School Board debates calendar

BY ANGELINA DELLA ROCCO OF THE PLAINSMAN

HURON — A lengthy discussion regarding the calendar for school year 2020-21 took place at the Huron School Board of Education meeting Monday evening.

Members of the board, calendar committee and students at Huron High School gave input for the debate on whether to begin school before or after Labor Day, as well as the issue of built in snow days.

"There are two things about this calendar that people have been talking about, one is the before or after Labor Day start and one is the two four-day weekends in March followed by a five day weekend in April," explained Jen Bragg, president of PTA for Washington and Madison center plus former calendar committee member. "It is laid out in there that those would be used as snow days if we needed them."

Commission approves citywide survey

BY BENJAMIN CHASE OF THE PLAINSMAN

HURON — In their weekly meeting Monday evening, Huron city commissioners approved a voluntary survey to be taken by the Finance Office staff via phone or at the utility billing window at city hall.

The purpose of the survey is to generate qualifying information for the city to participate in a grant program that can provide up to $15 million to the city for the Wastewater Treatment Improvement Project that will be bid this year. The surveys consist of five short questions and all information is kept confidential and for purposes of grant qualification.

Finance Office employees will begin making calls for the survey today.

The commission also held public forum on a new stop sign that will be placed at the intersection of Center Street West and Pennington Avenue Northwest, as that intersection has seen a significant increase in traffic and accidents due to the development of new businesses in operation in the nearby business park. The stop sign is temporary and will remain in place for a period of one year, af-

Aviation experts suspect Bryant's pilot got lost in heavy fog

CALABASAS, Calif. (AP) — Coroner's officials worked to recover victims' remains Monday from the hillside outside Los Angeles where a helicopter carrying former NBA superstar Kobe Bryant and eight others crashed in a wreck that aviation experts said may have been caused by the pilot becoming disoriented in the fog.

While the cause of the tragedy is under investigation by the National Transportation Safety Board, some experts raised questions of whether the helicopter should have even been flying. The weather was so foggy that the Los Angeles Police Department and the county sheriff's department had grounded their own choppers.

SIoux FALLS (AP) — About 100 people braved ice and frigid temperatures on Jan. 20 to commemorate a moment when Sioux Falls was touched by greatness.

The city unveiled a statue of civil rights champion Martin Luther King Jr. on the holiday named in his honor. The statue, done by local sculptor Porter Williams, was placed in Van Eps Park, not far from where King spoke on a visit to Sioux Falls almost 60 years ago, the Argus Leader reported.

King came to Sioux Falls as a guest of the Sioux Falls Knife &

Fork Club on Jan. 12, 1961, and started his visit with a reception at First Baptist Church. He gave a speech that night at the Sheraton Cataract Hotel in which he predicted segregationists in the South would eventually be defeated.

"The habits, if not the hearts, of people are being changed by federal action and the impact of world opinion," he said during the speech.

Auschwitz survivors warn of rising anti-Semitism 75 years on OSWIECIM, Poland (AP) — Survivors of the Auschwitz-Birkenau death camp prayed and wept as they marked the 75th anniversary of its liberation, returning Monday to the place where they lost entire families and warning about the ominous growth of anti-Semitism and hatred in the world.

"We have with us the last living survivors, the last among those who saw the Holocaust with their own eyes," Polish President Andrzej Duda told those at the commemoration, which included the German president as well as Jewish, Christian and Muslim leaders.

"The magnitude of the crime perpetrated in this place is terrifying, but we must not look away from it and we must never forget it," Duda said.

About 200 camp survivors attended, many of them elderly Jews and non-Jews who traveled from Israel, the United States, Australia, Peru, Russia, Slovenia and elsewhere. Many lost parents and grandparents in Auschwitz or other Nazi death camps during World War II, but were joined by children, grandchildren and even great-grandchildren.

They gathered under an enormous, heated tent straddling the train tracks that had transported people to Birkenau, the part of the vast complex where most of the murdered Jews were killed in gas

Coronavirus spread continues

BEIJING (AP) — China expanded its sweeping efforts on Monday to contain a dangerous new virus, extending the Lunar New Year holiday to keep the public at home and avoid spreading infection as the death toll rose to 81.

Mongolia closed its vast border with China, and Hong Kong and Malaysia announced they were barring entry to visitors from the Chinese province at the center of the outbreak following a warning by Chinese officials that the virus' ability to spread was growing. Travel agencies were ordered to cancel group tours nationwide, adding to the rising economic losses.

were down sharply Monday as investors worried the outbreak could hurt the global economy. The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell as much as 550 points following a sell-off in markets in Europe and Japan, and closed with a loss of 453 points, or 1.6%. Airlines, resorts and other companies that rely on travel and tourism suffered steep losses, while apparel and technology companies that get a significant amount of revenue from China also declined.

China has confirmed more than 2,700 cases of the new virus, most in the central city of Wuhan where the illness first surfaced last month.

Des Moines couple reports dog fought coyote in backyard

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — State wildlife officials are urging central Iowa residents to be vigilant in safeguarding pets after a Des Moines couple reported their German shepherd mix dog was attacked by a coyote.

The couple reported the attacked happened Thursday night less than a mile from the Drake University campus after they let their dog, Sildi, out in the backyard around dusk, television station KCCI reported. Within minutes, they heard what sounded like a dog fight, rushed outside and found Sildi and the coyote fighting. The coyote ran away when the couple came outside. The dog was treated for bite wounds to its face and head.

Residents should stay vigilant and keep pets in the area on a leash, the Iowa Department of Natural Resources said. The department also urged anyone who has had a pet attacked by a coyote to report it to animal control officials.

$18 million expansion planned at Missouri Holocaust Museum

CREVE COEUR, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Holocaust Museum & Learning Center will triple in size with an $18 million expansion as officials seek to reach even deeper into issues of bias, bigotry and hate.

Museum officials are in touch with about 30 Holocaust survivors who live in the St. Louis area. Monday's announcement came on International Holocaust Remembrance Day and the 75th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz.

The museum's new executive director, Sandra Harris, said groundbreaking will be in May and the goal is to finish by the end of 2021. The new space will be 35,000 square feet and will include a larger multipurpose area with retractable theater seating for 250 people. It will also include a relocated library, an archive space, two classrooms, an exhibition space with more multimedia displays and a space that can house temporary exhibits.

Museum officials have raised about $14 million and also received a $750,000 National Endowment for the Humanities challenge grant, one of the largest ever awarded in Missouri.

The museum's lessons go beyond the Holocaust, with details about genocides across the world.

It includes more than 12,000 artifacts, including letters, photographs, artwork, and uniforms and patches that survivors wore in concentration camps.

GM to invest $2.2B in Detroit to build electric vehicles

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors is spending $2.2 billion to refurbish an underused Detroit factory so it can build a series of electric and self-driving vehicles, eventually employing 2,200 people.

GM said in a statement Monday that the factory will start building the company's first electric pickup late in 2021, followed by a funky-looking self-driving shuttle for GM's Cruise autonomous vehicle unit.

The truck will be the first of several electric vehicles to be built at the plant, which straddles the border between Detroit and the enclave of Hamtramck. The company has plans to revive the Hummer nameplate for one of the vehicles.

In November of 2018, GM announced plans to close the factory along with three others in the U.S. But the company promised to reopen Detroit-Hamtramck to build electric vehicles during last fall's contentious contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers union.

At that time the plant employed about 1,500 hourly and salaried workers. Currently the plant is working on one shift with about 900 workers making the Cadillac CT6 and Chevrolet Impala sedans.

The factory will be shut down at the end of February, when renovations are expected to begin. The general assembly area as well as the paint and body shops will get major upgrades including new machinery, conveyors and controls, GM said in a statement.

GM will also invest $800 million in equipment for parts suppliers and other projects related to the new electric trucks.

The factory will be

GM's first assembly plant to be fully dedicated to building electric vehicles.

The announcement came days after Michigan's economic-development arm, the Michigan Strategic Fund, agreed to revise tax breaks for GM in exchange for the company's commitment to invest at least $3.5 billion more over 10 years in the state, including to build electric vehicles at Detroit-Hamtramck.

The value of the automaker's maximum state tax credit was cut by $325 million, to nearly $2.3 billion through 2029. GM still has to retain at least 34,750 jobs in Michigan — it has about 45,000 now — but got flexibility to count more jobs at its headquarters in Detroit and its research, development and engineering campus in the suburb of Warren.

The plant now employs about 800 people. Production of the Chevrolet Impala will cease at the end of February, at which point renovations will begin to produce electric pickups and other vehicles. The plant will have 2,000 employees once it is at full capacity.

GM already has announced plans by a joint venture with LG Chem to invest $2.3 billion to build a battery cell factory in Lordstown, Ohio. The factory will supply cells to vehicles made at the Detroit plant.

GM expects the Lordstown factory to employ up to 1,000 people. Last year the company closed a giant small-car assembly plant there that employed 4,000 people just two years ago.

Workers at the battery plant likely will make less money than the roughly $30 per hour paid to vehicle assembly plant workers.

when he arrived in Sioux Falls. He turned 32 just three days after visiting Sioux Falls.

His visit, said Laura Chandler, a professor of history and the director of the Center for Diversity & Community at the University of South Dakota, was part of a national tour. At the time, his approval rating was in the low 30s, with more than 50% of whites believing he was harming race relations. Even some blacks believed he was harming relations.

King sought to use non-violence to eradicate racism, militarism and poverty, Chandler said.

Williams, who grew up in Sioux Falls, said he didn't walk in King's footsteps as a young person, but as he grew older and wiser, he began to understand King's significance. "Martin Luther King was a great man, and we should be honored."

chambers and then cremated. Auschwitz was liberated by the Soviet army on Jan. 27, 1945.

Ronald Lauder, the president of the World Jewish Congress, brought the crowd to tears with the story of a survivor who was separated from his family: The man watched his young daughter, in a red coat, walk to her death, turning into a small red dot in the distance before disappearing forever.

After the end of the war, when "the world finally saw pictures of gas chambers, nobody in their right mind wanted to be associated with the Nazis," he recalled. "But now I see something I never thought I would see in my lifetime, the open and brazen spread of anti-Jewish hatred."

"Do not be silent! Do not be complacent! Do not let this ever happen again — to any people!" Lauder said.

Marian Turski, a 93-year-old Polish Jewish survivor, said he did not expect to make it to the next commemoration and wanted to transmit a message to his grandchildren's generation: That the destruction of the Jews began with small steps that were tolerated. What began with banning Jews from sitting on benches in Berlin evolved in incremental steps to ghettos and death camps. And that such horrors could happen anywhere, even in the United States.

"Auschwitz did not descend from the sky," he said, crediting those words to Austrian President Alexander van der Bellen, among those present. Calling for people to not be indifferent, he said: "Because if you are indifferent, you will not even notice it when upon your own heads, and upon the heads of your descendants, another Auschwitz descends from the sky."

have been built in on one of the preliminary calendars are there to avoid pushing the school end date into June as it did in 2019, however the earlier start date would also help protect against this and snow days could be added on at the end of the year.

"The original draft — we were going to start school earlier and would have ended on May 20, and then snow days would be after that," noted Superintendent Terry Nebelsick. "We had a couple of individuals on the calendar committee who campaigned for having school last until the end of May. I explained that we would then be pushing into June if we have snow days, thus came the idea of putting two or three built in snow days during the year."

"If school were to get out three days earlier and the snow days would be attached to the end, this would get as many days in before testing as possible," Nebelsick added.

Some board and committee members, as well as two juniors at HHS, shared their enthusiasm for a before Labor Day start due to the semester tests falling before Christmas in this case. On the contrary, members of the committee and board also support the post Labor Day start to accommodate for State Fair activities.

"Board members are very respectfully on both sides of this," Nebelsick said.

There are several calendar options to be reviewed and presented back to the board at the following meeting. The public is encouraged to share their views with the board.

In reports to the board, Special Education Para-educator Charlene Polsean was presented the classified employee of the month award by Madison Principal Heather Rozell.

A good news report was heard from Director of Special Services Lori Wehlander, outlining a new grant-funded program. This transition program is built to assist students with disabilities aged 18 to 21 in areas such as employment, post secondary training, community participation, home living and recreational.

"Anything the students have an interest in, we will work on getting them involved in the community," Wehlander noted.

In new business, the annual Clean Diesel grant program was brought back to the board in order to replace older school buses with new vehicles to maintain safety in school travel.

The next School Board meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 10, in the Instructional Planing Center at Huron Arena.

ter which the city will study its efficacy and decide how to move forward.

Commissioners approved outlay of funds for the Public Works building to reprogram interior temperature and humidity controls to allow for automatic reduction of humidity in the building. City engineer Brett Runge reported that currently, trucks returning from moving snow expel melted snow into water that warms into vapor and collects on the windows, freezing and potentially causing future maintenance and structural issues.

The commissioners heard a reading of the updated ordinance regarding zoning for signs in the city. The ordinance had to be updated to comply with a recent Supreme Court case.

- The second reading will be February 3.
- In other items, the commissioners:
- Approved permit for consumption of alcohol in public area for the Huron Volunteer Fire Department at quarterly meetings to be held April 9, October 6, and December 19 at the North Fire Station.
 - Approved permit for consumption of alcohol in public area for Samuel Reyes at Nordby Exhibit Hall on August 1-2.
 - Approved raffle permit for Holy Trinity Catholic School for March 12
 - Approved appointment of Bill Broucek to Community Improvement Committee
 - Accepted resignation of Peggy Hotchkin from Parks and Recreation Board
 - Accepted the re-

- tirement resignation of Captain Paul Sides from the Huron Police Department after 23 years with sincere thanks for years of service
- Approved hiring Katie Miller as part-time, year-round Library Clerk
 - Approved regular status of Police Officer George Hite upon completing probationary period
 - Approved wage increase for part-time, year-round employees Jackson Forrest, Bryan Gamber, and Jerry Dennis
 - Approved final payment to Lot Pros, Inc. for asphalt concrete crack sealing
 - Approved change order and final payment to Premier Contracting, LLC for sludge drying bed improvements with a note of sympathy to the family of Premier

- Contracting's co-owner Scott Olson, who recently passed away, and a note of posthumous thanks to Scott for his work for the city.
- Approved renewing agreement among city, Greater Huron Development Corporation, and American Bank and Trust for payments of Tax Increment Districts 3, 5, and 6
 - Approved quick claim deed to transfer property from Greater Huron Development Property to city
 - Approved year-end fund transfers
- City commissioners completed the meeting in executive session to discuss a personnel matter. The next city commission meeting is Monday, Feb. 3 at 5:30 p.m. at city hall.

BRYANT:

day morning, killing the retired athlete along with his 13-year-old daughter Gianna and everyone else aboard and scattering debris over an area the size of a football field.

Crews recovered three bodies on Sunday and resumed the search on Monday amid an outpouring of grief and shock over the loss of the basketball great who helped lead the Los Angeles Lakers to five NBA titles during his dazzling 20-year career.

The pilot, whose name has not been released, had asked for and received special clearance to fly in heavy fog just minutes before the crash. Several aviation experts said it is not uncommon for helicopter pilots to be given such permission, though some thought it unusual that it would be granted in airspace as busy as that over Los Angeles.

But Kurt Deetz, who flew for Bryant dozens of times in the same chopper that went down, said permission is often granted in the area.

"It happened all the time in the winter months in LA," Deetz said. "You get fog."

The helicopter left Santa Ana in Orange County, south of Los Angeles, shortly after 9 a.m., heading north and then west. Bryant was believed to be headed for his youth sports academy in nearby Thousand Oaks, which was holding a basketball tournament Sunday in which Bryant's daughter, known as Gigi, was competing.

Air traffic controllers noted poor visibility around Burbank to the north and Van Nuys to the northwest. At one point, the controllers instructed the chopper to circle because of other planes in area before proceeding.

The aircraft crashed in Calabasas, about 30 miles (48 kilometers) northwest of downtown Los Angeles, around 9:45 a.m. at about 1,400 feet (426 meters), according to data from Flightradar24. When it struck the ground, it was flying at about 184 mph and descending at a rate of more than 4,000 feet per minute, the data showed.

Bryant had been known since his playing days for taking helicopters instead of braving the notoriously snarled

Los Angeles traffic. "I'm not going into LA without the Mamba chopper," he joked on "Jimmy Kimmel Live" in a 2018 interview, referring to his own nickname, Black Mamba.

Randy Waldman, a helicopter flight instructor who teaches at the nearby Van Nuys airport, said its likely the pilot got disoriented in the fog and the helicopter went into a fatal dive.

"It's a common thing that happens in airplanes and helicopters with people flying with poor visibility," Waldman said. "If you're flying visually, if you get caught in a situation where you can't see out the windshield, the life expectancy of the pilot and the aircraft is maybe 10, 15 seconds, and it happens all the time, and it's really a shame."

Waldman said it was the same thing that happened to John F. Kennedy Jr. when his plane dropped out of the sky near Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts, in 1999.

"A lot of times somebody who's doing it for a living is pressured to get their client to where they have to go," Waldman said. "They take chances that maybe they shouldn't take."

David Hoepfner, an expert on helicopter design, said he won't fly on helicopters.

"Part of it is the way they certify and design these things," said Hoepfner, a retired engineering professor at the University of Utah. "But the other part is helicopter pilots often fly in conditions where they shouldn't be flying."

On Sunday, firefighters hiked in with medical equipment and hoses, and medical personnel rappelled to the site from a helicopter.

About 20 investigators were on the site early Monday.

The Los Angeles County medical examiner, Dr. Jonathan Lucas, said the terrain complicated efforts to recover the remains. He estimated it would take at least a couple of days to complete the task.

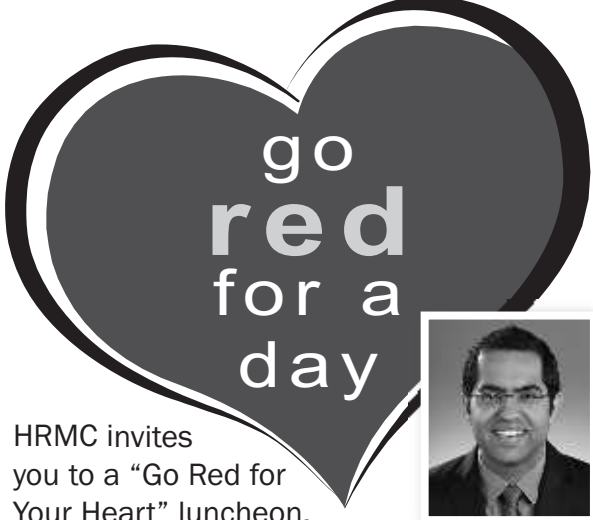

Among those killed in the crash were John Altobelli, 56, longtime head coach of Southern California's Orange Coast College baseball team; his wife, Keri; and daughter, Alyssa, who played on the same basketball team as Bryant's daughter; and Christina Mauser, a girls' basketball coach at a Southern California elementary school.

"I've listened to the tapes and I've seen the flight profile — where there was rapid acceleration and climb, there was a rapid descent — those are indicative of someone who is experiencing spatial disorientation," said Jerry Kidrick, a retired Army colonel who flew helicopters in Iraq and now teaches at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Prescott, Arizona.

When that happens, he said, pilots must instantly switch from visual cues to flying the aircraft using only the machine's instruments.

"It's one of the most dangerous conditions you can be in," Kidrick said. "Oftentimes, your body is telling you something different than what the instruments are telling you. You can feel like you're leaning to the left or the right when you're not. If the pilot isn't trained well enough to believe the instruments, you get in a panic situation. You find yourself making corrections the wrong way."

To the Editor:

This year we celebrate 90 years of Catholic Education in our community, a tradition that has provided hundreds of children with a quality academic education and faith based curriculum.

My career as an educator began at St. Martin School when we arrived in Huron 35 years ago.

It was there that many of my friendships were made through the connections with children and families that entered the doors of the school.

Our children attended St. Martin School and friendships they developed during those years have also remained strong to this day.

Much has changed over the decades when the Presentation Sisters were the key educators and administrators of the school originally located at 5th and Oregon Avenue.

That location has changed and so has the name of the school from St. Teresa to St. Martin and currently Holy Trinity Catholic School, however the strong commitment to quality faith-based education remains the core value of the school.

To the Editor:

This week the Senate Retirement Laws' Committee had its legislation meeting, which I chair. As a preview of two bills which we were scheduled, Mr. Travis Almond, the Executive Director, gave the following 2019 highlights of this year's South Dakota Retirement System. Total membership is 89,685; Active contributing members are 41,500; Inactive non-contributing members are 18,989; Benefit recipients are 29,195; Fair value of assets is $12.5 billion; Fully funded at 100.1%; Investment Return is 4.88%; Contributions are $255.0 million; Benefits paid to recipients are $572.3 million.

SB34 addresses a complex Internal Revenue Code (IRC) issue. The South Dakota Retirement System internal audit identified three current retirees and two former cement plant retirees who are receiving benefits determined according to their plan's terms but in excess of the IRC limit.

These retirees had unusual and complicated work histories that resulted in misapplication of the limit when they retired.

The IRS has recognized that the benefit limit could reduce accrued benefits. As a result, the Internal Revenue Code allows public plans like SDRS to establish a qualified benefit preservation arrangement (QBPA) to preserve some of all of the benefits that would otherwise be payable.

In conclusion, Senate Bill 34 will: 1) Bring SDRS into compliance with IRC requirements. 2) Preserve benefits for the affected retirees. 3) Treat existing and future retirees equitably. 4) Bring the benefits of the affected members closer to SDRS statutory provisions. 5) Avoid a reduction in SDRS benefits due to IRC rules that are inconsistent with the SDRS benefit design.

The South Dakota Retirement System Board of Trustees approved the measure on a unanimous vote and the Retirement Laws Committee passed SB 34 out of committee on a unanimous vote.

SB9 is an act to repeal the Department of Labor and Regulation's retirement plan and to transfer plan members and funds to the South Dakota Retirement System,

The bill merges the Department of Labor and Regulation Pension Plan with SDRS. The bill repeals the provisions for the administration of the plan and transfers the administration and funds of the plan to SDRS. The members of the plan would retain their current benefit structure except for the cost of living adjustment (COLA). They would receive the same COLA as other SDRS members.

The Department of Labor and Regulation sought assistance from SDRS to explore the best long-term approach for the security of the future benefits (including a reasonable COLA) of the members of the Department of Labor and Regulation Pension Plan (DLR Plan).

The DLR Plan has been frozen to new members since 1980, has just under 200 members — almost all of them retired — and has approximately $56M of assets. Members of the plan voted to merge with SDRS by a margin significantly exceeding the required two-thirds vote.

The Cement Plant Plan merger with SDRS in 2014 established a similar precedence for successfully and equitably merging a small plan into SDRS.

Learning to Whistle

My sister learned to whistle at age two.

She was precocious in other ways as well. She knew how to read by the time she started kindergarten. She demonstrated a physical dexterity I never did. She was much more talented at the piano. But it was the whistling that really got to me.

I was six when she started to whistle and I remember it clearly. She sat in her highchair at my grandparents' house and started whistling her heart out. She could see, even at two, that she was creating quite a sensation and so she continued, louder, demonstrating her newfound talent. I was sick with envy.

I don't think I have envied many people many times in my life, but I very much wanted to whistle when I was six. Like tying your shoes at five, it is a milestone. My dad whistled. My friends could whistle. Now my baby sister could whistle and everyone was over the moon. It was a low moment in my short life.

My grandmother, who I am sure was very well intentioned, did not make the situation better.

"Carrie, some people never learn how to whistle," she informed me.

I suppose this was to help me understand that I had company, that there was a great world of non-whistlers out there and I would surely find companionship with the similarly inadequate. I was not comforted.

"Some people never learn how to whistle!" I remember repeating to myself many times over. I think this may have been the first time I was seriously confronted with the possibility that there might be something I desperately wanted to do that I would not be able to. I had parents who assured me that I would be able to do whatever I put my mind to and here I was, at six, already stopped at a major roadblock. It was very discouraging.

I could be imagining this, but it seems to me my sister sensed my dejection and whistled with even more virtuosity.

All this came to mind as I was in New York last week. I had just performed material from my columns at a conference. I was certainly a late arrival to this world. Most of the performers were at least twenty years younger than me, if not thirty, and I was every bit as nervous as the youngest of them—perhaps more so.

I had fifteen minutes to perform and, while it's hard to tell with these things, I felt I did reasonably well. Afterwards, I changed out of my sparkly costume and headed back to the hotel to watch some of the other talented people perform. It was unseasonably warm in New York for January. The sky was clear and there was an unexpectedly big moon rising over the skyscrapers. I stopped, right in the middle of Broadway and stared at this giant moon.

The Post-
Script

By: Carrie Classon

I suddenly realized how ridiculously lucky I was. I was doing something new. I was having fun. I might or might not be embarrassing myself—but if I was—I really did not care. I started to whistle. I was walking down Broadway whistling and I didn't care if anyone heard me. I fished my phone out of my purse and called my sister.

"Hey, Sister!" I announced without preamble, "I just wanted you to know that I couldn't whistle at two and not even at six but I actually am a halfway decent whistler now!"

My sister laughed and I told her I loved her and I kept walking and smiling and whistling.

Till next time,
Carrie

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 28, the 28th day of 2020. There are 338 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Jan. 28, 1973, a cease-fire officially went into effect in the Vietnam War, a day after the signing of the Paris Peace Accords by the United States, North Vietnam and South Vietnam.

On this date:

In A.D. 814, Holy Roman Emperor Charlemagne died in Aachen in present-day Germany.

In 1547, England's King Henry VIII died; he was succeeded by his 9-year-old son, Edward VI.

In 1813, the novel "Pride and Prejudice" by Jane Austen was first published anonymously in London.

In 1878, the first daily college newspaper, Yale News (now Yale Daily News), began publication in New Haven, Connecticut.

In 1911, the notorious Hope Diamond was sold by jeweler Pierre Cartier to socialites Edward and Evalyn McLean of Washington, D.C., for $180,000.

In 1915, the American merchant vessel SS William P. Frye, en route to England with a cargo of wheat, became the first U.S. ship to be sunk during World War I by a German cruiser, the SS Prinz Eitel Friedrich, even though the United States was not at war.

In 1916, Louis D. Brandeis was nominated by President Woodrow Wilson to the Supreme Court; Brandeis became the court's first Jewish member.

In 1956, Elvis Presley made his first national TV appearance on "Stage Show," a CBS program hosted by Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey.

In 1960, the National Football League awarded franchises to Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

In 1977, actor-comedian Freddie Prinze, 22, co-star of the NBC-TV show "Chico and the Man," shot and mortally wounded himself at the Beverly Comstock Hotel (he died the following day).

In 1980, six U.S. diplomats who had avoided being taken hostage at their embassy in Tehran flew out of Iran with the help of Canadian diplomats.

In 1986, the space shuttle Challenger exploded 73 seconds after liftoff from Cape Canaveral, killing all seven crew members, including schoolteacher Christa McAuliffe.

Ten years ago: Major world powers opened talks in London seeking an end to the conflict in Afghanistan. President Barack Obama and Vice President Joe Biden announced $8 billion in federal grants for high-speed rail projects nationwide during a visit to Tampa, Florida. Embattled Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke won Senate confirmation for a second term.

Five years ago: President Barack Obama phoned Greek Prime Minister Alexis Tsipras (TSEE'-prahs) to congratulate him on his party's election victory and told him the U.S. would work closely with Greece to help it pursue long-term prosperity. At a farewell ceremony for Defense Secretary Chuck Hagel, Obama called him a true American patriot who devoted his life to the United States.

One year ago: The Justice Department unsealed criminal charges against Chinese tech giant Huawei (WAH'-way), a top company executive and several subsidiaries, alleging that the company stole trade secrets and violated U.S. sanctions. A U.S. envoy said negotiators for the United States and Taliban insurgents had reached "agreements in principle" on key issues for a peace deal that would end 17 years of war in Afghanistan.

Learning from each other at TAP

One of the many activities going on within the Huron School District Tiger After school Program (TAP) is peer learning where older students teach younger students. Huron High School Key Club members visit the TAP second graders twice a week and spend time reading and interacting with the students. Tiger After School Program has locations at Buchanan, Madison and Washington Schools. Great things happen after school.

HHS takes part in speech competition

Volunteers needed to judge at State Debate Tournament in Huron March 6-7

The Huron High School Speech Team traveled to the Watertown Speech Fiesta on Jan. 24.

Huron had two students advance to the final rounds of speech competition. In Dramatic Interp, Plar Po Clay advanced to finals and placed fourth. In Humorous Interp, Tanner Cronin advanced to finals and finished fourth.

"We haven't traveled since before Christmas," said head coach Mitch Gaffer. "Christmas break and the cancellation of the Brandon Valley CFC Tournament due to the weather has kept us off the road for a while. We're trying to recapture the momentum that took us into first place in the Central Forensic Conference."

Gaffer said students are also gearing up to host the State Debate Tournament at Huron High School on March 6-7.

"This is a big responsibility and the last time I will host State in my coaching career," he said. "We are looking for volunteer members of the community to judge Public Forum Debates on giving welfare vs. a guaranteed income by the government. We need 60 volunteer judges."

If you can help them on either Friday evening or Saturday morning, please contact Mitch Gaffer at mitchel.gaffer@k12.sd.us to volunteer.

The next tournament for the HHS Speech & Debate Team is the Yankton Lewis & Clark Tournament on Jan. 31 - Feb. 1.

Many have never learned the secret of forgiveness and forbearance

From the writings of the Rev. Billy Graham

Q: It seems society today has little to no patience with others who disagree with them. My grandmother says we need a spirit of forbearance. Would that help? — G.C.

A: Forbearance is a word which has been almost dropped from our vocabulary. It means to abstain from condemning others, to refrain from judging the actions and motives of those about us.

The Bible says, "With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love" (Ephesians 4:2, KJV).

Our culture is quick with the deadly thrust but slow with the ointment of healing. The harsh criticism of others and unfair appraisals of those about us may hurt them, but it hurts us more. The unjust condemnation of others has a boomerang effect. When people hurl vindictive indictments with the hope of crippling others, they will soon discover that they have hurt themselves more.

Many a person is lonely today because he has driven away others by his own bitterness and harsh words. Many a wife has discovered that scolding and nagging will never win a husband but often result in a divorce situation. Some people go through life with a chip on their shoulder, carrying hurts and resentments over things that were said or done decades ago.

Like a poison, their bitterness has made not only their own lives miserable but the lives of those around them. They have never learned the secret of forgiveness and forbearance.

The Bible instructs us to be on guard "lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled" (Hebrews 12:15, KJV), but it does not mean that we excuse sin and call evil good. Meekness and forbearance are "musts" if we are to live harmoniously in society and if we want to build a happy family life. Man cannot be happy as long as he magnifies the faults of others and minimizes their virtues. The Bible says, "Speak evil of no man ... but [be] gentle, showing all meekness unto all men" (Titus 3:2, KJV).

Daughter wishes step-father would visit mom more often

DEAR ABBY: My mother is in a locked ward of a nursing home because she has Alzheimer's and is a flight risk. My stepfather has begun dating her best friend. He doesn't consider it dating because, at 85, he's no longer capable of having a physical relationship. However, taking someone to dinner, the theater, church or to a movie constitutes a date to me. People in our small town are talking, I don't care about that. It's not their business.

I don't begrudge my stepfather and his lady their relationship, but he no longer visits Mom as often as he used to. He looks for any excuse not to. An example: He will say he doesn't want to drive in the rain, then drive in a downpour to go on a date with "The Other Woman." He says Mom forgets he was there five minutes after he leaves, which, unfortunately, is true. But she lights up when she sees him, and it gives her a moment of joy to visit with him. She knows he's her husband, and the last time we had a family visit, she snuggled up to him and said, "I love you."

Am I wrong to think my stepfather is not fulfilling his vows by neglecting his wife of 25 years? I truly do not mind that he's lonely and dating, but I feel he should balance his time between the two women in his life. -- FAIR-MINDED IN TEXAS

DEAR FAIR-MINDED: You say you don't begrudge your stepfather having a social life, and yet you call what he's doing neglect. Whether your mother is aware of the fact that he's spending time away from her is debatable. I assume she's receiving excellent care, and that both of you check to ensure it.

Quite frankly, what I think about this is irrelevant. The person with whom you should discuss this is your stepfather. Unless you have walked a mile in his shoes, I do not think you should judge him.

DEAR ABBY: I love my brother, but my sister-

Dear Abby

in-law, "Daisy," drives me crazy. Luckily, they live in another state.

I want to see my brother, but getting together always involves his wife. When they travel to see us, they stay for about a week. All Daisy wants to do when they are here is shop. My husband and brother have no interest in going, so it's just the two of us.

My problem is, whatever I buy, she buys the same thing. Or, if she sees me wear something she likes, she looks for the same thing to buy. She thinks it's OK because they live in a different state. Daisy does this with her other sister-in-law, too, and they live in the same city. We're both fed up. What should we do? -- COPIED IN FLORIDA

DEAR COPIED: It is said that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. Daisy may be insecure about her own fashion choices, which is why she copies yours. Because this bothers you to the degree that it does, the direct way to deal with it would be to tell Daisy it makes you feel encroached upon. Either that or, when you take her shopping, tell her you are going along only to keep her company while SHE shops, and keep your wallet in your purse.

News That Hits Home!

The Plainsman

STAR TRACKING

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Tread carefully today, because your ruler Mars is at odds with fuzzy Neptune, which takes the wind out of your sails. You feel unsure about what to do.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Think twice before you take action when dealing with others, because your initial impulse might be something that you later regret.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might not be able to stand up for yourself today, especially at work; however, you will more easily stand up for someone else. Either way, go gently.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Romance is confusing today. You might be disappointed. You might have unrealistic expectations.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) Do not be firm when dealing with family members today because you're not entirely sure of what you want.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Do not be adamant about getting your way when dealing with partners or close friends today, because things are not really clear.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You might be unsure of what to do at work today, especially about money, earnings and cash flow. You might be confused about something, or, conversely, you might make a hasty assumption. Be careful!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) This is a tough day for parents because you feel sympathetic to your kids but you might not really know what's going on.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't make a big deal about something connected with home and family today, because you might later regret it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) If you spend today daydreaming or lost in a world of fantasy, that's fine. Many people will do this today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Be careful about financial matters today, because things are not as they appear. You might be confused. Double-check all your dealings and keep your receipts.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Today you feel sympathetic to the needs of others. However, it's important to know what is really going on because you could be deceived.

BORN TODAY You are easygoing, happy-go-lucky and charming! However, you are also strong-willed and always realistic. Service to others is your theme this year, especially with family.

Huron gymnasts to host triangular Thursday at TAC

HURON — The Huron gymnastics team will host Aberdeen Central and Watertown in a triangular meet at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at the Tigers Activities Center.

The event will be the final home meet of the season for the Tigers and will serve as 'Senior Night'. Erica Zell, Jaci Bankson and Kassie Decker are the seniors for Huron who will be recognized prior to the competition.

A story in Monday's paper had the event incorrectly slated for today.

Kintzler agrees to $3.25M, 1-year deal with Marlins

MIAMI (AP) — Right-handed reliever Brandon Kintzler has agreed to a $3.25 million, one-year deal with the Miami Marlins, pending a physical.

Kintzler has a 3.37 career ERA in 10 seasons with four teams. He had a 2.68 ERA last year for the Cubs in 62 games.

Kintzler had 28 saves for the Twins in 2017, when he made the American League All-Star team.

LSU brings back Pelini as DC

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Reigning national champion LSU is bringing back Bo Pelini as defensive coordinator, the position he held when the Tigers won a national championship in the 2007 season.

Pelini, whose hiring was announced by coach Ed Orgeron on Monday, replaces Dave Aranda, who left the Tigers to take over as Baylor's head coach after LSU's victory over Clemson in the College Football Playoff final in New Orleans.

Pelini has spent the past five years as head coach at Youngstown State.

HURON — Three goals in the final period weren't enough for the Huron Lady All-Stars to complete a comeback against the Oahe Lady Capitals on Saturday at Bergman Arena.

The Lady Capitals outscored Huron 3-1 in the opening period and held on for a 6-5 victory.

Ashley Busch had the lone goal in the first period for Huron on an unassisted shot.

The Lady All-Stars were able to cut their deficit to just a goal as Devin Hunter scored just 14 seconds into the second period on a pass from Shelby Timm.

However, Oahe also scored on a goal in the second period to carry a 4-2 advantage into the final period.

Busch brought Huron back to within a goal with a goal just 21 seconds into the third period. Kylee Small assisted on the play.

The two teams then traded goals the rest of the way, allowing the Lady Capitals to maintain the advantage for the victory.

Azelea Rashaad had the final two goals for the Lady All-Stars. The first was assisted by Busch and Small, while the second was assisted by Busch and Abby Thomas.

The Lady All-Stars will now take a break from league play to participate in the Brookings Tournament, which begins Friday and concludes Sunday.

U14 girls

With four goals in the second period, Sioux Falls recorded a 5-1 victory against Huron at Bergman Arena.

Alexis Rashaad had the lone goal for the Lady All-Stars on a pass from Small.

Huron had 32 shots on goal, compared to just 17 for the Lady Flyers. Marissa Ready tallied 12 saves for the Lady All-Stars.

The U14 team is now off until Feb. 8, when it hosts Watertown in an 11:30 a.m. game.

CLARK — Clark/Willow Lake led 22-5 after the opening quarter en route to a 79-45 victory against Great Plains Lutheran on Monday.

The Cyclones, who improved to 5-4, led 43-23 at the half and 64-37 heading into the final quarter.

Stone Burke finished with a game-high 22 points to lead three players in double figures for Clark/Willow Lake. Tyler O'Neill converted on a trio of 3-pointers on his way to 16 points, while Trey Huber had 12 points. Brady Jordan and Noah Boykin added nine and eight points, respectively.

Burke also had eight rebounds to help the Cyclones to a 35-17 advantage on the boards. Huber had team-highs with four assists and four steals.

Same Hansen was the lone player to reach double figures for the Panthers, who are now 2-8, with 15 points. He also led the way with five rebounds.

Clark/Willow Lake travels to play Groton Area on Friday.

McLaughlin 86, Miller 67

MILLER — The Miller Rustlers had hope after the first quarter that they'd win their first game of the season, but McLaughlin outscored Miller 25-14 in the second quarter and never looked back en route to an 86-67 trouncing of Miller Saturday.

The Rustlers were led by Tyler Schumacher with 22 points. Freshman Spencer Fernholz and sophomore Caden Gortmaker scored 20 and 16 points, respectively, as Miller fell to 0-11.

The Mustangs ran their record up to 6-3 with the victory behind a big night from Lex Farrell as he hit six 3-point baskets on his way to 32 points on the night. Elias Sims scored 21, Israel Defender added 16, and Tyson Howard pitched in 11 in a big scoring game for McLaughlin.

Miller is off until Feb. 7 when it hosts Ipswich.

Redfield 61, Sisseton 50

REDFIELD — After jumping out to an early lead, the Redfield Pheasants had to use a big fourth quarter to take home the victory over Sisseton on Friday, 61-50.

Redfield led 16-10 after one quarter, but had surrendered that lead to find the score tied at half. The Redmen opened the fourth quarter with a two-point advantage, but Redfield outscored Sisseton 21-8 over the final quarter to lock in the win.

The Pheasants bumped their record to 5-3 with the victory behind four scorers in double figures. Kolton Haider led Redfield with 15 points, while Leyton Rohlfs pitched in 13, Thomas Shantz 11, and Jaxson Frankenstein 10 on the win. Isaac Suchor led the team with seven rebounds.

Sisseton fell to 3-4 on the season with the loss. Juron Adams led the Redmen with 15 points, while Dylan Goodhart scored 13 and grabbed a game-high eight rebounds.

Redfield hosts Faulkton Area in action Monday.

CORONAVIRUS:

More than 40 cases have been confirmed elsewhere in the world with virtually all of them involving Chinese tourists or people who visited Wuhan recently.

China's increasingly drastic containment efforts began with the Jan. 22 suspension of plane, train and bus links to Wuhan, a city of 11 million people in central China where the virus was first detected last month. That lockdown has expanded to 17 cities with more than 50 million people — the most far-reaching disease-control measures ever imposed.

The end of the Lunar New Year holiday, China's busiest travel season, was pushed back to Sunday from Thursday to "reduce mass gatherings" and "block the spread of the epidemic," a Cabinet statement said.

The government of Shanghai, a metropolis of 25 million people and a global business center, extended the Lunar New Year holiday by an additional week to Feb. 9. It ordered sports stadiums to close and religious events to cancel.

Tens of millions of people in China and around Asia had been due to crowd into planes, trains and buses to return to work after visiting their hometowns or tourist sites for the holiday. Schools will postpone reopening until further notice, the Cabinet said.

The spread of the illness is being watched around the globe, with a small number of cases appearing in other countries. Sri Lanka confirmed its first case Monday. Cases also have been confirmed in the United States, Thailand, Taiwan, Japan, South Korea, Vietnam, Singapore, Malaysia, Nepal, France, Canada and Australia.

As of Monday, there were five Americans diagnosed with the virus in Washington state, Chicago, Southern California and Arizona. U.S. health officials said Monday they had no evidence the virus was spreading in the U.S. and they believe the risk to Americans remains low.

China also reported eight cases in Hong Kong and five in Macao. Dr. Chuang Shukwan, the head of Hong Kong's communicable disease branch, said the city's eight cases all have Hubei ties, so there was no sign yet that it is spreading to Hong Kong's general population.

NOTICE OF THE 2020 SOUTH DAKOTA INTEGRATED REPORT FOR SURFACE WATER QUALITY ASSESSMENT AND THE NATIONAL 303(D) PROGRAM VISION: AN OPPORTUNITY FOR COMMENT
 The Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) is announcing the availability of the draft 2020 South Dakota Integrated Report for Surface Water Quality Assessment (Integrated Report). The Integrated Report also includes the National 303(d) Program Vision. This notice provides the opportunity for public comment on the draft Integrated Report and the Vision.
 The Integrated Report is required under the federal Clean Water Act. This report combines the 305(b) Water Quality Report to Congress and the 303(d) Impaired Waterbodies list into one document for the purpose of reporting on South Dakota's surface water quality. The Integrated Report also lists those waterbodies that require Total Maximum Daily Load (TMDL) development. The final Integrated Report is due to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) on or before April 1, 2020.
 The 2020 Integrated Report contains the following information:
 1. An assessment of the surface water quality of South Dakota's waters;
 2. A description of South Dakota's water quality monitoring programs;
 3. Pollutants causing or expected to cause violations of the applicable water quality standards;
 4. Identification of waters targeted for TMDL development and;
 5. A description of the process used by South Dakota to set priorities under the National 303(d) Program Vision.
 A TMDL is the maximum amount of pollutant a waterbody can receive and still meet water quality standards assigned to that waterbody. In practice, the term "TMDL" is also used to describe the document that contains loading calculations in addition to a host of supplemental information like source assessments, reduction targets, allocations, and seasonality.

2000 - Legals

The National 303(d) Program Vision serves as a planning tool for states to implement effective strategies to meet water quality goals. The Vision contains six elements considered important to the process. The Vision defines prioritization for TMDL development with consideration for alternative or protection approaches. South Dakota's original Vision strategy was first available in the 2016 Integrated Report. In 2018, EPA offered an open season to provide states with the opportunity to make changes to the Vision. South Dakota made changes and updated the Vision for the 2020 reporting cycle.
 The department is providing a public participation process in which the members of the general public, affected organizations, and other interested parties can review and comment on the content of the draft 2020 Integrated Report. A copy of the draft 2020 Integrated Report is available on DENR's One-Stop Public Notice page at: <http://denr.sd.gov/public/default.aspx>. Those persons desiring to only review the Vision document can access the document separately at this same address. Copies of the draft Integrated Report or the Vision may also be obtained by emailing Anine Rosse at the following email address; Anine.Rosse@state.sd.us or writing to Anine Rosse at the address below, or by calling her at 1-800-438-3367. The department must receive public comments by March 6, 2020. Comments can be submitted online at DENR's One-Stop Public Notice page at <http://denr.sd.gov/public/default.aspx>, emailed to Anine.Rosse@state.sd.us, or submitted in writing to the address below.
 At the conclusion of the public comment period, the department will prepare a written response to each comment received. If requested, individual responses to comments will be posted on the department's web site or made available in writing. In addition, the comments and responses will be incorporated into the final document in Appendix H. The department will finalize the 2020 Integrated Report and Vision after consideration of the comments received during the public participation process prior to submittal to EPA for approval. Once EPA approves the above items, the Integrated Report and the Vision will be made available on the department's website. Copies will be sent to persons requesting a copy, published at the approximate cost of $3.00.

SUDOKU

Sudoku is a number-placing puzzle based on a 9x9 grid with several given numbers. The object is to place the numbers 1 to 9 in the empty squares so that each row, each column and each 3x3 box contains the same number only once. The difficulty level of the Conceptis Sudoku increases from Monday to Sunday.

A Perfect Pregame Warmup

As one of the ultimate comfort foods, chili is an ideal watch-party snack: easy to prepare, stays warm in a slow cooker and can be personalized by guests with a wide variety of toppings. Consider adorning your bowl with a combination of these add-ons:

- Shredded cheese
- Sour cream
- Ketchup
- Hot sauce
- Jalapenos
- Green onions
- Chives
- Olives
- Diced avocado
- Diced tomato
- Bacon bits
- Corn chips
- Crackers

Go Long on Game Day

Ready-for-action recipes to feed fans

FAMILY FEATURES

When game day arrives and your crowd is ready to crank up the heat, turning to appetizers and dishes that feed the whole group can help save the season. You can defend against overly complicated recipes with long cook times by instead opting for finger foods and handheld snacks that allow for more pregame prep and less cleanup after the final whistle.

For example, setting up a chili bar allows for convenient eating throughout the game as it's easy to keep warm for hours. To give your guests a variety of flavors to choose from, these recipes for bacon-wrapped potatoes and ribs glazed with a sweet-hot sauce involve short ingredients lists and simple preparation to keep you out of the kitchen and into the game.

To find more recipe inspiration for game day, visit Culinary.net.

A Sweet-Heat Snack

Finger foods and watch parties go hand-in-hand, which is why these baby back ribs are ideal for grabbing a couple (or more) and heading to your favorite spot on the couch. Glazed with a mixture of honey, chipotle peppers and mangoes for some sweet heat, they're cooked low and slow for fall-off-the-bone flavor.

Just wrap the ribs and sauce in aluminum foil, place over low indirect heat and let your grill do the work. To help simplify game day, try cooking a day in advance and warm in the oven a couple hours prior to kickoff.

Baby Back Ribs with Honey, Chipotle and Mango Glaze

Recipe courtesy of the National Honey Board
Servings: 8

- 2 racks baby back ribs
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can chipotle peppers in adobo sauce
- 4 ripe mangoes, cubed
- 1 cup honey

Remove ribs from package; rinse and pat dry. Remove membrane. Place in shallow pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and set aside.

In small saucepan over medium heat, cook chipotle peppers, mangoes and honey, stirring constantly, until cooked down and thick enough to coat back of spoon.

Heat grill to 225-240 F.

Wrap ribs and 2/3 of sauce mixture tightly in aluminum foil and place over indirect heat. Close lid. After 2 hours, flip ribs and cook 2 hours. Open aluminum and remove ribs, place directly on grill and brush with remaining sauce. Cook 30 minutes. Remove from grill and serve hot.

Pigskin Potatoes from The Little Potato Company

Score Big with Little Potatoes

Part of the fun of the Big Game is the food, and you can score big points by serving up crowd-pleasing sides and snacks. For a familiar spin on a football-watching favorite, try these Pigskin Potatoes: a classic combination of little potatoes and melted cheese wrapped with bacon.

There's no fumbling around with this game day snack made with Creamer potatoes from The Little Potato Company. With no washing or peeling required, little potatoes cook in next to no time whether they are boiled, roasted or smashed. You can be the MVP of your kitchen without missing a second of the action.

Visit littlepotatoes.com/gameday for more game day recipe inspiration and to find a store near you.

Pigskin Potatoes

Prep time: 20 minutes
Cook time: 44 minutes
Servings: 8

- 1 bag (1 1/2 pounds) Dynamic Duo or Terrific Trio Little Potatoes
- 6 ounces plain cream cheese at room temperature
- 1/3 cup finely shredded orange cheddar cheese
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped fresh chives
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 jalapeno, finely diced (optional)
- 1 pound thinly sliced bacon, rashers cut in half

Heat oven to 400 F.

Boil potatoes until fork tender, approximately 15-20 minutes. Cut in half and allow to cool.

In bowl, use spatula to combine cream cheese, cheddar, chives, salt, pepper and jalapeno, if desired.

Once chilled, spread cream cheese on half of cut potatoes and sandwich each with other halves. Wrap each potato using half rasher of bacon around cut middle to ensure cheese doesn't escape.

Bake on middle rack 10 minutes. Flip and bake 10 minutes.

Turn oven to broil. Broil 2 minutes, turn once and broil 2 minutes until bacon reaches desired crispiness.

Tip: Boil potatoes 2 days ahead. Fill and wrap potatoes 1 day ahead then bake and serve on game day.

Vikings name Patterson, Zimmer as co-DCs

EAGAN, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota Vikings head coach Mike Zimmer promoted his son on Monday to help fill a key vacancy on his staff, appointing Adam Zimmer and Andre Patterson as co-defensive coordinators.

The Vikings announced their revamped lineup of assistant coaches, which includes two new hires and four internal promotions.

Assistant head coach Gary Kubiak, as reported last week by multiple media outlets including The Associated Press, will be the offensive coordinator. He was an offensive adviser in 2019 for offensive coordinator Kevin Stefanski, who left to be the head coach of the Cleveland Browns.

Patterson (defensive line) and Adam Zimmer (linebackers) will continue to direct their respective position groups under Mike Zimmer, one of the league's top defensive strategists who has called plays on that side of the ball for the bulk of his six-season run in Minnesota. Adam Zimmer, Patterson and assistant special teams coach Ryan Ficken are the only assistants with primarily football responsibilities who have stayed with Mike Zimmer throughout his tenure since being hired in 2014. George Edwards served as defensive coordinator for the Vikings for the last six years, but his contract was not renewed.

Defensive backs coach Jerry Gray also departed after six seasons. He was replaced by Daronte Jones, who held the same role with the Miami Dolphins for the last two years. Phil Rauscher was hired as an assistant offensive line coach, a position he held this season with the Washington Redskins. Rauscher replaces Andrew Janocko, who was moved to wide receivers coach, replacing the departed Drew Petzing. Rauscher previously worked alongside Kubiak with the Denver Broncos and was most recently on staff with the Redskins.

Since the arrival of the Zimmers and Patterson, the Vikings are third in the NFL in sacks (260) and yards allowed (321.8) per game.

Reds get OF Nick Castellanos on $64 million, 4-year deal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Free agent

outfielder Nick Castellanos signed a $64 million, four-year deal Monday with the Reds, Cincinnati's latest big-money move to emerge from years of losing.

The deal allows Castellanos to opt out and become a free agent after the 2020 or 2021 seasons. He gets salaries of $16 million in 2020, $14 million in 2021, and $16 million in 2022 and 2023. There's a mutual option for 2024 at $20 million with a buyout of $2 million.

Mic'd up MLB ump's might announce replay rulings

NEW YORK (AP) — Big league players, managers and fans might be hearing a lot more from umpires this season.

Replay review decisions could be announced at the ballpark by ump's wearing microphones, several people familiar with the plan told The Associated Press on Monday. The people spoke on condition of anonymity because no decision has been made.

Major League Baseball and the umpires are actively discussing the possibility. If the technical aspects can be worked out and the ump's are comfortable with the concept, they could be mic'd up sometime this year — both sides say there's lots of work to do, making it uncertain whether this could be in place by opening day on March 26.

"I feel like getting more information on replay reviews would be great. Being able to hear what they see/say about the play will provide a better explanation of the call which will be very beneficial for both sides," Arizona Diamondbacks catcher Stephen Vogt said.

The NFL and NHL have their referees announce the results of replay reviews. In the NBA, the arena public address announcers relay decisions.

Baseball fans have become familiar with seeing crew chiefs such as Joe West, Ted Barrett and Tom Hallion take off the headsets and signal the ruling from replay center in New York — either indicating a player is out or safe, or perhaps pointing to where a runner should go.

Under the innovation, an umpire might tell everyone at the park whether a challenged call is confirmed, stands or is reversed.

Walker Schiltz had a pair of goals for Huron. The first was assisted by Duba, while the second was assisted by Jacob Maas.

Duba had the other goal on a pass from Schiltz.

Duba would then score three of the four goals for Huron in the final period. Izaiah Phillips assisted on all three goals, while Schiltz and Shaun Ready assisted on the second and third, respectively.

Maas had the other goal for the All-Stars on a pass from Schiltz.

Cooper Letcher secured the win in the net for Huron with 24 saves.

Huron opened the event with a 6-2 setback against Minnetonka on Friday.

Duba had both the goals for the All-Stars in the second period, with Schiltz assisting on both goals.

Marty Boetel tallied 46 saves for Huron. The All-Stars then skated to a 2-2 draw against White Bear Lake in their first of two games Saturday.

Cody Ruedeusch had the first goal for Huron in the opening period, which ended at 1-1. He scored on a pass from Phillips.

The score remained tied until White Bear Lake scored early in the third period.

Michigan suspends Simpson, will miss Nebraska game

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan point guard Xavier Simpson has been suspended for an unspecified violation of team policies and will miss Tuesday night's game at Nebraska.

"While we are disappointed with what has transpired with Xavier, we know there are always lessons to learn and grow from. We take these matters and consequences very seriously," coach Juwan Howard said in a statement Monday. "Moving forward, we will continue to handle this matter appropriately within our program and basketball family."

Howard did not provide details of what rule Simpson violated. He did say Simpson's status would be evaluated

HARRISBURG — The Huron Tigers seventh grade girls dropped a trio of games to Harrisburg on Saturday.

In the "A" game, Huron fell 41-30 despite a very strong performance from Addison More, who poured in 24 points on the game. Harrisburg dominated the "B" contest 36-2, with free throws from Kirsten DeGeest and Alisha Happy the only points in the game for the Tigers. Finally, the "C" squad fell 28-10 in their game. Ann Hoek and Akiyah Caggett each scored four points in the loss.

The seventh grade girls lace them up next against Mitchell on Thursday in a home game.

Eighth-grade boys

HURON — The Huron Tigers eighth grade boys basketball teams couldn't pull off a victory in three tries against Harrisburg on Saturday.

In the "A" game, Harrisburg jumped all over Huron to the tune of a 49-15 final score. Holden Hegg led the way with four points on the game.

The "B" squad struggled to find footing against Harrisburg as well, falling 43-25. Isaiah Olson scored eight points and Layne Wenzel added seven points in the loss.

The "C" squad fell to Harrison 44-29 despite 10 points from Ezra Hiles. Hiles also grabbed three rebounds and nabbed four steals to lead the Huron team.

Seventh-grade boys'

HURON — The Huron Tiger 7th Grade Boys' teams hosted Harrisburg Saturday.

The Huron "A" team played close throughout the game but came up short, losing 40-33. The Tiger's top scorers were Colton McNeil and Kolby Hofer with 13 points each. Hofer also tallied 6 rebounds.

The "B" team lost in its contest, 44-25. Logan Leyendecker led the Tigers in scoring with nine points. Jhon Htoo had five points and grabbed four boards.

The "C" team lost, 35-15. Riley Jankord had five points.

The boys take the court Thursday on the road as they face Mitchell.
