OMB Director Shaun Donovan

Dear Director Donovan,

We write to you on behalf of a non-partisan coalition, committed to both privacy protection and open government, to ask that the Office of Management and Budget (“OMB”) suspend action on any pending rules or regulations that would diminish the effectiveness of the Privacy Act or the Freedom of Information Act. We are prepared to provide analysis in support of any such determination, now pending before the OMB.

The two laws operate as bulwarks of our democracy, helping to ensure the transparency of the federal government while protecting the privacy of the personal data retained by federal agencies. We believe it is essential that OMB leave in place the strongest possible safeguards to ensure government accountability for the next administration.

Specifically, we ask that the OMB approve no pending rule that would expand the ability of a government agency to exempt their system of records from Privacy Act obligations by asserting a “routine use” or other exemption. (We note the Office of Government Information Services supports a single “routine use” rule change that would improve resolution of FOIA disputes. We do not oppose that rule). We also ask OMB to oppose any new barriers to individuals seeking information under the FOIA.

We appreciate your leadership at the OMB, and your commitment to the effective enforcement of the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act. The two laws are the twin pillars of government accountability.

For further information regarding this request, please contact Patrice McDermott (pmcdermott@openthegovernment.org), Executive Director of the OpenTheGovernment.org coalition or Marc Rotenberg (rotenberg@epic.org), President of the Electronic Privacy Information Center.

Sincerely,
