About The Project

The treasure chest and ICT or ICT in reading and writing is faced towards the students aged 16-19. The main purpose of the project is to combine "old - fashioned reading and writing" with "modern" ICT and to make students good readers and writes and raise their creativity and imagination, to improve their language skills by involving them in exploring old traditions and performing them. The students will be shown how rich are the folk traditions of different countries and will be created cultural awareness. The outdoor activities will be done.

Nowadays many students don't want to read books and they don't want to write essays or to create their own short texts. They just copy them from Internet.

ICT communication has replaced the direct communication between young people and adults and this project gives an opportunity for contacts between different age groups and raising the interest toward "narrating culture".

The students will have opportunities to look for information /myths, legends,songs etc/ to write and to describe old unique traditions and to translate them in English, to exchange information with the partners. The last part will be writing of a new scenario for Common European celebration – the past and nowadays traditions. Students will use their creativity and imaginations and new knowledge.

ICT will help them to make animation of the stories, to prepare Power Point presentation about their opinion about reading and writing, making short movies about the role of reading and writing in their life and to make these two main processes of learning - reading and writing- more interesting and closer to them.

The products will be a book with texts, notes and CD with songs, leaflets.

Csárdás

Csárdás: Az új tánc a 18. és 19. században kezdte meg térhódítását. Kialakulásában a verbunkos is közrejátszott. A másik előd az ugrós lehetett. Az ugróst többnyire legények szólóban, párban vagy négyesben járták, de bizonyos változatait már vegyes párként is. Szinte ezzel a folyamattal párhuzamosan egyre többen táncolták a csárdást. A csárdást is gyönyörű hímzett ruhában ropták. Megtalálhatók benne a csizmaszárát csapkodó legények hevessége, a női körtáncok lágysága, de a falusi ünnepek hangulatát is érezhetjük rajta. Nevében is bent van a csárda, ezzel hangsúlyozza eredetét is, szinte a nemesi paloták táncának ellensúlyozására „találták ki”. A 19. század derekára hihetetlenül népszerű lett. A kísérő zene nem tökéletesen volt mindenütt egyforma, így a tánc is variációkat mutat, természetesen a zenész virtusa is változthatott egy kicsit.

A férfiak vezették a pártáncát, így az ő mozdulataik domináltak. A férfiak büszke főtartással külön-külön rögtönöznek, dobognak, azaz szét- és összedobbantják lábaikat. Tánc közben a párok időnként kört alkottak. A párok forgó mozgást végeztek. Férfi és nő legtöbbször összekapaszkodik. Amikor mégis különválnak, csalogatásnak nevezük, ezt főleg az erőfitogtatás, incselgés tölti ki.

A csárdást a ritmus váltakozása, variálása teszi jellemzővé: a lassú vezeti be, és a vidám, nagyon gyors tempójú friss fejezi be. Számos más variáció van, melyeket ritka csárdásnak, sűrű csárdásnak és szökös csárdásnak neveznek. A zene lüktető, szinkópált 2/4 vagy 4/4 ritmusú.

A klasszikus zeneszerzők is felhasználtak csárdás témaikat, mint például Liszt Ferenc, aki már elmúlt 70 éves, mikor első csárdását írja. A Csárdás Macabre kézirat maradt sokáig, fanyalogtak a kortársak, amikor előkerült, később mégis igen népszerűvé vált. Johannes Brahms, ifjabb Johann Strauss, Pablo de Sarasate, Pjotr Iljics Csajkovszkij és mások művei között is megtaláljuk. A világban a legismertebb „csárdást” Vittorio Monti írta hegedűre és zongorára, a tempó 5 variációjával.

The zeybek

is a form of folk music and dance peculiar to Western Anatolia in Turkey. Zeybeks were mountain warriors of Western Anatolia during the 13th – 19th centuries. Zeybeks generally had Turkmen and Yörük origins. They acted as protectors of village people against landlords, bandits and tax collectors. A leader of a Zeybek gang was called "EFE" and his soldiers were known as "Kızan". The men begin slowly strutting about to tight strains of music. Usually slow and boastful figures suggest men's strength as well as pride in being heroes. Most of the Zeybek dances start with a part called "strolling around". Until the end of the first part of the music, dancers stroll around in the stage and get used to the stage in a way. And then abruptly, with the music, they start dancing with also shouting out. This shouting out is called "nara" in Turkish and it is important because it is a signal that the main part of the dancing is starting. However, this shouting out part is only for male dancers, female dancers start playing just as the same but they don't shout out. It is believed that this dance was created by zeybek warriors who try to simulate movements of hawks.

Zeybek:Türkiye'nin Batı anadoluya has bir müzik ve dans şeklidir.Zeybekler 13-19 yüzyıllar arasında Batı Anadolu'daki dağ savaşçılarıdır.Zeybekler genellikle Türkmen ve yörük asıllıdır.Zeybekler , köyü beylere,eşkiyalara ve haraç kesenlere karşı korurlar.Zeybek grubu liderine Efe ,yarenlerine ise Kızan denir.Tiz müzik sesiyle ,erkek dansçılar birbirlerini selamlıyalarak dansa başlarlar.Genellikle övünen bu figürler ,erkeğin kahramanlığındaki gurur gibi gücünden simgeler.Zeybek dansçıları çoğu zaman ağır ağır gezinerek dansa başlarlar.Müzigin başından sonuna kadar sahnede bir ileri ,bir geri dolaşırlar.Müzikle birlikte dans ederken aniden bağırlırlar.Bu bağırlıша Nara denir.Nara önemlidir çünkü dansın ana bölümünün başladığını belirtir.Bu haykırış sadece erkek dansçılar içindir.Bu oyunda,bayanlarda dans ederler fakat nara atmazlar.Bu dansın zeybek savaşlarının Şahin(kuş) hareketlerini tasvir ettiğine inanılır.

Horon Dances

Horon as a word means different things: it means black from colors. It was the name of the dance that was played in very old ages in religious ceremonies. It also means the bunch of reaped crops after harvest. It can also be called as "horum, horun or horan" in some parts of the country. The same person usually both sings and plays the musical instruments. The dances are played by making a circle, semi-circle or making a row. The first dancer of the row is called "cavus" which means the sergeant in English. The most significant figures of these dances are trembling the shoulders, bending or bowing to front, throwing front the legs, and kneeling down. Horon dances are played in all the coast of the Black Sea region . Black Sea region is famous with its mountains, the fresh air, corn bread and anchovy fish. The Horon Dances represent the vibrations of the anchovy. The lyrics of the folk songs are rather witty.

Girls' dances

"The circle is always tight. Dancers hold each other's hand in various ways and they do not open the circle. Meanwhile, three kinds of movement are made. They all step inward or outward, so that the entire circle seems to be undulating. At other times they turn the circle in two ways. In the first they make two steps forward, one backward, but still moving forward with this asymmetrical form. Sometimes they all move around rapidly, taking small steps, at the same time regularly changing the direction of the ring. The roundels of girls are danced to their own singing."

Karikázó is a Hungarian folk dance traditionally performed by women. It is a circle dance in 4/4 time, traditionally to a capella rather than instrumental music.

Tánc, melyet a részvevők körben forogva járnak; lassú magyar tánc, melyben a részvevők egyike a kör közepén táncol, a többiek pedig körülötte lassú léptekkel lejtenek. Az énekes leánykörtánc a magyar néptáncok egyik legrégiesebb típusa. Nem minden területen tudták fenntartani a divatos páros táncokkal szemben. Táncolták a Dél-Dunántúlon, a Duna mentén, Észak-Magyarországon .

Énekes leánykörtáncok már a középkorban kialakultak, erre utalnak tánctöréneti emlékek, képek, szövegek, kották. Hihetetlenül sok, mintegy 1000 változatot

Az énekes leánykörtáncnak sok neve él: „karikázó”, „karéjözás”, „férfelés”, „sergés”, szabályozott, egyöntetűen járt, csoportos táncfajta. Előadása során a táncosok összefogóznak, a kötött alaplépések és a meghatározott haladási irány miatt a táncosok nem érvényesíthetik a magyar táncokra általában jellemző egyéni rögtönzést. Azonban az, hogy milyen hosszan tartott, hány tételeből, mennyi szöveggel kísérték, az már a táncosok pillanatnyi hangulatától függött. Különbözik a kör haladási iránya, az alaplépés jellegében, de abban is, hogyan kapaszkodnak össze a párok. A lassú tételek friss követheti, néha óráig is eltart egy-egy tánc.

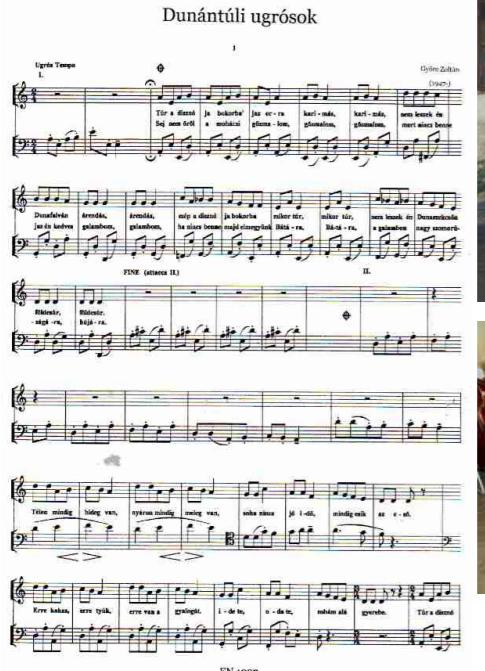

A karikázó előadása során egyaránt fontos az ének és az énekre előadott tánclépés. Ezért a karikázók motívumanyaga nem nagyon gazdag. Sokáig zenei kísérét nélkül járták, a ének is egyszólamú volt, az idő folyamán azonban azonban a jellegzetes karikázó dallamkészlet fokozatosan bővült, kicsérélődött és a hangszeres kísérét egyre hangsúlyosabbá vált. A rituális, a tavaszi ünnepkörhöz kapcsolódó vagy a táncműlatságokon kívüli szerepkörben előadott karikázóknál jobban megmaradtak a régies zenei vonások.

A falusi közösségekben a „karikázó” fogalma sokáig nem is volt azonos a táncos szórakozás fogalmával. A bőjtű együtteseknél, a táncműlatságokon kívüli „táncpótlék” kiegészítő szerepet töltött be a leányok számára, hiszen ez még bőjt idejében is táncolhatták. A leányok a serdülőköt elérve kapcsolódhattak be a nagyleányok karikázójába, s házasságuk után az első gyermek megszületéséig vehettek rész e táncban, amely alkalmas volt korosztályi, társadalmi réteg vagy vallási különbösségek kinyilvánítására.

A dél – dunántúli ugrós

This dance typically can be found in the southern region of Hungary, especially in counties Somogy, Baranya and Zala. This dance is the so called "ugrós", the jumping. This dance is actually a version of the "Swineherd-dance", where weren't used weapons. The "jumping" was danced as a solo for a man many times as the first dance in a merriment or it was performed on a wedding-party. The jumping was occasionally danced also with bottles. The music was energetic.

There are several sort of jumping dances like man solos, dances in pairs, dances stars and in marching up.

The motives are simple, the figures are mostly one-step, waving ones, sometimes fancy and trading motives.

The dancers improvise their performances with playful elements. The oldest forms of jumping date back to the middle of the 19th century, when the shepherd-society was broken. They danced in solo, in twos, threes and fours. Although usually danced by young men, it can be also danced by older men. The dance is performed

Somogy, Zala és Baranya megyében az ugrós tulajdonképpen a kanásztánc eszköz nélküli változata. Általában a táncmulság elején a tánckezdő férfiszóló szerepét töltötte be, valamint lakodalmi szokásoknchezben adták elő. Bemutató szerepkörben gyakran üveggel is táncolták. A kanásztánc dallamok és a régi dél-dunántúli nyolcados lüktetésű tetrapodikus, dipodikus, tripodikus, heteropodikus, s olykor ütemváltó táncdallamok szinte kizárolag ehhez a táncfajtához kapcsolódnak. Az ugrós különböző műfajú változatai (eszközös-, férfi-, páros- csillag és menettáncok) formai fejlődésüköt, és a fejlettebb formák sokirányú elágazási lehetőségeit példázzák. A dél-dunántúli ugrósok motívumkészlete viszonylag egyszerű; a két-három tagú motívumok mozgásanyagát az egylépéses, lengető, cífra és dobogó figurák alkotják. A csekély motívumkincs ellenére a táncosok rögtönzött előadásaikat szabadon variálják, táncukat gyakran gazdagítják játékos elemekkel.

Az ugrósok legrégebb formái Somogyban maradtak fenn, amelyeket a mozgásanyag hasonlósága miatt a kanásztánc eszköz nélküli változatainak tekinthetünk. E táncfajta kialakulását a 19. század közepére tehetjük, amikor a pásztortársadalom felbomlásával a parasztság átveszi, illetve ízléséhez idomítja a szilaj pásztorok táncait. A férfiak által járt egyes, kettes, hármas és négyes.

Then the dancers face each other in pairs, they approach, recede, kneel and turn. ( Salama and Keklik) the dancer accompanies herself rhythmically with four wooden spoons . The dancer treads with very small steps in a confined space. The dancers start by saluting the onlookers. This salute consists of crouching, touching their spoons first on the ground then on their chins and then on their foreheads.

Mazur

The name of this dance comes from region Masovia where mazurki were danced on harvest festivals. Mazur is a mix of mazur, oberek and kujawiak. It is a dynamic dance which was danced in the past by noble people. In this dance one man has a leading role. It was very popular in Europe during XIX century. Mazur has similar figures like kadryl like okrężna, namiotowa, tańcuchowa, arkadowa.

Nazwa tańca pochodzi od regionu Mazowsze, w którym od dawna na wsi tańczono na wiejskich zabawach mazurki. Taniec ten łączy podobieństwo z mazurkiem i oberkiem (w szybszym tempie) i kujawiakiem (powolnym). Charakteryzuje się on tendencją do akcentowania drugiej i trzeciej części taktu oraz figurą rytmiczną o 4-sylabowej grupie, która jest złożona z dwóch ósemek i z dwóch ćwierćnutek na przemian z grupą trzech ćwierćnutek. W postaci stylizowanej występuje pod nazwą mazurek. Jest wesołym, dynamicznym tańcem, który często tańczony był na szlacheckich dworach. Mężczyzna prowadzący w Mazurze to wodzirej. Popularność mazura wśród tańców salonowych przypada na wiek XIX. Znany i tańczony był w całej Europie. We Francji przyjął się w zmienionej wersji pod nazwą mazurka, wymawianej jako rodz. żeński. Mazur wykazuje podobieństwa do kadryla, gdyż jego figury były układane przez tanecmistrzów inspirujących się figurami kadryla i kontredansa. W zależności od wielkości sali mazura tańczy się z odpowiednim zestawem figur, o nazwach okrężna,

Abraham polka

„Abraham polka” is very popular and fast Latvian national dance. Dancers stand in 4 lines – two boys in front and two girls behind. With Abraham polka's steps dancers move to the centre of stage, like cross. Boys move to their girls and they dance together round polka. Girls jump 4 times and boys beat wrists. Then all dancers make one large square. Dancers from the opposite lines change their places. Next two lines repeat. With Abraham steps pairs make 4 small squares. One pair raises their hands and second pair runs between them. After that, dancers stand in 2 lines – girls in front, boys behind. Only girls dance in the centre of stage and return to their partners. In last combination all pairs dance in circle, boys twirl girls two times. All dancers repeat this combination 4 times and dance ends.

„Ābraama polka” ir ļoti ātra, aktīva un iecienīta latviešu tautas dejā, kura ir paredzēta vidusskolas skolēnu kolektīviem. Dejā ir paredzēta 8 deju pāriem.

Dejas sākumā dejotāji stāv četrās rindās viens aiz otra. Rindas priekšā ir divi puiši un divas meitenes aizmugurē. Puiši tur rokas gar sānie dūrtēs, bet meitenes tur aiz lakatiem. Pirmajā gājienā ar ābraama polkas soļiem, dejotāji virzās uz skatuves centru, veidojot krustu, kur pirmie rindas dejotāji satiekas. Katra rinda ir krusta stars. Tālāk ar ābraama polkas soli katrs puijis dodas pie savas meitenes un abi sāk dejot pa apli apālo polku. Kombinācija ir tāda, ka, izdejojot divas polkas kopā, meitenes ar četriem lecieniem griežas sev apkār un puijis tajā laikā sit plaukstas. Tā dejotāji pa apli, katrs pāris atkārto šo kombināciju četras reizes un nonāk savā vietā, kur bija sākumā. Tālāk katri divi dejas pāri, kuri atrodas katrā krusta starā, sadodoties rokās, ar veiklu kustību apmainās vietām, līdz ar to kopā izveidojot vienu kvadrātu. Viss kolektīvs veido vienu lielu kvadrātu.

Otrajā gājienā sākumā dejotāji no pretējām līnijām ar apālo polku mainās vietām, tad izlec divas reizes apālo polku, meitenes ar četriem lecieniem apgriežas sev apkār un puijis sit plaukstas. Pēc tam to pašu dara atlikušās divas līnijas. Ar ābraama polkas soļiem dejotāji virzās pie sveša partnera, sastādoties četros mazos kvadrātos. Puijis sadot savu kreiso roku un meitenes labo roku un griež zem savas rokas, pēc tam izliekot labo kāju uz priekšu. Tad meiteni izgriež vēlreiz, līdz tā nonāk savā vietā.

Trešajā gājienā sākumā iekšējais pāris sadot rokas kopā un cel augšā, bet ārējais pāris skrien stāp tiem. Puijis atkal sadot savu kreiso roku un meitenes labo roku un griež zem savas rokas, pēc tam izliekot labo kāju uz priekšu. Tad meiteni izgriež atpakaļ sākuma vietā. Vēlāk meiteni izdara četru soļus uz labo pusi, krustojot kājas aizmugurē, bet puijis uz kreiso pusi. Tad tādā pašā veidā pāri mainās atpakaļ. Pēc tam visi dejotāji sastājas divās rindās, priekšā meitenes un puiši aizmugurē. Meitenes ar lecieniem dodas pie pretējā puiša un, sadodot rokas, apgriežas aplī, kad atgriežas pie sava puiša un arī apgriežas kopā apli. Tālāk meitenes sadejo kopā, izdejojot vienu apli un atgriežas pie sava dejas partnera.

Pēdējā gājienā visi partneri dejo pa apli ar apālo polu. Izdarot divus polkas soļus, puiji griež meiteni zem rokas divas reizes. Tā šo kombināciju visi dejotāji atkārto četras reizes un nonāk savās vietās. Meitenes nostājas priekšā, bet puijis aiz viņas, deja beidzas.

Cūka driķos

„Cūka driķos“ is very fast and funny Latvian traditional dance. Dancers stand in 4 small circles and make two high jumps, tightening their feet behind the back. Next dancers clap their hands and with a four-run steps dance in circle. All dancers move forward on the stage and then to the center (two polkas, three steps and then display the right foot forward). Girls sit wrists, but the boys jump 4 times and turn around. Girls repeat this combination. After that dancers stand in two line. Four pairs in one line – boys in front and girls behind. While the girls sit wrists, two guys with polka's steps are moving to centre of stage. Girls jump 8 times and cut out a partner for four rounds. Then all pairs dance in a long line and jump. In the last walk all dancers exchange partners and dance in a circle. Two guys leap and twirl girls two times. Dancers repeat this combination four times and dance ends.

Cūka driķos ir joti atraktīva un jautra latviešu tautas deja, kura ir paredzēta lielāko jauniešu dejotāju grupai. Deja ir paredzēta 8 pāriem.

Pirmajā gājienā visi dejotāji saskrien četro mazos apljos (katrs aplis sastāv no 2 pāriem). Puisis ar meiteni stav viens pret otru ar sadotām rokām, un izpilda dejas pirmo kombināciju- izdarot divus augstus lecienus, pievelket sev kājas aizmugurē, tad četrus vienkāršus lecienus, izlieket uz priekšu sākumā labo kāju, tad kreiso, atkal labo un kreiso. Šo kombināciju jāatkārtē 2 reizes. Tālāk divi blakus stāvotie deju pāri sadodas rokās, izveidojot apli un izdejo atkal iepriekšminētu kombināciju. Tālāk dejotāji sasit plaukstas, saliek labās rokas apla vidū un ar četriem skrējienu soljem virzās pa apli (viens pilns aplis jāizdejo). Tad dejotāji apgriežas uz pretējo pusē un atkal ar plaukstu sasitienu un četriem skrējiena soljem apdejo vienu veselu apli.

Otrajā gājienā meitenes stāv priekšā, bet puiši aizmugurē tur tos aiz svārkiem. Visi virzās uz priekšu ar dejas solje- divas polkas, trīs skrējiena soli, tad izlieket labo kāju uz priekšu. Tad ar tādu pašu kombināciju dejotāji virzās uz centru. Puiši, sadodoties satvērienā, dejo apla vidū un ar četriem skrējienu soljem apdejo vienu apli, nosākot noteiktās vietās.

Trešajā gājienā puisis stāv pretēi savai meitenei. Meitene sit četras reizes plaukstas, bet puisis izpilda dejas solus- divi augsti lecieni, pievelket sev kājas aizmugurē, tad četrus vienkāršus lecienus, beigās lecienā apgriežoties sev apkārt. Pēc tam šo kombināciju atkārto meitene, puisis tajā laikā sit plaukstas. Vēlāk divi blakus esošie pāri ar četrām apjamām polkām apdejo viens otra apkārt un sadodas rokās, izveidojot apli. Tad meitenes atkal atkārto trešā gājiena dejas kombināciju, vēlāk šos solus atkārto puiši. Tālāk dejotāji sasit plaukstas, saliek labās rokas apla vidū un ar četriem skrējienu soljem apdejo vienu apli. Tad dejotāji apgriežas uz pretējo pusē un atkal ar plaukstu sasitienu un četriem skrējiena soljem apdejo vienu veselu apli.

Ceturtajā gājienā visi dejotāji sastajas divās līnijās, viena pret otru, katrā rindā 4 dejas pāri. Puiši priekšā meitenes aizmugurē. Kamēr meitenes sit plaukstas, puiši ar četrām polkām dodas pie pretēja pāra meitenes, un tad ar divām polkām sadejo ar tās puiši centrā. Sadodot labās rokas satvērienā, tie griežas pa apli. Kad puiši atlec uz sāniem un iesēžas, veidojot vārtus, meitenes virzās uz apla centru. Tās lec 8 augstus lecienus, pievelket kājas. Vēlāk sasidot plaukstas un sadodot krusteniskā satvērienā, dejo ar pretējiem stāvošo puiši. Kad katrs pāris izdejo četrus aplūsus, visi sastājas vienā lielā aplī ar skatienu uz centru un lec pirmo kombināciju. Tālāk visi dejotāji sadejo vienā garā rindā cieši viens otram blakus. Pieliecieties, tie izliek uz priekšu labo kāju, kad kreiso kāju, kad atkal, tādā pašā veida, ātri četras reizes pamaina kājas, šo kombināciju atkārto divas reizes.

Pēdējā gājienā visi dejotāji saskrien ar svešu partneri dejo pa apli. Meitenes un puiši labās rokas ir sadotas, kad meitene lec vienu soli uz apla vidu, bet puiši uz āru. Tad pretēji, puisis uz iekšu, bet mietene uz āru. Vēlāk puiši izgriež meitenei zem rokas. Šī kombinācija tiek atkārtota četras reizes un deja beidzas.

Krakowiak

The Krakowiak is a fast, syncopated Polish dance in duple time from the region of Kraków and Little Poland. This dance is known to imitate horses, the steps mimic their movement, for horses were well loved in the Kraków region of Poland for their civilian as well as military use. It became a popular ballroom dance in Vienna ("Krakauer") and Paris ("Cracovienne")

In terms of its choreography, the krakowiak is set for several couples, among whom the leading male dancer sings and indicates the steps. According to the description in the New Grove Dictionary of Music and Musicians, the krakowiak is directed by the leading man from the first pair. As they approach the band, "the man, tapping his heels or dancing a few steps, sings a melody from an established repertory with newly improvised words addressed to his partner. The band follows the melody, and the couples move off in file and form a circle (with the leading couple back at the band). Thereafter verses are sung and played in alternation, the couples circulating during the played verses.

Căpâlna Girls' Dance

It is a unique and spectacular dance, with spirals, meandering lines and circles, with songs and lyrics dedicated to love.

The group includes 30 unmarried girls and the first girl is the one who sets the tone of the song and leads the string of girls. The girls with simple steps, mark in their choreographic movement spirals, meandering lines and circles who never join their ends. The girls are held next to each other very close, dragging their arms around their elbow and they start on a great circle with good rhythmic steps singing their own songs.

The dance arises when smoothly, when quickly, from left to right, forward or backward, swinging or just standing and often with unequal phrases.

Este un dans unic si spectacolos, cu spirale, linii serpente si cercuri, cu melodii si versuri dedicate dragostei.

Din grup fac parte 30 de fete nemaritate, iar prima fata este cea care da tonul melodiei si care conduce sirul de fete. Fetele, cu pasi simpli, marcheaza in miscarea lor coregrafica spirale, linii serpente si cercuri, care nu-si unesc niciodata capetele. Una langa alta, fetele se tin foarte strans, incolacindu-si bratele dupa cot si, intr-un mare cerc, pornesc cu pasi bine ritmati, cantandu-si singure melodile respective.

Jocul decurge cand lin, cand repede, de la stanga spre dreapta, inainte sau inapoi, leganat sau cu o tinuta dreapta si, de multe ori, pe fraze inegale.

The bear dance

This dance is known as a „fun dance and it is danced only by boys.

Participants: unlimited

Steps: step gears and cross-steps, which are done as follows: the left foot is placed on the toes, over the right foot and brought back, but not to the former position, instead, it is put down a bit before the right foot (on the whole foot) so that you move forwards by a small step; on the next step, the right foot is brought over the left, etc. The cross-steps are done quite fast and one step for each beat.

Initial position: The participants stand in a single circle, everyone facing anti-clockwise.

1Four small steps are made in the anti-clockwise direction (1), kicking the floor and making a winding-like movement on each step: hands, held as fists, are raised, bent to their chests and spun around each other. After that, they turn around themselves with four of the same steps, hand on their hips, making one full rotation, clockwise (2), tilting your whole body from one side to the other the whole time. All of the above is done three more times. As the last thing, they stop turning their backs to the middle of the circle and putting their hands on their hips.

2Standing still, they bow, (with their backs straight) and bend their bodies in four different directions, and as such: forwards (5-bow, 6-bend), to the left (7-8), backwards (9-10), and to the right (11-12). All this is repeated (5-12).

3They move as said in the first steps in a circle, anti-clockwise, except now, twice as fast (two steps for each beat) and “winding” twice as fast, taking turns, lasting four steps forwards and four steps backwards. (at about the height of the sacral bone) (13-16).

4Hands are put on the hips and they move with four cross-steps anti-clockwise, starting with the left foot and moving back with four of the same steps (backwards) (17-20). The steps are repeated (17-20). Finally, they turn their backs to the middle of the circle, they bow a little bit, they put their right fist on their forehead and their left fist on their sacral bone, and still bowing, they hit themselves on the mentioned places (21-22).

The meaning: if the dance is done on a stage, the dancers come on with heavy steps, moving their fists forwards and backwards, coming out from the backstage, forming a circle, while moving anti-clockwise, after that, the dance starts. For coming out, two of the first (unnumbered) beats are repeated, until the circle is formed. By the end of the fourth structure, the dancers leave the stage with the same music, being in character.

Stone coat

Participants: Even number.

Steps: Following, running and waltz steps.

First position: Dancers are standing in a circle, the girls in front of the boys, all faces anti-clockwise.

The girl puts her hands on her hips, the boy, standing behind the girl, places his hands on her waist (on the top of the girl's hands), and both are moving with the following steps anti-clockwise in the circle as follows: Everyone is moving on their toes and then stepping the left foot forward. Then the heels are let down by putting right foot behind the left and then lifting the left foot in the air slightly touching the ground and stretching the knee forward(1). The same step is repeated and finally two forward steps without the foot lifting, just putting the left foot in the front and the fifth right foot behind it(3-4). The girl's head is always turned to the left, because boy's head is tilted forward to the left like he wants to look in the girl's eyes. All previous repeated, only difference is that now the steps are started with the right foot and looking to the right (5-8). A is repeated (1-8).

THE DANCE OF THE CĂLUŞARI

The dance of the Calusari seems to be one of the oldest and most complex of the folk dances of Romania. Once upon a time, Calusarii were priests of a solar cult. Lead by a great priest, their dances were much more than an initiation, were an exorcism. The great priest was the one that was asking the god for help while leading the army of the Calusari in their war with the evil spirits that took over the villages. More so, they used to take a vow of silence, the only one being allowed to talk being the leader who at varied times was requesting them to release certain war calls.

The Calusari are described as groups of odd numbered men, sworn to stay together in celibacy and ritual dancing for a period of nine years. The costumes worn by the Calusari are white, decorated with colorful sticks, hand made hankies, while the hats have beads and colored ribbons. The most important instrument is the flag.

The ceremony included magical practices and invocations, dances and ritual acts executed by the strictly organized group of men. After the ceremonial dances are finished at the end of the ten days, the men meet in the village, greet each other like after a long absence and life goes back to normal.

The Calusari dance is considered one of the fastest and most spectacular dances in the world and was included by UNESCO on the list of non material masterpieces of the universal culture.

Dansul căluşarilor pare a fi unul dintre cele mai vechi şi mai complexe dansuri populare din România. În trecut Calusarii erau preoţi unui cult solar. Condusi de marele preot, dansurile lor au fost mai mult o exorcizare decat o initiere. În timp ce conducea grupul de căluşari Marele preot era cel care cerea jutorul lui Dumnezeu în lupta lor cu spiritele rele care a preluat satele. Mai mult decat atat, calusarii au facut un jurământ de tacere, singurul care putea să vorbească fiind liderul care in momente diferite le cerea sa cante unele apeluri la războiu impotriva spiritelor rele.

Căluşarii sunt niste grupuri formate dintr-un numar impar de barbati care au jurat să rămână împreună în celibat și dans ritual pentru o perioadă de nouă ani. Costumele purtate de căluşari sunt albe, decorate cu panglici colorate, iar pălăriile lor au panglici și margele colorate. Cel mai important instrument este steagul.

Ceremonia a inclus invocații și practici magice, dansuri și acte rituale executate de grupul format din barbati. După ce dansurile ceremoniale s-au terminat la sfârșitul celor zece zile, oamenii se întâlnesc în sat, se bucură împreună după o perioadă lungă de absență și viața revine la normal.

Dansul căluşari este considerat unul dintre cele mai rapide și cele mai spectaculoase dansuri din lume și a fost inclus de UNESCO pe lista capodoperelor non-materiale ale culturii universale.
