British Issue Symposium Proceedings

Twenty papers presented at a symposium on "Point Defects in Non-Metallic Solids" have been published in the first issue of The Proceedings of the British Ceramic Society. The symposium was organized by the Basic Science Section and held at Leamington Spa, October 14-16, 1963.

Materials considered include oxides, alkali halides, sulfides, zeolites, aluminosilicates, and graphite. The main divisions of interest are the identification of individual defect centers, atomic mobility in compounds, and the mechanical properties largely dependent on point defects.

Copies of the Proceedings are available at $9.00 each ($6.00 to members) from the British Ceramic Society, Shelton House, Stoke Road, Shelton, Stoke-on-Trent, England.

Owens-Illinois Elects Executives

The election of Edwin D. Dodd and Ebon C. Jones as executive vice-presidents of Owens-Illinois Glass Co. has been announced by R. H. Mulford, president.

Mr. Dodd, a vice-president of Owens-Illinois since 1959, is general manager of the company's Forest Products Division.

Mr. Jones, also a company vice-president, is general manager of the Glass Container Division with responsibility for Owens-Illinois' domestic glass container and closure operations. The Division operates 17 glass container plants, three sand plants, three mold shops, three closure plants, a machine shop, an ink and die plant, and 52 sales branches.

Glass Container and Forest Products are Owens-Illinois' two largest operating divisions.

O. Hommel Assignment to Hepplewhite

J. W. Hepplewhite is now associated with the O. Hommel Co., Pittsburgh, where he has been assigned to work in the area of pottery frits and glazes with responsibility for product development, customer service, and application techniques. He will report to William O. Brandt, the firm's technical director.

An Emeritus Member and Fellow of The American Ceramic Society, Mr. Hepplewhite served as president in 1950-51. He is affiliated with the Materials and Equipment Division and is also a member of the Founder's Group of the National Institute of Ceramic Engineers.

Peruvian Ceramic Plant Proposed

Manufacturing ceramic ware in Peru, under license and technical assistance by a United States firm, is proposed by a Peruvian engineer, Sr. Hernan Arevalo del C. C. C. Sigerfoos of Michigan State University, who is in Peru as a consultant for the United States Agency for International Development, reports there are deposits of kaolin and other minerals for ceramics in the vicinity of Arequipa, Peru's second largest city. Plans are to form a company to manufacture sanitary ware, electrical insulators, chemical laboratory equipment, ornamental ware and other items now imported.

Requests for detailed information should be addressed to Sr. Hernan Arevalo del C.; Consorcio Metalurgico S. A.; Av. Nicolas de Pierola 733; Casilla 3528; Lima, Peru.

... and Thailand

Financial investment in a plant for producing kaolin, a ceramic factory, refractories factory, calcium carbonate factory and an asbestos factory, is being sought by Soonthorn Thaviphoke, managing director of the United Thai Ceramic Mfg. Co., Ltd. He may be addressed with requests for further details, at 937 Sitthikasem, Somdej Road, Thonburee, Thailand.

Pyroceram Hull for Deep-Sea Vehicle

Pyroceram glass-ceramic by Corning Glass Works has been chosen for the hull of Benthos, a deep-sea research vehicle. Chief designer for the project is J. D. Stachiw of Pennsylvania State University's Ordnance Research Laboratory, which is contracting Benthos for the U. S. Navy. The glass-ceramic hull will be completed in 1965.

About 8 ft long and 1 ft in diameter, the unmanned vehicle will consist of four glass-ceramic cylindrical sections and a metal stabilizer section, joined by special locking rings. Benthos is expected to have a buoyancy of about 60% of the displaced water. It is designed to have a payload capability of 100 to 150 pounds at a depth greater than 30,000 ft.

Pyroceram glass-ceramic was chosen as the hull material primarily because of its compressive strength, which is higher than 300,000 psi. Corning said the theoretical strength-to-weight ratio of the glass-ceramic is higher than that of high strength aluminum and steel alloys now used for underwater vehicles.

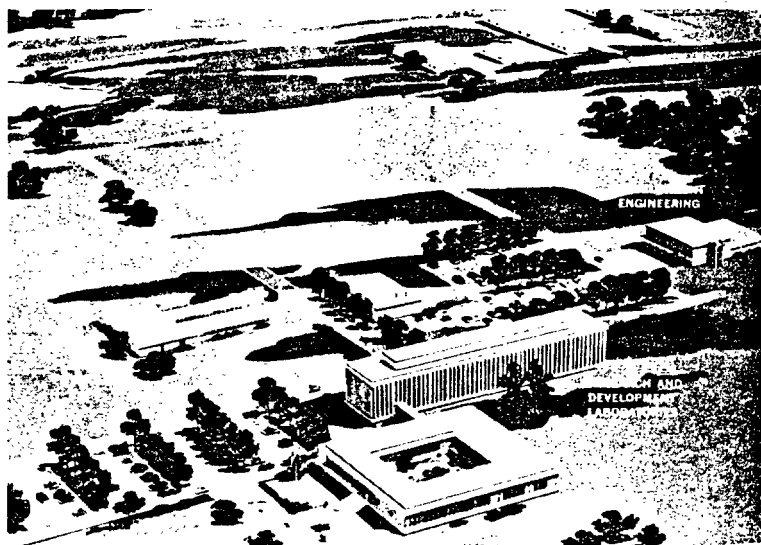

International Minerals & Chemical Corporation Builds Research Center

Construction has started on the new $6 million Research and Development Center of International Minerals & Chemical Corp., in Libertyville, Ill.

Research projects will include work in ceramics, glass, agricultural, animal feed, foundry, and food industries. Initial employment at the center will be 200.

The center, on a 297-acre site at US 45 and Winchester Road, is expected to be completed in late 1965. It will have more than 170,000 square feet of space, along with experimental plots.

It will consist of a one-story office building, built around a center courtyard; a three-story research and development laboratory building; a development engineering building; two large greenhouses with connecting head house; four farm buildings, and a central utility building.

This Roster is published only for the convenience of members of The American Ceramic Society. Its use as a mailing list is in violation of federal copyright.

Listings are in alphabetical order. New members received too late to be included are listed in the Addenda on page S17. A separate Roster for the National Institute of Ceramic Engineers, showing grades of membership, is on pages 823 and 825 of this issue.

These listings give the member's preferred mailing address. Where this is not his business address his company connection is shown in parentheses. Divisions and other Society affiliations are indicated in parentheses following each name, in accordance with the code given at the right. The absence of any such designation indicates that the member is from outside the United States or a student member, neither of whom has Division affiliation.
