BRANDENBURG.

Joe McElroy has returned to Louisville. Mrs. S. P. Woodcock is very much better. Miss Lila Powell has returned from Doon Hill.

How would the following do for a financial plank in the platform of our next Democratic State Convention. The exchange of both gold and silver on terms of equality at the ratio of 16 to 1. For the issue of all paper money by the government without the intervention of banks...

Washington one said of the Senate that he was the center into which legislation was poured to cool. The New York Sun is the best edited paper in America and the greatest exponent of the true Democracy.

Germany was England's first convert to gold monometallism. Now she is the first to take the lead in the movement for bimetalism.

John T. Paxon, a doorkeeper of the Indiana Legislature, has gone crazy. "Bill" Green has not been heard from. The Crowsfoot of Kentucky is a red-hot gold-bug. But he says Coln's Financial School has almost convinced him.

Germany was England's first convert to gold monometallism. Now she is the first to take the lead in the movement for bimetalism. Collector Ben Johnson has it in for all his enemies. Col. Ben has his war clothes on. And they say that Ben is a fighter from away back.

The Hon. James D. Wilson is the only announced candidate for the Legislature in this county. He is a native of this county. He is a native of this county. He is a native of this county.

The Fiscal court of this county should begin the work of having good roads by purchasing the turpicks from this place to Hardinsburg and making the travel over it free.

We want every thinking man and reader of the News to read Mr. Bryan's speech printed in another part of this paper. It is a true and logical exposition of the silver question.

The Legislature of Missouri has passed an act fixing the age of consent for both male and female at 16 years. This was done to protect the boys as well as the girls. The boys of this county need protection.

Mr. Clay is not discussing the money question in his speeches. Mr. Clay will not out before he gets fully into the campaign that he'll have to discuss it. The people are discussing it and they will want to hear from Mr. Clay.

The Rev. Samuel G. Jones, of Georgia, father of the great evangelist, the Rev. Sam Jones, was dead. He was 90 years old and was the father of five sons, all of whom are Methodist preachers. He leaves behind him 130 descendants.

One hundred and fifty colored Methodist preachers in conference at Richmond, Va., refused to accept a memorial service in honor of the late Frederick Douglass. Their excuse being that it took up too much time of the conference.

Our correspondents will have to excuse us this week. We've taken up a good deal of their space with editorials, something we don't often do. This is done however, merely to let people know that this paper has an editor and he will have his say occasionally.

There are 5,000 negro voters in New York City. Mayor Strong, the recently elected Republican mayor, has appointed one out of that number to an office worth $720 a year. A Republican negro in New York doesn't seem to fare much better than a Republican negro in Kentucky when it comes to slitting out the office.

We have advocated the building of good roads in the county until any further suggestion upon the matter would seem to be a waste of words. The Fiscal court meets next month and there may be one thing very certain that our farming lands will not improve much in value until good roads are obtained.

HARDINSBURG.

L. M. & W. TIME TABLE. Passenger Daily. Hardinsburg, 12:15 p.m. Louisville daily. Hardinsburg, 7:45 a.m. County Court met Monday.

Julian Brown will run an excursion to Owensboro about the first of May. Full line of bellies' who's worth $1.25 at J. A. Witt's. Mattias Miller returned from Hancock county last Friday.

General line of merchandise for almost every one's price. John Ruby shoes for ladies and gentlemen sold at cost at Witt's. All prices quoted by me are for cash or country produce—J. A. Witt.

J. E. Monach thinks he will move to Owensboro about the first of May. Owensboro jeans pants, the best in the world, only $1.35 a pair at Witt's. Men's Congress plow shoes only $1.75 now going at $1.25 at J. A. Witt's.

All persons indebted to me must come forward and settle at once—J. A. Witt. Raymond Furrow, of Cloverport, has rented a farm near Kirk and moved to it. Charley Mattingly has qualified an administrator of Joseph Mattingly's estate.

Ed Pulliam, who killed a preacher in Hancock county, has escaped from the asylum. Leave your subscription and all other business for the News office with V. G. Babbage, Hardinsburg. Sam Duncan, colored, was brought here last week from Barren on the charge of vagrancy and lodged in jail.

Mrs. Eliza Taylor, after a two weeks stay with friends here, returned to her home at Rosetta last Thursday. Jack Williams and wife, colored, go to jail until May on the charge of murder. They will have to stay all the way through the winter.

You can buy a watch at Kincheloe's cheaper now than you ever did before or will ever again. March right in and buy one. Foclan Guthrie, colored, bought the recent lot out near the depot last week at $250. He purchased of Rev. Hammon.

Richard Adkinson was here one day last week to get out a search warrant for a doctor who had been stealing his corn and tobacco. The sudden death of Dr. J. B. Cottrell was received here with general feelings of regret. The doctor was well known at this place.

The Masons continue having a celebration here June 24, St. John's day. All the lodges in the county will unite and the day will be grand. Jailer, Gus Shelham has more boards than usual. There are seven prisoners now behind the bars and Gus thinks the number will increase.

Stuart DeArnette writes back from Missouri that he likes the country and that his family is well pleased with their new location and that he has a fine girl now Feb. 26. Ed Bead has purchased the property near the depot, which formerly belonged to his father. The carpenters are finishing the dwelling house on it which was begun some time ago.

Col. L. Green, Falls of Rough, was here a few days ago. The Colonel is running one of the largest saw mills at the Falls that there is in this country. He is sawing a great quantity of lumber. If the people in the country want to see some good sermons during the week they should not fail to hear Rev. Bigham. He is one of the greatest evangelists in the Louisville Conference.

Cy Barren, of Cloverport, was divorced, at Louisville, by his wife, Annie Barren. Mrs. Mattias Smith was not so fortunate. The court allowed action on her case until May 1st. To all of my old friends and patrons, I am still repairing watches, clocks and all articles allied to the jewelry trade. Bring your work, best at reasonable cost. Yours truly, Rev. R. K. Breeding.

Rev. R. K. Breeding brings a revival at the M. E. Church, South, this week. He will be assisted by the Rev. Bigham. Rev. Bigham is an evangelist of great power and the community will be led to some fine sermons during his stay. Said a gentleman, the other day, "I will say that it is a thing one gets in the News it is known far and wide by starbuddy to the county. The reason is plain. Nearly every family in the county takes the News, and those who are not subscribers read it just the same."

Miss Mary McGeeley died at her home in this place last Friday. Mrs. McGeeley had been a sufferer for many months. She was a sister of Mrs. Tiff and much loved by those who knew her. The funeral services will be held at the Catholic church, Rev. Father Gibb officiating. Mr. Frank Smith, from the neighborhood of Big Spring, was here last Sunday. Being disappointed, Mr. Smith got into the land licks he had last fall. The stock was felt very perceptibly in his country he says, but he thinks the boys will rally back to the country. Mr. Smith is a prosperous farmer, and at times takes a lively interest in politics.

Dr. Price's Cocoa Baking Powder. Most Perfect Made.

BEWLEEVILLE.

Jessie Payne is attending school at Hardinsburg. Aley Cain has sold his home to the Irrigation Milling Company. Miss Mattie Lee Moorman and Alberta Drury are visiting at O. Drury's.

Dr. J. C. Bush spent several days in our town this week. Frank Morton, our fine poultry man, is laying plans for work in his line of business. It takes two to sell a Dishwasher in our part of the country.

Our merchants have improved their respective places of business, and the new goods are lovely, and the proprietors are smiling and accommodating. The farmers are getting to work nicely and hoping for a prosperous year. We have had much and frozen wheat, but in spite of best laid plans we are having a tough time to feed to "grass."

March behaves very well with us so far. Just one day, last Friday, has she acted non-vic. Rev. Snyder failed to put in his appearance at his appointment here March 9th and 10th. Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hardaway and Mrs. Blanford with Mrs. Z. T. Smith, Wednesday. These two ladies so seldom do such a thing that we felt disposed to look for an annual occurrence of the elements at Dr. Bob Smith in stopping with Z. T. Smith.

Dick Hardaway was around Saturday looking for marketable stock. He reports such a very scarce. Forrest Smith and family, of Guston, spent Sunday with the family of Adolphus Jordan. I thought the other day that perhaps the millennium was dawdling. I heard two "Lige Lories" admit that they and not others were guilty of a piece of extravagance.

Tonight, on account of the rain we are deprived both of the Epworth League meeting and a week of the college. My Blanford, Blanche Jolly, Mattie Lee Moorman, Oren Blanford, Roy Cain and Tom Lyddan spent Sunday evening with Lena Drury. I am told they had a delightful time, spending the evening in making recitations and singing. I heartily approve of the exercises, and commend that social gatherings generally take on a literary turn.

Sabbath School at half past nine was our only service March 10. Our Sunday School is decidedly improved both in attendance and interest since the very wet weather ceased. The topic today, The Rising Young Niles, was unusually interesting to us. Golden Rod.

Some folks will think that Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is no better than the common cough remedies which they try till they will know for themselves that it's the best on earth. For sale by Short & Haynes, Cloverport; Dr. R. H. McCallum, McCallum; M. Meyer & Co., Bewleyville; W. E. Brown, Irvington; J. P. Nichols, Gardist; Ky.; A. K. Morris, Big Spring, Ky.

Business is improving rapidly, so our enterprising merchants say. Mr. J. D. Babbage was a passenger on the East bound train Saturday. Mr. J. T. Jones and wife were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Shacklett Sunday.

Jack Trent of Brandenburg, spent Saturday night and Sunday with J. A. Wimp. G. J. Brown has been digging cellar and laying foundation for his new store house. Thomas Ditt, a prominent farmer below Brandenburg, was in town one day last week.

Dr. Payne, of Tip Top, Hardin county, was the guest of Mr. Tom Roberts Thursday night. We hear that Mr. Wm. Hill will build a store house and dwelling here in the near future. Fifty pupils were enrolled at the Ekron College last Monday. This looks like success.

Miss Mattias Mattingly returned from her home in the West and was the guest of Mrs. R. S. Dowell. Mr. H. Richardson came down from Louisville Saturday night, returning Sunday with his wife and baby. Mrs. J. D. Roberts and little Zada Nichols left for Jolly's Station Thursday to visit friends and relatives for several days.

Miss Rena Smith and brother Gene, of Rony Point, and Mr. Knott Payne, of Ekron, were the guests of Mr. J. Shacklett and sister Rena, Sunday. A very interesting program for the Literary net Friday night, "A mock breach of promise suit," all who wish to see something amusing, come out.

Professors Roberts and Courtney are making a great effort to establish a good school at this place and to say they are succeeding in putting a light they have enrolled fifty pupils. We will just say to those who wish a business course or prepare themselves for teaching will do well to correspond with the above named parties.

When the servant disappeared, Miss Bages turned the key in the lock and then carefully examined the walls, with a view to discovering if there were openings through which any eyes could peer into the room.

Miss Bages had been endeavoring to secure the information required as to the methods of the government in following the retreating Confederates ever since the request had been made in June previous.

It read as follows: WASHINGTON, Aug. 2, 1905. Banks here army the Benjamin act for your report...

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

One Owl Tip. "What's the line on that bird the minister is his cage."

"What makes you change your opinion about it?" "It's nervous from lack of exercise."

"For they give Owl Tip?" "They are doing it as a rule."

"His legs are grown weak, and his life is in a wobble."

"For they don't let him walk, and he'll never get his legs back."

VARIEITIES OF DUCKS.

Differences Between the Rouen, the Pekings and the Aylesbury.

There are three varieties of ducks that are kept for market. The others are mainly kept for their ornamental qualities.

The Pekings are the most common, and are of a pure white color, with the feathers of a creamy under color when the feathers are new.

The Aylesbury is a variety of duck that is distinguished by the color of their heads and feet, which are a light orange, and their bills, which are pinkish white.

The Rouen is a variety of duck that is distinguished by the color of their heads and feet, which are a light orange, and their bills, which are pinkish white.

This is a stock, wide-awake firm with ample capital and it is their purpose to put in a line of goods at Gaston to meet all demands of the trade. They have secured A. J. Thompson's business house. Henry Tate was over from Tolipon yesterday accompanied by his beautiful little daughter, Ethel, who is the subject of her subscription to the News, as everybody does or ought to do. He says his little daughter reads every line in it and she is the only child in the county who reads the paper and she is the best friend the News has. Mr. Tate is enjoying "Chickadee," he says, and enjoys it. "It's a true story founded on facts. I was in that army and remember many of the incidents related in the story."

DROWNED. UPTON. Miss Eneer Butler is sick. Cube King went to Bormeville this week. D. G. Stamp, of Melrose, was in the city Saturday. Blake Slaughter, of Campbellville, Ky., was in town Friday. Miss Leta King spent last week visiting in Hopkinsville. Geo. W. Painter went to Rowlett last week on business. Miss B. Hatfield, of Glendale, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Geo. Ripley. Miss Lela Wyatt spent a few days visiting friends and former pupils in Hopkinsville last week. Mrs. James E. Butler, of this place, and Mrs. W. K. Miss Bettie Garvin, an accomplished young lady and successful music teacher, Rowlett, is instructing an interesting class in this city. Lee Upton went to E-town and Louisville on business Tuesday and hasn't gotten back yet. If I have to go to hunt for him I'll go to Campbellville, Ky. Our school, under control of Professors Crume and Layman, is progressing very nicely, but owing to the extreme hard times they do not expect to enroll more than twenty pupils. Misses Cora Stamp and Emil Butler, two of Booneville's sweetest and most highly accomplished young ladies, accompanied by Professor Filkins, spent last Tuesday night in the city visiting Miss Lela Wyatt. Miss Nettie Hazard, of Campbellville, Ky., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Tewson, of this place, returned to her home several days ago. We regret to see Miss Hazard leave. Dittie Lee. A few weeks ago I asked the Editor to send me a few sample copies of the News. He did so and as a result about fourteen copies came here weekly, with others to follow. Our people know how to appreciate a good thing. At Priceville, in Hart county, last Thursday, Miss Sherley Thomas was married to Dean Gardner, also Miss Gardner and Mr. W. H. Brown, of Crayton county. Mr. Gardner is a thrifty young farmer, and his bride the daughter of ex-Postmaster Green B. Thomas, a prominent Republican in Hart county. Our school has just reached here of a tragedy that occurred recently at Glasgow Junction several miles south of here on this railroad. Robert Johns, formerly a student at Booneville, but very restless both as a business man and a citizen, and who made an assignment three or four months since, figured prominently in the affair. Report says that two young men, Johns and Shaw were intoxicated, got into a brawl and Shaw drew a knife and threatened to kill Johns whereupon the latter drew a pistol and shot his antagonist, who lived a few days and died from the wound. The same old story, run and ruin. Christian brothers, I ask you at whose hands will you be shot? You understand me, don't you? Let us think earnestly, soberly and prayerfully and act and vote accordingly to our best judgment. Dr. J. H. Butler was summoned to attend Court Edmonson, Ky., as a witness in behalf of the Commonwealth in a murder case. Some time ago some boys in Metairie county, named Ed. Taylor, Lewis Symphon, J. Symphon and Will Turner, the youngest of whom was about twenty years old, had a gudge against a man in the community. They procured whiskey, became intoxicated and went in the darkness of the night on the hunt of their man. When about five miles from home they stopped at the home of an old colored man, named Leonard and inquired for the party they were seeking and on being told that he knew nothing of the whereabouts of said party, they cursed and abused him, knocked him down and beat him with a club, and then returned to the place where they had killed him with a knife while he was down. The negro was harmless and respected by all who knew him. The party who were the cause of his death was hung several years since for murdering a whole family in Taylor county. A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for some months at a time the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by A. R. Fisher, Cloverport, Ky., and Kincheloe & Board, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Please to give notice at once to all concerned, and advise those that nothing which it was possible to do in their interest has been neglected here. Yours Truly, ED PORTER THOMPSON, State Superintendent. ANDREW BRIDGELL, R. G. S. Two of Cloverport's Pretty Girls. Miss Lafayette Lalleid, of Cloverport, who is the guest of Mr. L. Smith, has charmed all who have met her not only by her vivacious and winning manner, but by her rare and beautiful voice.
