FOREWORD

This effort was conducted within program element 0602233N (Mission Support Technology), project RM33M20 (Manpower and Personnel Technology), task RM33M20.01 (Career and Occupational Design). The purpose of the work unit was to develop explanatory models of unrestricted line (URL) officer career decisions that could be used to assess the impact of present and proposed URL career policy and practices upon those decisions and the officers' career activities.

This report was completed under the sponsorship of the Office of Chief of Naval Research (ONT-222). This report presents a blueprint of the FY86-87 longitudinal database of URL officer career decision issues. The structure of the data dictionary was based on a similar effort conducted as part of the Officer Assignment Decisions Support System (ODASS) project, a 6.3 research effort funded by the United States Marine Corps. The dictionary was developed in PC/FOCUS, a microcomputer-based database management system.

This document serves as a dictionary for the 1986-1987 longitudinal data from 5,633 officers who responded to both one of three questionnaires administered in FY82 and to one of the eight questionnaires administered in 1986-1987 as part of the Officer Personnel Distribution and Career Development project. The sample represents aviation, general unrestricted line, and surface warfare officers commissioned between 1961 and 1980. Each bit of data is described in detail, including its column location in the data file.

Those that wish to access the database to conduct additional analyses, link it to or combine it with other databases, enlarge the database for the conduct of trend analyses, etc., will find this data dictionary an essential aid.

Point of contact at NAVPERSRANDCEN is Dr. Robert Morrison, AUTOVON 553-9256 or Commercial (619) 553-9256.

INTRODUCTION

In 1981, an extensive research project was initiated to investigate the career development and decision-making processes of three communities of naval officers. This research was designed to provide information to policy makers and career managers so that the Navy could: (1) better manage the careers of its officers, (2) fill billets with skilled individuals at all grade levels, and (3) improve performance and increase retention (Wilcove & Wilson, 1991).¹

Officer career questionnaires were sent to a sub-sample ($N = 20,999$) of the larger population ($N = 23,769$). These officers represented three major unrestricted line (URL) officer communities; surface warfare (SWO), air warfare (AWO), and general unrestricted line (GenURL). Data were collected at two points in time, 1981-1982 (Time1 (T1)) and 1986-1987 (Time2 (T2)). Approximately 4,200 officers that responded were in the same URL community at T2 as at T1. Over 1,400 individuals had either changed designators, resigned, or retired by the T2 administration. The T1 sample represented officers who had from 1 to 20 years of commissioned service and held grades ranging from ensign to commander. The T2 sample represented officers who had from 1 to 24 years of commissioned service and held grades from ensign to captain.

At T1, community questionnaires were distributed to the three URL communities discussed previously. At T2, the T1 respondents were sent either a community questionnaire if they had remained in their original URL community or, for those who were no longer in their original community, one of the following questionnaires:

1. The Designator Change Questionnaire was sent to individuals who had changed designator (for example, switched from the SWO community to a restricted line community such as engineering duty officer).
2. The Retirement Questionnaire was sent to individuals who had retired from the Navy since completion of the T1 questionnaire.
3. The Warfare Officer Resignation Questionnaire was sent to SWOs and AWOs who had resigned from the Navy and were currently in the Reserve Corps.
4. The General URL Resignation Questionnaire was sent to GenURL officers who had resigned from the Navy.

Two additional groups also received questionnaires at T2. Those officers in the above URL communities who had been commissioned between 1981 and 1985 received a community questionnaire, and an Aviation Transition Questionnaire was distributed to AWOs who were not included in the previous samples. The latter individuals were facing or had just completed a career transition, such as promotion to lieutenant commander.

As a result of this study, two databases were constructed: (1) a longitudinal database that includes data for all individuals who completed a questionnaire at T1 ($N = 9,109$) and at T2 ($N =$

¹Wilcove, G. L., & Wilson, W. C. (1991). Officer career development: Measures and samples in the 1981-1989 research programs (NPRDC-TN-91-8). San Diego: Navy Personnel Research and Development Center.

5,633), and (2) a cross-sectional database that includes data for all individuals who completed a survey at T2 (N = 12,319). Note, the data from the 5,633 T2 respondents contained on the longitudinal database are also contained on the cross-sectional database.

The longitudinal database, represented in Figure 1 is so extensive that its documentation is provided in two separate volumes. This volume is the second of the two and provides the data layout for all items included in the T2 surveys. The T2 questionnaires are listed above the double line in the third column. The number of individuals associated with each combination of T1-T2 administrations is found in the right-hand column. For example, 193 officers completed a Surface Career Questionnaire at T1 and completed a Warfare Resignation Questionnaire at T2. The values provided along the top of the box in Figure 1 represent the columns in which the variables are stored in the database. T2 survey data are contained in columns 2,020 through 3,709.

The database also contains T2 data on selected variables from the Officer Master File (OMF) (a computerized personnel record of current Navy officers) and the Officer Attrition File (Attrition) (a computerized personnel file of all attrited officers). OMF data are provided for T1 and T2 respondents who were in the Navy at T2. This also included T1 respondents that did not respond at T2 but were still in the Navy. Attrition data are provided for T1 and T2 respondents who had already retired or resigned from the Navy after completing a T1 questionnaire. This also includes T1 respondents that did not respond at T2 but had retired or resigned from the Navy. T2 OMF/Attrition data are contained in columns 3,710 through 4,317 of the database.

The T2 survey and OMF/Attrition data are described in detail throughout the following appendices. Note: All data elements included in the database are of a fixed format. Refer to the first volume of this two volume series for information regarding the data layout for the T1 survey and OMF data.

Those that wish to access the database to conduct additional analyses, link it to or combine it with other databases, enlarge the database for the conduct of trend analyses, etc., will find this data dictionary an essential aid.

More detailed information regarding the method, sampling strategies, and procedures involved in this study can be found in Wilcove and Wilson (1991).

ITEM(S):

Listed below are statements about the content of the November 1984 policies and others affecting General URLs. For each statement, please indicate whether you believe the item is true or false or are uncertain. The purpose of these items is to determine how well the Navy is disseminating information on its policies.
