A NEW HOME FOR THE RECORD

Those who have built their own homes can get some adequate idea of the thrill that the entire Record family feels in looking forward to its new home.

Northville is worthy of the best kind of a newspaper and of the most creditable home for its paper.

When the new plant is ready for business we certainly intend to invite every last man, woman and child in Northville and environs to come in and look over every foot of the new home of their newspaper.

LOYALTY

Without the slightest suggestion that they do it, two of the Record staff last week worked all one night long in order that the paper might be gotten out with the home paper still being published under handicaps.

We have always maintained that loyalty is one of the biggest words in the language. The men you can count on through thick and thin are the "salt of the earth."

A PANACEA FOR TROUBLE

Came home the other evening from work, tired, discouraged and wondering just why some days bring so much "grief."

Into the back yard Friend Wife ushered us. Showed us where she and the children had planted sweetpeas, where the garden was going to be, where the perennials were ready to burst into bloom.

Well that was enough to vanish Old Man Trouble. Sunshine all around us, a touch of fresh air in the lungs, the song of the newly arrived robin, the inspiration of some physical work, the touch of soil—that was the formula of a new hope and joy in living.

A GOOD NORTHVILLE

"I like Northville," said to us a local man who has been here a short time. "I like the people here; they are friendly and take you 'right in'."

A town that makes folks feel like that is a town that is going to go ahead.

WHO WERE THEY?

The family of the writer ate Easter dinner under the open sky, at that beauty spot so near to us, Cass Benton park. While we were spread out—ham and eggs, sandwiches, coffee and mashed potatoes—there trudged by us an Italian family, probably from Detroit.

THE RESURRECTION OUTDOORS

From hearing the preacher tell of the hope of immortality and of the resurrection, we went to the sleeping outdoors. In Cass Benton park there were no leaves on the trees, the grass was cold and dead, it was seemingly a lifeless place.

Yet we turned to each other and said: "What a place of beauty this will be in another month when the leaves, the buds and the flowers come out." We know that there will be a resurrection of the physical life around us and that soon all will be beauty as the new life shoots toward the sun.

Surely it should not be hard to believe in the resurrection of which Easter is the glorious symbol, when the coming of spring in the woods and gardens, in the backyards and in the damp places along the rivers, is an ever recurring resurrection without which this earth would soon become a peopleless planet.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Would it be possible for Northville to make some kind of a sunken garden out of the lovely spot between the two stretches of pavement, near the P. M. station?

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

TAKE A CHANCE

(Trenton Times) A Houston, Texas, man declares that danger signs at railroad crossings are based on the wrong psychology. He says, "Let a man Stop, Look and Listen, and he feels obliged to go none of the three."

BUCKER AND RELIGION

After Governor Wilbur M. Brucker addressed one thousand men at the Presbyterian church at Battle Creek on a recent Sunday, Editor Muriel H. DeRue went home and wrote the following comment on the talk:

"The personal endorsement of Governor W. M. Brucker gave the cause of religion at his Battle Creek church meeting Sunday noon will bring about a tremendous influence in the lives of the thousand men and boys who heard this address by the state executive."

"So many so-called 'he men regard religion as a pastime for youngsters and women. But here was the governor of a great state giving his own experiences and realizing how the Christian church has influenced his own career. He declared his pride in his children's relations and said: 'My place on Sunday is in the church.'"

"If Governor Brucker would go over Michigan and make the same identical address in every county of Michigan, religion would show a speedy and permanent reorganization that would be felt in every nook and corner of the commonwealth. Whatever may be said of the governor as a politician, he is a religious crusader of commanding strength and convincing zeal."

THE JURY ON TRIAL

(Walter S. Kennedy in Albion Evening Recorder) The other day Judge Rathburn, sitting as a visiting judge in the Detroit traffic court, reproved and dismissed twelve jurors who had just acquitted a drunken driver in the face of the law and the evidence.

Not long before that Judge Root at Monroe did the same with twelve jurors who violated their oaths and slapped the public in the face by acquitting a moonshine seller in spite of his own admission that he sold the liquor. Even the man's lawyer in his argument to the jury said: "I don't know just why my client wants to stand trial, but for some reason he wants to."

Shortly before that incident, a jury in Detroit in the Recorder's court acquitted five members of the Purple gang charged with illegal possession of firearms. The evidence was absolute, and each one of the defendants had been arrested from seven to 26 times, yet the twelve males and females composing the jury called them innocent.

The jury system itself is on trial, these days, and it may be convicted. The people may find the jury system guilty of inefficiency, selfishness and crookedness, and sentence it to abolition. That would be bad, for trial by jury has invaluable merits. But trial by jury in such cases as we referred to has not any merits at all. It is itself a crime. Such a verdict is exactly on a par with concealing a criminal, or helping him to escape, or committing perjury in his behalf.

The trouble with the jury system is due to the poor quality of material in

EASTER DRAWS CROWDS

was delivered by the pastor, Rev. W. R. Babbitt. The service was brightened by a special music by the choir and several numbers by an orchestra composed of Prof. Emil Racine, Ernest and Miss Frances Cousins, accompanied by Miss L. Cousins.

In the evening occurred a fine program, the first part of which was taken by the children of the Sunday school in songs and recitations. Those taking part were Joan Montgomery, Lawrence McArthur, Thelma Fritz and Lorry Shipes. A number of classes gave pleasing numbers in unison.

In the second part of the program an Easter play was carried out by Don Miller, Misses Marie and Myrtle Legmon, Jas. Christie and Mrs. Leora McRae.

Rev. Harold G. Whitfield in his sermon Easter morning spoke on the power of the resurrection stressing its Christian teaching as applied to everyday life. Beside special music by the choir a vocal solo was sung by Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnston. A number were received into the Presbyterian church at this service.

An early Mass at Our Lady of Victory church every good Catholic was present Easter morning when hymns were beautifully sung by a junior choir. At 10 o'clock high mass was celebrated. A special choir of six voices from St. Martin's church, Detroit sang the responses. The new altar was used for the first time at this service.

In his sermon Fr. Jos. G. Schuler's central thought was that as Christ was able to go down to death and come back, the practical application to our lives is that man is able to rise again from temptation and wrong.

The Methodist service opened with its processional of choral singing "Christ is Risen." The sermon by Rev. Wm. Richards touched the hearts of his hearers by the nearness of the resurrection brings to those "lost awhile."

Mrs. M. J. Koldyke sang a solo and the choir rendered special music. Two children were baptised and a number were received into the church membership. The sacrament of the Lord's supper concluded the service. In the evening the choir gave a fine cantata, "The First Easter." Miss Eileen Honsinger sang a solo.

At the St. Paul's Lutheran church a large cross of lilies against a background of purple was the central decoration surrounded by banks of lilies and other flowers. Under the direction of Louis Measler the choir sang "He is Risen."

The pastor, Rev. Leo J. Eickstaedt thus outlined his sermon "Easter is a day of joy because of the great victory which Christ has gained for us. It is a day of thanksgiving because of the great sacrifice made by Christ to gain the victory. True and lasting joy it is to accept Christ in faith as our personal Saviour and Redeemer."

LEGION BANQUET

Alton J. Roberts, vice-president of the 1931 Legion convention corporation, explained briefly the plans being prepared to make this year's meeting at Detroit the largest ever held by any organization.

According to Mr. Roberts, there will be a mammoth parade of 125,000 Legionnaires. A corps of 1000 Legion P.'s will aid Detroit police in keeping order. The convention will be under the direction of 50 main committees and 150 sub-committees.

Congressman Seymour H. Persons of the sixth district was introduced and mentioned, just previous to his speech, how Sheriff Berendt had invited him to the county jail. Mr. Persons was a little doubtful concerning his acceptance, as he declared, "I've been over to Windsor today but I'm not afraid to visit the jail."

"There is a greater force than an ideal," said Mr. Persons, "there is the power of the idea, that might does not always make right. Two million American boys went over to France in support of that theory. They suffered privation, danger and hardships and there were three million more boys ready to go."

Mr. Persons delved into history, pointing out that the concentration of people has always resulted in some masterpiece, for the Greeks—their architecture. In the last hundred years, he said, people have centered their attentions on government and the constitution of the United States stands as the perfected masterpiece.

The table decorations were in red, white and blue and balloons placed on the tables added much to the merriment of the occasion. It is estimated that close to 275 people attended the banquet.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HELP MANY HERE

With the sum of $50.00 from the offering of the Good Friday service, to add to their treasury, the King's Daughters were able very efficiently to conduct their business meeting at the home of their president, Mrs. E. B. Cavell Tuesday afternoon. All of their bills for March were allowed—of these $72.74 was paid for groceries during March for families in need and the largest sum for the entire year was spent for flowers for the comfort of the sick and bereaved. It is the policy of these women to omit no one from their broad charity. Mrs. W. H. Safford, visiting chairman, reported a large number of homes relieved by the ministrations of the King's Daughters who help their fellow man "in His Name."

GEO. EARLE TALKS ON BOY TRAINING AT EXCHANGE CLUB

"There is more power in a pair of hands than in a smart head, in the training of boys," George Earle of Detroit told the members of the Exchange Club Wednesday noon, in talking on the topic, "Father and Son, Incorporated." Mr. Earle, former alumnus advisor at the University of Michigan and authority on boy training, went on to expound his theory that the greatest guidance a man possesses is in his hands rather than in his mind. By this, he explained, he meant constant contact and proximity with the boy. "No boy can answer you disrespectfully if you have him in your hands," said the speaker. Some other statements on boy training made by Mr. Earle were: "I tell my children and the young men callers at our home that if there is any liquor-drinking done, I'll do it." "Never allow a child to get into the position where he can't come frankly to you with his problem." "We have never used the word 'No' in our home. If parents aren't able to convince their children of the wisdom of not doing certain things, there is something wrong with their intelligence." "I believe young Ben's father should be in jail and so should the fathers of Leopold and Loeb. When a boy falls down, I think the father is to blame." "A boy should give love to his mother and respect to his father." "The average man puts the boy on a hole. Don't do this. Make it easy for him to tell you everything." Mr. Earle, whose the son of the well known Horatio ("Good Roads") Earle, was given very close attention and his speech made a deep impression. President C. R. Horton was in charge of the meeting, Guy Finkins of Detroit was a guest.

EMORY MAPLES HURT AS CAR HITS HORSES

Emory Maples, 17 years old, was required to have nine stitches taken to close a gash in the bridge of his nose, suffered when he and Elden Biery, 16, and Norma Soper of Salem, were participants in a head-on collision one mile east of Salem between Maples' car and a team of horses driven by Freeman Bryant, Negro driver for the Ford Motor company. The accident occurred Sunday night about nine o'clock just after the young people had left Miss Soper's home. According to Maples, Bryant was driving without any lights and was on the wrong side of the road. One horse was killed instantly as a result of the impact. The car caromed off of the horse and went into a culvert where it turned completely over. The damage to the car was estimated to be about $200, and is not covered by insurance. Biery and Miss Soper were taken to Sessions hospital where it was found that they were not seriously injured but were severely shaken up. Bryant was taken to Dr. Handorf's office to be treated for scratches.

THREE GRASS FIRES CALL DEPARTMENT

Three grass fires occurring at widely separated points kept Northville's fire fighting force busy Tuesday. The annual fire at Cass Benton park took five tanks of chemical liquid before it could be put out. A grass fire behind the Pere Marquette depot caused no small concern when it was noticed that the smoldering blaze was heading for the huge gasoline tank situated there. A quick phone call to the village hall brought out the truck and the fire was extinguished in short order. Another grass fire on Plymouth avenue was reported by John Scribo and this was also put out without any trouble.

SPAGNUOLO CAR IN ANOTHER ACCIDENT

Two automobile accidents within a week is the unenviable record of James Spagnuolo and Paul Martino. In neither case was it their fault. Returning from Plymouth Wednesday they were met by a drunken driver near Phoenix lake who had so little control of his car that he collided with the Spagnuolo car with such force as to break a wheel and smash the fender. Fortunately no one was hurt but Mr. Spagnuolo says that the shock of the impact did not help his back which had been wrenched in the previous accident last week when he was overturned in a ditch. The drunken driver paid for the damages done and went on his way. Undaunted by these misfortunes, Spagnuolo and Martino ventured another trip Monday, this time to Pontiac, and returned without mishap.

Funeral

The death of Mrs. Lillian Belford which occurred in South Lyon, will be of interest to our readers inasmuch as she was a resident of Northville for a number of years at her home on Wing street.

It was with great surprise that South Lyon folks learned of the death of Mrs. Lillian Belford, which occurred very suddenly last Friday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Alfred Travis, who had passed away that day.

Death gave no warning. Mrs. Belford had been feeling very well that day, until only a few minutes before she died.

Lillian Heebner, daughter of Geo. and Sarah Heebner was born at Woodstock, Ontario, December 2nd, 1877. In May 1892, she married William Burton, and to them four daughters were born. Mr. Burton entered eternity on Dec. 9, 1918.

In August, 1919, she was married to H. M. Belford, who died in March 1923.

Always ready to lend a helping hand or give a word of cheer to the sorrowing and needy, it can be truly said that Mrs. Belford did much good in the allotted 53 years of her earthly career, and she will be missed by a wide circle of friends.

The deceased was a member of the Rebecca lodge of "Brighton," at the time of her death was chaplain of the Macedonia lodge of Newburg, was a member of the Royal Neighbors fraternity of Northville, and for several years had held the office of president of the Walled Lake Council of Northville. Mrs. Belford was also a member of the First Presbyterian church of South Lyon.

She leaves to mourn her passing, her children: Mrs. W. J. (Eva) Warby of South Lyon; Mrs. Marvin (Ethelyn) Maltop of Northville and Miss Margaret Burton of South Lyon; also two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Heebner of Beachville, Ont., and Mrs. Alfred Travis of New Hudson. There are also two grand-children, Guy E. Jewett, Jr. of Ferndale and Peggy Joyce Warby of South Lyon. One daughter, Sara May Jewett preceded her mother to the Great Beyond eight years ago—Feb. 28, 1923.

Bodies of both Mrs. Belford and Mr. Travis lay in state at the Travis home at New Hudson until Monday afternoon when double funeral services were held there at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. H. B. Wumberly of South Lyon and Dr. Brooks of Detroit, Florida offerings were profuse and beautiful. Burial was in New Hudson cemetery.

Mrs. Caleb C. Rix Olive E. Wixom was born April 22, 1880, at Novi, Oakland county, Michigan, and died at Novi, April 6, 1931.

She was the daughter of James S. Wixom and Jane Stanton Wixom, who were among the early settlers and pioneers of the district. She was the youngest of four children, all of whom had preceded her to the other world. On December 15, 1904, she was married to Caleb C. Rix of Williamston, Michigan.

Her whole life was spent at and near the village of Novi where she was early affiliated with the Baptist church of which she continued to be a member until her death. She always took an active part in the activities of the church and of the neighborhood and was one of those who were ever mindful of the happiness and needs of others. In her early life she lived with and cared for her mother through her declining years.

She leaves to mourn their loss, her husband, Caleb C. Rix, and her niece, Catherine E. Wixom, and a host of friends in the community of whose life she had been a part.

Funeral services were held at her former home in Novi on Thursday afternoon, April 9th, at 2:00 p. m. with interment at the Novi cemetery.

LEGION BANQUET GEMS and who was the attractive young lady who binned Congressman Persons on the head with an empty grape fruit as she was removing the dinner dishes. The fanfare of bugles and the presentation of colors was a new, deft touch of artistry that added to the ceremonies. Many of the veterans wondered if they were back on the battlefield as the balloons burst on all sides with loud "bangs." A new game. The songs played by the Cavaliers were so good that soon everyone was singing and keeping time with his feet. East side, West side, all around the town. When it's Springtime in the Rockies. All the ladies took great pride in displaying new Easter bonnets and gowns. But to get down to genuine brass tacks, that dinner, so efficiently and quickly served, was good.

The Presbyterian ladies "know their groceries." Those natty uniforms took us back to wartime when every other man on the street was in khaki. Keynote of the banquet, a plea for peace. And every mother present uttered a fervent "Amen" to herself. Franklin said, "There never was a good war or a bad peace." In the vernacular, he was right, and how. A word for Monsignor Duhignan. "A man's man and a worthy gentleman." If more of our statesmen had his sense of humor, justice and honesty, war would be eliminated.

Ham With Noodles Cook noodles in boiling salted water, drain and add about two cupfuls of cooked ham. Add three well beaten eggs—a cupful of cream, place in baking dish, in a pan of hot water. Bake until the eggs are set and the custard firm.

Ham With Pineapple Take a thick slice of ham, brown a bit of its egg fat on both sides. Place in a baking pan and pour over it enough crushed pineapple to cover nicely. Add more water if the juice is not enough. Bake very slowly until tender. Serve on a hot platter with the pineapple around it.

Baked Ham, Southern Style Take a thick slice of ham, cover with the following ingredients, patting it well into the ham: Two tablespoonfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of mustard and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. The Firestone Double Cord Breaker gives SIX and EIGHT plies under the tread—spreads road shocks—lessens punctures—gives over 50% stronger union between tread and tire body which ensures longer tire life and greater safety. "BLOSSOM TIME" NEXT WEEK AT CASS THEATRE, DETROIT

Detroit playgoers to be regaled during the next week with a revival of the most popular and most tuneful of all modern musical plays.

"Blossom Time" comes with a clean bill of decency—its story is romantic, honest and sincere—its music is glorious in composition and expression—its presentation will never cause the blush of modesty to pinken the cheeks of innocence.

The story of "Blossom Time" has been written in these columns so frequently that any reference at this time to its purpose seems superfluous.

Sigmund Romberg's weaving of the Schubert melodies into the score has placed this exquisite symphonic gem, the peer of all musical plays.

A newcomer is Greta Alpert as Mitzi. This young lady created a veritable turore at her New York debut and was acclaimed as the lyric soprano of the season.

The engagement at the Cass Theatre is for one week only, with the customary matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, when popular prices will prevail.

The Joy of Tears

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I WEEP, but gladly, as the skies Keep ve dant all the earth— Our tears the tribute, when one dies, That love may pay to worth.

Our sorrows happy days recall, Some hour, some lovely scene— Grief sends its raindrops, after all, To keep remembrance green.

So there is joy in all the tears Of memory, my dead, But, oh, the long and voiceless years That stretch so far ahead!

KNOWING The TREES

EUROPEAN BEECH

(Fagus Sylvatica)

THE European beech is a large tree, 60 to 100 feet high, round topped and symmetrical, and with wide-spreading limbs.

can beed: The leaves are often similar to those of the American beech, but usually shorter and broader, with less pronounced teeth and with 5 to 9 pairs of side veins; instead of 9 to 14 pairs, as in the American beech.

No serious diseases of the leaves of the beech are known. Several fungi cause leaf-spots occasionally and a sooty mold fungus often occurs on the leaves. It is subject, however, to several wood-rot diseases.

The most distinguishing characteristic of the European beech is the smooth gray bark which invites the carving of initials and entwining hearts.

ILLITERACY

ILLITERACY is no longer an individual problem. Its serious effect in the economic and social world is keenly felt. It has become a serious national problem. Evidence of this fact are apparent in the recent appeal of the secretary of the Interior to the churches of America. An earnest request is made for assistance in solving this most aggravating problem. Undoubtedly the churches are in a position to render some real service in this direction in maintaining more efficient instruction classes not only on Sundays, but on the evenings during the week. The infusion of a great moral purpose in the life of our youth will do much to solve this problem, for it is frankly confessed, even by youth itself, that one cannot get very far in this country without an education. The infusion of this high moral purpose also will help to solve our problem of crime, which is attributable in no small part to illiteracy. An official of the American Bankers' association recently remarked in a public address that "Sometimes the ten billion dollars given some idea of the tremendous tax which criminals impose on virtually all our people." In this same address he remarked, "The disgraceful carnival of crime is a big job that requires nothing less than the combined forces of business and civic organizations. We must look upon the underworld as another world whose population has more than trebled in the last decade and whose inhabitants present undesirable risks to any legitimate business."

The recent census bureau reports that about 11 per cent of commitments to prisons are from the illiterate class and of the entire population of the United States 4 1/2 per cent are illiterate. The startling fact revealed by this report is that the percentage of illiteracy among the criminal class is about double the percentage of criminals in the entire population.

It is true that illiteracy is on the decline in our country, dropping from 17 per cent of the entire population in 1880 to only 6 per cent in 1920. The cause of illiteracy is more attributable to our lax immigration laws than to any other reason. With our revised laws now in operation governing the admission of immigrants much will be accomplished in reducing the number of those who create the human element in this vexing problem.

HOME NUTRITION CLASS

Another meeting of the Home Nutrition series conducted by Miss Emma DuBord, Home Demonstration agent of Wayne county, will be held in the old cafeteria of the high school building next Tuesday, April 14th at 10 p. m.

The monthly lectures and demonstration are free and afford splendid opportunities for home-makers not only to check up on their family menus with health-giving qualities uppermost, but direct attention to their individual health and food habits as well.

Recently each member under the direction of the school nurse was weighed. Whether overweight or underweight the check up health card suggested the solution. The Food Habits Score Card was also very illuminating, many women discovering that omitting breakfast or eating between meals called for mums rather than a plus sign in making up the total percent.

Your interest in improving the health of your family or yourself qualifies you for membership. A large attendance will add interest. The date is Tuesday, April 14, at 10 p. m.

Senior Bake Sale, Saturday, April 11 at Baldens Meat Market.

We have compared a trial balance showing the amount to be paid annually on serial bonds and sinking fund requirements. Water accounts and study accounts payable have been compared with detail statements found to be correct.

1930 pieces of coin ledger systems—Land—Contracts—Receivable—Accounts—Sinking Fund. We have been informed that the land sold and covered by this contract has been turned back to the Village, but there is no concrete evidence to be found in the Village office substantiating this assertion. We have tried to locate the cancelled contract or a quit claim deed without result because we did not consider this account on your books.

It is noted that this land is now in name of the Village and the evidence to date seems to be correct. We suggest that Honorable Body pass a motion to have the Village purchase this land and cancel this account.

Subject to the foregoing remarks the Schedules and Exhibits heretofore mentioned are in our opinion correctly the financial condition of the Village.

Respectfully submitted, W. H. Hedges, Village Clerk

NOTE: Would advise in regard to this item the evidence has been located and by order of Village Commission the same has been cancelled.

INITIATIVE AND PROMPT ACTION OF TELEPHONE WORKERS SAVE LIVES; OPERATOR AIDS CAPTURE OF BANDITS

Burch Foraker, president of the Michigan Bell telephone company, announces the award of the Theodore N. Vail medal in bronze, for 1930, to five employees of the company—four men and one woman—for outstanding acts of service in moments of extreme emergency.

The four men will receive the Vail Medal for the exercise of unusual initiative, quick action, and the application of methods learned in telephone company first aid classes, which resulted in the saving of human lives, three from drowning and one from asphyxiation.

Clarence J. Tietzma, Grand Rapids, is cited for prompt action and courage, and the application of first aid, in saving the life of a young woman. While on a raft in Big White Fish lake, near Pierson, Michigan, last August 4, he heard the girl call for help and saw her sink, approximately 100 feet distant.

Prompt action, and persistent application of first aid by Glenn Bettens, of Houghton, saved the life of a ten year old boy August 3. While bathing in Potage lake, near Hancock, he was attracted by the screams of children, who pointed toward deep water, where he saw the head of a child disappear.

WORLD TRIP SCENES DESCRIBED BY ROGERS

Charles Rogers of the Nine Mile road gave an interesting recital to members of the Rotary club Monday noon when he told of the many things he saw on his trip around the world.

After disposing of routine business and an excellent luncheon, member of the organization heard Mr. Rogers introduced by Edward Langford. Mr. Rogers did not have time enough to give a complete talk on his trip so he confined his remarks chiefly to a discussion of the Orient. He told of the poverty stricken thousands who live along the river fronts in China.

Whole families, he said, spend most of their life on boats which are called 'junks'. The name is particularly descriptive, he said, in view of the fact that their living conditions are terrible. Sanitation is unknown to these poor people, Mr. Rogers declared, and they are able to live chiefly on rice which is the main article of their diet because it is so cheap. Farther in the interior the Chinese are much more prosperous, he said in his next talk before the club, Mr. Rogers will tell of the many things he saw while traveling through Asia, and in particular, he will outline the present day situation in India.

The last week in April will see the majority of Rotary members in Flint attending the district convention. The meeting Monday marked the return of Elton R. Eaton, president of the Northville Rotary club.

received a gasoline station over the road. She switched on the police call light and, after repeated effort, located the officer by telephone. As a result, the marshal and members of the Michigan State Police surprised four men in an attempt to gain entrance to the gas station. Shots were exchanged, one man was wounded, two were captured and two escaped.

The four telephone men are holders of certificates awarded jointly by the American Red Cross and the Michigan Bell Telephone company upon completion of first aid training conducted by the company. Letters of commendation for noteworthy acts also were recommended by the Michigan committee of award for Wilbur C. Marsh, cable splicer, and Oscar B. Holcomb, his helper. Carroll L. Bills, lineman, and Foster L. Huber, assistant division Traffic engineer, all of Grand Rapids.

A similar citation was made in the case of Laurance Earl Harvey, Flint splicer's helper. While swimming in Bush lake, near Holly, August 4, he witnessed an accident in which a young woman, stunned and unconscious, fell into the water. He sent for a doctor, applied artificial respiration, and directed others in helping him restore consciousness, which was accomplished after more than an hour of continuous effort. Later he learned that the young woman was a fellow-employee.

William L. Rabe, Detroit repairman, saved a woman from death by asphyxiation. While using a telephone in a gasoline station on May 27, he overheard a girl appeal to the attendant for help in gaining entrance to the home of her grandmother because she had been unable to arouse the elderly woman and feared for her safety. The attendant and Mr. Rabe forced entrance through a window, and found the house filled with gas and the woman unconscious. Mr. Rabe applied artificial respiration and restored consciousness.

Mrs. Minnie Haas, night operator at Romeo, is cited for initiative, prompt action and the exercise of good judgment in emergency. While on duty at 11 p. m., October 19, she
