The fact that Monkeypox can be transmitted through aerosols makes it "similar to the coronavirus." No, no, no — I can't go back to Lysoling all my monkeys!

Understandably, people are sick of paying higher prices [during this period of inflation], so corporate America has come up with a clever solution: "quietly shrinking package sizes without lowering prices" in a phenomenon called "Shrinkflation." In their defense, corporations say the water's just very cold.

The WHO is concerned monkeypox could accelerate during the summer months with mass gatherings like festivals, so be careful, primate-themed festivals like Lollapalemur, Chimpchella and Bonoboroo!

Uber released their annual Lost and Found Index, which reveals the items reported lost by passengers. Glasses, phones, keys were some of the most common ones but — get this — five people left behind their dentures. Apparently, some people like to go for a ride because they love the feel of the wind in their gums.

There's a trend on TikTok where people are making "healthy Coke" by mixing flavored sparkling water with balsamic vinegar. It really shows the lengths Coke drinkers will go to avoid Pepsi, don't you think?

I heard about a man who is suing American Airlines after they mistakenly gave his name to police in connection with a robbery at an airport shop and he spent 17 days in jail. Even worse, since going from American Airlines to prison was an upgrade, he was also charged for it.

A man in Florida was bitten by a seven-foot alligator after mistaking it for a dog with a long leash. Unfortunately, he was bitten again when he tried calling 911 on a raccoon he thought was a phone.

[During the Jan. 6 hearings] we learned that Trump did not call in the National Guard to stop the attack. He made that up when he said it. We also learned that when his supporters were breaking in windows, chanting "hang Mike Pence," Trump was watching on TV and said, "Maybe they have the right idea" .... Mike must have been crapping his Pence while this was happening.

[In response to the Jan. 6 hearings] the Republican House Judiciary Committee ... tweeted "All. Old. News." Yeah, that was also Eichmann's defense at Nuremberg: "Guys, it was 1943!" "Old News" isn't a defense. Though I guess the fact that they didn't call it "fake news" is progress.

A federal judge denied a request made by one of the men charged with taking part [in the Jan. 6 riots]. The guy asked to take a five-day vacation to Cabo while awaiting trial for assaulting a Capitol police officer. This vacation was a prize from his employer, Mallinckrodt Pharmaceuticals, which is a drug company. That makes sense because anyone who thought a request like that made sense would have to be on drugs.

Late Night With Seth Meyers (R)

A man in the U.K. said in an ... interview that he drank 30 cans of Pepsi a day for 20 years but ended his addiction after doing hypnotherapy. Man, that guy must have been hard to hypnotize! "You're getting very sleepy ..." "I'm really not! I'm wide awake!"

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi ... appeared on an episode of "RuPaul's Drag Race All Stars." Either that or she didn't and that person should win!

A man in the U.K. got a tattoo on his feet that looks like a pair of shoes. Said the man, "It hurt, but not as much as the underwear."

A man threw cake on the protective glass of Leonardo Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" painting at the Louvre in Paris. He also threw some on a Picasso, but no one noticed.

The 'Continental' experience: John Wick franchise gets three-night TV stay

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

For many of us, when we book a stay in a hotel (particularly a luxury one), comfort ranks above all else. Though the meaning of the word "comfort" varies from one person to the next and could encompass anything from the thread count of the bedsheets to one's proximity to the bar, "comfort" in the world of John Wick is most closely associated with personal safety.

Those familiar with the John Wick franchise will already be aware of The Continental's most important rule: the assassins seeking refuge within the hotel shall not conduct any "business" on the grounds. Put simply, no hits will be tolerated on the premises.

That said, NBC/Peacock is certainly hoping for a hit of its own (granted, a "hit" of a different kind) when the new miniseries "The Continental: From the World of John Wick" begins streaming Friday, Sept. 22, on Peacock.

John Wick (Keanu Reeves, "The Matrix," 1999), the trained assassin who lends his name to the franchise supported by The Continental Hotel, first made audiences fall in love with him in the 2014 film, simply titled "John Wick." Despite his former career as a hitman, Wick exhibits a soft side while taking care of a new beagle puppy in the wake of his wife's death. However, when a group of gangsters breaks into Wick's home and the puppy is targeted, Wick loses all sensitivity and comes out of retirement to avenge his furry friend.

While the first film's main plot centers on Wick's feelings of loss (and a lot of resulting violence), the three subsequent films all have their own overarching storylines — "Chapter 2" (2017) sends Wick to Italy to stop a sinister Mafia-related plot, while "Chapter 3 - Parabellum" (2019) and "Chapter 4" (2023) follow Wick as he fights to stay alive in New York and abroad with a growing bounty on his head. While the situation may change from film to film, one thing that remains a constant throughout the franchise is The Continental; and this is where Peacock's newest series comes in.

Created by Greg Coolidge ("Ride Along," 2014), Shawn Simmons ("Wayne") and Kirk Ward ("The Turkey Bowl," 2019), "The Continental: From the World of John Wick" is a three-part noir-action miniseries that focuses on the history of the mysterious hotel chain that operates as "neutral territory for members of the criminal underworld" (per IMDb).

Colin Woodell ("The Flight Attendant") stars as a young Winston Scott, the manager of The Continental's New York division and a character already known to franchise fans thanks to the work of "Deadwood" actor Ian McShane. The role of Winston is a meaty one for Woodell, filled with lots of backstory for both character and setting as the series' events dive deep into real-life New York crime history.

While the specifics of the miniseries are being kept a secret for obvious reasons, there has been word that the events take place over three nights at The Continental in the 1970s and that there is a correlation to both the Winter of Discontent and the rise of the American Mafia.

Additionally, audiences can expect to see a few familiar faces along the way; most notably that of controversial actor Mel Gibson ("Braveheart," 1995). Despite his reputation as a seemingly un-cancelable figure in Hollywood, Gibson has been signed on to portray Cormac, the gruff proprietor of the New York Continental during the 1970s. While some fans are outraged by the casting choice and admonish the decision, others approve of the selection based on Gibson's rough-around-the-edges appearance and gruff demeanor — a perfect combination to portray exactly the manager of a hotel for the world's most dangerous hitmen.

Joining Gibson and Woodell on the small screen are Nhung Kate ("The Housemaid," 2016) as Yen, Katie McGrath ("Supergirl") as the Adjudicator, Jessica Allain ("The Laundromat," 2019) as Lou, Adam Shapiro ("Never Have I Ever") as Lemmy, Jeremy Bobb ("The Knick") as Mayhew, Dan Li ("Luther: The Fallen Sun," 2023) as Orphan Master, Sally Garnett ("Conversations with Friends") as the Concierge, Peter Greene ("Pulp Fiction," 1994) as young Uncle Charlie (portrayed later in life by "Twin Peaks" reboot actor David Patrick Kelly), and new talent Ayomide Adegun as Charon, a role made famous by beloved actor and TV personality Lance Reddick ("White House Down," 2013), who died earlier this year.

Given that The Continental has been a staple of the John Wick cinematic universe, a lot is already known about the hotel chain. For example, fans of the film series are already aware that the hotel is meant to be used as a safe haven, where no business may occur. They also know that only one currency — gold coins — is accepted at The Continental and that helping outed members is strictly forbidden. Should anyone break a sworn oath or a rule on hotel premises, they will be punished; either by excommunication or by death — awfully high stakes for a hotel stay!

Don't miss your check-in time: "The Continental: From the World of John Wick" premieres on Peacock Friday, Sept. 22. Extend your stay by tuning in the following Friday, Sept. 29, and check out Friday, Oct. 6, with the miniseries finale.

Hidden talent: 'I Can See Your Voice' reveals more secret voices

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

They say you can fake it 'til you make it, and there is nowhere that idiom is more true than on "I Can See Your Voice." The musical mystery game show returns for its third season Tuesday, Sept. 19, on Fox, as host — and series creator — Ken Jeong ("The Afterparty") leads contestants through a series of guessing rounds centered around six talented lip-synchers.

Among the "secret voices" are true vocalists and imposter songbirds who all perform on stage to stellar pre-recorded vocals, but only the real singers perform to their own backup track. If the contestant correctly identifies a genuine performer in the final round without hearing a single note, they're singing all the way home with the $100,000 grand prize. Whether the secret voices are retired vocalists, up-and-coming artists, hobbyist singers or just convincing fakes is only revealed once the contestant locks them in for elimination or their final selection.

This season, Fox promises "all-new theme nights," featuring duets between celebrity musicians and contestants' "secret voices" picks — for better or worse. The contestants don't know just how many of the six secret voices are good or bad singers, meaning that while each elimination round reveals the true voice of one of the lip-synchers, the contestants have no clue whether they're producing sweet music or a train wreck in the final duet performance.

The duets ratchet up the nail-biting tension for the contestants, panelists, studio audience and musicians alike. Singer-songwriter and "The Masked Singer" winner, Jewel ("You Were Meant For Me," 1995), made an appearance in the second season of "I Can Hear Your Voice," and after having aided the night's contestant from the panel, she herself was nervous to hear if the secret voice really had pipes when they took the stage together. Luckily the secret voice was hiding a true talent for crooning.

Contestants on "I Can See Your Voice" have limited information on the secret voices — they are defined solely by their occupation — leaving the lip-synchs as the most credible evidence of performance prowess. Throughout the elimination rounds, contestants get help from a panel of celebs anchored by Adrienne Bailon-Houghton ("The Real") and Cheryl Hines ("Curb Your Enthusiasm") with a rotating chair of guest judges and featured musical artists.

In addition to the panel, contestants have the opportunity to use the "golden mic" (an impression from a celebrity offscreen about the lip-synch performances), a look into a day in the life of one of the secret voices, a testimonial from a secret voice's biggest fan and a peek into the secret voice's home. Not every clue is a helping hand, however, as the tools at the contestants' disposal are filled with both genuine hints as well as red herrings.

A final interrogation round before the contestant locks in their ultimate selection allows them to ask one of the remaining two secret voices as many questions as they can in 30 seconds. They can ask anything they want, except for the secret voice to belt out a quick tune. Whether seeing a secret voice waffle over their answers or come prepared sets off alarm bells is up to the contestant to decide.

The season premiere of "I Can See Your Voice" follows another mystery voice competition series making its second season premiere the same night. "Name That Tune" returns with more of its celebrity edition. Celebrity contestants including athletes, TV personalities, actors and musicians compete to identify songs in a series of challenging games, affording the celebs the chance to win over $150,000 for their charity of choice if they really know their tunes.

"I Can See Your Voice" also joins more Fox game shows filling out the network's fall lineup, including the momentous 10th season of one of their breakout hits; "The Masked Singer" enters double-digit seasons with a whole new roster of elaborately costumed celebrities putting their best voice forward for judges Jeong, Jenny McCarthy-Wahlberg ("Donnie Loves Jenny"), Nicole Scherzinger ("Annie Live!," 2021) and Robin Thicke ("Real Husbands of Hollywood"). Nick Cannon continues hosting duties for "The Masked Singer" this season after wrapping up "Beat Shazam," where he filled in for host Jamie Foxx ("They Cloned Tyrone," 2023), who was recovering from a medical emergency.

Plus, a brand-new game show hosted by David Spade ("The Mayor") also makes its debut on Fox this fall; "Snake Oil," executive produced by "Lego Masters" host Will Arnett, asks contestants to weed out snake oil salesmen from the real entrepreneurs to win serious cash.

Then, as the chef Gordon Ramsay suite of "Kitchen Nightmares" and "Hell's Kitchen" put cooks and restaurateurs through the ringer, the ultimate test of brawn, "Special Forces: World's Toughest Test," returns for a second season of celebrity feats of strength this fall on Fox.

Don't skip your vocal exercises or your choreography rehearsal this week, because "I Can See Your Voice" is back with a new season, premiering Tuesday, Sept. 19, on Fox.

Campbell, Crawford, Evangelista and Turlington share in new series

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Behind the catwalk: Directed by Academy Award-winner Roger Ross Williams ("The 1619 Project") and Larissa Bills ("On Pointe"), the captivating new documentary series, "The Super Models," asks, "How do you define the word 'supermodel,'" letting the best in the business answer once and for all when it premieres Wednesday, Sept. 20, on Apple TV+.

From One Story Up and Imagine Documentaries, "The Super Models" tells the story of four iconic women through four parts, welcoming Naomi Campbell ("Zoolander 2," 2016), Cindy Crawford ("Fair Game," 1995), Linda Evangelista ("Sex and the City") and Christy Turlington ("No Woman, No Cry," 2010) — often considered the world's original supermodels — to speak for themselves in unprecedented interviews, inviting viewers behind the catwalk as this series shines a spotlight on the lives, friendship and industry-shifting careers of these world-renowned superstars.

Apple TV describes: "The Super Models" travels back to the 1980s, when four women from different corners of the world united in New York. Already forces in their own right, the gravitas they achieved by coming together transcended the industry itself. Their prestige was so extraordinary that it enabled the four to supersede the brands they showcased, making the names Naomi, Cindy, Linda and Christy as prominent as the designers who styled them.

"Today, the four supermodels remain on the front lines of culture through activism, philanthropy and business prowess. As the fashion industry continues to redefine itself — and women's roles within it — this is the ultimate story of power and how four women came together to claim it, paving the way for those to follow."

During a recent interview with British Vogue, Campbell shared her excitement for the upcoming series. "It's about our life and times together: our friendship, careers, our womanhood, our motherhood," she explained. British Vogue went on to share more. "There's no word yet on who else has weighed in on their seismic impact on the industry, but we expect that countless designers — from established names who collaborated with them during those formative decades to rising stars who were strongly influenced by their unapologetic glamor and joie de vivre — will make appearances."

The ladies — who last appeared on the cover of Vogue together in January 1990 — now grace the magazine's front once again, proving their journey is far from over as they pose on this year's cover of Vogue's infamously coveted September issue.

A glamorous and grueling story spanning more than four decades, "The Super Models" premieres Wednesday, Sept. 20, on Apple TV+.

Grazia Magazine. Pearce also performs throughout the night.

While a firm lineup has yet to be released, performances and presenters have been announced, such as Keith Urban ("The Speed of Now: Part 1," 2020), Dennis Quaid ("Fallen: A Gospel Record for Sinners," 2023), Lady A ("What a Song Can Do," 2021), Nelly ("Country Grammar," 2000), Billy Ray Cyrus ("Some Gave All," 1992), Trisha Yearwood ("Every Girl," 2019), Brett Young ("Across The Sheets," 2023), Chris Janson ("The Outlaw Side of Me," 2023), Lee Brice ("Hey World," 2020), Sara Evans ("Copy That,"

2023's honorees, meanwhile, include Tim McGraw ("Here On Earth," 2020), for the ACM Icon Award; Chris Stapleton ("Higher," 2023), for the ACM Triple Crown Award; Ashley Gorley ("One Thing at a Time," 2023), for ACM's Songwriter of the Year; Mary Chapin Carpenter ("The Dirt and the Stars," 2020), for the ACM Poet's Award, among others. Two of the awards will be presented posthumously — the ACM Spirit Award and the ACM

Poet's Award — to Charlie Daniels ("Million Mile Reflections," 1979) and K.T. Oslin ("Love in a Small Town," 1990), as both artists died in 2020.

The Lifting Lives Award, Icon Award, International Award, Lift Every Voice Award and other distinctions will be announced, as the biggest names in country music gather to celebrate meaningful contributions to the industry in what the Academy of Country Music calls the "country music industry's favorite night." From the Ryman Auditorium, the 2023 Academy of Country Music Honors broadcasts Monday, Sept. 18, on Fox.

"Sex Education" - Season 4

The teens are back for one final adventure when the fourth and final season of the cult-favorite British comedy-drama, "Sex Education," premieres on Netflix, Thursday, Sept. 21. With Mooradale Secondary now closed, Otis (Asa Butterfield, "Flux Gourmet," 2022) and Eric (Ncuti Gatwa, "Barbie," 2023) must take on their first day at Cavendish Sixth Form College. While Otis is nervous about setting up his new clinic, Eric is just hoping they won't be losers again; so the culture shock that hits them when they get to their new, incredibly progressive college is on another level. Meanwhile, Viv (Chinenye Ezeudu, "The School for Good and Evil," 2022) is "totally thrown by the college's student-led, non-competitive approach, while Jackson (Kedar Williams-Stirling, "Wolfblood") is still struggling to get over Cal (new talent Dua Saleh). Aimee (Aimee Lou Wood, "The Electrical Life of Louis Wain," 2021) tries something new by taking an Art A-Level and Adam (Connor Swindells, "Rogue Heroes") grapples with whether mainstream education is for him" (per Netflix). Over in the U.S., Maeve (Emma Mackey, "Emily," 2022) is living out her dream at the presti-

"Spy Kids: Armageddon" (2023)

When they unwittingly help a powerful game developer unleash a computer virus that gives him control over all technology, the kids must become spies themselves to help save their parents and the world. While Zachary Levi ("Chuck") and Gina Rodriguez ("Jane the Virgin") play their parents, Terrence and Nora, Billy Magnusen ("No Time to Die," 2021) is the diabolical new villain Rey "The King" Kingston. Directed by Robert Rodriguez ("Sky Kids: Mission Critical") and written by Robert Rodriguez and Racer Rodriguez ("The Adventures of Sharkboy and Lavagirl 3-D," 2005), "Sky Kids: Armageddon" is executive produced by Gary Barber ("Waco: The Aftermath"), Peter Oillataguerre ("Scream VI," 2023) and Ben Ormand ("The Out-Laws," 2023).

"Cassandro" (2023)

Step into the world of wrestling superstardom when the new biographical drama "Cassandro" premieres Friday, Sept. 22, on Prime Video. Gael García Bernal ("Mozart in the Jungle") stars in the film as Saúl Armendáriz, a gay amateur wrestler from El Paso, Texas. Rising to international stardom after creating the character Cassandro, the "Liberace of Lucha Libre," Armendáriz upended the macho wrestling world — and his own life. Based on a true story, "Cassandro" is directed by Roger Ross Williams ("Love to Love You, Donna Summer," 2023) and written by Williams and David Teague ("Between the World and Me," 2020). Roberta Colindrez ("A League of Their Own"), Perla De La Rosa ("A Thousand Clouds of Peace," 2003), Joaquín Cosío ("Quantum of Solace," 2008) and Raúl Castillo ("Miguel Wants to Fight," 2023) also star, with special appearances from El Hijo del Santo ("Santo: Infraterrestre," 2001) and Benito Antonio Martínez Ocasio, aka Bad Bunny ("Bullet Train," 2022).

Video. This character-driven drama (masked as a murder mystery) follows a group of friends who find themselves at the epicenter of a deadly clash in the suburbs of Gurugram, India. Ishi (Juhi Chawla, "Darr," 1993) is New Delhi's most notorious power broker; Zaira (Shahana Goswami, "The Last Hour") is a bridal couture designer; Saiba (Soha Ali Khan, "Rang De Basanti," 2006) is a journalist-turned-altruistic-housewife; and Dolly (Kritika Kamra, "Kaun Banegi Shikharwati") is the beloved daughter-in-law of the affluent Dalal family. Challenging as their lives may be, the friends rely on each other through good times and bad, together balancing on (what Amazon calls) "a delicate equilibrium of joy and understanding." That is, until Ishi is attacked, and the women band together to kill him in self-defense. Now bound by a dark and troubling secret, the one unshakeable friend group finds themselves at an impasse, uncertain how to move forward as the man's death may lead to dangerous retaliation from his comrades. Directed by Tanuja Chandra ("Sur," 2002), "Hush Hush" also stars Chaitannya Choudhry ("Paramavatar Shri Krishna"), Karishma Tanna ("Sanju," 2018), Kavya Trehan ("Jugaadistan"), Nisha Jindal ("Raanihanaa," 2013), Abhijeet Singh ("Aamras"), newcomer Bharti Sharma and more.

"Guy Ritchie's The Covenant" (2023)

With a 98 percent audience score on the film review aggregate site, Rottentomatoes, Guy Ritchie's "The Covenant" makes its streaming debut Friday, Sept. 22, on Prime Video. Starring Jake Gyllenhaal ("Nightcrawler," 2014) and Dar Salim ("The Devil's Double," 2011), this 2023 action thriller was written, produced and directed by Ritchie ("The Man from U.N.C.L.E.," 2015), grossing nearly $21 million in theaters before heading for the small screen. The film follows Special Forces Master Sergeant John Kinley (Gyllenhaal), a Green Beret, and his Afghan interpreter, Ahmed Abdullah (Salim), as Kinley and his troops fight the Taliban amidst the War in Afghanistan in 2018. When the sergeant is injured, Abdullah risks his own life and must carry the man across miles of grueling, mountainous terrain — on foot — in order to return to the safety of the unit's airbase. A merciless journey, "The Covenant" also stars Sean Sagar ("The Gentlemen," 2019), Jason Wong ("Solo: A Star Wars Story," 2018), Rhys Yates ("Unforgotten"), Christian Ochoa Lavernia ("Silo"), Bobby Schofield ("Black Sea," 2014), Emily Beecham ("Daphne," 2017), Jonny Lee Miller ("The Crown"), Alexander Ludwig ("The Hunger Games," 2012), Reza Diako ("London Class"), Gary Stennette ("Styx"), Abbas Fasaai ("Familie") and more.

'Halloween Wars' returns for 'unlucky' Season 13

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

A fan-favorite for foodies and Halloween lovers alike, this seasonal series has revived itself once again, ushering in autumn alongside a familiar face as Jonathan Bennett ("Mean Girls," 2004) returns to host the latest (and spookiest) season of "Halloween Wars," premiering Sunday, Sept. 17, on Food Network.

After leaving the series during Season 11 to focus back in on his acting career, Bennett now returns to the "Halloween Wars" kitchen, replacing interim host Zak Bagans ("Ghost Adventures"), who appeared as a ghostly, virtual host for the past two years. "It's so exciting!" Bennett shared in a recent interview. "I was off the show for a few years and this is my triumphant return. I'm coming back for season 13. That is even more exciting because it plays right into the spookiness of all of it."

Returning alongside Bennett are some of the series' fan-favorite, classic components, including pumpkin carving, cake decorating and sugar blowing—but be prepared for shocks galore, as this unlucky season promises some new and exciting surprises along the way.

The series' first three episodes act as the "Halloween Wars" qualifying rounds, with Bennett asking the teams to complete a series of increasingly difficult tasks, including the "Monster Mashup," where each group must choose two of the scariest monsters imaginable and meld both into one ghastly creation; a round based on the 1973 classic film, "The Exorcist;" and a fairy tale-based challenge that just may lead to one team's "happily ever after," as this season's judges—Aarti Sequiera (Season 6 winner of "Food Network Star") and Shinmin Li ("Holiday Wars")—eliminate one bunch of bakers, carvers and confectioners each round.

Following episodes will be split into two challenges: the "Small Scare," where teams have 45 minutes to complete an edible interpretation of a spooky theme, and the "Spine Chiller," where the time limit is extended to five hours, allowing for ultimate creativity.

Keeping to theme for this 13th season, this year's teams feature some of the show's spookiest puns yet, with names like Team Sweet Screams, Pumpkins Up the Volume, Snax Sabbath, Spice Ghouls, Pumpkin Posse, Trick or Sweet and more, with each team hopeful to prove their deliciously deadly talent in the kitchen and win the final, $50,000 grand prize.

Season 13 of "Halloween Wars" begins Sunday, Sept. 17, on Food Network.

The Little Mermaid

In this modern retelling of the beloved fairy tale, young mermaid princess Ariel (Bailey) journeys to the mysterious human world against the wishes of her father, King Triton (Bardem), ruler of the seas. Fascinated with the idea of being human and exploring the land above the ocean, Ariel rescues a human prince, Eric (Hauer-King), from a shipwreck, validating her curiosity of humans. Refusing her father's demands, Ariel meets her estranged aunt, Ursula (McCarthy), a dangerous sea witch with sinister intent. Granting Ariel's wish to become human, the young princess embarks on a journey of self-discovery.

"American Horror Story: Delicate" - Part 1

Returning this fall with an entrancing and terrifying new tale, Part 1 of "American Horror Story: Delicate" premieres Thursday, Sept. 21, on Hulu. Heading into its 12th season, the horror anthology series from Ryan Murphy and Brad Falchuk (creators of "Glee" and "Pose") is adapting its latest story from Danielle Valentine's book "Delicate Condition." While the series is notoriously close-lipped about plotlines, the book's synopsis may provide viewers with a peek at what is to come. Revolving around talented actress Anna Alcott (Emma Roberts, "Scream Queens"), the story follows along as she becomes convinced that someone is determined to prevent her from conceiving a child. Through a series of trials and tragedies, Anna is plagued by a baby no one believes in but herself. This season's cast includes Cara Delevingne ("Only Murders in the Building"), Matt Czuchy ("The Resident"), Michaela Jaé (MJ) Rodriguez ("Pose"), Kim Kardashian ("The Kardashians"), Julie White ("Transformers," 2007), Debra Monk ("New Amsterdam") and Anabelle Dexter-Jones ("Succession").

Q: Is James Marshall still acting?

A: The launch of the cult-classic drama series "Twin Peaks" in the late '80s launched James Marshall's career with it. And the revival of the show in 2017 revived it.

After appearing in the revival series of the series on Showtime, which ended a pretty lengthy dry spell on his resume, Marshall was cast as a lead in two other shows. However, only one of them was actually released.

"The Pact" is a post-apocalyptic sci-fi show released last year on the streaming service Roku. It's aired one season so far, but there's no word yet on a second round.

"The Pact" was the second attempt to put Marshall into a show after the new "Twin Peaks." The first was "Three Knee Deep," another sci-fi series that was produced independently but was never released.

This process was very much a repeat of his career arc after the first run of "Twin Peaks." When the iconic and deeply strange drama debuted in 1989, Marshall was a struggling young actor taking bit TV roles where he could.

But suddenly he had a central role on the most talked-about show on TV, playing the moody-but-dreamy young biker James Hurley. From there his career took off.

It peaked (if you'll pardon the pun) in 1992, a year after the show ended, when he appeared in three notable big-screen films.

He starred in "Twin Peaks: Fire Walk With Me," a prequel to the series; and "Gladiator," a boxing movie and teen-age drama. But most notably, he had a key supporting role as one of the young soldiers on trial in the multi-Oscar-nominated courtroom drama "A Few Good Men."

After that big year, the buzz fizzled and he struggled to find roles of the same caliber.

However, he kept working. He took roles here and there, in diverse projects such as the family-friendly "Air Bud: Golden Receiver" (1998) and the gritty legal drama "High Crimes" (2002), until David Lynch and "Twin Peaks" came calling again.

Q: I recall a TV series about a priest in an inner-city parish, from the early 2000s, maybe. I'm not sure it even ran its first full season. Does this ring any bells with you?

A: If "ring any bells" is a pun about church bells, bravo. But regardless, this does ring figurative bells — it sounds like you're thinking of "Nothing Sacred," a drama series that ran on ABC from September 1997 to March 1998.

It should have run through to May, but as you say, it was canceled early.

That cancelation was largely due to poor ratings. But it may also have been influenced by the religious backlash the show received, largely from Catholic organizations displeased with how their religion and their clergy were represented.

They were particularly unhappy with the main character — Father

Ray (Kevin Anderson, "Sleeping With the Enemy," 1991), head priest at St. Thomas Catholic Church, situated in a poor neighborhood in an unidentified city. He was struggling with his faith while he and his colleagues struggled to reconcile the Catholic church's values with those of their parishioners.

Given its short run, and the fact that it happened 25 years ago, it's impressive that you remember "Nothing Sacred." Alas, the media industry doesn't — the show's not available through any of the (legal) streaming services, and it was never released on DVD.

Q: What ever happened to the guy who played Frank Nitti in "The Untouchables"? I saw him in a few other things, but I expected to see a lot more of him.

A: Here's everything you need to know about Billy Drago's career: He played, as you say, the famed mob enforcer Frank Nitti in "The Untouchables" (1987), and 12 years later he played the dog catcher in "Soccer Dog: The Movie" (1999).

If you had a villain role to fill, Drago could fill it, whatever the movie.

Sadly, Drago died in 2019 at age 73, after a long and rich bad-guy career.

If you lost sight of him, it's probably because none of the other roles were quite as prestigious as the Oscar-winning classic "The Untouchables."

The very next year, for example, he was hamming it up as an adversary in the Chuck Norris ("Walker, Texas Ranger") action movie "Hero and the Terror" (1988).

Indeed, his work opposite Norris is some of his best-known. He also appeared in the high-profile sequel "Delta Force 2: The Colombian Connection" (1990).

More recently, his biggest roles were in horror movies such as "The Hills Have Eyes" (2006) and "Children of the Corn: Genesis" (2011).

While he remained very much a movie guy throughout his career, some of his biggest exposure actually came on TV. For example, he had lengthy arcs on the cult series "The Adventures of Brisco County, Jr." (1993-1994) and the similarly beloved teen drama "Charmed," recurring on the series several times from 1999 to 2004.
