Hot air balloons in Ozark on display for charity fundraiser

Headliner News Staff
news@ccheadliner.com

The 16th Annual GLOW presented by Ozark Chevrolet to benefit Children's Smile Center is slated for Friday, June 17, 2022, beginning at approximately 8:45 p.m. at the Finley River Park in downtown Ozark. The Balloon Glow is held inside the grounds of the Sertoma Duck Race Festival and is free to the public.

Several hot air balloons will inflate just after dark, providing an amazing light display against the night sky. Balloons are tethered to the ground and do not take flight, so attendees can enjoy a 60 to 90 minute light show, pending weather and wind speeds. All attendees have the opportunity to see the very large and exquisite balloons close up, visit with the pilots and get in the basket to help keep the balloons inflated.

The event is part of the two-day Sertoma Duck Race Festival June 17-18, with several activities taking place besides the GLOW on Friday evening, including live music in an entertainment area, food and drink booths, small business vendor booths and a kids' zone with various carnival-type attractions for families to enjoy. For more information about these activities, please visit 4csertoma.org. There are costs associated with many of these activities, including a $10 parking fee.

"The GLOW is a fun event for all ages," said executive director, Jackie Barger. "Rarely do people have the opportunity to see the balloons close up, but here you can visit with the pilots and then watch an amazing light show." Barger continued, "We want everyone to know that the event is extremely sensitive to weather and wind conditions. The unpredictability of Ozark's weather means there is always a chance the event could be cancelled. Please keep informed through our Facebook page."

The Balloon Glow is the largest single fundraising event of the year for Children's Smile Center, and provides family enjoyment for thousands and thousands of families and individuals from not only local communities, but the four-state region, as well. Tentative responses from the Facebook event page show a very wide range of attendees from a 200-mile radius. Barger commented, "We are grateful to local corporate sponsors for underwriting this event and providing funds to help provide our dental clinics to people from low-income families served by Medicaid. Because of this support, we are privileged to put smiles on many faces, just like our GLOW." Proceeds from this event benefit Children's Smile Center to provide dental care to children ages 1 to 19 and pregnant women covered by Missouri Medicaid who reside in Christian, Stone, Taney, Dade, Barry or Lawrence Counties through its three dental clinics located in Ozark, Branson West and Aurora.

Large crowds affect traffic, parking

Barger stated that people attending the Balloon Glow need to plan to arrive well before the hot air balloons begin to inflate, which should be in the vicinity of 8:30 to 9:00 p.m. "4C Sertoma works well with the Ozark Police Department, as well as volunteer groups handling the parking areas, to provide an orderly as possible way to the park," Barger stated. "But make no mistake about it, the traffic and parking are opportunities for patience and planning," he added. Gates to the festival grounds for the GLOW open at 5:00 p.m. Law enforcement has estimated the crowd in recent years at the 12,000 level. "Getting that many people and vehicles all coming to one location at the same time is a challenge; once you arrive in the park, take the chance to appreciate the setting of the park, the trees, the river, the bridge and the Ozark Mill at Finley Farms."

New Liberty Electric rates to take effect

Headliner News Staff
news@cheadliner.com

Tariffs reflecting decisions in an electric rate case filed by The Empire District Electric Company d/b/a Liberty are scheduled to take effect on June 1, 2022. These tariffs reflect a March 9, 2022 order by the Public Service Commission which approved four unanimous agreements filed by parties in the Liberty electric rate case. Under those agreements, Liberty will increase annual electric revenues by approximately $35.5 million.

It is estimated that a residential customer using approximately 1,000 kWh (1,000 kilowatt-hours) of electricity a month will see the current average monthly electric bill increase by about $10.00 a month. Under the agreements approved by the Commission, there will be no increase in the residential monthly customer charge (currently $13.00 a month).

The agreements transition most customers to rates that give customers a discount on energy consumed during "off-peak" hours of 10:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. each day through the creation of default time-of-use rates. When Liberty transitions to default time-based rates in October, the way customers are billed will change; providing customers with information to help them make choices about when to use energy that will incur lower system costs versus using energy that incurs increased system costs.

The agreements also create time-of-use rate schedules as options for residential and small commercial customers. The op-portional time-of-use rate structures are designed to give customers more control over their monthly electric bill. Both default and optional time-based rates will become available on October 15, 2022. Liberty will conduct a robust education program for its customers regarding the default and optional time-of-use rates.

Also under the agreements approved, Liberty's low-income pilot program will continue with the discount increasing to two times the customer charge during the peak heating months of December through February and peak cooling months of June through August. Liberty will also establish a critical needs program and funding for the low-income weatherization program will more than double from $250,000 to $550,000 annually.

Liberty serves approximately 155,400 electric customers in the Missouri counties of Barry, Barton, Cedar, Christian, Dade, Dallas, Greene, Hickory, Jasper, Lawrence, McDonald, Newton, Polk, St. Clair, Stone and Taney.

GLOW

Weather and wind are key

Barger wants to remind attendees to keep informed about the event through the Facebook page, 16th Annual Hot Air Balloon Glow. Weather and wind conditions are monitored right up to the time of the balloons inflating, and pilots are very careful in making the decision to inflate their balloon based on local and area weather patterns, wind speeds and other fronts that move through the area from time to time.

Barger recalls a GLOW years ago when several pilots did not inflate their balloons because of an earlier rain that left the grass wet, severely impacting the pilots ability to keep their balloons dry and mildew-free upon completing a glow. "What was difficult was explaining to attendees that many of the balloons could not glow even though there were blue skies and almost no wind at 8:30 p.m. So many factors are taken into account before a balloon can even be inflated," Barger said.

For more information, please call 417-818-5718 or go to the Facebook event page: 16th Annual Hot Air Balloon Glow.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off.

Here's how it works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into the nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Treasurer Fitzpatrick recognizes 529 Day

Headliner News Staff
news@ccheadliner.com

This past Sunday, May 29, Missouri State Treasurer Scott Fitzpatrick recognized National 529 Day. The day is used to raise awareness about 529 plans and the importance of saving for education.

"Here in Missouri, the MOST 529 Education Plan is a versatile, tax advantaged, savings and investment tool for education," Treasurer Fitzpatrick said. "The tax advantages mean a dollar saved in a MOST 529 account can be worth far more when it is used for qualified expenses — whether you save for years or months. I encourage all Missourians to consider saving for education expenses with a 529 plan."

MOST, Missouri's 529 Education Plan, is a tax-advantaged savings plan for education expenses. Money in MOST accounts can be used to pay for K-12 tuition and trade, college and graduate school tuition and expenses. and assets in MOST 529 accounts grow tax free.

Treasurer Fitzpatrick is committed to making MOST as cost effective and accessible as possible, making it one of the highest rated plans in the country. In 2021, the Treasurer announced the launch of READYSAVE™ 529, an education savings mobile application for MOST 529 account owners. In 2020, Treasurer Fitzpatrick announced changes to the MOST 529 Plan that will save Missourians millions of dollars in program management fees.

CONSERVING THOUGHTS

Take care of our streams

Perhaps the most important thing to remember about a stream is that, here in the southwest Missouri, we all live near one.

That means we all play a part in either making it better or worse for all the creatures that live in and around a stream — including us humans. The more each of us do to maintain the health of local streams, the more all of us will benefit.

Caring for a stream and maintaining its good water quality is a constant challenge nowadays. That's somewhat ironic because there probably never has been a time when Missourians were more conscious of the benefits of good water quality than the present. We've all heard about the harmful effects of water pollution and, chances are, most of us have probably fished an aluminum can or a plastic bait container out of a creek. Unfortunately, picking up litter isn't going to solve all of today's stream problems. Some of the materials, advancements and processes that have made life so wonderful for humans have had nasty side effects on our waterways.

For instance, one stream pollution problem we hear about is too much nitrogen in the water. This usually is the product of run-off from lawns, by-products of animal treatment operations with inadequate waste-removal facilities or poorly functioning septic systems. In addition to being bad for aquatic creatures, excessive nitrate levels in a stream can pose health problems for humans who utilize the water in some fashion.

The same can be said for phosphorus, which becomes phosphate when it enters the water. This encourages excessive plant growth which, in turn, often depletes dissolved oxygen levels in streams. Depleted dissolved oxygen levels can lead to fish die-offs and problems for other stream organisms, too.

These are just two of a number of modern hazards — in addition to the age-old problem of littering — that pose constant threats to Ozarks waterways. Granted, there are still many, many miles of great streams to fish, float and enjoy in Missouri. However, it seems like no matter what stream you visit, there's a potential problem looming close by.

The Missouri Stream Team program is one method the state uses to keep these problems under control. The Stream Team program, a joint effort of the Missouri Department of Conservation, the Missouri Department of Natural Resources and the Conservation Federation of Missouri, is a chance for citizens of all ages to get involved in caring for the state's streams. A Stream Team can be a family of three or a church group of 30. It can be a group of senior citizens or a troop of young scouts. In other words, Stream Teams are for everybody.

Trash pick-ups are the Stream Team efforts that usually get the most publicity, but Stream Teams do more than fill bags with litter. They do water quality testing. They collect samples of aquatic animals. This data, which is passed on to government and environmental agencies, helps these larger groups develop management plans for watershed areas.

If you've never done water quality monitoring, there's no need to be intimidated by the process. Technical assistance is provided if requested to show groups what to look for, how to collect data and how to record their findings.

Missouri has more than 110,000 miles of streams, so there are plenty of streams that need care. If you're interested in joining a Stream Team or forming one, contact your nearest Missouri Department of Conservation office. Information on Stream Teams can also be found at www.mostreamteam.org or at mdc.mo.gov.

Polaris the North Star

Polaris is one of the best-known stars. Its name means 'pole star' because of its northern location in the nighttime sky. It has been used as a navigational aid throughout history.

Polaris is in the constellation Ursa Minor, which is better known as the 'Little Dipper.' Polaris marks the tail of the bear, or the end star of the dipper. To locate Polaris, use the front two stars of the constellation Ursa Major, then trace an imaginary line about five times the distance between the two 'pointer' stars.

There are several misconceptions about Polaris. It is the brightest star in Ursa Minor when compared to the other stars, but it ranks 48th in brightness overall. The distance to Polaris is over 400 light years. It is not a single star, but a binary star that can be seen with a telescope. The orbital period of the companion star is about 30 years.

Polaris is not directly at 'true' North, but about one degree away. If an image were taken of Polaris over a night, Polaris would make a small circle in the image. Polaris has not always been the pole star. Around 2750 BC, the star Thuban in the constellation Draco was the pole star.

DALE FLIPPO
MEMBER OF THE SPRINGFIELD
ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY

Hipparchus first observed that stars were shifted slightly to the west when compared to star maps made by previous astronomers. This shifting of star positions over a period of years was caused by the wobble of the Earth on its axis. This wobble, called the 'precession of the equinoxes,' is caused by the gravitational pull of the sun and moon. This was explained by Isaac Newton. The wobble causes an arc that will make the star Vega, the bright blue star in Lyra, the pole star in about 12,000 years.

Polaris will once again be the pole star in 27,500 years.

Summer solstice officially occurs on June 21.

The morning of the 25th will be the best time to see all five planets at one time this month. Mercury will be closest to the eastern horizon, with Venus next. Mars, Jupiter and then Saturn will be higher in the morning sky.

On the morning of the 18th, the moon will be below Saturn.

Jupiter will be close to the moon on the 21st; it will be above and to the left of the moon.

To see the moon and Mars close together, look on the 22nd. The moon will be below and to the right of Mars.

Venus and the moon will be close on the morning of the 26th. Venus will be to the right of a very thin crescent moon.

Finally, Mercury will be to the right of an even thinner moon on the 27th.

The next meeting of the Springfield Astronomical Society will be June 28. It will be at the Library Center at 4653 S. Campbell Ave., Springfield. Starting time is 7:00 p.m. The website is www.springfieldastronomy.org.

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

A lucky little boy

He sure is lucky, this little boy asleep in his bed.

He's going fishing for the first time today. Mom promised him her and dad would take him if he kept his toys picked up.

As he sleeps, there's a smile on his face. He must be dreaming about going fishing. He feels someone kissing him on the cheek. Through sleepy eyes, he sees his mom. In his grogginess he hears her say, "You better get up, it's time to go fishing."

His eyes widen and he reaches up and hugs her. Then the family dogs burst into the room. They jump on the bed and start licking on him. Now, he is really awake and ready to go fishing.

Mom sends him to the bathroom to do his morning big boy duties and brush his teeth. He rushes back to his room. She helps him with his "Daddy's Fishing Buddy" t-shirt his grandma got him and "Born to Fish" cap his great-grandpa sent him. He's a lucky little boy to have so many people and dogs that love him.

Dad and the little boy walk along the shoreline hand-in-hand. He carried his fishing pole and his dad carried the tackle box and worms. Mom took pictures. The dogs came along, too. Dad found a good spot and put a hook on his line and a worm on the hook.

Dad helps him cast the worm into the water. Mom said it was a great cast. They all smiled. She got a great picture. Dad told him to watch the bobber and when it went under he would help him. Just as he said it, the bobber moved sideways and then started bobbing up and down. Dad helped him set the hook, but let him fight the little fish and reel it in. Mom was frantically taking pictures as the little boy reeled.

Dad and him posed for pictures with the fish. The little boy wanted to touch it. With one finger, he did. The dogs came over to smell the fish. He said goodbye as his dad put it back in the water. He gave a high five to his dad and mom. Then he hugged the dogs. First fishing trip, first cast, first fish.

They tried to catch another fish, but it wasn't long until the little boy wanted to play in the water, so they did. Dad even tried to show him how to skip a rock. The little boy even found his mom some wildflowers and took them to her.

On the drive home, his mom turned around and took pictures of a tired little fisherman with his "Born to Fish" cap tilted to one side. Two tired dogs were asleep on each side of him. He was probably dreaming fish dreams. He's a lucky little boy.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

"Your kids remember what you do 'with' them a lot longer than what you do 'for' them. It's the fishing trips that linger in our minds more than the fishing pole."

Due to computer issues, I was not able to get my column submitted for the June 1st edition.

The girls will be back this weekend and should be able to help me get my computer set up and fixed so I can get the next one written. If not, I will have to go back to my typewriter.

Be sure to come on out to Chadwick Railroad Day on June 4 for some fun activities.

The board tentatively plans to conclude the hearings by 4:00 p.m. July 29, 2022; appointments must be made prior to that date.

The first process for a tax appeal would be an informal hearing with Assessor Danny Gray to exchange information and discuss the value of your property. Assessor Danny Gray can be reached at 417-582-4310. Then, if a resolution cannot be reached, please contact the County Clerk's Office at 417-582-4340, to schedule a hearing with the Board of Equalization.

Property owners who wish to appeal their assessments must make an appointment no later than June 30, 2022, and should contact the County Clerk's Office at 417-582-4340 for the necessary forms for such an appeal. Property owners appearing before the board should be prepared to present evidence to establish what they believe to be the correct value of their property. # Community Blood Center of the Ozarks sends blood to Uvalde, Texas

news@ccheadliner.com

Community Blood Center of the Ozarks (CBCO), the sole supplier of blood products to 44 area healthcare facilities, is a partner in the Blood Emergency Readiness Corps (BERC), a network of community blood centers established to better prepare each community for mass-transfusion emergencies along with other community-based blood centers across the nation. The partnership was created to add another level of protection for the blood needs of the region, as well as provide the opportunity for CBCO blood donors to help in a time of crisis.

"We are deeply saddened by the horrific events that unfolded on Tuesday, May 24, at Robb Elementary School in Uvalde, Texas," said Anthony Roberts, Executive Director of CBCO. "In addition to our thoughts, prayers and condolences, CBCO is sending blood products to assist the victims of this senseless tragedy. CBCO was able to respond quickly to the region's call for help through our partnership with Blood Emergency Readiness Corps and the support of our valued blood donors here in the Ozarks."

This was CBCO's on-call week with BERC, along with other independent blood centers from across the nation. The ability to respond is thanks to all the area donors who gave blood in recent days and weeks, since it is the blood on the shelf that is so critical when an emergency situation occurs.

"Your donations made it possible for us to answer the call when it came," said Michelle Teter, Media Relations Representative for CBCO. "We always want to stand ready for not only emergency situations, but also for our patients who depend on lifesaving blood every day. As we [come out of] a holiday weekend and enter the summer season when blood donations typically decline, we are calling on all blood donors, especially those with type O Negative blood, to help replenish the local blood supply and be prepared for any other emergency that might arise."

Find a blood drive near you and make an appointment to give at <https://www.cbco.org/donate-blood/>.

Highly-touted freshman Vincent lives up to expectations

PAT DAILEY
Sports Editor
patd@ccheadliner.com

Wyatt Vincent responded to being dropped from the middle of Nixa's batting order to the bottom as well as Eagles coach Logan Hughes could have expected.

Vincent began his much-hyped freshman season in the clean-up spot, but sporadic hitting led to him being moved to the nine-hole.

Vincent ended his freshman season tied for the team-high with five home runs, to go along with a .376 batting, 33 runs scored and 24 RBIs. "When coach moved me, I think it was good for my season," Vincent said. "I was struggling in the four-hole. I was thinking of too many things. I was thinking, 'I've got to do this and this and this.'"

"The biggest thing baseball teaches you is how to fail because you're going to do that a lot," Hughes said. "He went through a little bit of that early. He learned from it and embraced it. Ultimately, he learned how to take failure to using it to help him throughout the rest of the season in all his at-bats. I'm very happy with how he has matured throughout the season."

Now that he's settled in and proven he belongs at the varsity level, Vincent is confident he wouldn't let hitting clean-up overwhelm him if he's there again in the future.

"If I got put back in that spot, I think I could handle it a lot better than I did then," he said.

Vincent has valued all he has learned from Nixa's veterans.

"Being around them every day and seeing how they handle things and getting different advice and their takes on things, it's been really good for me," he said.

Vincent is hopeful of eventually becoming a 100-100 man for Nixa. To that end, Vincent had 35 hits and 24 stolen this year.

"I want to get 100 hits — 100 hits is a pretty crazy milestone," Vincent said. "I would like to get 100 stolen bases, too. Really, I'm more determined to get the 100 stolen bases. I think it would be awesome to get there. It hasn't been my greatest stolen base year. I'll get a lot more next year."

OZARK

a strong kick, as well. "His last 100 (meters) is always incredible and I'm sitting there hanging on coming back from nowhere," Bauer said. "Sometimes I can beat him, if I can get far enough ahead.

Him running in front of me, there's someone there for me to chase. It has improved my kick."

Bauer figured it would take another PR for him to place high at State. "The top three is going to be around 9:10-9:15," he said. "I think I can run a 9:15."

Bauer's freshman year his PR was 11:47.

"I'm proud of what I've done, but always think I could have done better," he said. "It's been fun."

Looking ahead, Bauer will run at Drury.

"I'm very excited for Drury," he said. "I'm going to have guys way faster than me to run with, instead of running by myself for most of practice. It's going to be great to run with them every day. From senior year of high school to freshman year in college, I've noticed people get way faster. Hopefully, that happens to me."

NIXA

KOBY GRAHAM eyes a throw in the javelin at the COC Meet. PAT DAILEY/HEADLINER NEWS

NIXA'S CAMILA FIGUEROA qualified for State in the 300 hurdles.

Hopper already owned Nixa's school record in the 100, having been clocked in 12.42 at Sectionals.

She is among a handful of Class 5 freshmen sprinters who made it to State. Hopper anticipates the fellow freshmen will spur her progress in the future.

"We're a good class. It puts me in position to continue to get better because I'm going to be going my whole high school with them," she said. "I'll keep competing and showing them what I've got and see what they have to bring."

Graham makes comeback from injury.

Koby Graham went to State not expecting a back injury that hounded him for a month to be a factor in his quest for a medal in the javelin.

Graham tweaked his back during a practice following the Southwest Baptist Invite in April. But he felt as strong as ever leading up to State.

"I went to get treatment by a chiropractor and kept it light throwing during practices so I wouldn't trigger (anything)," Graham said prior to State. "I'm back to feeling great. No pain; my back is feeling 100 percent. I'm anxious to go out and launch one."

Graham was also mindful not to put too much pressure on himself mentally.

"My goal is to get between 57-60 meters," he said. "If I can get greater than 60, I'm going to be happy. My goal is to just dial in and launch one."

This was his second trip to State and he wanted it to go better than his first.

"I've been shaking this whole week, with State coming up," he said. "I'm super pumped. I've been there before. It did not go well. I'm looking for redemption."

Breakthrough year for Figueroa

Camilia Figueroa made a return trip to State, but this was her first qualification in the 300 hurdles. Her progress this season saw her post a PR of 48.0 prior to State.

She points to cross country as being pivotal in her track success.

"I was hoping cross country would make me mentally stronger so I could finish races as hard as I could. That's what has happened," Figueroa said. "It's been about being comfortable with being uncomfortable. (The 300 hurdles) feels probably like the closest to death you can get. It's like pushing your body past that point."

"I love (the event) when I'm not running it," she added. "As soon as I'm done running it, I love it. I love practicing for it. But running it is tough. You can't do it if you're mentally weak."

Figueroa anticipated her start to dictate plenty.

"I want to start out at the right pace," she said. "If I start out too fast, I'm going to burn out. I want to start out at a good pace and save myself for the end so I can kick it at the end."

Figueroa had her eye set on the school record of 47.1.

"I want to make it to the second day for the finals and I really want the school record," she said. "They kind of correlate. Most likely, if I get the school record, I'll make it to the finals. I'm excited to watch all the good people there. I hope it inspires me to do well."

Daugherty coaching Nixa grads in Show-Me League

PAT DAILEY
Sports Editor
patd@ccheadliner.com

Former Nixa coach Jason Daugherty will be reunited with three of his former players while managing Victus in the Show-Me Collegiate Summer League beginning the first week of June.

Daugherty coached the Eagles to 64 wins in 82 games over three seasons and has been at Nixa for five years as a science teacher. He owns a 371-134 career W-L record over 19 seasons that also includes stints at El Dorado Springs and Springfield Catholic.

Daugherty's Victus roster will include recent Nixa grads Jaret Nelson, Sam Russo and Ryan Retone, along with Ozark grads Brody Bau-ton Hanks.

Nelson's senior season saw him finish with a .467 batting average, four homers, 42 RBIs and 46 runs scored.

Russo's senior stats included a .400 batting mark, 31 RBIs and 39 runs.

The Springfield Cobras have local connections in Ozark grads Holden Sabor, Garrett Dotson, Logan Baade and Devyn Wright.

The defending league champion Midwest Nationals will have Ozark grads Carson Shaver, Dylan Frandsen and Nixa grad Hardy Dougan.

Shaver batted .234 with two homers and nine RBIs at Drury this year.

The Ozark Wild will include Nixa grad Quinn Gundelfinger and Clever grad Cole Langley.

Gundelfinger is fresh from his freshman season at Garden

City (Kansas), where he batted .234 with four home runs and 23 RBIs.

Show-Me play will get under way June 5 at U.S. Baseball Park, with the Nationals and Victus playing at 4:30 p.m. and the Cobras and Wild going at it at 7 p.m.

Games will be held Sunday through Thursday over seven weeks of regular-season play, leading up to Championship Week July 22-24.

STATE SERVES AS FINALE

Ozark seniors proud of their progress during careers

PAT DAILEY
Sports Editor
patd@ccheadliner.com

On her way to qualifying for the Class 5 State Track Meet for the first time, Ozark's Hanna Vorhies has added to her legacy as a Lady Tiger.

Vorhies established herself at the net as a prolific hitter for Ozark's volleyball team the past three years, but didn't break through as a standout for the Lady Tigers in track until this spring.

Vorhies has blossomed, breaking the school record in the long jump three times and posting a leap of 17-11 3/4 at Sectionals. She was eyeing a medal finish at State this past weekend in Jefferson City to cap her career.

"I'm kind of newer to the sport than other girls, so I'm at a point in which I've been able to PR more," Vorhies said. "The last few meets, I've PR'd each meet. I hope I can do that again.

"This is my second sport and it's been exciting to see how much better I've gotten," she added. "I went into this year not sure how I was going to do. I've improved about two meters."

Along the way, Vorhies overtook Mizzou signee Cali Essick, of Branson. While Vorhies took third at Sectionals, Essick was fourth with a 17-9 1/2.

"I've thought about jumping in college," said Vorhies, who will play volleyball at Drury. "I'm still trying to figure all of that out.

"Originally, I decided to do track in seventh grade to keep in shape and help my jumping for volleyball," she added. "All the workouts I do are for jumping, which translates well to volleyball."

With State marking the final time Vorhies will wear an Ozark uniform, she is happy she's been a Lady Tiger.

"I'm grateful and thankful I went to this school. Ozark has such a good culture," Vorhies said. "Our volleyball team didn't go to State, but I'm grateful for all the people I've met and friends I've made. I'm going to miss them. I'm also excited I'm going to college and will come back and watch them on their 'Senior Night' and things like that.

"When the state meet is over, I'm going to be like, 'Wow, I've graduated, high school is over and it's time to go on to the next part of my life,'" she added. "It's exciting but also sad."

Dotson to continue javelin career

Tigers senior Ryan Dotson was optimistic entering State that he was due for a good day in the javelin.

Dotson wasn't thrilled with his throw of 170-10 that earned him third place at Sectionals.

"I was off to a rough start on my first three throws (at Sectionals)," Dotson said. "Then, I went back to my cross-over steps because I know I can get a good plant leg off of those. I squeezed out (170-10), just good enough to get third. But it was not a good day.

"Hopefully, I can have a better day at State and can get close to my PR," he added. "I already got my bad day out the way."

Dotson was fourth at State as a junior a year ago. He'll continue to throw the javelin at Pitt State (Kansas).

"It takes some of the nerves away, knowing this isn't my last year competing," he said "I'm excited to go (to Pitt State) and get better. The coach there is telling me how much his athletes have improved from their freshman year to senior year. I'm looking forward to that."

Plenty of firsts in Beets' junior year

Abby Beets entered State having finished first in the pole vault in the majority of Ozark's meets this season. She was first at Sectionals by clearing 10-6.

"The only meets I haven't won is (Parkview's) Girls Nite Out and any meet with Rolla, because they always win (the pole vault)," Beets said.

Beets' mindset going into State was a vault matching her PR of 11-0 would likely assure her a medal.

"If I clear 11-0, I think I have a pretty good chance at medaling," she said.

Beets was happy to learn the weather forecast for Jefferson

City called for sunny skies, pleasant temperatures and no rain.

"I was dead last (at State) last year," she said. "It was pouring down rain, so everything kind of got messed up. They had it delayed and then realized they couldn't delay it much longer or else we would have been there all night. But you have to work with the weather."

Beets said the lack of a fellow competitor clearing the same heights as her at many meets this season forced her to be self-motivated.

"I can't chase after someone, but I have to do my best regardless," she said.

Beets was preparing to bring out a 13/150 pole for the first time. A 13/150 pole weighs 13 pounds and can vault an athlete weighing up to 150 pounds.

Friendly foe for Bauer in 3,200

Gabe Bauer has enjoyed competing against Kickapoo's Tyler Harris the past three years. At Sectionals, Harris was first in the 3,200 with a 9:22 and Bauer was second with a PR of 9:24.

"We're back and forth," Bauer said leading up to State. "I love racing with him. We run good together and always PR."

Over the years, they've become friends.

"We don't hang out or anything, but we text every month or so and we talk at a lot of meets," Bauer said. "He's fun to be around."

Bauer added Harris' strong finish has helped him develop a strong kick, as well.

Elite competition motivates Eagles, Lady Eagles

PAT DAILEY
Sports Editor
patd@ccheadliner.com

Taylor Hopper is hearing about the personal records of some of the sprinters from the St. Louis and Kansas City metro areas and is curious what they might mean to her PR.

The Nixa freshman entered the Class 5 State Track Meet hoping the elite competition will bring out the best in her in the 100, 400 and 4 x 400 relay.

"It's going to be pretty crazy. Around here, there's good compe-dition. But around St. Louis and Kansas City, they've got some really good athletes," Hopper said. "It's going to be a bunch of good athletes. I'm excited to be in that atmosphere and amongst a bunch of great athletes. I want to see where I fit in or if I have a chance.

"When I'm around faster people, I tend to get faster," she added. "It's going to be (interesting) to see my own ability amongst great athletes who are faster and stronger than me."
