RHINO ARK OBJECTIVES

Rhino Ark seeks solutions in the Aberdare mountain range and its eco-system to:

- Conserve one of Kenya's finest indigenous forests and its total habitat.
- Resolve human/wildlife conflict.
- Create a sustainable environment for people and wildlife.

RHINO ARK IS COMMITTED TO:

- Mobilise stakeholders nationwide and internationally for initiatives to protect and conserve the habitat; and promote managed use of forest products for the benefit of present and future generations.
- Raise funds and other forms of support for the long-term management of the electrical fence and the entire ecosystem of the Aberdares.
- Build mechanisms and management structures to prevent illegal exploitation of the forest habitat wherever it is threatened. In so doing, all stakeholders will benefit and the rhino, bongo, indeed all flora and fauna species will be secure.

Chairman's View

Trees - our valued carbon sinks

Colin Church

There are strong indicators that Kenyans are beginning to view our mountain forests as more valuable intact than cut down. There are signs too that farmers – on rich upland soils and in semi-arid regions – see value in trees.

Perhaps we have started to walk the long journey towards a more balanced management of the precious resource that forests on the mountains, and the far larger tree 'spread' in the dry land regions, can provide.

That said, this change of attitude has to be measured against realities on the ground especially where the very poor and disadvantaged cannot afford such a luxury. They require fuel or a shilling from bush meat sales to be able to feed today.

The need to ensure that further strong support mechanisms are developed to reduce the pressure on standing forests and dry land trees – all highly valued carbon producers - now needs to take centre stage.

Ways to build incentives and provide results-driven reforestation and new income streams for forest edge farmers under the broad mechanisms set by the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) need to begin. Amongst the processes proposed are putting value to the services they generate (Payments for Ecosystem Services – PES) and the highly targeted REDD mechanism (Reducing Emissions through avoided Deforestation and Degradation) for forests.

Rhino Ark is now poised to provide the Aberdares forest edge farmers and those who can provide carbon emission credits, a workable framework to roll out community and ecosystem specific programmes. As Rhino Ark can make this happen in the Aberdares, so it can undertake similar programmes in other mountain forests.

Essential to the future of our forests is the need to stabilise and increase incomes from alternative sources for forest edge farmers.

Whilst the REDD process remains informal and certification is voluntary, it will be reviewed when the Kyoto Protocol expires in 2012. At that point it stands a high likelihood to be fully accepted within the Clean Development Mechanism (CDM).

But forests are too valued and important to be ignored. A study by the University of Leeds has shown that 18% of all carbon dioxide added by fossil fuels into the atmosphere is from tropical forests. So in this pre-certification period a trade in emissions has begun.

So what Rhino Ark started in the early days, without being fully aware of the realities we face today, has enabled the Aberdares to take full advantage of the PES and carbon credit processes. Ironically the great icons of wildlife conservation – the African Elephant and the Black Rhino – one with an insatiable taste for potatoes and cabbages and the other just fiercely dangerous – are whom we should salute for highlighting the crisis that threatened habitat from human pressure.

Now we have moved to another stage where the forest's value standing is bringing direct revenue benefits to the farmers who have lived with and off the forests for millennia.

Forests are playing an anchor part in securing our climate needs in this age of climate upheaval. So we must not forget the wildlife and what it represents in the biodiversity mix. Security for biodiversity is as essential as it is for we humans.

MILLIONAIRE RECORDS TUMBLE AGAIN

Millionaire records tumbled once more at the 2010 Rhino Charge.

For the first time ever a car broke the ten million shilling barrier – easily. Alan McKittrick's Car 5 with team members Nick Hutchinson, John Trundell, Guy Jack, Tim Jessop and Tom Porter raised Kshs 10,648,121. What's more, despite more than a four hour struggle to straight-line up one of the steepest sections between Greensteds and Procraft, Car 5 with McKittrick behind the wheel for the second year running, pushed his immaculate Range Rover 'buggy' using every trick in the book to finish all 13 guard posts in 40.01kms and to win the Victor Ludorum (distance to money raised formula). Car 5 under McKittrick's leadership has now won the Victor Ludorum 10 times and raised a total of Ksh 66,995,365 in 21 years of driving. That figure is equivalent to the total raised in the 2009 Rhino Charge.

The 2010 Rhino Charge in the rugged Londuroj Hills at the tail end of Lake Magadi – and nearest venue to Nairobi in many years – equaled the 2009 all-time record of producing 24 millionaire achievers.

The Second highest slot went to the American 'wags' team in their own Car No. 10. Not 'wives and girlfriends' of the sport world but 'wageni' the Swahili word for 'visitor'.

In 2009, the 'wags' led by Chris Welles and Tim McKenna were the first entrants teaming up with Rhino Ark Trustee, Jonny Havelock in Car 32. Smitten by the Charge bug, the Americans stormed through 12 check points at Londuroj before going out with mechanical trouble. But they took the second highest fund raise with Kshs 4,081,279, bettering their 2009 position of third overall fund raiser.

A few shillings behind the Car 10 team was the Hog Charge Team of Mark Tilbury in Car No. 35 who raised Ksh 4,066,163. In fact Car 10 and Car 35 swapped their millionaire top slots. Ben Woodhams' 'big wheels' Car 39 was fourth highest fund raiser with Ksh 3,998,863. The Woodhams team came 12th overall in the event too. Ben's team is on a serious mission to achieve either an outright win or the Victor Ludorum in the 2011 Rhino Charge.

Another in the top fund raise positions was this year's outright event winner Car 38 of Sean Avery with family and friends raising Kshs 2,555,010. A hugely popular win with competitors, the Avery team's father, sons and daughter finally succeeded after 14 years of competing and frequently being up there with the top finishers.

The Coup des Dames winners this year, Rhino Rouge Car 17 all girls team led by Tanya Church were sixth highest fund raisers cracking the Kshs 2 m mark with a tally of Kshs 2,050,539.

The 18 other millionaires were led by UK competitor and first time entrant Kit Karberry, Victor Ludorum winner in the 2009 UK Rhino Charge (raising Kshs 152,736) and bringing a further Kshs 1,505,867 – well over the Kshs 1 million expectation for this specially reserved slot.

Three other ladies teams each brought in more than their Kshs one million pledge: new entrant Petra Somen/Sabine Kontos/Bushbabes Car 8, Teresa Sapieha/Team Wacus of Car 47 and Gai Cullen's Car 58

Veteran of Car 50, Mike Kirkland with Richard and Bizzie Frost's continued support for their special 'rhino' annual event in Jeddah, Saudia Arabia registered with over one million shillings.

Once more the other 38 entrants achieved their target figures of over Ksh 500,000.

The maximum 65 slots available for the 2011 Rhino Charge were filled by September 1, 2010 for the event to be staged - who knows where - on June 3, 2011.

ABERDARES – A MOUNTAIN OF HIGH ECONOMIC VALUE

When Rhino Ark's sponsored Environmental Assessment is completed shortly, it will put on record the economic values of the Aberdare Ecosystem.

The detailed study by Biotope Consultancy Services will provide in use and non-use values. The revelations are the first ever to place uses and service values and by a series of assessment benchmarks, give an opinion of the biodiversity value as well.

It will tell us the direct income increment already being earned from fence line farmers – over 40,000 – whose land abuts the fence line and the forest and national park boundary sections.

It will conclusively confirm that the original reason for building a fence – to resolve human/wildlife conflict – has been stunningly successful. It will also highlight shortfalls where some smaller animals are finding ways to circumvent the fence. It will help Rhino Ark evaluate this and enable us to find ways to resolve it.

It will confirm how land values of border farms have escalated and livelihoods improved.

It will illustrate that biodiversity – in the form of wildlife, indeed all flora and fauna – now more securely safeguarded, has values which are difficult to 'value' for wider research and for what the vast number of species within the ecosystem can contribute to humanity and Planet Earth's well being into the future.

It will allocate the precise values for economic services and products to the fence edge communities, and in proportion to the national, regional and global economy.

Included in the details of the assessment will be carbon sequestration, tourism, water and energy benefits as well as farm and timber off-take values from those areas set aside for plantations.

The document will assist Rhino Ark in its committed aim to achieve self-sustainability for the Aberdare Ecosystem.

Master management plan unveils soon

A comprehensive plan for management for the Aberdare Ecosystem is awaiting final signature by the Boards of KWS and KFS. This is a significant step down the long journey to secure this precious and highly valued ecosystem – a flagship member of the five ‘water tower’ mountain catchments ‘club’, so essential to Kenya’s economic wellbeing.

Throughout its long history Rhino Ark has participated fully. Rhino Ark funded the first workshop in Nyeri held 21-24 July 2004 and has since played a significant contributing role in the core planning teams and stakeholder meetings that have continued since that date.

The ten year plan will now enable all issues of forest management, water usage, tourism expansion, cultural pursuits, community engagement, wildlife stewardship, indeed the whole gamut of flora and fauna conservation issues to be brought under one guiding document.

The plan’s purpose is to ensure the Aberdares ‘outstanding Exceptional Resources Values (ERVs) are preserved’. It recognises the huge (but difficult to assess) value of its biodiversity.

It urges all stakeholders to ‘protect and conserve the principal water catchment for Kenya’s major rivers, the wilderness character, cultural resources and threatened and endemic species for present and future generations’.

The reality of the Rhino Ark fence encircling the prime water catchment and indigenous forest areas is recognised as one of the ecosystem’s prime management tools. With the plan at the point of being signed into policy by KWS and KFS there will be a much more cohesive environment to deal with prime management issues including a clear policy for forest area gate access.

Rhino Ark undertook a survey of all the gates in 2006 where the porous state of access into the forest was highlighted. Without a policy, pressures on forest officers and foresters lead to compromises.

Under the MOU between KWS and KFS when construction of the fence began in 1989, it was agreed that all gates had to be manned. This is a standard that has not been adhered to given the number and questionable needs of some of the gates and the lack of a clear, well defined and proactively implemented access policy.

Such a process requires fence edge communities to be involved. There are dichotomy issues - if water catchment is the most valued resource then conflicts occur over issues of deadwood collection, and livestock entry. Ways need to be found and are becoming possible through carbon balance and payments for ecosystem services (PES) where the value of providing funds for fence edge farmers to improve zero grazing and to set aside woodlots outweighs the unsustainable financial gain of exploiting forest ‘products’.

The plan not only defines the fence but has also created five usage zones both within and outside the fence. The plan is cognizant of gazetted park and state forest areas, but in the cases of usage categories inside the fence the zones overlay both. This is a welcome development.

There are wilderness, low usage and high usage zones inside the fence so that leisure (tourism) and cultural pursuits can work to clearly defined levels. Lodges, their size and type are clearly defined to suit the various zones. Ec lodge, self-service bandas and camp sites are to be identified but with clear bed number and area limitations.

It proposes high zone corridors from the Njabini area to the Kinankop peaks and from both Wandare and Wanjohi to the Ol Donyo Lesatima peaks for walking and climbing. Wilderness areas will be for low and special use only.

Ecological management, a distinction between actual and plantation forests, farm forestry for border communities, water resources, and a range of sociological and security needs are all addressed.

The plan calls for the establishment of a Trust, which in itself will further bring all the management parties together with forest edge communities and will also include Rhino Ark.

STRAIGHT LINE DABBLER'S IN LONDURUJ HILLS PAID A HEAVY PRICE

By Patrick Avery of Team Bundufundi

Once again, 2010's Rhino Charge surpassed all expectations in raising a staggering 72.5 million shillings for conservation. It was the year when 'Bundufundis' finally put 14 years of Charge demons to rest, bringing our trusty old Land Rover (Car 38) home in first place to warm cheers after many years of close finishes, 'what-ifs', broken collar-bones and other injuries.

As usual, Clerk of the Course Anton Levitan did not disappoint with his choice of location. The beautiful Londuroj hills, carpeted in knee-high bleached yellow grass, looked custom-built for a Rhino Charge; steep hills and deep valleys aplenty; huge rocks; thorns; in-car temperatures of 40 degrees plus... Anton likes to tease us all about being a 'bunch of wee-wees' but the choice of terrain goes some way to explaining why Bundufundis' winning distance was 9km over the theoretical crow-fly distance. There were only 200 metres we could have done shorter.

The teams that did dabble with the hills paid a heavy price. Terry Childs (car 49) knocked his engine off its mountings, shredding the radiator in the process. Alan Mckittrick (car 5) spent 4.5 hours winching his way up a ridiculously steep hill from Greensteds with no clutch but still managed to finish 5th. On the same section, Mark Glen and Co (car 48) spent hours lowering their Range Rover down a nearly sheer slope using their rear winch. John Bowden (car 9) spent 6 hours covering 2km. The slope he came down was so steep that he was unable to turn the car or go back and had to take an unavoidably straight route down the hill.

Elsewhere the bottle neck between Vineyard and Procraft was causing havoc. Multiple cars were stuck and broken and the guys with big wheels took all manner of routes that included in Duncan's case (car 2), driving over (car 36) Naish Malde's stranded vehicle! Neil McRae and Co (car 42), who to their credit finished a close third despite being in 2-wheel drive for most of the day, begged a helping tow from (car 29) Lars Svensson's monster Land Rover after he had earlier been persuaded that even his clearance would not enable him to get over a 40 foot tall acacia! We were lucky. We powered through early in the day.

Several cars including Jas Sehmi (car 12) ended up the wrong way up, thankfully without serious injury. Preeyesh Shah (car 27) meanwhile had clocked a staggering 91.5 km! His approach to the 1.5 km bottle-neck was to drive 40 kilometres round the course, getting lost and taking a 2.5 kilometre detour towards Magadi on the way. Apparently his GPS had had one too many Tuskers! Petra Somen and her girls were doing well before being scuppered when their fuel cap was ripped off by a branch and all the fuel poured out whilst on the side of a hill.

Despite these and countless other untold stories of drama, 33 cars made it home in various states of repair. Torben Rune (car 28) had finished despite being unable to turn left! As we all limped our way home after another unforgettable day in the bush, it was left for Anton and his team to pick up the pieces and start thinking about next year, and about how to try to outwit us in the next chapter of the great Rhino Charge story.

FLATS, BURRS, PARABOLIC SPRINGS... 15 TOUGH YEARS IN THE MAKING... AND A DETERMINED FAMILY TAKE THE PRIZE

CAR 38 WINS

By Sean Avery of Team Bundufundi

In 1995, the Avery family watched their first Charge. They were fascinated, especially the kijanas (youngsters) Patrick, Kuki and Kieran.

Here was a competitive motor event with unique 4WD challenges, whilst raising money for one of our favorite safari destinations – the Aberdares.

That was the start of the bug, and once bitten, that was it!

The core of Team Bundufundi is the Avery family supported by many loyal friends of many years. The first Charge team in 1996 included Dad (Sean), Patrick and Kuki Avery, adding Colin, Laura and Richard Ball and Buzz Sharp.

The “car” was the family’s ancient but reliable “Shitty Old Landy” (SOL), a veteran 109 of many expeditions. Competing with a very young crew was challenging. The driver not only had to keep the car on track, but also to keep a wary eye on over-enthusiastic kijanas who were inclined to trip and tumble into the wheel path of the labouring SOL. We did not do so well. We became lost. We looked at the hills as others went down, and were incredulous. What sort of mad-men were these guys?

In those early days, most people competed in standard 4WDs. We struggled on hills and were forever being stranded on rocks. The biggest challenge was carrying sufficient spare wheels to cater for the endless flat tyres. Somehow we would get round to all controls, exhausted but ever enthusiastic. In 1998, the 109 was replaced by the shorter Land Rover 88. The rigid suspension was forever getting cross-axled. So axle articulation was later seriously improved with parabolic springs and a difflocker.

After that, the ‘Top 10’ barrier was breached. We came seventh. We were delighted. Our sights were raised yet again.

Patrick found some interesting military portal axles in a scrap yard in Kuala Lumpur. In 2004, these axles were added to the hybrid assembly of scrap yard parts that comprises Car 38. The bigger wheels improved clearance, but added to the stability challenge as the car had previously been barrel rolled downhill at Siana, nearly consigning Sean to an early grave. Also, the ‘under 13’ team youngsters had now grown into mature ‘over 20s’ giants. We simply could not fit them in. A longer 100 inch chassis was sourced, and this proved the most incredible pain to sort out. The kijanas were all studying in UK so the re-build task fell solely on Sean’s shoulders. Thankfully, Mandeep Rajbans provided the much needed help. Mandeep’s patience and commitment to this team over many years is remarkable. To overcome his anxiety on the day of every Charge, he immerses himself in running the Vineyard Church control.

Team Bundufundi’s Avery contingent has been supplemented by team members from many families. In recent years, the team has cemented into its current robust format, thanks to the addition of Harry Brainch and his ever-enthusiastic family. Then there was Kiran Jethwa, whose exploits as a chef extraordinaire, rugby player and entrepreneur are infamous. Harry and Jethwa not only enhance the team’s competitive edge, but they keep the crew entertained throughout a grueling day. Harry likes to add balance to the car by standing on rotating wheels. He is also a serious tactician.

Course creator Anton Levitan (centre) gets the feet job from car 38 team but thumbs up from committee member Colin Church as Trish Combes (right) presents the ‘Spirit of the Charge’ award.

Jethwa is reckless and has been known to do a Charge with underpants full of grass burrs. His performance was seriously impaired. His dilemma was almost as funny as the time our former navigator (G Watson) sat in a puddle of battery acid in Car 38. The seat of Watson's pants literally disintegrated and fell off half way through the Charge. Watson did not notice until he was reprimanded for showing off 'cheeks' at controls.

The team is still led by Sean, a bush enthusiast and Land Rover veteran. He is the oldest driver to win the Charge. Eldest son Patrick navigates. A skilled tactician, he can store the route map entirely in his head. This is useful, as he has been known to lose the actual route map. Patrick has diverse skills and he uses his professional surgical skills in the rebuilding of Car 38. On one Charge, he used his feet to improve Car 38's traction.

Daughter Kuki, another Avery doctor, can out-run any Charger. She can tumble off the rear of Car 38 unscathed, thanks to her abundant curls. Kuki is Bundufundi's up-front scout. Her enthusiastic whistles can be heard from Nairobi. She keeps us all focused.

Both Patrick and Kuki are on a career break and were here to assist with Car 38's 2010 preparations.

Youngest son Kieran Avery has literally grown with the Charge. He first Charged at Age 8, progressing from baggage to key team member. He is 23, a student, and is the team youngster. He stands 6ft 4ins tall. He is a tower of strength and the epitome of emerging Charge commitment and leadership. He keeps a close eye on his Dad, constantly advising when to engage 4WD. He gives the Rhino Charge Committee endless hassle as they persist in setting the date of the Charge to inconveniently coincide with his exam timetables.

Team Bundufundi has learned versatility. Sean usually ensures Car 38 arrives at the venue with a range of gremlins so that the team must spend the entire day in camp dismantling. This is not always popular. Car 38 can guarantee to be amongst the last to reach scrutineering, but thanks to this cunning preparation strategy, every Bundufundi team member is skilled at groveling knowledgably under the car. Some of these Car 38 gremlins have persisted for years. However, this year was exceptional, as the car reached the venue under its own power, and with functioning brakes (unusual but useful). This meant that the team was at a bit of a loss the day before, until Brainch decided to take the winch apart, and the team then struggled to restore it to functionality.

Today, Sean survives as the sole mzee, partly because he owns the car. But he does know the car and is constantly improving its capability. On Charge day, the team knows that he goes into the 'Zone' and is hard to communicate with. This year Team Bundufundi's support crew was significantly enriched by the eye-catching antics of cheer leaders Jessica Brainch and Kate Campbell. These two achieved the impossible - they constantly distracted Sean out of his 'Zone'.

After years of hard Charges and close shaves, including three tantalizing consecutive years in second place, Team Bundufundi achieved the dream of 15 years ago - an outright win in a Land Rover at last.

The added Spirit of the Charge award was a very special bonus.

The Charge requires careful preparation, experience, and a little luck. This year it all went our way. We did exactly what we planned. We had a good starting control. We experienced only one mechanical failure, which we rapidly sorted with a ratchet lashing.

Car 38 salutes Clerk of the Course, Anton Levitan and his committee for consistently setting challenging Charges and for choosing magnificent venues. Thank you too for resorting more closely to the core of the challenge - the classic straight-line formula. Thanks from Car 38 to the many communities on to whose lands we enjoy access.

Finally, an appreciation to Colin Church and his Rhino Ark team for what they and KWS have achieved. This is what the Charge is all about - the magnificent Aberdare fence which we have willingly helped finance - it is there for all of us to witness. Hooray!

THE RHINO ARK CHARITABLE TRUST

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

- The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below:
- (a) Basis of preparation
The financial statements summarise the transactions of the Trust and deal with the net assets at the disposal of the trustees. The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost basis of accounting.
- (b) Income recognition
Donations income is recognised when the monetary value of the donations can be measured with sufficient reliability, there is reasonable assurance of receipt and conditions for receipt, if any, have been met. Investment income is recognised on accrual basis.
- (c) Property and equipment
Items of property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is charged on the straight line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The annual depreciation rates in use are:
Motor vehicles 25.0%
Furniture and fittings 12.5%
Computers 33.3%
Office equipment 12.5%
- (d) Foreign currency transactions
Transactions during the year are converted into Kenya Shillings at the rates ruling at the transaction dates. Assets and liabilities at the reporting date, which are expressed in foreign currencies, are translated at the rates ruling at that date. The resulting differences from conversion and translation are dealt with in the income and expenditure account.
- (e) Financial instruments
A financial instrument is a contract that gives rise to both a financial asset of one enterprise and a financial liability of another enterprise. The financial instruments held by the Trust are investments in the money market, trade and other receivables, bank balances and cash and trade and other payables. All the financial instruments held by the Trust are accounted for on amortised cost basis.
- (f) Receivables
Receivables are stated at nominal value, less provision for any amounts considered irrecoverable.
- (g) Cash and cash equivalents
Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and in hand and short term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less.
- (h) Use of estimates
The preparation of financial statements requires that the management makes estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from these estimates. The more significant estimation process is related to the determination of provision for doubtful debts. Although some variability is inherent in these estimates, management believes that the amounts provided are adequate.

Rhino Ark Chairman of Trustees
Michael Karanja

This has been a milestone year for The Rhino Ark Charitable Trust.

It has taken The Rhino Ark Charitable Trust 21 years to build and successfully assist in the daily running of what is recognised as East Africa's longest wildlife conservation fence.

Equally significant is The Rhino Ark Charitable Trust's continued active role in raising national awareness as to the threats to the nation's vital mountain 'water towers' that hold some of the country's most precious resources.

The Rhino Ark Charitable Trust not only remains actively engaged in providing funds for the now complete nearly 400 km long Aberdare Fence, but has also championed the need for full integrity practices as the process for the long term planning and management of this 2000 square kilometers mountain forest ecosystem unfolds.

The fence remains a significant management tool for the real work of ensuring the Aberdares is regarded as the model for the nation's mountain forest ecosystems to become centres for producing major resources for the common good, rather than areas of deforestation and degradation.

Another Record Year

The total funds raised during the financial year under review were KShs 93 million.

Despite the difficult economic times, the 2009 Rhino Charge exceeded expectations and raised at field audit a total of KShs 65,119,705 – just short of one million US dollars.

Gross donations amounted to KShs 77 million.

For the fourth year running, the Kenya Treasury was our second largest donor providing KShs 16 m for fence materials channelled through our fence construction partners, the Kenya Wildlife Service.

Corporate/Conservation Bodies Support

Corporate and bi-lateral grant supporters continued positively.

I would like to record special gratitude to

UNEP for supporting the Aberdare Fence Environment Assessment by donating KShs 1,537,944 in the year as part of an overall KShs 2.4 million grant for the document's completion next financial year. This document will provide us with an overview of what the fence has achieved for biodiversity conservation, resolution of human-wildlife conflict, its contribution to sociological change amongst the fence edge communities and to GDP and its value as a provider of vital ecosystem services and products.

I would also like to thank the following organisations who have made sizeable contributions:-

- Safaricom Foundation for the Elephant Grid requirements
- UNDP for supporting the Bongo Surveillance Programme

Fence Energizer/Scout Stations Construction

A total of KShs 7,507,667 has been spent on the construction of four energizer stations in this financial year. Four energizer stations: Kiburu, Gakoe, Gatara and Nandarasi were completed during the year.

Fence Completion

We successfully completed the fence by placing the final post at Geta, Kipipiri on the 28 August 2009 at a function attended by the Minister for Forestry and Wildlife, Hon. Dr. Noah Wekesa. In February, we hosted our volunteers from the US and the UK who support our work in these countries and where Rhino Ark Charitable Trust enjoys tax benefit status for donations.

Finally, on March 12, 2010, a full celebration and formal commissioning of The Rhino Ark Aberdare Fence was attended by the President of Kenya, His Excellence Mwai Kibaki, the Prime Minister, Hon. Raila Odinga, the Minister for Forestry and Wildlife and other dignitaries.

The Future of the Trust

The President stated that the Rhino Ark fence was a significant "investment which should be secured and maintained". He reiterated his Government's commitment to the establishment of a public/ private partnership through a Trust jointly funded and managed by the Government and with Rhino Ark Charitable Trust and fence line community involvement for the fence and the Aberdares long term maintenance and management.

The General Fund

The general fund as reflected in the statement of financial position has been split into two categories namely; Fence Maintenance Reserve and Fence Construction

Reserve. Twenty percent of each year's Rhino Charge donation is allocated specifically for maintenance of the fence already constructed. This is to ensure that the huge amount of effort and money put into the conservation programme does not collapse from lack of maintenance. The maintenance reserve is therefore to earmark these funds for maintenance and not used for construction.

The fence construction reserve deficit had increased during the year from KShs 14.9 million to KShs 27.6 million. This situation is expected to reverse during the current year.

Bongo Surveillance Programme (BSP) successes

This programme has continued to receive tremendous support from our donors and in particular UNDP, the Rare Species Conservatory Foundation, White Oak Conservation Centre in the US and more recently Woburn Safari Park in Britain.

Work done is centred on the need to ensure genetics of the wild herds is fully understood and to seek clear understanding that such genetics will enable full regeneration from the existing herds out of a clean gene pool.

The BSP is a community initiated ecosystem service. Its mission is to protect what is the largest and most secure number globally of a highly endangered species – the Eastern Mountain Bongo. They remain threatened with extinction because of habitat loss and poaching. As a result of the work done in the Aberdares, outreach groups have found highly threatened small and isolated herds in Mt Eburu, the Mau and Mt Kenya. The Bongo is an iconic mountain antelope and its security or lack of it reflects on the future security of all those precious forests in Kenya.

Thousands to thank

It is always difficult to single out thanks in a report like this. Rhino Ark Charitable Trust has thousands of donors in Kenya and friends of Kenya overseas who support our home grown and home driven conservation initiative.

I thank all of you.

I wish to specially thank the Rhino Charge Committee and the huge band of volunteers who yearly give so much time, thought, ideas and energy to running this world class and still world unique event and which still consistently raises huge sums of money at its annual event in June for our work.

Aberdare Joint Surveillance Unit

The Aberdare Joint Surveillance Unit in full gear

The Aberdare Joint Surveillance Unit (AJSU), a collaborative effort of the Kenya Wildlife Service and the Rhino Ark Charitable Trust for the Aberdare Conservation Area was launched in May 2010. The five-man team led by William Gichohi (right), the community Scouts supervisor, has been undertaking patrols in vast areas of the forest. The team monitors threats to forest integrity and illegal activity, undertakes de-snaring and monitors tree and wildlife degeneration. Equally important, the unit has been involving forest edge communities in working for the conservation of flora and fauna in the ecosystem.

Rhino Ark recently provided the team with a patrol vehicle, cameras and GPS units to strengthen their field work. With 400km of fence protecting the Aberdare Conservation Area, the monitoring and patrol work by this trained team greatly assists in securing it.

AFEW & AWF donate energizer stations

The African Fund for Endangered Wildlife (AFEW) has agreed to fund the construction of the Fence Energizer Station at Geta, Kipipiri. The donation amounting to Kshs 5 million is a great step towards securing the fence maintenance process.

The African Wildlife Foundation (AWF) has provided financial support for the construction of the Fence Energizer Station at Ruhuruini. The grant amount is valued at Kshs 1.5 million.

The stations will house the fence scouts, provide security for the fence energizer equipment, store fence maintenance tools and supplies and provide a location where local communities can report on fence problems.

Kenya Government give more funds

In the 2009/2010 budget, the Kenya Government, through KWS, has provided Kshs 16m to be utilised in the 2010/2011 financial year, Kshs 10m of which has been allocated to the construction of Fence Energizer Stations. KWS has also utilised Kshs 3.2m for fence maintenance via the 'Kazi Kwa Vijana' programme.

Safaricom Foundation donates Kshs 3.5million

The Safaricom Foundation is providing a grant of Kshs 3.5m for the construction of two elephant grids at each entry of the elephant corridor through road to Wanjohi.

The Safaricom Foundation funded one grid at Kieni in 2009.

A global alert: The elusive Mountain Bongo edges towards extinction

By Kate Mwangi

Richly coloured with striking white stripes running across its chestnut skin; decorative white patches bedecking its face and legs; statuesque and slightly hunch-backed with large, flared ears which provide excellent hearing are some of the incredible features that unmistakably describe the Mountain Bongo (Tragelaphus eurycerus isaaci). The Eastern Mountain Bongo is one of the rarest and most beautiful antelopes in the world.

A 1975 survey estimated there to be around 500 Mountain Bongos in the Aberdares alone. A host of destructive activities ranging from illegal logging, charcoal production and active poaching (especially with dogs) have led to the killing of many bongo for bush meat.

Today, there are an estimated 50 individuals in the Aberdare National Park. A further estimated 53 are scattered in Mt. Kenya forest, Mau Eburru Forest and Mau West Forest, bringing the total, according to a Kenya Wildlife Service/International Union of the Conservation of Nature (IUCN), to 103 in the wild - all in Kenya's high forests. There are also a further 68 individuals in a semi-captive facility on the slopes of Mt. Kenya.

Recent studies predict bongo could be extinct in the wild in as little as 14 years if present trends continue.

In a special statement released by the Director of the Kenya Wildlife Service, Mr. Julius Kipng'etich and Dr. Jake Veasey, Coordinator for Bongo, IUCN Antelope Specialist Group, the Mountain Bongo is now the most threatened antelope in Kenya and possibly the most endangered large land mammal south of the Sahara.

Rhino Ark has consistently highlighted the huge threat posed by wanton forest destruction in Kenya's 'water tower' mountains. From the launch of the Bongo Surveillance Project (BSP) in 2003, Rhino Ark has succeeded in raising funds from individuals and donor organisations that have ensured the BSP has continued to operate.

In 2008, Rhino Ark successfully secured a USD 50,000 grant from the United Nation Development Programme (UNDP) for continued support for the BSP's field monitoring and schools' awareness programme. This project has now been completed. More funds are urgently needed to ensure the work continues.

Rhino Ark would like to recognise the support of the following organisations and individuals who have provided funds for the BSP through the umbrella facility it offers the community driven project.

- AFEW – African Fund for Endangered Wildlife
- UNDP- United Nations Development Programme
- Eden Trust
- Rare Species Conservatory Foundation
- Woburn Safari Park

An expert think group, the National Bongo Task Force was constituted under KWS guidance in 2008 to spearhead efforts to conserve the species. It has been consultation with various experts and scientists to formulate a national conservation strategy for the Bongo. The task force held a major stakeholders workshop in July in Nyeri to spell out prescriptions for the long term conservation of the species.

In 2008, KWS nominated the Mountain Bongo as its flagship animal in the re-branding of the Aberdare National Park. Since the remaining groups range within the forest, both KWS and KFS have responsibilities for ensuring adequate protection of the critically endangered antelope.

An appeal is made to all to continue with the efforts to bring stability to the forest ecosystems that remain vital 'water towers' so as to ensure the survival of these magnificent creatures.

Participants of the Bongo Task Force workshop held in July 2010, sponsored by Woburn Safari Park and launched by KWS Director, Julius Kipng'etich (centre).

The Economist declares support for forest conservation

“The world’s lungs - forests and how to save them” blares the cover page of The Economist September 25 edition where it devotes 14 pages to the issue.

Its editorial states: “Clearing forests may enrich those who are doing it, but over the long run it impoverishes the planet as a whole”.

Outlining the start of a global realisation that trees alive rather than cut have a greater intrinsic and economic value, the Economist rolls out what is happening on a global scale and concludes: “There is hope for forests, but mankind needs to move faster if they are to be saved.”

‘WATER TOWER’ Fund Announced

The Government, through a gazette notice signed by the Deputy Prime Minister and Finance Minister Uhuru Kenyatta, published regulations establishing a Kshs 50 million special fund in the current financial year. This is to turn around the depletion of critical water sources in the country and manage and restore major ‘water towers’.

The Water Towers Conservation Fund will provide money for transformation, conservation and sustainable management of all ‘water towers’. The Prime Minister’s office will administer the fund.

Finance Minister, Uhuru Kenyatta said: “The fund will be managed by a National Water Towers Management Committee comprising eight members”.

Kenya has experienced erratic rainfall attributed to the depletion of the five major water towers: Mt. Kenya, Mau Complex, Aberdares, Mt. Elgon and Cherangani Hills.

Running for the Aberdares... thousands join in Over 25,000 fence line families were swept up in the Aberdare Schools relay organised by Rhino Ark and KWS as a joint awareness venture.

Brookside, the dairy producers, was the major sponsor providing every child who took part with a running shirt and caps.

Seventy two schools, all within close proximity of the Aberdare fence line, participated in the relay run. Staged from 17 to 29 May 2010, teams of ten carried the Run Baton first presented at 'flag off' by President Mwai Kibaki at the Fence Commissioning Ceremony on 12th March 2010.

Bondeni Primary School – the nearest to the Commissioning site near Mweiga – started the run which then followed the 400 km fence line southwards, eastwards and finally west and north ending at Amboni Secondary School back in Mweiga.

In attendance at the start were Mr. Felix Mwangangi, Senior Warden, KWS and James Githui, Community/Fence Manager, Rhino Ark. The main aim of the run was to increase awareness on the importance of conservation of the Aberdare Ecosystem and the maintenance of the fence.

HOT MACHINES, GLAMOUR GIRLS AND MUD!

By Anna Campbell

As I hung onto the back of our old faithful Landy, soggy socks, mud caked clothes, scratched chins and dripping wet hair, I had a beaming smile on my face, thinking: what better way to spend a Sunday in UK! The UK Rhino Charge 2010 was the first wet rhino charge there has been I'm told, but this only added to the fun and the challenge in store for all the competitors. Everyone pulled up from all corners of the UK with their various shaped 'vehicles' to take on this year's challenging course around the stunning Pippingford Park in Sussex. What a location!

We charged our 4x4's through this incredible scenery amongst loads of deer and horses. On some parts of the course it felt as though we could have been back home in Kenya!

Our team of 5 consisted of Colin Church and Peter Branch - the Kenya Rhino Charge veterans - and the 'experience' of the team. Then there were us three girls, Kath, Jess and Me - the 'energy' of the team, there to jump off and on the car, to push, winch, run ahead, change tyres, pull, clear, direct and generally get muddy! By the end of the day our team was known as the 'wazee and the misses'!

Our old faithful long-base Landy was up against some serious new age 'contraptions' which were flying over rivers and bouncing between boulders with ease, the drivers demonstrating serious skills in handling their, what can only be described as 'machines'! I feel we did Land Rover proud by attempting all the challenges with aggression thanks to Colin, who does nothing half heartedly and likes to put his foot DOWN!

At the end of the day us 3 girls 'the misses' won 'Spirit of the Charge' for good competitive attitudes and helping other cars out of sticky situations. Overall our team managed to raise the second highest sponsorship for Rhino Ark, the most important part to the competition. We were chuffed and wore exhausted smiles all the way back to London that night!

I can't recommend this event enough to anyone with a sense of adventure and a 4x4 to hand. It's a fantastic day out. Everyone who pitches up on the day is warmly welcomed. All you have to do is help raise money for an incredibly effective and efficient charity - Rhino Ark. What better way to bring people together for some off-road driving fun! All together the event managed to raise £9,407.97 (Kshs 1,194,812).
