewertung getrennt. Das macht das Niederschreiben der Kritik viel simpler als der große Stil (welchen ich anstrebe) eines Roger Ebert, bei dem sich beides zu einem grandiosen Ganzen vermischt. Doch am Mittwoch saß ich in der Pressevorführung von Beginners, einem kleinen Indie-Film mit Ewan McGregor und Christopher Plummer. Ich habe den gesamten Film hindurch geweint. Was im Trailer als liebenswürdige Komödie mit niedlichem Hund angepriesen wurde, stellte sich als sanfterzige, überlegte und extrem rührende Geschichte zweier männlicher Existenzen heraus. Die Themen, die der Film anspricht, z.B. das Finden von Liebe in jedem Alter, gingen mir plötzlich unglaublich nah. Ich hatte nicht einmal annähernd genug Taschentücher dabei. Ich will mich Filmen emotional nicht verschließen, denn ich bin der Meinung, ich hätte sonst meine Leser verraten. Bei Beginners hatte ich zum ersten Mal, seit ich Filmkritiken schreibe, das schreckliche Gefühl, nicht zu wissen, wo ich ansetzen soll. Ich war zu nah dran, zu eingenommen von den Geschehnissen auf der Leinwand. Oft fällt es mir leicht, Persönliches in meine Texte einzubauen, aber Beginners hat mich ratlos und verletztlich zurückgelassen. Selbst das sture Anwenden zahlreicher objektiver Kriterien zur Filmkritik – z.B. Entwicklung der Figuren und Geschichte, Kameraführung, Schnitttechnik – konnte mich nicht auf einen grünen Zweig führen. Was nützt es meinen Lesern zu wissen, die Farbgebung des Films ist interessant, sie aber nicht erfahren, ob der Film sie emotional ansprechen kann?

Diese Filmkolumne, die ich für "Laser Hotline" schreibe, ist ... "a horse of a different colour". Chef Hannemann hat mir Narrenfreiheit gelassen, ein wahres, seltenes und sehr geschätztes Geschenk für jeden Schreiber. Doch Narren-freiheit ist nicht gleich "Hurra!" in jeder Situation.

Manchmal weiß ich genau, worum es in der nächsten Kolumne gehen wird. Dann habe ich zwei Wochen, um Informationen zu sammeln und Fakten zu checken, mir schöne Formulierungen zu notieren und am Ende alles zu einem Ganzen zusammenzufügen. Doch sogar bei solcher Vorausplanung kommt es vor, dass mich die eigenen Themen und Texte überraschen. Während der Formulierung erkenne ich dann plötzlich Lösungen oder Konzepte, die ebenfalls erwähnt werden sollten. Die Kolumne Killer Girls (siehe Newsletter Nr. 293) ist so ein Fall: Der finale Umkehrschluss zum Sexismus und was er für Männer in Hollywood bedeutet, fiel mir erst beim Schreiben ein, obwohl der Text durchgeplant war.

Es gibt auch Wochen, in denen mir nichts einfällt. Am Stichtag muss ich eine Entscheidung für ein Thema aus mir förmlich herausreißen. Dann breitet sich schnell das Gefühl aus, ich sei ein Loser. Ich gehe meine Filmabenteuer der vergangenen Tage durch, doch nichts scheint für diese Kolumne brauchbar zu sein. Ich habe eine neue Serie entdeckt, einen alten Film und sein Remake angesehen, fünf hochinteressante Artikel über Stars, Plots und neue Techniken gelesen und trotzdem eignet sich nichts für ein "Hallo Hollywood..."?! Tja, ab und zu ist eben ein riesiger Wurm in der Schreibwerkstatt. Nervtötend finde ich es auch, wenn mir beim Brainstorming drei Kolumnen einfallen, die ich aber alle erst zu Papier bringen kann, wenn bestimmte Filme erschienen sind. Ich warte seit Wochen sehnsüchtig auf Captain America, ohne den ich eine gewisse These nicht werde bestätigen können.

Über Film zu schreiben ist für mich ein Privileg und eine Passion. Ich möchte es nicht mehr missen. Doch der Writer's Room ist nicht immer ein Freund. Mal ist der Raum klein, schäbig beleuchtet und es gibt nur Wasser und Brot. Mal ist der Raum eine Galaxie – unendliche Weiten und Möglichkeiten, eine Spielwiese mit dem schönsten Spielzeug. Ein bisschen Toleranz für leichte Schizophrenie ist beim Schreiben durchaus angesagt. Aber am Ende zählt vor allem eins: Hinsetzen, Klappe zu, Gehirn an bis entweder das Hirn oder die Finger bluten.

Kleine Deals unter Anwälten

Heute hiess es einmal wieder "Nachsitzen". Da ich aus terminlichen Gründen die Pressevorführung nicht besuchen konnte, entschloss ich mich zu einem ganz regulären Kinobesuch – inkognito versteht sich.

DER MANDANT (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: The Lincoln Lawyer
Verleih: Universum (Walt Disney)
Land/Jahr: USA 2011
Regie: Brad Furman
Darsteller: Matthew McConaughey, Ryan Phillippe, Marisa Tomei, William H. Macy
Kinostart: 23.06.2011

Mick Haller ist Strafverteidiger in Los Angeles. Doch ihm geht es nicht um Recht und Gerechtigkeit, sondern nur um das schnell und einfach verdiente Geld. Kein Wunder also, dass er bevorzugt Kleinkriminelle wie Drogendealer oder Prostituierte zu seinen Klienten zählt, für die er stets günstige Deals aushandelt. Als er jedoch eines Tages einen großen Fisch an Land zieht, ändert sich für den geschiedenen Vater einer kleinen Tochter alles. Denn der Fall des Louis Roulet, Sohn aus reichem Hause und angeklagt, eine Frau vergewaltigt zu haben, entpuppt sich als Pulverfass. Schon bald sieht sich der smarte Anwalt einer lebensgefährlichen Situation ausgesetzt... Auch wenn man als Vielseher stellenweise die Handlung bereits vorhersehen kann und sich selbst damit um ein paar überraschende Wendungen bringt, so muss man dem Film zugute halten, dass er durchweg spannend inszeniert ist. Langeweile erwirbt man sich mit dem Kauf eines Tickets für diesen Film also ganz sicher nicht. Die gute Besetzung – allen voran Matthew McConaughey als geschneigelter und gestriegelter Strafverteidiger – sorgt dafür, dass der Film über weite Strecken glaubhaft bleibt. Allerdings mag man dem Hauptakteur seine Wandlung vom Saulus zum Paulus im Laufe des Films nicht so recht abnehmen. Das allerdings liegt hier mehr am Drehbuch denn am Schauspieler. In einer der Nebenrollen überzeugt William H. Macy (diesmal mit fast schulterlangem Haar) als etwas abgehalfteter Ermittler. Wem darüber hinaus auch noch amerikanische Edellimousinen und Los Angeles mit seinen hippen Locations gefallen, der ist in diesem Justiz-Thriller bestens aufgehoben.

Materialschlacht

Ganz ehrlich: den Weg ins Kino hätte ich mir heute sparen können...

TRANSFORMERS 3 (1:2.35, 3D, DD 5.1)

OT: Transformers 3
Verleih: Paramount
Land/Jahr: USA 2011
Regie: Michael Bay
Darsteller: Shia LaBeouf, Rosie Huntington-Whiteley, Patrick Dempsey
Kinostart: 29.06.2011

Eine Rückblende erklärt alles: die Mondlandung von 1969 hatte nur ein einziges Ziel – das Begutachten eines UFOs, das bereits Anfang der sechziger Jahre auf dem Mond gestrandet war. Die Öffentlichkeit war über diesen Umstand selbstverständlich nicht informiert. In der Gegenwart stellt sich nun aber heraus, dass es sich hierbei um den einstigen Herrscher von Cybertron, genannt Sentinel Prime, handelte. Der erwacht wieder zu neuem Leben und erweist sich bald als Handlanger der bösen Decepticons, deren einziges Ziel die Ausrottung der Autobots zu sein scheint. Und die haben sich in Teil 1 und 2 ja bereits auf die Erde geflüchtet. Damit heisst es einmal mehr für Jungspund Sam Witwicky in Aktion zu treten und die Welt vor der großen Gefahr zu retten... Was zu Anfang noch mit recht originellen Ideen aufwartet, entwickelt sich in rasender Geschwindigkeit zur größten Materialschlacht dieses Sommers. Eine "falsche" Mondlandung, ein "falsches" Tschernobyl – gewiss, hier hatten sich die Drehbuchautoren noch etwas einfallen lassen. Doch dem Regisseur Michael Bay erschien es interessanter zu sein, sich in Spezialeffekten zu verliehen und das Publikum mit technisch exzellenten Kriegsszenarien zu langweilen. Seine Liebe für die visuellen Effekte geht offenbar sogar so weit, dass er kein Gespür mehr für die Schauspieler hat. Denn die Liebesgeschichte zwischen Shia LaBeouf alias Sam und Rosie Huntington-Whiteley als seine attraktive Freundin Carly funktioniert überhaupt nicht. Da fragt man sich als Zuschauer unmittelbar nach dem ersten gemeinsamen Auftritt der beiden, ob Sam an Geschmacksverirrung leidet. Seine Freundin Carly jedenfalls scheint nur an Äußerlichkeiten interessiert zu sein. Wer meint, er könne 157 Minuten sinnbefreites Brachialkino ertragen, der darf sich gerne in dieses Machwerk verirren. Aus meiner Sicht gibt es genau einen Grund, warum man für diesen Film ins Kino geht: dort gibt es eine herrliche Klimaanlage!

Viel Freude hat sich nicht gerade in ihrem Leben. Die 15jährige Nana arbeitet als Schleusenwärterin nahe der deutsch-schweizerischen Grenze. Da ihre alleinerziehende Mutter es vorzieht, sich nach einem brauchbaren Mann umzusehen, obliegt es Nana zusätzlich, sich um den Haushalt sowie die beiden jüngeren Geschwister zu kümmern. Als sich plötzlich das Jugendamt einschaltet wird es ernst. Nanas Mutter erhält eine Galgenfrist. Falls sie es binnen dieser Zeit nicht schafft, Familie und Beruf unter einen Hut zu bringen, sollen die Kinder ins Heim. Doch die Suche nach einem Job gestaltet sich für die Mutter sehr schwer. Da wollen Nana und ihre Geschwister wenigstens bei der Suche nach einem passenden Papa helfen. Der junge Arzt Eduardo kommt in die enge Auswahl. Doch da geschieht es: Nana verliebt sich in Eduardo... Was Regisseurin Güzin Kars Film sehr sympathisch macht, ist nicht nur ihre Protagonistin Elisa Schlott in der Rolle der Nana, sondern auch die vielen kleinen wunderbaren Regieeinfälle. Der kleine Bruder, ein aufstrebender Hypochonder, möchte z.B. als Gute-Nacht-Geschichte stets einen Absatz aus dem "Großen Buch der Krankheiten" vorgelesen bekommen. Besonders nett auch die Kontaktanzeigen, die deren Verfasser auf dem Sofa sitzend der Kinderjury vortragen. Oder die "Bachforellen", der Frauenchor des kleinen Ortes, deren Mitglieder besser tratschen als singen können. FLIEGENDE FISCHES MÜSSEN INS MEER ist zwar kein großes Kino, macht aber Laune und lässt darüber die Nähe zum Fernsehspiel schnell vergessen.

ANGÈLE UND TONY (1:1.85, DD 5.1)
OT: Angèle Et Tony
Verleih: Kool
Land/Jahr: Frankreich 2010
Regie: Alix Delaporte
Darsteller: Clotilde Hesme, Grégory Gadebois, Evelyne Didi
Kinostart: 04.08.2011

Mittels Kontaktanzeigen versucht Angèle einen Mann zu finden, um dadurch das Sorgerecht für ihren kleinen Jungen zu erhalten. Der lebt schon seit zwei Jahren bei den Schwiegereltern. Während dieser Zeit war die junge Frau im Gefängnis und ist jetzt auf Bewährung wieder draußen. Als sie dem bodenständigen und gutmütigen Fischer Tony begegnet, der zusammen mit seiner Mutter und seinem Bruder an der Küste der Normandie mehr schlecht als recht über die Runden kommt, lässt sie sich von ihm einstellen und zieht bei ihm ein. Auf ihre unmissverständlichen Avancen geht er allerdings nicht ein. Erst im Laufe der Zeit entwickelt sich eine tiefergehende Beziehung zwischen den beiden... Vor dem Hintergrund eines Sozialdramas, in dem die Fischer um ihre Existenz kämpfen, erzählt Alix Delaporte eine zarte Liebesgeschichte, die ohne viele Worte auskommt. Warum genau Angèle im Gefängnis war, erfah-ren weder der Zuschauer noch Tony. Und so tritt man der jungen Frau genauso unvoreingenommen gegenüber wie es Tony macht. Clotilde Hesme und Grégory Gadebois glänzen in den Titelfiguren und erfüllen die Geschichte über zwei sehr unterschiedliche Menschen, die sich im Laufe des Films immer näher kommen, mit Leben.

Raue Schale, weicher Kern

Ein Stück tolles Kino stand heute mal wieder auf meinem Terminplan.

BARNEY'S VERSION (1:2.35, DD 5.1)
OT: Barney's Version
Verleih: Universal
Land/Jahr: Kanada, Italien 2010
Regie: Richard J. Lewis
Darsteller: Paul Giamatti, Dustin Hoffman, Rosamund Pike
Kinostart: 14.07.2011

Barney Pankofsky, ein unscheinbar wirkender, aber erfolgreicher TV-Produzent, wird durch die Aufsehen erregenden Memoiren eines Ex-Cops mit seiner bewegten Vergangenheit konfrontiert. Diese beinhaltete nicht weniger als drei Ehen, Tausende von Whiskeys, noch mehr Zigarren und einen Mordverdacht, der nie ganz aus der Welt zu räumen war. Seine erste Ehe während seiner Sturm- und Drangzeit in Italien endete abrupt mit dem Suizid seiner Frau. Frau Nummer Zwei war eine sehr reiche Schönheit, die bereits während der Hochzeitsfeier schon durch Barneys Frau Nummer Drei ersetzt wurde – gedanklich zumindest. Doch es dauert nicht lange, bis Barney sich scheiden ließ und schließlich Miriam ehelichte, die Mutter seiner beiden Kinder. Bei ihr entpuppte sich der oft ruppige Kerl als ein wahrer Romantiker. Denn hinter seiner rauen Schale steckte stets ein Mensch mit dem Herz am rechten Fleck... Richard J. Lewis inszenierte seinen Film nach dem berühmten Roman von Mordecai Richler, der als dessen bestes Werk gefeiert wird. Paul Giamatti glänzt in der Titelrolle und darf dank bester Make-Up-Kunst auch Barneys gesamte Lebensspanne durchleben. Ihm zur Seite steht ein absolut köstlicher Dustin Hoffman, der als

Barney Vater für viel gute Laune sorgen darf. Fast unwiderstehlich: Rosamund Pike als Miriam, die Frau, der Barney hoffnungslos verfällt und mit der er die besten Jahre seines Lebens genießen darf. Der von Guy Dufaux exzellent fotografierte Film lässt sich nichts von seiner Lauflänge von 134 Minuten anmerken, sondern unterhält vorzüglich. Dass dabei auch die Gefühle nicht untergehen, sondern stets Bestandteil der Geschichte bleiben, ist der gut eingesetzten Filmmusik von Pasquale Catalano zu verdanken. BARNEY'S VERSION ist grandioses Unterhaltungskino, das den Besuch lohnt

Warum in die Ferne schweifen...

Lustig und skurril startete ich in diesen Donnerstag...

BAIKONUR (1:1.85, DD 5.1)
Verleih: X Verleih (Warner)
Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2011
Regie: Veit Helmer
Darsteller: Aleksandr Asochakov, Marie de Villepin, Sitora Farmonova
Kinostart: 01.09.2011

In der kasachischen Steppe, unweit des weltgrößten Raketenstartplatzes Baikonur, leben die Bewohner einer winzigen Siedlung vom Schrotthandel. Frei nach dem Motto "Alles was vom Himmel fällt, darf man behalten" sammeln sie die Überbleibsel der Raketenteile, die vom Himmel in die Steppe fallen und tauschen das Altmittel gegen Fleischkonserven ein. Auch Iskander gehört zu dieser Dorfgemeinschaft. Der junge Mann ist der Einzige, der das Funkgerät bedienen kann und damit im voraus weiß, an welcher Stelle der Steppe die nächste Ladung Schrott von ganz oben herunterfallen wird. Bei den Dorfbewohnern heißt er ganz einfach "Gagarin" in Anspielung auf den großen Kosmonauten. Iskander träumt davon, eines Tages selbst Kosmonaut zu werden und hat nur noch Augen und Ohren für Julie, die als Weltraumtouristin von Baikonur zur ISS startet. Doch als deren Raumkapsel bei der Rückkehr irgendwo in der Steppe landet und von Iskander gefunden wird, nimmt er sich der bewusstlosen Julie an. Aus ihrem Koma erwacht erzählt er der sich an nichts mehr Erinnernden ihr, dass sie mit ihm verlobt sei... Regisseur Veit Helmer entführt sein Publikum an einen der unwirklichsten Orte der Welt. Hier prallen gigantische Hochtechnologie auf einfachste Lebensweisen. Helmer entwickelt daraus eine Art Tragikomödie, die sehr skurril anmutet und dadurch für den Zuschauer höchst interessant ist. Wenn Gagarin am Ende des Films von seiner Tätigkeit im Raketenzentrum wieder in die karge Steppe zurückkehrt, wo schon lange ein Mädchen auf ihn wartet, dann heisst es "Back to the Roots". Denn warum in die Ferne schweifen, wenn das Gute liegt so nah. Eine hübsche kleine Parabel mit unverbrauchten Gesichtern. Leider präsentierte uns der Filmverleih nur eine Blu-ray-Version des Films, die zumindest bildtechnisch nicht dem Standard genügte und offenbar auch noch nicht ganz fertig war.

Die Hochsensiblen und der Möchte-Gern-Rapper

Schon wieder Wochenende! Aber es galt zuvor noch zwei Filme durchzusehen...

DIE ANONYMEN ROMANTIKER

(1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: Les Émotifs Anonymes

Verleih: Delphi

Land/Jahr: Frankreich, Belgien 2010

Regie: Jean-Pierre Améris

Darsteller: Isabelle Carré, Benoît

Poelvoorde, Lorella Cravotta

Kinostart: 11.08.2011

Hochsensible Menschen haben es wahrhaftig nicht leicht. Angelique und Jean-Rene gehören beide in diese Kategorie. Sie ist begnadete Pralinen-designerin, fällt aber in Ohnmacht, wenn sie mit jemandem reden soll. Er ist Schokoladenfabrikant, lebt aber in ständiger Angst und gerät beim Umgang mit Menschen stets in Panik. Angelique schließt sich einer Selbsthilfegruppe an, Jean-Rene hat seinen eigenen Therapeuten. Als Angelique durch ein Missverständnis bedingt in Jean-Renes Fabrik als Außendienstmitarbeiterin eingestellt wird, sehen sich die beiden Hochsensiblen neuen Herausforderungen gegenüberstehen: sie verlieben sich ineinander... Regisseur Jean-Pierre Améris wählt für das Thema eines Films die Form einer charmanten Komödie – mit allem, was dazu gehört. Da darf dann Hauptdarstellerin Jean-Pierre Améris in ihrer Rolle als Angelique der großen Julie Andrews eine Hommage erweisen und sogar einen Song aus THE SOUND OF MUSIC ("I Have Confidence In Me") vortragen (leider eingedeutscht!). Und sie vermag mit ihrer schüchtern wirkenden Performance wirklich zu überzeugen - genauso wie ihr Kollege Benoît Poelvoorde. Filmmusikkomponist Pierre Adenot entfaltet mit seinem Score einen Klangteppich, der an die gute alte Zeit französischer Filmkomödie erinnert und dem Film damit eine Hauch Nostalgie verleiht. Allerdings muss sich der Film erst durch ein paar Gags mit schlechtem Timing durchmogeln, bevor man ihn als Zuschauer zu schätzen weiß. Also: nicht gleich den Kinosaal verlassen, sondern erst einmal abwarten.

I'M STILL HERE (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

OT: I'm Still Here – The Lost Year Of Joaquin Phoenix

Verleih: Koch Media (Neue Visionen)

Land/Jahr: USA 2010

Regie: Casey Affleck

Darsteller: Joaquin Phoenix, Sean „P.

Diddy“ Combs, Antony Langdon

Kinostart: 11.08.2011

Im Jahr 2008 beschloss der Schauspieler Joaquin Phoenix, die Schauspielerei an den Nagel zu hängen und stattdessen eine Karriere als Rapper einzuschlagen. Die Medien liefen Sturm. Angesichts des großen Erfolges als Hollywood-Schauspieler schien niemand diesen Entschluss verstehen zu wollen. Phoenixs Schwager Casey Affleck dokumentierte dessen Versuch, im Musikbusiness Fuß zu fassen und verarbeitete das aufgenommene Material zu einer Art Doku-Soap für die Kinoleinwand. Zu sehen und zu hören gibt es als Ergebnis sozusagen Joaquin Phoenix "uncut" wie er lebt, liebt und lebt. Affleck blendet seine Kamera weder ab, wenn sich sein Schwager mit Call-Girls vergnügt, noch wenn er sich einen Joint reinzieht. Wutausbrüche, wüste Schimpfereien, Schlägereien, Niederlagen – alles wurde dokumentiert und dürfte vermutlich im Heimatland des Schauspielers zu keiner Jugendfreigabe des Film führen. Allerdings sei die Frage gestattet, ob es außer eingefleischten Phoenix-Fans noch jemanden gibt, der sich für dessen – um im Jargon des Films zu bleiben – "fucked up Life" interessiert. Ich persönlich wage dies stark zu bezweifeln und hoffe sehr, dass ich heute nicht die Zukunft des dokumentarischen Kinofilms gesehen habe.

Bhagwan und die Autos

Heute gab es mal wieder zwei Filme zu beäugen, von denen mich leider keiner richtig überzeugen konnte.

SOMMER IN ORANGE (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Verleih: Majestic (Fox)

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2011

Regie: Marcus H. Rosenmüller

Darsteller: Petra Schmidt-Schaller, Amber Bongard, Bela Baumann

Kinostart: 18.08.2011

1980 ist die Farbe Orange angesagt. Natürlich nicht für alle – nur für die überzeugten Anhänger des Gurus Bhagwan. Die junge Lili mitsamt ihrer Mutter Amrita und Brüderchen Fabia gehören zu den Orangeträgern. Als einer der Mitglieder ihrer Kommune einen Bauernhof im bayerischen Talbichl erbt, zieht die flippige Gemeinschaft von Berlin aufs Land. Ihr Plan: Aufbau eines Therapiezentrums im Geiste ihres Gurus. Doch die ländliche Idylle hat nicht viel übrig für solch eine Kommune, die sie schnell als Satanisten abtun. Ihre Mitschüler machen Lili das Schulleben nicht einfach und stempeln sie zur Außenseiterin ab. Insgeheim aber möchte Lili zur Dorfbevölkerung dazugehören. Heimlich meldet sie sich und ihren kleinen Bruder bei einem der Ortsvereine an. Als ihre Mutter davon erfährt und sich zudem noch ein enger Vertrauter des Bhagwan ankündigt, überschlagen sich die Ereignisse... Seit dem großen Erfolg von

Film-Blog

WER FRÜHER STIRBT IST LÄNGER TOD zieht es Filmemacher Marcus H. Rosenmüller immer wieder in seine bayerische Heimat. Die Eigenheiten der Landbewohner haben es ihm angetan. Und das ist es auch, was er am besten auf die Leinwand bringen kann. Ob der strenge Bürgermeister des Ortes oder die extrem neugierige Nachbarin (die übrigens gegen Ende des Films alle Lacher auf ihre Seite zieht!) – sie alle wirken so echt, dass man stets über sie schmunzeln kann. Allerdings gibt es im Kontrast dazu weite Passagen im Film, die ganz und gar nicht lustig wirken, auch wenn von den Filmemachern so beabsichtigt. Die Unausgewogenheit zwischen Culture Clash Komödie und echtem Drama lassen die Film mit seiner mäßigen Lauflänge von 110 Minuten als sehr viel länger erscheinen als er tatsächlich ist. Kein gutes Omen für einen Film, der unterhalten will. Die Besetzung indes ist gut gewählt und lässt die freie Liebe, wie sie in der Kommune praktiziert wird, als absurd erscheinen. Was die Freizügigkeit angeht, so hätte der Film in den USA sicherlich große Probleme mit der Zensur. Überzeugend auch die Kameraarbeit Stefan Biebl, der mit ein paar ungewöhnlichen Perspektiven die ganze Breite der CinemaScope-Leinwand auszufüllen versteht. Etwas kürzer und weniger ernst hätte das eine richtig gute Komödie werden können.

CARS 2 (1:2.35, 3D, DD 5.1 und Dolby Surround 7.1)
OT: Cars 2
Verleih: Walt Disney
Land/Jahr: USA 2011
Regie: John Lasseter, Brad Lewis
Kinostart: 28.07.2011

Lightning McQueen und sein etwas tolpatschiger, aber sehr liebenswerter Kumpel Hook sind wieder zurück auf der Leinwand. Fünf Jahre nach CARS brechen die beiden Autos jetzt in CARS 2 zu neuen Abenteuern auf. Dieses Mal gilt es, den ersten World Grand Prix der Welt zu gewinnen. Paris, Rom und London sind die Austragungsorte des Rennens, bei dem McQueen gegen seinen Erzrivalen Francesco Bernoulli antreten muss.

Doch das Rennen wird überschattet von kriminellen Machenschaften, deren Urheber es dingfest zu machen gilt. Mithilfe zweier Geheimagenten soll ausgerechnet Hook dem Bösen auf die Schliche kommen... Man nehme den aktuellen Öko-Gedanken und ein paar erstklassige Locations und schon hat man CARS auf Teil 2 aufgeputzt! Der ist wie sein Vorgänger bereits in technischer Hinsicht absolut brillant, kann aber leider bei der Story nicht Punkten. Denn die ist weder mitreißend noch herzerwärmend. Was bleibt ist ein an James Bond erinnerndes Action-Spektakel, das man nach dem Verlassen des Kinosaals auch gleich wieder vergessen hat. Kurzweilige Unterhaltung, bei der man – bewusst oder auch nicht – auf eine Gefühlsebene fast komplett verzichtet hat. Nicht einmal der vorangestellte Kurzfilm mit den Charakteren aus TOY STORY und dem Titel UR-LAUB AUF HAWAII (im Gegensatz zum Hauptfilm nur im Bildformat 1:1.85) lässt den Funken, den man von Pixar-Produktionen gewohnt ist, überspringen. Schade eigentlich.

Kulinarisches und Melancholisches

Wie immer so auch heute wieder ein gemischtes Programm. Speziell der erste Film war dabei extrem appetitanregend!

TOAST (1:2.35, DD 5.1)
OT: Toast
Verleih: MFA (24 Bilder)
Land/Jahr: Großbritannien 2010
Regie: S.J. Clarkson
Darsteller: Helena Bonham Carter, Freddie Highmore, Oscar Kennedy, Ken Stott
Kinostart: 11.08.2011

TOAST erzählt die an wahren Ereignissen angelehnte Jugend des Spitzenkochs und Restaurantkritiker Nigel Slater, der es in seiner Heimat England zu großem Ruhm gebracht hat. In einfachsten Verhältnissen in den sechziger Jahren aufwachsend, wünscht sich der kleine Nigel nichts so sehr wie ein gut gekochtes Essen. Doch um die Kochkünste seiner Mutter ist es alles andere als gut bestellt. So gibt es außer Toast und Konserven nichts, was irgendwie gut schmeckt. Als die Mutter stirbt, nimmt sich Putzfrau Mrs. Potter des Haushalts an. Sehr zum Leidwesen von Nigel, der zwar deren Kochkünste zu schätzen weiß, sie aber nicht als Stiefmutter haben möchte. Doch die Liebe geht nun einmal durch den Magen und so ist es schon bald um Nigels Vater geschehen: die beiden heiraten. Als Teenager sieht Nigel nur noch eine Chance, seine Stiefmutter loszuwerden: er muss besser kochen als sie... Wenn man nicht nur typisch britische Idylle mag, sondern sich darüber hinaus auch noch für das Kochen begeistert, dann hat dieser Film bereits gewonnen. Auch wenn die landläufige Meinung über die englische Küche nicht sonderlich gut ist, so wird man den vielen Zitronen-Baiser-Kuchen, die Kameramann Balazs Bolygo in seinen CinemaScope-Bildern einfängt, nicht widerstehen können. Aber auch alle anderen kulinarischen Genüsse, die teilweise in flott montierten Sequenzen über die Leinwand huschen, wirken sehr appetitanregend. Das äußerst stimmige Set-Design, die nostalgisch geprägten Farben und die phantastischen Schauspieler (insbesondere Ken Stott in der Rolle des Vaters sei hier erwähnt!) runden ein weitgehend perfektes Menü ab.

Mike Flaherty tut alles, um seiner kleinen Familie ein möglichst unbeschwertes Leben zu ermöglichen. Doch seine Anwaltskanzlei, in der er sich hauptsächlich um die Belange von Senioren kümmert, läuft alles andere als gut. Ein Fakt, das er gegenüber der Familie verheimlicht. Eines Tages bietet sich dem integeren Mike eine unverhoffte Chance: er übernimmt die Betreuung seines an Demenz leidenden Klienten Leo. Der nämlich hat jede Menge Geld übrig für eine intensive Betreuung. Doch Mike befördert den Alten gleich ins Heim, streicht sich aber trotzdem Monat für Monat das Betreuungsgeld ein. Wie aus dem Nichts findet sich plötzlich Leos Enkel Kyle ein. Der 16jährige ist von zuhause ausgerissen, weil seine Mutter auf Drogenentzug ist. Mike nimmt Kyle bei sich auf und schon bald hat die ganze Familie den rebellischen Teenager ins Herz geschlossen. Als sich darüber hinaus auch noch herausstellt, dass Kyle ein echtes Ringer-Talent ist, geht es mit der Mannschaft, die Mike ehrenamtlich als Trainer betreut, steil aufwärts. Mike ist plötzlich auf der Gewinnerseite – im doppelten Sinn. Da taucht Kyles Mutter auf und droht alles platzen zu lassen. Geht man, wenn es hart auf hart kommt, notfalls auch über Leichen oder bleibt man seinen Prinzipien treu? In seinem Film geht Regisseur Thomas McCarthy genau diesem Thema nach. Der hochanständige Mike, dessen Leben nicht so läuft, wie er es gerne gehabt hätte, ergreift in einem schwachen Moment eine nicht legale Chance, die er unter anderen Umständen nie ergriffen hätte. Doch wird er auch dazu stehen und um Vergebung bitten, wenn er mit illegalen Geschäften konfrontiert wird? McCarthys Ideen werden durch eine starke Schauspielertruppe in die Realität umgesetzt. Allen voran Paul Giamatti in der Rolle des Mike, den man einfach mögen muss. Newcomer Alex Shaffer macht als Leos Neffe nicht nur im Ring eine gute Figur, sondern überzeugt auch als auflehrender Jungspund. Und auch Burt Young brilliert in seiner Nebenrolle als Demenzpatient Leo. Ein stiller, ruhiger und sehr menschlicher Film.

Zwei Mädchen machen Rabatz

Dass der Spruch "Nicht jeder Film kann ein Meisterwerk sein" zutrifft, wurde uns heute einmal mehr bewiesen.

LOLLIPOP MONSTER (1:1.85, 5.1)

Verleih: Salzgeber

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2011

Regie: Ziska Riemann

Darsteller: Jella Haase, Sarah Horváth, Nicolette Krebitz

Kinostart: 25.08.2011

Ihre beiden Elternhäuser sind für sie kein Zuckerschlecken. Oona und Ari, wie Mädchen, die zur selben Schule gehen, sich aber bislang nicht kennen, ertragen den elenden Zustand namens Familie nicht mehr länger. Weil Oonas Mutter ihren Vater mit seinem Bruder Lukas betrügt, begeht der Vater – ein erfolgloser Künstler – Selbstmord. Schon bald darauf zieht Lukas zuhause ein. In Bildern hält Oona ihre Gewaltphantasien fest und ritzt sich. In Aris Familie herrscht das blanke Chaos. Der kleine Bruder terrorisiert die Eltern mit simulierten Krankheitsattacken. Doch die Eltern versuchen dennoch verkrampt, die Normalität aufrecht zu erhalten. Derweil entdeckt Ari ihre Sexualität, die sie mit älteren Männern auslebt. Eines Tages nähern sich Ari und Oona einander an, entdecken ihre gemeinsame Leidenschaft für die Rockband "Tier" und werden zu Freundinnen und Komplizinnen. Als sich Ari jedoch unwissend Lukas zum Sexpartner macht, droht die Freundschaft zu zerbrechen. Mit einem Wirrwarr aus verschiedenen Stilen, zu denen neben Live-Action-Film auch Animationssequenzen sowie Video-Clip-Ästhetik gehören, beweist Regisseurin Ziska Riemann, dass sie offensichtlich zur MTV-Generation gehört. Gegen einen Stilmix im Generellen ist nichts einzuwenden, doch im speziellen Fall könnte das den geneigten Zuschauer hier etwas überfordern. Nicht nur dadurch, sondern auch durch die teilweise etwas abstrusen Handlungsweisen der Protagonisten erhält der Film einen surrealen Einschlag, der durch den hypnotisch wirkenden Sprechgesang der imaginären Gruppe "Tier" verstärkt wird. Ein insgesamt unbefriedigender Film, der besser beim "kleinen Fernsehspiel" aufgehoben ist denn im großen Kinosaal.

Familienidylle

Das Wochenende naht...doch zuvor galt es noch einen österreichischen Film zu ertragen...

DIE VATERLOSEN (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Verleih: ThimFilm (24 Bilder)

Land/Jahr: Österreich 2011

Regie: Marie Kreutzer

Darsteller: Andreas Kiendl, Andrea Wenzl, Emily Cox

Kinostart: 04.08.2011

Nach dem Tod des Vaters treffen sich dessen Kinder mitsamt ihren LebenspartnerInnen im elterlichen Haus, einem riesigen Gebäude in ländlicher Idylle in Österreich. Es ist dasselbe Haus, in dem die Kinder in den achtziger Jahren als Mitglieder einer Kommune aufgewachsen sind, deren Oberhaupt ihr Vater war. Zu aller Überraschung taucht auch Kyra auf, die uneheliche Tochter des Vaters, von der kaum jemand gewusst hat. Für die jungen Erwachsenen wird der Aufenthalt bis zur Beerdigung eine Reise in die Vergangenheit. Mizzy, jüngste Tochter des Vaters, ist die treibende Kraft um alte Familiengeheimnisse aufzudecken. Sie möchte wissen, warum Kyra und deren Mutter seinerzeit vom Vater aus der Kommune vertrieben wurden. Viele Wunden werden aufgebrochen... "Familie ist nicht nur das, was rechtlich und biologisch behauptet wird, sondern was wir daraus machen!" – so Regisseurin Marie Kreutzer über ihren Debütfilm, der auf der Berlinale uraufgeführt wurde. Die Suche nach der eigenen Identität, nach den eigenen Wurzeln, wurde ganz sicher in anderen Filmen bereits besser und eindringlicher geschildert. In Marie Kreutzers Film jedoch gehen einem die Charaktere schon nach kurzer Zeit auf die Nerven. Der Film wurde offensichtlich ohne Blick auf das Publikum inszeniert. Was nützen da all die schönen auf CinemaScope gestreckten Aufnahmen, wenn man sich hinterher mit keiner der Figuren identifizieren möchte?

The Basement: Camp Retro 80's Collection (DVD + VHS)

Available for the first time on VHS and DVD, The Basement is the lost 1989 Super 8 anthology feature film directed by Timothy O'Rawe (Ghoul School). It is a shining example of 80's DIY cinema! Four strangers are summoned to the basement of an abandoned house by a mysterious entity. One after another, they are forced to witness heinous deeds they have yet to commit - and which will damn them for all eternity. Taken hostage by three violently deranged criminals, a woman fights back to save her baby and mother-in-law's lives in this gritty and suspenseful crime drama. In this gore-soaked cult classic, a young couple opens a video store in a small town populated by violence-addicted amateur filmmakers, lead by the demented Howard and Eli. The sequel to the Video Violence finds Howard and Eli pirating a cable TV channel for the purpose of furthering their brand of homegrown depravity, madness and murder. Deranged orphans torture, mutilate and murder innocent campers in this DIY classic from Jon McBride.

Battling Butler / Go West: Ultimate Two-Disc Edition (Double Feature)

Francis McDonald, Buster Keaton
Keaton stars as Alfred Butler, a fragile young man whose father sends him into the country where he hopes masculinity will blossom. Ironically, he is there mistaken for „Battling“ Butler, a renowned prizefighter of fiery temperament. To impress a young lady (Sally O'Neil), Alfred carries on the ruse by engaging in a laughingly inept training regimen, but his harmless charade is soon complicated by the untimely arrival of the true contender (Francis McDonald). When the long-awaited opportunity to prove himself a man finally comes, it is before the gloved fists of the boxer, who initiates a locker-room brawl. There, in a sequence of agonizing tension and delightful surprises, Battling Butler reaches its unforgettable climax. Heading the expansionist call of Horace Greeley, a hapless young man (aptly named „Friendless“) idealistically hops a freight train westward to meet his destiny, first in a teeming metropolis (where he is roundly trampled by rush-hour foot traffic) then into the ranchlands of Arizona. In the side-splitting course of his attempts at bronco-busting, cattle wrangling, and even dairy farm

A summit meeting of great Italian directors of the era. Boccaccio '70 is an antipasto platter of vintage sex symbols and naughty material starring Sophia Loren (Yesterday Today & Tomorrow), Anita Ekberg (La Dolce Vita) & Romy Schneider (The Trial). Cooked up and bankrolled by Carlo Ponti and American producer Joseph E. Levine, the four-part film was meant to tap the international smash of Fellini's La Dolce Vita, which gave audiences some refreshingly, you know, „mature“ subject matter. Four directors were hired to create segments ostensibly based on the tales of Boccaccio: Federico Fellini (in the lull between La Dolce Vita and 8-1/2), Luchino Visconti, Vittorio De Sica, and Mario Monicelli.

Tabrett Bethell, Andy Whitfield

The truth lies within. A road trip turns into a battle for survival when Cameron (Andy Whitfield, Spartacus: Blood And Sand) and his pregnant wife, Beth (Tabrett Bethell, Legend Of The Seeker), stop for the night at a desolate motel. That night Beth is suddenly abducted from their room and wakes up in an ice-filled bathtub . . . with her baby now gone! She finds herself captive at a sinister clinic with other women whose newborns are being taken for an unknown purpose, and as Cameron desperately searches for his missing wife, time is rapidly running out. Inspired by true events, this nail-biting thriller, in the tradition of Wolf Creek, explores the most unspeakable, forbidden terror a new mother could possibly face.

The Clowns (Blu-ray)

Fellini's fascination with the circus and the surreal come to a head in one of his final masterpieces, The Clowns. The film reflects Fellini's childhood obsession with clowns and begins with a young boy watching a circus set up from his bedroom window. Though comical and referred to as a „docu-comedy“, this film explores deeper human conditions such as authority, poverty, humility and arrogance all of which manifest themselves through the characters of the clowns who vary from the local sex-crazed hobo, a midget nun, to a mutilated Mussolini disciple. The film then diverges from its narrative and dreamy state to a more documentary like approach as Fellini searches out these jesters of his youth in Paris to see what has become of them. Featuring Anita Ekberg, the star of his 1960's masterpiece, La Dolce Vita and the director himself.

His twisted hazing rituals include extreme physical and mental torture that lead the boys down a horrific path of destruction and death. But death may be just the beginning, as this gritty twisted film unfolds. Inspired by actual events and set in the year 1979, Frat House Massacre is a disturbing journey through the twisted world of fraternity boys, pledges, and the not-so-innocent sorority sisters swept up in their madness. Loaded with violence, gore, nudity and a fantastic music score by Claudio Simonetti, this DVD is the director's cut containing over twenty minutes of additional footage.

Great Italian Directors Collection

Sophia Loren, Anita Ekberg, Romy Schneider, Marcello Mastroianni
A summit meeting of great Italian directors of the era, Boccaccio '70 is an antipasto platter of vintage sex symbols and naughty material starring Sophia Loren (Yesterday Today & Tomorrow), Anita Ekberg (La Dolce Vita) & Romy Schneider (The Trial). Cooked up and bankrolled by Carlo Ponti and American producer Joseph E. Levine, the four-part film was meant to tap the international smash of Fellini's La Dolce Vita, which gave audiences some refreshingly, you know, „mature“ subject matter. Four directors were hired to create segments ostensibly based on the tales of Boccaccio: Federico Fellini (in the lull between La Dolce Vita and 8-1/2), Luchino Visconti, Vittorio De Sica, and Mario Monicelli. Marcello Mastroianni (Yesterday, Today And Tomorrow) portrays the handsome lover Casanova pitted against a thoroughly modern woman in this classic film from two-time Academy Award Nominated writer / director Mario Monicelli (For Love And Gold, The Organizer). „Casanova“ is a legendary hero often depicted in movies, but this time he is portrayed with a slightly different problem - the only time he's „in the mood“ i

But when U.S. Marshal Ian McHenry (David Carradine) comes calling, Drayton must once again take up the gun, this time against the very gang he once rode with. While continuing to search for his long-lost ex-wife and son, U.S. Marshal Luke Canfield (Bob Handegan) takes a job as the head lawman of Sand Prairie, a once sleepy town that's been targeted by a band of vicious horse thieves. In short order, saloon dancer Dixie Johnson (Ann Hagemann) catches Canfield's eye, so when gang leader Asa Brown (William Home) kidnaps Dixie and two youngsters, naturally, it's Canfield to the rescue. Justice is relative in the Wild Wet town of Redemption, but that doesn't stop remorseful Frank Hardin (Dustin James) from trying to undo the damage when his gang robs an innocent Mexican family, kidnaps their daughter and sells her into prostitution. masterpieces from one of the greatest figures in English literature - Thomas Hardy. Her luminous beauty blazing against the bleak background of rural Victorian England, Tess Durbeyfield is one of literature's best-loved and most memorable heroines. Violated by one man and forsaken by another, she refuses to remain a victim. But her struggle to endure despite the abandonment of her true love - and her desperate attempt to attain happiness - propel Tess toward a tragic end. Destitute and drunken, Michael Henchard is an itinerant farmhand who sells his wife and daughter to a sailor in a moment of alcohol-fueled desperation. So begins The Mayor Of Casterbridge, Thomas Hardy's enduring classic. Ciaran Hinds (Road To Perdition, Jane Eyre) stars as the tragic, tormented Henchard. Decades after his fateful decision, now reformed and respectable, he is offered a chance at redemption when his wife re-appears with her daughter. But the reunion's promise is soon tarnished by a web of jealousy, deceit and wounded pride.

Poetry

Mija (Yun Jung-hee) is a beautiful woman in her sixties who moves gracefully through life, contemplating a trivial daily routine that is ill-suited to her refined persona. With elegance and a dash of eccentricity, Mija takes care of her ungrateful grandson Wook (Lee David) and makes a living by cleaning house for an elderly man who, though paralyzed by a stroke, still responds to her charm with bouts of drug-induced arousal. On a whim, Mija enrolls in a poetry class at the local cultural centre and begins a personal quest to find the perfect words to describe her feelings. However, she's plagued by the onset of Alzheimer's disease, and struggles with new vocabulary and the challenges of the creative process. When her world is turned upside down by the discovery of a monstrous crime, it is Mija's unique and touching poetry that allows her to defy the weight of shame and distance herself from a painful proximity to violence.

Poison

Edith Meeks, Susan Gayle Norman, James Lyons, Larry Maxwell, Scott Renderer

Le Quattro Volte

Le Quattro Volte (The Four Times) is an ineffably beautiful meditation on the mysterious cycles of life. Set in Italy's mountainous region of Calabria, it traces the path of one goat-herder's soul, as it passes from human to animal to vegetable to mineral. Director Michelangelo Frammartino was inspired by Pythagoras' belief in „four-fold transmigration“ of souls, but his film is far more physical than philosophical. In gorgeous long takes he captures the daily routines of the herder, a baby goat, an imperious tree and a humble charcoal kiln. Plus there is a scene-stealing cameo from a stubborn sheepdog, who hilariously interrupts an Easter Procession. Working as both a spiritual investigation and a documentary of Calabrian life, Le Quattro Volte.

Sodium Babies

A tale of vampire ghoul.. The award winning, internationally acclaimed film Sodium Babies is a gripping, gut wrenching ride into the world of vampires as seen through the eyes of Dead Dog, a ghoul eternally trapped in servitude to the prince of vampires. Dead Dog (Benoit Decaillon) is shackled by the insanely domineering and masochistic ghoul Max. He is trained by Max to slaughter innocent humans to satisfy the ever blood thirsty prince of vampires. After 30 years of grueling service, Dead Dog longs to free himself from the brutal madness of his unending life. When he meets Pussy Cat - a drugged out club girl - Dead Dog at last finds meaning for his existence. Sodium Babies is a stunning visual smorgasbord of imagery - a cross between the graphic novel style of Sin City and HBO's vampire series True Blood spiced with the pathology of Fight Club.

Vanity Fair (Repackage)

Philip Glenister, Natasha Little, Michele Dotrice, David Ross
A&E and the BBC bring William Thackeray's classic satire to life in this lavish co-production. In a culture obsessed with status, Becky Sharp- beautiful, clever and poor- is determined to earn her place in society. Her childhood friend, Amelia Sedley, enjoys the privileges Becky lacks, little realizing how fickle these blessings can be. From posh London ballrooms and country estates to the battlefield of Waterloo, they pursue love and fortune in the self-absorbed world of British upper crust. While the delightfully amoral Becky manipulates the men around her, Amelia's innocence and the vagaries of fate leave her at the mercy of others. Brilliantly adapted by Andrew Davies (Pride and Prejudice) from William Makepeace Thackeray's masterpiece, Vanity Fair faithfully preserves the bon mots and stinging satire that has made the novel one of the enduring classics of English literature.

Women On The Margins: The Ci-

nema Of Jean-Claude Brisseau

Lucien Plazanet, Daniel Tarrare, Jenny

Bellay, Maria Luisa Garcia, Marie Riviere

French director Jean-Claude Brisseau, a protégé of Erich Rohmer, created controversy with his erotic films focusing on the sexuality of women from a decidedly male perspective.

However, these three dramas by Brisseau feature women protagonists who live outside conventional society in other ways. Life The Way It Is (La Vie Comme Ca, 1978, 95 mins), the second film by Brisseau, is a gritty story of working women in the modern world. Originally shot on 16mm for French television, Life The Way It Is may be the director's most radical film, with its images of suicide, group violence, and sexual pressure. Agnes Tessier leaves the comfortable confines of school to work at a chemical factory in a slum district with her friend Florence. When greeted with sexual harassment, harsh conditions, and volatile coworkers, Agnes responds by applying for the union rep position in order to challenge the status quo at the factory. Stripped down to the essentials, the film reflects the fury of working-class women. Brisseau's psychological drama Celine (1992, 83 mins) is a lyrical tale of miracles, apparitions, and sainthood.

Yesterday, Today And Tomorrow

Sophia Loren, Marcello Mastroianni, Aldo

Giuffrè, Tina Pica, Pasquale Cennamo,

Carlo Croccolo, Armando Trovajoli

Winner of the Best Foreign Language Film Oscar at the 1964 Academy Awards, Yesterday, Today And Tomorrow is a sparkingly original comedy that casts Marcello Mastroianni and Sophia Loren in three different stories set throughout Italy. In Naples, they are poor but resourceful, selling black market cigarettes on the streets. In Milan, Loren is costumed in Christian Dior and debates her preference for a Rolls Royce or her husband. And in Rome, Mastroianni is an industry scion who helps Loren's prostitute set a wavering priest back onto the spiritual plane. This episode features

Sophia's famous striptease, which was recreated 30 years later in Robert Altman's Ready To Wear. Witty and unforgettable, this gem from master filmmaker Vittorio de Sica (Two Women, Marriage Italian Style) is picture-postcard beautiful and effortlessly hilarious. Also featured in this special 2-disc set is Vittorio D., a documentary on the life and legacy of the great director (and frequent Loren collaborator) that offers fascinating interviews with Woody Allen, Clint Eastwood, Mike Leigh and many others.

competition - that you've never heard of. American Harmony journeys deep into the ultra-obsessive, zany, and heartfelt world of competitive barbershop singing, where passion is equaled only by raw talent, and the reward is not fame or fortune, but simply victory. The film focuses on four quartets vying to win the International Championships of Barbershop Singing, in what turns out to be the closest and most controversial victory in its 70 year history. Max Q is the heavy favorite - a superstar quartet comprised of former Champions. Looking to upset them is OC Times (The Heart-Throbs), Vocal Spectrum (The Rookies) and Reville, an aging foursome who has been together for 30 years. In total, fifty quartets duke it out for the coveted gold medal, while facing the pressures of quartet life - from big egos to brain cancer and everything in between.

Green Day: How It Came To Be - Those Early Years In Full

The most popular and successful punk band ever, Green Day remain all at once "the real thing", wholly credible and MTV favorites - something barely any other current acts seem able to pull off. Perhaps this rare characteristic within the music business is associated with the fact that Green Day have sold huge quantities of records almost since day one - although it is also clearly the case that, despite their huge wealth, they enjoy fully what they do, have never sold out or gotten greedy - or allowed this factor to dilute the music they make. These three musicians are clearly their own men! This DVD reviews the early career of Green Day with the aid of rare and classic footage, archive interviews with the band and their closest confidantes, performance film, contributions from those who know the guys best and some of the finest music from the era in question. Also features rare photographs - many from private collections - plus news reports, location shoots, DVD extras, extended interviews and a host of other features, making for the finest document about the early career of this extraordinary band yet

Maxwell Street Blues

Chicago's legendary Maxwell Street was home to an open-air market that thrived for decades. It was there that the Chicago blues was born as African-American street musicians, who had fled the rural South for the city, played regularly on the dirty corners, empty lots, and broken sidewalks. Together, they hammered out a hard-driving, electrified sound that influenced the world. This documentary captures the tail end of the last great era of blues music on Maxwell Street. Artists like Arvella Gray, Jim Brewer, John Henry David, Coot Venson, Floyd Jones and Carrie Robinson may look a little worse for the wear as they play among the rubble of Maxwell Street on their beat-up instruments, but their raw, hard-hitting, and gritty music defines the essence of the Windy City. New York gave birth to the smooth sounds of Tin Pan Alley, New Orleans struts its up-tempo jazz, and Nashville relaxes to the twang of country, but the Chicago blues will hit you where you live.

We track their progress as they are recruited for top Division 1 college scholarships; they fan out across the country, each believing that he will be one of the chosen few who will be a „Sunday Player.“ What their experience reveals is the true fate of millions of high school football players each year: only 1696 players can play on an NFL team and the cut-throat competition - physical, intellectual, and emotional - is what distinguishes one man's success from another man's failure. The bottleneck narrows as our characters reach the end of their college careers and the draft and recruitment process heats up. ## American Grindhouse

The salacious and uproarious American Grindhouse explores the hidden history of the exploitation film, those popular purveyors of cheap sex and violence. It emerged from the tents of carnie sideshows into features like Freaks, and mutated from there to change with the times. There were the rebellious teen flicks of the Eisenhower 50s, bloody gore-fests and drug movies of the turbulent 60s, and the Blaxploitation boom in the 70s. American Grindhouse takes a fascinating look at the films, filmmakers, shysters, and hustlers who made it all happen. Narrated by Academy Award nominee Robert Forster (Jackie Brown), with exclusive interviews with filmmakers, actors and critics Herschell Gordon Lewis, Joe Dante, Larry Cohen, John Landis, Fred Williamson, Kim Morgan and many more. Featuring over 200 clips from some of the most outrageous movies ever made, American Grindhouse is the most comprehensive documentary ever made on these masterpieces of the lowbrow.

American Mystic

Set against the rich, color-soaked backdrop of America's rural landscapes, Alex Mar's lyrical first work is a bold and artful documentary that braids together the stories of three young Americans who have chosen to sacrifice comforts in order to embrace the fringes of alternative religion. The subjects include Chuck, a Lakota Sioux sundancer in the badlands of South Dakota; Morpheus, a pagan priestess living off the grid in northern California's old mining country; and Kublai, a Spiritualist medium in the former revivalist district of upstate New York. In the radical, separatist spirit of early America, each has extracted himself from the mainstream in order to live immersed in his faith and seize a different way of life. Mar takes a personal, visually lush approach, enveloping the viewer in the subjects experience of their controversial faiths through their own words, their rituals, and the sprawling, majestic imagery that makes up each of their worlds.

Each film contains subtitles in French, Spanish and English. Each DVD includes a short experimental film by Berliner, made between 1980 and 1985, as well as never before seen clips from interviews conducted with Berliner following the creation of each film. Bonus features include a television profile of Berliner, a PDF file of „The Art of Process“, a 20-page catalogue about Berliner's films and installations, and more. From HBO and Lorber Films comes a film that balances the precision of a Swiss watch with the messiness of a restless mind, Wide Awake is Alan Berliner's uniquely personal tour through his life-long obsession with insomnia. Berliner uses both metaphor and candid first-person observations to illuminate how an obsessive mind that won't shut down at night leaves him feeling „jet lagged in his own time zone.“ By focusing on the effects of insomnia on Berliner's creative process, Wide Awake also becomes a film about the art of filmmaking

Marco Cappelli & Art Spiegelman: In The Shadow Of No Towers

The artist and New York City resident Art Spiegelman drew the comic board book 'In the Shadow of No Towers' immediately after the September 11 attacks. The story follows Spiegelman's search for his daughter in the chaos, combined with his feelings of dislocation, grief, anxiety, and outrage over the horror of the attacks, through to his observations of the event's 'hijacking' by the Bush administration. Moved by Spiegelman's book, guitarist / composer Marco Cappelli decided to set it to music as a multi-media event scored for a narrator with guitars, live electronics and drums. The music fuses rock, jazz and contemporary classical music. Brooklyn born actor John Turturro (The Big Lebowski, Barton Fink, Do the Right Thing, Miller's Crossing) makes the perfect voice for Spiegelman's New Yorker viewpoint. Cappelli's concept was originally premiered in 2008 in Italy. A alternate Italian version is also presented here by Italian stage actor Enzo Salomone as narrator.

Classic U.S. Combat Aircraft Of WWII: P-51 Mustang

WWII's most recognized warbird & arguably the finest fighter in history. The Classic U.S. Combat Aircraft Of WWII programs tell the story, through a series of classic war planes, of the development of the combat aircraft since the Second World War. Each machine was produced to meet a specific requirement, usually to meet or beat the capabilities of an existing enemy or a potential aggressor. The P-51 Mustang, first flown in May 1941, was designed and built for Britain's Royal Air Force, serving throughout all the different theaters of war as the long-range component for the bomber escort missions, supported by the P-38 Lightning and P-47 Thunderbolt. When its original Allison engine was replaced with the excellent Merlin, it allowed the Mustang to become arguably the finest single-engine fighter aircraft series of WWII.

The Sounds Of Insects

In a remote wintry forest, a hunter discovers the mummified corpse of a 40-year-old man. A diary is found near the body, detailing the man's everyday thoughts as he commits suicide through self-imposed starvation. Based on an incredible true story, and adapted from the novella „Until I am a Mummy“ by Shimada Masahiko, Peter Liecith's The Sounds Of Insects is a stunning investigation into the mystery of the man's enigmatic self-destructive motivations. Taking on his point-of-view, the film presents the notebook entries as stream-of-consciousness musings on the world around him as his body dissipates, an attempt to piece together the causes of his disillusionment. With luminous cinematography of the vaulting trees that surround his tented tomb, and of hallucinated memories of the cities and people he left behind, The Sounds Of Insects is a hypnotic and transcendent meditation on how the renunciation of life paradoxically reveals its beauty.
