Group presses for minorities

Charging that the Wayne-Westland school board isn't meeting the. needs of some communities served by the district, a group of residents has formed a committee to press for better representation, particularly among minorities.

"We want to do something about our lack of a voice in this district," said Jim Netter, chairman of the Wayne-Westland Citizens for Education Committee. "Given the political strength of the current board and the politics in the district, that's not going to happen unless we really go. out and pursue it."

The non-profit organization will hold its first meeting 7 p.m. Friday, July 28 in the west boardroom at the Airport Hilton, Romulus. The meeting is open to all district residents.

Netter said the goal will be to push for an eventual ballot Issue that would allow residents to elect school board members by district. He said the group plans to start a petition drive later this year.

THE WAYNE-WESTLAND Community Schools district encompasses Westland, Wayne, and portions of Inkster, Romulus and Canton Town-

The current board is made up of six residents from Westland and one from Wayne. There are four women and three men, all white.

Netter, who is black, said last month's school board election proved how difficult it is for minority candidates to succeed under the current setup.

Two black candidates, the Rev. Larry Hines and Jessie Barkett, finished well out of the running as incumbents Andrew Spisak and Kenneth Barnhill were re-elected. Hines finished third with 485 votes, about half of the winners' totals and Barkett finished last in the five-candidate fleld with 275 votes.

"Here you have two people who I would consider qualified to serve on the board and neither one came close," Netter said.

"The way things are now, you're never going to see a black person on this board to deal with the (thousands of) black students this district has adopted."

Some 11.29 percent, or about 1,900 of the 16,904 Wayne-Westland students in 1988-89, were non-white, according to figures compiled by the Wayne County Intermediate School District. Black students consitute the largest minority with 1,537.

Parkway progress is welcomed by some, but not all

By Tom Henderson staff writer

Some folks along Carlson Road think the adjacent Central City Parkway is the gateway to Westland's future and a nifty sign of progress.

To others, it's just the end of a sad process that is rulning western Wayne County, turning good land into bad, space into congestion.

It is the good and pretty, and the bad and the ugly unrolled into one mile of blacktop between Warren

At the north end, fields and woods stretch back from both sides of the divided parkway. The only signs of upcoming and inevitable commercial activity along the parkway are various signs promising things to be leased or rented, to be built to suit.

BENNIE CAMPBELL owns 31/2 acres of land along the west side of the parkway. His is the northernmost house along the parkway, just north of the 22 houses on Carlson, which deadends after running for just a few blocks parallel to the

Campbell looks serene, sitting on a hot day in the cool shade of a large tree in his spacious yard. Here, hundreds of yards away from concrete trucks and workers busy putting in sidewalks along the houses on Carlson, it is quiet. Birds chirp. The leaves swish in a strong wind. A few yards away, shoulder-high corn blows. Green tomatoes sit, already plump. Cabbage heads are forming, though it is early July. Two fake owls sit on sticks to scare off birds.

The serenity in Campbell's yard is real, and, yet, it is a myth, too. The lands still feel like country, but since the parkway went in and was opened last December, there's no doubt that this is city, now.

"I can do without the road, let me put it that way, said Campbell, atter pausing to reflect. He was one of a generation of auto workers who came up from the south for the big wages of the big-city auto plants. Campbell came north from Alabama, bought his Westland property "28 or 29 years ago" and is in his second year of retirement from General Motors.

"I was living in the country, insidea city, but the boys in Westland city hall changed that real quick," said Campbell, who says sharply rising tax bills since the road went in will soon force him to sell the land and leave the state.

Campbell owns more than 600 feet of frontage, and will leave with a lot of money. But that's not the point, he says. He liked it here, the way it was. And he didn't want to leave.

"You talk about the price of property going up. But where are we -going? What are our children going to do?" asks Campbell. "It's got to stop. We've got to stop being money

"Maybe I'm old-fashloned. Maybe I'm a dummy. But I was well satisfied back here being left alone," said Campbell. "You work all your life for something, and just because they put a road in here, they want to take what you've worked for and come in and put a big value on it and buy it. And City Hall and the real estate people call that progress."

DOWN THE ROAD, Chuck Winekoff and his wife Charlotte, sit out iront of the nouse on Carlson they've owned for 21 years. They think the police could do a better job of ticketing the speeders who use the parkway as a shortcut to avoid Wayne Road, but other than that, they think the parkway is just fine.

"I think the road on average is: good for the city. It's another ar-tery," said Chuck. "And it opens up development, which is good."

He said property values will improve with development, and that he is hopeful that city officials and developers will take care to leave in many of the trees that line the park-

"We'll still have a pretty view over there," he said, pointing to the woods across the parkway.

"We like it here, and we're going to stay. Some people thought this should be woods forever. Well, you know that's not going to happen. When I bought this property in 1960, I knew then these trees would be gone someday. And it's been kind of fun seeing the progress."

New principal is no stranger

Students who graduated last month from Westland's Adams Junior High School will have a surprise waiting for them when they enter Wayne Memorial High School in two months.

Their former principal, Ronald Stratton, will be walting for them. "Some will say 'Oh yes', and some will say 'Oh no,'" Stratton predicted with a smile. Stratton's appointment as the new principal of Wayne Memorial High School was confirmed last week by the Wayne-Westland school board. He was recommnded for the post by Superintendent Dennis O'Nelll.

Parents and students can expect the same philosophy of leadership that he perfected at Adams. "It's more a style than a philosophy," Stratton said.

And basic to any success as an educator is that:

"First, you have to like kids. If you don't, you shouldn't be in the business," he said.

He's also quick to give praise to staff members for several changes Implemented at Adams.

"I make changes through the concensus approach," he said. "Four out of five changes were initlated by the teachers."

One significant change at Adams was the way final exams were

One teacher suggested the last three days be divided into half days, with finals in the morning, and grading and recording the exams in the afternoon. Any changes have to be cleared throught the district's curriculum council, Stratton said. But they OK'd it, and the idea worked.

The students took finals very seriously, and the semester ended very smoothly," he said. It served to formalize the exam method because, Stratton said, "We don't want to reinvent the wheel, just re-inflate it."

The idea was a pilot program but was such a success the district is going to try it in other junior highs.

THE IN-HOUSE suspension, and the district task force for at-risk students under the direction of Adams counselor James Coulliard, were two other programs that came into being during his tenure at Adams.

With an in-house suspension the student reports to school but remains in a specific room with a tutor to do assigned homework.

The program for at-risk students brought support group type meetings to the junior high school students involved in substance abuse, who had no other way to get to them.

'Mr. (Francis) Winter (who retired as Wayne Memorial principal last month) initiated 'Wayne Pride,' with the idea of recognizing that you have to have pride in yourself and your school," Stratton said.

"I would certainly try to maintain that."

McNamara, Ficano iron out differences

By Wayne Peal staff writer

A "new spirit of cooperation" exists between Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara and Sheriff Robert Ficano, though both men still await the outcome of a Michigan Appeals Court ruling on control of the county jail.

The county executive and sheriff have reached agreement on a number of key issues, including fail administration, overtime and park patrol, both sides confirmed.

While an Appeals Court ruling could take control of the jail from Ficano and give it to McNamara as a temporary receiver, both sides said they would continue to work together regardless of the court's rul-

BOTH SIDES acknowledged the agreement included Ficano's appointment of former youth home director Pete Wilson as jail administrator. Wilson had been McNamara's choice to represent him as jail'receiver, though that appointment was tied up through Ficano's appeal of Kaufman's ruling.

Wilson now reports to undersheriff Warren Evans, Ficano's second-incommand, in Evans role as co-chairman of an ad-hoc county fall compliance team.

That unit, including McNamara administration officials, is overseeing improvements in jail conditions under terms of a 1971 prisoner lawsuit. Kaufman had appointed McNamara receiver under terms of that ongoing suit, arguing that Ficano hadn't done enough to bring the jail in compliance.

In related news, both sides announced the jail budget deficit for this fiscal year would be $400,000 or less, an improvement from the $2 million debt posted last year.

Abortion non-issue by '90 race: Engler

By Philip A. Sherman staff writer

Contrary to political leaders, prolife and pro-choice advocates nationwide, state Sen. John Engler said he does not believe abortion will be an Issue in the 1990 Michigan governor's race.

Engler, the Republican Senate majority leader from Mount Pleasant, was in the metro area Tuesday as part of his "exploratory" campaign to run for governor against incumbent Democrat James Blanc-

Besides the abortion issue, Engler also said he believed enough money is in the general fund to improve education statewide without a tax increase, and said he opposes both proposals on the November ballot to increase the sales tax by one-half cent or by 2 cents.

HE ALSO SAID he thinks school equity and quality issues "are both able to be solved within the current resources of the state." Equity is defined as dollars spent per pupil per district; some districts' spending is disproportionate, which affects qual-parental or judicial approval.

"In effect what the Supreme Court's done with the Missouri decision is really tossed it in the laps of all Michigan voters," Engler said in reference to Webster vs. Reproductive Health Services.

"We're not in the position where the Michigan Legislature can make a final decision."

However, Engler said he probably would assign an abortion-reform bill drafted by Sen. Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, to the Human Resources Committee chaired by Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, one of the state's best-known abortion op-

Welborn's bill parallels Missouri's regulations on how and when a woman may receive an abortion. Engler's decision on which committee would receive the bill was due yesterday.

ON EDUCATION, Engler said he believes there is a need to rebuild education's share of the general fund budget, but he doesn't think that money should come from the November ballot proposals.

Michigan's education dollars come from three sources: the school aid fund, which basically is sales tax; the lottery; and the general fund.

"I think they (the proposals) both represent, particularly A, a $400 million tax increase with not even a dollar's worth of property tax rellef," Engler said. Committee has wrong focus RE BLACK students and parents getting a fair shake from the all-white Wayne-Westland school board?

That's one of the questions raised by the chairman of a new committee pushing for more equal representation on the board. James Netter, an informal school board watcher for years and one of the local residents responsible for the recent grand jury probe into the district's adult education enrollment practices, said one reason for the Wayne-Westland Citizens for Education group is "to do something about our lack of a voice in this district."

THE COMMITTEE will also attempt to combat apathy among district residents and address education issues which it considers important in Wayne-Westland.

But the committee's principal goal, according to Netter, is to force a ballot issue that would change the way district voters elect school board members. The committee would like to see the district divided into wards that each elect somebody to the board, rather than the current method of district-wide representation.

Such a change would undoubtedly provide a boost for minority candidates since the minority population is concentrated in several areas of the sprawling district.

We certainly understand Mr. Netter's con-

The minority population in the Wayne-Westland district is growing. Approximately 11 percent of the district's 16,904 students in 1988-89 were non-white, up from about 8 percent four years ago.

-, Two qualified black candidates running for school board last month were soundly defeated by two incumbents. In interviews this spring, both the Rev. Larry Hines and Jessie Barkett expressed similar concern about equal treatment for minority students.

WE THINK every school district, including system better, not tearing it down.

Wayne-Westland, should have a representative cross section of residents making policy decisions on education. And realistically, it will probably take awhile before a black candidate is elected to the Wayne-Westland board, especially with the lack of concern from district voters as evidenced by last month's 1.5 percent turnout.

But we see no evidence that the current school board has failed in its mission to work toward the best possible educational opportunities for all children, including blacks and other minorities.

In fact, in recent months the board has explored and approved programs aimed specifically at the district's growing minority population.

For example, the Human Relations Task Force was established last November to address minority issues. The 22-member task force. which will act in an advisory capacity to the administration and the school board, has been charged with:

- Staff development opportunities related to human relations and cultural integration.
- Review of curriculum and text books.
- Developing a plan to increase the number of minority employees in the district.
- Developing a plan of action and/or ombudsman position to work with community, students and parents.
- Review school recognition of Martin Luther
- Review all facets of the district's testing policies and procedures to eliminate any racial or ethnic bias.

The Citizens for Education Committee has a unique opportunity to enlighten board members and district administrators on minority and other

But changing the way board members are elected isn't a viable alternative. Committee members should concentrate on making a decent

Summer of '69

It shaped a nation's psyche hat is all this fuss about the summer of Why should a mere three months, so long ago, hold any meaning for us

For those too young to remember, or who weren't even born yet, that is a fair question, as well as a difficult one to answer.

Even those of us who fully remember that blazing, news-filled summer come away with different interpretations of the same events. As well as questions of our own.

Suffice to say something about America changed that summer, though even now it's hard to say just what.

There were other noteworthy summers -1967, for instance, was the so-called "Summer of Love," and of urban rioting, summer 1968 brought the infamous Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Even at that, summer 1969 was different. Its events cast a truer light on the polarization of the times and pointed the way to the divisiveness that would mark this country in each successive summer, each successive year.

SUMMER 1969 was bracketed by two events. There was the moon landing, a hand-over-yourheart highlight for straight, God-fearing middle America. There was also Woodstock, a celebration of the rapidly-growing youth countercul-

·Certainly, there were other events. Vietnam wasn't far from anyone's mind and the grip of that long-ago war has yet to leave us. As late as this July 4, we were still welcoming home our Americans. The Miracle Mets thrilled them. And Chappaquiddick gave America a political scandal that wouldn't go away.

Still, it is the moon landing and Woodstock receiving most of the attention today. Each in its own way represented an America at its zenith. Or was it its nadir?

Putting a man on the moon became the ultimate symbol of American wealth and might, just as surely as discovery of the New World nearly four centuries earlier secured imperial Spain a place in history. Two decades later, the moon landing still stands as a technological marvel.

Even at the time, however, the necessity of the moon mission was questioned. If we could claim wealth and power, did we not have a responsibility to use them wisely?

WHY SPEND billions on the space program, some argued, while there are people living in poverty? Two decades later, our commitment to space exploration has ebbed. Our wealth and power, while undeniable, are no longer unquestioned. Poverty continues.

Then, there was Woodstock, the upstate New York music festival that — depending upon your age and musical preference - was either an idyllic moment for a youth culture intent on brotherhood and the abolishment of war, hunger and all other social ills, or a bunch of heavily drugged ne'er-do-wells (most of them gatecrashers to boot) rolling around in the mud. If the Woodstock nation's communal spirit represented a triumph of brotherhood, and doubts still linger about that, then it was only a temporary victory.

At Woodstock, it was said, people shared food.

Who shares anything today? Preaching brotherhood, saying that another man, race, or culture, is as deserving as oneself or one's own, won't get you elected to too many offices today. It may even get a cross burned on your suburban lawn.

Once, there was a time when we believed we could rise above our problems, whether through a journey to the moon or the inner recesses of human consciousness. Now, we know differently.

In the long run, it comes down to this: Moon rocks are not much different from urban rubble. A peace symbol is not much different from the hood ornament on a Mercedes-Benz.

Ungrateful party loses a most faithful servant

WHEN DOUG Ross packs his bags and heads for Washington, Michigan will lose the man who should have been governor.

Not everybody feels that way. Many, many folks can't stand the state Commerce director. He's a maverick. And in Michigan's political climate that can spell professional destruction.

But, the 47-year-old Southfield resident has done much to combat the economic malaise since taking on the Commerce position in 1984. Even many of his critics, who complain about his flashy image, admit that without Ross at the Commerce helm, the state is going to have a more difficult time selling itself to the business community.

Because of its business tax and workers' compensation systems, the Wolverine state never has been an easy sell. But Ross overcame a lot of those negative feelings by the force of his personality and his incredible

HE CAME to public notice back in the early '70s as the director of the Michigan chapter of Common Cause and as a co-director of Michigan Citizens Lobby. The business community, which now is one of his biggest supporters, couldn't stand him.

To break the monotony of earlymorning Chamber of Commerce breakfast meetings, they would invite him to stir up members against this liberal activist. But Ross would persevere. He reminded the hardworking entrepreneurs to seek their own paths to success, rather than attempting to ape the multi-national corporations whose interests were often counter to those of small busi-

That had to be Ross' darkest moment. But once again he remained true to the party and took on a special project for newly elected Gov. James Blanchard. It was a political crumb that Ross, in typical style, transformed into the political jewel of the early Blanchard adminstration.

Soon after he became Commerce director.

And all during his tenure in the Blanchard administration, Ross carefully made sure that he gave the governor all the credit.

Many of us know better. Many of us thought that it was Doug Ross who should have been Michigan's governor. But it was not to be. Not this day, anyway.

That certainly is our loss. Good luck, Doug, we'll miss you.

Right to porn isn't freedom

To the editor:

Well Mr. Barnaby, you really got my ire up on this one. I am really tired of pornography hiding behind the so-called "right" to freedom of speech. A picture of a naked lady in a sexual position has nothing to do with freedom of speech!

I defend your right to speak out, but I defend my right to stop people from walking around naked in public. To the editor: or selling pictures of naked people doing intimate, strange or violent things to themselves or each other, and getting pleasure from it. It's offensive, as is spitting on my feet or urinating in public. Shall we loosen all rules and let everyone do as they please? Not very civilized Mr. Bar-

The bottom line is money, sad but true. Pornography will continue as long as there is a market. But the market is supported by people (like you) who want to give the green light to anyone to publish anything they want. We try to raise the standard, and you cry censorship!?!

I don't think you really care about freedom of speech as much as the possible loss of easy availability of pornography. Tell me you just like to look at the beauty of a naked woman. I understand that. But don't defend some low life's right to sell pictures of girls being used.

I am an artist and I personally feel the human body is an amazing work of art. But the intent of real pornography is to make it into something dirly, odd and wicked, to only type of China-phobia you are trying Here's to you Mr. Barnaby. I have not been aware of the anti-pornography war going on in Farmington Hills recently, but I know of its popularity. It's the trend right now. The pendulum is swinging. I am relieved.

By your picture you appear to have grown up in the '60s era. I grew up at the end of the baby boomers. I remember flower power, free love, and free sex. Now I'm a registered nurse and I see the love children who don't know their fathers. I treat love diseases, you know,

To the editor:

Steve Barnaby's column of June 29 was one of the best I have read recently regarding censorship. Thank you for presenting such a clear view of the responsibility we all take, individually, in the rearing of our children.

I only wish more people could be a honest with themselves and take more responsibility for their own actions and that of their children. School bailout?

Outstate perspective so different

IT'S A DIFFERENT world in outstate Michigan, Folks raised here in the southeastern corner have only the dimmest grasp of what's going on in the farm belt, in particular.

My observation is prompted by the support many outstate legislators are giving to the school tax increase plans they placed on the 1990

Now, those two proposals are heresy in many metro Detroit suburbs. Our assessments are leaping 15 percent annually, and most of our school districts receive no state aid. A sales tax increase for schools? Abominable, we say.

So talk to Eaton County's two men in Lansing.

SEN. JOHN Schwarz, R-Battle Creek, is no big spending Liberal. Schwarz, 52, is a physician and surgeon and was mayor of his city. Public Sector Consultants rates him 75 percent conservative.

Schwarz supports Plan A, a halfcent increase in the sales tax with no property tax cuts. It would pump $400 million into schools.

They're not having a high technology and office boom in his district. "A lot bought farms at exorbitant prices 10 years ago: A significant number of farmers have gone belly up," Schwarz said.

Despite the drop in farm assessments - and in school revenue -Schwarz said "most farmers still think they're overassessed."

He would go even further than Plan A. Schwarz would like to increase the sales tax a full penny and put it all into education, letting universitles have 35 percent of the new money and community colleges 5 percent in addition to 60 percent for K-12 schools.

REP. FRANK Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, gets the same 75 percent conservative rating. An attorney and former assistant prosecutor, he is serving his first term in Lansing. Fitzgerald, 33, is the grandson of a late governor and son of a former state senator and Supreme Court jus-

No one, politico or not, gets by without their share of problems in have been magnified, not by the usu-

Once Marilyn and Rick Fessler must have loved each other.

Marilyn was by his side as he was first elected to the state House of Representatives in 1974, and later as he climbed higher on the political ladder to a state Senate seat.

And Rick isn't the only politician in the family. In 1978, Marilyn ran for and was elected West Bloomfield Township treasurer. At the time, she was criticized for not having the expertise for the job, for trading on her husband's name.

DURING HER term in office, Rick became somewhat of a fixture around West Bloomfield Town Hall. She was chastised for taking four. weeks paid vacation that first year life. But Richard Fessler's problems and not working well with her fellow elected officials.

In 1980, voters defeated Marilyn Fessler's bid for re-election. In the, same election, Rick went on to his fourth term in the House and has now won two successive terms in the Michigan Senate.

But his fortunes changed too.

He and Marilyn separated. In 1987, he spent a night in jail after an Oakland County judge found him in contempt of court for not paying the mortgage on the West Bloomfield home where she and two of his children were living.

In 1988, he was convicted of impaired driving and resisting arrest. The attorney-legislator also defied state law by refusing to take a Breathalyzer test to determine the amount of alcohol in his system.

After his night in jail, he emerged calling the contempt charge "an unnecessary, purposeful and very malicious act. After all, three children are involved. They deserved better than they are getting. . ." (Dare he apply that statement to his own most recent actions?)

Directly following his conviction, Fessler insisted that it won't hamper his effectiveness in Lansing. "It has not affected my abilities to enactlegislation in Lansing. I don't see the impact."

And only weeks later, after filing an appeal, he had the audacity to throw his hat into the ring for prosecuting attorney of Oakland County. Predictably, he finished last of four Republican primary contend-

Earwigs are a beetle-type insect so called for the superstition that they seek out human ears to crawl into - a totally unfounded belief. They like moist cool places and can be kept out of homes by using caulking and weather stripping around doors, windows pipes and other places at ground level.

In the garden, place burlap bags or newspapers in shrubbery or mulch. Earwigs will hide under these. The next day shake them into hot water and rapidly spray the

As simple as it sounds, one of the best ways to keep the insect population sparse in the garden is to keep a close watch on plants.

"Pick them off," Krauskopf said. "A lot of insects can be controlled with a high pressure hose squirt of water, or use an insecticidal soap." MSU's Cooperative Extension Service subscribes to the theory of integrated pest management, he added.

"Find the right plant for the right spot, use mulches of grass clippings or composted leaves to maximize vigor and control bugs. Do all you can to maximize benefits. We do recommend pesticides as a last resort."

Weather conditions play a big part, of course. Last summer's relentless heat and drought brought that home.

This year's hot, humid and heavy rains are causing other problems, like a proliferation of fungal dis-

"Heavy rain and high moisture contribute to fungi that feed on plants. All are harmless, but you wouldn't want to eat them. There's high organic matter in the soil that's what mushrooms feed on."

HOW TO GET rid of them? "Just go out there and mow the lawn," Krauskopf said.

Another frisky garden pest in abundance this year is rabbits.

"There are repellents on the market, you might try,them," Krauskopf said. "Or you can try animal fences, but bury them deep and they must be fairly high. Or a takeoff on the old scarecrow bit - put some cheap ple pans on a string that can clang or put a radio in the garden."

Krauskopf doesn't guarantee success with any of these methods. "Some (crops) have suffered from

Hospitals look at sick child care

Hospitals and health care businesses in Metro Detroit have recently begun to address an emerging child-care aid, sick-child care.

In a forthcoming report commissioned by Health Care Professionals of Southfield, findings revealed that Michigan parents take between 6 to 8 work days per year to care for their sick children.

Many work days are lost when a child simply needs an extra day to recuperate from a flu or cold.

In response to this problem, two area hospitals have recently set up sick-child care facilities in their pediatrics wards for the children of their employees.

Pontiac General established it's "Sniffles Program" two years ago. Botsford General, in Farmington Hills, set up the "Sniffle Stop" program earlier this year.

Neither program accepts children with communicable diseases, such as measles or chicken pox, and both require advance call-in to check for available space.

Heights, has recently set up a similar program that is available to both employees and the general public. Their "Kids'Klinic" opened in March of 1988.

THE PROGRAM provides day care for sick children Monday through Friday, 6:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. The charge is $10 per day for employees and $20 for the general public, including meals and snacks.

Before using the service, parents must call to check that space is available and to be screened to ensure that the nature of the illness is appropriate to the clinic.

The number to call for more information is 967-7594. Health Care Professionals has tak-nurses aide. THE AIDES are specifically trained to care for sick children, including the mentally and physically impaired, and they remain in 24hour contact with a registered nurse.

In contrast with the hospital programs, the aides care for the full range of childhood illnesses.

Although this is a costly alternative ($9.25 to $10.75 per hour, depending on location), there is no minimum-time requirement.

Company president Ad Laforet envisions this as the child-care benefit of the future, recognizing that, while not everyone can afford this service, many could within the framework of an employer-supported program.

With the help of a Voice Output Communication Aid attached to her wheelchair, Vicki Caruso can communicate with her foster parents, Stan and Mary Gilbertson.

IT WAS IN 1981 that Caruso turned to Michigan Rehabilitation Services for money to pay for a voice synthesizer.

"After hitting my head against a stone wall and getting no where, I gave up until March of 1988, when I tackled them again," Caruso said. "After a year's struggle trying to convince them that I could be employable with the right equipment and that the right equipment came from the Artificial Language Laboratory, not somewhere else, the battle was finally won. MRS along with the Department of Social Services agreed to fund the system for me.

"The break came when in April 1989, I was invited to give a speech on augmentative communication and was able to demonstrate first hand the system from the lab."

Caruso's voice synthesizer is back-lighted panel display known as a mini-VOCA, said Steve high quality synthetic voice. Blosser, the technical director of the

the University of Michigan. The switches also control the voice syn-

She operated the first system with her foot until she lost movement in it as the result of an operation. Now, it is set up with a monitor on the arm of her chair. The screen displays a page of information that ranges from the alphabet to complete phrases and sentences.

Caruso is able to move a cursor with her head switches what she wishes to say.

THE MINI-VOCA synthesizes a young female voice. The equipment includes a lap-top IBM computer, a back-lighted panel display and a command of the English language."

"I am now able to become involved with people more effectively," Caruso said. "Communication, whether natural or artificial, means you can share fully in the activities of work, family, friends, community and if one should choose, they could even tell someone where to go, and I don't mean give a direction.

"Most importantly, I no longer must depend on someone else to talk Caruso has held several computerrelated jobs since receiving her degree, Gilbertson said. She has done computer consulting work and has worked on a) data base for the Oak Park School Dsitrict. Most of work is done out of her home.

Currently, she is working on her autobiography and is planning to move into a supported independent living arrangement.

"An SI is where you live with a comes in and helps with whatever daily living activities you need help with," she said. "My long-term goal is to have a job, be as independent as possible and keep enjoying life to the fullest."

Caruso once planned on attending MSU to study computers, but Gilbertson isn't certain if she still wants to do that.

"IT WAS A long five years at Schoolcraft," Gilbertson said. "How much would it really benefit Vicki to get a degree? She's limited in what she can do. We have to arrange our priorities and I don't see it opening any more doors for her."

The lab continues to update and work on Caruso's system. The family often drives up to the lab and spends that day working on her synthesizer. Caruso is able to communicate with the lab through a modern attached to . ers or of programs highlighting the a spectator." her computer system.

Meanwhile, having a voice has continued to change her life.

"I have been told that I have become a vibrant, outgoing person now housemate and have staff that that I have a way to communicate," she said. "Lately, I have also heard, 'aren't you ever going to shut up' and you have gotten very mouthy lately.' I love it!", and several part-time students work to create voice synthesizers.

Dr. John Eulenberg and his staff in 1974 began researching projects to equip people with workable synthesizers.

"We are dedicated to finding technological pathways for people to communicate with one another," Eulenberg said. "Our work has typically been focused on those with severe communication handicaps."

The research led to the creation of . the mini-VOCA, a Voice Output Communication Aid. It is composed of a personal portable computer, a display screen, a switch and a DECtalk voice synthesizer.

"OUR END GOAL is to show that people's lives can be enhanced by being able to speak," said Steve Blosser, technical director of the Artificial Language Lab. "We want to prove that it can be done. Many people have nowhere to go."

The lab is funded entirely by individual projects, it receives no money from the MSU or outside organizations.

"I do recommend the lab to other people, but I also feel very bad that most of the people, who need the services that the lab provides, can't afford them," said Vicki Caruso, a recipient of one of the Lab's synthesizers. "I also feel very angry that the university puts so little value on the work that is being done at the lab by Dr. Eulenberg and his stafff. The conditions they must work in are deplorable, to say the least."

Although MSU has offered other rooms to the lab, the rooms are in other university buildings and would cause the work to be too spread out.

"We are thankful for what we do have," Blosser said. "It is better to exist, than not exist. There could be more space, more recognition . . . shown by provisions, but there are not enough employees."

Stacked up in tall rows are shelves filled with a library of video tapes, tapes filled with the lab's success

Every project is video taped and kept for future references. Often, the tapes are of speeches given to Con-use of the VOCAs.

WHEN A PERSON with a severe communication handicap is found. and is interested in the program, a, conference is held with that person his family, doctors, therapists and lab staff.

"The process, while not all that involved, is very time consuming," Caruso said. "Usually, there is an. evaluation to see that the person is capable, cognitive and physically able to use a system."

The conference allows input from, everyone and the system that will be used is determined. Then the effort. begins to get the project financed.

"Insurance will not pay for VO-CAS, Blosser said. "They'll pay for certain types of replacements of organs, but not for voices."

Each system must be personalized for the user. Depending on the type of handleap a person has, the system may be operated by a toe, the head or the hand. A switch is responsible for communicating with the computer and synthesizer.

Often the recipients of the VOCAs will assist in the development of their systems. Jim Brooks, a Grand Rapids resident, earned a computer science degree from MSU after recelving a synthesizer. He helps develop systems and aids in research.

Since 1974, the lab has grown to international proportions. It publishes "Communication Outlook," an international quarterly magazine that contains articles on augmenta-'tive communication.

THE LAB'S work is also in India where synthesizers are created in several Indian languages. According to Blosser, they are also working to build a Chinese voice synthesizer through a Chinese university.

Here in Michigan, the language lab has work bases throughout the state, including the Northville Public Schools, Jackson County Intermediate School District, the Bureau of Rehabilitation and the Ingham County Intermediate School District.

Without an effective way to communicate, a person sits on the sidelines watching life pass by, somewhat like watching a parade go by," Caruso said. "Communication, is a vehicle that lets you become ingress by users of the voice synthesiz-...volved in the parade, and not be just Best tip for gardeners: It's not too late to contemplate a fresh garden planting of short term crops like lettuce, broccoli, cauliflower and radishes. Plant around Aug. 1.

even after the first frost," Krauskopf

American Catholics reach 'unchurched'

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Situations Bishop Leo Beauchamp encounters would leave most members of the clergy shaking their. heads. Beauchamp does as well, except he's more likely to nod yes in order to help.

"We had two young people who weren't married and who had a baby," said Beauchamp, beginning to relate one of several situations he deals with as pastor of St. James American Catholic Church in Northville. "They wanted the baby baptized and one of the local churches said they would not do it.

ild they would not do it.
"The mother of the son was a member of the church. She asked me to baptize the baby. I did. They turned it down."

mates there are 80,000 some Catholies in the Detroit area who are not attending Mass for various reasons.

"We learned that Catholics don't go to other churches," said Beauchamp, who lives in Livonia. "They go home and sit it out. We provide Catholicism they can participate in."

St. James American Catholic Church is not affiliated with the present day Roman Catholic Church, but follows Holy Scripture and church tradition except in four areas. At St. James Church, there is married clergy; communion for all people, divorced or divorced and re-. married; birth control within the marriage; and general absolution at the beginning of each Mass.

-Bishop Leo Beauchamp American Catholic Church

Church in Northville.

Sunday services have moved to Silver Springs Elementary School in Northville until a permanent church site is found.

Beauchamp attended both St. John and Sacred Heart Seminaries, studying to become a deacon in the Roman Catholic church. He had aspirations for the clergy, but was married at the time.

The dream of becoming a member of the clergy never left. Instead, he later became ordained in the more liberal Catholic Church of America.

"All through high school, nuns wanted me to become a priest," said Beauchamp, who grew up in Alpena. "I said, 'No, no.' . . . I never thought I'd be doing this."

Plans include steady, but gradual movement in terms of growth. Beauthe next six years.

THE PRESENT goal is to bring those who normally don't attend church through the doors of St. James. New people are showing up every Sunday.

The biggest concern people have is the authenticity of the church, Beauchamp said. He goes to great effort to emphasize that St. James American Catholic Church - with the exception of the four areas - adheres to the Scriptures.

The same altar book is used as in the Roman Catholic Church; members even pray for the Pope, A brochure on St. James Church lists sources for people to consult on the validity of the Old Roman Catholic Church.

'My opinion on it is that it is not valid from our perspective," said Jay Berman, director of communications for Archdiocese of Detroit. "The Roman Catholic Church, as we know it, is not what that is. Unfortunately, we can't do anything about the word 'Catholic' being used."

The Old Roman Catholic Church is sald to have its origins in Utrecht, champ said he would like to see four Holland, which was missionized unnew American Catholic Churches in der St. Willibrord, Apostle of the Netherlands, in the 7th Century.

Although liberal, the church is 1 careful not to cross the line that would allenate people of Catholic upbringing. The church is firmly against abortion. As for women inthe clergy, Beauchamp dances around the issue saying he has mixed feelings on it. "We're not blazing any new trails," Beauchamp said. "We want to be very Catholic and stay that

From that perspective, Beau champ said the church is not interested in perpetuating divisions bei tween themselves and Roman Catho lics. He's not looking for converts.

INSTEAD, HE wants to bring people closer to God.

"Our greatest blessing is our attill tude," Beauchamp said. "We never ask someone where they are from or what church they went to before. We accept people just the way they are, which is really exciting.

"I won't turn down anyone who is need. We do not belong in the judging business. Our main Idea is how can we help those people in need."

Oat bran: No one is sure how it works

Q. How does oat bran lower cho lesterol levels?

A. The soluble fiber in the oat bran is what lowers cholesterol in the blood. Experts aren't exactly sure how the soluble fiber reduces cholesterol, but one theory is:

Victor Bogdan, design and marketing manager for International Automotive Design in Livonia, displays IAD's Allen.

Design studio sets sights as major player here and abroad

They have names like Impact, Allen, Hunter, Interstate and Royale. Concept cars designed for a future where adventure is standard.

But these cars of tomorrow are not built by Ford or General Motors or any automotive company, for that Rather, International Automotive Design, with three styling studies in Livonia, and world headquarters in Worthing, England, provides futuristic design and engineering services to an automotive industry that places a premium on appearance and individuality.

"Historically, automotive suppliers around town offered a particular service, but in the last 10 years, as the automakers have scaled back, we have grown to fill the particular niches," said Victor Bogdan, design and marketing manager for Interna-tional Automotive Design in Livonia.

"As it stands now, the automotive companies will develop a car for the work in between is done by companies like us. That's why the industry is growing.'

IAD's revenues have tripled since. 1985. Last year they were $135 million. Bogdan, a Farmington Hills resident, said the company's annual sales grew roughly 20 percent in each of the last five years and should increase by that amount this year.

In addition, IAD was recently honored with the queen's award for Export Achievement by the British government, the company's third in the last four years. The award honors those British companies that maintain a high export level while exhibiting strong sales growth.

SO WHAT IS the company's secret? And why is it building concept cars when the automakers, as Bogdan said, are developing cars of their

"We place our emphasis on design engineering and computer-aided design, and we can go from a clay market, market the car, and all the model design to fiber glass prototypes right here."

Bogdan said IAD's 40,000-squareloot facility was built to serve the U.S. market better and avoid some of the penalties of the weak dollar.

"Essentially we offer our clients one-stop capabilities, where they don't have to travel around the viorld to check on this or see to

BOGDAN SAID IAD, which claims to be Europe's largest styling and engineering company, designs such futuristic cars as the Royale not only to gain international recognition, but to impress upon automotive clients that the company is exploring and setting future design standards.

For example, the Royale, developed with the corporate business person or entrepreneur in mind, offers passengers a personal computer, a facsimile machine, a satellite navigation system, two televisions for rear passengers and front and rear telephones. Among running prototypes is the Good location not just a lucky choice

After saving for years, Sam opened a restaurant across from XYZ Corp. Although few businesses were in the area, the XYZ corporate offices housed more than 2,000 employees. The only other restaurant in the area was 10 miles away.

In his first six months, Sam did quite well. But then XYZ Corp. confirmed rumors that had been circulating for a long time: The company planned to relocate to another town, approximately 600 miles away. Within a year, Sam's restaurant folded.

Could Sam have prevented his business failure? Possibly. According to the Farmington Hillsbased Michigan Association of CPAs, Sam should have researched the location more thoroughly and interviewed people from the community. If he had, he might have realized just how much his success depended on the fortunes of XYZ - and he might-have gleaned hints about the company's relocation plans.

AN ESTIMATED 45,000 businesses failed in the first nine months of 1988, many of them because the owners did not take the time to gather information about the location. Manufacturers, for instance, should make sure that their location has quick access to transportation routes and necessary supplies. Retailers need to pay attention to local traffic patterns, community trends and store visibility.

If you are planning to buy property for a small business, start by investigating the overall makeup of several target communities or locations. From the census bureau, find out if the community is growing or shrinking. If shrinking, find out why.

For example, Sara planned to open a children's bookstore in a small town. When she investigated the community, she realized she had selected the wrong location. Employment was hard to find in the town and many young adults and recent college graduates were moving away to find work. Sara still opened the bookstore, but with an emphasis on mature titles rather than children's books.

The census bureau can also provide the population's average income, predominant occupations and median age. By comparing this information with past figures, you can determine if and how a community is changing. You should also find out whether nearby residents tend to be college-educated or blue collar workers. Do they rent or do they own their homes? Have local property values increased or decreased?

CONSIDER THE community's future. For instance, does the town have any plans for construction that may affect your bust-

Limit unemployment claim before employee is hired

By Peggy Aulino

Your new employee isn't working out. It's obvious he doesn't have as much experience as his resume suggested - he just can't keep up with the work. And you've talked to him twice about tardiness. So you figure since he has only been in your employ for a few weeks, you can fire him without fear of having to face an unemployment tax claim.

He goes to the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC), which sends you notification that a claim has been filed. Unsure of what to do, you call Quad C Co., a Troy consulting firm that helps small businesses control unemployment taxes. You figure you have a good case, and an expert will surely be able to win it for you.

Wrong again. Josef D. Bruner, the company's president, said employers must practice what amounts to preventive and you hire him based on his word, medicine when it comes to unemployment tax management,

They don't call us until it's too late," said Bruner, "When you hire people is when you want to limit your unemployment claim."

In the hypothetical situation above, the employer has no recourse If the employee embellished his resume. When it comes to Michigan's unemployment compensation laws, hiring someone is strictly a let-theemployer-beware proposition. If an applicant says herean work a lather

"They can work for you one minute and still collect. The employers become livid because of that.

But what about the warnings you gave about the worker's tardiness? First of all, verbal warnings aren't going to stand up in the quasi-judicial proceedings of an MESC appeal hearing, sald Bruner. Secondly, you can't fire someone for being late per se. The only infraction for which a worker can be fired and be ineligible for unemployment compensation is "misconduct," for which the MESC has a five-paragraph definition. And to prove misconduct, you need written documentation of "progressive discipline" because the employer bears the burden of proof at the of businesses does the community support and which types have

After you decide on the general area in which you want to open a business, your next step is selecting a particular property. A top priority should be gathering indepth information on the property's traffic patterns - the number of possible customers who pass by on a regular basis. The SBA has a number of publications that can tell you how to use traffic studies.

You should also take note of the proximity of possible competitors, both present and future. Bob and Ann, for instance, opened a small sporting goods store in a town just emerging as a major recreational center. Unfortunately, they falled to ask who had bought the empty lot a mile down the road. When a major sporting goods retailer moved in, the couple tried to compete, but to no

ANOTHER MISTAKE smallbusiness owners often make is ignoring a site's history. If the building has housed four different businesses in three years, it would be wise to take a second look at the property. You may have overlooked a subtle but important flaw in the building's location.

Once you are satisfied with the site, it's time to investigate the building's actual physical condition. Is the facility large enough to permit future expansion? Does the property need major modification to satisfy your business

Selecting the right location can make or break your business. Don't make the mistake that so may do and select a site for reasons that are unrelated to your business like proximity to your home. Do your homework and find the site that is best for your ployment compensation laws, said Bruner. He said in 11 years of consulting, he has never met an employer who has read the pertinent laws.

If a claim is successful, the former employee can collect approximately 70 percent of his or her net earnings for up to 26 weeks (less if he or she gets another job). And it is the employer - not the federal or state government - who must bear 100 percent of the cost of the claim.

The good news for employers, Bruner said, is that they have some control over their unemployment tax

"It's the only controllable payroll

An employer's unemployment tax can range from 1 to 10 percent of their taxable payroll. In other words, a company with a taxable payroll of $1 million could pay from $10,000 to $100,000. Part of the tax goes into a reserve fund, which could be used, for example, to cover an unexpectedly large number of successful claims.

The percentage charged a company in a given year depends on several variables, including changes in payroll, the number of successful claims against it and the amount it has in its reserve. But in general the fewer claims for which the company is held responsible, the lower its untax that employers have," Bruner employment tax bill will be.

The dubious logic of car demographics

The growing number of hair-restorer ads in Road and Track is one of those low-level demographic indicators that should be sounding an alarm to auto analysts who thought the baby boom would last forever.

The reality is that the pill generation is taking over — those kids conceived only after careful con-sideration of their impact on their parents' lifestyles, which has meant kids under 20 today are outnumbered by their parents generation by maybe 3-1.

I suspect this already has had an impact beyond the graying of Road and Track. Cheap cars are not selling well; in fact, Yugo of America is reportedly trying to figure out how to stuff unsold cars in cereal boxes. The usual reason offered by analysts is that Americans have become so affluent they simply sniff at anything with less than a luxo-label.

Fat chance. Little cars always have been bought mainly by recent college graduates and kids who just got their first job. I suspect that the lack of population in the pill generation is the real culprit in sagging small-car sales - which means cheap cars won't recover soon.

All this came to mind after sitting through a couple of weeks of marketing presentations that invariably included some kind of demographic analysis of the potential customer for this particular

DEMOGRAPHICS usually are coached in median age, median income and a few suppositions about the lifestyle, although marketing types are usually a little cagey about the latter. I've never seen any car presented as just the ticket for an up-and-coming drug dealer, for example.

I've also noticed that demographic analysis doesn't have much consistency. A $12,000 car, for example, is supposed to be affordable by a bright graduate making a median family income of, say, $35,000. Does this mean a young couple making $17,500 each? Then who gets to drive to work? I don't think $17,500 would make the insurance payment on a $12,000 car. Or take another example. A luxury car was supposed to interest two groups: the 35-46-year-olds, and the "over 50s." A little arithmetic and you realize there is a mysterious five-year gap here, where you presumably can't buy this automobile.

Another oddity in the same presentation was the notion that a $50,000 median income was supposed to buy a $35,000 car. The closing gap between the price of a luxury car and the income of its potential buyer as seen through demographic analysis is a common theme. One company selling a said the median income of its customers also was $90,000.

One company selling a $90,000 car

$90,000 car said the median income of its customers also was $90,000. Well, maybe that's what was reported to the IRS.

Adding to the clusive nature of just who buys new cars is a metho: dology called "psychographics," which I assumed was some kind of joke the first time I heard about it.

Not so. Psychographics, which groups potential car buyers according to their emotional relationship with their automobile (loves cars, treats cars as an appliance, etc.) is taken very seriously among the marketing types. In any case, it makes wonderful charts.

All of this may be meaningless to the average customer who simply wants a ride. After a couple of hours dealing with financial doubletalk and checkbook angst, the last thing he needs to know is that? somebody else has his number.

Top-rated bonds have pitfalls

finances and you

At a recent seminar I asked the following question: "Besides CD, what's the safest, guaranteed investment available today?" The answer came from a 62-year-old millionaire, Mrs. Betty Client: "The safest investment is AAA-rated bonds." This answer typifies the confusion which exists in investors' minds about the safety of high-grade bonds.
THE TRUTH:

Assume you purchase a 8 percent, 30-year, AAA-rated bond for $1,000. Because of its high rating, you can expect to receive $40 every six months for 30 years. Also, upon ma-turity in 30 years, you will receive the maturity price of $1,000. The potential for default in this case is practically non-existent. This is why most bond investors consider highgrade bonds as both guaranteed and

AND THE MYTH:

While the coupon payments and the maturity price are never at risk, this bond, like all its counterparts, carries a great deal of market interest rate risk.

The accompanying chart articulates this risk. If, subsequent to your purchase of this bond the market interest rate rises to, say, 12 percent, the market price of this bond will drop to $677, a drop of 32.3 percent. Furthermore, the argument that you the coupon payments is less than have no intentions of selling this bond is also not valid, since you would suffer the loss whether you sell it or not. In technical jargon, this is known as an opportunity cost.

In addition to the drop in the bond's market price, the higher inflation rate, which is generally assoclated with higher interest rate, alsoreduces your real return. This means that even though you continue to receive $40 every six months, because of inflation the real value of

Water way to go

Cruising and dining are perfect combo

By Larry Janes special writer

F YOUR idea of a fun way to go cruising down the river is to throw a few six packs in a cooler and stop off at a local deli for some hearty munchles, you won't want to read on and hear what's available.

If, on the other hand, you're looking for a fun afternoon or evening on the water and you want to sit back, relax, sip a few brews or uncork an '87 Kendall Jackson Chardonnay while enjoying fine cuisine, then read on.

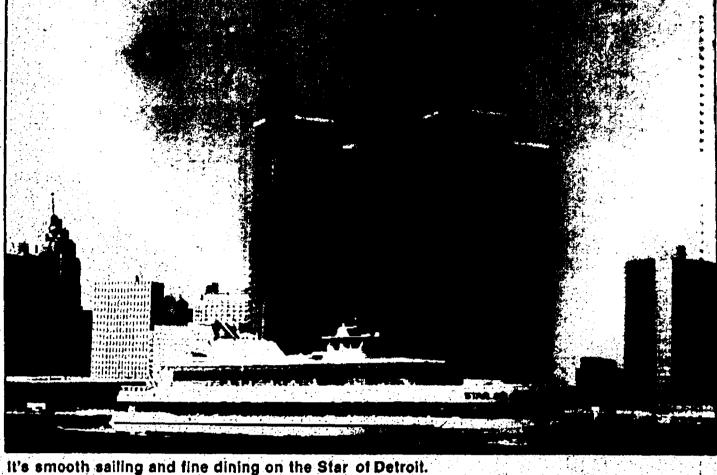

Within the last five years, major investors and yacht brokers have discovered just how glorious and spectacular the Detroit waterways are. And it's about time.

THIS YEAR, AS with the past few, you can enjoy a gorgeous sail down the river and into Lake St. Clair shelling out as little as $28 per person or as much as $400 per hour on such notable cruise ships as the Star of Detroit, the Helene, the Star of Detroit Too or the Golden Voyager. And this price can include great

A few weeks back, the missus and I. along with friends, thoroughly enjoyed a dinner cruise on the Star of Detroit. We were greeted at the dock (the foot of Atwater Street right behind Hart Plaza) by Ann Henricksen, head PR lady for the Star Line. We were escorted to our table, set with crisp cloths and white napkins, surrounded by Frank Lloyd Wright in-spired chairs, hardly noticing the gentle swaying of the docked ship. (By the time the night was over, and after being corrected numerous times, I promised to call it a "ship" and not a "boat.")

We set sail precisely at 7 p.m. and after filling our glasses with an assortment of nice wines, meandered out on deck to an awesome view of the Detroit skykline as we headed up the river to Lake St. Clair.

FIRST OFF, FOR those who get queasy contemplating the log ride at Boblo, you can barely detect the motion aboard the 165-foot. 88-ton cruise ship. The twin-dlesel engines hum with pride as the skillful crew maneuvers the vessel up the Canadian side of the river and you stroll the wide decks, listening to an assortment of great pre-dinner music coming live from the main upper-deck dining room.

The bow (front) of the ship is the quiet place where couples and friends can enjoy the quiet windswept feeling of the river while pointing out the sights like the Scoot Fountain at Belle Isle and the colorful parks along the Canadian side of

We returned to our tables where we were escorted to a cold appetizer and salad buffet. The folks from the Star Line have this ritual down pat by bringing up one table at a time so that there's seldom a wait for food. Nice touch.

The three-hour cruise gave us plenty of time to finish our appetize went down with the sunset as the music turned more danceable and the twinkling lights of the Ambassador Bridge were seen in the distance. Sound romantic? Rest assured, my next visit will be at a little table for two, tucked away in a quiet corner with just me, the lady of my dreams and a bottle of Napa Valley Brut Reserve '84.

That's probably the best part of a cruise on the Star of Detroit. There were five in our party and looking. around the main dining room, we noticed tables for two, four, six and even a group of bingo workers from a local Eagles Auxiliary. This is one cruise that offers the ambiance no matter if it's just for two or a party were worked above deck, the true miracle was seeing the small but totally efficient galley area where I met the head chef and he told me that everything was prepared on board in the confines of what. couldn't have been more than 300square-foot area.

We returned to our table only to make a slow pass under the Ambassador Bridge and then it was back to the dock. This gave us just time to burn off a few dinner calories while spinning to a few top-40 hits and an occasional polka. Wonderous memories of dancing aboard the old Boblo Boats while cruising to the island skipped through my head.

Caesars bombs Hines Park, 14-4

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Jim Miller, one of the new additions to the Redford Little Caesars baseball team, had trouble finding his glove Wednesday after Caesars dismantled Hines Park Lincoln Mercurv. 14-4, at Ford Field.

Assistant coach Ken Wandzel located the mitt near the Caesars dugout and gave it to his star pitcher before he left.

Miller could have done without the mitt during the game, because all he needed was his strong right arm. Miller, quite a find himself, tossed a six-hitter, leading Caesars to the lopsided win that ended after five innings because of the mercy rule.

The win places Caesars and Hines Park in a first-place tle in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League at 17-5-1 each.

MILLER, WHO graduated this spring from Waterford Kettering, will play football in the fall at Michigan State University, but for now he's strictly a baseball player.

"He hits, too," Caesars coach John Moraltis said of his cleanup hitter. "He's a good athlete. He wants to go with the dink ball a lot but he throws the ball 85 or 86 (mph) and I said to him tonight, 'Throw it as hard as you can and I guarantee they won't get one or two runs off you.'

This was probably the most important win of the year. We're fighting for first with only seven games

Caesars gave Miller all the support he could ask for in the first two innings. Hines Park took the game's first lead, 1-0, scoring a run on a bases loaded walk to Bill Bannon, but Caesars put the game away in its first two at-bats.

CHUCK HEINEY/staff photographer Miller, the Michigan State bound quarterback, can also throw a mean fastball.

Hines Park ace Derek Darkowski, now 7-2, was chased after managing to retire only one of the first seven batters he faced in the bottom of the first. Darkowski surrendered a three-run home run to Art George. walked four and was charged with six runs.

HIS REPLACEMENT, Mike Sutwo-run double.

Caesars continued its onslaught in by Miller and a two-run single by Sean Maloney. Combined, Darkowski and Sulak walked nine batters, and seven of the players issued free passes eventually scored.

Bob Files, the third Hines Park pitcher, allowed only one run and four hits over the last 31/3 innings, but by then the outcome was decid-

"Our pitching killed us, me and Sulak," Darkowski said. "It was just one of those days. It seemed like everything I threw, I forced. We can'texpect to win too many games walking nine batters in the first two innings.'

Darkowski has beaten Caesars. twice previously, but Moraitis said: he knew right away Caesars was facing a tired arm.

"HE'S DECENT when he's got al rest." Moraitis said. "He's got a good curve and throws heat. But everytime I look up he's pitching. They use him too much."

Caesars collected 11 hits off Hines Park pitching and the biggest bat belonged to George, who knocked in four runs. George, who attends the University of Evansville, had an RBI single in the second in addition to his three-run homer in the first.

failed to get a hit in the Caesars lineup, but he was walked twice and scored both times. "George is the best talent in the league," Moraitis said. "He has soft hands and runs like a sprinter. He leads us in stolen bases." Chris Sisler had two hits for Hines lak, fared no better. The first batter Park, scored twice and drove in a to face Sulak was Caesars catcher run. The other major contribution in Jack Daniels, who rocketed a shot Hines Park's lineup came from off the left field light tower for a cleanup hitter Dan Niemiec, who had two singles and scored once.

"Miller is hittable," Hines Park the second, scoring seven runs off coach Dave Racer said. "Sisler, hit Sulak, highlighted by an RBI single him hard. Thing is, he throws heat but can't get the breaking ball offer. I'm not taking anything away from them - they're a good team. But throw out the first two innings and we beat them."

Heading into Wednesday night's showdown between the LCBL's two top teams, Hines Park's record was 17-4-1 with Caesars only a game back at 16-5-1. (Results of that game will appear in Monday's Observer.) On Friday, Hines Park left-hander Derek Darkowski, the former Plymouth Canton High ace now pitching for Michigan State, tossed a twohitter in a 3-2 triumph over Duffy's Plumbing in a game played at Livonia's Ford Field.

Darkowski struck out seven and walked five in raising his LCBL. leading record to 7-1.

Jason Hicks, the losing pitcher, scattered six hits over seven innings. Hines Park scored twice in the first thanks to three straight singles, including an RBI from Chris Sister.

A passed ball and a Dan Niemiec ground out brought home the other Kevin Learned's RBI single in the second gave Hines Park a 3-0 cushion, but Duffy's answered in the third on an RBI ground out by Ted Shymanski. Lee Tappy scored on a Darkowski balk in the seventh, but the crafty left-hander got out of a bases-loaded jam by fanning the final batter. Both Joel Riggs and Dennis Szczechowski each had two hits for the winners.

HINES PARK swept a doubleheader Sunday from visiting Wendy's of Ann Arbor, 14-4 and 12-2.

In the opener at Canton High, Hines Park overcame 4-0 deficit with one run in the third inning, six in the fourth and seven more in the John Bonham led a 10-hit Hines Park attack, going 3-for-4 with three RBI. He also scored two runs and had two stolen bases.

Garden City's Jeremy Krol, a sophomore at Albion College, added two hits and two RBI. Chris Michalik contributed two hits, while Sisler, the former Canton High standout who played this spring at Kansas City (Mo.) Community College, scored three times. Sisler had a single and two walks.

Livonian Bill Bannon, the Dearborn Divine Child product, was the winning pitcher. In five innings he allowed seven hits and five walks, while fanning five.

The winning pitcher in the second game, also shortened by the five-inning mercy rule, was Szczezhowski, who ran his mark to 4.1 with a twohitter. The Hines Park hurler struck out seven and walked four.

Learned, formerly of Canton High and now playing at Siena Heights College, went 3-for-3 with three RBI, while Derek Humphries (Canton) and Mike Culver (Canton) each snapped out of their respective batting slumps by contributing two hits WALTER'S APPLIANCE (14-8) remained firmly in third place by sweeping a doubleheader against Tom Holzer Ford, Sunday at Ford Field, 10-2 and 8-7.

David Houghtby, the former Livonia Stevenson standout now at Henry Ford Community College, continued to swing a hot bat, collecting four hits on the day.

In the opener, Houghtby knocked in three runs and collected two hits. Teammate John Gotts, the former All-Area player from Redford Catholic Central High now at Eastern Michigan University, also added two Kevin Walker (2.0), formerly of Redford Union High and now at Henry Ford CC, allowed one earned run over five innings to pick up the win.

Joe Mackiewicz (Redford CC and Kalamazoo College) held Holzer hitless over the final two innings. In the second game, Gotts Walter's with two hits and two RBI

Lincoln Park spoils Mustangs' Mack bid

After, a couple of lopsided victories, the Livonia Mustangs lost a heartbreaker Tuesday to the league-leading Lincoln Park Rails in a Connie Mack (16-18 years) baseball encounter at Churchill

High School, 5-4.
Lincoln Park is now 11-1-1 in league play, while the Mustangs slipped to 8-4-2.

The Mustangs scored three times in the third inning without the benefit of a hit.

Scott Marinkovich opened with a walk, stole second, took third on a sacrifice by Brian Bartz before scoring on an error. Bartz moved to third after Gordie Buchler walked and stole second. With runners at second and third, Craig Overaltis then squeezed Bartz home and Buchler scored on a subsequent throwing error.

Caesars scored eight times in the first, sending Duffy's starter John Storm home for an early shower.

Steve Witt, who scattered eighthits, was the winning pitcher.

Mike Kaczmarek (Franklin and Henry Ford CC), Siwajek and Michelz each had two hits despite the loss. Todd Fracassi (Stevenson and Henry Ford CC) added two RBI.

LITTLE CAESARS hurler Chris Kloc (ex-Redford Thurston High) threw a four-hit shutout Friday against Walter's at Ford Field, 5-0. The right-hander fanned three and walked only two, outdueling Walter's starter and loser Randy Buchler (Hillsdale College), who was the victim of four unearned runs on four er-

Westland Federation hurler makes a point

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Jerry Pitcher's players were

They kept telling Pitcher, the Westland Federation Mickey Mantle baseball coach, that Randy Glerczak could pitch, and lately Gierczak has. made his teammates look like proph-

Pitcher recently moved Glerczak into the starting rotation and he responded Tuesday with an eighthitter, leading Westland to a 9-3 win over host Canton.

"He pitched some for the (Dearborn) Divine Child junior varsity and all our kids told us he could pitch so (assistant coach) Jim Oyer and I decided to use him," Pitcher said. "Sometimes it pays off to pay attention to them. Gierczak throws a lotof breaking pitches and that's effective against some teams."

Gierczak moved his personal record to 3.0 and Westland's record in the Little Caesars Mickey Mantle Baseball League, even more impressive, to 11-1. Canton fell to 4-6.

MIKE HIGGINS' two-run single highlighted Westland's three-run first inning and the Federation gave Gierczak a 5.0 cushlon after 11/2 innings. Canton starting pitcher Coleman Flaskamp lasted only 3% innings, leaving with the score 5-1. Scott Milligan did an admirable job in relief, but Canton coudn't generate much of a comeback.

Westland collected 11 hits off Canton pitching and Flaskamp and Milligan had trouble holding Westland runners on base. Westland stole seven bases and moved up a base several times because of passed balls or wild pitches.

Canton first-year coach Kerry Bennett recently finished his collegiate career at the University of Detrolt and he sometimes has to remind himself not to expect too much from this group.

OF Y

477-4891

"I'm still coaching with a player's instinct." Bennett said. "I've got to remember who I'm dealing with. I'm coaching 15., 16-year-old boys and can't expect what I did from my college teammates.

'I've got some real young, inexperienced pitching. They don't have the moves yet, but it will come."

MATT BONKOWSKI and Lawrence Scheffer, Westland's first and fourth hitters, respectively, caused the most damage against Canton.

Bonkowski reached base all five. trips to the plate, scored a pair of runs, and and went 3-for-3 with two walks. He finished the game's scoring in the top of the seventh, driving in both Dustin Cunningham and Mike White with a double.

Scheffer, who scored three runs and had three hits, clubbed his fifth home run of the year in the second inning to give Westland a 5-0 lead.

Pitcher said he looks forward to playing Canton, not because he expects to win, but instead because You have to beat Canton — they don't beat themselves." He added, however, Canton Isn't as good as it used to be because several of its eligible players play instead for the Connie Mack League (for 16-

18 year-olds). "The Canton teams are usually JV teams because they lose some of their better players to the older leagues and it hurts them," Pitcher said. "The Connie Mack teams take the best 16-year-olds, only because the Adray League takes the best 18year-olds,"

MAGIC TOURS EUROPE

(Germany, Austria and Italy).

The 1988 Michigan State Youth Soccer Association champions and Region II Midwest U.S. Soccer Association champs, will play a total of six games against Europeon select teams.

sons and started at guard his senior "JACK IS A quality person and

· He is an investment analyst with Alexander Hamilton Insurance Co. in Farmington Hills. He was recently married on May 20. (His wife's name is Lynn.)

"This will be my first varsity head coaching job and it's going to be a challenge, but I'm looking forward to it . . . it should be fun," Furlong said. "There is some talent and Gary (Schwan) developed a winning attitude here, and hopefully I can keep that going. I think College where he played four seaTwo of the Zebras' leading retur-

"The cupboard is not bare and we have some seniors who did not play a lot last year who are ready to step forward," Furlong said. "And a couple of girls on the JV squad showed promise. It's just a matter of who is ready to step up and play."

BECAUSE OF THE timing of Schwan's resignation, Furlong was unable to get into a summer league or prepare the squad for preseason practice, which officially opens Monday, Aug. 14.

"I just got married and we were" moving so there wasn't much time, but we'll pick things up in August," said the new Wayne coach.

Schwan, believed to be on vacation, was unavailable for comment.

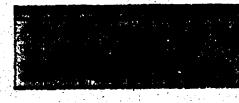

The ex-girls coach, however, indicated he would stick with Wayne' basketball in some capacity, more than likely as a volunteer assistant to boys coach Chuck Henry.

Hottman blast sparks slow-pitch win

The 18-Under Mustangs softball team pushed its record to 7-1-1 Monday, sweeping the Westland Firebirds, 11-6 and 9-2 in a double-header at Bicentennial Park.

The Mustangs are in second place in the Inter-City Youth Softball League, with first place belonging to the Westland Challengers.

A pair of three-run home runs by Lisa Hottman highlighted the sweep. Hottman's three-run blast in the third inning of Game No. 1 was one of 19 hits recorded by the Mustangs. The winning pitcher was Karl Watson, who also lent support at the plate, going 3-for-3.

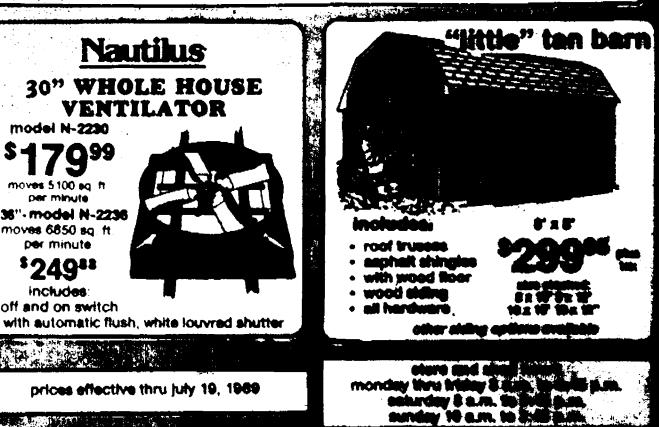

Tricia Rohn scored three runs for the Mustangs and-was-3-for-4-with two RBI. Cindy Carnesecchi, Michelle Trybus, Amy Richter, Nikki Burns and Kelly Kelbert had two hits each.

Hottman's three-run homer in the fifth inning of Game No. 2 helped back up the pitching of Christie Hunter, who recorded the win. Burns had three hits and drove in a pair of runs. Rhonda Saunders, Watson, Trybus and Richter contributed twe hits each.

The Mustangs and Challengers played to an 8-8 tie Saturday at Bicentennial. The game was halted after seven innings because it went beyond the allotted time of one-hour, 15 minutes.

With the score tied at 8, Watson, the game's final batter, clubbed a triple in the bottom of the seventh, but was thrown out at home plate. trying to stretch the hit into a home

Few challengers face Proper Reality in Michigan Mile

By Brad Emons staff writer

It appears Proper Reality will have plenty of breathing room, inand-cut of the starting gate, as a number of qualified nominees have shied away from the 41st running of the $300,000 Michigan Mile at Ladbroke DRC.

Post-time is 5:40 p.m. Saturday, but not many had committed to the post by mid-week.

Allan Plever, director of racing for DRC, has been scrambling all week to find a competitive field. By Saturday he hopes to bring in seven to nine other competitors.

As of Tuesday, DRC Public Relations Director Bob Raymond could confirm only "four definites," with the prohibitive favorite being Proper Strainer at three different tracks in-Reality, a 4-year-old brown colt duding DRC (1970-71), Oaklawn more than $1.4 million in career earnings.

The other three "definites" include: Mi Selecto, a grass specialist and recent winner of the $150,000 Dominion Day Handicap in Toronto (July 1); Present Value, a two-time winner in '89 being shipped in from Kentucky; and Air Worthy, owned by Farmington Hills cement contractor John Carlesimo.

Proper Reality, bred in Florida and owned by 61-year-old Mrs. James Winn of Hot Springs, Ark., may follow in the footsteps of previous Mile winners Waquoit (1987) and Lost Code (1988), each of whom won in romps.

PROPER REALITY'S TRAINER Robert Holthus has been a leading boasting nine wins in 15 starts with Park in Hot Springs (six times) and Holthus has trained four different stakes winners, but calls Proper Reality "the best horse I've ever had."

The jockey, 31-year-old Dallas native Jerry Balley is no slouch either, having been the leading jockey at Hawthorne (1976-77) along with the Tropical Park meeting at Calder Race Course near Miami (1977-78). He has more than 2,100 career wins earning in excess of $40 million. In 1984 he rode Fit to Fight, who won the New York Racing Association's Handicap Triple Crown.

Rated one of the top 10 thoroughbreds in the country, Proper Reality, assigned a top weight of 120 pounds. has been on the grounds since late last month along with Air Worthy, which the veteran Carlesimo calls "the best horse I've ever owned" in Air Worthy recently returned (June 24) from Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky, where he won the $100,000 Stephen Foster Handicap, a Grade III stakes race.

A VICTORY SATURDAY by Air Worthy could make up for a blunder Carlesimo made some 23 years ago.

Only a week before the 18th running of the Mile in 1966, Cartesimo sold Stanllas, which went on to upset favorite Tom Rolfe for the crown.

But make no mistake, some of the country's top thoroughbreds - Seeking the Gold, Blushing John, Cryptoclearance and Private Terms - are all safe bets to be elsewhere this Sat-

New Ocelots plan to recapture region

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Graduation and grades have soccer team of some valuable assets. Not to worry: Ocelot coach Van Dimitriou has delved deeply into the local talent pool, cashing in on longterm investments to multiply his dividends.

Those dividends are well-documented in victory totals. Dimitriou's teams were consistently atop the Eastern Conference standings, until the last two seasons, when Macomb CC - SC's No. 1 nemesis - supplanted the Ocelots.

Dimitriou will seek to reverse that trend this fall. And although such standouts as stopper Lee Hunt and fullback Phil Neumaier have graduated, and midfielder Pete Ritsema and forwards Todd Nichols and Joe Messler failed to make grades, there is enough talent among the new recruits to be optimistic.

The secret to Dimitriou's recruiting success — which translates into annual region title runs - is overlapping. Many of the youths he coaches on his Livonia United club team find their way to SC. Four of his top eight field players have performed on a Dimitriou team before.

A TEAM'S success starts in goal; so does the Ocelots.' "Speaking of strengths, we'll be solid in goal with size and experience," the SC coach predicted.

The size comes from newcomers Jeff Shuk, a 6-foot-5, 190-pounder who guided his Nevada high school team to the state finals (nine shutouts, 0.89 goals-against average), and Jim Robbins, a 6-4, 185-pound basketball at HFCC, but after a leg injury decided to switch to soccer.

The experience comes from returrobbed Schoolcraft College's mens , nee Chris Moore, a Redford Catholic Central grad. Unfortunately, what Dimitriou doesn't have is a combination of size and experience in the net; Moore, while steady and fundamentally sound, stands just 5-8.

Still, the situation in goal is far better than it's been in recent years. "Are we loaded at goalie," claimed Dimitriou, noting the depth. "Whereas last year, we really had just one goalle.'

THERE'S MORE to fuel the optimism. The players who do return all started, at one time or another. Chris Speen, the sweeper from Livonia Churchill, and Doug Sobolak, a fullback from Plymouth Canton, anchor the defense. Brian Thomas, also from Churchill, and Brendan O'Reilly, from Redford Union, lead the of-

"We should be strong down the middle," sald Dimitriou. "How well we do will depend on how well the supporting players come through."

Among the best of the recruits are: Khaled Zeidan, the high-scoring forward from Churchill who was injured and missed the Chargers' state tournament loss to Class A champ Stevenson. He was a first-team all-Western Lakes Activities Association choice. Sald Dimitriou: "Hopefully, we'll be able to streamline some of his moves and make him even more effective."

• Eric Schwedt, a first-team all-Observer and all-WLAA selection from Stevenson who scored 21 goals and added seven assists in 20 games.

Woodhaven. Robbins planned to play goals for Stevenson than anyone else. He has beautiful timing on headers and can play defense, too."

• Chuck Przygoda, a leader for Troy Athens and an all-Eccentric and all-Metro Suburban Activities Association pick as a midfielder/ fullback. "He's the steadlest player of the lot," said Dimitriou. "This kid makes no mistakes. He's consistent."

• David Dinglie, a big (6-1, 180), physical defender from Stevenson whose zealous play put him on the sidelines midway through the season (Dinglie was suspended after a verbal altercation with an opposing coach). "He brings size and meanness to the team. He's got outstanding moves, and can play any posltion. He's intimidating back (on de-

• T.J. Flowers, another sizable defender (6-2) who started four straight years at Churchill. "He's basically a defender who needs polish and quickness in beating opponents to the ball. He's a hard worker,

• Rick Menary, a midfielder from Canton who scored six goals and nine assists and was first-team all-WLAA and all-Observer. "A lot of people think he's among the best in the area. He's fluid and he does nice things with the ball." Dimitriou, however, was concerned that Menary's style was too slow. "He'll have to adjust to my pace of game."

 John Cortese, a midfielder-forward from Canton who was an all-Western Division choice. "He's small, but he works hard. He's a little limited where speed is concerned,"

• Billy Werthman, a fullback from Livonia Franklin who has the athletic ability but lacks in fundamentals. "He can run forever, but he never had any good coaching.'

THERE ARE 10 others Dimitriou has picked up, some he's not too familiar with and others who may need time to develop. "If any of these people are starting material, they can only enhance our program," the SC coach said.

Included in that group are Scott Fust, an all-Western Division forward from Walled Lake Western, and Jeff Saylor, a midfielder-forward from Ann Arbor Pioneer. Both are promising, said Dimitriou; so are Paul Jeziorowski and Eric Coulter, both forwards and former co-captains at Redford Union (Coulter was all-Northwest Suburban League).

Ed McCarthy, a forward from Redford, enrolls at SC after playing one season at Siena Heights (he'll be a sophomore), and Tim Ridi hails from Texas (he now lives in Canton). Others to watch are Jon Honhart, from Franklin: Jeff LaFountane. from Novi; Brian Engel, from Northville; and James Hombirg, from Dearborn Heights.

Any players interested in joining SC's team should contact coach Dimitriou at the school (462-4400) or at home (474-6219).

Leafhoppers — Invisible insects of the meadows

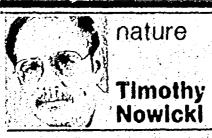

WHEN A person looks out over a meadow in southeastern Michigan, the beautiful summer wildflowers mirror a rainbow, spider webs reflect the morning dew, and the wind waves the whispering grass. Even from the surface, a meadow is a grand place to view.

. But just as the ocean surface may reflect the beauty of a sunset, the most spectacular beauty is found beneath the surface. Oceans provide coral reefs with their multitude of colorful fish and corals, meadows. hide the world of insects.

Until you take the time to sweep the meadow grasses with a simple insect net, you will not know the real hidden beauty of a meadow. Insects exhibit such variety of forms and colors that it would take volumes to describe. But let's look at one invisible insect of the meadow you will surely find.

Leashoppers are invisible until you walk through the grasses. Then like kernels of corn, they pop in profusion in all possible directions. They are not much bigger than a kernel of popcorn either. When you examine one that has landed on your pantleg it will be about a quarter-inch long.

One species, the red-banded leafhopper, is blue and red striped. Particularly striking when seen, their beauty often goes unnoticed.

Before it moves away, examine how the wings are held over the back in a tent-like manner. Then, once you have satisfied your curiosity, induce it to jump by gently nudging the tail with your finger. In an instant, the leashopper has rocketed from its launch pant a distance of 12 inches. A 6-foot man would have to jump the distance of a football field to span an equivalent distance.

Some leafhoppers travel even greater distances in order to find food during the summer. When the adults become active after their winter dormancy, they may fly 150 miles north to find additional food. Young raised in this new area will fly south in fall to take advantage of warmer winter weather.

There are many other insects which are easy and enjoyable to see, if you take the time. Damselflies, dragonflies, beetles and other bugs

'Office hypertension' — puzzling phenomenon

Dear Jo:

I don't normally have high blood pressure, but when I visit my doctor, I can be sure it will be up. My doctor says I have a condition he calls "white coat hypertension." My blood pressure is always normal before I see him, when the nurse checks it but within minutes (when my doctor takes it), it's up. Would you please address this subject in your column?

Mrs. G., Ann Arbor Senior

Dear Mrs. G.: Of the estimated 60 million North having hypertension (high blood pressure), many do not have it at all.

"White coat hypertension" or "office hypertension," is the phenomenon that occurs when a patient's blood pressure is elevated when taken by the doctor in the office setting. Prior to the visit, the reading is usually normal when taken by a nurse. or technician. Also, these elevated levels usually do not occur at home. or at work, or in stressful situations - nor do they stop after repeated visits to the doctor's office.

It is not unusual for people your age to feel nervous about a doctor's visit. The usual symptoms of stress such as a "knot" in your stomach or. Americans who are diagnosed as, an increased heart rate do not indicate that you have high blood pres-

The cause of white coat hypertension is unknown. Research, including extensive psychological examinations of these people, has not disclosed any hidden anxieties about seeing a doctor.

Those who are most likely to have white coat hypertension are: women of all ages, and younger people who are slightly overweight.

There is no treatment for white coat hypertension as it is not considered to be a disease. It is important that you have your blood pressure monitored regularly in different settings and by different professionals, including your doctor, over an extended period of time.

TROY RETIREES Arlon Quigley and William Beeler say needlepointing is an interesting, productive way to puse these No falls into an explanation of museinduced inspiration or unsatisfied, creative longings. Both matter-offactly say they saw people doing it and decided it didn't look that hard.

Needlepoint pieces by these two relative newcomers to the craft fill a display window in the little lobby at the back parking lot entrance to Jacobson't Home Furnishings store in Birmingham.

It's part of the month-long Customer Exhibit in the needlework department on the lower level of the store. Other needlepointers who are or were clients are: Dr. Robert Brownlee of Wisconsin, who still orders his supplies from there and has his canvasses framed there; and Dr. Benjamin Grundfast of New York, regarded as the depart-do advanced "trophy" pieces. This isn't meant to take anything away from these local guys who can hold their own with the rest of the pack nicely, thank you.

Beeler, who was an automotive engineer with Ford Motor Company, said he started 11/2 years ago, I just thought there was nothing to it. My mother-in-law and my wife's aunt needlepoint and when I watched them I said, I can do that'."

He started with six inch squares, a cardinal and a unicorn, that he bought at Frank's. He recommends that for beginners. They're easy and they go quickly. Since January he's finished three of the four Christmas stockings he's making for his daughters.

"The stockings (canvasses) didn't have names, I put all the names in. They're gonna be for my daughters - they don't know it yet," he said with a wry smile. He added, "I do time in doctors' waiting rooms be-Quigley, former counselor at Clara Barton Junior High in Royal Oak, said he has no idea how long it took him to do the 14-piece manger scene, "I always have several things going at the same time." He remembered asking his wife about 12 years ago if it was hard to do, 'She said no, it's easy. I went out and got a kit, I never took lessons."

He said that he spent a lot of

He likes to do pictures, particularly frame, canvasses with the picture in yarn, (which still has to be covered) rather than printed or painted on.

The men hadn't met before theve arrived at Jacobson's to talk about their work although both play in the senior men's golf league in Troy. Almost immediately they were discussing stitches and asking each other questions about particular pieces and the techniques and

Quigley said lots of people see him doing needlepoint, since he works on it in airports and waiting rooms - whenever he knows he's going to be sitting idly for a period of time. Women will frequently comment on his work and how unusual it is to see a man needlepointing. Seldom if ever does a man broach the subject with him.

Detroit Images: not pretty pictures

HAVE been looking at "Detroit Images: Photographs of the Renaissance City," a collection of almost 200 compelling, black-and-white photos of contempo-rary Detroit. Published recently by post-game World Series celebration. Wayne State University Press, the book is edited by John J. Bukowczyk. and Douglas Aikenhead, with Peter Slavecheff.

To be sure, there are hopeful images in this book — the Tigers taking the field on a well-attended Opening Day in 1986; a young father embracing his small daughter in Cadillac Square; modest, well-tended homes on Deacon Street, gleaming in the sunshine: two youths traversing a pristine Washington Boulevard on unicycles

But, for the most part, these are not pretty pictures. Poet Philip Leyine, in an afterword, has called the collection "a book of ruins." Nothing wrong with such a book, of course. The trouble comes when a large number of such images are put together in one place, as they are here. After a time, simply because there are so many of them, the strength and boldness of each image begins to break down and to lose some of its effectiveness. Now and then, it even threatens to take on a kind of ludicrous quality in the repetition.

STILL, THE IMAGES in themselves are so arresting, the photography so remarkable.... The visual journey begins with a dramatic shot of an old factory warehouse going up in smoke and flames, and dwarfing wary bystanders. The collection concludes with a shot of the skeletal remains of another warehouse destroyed by fire. An exposed stairwell clings to a wall that threatens to fall in upon itself, a smokestack juts into a murky sky, a strange, griseous light - present in o many of these images - pervades the scene. There are no bystanders, wary or otherwise.

In between, the photos (the work of 14 different photographers) run the gamut from images of aging. shopkeepers who look to be waiting for customers who will never come, to storefront churches resembling small fortresses, with their boarded-up windows and their barred-over front doors (called "security gates"), to the night-time individuals who. resemble something out of "Nosfera-

Images of the demolished northern end of Poletown are remindful of Depression-era, Dust Bowl prairies. A photo of the ragged remains of the last Uniroyal building, taken on a day in 1986, looks as bleak as a picture out of Dresden in the '40s.

In the Cass Corridor, the exterior of an apartment building, its scabrous interior, and its hollow-eyed tenants appear to have been trashed by some nightmarish malignancy.

Here, in a home on Detroit's Near East side, is a family, sitting down to dinner, the children looking tentative, the adults appearing to be little more than resigned to some melancholy fate. Here is an old woman, literally out on the street with her furniture, her beautiful face resigned as well. Here is an old man, alone, at a Labor Day parade somewhere on Woodward Avenue.

Here is the boneyard rubble of another demolished structure, this on Franklin between Joseph Campau and Chene. Here is another on Kanter near Moran. And another at Trombly and Orleans. Here is a Dodge van, stripped and plundered and upside-down at Biltmore near Eight Mile Road. Here is a 1984 Fiero that has suffered the same fate. Here, on Hessel between Prevost and Forrer, is a Mustang, "on location" (we learn from the caption) from July 5 to September 26, 1985.

I don't know - maybe it's best to just examine the photos as slowly as possible, taking them a bit at a time. Perhaps that way, a reader can experience their impact more com-

In addition to the pictures and Levine's afterword, the book contains an insightful essay on "Picturing the City/Photographing Detroit," by Aikenhead.

Bit of England transplanted

By Marty Figley special writer

LITTLE bit of England is nestled in a subdivision in Farmington Hills, where Mr. and Mrs. Paul Paddon live. Last year he was given a past master award (since his garden had previously won) in the Farmington Garden Club's Good Neighbor Garden contest.

This outstanding gardener uses many different plants with great success. The extremely well-maintained gardens shows his love of was introduced to lilles about nine years ago. He said he loved the spectacular colors, so just kept buying and growing them.

In the center of the side yard are two island beds; one contains a wish-rudbeckla and zinnlas, so when the ing well and the other a bird bath. Both are surrounded with begonias, ageratum and sweet alyssum. The edge of the property hasn't been ne-, in this garden paradise. What are Paddon's secrets? Work, work, work.

When the catalogs arrive in late December he looks to see what's new. He will try them and always orders the old stand-bys too. New, seeds are purchased (they are all hybrids) each year from six seed companies. A small greenhouse attached to the back of the house is the center of many hours of work beginning in January. The seeds are sown in trays and then transferred to six-hole pots. The number of plants involved, boggles the mind.

This gentleman grows all: the plants from seeds, uses them all in his garden or gives them away -7,000 of them. He contemplates what he wants to do with the gardens while traveling to and from work. He puts nothing to paper. When the plants are grown up and are almost in flower - when he is ready to set them out, that's when he designs the

The tallest flowers are planted in the back and then the others follow according to height.

Paddon says working in his gardens is his anti-stress therapy. He used to grow the flowers for himself, Now he grows them for everybody.

POULET EXHIBIT

Etchings and poetry of Livonia artist Jeanne Poulet are on exhibit at the Swords into Plowshares Peace Center & Gallery, Detroit.

Entitled "Man's Inhumanity to Man," the exhibit is from Poulet's set of poems and prints, "Bernard with a Suesse (pacifier)." Poulet designed her own process of etching consisting of dots and scratches (as opposed to lines) that become a composite. She recently has moved from black and white to color etching. used in the current exhibit.

The exhibit opens Saturday, July 15 and closes Oct. 7. Opening reception with Poulet is 5-9 p.m. Friday. July 21. The gallery is at 45 E. Adams, Detroit, next to the Detroit Council of the Arts. Regular hours are Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. For information, call 965-5422, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

• STARS SERIES The big band sound of the Bob Durant orchestra will be featured in the Livonia Arts Commission's Music Under the Stars offering at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Civic Center Park, Five Mile Road, east of Farmington.

Featured in the Thursday, July 20 concert will be the Livonia Symphony. There is no admission charge, but concert-goers are reminded to bring lawn chairs.

3-in-1 AA art festival has local flavor

Eleven area artists will be part of the 19th annual Summer Art Fair scheduled Wednesday, July 19 through Saturday, July 22 in downtown Ann Arbor.

Sponsored by the Michigan Guild of Arts and Artisans, the art fair hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. The festival features 540 juried artists from 34 states. .

Area artist who will be participating include: ceramics: Barbara GibParsons, Plymouth, Ted Striewski, Farmington Hills; Kim and Frank Yanke, Farmington Hills; mixed media: Mary Ann Olson, Plymouth; Andrea Striewski, Farmington Hills; painting: Wallace Bilyeau, Plymouth; Ralph N. Davis, Westland; photography: Paul Miller, Livonia.

The Guild's Summer Art Fair is the only fair owned and operated by the artists themselves.

> The guild's fair has three locations: Main Street, from Huron to William; Liberty, from Ashley to Fifth; and State Street, from William to South University. ...

The Ann Arbor Transportation Authority (AATA) provides the Art Fair Shuttle. Visitors can park at Briarwood Mall or Pioneer High School and ride the bus directly to the fair. AATA also provides "the Circulator," which takes visitors from one fair site to another for no charge, with the purchase of a round trip shuttle bus ticket.

In addition to information booths, found on each street, the guild has four booths which sell the official summer art fair T-shirts, bags and posters which over the years have become collectables and part of the Summer Art Show tradition.

all about color Helen Diane Vincent

Q: We have just moved into a boase in a new subdivision. The entire area is flat, landscaped with a few shrubs and small trees. We want to dress up the wood deck patlo behind the house that overlooks an inground swimming pool. Our house is traditionally styled and made of terra-cotta brick. Any suggestions?

A: Since you are thinking of taking a more elegant approach, then look into the newer blue-green and white interspersed with the soft orange patio furniture and coordinate it clusters. with soft terra cotta and apricot for the table setting and any decorative accessories. Try to adhere to the apricots, or soft orange color even in the choice of flowers to be planted - allowing for the soil and other conditions.

also put into terra-colta pots and placed around the deck itself. A white trellis with pale violet-colored hanging wisteria positioned at the far end of the pool would add a subtle touch to the color harmony and provide some height to the otherwise flat landscaping. White and a few violet-colored flowers could also be

In clear daylight you would achieve an elegant yet relaxed look; with soft night-lighting, these colors would be sufficiently visible to be appreciated.

Q: Recently, our 14-year-old son, Some of these flowers could be who is our only child, has insisted that he paint his entire room in black and fluorescent colors. It's already jammed with posters and paraphernalia. His father refuses to go along with the idea. However, I'm inclined to let him have his way because, so far, he has offered us so very few problems. What do you think we should do? And should we be concerned with his radical change in color preferences?

A: Don't be overly concerned at this time. Your son is using color as a sign of a need to more clearly establish his own identity and to have some separate control over his environment. Quite typical of this phase of development, he is beginning to more vigorously explore avenues distinct from parental approval, and outside of conventional, cultural

It's not unusual for teen-age boys, more than girls, to select this particular color combination for its intended shock value. Without excusing his extreme colors, keep in mind that he is exposed to far more hyper colors, through TV advertising, rock concerts, and novelty items designed and marketed for the adolescent than you or your husband knew as

The key to this situation is your son's behavior: If he should become overly withdrawn, then you should be concerned. Black will no longer be a mere novelty, but an indication of a far deeper disturbance. Otherwise, proceed with letting him decorate his room as he wants to. If you over-react or over-interpret his color preferences at this point in his ; life, you both will make the matter in seem more important than it really if

Just look into techniques for transforming the room without painting the walls, such as using black drapery, and lightly tacking up wide-width felt textiles on the walls, at A very inexpensive bedspread, or another cover could provide the background for a fluorescent dye or paint design of his own making. Actually, it your more immediate concern should be to make sure he has .. enough light for studying, since dark ¿ colors absorb so much more light than pastels and brights.

"My customers read 'House and Garden,' 'House Beautiful' and 'Architectural Digest,' 'declares William Wolf, president and founder of Newton Furniture, with stores in Livonia, Novi and Sterling Heights.

"They have great taste and good ideas. All they need is a bridge between the end goods shown in those magazines and their own budgets," Newton Furniture has thrived by making that bridge available to customers. It is southeast Michigan's exclusive Norwalk retailer and has expanded its already extensive Bernhard collection to include a quarter of a million dollar gallery, designed by the award-winning ar- "Newton has the closest thing to chitect Bryan Forney, in the Twelve custom upholstered furniture with Oaks store in Novi.

"Bernhardt offers customers qualy construction, beautiful style, a road ion of both upholstery otes Wolf, "We've always been plessed with the line, because our customers are always so happy with its looks and value."

"THE BERNHARDT Gallery is a natural extension of our commitment to the line. We have the only gallery in southeast Michigan, showing both traditional and contemporary furniture in fully decorated and accessorized room settings. It's a fabulous way to shop and it's also the kind of place you'd like to browse through on an afternoon."

The idea-packed Bernhardt Gallery, which now composes nearly a third of the Twelve Oaks store, is just part of the Newton story. Wolf, who is originally from Boston and has an MBA from Harvard, is proud to talk about another success - the Norwalk line at Newton Furniture.

Norwalk," said Wolf: "We offer customers a choice of over 400 sofa designs, in nearly a thousand fabrics, and delivery within 30 working days. And the cost runs between $700 and $2,000." Very reasonable, when a sofa today can esily run from $1,000 to $3,000.

ty, nor speed. It's top quality furniture that will be replaced because its owners tire of it - not because it has worn out. In fact, it has a lifetime guarantee. It's the tremendous kind of value that says quality and individuality doesn't have to be expensive. Newton Furniture has built its name on that concept," said Wolf.

WOLF BEGAN BUILDING his reputation in 1957 when he created furniture lease departments within then-discount kings Arlans' and Shoppers Fair. "I realized these major department stores were missing sales by not having furniture departments," said Wolf.

Helghts, and the 28,000-square-foot Livonia store. Twelve Oaks, next to Comerica on the road ringing the mall, was opened in 1984, and an Ann Arbor store will be opened midsummer in 1989.

The stores carry Hekman, Lane, Stanley and Stiffel brands, as well as Norwalk and Bernhardt, But there's a reason Newton Furniture is different than other furniture retailers in the metropolitan area.

Wolf said, "We've succeeded because we sell people what they need and want, not necessarily what we have on hand. Many of our competitors sell what they've warehoused, "I had got into the furniture busi. and that's about it. Customers get a lot of pressure about special orders. At Newton Furniture, we think eyerything the customer wants is 'special,' and we'll do anything we can to help them have it. That's customer Wolf's lease departments satisfaction, and we've been very successful at it."

It's a philosophy that is held by each of Newton's 30 sales associates, and by Wolf's son; who is vice president and secretary of the company.

Flowers create focal point

To me, plants and cut flowers are as essential in the home as doors and windows.

Garvin

For just a few dollars fresh cut flowers are available at your neighborhood supermarket. A bunch of daffodils in a vase, when there is still snow on the ground, is a wonderful thing to see.

It sends the message that spring is just ahead. Whenever a large bowl of flowers or a large plant is placed, a focal point is created. Whatever the cost or the scale, flowers in a home should be primarily welcoming and secondly, a clear statement of personal style. Odd angles and curious recesses that are too small for any human purpose can be filled with plants or flowers.

Large plants can serve as building blocks separating one activity area from another. Placing plants around and in front of a windowsill brings the greenery of outdoors into the interior and intimates a pleasant landscape outdoors where none exists.

The cost of a plant or flower is irrelevant to its inherent beauty. A great deal of money can

"I finally found a townhome as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant three-bedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two or three-bedroom ranch.) With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And-luxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whinpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing.

LIVE AMONG THE RARE AND BEAUTIFUL.

Aldingbrooke — West Bloomfield's premier rental community — has always attracted its own special flock. Our magnificent estate-like grounds are home to a collection of geese and swans. And to many of metropolitan Detroit's most discerning individuals and families.

Set in a gated community, residents appreciate Aldingbrooke's world of privacy and custom options, with all the services they've come to expect from a luxury apartment community.

Residences up to 2800 square feet include such desirable features as private entryways, split-level or ranch-style designs, dens, breakfast rooms, cathedral ceilings, fireplaces and attached garages. All for much less than you'd expect to pay for such luxury.

From $650 to $1650 per month. Whatever your mind can imagine in luxurious living, you can discover on your first visit to Aldingbrooke.

Aldingbrooke

It is indeed rare and beautiful.
