Feeling cozy comes firsthand out here.

With early mornings on the trail and long days laden with activities, some quality shuteye will undoubtedly be in order. From lowkey to the height of luxury, Gatlinburg has accommodations that cater to lodging preferences and groups of all kinds and, as it turns out, more options than any other mountain town in the US. We have everything from sprawling hotels for a little buffer from the Great Outdoors to high-end treehouses and state-of-the-art campgrounds to keep you right in the thick of it. Stay at one of our historic hotels for a taste of the past or a new-age resort to feel right at home in the present. Book a spot the kids will love or reserve a room designed for a weekend away from them. But, no matter where you choose to catch your ZZZs, rest assured you'll want for nothing—everyone here wants your stay to spark memories that bring you back to the Smokies time and time again.

Greystone Lodge on the River

Keeping the family comfortable can be tough on any trip. That's why, throughout the wide array of living arrangements you'll research as you plan, you may notice that each has an inviting interior and thoughtful touches to create an ideal home away from home—whatever that might mean for you. So, whether you're traveling solo or with a whole troop of kiddos in tow, we're confident you'll find the right fit to welcome you to Gatlinburg.

During the late 1950s, Belle Aire was built as a quaint inn downtown in a quiet spot offering walking distance to a variety of shops and everything "favorite" about Gatlinburg. Today, much has changed in Gatlinburg since The Belle Aire was built, however its perfect location, and friendly personal service remain the same.
