Taxan PD-121x projector

A large, high-performance electrostatic dust filter that traps fine dust particles (with an efficiency of 85% for particles as small as 1.6 microns) comes as standard equipment. In addition to this there is a pre-filter which prolongs the life of the high-performance filter by catching larger particles in advance. An anti-scattering design keeps tiny particles of collected dust from being dispersed back in to the air when replacing the filter, and a timer function conveniently alerts the user when it is time for filter replacement.
