Follow the Colour Road

A chromatic circle is an illustrative organization of colour hues obtained when primary colours are combined in various proportions.

The 3 primary colours

The three primary colours are the basic colours that may be combined to produce all the hues of the chromatic circle.

Cyan

Magenta

Yellow

The complementary colours

Two colours are complementary when they lie on opposite sides of the chromatic circle. In order to obtain the complementary colour of one of the three primary colours, the other two must be mixed in equal proportions.

Primary colours	Mixing the other two colours yields the complementary colour	Complementary colours
	 +  = 	Orange-red
	 +  = 	green
	 +  = 	Violet

Warm and cool tones

Tones are divided into two groups, according to the proportions in which each of the colours is mixed.

- Warm tones are yellow and red-based.
- Cold tones are blue and green-based.

Favourite

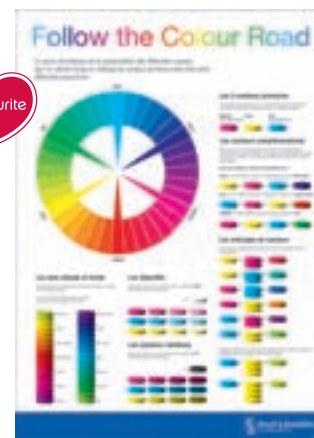

Favourite

INFO

The three primary colours

The three primary colours (cyan blue, magenta and primary yellow) compose all the chromatic circle. In order to achieve this, the colours' purity is essential, as each must not contain any trace of the other two.

Favourite

A. Miracolor tempera

Exceptionally brilliant, ready-to-use colours. Non-toxic. Good hiding power. Easy to use in school settings. Its three primary colours have been formulated to offer the largest range of mixing possibilities.

INFO

Liquitex Acrylic Paint

Liquitex acrylic paints are available in two different consistencies: In jars, the colour is a creamy flowing texture and can easily be diluted with water. In tubes, the more consistent colour is used when a thicker coat of paint is needed (see previous page). Liquitex jar acrylic paint allows for a number of techniques: painting directly on cardboard or canvas, silkscreen printing, stenciling, etc. Diluted with water, excellent results are obtained with watercolour and airbrush techniques. Liquitex jar acrylic colours can also be used for painting on fabrics. Its texture allows for a precise application without colour bleeding. Permanent on fabrics after drying for 48 hours, the colours need no additional setting. Fabrics painted with Liquitex jar acrylic paints can be dry-cleaned or hand/machine-washed in warm water.

A. Colorex drawing ink

Bright and intense coloured ink. Very concentrated, Colorex watercolour ink can be diluted to an extreme degree. Its transparency makes it suitable for colour layering, while the three primary colours can be combined to explore the richness of the colour mixing possibilities.

C. B&B engraving aluminium

Thin sheet of sturdy aluminium which can be engraved, embossed, shaped or painted.

Process

B & B aluminium is especially suited to cover objects (boxes) or small wooden or cardboard shapes. Before engraving, cover the object with aluminium, inserting a thick layer of newsprint (as a pad) under the surface to be engraved. The newsprint will permanently remain under the aluminium sheet. Engrave with a pointed instrument or a blunt-lead pencil. Once the engraving is completed, cover the surface with a coat of Indian ink.*

Before the ink is dry, wipe it off with a cloth, in such a way that it stays only in the grooves.

*Indian ink applied to metals gives them the patina of old metal and generally outlines shapes. 50 sheets. 24 x 36.5 cm x 0.05 mm thick.

28<sup>25</sup> 1200104

D. Embossing aluminium

Thick, durable, semi-stiff aluminium.

Process

Place on a flexible surface, over a good layer of newsprint. Engrave the pattern outlines on the metal, using a pointed instrument or a blunt-lead pencil.

Determine which firms will be in relief, and which will be hollowed out. If a form is to appear hollowed or sunken, push the metal down into place. If a form is to appear in relief, turn over the metal sheet and work on the back. Go over the outlines several times in order to accentuate the shapes. Once the embossing is complete, apply a coat of black Indian ink and wipe it off in the manner described for B&B aluminium sheets.

Silk screening - Simple method

With a brush, apply the Silk screening drawing liquid on the silk screen. Let dry and block the silk with the Screen-filler obturator. Let the obturator dry and remove the drawing liquid by running the screen under water. You can print on various papers with the Speedball watersoluble screenprint ink, or on fabric with the Speedball fabric ink.

Preliminary remark

When filling your order form, please include the name (and brand name whenever possible) as well as reference number for each product. This will help us in providing you with better service.

Prices

Our current prices are subject to market fluctuations and to change without notice.

Applicable taxes

Catalogue prices do not include sales taxes, which will show separately on your invoice.

General conditions of delivery

Please refer to the following chart to find our shipping and handling conditions, according to destination. Minimum order required is $ 25.

Stock availability

Unless otherwise specified, any item unavailable at the time of order will be substituted by another of equal quality and value. Should some of the goods ordered be out of stock, a partial shipment will be sent, followed by the remainder of the order, as soon as supplies become available again. All backorders under $ 20 could automatically be cancelled. In such case, the articles involved should be reordered with a later purchase.

Return of goods

Any return of goods must be authorized within 90 days. Please contact our Customer Service to obtain an authorization number. Unauthorized returns are subject to a 15% restocking charge.

Claims

A damaged or incomplete shipment should immediately be reported to the delivery agent who will note the problem on the freight bill. All claims must be accompanied by said freight bill and be addressed to our Customer Service.
