Microcosm

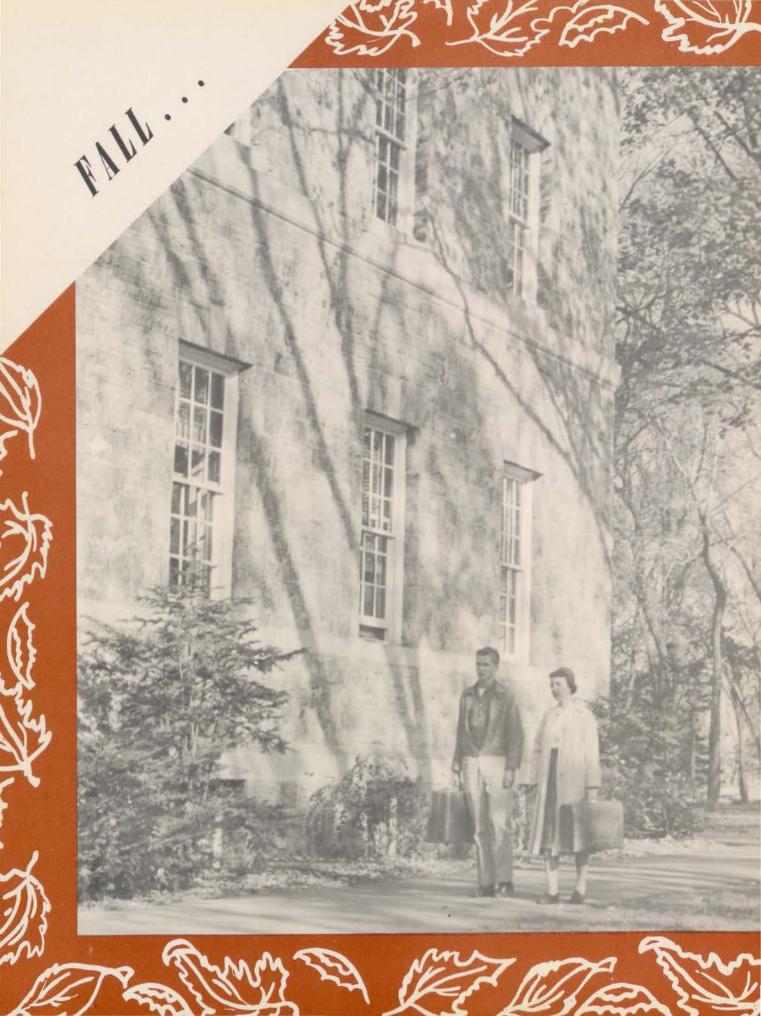

On October 6, Dickinson College lost one of its most faithful and well-liked faculty members, Dr. Ernest A. Vuillenmier.

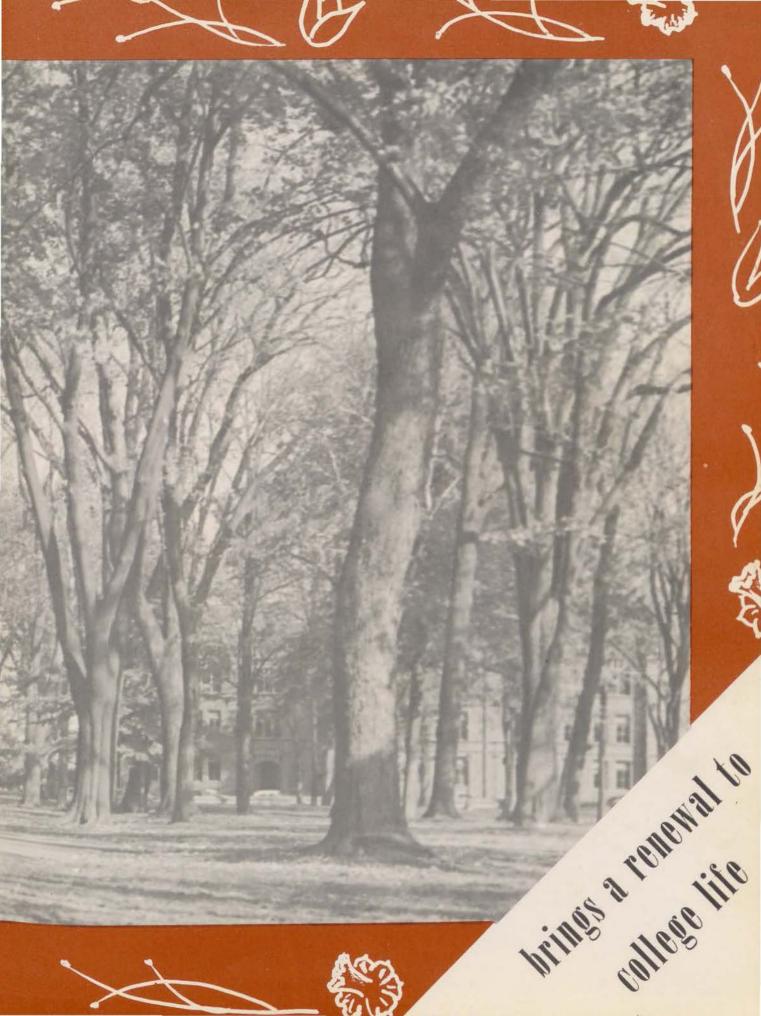

Dr. Vuilleumier came to the campus in 1920 as Chairman of the Department of Chemistry. During the years he also served as Dean of the Junior Class, Dean of the Freshman Class, and Dean of the Gollege.

Those who knew him best will remember his quiet sense of humour, his sincerity and his love for working with his students. All who attended the dedication ceremony of the C. Scott Althouse Science Building will remember his pride in this dream come true as he announced the contents of the cornerstone.

Dr. Vuilleumier will live on in the memories of many Dickinsonians everywhere as a symbol of devoted service not only as a scientist and educator, but as a friend.

Because of this, we dedicate the 1959 Microcosm to the memory of Dr. Ernest A. Vuilleumier.

Carlisle's great white way.

We discover Carlisle . . .

"Are you 21?"

Sunday morning brings quiet relief from the weekend's riotous turmoil.

Many a future Einstein broke his test tube in these hallowed halls.

Morgan, site of many a water fight.

"In Carlisle, absolutely everyone reads the DICKINSONIAN."

Friday we are informed by the

. . DICKINSONIAN

"I've got a deadline to meet.' The familiar cry of the faithful reporter will be easily recognized by anyone who has spent any time near a member of the Dickinscnian staff. With one hand on the pulse of the campus and the other on a typewriter, they reflect the attitudes, opinions, gripes, and praise of the campus which constitutes its reading public.

On the printed pages of every edition is found news coverage of every phase of campus life. Important events are noted in full; the fraternities make comments to the campus; sports and sports personalities are carefully analyzed; and the gentle banter of familiar issues is ever-present.

The editorial board, which this year included John Curley, Nancy Cross, and Janet Parkins, guides the paper by high journalistic standards, as week by week the Dicksonian serves the campus in the best interests of all concerned. Through 87 years of publication this paper has earned a place in the finest traditions of the campus and of the American free press.

The dickinsonian editorial staff — l. to r.: A. Hooff, N. Cross, B. Bohi, C. Benner, J. Floyd, J. Curley.

RESERVE OFFICER'S TRAINING CORPS

The present Corps of Cadets was inaugurated when, in 1952, a General Military Science unit of the Army Reserve Officer's Training Corps was established on the Dickinson Campus. The four-year program is voluntary, and those students who fulfill its requirements, including a summer camp for six weeks, are commissioned as Second Lieutenants in either the Reserves or the Regular Army.

This year saw the activation of a Battle Group, replacing the traditional regimental organization. This has been subdivided into two task forces of three units each, including four Rifle Companies, the Drum and Bugle Corps, and the Pershing Rifles. Leadership is provided by a cadre of nine men under Lt. George E. Deshon.

PEP BAND

It's the campus leader of college spirit, the biggest fan at game time, and the source of much pleasure for every college student — it's a college band!

This year marked the debut of a new campus organization, the Dickinson College Pep Band. The new Pep Band, under the leadership of its president and director, Doug Wert, not only accompanied the cheering crowds at the college's home football games, but also added an extra spark of enthusiasm to the pep rallies.

The seventeen musicians in this present band hope for an even more successful forthcoming year, by having the means with which to extend their program and perform at the various away athletic events.

CHEERLEADERS

These pert, peppy coeds in their familiar red and white outfits are present at all Dickinson football and basketball games to lead Red Devil rooters in spirited songs and yells. Always on the alert for new ways to strengthen school spirit, these girls are constantly active in organizing pep rallies, introducing new cheers, and instructing prospective cheerleaders before the annual tryouts. To climax the football season, a party is given for the team and faculty enthusiasts. This year, on a trial basis, a squad of six freshman men were introduced, bringing added spirit and novelty stunts that were well received. This years' squad, under captain Helen Kollas's leadership, included Greta Weaver, Lucy Purvis, Judy Graham, Joan Spire, Mary Lloyd Thomson, and newcomers from the freshman class, Dot Ruth, Barbie Fogg and Liz Cavanagh.

The 1958 Dickinson football squad was the finest Dickinson team in many years. Superbly coached by Don Seibert and his capable staff the Red Devils ended the season with four wins and four losses.

Traveling to Lancaster for the opener against Franklin and Marshall, the inexperienced Red Devils played a strong first period against the tougher Diplomats. Dickinson's lack of experience finally proved disastrous as Franklin and Marshall's highly trained squad shattered Dickinson's hope of an opening game victory with a substantial 32 to 0 score.

On Parents Day the Red Devils encountered Haverford College. Dickinson appeared to be a much improved ball club as they consistently outplayed Haveford throughout the game. However due to penalties and fumbles the Red Devils suffered their second defeat 14 to 0.

On October 18th, Dickinson traveled to Susquehanna for their third encounter of the year. Susquehanna completely dominated the first half by rolling up a 32 to 0 score. In the second half, Dickinson found the right combination as their offense scored their first touchdown of the year, a pass from Dave Wachter to Ray Cromer. Adding another touchdown in the fourth quarter, Dickinson outscored Susquehanna 14 to 7 in the second half. Although Dickinson lost their third straight game, 39 to 14, the scoring in the second half marked the turning point of the season.

The following week Dickinson returned home to face a strong Wagner eleven. Wagner returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown. In spite of this early lead, Dickinson surged back to defeat the visitor 20 to 18 in a thrill packed game. The win, the first for Dickinson in seventeen straight games was highlighted by the long runs of Roger Smith and "Chip" Skladany and a seventy yard pass play from Dave Wachter to his brother Bob. Guard Lee Shipman saved the game by bringing down a Wagner end who had broken

On November 1st, Dickinson continued on their winning ways by downing a determined Allegheny team 18 to 12. John Quirk sparked the Dickinson offense with two touchdowns. This victory was an indication of the brand of football that Dickinson was capable of playing.

Before a large Homecoming crowd the Red Devils clashed with the Wilkes Colonels. A determined Dickinson squad was able to push across the first touchdown of the game in the waning seconds of the first half. Another touchdown in the final seconds of the game clinched a 12 to 0 shutout for the Red Devils. This extended the Dickinson winning streak to three games, the longest since 1949.

The next week the Dickinson eleven journeyed to Baltimore to face a strong Johns Hopkins team. The underdog Red Devils displayed their determination to win by taking an early lead on a field goal by Roger Smith. Both teams displayed great skill and desire as the game remained close through its entirety, but the Johns Hopkins team proved too strong for the Red Devils, defeating them 25 to 19. Even in defeat the Seibert men played a great game.

Six seniors (Lee Shipman, Tom DeMarino, Dave Wachter, Robert Faunce, Thomas Moore, and Jack Stafford) played their last intercollegiate football game against Ursinus. This game was Dickinson's all the way as they rolled up 34 points against and 6 for Ursinus. This was the first time since 1954 that a Dickinson team has scored more than 30 points in one game. Fine line play was exhibited by Lee Shipman, Tom DeMarino and Jack Stafford. Dave Wachter superbly directed the Red Devil backfield with fine ball handling and excellent passing.

Receiving special recognition for their outstanding performances during the season were Tom DeMarino, most valuable lineman, and Dave Wachter, voted most valuable back. Lee Shipman was honored by his teammates by being selected honorary team captain.

One of Dickinson's most active organizations, Mermaid Players, produces three well known plays each year. This year, under the direction of Mr. David Brubaker, the organization worked hard to give outstanding performances of "The Fan", a comedy by Goldini, and Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night".

It must not be forgotten that the acting, although a very important part of any play, is only one phase of a theatrical production. Various students build the sets, take charge of lighting effects, and rent the proper costumes. Others assume responsibility for all the groundwork necessary to stage a play—the collection and organization of proper-

To be eligible for membership in the Mermaid Players, a student must have worked in some capacity on two plays. By serving on various committees for the plays, as well as by acting in them, points towards membership are acquired. Some outstanding members of the organization become eligible to be elected to Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatics fraternity.

In the spring, members of the group organize to produce the freshman plays. Gould awards are given to the outstanding male and female thespians of the year.

In its second year of collegiate competition, the cross-country team, coached by Joe DuCharme, continued the fine record established by last year's undefeated squad. It compiled a fine record of five wins and one loss, and placed second among small colleges in the Middle Atlantics. Its victories included three wins by perfect scores over Albright, Pennsylvania Military College and Gettysburg and others over Franklin and Marshall and Elizabethtown; the lone defeat was at the hands of Juniata.

The spirited Harriers were lead by Junior Howard Maat, who placed first in all six dual meets and set three course records. Sophomore Jim Bartoli ran as second man and captured many valuable points in that position. The great depth shown by the squad was given by Nelson Lebo, Norm Keyes, Bill Steckley, Marshall Huey, Don Davis, and Jerry Arters.

The Devil harriers are to be congratulated for the fine record they compiled. The lack of experience in this relatively new sport at Dickinson was made up for by a lot of hard work, a great spirit and will to win, and a fine coaching job. The squad is composed completely of underclassmen and the prospects for some excellent seasons in the near future are very bright indeed.

The finish; Maat wins his seventh straight.

MILITARY BALL

On the 24th of October the Alumni Gymnasium was filled with the sounds of Buddy Williams' Orchestra as couples danced at the annual Military Ball. This year's gala fete, given in honor of Dr. Edel, featured decorations based on the theme of the modern space age. Huge rockets were stationed at the doorways which were flanked by space ships scattered throughout the gymnasium. The height of the ceiling was lowered by a display of colorful flags, with our own red, white, and blue dominating. Promptly at 10:25 P. M. the Honor Guard entered and presented Dickinson's "Little Colonel" for 1958, Miss Marcia Dornin, and her attendants. After rendering a short address in honor of the queen, Dr. "Red" Malcolm crowned the queen. With every cadet in his uniform and his date in her ball gown, the un-civilian atmosphere was quite fitting for the D-son Mil-Ball.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council was established in order to further "cooperation and a similarity of action" among the ten national men's fraternities on campus and to "strengthen the bond of union between the college and fraternity men." Membership consists of the president and highest-ranking junior from each house. One of its most important functions is the making and enforcing of rushing rules. The organization also sponsors an annual Interfraternity Weekend, freshman dances, Homecoming displays, and is in charge of crowning the Homecoming Queen. An extensive interfraternity athletic program is also run by the council. In addition, the outstanding player in each varsity sport is presented with an award by the council. Each year the council sends two delegates to the National Interfraternity Convention. Under the vigorous leadership of President Bill Smith, the council has done admirable work in fulfilling its aims this year.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council is responsible for regulating the activities of the women's fraternities, for promoting understanding between the college and the fraternities, and for encouraging scholarship. Each of the five women's fraternities is represented on the Council by two voting members.

In order to promote a better understanding of the role of the women's fraternities, and to foster increased inter-fraternity cooperation, the Council annually sponsors many worthwhile activities. The annual "Doll Dance" and a Christmas Party are both held for the benefit of underprivileged children. The Council also sponsors such social activities as "Panhell Weekend," a dance for freshmen held in cooperation with the Inter-Fraternity Council, and a series of rushing "Get-Acquainted" teas held for freshmen and upperclass women. Other activities include the sale of flowers on Parents' Weekend and Mothers' Day, and the presentation of a scholarship award.

It is through these activities that the goals of the National Panhellenic are reached and that the needs of the local fraternities are met. Standing: Dean Hann, B. Wilson, C. McCarty, H. Ryder, C. Wherly, D. Phipps, J. Beck. Seated: C. Smith, C. Culley, S. Hollister, N. Weber, M. Dornin, J. Ward.

Alpha Chi Rho

The aim of Alpha Chi Rho is to secure a membership of the highest standard, thoroughly homogeneous in quality, and permanent in its allegiance and effort for the fraternity.

The fraternity's ideals are best expressed in our motto, "Be Men", which inspired the founding of the fraternity in 1895 and its subsequent establishment on the Dickinson campus in 1905.

Scholarship is Alpha Chi Rho's primary consideration. Phi Beta continually rates high scholastically among the fraternities on campus. Socially, AXP has maintained its reputation for staging novel dances, including the Monte Carlo dance and the Spring Formal. Alpha Chi Rho, with its proud past, looks forward to a bright future for the fraternity and the college.

Beta Theta Pi

The Alpha Sigma Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded on the Dickinson campus in 1879.

The social calendar began with open houses for the freshman women, and included parents weekend, the Midwinter Formal, Spring Formal, Mother's Day festivities, and a party for underprivileged children. Throughout the year, many other successful parties and dances were held.

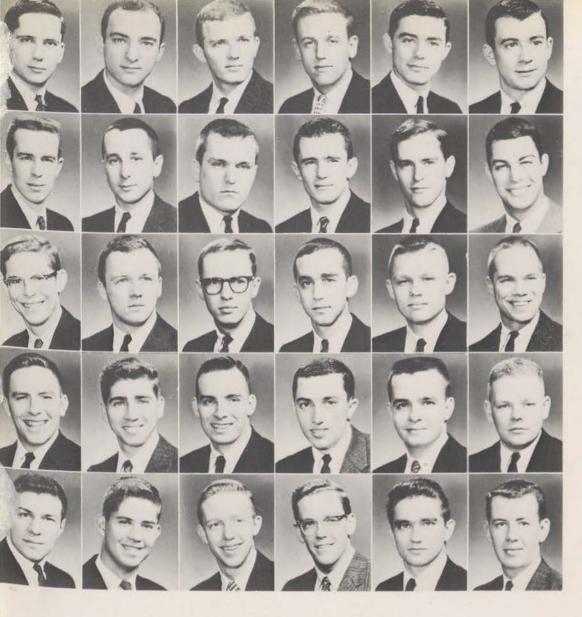

Alpha Sigma was active and strong in inter-varsity and varsity athletic competition. The fraternity also takes pride in the number of Betas who are leaders and participants in extra-curricular activities.

Intellectual achievement, fidelity, mutual support, loyalty, and assistance are the principles by which the Betas live. These, along with its other accomplishments, make Alpha Sigma an outstanding contributor to the Dickinson College campus.

Kappa Sigma

Beginning with five members in 1902, Kappa Sigma reached a new high this year with a membership of forty-six brothers.

Growth means progress, and many new additions were made to the house. New furniture and an outdoor barbecue headed the list of improvements. Plans were made for a new addition to the house, and building was to begin this year.

Within the Fraternity and on the campus, Kappa Sigs blazed forth with awards and activity participation. The pledge class won the Phi Beta Kappa Award for scholarship. The Kappa Sigs participated in all activities, and several brothers held down positions of leadership. A healthy share of social activities filled out another successful year for the brothers of Kappa Sigma.

Phi Delta Theta

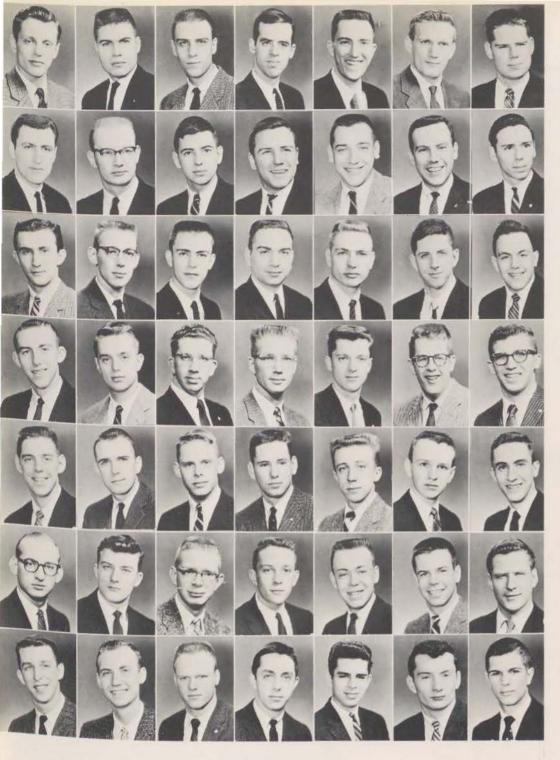

In its seventy-three years on campus, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity has successfully exemplified its three basic principles: friendship among its brothers, attainment of a high plane of scholarship, and the achievement of a high level of individual morality.

Some of the highlights of the social program are the Annual Pajama Dance, the Pledge Formal, and the Spring Formal. Interspersed among these events are numerous open houses and teas, highlighted by Sunday afternoon jazz concerts.

The chapter has received such awards as the President's Cup, inter-fraternity sports trophies, and awards for skits and song fests. In conclusion, the brothers of Phi Delta Theta are proud of what they consider to be one of the best fraternities on campus.

Frequently the top scholastic fraternity, the House balances its academic achievements with value full and well-rounded social program that makes a Phi Ep weekend one to long remember.

Leadership in many organizations and participation in virtually all activities is part of the Phi Ep tradition. In addition, the brothers of Iota are active participants in all the varsity sports.

Phi Epsilon Pi is confident that its future role will be both fruitful and rewarding to the brothers and the campus.

Phi Kappa Psi

The Pennsylvania Zeta chapter of Phi Kappa Psi was established at Dickinson in 1859. The members of Phi Psi have distinguished themselves as leaders in campus activities ranging from Student Senate committees to outstanding contributions to the athletic teams of Dickinson.

The primary desire of Phi Psi is to instill in its members the values of fraternity life. The fraternity develops personality and promotes mutual understanding. A few of the other attributes of Phi Psi are that it induces cooperative living, increases social poise, and encourages scholarship and interests. Thus, the men who go forth from Phi Psi are adequately prepared for their tasks in life.

Phi Kappa Sigma

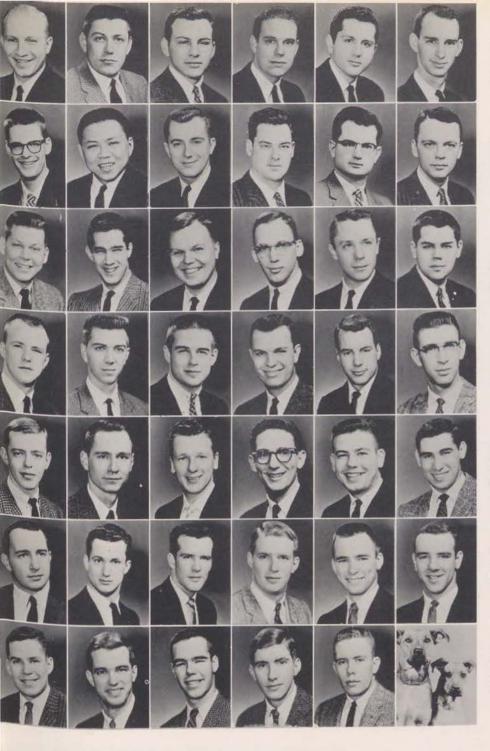

In 1854 Phi Kappa Sigma became the first fraternity at Dickinson. Since that time Epsilon's philosophy has always been that a devoted and united house can bring out the full abilities of its members for both the college and the fraternity. Good pledge classes help the Phi Kaps remain among the leaders of the college fraternities year after year.

Epsilonians are active in many phases of campus life, most notably athletics, literary publications, and dramatics. The many positions which Phi Kaps held in the various campus honorary societies demonstrates their qualities of leadership.

Through a continued spirit of group cooperation the members of Phi Kappa Sigma will continue to hold their high standing at Dickinson.

Founded at Dickinson in 1890, the Sigma Phi chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is proud of its history. Its men are in positions of authority in such varied activities as the Dickinsonian, Hornbook, Campus Chest, Skull and Key, Mermaid Players and Alpha Psi Omega. Its men also participate on the varsity cross-country, track, and wrestling teams. There is no one on campus who does not know of SAE.

The members of the chapter are also proud of their reputation for conducting themselves as responsible adults, and of the varied social functions which they sponsor throughout the year.

various campus groups such as the Student Senate, Hornbook, ODK, International Relations Club, the Ravens Claw, Pi chapter this year has won the IF Football Trophy for the third consecutive year, and the Kronenberg Trophy for the fifth year.

Thus are the aims of the fraternity: Promotion of knowledge, the advancement of culture, and the building of character, maintained.

Chi Omega

Chi Omega contributes to campus life through its ideals of scholarship, participation in activities, and development of sisterhood and individual personalities.

Delta Chapter's social service program this year included a bake sale to raise funds for charitable purposes, a Christmas party with the Phi Psis for Carlisle orphans, and a song party for the ladies of the Lydia Baird Home.

On the busy Chi O social schedule were the pledge tea and formal, an honorary dance for the seniors, a party for the alumnae and patronesses, and coffee hours with the faculty. The members also entertained a visitor from the National Fraternity. Get-togethers with the other fraternities such as Monte Carlo Night, a shoe shining party, picnics at Pine Grove, and a Japanese dinner added variety to another succesful year.

Phi Mu

Phi Mu was chartered on the Dickinson campus in 1919. Through the years it has grown in strength and character to become one of the top Phi Mu chapters in the country.

Striving to uphold the ideals of love, honor and truth, the chapter endeavors throughout the year to participate in all phases of campus and community life.

Continued support of the United Brethren Children's Home in Carlisle by means of weekly visits and parties constitutes Phi Mu's main social service project.

The chapter's social activities were highlighted in the fall season by a fraternity house-cleaning party and a faculty Halloween party. Later in the year came the Pledge Formal, the Pledge Tea, the Senior Banquet, and many informal bridge parties and dinners in the rooms.

Pi Beta Phi

The fall season was a busy one for Pi Phi. The tea for Pi Phi sponsors, desserts for the fraternities and post-game gathering of alumnae during Homecoming enlivened autumn.

Winter was ushered in by the Christmas dinner and a party with Beta Theta Pi for Carlisle's underprivileged children. The highlight of the season was the Winter Formal, given in honor of the Seniors.

In the Spring, much activity centered around the new pledges. They were introduced to the campus at the Pledge Tea and Pledge Formal, and their initiation was celebrated with a dinner at the Molly Pitcher. The undergraduates' farewell to the Seniors marked the close of another chapter in the history of the Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of the Pi Beta Phi.

Zeta Tau Alpha

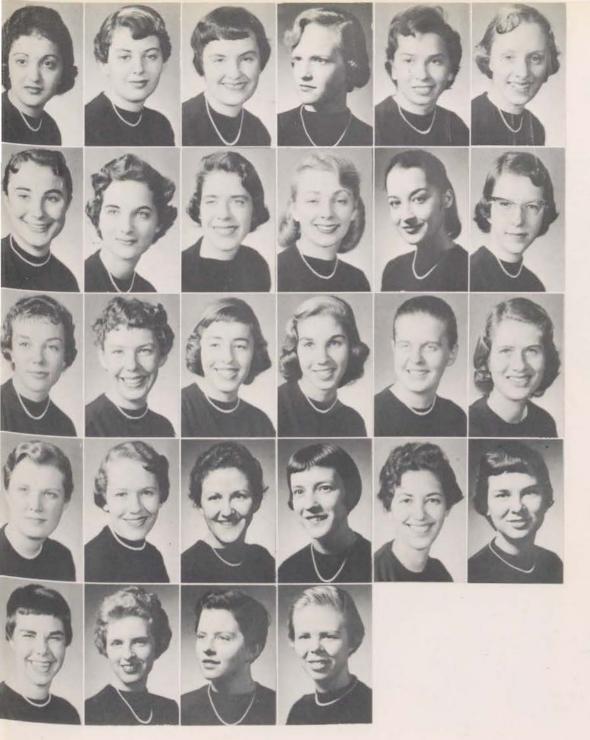

The members of Zeta Tau Alpha wear the crown and shield with pride. These women are active in every phase of college activity, and the fraternity as a whole plays its part in campus life.

The highlights of the fraternity social season are the two annual formals. The winter formal honors the seniors; the spring formal honors the pledges. Scattered throughout the year are dinners, breakfasts in the rooms and various functions with other fraternities.

The fraternity is also of service to the larger community. Each year with Phi Delta Theta it holds a Christmas party for the underprivileged children of Carlisle. The proceeds from the annual Zeta songfest go to a worthy charity chosen by the fraternity.

Sui Generis

Sui Generis was founded at Dickinson College in 1956 and is the only local women's fraternity on campus. The purpose of this organization is to promote friendship and foster the ideals of good will, cooperation, and service on the campus and in the community. For the past two years Sui Generis has sponsored the care of a needy child. Recent problems that have been undertaken are the designing of a new pledge pin and the adding of new furnishings to the rooms in Biddle House. This year's social functions included the Winter Formal, an Open House, a Christmas Party, and a Pledge Formal. Sui Generis is pleased to add a third and very successful year to her records.

THE MIDWINTER BALL

Dickinson College officially ended the first semester's social season at the Mid-Winter Ball on December 12, in the Alumni Gymnasium. Decorations, provided by the social committee, included five-feet snow men, greens, candle-lighted tables, and glittering snowflakes. The couples danced to the music of Lester Lanin and his orchestra. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Mid-Winter Ball queen elected by the couples at the dance. Shirley Bahrs, representing Phi Delta Theta, was crowned queen by Willis Coston, Chairman of the Social Committee, and Dickinson's own "Mac" gave a toast in her honor. Members of the court were Sally Clarkson, representing Beta Theta Pi; Joan Yaverbaum, Phi Epsilon Pi; Sally Christman, Phi Kappa Sigma; Dottie Gayner, Kappa Sigma; Betsy Bardsley, Phi Kappa Psi; Eleanor Taft, Theta Chi; Ann Hooff, Alpha Chi Rho; Priscilla Lory, Sigma Chi; Joan Doerr, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Marge Crowley, Independents.

Social Season In High Gear

THE NATIONAL SYMPHONY under the direction of Howard Mitchell opened the Dickinson College cultural affairs season for 1958-1959.

CULTURAL AFFAIRS

This year, as in every year since its formation in 1952, the Cultural Affairs Committee has been dedicated to bringing to our campus enlightening and entertaining programs. With the use of funds obtained from the student activities fund, the committee of six faculty members and seven students has done an excellent job of providing entertainment of general interest to Dickinson College.

The programs presented this year for the enjoyment of the Dickinson community were the National Symphony Orchestra, directed by Howard Mitchell; John Ciardi, a poet; a dramatic reading by Vincent Price; Mildred Dilling, a harpist; Phillippe Entremont, a pianist; Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tuiti", presented in English; Societa Corelli, an Italian orchestra; and the Heidelberg University Chorus on its first American tour.

BASKETBALL

The 1958-59 edition of the Dickinson College cagers came through a tough season with a respectable six and seven win and loss record as of February the first. Coached by Joe DuCharme and lead by returning lettermen John Valenti, Joe Elinsky, and Ray Cromer, and aided by the services of Neil Paxson, and Freshman Gene Becker, the squad made up for a definite lack of height with a superior hustling game. Coach DuCharme felt that the team had a good offensive scoring punch but was definitely handicapped by a height disadvantage.

The season was highlighted by several fine showings. On the home court the team generally played superior ball and turned in several thrillers. The initial game of the season saw a hustling Devil team outplay a slow Swarthmore squad by a score of 63-49. After successive defeats at the hands of Albright and Navy, the team returned to the home court to even its record at two and two by outscoring a good Wilkes squad, 96-74, and Ursinus, 72-63. Two fast moving teams, Elizabethtown and Lebanon Valley, defeated the Devils before Susquehanna fell as a victim in a sloppy game, 84-55. Franklin and Marshall was then defeated in a hot-tempered thriller, 73-71. Successive defeats at the hands of Gettysburg and Pennsylvania Military College followed this game before the Devils could regain their winning ways in conquering Johns Hopkins, 75-64. Moravian then beat the Devils on the home court in one of the most exciting games in recent years by the score of 75-71.

The team was lead by Captain John Valenti and Joe Elinsky who shared scoring honors. Showing a great all around hustle and great potential was freshman Gene Becker, who averaged over ten points a game. Junior Neil Paxson, and Sophomore Ray Cromer rounded out the scoring punch of the first five. Reserves seeing action and adding depth to the team were Bob Shapley, By Quann, Neil Lousnes, Mike Hermann, John Hardin, and Tom Ferguson. Only two of the members of the squad will be lost in the coming season. With a development of potential, it seems plausible to expect an improving squad in the 1959-60 season.

BASKETBALL

Plagued by injuries, strong competition, and scholastic and activity conflicts, the 1958-1959 J. V. courtsters were able to establish a mediocre record of three wins and six losses at the three-quarter season mark. The season started with a loss to Albright, but then consecutive victories were posted over the Carlisle War College and Ursinus. After succumbing to E-Town and Lebanon Valley, F&M afforded the Jr. Red Devils a small measure of sweet revenge in light of last year's 20-point victory by the Diplomats. The second half of the campaign has brought very powerful opposition in Gettysburg, P.M.C. and Moravian, with the subsequent result being a defeat in each case.

Upperclassmen Herman and Johnson, and Freshmen Van Wickle, Hardin, Crum, Radcliffe, and Thomas have proved to be capable performers on the hardwood. With their present abilities being indicative of potentialities, the next year's Varsity squad should receive substantial aid from these men.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The class basketball tournament, completed before the Christmas vacation, was won by the Sophomores, last year's runner-up team. In the initial games the Freshmen and Sophomores proved to be the strongest teams, and they faced each other in the clinching game of the tournament. The serious Sophomores, mindful of their volleyball defeat, settled down to methodic shooting, passing, and defending against the powerful Freshmen, winning decisively, 37-14.

Interfraternity basketball began in March, after the rushing period. Five teams, representing all the women's fraternity groups, participated in the tournament. Phi Mu, the defending champions, made up for their loss of seniors by the addition of some sharpshooting freshmen, and again captured the interfraternity cup.

Players for the Red and White team were chosen from the class teams and participated in playdays at Susquehanna, Wilson and Penn State. The Dickinson team was host to several other schools in volley ball and basketball playdays during March.

SWIMMING

The Red Devil Mermen appear to be well on their way to another undefeated season, having won their first five meets and in the process soundly defeating the two teams which were expected to prove the most troublesome, Delaware and Gettysburg.

An important factor in the team's fine showing this year was the addition of an excellent group of freshman natators, including John Talley and Lee Sharpe who both smashed school records in their events, the 200 yard butterfly and the 200 yard backstroke respectively. Other freshmen helping to make the team's future look bright are: Mann and Kopf, both swimming the 220 and 440, Holston in the breast stroke, Gallit in the butterfly, and Whitesell and Rilling, two very promising divers.

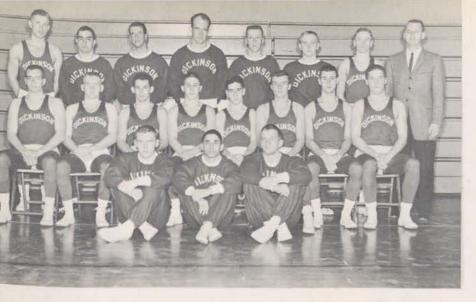

Despite the instrumental part the frosh have played, however, the upperclassmen deserve a great deal of the credit for all the D-son victories. Such outstanding veterans First Row: The Eavenson boys. as Jon Kulp, Dave Ayres, Willis Coston, and Ed Mulligan have continued their fine work and have lost none of last season's winning form.

Dickinson has already firmly established itself as one of the finest teams in the area and, under Coach Dave Eavenson, looks forward to many more victorious seasons.

Wrestling, in its second year as an intercollegiate sport at Dickinson, showed amazing improvement over the previous year. With almost the entire team returning from the 1957-58 season and a fine crop of freshmen, Coach Ream was able to form a strong team.

In the opening match of the season, Dickinson faced a strong Pennsylvania Military College team. The Devil grapplers completely surprised P.M.C. matmen by gaining pins in the first four weight classes and continuing on to win the match, 23-8. Decisive victories such as this one followed throughout the season.

As a new sport, squash is fast becoming a popular game at Dickinson. This is shown by greater enthusiasm and participation.

While having a 1-2-1 record this season with two remaining meets, player-coach Kit Spahr feels that the team should better its record of last year. With the return of players Art Duel, Jack Heppenstall, Don Test, and the addition of freshman Sackett Cook and Steve Warner, the squash team displays more experience and ability than in previous years. If the game continues in its popularity, it should become a varsity sport in the near future.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

This year the Women's Athletic Association sponsored a singles and doubles tennis tournament. The girls played regular match rules and scheduled their games on afternoons and weekends. Started late in the fall, the tournament had to be continued until spring because of inclement weather. The doubles matches turned up three good teams in Nancy Cross—Betsy Wylie, Margaret O'Connor—Ann

Wellington, and Dot Ruth—Judy Woolford. Singles brought forth other good players such as Polly Gordon, Lynda Bingaman, Sandra Deichler, and Barbara Miller. Having more entrants, the singles took longer to play, but at printing, it looked like a finals contest between Nancy Cross and Betsy Wylie, seeded one and two respectively in the tournament.

Slam it!

Co-captains of the girls' varsity field hockey team at Dickinson this year were Ann Lemkau and Sue Graden. The team, made up chiefly of freshmen and spohomores, played games against Elizabethtown, Gettysburg, Shippensburg, and the Blue Ridge Hockey Club. Although the defensive playing was good, the team was weak on the offensive, and so did not win any of their games.

The junior varsity set a better record; they won the Shippensburg game 2-0, tied Elizabethtown 1-1,

The spirit of the team and their playing has shown improvement from last year. A combination of more frequent practice, a team strengthened by more veteran players, and the possibility of a hockey field of our own in the near future all point to a better season next year.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball, as reflected again in this year's tournament, is proving to be one of the most exciting sports offered by the Women's Athletic Association. Each class was represented by one team which met each of the other teams once during the season. The outcome of the tournament was hard to predict even to the last few minutes of the final match. A match consists of the best two out of three games. In this climaxing match, the seniors, who were champions two years ago, were pitted against the sophomores, defending champions. The strong senior team, captained by Joyce Klansek, defeated the sophomores in the first game but the losers snapped back to tie the second game. At the end of the first half of a six-minute playoff, the score was still tied, 2-2, but the seniors bore down and gained three points to win the game. The tremendous spirit and enthusiasm displayed at all the games, but particularly at this one, was overwhelming. The juniors finished the season in third place while the freshmen, who showed great promise, were fourth.

BOWLING

An opportunity to participate in individual sports is offered each year when the Women's Athletic Association again opens the bowling season. Teams are organized on a class, not fraternity, basis, and anyone who is interested may participate. The five or six girls who comprise the team meet to practice at the local Y.W.C.A. alleys for several weeks before the playoff tournament in April. Last spring, the juniors won the bowling trophy for the second year in a row. Janet Matuska served as captain of the winning team, and Sally Hollister was high scorer for the group. This year the juniors are again favored to win, but if the sophomores, who forfeited their games last year, form a strong team, or if the freshmen organize, they could challenge the juniors' supremacy.

Winter Brings Entertainment

WILLIAM WITTING Director

Again this year, as in the last six years, the Dickinson College Men's Glee Club under its able director, William Witting, has presented the entire campus with many fine hours of exciting, inspiring, and pleasant music. This year the organization is composed of forty men. The student-directed organization sings not only college songs, but renders spiritual, folk, and show tunes as well. In addition to its performances at alumni gatherings, meetings, spring and fall concerts, and special affairs, the Glee Club is an outstanding representative of Dickinson College at several off-campus appearances, including concerts at Hood, Goucher, Shippensburg, and Wilson colleges as well as a full tour during the spring vacation.

The officers for this year's Glee Club are William Witting, studentdirector; Len Wood, President; Newt Olewiler, Vice-President; Dick Steege, Secretary, and Ed Gardner, Treasurer.

Men's Glee Club

The Dickinson College Choir provides pleasure and entertainment not only for students on the Dickinson Campus, but also many fortunate persons for whom it performs on tours and other off-campus engagements. Approximately one hundred students contribute their talents and efforts to create this musical entertainment. Within the larger organization, there is a sixty-voice Concert Choir which performs on tours.

This year, under the able direction of Mr. Jack Jarrett, the choir has participated in college chapels, in the Christmas Concert and in the Founder's Day Concert. During the fall semester, the Concert Choir traveled to Scranton. During the Christmas season, this group gave a concert at Waynesboro, and participated in a television show at Harrisburg. Another tour was made between semesters.

Along with the orchestra, two cantatas were presented under the combined leadership of Mr. Jarrett and Dr. Ultan. The Choir also joined with the college drama department in presenting a musical comedy.

THE DICKINSON FOLLIES

Each year the students of Dickinson College are given an opportunity to display their talents and creativity in the Dickinson Follies. The shows are written and produced entirely by students from the initial inspiration to the actual performance.

This year's show, "Katy Did", is the first adaptation. The plot was adapted from Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer", and placed in a contemporary setting. The triumph of feminine ingenuity was set off in an unparalleled manner by the timeless characterizations of various social types.

The outstanding personalities of Follies 1959 include the members of the executive committee, composed of Susan Murray, director; Dave McGahey, producer; Helen Kollas, secretary; and Bill Mull, treasurer. The girl Friday of the committee, known officially as Executive Assistant, was Sandra Long. George Boblets was Financial Advisor to the Follies. The music was written and coordinated by Ken Hitchner and the lyrics were by AI Sidle. Bill Whitting did the musical arrangements and the choral direction.

The Follies are fast becoming institutionalized. Each year the executives, the cast, and the crew all strive to create a better and more memorable show than the one before.

AQUACADE

The fine quality of the water ballet presented in the Aquacade has made this annual presentation one of the best received student productions on our campus. This year's show told the story of the evolution of jazz, through the integrated use of color, modern costumes, and contemporary music. Requiring not only the skill of the swimmers, the production also utilizes talents of costume design and making set design, direction, lighting, and advertising. The varied routines of the show are written by the students. This show features various types of water ballet and synchronized swimming. After months of preparation, the talents of the approximately sixty-five Dickinson students participating were blended this spring into the seventh annual Aquacade.

Religion in Life Week has become an annual occasion not only at Dickinson, but at many other colleges and universities all over the country. This year's program at Dickinson was headed by Jim Kenney and Carol McCarty. The theme of the week, "Religion at the Crossroads," was approached from the standpoint of the significance of religion to the nation, the family, the college, and the individual.

The week began on Sunday evening with a reception at President Edel's house at which faculty and students were given the opportunity to meet the visiting religious leaders. The leaders representing their respective faiths were Dr. John Oliver Nelson and Dr. Fredrick Harris, Father Neil J. McEleney and Father Charles W. Paris, and Rabbi Samuel H. Berkowitz and Rabbi Gerald I. Wolpe.

Throughout the week a series of chapel programs, seminars, and private interviews were provided to arouse the student's interest in the importance of religion in his life. The special events of this year's program included a musical program presented by the Men's Glee Club and the Chamber Singers, a religious art display in Bosler, and the presentation of the one act drama: "A Sleep of Prisoners" by the Alpha Psi Omega.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

This year the Dickinson College Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship has been one of the important religious groups on campus. From the example that these leaders have set, others on the Dickinson campus have taken note and have been aided in forming their own religious views.

Membership has been open to all students and faculty members who are interested in deepening and strengthening their spiritual life by the study of the Bible and by prayer. Through their strength, the members have attempted to help all students discover God's role for them, at home or abroad. Their basis of Faith resides in the following:

(1) the unique Divine inspiration, entire trustworthiness and authority of the Bible!

(2) the Deity of Jesus Christ;

(3) the necessity and efficacy of the substitutionary death of Jesus Christ for the redemption of the world and the historical fact of His bodily resurrection;

(4) the presence and the power of the Holy Spirit in the work of regeneration;

(5) the expectation of the personal return of Jesus Christ.

The specific activities of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship consist of weekly Wednesday night meetings, Bible studies in the dormitories, daily prayer meetings, and the annual conference for the area colleges.

Literary Bulletin

The Literary Bulletin is published with the objective of providing an incentive for a vigorous interest in literature and art among the student body. The Bulletin accomplishes its purpose by advocating analytical papers which reveal the students' opinions on specific subjects. Each edition presents a different central idea which serves as a theme. The articles, which are written on topics relating to this central theme, deal with topics ranging from literary criticisms to athletic discussions and are written by both students and faculty members.

Horn Book

The Belles Lettres Society sponsors the Hornbook in order to encourage literary Dickinsonians in the field of creative writing and to provide the campus with the finest in original student poetry and prose.

The Hornbook, with Professor Alan McGill as sponsor, is completely written and published by students. This year Kenneth Martin served as editor.

In addition to providing pleasure, the Hornbook also stimulates intellectual interests and discussions in the student body.

Debate Council

With its largest membership in recent years, the Debate Council has sponsored a vitalized program of interclub, public and intercollegiate tournaments. Arguing this year's topic of "banning the development of nuclear weapons," the Dickinson debaters, coached by Professor Hal Wells, have participated in meets at every major campus "within striking distance." All students interested in developing the skills of logical argumentation and debate are invited to membership in the Council. The annual Novice Tournament held at Dickinson attracted participating teams from over thirty Pennsylvania, Maryland, and New York colleges.

Belles Lettres

The Belle Lettres honorary society, Dickinson's oldest extra-curricular organization, was founded in 1785 to foster intellectual discussions. Each year a number of students showing an interest in literature and creative writing are tapped for membership. Today the forty-three members have expanded the original objective, thereby making possible the publication of the Hornbook and the appearance of various motion picture classics on campus, along with the organization's original function of fostering intellectual discussions for the campus and the surrounding community.

Mohler Scientific Society

The Mohler Science Club features monthly lectures and demonstrations by notables in the various disciplines of science. Designed to strengthen the general interest in science on the campus, the club affords an opportunity for all students to keep abreast of the newest developments in science. The club and College also jointly sponsor the annual Pre-Med Dinner. Named in memory of John Fred Mohler, Professor of Physics at Dickinson from 1896 to 1930, the club originated in the Scientific Society of 1867.

S. N. E. A.

A steadily growing extra-curricular activity of Dickinson College is the Student National Education Association, formerly the Future Teachers of America, which received its national charter in April, 1953.

The purpose of the Benjamin Rush Chapter is to bring its members into contact with various experiences they may later encounter, thereby hoping to stimulate interest in teaching among the undergraduate students. Monthly meetings, which include programs of films, panel discussions, lectures, and field trips, give members a profitable insight to their future profesion.

The Psychologfiy Club strives to satisfy the curiosity of the many students who are interested in the problems of the Ego, the Id, and the Superego. The members of the club participate in discussions and attend lectures given by experts in such fields as clinical psychology, hypnotism and industrial psychology. The students thus develop an awareness of the problems which are involved in the practical application of psychological theory.

Founded in 1789, the Union Philosophical Society has continued for over a century as one of Dickinson's outstanding forensic organizations. The primary purpose of the society is to debate contemporary political, economic, and social questions, emphasizing the practice of parliamentary procedure.

The semi-monthly meetings have featured talks by Democratic and Republican candidates, plans for the Intercollegiate Conference on Government in Harrisburg, and debates of model legislative

The club purchased an Aeronca Chief, a two seated training plane, in which the thirty members of the club received their aerial instruction. During the first four months of operation approximately twenty-five per cent of the student pilots soloed and were well on their way to receiving their private pilot's license. The International Relations Club was established in 1932 through the Carnegie Endowment for Peace. Since its inception the Club has dedicated itself to the discussion and understanding of international affairs. This goal is reached through bi-monthly meetings featuring guest speakers, debates, and individual reports on important world questions. The Dickinson group, as a member of the Association of International Relations Clubs, attended both a state and national model United Nations General Assembly.

Alpha and Omega

The Alpha and Omega Society is a group of students who are contemplating some type of full-time Christian service. Members of this group which is interdenominational in character are planning careers in such fields as church-related social work, missions, and the ministry, in any of their various aspects.

The members engage in discussions of such topics as general undergraduate training as well as problems relating to Christianity on the campus. To help guide these discussions, speakers such as ministers, missionaries, and representatives of graduate schools often attend the monthly meetings.

As part of its Christian witness, the society, in co-operation with other campus groups, sponsors an annual Christmas party for underprivileged children in Carlisle.

L. to R.: D. Rimbach, R. Vickery, E. Holmes, K. McCabe, J. Wood.

The Christian Service Project is dedicated to giving college students an opportunity to participate in local church programs; and to promote Dickinson College as a church-related college; and to encouraging Christian vocations and other religious acts of service from a student's point of view. To fulfill these aims the CSP sends deputation teams of four students and one faculty member to conduct Saturday evening recreational programs, to teach Sunday School classes, to assist in the Sunday morning worship services and to lead the youth fellowship programs of various churches. This year the forty-nine students and eleven faculty members comprising the CSP travelled three thousand four hundred twenty miles to thirteen churches in New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, and Pennsylvania.

Among the student body at Dickinson this year is a distinctive group of sixteen students who are citizens of other countries. Five members of the group are new to the campus this year and four of these are guests of the Dickinson fraternities for meals on a rotation plan. This group of students represents the countries of Hungary, France, Germany, Mexico, Sweden, Japan, Costa Rica, Iran, British Cameroons, Cambodia, and Puerto Rico.

In return for an American education, these students present interesting viewpoints of the world and give us a clearer understanding of the position that the United States plays in world affairs.

Foreign Students

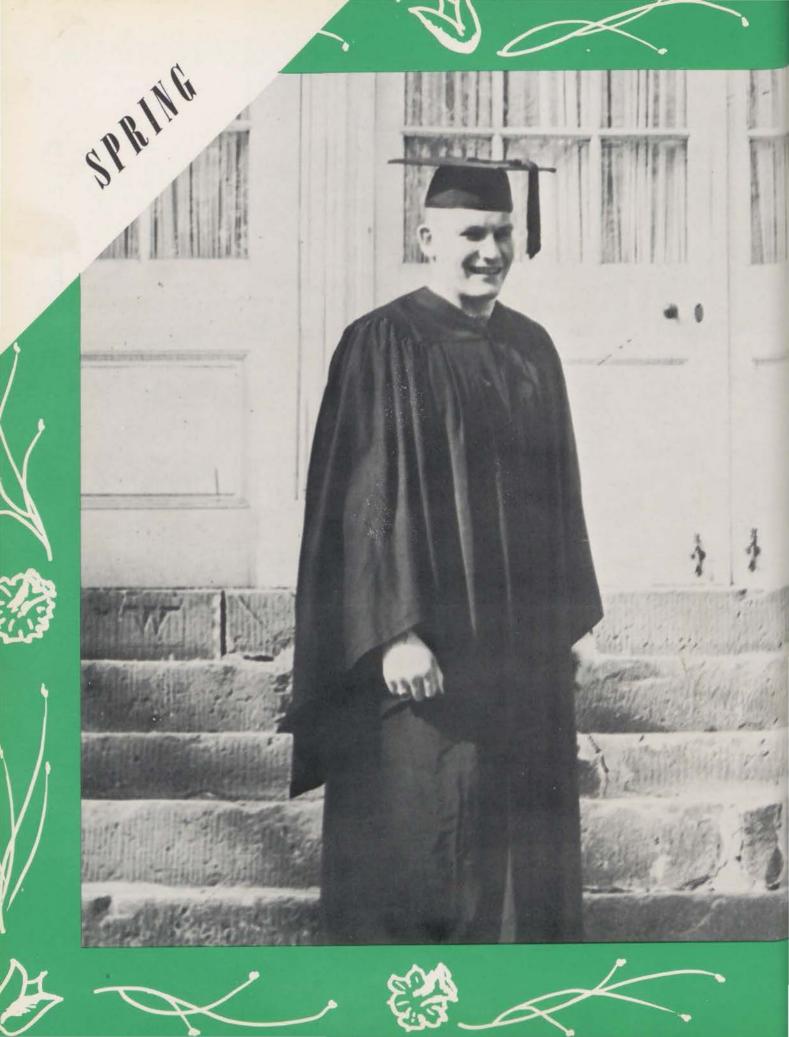

"How can a student best live a Christian life on the Dickinson campus?" In attempting to give an answer to this question, the Student Christian Association conducts a program that involves worship, study, discussion, worthwhile service projects, and fellowship. Five areas, Christian Faith, Witness, Citizenship, Outreach, and Fellowship give direction to the various aspects of this program.

Meetings are held each Sunday evening, usually in Durban Oratory. The year's programs included a meeting at Wilson College, service projects, special recreation programs, panel discussions, and guest speakers. The SCA also sponsors the noonday prayer chapels in Durban Oratory.

Student Senate

The Student Senate is the means through which the students take an active part in governing themselves. The budget for the activity fund, schedules of all organization meetings, and penalties for infractions of college regulations are decided upon by this group.

A large part of the work of the Student Senate is done by committees. These include the Student Finance Committee, the Steering Committee, and the Disciplinary Committee

To increase interest in the election of Senate officers, a system of two political parties was formed last year. With such a system, the winning party can be assured of the support of the students. The Senate is also responsible for the publication of the daily senator, which keeps the students up-to-date on all campus activities.

Student Government

Daily Senator

In the past year and a half the students of Dickinson have come to appreciate the coordinating function of the daily senator. The official publication of the Student Senate keeps the student body informed concerning the varied extracurricular activities and special events of each day. Thus, it increases the student body's participation in these activities and events.

Under its enthusiastic editor-in-chief, Herb Bass, the daily senator is now published five times a week. Six hundred sheets are issued daily, which are read by more than 90% of the Dickinson campus.

The publication of the daily senator is an eight hour operation involving a closely knit group with the divided responsibilities of gathering, editing, printing, and distributing the news of the day. The enjoyment the staff receives from its work is matched only by the integral part that the daily senator plays in the life of each Dickinson student.

Social Committee

Because of the efforts of the Social Committee, Dickinson has experienced another year of outstanding all-college dances and jazz concerts on our big weekends. The committee, functioning as a part of the Student Senate, is composed of one representative from each fraternity, sorority, and independent organization on campus. This year's main event featured Lester Lanin and his orchestra (with beanies and all) for the Mid-Winter Ball weekend. Other big name bands contributed to making the Homecoming Dance, the Spring Formal, and several jazz concerts gala affairs. The committee has been instrumental in suggesting revisions in our college social rules and in planning our social calendar. Funds to be used for decorations, refreshments, and the band are appropriated by the Senate.

FRESHMAN COUNSELLORS

A group of sixteen counselors has a major influence on the lives of Dickinson freshmen. Each of these ten men and six women, acts as an adviser to approximately seventeen freshmen. They reside with their counselees in the Freshman dorms, Morgan, East, Metzger and Gibbs. They work with the Dean of Women and Dean of Men to aid new students in social and academic adjustment to college life. One of the primary functions of the counseling program is to help to plan and initiate the Freshman Orientation Program. This counseling program is believed to have been of considerable benefit to each incoming freshman since its introduction during the 1953-*54 term.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL

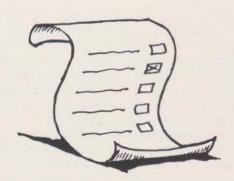

The purpose of the President's Council, the women's disciplinary council, is to make uniform regulations for all the dorms, to clarify and revise these rules, and to act as a link between the students and the administration. The Council is composed of ten members: the presidents of the House Councils of Drayer, Mathews, Biddle and McIntire; the president and secretary of the Metzger-Gibbs House Council; and the chairman of the Dining Room Committee. From these ten women, three officers are chosen. This year's officers are: President, Carol Dorsey; Vice-President, Marge Crowley; and Secretary, Letty Reisinger.

In its weekly meetings the Council decides on questions beyond the scope of the individual House Councils. The Council annually publishes Dis 'N Data, a handbook of college and dorm rules.

Seated: M. Crowley, C. Dorsey, Dean Hann, L. Reisinger, Standing: F. Enseki, S. Hanna, B. Douglass, R. Kean, C. Gill.

WHO'S WHO

For the fourth year Dickinson is honoring its outstanding seniors by electing them to membership in Who's Who. Students selected for this honor are the "cream of the crop" in the senior class.

The selection of the students is based on scholastic attainment, service to the school, character, and participation and leadership in sports and extracurricular activities.

The student body has a major part in selecting these outstanding students. Each fraternity and sorority nominates four students of which two are from within their own organization and two are from outside their organization. A list of these names is compiled by the Microcosm staff and submitted to a board which consists of the Dean of Men, Dean of Women, Dean of Admissions, a Student Senator and the Managing Editor of the Microcosm.

The board then compiles a final list, basing their selection on the above qualifications. The names are kept a secret until the distribution of the Microcosm in the spring.

Thus, the outstanding leaders of Dickinson are honored for their contributions to the college.

RAVEN'S CLAW

The Raven's Claw was established in 1896 to honor Dickinson's outstanding senior men. Since that time, many of the best-loved and most-admired Dickinsonians have worn the "Claw's" symbolic pin and white hat. Each "White Hat" selects his own successor. These men are tapped on the last Saturday of the college year in an impressive ceremony which is a traditional part of Commencement Weekend.

By utilizing the influence of seven respected student leaders, the Raven's Claw strives to achieve its twofold goal. The Claw aims to improve student-faculty understanding and relations and to preserve the College's traditions and customs. The "White Hats" have met with the Deans to discuss such problems as the assimilation of foreign students and student honesty in taking examinations. Out of these discussions have come effective ideas and programs. Thus, membership in the Raven's Claw both honors those who have been the most responsible citizens in the Dickinson community and encourages others to follow their example.

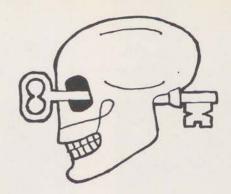

Well-known Dickinsonians who are members of the Raven's Claw include Boyd Lee Spahr, "Red" Malcolm, George Shuman, and "Ben" James. Carrying on in their tradition are the "White Hats" of 1958-59: Jud Laird, Archon; Elmer Gruver; Jim Kenney; Roy Lockwood; Lee Shipman; Bill Smith; and Jack Stafford.

In May, 1958, the "Black Hats" sponsored their first Annual Skull and Key Dance; at this time ten sophomores were selected to represent each campus fraternity. The representatives were chosen on their leadership qualities and were considered to be the outstanding sophomores in their respective fraternities. The students tapped for this year's membership were: Lee Supper, Phi Kappa Psi; David Williams, Alpha Chi Rho; Alex Collins, Beta Theta Pi; Anthony DiGioia, Phi Kappa Sigma; Andrew Knuth, Kappa Sigma; Timothy McGee, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Sam Meredith, Sigma Chi; David Stine, Theta Chi; Robert Wachter, Phi Delta Theta; and Maurice Wallack, Phi Epsilon Pi.

The society was founded at Dickinson in 1909, and since 1935 has presented to the outstanding member of the freshman class a silver loving cup. In 1958 this was awarded to Michael J. Hermann for his superior achievements as a freshman.

The Skull and Key is basically an honorary society but it also fills the function of assisting the freshmen in their first days at Dickinson by showing them around the campus. It is always present to promote better and stronger interfraternity relations, and to serve as a symbol of the leadership qualities at Dickinson College. Its members develop a warm friendship and form a tightly knit group; they are also leaders in their respective fraternities, the Student Senate, the Inter-fraternity Council, scholarship organizations, varsity teams, musical and entertainment groups, and in practically every phase of activities on campus. They are ever present to serve their school and their fellow students.

WHEEL and CHAIN

The Wheel and Chain was founded at Dickinson College in 1924 as an honorary society for senior women. It is limited to nine members who are chosen on the basis of activities, scholarship, leadership, and character. The members are chosen by the Wheel and Chain of the previous year and are tapped in a spring assembly. Selection of the girls is not related to membership in a sorority. The group promotes good relations between the administration and the women students. In student-administration affairs, the group acts as spokesman for the women, especially the seniors.

The members act as ushers and hostesses at many college functions, including the Cultural Affairs. They also act as guides in showing visitors and prospective students around the campus. In aiding the enforcement of freshman rules, the Wheel and Chain follows an orientation program which is aimed at developing high academic standards and creating an incentive to participate in campus activities. It helps the freshmen women to learn about and take pride in Dickinson College. Besides this, the "Blue Hats" have an annual project for the good of the college. In the Spring of each year, they present a cup to that freshman woman who is adjudged to be most outstanding in character, scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and social leadership. The members for 1958-59 are: Mary Bunyan, president; Carolyn Albert, Carol Dorsey, Ann Lemkau, Carol McCarty, Judy Milligan, and Susan Murray.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

The Upsilon Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honor society for men, was established at Dickinson in 1927 and has remained active since then. The society recognizes, and attempts to utilize, men who have signficantly contributed to the campus through scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications, forensics, music and dramatics. In addition, requisite qualities for membership include character, leadership and service, fellowship and devotion to democratic ideals.

The activities of ODK include sponsoring the annual interfraternity songfest in the spring, awarding a plaque to the organization which has performed the most service to the campus, and conducting an annual leadership conference at which leaders of various organizations discuss and attempt to solve their existing problems. The circle also presented a loving cup to John Curley as the Sophomore who was judged outstanding in character, scholarship, and leadership during the 1957-58 school term.

Officers of the organization include James Kenney, President; Al Rademan, Vice-President; Bill Witting, Acting Secretary, and Ned Bosnick, Treasurer. The newly tapped members of Omicron Delta Kappa include John Curley and Cal Lewis, Juniors; Dave Grove, Paul Lotke, Al Smith, and Tom Wright, Seniors.

PHI BETA KAPPA

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest and most universally respected Greek letter society in America. Membership in the Dickinson Society is achieved by election, and those considered are in the highest academic standing of their class. As a special mark of distinction a group of "A" students are elected and initiated at the beginning of their senior year, after completing six semesters of academic work. All members have the responsibility of maintaining the reputation of the Society by upholding its standards: honor, scholastic advancement, and academic freedom.

The Alpha chapter, installed in 1887 as the first chapter in Pennsylvania, has participated during the past few years in the visiting scholar program established by the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. This year Dr. Louise Overacre, Professor Emeritus of Political Science at Wellesley College, visited the campus for four days, speaking in Assembly on "The Crisis of Little Rock."

For the past two years, the Alpha chapter has presented plaques at Convocation recognizing the high achievements of the fraternity and sorority pledge class having the highest accumulative average.

The annual meeting of the Alpha chapter is held Saturday evening before Commencement at which time the recently-elected students, faculty, and alumni are in attendance, and officers are elected.

PI DELTA EPSILON

In line with the purpose of Pi Delta Epsilon, which is to coordinate the work of campus publications and to raise and maintain the high level of journalistic activity, this fall the Dickinson chapter played a big role in the Dickinsonian controversy. The controversial articles were referred to this honor organizations by the Student Senate; they were compared with the journalistic code of Pi Delta Epsilon, and it was reported that the articles maintained these standards.

This year Pi Delta Epsilon, a national honoray journalistic fraternity, recognized junior and senior students who have proved to be outstanding in the field of college journalism by tapping early in February and again in the spring.

Each year the Dickinson chapter, founded in 1948, presents the Pi Delta Epsilon Journalistic Award to the member of the sophomore class who has made the most outstanding contribution to Dickinson's journalistic efforts. Officers of 1958-59's chapter were president Al Smith, vice-president Russ Adams, treasurer Ann Hooff, and secretary Ann Lemkau.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

The Lambda Phi Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic honorary society, was founded at Dickinson in 1948. The society is composed of both students and faculty who are recognized for superior ability in all stages of theatrics: acting, staging, make-up, costumes, and lighting. There is a tapping of seniors at the end of the first semester and another tapping ceremony at the end of the second semester for anyone eligible.

In the fall, as part of freshman orientation the Alpha Psi Omega presents an informal evening of readings, produced exclusively for the freshman class. During Religion-in-Life Week the Alpha Psi presents a drama of religious nature. This year's presentation was Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners." In the spring Alpha Psi provides the entertainment for the Annual Awards Night, highlighted by the presentation of the Gould Awards to the outstanding male and female thespians of the year.

In addition to this Alpha Psi sponsors one social function each semester. During the first semester of this year they had dinner with the director of a play at the Harrisburg Community Theater and heard his interpretation of the production, after which they attended the play.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

A garrulous group, Tau Kappa Alpha, is the national forensic society, and is one of the most valuable components of the Dickinson family. It is composed of members of the student body and of the faculty who are interested in promoting public speaking.

A student is eligible for the society after having participated in intercollegiate debate for two years and having received recommendation of the advisor to the Debate

Extemporaneous speeches, impromptu talks, vigorous debates, profound declamations and stirring orations spring from the forensic talents of this versatile organization.

Under the guidance of Dr. Herbert Wing, Jr., the group holds a speaking contest which is open to all students. This carries on the tradition of the Dickinson chapter which President Edel brought to our campus to spotlight various types of forensic events.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

Dickinson recognizes her advanced German students by membership in the national honorary fraternity, Delta Phi Alpha. Founded at Dickinson in 1947, the organization promotes interest in the German language, civilization, and culture, and grants recognition of exceptional work in these fields. Under the direction of Dr. Friedrich Sandels, the students conduct monthly meetings in German, have dinners for new members, watch special films and slides, and study the German culture. A special project this year was the Christmas program which was conducted in accord with German customs including German carols, poems, entertainment, and an address by Dr. Anna Stark, who was here this years as an exchange teacher from Germany. There are twenty active members in Delta Phi Alpha.

Election to membership is based on four qualifications, including a continuing interest in the study of the German language and literature.

The club also planned a program centering around German music with Rainer Schulte, a native German student and concert pianist, as featured artist.

DANFORTH EXPERIMENT

The relation of religious, moral and ethical values to daily life on the Dickinson campus is the broad topic with which the Danforth Experiment is concerned. Is there really something socially unjust when fraternities use discriminatory practices? What should concerned leaders be doing about drinking on campus, cheating in exams, and similar problems? These questions are typical of those discussed in Danforth meetings.

Because the members of the discussion groups are leaders of the campus, it is the hope of the Danforth Experiment that they will work through their own organizations and take action whenever it is needed. Some concepts, such as the honor system, are so broad in scope that the concentrated action of all campus organizations is essential. Because of their representative nature, the Danforth groups can supply direction for unified action in these cases.

Now in its third year, the program is being evaluated to determine if its influence has been signficant enough to warrant continuation.

"D" CLUB

The "D" Club, an organization of Dickinson men who have won their varsity letter in an intercollegiate sport, plays a major role in the athletic program here at Dickinson. The club handles all the concessions and ushering at athletic events, presents outstanding athletic awards, and sponsors a scholarship program for the sons and daughters of alumni athletes.

At the end of his Sophomore year, any member who has earned his varsity letter receives a "D key" from the club. Any Senior who has faithfully participated in his sport and has been active in the club is presented with a trophy at the end of the year. Many of these awards are presented at the annual banquet for "D" club members.

This year's officers were Lee Shipman, President; Bob Shapley, Vice-President; Kirk Pusey, Secretary, and Bob Davis, Treasurer. The "D" club is active throughout the entire year and has a persuasive influence on Dickinson's activities.

Each woman at Dickinson is a member of the Women's Athletic Association which is governed by a council of seven members elected from the three upper classes. The purpose of the council is to plan and execute all intramural sports, for both individual and team participation. Playdays in volleyball and basketball are arranged with other schools, and teams for these events are selected by the WAA council from all the classes. A point system for participation has been established, and records are kept for each girl. Girls who have participated in two sports or who have played on championship teams are honored at an annual banquet in the Spring.

BLAZER WINNER

At the end of their junior year and at the time of the annual banquet given by the Women's Athletic Association to honor sports participants, those girls who have accumulated a total of one hundred or more points for participation in women's sports at Dickinson, are presented with the Junior Sportsmanship Award, a white blazer with the Dickinson insignia emblazoned on the pocket. Besides the accumulation of the required number of points, the recipients of the blazers must have indicated an active interest in sports activities, a considerable amount of enthusiasm, some degree of ability in at least three sports, and have displayed good sportsmanship.

ANNE BRINER MISS MICROCOSM

Anne Briner, this year's Miss Microcosm, is a sophomore who comes from Johnsville, Pennsylvania.

Anne has been on many queens' courts since her arrival at Dickinson, including this year's Military Ball and Homecoming courts. Last year Anne was one of the finalists in the Miss Microcosm contests.

Anne is a member of Chi Omega. She is active in the Belles Lettres Society and also works for the Microcosm.

Maverick Makes A Choice

As an annual tradition the MICROCOSM picks a girl to represent the yearbook as Miss Microcosm.

Selection is based strictly on beauty, and most of the girls nominated have been queens of dances or on the queen's court.

A famous celebrity is asked to pick Miss Microcosm. This year the MICROCOSM staff was extremely happy to have James "Maverick" Garner pick Miss Microcosm.

Each fraternity submitted two names to the MICROCOSM staff. A list was compiled by the staff and pictures of the girls were sent to Mr. Garner in California. He selected the winner on the basis of her photograph. Thus, Miss Microcosm represents the ultimate of beauty at Dickinson.

Consecutive victories over powerful Bucknell and F&M teams early in the season, salvaged minimum glory from an otherwise disappointing year for the 1958 Dickinson Baseball Team. Excellent defensive play, along with above average pitching, was not enough to compensate for the large deficit created by the inability to produce at the plate.

Coach Dave Evanson will have to do quite a rebuilding job for the 1959 baseball season in order to better past records of the Red Devil nine. Many positions remain vacated with the graduation of such outstanding players as Weaver, Woodruff (captain), Riley, Caswell, and Ewing. However, with the return of the experienced letter winners Surrick, McNutt, Hermann, Lacey, Freeman, Wachter, Lovenes, Trevelyn, and Capper, Evanson's task will undoubtedly be greatly alleviated.

The 1959 campaign will see a good nucleus based on a competent pitching staff, coupled with superlative fielding. If not haunted by the seemingly ever-elusiveness of the white spheroids to D-son bats, then the general outcome may be regarded with a good degree of optimism.

LACROSSE

Dickinson attempts a pass.

The greatly improved 1958 Lacrosse Team under the tutelage of Coach Charles Ream and team Captain Don O'Neil brought to Dickinson its most successful season since its conception here in 1953.

The team sparked by such key men as Rose, Clements, Stafford, Laird, Corey, Kerr, Bair, Sheppard, and O'Neil compiled enough wins to gain them the Penn-Del Championship and the Co-Championship in the Leroy Taylor National Class C. Competition. The stickmen showed their accomplished ability by beating such Class B teams as Lehigh, Loyola, and Penn State while losing only to two of the most powerful teams in the East, Washington College, and to the University of Baltimore. Coach Ream gives much of the credit for the team's success to O'Neil who along with Rose made All-American honorable mention. O'Neil was credited with being the top scorer in the nation by having scored 57 goals, 31 of them unassisted, he also figured in 22 assists while goalie Clements accounted for 172 saves which undoubtedly served many a game for the stickmen. Coach Ream succeeded in organizing and getting the team in excellent condition, but he said it was O'Neil's knowledge of the game and resolute determination which provided for the creditable results.

The coach looks at this year's season without O'Neil, optimistically and states that the undaunted spirit of the veterans should present Dickinson with another winning team.

TENNIS

The Dickinson tennis squad, coached by the powerful combination of E. Gardiner Hayes and his son Raphael, is looking forward to its best season in years. This is certainly no easy task for last year the Devils posted a strong 9-3 record against some tough opposition. Again the team will have a 12 match schedule and if the squad continues in its winning way it would mark the seventh consecutive season in which the D-son net-men have won the majority of their matches.

Captain Kit Spahr, a senior, heads a long list of returning lettermen which includes several established veterans and some promising newcomers. The chances of Dickinson maintaining its position as one of the East's top small college squads appear to be excellent. Everyone connected with the College appears convinced that the experience, determination, and enthusiasm of our players, plus their great natural ability, will pay off and provide Dickinson with another winning team.

TRACK

The 1958 Track team, under Coach DuCharme's supervision, finished the season with a 9-1 record, ranking among the best in Dickinson's history. New equipment and increasing spectator support helped in sparking the well balanced squad to attain the best Middle Atlantic record for dual meets.

Pacing the Red Devils by amassing a total of one hundred points in the mile, 830, and two-mile was Howard Maat. Joe Clair in the 440 and Nelson Lebo in the 880 emerged undefeated in outside competition. Sprinters Quirk and Freeman, hurdler McCarthy and fieldmen Bill Smith and Bob Davis strengthened the team in all events. "Wink" Lebo's breaking the school's 880 record against Lebanon Valley, and Howie Maat's triple win against Gettysburg, as well as a Dickinson victory over long unvanquished Bucknell were the highlights of the season. Depth, the key word in 1958, was provided by Kirk Pusey, the Bartoli brothers, Jerry Arters, Al Bendell, Roger Smith and Bill Heck.

Middle Atlantic competition proved fine experience for a squad which lost only three lettermen this year and whose potential for the 1959 season has been increased by the addition of many outstanding freshmen cindermen.

Underclassmen

The Sophomore Class

The Student Senate this year took several measures in its effort to revive declining interest in class spirit and government. These measures were designed to eliminate the doubts and to relieve the apathy which formed the general attitude of the student body concerning the responsibilities and functions of the class officers. They met with early success, when, after lively campaigning, more than seventy per cent of the sophomore class cast ballots.

From an excellent group of candidates, the following were elected as officers: Michael J. Hermann, president; Byron Quann, vice-president; Carol Christiansen, secretary; and Wayne Claeren, treasurer. They immediately went to work to disprove the theory that class officers were merely figureheads. As leaders of the sophomore class, they assumed the responsibility of attempting to organize the class as a unit. Specifically, class functions were planned. The officers also served the college as a whole. Through their participation in interviews with prospective students, possible future Dickinsonians were given a picture of Dickinson Student leadership. It is planned that they assist in the freshman orientation program next fall.

Home on the Range.

Prepare To Take Over The Junior Class

To the class of '60, this year meant that we were officially upperclassmen with half of our college days behind us. In November, the class elections were held by a new system of nominating, petitioning, campaigning for a week and finally, electing our leaders by voting machines. These results showed John Surley as President, Bill Freeman as Vice-President, Nancy Cross as Secretary, and Dave McGahey as Treasurer.

This year many of our members have been active in campus organizations and have shown themselves to be able and enthusiastic leaders. Many juniors were active in athletics, dramatics, literary publications, and religious and social affairs. Their participation in campus activities is an indication that the Juniors make up a well-balanced and mature class.

The juniors are also sponsoring several events in the spring. An invitational I.F.C. basketball tournament was held at Dickinson. Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, and Lafayette are invited to send all-star teams. On May 9, 1959, the juniors will sponsor a semi-formal dance for the college in the gym. Through such activities as these, the junior class endeavored to utilize the talents and abilities of its members for the benefit of the class and the college.

The Senior Class

Battered after a stay of four years at Dickinson, the Seniors were suddenly jolted by the sudden realization that they were about to be ejected from the overprotective arm of the Dickinson Family. Many were temporarily sad as they thought back over an essentially enjoyable four years. They realized that there would be no more dances at the gym, no more evenings at Fryklunds, no more Carlisle typhoons, no more poker games at Conway, and no more all night cramming for exams. Perhaps, their spirit and enthusiasm has waned a little during the four years, but at the same time their devotion to their alma mater has grown with time. Thus, Dickinson's seniors would leave the institution of the underclassmen but would not forget the pleasant memories of four years.

1959! Thank Heavens!

The Microcosm

Business and Secretarial Staffs — Standing: S. McClain, W. Stuart, W. Shea, B. Keat, B. Giorgio, I. Bradford, A. Hooff, K. Bowling. Seated: C. Gill, J. Simoni, B. Eisenlohr.

Feature and sports staffs—Standing: E. Holmes, B. Wylie, B. Keat, B. Matta, B. Giorgio, D. Falone, B. Keuch, E. Featherer. Seated: M. Lebo, A. Lemkau, T. Dinger. The Microcosm is like an iceberg. The part of an iceberg that shows above water is only a tiny fraction of its total volume. The Microcosm, as you receive it, is only a hint of the time and effort that went into its making.

In the first place, it took planning and organization to make such an involved operation run smoothly. The editor-in-chief, Al Smith, performed this function with the advice and assistance of the editorial staff.

After the pictures were taken, the photography staff prepared them for the publication. The feature writers scoured the school asking questions and taking notes. They covered all of the many organizations, activities, and athletic events. Many people helped in typing and proofreading the copy.

The combined talent and effort of the entire staff were needed to produce a good yearbook. We hope the Microcosm for 1959 reflects the personality of our college and the spirit of wholehearted co-operation that has gone into its making.
