FORTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES

Chicago, January 1, 1920.

To the Governing Members of The Art Institute of Chicago:

The year 1919 has assumed the character of a year of recovery. This has manifested itself in various ways in the work of The Art Institute. Although owing to the war activities of the Institute and to the number of special "free days," the total number of visitors for 1918 was somewhat above that for 1919, an analysis of the year's attendance is enlightening. It shows a large increase in paid and membership admissions. This is also borne out by the greatly increased sale of pictures and reproductions, by the increased attendance in the School, and numerous other evidences. The total attendance during the year was 1,040,000.

One of the most notable features of the year has been the unprecedented improvement in the Institute's financial condition. The Endowment Funds have been increased by $1,348,435.26, largely through the Harris bequest, and now amount to $2,445,717.32. Liabilities have been decreased by $20,000. During the year the Trustees of the George B. Harris Estate turned over to The Art Institute securities valued conservatively at $1,106,000. This fund was bequeathed to the Institute as a permanent fund in memory of George B. Harris and Mary R. Harris, the income only to be used for the general purposes of the Institute. Several other large bequests were also received, one from the estate of Albert Arnold Sprague, amounting to $45,000, one from the estate of Ferdinand Schapper, of $43,000, to be kept as a memorial fund and known as the Ella M. Schapper Memorial Fund, and one from the estate of Lois H. Culver of $74,481.54. The receipts of the museum which are applicable towards operating expenses amounted to $359,649.17, while the disbursements for maintenance were $355,044.03.

School receipts were $104,107.08 and disbursements were $108,988.52.

George B. Harris and Mary R. Harris were declared Benefactors in recognition of their generous gift, as was also Lois H. Culver and Ferdinand Schapper. Charles L. Freer, an Honorary Member, died during the year. The Governing Membership lost, through death, Charles H. Schwab, James Viles, Henry H. Getty, H. N. Higinbotham, Joseph Rosenbaum, LaVerne W. Noyes, and Mrs. H. M. Wilmarth. Vacancies in the Governing Membership were filled by the election of Arthur Meeker, Joseph Adams, A. A. Sprague, P. B. Eckhart, James Simpson, B. J. Dunham, Hugh McBirney, Charles A. Munroe, Charles G. Dawes, and D. R. McLennan. Mrs. Jennette Hamlin willed to the Institute an oil painting by Frederick E. Church—a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dana Webster.

This year has been the best in the history of the Membership Department of the Art Institute. The total membership, all classes, is 9,202, a gain of 2,257 members, or 32 5-10% for the year. Our previous high mark was 7,700 members at the beginning of the war, April, 1917.

The Trustees sustained a loss in the death of Henry H. Getty, a Governing Member of The Art Institute for over 31 years and a Trustee since 1894. He died March 31, 1919, in Paris, where he had resided for several years. Mr. Getty left to the Institute his fine collection of idols and of Chinese snuff boxes, with certain books upon the religions of the Orient. Resolutions on his death were passed by the Trustees as follows:

“With profound sorrow, we, the members of the Board of Trustees of The Art Institute, have learned of the death of our fellow member, Henry Harrison Getty, which occurred at Paris, France, on the 28th day of March.

"Mr. Getty became a member of The Art Institute, November 17, 1887, and was elected to the Board on June 5, 1894.

"While his long residence abroad and the infrequency of his visits to Chicago prevented his attending regularly the meetings of the Board, he kept in touch with the work of the Institute, and took every occasion to manifest his interest in it. The Library frequently received from him valuable gifts of photographs and books, and at various times he made contributions to the general funds.

"Mr. Getty's sympathy with the aims and activities of the Institute was manifested further in his will, which provides that his important collections of Idols and Chinese Snuff Boxes shall come ultimately to it.

"Devoting the leisure earned by a long and successful business career to the indulgence of a taste for travel in foreign lands, he was an intelligent observer and an appreciative student of the rare and beautiful. Particularly was he attracted by the Orient, to which he made many visits. There he received the inspiration which led to the formation of the collections now destined to the Institute.

"These collections, the fruit of years of informed and enthusiastic research, are an index of Mr. Getty's conviction of the importance of gathering together and preserving for the pleasure and instruction of future generations, the beautiful and interesting things of the past and present.

"Mr. Getty was a man of sterling character, a genial and engaging personality, and his loss will be deeply felt by all who had the privilege of knowing him.

"With grateful appreciation of Mr. Getty's interest in and services to The Art Institute, and as an expression of our personal sense of loss, we direct that this minute be spread upon our records, and that an engrossed copy thereof be sent to his family, to whom we also convey our heartfelt sympathy."

During the year 344 Life Members were added and nine Life Members were transferred to Governing Membership, a gain of 335, making a present total of 2,705 Life Members.

The annual subscribers comprise the largest class of members, and it was to be expected that the heaviest decline would occur in this class. The record for the previous year showed a loss of 1,388 Annual Members, offset in part by the addition of 1,022 new memberships. It is gratifying, therefore, to report a falling off of but 991 during the last year, a loss which was substantially overcome by the enrollment of 3,105 new members, causing a net gain of 2,114 against a net loss of 366 in 1918. The total number of Annual Members was 6,108 and the total number of members of all classes was 9,202 at the end of 1919.

FRIENDS OF AMERICAN ART.—The gifts of the Friends of American Art for 1919 were as follows: "Geese," by Jessie Arms Botke. "The Fates Gathering in the Stars," by Elihu Vedder. "From the Upper Terrace," by J. H. Twachtman. "Leo Ornstein at the Piano," by Leon Kroll. "Evening," by Jerome Myers. "The Cotton Gin," by Harry L. Hoffman. "Unrest," by Sidney E. Dickinson.

This makes a total of 92 paintings, 6 works of sculpture and 36 prints given by this organization.

In May, 1919, all the gifts of the Friends were assembled in the east wing in an extremely effective exhibition.

MUSEUM INSTRUCTION DEPARTMENT.—The Museum Instruction Department has shown a steady progression in the interest of its students. The receipts for the year were $2,078.50, an increase of nearly $500 over last year.

The total attendance in Fullerton Hall has been some 94,000, while in the Club Room more than 10,000 persons attended the 200 meetings held during the year. A notable addition to the year's work has been the Sunday lecture series generously donated by Mr. Taft, and held in the Club Room and galleries. The attendance upon the ten lectures thus far given averages 300. Of the 43 receptions, that to General Pershing on December 20, had the largest attendance, this amounting to 14,500.

In spite of the year's difficulties in the printing field, Dr. John C. Ferguson's Scammon Lectures on Chinese Art were published, and the first edition sold out within three months. The Scammon Lectures of 1919 were given by Dr. James Parton Haney on the subject, "Art for Use," and awakened unusual interest.

The exhibitions of the year have been numerous and varied in all departments, among the most notable being one of British war paintings, which was of great beauty and impressiveness. Through the courtesy of several dealers a beautiful exhibition of French decorative arts was held in December, and in cooperation with the Art Alliance, there was an exhibition of artistic toys made in America and one of textiles. This cooperation has already awakened the interest of the industrial world, placing The Art Institute in closer touch with American business.

The sales of pictures, which have been for two years extremely light, due partly to war conditions, have made an excellent showing since the summer. The sales in one-man exhibitions, owing partly to effective work in the Sales Department and partly to well planned organization outside the Institute, have been unusually high.

Through the sale of reproductions of works in The Art Institute the educational service of the collections has been vastly increased. From January 1 to December 31, 1919, the sales of reproductions of all kinds amounted to $10,916.91 as compared with $5,821.20 for the same period of 1918. During the year a large number of our color prints have been exported for the trade in foreign countries. Twelve thousand five hundred of these color prints were sold up to December 1, while postcard sales during the year reached more than 300,000. The total sales since the postcards were installed are more than one and one-third million, and of color prints 53,000. These prints have set a standard for quality in reproduction, and all similar prints are now known the country over as "Institute Prints."

In the Extension Department 24 engagements, many of them from five to six days' duration, in the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Tennessee, Mississippi, Kansas, and Oklahoma, were made and filled, as well as one in Canada. For the coming year 19 bookings have already been made. A new field is opening in the State Fairs, the first engagement of this character being a very successful one recently held in Oklahoma. Inquiries have come from 17 other states, concerning this phase of the work.

This department is now doing excellent and valuable work.

The increase in the attendance in the School has been commensurate with that in the other departments. This has given impetus to the effort which was put under way a year ago to raise the standard and reduce the size of the School. A regular course has been laid down, and with few exceptions students are required to pursue this. The result is that at present the Lower School, or first year, is filled to capacity, and during its opening week in October acquired a long waiting list. George Bellows, of New York, was a visiting instructor for 1919, and had a strong and valuable influence upon the School. At the close of the year was given a beautiful Nativity Play. This was designed by Hermann Rosse, and the costumes and scenery were executed by students in the School, chiefly in the Design Department. The words were written by Cloyd Head, the music by Eric Delamarter, and numerous well known persons in the city participated in the play. It was from every point of view an artistic triumph. It is planned to repeat this play from year to year.

In the Library the completion of the beautiful room for the Burnham Library, was effected. The most important purchases were the Kelmscott "Chaucer," and a collection of over 100 Japanese books on modern design. Mr. Cebrian, of San Francisco, has continued to enrich the Library, having this year given 56 volumes on Spanish art. One hundred and eighty books from the collection of Helen Hyde have been presented by her sisters, Mrs. Gillette and Mrs. Irwin.

The increase in the circulation of lantern slides has been  $33\frac{1}{3}\%$ , of colored prints 230%, and of post-cards almost 300%, the service in these fields having reached twenty-one states from California to New York and Georgia.

The chief improvement in the galleries has been the rebuilding of Room 30. This, with the two adjoining rooms, Nos. 28 and 31, will be among the most attractive rooms in the Institute, and will house the paintings lent by Mr. Ryerson.

The Print Committee has had added to its number during the year, Mr. Potter Palmer and Mr. Horace Oakley, and has been unusually active. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer during this time have made gifts of engravings by the Little Masters, other early engravings and etchings to the number of 170, and have made an additional gift in cash of $1,000 for the purchase of important books of reference for the Department. The Department has acquired 415 prints and drawings, not including three complete sets of woodcuts by Albrecht Durer, recently presented by the Misses Buckingham. Of the year's acquisitions 119 were purchased and 296 were gifts.

In the summer Dr. James H. Breasted of the University of Chicago went abroad, taking with him a commission for the purchase of a number of objects for the collection of Egyptian art.

Through purchase and gift The Art Institute has acquired a collection of several hundred war posters representing the best designed works issued by all the belligerent countries. From the exhibition of French furniture, tapestry, and paintings of the eighteenth century, the Antiquarian Society purchased a number of pieces. The Art Institute's collection of drawings was increased by the notable addition of 15 Flaxmans, 39 Burne-Jones, with the gifts of two works by Sir Thomas Lawrence and two by Hunt Diederich.

A collection of seventy-nine rubbings from monumental brasses in England is one of the acquisitions of special importance. This was the gift of Mrs. Emily Chadbourne.

Mrs. Emma B. Hodge has given to the Art Institute her collections of quilts, valentines, needlework, and weavings of the Near East.

Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus has made a number of additions to the Collection of Pottery of the Near East.

Morton H. Eddy and Alfred K. Eddy have presented a collection of engravings, etchings, mezzotints and other blacks and whites, as a memorial to their father, Alfred Delavan Eddy. This establishes the School Collection of the Art Institute.

Of interest and value was the bequest of Frederick W. Crosby, with an addition thereto made by Mrs. Crosby, gift of the "Portrait of Marquis Spinola" by Rubens, in the Hutchinson Gallery. All of the paintings from the Demidoff Collection have now been presented to the Art Institute with the exception of the beautiful "Golden Wedding" by Adriaen van Ostade.

This year saw the resignation of Miss Geneva I. Willard, 24 years Sales Agent for The Art Institute.

By action of the Trustees, Mrs. Emma B. Hodge was made Honorary Curator of Ceramics in The Art Institute.

The year 1919 saw the design for the Logan Medal completed. Forty-one medals are to be conferred shortly after the New Year, when the engraving upon them is completed.

B. F. FERGUSON MONUMENT FUND

The Northern Trust Company, under the will of Benjamin F. Ferguson, deceased, is trustee of the B. F. Ferguson Monument Fund, amounting to $1,109,750.02, the income of which, after deducting the taxes, cost of administration, and annuities (four at $1,200.00 a year and four at $1,000.00 a year—$8,800.00 in all) is paid quarterly to The Art Institute of Chicago, for the "erection and maintenance of enduring statuary and monuments in the whole or in part of stone, granite or bronze, in the parks, along the boulevards or in other public places within the City of Chicago, Illinois, commemorating worthy men or women of America or important events in American history."
